France, England and Italy to Lift Restrictions Against Austria's Export; Also to Arrange a Loan.

Paris, Aug. 22.—(AP)—Immediate aid to depression-stricken Austria by lifting the restrictions against Austrian exports is being arranged by France and England and probably by Italy, it was learned on high authority today.

France proposes to remove or readjust her quotas on goods from Austria pending consideration of a vast economic reorganization of Austria and Hungary and the little satellite nations.

The French plan, officials said, contemplates prompt aid as essential to remedy Austria's grave situation, and it is believed here that Italy and England take the same view.

Increase Her Army In the meantime German threats are to be met by authorizing forces to increase her armed forces by 3,000 men to the treaty figure of 30,000.

Relations between Austria and Germany have been troubled recently because the Austrian government headed by Chancellor Engelbert Dollfuss has set itself resolutely against the Nazi movement with Austria.

To Receive Loan Austria has, or will soon get, the proceeds of a loan of 300,000,000 schillings, (nominally $47,400,000) from the League of Nations.

JURORS GUARDED AT KIDNAP TRIAL

Government Also Protecting Witnesses Called to Testify in Urschel Case.

Oklahoma City, Aug. 22.—(AP)—Leaders of the government's attack on the kidnaping racket were ready today to present their case to a Grand Jury which convenes here tomorrow in a setting bristling with armaments.

Witnesses and jurors in the preliminary prosecution of alleged members of the band that kidnaped Charles F. Urschel, oil millionaire, will be protected constantly by guards armed with sub-machine guns and automatics.

Announcing plans "for immediate trial for those indicted," District Attorney Herbert K. Hyde and Leslie E. Salter, special assistant attorney general, were to be joined today by Joseph B. Keenan, a special assistant attorney general who is conducting an investigation of racketeering.

Keenan, who said last night at Kansas City he believed there had been a decline in kidnaping since the government has become active against it, expects to announce shortly whether Harvey Bailey, held at Dallas, Tex., will be brought here to stand trial for the Urschel kidnaping or whether he will face charges in Kansas City for the Union station slaying of four officers and Frank Nash, their prisoner.

Hyde said he hoped to see the alleged kidnapers go to trial "not later than the first week in September."

The government, he said, would not wait for the arrest of George (Machine Gun) Kelly, sought as one of the two men who snatched Urschel from the porch of his home here last July 22 and allegedly took him to the Texas hideaway where, officers say, he was held for nine days for ransom reported to have totalled $200,000.

FIRST HOME LOAN READY TOMORROW

Waterbury Man First to Receive Federal Aid in State; Many Others to Follow.

New Haven, Aug. 22.—(AP)—Details for the formal issuance of its first mortgage loan were completed today by the Connecticut branch of the Home Owners Loan Corporation as applications for aid against persons threatened with foreclosure mounted beyond the $12,000,000 mark.

The loan, Peter M. Kennedy, state manager announced will be made to Edward Lallerte of 26 Pearl Lake road, Waterbury, jobless head of a large family. The Connecticut head of the Federal corporation said the transaction will be the first to be completed not only in this state, but in New England and New York state.

Lallerte will come to New Haven at 10:30 a. m., tomorrow to accept the loan formally. The amount of the loan or the holder of the first mortgage on Lallerte's home was not disclosed.

Kennedy said consummation of numerous other loans was imminent and tomorrow's ceremony, will serve to open the flood gates of the state-wide machinery that he has set up to aid distressed home owners.

At the close of business yesterday, Kennedy reported, 2,442 applications that appeared to qualify for loans totaling $12,247,179.66 had been received from throughout the state. Inquiries for loans far in excess of this figure, however, have been received, Kennedy estimating the total of qualifying and non-qualifying applications at about $30,000,000.

The total number of applications for loans that appear to qualify for each office was not available. Meanwhile Kennedy continued his state wide canvass to determine how far banks will go in extending aid in light of a recent ruling by Ernest L. Averill, deputy attorney general.

The manager recently expressed the opinion a special session of the General Assembly would be advisable to make bonds of the corporation and investments for savings banks and the savings departments of other banks.

Averill has ruled the bonds are not legal investments since they are guaranteed by the Federal government only as to interest, but that banks accept them in exchange for delinquent mortgages under certain conditions.

It is expected Kennedy will present the results of his bank survey to Governor Wilbur L. Cross, so the latter may determine if a special session is necessary.

Officials of the loan corporation have pointed out that unless the banks are willing to accept the Federal bonds, the organization will be seriously hampered in its work.

HUB POLICE HEAD, CROWLEY, IS DEAD

Was Superintendent Since 1915; He Never Used His Gun or Club.

Hull, Mass., Aug. 22.—(AP)—Michael H. Crowley, 67, superintendent of Boston police since 1915 and retired head of the International Conference of Police Chiefs, died at 12:57 a. m. today at Sylvester hospital.

He was born in South Boston, Jan. 18, 1866, and began his police career in 1888. He was known widely as "The cop who never killed his own or club."

Robert, King of the Belgians, conferred on him the Order of King Leopold in 1919 for the safeguarding of King Leopold II, Queen Elizabeth and the Crown Prince during their stay in Boston.

Crowley reached the retirement age of 65 in 1931, but Mayor James M. Curley announced he would not sign the superintendent's retirement papers and the "super" himself expressed a wish "to remain in the police department as long as the police and people want me."

He leaves his two sons. His wife died about a year ago.

GALE LASHES ATLANTIC; 9 DEAD, MANY MISSING

Storm On Way from Bermuda Bears Down on Eastern Seaboard and Does Considerable Damage.

New York, Aug. 22.—(AP)—A whiplash gale that has taken at least nine lives still stung part of the eastern seaboard today. Rain, driving down in record shattering volume, increased damage done by waves and tide.

In New Jersey, battered by freak winds that overwhelmed boats and bathers in giant combers, counted perhaps a score still missing, and braced itself to withstand the lash of a tropical hurricane's tail.

The center of this second disturbance, sweeping from the general direction of Bermuda, was described as diminishing in force as it bore down on the eastern seaboard.

Two More Deaths To the seven dead definitely counted Sunday, two more were added yesterday. Harold Lichter, 40, of Germantown, Pa., drowned when a pleasure boat capsized Sunday in Longport inlet, N. J., Sunday.

Boats Missing Three small pleasure boats were still officially missing and Coast Guardsmen at Cape May feared that others might be out in the gale, or perhaps sunk by its force. A capsized skiff, whose owner was unidentified, was washed ashore at Ocean City, N. J.

Early today three Coast Guard vessels—the Mojave, Hunt and Travis—knifed mountainous seas off New Jersey seeking missing craft.

Captain Christopher Bentham of the Ocean City Coast Guard emerged as one of the heroes of the storm. While picking up survivors of the Goldie R., a pleasure boat capsized in Long Port inlet, his leg became entangled in a line and injured so badly, he could not stand on it.

He continued to work, however, and later when his own boat was smashed, he put to sea to rescue 16 persons aboard from the Emma R., small vessel wrecked by the storm.

In Crispake Bay the tug boat Point Breeze capsized and its chief engineer, Percy Harrison, drowned. In many parts of New York City, cellars and streets were flooded in some cases to a depth of several feet.

HOOVER CALLED AS WITNESS BY BANK QUIZ JURY

Is Asked for Quick Reply to Request for Testimony on Federal Attitude Toward Detroit's Wrecked Banks.

Detroit, Aug. 22.—(AP)—Officials of the one-man Detroit bank jury today dispatched a letter to former President Herbert Hoover, asking him to appear as a witness before the jury investigating the closing of two National banks here.

A decision "as soon as possible" was asked of the former president. Under instructions of Judge Harry B. Keldan, sitting as a jury to investigate the closing of the First National Bank-Detroit, the country's largest closed bank, and the Guardian National Bank of Commerce, Treasurer Harry S. Toy sent the letter to the former President in Palo Alto, Calif.

He later stated that officials of the jury desired his testimony "concerning the attitude of the administrative agencies and Federal government toward the two closed Detroit National banks prior to March 4, 1933."

Possesses Facts It stated that the opinion of officials is that Mr. Hoover has in his possession "certain facts which might render your testimony as a witness highly significant and essential to a thorough and true presentation of the reasons underlying the closing of the Detroit banks."

Senator James Couzens (R. Mich.) yesterday suggested that the jury ask Mr. Hoover to come here for testimony. Previously the Senator had declared that the government knew of "bad practices" in the two closed banks in May, 1932, nearly a year before they closed, but that only a small write-down of losses was required then because "it was a political year, and the powers that be were not anxious to start an epidemic of bank closings."

Word from Palo Alto was that Mr. Hoover was on a fishing trip and might not be reached for a day or two.

Possibility that Mr. Hoover would be asked to testify before the jury was broached several weeks ago, when Judge Keldan revealed the former President had been "approached" as to his inclination to testify. Whether or not depositions would be taken in California, or Mr. Hoover would be asked to come here were not decided at that time.

In the letter today, however, the President was asked to come to Detroit.

Attorneys said the request to the former President would have no legal force, and that Mr. Hoover was "at perfect liberty" to decline if he wished.

BOSTON FINANCIER HELD ON WARRANT

New York, Aug. 22.—(AP)—Daniel Mullyoney, former head of the closed Federal National Bank of Boston, was arrested today on a warrant from Boston, said to have resulted from an indictment against him there.

Assistant U. S. Attorney Joseph Sharp said that a complaint would be drawn against Mullyoney here in proceedings to remove him to Boston.

The Boston banker first was detained here by U. S. Marshal Raymond Mulligan after Mullyoney had testified before a Federal Grand Jury which has been investigating the affairs of former Mayor James J. Walker.

DRAFT RESOURCES AS WELL AS MEN

Legion Head Says Half of Nation's Wealth Does Not Have to Pay Taxes

Grand Rapids, Mich., Aug. 22.—(AP)—A plea for the support of governmental efforts to restore "normal and reasonable living conditions for those willing to work," and a demand for economy in places "where it is worse needed," than "at the expense of the veteran," was voiced here today by Louis A. Johnson, National commander of the American Legion, at the convention of the Michigan department of the order.

The National commander presented a fourfold program which he said would go before the national convention of the Legion at Chicago Oct. 2-5, opposed cancellation of the national veterans' code, and urged the enactment into law of the principle of drafting resources as well as manpower in time of war.

Charging that half the wealth of the country is invested in tax-exempt securities, Johnson said, "if we are going to have economy, then let the government call in these tax-exempt securities so that the dollars of the rich man shall be taxed pro rata with the dollars of the poor man in carrying this government of ours."

"This is no time for petty politics," he said. "Every decent man and woman must put shoulder to the wheel and help bring our country out of the chaos that has engulfed it."

In outlining his four-point program, approved last May by the Legion's executive committee, Commander Johnson said "it will bring us back to the disabled to impose an unjust and heavy strain on the Federal Treasury because the welfare of the veterans and the welfare of our nation are inseparably entwined."

His Program. The program as Johnson outlined it is as follows: "1. A governmental policy of equal treatment for the veterans and widows and orphans of veterans, of all wars, this bringing all of the nation's veterans under on a common footing. All discriminations must be corrected for all time."

"2. A permanent classification and fixed determination of benefits for all classes of veterans of all wars, and their dependents to the end that both the government and the veteran shall know what the benefits shall be, and to reduce to a minimum the discontent from maladministration and misadministration of the law."

"3. A governmental policy of entirely adequate provisions, in periods of normal economic conditions, for all veterans with war service-connected disabilities, without regard to their financial status or other means of support."

"4. A governmental policy recognizing that all incapacitated veterans are, when without means of support, charges and wards of the Federal government and not of state, local or city governments, or public and private charity."

JURY IS CHOSEN IN LAMSON CASE

College Man Charged With Murdering Wife; Evidence Is All Circumstantial.

San Jose, Cal., Aug. 22.—(AP)—Confident and calm after prosecution intimations its case against him would be virtually all circumstantial, David A. Lamson, 31 Stanford University press representative, looked forward today to acquittal in his trial for the murder of his attractive 28 year old wife, Allene.

Six women and six men were tentatively accepted as jurors at the end of the first day of the trial yesterday.

Friends of Lamson said his confinement in the county jail had not affected him adversely and that he had told them he was getting "fine material for a prison play that I intend to write as soon as I get out."

Johnson Asks Them to Represent Price Increases by Jobbers — Told There Would Be No Man Hunting But If Cheaters Are Found Government Will Take Blue Eagle from Their Windows.

Washington, Aug. 22.—(AP)—A request from Hugh S. Johnson to recent price increases by jobbers was put before the nation's retailers today at the opening of the formal hearing on their wage lifting, work shortening code.

At the same time, the administrator said there would be no man hunting connected with the Blue Eagle provisions, but that if the recovery administration found cheaters it would "take the Blue Eagle right off their windows."

The retail code, which embraces virtually all stores and shops in towns and cities of the country, except drug and food stores, affects more employers and employees than any of the major businesses.

It calls for a 44 hour week with certain exceptions, minimum wages of from $10 to $14 a week, according to the population and location of the town or city and bans child labor.

Under the code, Lew Hahn, president of the National Retail Dry Goods Association, said local retail trade committees would draft regulations to apply the code to stores in their districts.

A. D. Whiteside, the presiding deputy administrator, suggested that enforcement and control be submitted to the National committee for determination.

HEARING OPENS Washington, Aug. 22.—(AP)—A declaration that the National recovery administration would not countenance unreasonable price increases was made today by Hugh S. Johnson in addressing retail dealers at the opening of a hearing on their code of competition.

The retail trade was urged by Johnson to resist price increases in the near future from jobbers who supply them with their goods.

"I say," Johnson said, "resent these price increases and we will surpass you."

The recovery administrator asserted that so far as speculative price rises were concerned his administration considered it "our duty to see that there is no runaway market."

He said the National Industrial Recovery Act would increase prices to meet new costs imposed by competition with the trade charter, but dead because of this "there is no reason to go away from us. If you do this you will kill the goose that lays the golden egg. The house that we are trying to build will collapse like a house of cards."

The retail trade hearing was described by Johnson as one of the most significant of any so far held. The retail trade, embracing virtually all stores and shops except drug and food, affects more employers and more employees than any of the major business conditions of the country.

Johnson described the purposes of the recovery act and told the retail dealers it provided an opportunity for the country's great industrial units to band together to wipe out "intolerable conditions" of depression. He added that the act did not need "Czarism" to administer it.

Must Co-operate He said those who did not co-operate not only were hitting their fellows but were helping to perpetuate the depression.

In enforcing compliance with the Blue Eagle provisions, Johnson asserted that there would be no violence, no man-hunting and no boycotting.

But, he said, the administration would move to uncover cheaters behind the Blue Eagle and then "we are going to move in and take the Blue Eagle right off their windows."

"You can't execute a great national law like this on 'allyhoop and booby,'" Johnson said. "The purpose now is to try to get as wide a measure of co-operation as possible. After that has been done and it is almost over now—there are going to see to those who are doing the cheating."

"The purpose of this act was to enable all trades and industries to rid themselves of those cheating practices which have been running through your industries. You can decree that ruthless competition and price cutting is to go.

Not In Business "That, you may be sure, doesn't mean that the government is in business."

In opening the hearing, Deputy Administrator A. D. Whiteside said: "This is the first public hearing (Continued on Page Two)

In trade, as distinguished from industry, which has ever been held in the United States. The decision which will be made as a result of this hearing will affect not only the 429,121 storekeepers whose investment is less than $500 and whose stores are the centers of the community life in thousands of villages, but those great department stores which are cities within themselves in metropolitan centers.

All told 1,499,720 retail concerns and more than 5,000,000 wage earners will be directly or indirectly affected as the result of this inquiry. We open this hearing with the full consciousness of the fact that the code or codes for the retail trade which will ultimately be approved will have a profound effect upon the economic and social life of every man, woman and child in the United States.

The code was presented and approved by: The National Retail Furniture Association, The National Retail Hardware Association, The National Retail Dry Goods Association, The National Association of Clothiers and Furnishers and the Shoe Retailers Association.

side seasonal sales or clearances of perishable or damaged goods. The code forbids advertising which claims a continuing policy of generally underselling competitors.

Whitehead asked Hahn for an interpretation of this local authority and was told that the retailers thought local business would have a more effective control over local conditions than a national board or the government itself.

Hahn replied there could be no "quarrel" with that suggestion. Whitehead also asked Hahn about changes made in a revised version of the code which reduced from $35 to $30 the pay of executives who would be exempt under the proposed trade plan and also increased the maximum hours from 40 to 44 hours a week.

GROOM IS FINED $10 FOR PUNCHING BRIDE

And She Jumps Out of Window Six Hours After the Wedding Ceremony.

Norwich, Aug. 22.—(AP)—Abraham Boyd, 21, said by police to be attached to the submarine base at Groton was fined $10 by Judge Thomas J. Kelly in city court for punching his bride of six hours in the jaw.

Judge Kelly in imposing the fine yesterday, said it was "a wedding present," but in the circumstances, felt he was "obliged to tax the bridegroom."

Boyd testified he did not recall what had occurred on his wedding night, while the bride, Stella Fitzkowski Boyd, said she jumped out of a window at her home after her husband struck her.

Captain John Casey of the Norwich police said Boyd told him at the time of his arrest that he "plastered" his bride because she told him she "did not love him."

Despite the stormy start of their marital adventure, the couple left the court room arm-in-arm after Boyd paid his fine and costs.

Items of Interest Recreation Center

The gymnasium of the East Side Recreation Center was thronged with parents and other interested folks for the woodworking exhibition last evening. There were many admiring comments on the display alford work that the boys have executed during eight weeks of summer under the direction of Henry Miller. Some 300 pieces made by the boys were on the floor, while some 200 pieces made by the girls under the direction of Miss Gertrude Fenerty were displayed. These also drew many comments. Many of these articles were on sale and others the boys took home.

One of the best exhibits was a dining room table made by John Muschko. Some of the visitors were hard to convince that a boy of 16 years could produce such a piece of furniture. It took him only four weeks to make the table. Another exhibit of fine workmanship was two single four poster beds. Most of the boys are from 7 to 16 years old and the girls average about the same in age.

The weather at the week-end spoiled many of the baseball games scheduled for Saturday and Sunday but sport fans are still on the watch for that game between the West Sides and the Bluefields.

The doll parade postponed from last week is now scheduled for Wednesday at 2 p. m. Miss Fenerty who has charge of the program believes that it will be a bigger affair and draw a bigger crowd than if it had been held on the original date. The parade will be at the West Side. There are prizes for the best dressed doll and the best looking doll carriage.

Younger members are still enrolling in the Globe Hollow swimming classes in the morning.

The next dance at the East Side Recreation building will be held on Friday of this week, when Art McKay's orchestra will furnish the music. The same admission charge will be asked.

A great improvement may be seen in the lobby of the East Side Recreation Building where carpenters are at work on an arch between the lobby and the reading room. This will present an attractive appearance as well as result in better lighting for the reading room.

For the past few days several young boys of the East Side have been damaging property on the East Playground. Some of the boys are known and their names have been given over to the police. If there is any more destruction of property they will have several charges brought against them.

SEEK UNITS HERE FOR NRA PARADE

All Organized Groups Are Invited to Take Part in Rally Monday Night.

Plans are rapidly being perfected for the official opening of the local NRA program, which will start with a parade and rally next Monday night. It was announced today that the parade would start at 7 o'clock, the starting point to be announced later.

Thway of the local National Guard unit have been approached and are favorable to bringing out Company G and the Howitzers to march, providing permission can be obtained from headquarters.

Due to the short time available, R. K. Anderson, head of the local committee, is using The Herald as the means of inviting local organizations to participate in the program. All local ministers are asked to take part in the national rally day program Sunday by carrying the message of NRA to their respective congregations.

The organization of the local drive units is also being completed and a meeting of the colonels, lieutenant colonels and majors of the artillery and infantry divisions has been called for 9:30 o'clock tomorrow morning at the Chamber of Commerce office, at which time definite instructions on the campaign will be given out.

FINDS INJURED CROW, TAMES IT QUICKLY

Ignatz Reichert Has Bird That Almost Talks — Likes to Tease Visitors.

Ignatz Reichert, of 34 Bidwell street, was walking through the woods near his farm a couple of weeks ago when his bird dog scared up a crow that didn't seem able to fly. Reichert took the crow home with him and caged it in some crate. Then he proceeded to tame the bird. Now it resembles a parrot in its actions more than a crow. Reichert thinks that if he keeps up his taming tactics he will soon have the bird talking. It is a mischievous bird delving into the shoe lace of visitors and in stealing cigarettes from those who let him sit on their shoulders. Pet crows aren't exactly a novelty in Manchester since C. R. Griffith of Pleasant street had one that was almost human, but Mr. Reichert thinks his is a bit smarter than any he has seen before.

NERVOUS WOMEN Take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

"I wish I were dead." . . . how often have we heard these expressions from some woman who has become so tired and run-down that her nerves can no longer stand the strain. No woman should allow herself to drift into this condition if she can help herself. She should give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. For nearly thirty years women have taken this wonderful tonic to give them renewed strength and vigor. 98 out of every 100 women who report to us say that they are benefited by this medicine. # Why—

You're always saying Chesterfields taste better

— I wish you'd tell me why

Well, I've worked in tobacco; I've manufactured cigarettes . . . and I'll tell you why Chesterfields taste better.

For a cigarette to have a good taste, it must have first the right kind of Domestic tobacco. This means ripe, mellow, sweet tobacco, filled with Southern sunshine. Then, blended and cross-blended with this tobacco there must be the right quantity of the right kinds of aromatic Turkish tobacco . . . tobacco that has a pleasing flavor and aroma.

Aroma, as you know, adds to the taste. It's just like the pleasing aroma from certain foods. It's appetizing. It makes the food taste better. It makes the cigarette taste better.

Then again, for a cigarette to have a good taste, it must be made right. The size, the cigarette paper, everything about it must be right.

Just try Chesterfields.

TUESDAY, AUGUST 22.

OUR FIRST DICTATOR.

In the back of the heads of millions of Americans who are devoutly hoping that the National Recovery Act will succeed and who are fearful of the consequences if it should fail, there is lurking a tiny shadow of apprehension lest the United States Supreme Court may declare invalid some vitally important part of the legislation on which the whole rehabilitation program is predicated. It is common to hear expressions of this fear from those who believe heart and soul in the NRA movement. It is not altogether uncommon to hear the expression of the same idea in the form of a hope. It comes from those who do not believe in the NRA movement; and there are more of these, perhaps, than generally believed, for they include singers and patriotic people as well as those who can see nothing but their immediate personal interests.

It is of the greatest interest at this time, therefore, to inform ourselves as the source of the authority of the United States Supreme Court in connection with this legislation adopted by Congress and the Executive power.

It will perhaps be a matter of surprise to a good many fairly well informed citizens that the Supreme Court does not draw any such specific power direct from the Constitution. The entire text of that part of the Constitution dealing with this subject consists of three paragraphs, one being Section 1 of Article Three and the others the first two of Section 2 of the same article. For the purpose of learning where we are at they are worth careful reading:

The judicial power of the United States shall be vested in one supreme court and such other inferior courts as the Congress may from time to time ordain and establish. The judges, both of the supreme and inferior courts, shall hold their offices during good behavior, and shall, at stated times, receive for their services a compensation, which shall not be diminished during their continuance in office.

The judicial power shall extend to all cases, in law and equity, arising under this Constitution, the laws of the United States and treaties made or which shall be made under their authority; to all cases affecting ambassadors, other public ministers and consuls; to all cases of admiralty and maritime jurisdiction; to controversies to which the United States shall be a party; to controversies between two or more states; between a state and citizens of another state; between citizens of different states; between citizens of the same state claiming lands under grants of different states, and between a state or the citizens thereof and foreign states, citizens or subjects.

In all cases affecting ambassadors, other public ministers and consuls, and those in which a state shall be a party, the supreme court shall have original jurisdiction. In all the other cases before mentioned the supreme court shall have appellate jurisdiction, both as to law and fact, with such exceptions and under such regulations as the Congress shall make.

That is all the Constitution says about a Supreme Court. Not a word about giving it a veto power over the acts of Congress and the President. Not a word even remotely suggesting such a veto power. Nowhere does the Constitution make the Supreme Court its guardian or suggest the "need of guardianship."

The Supreme Court's authority is directly drawn from the act of organization adopted by Congress in 1789, in conformity with the Constitutional provision that there should be such a court. By that act the court consisted of a chief justice and five associate justices. It is possibly of some significance that there are now eight associate structure at once dismises the impression of changelessness with relation to that august tribunal. But the act of 1789 did not, any more than the Constitutional provision, contain anything intended at the time to endow the Supreme Court with the veto power over legislation of Congress. In fact it was a number of years before any such idea appears to have occurred to anybody, and then the theory was evolved in the brain of one man, Chief Justice John Marshall, Marshall became chief justice in 1801, eleven years after the creation of the Supreme Court and two years thereafter, in an opinion delivered in the case of Marbury vs. Madison, he laid down the principle that it was the duty of the court to disregard any act of Congress which the court considered contrary to the federal Constitution. That was a brand new conception of the powers of the court.

It is well to remember, in considering these things, that John Marshall, by force of intellect and by a singular charm of personality, completely dominated the Supreme Court. For eleven years he wrote all its opinions and his associates "yesed" him unanimously and almost invariably. There probably never was a notable American with a more profound conviction of the infallibility of his own mind. His was exactly the kind of mentality to evolve the theory that when an act of Congress disagreed with his conception of Constitutional requirements Congress must necessarily be wrong—and to incorporate such a theory into a finding of his court.

John Marshall, then, it was, who converted the Supreme Court of the United States into a monitor upon the actions of Congress and Presidents. And by so doing the Chief Justice established himself as the first American dictator.

For a century and a quarter the Marshall-made monitorship at the Supreme Court has been maintained without successful challenge, though not by any means without much sporadic doubt and questioning. It has received the awed acquiescence of successive generations of Americans, by far the most of whom never had the faintest suspicion that the court's veto power on legislation existed not by special Constitutional direction but through the development of an idea in the mind of one individual long after the Constitution was adopted and almost as long after Congress had breathed the breath of life into the infant court. But the authenticity of the court's overlordship is, after all, open to doubt.

It is a curious, a fantastic thing to contemplate that this court, with its own powers in the matter born solely of the will of a dictator, may be called upon to declare that the rehabilitation laws are invalid because they create a dictatorship.

It is improbable that the Supreme Court will set itself against the kind of legislation on which the very life of the nation now seems to depend—for two reasons. One is because, in all probability, the court in any test will adopt the view that for its self preservation the nation must do the obviously necessary thing, whether there is precedent for it or not. The other reason is that the Supreme Court would be extremely unlikely to risk its annihilation as a Constitutional guardian and its relegation to the status of a mere court, under and not above the government—which is the status of the highest court of every country in the world save this one.

Because it is in the cards that if the Supreme Court should attempt to interfere with the American people's separate effort to restore economic stability, its authority would be instantly challenged for the first time since Chief Justice Marshall endowed it with the governmental quality by a few lines of writing.

TWO-WAY UMPIRE.

It is entirely possible that the most difficult obstacle in the path of successful operation of the NRA program may result from a creation of its own. In insisting that employers recognize the right of labor to bargain collectively the NRA sets up a principle whose difficulty of application it may or may not have recognized; probably it did recognize it but decided that, nevertheless, it was vital to the purpose of the movement.

At all events, organized labor is receiving the backing of the administration to an extent that probably outruns its most extreme expectations. Thereby there is posed in the hands of the labor leaders of the nation a power tremendous in its potentialities. It is a power which, unwisely wielded, and unrestrained, might easily wreck the aspirations of those who have bestowed it and bring down in ruin the whole edifice of economic rehabilitation. An enormous responsibility rests upon

THE LEADERS OF THE LABOR ORGANIZATIONS—AND UPON THE INDIVIDUAL MEMBERS OF THOSE BODIES.

Very sincerely it is to be hoped that they will measure up to that responsibility. There is not the slightest doubt that neither employer nor employee is to be trusted with too much power over the other. These industrial employers who in the past have operated their businesses exclusively for profits and without any just consideration for the moral rights of their workers were un-entitled to be trusted with as much power as they had. The labor unionist who is determined to impose upon his employer exactions which his business cannot stand, merely because he is in a position to do so, is an unfit for uncontrolled power as the other.

Unhappily it is substantially impossible for either to discover the exact point of fairness in dealing with the other, or to control his own selfish inclinations so as to stop at that point, if by chance he has discovered it.

There would seem to be then, in any readjustment of relationships between employer and employee, utter need of an umpire—an umpire armed with a big stick.

In the NRA movement there is, so far, such an umpire. But it will seem to many that this umpire's duties, as prescribed in the present set-up, are much too strictly limited to watching the employer. Who, if anybody, is watching the organized or to-be-organized employee?

We are very hopeful indeed of the success of the NRA device. We are not, however, so infatuated as to believe that it is a perfect machine—men who could have created a perfect economic machine of such magnitude in so short a time would have been super-human. It is our belief that for very soon the NRA will discover the necessity of regulating the other side also of this collective bargaining question; just as it will very soon have to regulate and moderate the upward trend of consumer prices. And we haven't the slightest doubt that it will do both. We still adhere firmly to the conviction that what must be done in this great emergency, to re-establish America economically, will be done. There is no limit anywhere. All obstacles will be overcome, including of course, any tendency on the part of organized labor to run wild under the misconception that this movement, instead of being for the good of all the people, is just for the good of organized labor.

IN NEW YORK

By PAUL HARRISON

New York, Aug. 22.—(AP)—Meaningless of the more general bootleggers about town, are making arrangements to obtain minor jobs in legitimate businesses shortly before prohibition repeal goes through. And not because they intend to keep those jobs, either. It is a scheme whereby, when the time comes for them to apply for licenses to sell liquor, they can more-or-less truthfully report their previous occupations as realtors, bond salesmen and the like....

Meanwhile, there is truly desperate competition among the wet-goods vendors. Bootleggers are hard-pressed because the big syndicates supplying the best stuff have agreed on a code calling for an advance in prices and a final clean-up before the apparently inevitable crash of their industry....

The city's thousands of cordial shops, on the other hand have gone to all-time lows in price-cutting.... And some drug stores, with bonded stock in their vaults, now hire young doctors to sit in adjoining offices and write liquor prescriptions for tipping customers....

Hyde Park Night Life

For motorists intent on a look at the rather scattered scene of President Roosevelt's vacation, there's a roadhouse near the Hyde Park estate, on the Albany Post Road, that is recommended for its food, fun and fairly famous folk. It is Fritz Singer's Place, and the rotund Fritz is always glad-handing people such as Al Smith, William F. Kenney, members of the President's party, one or another of the President's distinguished guests Broadway celebrities, and large and gay parties of newspaper correspondents.... One of these correspondents is always being mistaken for James Roosevelt by eager sightseers. He seldom distinguishes them, but when pressed in the matter of autographs.... The other evening, after five pleading notes had been sent to his table by two determined, elderly ladies, he wrote, in desperation, his own name and occupation. A month soon came back. "Many thanks, Mr. Roosevelt. And have no fear that we might betray your incognito...."

"Tiger's Lair"

The real thrills of Gotham's post-war economy went in Tammany Hall, but on the thirty-seventh floor of a skyscraper at 70 Pine street, in the financial district, it's the insurance brokerage office of John F. Curry, Tiger chieftain, who holds conferences there and visits the hall only absent once a week.... The city commissioner of water, Gary, a criminal at his core, in being the license plate on his car that's numbered "H. J. 22." Visting celebrities turned out for the opening of a new show on the Pennsylvania roof. Wiley Post and Jimmy Mat- were there, talking about their globe-circling luck. And Eleanor Holm, trim vision in blue; and Jeanette MacDonald, just back from abroad and frankly, just back from the dullness of the town; and Frank Whiteman, just a shadow of his former self with Margaret Livingston, his wife, who has written a book about how the monstrous maestro reduced; and Buddy Rogers and Claire Windsor, whose names are being linked by the local gossipers.

Post, Matern and Miss Holm, by the way, are appearing in vaudeville hereabout. A few weeks ago Prime Garners was packing them into a Broadway theater. Previously the fair "Princess" had assumed the name of "Princess" and vaudeville offers were in lights. And Jessie Costello during her trial after the poisoning of her husband.... The vaudeville game has reached such a pass, it seems, that anybody in the headlines can be a headliner.

POLICE STUDY METHODS TO BATTLE GANGSTERS

Harrisburg, Aug. 22.—(AP)—In step with the Nation's anti-crime drive, police from nine states went to school today for lessons on how to fight the gangster with his own weapons.

Machine guns and revolvers were fired off for hours in a study mapped out for more than ten days by representatives of the state, municipal and industrial police departments gathered for a week of intensive training.

The line art of the defensive and offensive use of tear and smoke gas bombs tanks used while hand-to-hand fighting and justly and disarming tricks are not to be neglected.

Sponsored by the State Highway Patrol and the National Highway Patrol and the National Highway Patrol of America, the school will send its graduates back to their home cities, qualified to act as instructors and to swell the army of eastern police trained in beating the gangster.

Upon completion of the four-day course, the police will test their shooting ability in the annual two-day revolver contest.

Among the police departments represented are those of Weston, Mass., and Bennington, Vt.

Although an expert swimmer when grown, the young sea lion has to be taught this accomplishment; thousands of them drown every year in the process of learn-

DR. HEDBERG AGAIN IN THE LIMELIGHT

St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 22.—(AP)—Another mystery involving Dr. W. H. Hedberg, St. Paul chiropractor, confronted police today as they investigated his disappearance.

Dr. Hedberg, last month alleged victim of an attempted mutilation operation, which called, was found in a railroad yard here yesterday and was taken unconscious to a hospital.

He was cut, bruised and apparently under the influence of narcotics, a police physician said. His condition was regarded as not serious, but he might be permanently injured.

He was found with five punctures near his right elbow, a parently made by a hypodermic needle, the physician said. Dr. Hedberg disappeared Saturday night after telephoning his wife he was on his way home. Police learned he was seen last by a friend, a St. Paul physician and secretary of the Minnesota Board of Medical Examiners, were summoned from their homes through false telephone calls.

They were dispatched and police were told Dr. Hedberg was asked by unidentified persons to perform a mutilating operation on Dr. Hedberg. Dr. Hedberg refused and was drugged. The next morning he and Dr. Hedberg were found on a country road, a short distance from each other.

STRIKE IN CHICAGO

Chicago, Aug. 22.—(AP)—Garment workers said by their leaders to total 10,000 went on strike in 100 factories today for higher wages and shorter working hours.

Bernard Shone, president of the International Ladies Garment Workers Union, said the strike was called because employers were displaying the Blue Eagle of the NRA on their plants but were not living up to its principles.

Some of the workers, Shone shared not only $4 a week. About 90 percent of the strikers were women.

Employers said they would obtain sufficient dresses from New York to care for demands. They said employees getting small wages were employed on piece work.

BERTON MILLS CLOSE

Rockingham, N. C. Aug. 22.—(AP)—Five Rockingham county mills closed today for a week with the announcement the Federal processing tax and textile code had raised textile prices which in turn led to "day up" orders, necessitating a shut-down to prevent overproduction.

Managements of the mills, the Hannah Bickett One and Two, the Butwhistle Number One and the Pee Dee One and Two, said they reopened next Monday.

The mills employ approximately 3,000 workers.

KEEPING FOODS COOL IS GOOD ECONOMY

One of the first references to the cooling of foods or drinks mentions Nero who sent slaves into the mountains to bring back snow for chilling his wine. In cold climates it is often possible to place food out of doors during the winter, allowing it to freeze. Our modern methods of cooling foods is superior to Nero's because it is continuous and the freezing of cold climates because it is under control. In some ways the discovery of continued and controlled cold is as remarkable as the discovery of fire. So many of our processes of today depend on cold that it is impossible to make a complete list of them all. For example, cold is used in making chocolate, in shipping flowers, in photography, in holding back the melting of silk worms until the mulberry leaves are ready, in distilling, in manufacturing, in painting, etc. It is even possible for you to have fresh orchids each day while voyaging across the Atlantic as the flowers are kept in good condition in the ship's refrigerator.

However, the use of cold in connection with the preservation and handling of foods has a health value so high that it cannot be estimated, especially during the warm weather which at one time heralded the season of many food poisoning cases. Many of the more perishable foods, such as butter and eggs, could not be shipped or stored without cold. To New York City more than 4,000 carloads of milk are shipped each month, and without refrigeration this would be impossible. Many of the foods you eat each day are kept wholesome by being kept cold. For example, milk, butter, eggs, meat, fish, ice cream, fresh cheese, etc.

The most important benefits of food refrigeration are: (1) Foods are kept safe by holding the temperature so low that bacteria cannot multiply in them. (2) It keeps foods in an edible condition for a longer time thus prolonging the season of fresh foods. (3) It aids in shipping perishable foods from one part of the country to another. (4) In the home refrigeration preserves leftovers and stops the wasting of food through spoilage.

It is believed that the greatest value of refrigeration has been in connection with the handling of our meat supply. Much of the trouble and danger which were formerly caused by eating rotting meat has been done away with by our modern method of handling meats in a frigid atmosphere. It is no accident to the flavor of meat it is kept a while as the freezing actually makes the fibres more tender and more easily digested. Without refrigeration of some kind we could not distribute meats to all parts of the world in wholesale quantities. If we could not keep meat by refrigeration, we would have to go back

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

(Artificial Feeding)
 Question: Mr. Orville A. writes: "Will you kindly answer the following questions: Does a person who is fed artificially have a taste through the nose by the use of a tube, suffer while being thus nourished? Also, is there any other method by which a person may be artificially fed?"

Answer: Artificial feeding is sometimes resorted to with people who are unable to eat because of some physical obstruction or are unwilling to eat. Feeding of this kind is more or less unpleasant but does not do any actual harm. Feeding may be given by a tube through the mouth, or a slow drip enema. The average doctor is usually too ready to force feeding, however, not taking into consideration the fact that people may live quite a long time without food, and, in fact, is conquered properly the health may sometimes improve sufficiently so that normal feeding takes place.

(Believing Varicose Veins)
 Question: F. L. P. asks: "Will you please tell me if hot baths are harmful to varicose veins? Also, is it advisable to wear an elastic bandage, and how should it be worn, evenly or criss-cross?"

Answer: Hot applications will relieve the pain from varicose veins, but it is much better to always use cold applications, with wet cloths or with ice. This will shrink the veins more to their normal size. If plenty of ice treatment is used, it will not be necessary to wear an elastic stocking or bandage. However, if the bandage is used, it should be put on criss-cross.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN Washington

CODE INVADERS SOON TO FEEL HAND OF NRA

"More Heat" Expected as Many Complaints Are Filed At Headquarters

By RODNEY DUTCHER

Washington, Aug. 22.—Watch for some hot developments in connection with enforcement of the President's blanket code.

NRA officials are gravely concerned by piles of telegrams from states throughout the country, demanding help or advice in cases arising from violations or refusals to sign up. Many of these are from chambers of commerce or local drive officials.

The man who signed up, shortly after, raised low wages and hired new employees in good faith emits a sad plaint as his competitor—a non-signer—faces him with ruinous competition made possible by lower costs.

More "Heat" Expected

An example of the sort of thing that can happen is reported from Maryland. A large, nationally known canning firm is operating under the code. Although it is another corporation which is paying its workers 10 cents an hour. The tomato canning season will soon be over, leaving the firm company operating at a disadvantage for the next year.

After the first rush of code acceptance came another rush of inquiries from employers who had no surplus with which to tide them over the extra costs in the immediate future. Apparently they will have to be granted temporary excuse.

Recent tendency has been to place campaign responsibility for decisions on local agencies, but more "heat" is sure to be turned on from Washington.

Popular Support Seen

One thing every administration official agrees upon: The plain people of the country are still solidly behind Roosevelt and may be counted upon to support him in any venture he is likely to undertake.

That's important because nearly everyone expects further measures of government control. Washington may find itself in serious conflict with powerful sections of finance and industry.

The facts behind the end of the coal strike in Fayette City, Pa., as privately reported here, bear out the inference from hundreds of thousands of letters and telegrams to Washington that the President retains unprecedented popularity.

Trusted Roosevelt

The miners who returned to work after NRA Labor Advisor Ed McGrady appealed to them in Roosevelt's name weren't interested in the national mediation set-up or the members of its board. They put their trust in Roosevelt alone, believing he was their best possible bet.

The U. S. Steel-owned Frick Co. had argued that it wouldn't come under any NRA code deal, but miners told McGrady they knew Roosevelt would compel the company to come in.

Hoops Stayed at Home

It seems quite worthy of note that the first conference on hope called by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration was held in the Palm Room of the Hotel Willard. Representatives of producers, marketing agencies, processors, wholesalers and buyers were there. They brought no hope.

ABANDON ALL EFFORTS TO FIND PILOT'S BODY

Abandonment of efforts to recover the body of a pilot who crashed to his death in a flaming plane in a marsh near Leipzig Saturday was decided today after the arrival here of two men from Roosevelt Field, N. Y.

The man, Herbert McCarthy and Andy Surin, said they had talked with Mrs. Edward McCarthys, of Oyster Bay, L. I., whose husband is believed to be the victim of the crash, and that she had agreed to abandonment of the search.

The plane exploded in mid-air and burst into flames, plunging into a marsh on the farm of John E. Garney. High tide prevented an immediate search until yesterday. Rise of the tide curtailed the efforts then, and state police said the wreckage continued sinking in the bog. A portion of a body and of the plane were found.

State police said today the plane had sunk to a depth of more than 10 feet, making continuation of the search practically impossible.

It has been decided to hold funeral services Wednesday over the spot where the plane fell. Mrs. McCarthys is expected to attend.

STRIKE IN CHICAGO

Chicago, Aug. 22.—(AP)—Garment workers said by their leaders to total 10,000 went on strike in 100 factories today for higher wages and shorter working hours.

Bernard Shone, president of the International Ladies Garment Workers Union, said the strike was called because employers were displaying the Blue Eagle of the NRA on their plants but were not living up to its principles.

Some of the workers, Shone shared not only $4 a week. About 90 percent of the strikers were women.

Employers said they would obtain sufficient dresses from New York to care for demands. They said employees getting small wages were employed on piece work.

BERTON MILLS CLOSE

Rockingham, N. C. Aug. 22.—(AP)—Five Rockingham county mills closed today for a week with the announcement the Federal processing tax and textile code had raised textile prices which in turn led to "day up" orders, necessitating a shut-down to prevent overproduction.

Managements of the mills, the Hannah Bickett One and Two, the Butwhistle Number One and the Pee Dee One and Two, said they reopened next Monday.

The mills employ approximately 3,000 workers.

Senator Cousins Tells Bank New Regulations Go Into Effect to Cut Down the Profits from Hold-Up.

Jury How Check for Six Million Was Used.

Detroit, Aug. 22.—(AP)—United States Senator James C. Watson, Michigan, told the Detroit bank investigating jury here today that there has been all kinds of "kiting" of checks in an effort to mislead the public as to the actual condition of the two National banks, whose closings last February the jury is investigating.

The Michigan Senator, declining to give the source of his information on grounds that it was confidential, said he was "satisfied" that it is the process of going into the dealings between the groups he will find all kinds of kiting checks. This is a very serious situation.

He declared such action was made as the time for the regular examinations approached.

"I am informed that on one occasion the Detroit Trust Company got $6,000,000 from the National Bank—Detroit," he said.

"It then turned around and deposited this $6,000,000 with the First National as a trust fund. The net effect of this was to show that each bank had $6,000,000 in cash more than it actually has."

D. A. R. SEARCH ON FOR HIDDEN GOLD

Washington, Aug. 22.—(AP)—A search for hidden gold is contemplated by the 150,000 Daughters of the American Revolution.

The National headquarters of the organization has for the Daughters to make a full housecleaning in an effort to find all broken rings and bits of gold ornaments to be melted down for the ornamentation and signs for a book to contain the names of all contributors to Constitution Hall, the D. A. R. auditorium.

Mrs. Grace Iveson Hall Brown, o. Greenwich, Conn., president-general when the building was begun, will head the memory book committee.

Her presentation is planned for November 10, the birthday of Mrs. Susan William Magna of Holyoke, Mass., president general of the D. A. R., who visited every state as head of the Constitution Hall management committee.

On that date, final payment on the building, costing more than a million dollars, will be made.

PRISONERS ON DECREASE

Washington, Aug. 22.—(AP)—The Census Bureau finds that for the first time since 1918, there was a decrease last year in the number of men committed to prisons.

The number of reports from 44 states and the District of Columbia—Alabama, Georgia, Mississippi and South Carolina state prison figures were missing—showed that the number of women put in prison had decreased, but that had been the tendency for the last three years.

The 1932 total commitments were 66,884 compared with 69,433 in 1931; male prisoners committed dropped from 66,482 to 63,471; female from 8,357 to 5,962. The bureau made an attempt to explain the drop.

HITLER FEARS CAMERAS

Berlin, Aug. 22.—(AP)—The aviation ministry issued a decree today stating that passengers must surrender cameras during airplane flights over German territory to prevent photographing from the air.

Aviation Minister Hermann Wilhelm Goering issued the order June 24 for construction of two fast police scouting planes to pursue and establish the territory of any possible invading air raiders. This followed a price report that unidentified foreign planes were dropping bombs on German territory which insulted the government.

Germany was denied an air force under the terms of the Versailles peace treaty.

FREEDOM'S PORTRAIT

Hyde Park, N. Y., Aug. 22.—(AP)—President Roosevelt took the opportunity of a quiet day at home to bid today for the painting of his official portrait to be hung in the White House beside those of his predecessors.

Mrs. Emmett Rand, of Salisbury, Connecticut, is the artist. She began the portrait today and it is expected she will complete it about the first of the year, doing her work at the convenience of the busy President.

LOS ANGELES SCHOOLBOY TO GO TO ANTARCTIC

California Lad Who Is to Accompany Admiral Byrd, Envy of Chums.

By NEA Service Los Angeles, Aug. 22.—Charles Wilson, Jr., is the envy of all the youngsters of the west coast. For when the steamer "Pacific" sails from Boston earlier next month, Charles will be aboard, bound for a two-year adventure in the South Polar regions with Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd.

Unlike the two young boys who accompanied Admiral Byrd on his first expedition to the South Pole, young Wilson is not a Boy Scout, and has had no special experience in camping, out or in outdoor life. As a matter of fact he has never even seen snow. But even at that the thought of braving sub-zero weather and unknown hardships for two years don't worry him in the least. "It's going to be great fun," he says.

Charles plans to keep a diary of his adventures at the bottom of the world, and may write a book later on. Just what his duties will be with the expedition he doesn't know. "I'll probably be cabin boy," he speculates. The trip will cut short his high school career, but he plans to return to that when he gets back in 1935.

Young Wilson who was born in Salt Lake City, got the chance to go with Byrd through his father's friend, Guy O. Shirley, personnel and medical officer with the expedition. The youngster, busily preparing these days for the great adventure, has promised to bring back to each of his envious friends a real live penguin.

TO JUNK BIG YACHT New London, Aug. 22.—(AP)—The Yacht Narada, once one of the queens of the eastern yachting fleet, and during the last year mentioned as a prospective floating night-club or excursion boat, will be neither it was learned today. The vessel will be junked here and parts sold. The big yacht sold last year for less than $5,000 to a local junk dealer, who announced several plans for the craft which did not materialize. The Narada, cost $30,000 to build at Leith, Scotland, 44 years ago. She was for some time owned by Henry Walters, now deceased, of Balti-

National University students to hold an outdoor meeting today to consider a general strike and request relief to the university administration. The students demanded they be given a voice in the management of the institution. The university was opened and classes were meeting except where small groups interfered. Traffic in many down-town streets was left

WALL STREET PRICES

New York, Aug. 22.—Chicago and Northwestern railway last week loaded 22,224 cars of freight compared with 22,781 in the previous week and 20,695 in the corresponding period last year.

The Standard Statistics Co. says reports from tire manufacturing centers indicate that another 10 per cent increase in casing and tube quotations is in early prospect. If the revision comes, it will mark the fourth advance since last spring and carry average prices well above those of early 1933, it is said.

Sales of new automobiles for 1933 should approximate 1,500,000 units, according to an analysis by the Chrysler corporation. This total would be about half-way between the total for 1932 and 1931.

A Thought

Beware of the scribes, which desire to walk in long robes, and love greetings in the market, and the highest seats in the synagogues and the chief rooms at feasts.—St. Luke 20-46.

Ostentation is the signal flag of hypocrisy. The charlatan is verbose and assumptive; the Pharisee is ostentatious, because he is a hypocrite. Pride is the master sin of the Devil; and the Devil is the father of lies.—Chapin.

STRUCK BY AUTO Patchogue, N. Y., Aug. 22.—(AP)—Two youths from Boston were in the Community hospital today with serious injuries suffered when they were struck by a truck in the near-by Long Island village of Hagerman during the height of the storm last night.

The injured are Edward Davey of 39 Lawrence street, Boston, and Arthur Talabach of 73 Appleton street, Boston. Both are 20 years old. Both suffered possible fractures of the skull and Talabach also suffered a broken rib and possible internal injuries.

Harry T. Howland, Patchogue truck driver, said the men were walking in the road and that because of the storm he did not see them until it was too late to avoid striking them. A technical charge of assault was placed against him.

STRIKE NOT SETTLED Norwich, Aug. 22.—(AP)—Striking weavers met with officials of the Foxmase Company today in an effort to compose their differences but at the conclusion of the conference it was announced no decision on ending the strike had been reached.

SEN. DICKINSON RAPS NRA PLAN Says Government Cannot Continue to Finance Banks and Public Works.

Chicago, Aug. 22.—(AP)—As an umpire in economic disputes, the government will be either "politely ignored or driven from the field by a popular barrage of conflict of interest," Senator L. J. Dickinson of Iowa said today.

Senator Dickinson, keynote speaker of the last Republican National convention, addressed a luncheon group at the Midland Club, commenting upon the government's economic program.

"The present administration in Washington is definitely committed to a policy of definite centralized government control," Senator Dickinson said.

Open criticism would soon appear against the general program of government direction of private enterprises, he said.

"Soon it will be claimed that recovery in industry will be more certain and business more stable if permitted to return to its old channels of activity," the senator said.

"It is my belief that the best business minds are of that opinion now," increased taxes.

The ultimate cost of the economic program, he said, would be borne by the public, in the form of new and increased taxes.

"All government assistance in both business and finance can be only temporary," he asserted.

"When we realize that the Federal administration on public works is just commencing, and that the Industrial Recovery Act is functioning only in a limited way, and that the expense of the agricultural relief act will not be met until large appropriations are made to pay rentals on the land," he said.

Senator Dickinson then reviewed the government's expenditures to aid the nation's business and said expected income was not adequate to meet them.

Declaring that "we should approach further charges against the public treasury with caution," the senator said.

KILLS HUSBAND, MOTHER, THEN COMMITS SUICIDE

Police Believe Woman Who Had Been Ill a Long Time, Suddenly Became Insane.

Gainesville, Ga., Aug. 22.—(AP)—E. C. Palmour, 60, prominent Gainesville business man, and his mother-in-law, Mrs. Annie Wilson, 34, were shot and killed in their sleep by his wife who then committed suicide early today, Acting Chief of Police J. H. Richardson announced.

WOMAN TRIES TO PASS BAD MONEY, ARRESTED

Tells Police It Had Been Given to Her and She Knew It Was Counterfeit.

Waterbury, Aug. 22.—(AP)—Angelina Tremaglio, 37, of 88 Avon street, wife of Angelo Tremaglio, one of two proprietors of the Village Tavern at 263 Bank street, was arrested this morning on a charge of passing counterfeit money after she had given a bad $1 bill to a clerk in an Exchange place store, according to police.

Officers who made the arrest, say that the woman knew that the bill was counterfeit, in her pocketbook police say they found another counterfeit $1 bill.

Police say that they have evidence that the two counterfeit bills were paid last week by the Village Tavern to a beer wholesaler. When the wholesaler learned yesterday that the bills were counterfeit, he returned them to the tavern, according to police, and received $2 in good money. The counterfeit money, according to police, originally came to the tavern in payment for food and drinks.

When arrested after the girl clerk had detected the spurious money, Mrs. Tremaglio admitted that she knew the money was counterfeit and was "trying to get rid of it," according to police. She said the money was given her by Joseph L. De Gostin, her husband's partner.

HELEN HAYES RETURNS TO BROADWAY THEATERS

New York, Aug. 22.—(AP)—Helen Hayes has renounced Hollywood at least temporarily and in doing so has issued a challenge to all other theater trained movie stars to do the same.

"Hollywood should be made to pay its toll to the theater," Miss Hayes said.

"Where are, I don't know how many actors, actresses and authors in Hollywood who owe their expensive contracts to the success they received in the theater. They have cashed in on that success in motion pictures."

"To keep the scale balanced those people should voluntarily pay a tax to the theater, by returning to it regularly, even at the cost of high Hollywood salaries."

Miss Hayes' Broadway play will be either Maxwell Anderson's "Mary of Scotland" for the Theater Guild or a play still unchosen for Gilbert Miller, who produced "The Good Fairy," with Miss Hayes, two years ago.

GOLDEN'S LEAD CUT ON GREENS

Three-Putting Loses Both Him and Burke Strokes—Resnik Picking Up.

New Britain, Aug. 22.—(AP)—Three putting on greens cost both Johnny Golden, Connecticut open golf champion and his greatest rival in the present tournament, Billy Burke three strokes to par on the first nine of the final 18 of the 72 hole championship grid being played today at the Shuttle Meadow Club.

Both went out in 40. The amateurs were carrying on the battle, however with might and main. Burt Resnik of Race Brook cut Golden's lead by two strokes when he covered the first nine in 38, one over par. Bobby Grant of Wethersfield, after a shaky start, got hot near the end of the round and was 38, one over par at the turn. Dom Soccoli who with Frank Ross of Wampanoag and Burke was tied for third place yesterday with 162, scored a pair of 35s today for a pretty 70, one under par for the 18 holes. He was among the early starters this morning. Ross also found some trouble over the first nine and came in at the turn with a 40 while Du Ahern, Willimantic stylist, carded a big 42.

The survivors of yesterday's downpour and quagmire, found conditions for playing much better today. Rain fell early this morning but it let up and stopped just after starting time. Although soggy, the course gave the competitors a fair chance to recoup some of their lost strokes of yesterday and for the prize, other than first, was being carried on with the keenest kind of competition.

Bobby Grant, playing in the threesome with Golden and Charley Clare, state champion, missed a hole in one on the ninth green by about two inches. His iron shot from the tee sailed high and true for the pin, landed about three feet in front of the cup and with a slow roll, went about a foot past it. He caged a bird on the hole.

Golden started out one over par and went over another stroke on the second hole. He was missing fairly easy putts. He came back to cage a bird on the third, but went back to two over when he scored a five on the fifth with another three putt hole. He began to find his putts a touch at the sixth scored a par 3 and scored par fives on the seventh and eighth and a par three on the ninth.

Afternoon Play of five strokes out to two by Gene Kunes of Tumble Brook and three others close behind, at the end of 54 holes of play in the Connecticut open tournament being played at the Shuttle Meadow Golf Club, the field was tied for the final 18 holes of the 72 hole grid.

Golden, who captured the state open title last year at Wampanoag was off in his putting this morning and carded a 75 for the morning 18, leaving him with a total of 219 strokes for the 54 holes.

Kunes who was five strokes down to Golden at the end of yesterday's play, came in one over par this morning with a sparkling 72 which, added to his 149 of yesterday gave him a total of 221, two behind Golden at the final 18 play.

Three amateurs were crowding near the top. Dom Soccoli of Torrington, New England public links champion, who was tied with Frank D. Ross of Wampanoag and Billy Burpee, former National open champion, yesterday for third place, was in third place, one stroke behind Kunes. He scored a brilliant 70 this morning placing third in the running.

Bobby Grant of Wethersfield, former New England and State amateur champion, burned the course up this morning, after a shaky start and chalked a 70 to put him fourth with 224. Burt Resnik of Race Brook, who was tied with Kunes yesterday, for second place, ran into trouble this morning, carded a 76, five over par, to land in fifth place with 225.

Burke had trouble with his putter this morning and he was standing 228 after shooting a 76. Leo Malory of Westbrook and Graham Reid of Farmington were tied with Frank D. Ross, New England amateur champion, both had 229.

Three putting on greens proved costly to both Golden and Burke this morning. Golden shot a 40 on the first nine, recovered somewhat and came back in one over par with a 35 for a 75 for the morning 18. Burke had trouble on the greens.

Grant's play today was the highlight of the morning round. He barely missed an ace on the ninth green, when his tee shot, landed from aloft about three feet in front of the cup and slowly rolled by, two inches from the pin and stopped within a foot beyond. He caged a birdie on the hole. In the 18 holes he caged seven birdies in all, shooting a 67 for the morning 18. On the 154 yard fifth Burke hit the pin high up and his ball back spinned about six feet away. He holed the putt for a birdie.

COSTIGAN BACKS PROJECT

Watertown, N. Y., Aug. 22.—(AP)—Completing an inspection tour of the upper St. Lawrence river, Senator Edward P. Costigan of Colorado today told newspapermen here that "if the Senate as a whole could view the physical aspects of the seaway project, I feel sure the treaty (with Canada) would be ratified. The seaway and power project impresses me as marking the birth of a new age, the beginning of the real electrical era."

Senator Costigan and Mrs. Costigan made the inspection in company with Delos M. Cosgrove of Watertown, vice chairman of the trustees of the state power authority.

SEVEN ARE KILLED; TRUCK HITS TRAIN

Four Others in Auto Seriously Hurt; Driver Said He Did Not See Engine.

Lumberton, N. C., Aug. 22.—(AP)—Seven persons were killed today when a tobacco truck carrying 12 men and boys from Deep Run, Lenoir county, crashed into a Seaboard Airline passenger train near here.

Three were killed instantly, two died while being carried to hospitals and two others died soon after reaching hospitals. The other five on the truck were injured, four of them seriously.

The truck was owned by J. R. Davenport, of Deep Run. Haywood Smith was driving it and the men were carrying the tobacco to the auction market at Farmington.

Smith said his view of the tracks was obstructed by a house and he did not see the approaching train, a two-car unit drawn by a gasoline engine and enroute from Hamlet to Wilmington.

14 MONTHS' SEARCH FOR MAN IS ENDED

Bay State Man Says He Served Two Years in Reformatory for Another's Crime.

Hoboken, N. J., Aug. 22.—(AP)—Fourteen months of relentless search by Mel Haeseon, of Boston, throughout the east for the man, for whose crime he said he served two years in a Boston Reformatory ended here last night, and today John Anderson, 59, of 70 Garden street, Hoboken, awaits extradition to Massachusetts.

Anderson was arrested in a furnished room on a warrant from Boston and was booked as a fugitive from justice.

Haeseon told Hoboken police a strange story of a confidence "racket" in which he was not only victimized, but also arrested and convicted when he was innocent.

According to Haeseon, Anderson appeared in Boston in 1930 selling a "money-making" machine. It is reported one was sold for $300 and Haeseon bought another. As a result of the swindle, Haeseon said, he was arrested while Anderson fled. Haeseon maintained he was an innocent victim. Nevertheless, on June 13, 1930, he was convicted and sentenced to two years in a reformatory.

At the expiration of his term, Haeseon said he set out to find Anderson and bring him to justice. He found him in the Boston rooming house where Anderson was living through New England and then through the middle Atlantic states. Finally, he discovered Anderson living in Hoboken.

BEER PEDDLER KILLED IN PISTOL BATTLE

Slayer, Former Informer for the 'Secret Six' Tells the Police He Fired in Self Defense.

Chicago, Aug. 22.—(AP)—Several hours after a reputed former beer peddler and minor hoodlum was fatally shot as he stood on a street corner today, police arrested a former informer for the "Secret Six," anti-crime agency, and said they had obtained his statement that he killed the man in self-defense.

The victim was James Spencer, 42, and the man in custody is George "Chief" Redaton, 35. Police said Redaton told them he fired after Spencer and three companions had blazed away at him twice. A witness told police he heard a number of shots fired and that just before the "last one" someone cried "Don't shoot. Chief."

Redaton himself was a victim of a similar attack at almost the exact spot last December 30, when he was wounded in the hip. At that time he named William Miller, a Detroit racketeer and another man as his assailants.

RAINFALL ANSWERS INDIANS PRAYERS

Flagstaff, Ariz., Aug. 22.—(AP)—Rain has begun to fall at last on Hopland after the prayers of the snake dancers.

Five days ago, at Mishongnovi, the Indians who woo annually the favor of the plumed water serpent rain god of the underworld; performed their rites but not a drop of water came from the sky. But yesterday, when the rites had been performed again, this time at Polacca, scattered showers were reported on the mesa lands by the government outpost at Tuba City.

Dozens of snakes, symbols in the Hopi rain-making ceremonies, were returned to the desert as the tribes' priests announced their prayers had been answered.

FERRYBOAT BURNS

Deltaville, Va., Aug. 22.—(AP)—The ferry Hercules, newly commissioned in the service between this point and Harborton, on the eastern shore, was destroyed by fire this morning and fourteen members of the crew sleeping on board narrowly escaped death or injury.

The ship tied up here late yesterday after being badly buffeted and somewhat damaged by a storm while crossing Chesapeake Bay.

About 2 a. m. fire was discovered in the engine room and spread so rapidly that efforts to put it out were futile. Under direction of Captain W. T. Hayden, who was among those on board, the Hercules was cut loose from the dock and a strong wind carried it off shore, preventing damage to the landing pier. All members of the crew were aroused and landed safely.

Ferry line officials, announced that arrangements would be made to resume the service in about a week. They could not say immediately what the fire loss would be.

HARBOR WORKERS STRIKE IS ENDED

Cuban Longshoremen Go Back to Work; Secret Society Hunts for Enemies.

Havana, Aug. 22.—(AP)—After seeing a three weeks strike of Havana harbor workers, the Cuban provisional government today criticized other problems handed down by the deposed Machado regime as well as Gerardo Machado and his followers.

These had to do with mob activities against the persons and properties of Machadoists, payment of salaries overdue four to 14 months, pressing financial problems and records of the overthrown administration.

Stevedores, longshoremen and other workers to the number of 3,000 were ready to return to work today after their employers had granted demands for recognition of their union and for rotating the work.

The strike had nearly paralyzed harbor activities and cut down customs revenues.

Asked to Surrender Members of the ABC Secret Society, soldiers and police continued rounding up former Machado followers while the War Department held to a policy that all in hiding should surrender to authorities lest they be victims of mob violence.

Such a fate befell Julir Heredia, former associate of Major Armando Ortiz, who was killed in Santiago and Luis De Spayne, a policeman, who was shot in Palmo Soriano. Major Ortiz, who was accused of several political killings is now in Germany.

Almost Lynched Jose R. Barcelo, former governor of Orin province, surrendered to soldiers who "routined his house here. Only an ABC guard in Santiago prevented Policeman Hechevarria from being lynched after he had been arrested.

Former Secretary of War Alberto Herrera or Cid Provincial President De Cespedes asking guarantees for his property, but ABC members searched his home for documents relating to the Machado regime.

An effort to extradite Machado from the Bahamas was considered imminent.

Guillermo Urrutia, a former member of the Havana Central district committed suicide last night in Lawton suburb after ABC members and university students, who accused him of participating in terroristic acts during the previous regime, surrounded the house in which he had hidden.

Asheville, N. C., Aug. 22.—(AP)—James Scott, the biggest man in the Citizens Conserva'tion Corps, plans to try a professional ring career.

PROBLEM OF WHEAT ENGAGES NATIONS

Russia Claims a Bumper Crop and Yet Price of Bread Is Doubled.

The paradox of wheat—of surplus and famine, of low prices and high—again confronts the nations.

Soviet Russia claims a bumper crop, but the price of wheat is doubled; European countries have good harvests but there is famine among China's millions; the Argentine Bureau of Statistics predicts a five million bushel slump in world production, but prices are low.

Twenty-nine nations are represented in a conference seeking a solution to the problem, but not a few of them are taking measures to make their wheat markets self-sufficient.

The conference, conducted in London, after two previous parleys failed to reach an agreement on production and exporting, today considered four part proposals which would increase the nations to increase the quality of breadstuffs, to adjust tariffs, and to declare in principle for modification of import restrictions.

Agree on Principle The United States, Canada, Australia, and Argentina—agree in principle on the necessity for a two-year program of cutting down acreages and exports and for a similar arrangement with Danubian nations.

There is another side of the picture. Italy wants a sound internal wheat market, and plans to continue high import duties and other emergency measures to achieve that end.

France has guaranteed producers a price of $1.65 a bushel at the farm, but there is a large crop and the government fulfilling its pledge, faces an unbalanced budget.

England's Problem An increase in wheat acreage in Great Britain from 1,343,100 acres in 1932 to 1,743,950 acres this year, and an expected increase in yield have created a problem in England, too.

In Russia, 60,000 young children have been sent to the fields to make sure that no wheat will be wasted or hoarded.

Germany has set about protecting her agricultural markets; Holland has trebled the percentage of home grown wheat except in some areas; Spain is considering legislation to a like end; Scandinavian countries are prepared to act together in the interests of their farm markets; many countries have perfected, or are considering, reciprocal agricultural-industrial pacts.

But Frederick E. Murphy, an American delegate to the London conference is optimistic that a way out can be found.

"During the past few years, the nationalistic policies," he says.

LATEST STOCKS

New York, Aug. 22.—(AP)—Stocks and staples generally displayed a lack of enthusiasm today and prices mullied about rather narrowly in trading that was about on par with yesterday's quiet performance.

While no particular weakness was shown by any of the share groups, there was no special buying noticed except in some of the motor equities and a few specialties. The activity was fair in the first half hour, but the ticker tape was not pressed at any time and later moved at dragging pace.

Grains were getting under way and cotton about steady. Bonds were dull and a trifle misad. The dollar was a bit firmer in foreign exchange dealings.

Advances of conditions to around a point were read by stocks of Chrysler, General Motors, Nash, Loew's, Du Pont, U. S. Leather, Baltimore and Ohio, National Biscuit, Cudahy Packing, Armour and Co. Industrial stocks were heavy. Losers of similar amounts included National Distillers, Consolidated Gas, Commercial Solvents, General Electric, New York Central, American Can, Westinghouse, American Telephone and Telegraph, U. S. Steel and Liggett and Myers B. Most of the rails were unchanged.

The stock market today, as in the past few weeks, was a highly active affair, with groups of shares taking divergent courses. Interest in issues of some of the automobile companies apparently was maintained and there was an early large turnover in both General Motors and Chrysler issues.

In line with the activity of the motors, traders were cheered by the statement of J. W. Scoville, chief statistician of Chrysler, to the effect that "a 4,000-car year is probably not far distant." Scoville added that "the increase in automobile buying is general" with sales coming from all sections of the country.

FIRE BOX TAMPERERS POSSESSORS OF KEYS

Number of Boxes Opened or Tried—All Apparatus Called Out by False Alarm Monday.

Again Rockville police are having trouble with culprits who tamper with the fire alarm boxes and as a result the apparatus was called out yesterday afternoon for a false alarm.

About 4:45 o'clock an alarm was sounded from Box No. 63, at Ward and Union streets, calling out all apparatus. At the box no one could account for the alarm being sounded.

Chief George B. McNeil made an inspection but was unable to find who had tampered with the box. It is impossible to remove the alarm box keys from the boxes "ter they are sounded and the key was still in the box and the box door open."

Police Sergeant Peter Dowling, acting captain, started an investigation but so far without result.

While painting the alarm boxes a week ago, Superintendent of Alarms Edward Finney reported that he had found a number of them tampered with. A key had been inserted in Box No. 44, corner of High street and Vernon avenue and was bent so that it was useless.

A key had also been inserted in Box No. 21, corner of Brooklyn and Market streets four times within a week. Every effort is to be made to bring the offenders to court.

Checkup: Unpaid Bills: The Rockville-Willimantic Light Company has started a general check-up of all unpaid accounts and as a result are disconnecting the gas and electric service of numerous users in this section.

Patrons at the summer resort at Crystal Lake who have not kept the bills paid, found their service cut off yesterday. They had previously been notified by the company that they would no longer be allowed credit after August 21.

For the first time in several years the company carried out its notices to the letter.

Crystal Lake residents who found themselves without lights last evening imagined that they had been burgled and called the office of the company at either Rockville or Stafford Springs. They found out then what was the matter.

An effort is to be made to restore all service today to the patrons who communicate with the officials of the company at one of their offices.

Poultry Farm Inspection: Plans are to be completed this week for the inspection of poultry plants in Tolland County under the auspices of the Tolland County Farm Bureau. County Agent Ernest E. Tucker has started laying out an itinerary for a three-day tour of a group from New Hampshire. They will spend August 31 in Tolland County. All poultrymen of the county are to be invited. The party will first visit the plant of A. J. Guzman on the Bolton road in Vernon where there are over 7,000 birds. Each flock at this plant consists of between 1,300 and 1,800. Next the group will visit the farm of Walter S. Haven at North Coventry where there are 2,000 Rhode Island Reds. The party will then dine at dinner at the Nathan Hale hotel in Willimantic.

During the afternoon the party will visit Connecticut State College at Storrs.

The party will gather in Rockville which will be the starting point, leaving from the office of the Tolland County Farm Bureau.

Return from World Fair: Philip M. Howe, principal of the Rockville High School, returned to Rockville yesterday after spending a fifteen day vacation at the Chicago Exposition. Mr. Howe made the trip with John W. McClellan, who recently retired as principal of the Maple Street school.

They left Rockville on Saturday, August 5, for Chicago by the way of the Great Lakes route. About a week was spent along the Great Lakes and a week at the World's Fair.

Mr. Howe is preparing a lecture for the opening of the High School classes the day following Labor Day at which time he will tell of his trip. While at Chicago, Mr. Howe visited his son, William, who has charge of an electrical engineering project.

Notes: Everything is in readiness for the big block dance to be held on Main street on Thursday evening under the sponsorship of the Girls Athletic Club. One of the big features of the evening will be the concert numbers played by Adelard St. Louis and his Harmonica Boys. Carlo Genevise has charge of the evening's program. All traffic is to be detoured so as not to interfere with the dance.

The wrestling show which was postponed from last Friday night by the C. D. K. Athletic club at their stadium at Crystal Lake because of rain will be held this evening. Matchmaker George Groesch has an interesting card.

Mrs. Corinne Sykes Spencer and daughter, Miss Julie Spencer, of Rockville and Madeline and Mrs. E. V. Mitchell and daughter of Hartford, have returned from a motor trip to the White Mountains.

The Rockville Lions Club will hold a dance at the Sandy Spencer Ball room at Crystal Lake on Wednesday evening. This is to be a charity affair. The entire proceeds will be used for the needy of Rockville and vicinity.

RIVER IS BLOCKADED BY FRENCH BOATMEN

Marines, Policemen and Guards Turn Fire Hose on the Strikers.

Comfians-St. Honorine, France, Aug. 22.—(AP)—Marines, armed policemen and mounted guards broke up a blockade of striking boatmen's barges in the Seine river at dawn today by routing the barge men with streams from fire hoses.

The strikers, who seek shorter hours and other concessions, wielded boathooks and, encouraged by cries from their wives and children, stood off attempts to board the craft.

Thirty men, most of them Belgians, were arrested and charged with rebellion.

Gendarmes, aided by Marines, thereafter maintained a virtual siege along the river 15 miles north of Paris to prevent boatmen from forming another blockade.

Three tugboats of Marines from Cherbourg and 200 armed policemen engaged in the encounter. Thirty barges, strung across the Seine at the confluence of the Oise, had tied up the busy canal and rivers for several hundred miles.

The Oise remained blockaded. Three hundred bargemen, who went on strike Saturday, were invited to a conference with authorities in an effort to settle the difference.

CONDITION OF GANDHI IS NOT YET CRITICAL

But He Is Growing Weaker—This Is the Seventh Day of His Fast.

Poona, India, Aug. 22.—(AP)—The Mahatma Gandhi grew weaker during his seventh day without food today but the Legislative Council was told that his condition had not yet become critical.

The remark was made in reply to a question as to why his wife is compelled to leave her husband's bedside at 8 o'clock each evening.

When the Nationalist leader's condition warrants, it was said, his wife and relatives will be allowed to remain with him.

Gandhi is engaged in a "fast unto death" because authorities refuse to grant him concessions in Yeroda jail for conducting his campaign for the untouchable class. He was recently removed to the civil hospital.

Grid Hopes Run High At Chicago As Shaughnessy Begins Regime

By JOHN W. STARR

Chicago, Aug. 22.—(AP)—Reinforced physically, relieved scholastically and brightened up sartorially, University of Chicago football already appears to have one foot on the steps leading out of the Big Ten cellar.

Clark Shaughnessy, succeeding Amor Alonzo Stagg as coach of the Maroons—and thereby becoming only the second head grid coach the school has had in its 41 years—will find the most impressive player personnel the University has known for at least eight years.

This, combined with a change to brighter plumage and unprecedented emphasis on open-style football, have produced a new esprit de corps.

200-Pound Line
Among other things, a pre-season appraisal of talent shows that Shaughnessy, without much sacrifice of agility or experience, can put forth a 200-pound line—behind which a backfield of two star quarterbacks and two unusually promising sophomore should be able to go places.

The one drawback, the same which was one of Stagg's chief handicaps during his late, lean years, will be a decided lack of reserve strength. But the ruggedness of the tentative first string may help offset the injury bugaboo.

"Our two problems," the former Tuaine and Loyola (New Orleans) coach says, "will be to conserve our forces and to fool the other fellows."

Capt. Pete Zimmer, a brilliant end-runner, and Vince Sahlin, half-back quarterback whom many critics rated the equal, pound for pound, of any conference back last fall, constitute the experienced 50 per cent of the backfield.

Two "Wonder" Sophomores
Two bulky sophomores, Jay Berwanger of Dubuque, Ia., and Ewald Nyquist of Rockford, Ill., both around the 200-pound mark, are expected to become outstanding Big Ten ball-toters, particularly Berwanger.

Three huge sophomore tackles—John Rice of Dallas, Tex., Bob Deem from Long Beach and Merritt Bush from Fullerton, Calif.—figure to add much heft to the beefy forward wall. Another Long Beach lad, Gordon Peterson, is a leading prospect for center along with Ellinger Patterson, son of a former "C" winner. Veteran Walter Maneski is expected to retain one of his best jobs, that of a Coliseum in line for the other.

Material for the wings is not as plentiful as for other line posts, but Barton Smith, a Californian broke for stardom last fall until he was a cog in the Boston team, and Rainswater Wells, another Long Beach product, should take care of the first string end jobs handsomely.

PIRATES VICTORS

In a game which was abbreviated by Saturday's hard storm, the Pirates defeated the Cubs 4 to 3. When the Sacred Heart Club of Williamsfield failed to appear for their scheduled game with the Pirates and the Bluebirds cancelled their contest with Columbia, the latter team agreed to play the Pirates.

Worham started for the locals but was relieved by Klesman before the second inning war over after Columbia had touched him for seven hits and five runs. He allowed only one run over the remaining three frames and had the Columbia team eating out of his hand.

The Pirates swayed up the game in the fourth inning after two were out. Varrick was safe on a slider's choice and proceeded to steal second. Then Maneski walked and both these players scored on consecutive singles by Nielsen and Linnell.

Rathbun collected two singles and a double for the visitor; while Varrick and Nielsen led the Pirate slugging with two hits apiece. The former's long triple to right field in the third inning gave the Pirates a 2-0 lead which settled four runs. Strickland, Columbia twirler contributed to his own downfall by issuing five passes and committing two costly errors.

Next Saturday the Pirates will play the Hartford Orioles at Mt. Hope.

Horseshoe Pitchers' 'Czar' Wants A Place In Olympics

London, Ohio, Aug. 22.—(AP)—Horseshoe pitchers are shooting for a new "ringer"—a spot on the program of the International Olympic Games and world recognition of their sport.

The National Horseshoe Pitchers Association, encouraged by a growing interest in the game and success of a "world" tournament at the Chicago exposition, has mapped out a campaign to include the event at the next International sportsfest.

With a newly-formed controlling body and a "czar," a magazine to record the skill, ranking and other pertinent data about players and the game, officers of the association say they are prepared to elevate the sport to major rank within a few years.

London Is "Capital"
Here at London, a community of some 5,000 population, E. B. Howard, secretary-treasurer of the national association, is busy setting up a "horseshoe pitching capital." Also executive secretary of the controlling committee of five, he plans a bureau with sufficient clerical help to carry out the ambitious program adopted by the association.

The "big five" have been charged with the task of developing the sport on the professional as well as the amateur side, and with setting up an international committee to break into the Olympics schedule. Members of the committee besides Howard include E. G. Leighton of Virginia, Minn., former president of the national association; Alex. Cumming of Minneapolis, president of the association, and Victor Larsen, of New York, an advertising executive and horseshoe enthusiast. The national recreation council has been invited to select a fifth member.

To help this committee an advisory group of at least 300 will be named, Howard announced. They will be drawn from the legion of horseshoe pitchers in all parts of the country.

Besides Cumming as president, other officers of the association are L. E. Tanner of Ansonia, Ill., first vice-president; P. V. Harris of Holden Mass., second vice-president, and Clem Porter of Glendale, Calif., third vice-president.

It is not Virginia, then who? The Windy City girl will have a stiff fight to battle against when she meets Mrs. Varrick, and with Mrs. Varrick, the little girl who used to be somewhat of a tomboy, playing softball with a boy's football team until she was injured, is pretty much of a champion to capture the tournament.

With that one bad game out of her system (she used to say it for her tilt with Mrs. Varrick), and with Mrs. Varrick out of the national tilt, the little girl who used to be somewhat of a tomboy, playing softball with a boy's football team until she was injured, is pretty much of a champion to capture the tournament.

Out of these, Helen Hicks is probably the most to be feared. The former champ, earlier in the year, signed the sides Virginia and Australia, but he may meet the Ansonia at Forest Hills next month.

Ferry definitely dispelled the speculation about a wholesale desertion of the end of this year from amateur ranks.

The British ace has no thoughts now of turning "pro." It has no attraction for him at a time when he has a chance to gain the top of the amateur heap and stay there.

Perry is only 24 now and one of the world's foremost match players. He has already headed Vines, Cochet and Allison of the top-flight group this year. He did not play Crawford in the Davis Cup semi-final, yielding to a substitute after England clinched the series with Australia, but he may meet the Ansonia at Forest Hills next month.

TITLE HOLDER IS FIVE STROKES UP ON RIVALS

Johnny Golden's 144 Is Best Card on First Day of State Open; Kunes and Resnik Tied for Second; Triple Tie for Third.

New Britain, Aug. 22.—(AP)—Johnny Golden went into the second and final day of the Connecticut open golf championship at the Shuttles Meadow club today with a five stroke advantage over the field in the fight to retain his title.

His 74 and 70 yesterday over flooded fairways placed the Westchester professional five strokes up on his nearest rivals in the 72 hole medal test and gave him an eight stroke lead over his arch rival Billy Burke, former National open champion.

Triple Tie For 3rd
Burke, Round Hill professional, put together a 74 and 78 yesterday to stand in a triple tie for third place with Frank D. Ross, New England amateur champion, and Dom Soccolli, New England public link champion.

In a tie for second place were Gene Kunes, Tumblebrook professional and Burton Resnik of New Haven, leader of the amateur delegation each had a 36 hole score of 149.

Two other favored amateurs, Bobby Grant, former state and New England champion and Charley Clare, present state amateur champion were back in fifth place with 154s. Of the 80 starters only 53 saved the heavy rain throughout the day and turned in scores to remain in the running for the final 36 holes today.

MORE EXPLANATION.
Dear Sports Editor:
An article printed upon your sport page drew my attention and I thought it was very nice of that certain writer to rub it in. You must know that the writer of that article is somewhat of a manager himself.

We played Home Circle Saturday and after the game I argued with the Home Circle management but it wouldn't have done me any good. If I had failed to give this team their guarantee my team would never play another game and that writer knows that. Now about Sunday's game. Something I forgot to mention in yesterday's article was that I had failed to give this team their guarantee my team would never play another game and that writer knows that. Now about Sunday's game. ## SOFT BALL CONTEST IS SLATED TONIGHT

All-East Sides Tackle New Britain Phantoms at Nathan Hale School Field.

A soft ball baseball series—an innovation in local sports—will be opened tonight at the Nathan Hale school grounds, at which time the All-East Sides will play the New Britain Phantoms, city champs.

The game will start at 8 o'clock and is the first of a home and home series. Soft ball baseball has been gaining rapidly in popularity during the current season, as evidenced by the numerous leagues that have sprung up throughout the state.

English Ace Looms As Real Contender
Forest Hills, N. Y., Aug. 22.—(AP)—Dorothy Round, young English star, who took a set from Helen Wills Moody in the 1932 Wimbledon finals, today remained a real threat for the American tennis title as better weather was awaited to clean up the two remaining semi-final matches—one in singles and one in a double—and thus pave the way for the finals, now scheduled for tomorrow.

Another Storm Due
Brookline, Mass., Aug. 22.—(AP)—The crack field assembled at Longwood, for the National doubles tennis tournament already held back a day by rain, was waned today that another heavy storm had swept up the coast and that a consequent postponement of their opening play may result.

Net Matches Off Again; On Again Tonight—Maybe
Old Man Weather had the last laugh again yesterday when the current rainy spell failed to let up and thereby forestalled postponement of the scheduled matches in the tennis tournaments for the second consecutive day. As a result, the matches were again being re-scheduled, with the women's finals between Gladys Lamprecht and Eleanor Hübner slated for tonight at 8 o'clock at the High School courts.

Interleague Games Favored by Chicago Cubs Head to Revive Public Interest; Also Believes Season Is Too Long; His Views.

By ALAN GOULD, Associated Press Sports Editor
New York, Aug. 23.—(AP)—Major League baseball, still struggling to climb "out of the red" must adopt the proposal for a mid-season series of interleague games or do something equally drastic in order to revive interest in 1934, in the belief of William L. (Bill) Veck, president of the Chicago Cubs.

"There is no use kidding ourselves any longer," Veck told the Associated Press today. "Only one big league club out of sixteen made money last year. Some of us have hopes of breaking even this season, unless the pennant races continue to fall out from under us."

Must Do Something
"We can't go on operating on the same basis as we did 26 years ago. If we don't cut admission prices or make the game more attractive, we certainly will be up against a further loss of patronage."

Seek Rosenbloom
With little hopes of success promoters are trying to lure Maxey Rosenbloom into an outdoor ring the situation and create a wider interest by arranging a series of inter-league games in mid-season. In my opinion, it would be a positive and natural development.

"It is a fact now, undisputed by any club owner who studies the returns, that from July 3, to the middle of August, major league baseball is in the doldrums. These five or six weeks are the game's 'dog days' so far as public interest in a sport that should be as long-lasting as I may express another conviction of mine."

Would Add Interest
"What then is more natural than to break up this monotony of mid-season by scheduling a series of games between clubs of rival league. Let the Yankees and Athletics play the Cubs and Giants, the Tigers play the Pirates, the Chicago White Sox meet the St. Louis Cardinals and so on."

CAMP MEETING

IN FULL SWING

Varied and Interesting Programs at Willimantic All This Week

Willimantic, Aug. 22.-The seventy-fourth session of the Willimantic Camp Meeting Association is now in full swing on their historic grounds near the city. On the first Sabbath the morning preacher was Rev. L. C. Harris, of Manchester, whose text was Luke 14:26. "If any man come to Me, and hate not his father, and mother, and wife, and children, and brethren, and sisters, yea, and his own life also, he cannot be My disciple." The word "hate" here means to love less. No man regarded family ties more deeply than did Jesus, yet He says they are all secondary, that He and the kingdom of God must come first. Present day selfishness in national, social, industrial, and even in family life must give way to the spirit of love and service for others, to the larger things for which Jesus gave His life, if we are to avoid future disaster.

As Dr. E. A. Dent was ill with pneumonia, his place was filled by Rev. S. Moore, who chose as a text two words from Ephesians 6:14, "Stand therefore." Never was there a time in history, he said, when steadfastness was more needed. Custom and editorial utterances, and not personal convictions are the influences which largely shape the speech of today. The Gospel of Christ stands for what can save a man and make him a lively influence in the progress of God's kingdom.

A beautiful pageant, "The Challenge of the Cross," was given in the auditorium at night. Proceeding this musical pageant, the congregation sang several rousing hymns from the Methodist Hymnal under the leadership of Rev. L. Theron French, of Jewett City, the pianist being Howard T. Pierce, of New London.

The pageant was planned by the Cecilian Club of South Manchester under the direction of Thomas Maxwell. Rev. Charles H. Van Natter, of Gales Ferry, offered prayer. Announcements were made by District Superintendent Scrivener, who thanked Mr. Maxwell and the young ladies of the club for their generous donation of the pageant.

Four fine selections were rendered on the xylophone by Anthony O'Brien of Manchester during the evening. Miss Lillian Hutt acted as pianist during the hour. A vocal solo was given by Miss Lillian Bl-ck. Miss Marion Brookings who took the part of Evangelist deserves special mention or recognizing the longest portion of the drama. The pageant was highly impressive, and at its close a large number came forward from the audience, both ministers and laymen, for rededication to the Master's service, after District Superintendent Scrivener had given the invitation.

The general topic of the 8:30 morning chapel service is "Living With Christ - a Changing and Challenging World." The leader Monday morning was Rev. J. P. MacIntyre of Attaugan, whose special theme was "The Challenge to Faith." Theron French conducted a brief prayer service. Prayer was offered by Rev. Albert Abbott, of Danielson. A mixed quartet sang. Rev. J. W. Eller, of Putnam, read Scripture. Unbelief is the cardinal sin, said Mr. MacIntyre, for it keeps us away from Christ, the source of faith.

At 9:15 in the Hazardville hall (formerly Willimantic) Miss Frances Willard lectured, a one-act missionary drama, "The Challenge to Faith," was given. The challenge to faith, she said, is the one which has caused much discussion, "Re-thinking Missions." It was prepared by laymen. Miss MacIntyre said that although she could not accept of ignoring of the book, nor its humanism, she thought it most stimulating. Great steps in advance have been made in the fact that a World Court and a League of Nations are possible in these days.

Miss Fannie Teachout at 10:15 gives instruction on "Principles of Teaching." Teaching is more than absorbing knowledge, she claims. It is putting in practice what we learn. Religious teaching inculcates respect for human personality. She drew forth questions from the class as to difficult points of Sunday school teaching.

SLEEPING SICKNESS

INCREASES IN WEST

149 Persons Have Disease in St. Louis - 14 Deaths Reported So Far.

St. Louis, Aug. 22.- (AP) - The epidemic of "sleeping sickness" in this vicinity was described here today by Dr. J. P. Leake of the U. S. Public Health Service as being by far the most serious outbreak the country has ever known.

Two deaths during the last 24 hours have brought the number of victims of the strange malady of encephalitis to 14, while 149 persons were reported ill with the disease.

Dr. Leake, who was dispatched here from Washington when the outbreak first became serious, said there was no reason to fear the epidemic would resume proportions of a plague, however, and that there should be no undue alarm.

"The situation in St. Louis, nevertheless, must be regarded as serious," he said, "as science knows little about the disease."

In addition to the St. Louis district, fatalities, deaths were reported yesterday from Kansas City, and Warrensburg, Mo.
