TELLS ITALIANS NRA INTERPRETS FASCIST SPIRIT

Head Of Sons Of Italy At Convention Here Says
'New Deal' Follows Closely Mussolini Philosophy.

Supreme Venerable John M. Di-Silvestro, a Philadelphia attorney, head of the National lodge of the Sons of Italy, in an address before the state convention delegates at a banquet here last night urged citizens of Italian extraction and origin to subscribe wholeheartedly to the "new deal" in American government as represented by the NRA "because it follows so closely the philosophy of Fascism." Di-Silvestro, a brilliant, forceful and fluent speaker, has just returned from Italy where he had several conferences with Premier Mussolini. He enthuses over Fascism and the power of the Duce is exerting throughout the world. He pleaded with local and state Italians to do their utmost to support the government of their adoption but to conduct themselves with glory for Italy.

Their Responsibility
Asserting that Mussolini and Rome have something great to give to the world, Di-Silvestro said it was the responsibility of Italians in the United States to interpret the spirit of Fascism in exerting every effort to make the NRA a success.

Last night's banquet attended by over 200 was a colorful event. Held in the spacious Sons of Italy hall on Keeney street, it was accompanied with ease and with a desire to attend. The hall was beautifully decorated in the colors of Italy with here and there the flags of the United States and Italy in conspicuous places. The tables were literally covered with beautiful flowers in the United States and Italy with here and there the flags of the United States and Italy in conspicuous places.

"We are entering a period of new thought," asserted Grand Venerable John M. Di-Silvestro in his opening remarks to the assembled delegates of Sons of Italy lodge in the United States on Monday night. This feeling was exemplified, he said, in the vote of the nation on the repeal of the 18th amendment.

"We should put in jail, those responsible for the enactment of prohibition," he continued. "Prohibition has been responsible for the wave of lawlessness and gangsterism that has swept this country for many years. Thank God we are returning to the tenets of that noble document—the Constitution of Washington—which guarantees freedom of thought and action."

Nation Unified
In a reply to Di Dolan, Collector of Internal Revenue for the State of Connecticut and the leader in this state of the National Recovery Administration, Grand Venerable Di-Silvestro said that the repeal of the present status of national well-being had been struck when he asserted that "there is no Republican party or Democratic faction standing divided in opposition to that successful administration of the NRA."

Of his association and friendship with Premier Benito Mussolini, he believed Di Duce of Italians throughout the world. Mr. Di-Silvestro waxed eloquent at the conclusion of his address to the invited guests, and to his compatriots he spoke in intimate detail of his association with and his concept of the great Italian leaders proven success abroad.

"I am so glad," said the speaker, "to assure you that our own Franklin D. Roosevelt is following that great leader Mussolini—an Italian by birth—but a leader of the world."

The story of the immigrant patriot in this land was beautifully told by the Philadelphia national leader of the Sons of Italy. He told how the Sons of Italy fraternity had purged itself from the creeping cancer of Communism since the National Convention of the order held in 1923 in Providence, R. I. There new by-laws had been enacted and legislation passed to purify and guarantee to the world that the fraternity could not and would not permit the taints of Communism to strangle the patriotism and well-being of the national body. And it was his firm belief he said, that since the Sons of Italy had fought the insidious attempts to destroy the enemies of family, home and country, they had succeeded magnificently in this respect through the years.

Foundation Stone
The lowly Italian immigrant has been one of the foundation stones of this country, asserted the speaker. Ignorant of the language and ways of the adopted country, those stepping on a soil of America had stood four-square for the ideals of the land which they had thought to make their own and had gone forth from the ships that had brought them from Italy to the battlefields of France, to sacrifice, if need be, for ideals which they inherently cherished, but of which they knew so little. For Freedom and Peace, he

WEIGHT IN GOLD AS ALMS GIFT OF RICH HINDU

Bombay, Sept. 11.—(AP)—Rao Bahadur Ganga Raju, one of the richest bankers in the province of Andhra, celebrated his 60th birthday by giving to the poor his own weight in gold, silver and jewels.
It is a proverb in India that more than 60 years of life can be insured by such a gift.
Thousands of villagers flocked to Ellore town where the banker seated himself on one side of a huge scale.
Coins and coins were poured into the other receptacle until the balance swung evenly. Then the treasure was distributed to the throng.

CONCEALS MOTIVE FOR GRACE MURDER

Nurse Tells Police She Will Never Tell Why She Killed Capitalist.

Santa Cruz, Calif., Sept. 11.—(AP)—From a 43-year-old nurse, who police said admitted "trailing" Francis Joseph Morgan Grace, Sr., 57, retired capitalist, until she killed him, authorities here today sought a motive for the slaying.
The nurse, Miss Frida Wilhelmnia Augusta Weltz, accused of shooting Grace in the garden of his summer home Saturday night, refused to give a reason for the slaying. District Attorney Frank Murphy said, "Murphy said Miss Weltz, who was discharged by Grace as his nurse 18 months ago, admitted she had planned to kill him since that time."

"I had good and sufficient reasons to kill him," the district attorney quoted her, "but I wouldn't tell the reasons to my most intimate friend."
Miss Weltz asserted, Murphy said, there was "no romance involved." And added, "The real reason would probably seem trivial to you."
Grace was a nephew of the late W. R. Grace, founder of the exporting and importing concern and shipping line.

Police Officer Roberts, 28, his present nurse, who was sitting in the garden with the grounds and, after a brief conversation drew a pistol and shot Grace.
Miss Weltz was registered with

MCNEIL ANNOUNCES NEW NRA RULING

Cities Or Towns Which Are
'Broke' May Get Federal Aid Under Conditions.

Bridgeport, Sept. 11.—(AP)—A ruling which may permit Connecticut cities whose borrowing power is already exhausted to undertake projects under the Federal public works program was received today by Archibald McNeil, chairman of the public works advisory board of Connecticut, from Washington.
The ruling, disclosed by McNeil, would require such communities to convey the property to the public works administrator who in turn would lease it back to the city.

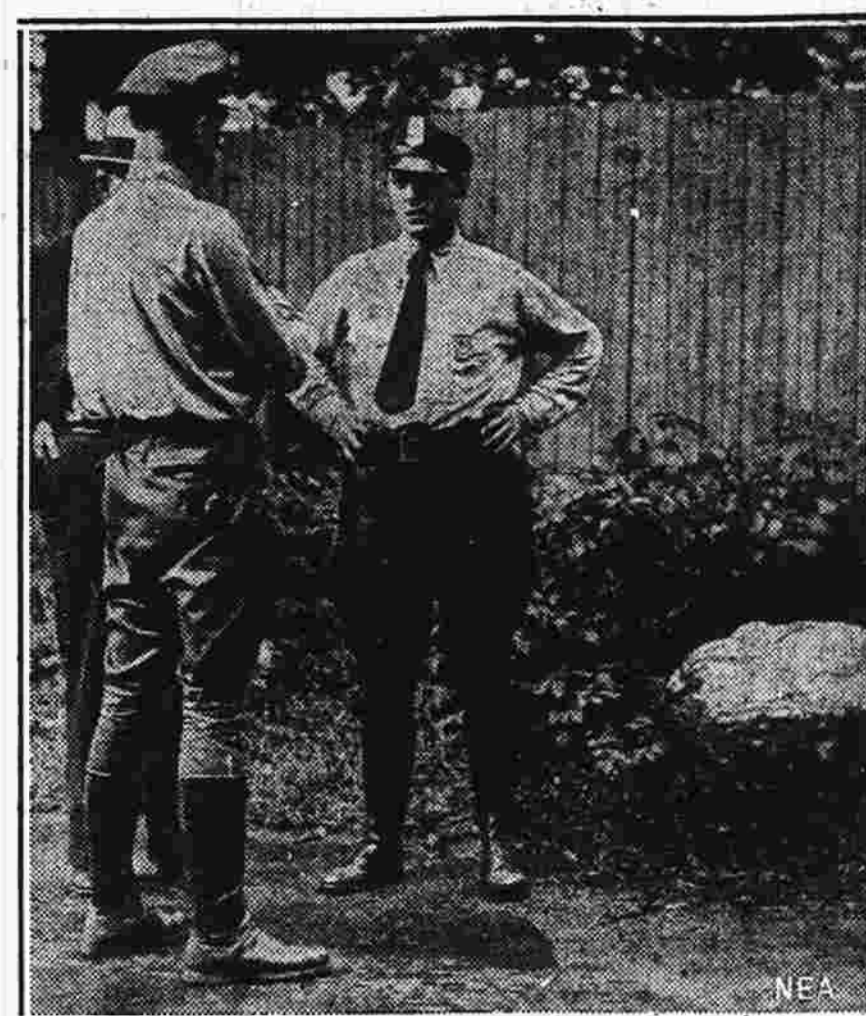

"In the event that a city's borrowing power should already be exhausted, then it might be possible for the public works administrator to carry out a project provided that the city has legal authority to convey the property to the public works administrator, which he in turn could then lease back to the city."

McNeil said the ruling would benefit communities whose borrowing power is now exhausted, but he reiterated that in his opinion a special session of the General Assembly was necessary. Legislative action, he said, was especially needed on the proposed Merritt highway project. It has been suggested that construction of this highway in Fairfield county, he financed with public works funds.

Colorado Votes Tomorrow On Repeal of the Dry Law

Denver, Sept. 11.—(AP)—Colorado, considered for many years a citadel of prohibition, votes tomorrow on repeal of the 18th amendment.
The repealists have completed their speaking campaign. The prohibitionists will hold their final rally tonight.
Both sides predicted they will be victorious. The majorities which the repealists claimed ranged from 50,000 to 100,000. The anti-repeal forces conceded the more populous centers will vote for repeal but they based their hope for victory on the "heavy majorities for prohibition which will come from the farming communities."

Body of Girl, 10, Found Near Harvard

HEAVY CITY BALLOTING MARKS MAINE ELECTION

Political Observers See In
This a Wet Victory;
Eighty Delegates To Be Chosen Today.

Portland, Me., Sept. 11.—(AP)—Heavy balloting in the cities marked the voting today in the state's election to name delegates to a convention to act on repeal of the 18th amendment and decide on a referendum on questions of state interest.
Portland election officials commented on the large turnout of voters before noon when activity in the ward rooms customarily is slight.
State workers said the preponderance of voting appeared to be for the delegates pledged for repeal. Observers made their estimates from the cards voters carried to guide them in marking the candidates, unassigned for or against repeal on the ballots.

FIRST BALLOTING
Portland, Me., Sept. 11.—(AP)—Maine's polling booths opened today for a vote on repeal of the 18th amendment which most observers looked on as a preliminary skirmish in a fight by repealists to wipe the state bone-dry laws from the constitution.

Anti-repeal leaders were not hesitant in saying they saw a possible threat to the more than 75 years of state prohibition in the event Maine today should join the 26 other states, which already have signified disapproval of the federal prohibition laws.

Voting Hours
The polls, opening at 6 a. m., e. s. t., will close at 5 p. m., in communities of less than 500 population and at 7 p. m., elsewhere.
Eighty delegates will be chosen from the 16 counties. Listed without designation as to their belief on repeal or retention, the names of four to 26 delegates appear alphabetically on the ballots of the various counties.
Leaders of both factions expected comparatively light balloting.
Four state issues to be voted on combined with repeal questions, to make up an extremely complex election precluding many split ballots and retarded returns.

HURT BY BLAST
New Haven, Sept. 11.—(AP)—Ernest Dupree, of Mansfield Grove was recovering from burns of the face and hands in a hospital today which he received when gasoline fumes in the cabin of a small airplane exploded yesterday.

Colorado Votes Tomorrow On Repeal of the Dry Law

Postmaster General James A. Farley, chairman of the Democratic National committee and Gov. E. C. Johnson have issued statements asking Colorado to join 25 other states which have voted for repeal.
Dr. F. Scott McBride, National superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League, will speak at a gigantic anti-repeal rally tonight.
The voters will elect 15 candidates-at-large to a repeal convention to be held following the election.
Colorado became dry in 1818. At the last election Colorado voters approved, by a 50,540 majority, a proposed to abolish all state prohibition laws.
The polls will open at 7 a. m., and close at 7 p. m.

HENRY DODGES SCRIBES; HIDES IN A TRAILER

Ford Hides Under Canvas
So Reporters Cannot Question Him About the NRA.

Detroit, Sept. 11.—(AP)—Henry Ford was believed to have returned to his Dearborn offices here today, although the secrecy maintained at the Ford Motor Company plant during the motor magnate's three weeks vacation in the upper peninsula prevented the definite announcement of his return.
Ford, refusing all comment on the status of his company regarding the NRA automotive code which he has not signed, visited West Branch, Mich., yesterday, residents there reported, and apparently continued by motor toward Detroit.
West Branch is more than half way toward Detroit from the Huron Mountain lodge in Michigan's upper peninsula, where Ford and his wife spent the last three weeks.

Big Bay, Mich., Sept. 11.—(AP)—Hiding questions by hiding under canvas in an automobile trailer, Henry Ford left his Huron Mountain vacation camp here Saturday noon for a return trip to Detroit, it was learned today.
A fellow member of the Huron Mountain lodge, where the motor magnate and his wife spent the past three weeks in a secluded region of Michigan's upper peninsula, revealed today that the motor magnate slipped away from questioners by hiding in the trailer as it was drawn through Big Bay, six miles from the camp.
None of the camp residents, the member said, knew that Ford had departed until several hours later. Advice that he spent a part of Sunday in West Branch, Mich., was the first that residents here knew of his departure.

The member indicated that in the automobile to which the trailer was attached were Mrs. Ford, and George Burns, Ford's personal chauffeur. The trailer, he said, apparently was dropped near Marquette, 40 miles to the southeast.
Dodge Reporters
Ford, it was indicated, seemingly was determined to prevent questioners from conversing with him regarding his company's stand on the NRA automotive code and adopted the method of eluding them partially in a spirit of fun and partly as a means of preventing any attempts at questioning.
The club member, who would not permit the use of his name, said Ford got in the trailer as it neared the exit to the Huron Mountain camp, and apparently remained under the canvas covering until after the equipment passed Big Bay, where several would-be questioners were stationed.

The road from the mountain camp to Big Bay is extremely rough in spots.
Probably In Detroit
The trip from the camp to Detroit probably would require 14 or 15 hours, and since the motor magnate was on vacation in West Branch, Sunday, it was believed here that he had plenty of time to arrive today at his Dearborn offices.
In the three weeks that Ford spent in camp here, he declined repeatedly to discuss the NRA automotive code in any form.
"I have nothing to say about the NRA. I have nothing at all to say," he reiterated, when questioned in Big Bay as he came here on infrequent trips to make telephone calls. On one occasion he motored to Marquette to make a long distance telephone call to his son, Edsel, who was on vacation in Seal Harbor, Me., but he would not comment on his company's failure as yet to sign the code.

Residents of the camp said the motor magnate appeared to be in good health, and was tanned by his three weeks in the sun.

8 MASKED BANDITS FLEE WITH $60,000

Hold Up Railway Express
Co. Employees And Escape
In Car With Loot.

St. Paul, Sept. 11.—(AP)—Eight masked robbers held up two Railway Express Company employees at the door of their office early today, escaping with two large cash boxes which police said contained between $60,000 and $100,000.
Cash boxes were on a hand truck outside the door of the express company office, near the Union station, ready to be taken to Minneapolis.
The police said the eight men backed a big sedan under the depot concourse, not far from the express company office.
As T. J. Mangan, a guard, and S. Moles, messenger, opened the door of the office to wheel out the truck carrying the cash, five robbers surrounded them.
The leader, armed with a sawed-off shotgun, commanded the company employees, "stick 'em up and face the wall."

Two men guarded the victims while the others loaded the cash boxes into the automobile.
After disarming Mangan and Moles, the robbers sped away in their car firing two shots in the air as they went.
The victims said the robbers had white handkerchiefs tied around the lower parts of their faces. They said the license plates on their sedan were turned so it was impossible to read the numbers.
The loot included cash, checks and non-negotiable vouchers.

DR. SAN MARTIN HEADS GOVERNMENT OF CUBA

Police Use Fire Hose
To Disperse Strikers

Paterson, N. J., Sept. 11.—(AP)—Police turned fire hoses on pickets surrounding the United Piece Dye Works at Lodi shortly after noon today as strikers estimated to number several thousands milled about the plant.
As the pickets re-formed their lines, broken by the streams of water, Police Sergeant John Uzinski was alleged to have flourished a gun and was mobbed by the crowd.
Police again opened up with the hose, and in the resulting melee, John Taci, Editor of the Lodi Messenger, was knocked unconscious, and an unidentified man received a laceration of the skull. Taci was revived and was said to be not seriously hurt.
The police force was composed of 350 police and special deputies and 75 company guards.
During the scuffle, stones were thrown through windows of the plant, allegedly by the strikers, pickets and sympathizers. One picket, Angelo Strucano was found lying under a window in the plant, police said, armed with a blackjack. He was arrested, and held for immigration officers, on charges of illegally entering the country.
Inside the plant, the 4,000 workers stood at windows and doors and watched the fight.
The first fight was precipitated when 80 of the workers in the plant left their benches and joined the pickets.

Makes Bid For Friendship
Of U. S. But Emphasizes That His Nation's Freedom Must Not Be Endangered; "We Are Not Anti-
American But Anti-Imperialism," He Declares.

Havana, Sept. 11.—(AP)—Dr. Ramon Grau San Martin, provisional president at the head of the fourth Cuban government in a month, made a bid for the friendship of the United States today but emphasized that Cuba's freedom must not be impaired.
"We desire American friendship based on the absolute liberty of Cuba," he said in a statement to the press. "We never forget that American soldiers fought for our independence, and we are grateful. We are not anti-American, but we are anti-imperialism in all its forms."

AMERICAN BALLOONISTS ARE FOUND IN CANADA

Had Been Wandering In Wilds For Over a Week;
Cut-Down Telephone Pole
To Get Help.

Sudbury, Ont., Sept. 11.—(AP)—Ward Van Orman and Frank A. Trotter, American balloonists who participated in the James Gordon Bennett Cup race from Chicago and who had been missing more than a week, were found today between Sudbury and Abitibi canyon in northern Ontario. They were ill from the hardships they had undergone during their flight.
In order that the outside world might learn of their plight the two balloonists cut down a telephone pole, knowing that repairmen would be sent out to fix the damage. They attempted to cut the pole the following way:
"This telephone pole was cut September 10 by U. S. Goodyear balloon team of W. T. Van Orman and Frank Trotter in the hope that repairmen would aid us in getting to civilization from here. We will continue south along the high voltage line. Please come after us. We have a gun and some food, but are both sick evidently from ptomaine poisoning. Fire your gun three times and we will answer. Please hurry."
(Signed) F. A. Trotter.
Discovers Note
Patrolman James Barrett was sent out this morning to determine what was wrong with the telephone line. When he saw the note he did not stop to repair the damage but proceeded with the search.
Barrett found the balloonists in a camp at Tower No. 35, a lineman's outpost, which is about five miles from where he discovered the note. He gave them such food as he had and returned to repair the line.
Both Van Orman and Trotter were in bad shape, Barrett reported to the head office of the Ontario Hydro-Electric Company in Sudbury. Their clothing was cut to ribbons and the soles of their shoes were worn through.
Very Joyful
"I never saw two men in my life who were so glad to see another human being as they were," Barrett said. "They hollered with glee and hugged and kissed me as soon as they saw me."
Arrangements were started to provide the balloonists with food and other necessities to aid them to get to the Canadian National Railways in the vicinity of Laforest station as quickly as possible.
The information received here was that the balloon landed in the Temagami forest reserve Sunday, September 3. They were not sure of the exact time but estimated that it was about 4:00 p. m.
After an intense thunder storm the bag descended from a height of about 8,000 feet, landing on a pine tree more than a foot in diameter. The tree snapped in two. The bag was badly damaged.

SLEUTHS RECOVER COSTLY PAINTINGS

Thief, Facing Murder Charge
Confesses And Then Kills
Self In Cell.

Montreal, Sept. 11.—(AP)—Paintings valued at $30,000 stolen this spring from the Montreal art gallery have been recovered, Louis Jangelle, head of the Quebec provincial police detectives bureau announced today after Paul Thoun, 28, confessed thief of the pictures and facing a murder charge following the shootings of a railroad detective, was found dead in a police cell today from poisoning.
Thoun had been captured after James Mackie, Canadian Pacific railway investigator, was fatally wounded Friday at Lenore, Que., 60 miles from here, in a pistol duel with two men discovered breaking into railway cars.
When Thoun was told Friday night Mackie had died, he wept hysterically. Saturday he appeared calmer and directed police officers to the cache where the paintings were hidden.
Had Taken Poison
Today Thoun was found unconscious in his cell. He died shortly afterward. Poison had been concealed in the heel of his shoe, according to detectives.
Thoun was out on bail on another burglary charge when the Lenore shooting took place. He had made a proposal to police to restore the pictures if he were given a suspended sentence on the burglary charge then pending against him.
Valuable paintings, many by celebrated Canadian artists, were cut from their frames during a night last spring.
Recently anonymous letters were received by Montreal newspaper editors offering return of the pictures if one-quarter of their value was paid over. The letters contained parts of a mutilated picture and the editors were told the whole group would be reduced to "jig-saw puzzle form" if payment was not forthcoming.

CONSTABLE CANDIDATE
FORMER SPORTS STAR

Herbert R. Kerr Won Many Honors On High School Teams; Works In Silk Mills.

Herbert R. Kerr a candidate for constable in the Republican primary tomorrow is a native son of Manchester, and was educated in the schools here. During his student days at Manchester High he was a member of the football team, basketball team and track team, later playing on the town championship Cub football team. An all-around athlete, his true sense of sportsmanship and fair play has won for him a host of friends. At present Herbert R. Kerr is employed as a silk inspector in the Quality Dept. at Cheney Bros. He hopes that the many friends gained as the result of his sports activities will rally to his support tomorrow and put over his nomination as constable.

NEW YORK COLLECTS
MILLIONS FROM BEER

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 11.—(AP)—New York State has collected nearly $2,000,000 in taxes on beer and wine since April 7, Mark Graves, president of the state tax commission, said last night. Sales in wine continued at a low level, he said, but beer sales mounted rapidly each month. "Consumption of 3.2 beer and wine showed an increase for July over the preceding month," Commissioner Graves declared. "Average tax receipts for July were $588,320 as compared to $513,897 for June, or gain of $74,423." He pointed out that only 14,824 gallons of wine were sold during July, while 17,877,388 gallons of beer were sold. The wine tax totaled only $1,467. New York City brewers sold 11,215,787 gallons as compared to 5,261,011 by upstate brewers. Distributors for makers outside the state reported sales of 1,200,589 gallons.

NO CONTEST EXPECTED
IN G. O. P. CAUCUS HERE

School Committee Nominations Only Ones Where Opposition Is Believed Possible.

Indications are that at the Republican Town Caucus to be held tonight, in the Town Hall few if any of the nominations will be contested. First Selectman Francis J. Prichard is expected to be the unanimous choice for re-nomination as head of the ticket. It is also expected that Second Selectman Orlando Ransom will be a candidate to succeed himself. Town Clerk John E. Thomas, who is also town treasurer, will be the unanimous choice for the positions he has held for more than a score of years. The only contest at all likely is for positions on the Town School Committee and even there the retiring members will probably be named without opposition. A Republican nomination is usually assured of election by nearly two to one.

Democrat Lists Questioned The legality of the Democratic registration lists for both primaries, caucuses and elections, is expected to be brought before the Board of Selectmen on Tuesday evening because of alteration of the lists without it is alleged, compliance with statutes. Should the charges be brought before the Board of Selectmen on Tuesday evening or any time before the town election this fall, it is said to be possible that the Selectmen would be compelled by law to remove, or suspend Democratic Registrar George E. Dunn.

Allegations have been made of violation of Chapter 40, of the General Statutes, under the heading "Erasure from Party Lists." This is a question of much interest due to the fact that the "Old Guard" element, headed by Registrar Dunn, defeated the "New Guard" element at the caucus held last week. One of the leaders of the Democratic ranks, John J. McKenna, who is in the limelight as a possible selection for the Rockville postmaster, alleges that his name was illegally removed from the Democratic caucus lists by Democratic Registrar George E. Dunn. Mr. McKenna holds that the law requiring that a member of a political party is entitled to a hearing before his name can be removed from the party lists applies to his case.

McKenna states that his name has been removed from the Democratic lists without giving him notice or hearing. There are rumors that many other names have been removed from the Democratic registration ranks without proper hearing and also that many names, particularly those of women, have been added to the registration ranks without their signatures.

Town Counsel Benjamin J. Ackerman states that it is the duty of the town counsel to bring the matter officially before the Board of Selectmen of the alteration of the political ranks without compliance with law. Should the facts be proven it is the duty of the Board of Selectmen upon recommendation of the town counsel to suspend or remove such Registrar of Voters.

STUNT DIVER KILLED IN LEAP FROM BRIDGE

Lands On Back And Spine Probably Broken; Body Not Yet Recovered.

New York, Sept. 11.—(AP)—The Hudson river was searched today for Dan Carone, who died in a stunt leap from the George Washington bridge. Carone, a beer parlor owner in Mt. Vernon, N. Y., by profession and daredevil by choice, stripped off his clothes yesterday, on the great span, 250 feet above the water. He tossed his clothes gaily down toward friends waiting in a boat and, clad in a bathing suit, jumped.

His body shot down, head foremost. Then it somersaulted and he struck the water flat on his back. Observers believe his spine was broken. He had previously made leaps from Brooklyn bridge and London bridge—just for fun.

LEOPOLD-LOEB MURDER

Joliet, Ill., Sept. 11.—(AP)—The ninth anniversary today of the commitment to state prison of Nathan F. Leopold and Richard Loeb for the murder of Bobbie Franks, finds the two prisoners in different positions. Leopold is still a clerk in the prison library and has been put in solitary confinement several times for minor infractions of the prison rules, while Loeb is conducting a correspondence course for the education of convicts. He is being aided by other college trained convicts. Leopold and Loeb were sentenced to life for the slaying of young Franks on May 31, 1924.

ECONOMIST ARRESTED ON GIRL'S CHARGES

Tells Police Former Member of Parliament Annoyed Her In Railway Car Compartment.

Epsom, England, Sept. 11.—(AP)—Sir Leo Chiozza Money, distinguished economist, author and former member of Parliament, pleaded not guilty in Police Court today to charges of annoying a young woman passenger in a southern railway car compartment last month.

The prosecution asserted that Sir Leo followed the girl, Miss Ivy Ruxton, into the compartment, insisted on making conversation with her and finally seized her in his arms and repeatedly kissed her. Miss Ruxton was forced to leave the train at the next station, according to the prosecution, in order to get away from him. The court was informed that, among other things, Sir Leo said to the girl: "I'm old enough to be your papa." He is 63.

It was testified that Miss Ruxton said "If you are a gentleman you will leave me alone." In a statement made to the authorities when he was questioned after the incident, Sir Leo was quoted as saying that there was nothing in the girl's charges, that they had an amicable conversation in the train and that she offered no objection to his kissing her fingers in a way complimentary to the smallness of her hands, which he admired. "I did not take her in my arms or kiss her at all other than I have described," the statement continued.

SUSPECT IS HELD

New York, Sept. 11.—(AP)—Patsy Spallane, 30, a painter, of 137 Conesleya street, Brooklyn, was in the police lineup today charged with being a fugitive from Waterbury, Conn., where police said he was wanted for alleged participation last night in the hold-up of a dice game, in which a man was shot.

He was arrested near his home early today while sitting in a machine for which a police alarm had been sent out. Three other men are being sought by the Waterbury authorities, who have been notified of Spallane's arrest by Detective Dixon, of the Herbert street station.

MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 11.

LABOR UNDER THE ACT.

Organized labor must, of course, realize that its relations to employing capital are in a state of flux. Out of the new laws arise such opportunities as its most intelligent leadership could scarcely have hoped would come for many years. But that kind of leadership, it goes without saying, understands that in order to take advantage of its opportunities labor must do a great deal in the way of readjustment of its own views. The law commands the cooperation of labor and capital, not the subjugation of one by the other.

Since for many years each side has been engaged in striving to gain the upper hand over the other, it is clear that any wholehearted compliance with the National Recovery Act necessarily involves a pretty radical change in the objectives of both sides. We have no doubt that labor's higher leadership understands this fully as well as it is understood among the employers, possibly much better than it is understood by a few of the latter. But it is also pretty certain that there is an element in a good many of the labor organizations which does not comprehend the situation and which imagines that the National Recovery Act, through its guarantee of the right of collective bargaining, guarantees a one-sided bargaining in which capital has really nothing to say and nothing to do but to submit to any exactions labor may impose upon it.

One of the biggest jobs confronting intelligent leadership of labor, and one which must be accomplished without loss of time, is to make this element understand how far wrong it is in any such assumption. Under the National Recovery Act labor organizations can no more dictate to employing capital than employing capital can dictate to labor. When the law provides for collective bargaining it means bargaining, not the mere laying down of a mandate by one party or the other. And the act provides its own insurance for such bargaining.

This was done through the provision in the law that if labor and employing capital cannot bargain successfully and come to an agreement between themselves, the president may investigate and establish the terms under which employer and employee must go along together.

It goes without saying that in case of such intervention by the federal government under the National Recovery Act there would never be the slightest support for some ridiculously unfair conditions which, in the past, some of the labor unions have sought to impose upon employers. The intricate systems of specialization arbitrarily set up by the theatrical and building trades unions in the larger centers of population—such, for instance, as the one which would compel a little neighborhood picture theater to employ a scene shifter at $40 a week to do nothing but push a button twice a day in case it were desired to raise and lower a roller curtain—would surely get short shrift at the hands of a federal umpire.

It is altogether improbable that the responsible heads of organized labor would want disputes over such ludicrous demands to go to government adjudication. They would know only too well what would happen and they will realize that unfairness and tyranny must be eliminated from all labor programs as well as from the programs of employing capital if the principle of collective bargaining is to be effectively applied. The quicker they convince their subordinates and lesser labor leaders everywhere that the National Recovery Act is for the nation and not for the trade unions alone—and especially not for those which make a racket out of unionism—the better it will be for all hands. Because it is quite sure that labor, no more than capital, is going to be allowed to get away with outrage.

BOMBSHELL

It is doubtful whether any legal decision in this state in a long while has excited as much interest as the one rendered on Saturday by Judge P. O. O'Sullivan of the Superior Court overruling a schedule of water rates established by the Public Utilities Commission for the service territory of the New Haven Water Company. It completely sets at naught the theory, which has seemed to be ineradicably implanted in the philosophy of Connecticut, that public utilities companies were entitled to a satisfactory rate of earnings at all times, come weal or woe to the people and to general business, and that it was the duty of the state to see that they got it.

The Public Utilities Commission, at the instance of the New Haven Water Company, revised the rates of the service, increasing the charges to consumers by some 40 per cent. From this revision the city of New Haven appealed to the Superior Court. Judge O'Sullivan's decision throws a bombshell into the public utilities situation, for he has sustained the appeal and in doing so has attacked the whole theory of the right of a utilities corporation to thrive greatly at the expense of the well being of a community.

Pointing the untimeliness of the increase Judge O'Sullivan says of the half million dollar boost: "It was put into effect in the midst of an economic disaster too enormous to be described by melancholy adjectives. Great numbers of the people were out of work and those who had incomes of any sort found them shriveled by a decreased salary and by the lessened returns on their investments. The public as a whole was in no position to take on added financial burdens."

Pointing out the peculiarly necessitous character of the commodity in which the corporation dealt, the decision says: "If one has a telephone in his home and finds the rate impossible to meet, he may order it removed. Not so water. It is as essential to man as food. The public must have it regardless of cost."

The P. U. C. had based its revision on the acceptance of the theory that the Water Company was entitled to an 8 per cent dividend. Dealing with this aspect of the case the judge says: "Furthermore the purchasing power of the dollar had risen greatly. If an 8 per cent dividend was reasonable in prosperous days then a dividend of a substantially less amount in 1932 would be equivalent in purchasing power to the former dividend at a higher rate. By order of the Commission the public, though less able to pay, has been compelled to bear the burden of a dividend which, while the same in amount as formerly, is by comparison in purchasing power greatly in excess of 8 per cent."

Judge O'Sullivan says in his conclusion: "It strikes the court with great force that all of the equities are with the consumer. Accordingly the appeal of the city is sustained."

It will, we believe, strike nine out of ten of the people of the state as equally apparent that the equities of the case must have been deliberately disregarded by the Public Utilities Commission, since the real value of an 8 per cent dividend in 1932, as compared with an 8 per cent dividend in 1929, must have been just as apparent to the P. U. C. as to Judge O'Sullivan—and to everybody else.

NRA'S MR. BANGS

We do wish that some of our contemporaries would try to do something about the spiritual hardening of the arteries that makes the occasional temper storms of General Johnson seem to them so much more important than anything else in connection with that remarkable man. Stodgy, stuffy individuals who haven't experienced a new idea or a throb of energy of their own in thirty years lift their eyebrows and pull in their chins and make a great show of shocked dignity, in print, whenever the hard boiled and desperately hard working Recovery Administrator has sworn a mighty swear or thrown an insulting letter on the floor or otherwise let the redness of his blood and the utter earnestness of his purposes show themselves before the eyes of the world. It happens two or three times a week.

We have had several other great leaders in this country at one time and another who were capable of displays of righteous anger on occasion—and who gave them. The name of one of them was Washington; and there were the same frothing overfused nobodies to be shocked at him and find fault with his lack of poise and dignity as we now find carping at the tempers of Johnson.

It indicates, if you ask us, a lamentable smallness of mind and meagreness of soul, together with complete inability to employ a sense of proportions when commentators on the events of these thrilling days can find nothing of tender interest than their own horrified niceness reactions to General Johnson's fervid outbreaks to exclaim about.

For our part we rejoice with an exceeding great joy in the presence in that job of a man who can get good and thundering mad. He's the bucko mate of this ship—and a bucko mate without a turd tongue and a horny fist was never a bucko mate at all.

It probably never yet had the slightest influence on mate or ship's course that old maid passengers whispered together about the awfulness of that officer person, and it probably won't make any more difference that fat-headed editors and correspondents peep their little peeps of fault-finding about the Terrible Tempered Mr. Bangs who is at the head of the NRA. But it is a little depressing that there should be, in the newspaper profession, such fussy little souls animated by such microscopic impulses.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN Washington

By RODNEY DUTCHER Herald Washington Correspondent

Washington, Sept. 11.—What do you know about NRA?

That's what NRA wants to know—F. R. A. The President's Recovery Administration, which promotes the blanket code and the general campaign for co-operation of small business men and consumers. The F. R. A. high command has the disconcerting conviction that most people still don't know what the recovery drive is all about. Despite a heavy blizzard of publicity, inquiries and reports here demonstrate a substantial pollution of ignorance of purposes and elementary economic background.

At the beginning the only ones who understood it were the newspapers, far-sighted business men and the people running the show, says Frank R. Wilson, director of organization. "Most others never quite caught up."

So a big new educational—or re-educational—campaign has been begun.

New Ambassador
 Mr. Oscar B. Cintas, Machado's ambassador, was berating newspapermen here a couple of weeks ago for suggesting that Machado go the way out, with U. S. approval.

Then he rushed off to Cuba at the 11th hour. . . . He has just been back here, packing his bags at the embassy.

Professor Moley's Helpers

Among the sadder phases of Prof. Ray Moley's departure from the government is the prospective dissolution of the most decorative office staff in this town. The five charming Barnard College damsels who came here with the professor and made three more office gals than any assistant secretary of state had had before, stayed on the job after Moley went away to plot the downfall of kidnapers.

If you couldn't find Moley at the justice department you were told to call his state department office. But the girls—including a special librarian—were the professor's personal staff and now they're all expected to leave. One of them, Miss Barbara Blackburn, had joined NRA to operate a big clipping bureau here. Just before Moley's resignation was announced, Miss Celeste Jedell, the 23-year-old Barnard grad who sat in the inner office with everybody on the staff, called his "manager," is expected to accompany Moley on his magazine venture.

She recently returned to the state department from a rest taken after improving her experience at the London conference. Those five bright young women had a swell time while Moley was still considered the second or third most important man in Washington. Theirs was the only office in the department where a girl could smoke a cigaret.

A middlewestern senator's secretary has carefully figured up that he has given or lent without repayment just about $1900 to visiting hard-up constituents in the last five years, nearly all of it in small amounts.

Need for Brains
 Random quotation from an economist and financial expert who is consulted by more high officials in all branches than anyone else: "What we need in Washington is brains. Now we have about all the brains available. Within six months after the brain workers have experimented with their theories, made their mistakes and learned their lessons, we ought to be on the way out of our difficulties."

News From Hyde Park
 Social notes from 'his column's' Hyde Park correspondent: Poughkeepsie was pleased no and because Roosevelt split his vacation on each side of the New York State Firemen's convention there. It hung up its great spurge of convention flags and bunting early to greet Roosevelt on his first arrival—and kept it right there after the convention for his return trip. "Oh, hell, where's the president?" yelled a red-headed Boy Scout as the Roosevelt party passed into the Ten Mile River scout camp. Failing to spot Roosevelt and seeing only press cars, he began to shout, "Down with the president!"

IN NEW YORK

WHEN A NEW YORKER VACATIONS IN PARIS

By JULIA BLANSHARD

Paris, Sept. 11.—Parisians have a new joke. Everybody is saying that the gleaming gold American eagle seal, built into the front of the new white stone American embassy, really should have been a "blue eagle" . . . One of the biggest drawing cards here is the green bear. It was a flop in England but Americans lap it up here by the barrel . . . Taking a taxi in front of any popular cafe, like the Colisee or the Cafe Barry, you are likely to find cards left there, especially for tourists . . . Yesterday one read, "Temple of Love" and gave the address. . . .

"These Rude Americans"
 Americans bring their lack of respect along with them to Paris. The dignified statue of those great scientists who discovered the medicinal value of quinine, Pelletier and Caventou, standing in their long robes out on Boulevard St. Michael, is called by everybody on the Left Bank, "The Quinine Boys" . . . On sunny days, nothing is pleasanter than to loiter on a chair (which you get for a few centimes for as long as you want it) in the Luxembourg gardens, watching the old men play croquet . . . They are practically penniless old men who have nothing else to do. They have all the dignity and enjoyment and pride in their game that American millionaires have on expensive golf courses. . . .

Gullothe Earrings

Not so far a cry from Hitler's Germany of today are the gruesome earrings exhibited at the Carnavalet Museum. They are miniature gullothe, made of sheet gold. The ear drops are tiny chopped-off heads. Aristocrats who were conunmmed to the guillotine and 'escaped had them made and wore them constantly thereafter . . . Here too is an elaborately decorated, richly brocaded dressing case that might have belonged to some removed beauty. It was Napoleon's . . . Over in the Latin quarter, if you walk far enough through crooked, quaint old streets, you come to the Curie Institute. There little old Madame Curie works every day, in her white doctor's jacket and shirt.

From sunnown on, life along the Champs Elysees quickens. Among the strollers the other evening was Georges Carpentier . . . He was in deep conversation with a friend. He is a somewhat older, fuller-faced Carpentier than America knew but still as dapper, with spats and a cane . . .

The Poor Millionaires

Paris has a new Crise (depression) plan which might give poor American millionaires an idea. Knowing the yen that Americans have to get into chateaux where the noble families still live, and knowing how much these families need new means of revenue, an organization called La Demure Historique (Historic Houses) is bringing the two together.

For a consideration, which is included in your sight-seeing ticket, certain families have agreed to absent themselves from view on Tuesdays and Saturdays to let the organization take Mr. and Mrs. Smith and their offspring on a tour of their parlors, bedrooms and baths and their gardens.

To date the best drawing card is the picturesque Chateau de La Crange now owned by the Jomte de Lagayrie. It was Lafayette's home from 1800 to 1834 and you can still see the luxuriously furnished, if a bit shabby, rooms where he dined, slept, read, entertained at parties. The item that attracted the most uhms and ahs the other day, however, was outside the house. It was a heavy, ornate rod that runs up the massive stone chimney to a height far above the tiled Mansard roof. Benjamin Franklin gave this handsome piece to his friend, Lafayette. Though Lafayette moved into this chateau 20 years after Franklin left France, he moved his lightning rod with him!

NEEDLESS NOISE WASTES ENERGY

Noises of all kinds are steadily increasing and act as destroyers of sleep and nervous vitality to such an extent that scientists are now making a study of noise to see how the needless noises of cities may be reduced. Noises differ greatly in their effect upon people, and a noise which disturbs one person may not annoy another. I might almost say, "What is one man's music is another man's din." For example, I do my radio broadcasting directly from my office by remote control. Across the way there happens to be a young lady who practices singing and, to shut out the sound of her notes while I am on the air, I am forced to close the windows and draw heavy drapes over them. Her voice heard alone is music, but, when blended with a radio talk, it becomes noise.

Even with many sound-proof precautions I am not able to shut out the sound of streetcars passing by, and my listeners tell me they hear them. Shutting out all extraneous noise is very important in a broadcast over the radio and probably a city dweller who gets into a radio station while a program is entering the "mike" finds himself in one of the stillest places in the city.

It is a pity that some of the street noise is not reduced so that the home could be as quiet as can be made the broadcasting room of a radio station whenever one desired it as during the sleeping period. A movement has been started to build homes that are noise proof; however, most homes have no protection against outside racket, and I believe the only thing one can do if the neighborhood is too noisy is to move to a quieter spot.

Thomas Edison, the famous inventor who was deaf, said that he was really glad of it as it saved him from the distraction of the noises of the outer world and helped him to concentrate. However, many people with keen hearing are forced to do their mental work in the midst of a great deal of noise, and the nervous energy wasted by working under such a strain is enormous. Of course, in time one becomes accustomed to working in any amount of noise but even then the effort put forth in ignoring the din takes a toll. In London the problem of noise was discussed by a specialist in nervous disorders who stated that much noise has a harmful effect on the health. This is especially true in the case of the nervous, high strung type of brain worker who is unable to do his best work after a long period of being disturbed while sleeping. Many of the night noises are unnecessary and people actually suffer from tired nerves from such a cause.

affects are being scientifically measured. A unit of measurement for noise has been called a "decibel" and the noise in the average office is about fifty decibels. It has been found easy to fool the human ear in regard to the amount of noise for by reducing certain kinds of noise a little more than one-fourth, the listener believes it has been reduced one-half. The noises most distressing to the average person are the high pitched ones and for this reason a soprano voice may be more disturbing than a low pitched one. Not all of us are able to solve the noise problems easily, but there is one thing that we must all do and that is to guard against making loud or disturbing noises ourselves. Keep the radio tuned low and do not blow the horn on your automobile unnecessarily. Much noise is the result of thoughtlessness and may be avoided with a little care.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

(Seborrhea Dermatitis)
 Question: Mrs. Marguerite S. asks: "What is the cause of seborrhea dermatitis and what is the treatment? Is it contagious?"
 Answer: The fundamental cause of seborrhea dermatitis is the same as with all skin diseases. Such diseases always show a toxic condition due to a definite intestinal poisoning principally from sluggishness of the bowels. Everything must be done to cure constipation, and the patient will see a rapid diminution of symptoms as soon as there are two or three regular bowel movements each day.

(Smoking)
 Question: Mr. Barton Y. writes: "Since I have stopped smoking for about three months, my left eye has seemed to go dull or color blind, and I have been advised to start smoking again; please give me your advice about this."
 Answer: Many authorities believe that smoking is bad for the eyes, but I never heard of an eye specialist recommending smoking to improve the vision. The best thing for you to do is to build up your system through proper dieting and exercising, at the same time wearing correctly fitted glasses.

(Buckwheat Cakes)
 Question: Mrs. Elmina C. asks: "Would you consider buckwheat cakes harmful to an elderly person who is afflicted with eczema?"
 Answer: If you will watch my health menus appearing in your paper, you will see that I never advise buckwheat or other "hotcakes" for anyone, young or old, and certainly in your case such food should not be used. Send for special articles explaining the cause and cure of eczema. In the meantime follow the menus published each week in this column.

Good snapshots make better enlargements. Take your vacation snaps to the Falot studio and have any size enlargement at a very reasonable price.

If your collection of modern furniture includes white leather arm chairs, remember to wash them only with bland soap and luke warm water.

If you're going to be ultra smart this winter you'll be interested in the swaggar suits at the Wilrose Shop. The colors are liquor brown, wine and red. Each suit has a full length coat interlined. Really, they're the most comfortable looking, smartest things you've seen.

To give last year's black dresses that up-to-date look, cut down the top arm puff to a sleek, tight sleeve. Then put in a pastel colored fitted yoke that points down over the shoulders. In drop-yoke effect and down the front almost to waistline, or even to the waistline. Have your new collar at least to the throatline, preferably a high collar that buttons down the side. Russian fashion, or down the back.

On these first fall evenings when it's cool but not quite cold enough to start your furnace, a Florence coil heater at Watkins ought to interest you. This heater is a convenient size and will take that uncomfortable chill off the room.

There are new little combination kitchen gadgets which go far toward making your food, particularly vegetables, more attractive. One that has irregular shaped dicers which turn out vegetable slices in the shapes of anything from waffles to miniature rolls.

The Dewey and Richman Company has some splendid values in rebuilt typewriters that can be purchased on a monthly basis with a small carrying charge. You can get one as low as $28.50.

Huge bows of velvet brocaded taffetas in gay tartan or stripes trim the high necks of many of 'Patou's' daytime clothes and there are some moderate fur basques. Her new "wild huckleberry," which has all the advantages of black, but more depth and luminosity, is used in a number of interesting combinations in his daytime ensembles, the new color figuring as dress and lining to black, grey and grege coats.

For these cool school mornings you'll want one of Grant's suede cloth jackets. They have zippers up the front and snug fitting waistlines and are only $1.00.

Recipes that are taken for granted are likely to trip up many an experienced cook. Making good coffee is such a recipe. Facts to remember in preparing it are these: Use fresh coffee, and one full cup of cold water to each cup of coffee required. A heaping tablespoon of coffee for each cup and an extra tablespoon for the percolator are the proper measures. Percolate six minutes.

If you are thinking about buying a new range for your kitchen do stop at the Manchester Gas Company and see their Magic Chef. It features the new three-in-one burner which can be regulated from a simmering to a giant flame—from room temperature to the full capacity of the flame. This range also has an excellent smokeless broiler and a Lorraine red wheel control. The Magic Chef certainly is the pride of the American Stove Corporation.

Small pickles known as gherkins always are in demand and they are very easy to make if the housewife is willing to take the time.

Two quarts small cucumbers, 2 cups salt, 2 quarts boiling water, 2 quarts vinegar, 2 ounces mixed pickling spices, 2 teaspoons powdered alum, 2 cups brown sugar, 1-2 cup sliced horseradish root.

Choose very small cucumbers of uniform size. Be careful not to bruise or mar the cucumbers. Wash carefully and pat dry between towels. Put into a deep crock and pour over brine made by dissolving salt in boiling water. Let stand twenty-four hours and drain off brine. Bring to the boiling point, skim and pour over cucumbers. Let stand twenty-four hours. Drain and wipe cucumbers. Cover with boiling water in which alum has been dissolved and let stand six hours. Drain from alum water and rinse in clear water. Combine vinegar, sugar, spices and horseradish root and heat to the scalding point. Add cucumbers and simmer ten minutes. Pack in hot sterilized jars, pour over hot vinegar to cover and seal.

Kemp's have some splendid piano accordions that are way down in price. You can get a 24 base as low as $35.00. This is an unusually good chance for accordion pupils.

HARTFORD REPORTS RISING EXPENSES

Relief Work Increases Per Capita Costs $3 Of Last Year's Figures.

Washington, Sept. 11.—(AP)—Increased per capita cost of the Hartford city government due to relief expenditures bringing the total for all purposes to $14,087,741 was shown in a report made today by the Census Bureau for the year ending March 31, 1933.

Operation of the general departments of the city government, the report showed, cost $10,156,938, or $60.48 per person figured on the basis of a population of 167,900. The per capita cost the previous year was $67.32. The increase, the report said, was due principally to payments for outdoor relief. In 1932 the per capita cost of operation of the general departments was $25.20.

In estimating city government costs the Census Bureau included the costs of those independent corporations performing municipal governmental functions insofar as their functions extended within the city. The figures include the transactions of nine school districts, 92.2 per cent of the general fund of the metropolitan district and 92.4 per cent of the water bureau transactions of the district.

Other Expenses
In addition to the operation of the general departments of the city government, expenses counted in the total cost of the government included $2,940,803 for operation and maintenance of public service enterprises such as waterworks, markets and cemeteries, $1,254,901 for interest on debt, and $2,352,562 for permanent improvements.

School payments totaled $2,905,495. The total payments included for the metropolitan district were $734,994.

The total revenue receipts, including those for schools and the metropolitan district, were $13,197,931, or $78.61 per person.

This amount was $359,810 less than the total payments for the year. Revenue receipts for the school districts were $1,043,830, and for the metropolitan district $1,053,552.

Property taxes, which have increased 218.1 per cent since 1913, accounted for 81 per cent of the total revenue. The income tax city operated public service enterprises amounted to 6.9 per cent.

The total funded or fixed debt was $25,298,093, while the assessed value of taxable property was $390,101,404.

GIVE TESTIMONIAL TO REV. ERICKSON

Emanuel Church Parishioners Give Pastor Big Surprise Party.

Rev. K. E. Erickson, pastor of the Emanuel Lutheran church here, was honored by a surprise party in the church vestry Saturday night by close to 500 members of the church. As a token of the esteem which Rev. Erickson has gained during the first year of his pastorate the local church, Herwar, Johnson presented him with a purse of $400, which had been raised among the membership by the Board of Administration.

A basket of roses was presented to Mrs. Erickson, the presentation being made by Phyllis Noren. A musical program was given upstairs by a quartet consisting of Rudolph Swanson, G. Albert Pearson, Mrs. Elsie Gustafson and Miss Helen Berggren. Mrs. Gustafson and Miss Berggren also sang several duets.

The principal speaker was Rev. Julius Hulteen, pastor of the Emanuel Lutheran church of Hartford. He praised Rev. Erickson for his fine work here and said that the local church was fortunate in securing a pastor of Rev. Erickson's outstanding capabilities.

Expresses Thanks
Rev. Erickson expressed his grateful appreciation for the gift. Herwar Johnson acted as master of ceremonies. Following the program refreshments were served.

ENTERTAINS CHURCH CHOIR AT SHORE

Mrs. James M. Shearer Hostess At Party At Grove Point Beach Cottage.

Mrs. James M. Shearer of Hilliard street entertained the volunteer choir of the Second Congregational church Saturday afternoon and evening at her cottage at Grove Beach Point. Mrs. Shearer who is chairman of the music committee was assisted by the other two members, Mrs. William A. Knoffa and Mrs. Millard Park.

About 20 made the trip and had a most enjoyable time, swimming and playing various outdoor and indoor games. They did full justice to a generous kettle of clam chowder prepared by Mrs. Shearer, and to a number of other good things provided for the supper by the committee and housewives among the singers. The outing was a great success and the hostess was warmly thanked for her kindness in making it possible.

SHOT BY BANDITS

Yonkers, N. Y., Sept. 11.—(AP)—John Feeney, 48, was shot and dangerously wounded early today by one of three men who held him up in his all-night restaurant. Feeney managed to throw his wallet into a dark hallway. Enraged because they could find no money the men beat him over the head and sent a bullet through his chest. He was taken to St. John's hospital, where his condition was reported critical.

FIND JAPANESE BEETLE IN TOWN

Specimen Located in Only Three Towns in State It Is Reported.

New Haven, Sept. 11.—Japanese beetles have been found in Putnam, Manchester, and Middletown this year for the first time, it was reported today by J. Peter Johnson, deputy of the Connecticut Agricultural Experiment Station in charge of the Japanese beetle quarantine. They were discovered by means of traps; no general scouting has been done this year.

The infestation of this pest has increased in Hartford and New Haven, and some backyard damage to grapes has occurred in Bridgeport, where the beetles are most numerous.

The Japanese beetle, when it is present in large numbers, is more injurious than many insects, for it does not confine its feeding to one or two hosts, but will attack orchard trees, berries, flowers, shrubs, and other plants. Patrol of main-travelled roads, in order to intercept shipments of the beetle, was withdrawn this summer, but inspection of nurseries and greenhouses, and certification of their shipments, has been continued.

STORM WARNING

Washington, Sept. 11.—(AP)—The Weather Bureau today issued the following storm warning: "Advisory ten a. m.: Tropical disturbance of wide extent and of considerable intensity over small area centered about four hundred fifty miles northeast of San Juan moving northwestward about twelve miles per hour. Minor disturbance has developed between Belize and Tela, Honduras."

357 MADE HOMELESS

Oeschelbronn, Germany, Sept. 11.—(AP)—A fire which raged throughout the night destroyed 93 cottages and 111 other buildings, making 357 persons homeless. A detachment of Reichwehr pioneers was summoned from Ulm to cope with small fires which started after the main blaze had been brought under control. A strong wind helped spread the flames.

POLICE COURT

Mrs. Gertrude F. McKinney, convicted about a month ago of keeping a house of ill repute at her home 15 Lilley street, was again arrested on a similar charge last night. Accompanying her to the Police Station were Frank Novak of 87 Foster street and John McCarthy of 401 Keeney street, both charged with frequenting and McCarthy, in addition, with drunkenness.

In Police Court this morning Judge Johnson sentenced Mrs. McKinney to jail for three months and gave Novak and McCarthy 30 days

2 VIOLENT DEATHS OCCURRED IN STATE

Engineer Dies From Fall And Woman Is Killed In An Automobile Accident.

By Associated Press
An accidental fall and an automobile collision resulted in two deaths from violence during the week-end in Connecticut.

A. Russell Atwater of Weston, executive engineer, died of a concussion of the brain suffered when he fell down the stairway of a barn. He was 45 years old and had been connected at one time with engineering firms in Boston, Detroit, Indianapolis and New York.

The automobile accident caused the death of Mrs. Jennie Lewis, 36, of Bridgeport. She was a passenger in a car driven by Richard Schab, 50, also of Bridgeport, which was in collision with an automobile driven by Leroy E. Lane, 38, of Stratford. The Stratford driver was arrested on a charge of causing loss of life through careless operation of a motor vehicle. He was released under $1,000 bond.

79 YEARS OLD, HIT BY SKIP AUTOIST

Wapping Man, Returning From Dance, Struck On Saturday Night.

Returning from a dance late Saturday night, 79-years old George W. Skinner of Wapping was struck by a hit and run driver when walking along the East Windsor Hill road just north of the residence of Wilbur C. Hill. He was found by Raymond Gardner of Maple street, this town, who took Mr. Skinner to his home.

Dr. Edwin C. Higgins of this town was called and found that no bones were broken, although Mr. Skinner suffered a slight concussion of the brain and numerous bruises and cuts. Due to his advanced age, concern is felt over his condition, although it is not now considered serious.

Mr. Skinner has been in the best of health and has attended the Saturday night dances at Hills Grove every week. It was reported that he was walking far over on the soft shoulders of the road when struck by an approaching automobile. No clue to the identity of the driver was a strange point of the mishap was the fact that Mr. Skinner's glasses, which he was wearing at the time, were not found, although the scene of the accident was thoroughly searched in an effort to locate the missing spectacles.

For the LOVE of EVE by Lucy Welling

BEGIN HERE TODAY EVE BAYLESS, pretty assistant to EARLE BARNES, advertising manager of Bixby's department store, marries DICK RADER, a construction superintendent. Dick wants Eve to stop working but she refuses.

Unknown to Dick, Eve plays the stock market on borrowed money. ARLENE SMITH, a stenographer at Bixby's, buys stock on Eve's advice but loses it all.

MONA ALLEN, copy writer, dislikes Eve and is responsible for several errors at the office for which Eve is blamed.

The building on which Dick has been working is completed and his employers tell him they will have no more work for him for at least two months.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XXXI

June's roses had faded and Mrs. Brooks' garden took on a slightly parched and neglected look.

Dick noticed this and made it a habit to sprinkle the lawn once a day, either at sunrise or after sunset.

I'm not sure that is just what I would have done with it!" Thus he answered each of Eve's gibes concerning his lack of employment.

According to the policy of Bixby's store, Mona Allen and Mrs. Penney did not receive vacations because they had worked there less than a year.

"I'll have some fun even if I don't meet any eligible admirers," she said good-humoredly when she left the office.

The following week Eve received a letter from Arlene. She read excerpts from it to Dick that evening.

"Sam brought me here in his roadster," Arlene had written. "I didn't want him to at first because well, you know. But he insists he stopped drinking the night he met me at Fred's party and hasn't touched liquor since."

"I love it here! I lead the 'at-risk' choir every morning after breakfast and now I'm working up an act for Stunt Night."

"Thanks for the books you sent. For the first time in my life I have enough time to read. I'm leaving in a moment for my morning swim. Give my love to Mona."

"You old romantic!" Dick challenged. "Well, it's a neat little triangle just the same. Sam likes Arlene and Arlene likes George Elias. I'm not sure who Elias cares for."

"And I like you and you'll have to pay for looking as sweet as you do!" Dick told her, gathering her into his arms.

But their life together was not always so peaceful. There was the evening when Eve, looking up from a magazine, exclaimed, "Dick, I don't know why you have to keep putting at that old pipe all the time! That's the fifth time you've filed it since I came home."

"Wrong! It's the sixth," he told her cheerfully, knocking the ashes into a low brass bowl.

"I think you smoke too much," Eve went on in a petulant voice. "Worried about my health, dear?"

"No, I'm thinking how much it costs!" she blurted out. "Smoking is an expensive habit. You aren't working and yet you smoke just as much as ever."

"When a man isn't working he needs recreation more than ever. And I take my exercise smoking," he teased.

"Oh, you're impossible!" Eve cried as she flung herself into a lounging chair.

"Get here, Eve!" Dick said firmly. "When I'm working I stow away all the shekels I can spare and when hard times come around I guess I can still afford to smoke if I feel like it!"

His arose abruptly and a moment later the outer door slammed.

WAPPING

Little opposition to the town committee's slate of nominees developed at the South Windsor Democratic caucus held Thursday evening at the South Windsor town hall.

Ballooting was held for only three nominations, those for tax collector, registrar of voters, and school committee.

John F. Reardon was defeated by Thomas M. McGrath for registrar, 39 to 13. M. Frank McGrath defeated John Healy for tax collector 37 to 15.

Mrs. Loretta T. McGrath defeated Mrs. Agnes Tobin for the School board 40 to 12. All other nominees were named unanimously.

They are Assessors William E. Barton (for three years), Charles Reardon (for one year), board of relief, Thomas Hickey, Selectmen, Arthur J. Carney and Robert H. Day, town clerk Malcolm Jung, town treasurer, Robert A. Boardman, auditor, Thomas Curtin, grand juror, Bernard Garrity, Charles McGuire, Thomas Nicholson and Frank McGrath, constables, John Colbert, Joseph Stone, Joseph Krawick, and George Miller.

MR. ROGERS' VIEW

Editor of The Herald: It might not be amiss for one who is occasionally blessed with an independent thought to express a few opinions in your valued columns.

Certainly George E. Keith needs no word of business commendation from anyone. His colleagues on the board admit that he is their Daddy when it comes to studying a business proposition.

By men who know him much more intimately than do I credit for progress business ability is given to Joseph Pero and from watching his success with his personal business it doesn't strike me that he needs a conservator.

These men are 100 per cent in favor of retaining George Waddell as clerk of the board. That automatically eliminates the talk of "changing horses in the middle of the stream."

This is a time for changes. The old order was passed. In the present board, there is altogether too much unanimity of opinion to be wholesome. Some folks said a few years ago when we elected the "Big Four" that the town had "gone to the dogs."

At any rate, with twenty years' experience as a real estate man, and his general good judgment and friendliness, is not only competent to decide values but what is almost equally important, these trying times, able to meet the complaining taxpayer and send him away with a smile satisfied that his assessment is fair and equitable.

A regular attendant at town and school meetings, it is generally conceded that Mr. Wasley's interest in civic affairs is particularly taxation is of long standing and intense. The fact that he took a special course in the most approved methods of property valuation only last year, is further evidence of his ability and interest.

Now, readers, a reticent man of this type is very apt to be lost sight of in the voting and in this particular instance it would be just too bad.

Mr. Strickland has not the slightest resemblance to the popular conception of a politician. He is not a spell binder or a forceful vote getter. He will conduct no grand, splurging campaign in his own behalf, make no claims for himself nor

Mr. Strickland is one of the best informed men in Manchester on local, county and State affairs. He has a mind of his own and uses it to very good advantage. Manchester, and by Manchester I mean the rank and file, not any selected few, can always be assured of receiving his very best efforts.

OBITUARY

DEATHS

Mrs. Sarah A. Miller. Mrs. Sarah A. (McDowell) Miller, nee Arthur C. Miller, died suddenly at 8:15 of a heart attack at Memorial Hospital where she had been a patient since September 1.

Mrs. Miller had not been in good health for several weeks, and while in Watbury during August she became ill. Yesterday she told her friends she felt very much better and this seemed to be true this forenoon, but while eating her luncheon at 12:15 she suffered an acute attack and all efforts to relieve her were unavailing.

Mrs. Miller was born in Lancashire, England, 60 years ago. She has lived in Manchester since her girlhood and was formerly employed by Cheney Brothers. Since the death of her husband a year ago last April she has made her home with her close friend, Mrs. Mary Burke of 104 Woodbridge street. She leaves no near relatives.

Mrs. Miller was a member of St. Bridget's church and for many years has been actively interested in Mystic Review, Women's Benefit Association. Arrangements for the funeral are incomplete.

had been carried to a successful conclusion under Fascist control. Father Healy speaks.

Dr. Edward G. Dolan, Collector of Internal Revenue of the State of Connecticut and administrative officer for the Federal Government of the National Recovery Act, kept his audience in good humor with references to his position in current political circles. In his serious admonition to the assembly he evaluated the great leader of the Italian people but little lower than President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

"Thank you you have a Mussolini in Europe, with radicalism rampant," said Dr. Dolan. Dr. Dolan gave due credit to the Italian race for a brilliant history and of accomplishments in all lines of endeavor during the centuries. Depending upon the sincerity of the Italian people and upon their proven fairness in an emergency, he appealed for their united support in carrying out the ideals of the NRA.

"This is a two-way street," said Dr. Dolan, describing the functions of the NRA administration. "The employer and employee must go along this road, both of them observing the rules of the road. With an accord and no infringement of the rules both will arrive at the destination aimed at—the employment of 11,000,000 people—in due time."

"See to it," commanded Dr. Dolan, "that everyone lives up to the code. Plead with your people to help us get back to happiness, prosperity and peace."

An inspirational address was given by the Grand Lodge, Sons of Italy, of the State of Connecticut, where they spent the night. There was a ball game and other sports, but horse shoe pitching was the star attraction, the winners of the tournament being Christopher Carlson and Joseph Rollason. A basket lunch was served during the afternoon.

Loyal Circle of King's Daughters will meet tonight at 7:45 at the Center church parlors, and Basinet Circle, Wednesday evening at 7 p. m. in the Robbins room.

The first full meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary will take place tonight at 8 o'clock at the State Armory. A full attendance of the members is hoped for.

Miss Suste Holm of Worcester, Mass., is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. William Kean of 67 Glenwood street.

Robert J. Smith of Elwood street and his son, Robert Hyde Smith, have returned after a week's trip to the World's Fair at Chicago.

Mrs. John Houston and her daughter, Mrs. Charles Wade, returned yesterday to their home on School street after spending the summer at their cottage at Misquamicutt.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Sarah A. Miller. Mrs. Sarah A. (McDowell) Miller, nee Arthur C. Miller, died suddenly at 8:15 of a heart attack at Memorial Hospital where she had been a patient since September 1.

Mrs. Miller had not been in good health for several weeks, and while in Watbury during August she became ill. Yesterday she told her friends she felt very much better and this seemed to be true this forenoon, but while eating her luncheon at 12:15 she suffered an acute attack and all efforts to relieve her were unavailing.

Mrs. Miller was born in Lancashire, England, 60 years ago. She has lived in Manchester since her girlhood and was formerly employed by Cheney Brothers. Since the death of her husband a year ago last April she has made her home with her close friend, Mrs. Mary Burke of 104 Woodbridge street. She leaves no near relatives.

HOLLAND WINS SIXTH CONSECUTIVE TENNIS TITLE

Cubs Are Only Obstacle In Giants Path

CHICAGO NOW SOLE HOPE TO BEAT NEW YORK OUT OF FLAG

Are 7 1-2 Games Out Of 1st Place As Big Series Nears; Pirates Out Of Running; Yanks Gain

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR. (A. P. Sports Writer)

The Chicago Cubs, hard to beat on their home grounds, looked more than ever like the sole remaining hope of the west to beat the New York Giants out of the National League pennant today as Pittsburgh had virtually dropped out of the running.

Enter Second Place

The Cub still 7 1-2 games behind the Giants, moved into second place yesterday by walloping the Phillies twice, while the Pirates divided another doubleheader with the Dodgers. With Bud Huggins and Lynn Nelson attaining something near "top" for pitchers, the Cubs won 4-0, and 4-2 to bring their record up to seven victories in the last eight games.

Just to add a little excitement, Billy Jurges nearly started a riot when he replied to some of the Philadelphia comments by pegging two balls into the enemy dugout and brought the whole Philadelphia team out after him.

Giants Win Twice

Despite the double victory, Chicago could not gain a third on the Giants who beat Cincinnati twice six and one, and two to one to make it three in a row. It took some brilliant relief pitching by Carl Hubbell to hold their edge in the opener and the second game went eleven innings in a duel between Hal Schumacher and Ray Kulp before Mel Ott's double led to the winning run.

Pirates Split Even

The Pirates got an unearned 2-1 decision when Linus Fry, young Brooklyn shortstop, made two wild throws with runners on base in the sixth. But the Dodgers made a comeback in the last two innings of the second game, with the aid of Pirate misplays, and won 3-2. The fourth place St. Louis Cardinals kept pace with the leaders by beating the Boston Braves twice 7-0, and 10-5.

Yanks Cut Lead

The New York Yanks cut Washington's American League lead to 3 1-2 games, but only by trimming Detroit twice 4-1 and 9-1, while the Senators were winning one game against Cleveland 7-3.

ROSS HAS AN EDGE, IN EXPERTS' MINDS

But It's Very Slight; It Will Be Toss Up At Tomorrow's Bout.

New York, Sept. 11.—(AP)—Training completed, Barney Ross and Tony Canzoneri settled down today to the nerve-racking wait before they can step into the ring at the Polo Grounds tomorrow night for their 15-round light-weight championship battle while promoter Tim Mara counted the dollars as they rolled in a steady stream into his box office.

Excited as it has not been over a light-weight match since Law Teller made his second vain bid for Benny Leonard's crown ten years ago, New York's fight populace probably will contribute gross receipts of more than $100,000.

SUB-ALPINES CAPTURE SERIES FROM PIRATES

Win Deciding Game, 5-3, With Four-Run Rally In Third; Mikoleit Pitches Stellar Ball; Undecided On Their Next Opponent.

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR. (A. P. Sports Writer)

A four-run barrage in the third inning brought the Sub-Alpines a 5 to 3 triumph over the Pirates in the third and final game of their series at Mt. Nebo field yesterday afternoon. No decision has been reached as to the Alpines' next opponent in the tourney for the so-called town title, due to the Bluefields-West Sides controversy, but it is expected that an ultimatum will be delivered to the Bluefields to play the West Sides on penalty of being dropped from the tournament.

Runs Batted In

Mikoleit pitched a stellar game for the Subs, limiting the Pirates to seven hits. He had a bad inning in the second when the Pirates got off to a two-run lead. Varrick started the inning by getting a base on balls. He couldn't get the ball over the plate to Sackett, the next batter, and walked him. Zaparka advanced both runners with a sacrifice. Mikoleit then singled sharply at center, scoring Varrick. Sackett moved when Sullivan fumbled the ball in center field. Bycholski then hit to Farr who threw wide to O'Leary at second. Nielsen was now on second and Bycholski on first. Kletcha then forced Bycholski. Linnell ended the inning by napping out to N. Boggini. The Pirates did not score again until the eighth when Rogers, batting for Varrick, singled to left and scored on Sackett's long double to deep left center. This was the only extra base hit of the game.

Clutch Game In 3rd

The Sub-Alpines sewed up the game in the third when Mikoleit walked. Raynor also got a free ticket to first. O'Leary advanced both runners with a sacrifice. N. Boggini then struck out. With two out the Alpines went to work and center, scoring Mikoleit and Raynor across the plate. Farr, then stole second. He scored a moment later on A. Bogini's sharp single to right. Sullivan singled, scoring A. Bogini with the fourth run of the inning. Vince ended the game by lining out to Linnell. The Alpines scored their fifth and final run in the ninth when Vince singled to right and Rogers hit the ball through him. He completed the circuit when Rogers threw to Nielsen, who dropped the ball.

DISSATISFIED VETERANS WON BY YOUTHFUL PILOT

Cronin Takes Bunch Of Ball Players And Molds Them Into Winning Team; Senators, One And All, Think He's a Swell Guy.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Joe Cronin's career managing the pennant-bound Senators has been no bed of roses, as this story tells. The article is the third of a series of six appearing in The Herald.

By RICHARD HOLLANDER (Copyright 1933 by NEA)

Washington, Sept. 11.—Joe Cronin is of the breed that makes leaders in whatever field they exercise their talents.

Whether they are Rhodes scholars or products of the slums they know intuitively what to do in any situation. And like the rest of them, Cronin gives all credit for his success in piloting the Washington Senators toward the American League pennant to the homely doctrine of common sense.

PERRY OF ENGLAND ANNEXES TITLE IN NATIONAL SINGLES

Defeats Crawford, Australian Ace, In Five Blistering Sets; Net Hopes Of U. S. Fade Rapidly.

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR. (A. P. Sports Writer)

New York, Sept. 11.—(AP)—The flower of American tennis, once flourishing in every clime, was wilted about the edges today and no water in sight.

Frederick J. Perry, dashing young British star, held this country's most coveted title, the National championship, and recovery of the Davis cup seemed further away than at any time since the French captured it at Germantown in 1927.

Perry, hero of Great Britain's successful challenge for the cup at Paris, in July, completed his all-conquering campaign with a blistering five set victory over blond Jack Crawford of Australia in the final match of the championships at Forest Hills yesterday. The scores were 6-3, 11-13, 4-6, 6-0, 6-1.

RUSSIAN MAT STAR FACES CLINKSTOCK

Zhyzsko Meets Osage Indian Again In Feature Match On Tonight's Card.

Hartford, Sept. 11.—Determined that his unruly redskin opponent shall not go on the warpath a second time at his expense, Karel Zhyzsko, Russian mat star, faces Big Jim Clinkstock, Osage Indian, in a three mat event on Promotor Jim Downing's all-star wrestling program at South Park tonight.

Meeting here a few weeks ago, these matmen put on a sensational contest which was terminated suddenly and with a bang when Clinkstock moved in on Zhyzsko, raised him aloft and dashed him to the hospital, but now, entirely recovered, he intends to go after Big Jim with a vengeance.

"Zeke" Bonura, Dallas first sacker, celebrated news of his sale to the White Sox by hitting his twenty-third home run of the season and stealing several bases for good measure.

TWO STATE MARKS TIED BY LOCAL TRACK STARS

Bob McCormick Equals Record In Pole Vault; Patton Does Likewise In High Jump; Murch Place Second In Their Events.

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR. (A. P. Sports Writer)

Two state records were equalled by local athletes in the Connecticut A. U. championships at Norwich Saturday morning, the Recreation Centers track and field team winning four places in the meet to place high among the leading contestants. The outstanding local stars were Robert McCormick, former Manchester High ace, who tied the mark for the pole vault with a jump of eleven feet, nine inches, and Arthur Vines, Manchester High junior, who cleared the bar in the running high jump at 5 feet, ten inches.

Just Misses Record

McCormick, holder of the state intercollegiate record of 12 feet, two inches, tried in vain to clear 12 feet in an effort to shatter the state record but his hand knocked the cross-bar off in his last jump. His efforts in this event were easily

Local Junior Eleven Triumphs In Loosely Played Game, Winning On Visitors Errors; Gray Scores After 35 Minutes Of Play.

The town tennis championship proved to be a serious competitor to the soccer game yesterday and a very small crowd turned out to witness the Olympic games in the Junior Soccer League in which the Olympics managed to overcome the junior Portuguese by the score of 1 goal to nil.

The score would indicate a fast, closely contested game. In this particular case it is misleading. Dame Fortune smiled benignly upon the Olympics from the start and especially gracious when she induced the Portuguese fullback and goalie to make the error which led to the one goal which meant victory and two points to the Olympics team.

To Play Doubles Finals Next Sunday Afternoon

The finals of the local doubles tennis tournament were postponed until next Sunday afternoon instead of being played yesterday, due to the inability of one of the players to go through with one of the semi-final matches slated for last Saturday afternoon. Only one match was played at that time. Holland and Bissell, seeded No. 2, defeating Harris and Harris, seeded No. 4. The scores were 6-3 and 6-3.

The finals at 1 o'clock next Sunday afternoon will bring together Britton-Jesani and Holland-Bissell in what should prove a most interesting match. Jesani was a member of last year's title holding team, his partner then being Robert C. Smith.

SENSE and NONSENSE

Junk Dealer—Any old junk you want to get rid of, ma'am?
Woman—Yes, if you'll wait a minute my husband will be here.

When scantier bathing suits are made—well, the girls will wear 'em.

Woman—A husband should bring home the bacon.
Her Husband—Yeah! And a wife should be there to cook it.

We hope making the dollar worth less won't make it worthless.

Stenographer—Have you and your boss ever had any difference of opinion?
Bookkeeper—Yes, but he doesn't know it.

He who borrows trouble is certain to pay the interest with worry.

Mother—Junior, please be quiet. My head is just about to split.
Junior—Aw, gee, Ma. If I keep quiet can I see it split?

It don't take platonic love long to run a temperature.

Rich Sutor—I—er—I suppose you are aware that I've been making advances to your daughter?
Impetuous Father (extending hand)—Yes; put it there, son. And now what about her poor old dad?

"Life is like a deck of cards" writes a friend of this column of fun and jest. "When you are in love it's hearts; when you become engaged, it's diamonds; when you are in bad with the wife, it's clubs, and when you die, it's spades."

Florence—Joe proposed to me four times in two weeks.
Beatrice—Whom do you suppose he's practicing up for?

The person that rings your doorbell is just as worried about the reception he's going to get as you are about having no money in the house.

A certain grocer claimed he had never lost a customer. But the way a certain woman stormed into the store the other day it looked as though his perfect record was ruined.

Woman—What did your blundering clerk mean by sending me 24 candles when I ordered 50?

Grocer (sneezing)—I'm mighty sorry, but I filled that order myself. You see I thought they were for a birthday cake for yourself and I knew 24 candles would be more than enough.

Not for many years have communities expected or received so much from their newspapers as during the past few years of the depression. And the newspapers have been game every time.

Sunday School Teacher—What is the rod of affliction?
Little Girl (whose mother has hay-fever every fall)—Goldenrod.

The brain trust isn't doing it all. It doesn't take so much brains if the people provide enough trust.

Woman—I'm told Mary is a struggling stenographer.
Husband—Well, she's a stenographer but she's learned there's no use struggling.

A wise wife never asks her husband to go any place in the evening until she observes his expression after he throws down the financial page of the paper.

Man—You women have developed a lot, but you haven't got up to putting pockets in your clothes.
His Wife—And give you a chance to go through them at night! Not much.

He—I'll bet when you have to do your own washing you wish you'd married some other man.

She—Yes, I wish I'd married Mahatma Gandhi.

ABOUT TOWN

Manchester members of the Emblem club, with Mrs. George E. Williams as chairman, are busy with preparations for a large card party to be given tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock at the Y. M. C. A. Both pivot and progressive bridge will be played. Prizes will be awarded the winners and refreshments served. All players will be welcome.

Temple Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, will meet for the first time this fall on Wednesday evening at the Masonic Temple. An informal social hour will follow the business session.

Organist Fred Werner of the Concordia Lutheran church has called a rehearsal of the combined choirs for Friday evening at 7:30, in preparation for the Sunday evening installation service for Rev. Karl Richter, the new pastor.

The Sewing Circle of the Army and Navy Club auxiliary will meet tomorrow evening at the home of Mrs. Hilda Kennedy, 385 Center street.

Mrs. Adelaide Pickett has been appointed chairman of the supper which will precede the meeting of Chapman Court, Order of Amaranth, Saturday instead of Friday evening this week. It will be visiting matrons and patrons' night at the local court and the change of night has been made to accommodate the visitors from other courts, many of whom meet on Friday evening. Mrs. Jessie Winterbottom will be chairman of the dining room and Mrs. Charles Thresher will be in charge of decorations.

Daughters of Liberty No. 125 L. O. O. L., will meet tonight at 8 o'clock in Orange Hall. The first degree will be conferred on a number of candidates and a social time will follow the business meeting.

The auxiliary to Anderson-Shea Post, V. F. W., will hold its regular meeting tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock at the State Armory.

Worthy Matron of Temple Chapter, O. E. S., Mrs. Harry Straw, Mr. Straw and several of the other members of the chapter will attend the meeting of the Hartford Chapter this evening at Odd Fellows Temple, when the grand officers make their official visit.

The Manchester Garden club will meet tonight at 7:30 at the Robbins room of the Center church house. Every member is urged to bring a flower arrangement in one or more of the four classes—those having a spread of under and over 18 inches, and small and large arrangements with background screens. No prizes will be awarded and the club members will act as judges, voting by number.

Rev. K. E. Erickson, pastor of Emmanuel Lutheran church, has been secured as speaker for the Mothers' Club banquet Thursday evening at Sunset Ridge.

Memorial Temple Pythian Sisters will hold its business meeting tomorrow evening at 7:15 in Odd Fellows hall, to allow for a public card party to follow in the lodge hall, with Mrs. Harriet Skewes as chairman of the committee in charge. Prizes will be awarded and refreshments served. Playing will begin promptly at 8:15.

Miss Jessie M. Reynolds, welfare nurse attended a convention of British War Veterans in Framingham, Mass., Saturday. Among the units of British veterans in attendance was the "Princess Pat" Regiment of Canada, members of which Miss Reynolds nursed while serving on the high seas in the transport service.

Miss Doris G. Bronkie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Bronkie of 457 Center street left today for New London, where she will attend the Lawrence and Memorial hospital to take the nurse's training course. Miss Bronkie was graduated from Manchester High school in June of this year and is popular among the younger set. Friday evening a farewell party was given in her honor at the home of Miss Elaine Hillbig of Ridge street and she received many useful gifts. Mrs. Harold Richmond of Oxford street drove to New London and left Miss Bronkie at the hospital.

FORCED OFF ROAD, CAR TURNS TURTLE

Driver Uninjured in Early Morning Crash on Hartford Road—Auto Damaged.

At 12:30 this morning the police received a report that an automobile was badly damaged, having turned over two or three times and was located to the west of the Rogers Paper Mill on Hartford road. The report came to Officer Michael Fitzgerald as he was doing duty on lower Main street. He at once telephoned the information to headquarters and Officers Joseph Prentice and David Galligan were detailed to investigate. They found the car on its side, windows broken, top broken in and the car pretty well damaged. There were no blood stains to indicate that any person was injured. Inquiry at the Manchester Memorial hospital, in the meantime, brought the information that there had been no admissions for accidents of any kind. The operator and auto licenses were not to be found in the car but the number plates, MB 236 brought the information that the machine was owned by John News of 11 Whitney street. The East Hartford police were reached and Mr. News was found at his home. He said he was driving west on Hartford road when a car came from the opposite direction so far over to the side of the road on which he was driving that he went off the road, into what appeared to be a level lot. He lost control of the auto, which continued along on the small sidewalk and turned over.

He was picked up, he said, by a young couple going towards East Hartford and brought home. He had a cut on his leg. The car was ordered removed to a Manchester garage, having been pushed back from the roadway by the crowd that gathered after the police arrived.
