CHAS. R. GRIFFITH DISPOSAL PLANT DESIGNER, DEAD

Engineer Employed by Cheney Brothers 17 Years Passes in Heart Attack—Funeral Saturday, 2 p. m.

Charles R. Griffith, of 55 Pleasant street, engineer and designer of the Griffith sewage sedimentation system, died at his home here at 6:50 this morning after a sudden heart attack. Mr. Griffith had been ill for several months and had undergone several operations for a complication of troubles. He complained last night of a change for the worse in his condition and passed away this morning after a

Arrangements had been made for his removal to a hospital sometime today. He was 54 years of age.

Engineering Genius For 17 years in the employ of Cheney Brothers in charge of outside labor and general construction about the silk plant, Mr. Griffith had become very well known in Manchester. Gentle and hearty, he was well liked by associates and employees as well. His ability as a practical engineer was recognized throughout the state and had attracted the attention of great construction firms. He at one time entertained engineers from all over the country who came to inspect the sewage disposal tanks that had been constructed here under his design and direction.

Charles Robert Griffith was born in Falls River, Mass., July 28, 1879, and as a young boy he worked for his father who was a contractor. Later he entered the employ of New

MUSSOLINI COPIES AMERICAN METHODS

Forms Organization Similar to the R. F. C. to Help Italian Industries.

Rome, Nov. 9.—(AP)—Premier Mussolini today asked the Chamber of Deputies to approve a decree whereby the government may guarantee dividends in stock issues of private companies and guarantee the principal and payment of dividends to stockholders.

The proposed law would transform the whole industrial capitalizing system of Italy, and is intended to guarantee dividends to stock subscribers regardless of the company's conditions.

If the company is profitable, additional dividends will be added. The government will operate through the Industrial Reconstruction Institute which is similar to the American Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

This move was provided for by Mussolini Tuesday when the enforced reduction of the capitalization of the Piedmont Hydroelectric Company, one of the four largest Italian corporations, was revealed. The capital was reduced from $47,000,000 lire ($97,760,000) to $39,000,000 lire ($78,000,000).

FEDERAL PLAN TO SOLVE 'MADE WORK' PROBLEM

New Scheme of U. S. Aid Expected to Take All Employable Persons Off Local Relief Lists.

Solution of the vexatious problem concerning the best method of relieving distress among the unemployed this winter, whether by adopting a "made work" program or bestowing outright charity, has been reached by the government through a new plan known as a civil works program.

Of Interest Here. Manchester will be particularly interested in the announcement of President Roosevelt that the contemplated program will be definitely outlined at a meeting of governors, mayors and other officials of states and municipalities in Washington next week.

With the Board of Selectmen already wrestling with this momentous matter, this latest "fundamental change" in the federal relief program appears on the face of it to be a complete solution of the problem, and may result in the Selectmen remedying the local situation through what hitherto has been an unknown source.

Two million men now on relief rolls, who have been receiving $20 or less per month to support their families, will be transferred to the civil works payroll on Nov. 16. They will probably receive about $50 a month for the next three months.

The other 2,000,000 will be employed at the same wages a little later, probably by Dec. 1.

They will work on such projects as reforestation, drainage, sanitation, public works, clearing of creek beds and cleaning up of rural areas; reclamation of public land for roads and the construction of "feeder" roads; the building of bridges and public structures not included in the public works program.

LIQUOR TRAFFIC NOW THE PROBLEM

Government Officials to Frame Laws to Prevent Smuggling Into Dry States

Washington, Nov. 9.—(AP)—President Roosevelt is turning his attention to the liquor traffic problem now that 37 states—one more than the necessary three-fourths—have voted to take the 18th Amendment out of the Constitution.

Objectives of the program are temperance and methods of dispensing alcoholic drinks without the return of the old time saloon. In addition, steps are to be taken through the coast guard to prevent smuggling of foreign liquor across the eastern and southern coasts where rum fleets are reported concentrated in a move to evade the $5 a gallon import tax.

The House ways and means committee, will open hearings on liquor taxation legislation Nov. 27, to prepare a bill for early congressional action in January.

The present tax is $1.10 a gallon on whiskey, gin and brandies, although it has been predicted this will be increased to as high as $3 a gallon, members of a sub-committee studying the question claim it will not exceed $2.50. They say a higher tax might encourage the bootlegger to continue in his business.

Repeal On Dec. 5. Actual repeal will come December 5, date of the ratifying convention in the 36th state. North and South Carolina refused to vote ratification, the first two states to reject the 21st Amendment.

Meanwhile, elections in New York city, where Fiorello H. La Guardia, Fusion candidate, defeated Tammany Hall and pro-cop candidates, and in Philadelphia, Boston, Pittsburgh and Cleveland, where so-called machine mayoral candidates were defeated, continued to attract attention of observers.

Broadway Hails 'New Deal' for Metropolis

Noisy throngs jammed Manhattan's white-lighted Times Square in record numbers, as shown in this striking night view, to cheer the downfall of long-potent Tammany Hall and hail the election of Fiorello H. La Guardia, Fusion candidate for mayor.

INDUSTRY WARNED BY NRA OFFICIAL If It Does Not Cooperate More Rigid Orders Will Follow, He Says.

New York, Nov. 6.—(AP)—Business and industry had a warning today from Donald R. Richberg, general counsel to the NRA, unless they co-operate in establishing self-discipline, government intervention of a more rigid scale is inevitable.

Replying to those whom he called "Tories and Ultra-Radicals" who "will do their best to make our efforts fail," Richberg told the Academy of Political Science yesterday that what the government seeks under NRA is "not the creation of a political control over business," but the promotion of its own self-discipline that will provide a genuine self-government for industry.

The NRA, he asserted, is not seeking to establish a dictator for industry, but "is in fact moving in precisely the other direction."

Kentucky Vote Makes Repeal Date Dec. 5th

A state constitutional amendment to enable the Legislature to repeal the property tax was leading 28,089 to 27,737 on reports from 810 of the state's 4,204 precincts.

Sixteen men were killed in election day shootings, but some of the deaths were not directly traceable to observers attending the balloting.

WEST HARTFORD ARRESTS BREAK UP BIG DOPE RING

According to Assistant United States District Attorney George H. Cohen it is believed that the coup executed by the Federal agents has smashed the two largest sources of opium in the state.

He denied the money was borrowed to "gamble in the Stock Market." Raaskob told newspapermen that the syndicate was formed by directors of County Trust Company to support the bank's stock.

STATE BOARD EXPLAINS HIGH PRICE OF MILK

Hartford, Nov. 9. (AP)—The State Milk Control Board today gave its explanation of the high milk prices prevailing in Connecticut. The Federal statement is answered by the fact that a large proportion of the retail business is of cash-and-carry variety where a 18-cent price is stipulated, so that 13 1/2 cents is considered a fair average.

KEEP OLD SALOON OUT OF COUNTRY That Is Plea of Former Members of Once Mighty Wickersham Board.

Washington, Nov. 9.—(AP)—A call for temperance after repeal and for barred doors against the old saloon has arisen from members of the once-mighty Wickersham commission.

Four members of the commission were unanimous today in writing their repeal opinions for the Associated Press, that the plucking of the 18th Amendment as an effective part of the constitution offered first a fresh opportunity to solve the old liquor problem.

There were calls also for low liquor taxes to keep prices down and drive out bootleggers; for the assiduous exercise of local option; and for the manufacture of liquor by a government-created corporation to control sales and prices.

N. E. CONFERENCE ESSENTIAL NOW

Extraordinary Business Conditions Necessitate Studying Them in Body.

Boston, Nov. 9.—Citing "the extraordinary conditions of today," the new problems facing business, and especially the threat of currency inflation, as making it "essential that the New England states and their business interests stand together," President Henry D. Sharpe of the New England Council today issued the official call for the Ninth New England Conference, to be held at the Hotel Statler, Boston, November 23-24.

Has Not Been Essential
"Since the New England Conference was established eight years ago, it has carefully refrained from acts or expressions of a sectional nature," Mr. Sharpe's statement said. "On the other hand, is New England to remain silent while representatives of mid-western and southern areas demand of the President of the United States a program that includes positive, deliberate inflation of our currency?"

First Federal District
Mr. Sharpe's statement said, in part: "New England is fast becoming Federal District No. 1 for the execution of measures included in the National program for economic recovery."

GOV. ELY PREFERS SALOON TO 'SPEAK'

Wants to Call Saloon a Tavern and Protect It Against Old Vices.

Boston, Nov. 9.—(AP)—Governor Joseph B. Ely, confronted with the choice of the saloon or the speakeasy, prefers "by all means" the saloon.

In his message to the Massachusetts Legislature, which convened in special session yesterday to consider hard liquor legislation, the governor said: "As much as we may desire to eliminate the saloon, I do not believe that Massachusetts can eliminate both the saloon and the speakeasy."

State Commission
"For example, you may agree speedily upon the establishment of a state commission having broad general powers with express authority to approve or disapprove all licenses, and to grant club, transportation, wholesale and manufacturers' licenses."

MESSAGES OF HOPE AND CHEER POUR IN TO RAMBLER COACH

Fans from All Parts of Country Tell Notre Dame Mentor to Keep His Chin Up; Students Back Team.

By PAUL MICKELSON
South Bend, Ind., Nov. 9.—(AP)—The man who shouldered one of college football's toughest assignments when Knute Rockne crashed to his tragic death almost three years ago, broke his long silence as his wistful eyes peered out of a veritable pile of telegrams and letters on his desk.

Talks of Loyalty
But he did not reply or attack his critics. Instead, he talked of loyalty—the loyalty of Notre Dame's Alumni.

"These are trying days for Notre Dame football and for me," Coach Harky "Hunk" Anderson spoke up "but when I'm through with the game, I'll never forget these."

He pointed to the letters and telegrams. "There are telegrams and letters from all over the country," he said. "They are proof that the greatest, finest bunch of alumni that ever trod on a campus are those of Notre Dame. Kickers? There isn't one in a thousand. Instead of pointing out faults, these alumni are giving me messages of cheer and hope. 'Keep your chin up,' 'Don't let 'em get you down,' and 'We're all for you.' That's what those letters and telegrams say."

All Backing Hunk
"What do you think? Last midnight I was awakened by a long distance telephone call. It was from a bunch of alumni at Burns, Oregon. 'Keep your chin up, we're with you!' was their message. Another night I got a call from Atlanta, Ga., and from Chicago, and Los Angeles. Yesterday I got a night letter from a group of alumni at Peoria, Ill.

"Even the kids are sending me messages of hope and confidence. Other letters come from fans who never saw Notre Dame or a Notre Dame football team in action, I suppose, but I try to answer them all. Any that I've missed, I want to thank you through the Associated Press."

A Trifle Sadder
A trifle sadder, perhaps than when he hustled the big Ramblers lines for Rockne as an assistant, Coach Anderson merely sawing wood these days as reports and rumors of a change in the Notre Dame football coaching situation stare at him in glaring newspaper headlines. He gets to his office around 9 or 10 a. m., answers his heavy pile of mail and discusses plays with his players until drill time arrives. Then, as if Notre Dame were still undefeated, he bounces out to the practice field and does his best.

Notre Dame, blanked the last three games, expects another defeat by Purdue Saturday, but one would never guess it. The students, who turned out almost to the last man to cheer the team last Sunday on its return from the Navy defeat, are excited and plan the season's largest pep meeting Friday night.

New Haven—Injuries may force Coach Reg. Root to send a much changed eleven against Georgia. Kim Whitehead, who displaced Stan Fuller as right halfback, was an ineffective foot and is not expected to play Saturday. The Ell mentor also used substitutes at the guard positions yesterday, because Ed Nichols and Jimmy De Angelis are nursing injuries.

Middletown—So battered is the Wesleyan football squad that it will have only three days of training under its belt for the week when it stacks up against its "little three" rival, Williams, Saturday. Anxious to save his eleven from further damage, Coach Jim Oberlander waited until yesterday to give it its first practice of the week.

Storrs—In spite of four defeats and one tie out of seven games, Connecticut State will regard its season a rather successful one if it can beat Rhode Island State Saturday. But the odds are very much against the Nymtes eleven, for it had to play injured football to tie the Coach Guard while Little Rhody gave the cadets a 20-12 thrashing.

MACPHAIL BRINGS NEW COLOR TO CINCINNATI

Here's Story of 'Recently Named President of Reds; Well Known for His Modern Ideas of Baseball; Is Only 43 Years of Age.

Cincinnati, Nov. 9.—One of baseball's colorful figures comes out of the bushes and into the big league with the advent of Leland Stanford "Larry" MacPhail to the presidency of the Cincinnati Reds.
Dizzy Dean, Art Shires and other headline boys of the playing field become mere zephyrs of personal exploitation compared to the storm of modern ideas and innovations continually perpetrated by this genius of the front office.
Considering his intimate knowledge of affairs on the playing field his baseball background seems singularly meager. He played ball at college, and for three summers in the Mint League, a now defunct Class D loop. Later he managed a semi-pro outfit at his home town, Ludington, Mich.

Larry went to college at Beloit, University of Michigan, Georgetown and George Washington, taking his law degree from the latter. He played first base at Beloit for one year and two at Michigan. He played quarterback and halfback at Beloit and Georgetown.

After that he practiced law and was a sales manager for a tool manufacturing concern in Chicago, moved to Nashville to become president of a dry goods store and, after the war, came to Columbus, O., where he was an automobile distributor and a builder.

He came back into baseball when he purchased the Columbus club from the Cincinnati Reds in 1930. At that time Columbus had gone 26 years without pennant and had been a second division outfit for 15 consecutive seasons. In the last 15 years its various owners had lost $500,000.

MacPhail sold his club to the St. Louis Cardinals because they had the war players to offer him. He held the Columbus presidency, but transferred his stock to St. Louis.

During that first season they said MacPhail had three teams operating—one playing, one going and another one on the way. Columbus finished fourth and made money.

More than 75 players were on the club payroll at one time or another. The next season, 1932, Columbus finished second and moved into a new ball park in midseason, the finest minor league ball park in the country. Two years of depression the club set a new record for attendance and again made money.

Then, after he got his club away to a comfortable lead in 1933, MacPhail was fired. No reason was advanced. It was one of the mysteries of the minor league season.

Although it never has been told, MacPhail lost his job because he was such a great fan himself. He had an agreement with the Cardinals that they could not raid his club in mid-season.

The Cardinals wanted a young Columbus second baseman named Burgess Whitehead. MacPhail wanted him, too. So he took advantage of the situation, forgetting that he was working for the Cardinals, and demanded five players in exchange for him. Two of them were the 350, another pitcher, won seven and lost two while he was with the club, and a fourth was Art Shires, who helped pack them in. As a result Columbus again made money and finished the season 15 games in front, though MacPhail had been released as club prey.

MacPhail himself is a dynamic, restless and aggressive sort of person. He has red hair, thousands of freckles, dresses immaculately in shades of gray and brown, always wears his hat brim turned down and is only 43 years old. His hobby is refereeing football games. Last sea-

PRINCETON FACES DARTMOUTH FIRST TIME SINCE 1916

"Big Four" Is Fact for All Practical Purposes; Tigers Risk Unbeaten, Unscored on Grid Record.

New York, Nov. 9.—(AP)—Princeton and Dartmouth, strangers on the gridiron since 1916, resume football relations at Princeton Saturday. To many this may be just another big game, but it's a bit more to the old grads and to those who have been looking forward to seeing the Green join with its old rival, Yale, Harvard and Princeton in a new big four.
Talk of such an organization was especially well received at Princeton when the "Big Three" was in the football doldrums and the Tigers were feeling peeved that the Yale-Harvard game should be considered by the Blue and Crimson to be somewhat more important than the traditional battles each played against Princeton.

Big Four a Fact
Some of that feeling died down during the Harvard Princeton break, which has been healed with the scheduling of a game for next year. Yale has awarded the Tigers a more important place on its schedule, and now comes Dartmouth, trying the ironman stunt of taking on Harvard, Yale and Princeton in succession. For all practical purposes the "Big Four" is now a fact if only they agree to continue these old and glorious customs.

The Princeton-Dartmouth series is the newest of the group, starting in 1897 as compared with 1882 for Harvard-Dartmouth 1884, for Yale-Dartmouth. In the series Princeton has won nine times, Dartmouth three with one tie.

Big Ten schedule shows a couple of "natural" this week in addition to the great Michigan-Iowa struggle which promises to give the unbeaten Wolverines another severe test. Northwestern and Illinois come together at Purdue, meets Notre Dame in games which have that extra touch of neighborly rivalry.

In the Big Six, Nebraska and Kansas clash in a game which should definitely settle the Cornhuskers title claims. Out on the Pacific slope, Stanford and Southern California come together in the outstanding battle.

KING OF WINTER SPORTS HOCKEY, BEGINS TONIGHT

New York, Nov. 9.—(AP)—Right in the midst of the hullabaloo over football, hockey, king of winter sports, also will get its picture tonight with the opening of the National Hockey League season. Chicago, Toronto and Montreal are the scenes of tonight's opening games. By the end of the week all three of the circuit clubs will get into action, although several big league cities won't see their first game for several days more.

Tonight at Chicago a crowd of 14,000 is expected to see the Hawks open against the New York Americans.

The Toronto Maple Leafs start their campaign against the Boston Bruins. The Detroit Red Wings and Montreal Canadiens, appeal all set to put on a speedy battle without the aid of new players as they swing into action at Montreal.

The rest of the teams will open Saturday with the Canadiens playing in Ottawa, the Montreal Maroons at Boston and the Rangers at Toronto.

HICKS TO PRACTICE

Casey's Hicks will hold a practice at the West Side Rec. tomorrow evening, at 7:15. Plans for the season will be discussed, particularly those referring to the purchase of new uniforms.

Since the "Big" league of which the Hicks are a member will open soon it is necessary, for all members to be present, to receive instructions on several new plays that have been worked out by Coach "Petie" Anderson.

Fred Feary heavyweight boxing representative of the United States in the 1932 Olympic Games, has won 18 straight bouts since turning professional in Stockton, Calif.

Charter Oak Girls Trim Meriden Bowlers Again

The Charter Oak Girls are serving ample warning on the other teams in the State League that they are out to capture the bowling honors this season. Last night the local team defeated the Meriden Girls two games out of three, with total pinfall of 1838 to 1423 for the visitors. Last Saturday night the Charter Oaks opened the season by taking all three games from Meriden.

Miss Clara Jackmore again topped the pins for high single, hitting 182. Saturday she broke the Meriden alleys record with 181. Miss Gertrude Nelson gained the high three string honors with a mark of

Lineup of Guards to Consist of Veterans Of Last Year's Team

Only Walter "Ty" Holland will be missing from the lineup of the National Guards basketball quintet, when the town champions open their court season Thanksgiving Day night, the ace forward of the Guards having decided to devote his attention to officiating this year. A slim possibility exists that Holland may change his mind and return to uniform before the opener rolls around.
Otherwise, Coach Wilfred J. Clarke will have virtually the same lineup as last season, with a few additions, namely, "Huck" McHale, "Ernie" Nell and a lad by the name of McGuire, formerly of Swarthmore college, who has impressed Coach Clarke in recent workouts. McGuire is a tall, heavy-set young man who has shown much ability in a forward berth and he will probably step into the spot made vacant by Holland.

LOCAL BOOTERS CLINCH C. C. I. L. SOCCER TITLE

Coach Hugh Greer's Team Wins Crown 2nd Year in Row; Defeat West Hartford, 4-3; DiSimone and McCurry Star for M. H. S.

Hartford goalie played brilliantly, and for him the score would have been much higher.
Fourth Quarter
West Hartford scored with less than 30 seconds to go, when the back got slack and missed the ball only to have Koch come tearing in and kick it past Pitt. It was not substituted for Ulbrich. It was no fault of Pitt's.

Liljehal and Krause played well for West Hartford while McCurry, Donahue and Ulbrich stood out for Manchester. Tomorrow afternoon at 8 o'clock the Alumni will meet the High school at Charter Oak. Manchester (4) W. Hartford (3) Ulbrich (8) Strum (8)

Manchester High school's soccer team clinched the C. C. I. L. championship for the second year in succession by beating West Hartford by the score of 4 to 3, yesterday. Joe De Simone scored three goals for Manchester. McCurry did most of the work for the forward line and contributed a goal for good measure.

First Quarter
Manchester kicked off and after a tussle in mid field succeeded in working it up in front of the goal, where a fullback cleared. McCann, Manchester's halfback got possession of the ball and centered it to the goal mouth where J. De Simone trapped it, side-stepped the outgoing goalie and scored for Manchester's first point.

Almost immediately after West Hartford kicked off, J. De Simone captured the ball and dribbled all the way to the goal to register Manchester's second tally.
West Hartford came to life with a rush and started the attack on the Manchester goal. Hill lobbed the ball to the goal mouth. Donahue decided to head the ball out instead of kick it. The ball did not travel far and McKimney, West Hartford's outside left kicked it into the net. Ulbrich is the goal for Manchester. The ball was rather high and Ulbrich thought it would clear the bar so he didn't budge. Was his face red when he saw it sail a foot below the cross bar!

Second Quarter
Manchester made the score 3 to 1 in the second quarter when Mays, who had replaced Lytle, dribbled up the sideline and centered to McCurry, who took it first time and registered. It was a well earned goal.
McCurry had few chances to score in this quarter. On one, West Hartford's goalie, Nelson, who had replaced Strum, made a remarkable one-handed save. On the other he kicked wildly over the cross bar. The score at half time was Manchester 3, West Hartford 2.

Third Quarter
McCurry's work stood out in this quarter. Soon after play began he dribbled the ball up to the goal and passed to Corna, who was open only to have him kick it over the bar.
Again, McCurry got possession of the ball, and dribbled up the field. This time he passed to De Simone who scored his third goal. Manchester High's fourth. The West

Hartford goalie played brilliantly, and for him the score would have been much higher.
Fourth Quarter
Most of the play was in West Hartford's territory. Manchester pressed hard but Nelson turned aside all advances. Coach Greer ran in six second string players.

Ineligibility and Injuries Cripple Local Gridders

INTEREST IS HIGH IN REC. SR. LEAGUE Meeting Last Night Is Largely Attended; Expect Loop of Eight Teams.

Bob Smith, Earl Judd, Hutchinson Out of Lineup; Others Only Possible Starters; Kelley Expects Hard Fought Tilt.

The meeting of basketball managers and players was largely attended last night at the East Side Rec. at which time preliminary plans were made in the formation of the Rec Senior League.

With representatives from the Rangers, Laura, succeeding last years Independents, the Knolls who last year played under the Heights, the Collegians, Ansaldo's Masons, Dills Boilers, Herald Newsboys, and several other representatives interested in entering teams though they have not submitted the name of their teams, it is very evident that interest is running high and no doubt the league will consist of eight teams.

Plans and rules were outlined though nothing definite was decided until such time that all managers have signed up for their teams, several teams declining in the course of the meeting, upon hearing the rules and plans that are hoped to be carried out.

Unable to define at the meeting whether or not the league would consist of six or eight teams it was suggested that a meeting be held tomorrow night at 7:30 at the East Side Rec which would give ample time for all teams to sign up and inquire also if the league would include a representative from the West Side. It is hoped at the next meeting that all arrangements can be completed in the organization of the Rec Senior League so that the first games may be played around Thanksgiving.

Director Frank Busch assured the gathering that his organization would do everything in its power to bring about the success of the league and felt very enthused in the attitude taken by all.

Without question this league will consist of a fast brand of basketball when one reads that such players as Paul Bauer, Campbell, Falkow, Holland, Farr, Nelson, Neil, Simmonds, Sturgen, Kovis and a host of others are included on the roost of many teams.

DUQUESNE THREAT TO PITT PANTHERS

Layden Has Outstanding Eleven But Does Not Expect to Win Saturday.

New York, Nov. 9.—(AP)—Among football's miracle men consider the claims to high rank of Elmer Layden, coach of Duquesne University of Pittsburgh.
Layden, who has coached Duquesne since 1925, is the only man who has won five national titles as a coach. Now they are more than a match for major powers, victorious in eight successive games so far this fall and numbering among their victims, Detroit, Washington & Jefferson, Bucknell, Western Maryland and West Virginia.

Under his coaching Duquesne has won 45 games, lost 20, and tied 7 in eight seasons, nine of those defeats coming the first two years of Layden's regime. Despite their impressive record this fall, the Dukes do not figure to beat Pitt, long a national prominence gridiron power. A touchdown of two at the most seems to be the possible Panther margin.

Army at Harvard
Like Georgia in its series with Yale, Army had to wait a long while before it could trim Harvard, but the cadets have been doing it pretty regularly since 1928, when they first broke through.
The Crimson won 13 straight games starting in 1895, before the military academy won 15 to 0 in 1928. A thrilling 20-20 tie in 1929 was followed by a 9-0 shutout the next year. Harvard and Barry Wood checked the cadets at West Point in the memorable 14-13 game in 1931, but Army rolled up the biggest score of the rivalry last year when the Crimson was submerged, 46 to 0.

The count is not likely to be so high this week, but not even the most optimistic Harvard supporter expects anything but a triumph for Army's unbeaten eleven.

ALUMNI MEETS M. H. S.
Tomorrow afternoon at Charter Oak field, starting at 8 o'clock, the High school soccer team will meet their Alumni. Leslie, Kennedy, Hellman, Nichols, Emrico, Della Ferra, Johnson, Kanasalakis, Whitman, and Herb Johnson are asked to report at the Rec at 3:50.

Three Injured
Three others are listed as possible starters and it is doubtful if they will play the entire game, due to injuries. They are: George Ecabert, varsity center and one of the best defensive players on the team; Leo Johnson, who has alternated in the backfield and on the line and is out on a long end position, and Eric Rautenberg, who may be used somewhat but who has not yet recovered completely from injuries suffered in the West Hartford clash.

Weak in Reserves
Coach Tom Kelley will be able to muster a good starting eleven from the regulars and substitutes, remaining but the team will be woefully weak in reserve strength. The line will be revamped entirely, it is expected, with Cobb and Robinson holding down the end berths, Mittle and O'Leary at tackles, Rowe and Comber at guards, Leone at center. In the backfield, Coach Kelley will have Arton Judd and Chucky Smith at halfback posts, Ray Mosser at quarterback and Frasier at fullback. Kaminiski, Brown and Wolfram will also be used during the afternoon and Coach Kelley has hopes that Johnson, Ecabert and Rautenberg will be able to play.

It will be necessary for Mosser, most consistent ground gainer on the team and leading scorer of the C. C. I. L. to throw passes and kick, while Frasier will be used mostly as a defensive back. Much of the burden of ball carrying will be placed on the shoulders of Judd and Smith. The line should function fairly well, but should substitutions prove necessary, it will probably weaken the forward wall considerably, as other players on the squad haven't had enough experience to fill the gaps. Haraburda is the only backfield reserve who has been in action before this season.

Windham Is Strong
Coach Andy Layden of Windham will send one of the strongest teams in the school's history here Saturday, a team that has been bowling over opponents in great style this season. Windham, being one of Manchester's most natural rivals, almost on a par with the Bristol-Manchester rivalry, is out to avenge the decisive trouncing last year and by the looks of things the victors will have a fine chance of coming through.

Windham has won five games and lost two so far this season. The game will start at 2 o'clock with Wiggin of Wesleyan as referee. Coaching of Hartford as umpire and Holm of Hartford as head-linesman.

PITY DORIS DUKE THE RICHEST GIRL

At 21 She Will Inherit Her Father's Great Fortune of 50 Million.

By JULIA BLANSHARD NEA Service Staff Correspondent
 New York, Nov. 9.—How would you feel if you woke up on November 23 to find yourself the richest girl in the world?
 Doris Duke will do just that. For on that day she will be 21 and will come into the bulk of the fortune left by her father, the late James E. Duke, "Tobacco King," which is estimated at $50,000,000 to $85,000,000.
 Probably Doris won't feel a bit different than on other days. She has always had so much money that a few millions more or less can't make much difference in her life.
 She already owns a huge house at 1 East 78th Street, that is valued at $1,800,000, is so big it looks like the Public Library, and is loaded with priceless art treasures. Also she owns "Duke Farms," a 5,000-acre place at Somerville, N. J.; "Rough Point," a huge gray stone Tudor-like castle at Newport; a vast estate in North Carolina and a small place at Antebes. When she was 14 she had a private railroad coach, named "Doris." She has always worn real pearls.
 A Typical Girl
 As a matter of fact, Doris' vast wealth, combined with her mother and father's determination that their only daughter should grow up a normal, average child, have combined to make her a little bit timid of people, rather aloof from all but a few close friends, an altogether modest, quiet, almost shrinking young woman.
 Her hair is almost too tall ever to have been more in demand by the stage-line. She is five feet eight, a whole half head taller than Barbara Hutton, who always was considered too tall for most men of the upper crust. Her nose is thin, too, which accentuates her height.
 Her best features are her eyes, clear deep-blue ones, rather wistful and sensitive and intriguingly wide-spaced, with more than a little of the Chaire Lucas slant to them. The hair is lovely blonde hair, natural. She wears no rouge, uses natural lipstick and nail polish, not scarlet. Her skin is clear, her teeth pretty looking. And there's more than a little of the Greta Garbo clean-cut look to the contour of her high cheekbones, chin-line and tall neck, though her nose is a bit big and her mouth wide.
 Typically American
 But Doris has none of the glamour of Garbo and Luce. She might pass in a crowd as a typical American girl who holds down some job or other. Given a different temperament or more conceit, and assurance she might so easily have created the dash and glamor that would have made her such a vogue name in the picture world. She would have stretched and dieted, trying to look like Doris. But she lacks all this. She has something of the "Mamma's girl" about her, a little bit of the conventual, modest manner, altogether pleasing, her lips but not likely to get most girls far among the present society moderns.
 Blue is her favorite color. Lurching at the Colony one day this summer she wore a light navy blue suit, white blouse and gloves and while her three table companions had the smartest berets atop their curls, Doris wore hers with a brim. Dining and dancing at the Casino, Doris wore ice blue satin and no jewels except a couple of diamond shoulder clips that might, it is true, have set most of us back several years' salary, but seemed innocuous enough on the world's richest girl. Crossing from France one summer, Doris never got into evening dress nor danced once, wore tweeds in either blue or white frock, and the times she walked around the deck with boys, they were followed at a short distance by her two companions, an older woman and one about her age. The three of them and her maid occupied a suite on B deck, a spacious one but by no means the most luxurious.
 Guarded Constantly
 Since the Lindbergh kidnaping, as a matter of fact, Doris has been "shadowed" by detectives constantly. She likes to walk and is often seen, when in town, going down Park Avenue, Fifth or crossing through the Fifths or Sixties. But always her Duesenberg town car trails her, with her chaperone in back and more often than not, a detective alongside of the chauffeur. Never knowing the value of money, Doris is one of the smallest tipsters among the young social set. Waiters do not fall over each other trying to serve her. One noon, at a smart restaurant, the doorman made two calls for her. She thanked him properly but did not tip him, perhaps never dreaming what a couple of nickels might mean to a doorman.

 Her New York dressmakers and hatmaker despair ever of getting her into either the very latest clothes or the most expensive. Yet when she attended Frances Clynne's opening last spring, her silver foxes, atop a conservative blue spring suit, caught the eye of all the fashion critics.
 No Dogs Or Smokes
 Being so thin, Doris has utter disregard for calories. She dines every Tuesday night at Larue's, when in the city, and always takes ravioli. Her favorite lunch is creamed chicken or some other gaily dish, with baked potatoes, and she likes the potatoes big. Nobody has ever seen her smoke and nobody ever remembers having seen her take more than two cocktails. She is the only girl in her particular "set" who doesn't bring along a dog on a leash to park in her dressing room while she lunches.
 She never goes out twice in succession with any one man. Many times rumors have connected her name romantically with various men, including State Senator Elmer F. Quinn and Sailing Baruch, but "Mamma" Duke immediately and emphatically denied all such rumors. She usually goes out even to night parties, in a group that is sure to have one or all of the following intimates: Mrs. John R. Fell, Jr.; Emily Tordinia, daughter of Francesco Tordinia, and Mrs. Doris Doyle.
 Factual
 If meeting friends for lunch, it is Doris, and not they who gets there punctually and has to wait. She never seems in a hurry. She sits quietly, looking a bit wistful, seemingly in the midst of day dreams, and yet if you or anybody else stares at her, you can see she is uncomfortable. She seems to want to appear like an average person, the kind you'd pass without particularly noticing.
 She swims, plays tennis, dances and golfs with just average dex-

NORTH COVENTRY

Monday evening about 30 of the older folks of North Coventry dropped in at the parsonage to surprise Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Shaw who were having dinner with Rev. and Mrs. Leon Austin and bid them farewell. The group presented them with a guest book and a picture, "The House by the Side of the Road."
 Mr. and Mrs. Shaw and family plan to leave Saturday for North Carolina and will make their home there.
 Tuesday Mr. and Mrs. John Kingsbury and daughter Cora went to Windsor Locks to celebrate the golden wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cleveland, cousin of Mr. Kingsbury. Many of their friends and relatives visited them throughout the day and many lovely gifts were presented.
 The Ladies' Frigate society met at the home of Mrs. Henry Barnes Wednesday. Sunshine bags were distributed among the group by the chairman of the mission committee, Mrs. John Kingsbury was appointed chairman of the committee on preparing mince meat which will be on sale at the food sale being held at Hale's department store November 25. The committee appointed for the annual Christmas sale and supper was Mrs. A. Reed, Mrs. E. Koehler, Mrs. Carl Schamm, Mrs. H. Barnes and Mrs. A. B. Porter. A chicken pie supper will be served.
 Wednesday evening the 4-H club members and various leaders met at the chapel hall for a 4-H farewell party give in honor of Marion, Laura, Ralph and Arthur Shaw and Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Shaw. Mrs. A. M. Kingsbury, first 4-H club leader of the girls presented them with gold 4-H pins. These girls have both been in club work seven years carrying on the clothing, canning, cooking and garden projects. Gilbert Storms, leader of the Coventry Happy Gardeners presented these boys with silver pins in recognition of their three years of service.
 Mrs. Arthur Reed, co-chairman of the town 4-H club committee presented Mr. Shaw with a Connecticut 4-H pin for his efforts as town chairman and Mrs. Shaw was presented with a bouquet. The 4-H group arose and repeated the 4-H pledge. Refreshments were served and after several more enjoyable games were played the party closed by all standing and singing "To the Knights in the Days of Old." Then each person faced towards home and "taps" was sung. Mr. and Mrs. Shaw and family greatly appreciated their party and expressed much joy.

TWO BADLY INJURED IN WESTPORT ACCIDENT

THE THUNDER MAN

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)
 The servants of the Thunder Man laughed loudly as two Tinies ran around with them upon their shoulders. Rattle cried, "What fun!"
 "A stunt like this I've never tried. It's almost like a horse-back ride." Then Rumble shouted, "Giddyap. How fast can you lads run?"
 "I'll tell you what," said Copy. "We will have a little race to see if I can beat we Scouty. Now you lads hang on real tight."
 "We'll race to yonder tree and then turn round and run back here again." The other Tinies gathered in a group to see the sight.
 "I'll be starter," Duncy cried. "Now, first of all, stand side-by-side, and when I holler go, both start to tear across the ground."
 He shortly gave the word and gee, it was a thrilling sight to see. The Thunder Man's small helpers both were bounding all around.
 "Hang on!" yelled Scouty, with a grin. "Cause, if you do, we're going to win." But just then little Rattle slipped and took a sudden tumble.
 "Brave Copy kept up quite a pace and, finally, he won the race. "I lost it," said we Scouty, "cause the slip forced me to stop."
 Soon Rumble said, "We've had our fun. Now, back into the trees we'll run until we find the home of our old friend, the Thunder Man."
 "It isn't very far from here and there won't be a thing to fear. The whole bunch shortly reached the home. Oh my, how they all ran. "Why, it's a big drum," Gody cried. "Is Mister Thunder Man inside?" "You bet he is," said Rattle. "He's asleep in there, no doubt."
 "Now, hold your ears tight we both pound. It's going to make an awful sound, but it's the way we run, to make the Thunder Man come out."
 (The Thunder Man pops out of the drum in the next story.)

DRIVERLESS CAR AGAIN GOES ON RAMPAGE HERE

Collides With Two Other Machines on Main Street, But Damage Slight

Three automobiles figured in an accident on Main street at 5:45 last evening when a driverless car backed away from the curbing in front of the Montgomery-Ward Company's store and went across the road, hitting two machines that were parked on the east side of the street in front of the Woolworth store. One of the automobiles was but slightly damaged, a fender being bent, but the automobile that started the trouble backing down the grade became entangled with the third car near the Woolworth building. It required the efforts of several men nearby at the time to get the two cars untangled. The damage was not so great but that both cars could be driven away under their own power. No report of the accident was made at the police station and the names of the owners of the cars were not secured.

COOK LAUNCHES DRIVE FOR FUNDS

Buys First Forget-Me-Not to Assist Distressed Veterans.

Aaron Cook chairman of the Board of Selectmen, opened the first annual Forget-Me-Not drive in Manchester yesterday afternoon when he bought the first little blue flower from Dorothy Mae Schreck, daughter of District Commander and Mrs. George Schreck, D. A. V., of 19 1-2 Eldridge street.

In accepting the flower from Miss Schreck, Chairman Cook said that he considered it a privilege to assist in promoting the welfare plans of the Veterans' group, and through the Manchester Chapter Commander, Albert Downing, urged the people of Manchester to support this first drive for welfare funds.

Due to the "presumptive clause" of the Economy Bill, many deserving Manchester veterans have been stricken from the rolls of the government. The purpose of the current drive is to provide funds to assist in relieving distressed veterans and their families denied disability allowance by the government.

Those in attendance at the ceremony at the town hall last night were: Chairman Cook, District Commander George Schreck, D. A. V.; Commander Albert Downing, Manchester Chapter, D. A. V.; Chief of Police S. G. Gordon, Selectmen John L. Jenney, David Chambers and Town Treasurer George H. Waddell.
