VETERANS BEATEN IN LOCAL PRIMARY

Present Board of Selectmen
Upset at Record Caucus
Yesterday — Robertson and Strickland Lose —
Mutrie Beats Anderson
for Assessor.

Manchester Republicans in Primary caucus here yesterday saw two veteran politicians go down in defeat before a concerted effort to upset the organized board of the past year. William W. Robertson, for five years a Selectman, and Wells A. Strickland, for the past 10 years a member of the board and this past year its chairman, were replaced in nomination by David Chambers, a newcomer in the candidates' circle and Frank V. Williams formerly a member of the board but defeated last year.

Mutrie Wins
Henry A. Mutrie, local contractor and a member of the board of relief, from which he will, of course, resign, defeated Clarence H. Anderson, insurance agent, for assessor by 21 votes. This was somewhat of an upset, since Anderson made the strongest bid for nomination of any of the candidates in the Republican Primary. John Lappen, John Jensen and Stuart Wasley, also assessor candidates, ran considerably behind the winner and the runner-up.

In the Republican contest contest Charles A. Sweet held full sway polling the larger vote of 15. The other three winners were Robert J. Boyce, Clarence K. Peterson and Charles Crockett. Seven other candidates were from 200 to 400 votes below the low vote of the winners.

Democratic Primary
In the Democratic Primary Selectmen contests old time Democrats saw the members of their party turn them down cold for three members of the Republican Party. Sherwood G. Bowers, David Chambers and Frank V. Williams polled a higher vote among the Democrats than a number of the Republican Democrats. In the Democratic assessor contest Felix Mozzer defeated Paul Carlson 138 to 99.

Successful Nominees
The successful Republican nominees for Selectmen were: Aaron Cook, Sherwood G. Bowers, David Chambers, John L. Jenney, W. George Glenney, Frank V. Williams, and George E. Keith. Cook was high man with 1,829 votes and G. E. Keith was low with 1,243 defeating Joseph E. Keith by a vote of 22 votes. W. George Glenney for the past two years one of the highest vote getters dropped to fifth place largely because he made no effort on his own behalf to win the nomination. He spent his time working for other candidates for the

PARENTS BELIEVE CHILD KIDNAPED

Six Year Old Son of Fisherman Missing All Night — Big Search On.

Southwest Harbor, Me., Sept. 13.—(AP)—Search for George Ward, six-year-old son of a fisherman living in the Manset section of this town, who failed to return to his home for supper last night, continued today with his parents firm in their belief that the child had been kidnaped.

Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Ward, the parents, had nothing to support their conclusion that the boy had been kidnaped.

They told of two men in a touring car with out-of-state registration plates driving about the town yesterday. Mrs. Ward said that after the hunt for the boy had been started last evening the car drove by the store building, where the Ward's occupy a second floor flat, and one of the men looked up at her "contemptuously."

Start Big Search
William Campbell, forest ranger at the Lafayette National Park, expected to lead 150 youths from a nearby C. C. camp in a careful search of the area about the town this morning and plans were also made for dragging the waters of the harbor.

The Ward home is separated from the shore by the road, which follows the coast for several miles, and a narrow strip of ground. Some residents expressed the opinion that the boy might have fallen into the water and drowned.

The Ward's, who are in ordinary circumstances, said they knew of no one with a grudge against them.

George Hopkins, who lives near the Ward's, said he saw the lad about 5:30 yesterday afternoon an eighth of a mile from his home and walking away from it.

RECEIVER IS NAMED FOR CLOSED BANK

Attorney Samuel Mellitz Appointed to Direct Affairs of Bridgeport Concern.

Hartford, Sept. 13.—(AP)—Attorney Samuel A. Mellitz of Bridgeport was appointed temporary receiver of the West Side Bank of Bridgeport by Judge Newell Jennings of the Superior Court at a hearing in Hartford today.

The application of Bank Commissioner Walter Perry for the appointment of a temporary receiver for the bank was made by Assistant Attorney General Raymond A. Johnson, who suggested the appointment of the Bridgeport City Trust Company as receiver.

Attorney Joseph Shapiro, for the depositors in the bank, presented the name of Attorney Mellitz. Mr. Shapiro said that 55 per cent of the depositors are of Hungarian lineage, that three groups representing depositors, stockholders and executives of the bank were agreed on the appointment of Mr. Mellitz, who is a prominent member of the bar in Bridgeport, a former director of this bank and who speaks Hungarian.

Attorney Harry Swarz seconded the suggestion of the appointment of Mr. Mellitz, who has agreed to take the position without compensation. Attorney William Riddon, representing depositors not Hungarian, said Mr. Mellitz is particularly fitted for the position on account of his banking experience. Mr. Mellitz also was supported by Attorney Harry Kurasman.

Attorney Theodore Steibert, for

ALLOW STUDENTS TO STATE VIEWS

College Head Would Give Liberals Full Opportunity to Express Opinions.

New York, Sept. 13.—(AP)—An idea for a college "Union Square" where students might express their liberal sentiments was brought back from Europe today by Chancellor Harry Woodburn Chase of the University of New York City.

Chase, lately resigned as president of the University of Illinois, returned on the liner Champlain with his son, Carl, with whom he vacationed in England and France.

The chancellor said the free student expression of political and liberal tendencies was best allowed in the open, and that he might favor setting aside one place within the university campus for an outlet of expression similar to Union Square in New York or Trafalgar Square in London.

Military Training
Chase said military training had a place in colleges and university, but expressed himself unconcerned over the compulsory or voluntary aspects.

"I realize as matters now stand that it is necessary that military training be centered in certain colleges, otherwise where would the men for the officer training corps come," he said.

"Another source of the supply is centered in the universities and colleges may not be called upon to fill that need. Until that happens it is certain we will continue to have such training. Whether it is voluntary or compulsory is a subject that I have never allowed to concern me greatly."

ELKS' BANQUET RECORD EVENT FOR ROCKVILLE

15th Anniversary Observed
With Largest Attended
Affair in City's History—
Excellent Program.

Rockville, Sept. 13.—The Fifteenth Anniversary of the founding of Rockville Lodge, No. 1359, B. P. O. Elks observed last night will go down in history as being one of the events of Rockville which will be remembered for generations. Not alone was it the biggest event in the history of the lodge but it was the largest banquet ever to be held in Rockville by any lodge or organization.

Compliments have been extended to Exalted Ruler Lewis H. Chapman, the toastmaster for the evening, and Past Exalted Ruler Harry Conklin Smith, chairman of the general committee. A total of 168 were seated in the dining room of the Rockville House for the turkey dinner served by Chef Arthur Busch and under the direct personal supervision of Mrs. Ellen Chapdelaine, hostess of the Rockville House.

The members and guests began to arrive at the Rockville House shortly before 7 o'clock where they passed under the archway of American flags and were met by the Reception Committee and officers of the lodge.

The hotel lobby was tastefully decorated with American flags and was used as a reception room for the members and guests. The reception committee consisted of the original officers of the lodge, all past Exalted Rulers and the present officers. The numbers were so great that the private dining rooms and rooms adjacent to the office were needed for the reception.

Shortly before 7:30 o'clock, Exalted Ruler Lewis H. Chapman and Past Exalted Ruler Harry Conklin Smith, chairman of the general committee, ushered the guests of honor and speakers into the dining room. Several minutes were needed to place the large group of members and guests. The dining room brought forth many complimentary remarks, because of the "splendid" decorations of American flags.

Twenty-two were placed at the speakers' table which was located on the south side of the dining room. The table was tastefully decorated with a large bouquet of flowers.

LIQUOR RUNNERS UNUSUALLY BUSY

Score of Supply Ships Are Now Anchored Off the Atlantic Coast.

New London, Sept. 13.—(AP)—Renewed activity along Run Run extending from Nantucket to the New Jersey coast, was unofficially reported today by the Coast Guard at the New London base.

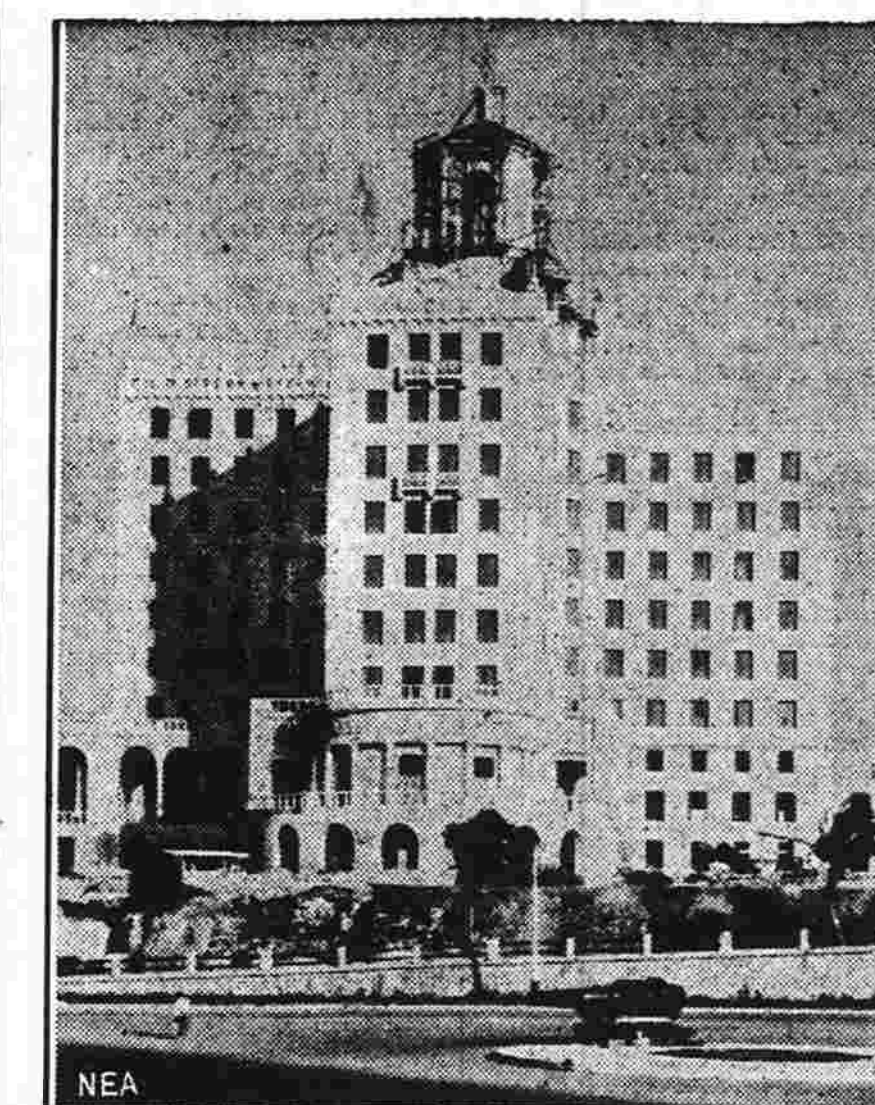

Almost a score of supply ships were said to be anchored west off shore.

As a result the Coast Guard increased its patrol of Long Island Sound and adjacent waters in a move to prevent shore boats from contacting the supply ships.

Many Slip Boats were reported to be taking advantage of dark nights to bring contraband liquor to the coast. So far, Coast Guardsmen said, the smugglers apparently have slipped through the cordon of patrol boats.

The off-shore patrol of Coast Guard is now composed of cutters and 16 foot patrol boats, with "checkup" work on the supply ships harder because of the absence of Coast Guard destroyers, recently detailed to Cuban waters.

Hotel A "Fort" For Cuban Officers

Here more than 300 Cuban army and navy officers, heavily armed, barricaded themselves in defiance of the national republic's new revolutionary regime. It is Havana's palatial Hotel A, which also has been providing temporary quarters for U. S. Ambassador Sumner Welles.

RUSSIA NOW HARVESTING BIGGEST CROP IN YEARS

A. P. Reporter Makes Trip Through North Caucasus to Find Facts About Reports of a Famine.

Pavlovskaya, Kuban, U. S. S. R., Sept. 13.—(AP)—The whole North Caucasus is now engaged in the task of getting in the richest harvest of years and shows few outward signs of hardships felt because of recent poor crops.

In an automobile tour completed today from Rostov-on-Don into the heart of Kuban—the native habitat of the Cossacks, who, as a class, proved to be the bitterest enemies of the Bolsheviks—the Associated Press correspondent found peasants generally working twenty-four hours a day in twelve-hour shifts.

They worked hard to complete the last stages of what for them will prove the most profitable crop since the collectivization of farms began, if present signs are indicative.

Fixed Grain Tax
Under the new agrarian policy of substituting a fixed "grain tax" for "collections," which heretofore have fluctuated according to the size of the crop, each member of collective farms in this section may earn an average of six to ten kilograms of grain each working day (about 13 to 22 pounds) which he can sell on the private market after his own needs have been satisfied.

In addition, they received a small monetary wage and as such vegetables and produce as they need.

Government Aid
The facts that the government came to their aid last winter and spring with food and seed loans and that they had subsisted on smaller rations during that period than did city workers were subordinated in the minds of more than a dozen collective farm peasants with whom the correspondent talked on his way to Pavlovskaya to the now immediate fact that they now have a bountiful harvest.

Whatever suffering there was, this region seems to have been among a class which not only refused to join the collectives but actively opposed Communist agricultural policies.

Many of these persons have now been "liquidated" in one form or another.

"Things were pretty bad last year, but there is no hunger now," the working peasants told the correspondent. Hunger is their word for famine.

"We barely had enough then, but that is no more," they added.

None of the children seen on the trip showed signs of earlier malnutrition.

STRIKERS STILL OUT
Bridgeport, Sept. 13.—(AP)—Nearly 150 dyers and cleaners who went on strike yesterday, were still out today as President Seymour Landau, representing the strikers, proceeded with plans which he believes will bring about agreements between the workers and several of the employers. In the meanwhile, Henry Lynde, head of the employers' group, said there was no change in the attitude of the employers. He declared all of the larger proprietors are meeting the NRA requirements but insisted the demands for a 20 per cent wage increase cannot be met at this time.

29 STATES NOW WET AS THREE COUNT RESULTS

Maryland, Minnesota and Colorado Vote for Repeal — First Named Has Nearly a 5 to 1 Majority.

By Associated Press.
Twenty-nine states today marched the repeal path. Only seven more need to follow to end National prohibition.

Maryland, Minnesota and Colorado were the latest recruits. All voted yesterday to abolish the Eighteenth Amendment and left the score in 1933's balloting: For repeal 2: Against—1.

If the seven states now needed to supply the three-quarters of the union required for repeal are among the 10 voting, before November 8, the repeal amendment will be ratified formally on December 6—date of the 36th convention.

The wets carried Maryland overwhelmingly. Fast mounting figures reveal the repeal majority at nearly five to one.

The margins were smaller but substantial in Colorado and Minnesota, home of Andrew J. Volstead who sponsored the prohibition enforcement law. Late counts listed both in the two-to-one class.

Prohibitionists promised undiminished efforts to block the trend which on Monday cost them Maine, the nation's first bone dry state.

Next week, on Tuesday, Idaho and New Mexico vote on repeal. Two weeks later—October 3—Virginia votes, and a week later—October 10—Florida.

These four end the balloting until November 7 when six more vote: Kentucky, North Carolina, Ohio, Pennsylvania, South Carolina and Utah.

The list of 29 states which have voted to ratify the twenty-first repeal amendment today reads: Michigan, Wisconsin, Rhode Island, Wyoming, New Jersey, New York, Delaware, Nevada, Illinois, Indiana, Massachusetts, Connecticut, New Hampshire, Iowa, West Virginia, California, Alabama, Arkansas, Tennessee, Oregon, Arizona, Missouri, Texas, Washington, Vermont, Maine, Maryland, Minnesota and Colorado.

VOLSTEAD'S STATE WET
St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 13.—(AP)—A wave of wet votes has put Minnesota on the repeal path.

The drive of the Connecticut Branch of the Home Owners Loan Corporation to forestall foreclosures will be carried into the courts of the state.

Peter M. Kennedy, state manager of the corporation said today officers have been instructed to seek extension of redemption dates in foreclosure actions now pending in Superior Court to permit home owners more time to negotiate for Federal loans.

Kennedy's instructions to the branch attorney, issued through William L. Tierney, state counsel for the corporation said:

"In cases where a law day is to be set, or an extension thereof sought, no earlier date should be requested than January 1, 1934. If possible a later date should be obtained. Six months is not too much."

Not Yet Perfected
"While the Home Owners Loan Corporation in Connecticut is further advanced than most any state (many states have made no loan yet), we must consider that Washington's plans for marketing the bonds mainly in the market, forming the public generally of their value and many other advantages to the home loan plan, have not been fully perfected or carried out.

The fairness to both the lender and the borrower, ample time should be given for the development of these

WINDLING CHARGE DENIED BY CHINA
Newspapers Reported 18 Million Dollars of War Fund Had Been Stolen.

Shanghai, Sept. 13.—(AP)—Reports of the alleged embezzlement of 18,000,000 Mexican dollars in the war chest the Chinese public intended for General Ma Chan-Shan's campaign against the Japanese in Manchuria was vigorously denied in official circles of the Nanking government today.

The reports appeared in a section of the Chinese press following Ma's return from Europe after his defeat in Manchuria.

It was alleged that public subscriptions for the 1931 drive totaled twenty million Mexican dollars, of which the general was said to have received less than two million.

Following the publication of the allegations, in which vernacular newspapers held the public bodies collecting the funds responsible, George R. Seavey, a railway mail clerk, was sent to Havana from Jacksonville, Florida, last month to fill, temporarily, the vacancy caused by the death of Major J. H. Knox, long the department representative there.

NEW YORK STAGES HUGE NRA PARADE; 250,000 TAKE PART

AMERICANS READY TO LEAVE ISLAND
Those in Cuba Prepare for Emergencies as Strikes Start New Troubles.

Havana, Sept. 13.—(AP)—Many Americans in Cuba prepared for emergencies today as they watched with growing concern new threats of strikes, a move to train boys as soldiers, and the failure of 500 officers to make peace with the new government.

At least a score of Americans were under military protection in Cuba, in the small Cape Rente settlement, a number of Americans gathered for safety after leaving their homes, fearing an attack by workers.

Across the bay from Santiago de Cuba, in the small Cape Rente settlement, a number of Americans gathered for safety after leaving their homes in interior Oriente Province because of unsettled labor conditions.

Santiago awaited the arrival of American warships as strikes that have tied up sugar mills became more intense.

HITLER PREPARES FOR HARD WINTER
Asks Germans to Share Their Sunday Dinners With Those Who Are Idle.

Berlin, Sept. 13.—(AP)—A plea to Germans to share their "Sunday pots" once a month with deserving poor persons was made today by Chancellor Hitler and Minister of Propaganda Goebbels before the Cabinet and party leaders.

A campaign was thus launched to aid the Reich's unemployed through the winter. It will be a "fight against hunger and cold" and reach the utmost corners and classes of the nation.

On the first Sunday of every month people will be asked to eat plain food costing no more than fifty pennings a person. The amount saved will be put into a general fund.

Workers will be asked to give an hour's wages every month and persons receiving postoffice remittances will be urged to donate a percentage.

"We have broken an international solidarity," the chancellor asserted.

National Solidarity
"We will build a national solidarity. All will build a national solidarity. All will shoulder a part in the suffering so it will be brought home to them. We are all to blame that a part of the people is suffering."

In contrast to his usual manner, Hitler spoke slowly and deliberately and quietly.

Hitler Goebbels outlined plans for collecting the funds and food to supplement the national fund and grants of coal from industries.

Those refusing to participate were threatened with jail sentences.

TREASURY BALANCE
Washington, Sept. 13.—(AP)—The position of the Treasury Sept. 11 was: Receipts, $20,297,741.99; expenditures $16,164,549.34; balance, $4,133,192.65; customs receipts for the month, $10,873,288.83.

Receipts for fiscal year, to date (since July 1) $456,307,123.70; expenditures, $695,681,994.49 (including $241,187,652.88 emergency expenditures); excess of expenditures, $239,374,870.79.

Not Definite Yet
"It is by no means definite that we shall go," Amy said today. "The Atlantic flying season is supposed to end the middle of September, but personally I think the latest advisable date is past."

She laughed—"It was really a giggler—and a gentle bust sufficed her cheeks."

"But you know husbands and I think mine has different ideas."

Her listener didn't know husbands very well, but agreed on theoretical grounds.

Only Needs an Earthquake To Make His Job Perfect

Washington, Sept. 13.—(AP)—A "good, moderate sized, second-hand earthquake" was requested of the Post Office Department today by its lone Cuban agent.

George R. Seavey, a railway mail clerk, was sent to Havana from Jacksonville, Florida, last month to fill, temporarily, the vacancy caused by the death of Major J. H. Knox, long the department representative there.

Since arriving, Seavey has seen a couple of hurricanes and a couple of revolutions. His working staff was cut by the revolutions and the hurricanes caused congestion in mail-handling.

The pinch-hitting postal agent admitted things were "pretty badly balled up" for a while and mildly asked his Washington bosses to send over the earthquake, explaining "we have had about everything else."

MOLLISONS PLAN ANOTHER FLIGHT
This Time They Will Start from Toronto and Try to Reach Baghdad.

New York, Sept. 13.—(AP)—Amy Johnson Mollison bid farewell to New York friends today prepared to share again with her husband the dangers and thrills of a new air adventure.

This time it is a Toronto-Baghdad non-stop flight for that world's distance record, an attempt very much in doubt yet due to the advance of winter weather and accompanying hazards of ice and gales.

Captain Mollison, returning from England with a new plane to replace the ship in which he and Amy crashed at Bridgeport, Conn., this summer, lands at Quebec tomorrow and joins his wife in Toronto tomorrow night.

With the Seafarer, II, a De Havilland Dragon Moth powered by two Gypsy major motor of 120 horse power, the flying couple hope to fly from Toronto to Aleppo, French Syria, some 6,000 miles, and break the record of Maurice Rossi and Paul Codos.

"It is by no means definite that we shall go," Amy said today. "The Atlantic flying season is supposed to end the middle of September, but personally I think the latest advisable date is past."

She laughed—"It was really a giggler—and a gentle bust sufficed her cheeks."

"But you know husbands and I think mine has different ideas."

The two men skipped out of town leaving an unpaid hotel bill and were arrested in Worcester for the local police.

Officer Herman Muske on duty at the police station received the complaint last night and learning that the men were in Worcester, gave the information to the Worcester police which resulted in their arrest. They will be given a hearing in the Manchester Police Court tomorrow morning.

where the weather is worst, off Labrador. We couldn't add another pound, and we just aren't risk it.

"If we really could reach Baghdad, that's something beyond anything we will be the two happiest people on earth."

Mrs. Mollison said they would take off from a beach about 60 miles north of Toronto and follow generally the Great Circle route over the Northern Atlantic, Ireland, England, France, Turkey, Greece and Syria.

"We will fly until the gas gives out," she said.

"We plan to cruise at about 85 miles an hour at the start and throttle down to 75 miles an hour the rest of the way. That way we can conserve gas. Our motors, four cylinders, use a simply amazing small amount of gas at that speed and we will carry about 700 gallons. We will be about 60 hours in the air."

And in case any one has any doubts—

"We plan and I will share and share alike—each of us taking his turn at the controls. Just fellow pilots, husband and wife together—and all that."

C. A. PLATT, RELATIVE OF CHENEYS, IS DEAD

Well Known Architect Passes Away in Cornish, N. H.—Planned Rockville Library.

Word was received here today of the death last night of Charles A. Platt, prominent architect and artist, at Cornish, New Hampshire. He was 72 years of age and a resident of New York; being the son of John E. Platt, an outstanding lawyer, and Mary Cheney Platt, a sister of the late John S. Cheney and James W. Cheney of this town.

The deceased was active in architecture in this vicinity, having designed the library and two Maxwell houses in Rockville and the residence of Frank Cheney, Jr., Clifford D. Cheney, Philip Cheney and John D. Cheney, here. He also designed many buildings in Washington.

A son, Roger Platt, married Frances Cheney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cheney, Jr., of this town.

VETERANS BEATEN IN LOCAL PRIMARY

most part. Williams and Keith made little or no effort to win, either.

In the Republican constable contest a hr. at of protest developed after the votes had been read when it was found that a minor inconsistency had occurred on the machines. In sitting up the candidate indicator cards the printer had placed Herbert Phelon ahead of Clarence Peterson which was alphabetically incorrect. This was changed, but the numbers above the names were not changed. Phelon, who was one of the losers claimed he had asked his friends to vote by number despite the fact that the instruction sheets were correctly printed. Phelon did not enter a protest before the Moderator Emil L. G. Hohenthal had declared Peterson nominated.

Record Vote

The Primaries brought out a record vote. The total vote on the Republican machines was 3,072 and the Democratic 866, making a total vote of 3,938. The Democratic vote was not up to the average of other years but the Republican vote was 111 more than last year. The total vote exceeded the former previous high by 70 votes.

Line At End

The voters stood with the polling booths last night more quickly than it was thought they could. The line was just about out to the Center street sidewalk when the hour of nine was reached. Patrolman Joseph Frenchie took his place at the end and walked through until the last man had voted about 9:20. The next to the last man to vote gave the checkers and registrars some trouble. His name had been checked but he had not voted. The checkers looked for his son's name and found it was on neither list. Someone recalled that the son had presented himself to vote and had been passed through earlier. The father was allowed to vote.

There were some funny incidents in connection with the voting. One candidate was passing out cigars in the vicinity of the polls. He met a smiling man who asked him for a cigar. The candidate smiled and handed him a cigar. "Thanks," said the voter. "I've just been through and voted." Whereupon the candidate reached over and took the cigar back. He wasn't among the winners.

Sign Bonds Today

Despite their defeat at the Primary yesterday some of the members of the present Board of Selectmen had a long arduous task today. W. W. Robertson was busy all morning signing his name 650 times to the town bonds being issued on the water company purchase. Aaron Cook completed his task this morning, but he did it with a smile because he was high voted getter among the contestants yesterday.

Members of the Democratic party are getting some joshing today because five of their Selectmen candidates received less votes in their own party than did three Republicans endorsed by the Democratic town committee leaders.

Selectman Cook was 162 votes better than the next contestant, a Republican, when it is considered there were 12 candidates.

RECEIVER IS NAMED FOR CLOSED BANK

The bank, heartily joined in supporting the application for the appointment of Mr. Mellitz. It was also seconded by Attorney Howard Owens. William F. Kirk, largest stockholder in the West Side Bank, made a special plea for the appointment of Mr. Mellitz.

Assistant Attorney General Johnson said he concurred in all that had been said about Mr. Mellitz, but in general the bank commissioner and the Attorney General do not favor the appointment of a person who has been connected with the closed bank.

Judge Jennings said it was unusual for a judge not to rely on the recommendation of the bank commissioner and to make the appointment of a man connected with a closed bank as its receiver. He was satisfied, however, that he was faced with an exceptional situation and that Mr. Mellitz, he said, enjoys the confidence of his fellow citizens and all classes of persons interested in the bank.

Hold Conferences

Hearings by Judge Jennings on the petitions of Bank Commissioner Walter Perry for appointment of receivers for three Bridgeport banks, were preceded by a number of conferences in different parts of the county house. Attorney Benedict M. Holden of Hartford came into the case today as attorney for Albert W. Tremain, president of both the American Bank and Trust Company and the Commercial Bank and Trust Company.

Opinion of many of the lawyers present today was that it had become imperative that receivers be appointed for the American and the Commercial and also the West Side Bank in Bridgeport which has hopes of reorganization, when a hearing was held by Judge Jennings a week ago.

Directors of the American Bank, early this week, favored asking Judge Jennings for further continuance of two weeks to work out reorganization plans.

The Brockton controversy involves contracts between manufacturers and the Boot and Shoe Workers Union, and an A. F. of L. affiliate, which are under attack by the Brotherhood of Shoe and Allied Craftsmen, a rival labor organization.

John J. Mara, president of the Boot and Shoe Workers Union, with George W. Lawsons and C. J. McMorone, officers of the organization, presented their case to the Executive Council and were instructed to report back following today's hearing before the Labor Board.

The council expressed doubt that the union's contracts would be broken, but decided that it would take up the issue should such action result.

SELECTMEN BUSY SIGNING UP BONDS

Must Affix Names to 650 Bonds for Water Company Purchase—Quite a Task.

The bonds in the amount of $650,000, voted for the purchase of the water and sewer companies have been received by the Board of Selectmen and the Board met this morning to sign the large issue. According to the provisions of the issue, a majority of the Board members will be required to sign the certificates. This will mean that each of the Selectmen will today sign their names a total of 650 times, which is itself quite a day's work.

HILLIARD DYER FALLS, BACK BADLY HURT

William Kinne of Adams Street Victim of Odd Accident This Morning.

William Kinne, of 221 Adams street, received serious injury to his back this morning when he was thrown backwards onto the floor by the breaking of a mixing pole in the dyehouse of the E. Hilliard Company plant in Hilliardville.

Kinne was mixing a batch of wool in the dye vat and while bearing down heavily on the mixing pole, it broke, tossing him backward on the concrete floor. He was taken to the Manchester Memorial Hospital where X-ray pictures were taken to determine the extent of the injuries.

KING'S DAUGHTERS HOLD AN OUTING

Ever Ready Circle Goes to Cottage of Mrs. C. B. Loomis at Bolton Lake.

Ever Ready Circle of King's Daughters combined their first business meeting with an outing yesterday at the cottage of Mrs. C. B. Loomis at Bolton Lake. A basket lunch was enjoyed at noon, a pleasant feature was a surprise birthday cake for Mrs. E. E. Segar, the president, which she cut and distributed to the members.

Much enthusiasm was shown in the prospects for fall and winter work. The committee on constitution and by-laws made a report and several other matters of business occupied the afternoon.

AGED CONVICT REJECTS TWO FULL PARDONS

A. J. Tabor, 90 Year Old Prisoner Oppines He'll Stay Where He Is—In Prison.

Parchman, Miss.—A. J. Tabor, 90, always wanted to be able to relax and take things easy when he grew old.

His life's wish is being fulfilled—although he is a convict serving a life term for murder in the state penitentiary here.

Tabor likes it, and wouldn't leave. He has, in fact, declined two full pardons from two governors since his conviction for first degree murder 18 years ago.

"Pap", as he is known, celebrated his birthday recently, and there was a real party. Fellow convicts, and relatives and their wives, attended a banquet at which the old man was the honored guest.

Almos' any day "Pap" can be found at one of the nearby hayruts or lakes fishing. Ed, a negro prison trusty, always goes with him, and bats his book.

Ed is Tabor's "valet." He looks after Tabor's well-furnished room in the prison hospital and waits on him.

"Pap" is sorry he had to come to prison, but says he is happy because he's made the best of it.

"Why, I have more comfort than any of those rich people down around Biloxi and Jackson," said "Pap." "They're worried about the stock market, but I'm not."

BROCKTON CONTROVERSY BEFORE FEDERAL BOARD

Washington, Sept. 13.—(AP)—The Executive Council of the American Federation of Labor decided today that a National issue was involved in the Brockton, Mass., shoe controversy which will be heard this afternoon before that National Labor Board.

The Brockton controversy involves contracts between manufacturers and the Boot and Shoe Workers Union, and an A. F. of L. affiliate, which are under attack by the Brotherhood of Shoe and Allied Craftsmen, a rival labor organization.

John J. Mara, president of the Boot and Shoe Workers Union, with George W. Lawsons and C. J. McMorone, officers of the organization, presented their case to the Executive Council and were instructed to report back following today's hearing before the Labor Board.

The council expressed doubt that the union's contracts would be broken, but decided that it would take up the issue should such action result.

NEW CODE FOR COAL NOW BEING WRITTEN

Washington, Sept. 13.—(AP)—A new recovery code for the bituminous coal industry was being written today at NRA headquarters.

Authors summoned to the conference tables included administration experts, representatives of operators from all major producing fields and leaders of the United Mine Workers of America, Hugh S. Johnson himself was to take a hand as the code was written.

Springing all groups toward the goal of completing the final code this week, were reports of growing labor disturbances in western Pennsylvania coal fields. But Deputy Administrator Kenneth W. Simpson declined to forecast a definite time for taking the charter to the White House.

Johnson's code, handed operators last week was the basis for the new draft. Clause by clause, NRA officials attempted to harmonize the code with objections submitted by operators and miners.

DANES AT BALANCE OF POPULATION AS BIRTH EQUALS DEATH

Copenhagen.—(AP)—Race theorists are painting a gloomy picture here because the Danish population has struck a balance with the number of births identical with the number of deaths.

The birth rate has been declining year by year, as has the death rate owing to steadily improved sanitary conditions in the larger cities.

Race theorists envision shortly a decline in the population and a future Denmark peopled with many old persons and few youngsters.

Economists, however, take a more optimistic view, claiming that when prosperity returns there will be larger families.

Few Danish families now have more than one or two children. Fifty years ago, 254 out of each 1,000 wives had children while today the ratio is only 87 for each 1,000.

In some sections, schools of the first form have been closed because of the scarcity of primary pupils.

NEED FEDERAL AID

Hartford, Sept. 13.—(AP)—Secretary Clarence A. Munson of the Connecticut Road Builders' Association, has urged members of the association to exert pressure on selectors of towns to the end that Federal aid may immediately be obtained for the construction of roads in this state.

A communication was forwarded yesterday to the road builders.

CHARGE DAIRYMAN SOLD TOO CHEAP

Newington Milk Man, Before State Board, Denies Under-selling.

Hartford, Sept. 13.—(AP)—Kent Stoddard, proprietor of the Spring Brook Dairy in Newington, appeared before the State Milk Control Board at a hearing today, to answer to charges of selling milk below the legal price.

Two former drivers, Carl Herma, of Old Lyme, and Samuel Mandell, of this city, testified that they sold milk at prices below the 14-cent minimum established by the board, but Mr. Stoddard denied there was any underselling of his product with his knowledge.

Henry Lauretzen, of 102 Abbottsford, Elmwood, employed by Mr. Stoddard as an agent since he sold out his own milk route to the Spring Brook on April 4, came to his employer's defense. He said that a few days after the 14-cent minimum was imposed by the state, on August 10, Mr. Stoddard called a meeting of all his drivers and warned them that if any one was caught underselling, he would discharge him.

Customers Called

The milk board called in the drivers, customers and others in an inquiry upon the result of which depends Mr. Stoddard's retention of his license.

Two former customers, rounded up by state police, testified as to the prices they paid. One said the low rate was given to her because she combined with two other women, the three taking enough milk daily to place her in the wholesale class.

Assistant Attorney General William Nelson and H. Roger Jones joined in the questioning of the witnesses. Mr. Stoddard was represented by Judge Henry H. Hunt and John A. Markham.

ON TRAINING FLIGHT

Lakehurst, N. J., Sept. 13.—(AP)—The White Goods Workers Union today announced that the general strike of underwear workers, called yesterday, spread today to New Jersey and other outlying sections.

Pateroso, Passaic, Bayonne and cities in Pennsylvania and Connecticut were active today by the walkout, the union's announcement said.

The union has demanded a 35-hour week, abolition of home work and sweatshops, and a minimum weekly wage of $26 for operators, $23 for pressers and $20 for examiners.

BANNER ON POLE WORRIES THE COPS

Policeman Mistakes "Cuba" for "Nira" and the Trouble Begins.

New York, Sept. 13 — (AP) — Some republicans ran a banner up the Liberty flagpole near the City Hall during the night, creating a two-hour controversy and causing Patrolman William Engelhardt to skin his shins.

The banner was salmon colored and carried an inscription which persons below could not see distinctly.

"It says 'Nira,'" declared policemen who came to the spot—which a window of Mayor O'Brien's office overlooks. "It has to do with today's celebration."

"With all due respect, and that sort of thing, Officer," said a civilian flag-gazer, "you are cock-eyed. The word you think is 'Nira' is 'Cuba'."

The wind wrapped the banner around the pole tantalizingly. The ropes had been tangled so that the emblem could not be run down.

"You'd better do something about it," suggested a taxpayer to a policeman.

"I am in a pickle," complained the officer. "If that flag says 'Nira,' and I haul it down, I'm sure it will be violating some code, and anyway it wouldn't be patriotic."

The Other Angle

"And if it says 'Cuba' you'll have your troubles, too," persisted the citizen. "What would Mayor O'Brien think if he found a foreign pennant flapping before his eyes on NRA day?"

The police went into a conference from which emerged Officer Engelhardt. He climbed to the top of the pole—80 feet, and none too substantial, either—and came down with the banner, and some skin off his shins.

In neatly painted letters the banner (which apparently had been hoisted by some person with a penchant for telling other people what to do), carried this sentence: "Hands Off Cuba."

A policeman scratched his head.

"Anyway," he said "Cuba" looks a lot like "Nira."

"Oh, sure," said the citizen. "And 'Hands off' is almost an alphabetical deadweight, leaving a good time, wish you were here."

At any rate, by the dawn's early light, the flag was not there.

assistant to First Assistant Attorney General William Stanley, he announced here today on a flying visit to attend a meeting of the Board of Education. The appointment was made by Attorney General Homer S. Cummings and the post pays $5,200 a year.

Mr. Lawrence was a Stamford Representative in the 1831 General Assembly, and in the spring of 1832 conducted a poll among Democrats who sat with him in the legislature. He announced the poll showed an overwhelming sentiment for Roosevelt. The announcement of the result of the poll brought a challenge from Thomas J. Spellacy that it was inaccurate and participated the Smith-Roosevelt fight in Connecticut.

In Moscow, if a person drops a piece of paper as small as a train ticket on the street, a policeman has the power to fine him on the spot.

Fights Duel Over Girl Who Does Not Know Him

Asheville, N. C., Sept. 13.—(AP)—A gallant pistol duel over a girl who doesn't even know him intrigued police here today.

They had the story of Jack Moody, a 26-year-old filling station attendant who said he incurred an abdominal wound in the romantic encounter, but they were anxious to learn the other side.

Moody was under $500 bond charged with dueling—a charge that has not graced North Carolina court records in recent years. They wanted to place a similar charge against Moody's assailant, but—

The twentieth century cavalier, with the modesty that is supposed to go with chivalry, has thus far succeeded in keeping his identity a guarded secret.

Here is Moody's story:

A few days ago the young Sir Galahad took him to task for his attentions to a girl whose name the police, who are a little gallant themselves, decline to divulge.

The fought—with fists.

Then they met in the business district and clashed again. Moody drew a gun.

So it was agreed that they go back to the exclusive Beaver Lake residential section to settle their differences.

They went in the stranger's car. Moody found he had but two cartridges in his pistol. The cavalier offered to give him some, but they wouldn't fit. So he thereupon disposed of all but two of his own cartridges.

Standing back to back in the moonlight, the two youths paced twenty steps whirled and fired.

The stranger missed his first shot, but the second hit its mark. When Moody regained consciousness, the stranger and the car were gone.

WAPPING

Arthur Hayes who lives with his son, Earl Hayes at Pleasant Valley, suffered a severe shock at his home, last Sunday morning. He was found unconscious by his son Earl and is in a serious condition.

Wapping Federated Church reopened Sunday after being closed several weeks, during which the auditorium was completely renovated. A new ceiling has been placed and new electric light fixtures installed, a gift of Ralph E. Collins.

The building was rededicated by Rev. David Carter, at the morning service preceding the sermon. The sacrament of the Lord's supper was observed.

The Little German Band Tangles With The Irish

By DALE HARRISON

New York, Sept. 13.—(AP)—In a neighborhood of O'Learys, McGraws, Flahertys, and Harrigans there wandered late yesterday a little German band. Some grand free-for-alls have started from less cause.

The leader of the band—a man short but wide—did not know that on one corner of this intersection—Ninth avenue and 47th street—the beer garden was operated by a Mr. C'Hara; that on another corner Mr. Kiernan was the boss, and that on a third corner Mr. Sheehan presided.

"Ein—zwei—drei—spiel!" said the leader, and the five musicians burst forth with "Ach, Du Lieber Augustine."

The heads of the Messrs. O'Hara, Kiernan and Sheehan popped forth from the doors of their establishment, followed by the rest of them. A large number of other persons—O'Grads, McCarthys, Riordans and Flanagan—joined them as they marched determinedly to the fourth corner of the intersection where the German band spilled out.

"What is that, now, you're a playin'?" inquired one, suspiciously.

The leader bowed as much as his girth would permit.

"Ach, Du Lieber Augustine," he said.

"That sounds like one of them foreign toones," said the Irishman. "Do you, by any chance, know 'The Irish Washerwoman'?"

"He knew Her Not

"I'm a stranger in th' neighborhood," replied the maestro.

"Such impudence," said someone, "you are all under arrest."

The little German band was marched to a police station.

"These musicians were doing no harm," said the police lieutenant. "Music, you know, hath power to—"

"But," persisted the Irishman, "they played 'Ach Du Lieber Augustine,' and didn't know the Irish Washerwoman?"

"Didn't know the Irish Washerwoman?" repeated the lieutenant. "Well, now, this looks real serious."

"Besides," the neighborhood spokesman went on, "they were breaking the law."

Were Breaking Law

"What law?" inquired the lieutenant.

"A very good law," the spokesman said. "A city ordinance; the one that says you can't play on the streets after sundown."

"My, my," said the lieutenant, scratching his chin. "And how do you know the sun had gone down?"

"Look in the paper, see? It says the sun sets at 7:13 p. m."

"I wonder if that is daylight savings or eastern standard?" ruminated the officer.

"Don't be so technical," the spokesman said. "If this goes to the Supreme Court it will be time enough to study details."

The leader of the German band rolled his eyes.

"I object," he said. "The sun had not gone down."

"But it was after 7:13 p. m.," insisted the police officer.

"Yah," replied the bandsman, "but the sun stayed up overtime tonight."

The policeman said finally: "Music is a great thing. On the other hand, when the sun goes down, the sun goes up; and the ordinance is very plain. German band music is delightful, and Irish beer gardens are delightful; but never the twain should meet. Beat it, youse guys—all of you."

The Irish and the Germans smiled. This was their language—the language of New York—of Ninth and 47th, of 8th and Lexington. They shook hands.

The Irish went back to their beer gardens.

The Germans went elsewhere.

The sun went definitely down.

STRIKES NOW ON IN THREE STATES

Pennsylvania, New York and New Jersey Scenes of Labor Troubles.

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Industrial strife tore several industries in Pennsylvania, New York and New Jersey today.

Pennsylvania authorities viewed with apprehension preparations for a general bituminous mine "holiday." Ten thousand soft coal miners in five counties of southwest Pennsylvania already have quit their jobs in protest against delay in signing an NRA code for coal.

The National Labor Board was expected to make immediate efforts to settle strikes involving between 50,000 and 60,000 workers in the Pennsylvania silk industry. Public hearings on a code have been in progress. Meanwhile four Allentown rayon mills announced they would reopen immediately at the request of striking employees.

A walkout struck a gastronomical blow at Philadelphia and Camden, N. J., when employees of Linton's restaurants were summoned to strike today. Union officials said 1,000 workers were affected. The demands include higher wages and shorter hours.

Twenty thousand silk dyers still are out in north New Jersey in a drive for a 30-hour week and a minimum wage of 60 to 65 cents an hour.

Strikes in New York spread yesterday to 75,000 underwear workers in 500 shops, and 3,000 cleaners and dyers, union officials announced.

DEATH LIST NOW AT 29 FROM TROPICAL STORMS

Brownsville, Tex., Sept. 13.—(AP)—The discovery of five more bodies had increased to 29 today the number of fatalities caused by a tropical hurricane which swept the lower Rio Grande valley and adjacent Gulf coast last week.

Four unidentified Mexicans were found crushed to death in the ruins of a shack. The body of "Uncle Jim" Summers, veteran fisherman drowned in the storm, drifted ashore at Red Fish bay.

Flood waters which coursed down the Rio Grande after the violent wind and rain storm still menaced the valley, but except for a break in the Willicy county floodway levee near Raymondville, the flood control works were withstanding the battering of the swollen border stream.

Two hundred men struggled to bolster the ruptured levee with sand bags and prevent inundation of several hundred acres of farm land in Willicy county.

The crest of the flood had passed mission and upriver the river was falling steadily.

WOODIN BACK ON JOB

Washington, Sept. 13.—(AP)—The Treasury announced today that Secretary Woodin would return to his desk late this week.

He has been ill with a throat infection at his home in New York for the last two months.

Recurring rumors that his resignation was to be expected have been denied as frequently as they have bobbed up.

During Woodin's absence the affairs of the Treasury have been under the supervision of Undersecretary Dean Acheson.

SON OF EVANGELIST DIES FROM A FALL

George M. Sunday Passes Away While Doctors Were Trying to Reset Fractured Skull.

San Francisco, Sept. 13.—(AP)—An inquest into the death of George M. Sunday, 40, son of Billy Sunday, the evangelist, injured in a fall from a window of his apartment, is to be held here today.

Sunday died unexpectedly last night as four doctors were attempting to reset a fractured jaw, one of several injuries received in the four-story fall Thursday night.

Dr. Edgar H. Howell, one of the physicians, said Sunday was under an anaesthetic but attributed his death to shock caused by the injuries.

His mother, Mrs. Hallie Sunday said a premonition of death had been with her all day yesterday. Sunday's father also was here.

Sunday told police his fall was accidental, his wife reported he had broken her finger in a nervous outbreak a short time before.

Queer Twists In Day's News

Detroit—Friends rallied to Abdul Aziz's aid when he was fined for a traffic violation. They paid the fine, but Abdul insisted on staying in jail.

As policemen picked him up bodily and carried him out to the street yesterday, he struggled and cried: "I cannot repay my friends. And if I do not repay a debt I shall never reach my heaven. It is so written."

Minneapolis, N. Y.—An Ashcan Derby will open the Nassau county fair, a blue ribbon event, next Tuesday. The derby is a race for automobiles ten or more years old. One rule is that all entrants must be willing to sell their cars for $50 after the race.

Towanda, Pa.—Mike Kuznick's hunger strike may make a job for a telephone operator at the county jail.

The sheriff says unless Mike, a vagrant, who has refused food for eight days, partakes of nourishment soon, an extra operator may have to be engaged to handle the telephone calls Mike's strike has occasioned.

Marshfield, Ore.—How many eggs make an omelette—one, if it's big enough, W. W. Miller believes. His four months' old white rock hen laid an egg with three yolks.

Chicago—Anton Lucas is five feet tall. His wife, Jessie is 5 feet 5 inches. All of which became important when Lucas testified his wife struck him and broke their furniture. Said the judge: "I'll give you a divorce if you promise to marry a woman your own size."

"I don't think I'll get married again," Lucas replied.

Dallas, Texas—Death has claimed Dallas' heaviest citizen.

A victim of apoplexy, Roy Huff, 762 pound negro, died at the age of 41.

AUTO MAGNATE DIES

Indianapolis, Sept. 13.—(AP)—Arthur C. Newby, 68, pioneer automobile manufacturer and philanthropist, died at his home here last night following a long illness from heart disease.

Mr. Newby helped found the National Motor Vehicle Company, makers of the old National automobile, and founded the Empire Automobile Company. He was one of the incorporators of the Indianapolis motor speedway.

NOT TO DISQUALIFY MARION BERGERON

Dispute Arose Because West Haven Girl Is Said to Be Under 16.

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 13.—(AP)—Reports that Miss Marion Bergeron, West Haven, Conn., high school senior, might be disqualified for the title "Miss America" because of a dispute over her age were denied today by Noel Sherman, producer and one of the pageant directors.

Miss Bergeron was chosen "Miss America" last Saturday. At the time her age was given as 16 years, but later, it was said she was only 15 years old, and therefore ineligible to compete for the title.

Sherman said today: "There is nothing the pageant committee could do about it now, even if she is under age."

School authorities at West Haven said their records gave the date of Miss Miss Bergeron's birth as May 3, 1918.

LINDY TESTS PLANE

Stockholm, Swe'en, Sept. 13.—(AP)—Increased admiration for Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh was expressed by Swedish aviators today after he had tested a Swedish army plane in a variety of ways, including loops and spins.

The machine was one over which aviation circles have divergent opinions and the colonel's daring was admired all the more because of its challenged worth.

The plane in which Colonel and Mrs. Lindbergh made a route survey over the North Atlantic before coming here was refueled for a 20-hour flight, leading to the belief they may leave shortly.

COURT ADJOURNS

Torrington, Sept. 13.—(AP)—The Superior Court session at Litchfield has been adjourned until next Tuesday owing to the death of Judge Carl Foster's son. Judge Foster has been presiding at the September term of the court in this county.

BANDITS HOLD UP BANK FOR $7,000

Ten Armed Men Kidnap Employee But Later Release Him Unharmed.

Fairfax, Pa., Sept. 13.—(AP)—Ten men, armed with sawed-off shotguns and revolvers, robbed the S. J. Gully Bank of between $5,000 and $7,000 today, kidnaped Carl Wild, 21, an employe, and fled across the state line to Ohio in two cars.

At Youngstown they released Wild, unharmed.

Eight men entered the bank and cowed S. J. Gully, the proprietor, and three girl employes, with their weapons.

Two companions remained at the wheels of automobiles parked at the curb. One car bore Massachusetts license plates.

The robbers scooped up all the currency in sight on the tellers' counters, seized Wild, backed out of the bank and roared away.

Gully said the money stolen is in denominations of $100, $50, $20, $10, and $1. He said some bonds also are missing, but pending a thorough checkup, it will not be known whether they were taken. He said the men overlooked money and checks stored in boxes.

Wild was put out of one bandit car in Youngstown and he immediately called the bank. He said his captors did not harm him and asked that a machine be sent so that he can return to Fairfax.

PLANE KILLS MAN RIDING ON A BUS

Unusual Accident Involving Peru's Aviation Hero, Is Reported from Lima.

Lima, Peru, Sept. 13.—(AP)—Lieutenant Vargas, Peru's aviation hero who was wounded several times in the recent warfare with Colombia and at one time remained in the wilderness a month to avoid being captured, has become involved in the most unusual aviation accident that ever happened here.

Two times Vargas flew very low over a motor bus, full of passengers, which was proceeding along a highway near Lurin. The passengers were frightened. The third time the tip of the airman's right wing caught Julio Gil under the chin, lifted him from his seat and dropped him unconscious to the ground. Gil died early today.

Vargas landed after the incident and assisted his victim. The flier was hailed as a national hero for fighting three Colombian planes at one time. A machine gun bullet rubbed his mouth and he lost several teeth. He was also wounded in the shoulder and the leg.

LIVELIER TIMES AHEAD.

Since even in these days of Democratic party ascendancy the followers of that ancient political faith in this town are few and sorely disorganized, it is a reasonable presumption that the make-up of the next Board of Selectmen is quite definitely forecast by the result of yesterday's Republican primary. And it is to be anticipated, therefore, that the proceedings of that august body, during the succeeding year, will be marked to a greater extent by those impacts of minds which produce sparks rather than the soft swish of fitted parts running in oil.

Harmony in a governmental body is pleasant. It is possible, however, that it does not always contribute to wakefulness. And wakefulness, on the part of the official group of any community, is a desirable thing. There is much of doubt that the Manchester Board of Selectmen, as a body or in its individual composition, will slumber away the next year or any two minutes of it.

With three of the old "Conservatives" on one side, three members of the Taxpayers League on the other and the nimble, forceful and independent young Mr. Cook in the middle—possibly on top—conditions promise to be interesting. Very interesting.

Whether Manchester will get out of this meeting of somewhat divergent sets of ideas in the town's councils, any better government than it has been getting remains to be seen. It has never had had government. Whether it may receive yet better management is for future disclosure. But it is almost certain to be livelier and more interesting.

REPEAL BY CHRISTMAS.

Maryland, Colorado, Minnesota. That makes twenty-nine states which have voted to rid the country of national prohibition. In Colorado, where Dr. McBride had been desperately striving to turn back the tidal wave of repeal with the broom of dry exhortation, the wet vote was more than twice that of the dries, and this was one of the very few states in which the prohibitionists still clung to a lingering hope of stemming the sweep of repeal sentiment.

It is now no longer a question of whether the repeal amendment will be ratified by the requisite thirty-six states, but merely one of whether the ratification will be brought about before the close of the year. There is good reason to anticipate that the Eighteenth amendment will be out of the Constitution before the arrival of 1934.

Next Tuesday Idaho and New Mexico vote. On October 3 Virginia will express her will and on the tenth day of that month Florida's election will be held.

Among these the only state in which there would seem to be the slightest chance of repeal meeting a rebuff is Idaho. It is a very small state, so far as population goes, and its domination by Senator Borah is proverbial. It is doubtful if any American statesman exercises a more powerful influence over the minds of his constituents than Borah does over those of the Idahoans. He has been a consistent and persistent dry and though he has said little on that subject of late it is possible that Idaho may cling to his old precepts so completely as to become the first and perhaps the only state to vote against repeal.

Allowing for a possible break in the line by Idaho, October 11 may be depended on to see 32 states arrayed on the repeal side. Then on November 7 comes a whole flock of repeal elections—in Kentucky, North Carolina, Ohio, Pennsylvania, South Carolina and Utah.

Kentucky, Ohio, Pennsylvania and South Carolina are practically certain to favor repeal, the least certain of them as good prospects as Colorado was two days ago. And these four would complete the necessary three-fourths of the states, even if North Carolina and Utah should both register for the continuation of the Eighteenth amendment.

It will take another month, even with such an outcome, before the elimination of the prohibitory amendment can be brought about, however, since the conventions must all first be held and their proceedings certified to the federal government. The last of these is to be held December 6.

There are still eight states which will not hold repeal elections until later if at all. Should repeal meet with some utterly unforeseen reverse this fall there is not the slightest doubt about its picking up, from among these eight, the one or two states that would still be needed. But that is a contingency so remote as to be negligible.

It looks like repeal as a gift to the nation from the gods for Christmas.

THE COAL SITUATION.

There is very real fear that a general coal strike may come within a few days. Both the anarchistic non-union operations of the Appalachian group and the communistic miners unions of the Southwest seem determined, if possible, to destroy the whole program of rehabilitation under the National Recovery Act, while the less radical unions of the nearer fields are contributing to the impossibility of the situation by incessant pressure for more and more advantage, not in a spirit of sabotage but from too much narrowness and self seeking in their point of view. The Appalachian group of operators, for their part, are merely keeping true to the policy of obstruction and law defiance which they have assumed from the beginning. They are a set of men apart.

Now it is not to be permitted that this immense structure of co-operation which has been worked out by the industries and businesses of the country in conjunction with the federal government shall be brought down in wreckage through the failure of the nation's fuel supply. There are some hundreds of thousands of persons dependent on the coal mines for their living. There are many millions whose living depends on the product of those mines. There can be no possible question as to which interest shall be paramount. The mines must be operated.

It is not for a moment to be believed that the administration will submit to the defeat of its objectives by a general coal strike. At a far less critical period than this another Roosevelt prepared to seize the mines in the name of the American people. It is not to be deemed possible that the present Roosevelt would hesitate to declare the mines a national utility to be administered by the nation's government in any emergency demanding such a step—or to use the army if necessary in order to take them over.

The mines must be kept open. There need be very little fear that they will not be. The destinies of a hundred and twenty-five million people are not to be left in the hands of a few madmen.

SABOTAGE.

Heywood Brown, celebrated columnist, a couple of week ago transgressed the customary etiquette of the profession to the extent of publicly deriding another well known publicist, Mark Sullivan. He described that commentator on national affairs as suffering from such a severe case of shell shock as a result of the change in administration that he was still in a daze and going about in Washington feebly asking what had happened.

Our own view of Mr. Sullivan is a little different from Mr. Brown's. As we see him he is less incapable of realizing what has happened than would be pretty sure to happen—if the efforts of the federal government to get this country out of the mire should fail.

Mr. Sullivan was never a very profound thinker. He gained considerable reputation as a writer on political questions because he has an amiable personality and a trick of saying commonplace and even banal things in a way that makes them sound erudite and wise. For years he has made a point of ingratiating himself with important people and capitalizing his acquaintance without giving offense. He never had an independent thought of his own or a real enthusiasm in his life.

Now Mr. Sullivan has very obviously figured it out that a good thing for him to do is to make himself solid with the reactionary forces which, more than anything else in the world, would love to see the national recovery movement fall so that, along with it, American liberalism would be put out of the way forever—or at least for so long that neither Mr. Sullivan nor those whose games he is playing would have any further personal interest in the country's fate.

To that end Mr. Sullivan, behind an utterly transparent veil of pretended hope that the NRA movement will succeed, is engaged in the daily practice of smearing it. He does not display much courage but does show a great deal of industry. He regards a day as lost if he cannot introduce into his Washington letter some innuendo pointing to failure or incapacity or bewilderment, among those who are so desperately trying to make the machine run; some hint of weakness or vacillation; and every sly trick of the political writer who never by any possibility, no matter what the emergency or what the need of single minded patriotism, must still remain the same old political hack serving special interests in the midst of a tornado with the same old servile habits of mind as if nothing untoward had happened.

Thousands of better newspapermen than Mark Sullivan have cast aside all their political and economic prejudices in an earnest effort to aid in the restoration of the nation's well being; because they knew that if they didn't there was an extremely good chance that it would not be long before there would be no newspapers—for a free press cannot exist in a state of anarchy.

But Mr. Sullivan, as the most conspicuous example among a tiny group of smearers, keeps right on with his daily efforts at sabotage—vainly believing that he is making effective the guise of a helpful critic.

IN NEW YORK

By PAUL HARRISON

New York, Sept. 18—This Jose Iturbi, Spanish pianist-conductor who has taken Mexico and New York by the ears, looks and acts so little like a musician that he sometimes has trouble getting past the doorman at his own concert. He is 38 now and calms down a little, but he still likes to box and drive the fastest cars and go out on late parties.

All his managers have had a chronic case of jitters because of what boxing is likely to do to his hands. Iturbi just laughs and says that he always wanted to be a conductor anyway, and that a broken fist wouldn't keep him from holding a baton.

He had a rather unorthodox beginning for a great artist—spent most of his youth playing in movie houses and cafes in Switzerland. At 20 he got a job playing in a hotel in Zurich, where he attracted so much attention that the Conservatory of Geneva offered him a job on its piano faculty. Iturbi had had little formal instruction, so he didn't know much about teaching at first, but he stayed six years.

Iturbi is breathlessly enthusiastic about things American, likes jazz music and spends occasional evenings in Harlem when he is in town. A French concern makes a special perfume for his use, and anybody who sneers about it is likely to get a poke in the eye.

A Real "Play" Boy

When Iturbi was here first in 1929 he was taken up by the Kahns, the Adolfs, Lewishons and others of the high-hat musical crowd. But he didn't enjoy them much because when he isn't playing he doesn't like to talk about music, just wants to be gay.

He's on his way back to Europe now, having promised to return this fall for a long American tour.

Sandwich Women

There is a high premium on originality, even in the sign-carrying business. Ordinarily sandwichmen, those pathetically hopeless looking down-and-almost-enters who trudge the sidewalks encased in a couple of miniature billboards, are paid at most a dollar a day and some of them 75 and even 50 cents. The Blue Eagle hasn't heard about them yet.

A woman, though, can make a very fair living at the dreary work, especially if she's pretty. The shyer novelty of a sandwich girl (there are only three or four of them about town) always attracts plenty of stares and comment.

The only one of them who has really gotten up in the world is Miss Belle Kalister. She goes about on stilts. Miss Kalister is 18 and came from Johnstown, Pa., last winter to work as a stenographer. Jobs were so scarce, though, that she was about to spend her last few dollars for a ticket home, when she met a young man who has been still-walking for years, and doing very well at it. She learned how to walk too and they went into partnership and have been much in demand ever since. It's strenuous work, and they can keep at it only four hours a day. But the pay is $12 a day each, which is better than the Blue Eagle has done on stenographers.

Gaius Gracchus, the Roman tribune who lived in 146 B. C., was the first to practice farm relief by distributing grain to the poor. He supplied, at the expense of the Roman government, a bushel and a

THE CASE OF THE RETAILER
(The Hartford Courant)

Mr. Samuel L. Antonov, president of the American Druggists Syndicate, in the house organ of that association of independent retail druggists, asserts that the really forgotten man in the Administration's recovery program is the retailer, of whom there are some 1,700,000 who give employment to at least 8,000,000 persons. A good many these days are laying claim to being among the forgotten but there is not a little reason to believe that the retailer, the small retailer particularly, is entitled to more notice than he has been receiving.

He occupies an exceedingly important place in the scheme of national distribution. Upon him the manufacturer of almost every line of merchandise depends to keep the wheels of industry turning. He must know when to buy and how to sell. He must meet the competition of his competitors if he expects to move his stocks, and he must somehow contrive to do this without incurring losses. He has had throughout the depression an especially hard time trying to make both ends meet. In instances far greater than the public realizes he has seen black figures turned into red.

And now comes the N. R. A. to increase his troubles and perplexities. He is asked to increase his operating expenses when that too often means increasing the size of his indebtedness. If he puts up the Blue Eagle and is entirely conscientious about it he sees insolvency facing him. If he doesn't put it up he has to reckon with the possibility of being the victim of wicked boycott. By no means is this true of the little fellow only; it applies to not a few rather pretentious establishments.

Of course the hope in Washington is that the retailer will be rescued from this position by arousing the latent buying powers of the public. It is the expectation that he will be able to do enough more business to get him out of his present difficulties, and it is devoutly to be hoped that this will prove to be the case. Nobody knows how it will all turn out, but the retailer, along with the consuming public, is being depended on to turn the dark clouds inside out. To what extent the N. R. A. will be able to protect him from unfair, cut-rate, ruinous competition remains to be seen, but an obligation rests upon the recovery administration to do all it can for him in this regard.

Big, highly organized businesses may be able to take care of themselves fairly well in this emergency, but the small business man, who has felt the crushing effect not merely of the depression but of powerful producers and distributors, is deserving of a greater consideration than has yet been accorded him.

Those "Elections" Under National Labor Board Bring Grief . . .

You May Expect a Move to Fardon Editor Dale . . . Johnson's Wife Has to Wire the General.

By RODNEY DUTCHER

Washington, Sept. 11—Labor Day found industrialists attached to NRA rather sour over the way the federal strike mediation system is working out.

Labor seems to be able to play both ends of it against the middle. When Labor's representatives here agreed to join in a "no strike" appeal, industry conceded support to creation of the National Labor Board with its plan for fair, secret elections to determine whom workers wanted to represent them in collective bargaining under the recovery act.

But as soon as one strike is settled a dozen more break out. There is no authority here to stop strikes, and after the strikers are able to say that they are only upholding the law in its provisions for recognition of representatives of their own choosing, elections, held under N. L. B. auspices, are fine for the unions. The Reading, Pa., textile workers voted 75 per cent for union representatives, placing 95

Roosevelt will soon be asked to pardon George Dale, militant editor of Muncie, Ind., who won national fame a few years ago in his fight against the Ku Klux Klan.

After years of fighting graft and hard-boiled officials, Dale defeated his political enemies and was elected mayor of Muncie. But last year he was arrested with other members of his administration and sentenced in federal court to 18 months in prison on a liquor law violation indictment. He is on bond pending appeal.

Dale and his friends charge a frame-up by bootleggers, gamblers and crooks whom the mayor had put out of business.

Foreign Trade Waits

Trade negotiations with Latin-American countries will continue in a tentative stage until our industrial and agricultural programs work themselves out. Trade treaties and economic agreements must be held up until we have some idea what price and currency levels are going to be like.

Thus, current conversations with Colombia, Brazil and other countries are merely exploratory. The idea now is to learn whether it will be possible or advisable to enter into trade treaty negotiations later on.

29 STATES NOW WET AS THREE COUNT RESULTS

neers, the home of Andrew Volstead, "father" of the prohibition enforcement law. Into the list of states that have repudiated the 18th Amendment.

The current of repeal sentiment in yesterday's election reached its greatest crest in the urban centers, where large anti-prohibition majorities enabled repeals to attain a two to one margin over defenders of the dry law on the basis of incomplete but scattered and representative returns.

"I'd say there was no question the state had gone wet," observed W. C. Calderwood, publicity chairman for the consolidated dryers in concerning the statewide referendum, the first since 1918, when prohibition, as a state issue, was defeated because an insufficient number of electors voted on the proposal.

Returns from 1,672 precincts of 3,693 in the state today gave: For repeal 267,037; against 125,904.

In only four of the state's 87 counties were the drys assured of virtually safe majorities.

MARYLAND 5 TO 1

Baltimore, Sept. 13.—(AP)—Maryland, the sixth state to ratify the 18th Amendment, today added its name to the list of 26 states in which the electorate previously had expressed the desire to strike out the prohibition statute.

By a margin of nearly five to one in a comparatively light vote, the free state yesterday elected 24 delegates to the state convention to be held at Annapolis October 13, to vote solidly for the proposed 21st amendment.

With 68 scattered precincts in the counties still missing, the anti-prohibitionists of the state rolled up a plurality of 152,678 votes over the drys and those who were to have gone to the convention without being pledged.

The vote from 1303 of the state's 1,371 precincts stood 197,595 in favor of repeal; 41,309 against repeal and 3,505 uncommitted.

Baltimore revealed the heavy wet vote, returning majorities from all its 72 precincts of more than ten to one. The vote in the city was 119,091 for repeal, 11,295 against repeal, and 2,085 uncommitted.

Claiming the vote as "a great victory for Maryland," Governor Albert C. Ritchie, an ardent foe of prohibition, asserted "that is the thing they (the people) have long looked forward to and for which they have fought hard."

Denver, Colo., Sept. 13.—(AP)—Colorado voters expressed their approval of the proposal to ratify repeal of the 18th Amendment by piling up a two to one majority favoring repeal in a special election yesterday.

Returns from 1,196 of the state's 1,547 precincts tabulated by the Associated Press gave the following vote:

For repeal . . . . . 122,766
Against repeal . . . . . 55,605
Complete unofficial returns from Denver indicated an emphatic disapproval of the 18th Amendment in the capital. The vote was better than four to one, with 53,363 votes for repeal and 12,839 against.

Complete returns from 15 of the state's 63 counties disclosed only two counties which returned a dry majority.

Fifteen delegates were elected to a state constitutional convention to be held Sept. 26, at which results of the election will be officially recorded.

Inclement weather and floods in many sections reduced the total vote.

F. Scott McBride, National head of the Anti-Saloon League left Denver last night for Omaha, after issuing a statement the 18th Amendment can still withstand attacks of repeals. "If the Drys will go to the polls," he said, the Colorado vote does not change the National situation inasmuch as Colorado voted wet last fall.

The organization of the local branch has been under the personal supervision of F. H. Mueller, vice president and general manager of the company. He reports that by Saturday of this week the local branch will complete the enrollment of students in this district and will have furnished 300 students with instruments.

OWNERS OF HOMES APPEAL FOR TIME

bond plans and a thorough understanding of them in order that the purpose of the act and the general NRA program of President Roosevelt will be worked out.

Kennedy said the corporation is making every effort to speed up the steps necessary to the completion of loans, and expressed the opinion that until home owners have been given every opportunity to negotiate foreclosure actions should be delayed as long as possible.

Are Given Time
In line with the corporation's policy, Judge Newell Jennings in Superior Court at Hartford yesterday continued redemption dates in three cases, so that the defendants might arrange for Federal loans. A continuance was granted in a fourth case in City Court.

Joseph H. Lawler of Hartford and Joseph P. O'Connell of Bristol appeared in Superior Court in behalf of the corporation.

Another feature of the evening was the gift of the J. B. Williams Company, of Glastonbury, who furnished tubes of "Gilders Brushless Shaving Cream."

The state branch, he said, has already made about a dozen loans throughout the state representing approximately $50,000. Details are virtually completed for consummation within the very near future. 98 loans representing about $500,000.

OFFICERS INSTALLED

Atlantic City, Sept. 13.—(AP)—The Supreme Court, Foresters of America, today installed officers of the order.

Marcus E. Donnelly of Jersey City, who is 33 years of age, was installed as supreme chief ranger at the close of the 23d biennial session here today, is the youngest man to hold that office in the 100 years the lodge has been in existence.

Other officers installed included Supreme Senior Beadle, Walter McGowan, Waterbury, Conn.; Hugh J. McGuire, Worcester, Mass., supreme trustee and supreme auditors, James J. Walsh, Meriden, Conn., and Joseph J. Harnisch, Chicago Falls, Mass.

BANDITS GET $46,000

Amery, Wis., Sept. 13.—(AP)—Four masked robbers today held up an assistant cashier of the Union State bank and fled with $46,000 in cash and negotiable securities. They were believed to be the same band who robbed a railway express station in St. Paul, Monday.

The loot included between $11,000 and $12,000 in cash and $35,000 in securities, most of them negotiable. The raiders hid in the bank last night and overpowered two employees when they reported for work this morning.

ELKS' BANQUET RECORD EVENT FOR ROCKVILLE

Exalted Ruler Lewis H. Chapman, toastmaster of the evening, was seated in the center of the speakers' table. Also were present five of the original officers out of the seven now living or members of the lodge. Among those present at the speakers' table were the following:

Dr. Thomas F. O'Loughlin, Past District Deputy Connecticut, East, and Past Exalted Ruler of the Rockville Lodge; Past Exalted Ruler Herbert O. Clough, vice-chairman of the general committee; Past Exalted Ruler Joseph Lavitt, secretary of the general committee; Raymond E. Hunt, treasurer of the general committee and treasurer of the Rockville Lodge; State Senator Edwin O. Dimock, of Merrow, a guest; and Lodge Secretary Michael J. Cosgrove.

Original Officers
Among others seated at the speakers' table were several of the original officers including J. Edmund Bradley, first Local Knight; John N. Keeney, first lodge secretary; former Mayor Frederick G. Hartenstein, first Tiler of the lodge; and Past District Deputy John B. Edgerton, of Willimantic.

Mrs. Ellen Chapdelaine and her efficient staff of waitresses lost no time in serving the banquet which opened with a blue point oyster cocktail, celery, stuffed olives, cream of tomato soup, finger rolls. A delicious serving of roast young turkey with dressing followed, with cranberry sauce and green peas as the side dish. Mashed potato followed as did an appetizing serving of mixed salad and Russian dressing.

The dessert consisted of a delicious serving of Neapolitan ice cream, furnished by the "Soda Shoppes," accompanied by assorted fancy cakes, coffee and cigars.

The "smokes" were a feature of the evening. Newstone Full Havana cigars, kindly furnished by the New-Stone Cigar Company, were first served.

Present Officers

Not to be outdone by the cigar company, the Rockville Emblem Club, closely connected with the Rockville Lodge of Elks, presented two hundred cigars, each tied with a dainty ribbon.

Another feature was the gift of the J. B. Williams Company, of Glastonbury, who furnished tubes of "Gilders Brushless Shaving Cream."

The feature souvenir of the evening was a leather bound copy of the "History of the Town of Vermont," written by C. Denison Talcott and Harry Conklin Smith at the Golden Anniversary of the town in 1908.

Another souvenir of the evening was furnished by the Newstone Cigar Company of Ellington who furnished two hundred cigars made from Ellington tobacco.

Post Prandials

Shortly before 9 o'clock, Exalted Ruler Lewis H. Chapman, toastmaster of the evening, called for the singing of the patriotic selection, "America," as the opening number of the Post Prandial program. Music was furnished by the Elks Orchestra and the members joined heartily in the singing of the National Anthem.

Chaplain Michael J. Conway, P. E. R., with all the solemnity of the office, invoked the Lord's prayer. Harry Conklin Smith, Past Exalted Ruler of the Lodge and chairman of the general committee, presented Exalted Ruler Lewis H. Chapman as the toastmaster of the evening in brief but appropriate remarks.

Assuming the responsibilities of the toastmastership in an appropriate manner, Toastmaster Chapman lost no time in getting the events under way due to the long program Roy E. Powers, Past Exalted Ruler of Hartford Lodge, No. 19, "Mother Lodge," delivered an appropriate address on the topic "The Mother Lodge" which brought forth hearty applause. The speaker complimented Rockville Lodge for its large membership of over four hundred members.

The second speaker of the evening was President John F. Pickett, Exalted Ruler of Middletown Lodge, No. 771, who spoke on the topic, "The Connecticut Elks Association."

Eloquent Speaker
"The Grand Lodge of Elksdom"

was the topic of the eloquent address of Hon. E. Mark Sullivan, Corporation Counsel of the city of Boston, and chairman of the Judiciary Committee of the Grand Lodge of Elksdom. The eloquence of the speaker attracted many favorable remarks and high compliments for being able to secure Mr. Sullivan. Mr. Sullivan is chairman of the Judiciary Committee for 1934 and is a member of Brookline, Mass. Lodge, No. 886.

It was also hoped to have Past Grand Trustee Edward Cotter of Hartford as a guest but announcement was made that Mr. Cotter was out of town and unable to appear. The Post Prandial Program was brought to a close with the singing of the "Star Spangled Banner" assisted by the Elks Orchestra and brothers. A feature of the evening was the entertainment which included Lally's Musical Revue which proved to be something new and novel and included seven headlines in the World of Music—beautiful women wearing beautiful costumes with numerous changes.

Harry Burt, a song leader with personality, plus "pep" who made everybody sing, also proved a big attraction. "An Absent Brother's Toast" at 11 o'clock in charge of Joseph Schaeffer, editor of "The Eastern Elk," changed merriment into silence while all absent brothers were remembered.

Much credit is due the various committees in charge of the evening's program, as the event proved the larger and most successful event in the history of the lodge and the most successful banquet ever held in the city of Rockville.

The General Committee consisted of the following:—Harry C. Smith, P.E.R., chairman; Herbert O. Clough, P.E.R., vice-chairman; Joseph Lavitt, P.E.R., secretary; Raymond E. Hunt, treasurer; Dr. Thomas F. O'Loughlin, P.E.D., and P.E.R. Michael J. Conway, George H. Williams, William J. Austin, Fred H. Lippman, Michael H. Roberts, P.E.R.'s; Exalted Ruler Lewis H. Chapman; Secretary Michael J. Cosgrove; Esteemed Loyal Knight George L. Betts and Past Trustee Herbert R. Coffin.

Decorations Committee: George Boldt, chairman; Robert L. Brown and Thomas J. Hassett.

Present Officers:—Exalted Ruler, Lewis H. Chapman; Esteemed Leading Knight, Clarence J. McCarthy; Esteemed Loyal Knight, George L. Betts; Esteemed Lecturing Knight, John H. Karges; Secretary, Michael J. Conway; Treasurer, Raymond E. Hunt; Tiler, John F. Colman; Past Exalted Ruler, Edward Cotter; Fred H. Lippman, P.E.R., and Frank H. Rizy; Esquire, William H. Preuss; Chaplain, Michael J. Conway, P.E.R.; Inner Guard, Bernard C. Hanley; Organist, Joseph A. Farr.

Past District Deputy James J. Hayes of Norwich Lodge, No. 410, B.F.O. Elks, was present as a guest as was John F. Malley, of Boston, Past Grand Exalted Ruler and chairman of the "Elks National Foundation." Joseph Schaeffer, editor of "The Eastern Elk" of Boston, and an author of the book "Absent Brother's Toast" was also present. Post District Deputy John B. Edgerton, of Willimantic No. 1311 was also present. The entertainment was furnished by Chaney and Green, of Hartford.

Hope for American recognition, was entertained by Martin's government after Secretary Cordell Hull's statement at any government capable of maintaining order and representative of the people's will would be recognized.

American Ambassador Sumner Welles told newspapermen he had nothing to add to Mr. Hull's statement, and denied any representative of the Grau San Martin regime had approached him on the question of recognition.

Welles left the National hotel, in which armed officers, deposed when an enlisted man's coup d'etat put a junta in power were surrounded by soldiers.

The ambassador said he moved because there was no food there and "there was a threat that water and lights might be cut off."

The officers, meanwhile, remained firm in their refusal to recognize the Grau San Martin administration on its Norfolk. He demands that they return to their posts. A number of Americans were in the hotel.

Unofficially it was said, a decree was expected, declaring the officers deserters and making them liable to expulsion and one to six years imprisonment.

Dept. of Labor Figures It at Only Three-Tenths of One Per Cent.

Washington, Sept. 13.—(AP)—The Department of Labor estimated today that retail prices of food showed an average increase of only three-tenths of one per cent for the two weeks ended August 29, as compared with the preceding month.

In 49 cities, 28 showed increases as compared with 49 out of 51 cities embraced in the month before. ### TO GIVE ASSISTANCE TO STRICKEN STATES

Sixty Millions to Be Granted by Government to Meet Emergencies.

Washington, Sept. 13.—(AP)—Federal aid totaling $60,000,000 has been ordered by President Roosevelt to meet the emergencies resulting from drought, hurricane and grasshoppers.

He today instructed the director of emergency relief, the farm credit administration and the public works board to co-operate in getting aid to the stricken areas of the Dakotas the Texas Panhandle, Florida and the Rio Grande regions.

These areas have been suffering from natural causes, and the President is willing to extend aid.

He also is depending on the people in these communities to go the limit in helping themselves.

He has asked Secretary Ickes, the public works administrator, to set aside special funds to be available for immediate road construction in the harmed regions.

Harry L. Hopkins, emergency relief director, has orders to provide the necessary amounts for food and clothing and feed for livestock.

The farm credit administration is expected to extend credit as liberally as possible.

ROOTS THROUGH STONE DISPLAYED AT STORE.

Harold S. Olds, employed in the F. T. Blah Hardware Company store is displaying a real freak.

He has a stone, about half the size of a cobbler potato through which two roots of wild cherry trees have been able to push their way and come out on the opposite side. One of the small roots or feelers, has gone through the left side of the stone and has grown to be a fair size root. Another that has gone through the center of the stone is not so large.

BEEHOVENS HOLD FIRST REHEARSAL

Rev. Elmer Thiens Addresses Club on "The Use of Leisure Time" — Group Complimented.

Sixty members attended the first fall rehearsal of the Beethoven Glee Club at the Emanuel Lutheran church Monday night. Following the rehearsal, a social hour was held at which Rev. Elmer Thiens, Y. M. C. A. secretary, spoke on "The Use of Leisure Time."

In his talk he brought out that with more time from business today we should be able to give thought to the advantages of avocations.

He complimented the club on giving young men an opportunity to further their interest in music. Other speakers were Rev. K. E. Erikson, Helge Pearson and Ernest Kjellson. The social was arranged by the social committee headed by Harry Pearson.

Frederick III, of Prussia, once killed a 66-point stag and prized the antlers highly. Later, they came into possession of Frederick William, who raded them to the king of Saxony for a regiment of six-foot grenadiers.

GOODMAN DEFEATED IN AMATEUR PLAY

Outstanding Favorite Is Eliminated in First Round

By H. C. Egan, 2 Up.

Kenwood Country Club, Cincinnati, Sept. 13.—(AP)—Johnny Goodman of Omaha, the National open titleholder and outstanding favorite, was eliminated today by H. C. Egan of Del Monte, Calif., amateur champion nearly 30 years ago, in the first round of the United States amateur golf tournament.

Egan won by 2 up in an 18 hole match.

Egan, 49 year old and holder of the crown back in 1904 and 1905 while a student at Harvard University, blasted Goodman out of the tournament with a sensational sub-par finish. The veteran negotiated the last nine holes in 33, two under par and carded a 70, one under perfect figures for the complete round.

Goodman shot fine golf most of the way, with a 72, but cracked on the 17th and lost the 18th to Egan's birdie three as the former titleholder contributed a dazzling climax to the upset.

ROCKVILLE

JUDGE LARKIN RENDERS HIS FIRST DECISION

Finds for Defense in Suit Brought by Attorney Ackerman After Accident.

Judgment for the defendant was rendered today by Associate Judge Thomas L. Larkin of the City Court of Rockville in his first judgment to be rendered since he was appointed as assistant to Judge John E. Fisk.

The case was tried before Associate Judge Larkin on Saturday morning, and damages were sought in the amount of $300 by agreement of the attorneys.

ney Ackerman was returning from Hartford with James Ward, owner of the Ward Lunch Room, in a new automobile when he was hit by a truck owned by Lutz & Wells, and driven by Alfred O. Dryer, about 11:30 o'clock on July 1st at the so-called "Goat Farm."

The Ackerman car was pushed across the road diagonally into a fence, partly wrecking the new automobile which had been driven only 1200 miles.

The defense claimed the right of way under Section No. 1639 of the General Statutes as they were on the intersection first.

Louis J. Smith, of Talcottville, who resides directly at the point of intersecting roads, was sitting on his porch on July 1st, at 11:30 o'clock when the accident happened.

reached in the case of Harry Silverstein of Bolton against Constable Chesterfield Pirie and others in the Tolland County Superior Court yesterday.

The amount of the judgment, while withheld during the court session, was authentically reported as being $400, which was acceptable to Judge Patrick B. O'Sullivan, of Derby, who presented at the present term of the Tolland County Superior Court.

The case was of unusual interest as it established a precedent as to whether a town constable, and the bonding company which has bonded the constable for the faithful performance of his duty, is also responsible for his actions when he makes a legal misstep in the conducting of a raid.

The opening of the court session was delayed and a conference was held in chambers with Judge O'Sullivan. About an hour later it was reported that the case had been withdrawn from court and a settlement had been reached. Later it was reported that the settlement had been made for $400 by the bonding company which was acceptable by the court.

The court convened about an hour later than usual but adjourned within a few minutes until Monday, October 16. This case resulted from Constable Chesterfield Pirie of Bolton, receiving a search warrant a year or more ago to search the gasoline station of Harry Silverstein of that town, who was suspected of violating the liquor laws.

MOLLISON'S NEXT HOP Montreal, Sept. 13.—(AP)—A letter from Mrs. James A. Mollison to E. E. Brimblecombe, president of a Montreal aviation club, today said the famous Mollisons might choose Toronto and not Montreal, for the takeoff on their next distance flight attempt.

Mrs. Mollison recently inspected suitable places here for the departure but in the letter she said the projected flight might start from a beach near Toronto.

Her husband is expected to arrive at Quebec tomorrow from Great Britain, bringing with him a new Seafarer II, successor to the machine in which they recently crashed in Connecticut after crossing the Atlantic.

PRESIDENT URGES MORE BANK CREDIT

Feels That Farm Prices Are Lagging Behind the General Upturn.

Washington, Sept. 13.—(AP)—President Roosevelt was said in the highest quarter today to be putting full Federal backing behind the banks and to expect them to push out credit in the recovery drive for higher prices and wages.

After two days of intensive canvass of the domestic situation, he feels farm prices are lagging behind in the general upward trend.

The President, in consequence, now is focusing attention on this end of the recovery campaign. He hopes, it was said, to bring about an increase in farm prices double that already attained from the low mark of recent years.

There was no disclosure of the means to be followed, or what place—if any—the exercise of his inflationary powers plays in his plans.

While not satisfied with the increase in employment either, Mr. Roosevelt is gratified that both agricultural prices and employment have picked up.

He realizes that the whole proposition cannot be completed in six months or perhaps a year. Meanwhile the administration is putting full steam behind the recovery drive. Mr. Roosevelt expects the banks to put out the necessary credit to tide over the small merchants, especially in relation to furtherrance of the NRA.

Washington, Sept. 13.—(AP)—National Recovery administration officials said today no conference was planned to discuss a code for Leaders of the hat fur cutters industry, centered in Danbury and Norwalk, Conn., were reported to have suggested that they be included under the general hat code.

CHAMBER ASSUMES HALF NRA EXPENSE

Will Continue Activities in Blue Eagle Campaign Through November.

A decision by the Board of Control of the Chamber of Commerce by which the Chamber will assume fifty per cent of the payroll expense for the NRA staff maintained at the local headquarters will make it possible to continue the activities of Manchester's NRA committee until the end of November, providing the drive for $1,000 is successful.

Must Continue At a recent meeting of the local committee, Dr. Edward G. Dolan, head of the state recovery board, pointed out the vital necessity of a continuation of NRA activity in Manchester and expressed the hope that the townspeople would cooperate with donations to the fund, to be used in defraying the expenses of the local campaign.

Slight gains were reported today in the total number of employer and consumer pledges secured. With only two teams to report, the infantry division reports that 4,465 persons have pledged support of the Blue Eagle. At the Post Office it was announced that five names had been added to the list of signers of the President's Reemployment Agreement, bringing the total to 555. The latest signers are: Central Dairy, Andrew Swanson, Anne's Beauty Shop, Castle Farm Inn and George F. Moses.

Word has been received from the National Recovery Administration at Washington that 308 industries had asked for and received approval of modifications of the President's Reemployment Agreement. These modifications have to do entirely with questions relating to maximum hours of employment and minimum rates of pay, pending official action upon the codes for the respective industries. Copies of the modifications are on file at the Chamber of Commerce office. The local headquarters also announces that it has had many queries regarding the restaurant code, which is as follows: Maximum hours—54 hours for men and 48 hours for women—these

TO INVESTIGATE CHARGE OF BREAKING NRA RULES

Women Get $3.61 a Week When Card Records Show They Had Received $14.

New Britain, Sept. 13.—(AP)—As the result of the arrest of Jack Sorokin and William Weinstock, owners of the Ace Cloak Company on Arch street, on a charge of falsifying the records of hours and wages of employees, Walter J. Collopy of Hartford, state manager for the NRA, said today that he would come here this afternoon, to investigate conditions at the shop. If he finds that the company has violated the NRA code, he said, he would recommend that the firm be deprived of its Blue Eagle.

Sorokin and Weinstock were presented in Police Court today on complaint of Angelo M. Paonessa, an investigator for the State Department of Labor. They were released on bonds for a hearing next Tuesday. Paonessa claimed that women employees were receiving pay as low as $3.61 for a 48 hour week, although, he said, the employers card record showed $14 was the minimum wage. A few employees were receiving as high as $14 a week but the average was $7 for 45 hours, he said.

TO OPEN WATKINS MODERN CLASSIC HOME TOMORROW

House Shipped from Grand Rapids Completed Inside Store—Introduces New Furniture for First Time.

Tomorrow at 9 a. m. Watkins Brothers will open to the public for the first time their new Irwin Modern Classic House. Construction of the new model home has been going on at Watkins store for the past two weeks, the house, together with its complete furnishings, having been shipped from Grand Rapids in two carload motor trucks.

The new home will introduce to Connecticut for the first time Modern Classic furniture and decorations.

Two Trends There are two trends in modern furniture," C. Elmore Watkins, treasurer of the company states, "the 'direct modern' which is a complete departure from traditional styles, an example of which is the Century of Progress at Chicago, and the 'modern classic,' development and modernizing of the old classic designs which have been the basis of fine arts for centuries."

"Whereas the 'direct modern' furniture usually calls for a complete modernizing of the home, the 'modern classic' designs, having as their backgrounds such traditional styles as Egyptian, Roman, Grecian, Empire, Directoire and Biedermeier, can be used in any Connecticut home furnished with 18th century American, English or French furniture. An introduction of such pieces to present furnishings will add originality wholly in keeping with the smart, sophisticated forms of today's modern mood."

Irwin house, as outfit on the main floor at Watkins Brothers, comprises a living-room, dining room and bedroom. In the living room the modern classic furniture is shown against a background of plain putty and white walls with Grecian pilasters, fluted columns at the corners being used to hide indirect lighting. A mirrored fireplace, modern in effect, yet perfectly adapted to the room, is another feature. Here the color scheme includes tete de negre carpeting, upholsteries in coral, beige and green, a bookcase

In bottle green, together with natural maple and walnut woods. Dining Room The dining room has walls of terra cotta, the detail of which is Egyptian; a floor of deep blue linoleum and hangings of blue linen in Biedermeier drawing. The furniture retains the classic forms but introduces Egyptian detail, and combines unusual woods, modern hardware, painted pieces and chenille and leather upholsteries.

In the bedroom, mauve shades predominate, the furniture being light in color and design, including white and silver beds, combined with fruitwood pieces. One feature of the room is a dressing table with blocked mirror front shaped to fit into a half-circle bay window. Watkins Brothers store will be open tomorrow until 9 o'clock in the evening, as usual, allowing twelve full hours in which to inspect the Irwin Classic House, as well as twenty-four other redecorated rooms, including the first showing of their "Plymouth House" furnished in maple.

McNEIL'S NEW AUTO REPORTED STOLEN

Bridgeport, Sept. 13.—(AP)—The existence of an organized band of professional automobile thieves just beginning operations in Bridgeport was indicated today when a garage at 1897 Fairfield avenue, was raided for the second time in two weeks, the marauders prize today being the new coupe owned by Archibald McNeil, Democratic National commander.

Mr. McNeil, who also is chairman of the public works Connecticut advisory board of the NRA, said today that not only is the coupe, purchased six weeks ago for $765, his pet car, but that although he had insured against everything else, he had no theft insurance.

On September 1, at about the same hour the place was robbed this morning, the Motor Corporation's Garage was broken into and a new sedan car valued at $1170 stolen.

RESUME PEACE TALKS London, Sept. 13.—(AP)—The series of disarmament talks which were begun last week by Foreign Secretary Sir John Simon and Norman H. Davis, American Ambassador at Large, are scheduled for resumption in London and Paris this week end.

TO AWAIT ACTION ON WATER PLANT

Chamber Directors Decide to Withhold Comment for a Time.

A special meeting of the Board of Control of the Chamber of Commerce was held yesterday afternoon to dispose of several items of important business, and it was decided that the Board await action by the Board of Selectmen concerning the management of the recently purchased water and utilities before making recommendations to the Chamber.

To Try To Help It was the consensus of the Board that its duty was to be of benefit and assistance to the Selectmen but that it did not want the Selectmen to feel that the Chamber was attempting to dictate. The Board went on record as realizing that the Chamber must continue an active interest in the matter because of the large part it took in the purchase of the water works.

The Board also authorized the appointment of a committee to investigate charges of excessive freight rates on bringing coal to Manchester; it being said that local dealers must pay thirteen cents a ton more than East Hartford because Manchester is in a different zone. The committee was authorized to bring complaint before the Interstate Commerce Commission, if necessary.

R. K. Anderson reported on the progress of the local NRA work and the Board voted that the Chamber assume fifty per cent of the payroll expense of the NRA staff maintained at the local headquarters. Further details on this will be found elsewhere in The Herald.

Mediation Board The Board also discussed the question of having the Chamber president act with Mr. Anderson in setting up a local board of mediation for the hearing of complaints on the violation of the NRA but this was tabled, pending the receipt of further and more definite information from Washington.

The Board instructed that Executive Vice President E. J. McCabe, attend the annual convention of the National Association of Commercial Organization Executives, to be held in New York City, Sept. 24-27, inclusive. The rest of the meeting was devoted to routine business.

Ross Keeps His Title on Decision

WEST MAY CAPTURE FUTURITY SATURDAY

Offers Three Marvelous Fillies in Mata Hari, Far Star and Bazaar in Belmont Event; To Make Sternest Threat in Years.

By MAX RIDDELE
NEA Service Sports Editor

New York, Sept. 13.—With the promise of one of the largest fields in history, western invaders offer the sternest threat in years for victory in the $90,000 Belmont Futurity to be run Saturday, September 16.

For this richest of American races, the east will marshal Black Buddy and First Minstrel from the Greentree Stable, C. V. Whitney's Roustabout, winner of the Grand Union Hotel Stakes, Red Wagon, High Quest and others of like worth. But the west can offer three marvelous fillies in Mata Hari and Far Star, from the Dixiana barn, and Col. E. R. Bradley's Bazaar, swift daughter of Tetraema. Moreover, the Audley Farms have a mighty colt in Signalman, undefeated grandson of Man o' War.

Mata Hari, the sensation of western racing, and a granddaughter of Man o' War, was defeated in her first start, scoring runaway victories when she developed a sulking streak and has since refused to extend herself. There has been some talk that the fast filly will no run from behind, but this has to be proved.

Clyde Van Dusen, the able Dixiana trainer, is of the opinion that Far Star is even faster than Mata Hari, and this daughter of North Star III is certain to give a game account of herself. The then developed a sulking streak and has since refused to extend herself. There has been some talk that the fast filly will no run from behind, but this has to be proved.

Bazaar, though foaled in this country was bred in England and is a daughter of Tetraema, one of England's greatest sprinters and sires. To date, she has won three good races, the last one the great Hopeful Stakes at Saratoga in which she defeated practically every good horse in the east. Back of her came High Quest, Discovery, Red Wagon, Singing Wood, First Minstrel, Roustabout, Black Buddy, Hadagal and others.

Signalman is an undefeated colt to date, and was a winner of the Hawthorne Juvenile in which his stablemate, Trey, was second, and Mata Hari out of the money. Unlike Mata Hari, Signalman is gifted with a good disposition. So far he has demonstrated both great speed and gameness, and with Trey, might give the eastern horses a real run for their money.

Despite three or four successive failures, Black Buddy may prove the real eastern contender. As in the case with Mata Hari and Signalman, Black Buddy is a grandson of Man o' War, and won three successive stakes before suffering defeat. At Saratoga he seemed to have talked off a race. But so much was thought of his chances he was forced to carry the crushing burden of 129 pounds in the Hopeful.

He was thus giving Bazaar 10 pounds, High Quest and Discovery, 12 each, and Red Wagon and Roustabout, four each. Black Buddy has shown his gameness before, and if he has recovered his condition might easily be a match for any in the field.

Red Wagon, a fast son of Canter, and the Brookmeade pair of High Quest and National Anthem are also, well liked. Each has won good races, and as there has been no racing in this country, must be rated a good chance to win.

Incidentally, Colonel Bradley may enter a rather impressive stablemate to aid Bazaar. This one is Blue Again, full brother of Blue Larkspur, and a winner of several good races. It is known that the wily Colonel is very high on his Black Servant colt, and he might be planning to take down the prize with this half of his entry.

EARN VERDICT IN SAVAGE, GRUELLING GO WITH EX-CHAMP

Canzoneri Piles Up Wide Margin Until Sixth, When Title Holder Starts His March to Victory.

BY GAYLE TALBOT
A. P. Sports Writer.

New York, Sept. 13 (AP)—The big town, the toughest in the world to convince, was ready today to admit Barney Ross of Chicago to the ranks of the world's ring champions.

Out of one of the most savage, gruelling fights ever seen in a local ring, the Jewish battler from the middle west, emerged with his second victory over the veteran Tony Canzoneri, from whom he won the lightweight title less than three months ago.

A Close Decision.

With forty thousand howling fans looking on at the Polo Grounds last night, most of them pulling fervently for Canzoneri to turn the tables on the former amateur champion and reclaim his crown, Ross won out with his early rushes, caught up with Tony midway of the fight and beat him all over the ring before it was over.

As in their first scrap at Chicago, it was so close it required the vote of the referee to reach a decision. Arthur Donovan, who was in there with them for the torrid 15 rounds, cast his ballot for Ross after the judges had split.

How They Figured.

Harold Barnes, one of the arbiters gave the Chicago boy nine rounds, Canzoneri two and called four even. The other judge, George Kelly awarded Canzoneri eight and Ross seven. Donovan gave Ross eight rounds, Canzoneri four and adjudged three even.

"My money goes on Tony any time he fights anybody else," said Ross in the dressing room. "But I'll give him another fight any time, anywhere, either in his home town or mine. I thought I was ahead all the way, just as I did in our first fight."

Canzoneri, who had been so confident of regaining his title that he bet several thousand dollars on himself was the most down-hearted young man in New York.

Boos and Cheers.

"I thought I was out in front," he declared. "I felt strong all the way, but toward the last I could not seem to get untracked. I thought I was winning."

The big crowd, which paid a gross of $114,000 to watch the two great little fellows pour gies into each other, received the verdict with mixed emotions. Boos and cheers were almost equally mingled.

Canzoneri clearly intended to end the fight quickly with a knockout. He sailed into Ross in the opening round with both hands pumping away to the head. But Barney met him with a two fisted attack that set him back on his heels. Tony gave up the knockout idea, then and content to try to outbox his slightly taller rival.

Ross Makes Bid.

He did very well at it for a time, and at the end of six rounds was far in front. He looked at that stage like a winner as he danced about and kept Ross's head bobbing back with sharp lefts and rights. But when the seventh round opened, Ross made his bid. Evading Tony's blows he waded in and landed a bombardment to the body that never ceased until the last bell.

Canzoneri rallied to win the ninth, twice catching Ross wide open and blasting away at his chin until the Chicago boy was forced to clinch. Ross took it like the champion he is, however, and in the next round again was wearing Tony down with thunderous blows to the midsection.

Toward the last Canzoneri looked worn out, the snap had disappeared from his punches, while Ross still was walking and winging away with both gloves.

Will Never Beat Ross.

One got the impression in those final minutes, that Tony, no matter how he yearns for his lost honor, will never reclaim them as long as Ross has his health.

Senators Forget Selves And Accept Joe Cronin

On College Grids, Here's Story of How Team Has Caught Will to Win from Youthful Manager; He Fights for Every Inch and So Do Players, Now.

By RICHARD HOLLANDER
(Copyright 1938 by NEA)

Washington, Sept. 13.—The Washington Senators had just finished winning their 12th straight game on the last invasion of the west. They were talking it over in the railway station at St. Louis.

They were as jubilant as kids at a picnic. Heinie Manush, slugging outfielder, stood at one end of the station concourse, swinging a cane like a baseball bat. Joe Cronin, who had been in serious conversation with Owner Clark Griffith, suddenly leaped from his seat.

"Hey, Heinie," he yelled. "See if you can hit this."

He yanked off infielder Johnnie Kerr's straw hat and spun it toward Manush. "Crash," went the cane against the hat. "Crunch," groaned the hat, crown flying in one direction, lining in another.

How They Took Him.

That started it. They mangled every straw hat in the crowd, including Joe's own.

Managerial dignity? Rubbish!

To Joe Cronin he's one of the boys, just a fellow playing shortstop who has to make a few more decisions than the rest and who has to take a little more riding from the fans.

Which is why, after a little friction at the start of the season, the players worship him.

Manush, who once was a member of that great trimvurate in the Detroit outfield that included Ty Cobb and Harry Hellman, swears that Cronin will be regarded as a great baseball figure than the old Georgia Peach himself.

Jack Russell, slender pitching veteran, whose relief work has been a great factor in the Nats' success, insists the new manager in the league could be a strong threat—if it had Joe to play shortstop and be the fighting manager he is in Washington.

They Shout Now.

Cronin's theory is one of live and let live. He falls in line with the errors. He falls sometimes in the pinches at bat. Everybody does. These things he leaves to the individual to take care of.

He doesn't fret about petty things. He doesn't use the iron fist of his office except as a last resort.

Time was when the Washington team on the field was as quiet as a dead mouse. Only Joe himself, during the season when he was being chosen as the league's most valuable player, kept up the steady chatter that marks a peppy ball club.

Now, the Senators are fielding a team that is as lively as a cat on a hot tin can.

Bronin is boomed in every city on the circuit for his repeated arguments with umpires. On adverse decisions he leaps after the official with that jittery little jog-step and starts his mighty chin wagging.

But he does it because it's his way to fight for every inch. The rest of the team feels the same way about it. Not long ago there was much talk of the belligerency of the Nats, of their ready-to-fight-anytime attitude. That was the Cronin influence. But it wasn't really as bad as that.

It's just that the team wants to win. Every man is what is known as a winning ball player. They aren't good losers because they don't want to lose. They're that way because it's Cronin's way.

And it's why the Nats have been able to come back time and again after suffering crushing defeats.

It's the Cronin chin coming out in every man.

CHICAGO IS GIVEN A REAL CHANCE TO OUST NEW YORKERS

Now 7 1-2 Games Behind Leaders as First of Six Games Is Played Today; Pirates Back in Second Place Tie.

By Hugh S. Fullerton, Jr.
A. P. Sports Writer

The Chicago Cubs marched into the National League pennant picture today to start a six game series with the New York Giants that was labeled ever before it started as a "last ditch affair."

Starting from a second place tie, 7 1/2 games behind the Giants, the Cubs were rated as the only team that had any real chance of beating out the leaders.

EDITOR'S NOTE: How the Senators have caught the will to win from Joe Cronin is told in this, the fifth of a series of six articles on the Washington boy manager.

Yanks Win Prizes Galore, But No Gold In A Carload

Iowa City, Ia., Sept. 13.—(AP)—Seven American track and field athletes have returned from a successful European tour with enough prizes to start a fair sized "gift shoppe."

Their winnings—significantly enough in this day of monetary embargoes—do not, however, include the usual reward for victories on the cinder track—gold.

As the result of the embargo on the yellow metal in virtually every country on the continent, the prizes awarded the United States lads included traveling bags, cut glass, paintings and etchings, pencils, clocks, Swedish tin, brief cases and medals of bronze and silver. In Germany the team was presented with a bronze bust of Adolf Hitler.

Metcalf made the greatest individual showing, winning 21 first places and equalling world's records for both 100 and 200-meter dashes. Morris also equaled a world's record when he ran the 110-meter high hurdles in 14.4 seconds.

By Associated Press
New York—Giono Gibraditi, Italy drew with Dick Shikak, Philadelphia, halted by 11 o'clock law. Albany, N. Y.—Joe Salvaldo, Three Oaks, Mich., threw Mike Mazurki, Cohoes, N. Y.

INGRAM ABANDONS HUDDLE, PROMISES COLORFUL ATTACK

Assures Fans That Golden Bears Will Have Most Interesting Team in Many Years; the Prospects.

Berkeley, Calif., Sept. 13.—(AP)—With something akin to a stratospheric forward pass rehearsed in spring football and several other innovations ready to spring on California's gridiron foes, Coach W. A. "Navy Bill" Ingram promises Golden Bear fans the "most interesting" team the Coast conference has in many years.

Whether interesting football if it fails to lead to a conference championship will placate the more ardent alumni is another question, but those who have watched Ingram build his 1933 attack are inclined to agree with him that he has planned the colorful type of game that all of them have abandoned the huddle. Plays and shifts will work from signal, with a short punt formation predominating. There is also a single wing back and a double wing back formation, but all shifts will take place after the calling of signals has started and shifts and non-shift plays will start from identical lineups.

Will Be More Colorful

Ingram's opinion, the huddle and the fixed shift have both served to take some of the color out of football and have tended toward a routine attack. More football strategy and greater versatility of plays, he believes, will result from returning to the system of entrusting to the quarterback the sole responsibility of directing team play.

Forward passing that utilizes the high jumping ability to two six foot, four inch ends—Dave Meek and Harry Jones, returning letter men—1932—is part of a more elaborate use of the aerial game which Ingram has prepared. The ball reaches the hands of the receiving end at an altitude of around 10 feet after a short toss.

Versatile, If Nothing Else

A heavy, smashing backfield will, if desired, alternate with a light, fast backfield. Quarterbacks will be similarly varied. Versatility, Ingram declares, will be California's predominating characteristic.

California will continue the "double varsity" system inaugurated last season, with 35 men on each varsity squad. The first varsity will play seven of its 10 scheduled games at home. The second varsity will play six out of seven games away from home. The first varsity opens its season with a conference game against Washington State Oct. 21 and plays six games on successive week ends without a break, finishing at Stanford Nov. 25.

As usual, there is a Gill on the team. There has been one since 1926, when "Red" Gill made history at fullback. The last of the five football brothers remaining on the squad is "Pinky" Gill, an end.

Southern football teams play 42 intercollegiate contests this fall, meeting eleven from every section of the country.

LOCAL TRACK TEAM IN MYSTIC EVENTS

Rec Squad to Seek Further Honors in American Legion Meet on Saturday.

The Recreation Centers track and field team, after a successful debut in the Connecticut A. U. championships last Saturday, will travel to Mystic this Saturday afternoon to compete in the American Legion Field Day, held under the auspices of the Richard Wm. Morgan Post.

The prospects are bright for an outstanding team locally and with the support of Manchester fans many track meets will be possible in the coming year. The following boys will make the trip to Mystic, leaving from the East Side Rec at 10 o'clock Saturday morning: William March, James Crowe, James Tomlan, James O'Leary, Ray Jewell, Charles Donahue, Anthony Diane, Richard Carpenter, Joseph Packard, Arthur Patton, Gordon Fraser and Michael Brozowski.

GREEN AWAITS OUTCOME OF WEST SIDE SERIES

Hublard's Team Primed to Meet Winner of West Side Tournament in Town Championship Playoff.

Patiently awaiting the outcome of the games being played between the various contenders for the championship of the "other" league, Manchester Green, champions of the Manchester "American" League, nevertheless itches to get into action in the struggle that will determine the championship of Manchester for the year 1938.

The game last Sunday, in which the R. G. Miller & Sons team from Hartford, just edged out the Green by a score of 6 to 5, so impressed the Millerites, that, at their request, the two teams are clashing again next Sunday, at Jarvis Grove. These clubs are bound to put up a really interesting contest, for they are very evenly matched, and playing a brand of ball that provides the entertainment the fans have a right to expect. It would draw a good sized crowd to the Green's lot next Sunday. The game will start at 3 p. m.

Yanks Win Again

The New York Yankees again clipped a game off Washington's American League lead without frightening the Senators badly. They won the Detroit Tigers 5 to 3 as the Ex-Det. outfielder, George Uhle, stopped all the Tigers except Gerald Walker, who knocked in all three runs. Another Walker, Dixie of the Yankees, provided winning tallies with his 13th homer.

Cleveland and Young Monte Pearson got the better of Washington and "general" Al Crowder by a 3-1 count. Pearson gave only four hits while Crowder granted five.

The St. Louis Browns continued their efforts to get out of the cellar by trimming the seventh place Boston Red Sox for the third straight time 4-1, behind the six "f" flinging of Dick Coffman. The Chicago White Sox and Philadelphia Athletics were rained out.

Manhattan, Kas., has three organized amateur baseball leagues. A state soft ball tournament for Oklahoma teams, first held this year, is planned as an annual event.

Alonso Stagg, new football coach of the College of the Pacific, has received his first setback. Bob Wicker, regular halfback, has decided not to return to school this fall.

Mike Donlin, one-time slugging outfielder with the New York Giants but now a character actor in Hollywood, would like to return to baseball as a minor league manager.

A squad of only about 40 candidates, smallest group to try for a Badger grid squad in many years, is expected at the University of Wisconsin this fall when practice starts Sept. 15.

SENSE and NONSENSE

Recovery!
We've left the barren places
With smiles upon our faces,
We're on our way to reach the promised land
We'll get there, too, by golly!
Despite some bits of folly,
If every one will lend a helping hand.

A group of little girls had been playing with their dolls when a discussion arose and the mother of the one, whom the others were visiting, stopped to listen.
Little Edith—Well, I don't believe in stories, the doctor brought me in his big black bag.
Little Evelyn—And I was bought at the drug store.
Little Maudie—We are too poor so I guess I must have been home-made.

Father says that mother does so little housekeeping these days that when she's angry at him about something he hides in the pantry.

Clara—Now that you know Jerry wasn't out with another girl as you thought why don't you make it up with him.
Sarah—Why, he hasn't even attempted to beg my forgiveness.

"THE GOOD MAN WHO GOES WRONG, IS IN REALITY THE BAD MAN WHO HAS JUST BEEN FOUND OUT."

Inez—Your fiancée is not with you today?
Beth—No, he tripped over a stone.
Inez—Is it very bad?
Beth—Yes, it was the stone I wanted him to buy me.

Live your life so that when you leave your home town and come back years later people will be glad to see you instead of saying: "Have you been away from town?"

Employer—For goodness sake, if you must whistle, whistle something decent.
Stenographer—Do you expect grand opera for $12 a week?

FOOTPRINTS ON THE SANDS OF TIME WILL GET A FELLOW A LOT FARTHER THAN FINGERPRINTS IN THE POLICE DEPARTMENT.

Emma—What's new, Judy—know any good parlor jokes?
Judy—Know any? Say, I've even had dates with them!

"The person who is always insulting is nearly as obnoxious as the person who is easily insulted."

Mrs. Nagg—Oh, dear! Troubles never come singly.
Mr. Nagg—Nope. Marriage is the source of them all.

We Are Missing a Bet
Lives of great men oft remind us
We can make our lives sublime,
And by learning legal stealing
Keep our record free of crime.

FIRST FROST BITES . . . The voice in the back of the hall loses its bravery when invited on the platform . . . At every dinner party there is always some goof who eats all the olives . . . Cities never select a limp handshaker for gladhand duty . . . Real happiness can't be poured out of a cocktail shaker . . . Well, we wanted a government run like a business . . . Opinions are like watches—no two ever go alike, yet each man swears by his own . . . You can't really teach others. You just sow the seed and the rest depends on the soil where it falls . . . A chip on the shoulder is too heavy a piece of baggage to carry through life . . . By the time some toastmasters get through talking its burned to a crisp . . . Many a smiling individual could tell a more pitiful tale than the postoffice pen . . . "Charge it" has ruined more men than "I can't afford it" twice over . . . This 3,2 stuff must be a success . . . For a big brewer has been kidnaped . . . A lot of men don't mind leading a dog's life if that makes them a rum hound.

Cleaning fish seems like a worthless job when they've lived in the water all of their lives.
