PUBLIC HEALTH WORK OUTLINED

Miss Dorothy Battle Is Guest of Kiwanians Today—Explains Program.

Public Health Nursing in Manchester was the subject of the talk given by the Manchester Kiwanians today at the Country Club, by Miss Dorothy Battle, senior nurse in the local organization. The association practically came into existence in 1920 when it took over the work nurses provided by Clancy Brothers, the Child Welfare Committee and one or two of the insurance companies, through the operation of the out-patient department of the Memorial Hospital. Where formerly seven nurses were employed by five different agencies, each doing a separate piece of work, now three nurses are covering the town to the best of their ability, following up patients who leave the hospital, and getting acquainted with the environment and needs of the members of the family.

Moderate Charge
Miss Dorothy Battle, who has been a general program of health nursing for everybody is now carried on, not only for employees of any one industry, for the school child or the policy holder of an insurance company. She stated that the idea started 70 years ago in England as a charity bedside service to the sick of the very poor families in their homes. Nurses calling regularly in the town to the best of their ability, following up patients who leave the hospital, and getting acquainted with the environment and needs of the members of the family.

PROFESSOR SCORES MONROE DOCTRINE

Says Inter-Americanism Is Needed; Narrow Nationalism Stumbling Block.

Chicago, Aug. 28.—(AP)—A true fraternity of American nations will be achieved by "inter-Americanism," not through the Monroe Doctrine, the 2,000 students of the World Fellowship of Faiths were told today.

The message came from Prof. Roberto Brenes-Mesa, once Costa Rican minister to the United States and now professor of romance languages at Northwestern University. Unable to be present, his address was delivered by his son, Edwin Brenes of the Purdue University faculty.

"The dream of perfect Americanism never will be achieved by the Monroe Doctrine or 'Narrow Nationalism' is the stumbling block."

The Monroe Doctrine never had inspired confidence between American nations, Brenes declared, adding that the "only hope lay in 'inter-Americanism'—the following of the peoples of the American nations, the exchanging of ideas and learning, the forming of a common bond of interest between the peoples of the politically isolated countries."

Giuseppe Castruccio, Italian consul of Chicago, termed religion the only reliable preventive of world strife. The right path for nations to strive. The right path for nations to strive.

ROCKVILLE

ASKS CONGREGATION TO WORK WITH NRA

Rev. George T. Sinnott Pleads With Parishioners Yesterday —To Form Committee Soon.

Rev. George T. Sinnott, pastor of St. Bernard's Catholic church, pleaded with the members of his large congregation at all three masses yesterday morning to do their utmost and co-operate in bringing about the success of the National Recovery Act.

He stated that St. Bernard's church was one of the first organizations to join in the movement in Rockville and that he wanted every member of his congregation to back up Dr. Edward G. Dolan, the state chairman, and President Franklin D. Roosevelt in making a success of this undertaking.

Father Sinnott told the members of his congregation that Rockville's residents, or the people in the eastern states, do not know what real poverty is and he then recited cases of real want which he has seen. He told of his recent visit to Chicago and the western states, particularly west of the Mississippi river where people have been working for as low as fifty cents a week on the claim they were learning a trade.

He also urged everyone to co-operate in the elimination of child labor, particularly the employment of children of school age.

Much praise was heard for Father Sinnott in taking the lead for the organization of the National Recovery Act committee in Rockville. Several members of other parishes have suggested him as the Rockville chairman because of his success in bringing St. Bernard's church out of debt during depression and his ability for management.

Plans are underway for the organization of a National Recovery Act committee in Rockville with all business men, manufacturers and organizations taking part. It is hoped to make it one of the big events of the year and to have everyone recognized as co-operating for the success of the movement.

President Corbin K. Engler of the Rockville Merchants Association has been working with Lewis H. Chapman, president of the Rockville Chamber of Commerce and Executive Ruler of the Rockville Lodge of Elks, in an effort to hold a public meeting this week. The members of Stanley Doboss Post, No. 14, American Legion, are to be invited to take a leading part in this movement.

At the present time all of the factories of Rockville have signed up in this movement and have changed over their working schedules in compliance with the regulations of the movement. The Hook-anum Mills Company has reduced its weekly working schedule from 115 to 80 hours for two shifts with 115 to 80 hours in wages. Formerly this firm was operating all their machinery on the day and night basis all during the depression period.

The new mill schedule, revised again this week, calls for the first shift to start work at 7 o'clock and to operate their machines until 8 o'clock with no dinner hour. The second shift starts work immediately at 8 o'clock without the former fifteen-minute layover and operates until 11 o'clock in two shifts with 115 to 80 hours in wages. The manufacturers have eliminated the lunch periods, formerly 15 minutes each, at the request of their employees, so that the day's work would be completed earlier. The work on Saturday is also eliminated as the mills operate now on a five-day week of forty hours.

Reaches 100 Years

Many Rockville residents, particularly the older residents, are sending complimentary cards today to Mark Hook, of 9 River street, Worcester, Mass., who is celebrating his 100th anniversary of his birth today. Mr. Hook is well known to many of the older residents of Rockville and vicinity who lived with him for many years.

Notwithstanding his advanced age, Mr. Hook is in the best of health although his eyesight is badly impaired but his hearing is almost perfect. He is able to walk about and walks to church regularly with very little assistance.

To Visit Art Exhibit

The large group of art admirers in this section of Tolland county are visiting Andover this afternoon to view the first art exhibit to be held in that section. Artists from Rockville, Andover, Columbia and Hartford are showing their paintings in the Andover Town Hall. The exhibit will continue for a week under the sponsorship of the Ladies Benevolent society of that town.

The well-known Rockville artist, Gustave C. Hoffman, is to arrange several delegations from Rockville this week to visit this exhibit. An effort is being made to have the Rockville group visit Andover on Wednesday and attend the public dinner which is to be served. Arrangements are to be completed this evening.

Ready For Court Session

With the September term of the Tolland County Superior Court scheduled to open in Rockville a week from tomorrow, September 3, a jury panel has been prepared by the Board of Commissioners and is posted in the office of Clerk Willis H. NORMAN TO CONFER WITH ROOSEVELT

Governor of Bank of England to Visit U. S. to See the President.

London, Aug. 28.—(AP)—The approaching meeting of President Roosevelt and Montagu Norman, Governor of the Bank of England, aroused great interest today in London. Financial quarters and newspapers gave considerable space to reports about it from the United States.

Authoritative quarters remained silent regarding the object of the visit, but financial writers suggested the conference may have some connection with the recent decline of both the dollar and the pound sterling. This suggested to some the possibility of a race for depreciation between these two currencies, with the eventuality that the remaining gold countries on the continent might be forced off the gold standard.

The absence of any indication in recent days that the British equalization fund is operating to keep the pound fairly steady with the French franc was cited as lending plausibility to this assumption.

Field Exhibit Winners

Considerable competition was shown in the different events of the First Annual Field Day of the Tolland County Farm Bureau's 4-H Clubs, held on Saturday on the grounds of the Tolland County Temporary Home for Children at Vernon Center.

PEACE CONFERENCE COMES TO AN END

Members Propose That Nations Bordering on the Pacific Should Hold Another Session.

San Francisco, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Delegates from 24 nations bordering on the Pacific were homebound today after two weeks' consideration of mutual problems, at the fifth biennial convention of the Institute of Pacific Relations.

In the last few days of the conference much interest was manifested in peace proposals for the Pacific area advanced by the Japanese members, who suggested a Pacific conference as soon as possible to strengthen the machinery to prevent war.

A Chinese member of the institute declared his country could not accept such peace proposals until Manchuria had been restored to China.

Neither the Japanese nor the Chinese members spoke officially for their governments.

At the farewell dinner Saturday night William Dowling Stewart, former New Zealand minister of finance, declared the institute should concentrate on the question of peace in the Pacific, saying the present situation seemed to him to be "grave and serious, disturbing and menacing."

MONDAY, AUGUST 28.

FOR YOURSELF.

Today Manchester, along with thousands of other American communities, starts its consolidated demonstration of its understanding of, sympathy with and co-operation in the NRA movement.

The people of this town, in an economic as well as a social and political sense, constitute one unit among the many that make up the nation. They could not exist as a separate entity.

There can be, then, no division of minds as between Manchester and the country at large, or as between the people of Manchester, concerning the National Recovery Act and the proceedings by which it is to be made effective.

We have been urged to beg the citizens of Manchester to put away selfishness and to assume the mantle of brotherhood in this great emergency. That is too large an order for our poor powers.

ber of months, and every time a citizen's glance rested on that closed hotel he felt himself slipping another notch in his hopes for the future.

Conversely the reopening of a town's major hotel, after such a period, especially under such circumstances as those attending the re-opening of the Sheridan, constitutes a sort of spiritual embursement. Hardly anything could happen that would be more encouraging, particularly when, as in this case, the reopening is accompanied by improvements that nobody would think of making if there were not every expectation of very much better times in the immediate future.

MOLEY'S RESIGNATION.

The resignation of Raymond Moley as assistant secretary of state was probably less of a surprise to the public than it would have been if the lack of accord between him and Secretary Hull had received less publicity.

If there has been a tendency in the country to credit Professor Moley with a larger share in the framing of the administration's policies than was his due there is now some risk of too greatly emphasizing the significance of his resignation from his official position.

WHEAT SURPLUS GRAVE PROBLEM

Northwest and Southwest of U. S. Report Monster Surplus This Year.

Washington, Aug. 22.—(AP)—Disposition of America's bulging wheat crops popped up as a major problem again today despite action by nature, the agricultural adjustment administration, and more than a score of governments in signing at London a pact to cut down production and reopen foreign markets.

While one group in the Agriculture Department sought to speed up the campaign to reduce American wheat surpluses, from another came word that two of the nation's largest producing areas will have vast "exportable surplus" this year—the Pacific northwest and the southwest.

Meanwhile the export movement of wheat has slowed down to a mere trickle compared with years past and doubts have arisen whether the wheat acreage reduction plan will offset unofficial reports that farmers are not joining in it to contemplate increasing their production.

Reports are coming to farm administrators that many farmers, tempted by better prices for wheat and the granting of both National and international policies to improve the position of wheat growers, hope to "cash in" by expanding their production.

Hold Back Decision

Fending a study of the London agreement, administrators are withholding a decision on their plans for subsidizing exports of the grain. They have looked to China as an outlet but still another report reported that "there is no immediate interest in buying foreign wheat" there.

The bureau of agricultural economics estimated the "exportable surplus" at 161,000,000 bushels, most of it in the Pacific northwest and southwest, after allowing 138,000,000 bushels as a minimum carryover after domestic needs have been met from the potential supply. It would have been much higher except that this year's crop, the lowest since 1895, is estimated as less than 500,000,000 bushels. The July 1 carryover was 388,000,000.

Administrators expected word from London during the day of the signing of a supplement to the wheat agreement specifying the limit on American exports during the year which started August 1. This country during negotiations agreed to limit its exports for the year to 45,000,000 of 500,000,000 bushels allotted under the agreement to the four main exporting countries—the United States, Canada, Argentina and Australia.

World Prices

Secretary Wallace believes that because world prices are substantially below American prices it may be impossible for this country to export as much as 40,000,000 bushels next year. If this estimate materializes, it is possible that the Nation will have on hand unexported more than 120,000,000 bushels of its "exportable surplus" in addition to a carryover of 125,000,000 bushels.

Administrators said rapid progress is being made in obtaining signatures from farmers to curtail their wheat plantings for harvest next year up to a maximum of 20 per cent in return for government cash benefits raised by the 30 cents processing tax on wheat. This program has two objectives, to reduce production and to give farmers "parity" prices on that part of their wheat crop which goes into domestic human consumption.

Administrators were convinced that, mathematically, they are certain of being able to pay "parity" on the domestically consumed portion of the crop roughly 50 per cent of production. But they were without any basis of certainty that this country's acreage and production can be reduced.

Many farmers were ineligible to join in the plan because they have not grown wheat in recent years though they have land potentially capable of producing it. There were others who will not join for other reasons.

A possible result was that while up to $125,000,000 is distributed to farmers in consideration for cutting acreage, the nation's acreage may be increased and with normal growing conditions that production may be substantially in excess of domestic needs. This would complicate further the problem of disposition of surplus wheat, especially with definite limits on exports contemplated for future years as well as this one under the London agreement.

Office of Bar Association Would Place Young Attorneys on Trial for First Five Years.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Aug. 22.—(AP)—A lawyer took his profession to task today because, he said, it not only did not guard against unscrupulous and incompetent persons obtaining licenses to practice law, but lacked power to drive them out of the profession.

He is Davis A. Simmons, of Houston, Tex., vice president of the American Bar Association, delivering the address which launched the one day meeting of the conference session was a prelude to the American Bar Association convention which opens here Wednesday.

He contended educational requirements alone are not sufficient to guarantee that a person licensed will be a good lawyer. He suggested a probationary period of three to five years after graduation from law school, during which the graduate would be free to practice law of any kind under a special dispensation.

At the close of the probationary term, the proposition would have to account to some governing board and prove that he not only was an able counsel but had resisted successfully the temptations to resort to the unscrupulous in practice and in private life.

As an added safeguard, Simmons suggested that a limitation be placed on the number of persons who could be licensed to practice law.

CHILDREN, WAKE UP!
 Wake up children, let's get together. We now enjoy a glorious vacation. And picnic in sunny weather. With games and noise our time we spend. But these days are going to end. There aren't many more, you know. Soon back to school we'll have to go. And the thought is rather sad. But let's pretend that we are glad; I got a new idea the other day. From that blue eagle, the NRA. That sign, I've heeey! The workers say. Is for shorter hours and better pay. That's fine! but we'll feel blue. If they go home before we do. There isn't an Eagle in our schools yet. They are forgetting us, I bet! So the best thing that we can do. To show our patriotism, too. Is to get the NRA for our schools. And then have modified the rule: Now let's get together, why wait? To do something before it's too late!

NOTE MAY BE HOAX

Denver, Aug. 22.—(AP)—Puzzled at the disappearance of Bernard Bitterman, missing since last Thursday night, authorities are searching for him in Denver on the possibility a note received from Cheyenne, Wyo., indicating he was held by kidnapers, may have been a hoax.

If the 28-year old department store buyer is held by abductors for ransom, authorities have expressed the belief Bitterman has been mistaken for a relative of David May, founder of stores of that name. He is not related to May and friends say he had only moderate means.

Queer Twists In Day's News

Philadelphia—A code for family errand boys in a year old Morton Surkin's idea of the week: "I've stepped the NRA code" takes. He wrote to General Hugh S. Johnson, instead of going on strike, and asked "Is there no code for errand boys of my type?" Morton thinks he should be paid at least five cents a day, time and a half time for overtime, work from noon to 6 p. m. and not more than 36 hours a week.

Chicago—The American Numismatic Association had plenty of money here today but none it could spend. On display were coins ranging from Chinese pieces of 700 B. C. to American dollars. One man displayed a $5 gold piece he valued at $50,000 because its issue is rare.

Elgin, Ill.—The secret of long life is hard work and no worry, said Mrs. Calista Fowler as she prepared to celebrate her 102 birthday anniversary.

Washington—Officers of the Farmer Bank of Montgomery announced they wished to close it and requested depositors to come and get their money, but only about half of the $62,000 in deposit has been paid out. The other won't come and get it.

THREE MILLION DESTITUTE

Shanghai, Aug. 22.—(AP)—The governor of Shanghai reported today that flood of the Yellow river had made 3,000,000 persons destitute in western shantung and that 800 villages were under water.

Many foreign missionaries who remained at their posts, were among those endangered in Hainan province. A renewed rise of the river again endangered the important city of Tientsin.

▲ ABOVE—A. M. WILKINS, air-mail pilot for Transcontinental and Western Air, Inc., has flown the night air mail over 150,000 miles. It takes healthy nerves to hang up a record like that!

▲ RIGHT—AT THE END of this night run A. M. Wilkins joins a fellow pilot, W. Niednerhofer, at Newark Airport, the Eastern Terminal of TWA, for a chat and a smoke. "Camels never ruffle or jangle my nerves," Wilkins says.

IT TAKES HEALTHY NERVES TO FLY THE MAIL AT NIGHT!

IT IS MORE FUN TO KNOW Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE tobaccos than any other popular brand. They are milder, richer in flavor. They never tire your taste or get on your nerves.

STEADY SMOKERS TURN TO CAMELS

A. M. WILKINS, air-mail ace, says: "It's a steady grind, all right, being a night hawk on the air mail. A man has to have healthy nerves to live up to our tradition that the mail must go through! That's why I smoke Camels. And I smoke plenty! Camels never ruffle or jangle my nerves, and I like their mild, rich flavor."

Steady smokers turn to Camels because the costlier tobaccos in Camels never tire the taste—never get on the nerves. Your taste and your nerves will confirm this. Start smoking Camels today and prove it for yourself. It is more fun to know!

EVER NOTICE HOW airplane passengers smoke at each refueling stop? Camels never get on your nerves, no matter how much you smoke, and there's more real enjoyment in their costlier tobaccos.

COLD FACTS FOR HOT DAYS—

When down on your luck get up on your pluck.... When you get to the end of the rope, tie a knot and hang on.... God gave man two ears, two eyes and one mouth—to listen and see twice as much as he speaks.... Its very little of her pin money a woman spends for pins.... The man who loves most and hates least is the most nearly ideal.... "Fall" helps only the man who has been dragged. It is of no use to a pusher. Money is the root of all evil. That is the reason we all try to dig it up.... Men who can't work without talking usually become barbers.... Digging wells is about the only business where you don't have to begin at the bottom.

The Telephone.

I am a telephone. When I am not broken I am the hands of a man, unless women. I never use it. Follows use me to make dates with girls, and girls use me to break said dates. Husbands call up their wives over me, and wives call their husbands down over me. I never go anywhere, but sometimes the company comes and takes me out; it all depends on whether you pay your bills or not. I am not a bee, but I often buzz in your ear. I am the ball of the town, and while I do not wear jewelry, I often get rings. Whether I do things or not, a lot of people nail me to the wall; and I like music, but the only music I get is chin music. I get all the popular airs, and the most popular one is hot air.

Little Boy (politely)—Yes, sir.
Canvasser (after ringing bell for some time)—I thought you said your mother was at home?

IN ILL HEALTH, MAN HERE TRIES SUICIDE

George Carter of Hilliard St., Found Unconscious by Wife and Daughter.

George Carter, 50, of 92 Hilliard street, attempted to end his life by inhaling illuminating gas at his home last night, but was discovered in an unconscious condition by his wife and daughter, who returned home unexpectedly. They called a doctor, who sent him to the Manchester Memorial hospital where he is now on the danger list.

Mr. Carter has been in ill health since last February. Last evening members of his family left the house and he was alone. About 6:30, as near as Dr. LeVerne Holmes could fix the hour from the examination he made, Mr. Carter had turned on the gas in the kitchen range, blocked up all of the doors in the kitchen and had then gone to a bedroom that leads off the kitchen, leaving the door open. About 7:45 his wife and daughter returned to the home and detected the odor of gas. They threw up the windows, shut off the gas, and telephoned for Dr. Holmes. When the doctor arrived he found that the man had inhaled a large amount of the gas and was unconscious. He telephoned to the hospital to be prepared with the oxygen tanks and called an ambulance.

There was no time lost upon his arrival at the hospital and sufficient oxygen was given, it was considered, to get the greater amount of the gas out of his system.

REV. McCANN ASKS NRA SUPPORT HERE

Makes Plea from Pulpit for Compliance and Courtesy to Workers.

At St. Bridget's church Sunday an appeal was made for the support of the N. R. A. A letter was read from the Most Rev. Bishop J. J. Nihan, of the diocese of Hartford, in which the parishioners were exhorted to support the N. R. A. by prayer and by membership. Fr. McCann explained that the national recovery act was an effort of the President of the United States to abolish child labor, sweat shop, and lack of employment as also a measure found a means of settlement of disputes between employer and employee, which will be known as a board of mediation, in a word—a measure to restore prosperity. Fr. McCann also requested that his parishioners show every courtesy to the workers for the N. R. A. who would call at the homes to enlist membership. He stressed that these workers were performing a patriotic service, and all should express appreciation of their efforts by a kind reception when they call. Fr. McCann closed his remarks with a strong appeal for prayer to God and his efforts to restore prosperity. He encouraged his parishioners to give every support to the measure as a patriotic duty, as well as one of civic pride since Dr. Edward Dolan, a citizen of Manchester, is the President's representative in Connecticut.

HOME MADE CAR PLATES NO GOOD IN HOME STATE

Rockville Man Comes Through Three States All Right But Is Stopped Nearing Home.

Werner E. Kupferschmid of 68 Davis avenue, Rockville, ran into a series of tough situations last week while on a trip to Lima, Ohio, to buy a truck. Kupferschmid wanted the truck at once, and because delivery could not be made, he volunteered to take the train to Lima and drive the truck back. He tossed his markers into a hand bag and started off on what proved to be an eventful trip.

On changing trains at Albany, the porter mistook Kupferschmid's bag for one belonging to a clergyman. The mistake was not noticed at the time, and Kupferschmid continued on to Lima where he secured the truck and opened the bag to find only a couple of bibles, a book of hymns, a few clerical collars—and no automobile markers. What to do in that situation, puzzled the Rockville man, but he set about making temporary markers out of pasteboard. He affixed the pasteboard markers and started out.

All went well until he ran into the rain. Phooey—went the pasteboard on to Lima where he had to stop every 100 miles or so to explain to the state cops, and show them his substitute bag and explain the change in the Albany station. His alibi always satisfied the eagle-eyed state cops of Ohio, Pennsylvania and New York and he was allowed to continue on.

Not So In This State

On reaching the Connecticut State line, Kupferschmid got tired of making cardboard plates and secured a couple of boards about two feet long and borrowed a can of black paint to make what he expected would be his last markers until he reached Hartford where the police caught sight of his oversize board markers and he was tossed in the boosegawg.

The automobile dealer came to his rescue when word of his predicament was broadcast and he was allowed to continue to his home on the dealer's plates.

LOCAL COUPLE MARRIED IN NEW YORK SATURDAY

George Long and Miss Louise Cole United—Both Are Residents of Manchester.

(Special to The Herald) New York, Aug. 28.—(AP) — A license to wed was issued at the Municipal building here to Miss Louise Cole, 28, of 23 Ridge street, Manchester, and George Long, 35, of the same address. They were married later at the Little Church Around the Corner here by the Rev. Randolph Ray.

The bride-elect, the daughter of Thomas and Minnie McFadden Cole, was born in Ireland. Mr. Long, who was born in Manchester, is the son of William and Elizabeth Edgar Long.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Kronick of The Wilrose Dress Shop are in New York obtaining another personally selected purchase of smart apparel for fall wear.

Recreation Center Items of Interest

One of the most tennis games ever to be played in any town tournament for town championship for women was played last Saturday afternoon, when Miss Gladys Lamprecht won two straight sets from Miss Eleanor Huebner, 6-3, 6-3. It was one of those games where every point counted. The games were played in a fine manner and sportsmanship. Miss Lamprecht won last year's title, and she was rewarded with a fine silver loving cup from the Rec. and a tennis racket, from James Aitken, Pawtucket, R. I., while Miss Huebner received a fine medal beautifully engraved from the Rec. The games yet to be played in the men's tournament include the match between Earl Bissell and Bobby Sturgeon. This, it is believed, will be played on the High School court Tuesday. The finals will be played possibly Thursday evening.

The crowd last Saturday showed fine spirit with both players. It is hoped by the Rec that other games to be played will be treated as was this game which the girls played last Saturday.

A large crowd was on hand to witness the second game of baseball between the West Sides and the Bluebirds on Sunday morning, although the game ended in a dispute. The decision will be known to everyone by the judgment of the umpire and the press.

In the afternoon the game between the Pirates and the Sub-Alpinas was played at Mt. Neo and the final score was 13 to 4. Most of the scores by the Alpines were made through errors by many of the infielders of the Pirates. O'Leary was the heavy hitter for the Sub-Alpines.

The canoes at Mt. Neo did a fine business during the ball game as many bought soda and ice cream as well as tobacco. The stand was in charge of Pete Server, popular young man among the sport fans.

Globe Hollow swimming pool was crowded with bathers on Sunday and here also there was a fine canteen business. The water was very warm and the bathers had a wonderful time on the beach as well as the pool.

The pool tables at both Recreation Centers are now in fine condition. New tops have been placed on the tables and a general overhauling job was done.

A good crowd attended the dance last Friday evening in the East Side Recreation Center, where Art McKay's popular orchestra played for them. These dances have become very popular among the young folks during these past few weeks and the Recreation Centers feel that a very large crowd will make these even more popular and successful in the winter months.
