CALL OUT MILITIA IN PENNSY STRIKE

Martial Law to Be Proclaimed in Fayette County Where 15,000 Miners Have Defied Authorities.

Harrisburg, Pa., July 29.—(AP)—Governor Pinchot said early today martial law will be proclaimed in Fayette county, heart of the turbulent coal strike area, with the arrival of National Guard troops now enroute.

Three hundred state soldiers, equipped with automatic rifles, quietly encamped at dawn at Mt. Gretna, summer encampment of the National Guard, and started for Brownsville.

The troops comprise the 2nd Battalion, 112th Infantry, in command of Major Kenneth Mowery.

The governor's action climaxed a bitter clash of authorities with Sheriff Harry E. Hackney, of Fayette county, on the sheriff's flat refusal to remove his deputies from the strike area at the Governor's request, and followed a personal conversation with Hackney by long distance telephone in the early morning hours.

15,000 On Strike Meantime 15,000 to 16,000 miners seeking to enforce union recognition, are on strike. Ten casualties have resulted from sporadic riots and pistol fire and violence in clashes between deputies and pickets within the last four days.

Sheriff Hackney at Uniontown, after the telephone conversation, said he "would, under the circumstances, release my authority, but only under martial law."

He said the governor, according to law, is entirely in control of the situation. He said he had considered appealing the matter to President Roosevelt, but that "such an appeal now would be out of the way."

The sheriff ordered his deputies to take the field at 4 a. m. and enforce orders he has issued against forming groups on state highways, and said the deputies would be withdrawn as the arrival of state troops.

"My position is clearly stated in my telegram to the governor," Hackney said. "Under the circumstances I have done all I can. It is plain the governor meant he would be in control. He is.

Physicians today gave up hope for the life of one sheriff's deputy wounded in the mine disorders. He is Mike Joyce, who suffered a fractured skull in a clash at the Colony No. 1 mine of the H. C. Frick Coke Company two days ago. Others injured are not in critical condition.

Included in the battalion of troops sent to Brownsville are five companies, including a machine gun outfit. A battery section of the regular service company in charge of supplies and transportation and a battalion section of the regimental medical detachment are attached.

ARREST THIRD MAN IN SYLLA MURDER

Stanley Kenefic Also Comes from Stamford — Police Seek Fourth Suspect.

New York, July 29.—(AP)—A third man from Stamford, Conn., was booked on a homicide charge today in the slaying of Dr. E. Warren Sylla, bachelor dentist.

The prisoner, who gave his name as Stanley Kenefic, 23, of 63 Washington avenue, Stamford, surrendered in the Connecticut City yesterday. He waived extradition and was locked up here early today.

The other men were locked up without bail yesterday. They were described as Edward F. Moran, 22-year-old shoe salesman of 684 Main street, Stamford, and Joseph (Barry) Terrasowich, 30, former teamster, of 15 Woodland Place, Stamford.

A fourth man, whom the police name as Lawrence Kelly, protégé of the dentist, is sought as the ring-leader of a robbery plot which ended in the death of the 65-year-old dentist in his luxurious apartment here last Monday night.

Woman's Story. Detectives Frank Murray and Leo Steiner, who brought the prisoners here, said Moran told them that he and Kelly met the dentist a month ago in Rockville city. The chance acquaintance ripened and Dr. Sylla, who took a friendly interest in young men, gave Kelly a key to his apartment.

Last Monday, according to the story attributed to Moran, Kelly suggested that they rob the dentist of $1,000 ring and his money. The four drove here from Stamford.

FEDERAL PROJECTS AT MUSCLE SHOALS

Power Production, Flood Control and Improved Navigation on Program.

Editor's Note: This is the last of a series of stories by staff writers of the Associated Press explaining new laws.

Washington, July 29.—(AP)—President Roosevelt's Tennessee river valley plan is primarily a proposal to harness the waters of that great stream and make them work for the people of the south instead of against them.

The three major phases, under the law now in effect, are power production, flood control and improvement of navigation.

It also includes provision for reforestation, prevention of soil erosion, experimentation in the production of cheap fertilizer and reclamation of farmers dependent upon sub-normal lands.

Philadelphia Strikers Picket Hosiery Mills

More than half the workers on strike throughout the United States were reported to be in Pennsylvania. Here you see pickets parading in front of a hosiery mill in Philadelphia during the prolonged textile strike there.

CONNECTICUT NOW READY FOR RECOVERY CAMPAIGN

Almost All of Federal Appointments Have Been Made; But District Attorney Question Unsettled.

Washington, July 29.—(AP)—Appointments followed each other in rapid fire succession during the last two weeks to place Connecticut in a position to push forward with the home mortgage relief, agricultural adjustment, and public works phases of the administration program.

The public works executive setup is complete, leaving only the organization of the administrative staff to start operations. The state manager of the Federal Home Owners Loan Corporation was named, and had his plan for regional offices approved. Committees charged with the administration of the tobacco program are already actively at work.

On the other hand, except for the cotton textile and electrical manufacturing industries, Connecticut manufacturers have been almost unrepresented among the businessmen testifying daily at hearings before administrators of the industrial recovery administration.

New England Director. With the public works personnel set up, rapid action was believed possible on the numerous Connecticut proposals awaiting consideration. Ralph L. Cooper of Belfast, Me., was named regional administrator.

YOUNG O'CONNELL IS STILL MISSING

Kidnaped Over Three Weeks Ago—No Word Either from Oklahoma Victim.

By Associated Press. The police of Europe and America joined hands across the sea in a new international constabulary as the drive against kidnapers and other criminals swept on today.

The "international police," formed last night at Chicago by crime-battling officials of several nations will elect officers tonight. The aim is to exchange information and co-ordinate efforts to obliterate international crime.

John J. O'Connell, Jr., member of a politically powerful family of Albany, N. Y., was still missing. He was kidnaped more than three weeks ago.

There was no word either from Charles F. Urschel, Oklahoma City oil millionaire, who was spirited away to a captivity now in its seventh day.

St. Louis police held three men who were called a plot to kidnap C. F. DeLoe, wealthy mine owner in San Antonio, Texas. Adolph Galle, a parking lot operator, complained he was kidnaped and released only when he signed three blank checks.

STOUTNAR BOY'S INJURIES FATAL; TO HOLD DRIVER

Youth Hit by Car Driven by Rockville Woman Yesterday Passes Away at Hospital This Morning.

Raymond Judd Stoutnar, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Stoutnar of 351 Tolland Turnpike died at 7:30 this morning at the Manchester Memorial hospital from injuries received early yesterday afternoon when thrown from his bicycle when hit by an automobile driven by Mrs. Gertrude Custer of 12 Windsor Avenue, Rockville, on Oakland street, opposite Bunker's Market.

How It Happened. Stoutnar, a pupil in the Manchester High school and a member of last year's sophomore class, was en route to his home on his bicycle and turned off the sidewalk into Oakland street opposite Brunner's Market, directly into the path of Mrs. Custer's car which was proceeding south. The view was blocked by a parked truck, it was said today.

He was taken to the Manchester Memorial hospital where it was found that he had suffered ruptures of both lungs, a compound fracture of his left leg, and other internal injuries from which he died early today.

Active in Church. Raymond was a member of the Second Congregational church and active in the Christian Endeavor society and Sunday school. He frequently took part in dramatics by the young people, and was ever ready to assist in any worthy cause. He was assistant to Miss Hartford, who was superintendent of the junior department of the vacation school, and spent yesterday forenoon there, helping in every way possible to arrange for the exhibition of work at the closing exercises last evening.

Funeral services will be held at the home, followed by a service at the Second Congregational church. Rev. F. C. Allen will officiate.

He was the youngest of the four children of Mr. and Mrs. Stoutnar and was born in East Hartford, May 5, 1916. He attended school in West Hartford, when the family lived there, and in Manchester. Raymond was a member of the track team at Manchester High and had won several medals and a letter, of which he was very proud. He leaves two sisters, Mrs. James Cummings and Mrs. Milton Bickford, and a brother, John G. Stoutnar.

Funeral services will be held at 3 o'clock Monday afternoon at the home, followed by a service at the Second Congregational church. Rev. F. C. Allen will officiate.

There has been some question as to the need for administration and enforcement of state minimum wage laws, in view of the work of the National Industrial Recovery Board in establishing national industrial codes. Joseph M. Tone, state commissioner, said today.

On July 19 a conference of labor officials from minimum wage states was called in Washington by Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins to discuss and clarify the state officials' views on the minimum wage laws. The necessity of putting into operation state minimum wage laws as soon as possible, especially in industries covered by national codes, was stressed.

The national codes now being adopted are of a voluntary nature and enforcement of them is left to the trade associations themselves in so far as they will enforce them. The federal government can, of course, bring pressure to bear on the trade associations and to the federal government not at present enforce the national codes, although this authority may be delegated to the states later.

They will cooperate with federal authorities by reporting to the trade associations and to the federal government any violations of the code encountered by them on regular inspections or investigations made by the labor department.

In order to strengthen the work of the national industrial recovery board and to assist the federal administration in enforcing the codes, it is essential that states having minimum wage laws put them into operation at once. The state officials will then have full authority to enforce minimum wage laws set by wage boards which will in all probability coincide with rates set in the national codes. It will also be possible through state action to include more details than do the national codes.

Certain standard practices of administration in minimum wage states were formulated and will be recommended to wage boards for consideration.

PLEDGES CONTINUE TO COME IN FROM ALL OVER NATION

AMERICAN BEATEN BY SPANISH COPS

Philadelphia Man Gives His Side of His Arrest in Barcelona.

New York, July 29.—(AP)—The Associated Press today received a letter from Paul Earl Peterzell of Philadelphia giving his version of his arrest in Barcelona, Spain, on July 11, and saying that he was also beaten and thrown into a cell "brutally." The letter was mailed from Barcelona.

Peterzell said he went to the police, with an interpreter, to report the theft of a package from his automobile. The police sent him with an escort, he said, to make a formal report to a judge at the Palacio de Justicia.

There learning that the judge was at dinner and would return in an hour, Peterzell said he told his escort that he would also go to dinner and return in time to see the judge.

"The escorting policeman said he would not let me go, since I was in his custody, and if I tried to leave he would handcuff me. (Remember the interpreter was there all the time.) I said since I had done no wrong I would leave. I walked to my suit and got in.

"Four additional policemen ran over and started to jerk and yank me from the auto. I realized it was best to return to the palacio and phone the American consul.

"They refused to allow me to phone and pushed me violently around, away from the phone. Finally I took out my pen to mark down their numbers to report them to the proper authorities.

"Immediately they went into a frenzy and struck the pen from my hand, struck me violently, shoved me about, spit in my face and threw me into a cell brutally. (In the meantime concealing their numbers) and then searched me for weapons."

The American said the police also attempted to detain his wife, but that she escaped and brought back the manager of the hotel. His release, he said, was effected in an hour and a half.

Agreement Explained. Interpretation of the voluntary agreement between the National Industrial Recovery Act and the National Labor Relations Act, executive director of the re-employment drive and Donald Richberg, general counsel of the administration.

They provided specifically that an individual employer who believes the agreement will cause him hardship may obtain a stay of a particular provision by submitting a petition, approved by the trade association of his industry if he has one, otherwise by the national industrial recovery board or other designated representative of the N.R.A. together with his signed agreement, and a promise to abide by N.R.A.'s final decision.

As no wages above prescribed minimum levels were in effect, it was that the rates of pay shall in no case be reduced, either to make up increases in the minimum pay group or to extend the payroll.

It was said a factory worker now employed forty hours a week, would have to have his pay-rate increased only one-seventh to make as much money in 35 hours, while one now engaged sixty hours would need a five-sevenths raise which might prove too great a burden of the employer.

Officials Busy Explaining Various Phases of the Program—Coal and Automobiles Next to Be Taken Up—Monday Steel Industry Will Discuss Code.

Washington, July 29.—(AP)—The Recovery Administration served notice today that the President's voluntary re-employment agreement, now being signed by thousands of businessmen, was issued not to become a mere share of the work movement, with the wages of present workers divided among a greater number.

At the same time it made clear that not all men were expected to get as much when their working time is cut. A reasonable readjustment is required, its general trend upward, but actual terms left to the employer or unless it develops that the latter has a "peculiar sense of justice." Then, the administration will step in to see that the spirit of the agreement is lived up to.

These and other points are covered in new official interpretations of the agreement, made necessary by questions from industrialists desirous of signing but uncertain whether the agreement might not require impossible pay roll cutbacks.

Flood Continues. Today, the stream of returning agreement blanks, signed by employers from coast to coast, continued steadily. Definite figures as to the numbers were meager because many post-masters had failed to count the return envelopes.

Meanwhile, Hugh S. Johnson, director of the enterprise was expected to set hearing dates for codes of fair competition covering two of the biggest industries of the nation—coal and automobiles.

Monday, hearings will open on steel, first of the big industries to bring up sharply the question of organized labor. The code provides an employee representation plan which is not expected to prove acceptable to the administration in view of statements by officials that no modification of the law's guarantee of untrammelled organization by labor can be put into any code.

SOCK ON THE NOSE.—(AP)—A sock right on the nose for Washington, July 29.—(AP)—An editorial in the Washington Post today said that the plan to get the automobile code—and I got it," he told two audiences here.

"I've seen a little opposition in this respect. An editorial in the New York paper the other day said that the plan to get the automobile code—and I got it," he told two audiences here.

FOREST WORKERS BATTLE FLAMES

Boys in State Camps Get First Experience in Fighting Woods Fires.

New Haven, July 29.—(AP)—The leaders of the youths in President Roosevelt's forest army reported today that the recruits have gone under their first baptism of fire—and have emerged victors.

The boys were summoned to fight forest fires this week on several fronts, reports to Forest Ranger M. Ross of the Connecticut Forest and Park Association showed, and in each case they were instrumental in checking the blaze.

State forest service officials praised the work of the Civilian Conservation Corps crews, and said their efforts were equal in value to those of the regular fire-fighting crews.

The boys stationed at Camp Walcott in Burrville, were called upon four times in as many days this week, to fight fires near Torrington, F. L. Buttrick, superintendent of the camp, reported.

All Night Breeze. After subduing an all night blaze at Burlington, they fought a threatening fire at Bantam for two days and a night. At the latter place the boys in charge of the pump remained on duty continuously for 28 hours.

The recruits worked along the fireline, with food and water brought to them by a supply service, and fire crews were brought in to relieve them.

A crew of forest recruits has been trained to man the pump and has been assigned to that work. Joseph J. Dagnall of Camp Toumey in Cornwall told a graphic story of the men and a dump as soon as possible. That was all—and the work started.

MAY REQUEST LOAN TO BUILD BRIDGE

Chairman Johnson Says Federal Aid May Be Obtained—To Discuss Subject.

Hartford, July 29.—(AP)—Whether the Commission appointed by the General Assembly to construct an additional bridge across the Connecticut river between Hartford and East Hartford will consider a loan to borrow money from the Federal government under the provisions of the public work act, will be discussed by the commission next week.

The commission has already given the phase of financing the construction of the bridge some consideration, it was said by Chairman Raymond A. Johnson of Manchester today.

Before application is made the bridge commission would determine whether one of the requisites in an appropriation by the state to cover a part of the construction cost, if this is not necessary, it is believed the personnel of the Connecticut board, announced this week, would lend a kindly ear to a request for financial assistance in the building of the bridge.

STATE COOPERATES ON WAGE CONTROL

Commissioner Tone Says National Codes Will Take Precedence for Time.

There has been some question as to the need for administration and enforcement of state minimum wage laws, in view of the work of the National Industrial Recovery Board in establishing national industrial codes. Joseph M. Tone, state commissioner, said today.

Old Newspapers Convict 2 Men In Chicago Court

Chicago, July 29.—(AP)—A newspaper printed five months before the crime for which two men were accused brought about their conviction and today they faced maximum terms of one year each in the Stridwell.

The case dates back to Oct. 1, 1932 when a brick was hurled through a window of the grocery of Otto Gustafson. A few minutes later Robert O'Connell, 44 and Harry McLean, 45, were halted for questioning by police who found a brick wrapped in a newspaper dated May 22, 1932.

Not satisfied with the story told by the man police drove them around until they found the smashed window. Inside the grocery store was the brick used in smashing the window. It also was wrapped in a newspaper dated May 22, 1932.

Yesterday in the court of Judge Rudolph Desart about the only evidence the State presented was the wrappings of the two bricks. O'Connell and McLean were convicted of a charge of malicious mischief.

GANGSTER CHIEF DIES OF WOUNDS

"Buck" Barrow in Two Gun Battles With Officers—Dies in Hospital.

Perry, Iowa, July 29.—(AP)—Marvin "Buck" Barrow, 31, alleged leader of the "Bloody Barrow" gang of Texas desperadoes, died in a hospital here early today of wounds suffered in two gun fight battles, one at Platte City, Mo., last week and the second at Dexter, Iowa, Monday.

The cause of death was infection in a head wound. Barrow lapsed into a coma early Thursday and did not regain consciousness.

Police are seeking other members of the gang. Surrounded in Dextford Park Monday, Barrow and four others attempted to shoot it out with a force of 20 officers. Barrow was critically wounded, his wife, Blanche, taken prisoner, and three others escaped.

They are Clyde Barrow, Marvin's brother, Clyde's wife, Bonnie and an unidentified man.

Bad Weather Delays Balbo Armada Hop

By Associated Press. The 1,600-mile flight of 24 Italian seaplanes from Shoel Harbor, Nfld., to Valencia, Irish Free State, has been indefinitely postponed because of unfavorable weather.

Everything was ready, however, for the departure of the armada, the longest hop of the return journey to Italy from the United States.

Provisional arrangements were made for using Ensign Bay in Southern Ireland as an alternative landing place for the Italians because fog is frequent over Valencia.

SEARS IS GUARDED; FEARS KIDNAPERS

Chicago, July 29.—(AP)—The Tribune today said Wesley M. Sears, 31-year-old son of the late Richard W. Sears, one of the founders of Sears, Roebuck and Company, had engaged a body-guard following receipt of threatening letters. He is reported to have checked out of his hotel and to have left no forwarding address.

Sears is connected with a local brokerage firm. Attaches of the hotel where he resided professed to know nothing of his whereabouts or the threats, the newspaper said. Called Spendshrift. The man came in for public attention five years ago when Judge Henry Horner (now Governor Horner) adjudged him spendthrift and incompetent of handling the $800,000 estate left by his father. The action was taken at request of his mother, Mrs. Anna L. Sears, and his wife, Mrs. Lillian Carroll Sears.

Two years later the estate, which was reported to have shrunk to $400,000, was restored to his control when his wife reappeared before Judge Horner and asserted that he was once again competent.

HOME LOAN HEAD OPENS UP OFFICE

State Administrator to Direct Home Mortgages Is Now in New Haven.

New Haven, July 29.—(AP)—Peter M. Kennedy, state administrator for the Federal Home Loan Mortgage Corporation, has opened temporary quarters in the banking house in Broadway formerly the home of the Broadway Bank and Trust company which recently went into receivership.

Kennedy returned from Washington yesterday, where he had obtained a general outline of the corporation's objects. He immediately began the task of setting up his organization. The personnel, he said, would be a few persons specialized in the business of the corporation.

Other Branches
As the other branch offices, there will be one in New Haven besides headquarters and others in Waterbury, Hartford, Bridgeport and New London. It was quite possible, he said, that it will be deemed well to have branches in Putnam, Norwich, Danbury and other places.

The idea will be to carry out work to the people," said Kennedy, "rather than obliging citizens who need assistance to come to the bank."

As to personnel of the organization, Kennedy said the number of persons would be small. "There will be few places to fill," he said. "I might almost say there will be no jobs to fill. Those who are taken on will be specialized in the business of the corporation."

Kennedy said the Waterbury office may be in a bank building or three places are available. The Hartford office may go to the Federal building. In Bridgeport there seemed to be no place in a bank building and it may be located elsewhere. Decisions will be made in Washington on the basis of the surveys and recommendations.

Kennedy said there was quite a task immediately ahead in making the objects of the corporation understood. It is his intention to give as much publicity as possible to the setting up of the offices and the opening of them. Also, he said it will be necessary to counteract misapprehension as to just what the corporation will do. He cited that mercantile collateral may not be taken for loans, and loans may not be given on home property of a value in excess of $20,000.

Kennedy expects to make statements explanatory of the work of the corporation in its efforts to bring relief to home owners who are in need of it.

A recent survey on four New Jersey main trunk highways, especially designed for safety, proved that 80 per cent of the fatalities occurred at night.

New London, July 29.—(AP)—Frank Gregory of Stamford, a member of the 192nd regiment, National Guard Field Artillery, is a patient at the Lawrence and Memorial hospital suffering from a severe back injury which he received early this morning in a fall from a motorcycle.

The accident happened near Stratford, and other guardsmen who were following Gregory's motorcycle, brought him to the National Guard camp at Niantic and later he was taken to the hospital. His condition is not serious. Gregory was on his way to the camp ground where his regiment today begins its annual summer training period, when the accident occurred.

PRESIDENT STARTS ON HIS VACATION

Greets His Neighbors at Hyde Park on His Arrival—Mother Greets Him.

Hyde Park, N. Y., July 29.—(AP)—Franklin D. Roosevelt came home today for the first time as President of the United States.

Mr. Roosevelt smiled as he walked from his special train amidst a crowd of old friends and neighbors. His greeting with his mother at the station was drowned out by the cheers of the gathering.

"Hello, Sam," and "How are you, Ed?" were heard from the President as he shook hands all around before departing by automobile from the depot to the family estate at Krum Elbow nearby.

With Mrs. Roosevelt at his side and his mother on the doorstep, the happy Chief Executive waited for a moment before entering his home to chat with local officials and give the most of photographers some picture chances.

Away from a busy round of conferences at the capital where he has been directing the National recovery drive, Mr. Roosevelt decided to put the lid on for over the week-end and no appointments were before Monday.

Thoughts on Drive

Nevertheless, the thoughts of the President naturally were still centered on the industrial rehabilitation drive and he noted with considerable interest the story of the resignation of James A. Moffett, as vice-president of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey.

Moffett is expected to associate himself with General Hugh S. Johnson, the President's industrial administrator.

Members of the President's official family indicated quite clearly that the administration has not been satisfied with the attitude of some officers of the Standard Oil of New Jersey and they were convinced that Moffett's resignation and association with the industrial campaign would help bring the issue into the open and also stimulate the cooperation of all members of the oil industry behind the movement for higher wages and shorter working hours.

Marvin H. McIntyre, a secretary to the President, accompanied him last night and took over an office at Poughkeepsie which is manned by members of the White House staff.

Almost every facility of the White House is at the command of Mr. Roosevelt for his two weeks stay here. While he hopes to rest in a great deal of rest he also intends to keep close tab on National affairs. Frequent conferences with Cabinet members and other aides are in prospect.

It is the intention of Mr. Roosevelt to remain here until August 10 when he will return to Washington direct personally the re-organization of the government which becomes effective at that time. He hopes to return here later and remain until after Labor Day.

Streets Decorated

The streets of Hyde Park and Poughkeepsie were decorated with flags and bunting for the presidential arrival and a sort of holiday spirit prevailed.

Mr. Roosevelt took off his straw hat to wave greetings as he rode along.

Entering the drive to the family home, he drove past a field of corn planted in the broad space between the residence and the Albany Post road.

"There is just enough corn there," he explained, "to feed the cows." Incidentally, Mr. Roosevelt tried vainly to convert the newspapermen to his back-to-the-land movement, suggesting that they take a residence in the country during their stay here and milk cows. But the newspapermen decided they could do better pounding typewriters.

WALL ST. WORKERS TO ADOPT A CODE

New York, July 29.—(AP)—With the New York Stock Exchange closed today for the first of a consecutive run of Saturday suspension which will extend into September, brokers had more time for consideration of the possibility of a code for Wall street employes under the National Industrial Recovery Act.

The association of stock exchange firms through its counsel, brokers were informed, has been in touch with the recovery administration authorities in this connection.

The matter of establishing maximum hours for clerical workers has received particular attention in the code discussions, it was said, in view of the long hours which most stock exchange firms find it necessary to use in the past because of the huge volume of business during the past few months. The special Saturday holidays and the shortened trading period of the past week were decreed by the exchange to ease this burden.

General opinion among stock brokers is that steps will be taken soon to establish minimum salaries and a maximum work week for Wall street employes.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

The Example Of Gideon

Text: Judges 7:1-7, 16-21

The International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for July 30.

By WM. E. GILBOY, D.D., Editor of The Congregationalist.

The story of Gideon is a good one to read if one is obsessed with the power of big things.

That obsession is not quite as strong in the world today as it was a few years ago.

Gideon stands as a strange and exceptional figure in military history—a man who, when he had a battle to fight, chose to reduce rather than to increase his forces.

The device by which he chose these was so simple that one could hardly have supposed it to be effective.

Then Gideon's strategy entered into the situation. The man whose courage cannot be shaken by trivial things, who is not swayed from his purpose by noise or numbers, knows very well the cowardice of those who can be thus swayed.

When Gideon gave the signal every man blew his trumpet and at the same time broke the pitchers, displaying his torches.

The lesson of the story is very clear. Strength does not all lie in numbers or in outward efficiency.

Man cannot, of course, depend too much upon strategy. There are situations where mere ingenuity will not bring a man out of difficulty or secure for him conquest over adverse foes and circumstances, but strategy, guided by enlightenment and backed by courage and integrity has a large part to play in warfare with sin and wrong.

THE MEANING OF LIFE

By GEORGE HENRY DOLE

International Sunday School Lesson Text, July 30th: "The Lord is the Strength of My Life."—Psalm 27:1.

What is the meaning of life? This question has been put to a number of well known writers. One replies that he does not know, but everyone can know and ought to know. The Lord both anticipated the question and demonstrated the answer.

Another writes that the good of life is an end in itself to be loved and enjoyed; that he finds pleasure in doing work conscientiously. Well said! Happiness exists nowhere other than "in doing work from the love of service."

ROCKVILLE

ORGANIZERS SNUBBED BY MILL WORKERS

Not Making Any Headway in Effort to Arouse Employees in Rockville.

Regardless of union organizers in Rockville both manufacturers and laborers are in accord with the new code for woolen manufacturers as being considered at Washington. While talking to an organizer yesterday, it was learned that they are not satisfied with 40 hours a week but are seeking a reduction to 35 hours as the maximum hours with no reduction in pay.

This is one of the serious problems now confronting the manufacturers in Rockville as a majority of the employees of the local woolen mills are contented and satisfied as to their working hours. The discontent which recently arose over working two shifts, a total of 110 to 115 hours a week, was easily ironed out without any trouble. It is considered doubtful if the manufacturers can reduce the working hours one-third without any reduction in pay due to the fact that the contracts now held by the local firms will keep the mills going well into the fall months.

Many of the leaders of the Rockville weavers and spinners have given the "cold shoulder" to the organizers who have been trying in Rockville for a week to get an organization meeting together to consider the wages and working hours. The fact that few textile weavers come to Rockville has been a big factor in defeating the efforts of the few organizers.

Celebrate Wedding Anniversary Mr. and Mrs. George E. Barber of Union street, are celebrating their 50th wedding anniversary today at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Gertrude Thomas of Union street with whom they make their home.

The couple were married in East Hartford, July 29, 1873, and came to Rockville from that community very soon after. They have also lived in Meriden, Colchester, New York, Newark and Ellington. For several years past Mr. Barber has made their home in Town Clerk and Mrs. John B. Thomas.

For many years Mr. Barber was a building contractor and at the age of 75 years he retired. He is now 85 years of age.

Both enjoy good health and have the pleasure of knowing there are four generations living at the present time.

On Mr. Barber's side there is his son, Harry Barber, his grandson, George Barber, and his great-grandson, George Barber, Jr. On Mrs. Barber's side there are also four generations, being her daughter, Mrs. Gertrude Thomas, her granddaughter, Mrs. Franklin Harmon and her great-grand daughter, Miss Anna Harriet Harmon.

Close 44 Stairs The so-called "44 Stairs" leading from high street over the deep cut in which the tracks of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad enters Rockville, to the south side of Brooklyn street, are now closed to the public. This action has been taken by the Board of Selectmen because of the unsafe condition of the old bridge, which is of light angle iron construction. The bridge was constructed in 1896. Recently the inspectors of the railroad called the attention of the town officials to the unsafe condition of the bridge resulting in it being closed to the public.

Wrestling Bouts Tuesday The C. D. K. Athletic Club are to start wrestling bouts in an effort to keep up interest in the boxing and wrestling game. The first wrestling bouts will be staged at the Crystal Lake Arena on Tuesday evening.

A card of five star wrestling bouts will be presented featuring George Godfrey, former black mace of the world's heavyweight boxing title and Paul Benzbach, former world's light-heavyweight champion. Lardnick Zbyzsko, three times the world champion wrestler and holder of the Rick Rickard's Diamond Belt will also appear on Tuesday evening.

The evening's card will be made up with the following wrestlers appearing: Lucian LaMare, Bull Gorman, English champion; Jack Rogers of Texas, Justin Gerald, Tony Calasano and Charles Manocopy.

Freight Increases A considerable increase in the amount of freight being handled at the Rockville freight depot of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad Company is now being reported. Both incoming and outgoing freight increases have been very noticeable during the past month.

The fact that the Rockville mills have been working all through the depression accounted for a steady turnover of the amount of freight handled. The fact that business is now steadily increasing the shipments, both incoming and outgoing, are so large that they cannot be handled by trucks as formerly. This is a good indication that the depression is gone.

Notes A general improvement in business was reported this week by the local stores, many of whom reported an increase of over twenty percent over the preceding week.

Dial Twisters

By W. J. DALTON

Whether or not you think the "new deal" has caused an upheaval in our economic existence wait until you see the change brought about in radio within the next twelve months.

The beginning of a new radio era is at hand; there is no mistake about that. The automobile, being more or less necessary according to American standards, has been improved as the improvements showed their worth.

When one motor car wore out another had to be purchased. That is the price paid for what we consider necessary existence and but forstalls our emulating the fall of Babylon—or so think a goodly number of mopebacked die-hards. This idea of giving every man a full dinner pail, a good automobile along with a modern radio set is bound to make itself felt for the simple reason that every man is determined to have them; just as he is determined to find the wherewithal to feed his family.

Philosophizing is out of my line so I'll stick to radio for the rest of this piece. The ultra-small midget set has shown what may be expected within the next year or so. This small priced machine has been a real find to see how the public reacts to the idea that each home should have more than one radio. The manufacturer has found out, to his sorrow, that one radio is all that the average home will support at present. If the good midget set will supply the wants of a family, a larger machine will not be bought. It takes good salesmanship to sell the larger radio today.

The smaller machines have brought about a few changes that, undoubtedly will be incorporated in the larger sets as they prove themselves worthy. The most notable change in the midgets has been the absence of a power transformer. This power transformer has been the most costly replacement in the larger sets; when it burned out the cost spoiled at least a good ten-dollar bill before the set would again be playable. A new tube has been developed to do away with this item in the smaller sets. If in the smaller machines why not in the eight or ten tube affairs? There is no doubt about its being done.

An ever increasing number of new tubes in the past year; has been devised to decrease the total number in each set and to increase the range and power to the point where but a few of them will be necessary to give the greatest amount of available power.

Whether this will mean that eight or six or four will be needed is up to the radio laboratories to show us. We must abide by their findings. It is the job of the radio engineer to improve the radio set and he is guided only by practical opinion along with the findings in the radio laboratory.

One other improvement that is necessary, and I regret to say that it seems as far away as ever, is some method of subduing or eliminating natural static. When clouds are forming or a storm is brewing we must put up with the crashes that static lightning brings about. No method has been found to eliminate this condition. Electrical interference can be eliminated along with other man-made static that is prevalent in many places. The present. Special screens and filtering devices are available to subdue most of these noises but no cure-all may be applied in ten minutes. The radio laboratory that produces a static eliminating gadget that really works will surely revolutionize the radio industry—and make other radio manufacturers follow in step.

AWAIT SUPPLY SHIP Point Barrow, Alaska, July 29.—(AP)—Traders said today Canadian Arctic trading posts will suffer hardships if the supply ship Anxoy is prevented from making its annual visit because of a leak which developed two days ago.

The case of the 1,000-ton vessel, now moored beside the Arctic ice pack 200 miles southwest of here, was not fully known. A message from the vessel said the hull had been patched and pumps were keeping the water down while the crew of 21 awaited the arrival of the Coast Guard cutter Northland.

With ice conditions in the Far North more severe than in this year, it was not known whether the Anxoy would still be able to buck the Arctic ice pack, pass around Point Barrow and proceed east.

HIGHWAY FUNDS Washington, July 29.—(AP)—The assignment of Connecticut's allotment of $2,865,740 of Federal highway funds appropriated under the Recovery Act was approved today by Secretary of the Interior Ickes.

The money will be spent 49 percent on the Federal aid highway system, 28 percent on extensions of Federal aid highways into and through municipalities and 23 percent on secondary or feeder roads. Expenditure was authorized in seven of the eight counties.

TWO FOUND GUILTY Clovis, N. M., July 29.—(AP)—A jury has found Leonard Beck and Roy Reed guilty of second degree murder in the "torch" slaying last February of Lee Marshall, home-steader.

Marshall, who died from burns before the men were arrested, made a statement that two young men chained him to a raft, saturated his clothing with gasoline and ignited it. Marshall was found dead in a hiding place of his money. He could not identify his attackers. Beck and Reed offered testimony in an attempt to prove they were not near the scene of the crime at the time it was committed.

The jury brought in its verdict yesterday. A date for re-arresting has not been set.

COLCHESTER FIRE Colchester, July 29.—(AP)—An early morning fire swept the barn of Charles Edwace on the New London road today, causing damage estimated at $1,200. Cider mill equipment in the barn and 700 feet of matched board stored beneath it was destroyed. Firemen of the Edwace fire company, who responded to the alarm, said they believed the blaze was of incendiary origin.

RAU'S, CRYSTAL LAKE In view of the fact that Julian Woodworth, who was scheduled to play at Rau's, Crystal Lake this Saturday night, has been held over a few weeks at the Broadview Railroad in Long Island City, the management at Rau's has booked Artie Mayo and his Orchestra with a complete floor show. Artie Mayo and his orchestra have played one season at the Broadview Railroad and have played in many of the ballrooms in the southern part of this State during the winter months. They are now being featured at the Tuesday evening Bridgeport Ballrooms. Messrs. McCormack and Barry owners of the Ritz Ballroom will present Artie Mayo and his band with a complete floor show this Saturday night.

Some of the bands to appear at Rau's in the near future are the Bridgway Hotel Orchestra from Springfield, Mass., Buddy Harrod and his Cardinals from New York City, and Gene Samaro and his Californians now booking out of Stamford, Conn.

INVENTOR KILLED Pittsfield, Mass., July 29.—(AP)—Funeral services for Frank W. Peek, Jr., authority on electrical phenomena, popularly known as the "man who made lightning", will be held today.

Peek's body was brought from Canada where he was killed Wednesday in a grade crossing accident. He was chief engineer of the Pittsfield plant of the General Electric Company and was internationally known for his electrical experiments, especially for his development of artificial lightning.

A general improvement in business was reported this week by the local stores, many of whom reported an increase of over twenty percent over the preceding week.

SATURDAY, JULY 29.

FATE PLAYS ITS HAND.

Odd tricks that fate plays, tricks that cause innocent deaths, tricks that upset carefully planned crimes. The newspapers of yesterday carried fact stories stranger than any fiction the cleverest novelist ever concocted.

In an uptown restaurant in New York Henry Jellinek, an automobile dealer of Salt Lake and fair health, decided to have a bite to eat. Two poppy seed rolls were placed on his table by a waitress.

Into the same restaurant came Lillian Fields seeking to pick up left-overs, scraps of food she might steal from the different tables. A strange woman, living in a basement hotel, with $12,000 in the bank, but possessed of a desire for seclusion and a hermit's life.

New York is the locale for the other stranger-than-fiction story. Four men, two of them from Stamford, planned to rob Dr. E. Warren Sylla, a wealthy dentist in the Metropolis.

To cover their tracks the murderers decided to drop a note to the pair on guard below. They wrote a message "Meet us at 85th St., at 11:30." They dropped it out of the apartment window so that the watchers below would get it.

GRAIN TRADING ABUSES. The recent orgy of gambling in wheat and the following spectacular crash of the market will have served a useful purpose if they bring about elimination of some of the evils that have so long characterized grain trading.

George N. Peek, administrator of the Farm Adjustment Act, minced no words when he told grain dealers that they must set their own house in order or the government would do it for them.

"Abuses exist in the grain trades, and they, acting as the marketing medium for the farmers, should correct these abuses," said Peek.

The Chicago Board of Trade and other grain exchanges have necessary and useful functions for producers, processors and consumers.

But unbridled speculation and price fluctuations such as the country has recently witnessed are no part of these useful functions.

Farmers, consumers and business generally must have orderly marketing based on laws of supply and demand. Prices must not be inflated or unduly depressed for the profit of men who never produce or process wheat, and whose transactions exist only on paper.

Nor can the government afford to jeopardize its production control program, on which it is spending $100,000,000 for the benefit of wheat growers, by letting speculators reap the benefit.

Fortunately, Administrator Peek has ample authority under new legislation to enforce the government's will. He can license grain exchanges and all other handlers of farm commodities.

HOUSE-TO-HOUSE PEDDLERS. Manchester police are doing good work in keeping itinerant vendors out of this town who fall to pay the required $100 per year fee.

Manchester police are doing good work in keeping itinerant vendors out of this town who fall to pay the required $100 per year fee. It works two ways in that it protects the housewife from a considerable amount of needless answering the door-bell and it protects the merchant who pays big sums in taxes to the town every year.

But among the out-of-town bell-ringers Manchester has come to be marked as a good town to avoid. The high-pressure house-to-house boys have learned that the Manchester police are on the lookout for them.

ENGLAND ATTRACTS. Whenever we pick up a newspaper and read the passenger list on some liner bound for Southampton it gives us an empty feeling and a longing to travel.

August is the month of color, laughter and freedom in Old England. Then of all times one sees the Englishman as he really is, carefree and happy, rejoicing in his lands and his cattle, or whatever of the earthly goods he possesses.

of the earthly goods he possesses. Pageants and bounteous feasts, the customs of his forefathers, are his pastimes at this season of the year.

Visitors to England in August are fortunate. They may really say that they have found the Englishman "at home" Fairs, horse shows, Gymkhanas, fower shows, racing, boating contests, almost anything one could wish for in a country that knows just how that type of event should be staged.

PROTECTING HOME OWNERS. The Home Owners Loan Corporation has acted with commendable promptness to nip a "racket" through which it was said unscrupulous persons planned to profit at the expense of mortgage-burdened home owners.

Prospective borrowers, the board stated, do not need paid agents to negotiate their loans. Preliminary appraisals of property will be made without cost, and if the loan is granted the subsequent appraisal and examination of title will be made at a nominal cost.

IN NEW YORK

By PAUL HARRISON. New York, July 29.—One of the lesser-known racing promoters around town is Mr. Arthur Phillips, a young man so well-spoken and tastefully clad that you'd never associate him with the business.

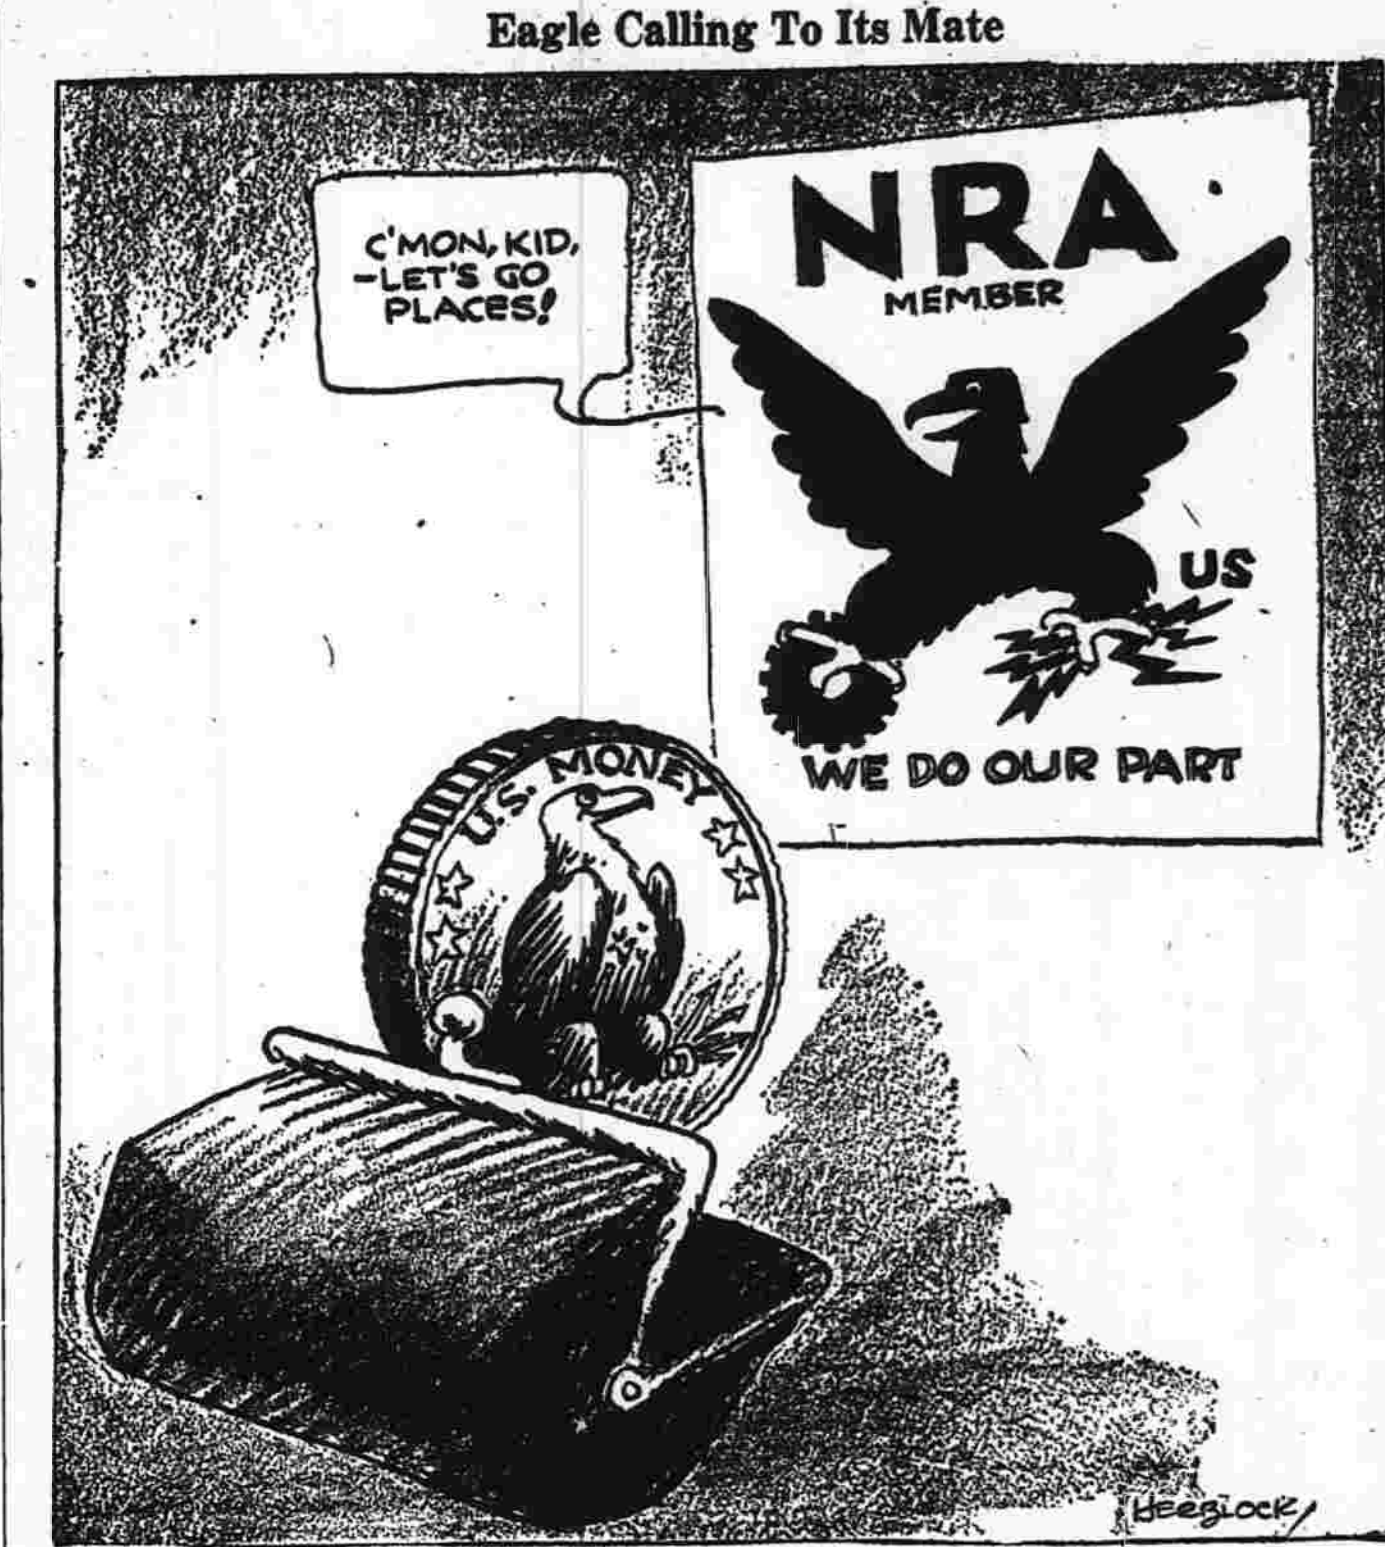

Good Breeding Wins! Back in this country he consulted entomologists, and on their advice ordered several specimens of the giant field roach (Periplaneta americana) common in some parts of the South.

Mr. Phillips is, he says, a writer by profession, and has traveled a lot. (He still has a sort of continental accent.) Anyway, he discovered that in several European cities, especially Paris, many people amused themselves by betting on cockroach races.

EXERCISES FOR FLAT FEET. Flat feet are often formed because the arches of the feet and calf are not strong enough to give support to the ligaments which bind the bones of the feet in the shape of an arch.

It is often impossible to cure a case of sciatica or rheumatism of the legs until the patient learns to walk correctly. The flat foot appears to be pressed down in the middle, making the center of the foot the widest part and the arch is not rounded but flattened out so that the whole foot presses down against the floor.

See that your shoes do not bind you. Arch supports may help temporarily, but they are crutches and you must rely upon exercising to repair the foot permanently.

ICKES SOLE BOSS OF VAST PUBLIC WORKS PROGRAM. Fearing Big Scandals, He Takes Over Spending of Three Billions.

Washington, July 29.—Secretary of the Interior Harold Ickes is both a Cabinet member and one of those powerful new recovery administrators.

Economists and statisticians are derisive as to the statistical data used by Dr. Alexander Sachs, director of the NRA research division, to prove that a 40-hour week in the cotton manufacturing industry would absorb all unemployed cotton textile workers and an additional 15 to 25 per cent.

"Ann is going to get MARRIED!"

"YES! She's engaged to a nice boy. He's not making a big salary yet, but he's a hard worker. They'll have to be careful of their money, at first!" Careful of their money! With a home to find, furniture to buy, marketing to learn...with the thousand and one little emergencies to meet that newlyweds never dream of!... And a young girl, inexperienced in these practical problems, is expected to be careful of her money!

Ann will bless advertising. In the pages of this newspaper she will find the very experience she lacks—the advice she needs!

It is when every penny counts that advertising gives its best service. The advertisements you read are valuable lessons in everyday economy. They help, as nothing else can, to make your dollar go the longest distance.

The advertisements in this newspaper are a most valuable guide to wise buying. It pays to read them regularly.

Anderson-Shea Post Nineteen years ago yesterday, July 28, 1914 the World War began. How time flies!

The door prize donated at the last meeting by Comrade Morrison, was won by Comrade Larry Redman.

The following committee was appointed at the last meeting to raise funds for our next State Encampment, which will be held in Hartford next June. Comrades Glenney, Frasier, William Leggett, Mathiason and James Leggett.

The next meeting of the Post will be held on Tuesday evening, August 15.

We are very proud of our baseball team record. Last Friday night they met the American Legion comrades at the Charter Oak diamond and won with a score of 7-4. Last Tuesday evening they met the boys from Watkins Brothers, at Mt. Nebo with a tie score of 7-7, they will play the Watkins team again next Tuesday evening, the time and place will be announced later. We are looking forward to a win this time.

Defense of the pension law as a government contract is voiced by Congressman W. D. McFarlane of Texas.

"On June 27, 1890 our government enacted what is commonly called the pension law," states Congressman McFarlane, "This law recognized the duty of the government toward the disabled veteran because of the kind of character of the service he rendered, but it was not based on service connection.

"The fact that this service pension was not based on service connection has been repeatedly recognized as right and just by the different federal courts and the Supreme Court of the United States.

"It is known by those in authority, that due to existing conditions service records of war veterans were very inaccurately kept. It is virtually impossible for thousands of veterans to prove service connection by the evidence required under present regulations.

"War veterans were heroes when they marched away. Drums beat and speakers holding high offices told them they would be amply cared for. Unfortunately, the National Economy League's line of thought has been allowed to prevail, and Congress has forgotten that disabled war veterans will have to turn to local charities for assistance if the federal government ignores its obligation.

"Congress can remedy its lack of finances without depriving the veterans of their small monthly checks.

"We should enact the income tax and inheritance tax laws of France and England and this would provide sufficient revenue to balance our budget.

"We have paid the holders of government securities more than eleven billion dollars interest since 1917. In recent years interest on the public debt has amounted to more than six hundred million dollars annually. We should enact legislation to refund any pay off this amount through non-interest bearing notes.

"We can balance the budget by the abolition of useless commissions and offices and the consolidation of departments and bureaus.

"We should pay off the balance on adjusted service certificates in cash immediately and help restore the buying power of the people. We should enact legislation that will assist the farmer to fix the price on his products so that he may receive a living price for his commodities."

The boys stepped out of their class last night when they played the West Side Ramblers and were handed a fine trimming, 12-0. Bob Smith reached the pinnacle most hurriers shoot at by pitching a no-hit, no-run game. If only the boys could do that during the town series, the Bluefields manager will rise up and give the red-head a French salutation on both cheeks.

Well, anyway, the boys know how it seems to stand up there and whiff away. Sixteen of them did it during the seven inning canto, and probably six more would have if the game had gone the full nine. Miller looked good for the first three innings until the Ramblers solved his slants. All we can say is that the youngsters are what we were a decade ago. It's pretty hard to unload twenty years or so—just like that. Well, better luck with the Watkins team Tuesday night.

MONS-YPRE AUXILIARY

The Auxiliary will hold their first food sale in Hale's store, Aug. 5th, at 2 p. m. Mrs. Lewis Milligan will be in charge and will be assisted by Mrs. Earl Stairs, Mrs. James Thompson, Mrs. Sam Pratt and Mrs. James Munsie.

This sale will consist of Scotch scones, English tarts, Irish soda bread and Welsh pastry, which will be home made and donated by the members. The proceeds from this sale will be given to the Sick and Welfare Committee. The sale will start at 2 p. m. sharp and all those who will contribute are kindly requested to have their food packed and delivered at Hale's store by 1 p. m. Saturday, August 5th.

President Mrs. Victor Duke, Mrs. James Thompson, Mrs. Albert Lindsay and Mrs. Joseph Blinks attended the joint outing committee meeting which was held at the home of Mrs. Croakley last Wednesday evening. All arrangements have been completed and a good time is promised for all who attend. All ladies of the Auxiliary who intend to be present are requested to get in touch with our secretary, Mrs. Dickson as soon as possible.

The Sewing Circle of the Auxiliary met at the home of Mrs. James Thompson last Thursday afternoon. This Sewing Circle is not only interesting but very instructive, and more ladies of the Auxiliary are requested to attend. A Butterfly quilt is now in the making, and when completed will be put up for raffle. Sixteen members were present and much progress was made. Tea was served by the hostess which consisted of Scotch Scones with jam and marmalade, cheese and crackers. A good time was enjoyed by all present and it was decided to have the ladies meet at the home of Mrs. Albert Lindsay next Thursday afternoon at 2 p. m.

Please keep your mind on August 10th as on this date the Auxiliary will hold their first Rummage Sale. This sale will be held in the store in Johnston Block. All members are urged to donate as much material as they can possibly give. Mrs. Scott of 194 Center street will be in charge and all wishing to help will please contact her.

The Auxiliary is getting to be a wonderful organization and our president and her officers are deeply gratified. The members are deeply interested and would request the membership committee to keep up the good work in getting new members into our organization. The membership committee is headed by Mrs. Samuel Pratt.

BRITISH WAR VETERANS

Commander Fred Baker, vice-commander Albert Lindsay and

Comrade Jim Thompson attended the joint outing committee meeting last Wednesday evening to complete plans for our first annual outing which will be held Sunday, August 6th. All members of the Post who intend to be present are requested to make contact with Comrade Jim McCullough as soon as possible, so that provisions can be made for the correct number. Telephone 8833. Complete details will be given in next week's bulletin.

The boys are giving the glad hand this past week to Comrade Bill Ritchie and congratulations are coming fast and furious. Bill is the proud father of another bouncing baby boy, which was born last Sunday. Mother and baby are both fine and it won't be long until we are smoking a good cigar. Good luck Bill!

The benefit golf match which was played last Sunday on the East Hartford golf course was a big success, quite a large gallery followed the players and a very interesting evening was spent. Edith Cavell Command of Hartford and the Mons-ypres Post will benefit, as quite a tidy sum of money was raised through this benefit game. Mons-ypres extends their thanks to the players and all those who participated in making this enterprise so successful.

Comrade Harry Stevenson who has been suffering this past year with illness received a body brace which we trust will help him. This brace was made possible through the kind efforts of Frank Bray of the American Legion. Mons-ypres take this opportunity of thanking Frank for the kind interest he has shown for a British War Vet, and we trust that this brace will help our comrade and pray for an early recovery of his health.

Mons-ypres are mighty glad to see the old baseball series between the Vets and the Legion resumed. We know the Vets have won the first game, but that does not mean a thing. The Legion will come back strong and give the Vets a run for their money in the next game. It's a great game, and we wish them all the best of luck.

Jim Thompson is still wondering what has happened to V. F. W. horseshoe team?

We wish the Auxiliary the best of luck in their food sale which will be held in Hale's store August 5th. We appeal to the members of Mons-ypres to help out on this worthy object.

GOWEY'S WINS

Hank Gowdy's A. C.'s played a wonderful game of ball last night and beat out the Colored Giants of Manchester to the tune of 6-3. Gowdy's team consists of mechanics, truck drivers, service men, farmers and most all the trades they make up. The battery for the winners was Hickie, pitcher and Myron Lee behind the plate. The Colored Giants had Bevens pitcher and Marsh Thompson catcher.

The game was close all through, no one scoring in the first three innings, but young Johnny Kasoloni came through with a nice double and later getting an easy triple. Hickie held them to five hits with eleven coming off Bevens. A fair sized crowd was on hand and they all enjoyed the game of seven innings.

It costs the Canadian government about one cent a letter to deliver mail by air into remote parts of the country where dog teams, canoes and river steamers formerly carried it.

32 FAIRS LISTED IN CONNECTICUT
General Changes Are Noted in Organizations Holding Fairs This Year.

Hartford, July 29.—Thirty-two agricultural organizations will hold fairs in Connecticut this fall. The Handbook of Fairs and dates just published by the State Department of Agriculture shows that while the total number of fairs will be only three less than last year, there are several changes among the organizations holding fairs.

Washington Fair and the Plymouth Agricultural Society are the two leading organizations of long standing that will not hold fairs this year. New additions to the list of fairs which will receive state aid include the Litchfield County 4-H Club Fair, Cannon Grange Fair and the Wallingford-Grange Fair.

The Middlesex County 4-H Club Fair, the first of its kind in the country, which held its annual fair in Middletown during its early history and more recently at the Durham Fair grounds will unite this year with Durham Fair, both holding their exhibitions in Durham on October 4 and 5.

The chronological list of Connecticut fairs is as follows: Connecticut Gladiolus Society, Aug. 10-11; Litchfield County 4-H Fair, Aug. 20; Hamburg Fair, Aug. 31; New London County 4-H Club Fair, Aug. 31-Sept. 1; Cannon Grange Fair,

FORD NOT SIGNED Detroit, July 28.—(AP)—The Ford Motor Co. has not yet signed the recovery code of the automobile industry, pending a further study of the document, but Henry Ford has consented to serve as honorary president of the National recovery committee in his home city, Dearborn.

That was accepted today as indicative of the Ford attitude toward the N. R. A. program and bore out the statement of General Hugh S. Johnson, National administrator, that Henry Ford "has given his personal assurance of support." Caspar B. Hughes, president of the Dearborn Board of Commerce, announced last night at a meeting that Mr. Ford had agreed to aid the campaign and to lend his name to the movement.

PLANTS SIGN CODE Norwalk, July 28.—(AP)—The following Norwalk factories, with the number of employees in brackets, today announced new schedule of less hours and more pay, starting on Monday: Norwalk Tire and Rubber Company (600); American Hat Company (350); Corsetry, Inc. (300); Manhattan Shirt Company (265). Although the Norwalk Tire and Rubber Company has not yet signed the code, pending arbitration in the rubber industry, President John Whitehead announced that the plant will operate on a 35 hour week and that factory workers will be given a 12 1/2 per cent increase, with a ten per cent increase for salaried employees.

CHAUFFEUR IS HELD AS MURDER SUSPECT

Venice, Calif., July 28.—(AP)—A 32-year-old chauffeur, George Ordway, was arrested today by Venice detectives on suspicion of murder in connection with the slaying of Dalbert Aposhian at San Diego. The Police Department emphasized that Ordway was arrested only for the purpose of holding him for a complete investigation of his activities for the past few weeks. Ordway also will be questioned regarding the slaying of 10-year-old Virginia Brooks at the same city about two years ago. Police said Ordway admitted being in San Diego at the time of the seven year old boy's disappearance, but denied that he never had seen him or knew anything about the slaying.

PLANES DROP PAMPHLETS

Salzburg, Austria, July 28.—(AP)—A squadron of four monoplane cruised unopposed over this festival city today scattering handbills urging residents to withdraw savings from banks and pay no taxes until "the traitorous Dollfus government" makes room for a government "qualified to resume friendly relations with Germany." Many persons in the streets cheered the pilots with cries of "Hail Hitler!" Festival week visitors looked on, astonished, as the low-flying squadron returned again and again, unopposed by defense planes from the Salzburg airport.

Senator Loneragan, one of the few members of either house who remains on the scene here, has already proposed a long list of Federal projects to the public works board. Construction of all the post offices proposed under the Garner bill in the last Congress has been recommended. The list likewise included rivers and harbors projects totaling nearly a million dollars. Requests for recommendation of other post office projects are being received at his office.

With the state administrative board set up, applications for aid from public works funds to state and local projects was expected soon. The board must consider any applications and the regular regional administrator must approve projects before the general public works board will act on them. Among the proposals expected to be given early consideration, the Earlham reservoir to be constructed by the Hartford Metropolitan district.

Miss Pond Appointed

Miss Millicent Pond, graduate of Bryn Mawr and Yale who has served as director of employment at the Winchester Repeating Arms Company and the Scovill Manufacturing Company, will be charged with the task of distributing employment under the public works and Federal-aid state highway building projects. She will work in conjunction with the state relief director, and will appoint in each county a county re-employment committee. The task of administering the authorized Federal aid to those home owners heavily burdened with mortgages has been placed on the shoulders of Peter Kennedy, a former employee of the state bank department, and a former employee of the Federal home loan bank. He will open a general office in New Haven, with branch offices in Hartford, Bridgeport, Waterbury and New London.

Needed 50 More Thursday brought a call for fifty more men. And by the time the fire was brought under control, the results had not been called to fight there were battling a smaller forest fire that burned for three days near the camp. A great deal of the work, however, was reported to be fire prevention rather than fire-fighting. Thad J. Farr of Camp Roosevelt in Clinton said three-quarters of a mile of trout stream "was cleared there this week. The speed of the stream was increased, and deep holes were formed, to serve as wells for emergency placements for fire pumps.

The road construction work under way at all the camps was considered by State Forester Austin F. Hawes as an important link in the equipment for protection of the state forests, with the new roads serving at once as fire lines and providing means of access to the fires.

AUTHOR IS DEPORTED

Palma, Mallorca, July 28.—(AP)—Theodore Pratt, American writer whom the Spanish government has ordered deported as an undesirable resident, said he would sail for New York today on the steamship Euxchora with his wife.

An article Pratt wrote for the American magazine on Mallorca customs aroused indignation in some quarters. A Madrid dispatch said United States Ambassador Claude G. Bowers did not protest the deportation order. He was told the defense in the case of five other Americans charged with attacking a civil guard at Palma had five days to prepare its case, after which the prosecution will have forty days to complete the charges.

AUTOIST KILLED

Skowhegan, Me., July 28.—(AP)—Charles Eugene Thatcher, 19, of Newtonville, Mass., was killed today when the roadster he was driving skidded on the wet highway one mile east of here and overturned. Internal injuries were said to have caused death almost instantly. A blind man named Durfee, also of Newtonville, the only other occupant of the machine, was uninjured. The couple was traveling from Dover-Foxcroft to Skowhegan when the accident occurred.

"My, what an interesting sight, to see starfish come out at night," said Windy. "Do they twinkle, like the stars up in the sky?" "I'll make a fine wish, if they do. I'll wish that we see something new. Of course, I may not get my wish, but it won't hurt to try." Then Shrimpy laughed and said, "Well, son, I do not like to spoil your fun, but frankly, starfish never twinkle. They just swim around." "You do not have to wish for things. Just ask me! I'm the one who brings you new things. I know where lots of dandy sea spots can be found." Just then the starfish swam away. "I guess that night's turned into day," said Duncy. "Wake the two girls up so we can move along." "We'll let see Shrimpy take us to the spots where we'll see something new. The walking will be hard because the current's getting strong." "Why, there's no current way down here. You're simply getting tired, I fear," said Shrimpy. "I will call a fish and make it lend a hand." "Then you won't have to start a fuss because you can't keep up with us." "Oh, gee, if some fish helps me walk," said Duncy, "'twill be grand!" Soon Coppy shouted, "Well, look here! Some fat balloon fish have come near." "Get seaweed," snapped Duncy. "Round their bodies 'twill be tied." "Then Duncy can hang to the weed. That's all that he will really need to make the walk he's going to take seem almost like a ride." "The fish were tame as tame could be, and they were hitched up easily." "All right, let's go," cried Shrimpy. "You will find those strange fish strong!" "Wee, Duncy gladly followed one, and so did Coppy. My, what fun! "Gee, walking's easy," Duncy said. "We're moving right along." (A turtle helps the Twinkles out in the next story.)

When you want to drive, don't drink; when you want to drink don't drive. Remember, if you are arrested for even a minor traffic violation, the officer finds you have been drinking, even moderately, the penalty is likely to be much more severe than it otherwise would be.

Still forty days and forty nights, he had to drive his ark; A-taking in aquatic sights with not a place to park.

Dispatches again call our attention to the fact that railroads being put to heavy expense in rebuilding overhead bridges—not for the purpose of accommodating ordinary automobile traffic, but to provide for the great freight trucks and trailers that are continually tearing up our highways. It does seem rather strange that railroads have to capitalize safe passageway for their principal competitors.

AUTO DEALERS HERE NOT IN ON THE CODE

Told They May Not Have Voice in Monday Parley—Called a "Racket."

Because of Automotive Division of the Chamber of Commerce is not sufficiently represented in the membership of the Connecticut Automobile Dealers' Association, it is possible that local dealers in this field will not be allowed the privilege of sending a delegate to a state meeting to be held in Hartford Monday afternoon for the purpose of formulating an automotive code for this state.

This situation came to light last night at a meeting of the local division at the Chamber office. Carl L. Lane, field secretary of the association, was present to explain the new statutes on licensing garages and the necessity of signal devices on motor vehicles. In speaking of the state meeting Monday, Mr. Lane said that only a few Manchester dealers were members of the association and as a result he did not believe they would be allowed a voice in planning the code.

Codes for various industries are being formulated throughout the nation under the National Recovery Act for the return of prosperity, and the state association has taken the initiative in calling a meeting for that purpose. A number of local dealers have described the move as a "racket" to obtain new members for the association.

The local division deferred naming a delegate to the meeting until Monday morning at 11 o'clock, when the dealers will meet again at the Chamber office. In the meantime, officers of the division are making an investigation to determine how many members belong to the association.

Executive Vice President E. J. McCabe of the Chamber said this morning that because of the many lines of business represented in the Chamber membership, the organization is mainly concerned with the individual codes of the separate industries, beyond urging the various trade lines to have a voice in the creation of their codes and to obtain information in these codes that will be passed on to the members interested.

The blanket code, of course, has the whole-hearted endorsement of the Chamber and plans are rapidly going forward for the appointment of a committee that will handle Manchester's participation in the National Recovery Act.

CHURCH VACATION SCHOOL IS CLOSED

North End Churches Have Special Program as Classes End.

The vestry of the Second Congregational church was filled last evening for the closing program of the Church Vacation school, which has been conducted by the North Main street churches for seven consecutive seasons. Rev. F. C. Allen of the Second Congregational church who originated the school here and has been actively engaged in the work every summer, had his vacation in July, but motored up from the shore to attend the exercises.

Rev. M. S. Stocking of the North Methodist church presided in the absence from town of Mark Holmes, chairman of the joint committee from the sponsoring churches. Mr. Stocking praised the staff and helpers for the interest taken in the school and the preparation for last night's program. He called on the superintendents, Miss Frances Conroy of the primary department, Miss Marion Legg of the junior department and Mrs. J. L. Handley of the intermediate department, who in turn introduced their assistants.

Exhibitions of colorful handwork by the children filled tables at the sides and rear of the vestry. Pickle and marmalade jars of all sizes and shapes were painted or covered with rough plaster and colored, for flower containers and other uses. Bricks were covered with colored burlap, drawn with threads, for use as door stops. Other objects for the same purpose included nearly everything in the animal or bird line.

Mrs. E. J. Simonds, wife of the secretary of the Y. M. C. A. who has lived in China, loaned a most interesting collection of Chinese curios and coolie coats. The latter were worn during the program by Miss Conroy, her assistants and some of the children taking part in the exercises by the primary department. China is one of the subjects they have been studying about.

The junior department learned about India as a sideline and the intermediate department studied Bruce Barton's "The Man Nobody Knows," and "The Book Nobody Knows." Mrs. Handley's group contributed a play to the program, "The Happy Man," dramatized from a story by Oscar Wilde. The boys and girls knew their parts perfectly in the short time they had for preparation, and the whole program was well received by the audience of parents and friends.

Among the artists to appear on the Young People's program are William Tuckington, violinist; Edward Richardson, reader, and Miss V. Sorber, pianist, from Hartford. An instrumental quartet from the band under the direction of Hudson Lyons will also have a part in the program. At the conclusion of the entertainment, refreshments will be on sale in the lower hall, and a committee is arranging a delightful program in this connection. Particulars as to admission fees will be found elsewhere in today's Herald. As the affair is in support of the Sunday school picnic for the children, a large audience is expected to be on hand. Adjutant Reginald Martin, officer in charge of the local corps, who arrived in Manchester this week, will be chairman of the program.

POLICE COURT

Edward McGuinness, of 11 Ashworth street, pleaded guilty to driving under the influence of liquor and paid a fine of $100 and costs. He was arrested on West Center street near Foley street yesterday by Lieutenant William Barron. Complaint reached the police station that there was a man driving a truck all over the road. No time was lost in picking the man up.

Courtney K. Shill, of 22 Columbus Ave., Tackahoe, N. Y., a salesman for the Royal Typewriter Co. was fined $25 and costs for reckless driving. He was arrested last Sunday evening at Oakland corner by Traffic Officer Joseph Prentice. The officer said that Shill attempted to pass a long line of cars near the Oakland bridge and drove other cars off the highway. Shill claimed that he was a stranger here and had never driven over the highway before. Because of the fact that he had come all the way from Tackahoe, to answer to the charge $10 of the fine was remitted.
