CWA CASH MAY HELP TO BETTER SEWERS SYSTEM

New Filter Beds, 8th District Hook-Up Considered; 450 Men to Have Jobs; 159 More Start Monday.

Manchester will be allotted approximately $45,000 and 450 men on the various CWA projects including those already in progress, under the current federal financing scheme, Town Treasurer George H. Waddell stated today after a conference with CWA officials. With 200 men already taken from the charity lists and placed on approved projects, it is expected that several other jobs will be reviewed by the committee here consisting of Frank Cheney, Jr., Harlowe Willis, Edward J. Hill and Town Treasurer George H. Waddell.

It was learned from an official source that the committee will inspect the possibilities in connection with the construction of two additional filter beds at the plant of the Manchester Sewer disposal plant on Olcott street. If this project is approved it is expected that negotiations for hooking up the Eighth and Utilities District sewer system with the town sewer disposal plant will be held with the district officials. It has been acknowledged for several years that the sewerage disposal plant of the north end district has been inadequate.

Several months ago Town Engineer J. Frank Bowen took the grade readings from the Eighth District area expected to be served by the new trunk line sewer and found that a natural sewage flow possible from the Eighth District area.

Another project which will be started soon if approved will be the clearing of the watershed of the town water system located in Glastonbury. In connection with the above project it is expected that a leave of absence will be secured from Cheney Brothers engineering office for Hayden Y. Griswold and Laberge Geer, Cheney engineers, to enable them to supervise the work. Both of the engineers are familiar with the large tract of watershed, having served in engineering capacity when the property was owned by Cheney Brothers.

Jobs For 159 Monday.
Keeping pace with the rapid strides of the Civil Works Administration, the town, through the newly formed CWA committee, yesterday selected 159 more unemployed persons from the charity list for work beginning next Monday under the federal grant. The men were ordered to report at 6:30 o'clock Monday morning at the town garage, Harrison street, near the East cemetery with their lunches prepared for work.

The total number of persons taken from the charity list and placed in gainful employment as of Monday next will be about 200, leaving approximately 100 persons on the list, 43 having been previously selected.

SWOPE TRAPPED IN AN ELEVATOR

President's Friend One of Party Held 48 Minutes on Fifteenth Floor.

New York, Nov. 24.—(AP)—Herbert Bayard Swope, friend of the President and former executive editor of the World, was trapped for 48 minutes yesterday in an elevator of the Chase National bank building.

Others in the car were Gerhard M. Dahl, chairman of the Brooklyn Manhattan Transit Company, the elevator operator and two women. The elevator slipped a cog or something in its descent on the 32nd floor, and was stopped by its safety catch 20 feet below the 15th floor.

Head 48 Minutes.
The operator opened the door onto a blank wall. He telephoned to the main floor and then assured his passengers they would be released in five minutes, but it was 48 minutes before another elevator was brought alongside. The passengers were passed through special side doors, stepping three feet over a yawning abyss to the main floor and taken safely to the ground floor.

Trapped Again.
A reception committee of building officials greeted them and extended congratulations for their heroism. The end of the workday came and Swope, weary of the day's excitement, repaired to a washroom of his own office building. He washed his hands and turned to go. The door was locked. He tugged, rattled the door and shouted. One of his secretaries rescued him.

GIRL IS KILLED AS TAXI RAMS LOCAL TRUCK

Warrenville Young Woman Dies in Accident in Bolton This Morning — Three Passengers Injured.

Miss Loville Zeller, 23, of Warrenville, is dead and Carl Watson, of Railroad street, Willimantic, and Philip Chasen, of 48 Union street, Willimantic, are both in a serious condition at Manchester Memorial hospital as a result of an automobile accident in Bolton at 2:25 this morning. Another member of the party, Donald Nichols, of 308 Jackson street, Willimantic, is also at the hospital, but his condition is not considered serious.

Driver Badly Hurt.
The dead and injured were passengers in an automobile owned by the Watson Taxi company of Railroad street, Willimantic, and driven by Carl Watson, one of the owners. He had been engaged to take the party back to Willimantic when he crashed into the rear of a large automobile truck owned by William L. Fitzgerald, of Manchester, and driven by Joseph Doherty, his brother-in-law. The truck was headed for Boston with a load of paper. It was well over on the right side of the road and just why Watson did not see it before the crash is hard to tell. Today Watson is in a semi-conscious condition, suffering from a concussion of the brain and a possible fracture of the skull. He is in no condition to explain.

This statement, which was issued by the Manchester police station at 2:30 this morning, when the driver of a Boston, Providence and New York bus, coming over the road, saw the trouble. The bus was loaded and the driver was unable to give any assistance, but on reaching Manchester Greer he imparted the information to Sergeant John McGlinn.

The Other Injured.
Watson was injured about the head and in a dazed condition. His legs were bruised and he had to be assisted into the receiving hall of the hospital.
Donald Nichols was the last to be treated. He was conscious and was suffering from body bruises and a deep cut over his right eye which

ARMS DISCUSSIONS IN NEED OF REICH

Great Britain to Do Everything Possible to Get Germany Back.

London, Nov. 24.—(AP)—Sir John Simon, foreign secretary, told the House of Commons today that Great Britain is resolved to do everything possible to make Germany, which withdrew from the disarmament conference at Geneva last month, a partner again in arms discussions.

Defending the procedure being followed in an effort to solve the disarmament problem, the foreign secretary said there could have been no procedure calculated to drive the iron into Germany's soul, than to have told her that withdrawal from the conference made no difference—that the convention would be completed and then she be asked to sign on the dotted line.

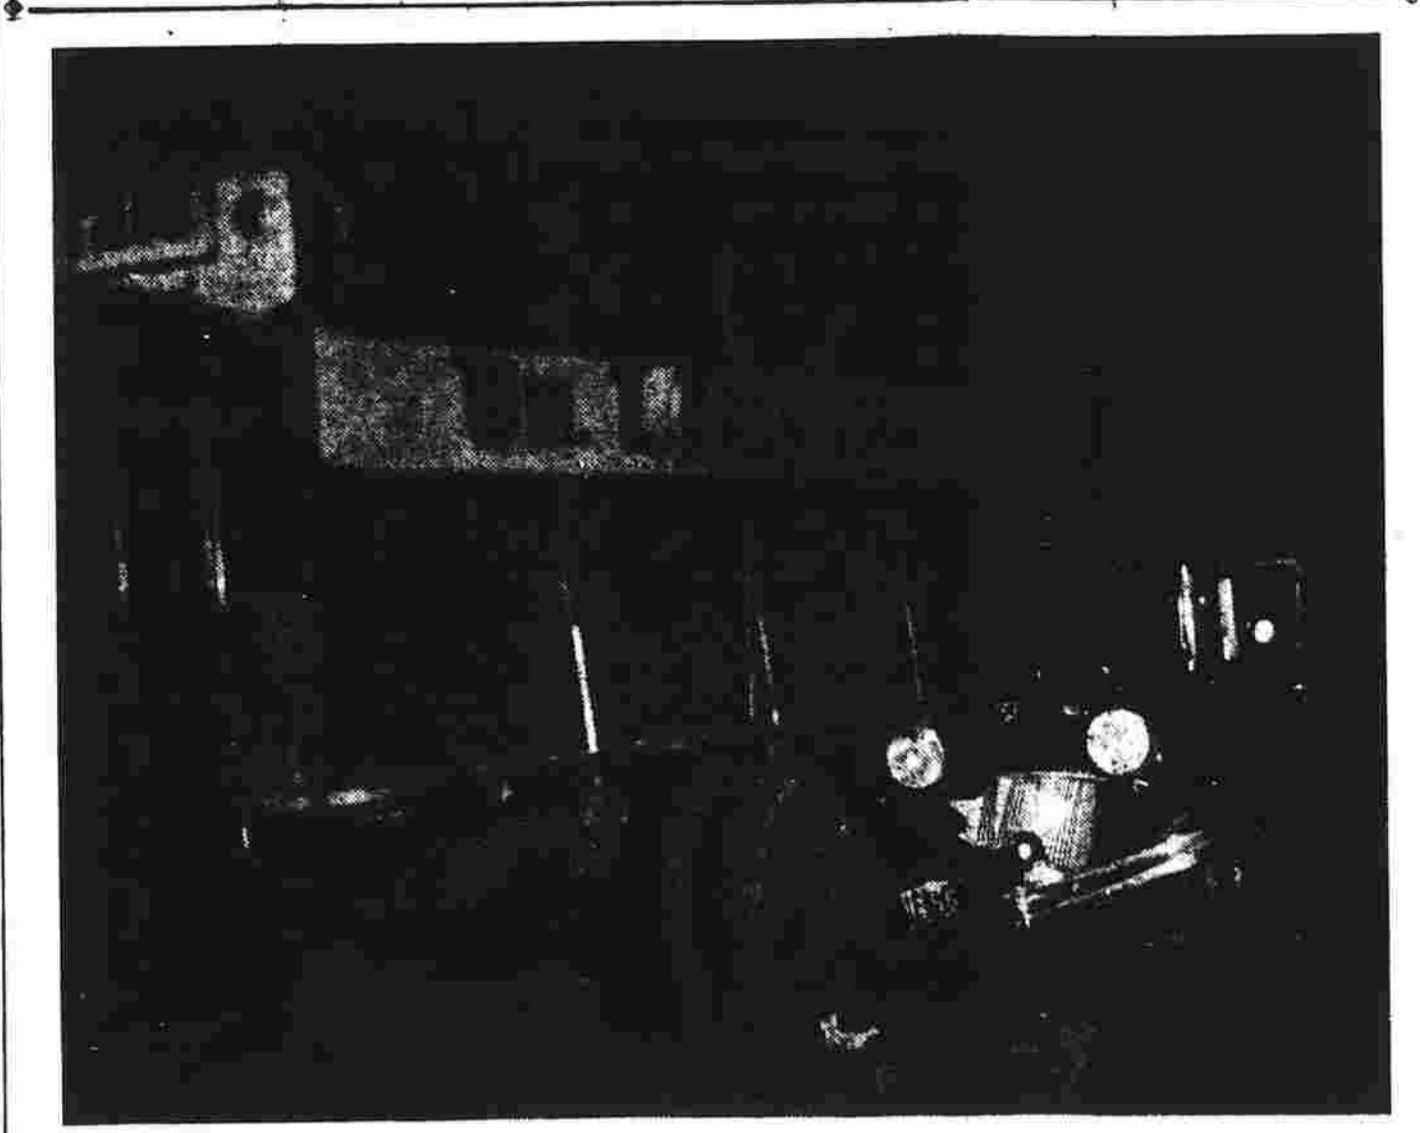

"Germany," said Sir John, "is not a target for dictation; she is a partner for discussion."
He said the government already has taken steps to play its full part in endeavoring to promote diplomatic consultations.

Advice To France.
The foreign secretary told the Legislators:
"We have already made it plain to the French government—unhappily that government fell last night, I don't believe in this respect that the French policy will change—that if she saw her way to enter into closer communications with Berlin, they would have our complete good will in doing so and if we could give any help in bringing about that closer association, we should be most happy to do so."
The British government, Simon said, had communicated to Chancellor Hitler of Germany "that we have taken a most attentive note of the declaration which he and other representatives of Germany had recently been making and had stated that the whole of our influence would be used for the purpose of trying to bring about a spirit of negotiation and cooperative action instead of keeping Germany at a distance."

Italy Agrees.
"We also," said Sir John, "have communicated to Italy how well satisfied we were to learn she agrees with us in keeping the conference in being, and how satisfied we were that the present procedure, which

As Taxi Crashed Truck In Bolton This Morning

Death of Miss Loville Zeller, 23, of Warrenville, resulted in Bolton this morning when a Willimantic taxi cab crashed into the rear end of one of William L. Fitzgerald's fleet of trucks. Three other passengers in the taxi are in the hospital here.

HULL ASKS AMERICAS TO HELP RIGHT WORLD

Secretary of State, at Rio de Janeiro, Declares "Peace Must Be Our Passion" Set Example for the Rest.

Rio De Janeiro, Nov. 24.—(AP)—Secretary of State Cordell Hull and the United States delegation arrived here today aboard the S. S. A. American Legion enroute to the Pan American conference at Montevideo.

The secretary issued a brief statement saying: "A test of the combined ability of all the American nations to outline an adequate international program of broader and more stable economic rehabilitation will come at Montevideo."

THE STATEMENT.
Washington, Nov. 24.—(AP)—All the Americas were summoned today by Secretary Hull "to help right a topsy turvy civilization."
This statement, made by Hull upon his arrival at Rio de Janeiro today on his way to the Pan American Economic Conference at Montevideo, was made public here through the State Department.

"Peace must be our passion," Hull declared. "By being the best of good neighbors let us offer the finest prospect."

WELLES TO RETURN TO UNITED STATES

Ambassador to Cuba Transferred to State Dept.—Caffery Succeeds Him.

Warm Springs, Ga., Nov. 24.—(AP)—President Roosevelt is changing ambassadors at Cuba in the confidence of the early establishment of a government there through stability.
Apparently satisfied that the provisional government of President Grau San Martin "will reach some peaceful agreement" in the near future which "may result in general support of a government," he announced his diplomatic transfer suddenly last night.

"Ambassador Sumner Welles after a return to Cuba to complete the understanding is returning to the United States as assistant secretary of State and Jefferson Caffery, present assistant secretary of state, is going to Havana."
President's Hopes.
"We earnestly hope," said Mr. Roosevelt in his statement, "that in the near future through a spirit of compromise on all sides, the Cuban people themselves will reach some peaceful agreement which may result in general support of a government and thus avoid continued civil disturbance."

Whether the new move means recognition of the Grau San Martin regime was left to speculation, but significance was attached to the presidential declaration urging "a spirit of compromise on all sides."

71 ARE INDICTED ON LIQUOR CHARGE

Pennsylvania State Senator Among Them; Protected Sellers, the Charge Reads.

Philadelphia, Nov. 24.—(AP)—State Senator John J. McClure and seventy defendants were convicted today on a Federal charge of participating in the alleged Delaware county liquor "protection" organization.

All were specifically charged with conspiracy to violate the National prohibition law.
Among those convicted were Eugene F. White, chief clerk of the Pennsylvania House of Representatives; a number of Chester's Republican ward leaders; former constables and magistrates, and many alleged liquor law violators.

There was no demonstration in the court room, but a short-lived cheer broke out from the crowd which jammed the corridor outside.
Suspense in the courtroom was intense for those awaiting the verdict as the clerk read the entire list of defendants' names before pronouncing the word, "guilty." For several minutes the verdict was not known although it was being read.

All that could be told immediately was that the defendants went free or went to jail together.

No Bail.
Judge George A. Welsh had announced yesterday that anyone convicted would be sent to jail immediately. He said bail would be granted under no circumstances.

Counsel for Senator McClure and the others immediately conferred with Judge Welsh regarding imposition of sentences, motions for a new trial and a probable appeal to the Federal Circuit Court.
The government charged that the protection organization levied tribute on law violators throughout Delaware county and paid police officers to enforce its mandates.
$220,000 a Year.
One witness who said he was a "personal investigator" for McClure estimated that the ring collected more than $220,000 in its peak year. The government said the organization existed more than ten years.

Each defendant faces a maximum sentence of five years.

Deflate NRA Ballyhoo, Bruce Barton's Appeal

Boston, Nov. 24.—(AP)—The ninth New England Conference today heard Bruce Barton, New York advertising executive, urging "deflation of government ballyhoo."
In a speech prepared for delivery before the conference, Barton expressed the belief the whole recovery program of the Administration "has seriously handicapped itself by its own ballyhoo."
"The NRA is a sound and inspiring effort," he said, "but why is it necessary for General Johnson to surround himself with a brigade of publicity men? Why the tumult and the shouting? Why the parades?"
"When you say to the American public: 'We are going to try, slowly and earnestly, to restore purchasing power and get people back to work, they are willing to tighten their belts and go along with you. But when you say: 'March up Fifth avenue, and everything will be all right,' when you promise to get millions back to work immediately and then have to confess that you are far short of your goal—that destroys the very faith you are attempting to build up."
"Similarly, with the farm problem. The farmer is sore at being broke. And properly so. But he is even more sore at being kidded. He has been promised too much, over too long a period of time. Why shouldn't the government tell the truth, that there has always been a farm problem and always will be; that it exists in every country in the world; that only gradual betterment is within the range of possibility; why does each succeeding administration promise the farmer more than it possibly can deliver?"

CABINET FALLS IN FRANCE; NEW LEADER SOUGHT

President Asks George Bonnet to Serve as Premier—Herriot Is Certain to Refuse Acceptance of Post.

Paris, Nov. 24.—(AP)—Official sources said today they expected President Lebrun to ask Georges Bonnet, minister of finance in the Cabinet of Albert Sarraut, overthrown last night, to form a new Cabinet and serve as premier of France.

Lebrun is known to admire Bonnet and was said to be hopeful of a quick selection of a competent financial Cabinet in order to avert danger from the franc.

Friends of Edouard Herriot, former premier, insisted that the time was not ripe for his resumption of power.
Through the lobbies of the Chamber of Deputies, which has overthrown three Cabinets already this year, ran the prediction that Lebrun would offer the premiership to Herriot as a courtesy, that Herriot would refuse, and that then the President would turn to Camille Chautemps, minister of the Interior in the Sarraut Cabinet.

Herriot To Refuse.
Herriot was said to be sure to refuse because of his health—he has just recovered from a serious three months' illness—and a dislike for being in the ministry on Dec. 15, the anniversary of France's default on payment of its war debts to the United States when he was premier.

Chautemps it was said, plans a resurrection of the cartel, believing he would receive the support of the Socialists and fearing an eventual "public safety" Cabinet otherwise.
A "public safety" Cabinet already has been called for by Deputy Emile Morinaud, under-secretary of physical education in former Premier Laval's ministry. Morinaud asked all Republicans to support such a government to restore French finances as did the late Raymond Poincare in 1926.

TREASURY BALANCE.
Washington, Nov. 24.—(AP)—The position of the Treasury Nov. 22 was: Receipts, $80,606,792.28; expenditures, $106,057,498.78; balance, $1,198,182,990.69; customs receipts for the month $20,139,943.19; receipts for fiscal year to date (since July 1), $1,110,214,565.23; expenditures, $1,792,066,080.41 including $622,158,457 emergency expenditures; excess of expenditures, $681,851,525.18.

RESERVE BANK DENIES BUCKING THE TREASURY

Only U. S. Bonds Sold in Weeks Went to Federal Farm Group in Routine Operation Bank Explains.

New York, Nov. 24.—(AP)—Authoritative sources close to the New York Federal Reserve Bank today expressed indignation at suggestions in Washington that the Reserve System had been opposing the Treasury in its support of the market for U. S. government bonds.

While the weekly statement of the Reserve System showed its holdings of U. S. government bonds had declined $1,000,000, it was learned in a reliable quarter that this was due entirely to a repurchase agreement with one of the government sponsored farm credit organizations in one of the middlewestern reserve districts.

Deny Sales by Banks.
It was emphatically stated that the Reserve Banks had not sold any U. S. government securities in the open market in many weeks. It was explained that through repurchase agreements, the Reserve System's portfolio almost always fluctuates a little from week to week.

The Reserve Banks, for instance, make a practice of extending credit to meet temporary requirements to Federal Land banks by purchasing U. S. government securities from them, with an agreement that the Land Bank will buy them back at a certain time.

These quarters insisted that the cessation of open market purchases of U. S. government bonds, two weeks ago should not be interpreted as a withdrawal of support from the government bond market, that the whole open market purchasing policy of the last several months had nothing to do with supporting the market, but was a program designed to spur credit expansion by a withdrawal of support from the member banks of the system and Breaks Down After Three Days of Grilling by Chicago Police — Says She Administered Chloroform to Deaden Pain Suffered by Young Woman — Then Became Panic Stricken and Shot Her.

Chicago, Nov. 24.—(AP)—The confession of Dr. Alice Lindsay Wynkoop that she fired a bullet into the heart of her daughter-in-law, Rheta, while the girl was unconscious was announced today by Capt. John Stege.

Breaking down at last after nearly three days of exhausting examination, the 62 year old woman physician acknowledged that she had administered chloroform to her son's 28 year old wife, in examining her for a pelvic pain of which the girl had complained.

She had gone to her surgical office in the basement of her Monroe street house last Tuesday afternoon to find Rheta, partly undressed, weighing herself.

Rheta complained of severe pains Dr. Wynkoop said, and she placed the young woman on her operating table and began to administer chloroform to ease the pain and facilitate examination.

Dr. Wynkoop told Capt. Stege she kept asking Rheta if she could feel the pain and that her daughter-in-law continued to answer affirmatively. Finally, the physician explained, Rheta lost consciousness and for 35 minutes she tried strenuously to revive her.

In Panic Stricken.
When she realized she was losing ground, Dr. Alice said, she became panic stricken.

"All the events of my life flashed through my mind," Dr. Wynkoop was quoted, "and I thought of a pistol in an adjoining room."
Fearful of blame for killing the girl with the anaesthetic, she said she obtained the pistol and, holding it five inches from the bare back of the unconscious girl, she fired a single shot. That shot penetrated the shoulder blade and passed through Rheta's heart.

Capt. Stege placed the time of the killing between 2:30 and 3 p. m., (Central Standard Time). Dr. Wynkoop was quoted as saying at a time when Dr. Wynkoop had said previously she was absent from the 16 room mansion.

For the first time since the mysterious killing Dr. Alice and her son Earle, had met in police quarters where both had been subjected to night long questioning, separately. Near the breaking point but always protesting his innocence, the 28 year old widower had said he knew of a motive and wanted to see his mother.

On her shoulder she sobbed a plea that she admit her guilt if she had done it, because of her great love for him.
Looking solemnly into his reddened eyes, she said "I didn't do it." Earle had told police his wife had been termed by a physician "slightly deranged," and she had put iron filings and drugs in food at their home.

Final Questioning.
After their two hour meeting, Earle had been led away to lunch-noon. Then began the final questioning that resulted in the doctor's statement, with which Police Captain still professed to be unsatisfied.

Stege said he found a bloodstained blanket in the house and had concealed this discovery from Dr. Alice.
Captain Stege asserted the large amount of blood soaked in the blanket led him to disbelieve Rheta had been chloroformed before she was shot and that physicians, had sustained his theory.

When Burdine H. Gardner, father of the slain woman, was informed of the mother-in-law's statement, he said: "All I can say is give her the limit."
The coroner's inquest was reconvened at 1:30 p. m., to hear the new evidence.

DOCTOR'S CONFESSION

Chicago, Nov. 24.—(AP)—The alleged confession of Dr. Alice Lindsay Wynkoop as made public today by Capt. John Stege and Dr. Harry Hotzman of the Cook County Behavioral Clinic follows:
"On the 21st of November, about 11:30 or 2:00 o'clock in the afternoon, Rheta decided she would go to the Loop and buy some music."
"She went down to my surgical chamber to weigh herself when she changed her clothing. I went down there with her. When she had removed her clothing I told her to get up on the table and let me examine her side."
"She got up on the table and I got a bottle of chloroform and began massaging her side with it. Since this particular portion of her body was sensitive to pain, I suggested that she take enough chloro-

SECRETARY RESIGNS POST

Everett J. Simonds Will Take Up Boys' Work in New Mexico.

Everett J. Simonds, of 79 North Main street, general secretary of the Manchester Y. M. C. A. since September, 1932, tendered his resignation to the directors of the association last night, giving as his reason for leaving Manchester, a desire to re-enter boys' work among Spanish-speaking people in the western part of the United States.

Secretary Simonds informed the Board of Directors that he has secured a position in Albuquerque, New Mexico. There, Mr. Simonds stated, he will re-enter the type of work in which he was formerly engaged with boys in Cuba, Mexico and Puerto Rico. The University of New Mexico is located in Albuquerque, and his work will be with a large percentage of the students of that college. He will also be with a day's ride of other members of his family.

Mr. Simonds suffered the loss of his wife about two months ago shortly after a religious meeting at Center Church. Both Mr. and Mrs. Simonds took an active part in the work of the North Methodist church, Mrs. Simonds being especially interested in the community and church endeavors due to her breadth of experience in many foreign lands.

A graduate of Nebraska Wesleyan University, with a degree of Bachelor of Science in 1905, Mr. Simonds received his Master of Arts degree at Yale in 1911. He did Y. M. C. A. work in India and Cuba. Later he became general secretary of the San Juan association.

While in Puerto Rico, Mr. Simonds was a moving factor in the organization and promotion of the Puerto Rico camp, occupying a site of 20 acres in a beautiful location in the Manayes river, which included in the camp conveniences a Rotary lodge, a Masonic hall, a small infirmary and three dormitories.

The retiring secretary came to Manchester with the reputation of being a good administrator and particularly able in business management. During his short term here he ably demonstrated his capabilities. His last assignment before coming to Manchester was as secretary, Mexico, where he was general secretary of the National Council.

During Mr. Simonds' absence for a month, following his wife's death here and the death of his mother, subsequently, the position at Manchester Y. M. C. A. was taken by Robert Thayer, of Springfield College, who served in Puerto Rico with secretary Simonds.

No successor to Secretary Simonds has been named by the directors of the Y. M. C. A. It is with the deepest regret that the directors of the local association and officers and officials of church and civic groups bid adieu to Mr. Simonds as he enters a field of labor in the Southwest.

CWA CASH MAY HELP TO BETTER SEWERS SYSTEM

lected and placed on the Summit street job last Monday. The latter group will have completed the first full federal week Saturday and Town Treasurer George H. Wadsworth will receive checks for the local workers at the Hartford disbursing agency this afternoon. The men will be paid at the rate of 45 cents an hour for unskilled labor and not exceeding 60 cents an hour for skilled labor. Construction jobs will pay the northern zone rates which reach $1.20 an hour for certain forms of skilled and a minimum of 50 cents an hour for unskilled labor.

It is expected that some of the men thus placed on highway jobs may be unable to perform the type of work allotted them. If other and lighter tasks cannot be found it is expected that they will revert to the list from which they were taken.

Twelve Jobs Approved The completion of Summit street through from Henry street to William street was the first local project approved by the CWA, work on it having begun last Monday. Eleven other jobs have been approved and the 15th men notified to appear for work on Monday will be assigned to these various highway projects. Two jobs originally included in the program of Town Engineer J. Frank Bowen, one a culvert job on Adams street and a storm-water sewer project on Hamilton street will be completed and paid for out of the regular appropriations voted at the annual town meeting.

The complete schedule of the work to be done beginning Monday, follows: Broad street (harder), from Station 20 to Hilliard street; Brookfield street, (complete all); Harrison street, grade, Pearl to Bissell; Adams street roadway (all after culvert is laid); Carter, Finley and Kenney streets, (cleaning gutters); Middle Turnpike West near Hills property (widening); Bidwell street, Kenney to Wetherell street (gravel and widening); Doane street (grading); South Main street (west side widening and gravel and widening); Line street (east end) and Gardner street (south end) widening; North Main street (north side), excavate for gravel walk.

No estimate is known of the amount of labor in hours or cost of the projects under the CWA plan.

The CWA committee is at work on other projects which are expected to provide work for double the number of men now engaged. The committee is not able at the present time to definitely state what these projects are, but it is hoped that early next week the plans will be advanced to a stage sufficient for submission to the CWA state authority for approval.

Town Treasurer George H. Wadsworth is requesting all owners or operators of trucks equipped with dump bodies desiring work to report their equipment at the CWA employment office at once. Trucks will be used on a 30-hour schedule, weekly.

First Week Ended The first week under the CWA plan was completed at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon on the Summit street project. A small force of highway workmen are staking out the lines for culverts on the north and end of the right of way, which will control the flow of White's brook, crossing the road a short distance south of the intersection of Williams and Summit streets.

THANKSGIVING SERVICE AT EMANUEL LUTHERAN

Choir of 45 Voices Will Appear for First Time in New Robes in Sacred Program.

A Thanksgiving service will be held at the Emanuel Lutheran church Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock. The Emanuel choir of 45 voices will appear for the first time in their new robes and will present a special program of sacred music entirely from memory.

The Emanuel choir will also, at this time, celebrate its ninth anniversary. An appropriate message will be given by the Rev. K. E. Erickson, and refreshments will be served in the church vestry after the service, to which all are invited.

He expressed his pleasure at being in Brazil's capital and added: "The peoples of our two countries as well as the people of the entire western hemisphere to a large extent have common interests and common aspirations, socially, morally and politically. The progress of each depends more and more upon the progress of its sister republics."

Acute Problems "The problems of commerce and peace facing all our countries today are most acute and the collapsed business conditions in the Americas as in most other parts of the world show that there has been something seriously wrong with our business leadership."

The first test for all of us—the 21 nations of the American fraternity—will be the test we can now show enough vision, enough unselfishness and enough sanity to reconstruct this leadership while that of the rest of the world struggles against the danger of a threatened breakdown. The world is more and more looking to us.

Constructive Plans "A number of American governments including that of the United States headed by President Roosevelt have already launched constructive domestic programs for business recovery. The best of the combined ability of all the American nations to outline an adequate international program for broader and more stable economic rehabilitation will come at Montevideo."

"If while there, they can but agree upon the chief features of such a program in a spirit of absolute unity and cooperation—what some call 'team work'—the foundation will be laid for real progress."

Hull said "we cannot afford to think in terms of material prosperity alone," adding: "We know now that it is madness for international strife to inflict famine and despair upon whole populations. So we must take stock of all our blessings in this favored part of the world—all our cultural, political, social and material assets—and bring them to bear by united efforts to help right a topsy turvy civilization. Let Americas show the way."

LOCAL AUTO AND BREAD TRUCK IN COLLISION

Pearl Street Man and Passenger Not Hurt; Bread Spread Over Silver Lane

Considerable damage resulted to a Rockee sedan owned and driven by Walter E. Hanan, of 155 Pearl street early this morning when the car was struck by a Bond Bakery delivery truck, driven by Albert Robitow of Hartford on the Silver Lane road, just west of the pickle factory. The truck was also damaged and the driver was slightly cut, while the passengers in the sedan escaped without injury.

Hanan told East Hartford police he was driving in to Hartford about 8 o'clock this morning. He saw the truck approaching and thought the driver intended to make a left turn into Roberts street. Accordingly he slowed down and turned out to allow the truck plenty of room, when suddenly the driver of the oncoming machine seemed to change his mind, he said, and bore to the right instead, colliding with Hanan's machine. Hanan had two passengers in his car, Henry Straw and Andrew Ferguson, both of Brookfield street. No arrests were made.

ASSASSINATORS COMPLETE TEDIOUS AUTO LIST

Do Unusually Fast Job in Making Out Assessments—No Extra Help Used.

Working at top speed and taking time off only during the lunch hour at noon, the three members of the Board of Assessors have established a record in making out the automobile list.

The job will be finished this afternoon. The Assessors have been working on the automobile list since November 10. This means it has taken Chairman Emil L. G. Hohenthal, Thomas Lewis and Henry Murtre only 14 days to complete this arduous task. What makes the record all the more remarkable is the fact that the Assessors have done the work without assistance. Last year and the year before men taken from the unemployed lists have assisted. Last year they finished the work in about three weeks' time.

KEMP'S OFFER RADIO THANKSGIVING SPECIAL

Kemp's, Inc., local radio dealers, carrying a line of well-known standard radios, are making a special offer in radios for Thanksgiving. This long established house has made it possible to get a standard 1934 radio at a big reduction, as carried in this advertisement of today. Radios such as Bosch, Majestic and Radiola have been lowered in price, making it possible to have good music and entertainment for the holidays, at low costs.

In connection with the special offer in radios, Kemp's, Inc., are also making a "Saturday Only" special in radio tubes, allowing an unusually large discount on all tubes purchased Saturday. The quality of tubes offered in this special event is the best, as Kemp's handle the standard line of R. C. A. and Cunningham tubes. Many people are expected to take advantage of this timely sale, which offers fine radios at very low prices.

The trucks hired will be used on the 30 hour weekly schedule approved by the Civil Works Administration.

MAPLE LANE ROOMS OPENED AT KEMP'S

Series of Rooms Display Maple Furniture—Creates Considerable Interest.

Maple Lane a series of unusual rooms, to display maple furniture has been set up at Kemp's Inc., local furniture dealers, and is creating a great deal of interest in the use of maple furniture. The rooms, five in number are so constructed as to allow ideal arrangement of various types of decorative schemes using maple furniture, and as maple furniture is becoming more and more popular, it lends itself to many ideas of decoration. The very beautiful line of maple furniture carried by Kemp's Inc., has aroused public interest along this line, and Kemp's are adding many new pieces to their line in order to show the many interesting creations which have been developed.

Already many people have viewed the new set-up at Kemp's, and the public is cordially invited to go to their store at their leisure and browse around, to see the interesting display which has been arranged. Furniture has become an increasingly active part of the business conducted by Kemp's Inc., and the quality merchants so reasonably priced has played an important part in the development of this department.

The rooms of Maple Lane will be changed regularly, and an invitation is extended to the public to call when convenient, to see the display of maple furniture, so ideally arranged.

TOWN CLERK IS KEPT BUSY MAKING RECORDS

Lawyers Say Samuel Turkington's Information is Complete and Up to Date.

These are busy days at the office of the Manchester town clerk. The books are in use most of the day and, as a result, Town Clerk Samuel J. Turkington, before his illness, worked nights to get the deeds recorded.

The examination of the records is now being done by Harold Garrity, appointed by the selectmen as

GENTLEMAN'S CLOAK INSPIRES DESIGNER

New Woman's Evening Wrap Follows Lines of a Garment of 1830.

New York, Nov. 24.—(AP)—A gentleman's opera cloak of 1830 has inspired a new evening wrap by Muriel King.

This young American designer studies the old prints in the Metropolitan Museum library, and usually her groups are after one period. One of her first was inspired by Fifteenth Century armor, and another by the costumes of Sarah Bernhardt.

Her current collection has an air of the early Nineteenth Century. The fabrics of her evening gowns are full-bodied silks—stiff faille taffetas and old-fashioned bengaline.

The colors are the old pinks, cocoa browns and violets one sees in the Godey prints.

The "opera cloak" is of taupe upholstery satin, lined with violet. It has great violet lapels, a full, floor-length "skirt" and trails at the back.

Despite their period influence, her gowns are modified to modern needs. They are simple in line, but sophisticated.

A Beautiful Gown

One of her most beautiful gowns is of old-fashioned bengaline in dull pink. Its pre-Victorian overskirt has a satin-lined "waterfall" in the back, and skirt pleats below.

A cocoa faille, so stiff that it will almost stand alone, has two double skirt flounces. A cocoa tulle hat and wine colored bengaline gloves are worn with it.

Then there is a navy blue moire cocktail dress—impressive with moire gloves and a "Merry Widow" hat. A black and white striped chiffon, worn over a white slip, has a skirt that is yards around, made with multiple gores.

Her most practical costume is an all-day suit—a black ribbed wool skirt and a light weight coat. It has a heavy white satin blouse, worn inside the skirt for street and out for evening.

TOLLAND

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Pearson of Hartford were Sunday guests of relatives.

The regular meeting of Tolland Grange No. 51, P. of H. was held in the community house Tuesday evening. After the regular business, the Lecturers' program was conducted by the officers. A duet by the Misses Maud and Gertrude Von Deck, Mrs. Alice West, pianist, reading, Mrs. Bernice Hayden; solo, John Edwards, Mrs. Edwards, pianist; reading, Mrs. Ellen B. West; music by Mrs. Leila Hull, pianist, with Mrs. Frances Bushnell, banjo and Mrs. Louise Wochomurka, violin. A sketch, Mrs. Charles Broadbent, Mrs. Louise Wochomurka, John Edwards and Harry Labonta and two games when the Grange entered the contest. At the close of the program refreshments were served during the refreshments were served during the social hour. Reading Mrs. John H. Steele.

Saturday evening Nov. 23, a class of candidates will be initiated into the first and second degrees in Tolland Grange. Candidates from neighboring granges will also take the degrees with Tolland. The ladies degree team of Ellington Grange will have charge of the evening.

The November meeting of the Men's Community Club of Tolland will be held in the social rooms of the Federated church at 8 o'clock Friday evening, Nov. 24th. The speaker will be Clifford W. Cox, 4-H Club leader of Tolland County. Mr. Cox will speak on Boys' 4-H Clubs and will show moving pictures of his work. This lecture will be followed by a social hour. All the men of the community are invited. Committee of arrangements are John H. Steele, I. Tilden Jewitt, Charles Leonard and Preston Meacham. Refreshments will be served.

There will be a dance at Cheerio Ballroom, Friday evening, November 24th for the benefit of the Tolland Fire Department, Inc. Four turkeys and four roosters will be given away.

Mrs. Ida Gold and son Stanley Gold of Hartford have been recent guests of Mrs. Gold's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Chorches.

ROCKVILLE

HIGH SCHOOL TEACHERS UNITED IN MARRIAGE

Kenneth Little, Miss Kierstead of High School Faculty, Principals in Wedding Today.

For the first time in the history of the Rockville high school, two members of the school faculty will be united in marriage this afternoon when Miss Grace Kierstead, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William O. Kierstead of Hartford and Marlborough, became the bride of Kenneth Little, whose home is at Cornwall-on-the-Hudson, New York.

The ceremony will be performed at 4 o'clock at the home of Miss Kierstead's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Grant U. Kierstead of No. 1 Willshire Lane, West Hartford.

The officiating clergyman will be Rev. Dr. J. N. Lackey, pastor of the Central Baptist Church of Hartford, assisted by Rev. Elmer T. Thienes of Marlborough.

The attendants are Miss Eileen Murphy and Paul Roden.

Bride, groom, bridesmaid and best man are all members of the Rockville High School faculty, which is attending the ceremony in a body.

The bride will be given in marriage by her father William O. Kierstead.

Miss Kierstead will wear white lace with train and veil, caught up with cap ornamentation and will carry a shower bouquet of white roses and gardenias.

Miss Eileen Murphy, the bridesmaid, will be attired in green velvet with brown velvet hat and will carry chrysanthemums.

A reception is to be held at the Kierstead home immediately following the ceremony at which the bride's aunt, Mrs. Kierstead, will be hostess.

Shortly after 6 o'clock Mr. and Mrs. Little will leave on a wedding trip.

A reception was held several days ago at the Rockville high school by the girls' basketball squad of which Mrs. Little is the coach as well as gymnastic director for girls. Miss Ruth Ferguson upon behalf of the basketball squad, in which she is the manager, made a presentation of a gold electric clock, while another group presented a complete coffee service.

Mr. Little is head of the machine shop at the school; Mr. Roden is head of the woodworking department and Miss Murphy is instructor in French.

Interest in Basketball

Unusual interest is being shown in the organization of a basketball league in Rockville this year with indications there will be thirty or more teams in the municipal gymnasium. More than a score of teams met with the Board of Selectmen on Wednesday evening at which time both junior and senior leagues were organized.

Various civic organizations are to sponsor the basketball leagues again this year with the Rockville Lions Club coming forward sponsoring a league of six teams. A detailed schedule for the use of the basketball leagues will be announced by the Board of Selectmen within a few days as it has been decided to sponsor the leagues to use the town hall as its former years.

County Dealers Meeting

The Tolland County Automobile Dealers Association will hold a meeting in the Superior Court room, Memorial building, on Monday evening. At this time plans will be discussed by the dealers concerning the organization of a local NRA committee.

John Dalley, who was recently appointed Tolland County NRA code administrator, will address this meeting on his recent visit to Hartford when the organization was discussed.

TALCOTTVILLE

John G. Talcott, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Charles Blankenburg, Miss Doris Rivenburg, Miss Ethel Cleveland and Thomas Lotus attended the Missionary Rally held at Somersville on Wednesday evening.

Arthur Koch returned to his studies at the Rockville High school after a week's absence due to a dislocated shoulder.

Mrs. Robert Koch, who has been staying at the home of her son, Edward Koch, with a fractured arm had the misfortune to fall on Wednesday and is now a patient at Manchester Memorial hospital.

IN BANKRUPTCY

New Haven, Nov. 24.—(AP)—Ely Scoler who described himself as a restaurant worker of Hartford has filed a bankruptcy petition giving his debts at $47,688 and assets at $100.

Kenia Ohmer, of New Milford, hotel business, in a petition gave his debts at $11,086 and assets at $8,300, and Edward G. Ohmer of the same place and occupation gave his debts at $26,500 and assets of $15,421.

LEGION RIFLE RANGE OPENS TOMORROW

Major Allen L. Dexter to Fire Golden Bullet in Basement of Selwitz Block.

Major Allen L. Dexter, Plans and Training Officer of the 169th Infantry, C. N. G., will fire the traditional "golden bullet" at the opening ceremonies of the new Legion Rifle Club's range in the basement of the Selwitz Block, Main street, at 1 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

The Legion team has engaged the basement quarters, formerly a bowling alley, for this purpose, and it is expected that home and home small-bore matches of the Charter Oak Rifle League will be held on the local range.

In conjunction with the opening of the range, the club will hold a turkey shot, to which all members of the club and their friends are invited. The matches will start shortly after 1 o'clock, competitors using the 22 caliber rifles. Ammunition and rifles will be furnished those who compete, a small donation being required of each person who participates. Competitors may re-enter as many matches as he desires.

The Legion Rifle club is on par with other rifle clubs in the state, but until now has been handicapped by the lack of an indoor range. In the several matches shot, the local riflemen have been at a distinct disadvantage, having shot on ranges with which they were not familiar. It is expected that the new range will increase local competition, the formation of other clubs here being anticipated.

All persons interested in rifle shooting are invited by the Legion team members to inspect the range from 1 p. m. until 8 p. m. tomorrow. The club is composed of 20 active members and the unit is affiliated with the National Rifle Association.

FOUR HURT IN CRASH

Hartford, Nov. 24.—(AP)—Four women were injured in the crash of two automobiles on the Silas Deane highway here late yesterday. Three of the victims are in Hartford hospital, after their car burned.

The injured are: Mrs. Julia Hoar, 29, of Middletown, driver of the burned car; Miss Gladys Wallace, 22, of Hartford; Miss Gladys Wheeler, 24, of West Hartford; Mrs. Dorothy Drake, 34, of Hartford, wife of the driver of the second car, who was treated for a lacerated nose.

The two automobiles collided on a slight grade when, police said, John B. Drake, the driver of one, told them, Mrs. Hoar's sedan turned out from a line of on-coming traffic into the path of his heavier machine.

B. M. Hampton of Newport Richey, Fla., published his first book of poems and celebrated his ninety-second birthday about the same time.

Briefs

Mayor Albert E. Waite, who is a patient at the Rockville City hospital, expects to return to his home late this evening or early tomorrow morning. He was reported as very much improved at the hospital last evening.

GILEAD

The regular meeting of Hebron Grange No. 111 was held at the Gilead Hall Tuesday evening. The 1st and 2nd degrees were conferred on John Horton, William Steele, John Hooker, Barbara Fish, Edward A. Foote and Andrew Hooker. The work in the 1st degree was performed by the officers of the Grange and in the 2nd degree by the Women's degree team of the Manchester Grange. The work by the ladies was beautifully done and their costumes were very attractive. There were remarks by Mrs. Loomis, Mr. Martin and Mr. Joyner of the Manchester Grange. About fifty members of the Manchester Grange attended the meeting. Refreshments were served by the local Grange.

Asa W. Ellis, Robert E. Foote and Joseph Barrasso attended a Farm Bureau meeting in Andover Tuesday evening.

FEAR WRESTLER'S NECK WAS BROKEN IN BOUT

Camden, N. J., Nov. 24.—(AP)—Stanley Pinto, heavyweight wrestler from Ravens, Wis., was in a hospital today after a bout with Ed (Strangler) Lewis and physicians fear his neck may be broken.

Lewis threw Pinto last night in the first of a scheduled two-out-of-three fall match and the Nebraskan was unable to continue.

In his dressing room, Pinto collapsed and was taken to a hospital. He revived and went to his hotel but later was found unconscious in his room, being again rushed to the hospital.

Physicians said they planned an X-ray examination of his cervical vertebrae today.

Jangled nerves sap your vitality

Every time you let jangled nerves get the best of you... Every time you bang the door off its hinges, or "want to scream," you're taking it out of yourself.

Door banging, screaming and such antics are rude to say the least, and make your family and your friends uncomfortable... But — most important, each fit of temper you give way to is sapping your own vitality, making the next tantrum easier, ruining your health, your digestion, your disposition.

Watch your nerves. Get your full amount of sleep every night. Eat regularly and sensibly. Find time for recreation. And smoke Camels — for Camels' costlier tobacco never get on your nerves.

COSTLIER TOBACCOS

Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE tobaccos than any other popular brand of cigarettes!

CAMELS — THEY NEVER GET ON YOUR NERVES!

Queer Twists In Day's News

Waynesburg, Pa.—A holder of judgment notes wants a cut out of a fund left by Levi Funk, bachelor, for the establishment of a club to educate housewives in his system of meat cutting. Armstrong Grim says he holds Funk's notes for $4,500.

Council Bluffs, Iowa — Charles Heath, church janitor, who takes a bromine medicine for sleeplessness and takes it in grape juice, got his sedative mixed with the communion grape juice. A hundred communicants partook of the soporific mixture. The congregation drowsed; several members reported slight sickness. The First Christian church is seeking a new janitor.

Friendship, Wis.—Emile Greico, who has had to borrow a pistol when he thought his duties would require one, will soon have a small arsenal supplied by the county.

The sheriff was wounded while attempting a clothing store here. He said he wanted to give the footwear to a transient who had begged him for a dime. But the explanation was of no avail.

Albany, Oregon—Jack Lynch told the court a philanthropic urge prompted him to take four pairs of socks from a clothing store here. He said he wanted to give the footwear to a transient who had begged him for a dime. But the explanation was of no avail.

Lynch was sentenced to six months in the county jail for larceny.

Goldbeach, Ore.—An unusually mild fall has brought some curious natural developments to this Pacific coast region. Rhododendrons which usually flower in June, are in full bloom on the south slopes of Grizzly mountain. Azaleas are reported blooming along the Rouge river. Scotch broom along the coast highway is budding.

Philadelphia — Consternation reigns among a lot of youngsters with their minds on December 25, and they're planning appeals to the National Labor Board, or Santa Claus. The trouble is that 250 toy makers went on strike for more money and—of all things, say the kids, union recognition at a time like this.

Ardmore, Pa.—Things looked black for William Hairton, unemployed and charged with stealing a big, fat turkey. The magistrate was debating what to do with the prisoner, when a big, red faced man stepped up. "I'll pay for this turkey," he said. "Let the man go back to his family." He placed $3 on the desk and put the turkey back in Hairton's arms. The red faced man? Oh, he was Police Lieutenant Charles Duke, the prosecuting officer.

Overnight A. P. News

Waterbury, Conn.—William John Reilly, 24, former football player at Villanova college, Villanova, Pa., dies.

New Haven — Journal-Courier says officers of Yale University deny reports that President Angell will retire in 1935.

Springfield, Mass.—Edward Kinney, 74, for more than 40 years an expert violin maker, dies.

LOWER INTEREST RATES

Stamford, Nov. 24.—(AP)—Gov. Wilbur L. Cross has reiterated his belief, in a letter to D. A. Rubin, an attorney of Greenwich, that the interest rate on home mortgages should be no greater than five per cent.

The attorney conveyed to the governor a client's complaint that while interest on savings bank deposits has been reduced, the interest rate on mortgages remains at six per cent.

The governor said in his letter, he had been trying for two years to persuade banks to reduce the rate of interest on mortgages.

THE BARGAIN HOUND

My suggestion to you is to keep a keen eye on the Bargain Hound for further announcement of the Thanksgiving menu that The Tea-room is planning.

If a person is tall, blankets and bedding have a way of pulling out at the feet during the night. One excellent way to avoid this is to stitch a strip of unbleached muslin, a foot deep and as wide as the blanket's width, across the bottom of either single or double blankets. This muslin tucks under the mattress, doesn't show, but gives that extra length which insures cozy feet no matter how much you toss and throw your covers.

I saw some delicious looking summer squashes at Garrone's this morning. Also, you'll make no mistake in trying some of their fresh mint, water cress or hot house radishes. And as for grapes, they have some of the biggest hot house grapes you ever saw at 85 cents a pound, also tangerines.

Watch for directions for making a set of curtain tie-backs on the home page soon, a new note in house decoration and a nice gift for a favorite friend who has beautiful window draperies on her living room windows. This is a winter when hand-made gadgets are far smarter than bought things.

The theater is using velvets in a big way and all of the new openings confirm the popularity of velvets on both sides of the footlights.

Speaking of gift suggestions—stockings are always near the top of the list. The Norton Shoe Store has some specially sheer chiffon and good quality service weight at only 56c a pair.

This recipe comes from Miriam Hopkins' mother. It's a southern delicacy and one that Miriam prizes highly. Follow the directions carefully and you will have a piping hot platter of Maple Sugar Biscuits: Use two cups of flour, a half a teaspoon of salt, three teaspoons of baking powder, four tablespoons of shortening, a half a cup of milk and maple sugar. Sift the dry ingredients into a bowl. Mix with the shortening and add the milk to make a soft dough. Pat or roll out to quarter inch thickness and cut with the smallest size biscuit cutter. Spread with softened butter and sprinkle thickly with grated maple sugar and a little cinnamon. Bake in greased pans, in a moderate oven for fifteen minutes.

When considering "Thanksgiving Specials" include one of Mohr's real old fashioned fruit cakes filled with raisins, nuts and all kinds of fruit peels. The dark cake is 40 cents, the light 35 cents. Dial 3537 and order yours now.

Marlene Dietrich has a weakness for white flowers. Her studio dressing room is almost made impassable during the filming of her pictures with enormous tubs of snow white blooms. Because of the tremendous size of the costumes she is wearing in "Catherine the Great," Miss Dietrich has reluctantly reduced the number of flower tubs in her rooms to one, to enable her to enter or leave without an accident to the tubs, the gowns or both.

Wandering through Grant's this morning I saw a very good selection of Christmas cards and a number of articles that would make appreciated and useful Christmas gifts.

The dressy afternoon dress is invariably of velvet and has its picturesque velvet hat, gloves and shoes to complete it.

OPEN FORUM

FAVORS THEATER REQUEST

Editor, The Herald,
I am not in favor of commercializing the Sabbath Day. However, from a business point of view, it seems to me that the opening hour of the State Theater should be advanced to 5 o'clock.
If the State Theater should be closed through lack of patronage it would reflect to the detriment of the town. The State Theater is the only first-class amusement resort in Manchester. Manchester certainly would not benefit by any widespread report that it could not support its only worthwhile theater.

The State Theater pays more taxes than any other business establishment on Main street. Last year the tax was $4,129.46. The assessment against property owned by the proprietors of the State Theater on the 1932 list is $229,415. Land and buildings included in the assessment of Watkins Brothers' store, for example, are assessed at $208,075, not including stock. The assessment levied against the House and Hale block is $194,950 and against the Tinker block $95,975. These buildings represent the highest assessments on Main street, and show that the State Theater takes first rank as far as the amount of assessments is concerned but that the State Theater brings business into Manchester. If the theater was closed for several years it would be entitled to a reduction in the assessment because of lack of utility. The Circle Theater has been operated only intermittently for several years. As a result of this, adjacent property has largely depreciated. Without question, I would favor

A. W. Benson, 711 Johnson block, has something very special for you—12 range oil burners, cash and carry at $10. Also 25 Congoletum rugs, $2.12, at $7.98. There are also other sizes in rugs priced accordingly.

A good holiday recipe—Fig Pudding. One-half pound dried figs, 1-2 cup suet, 1 cup sugar, 2 eggs, 2 1-2 cups biscuit crumbs, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1-2 cup sweet milk, 1 teaspoon baking powder. Put figs and suet through food chopper. Add sugar and work until creamy. Add eggs well beaten, biscuit crumbs and salt. Mix and add milk with baking powder dissolved in it. Mix thoroughly and turn into a buttered and floured mold. Steam three hours and serve with whipped cream. Raisin pudding uses cracker crumbs to make a pudding not too rich for older children. Stale bread and biscuit crumbs can often be used to advantage in fruit puddings. Cracker crumbs are also frequently used with the result that the puddings are very light and fluffy.

Top off your Thanksgiving dinner with some piping hot brandy flavored plum pudding. Dial 6367 and have Garrone's save you some. And while you're about it order some table raisins, figs and all kinds of nuts.

With the end of prohibition will come without fail a more formal type of dining and entertaining, and it will necessitate more formal and elegant clothes. They are here. New York women are buying them and we know that cities throughout the entire country will be inspired by the new regime to do the same.

On these cold blustering winter evenings that you don't want to venture out, you'll want something to do after reading and the radio have had their fling. Prepare for the times—drop in at Hale's and get a Bagatelle Board. You'll find one in Toyland on the second floor.

Costume jewelry is back in a big way. All one has to do is to note the beautiful women both of society and mannequins in Vogue and Harper's Bazaar to be certain that it is high fashion.

One of the features in Watkins' Thanksgiving Sale is the early English Dining Room set. It includes nine pieces in the dusky rich shade of English oak for $98. The replacement price is considerably higher. This set is in the north window now—take a look at it.

Ever try Fried Bananas? Peel and scrape bananas. Cut in halves crosswise and sprinkle with salt and lemon juice. Roll in fine dried bread crumbs, dip in egg slightly beaten with 1 tablespoon water and roll again in crumbs. Fry about two minutes in deep hot fat and serve as vegetable with a tart sauce. A good sauce is made by adding even drops of tabasco sauce and 2 teaspoons lemon juice to one-half cup simple syrup.

MONDAY CONCERT PROGRAM VARIED

Members by Combined Glee Clubs Cover Wide Range; Aids Hospital.

For the concert to be given at High school auditorium on Monday evening to aid the Manchester Memorial hospital, Helge E. Pearson, director of the two Glee clubs participating, has arranged a diversified program. The numbers chosen range through a wide field covering both sacred and songs in the lighter vein. There are examples from the Oratorios, French carols, Russian folk songs, dramatic and rollicking numbers. The Beethoven Glee club and the G. Clef club will be heard in individual offerings and also in combined numbers. Robert Doeliner, violinist, has selected for his group numbers, several excellent examples of violin selections largely of the brilliant type. Director Helge Pearson, has established for his choruses and himself a record of achievement in Manchester that is enviable. Organized in 1925, the "Beethovens" have now a membership of 60 male voices, and the "G Clef" organized in 1927 have a membership of 35. Both of these groups have a state wide reputation, and their concert appearances in other states have been acclaimed.

Helge Pearson in addition to acting as their director, is also conductor and organizer of the many musical groups at the Emanuel Lutheran church, and is also directing the Hartford District Luther League chorus of over 300 voices. The choirs earnestly invite the support of the public for this worthy object.

MARXMEN GET IDEA, THEN THE GAGS FLY

One of Them Mentioned Word "Dictator" And Out of It Came "Duck Soup."

The following conversation was overheard by your Hollywood correspondent recently while passing the Four Marx Brothers' dressing room on a tour of the Paramount studios in Hollywood.

"We ought to be able to do something funny with a dictator," said Groucho.

And that is how "Duck Soup," their latest Paramount picture, which is now playing at the Allyn Theater, in Hartford, was born. Take the Four Marx Brothers, add a director, a half-dozen writers and a lightning-fast secretary, and you have the start of a hilarious comedy. All they need is an idea, and they go on from there.

That's how "Monkey Business" was started. Somebody said "we ought to be able to do something funny about gangsters." Somebody else, a year later, thought there might be a few gags in a college football story, and "Horsefeathers" resulted.

"We could have a war," suggests Chico.

"Sure," appends Harpo. "The dictator is a munitions salesman on the side."

"And there are lots of gags about spies," puts in Zeppo. "One of 'em could be the vice-president or something."

"One of our brothers became vice-president of something once," points out Groucho, "and he finally never heard of him again."

"The only dictating our dictator

SHERIFF SERVES 41 TAX WRITS

Expect Business Establishments Not Incorporated Will Pay Up Within Week.

Deputy Sheriff James H. Johnston has been given 41 tax writs by the state tax commissioner to collect from unincorporated business establishments of Manchester which have not paid their taxes. The minimum charge is $5 and is based on a tax of $1 for each $1,000 gross business done by these individuals or partnerships, exempting certain lines. The deputy sheriff has been given instructions by the tax commissioner to make these collections at once and he began this work last night with the expectation that they will all be paid within a week.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 24.

WARBURG CONFESSES.

Here is something to cut out and paste in your hat.

It is a confession of the real thought back of the money trust's attack on anticipated reflation. It comes from a member of that charmed circle whose lofty purposes have been partially bared by its own admissions before the Senate Banking Committee. He is James F. Warburg, vice-chairman of the board of the bank of the Manhattan Company who, since he made a denunciatory speech yesterday, is being touted as "the" former fiscal advisor of President Roosevelt. He was, as a matter of fact, merely one of many to whom the President has given ear in his efforts to get at the answer to the money problem.

Speaking at Philadelphia, the banker said he didn't believe there is any such thing as "controlled inflation." And then he was indiscreet enough to put into words the great central idea back of all these money trust attacks on the government's attempt to rescue the country from the slough of despond. They are extremely well worth remembering:

I am opposed to inflation even if, contrary to history, it does not become uncontrolled. It is up to the latest majority to let the President know that THE AMERICAN PEOPLE ARE READY TO FACE WHATEVER SUFFERING THERE MAY BE IN A SLOW, ORDERLY PROCESS OF RECOVERY."

To the student of the various financial conspiracies with which the history of the United States is replete this open confession may bring little astonishment. To the majority who have taken such people as Warburg on faith it will be, when they sense its full import, a shocking revelation.

It means simply that this New York banker who reveals the guarded purposes of the money trust urges the scores of millions of victims of a vicious financial system to willingly submit to their own liquidation through the processes—inevitable in a continuation of deflation—of bankruptcy, loss of businesses, homes and farms, hopeless unemployment and dire penury extending over a generation. A generation during which practically all property, all industry, all economic and eventually all political power is being gradually gathered into the hands of a constantly crystallizing creditor class which, by the time this "slow and orderly process of recovery" is completed, would embrace a tiny fraction of one per cent of the American people.

Warburg is the first of these assailants of reflation who has been honest enough to admit that Wall Street and the great international bankers have nothing to offer the people but indefinitely continued suffering—and to display hardihood enough to urge them not only to kiss the lash of the money power but to beg the President to lay it upon their naked backs.

We shall probably not hear from him again. He has, with ill considered inadvertence, let the cat out of the bag. Decidedly Mr. Warburg is an unsafe spokesman for the deflationists.

Meantime let those who will write to the President and tell him: "We ask you to let us starve and freeze and go naked, to let our factories close and our homes be taken from us, rather than impair the 'credit of the nation' with the Moloch of Wall Street."

NAVY, COAST GUARD.

While it may be that the urge of economy is legitimate in the direction of a merger of the Navy and the Coast Guard, this is one of those proposals that can only be justified by unquestionable benefits outweighing the disadvantages. It is not by any means to be listed among the self evident reforms.

This newspaper has repeatedly expressed its admiration for that splendid service in its unfortunate involvement in the prohibition mess. It seems a singularly unpropitious time, just when the Coast Guard is on the verge of opportunity to resume the historic and immensely useful tenor of its way, to deprive it of its identity by merging it with the younger and, in some ways, possibly less illustrious Navy.

Brilliant as is the record of the Navy, necessarily it is a record in the service of Mars; while the long roll of the Coast Guard's achievements is largely made up of sacrificial heroism in the cause of humanity. At the same time the Coast Guard has hastened to the colors, so to speak, in every way in which the Navy has participated.

One may wonder, a little, whether the fact that the Navy's Academy at Annapolis is old and a bit cramped, and the other fact that the Coast Guard has at New London a new, commodious and altogether desirable school of its own, have been a major influence in this proposal to combine the services.

It is, of course, highly desirable that the government services be operated as economically as possible. But it would be an everlasting shame to sink the identity of the Coast Guard in the Navy without being very sure of compensating benefits.

ONE JUDGE'S JOB.

Judge W. W. Callahan, chief figure in the third "Scottsboro trial," is a handsome little man with kindly eyes and a sensitive mouth who seems to be determined, if possible, to get that unpleasant case back into the realm of sanity. According to all accounts Judge Callahan's course in the case indicates that he is out of sympathy with any attempt to frame or gang the seven Negro defendants in the now famous case. It is equally apparent that he does not intend to permit this case to be used for the exploitation of showmanship on the part of defense counsel or as an occasion for self-glorification by Communist groups.

The unhappy Negro defendants, whom scarcely anybody believes to be guilty of the charge of assaulting two white girls on a freight train nearly three years ago, seem to have squeezed between the millstones of blind Alabama race prejudice and of arrogant self-advancing on the part of the radical lawyers from the North who are defending them.

If Judge Callahan can relieve the pressure of these two handicaps to the extent of giving the Negroes a fair break it is probable that justice will eventually triumph. That he has a hard job is not to be denied.

DISTILLERS' CODE.

Liquor distillers appear to be pretty anxious to regulate their own business to as great an extent as possible—a desire which they share, not unnaturally, with many other industries—and they are ready to make many and earnest-sounding promises to be very, very good.

A hearing was due to be held today, however, at which it was expected that there would be offered, as a substitute for the distillers' code, one formulated by the President's Special Alcohol Committee.

As nearly as we can make out, the Alcohol Committee has accepted, practically as a whole, the distillers' own definitions of unfair competitive measures, including false advertising, misbranding, commercial bribery, control of retail outlets, etc. The major difference between the distillers' code and the administration's code is much the same as the difference between the NRA and the self-regulation scheme proposed by Gerard Swopes. One has teeth and the other hasn't.

The distillers appear to have drawn an excellent code. The only trouble is with the authority. With a stiff and watchful government administration to see that it is complied with, very good. With the industry left to do its own enforcing, possibly very bad.

We have seen in the past how the distilling business operates when left largely to its own devices. We have yet to see how it will operate under plans of its own devising—with the strictest kind of enforcement guarantees set up by a government agency that has no interest whatever in rubbering the rules of the game.

Possibly the government will not do so much better than the distillers did. It is entitled, we should say, to a try.

TOO MUCH MONEY.

Miss Doris Duke, heiress to a huge fortune, has attained her legal majority and an enormous fuss has been made over her as "the richest girl in the world." Even an intelligent New York newspaper solemnly announces that Miss Duke says that the fact she has received some additional millions of dollars "will not affect her present method of living."

If Miss Duke were one of the girls working in the Duke cigarette factories and came into an income of a couple of thousand dollars a year there might be some interest to the public in learning whether or not she proposed to keep on working, or go to college, or whatever? But just how a few—or many—additional millions could affect the manner of life of a girl already living, when she feels like it, on a grotesquely elaborate country estate embracing eight square miles, and correspondingly at other times, we find it difficult to see.

What on earth did they expect this girl would do when she was told that she was full mistress of ten million dollars—eat more? Wear more clothes? Buy a hundred and fifty imported automobiles and drive them all at once? Make a bonfire of ten dollar bills?

When a person has everything that is purchasable, what possible difference can more money make in his manner of life? There is only one impulse that can be gratified by the acquisition of wealth beyond the point of luxury—and that is the impulse of sheer greed, of rapacity, a simian desire to grab everything in sight. Which constitutes a form of insanity. We hope Miss Duke is sufficiently normal to feel only that she has shouldered a burden and a responsibility.

HARD EARNED?

Governor Cross says we Connecticut people favor sound money—he was inclined to say "hard" money. Odd, isn't it? We have always been under the impression that the good Governor liked his own little gubernatorial stipend soft—pretty soft!

IN NEW YORK

By PAUL HARRISON
 New York, Nov. 24—Another of those eerie legends has come to town, and is being recounted over highball glasses and teacups by all sorts of people, each of whom insists he knows someone who knows the young man concerned in the story.

The latter is supposed to have been motoring to New York very late one night after a party in Connecticut. Slowing down for an intersection on the East River Road, unmarked by a traffic signal at that hour, he saw a woman standing by the highway, apparently alone, and in an evening gown. She was waving to attract his attention, and he stopped, a little fearful that it was a trap of some sort.

She was obviously a cultured girl, though, and a very pretty one. She seemed greatly distraught as she mumbled something about having an accident with a car, and asked him to take her to a certain address in Westchester. . . . Once or twice he tried a pleasantry of conversation as they sped along, but she seemed in no mood to talk, so he gave his thoughts to his driving. As they entered the town he turned to ask further directions and was startled to find the seat beside him empty. He'd been driving fast, and was sure she couldn't have jumped from the car. Yet she certainly wasn't there.

Greatly shaken, he inquired his way to the address she had given, and found the house, a big one on an exclusive street. There was a light, so he mustered courage to ring the bell. A middle-aged man, a doctor, opened the door and asked him in.

The caller had scarcely started on his story before the doctor interrupted and said he knew all about it, that the same thing had happened half a dozen times lately to different motorists. He said the girl answered the description of his daughter, and was dressed when she had been killed in an automobile accident at that same spot on the Post Road.

It's a New Racket
 Less ghostly but scarcely less upsetting have been the experiences of a few other men motorists about the city lately who have been victimized by one of the suave new rackets. . . . A taxi driver with a pretty accomplice in his cab starts out in the heaviest traffic. Within a few blocks she usually manages to catch the eye of some lone Lascar in another car, and after the next traffic light or two he usually has asked permission to drive her the rest of the way.

So both cars stop and the girl gets out and begins fumbling with her purse. The victim, of course, protests that he is going to pay the taxi bill, and the girl finally says, "Well, if you insist. . . ." So the cab driver presents a slip from his meter reading $4.90, or $9.40, or whatever he thinks the sucker will accept without calling a policeman. . . . A few minutes later the taxi-man calls for his decoy at an appointed meeting place, and they go cruising again.

Dipping the Chinese
 Speaking of rackets, here's the way a resourceful salesman sold dozens of trial subscriptions to a very smooty magazine: Since the order blanks happened to be impressivelooping masterpieces of the engraver's art, the huttler chose—of all places—Chinatown as the scene of operations. Going into each shop in turn, he'd brusquely demand a "colored" blank.

"You classy-man—go 'way," shrieked each indignant Oriental. "No give you dollar!"

"OK," the salesman would mutter, while he produced the subscription blank and wrote the Chinaman's name thereon. Then he'd produce a hammer and tacks, and would fasten the paper to the wall. "Now I ketchum dollar—see? You gotta pay." And the victim would pay, assuming that this was some outrageous new license foisted on him by the city.

The flood of subscriptions from such an unexpected quarter caused the magazine publisher to investigate and learn the true story.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN Washington

By RODNEY DUTCHER, Evening Herald Washington Correspondent
 Washington, Nov. 24—Two years ago an old-time opera was revived in Paris.

It created what now is a problem for N.R.A. The woman of the cast wore felt hats in the shape of derbies. The rage for the Empress Eugenie hat followed. The millinery velvet ordered by customers of velvet manufacturers could not be sold. And about 50 per cent of the millinery velvets made in 1931 remains unsold for consumption.

The velvet industry was nearly ruined, a fact which N.R.A. must consider carefully in its study of the velvet code.

One Every Hour
 That's a sample of the innumerable far-fetched hitches which pop up daily in the New Deal program. Few but the unemployed realized previously that life was so complicated. The rapidity with which unforeseen obstructive factors appear is equaled only by President Roosevelt's speed in trying something new to overcome them.

Some major programs, all announced and about to be launched, have been left hanging in midair because valid objections to them appeared overnight.

Other programs have gone on leaving problems still to be solved—such as what becomes of the hundreds of thousands of tenant farmers who may become homeless as a result of the cotton acreage reduction program.

He's Clear on Booze
 Damned all over the place by harassed and impatient farmers, the Agricultural Adjustment Administration may assume an heroic aspect for the rest of the nation when it sets up codes for distillers and brewers.

Those codes are likely to provide a framework of federal regulation during which conditions otherwise might be chaotic.

Secretary of Agriculture Wallace, under the Farm Recovery act, is empowered to license the entire liquor traffic if he desires. He can provide against unfair competition—such as that of the bootleggers—fix prices, prevent distillers and brewers from having financial interest in retail establishments, set closing hours, and generally control the handling of strong drink from the time it is mere kernels of grain almost to the time one consumes it.

30-Cent Pay Losses
 Thirty cents an hour as a minimum wage and 30 hours as a maximum working week doesn't seem extravagant. Secretary of Labor Francis Perkins, who recently advocated both in private conferences of the committee which worked out the new Federal Civil Works Administration plan for taking 4,000,000 unemployed persons off the relief rolls.

But the committee—also including Relief Administrator Hopkins, Secretaries Wallace of Agriculture and Ickes of Interior and Prof. James Harvey Rogers—could not see it. Wages will be paid at prevailing local rates for similar labor.

Purest of All Is Gin
 Preliminary conferences reveal the A.A.A. distillers' agreement on the fact that chemically pure alcohol is being made out of natural gas. Distillers probably will agree to buy only American grains for their product and the gas-alcohol folks will be only too glad to pay any price, ceasing tax that may be imposed.

Alcohol manufacturers say the purest drink you can take is "bath-tub gin"—if the alcohol used is pure. (Copyright, 1938, N.E.A. Service Corp.)

HEALTH--DIET ADVICE
 BY DR. FRANK McCUOY
 Questions in regard to Health and Diet will be answered by Dr. McCuoy who can be addressed in care of this paper. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, for reply.

BANISH ENERVATION WITH GOOD HEALTH HABITS

Those who are always tired, who get up in the morning more weary than when they went to bed, are usually enervated. Enervation refers to weakness or debility.

Enervation precedes the catching of a cold and if you will think hard you will find that you were enervated just before your last cold developed. Perhaps you had not slept through staying up late for two or three nights, or you had been working overtime. During a period of enervation, the powers of resistance become lowered and the body does not defend itself against germs as well as ordinarily. Not only are colds brought on at this time, but the same thing is true of boils.

A patient who has had several boils may be sure that he has become enervated. A temporary enervation may follow a shopping tour through the stores and many women suffer from this type of enervation, together with the dull, persistent headache which it causes. After the patient becomes enervated all the time he usually develops low blood pressure, poor circulation, muscular weakness, and, perhaps, neurasthenia.

A person who is enervated generally feels that nothing is seriously wrong with him, however, his enervated state frequently precedes the appearance of such diseases as diabetes and tuberculosis. In every case, the best plan is to build up the body in every way possible so that perfect health returns as this is much easier to do at this stage than later, after a severe disorder has developed.

One who is truly enervated is worse off than one who is very tired, however there is this difference—that a tired person needs rest and is completely reinvigorated after a reasonable rest period, but while the one who is suffering from extreme weakness craves rest, the more he rests the weaker he becomes. His vital energy is not renewed by a reasonable resting time. The first stage of the journey down the hill of good health comes when one tires too easily, the second stage comes when he is enervated or weakened, and the third stage comes when he has reached the valley of disease. The symptoms described by the enervated patient include a feeling of weakness in the muscles which may cause one to be unsteady or to tremble, there is a capacity for less and less work, a desire to rest all the time, a discouraged mental state, and possibly many colds and boils.

In the average case where a marked enervation exists, several causes will be found. Most of these causes are unnecessary and may be wiped out, thus freeing the patient from that weak feeling and starting him on the road to a satisfactory recovery. Probably the two main causes are too much food and too little exercise. The wasting of energy through harmful mental habits such as worry, fear or envy is also an important cause. Other causes are lack of sleep, working in too little light, too much constant noise, or working very long hours.

One of the results which occurs when the body is enervated by a wasting of mental or physical energy is that there will not be enough nerve force to operate the eliminative organs and the normal wastes will not be thrown out quickly, but will remain in the body and act as poisons, over-burdening the blood stream with waste products and preparing for the development of disease.

If you are enervated, I would strongly suggest that you make a study of your habits of living in order to find out where you could make an improvement. Begin today to change the habits which are not good into those which are good or you. It is a good plan to keep a sort of a report on your progress: on one side mark down the good habits you are starting and on the other side mark down any improvement in the way you feel. I am sure that if you will to this you will gradually feel better and better and this will encourage you to keep on until you have replaced that feeling of weakness with one of strength.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

(Creaking Knees)
 Question: Mr. David W. asks: "What would cause my knees to creak and grind as though the kneecap were terribly dry? What treatment would you suggest for this?"

Answer: The creaking and grinding of the knees simply denotes the lack of synovial fluid, and this condition can usually be corrected through the use of the proper diet and exercise.

(Sulphured Fruits)
 Question: Mrs. Della U. asks: "Is sulphur, used in the drying of fruits, injurious to one's health? How can it be removed? Why is sulphur used for this purpose?"

Answer: It is better to use fruits which have not been prepared by sulphur fumes, as this method often leaves the fruits containing some sulphuric acid which is injurious. Most dried fruits are not prepared in this manner at the present time. The sulphur was formerly used to kill the worms and eggs which might be in the fruit, and also for bleaching purposes.

IRISH-AMERICANS HEAD LIST OF RACE ENTRIES

John Nock, Holder of 4 N. J. Titles, Leads Team That Won Trophy Last Year; 24 Entered to Date in 7th Thanksgiving Day Run.

The Irish-American Club of Newark, N. J., winner of the team prize last year, heads the list of twenty-four entries received to date for the seventh annual five-mile Thanksgiving Day cross-country run, to be held here next Thursday morning under the auspices of the Recreation Centers. Twelve of the entries are from runners who will also be eligible for the state championship, resumed this year after a lapse of more than a decade.

Holds Four Titles
The Irish-Americans are planning to send a team of eleven runners here, headed by John Nock, holder of four New Jersey titles, the New Jersey junior and senior cross-country championships and the outdoor 10,000 meter and indoor 5,000 meter championships. Nock was entered in the local event last year and placed fourth.
Three other members of the team completed last year, Robert Campbell, who placed sixth; Joseph Grata, who placed 19th; and Pat McLaughlin, who finished 15th. The team will also have J. D'Allesio, Tom Marwell, Adam McKenzie, John Grabowski, Mike Rivello, Tom Mooney and John Abbott. James McDade of the Milrose A. C. has also entered the meet.

The State Entries
Included in the list of state entries are: John MacFarlane of West Hartford, who finished ninth last year; Taber DePolo of Old Lyme, who came in 17th; John Vasale of Norwalk, who placed 24th; Roberts D. Burr of this town, who finished 26th; and James Crowe of Buckland, who placed 11th. Other state entries are: Eugene Schultz and Nick A. Sobutz, both of Oakdale; Russell Looby of New London; Knute H. Anderson of Connecticut State college; Dana N. Howe of New Haven; George D. Cahles of New London.

A new champion will be crowned in the open event, which will be run in conjunction with the state meet, as Joe McCluskey, nationally famous long distance runner, who has won the race three years in a row is not planning to compete. McCluskey holds the record for the five-mile course, finishing last year in 24:17.8.
The run is scheduled to start at 11 o'clock.

At one time, Mexico had more territory than the United States.

WEST SIDE BUDDIES OPEN COURT SEASON

To Play Bloomfield Tigers at West Side Rec at 8 o'clock Tonight.

The West Side Buddies will open their basketball season tonight at 8 o'clock at the West Side Rec. The opposition will be the Bloomfield Tigers, a strong team composed of high school players.
A good game is expected as it will be the opening game for each team, and they are both anxious to keep their record clean. New uniforms have been received and the Buddies will take the floor with a strong team. The following players are to report to the Rec early: Chapman, Judd, Heas, Anderson, Fraher, Brimley, Ford, Sargent, Delaney, Tedford, Vennart and Gustafson.

PAWNEES PRACTICE
The Pawnees football team will practice tonight in back of the managers house on Woodland street at 6:15. All players report on time because a meeting will be held after practice.

EAGLES PRACTICE
The Eagles practice tonight at the rear of the Bon Ami plant at 7 o'clock. Returns for tickets will be made. All members must be present.

VETERAN M. H. S. TRIO TO RETURN IN FALL

Leo Johnson

George Escabert

Bob Smith

At left is Leo Johnson, a dependable backfield man who is also a fine wingman. In the center is George Escabert, veteran center, who is one of the defensive mainstays of the line. On the right is Bob Smith, picked for a halfback post on the All-Star C. C. I. L. team and the most improved player on the Red and White eleven. All three, along with Mozzer, will be back in action next season.

MOZZER NAMED CAPTAIN OF NEXT YEAR'S ELEVEN

Student Council Awards Letters to 18 Members of Squad; Overlook Bob Smith, Hutchinson; New Pilot Outstanding Star of Team.

M. H. S. CAPTAIN

Ray Mozzer... outstanding player and leading scorer of the C. C. I. L., who has one more year to play for Manchester... a triple threat man, he can run with the ball, pass and kick, besides being brilliant in blocking and tackling.

Manchester High's outstanding football player—Raymond Mozzer—yesterday afternoon was elected to captain the Red and White grid eleven during the 1934 season by the practically unanimous vote of his teammates, fifteen of whom will be lost to the team through graduation next June. At the same time, Coach Thomas F. Kelley announced the award of letters to eighteen members of the squad, including thirteen who will not return next year.

Two Refused Letters
The Student Council refused to approve letters for Bob Smith and Hutchinson, because they were declared ineligible and did not take part in the final game of the season against Windham. This action was based on a ruling created two

Local Sport Chatter

Rules and regulations are created to be observed, but this department feels that some special dispensation could have been made by the Student Council of Manchester High School in the case of Bob Smith and Hutchinson, who were refused letters because they were ineligible for the last game of the season against Windham.

After all, Manchester is not in the college class, where rules are absolutely binding. And Smith was second only to Mozzer in the brilliance of his football achievements. Coach Tom Kelley says he was the most improved player on the team. He attended every practice session and bent all his efforts to cooperate to the best of his ability. Because of a silly rule he was deprived of a letter, the goal of all who take part in athletic activities.

Smith, of course, has a chance to make his letter next year. But what of Hutchinson, who played end through the season and graduates next June? He's lost his chance to wear the red "M" which is symbolic of sports ability.

Bristol High, which last year captured the C. C. I. L., state and New England basketball titles, is expected to have another championship quiet this season, while Meriden High is touted as the league team most likely to give the Bell City outfit a run for the honors. Cage observers would do well not to forget Manchester High, as Coach Wilfred J. Clarke believes his squad will make a determined bid for the title this year.

Bristol should have the tallest center in the league in the person of Alex Zebrowski. He's gained an inch and one-half since last year and now towers six feet, five and one-half inches into the ozone. He looks clumsy when in action but he's one of the best men that Monahan has. Bristol will also have Captain Walt Utke, Walt Sonstrom and John DiGiovanni of last year's regulars back, besides Joe Maro, Otto Falau, Paul Monahan and Mike Audiano.

Meriden has virtually its entire first string lineup of last season back in action and Coach Frank Barnikow's only trouble lies in finding a capable center. Meriden won twelve of its fifteen starts last year, a 37 to 33 defeat by Manchester being one of its three losses.

Did you know that the New England records for high team games and high team three game set were rolled on the local Charter Oak alleys? The Charter Oaks of Hartford set the high team game mark of 721 here in 1931, and also the high team three game set of 1990.

This department has on hand several "Forum" letters in regard to the Pawnees-Baldwins controversy over the junior town grid series which will not be printed, as the verbal battle has gone far enough and is no longer of interest. The Pawnees refused to play last Sunday, due to snow, and the Baldwins claim the game by forfeit. Therefore, the series has been called off. We agree with the Pawnees' stand and feel that Baldwins have no right in claiming the game, when conditions were such as to make it dangerous to play.

RANGERS TO MEET
The Rangers basketball team will hold a meeting tomorrow night at the School Street Rec at 6:30. Measurements for new suits will be taken so every member must report.
The Rangers will open their season Thanksgiving evening playing a preliminary game to the Guards-All-Burnsides at the Armory. Their opponent is as yet unpicked.

COURT CHALLENGE
The Rangers basketball team of Manchester would like to hear from the managers of the following teams in regard to a home and home game: St. Mary's Jr., All Burnside Jr., New Britain DeMolay, Waterbury DeMolay, Windsted YMCA, Second, Keven Barry Jr., Hallowell Jr., and Sport Center Jr. Write to Eugene Enrioc, 138 Eldridge street or Stanley Katkavec, 100 Starkweather street, Manchester.

HARRY MEHRE SELECTS SOUTHERN GRID GREATS

Crawford of Duke, Hupke of Alabama and Batchelor of Georgia Named as Outstanding Players; His Other Selections.

By HARRY MEHRE
Coach, University of Georgia

Athens, Ga., Nov. 24 — It was easy — and it was mighty tough — selecting an All-South mythical eleven this year. It was easy because there were plenty of good ball players to select from—and it was tough because there were too many.

It was lucky for the pickers that there were some star players whose work this fall was so outstanding that it would be impossible to keep them off an all-star team in the south.
Three of these men made their selection as natural as the usual procedure of night following day. They are Crawford of Duke, Hupke of Alabama, and Batchelor of Georgia. A team without these men would not be truly representative of the south.

An expert could write volumes on the merits of the eleven men to make up this all-star squad. Not being an expert, I'll confine my description to a few words.

ENDS—Rupert of Kentucky and Batchelor of Georgia. Rupert is an excellent pass receiver. I can imagine no harder job for a southern end than covering Ralph Kercheval's punts. Yet Rupert has done that to perfection. It is difficult to go down under punts that go as far as Kercheval's do. But Rupert has made punt runbacks against Kentucky negligible.
Batchelor, a big 200-pounder, is a steady but not a spectacular defensive player. He is a top-notch offensive player at handling tackles and receiving passes. He is exceptionally fast for a big man.

TACKLES—Crawford of Duke and McCollum of Auburn. Freddie is the ideal type for a tackle. All through the south they've hailed this wonder player of Wallace Wade. The key man in the Duke line for the last three years, Crawford this year has been the type of tackle coaches dream about.
Bat McCollum is the choice for right tackle. He is the powerful, steady type of tackle, nothing spectacular, but the kind of man who takes it and likes it.

GUARDS—Hupke of Alabama and Barclay of North Carolina. Hupke is the star of an all-star line. Tom weighs 185 pounds and is the ideal type for the Notre Dame style of play.
Barclay is a big fellow, but his size doesn't handicap him. He is fast and aggressive and he gets down under punts rapidly. A fine open field blocker.

CENTER—Robinson of Tulane. An excellent passer and a fine tackler—what more could you ask? Diagnoses plays quickly, as we learned early this season. Maples of Tennessee was unable to play up to his usual fine standard, due to injuries during the year.
QUARTERBACK—Wallace Wade points to Nick Laney, my quarterback choice, as the main reason for Duke's success this fall. He calls plays well, is a fine blocker, and a first-class defensive man.
HALFBACKS—Howell of Alabama and Grant of Georgia. The Crimson Tide sparkplug all year has been Millard Howell. Directly responsible for three-fourths of the yardage gained by Alabama, in addition to being a good kicker and passer, he is qualified fully for an all-star post.
Cy Grant has scored from one to two touchdowns for us in every game except the one against Yale. Fast and elusive, Cy gets my vote.
FULLBACK—Feathers of Tennessee. Beattie has played halfback for the Vols, but he is the modern fullback type — fast and shifty enough to circle, and rugged and powerful enough to buck any line. Feathers is the best punter the south has had in years and, in addition, is a dangerous passer and receiver. A great deal of Tennessee's success in the last three years can be tacked on this lad.
Only experience marks the difference between members of the first and second teams.

PAWNEES TO OPPOSE ORIOLES ON SUNDAY

The Orioles, last year's junior football champions, will play the Pawnees at Hickey's Grove at 2:30 p. m. The Baldwins cannot come to an agreement with the Pawnees so the Orioles have agreed to play the Pawnees for the junior town title.

The Orioles hold one victory over the Pawnees, the verdict being 13-0. At this time the Pawnees did not have the services of their coach, Ted McCarthy, so the Pawnees expected to be on the long end of the score Sunday after a hard fought battle. The Orioles later in the season were beaten by the Rockville Clerks, Jr., 12-2. A week previous the Pawnees held the Clerks to a 6-6 tie at Rockville. A week after the Orioles battled the Clerks, the Pawnees beat this same team 7-0. The Orioles are a team to be feared as they fight until the whistle blows. Against the Pawnees they made both touchdowns in the last quarter of the game. The officials will be announced later by the management of both teams.

MASON'S PRACTICE
Ansald's Masons will hold a practice at the East Side Rec tomorrow afternoon from 1 to 2 o'clock. All players are requested to report at that time.

CHAPTER XIV

Involutionally the three men stopped walking. Drugar had said, "There's just one person in the world who had any reason to want to harm Tracy King..."

"It's quite a story," Drugar told them. "I can't tell it all to you here. Take a long walk..."

"I'll tell you the rest of the story," Drugar said. "It's about 10 years back. Tracy King is getting his first break in vaudeville..."

"He manages to pull through but six weeks later when they turn him loose he's broke, looks like a skeleton and he hasn't got a job..."

"They're billed as King and Costello because neither of them thinks Parrott is such a good stage name..."

"They play the middleweight two or three seasons and then they go east. All the while they're partners..."

"Now last night," Drugar's voice lowered and the hush gave it emphasis. "Tracy saw Parrott hanging around outside..."

"I had been reading a long story and it ended abruptly as it had begun. There could be no doubting the honesty of the emotion that made Drugar's voice die away..."

"There was a pause and then Gainey said, 'I suppose you've told the police all this?'"

"I don't believe it," he said. "It was Joe Parrott who was in the room when Tracy went on his last night..."

YOUR CHILDREN

By Olive Roberts Barton

In many years the rotary system in schools is better than the old way of one teacher to a room. There is no doubt that a teacher giving all her time to one subject becomes more proficient in it...

But down in the first and second grades, I sometimes wonder if it is the best plan for all. A teacher herself told me of its drawbacks...

"With little children," she said, "it is this note of sympathy, the honey feeling that teacher sort of takes the place of mother, that makes Association of Ideas means much to a little child..."

In some schools the process is reversed and the teacher goes from room to room. But it seems to me the feelings of these little folk must be much the same...

In any case, I wonder if they are capable of this quick transition? Under the system do they have the happy comfortable feeling of little chicks under a mother's wing...

Maybe it is good for them to be so suddenly thrown on their own responsibility. The new idea stresses self-reliance...

College Players Against Rule That Checks Ball Carrier

When Any Part of Body, Except Hands or Feet, Touches the Ground.

(This is the last of a series on the reaction of college football players to the discussion of rule changes.)

Three of the leading captains who express disappointment over the effect of this rule are Pete Zimmer of Chicago, Joe Buonnano of Brown and Phil Glaser of Dartmouth.

Thirteen players also advocated the repeal of the "dead-ball" provision as it now prevents the defense from punning with a recovered fumble; nine others think the offense should be permitted to pass from any point behind the scrimmage...

Cover Wide Range. The suggestions covered a wide range. These are some of the most conspicuous: Resume play in the third quarter where it left off at the end of half by Newell Wilder, Columbia center, and Carl Jorgensen, St. Mary's tackle.

Give the passer as much protection as the kicker—Sam Davis, Florida captain. Limit the men the defensive team can put on the scrimmage line—Larry Siemering, San Francisco center, and A. C. Dowd, Santa Clara center.

was covered up. His condition is not considered serious. Mr. Fitzgerald was notified of the accident and drove out to Bolton. The Dodge sedan had hit with such force that it went under the body of the car and could not be wedged out. It was kept in this condition until the State Police investigators arrived. The driver of the truck could give little information. He said he was driving toward Boston with a load of paper when there was a sudden impact from the rear. The dragging that followed caused him to shut off the power and get out to see what was the trouble. He gave such assistance as was possible. There were no cars coming toward Manchester at the time that could give him assistance. All but Watson were removed from the car, but Watson was under the front part and his legs were so crossed that it was considered best not to remove him until the ambulance arrived.

On receiving information of the accident, Captain Schandel noticed the hospital, called Quinn's number and also the State police at Stafford Springs. Arrangements were made at once at the hospital to receive the injured. While awaiting the arrival of the State police, Sergeant McGinn was instructed to go to the scene of the accident and give as much aid as possible. Arriving at the scene he found Miss Keller on a bank and, with the assistance of Joseph Doherty, placed her in the police car and rushed her to the hospital. She was taken to the receiving room in the hospital. It was thought, in an unconscious condition, but instead it was seen that she was dead. There was a small scratch on her face, but her skull had been fractured and this was given as the cause of death. Dr. R. E. Ferguson, of Rockville, medical examiner of Bolton, who was detailed by County Coroner John Y. Yeomans early this morning to make the examination, also said this caused death. Shortly after the young woman's body had been brought to the hospital, William P. Quish arrived with the three injured persons. Philip Chasen, badly cut about the face, head and arms, was first treated. Large pieces of glass were removed from the left side of his face and he had lost considerable blood, he was in a weakened condition. There was also a deep cut on the side of his face and on his forehead. While he was being treated, attention was given to Carl Watson. At 4 o'clock this morning permission was given by Coroner Yeomans to remove the body to the undertaking rooms of William P. Quish. This was done, but the order was countermanded this morning and the body brought back to the hospital, where it was viewed by the father and brother of the young woman. Word was left that the funeral would be arranged by a Williams undertaking firm. It was at the hospital that Dr. Ferguson saw the body this morning at 8 o'clock. He will sign a death certificate giving the cause of death as due to a fractured skull.

NARCOTICS ANGLE

Hartford, Nov. 24.—(AP)—After two days' investigation into the slaying of Albert Silverman, whose body was found in Somers Monday, United States Narcotic Agent Malcolm MacFayden today sent all available information to Federal narcotic headquarters in New York, with a request for information there which may connect the slaying man with "dope ring" activities in Connecticut and Massachusetts. Silverman was being sought by Department of Justice agents as a gangster and racketeer in New York and New Jersey, supposedly connected with bootlegging and narcotic activities. Disposal Theory A new theory as to the disposal of the body which was found near the roadside in Somers with the feet hanging over a barbed wire fence, was that the slayers had intended to throw it in a nearby swamp but had been frightened away by the approach of other persons and dropped it in haste. Another theory on the cause of the murder also was put forward by some of the investigators, which includes state police of Connecticut, city police of Springfield, New York and Newark and Federal men, was that Silverman had been to Springfield to collect money for liquor or dope and that, unable to meet the demand, the debtor had slugged Silverman and then finished the job by murdering him.

NO DEVELOPMENTS HERE "There have been no new developments overnight." This was the information given by the State Police at the Stafford Springs barracks today. State Police men Thomas F. Hunt and Sergeant Harris Hurlbut were in Litchfield today in connection with the case of Anton Bruie, of Stafford, charged with receiving goods stolen from a store in Winsted. Hunt and Hurlbut have been working on the Somers murder mystery. Bruie gained notoriety recently because he was brought into the "skull mystery" of Stafford, which was solved by Sergeant Hurlbut.

WOMAN PHYSICIAN CONFESSES KILLING DAUGHTER-IN-LAW (Continued from Page One) reform to deaden her senses. This she agreed to do. "I continued massaging her side for about 25 minutes. At the end of this period I noticed that she seemed to be passing out. After a hasty examination I decided the girl was dead. I was stunned. My entire past and future flashed before me. I realized my career was at stake. Remembers Gun "Suddenly I remembered there was a gun in the room. In a flash I decided to make it appear as though the girl had been murdered in a robbery. Seizing the gun from the drawer, I held the muzzle within five inches of her skin, and pressed the trigger. "When the shot was fired I nearly can't explain why I did it other than the fact I was terror stricken to discover that Rheta had died from the chloroform. I'm sorry. "When I recovered my senses I tried to do something which would have to be done. I placed the gun near Rheta's head and ran and got a blanket from another room in the basement, using it to wrap the body. "Removes Fingerprints "After I had wrapped the body up, I started to run upstairs. Suddenly my mind cleared and I thought I could make the whole thing look like a robbery. I went back and wiped the fingerprints off the gun and opened the basement door to make it look as though someone had come in that way. "Then I went into the office and stole my own six dollars out of the desk. Afterward I went upstairs and got my coat and hat and left the house. Going over to Madison street, I walked up and down a long time; it seemed like hours. "Captain Stege asked her at that time who was in the house at the time of the killing, and she replied: "No one. The house was empty except for Rheta and me." Dr. Wynkoop then asked the police captain for permission to tell the story to her family herself, saying: "I don't want the police to break the news to them." Stege refused, however, to let her see her son, Earle, husband of the dead woman, because he was being held in close custody. During the confession Dr. Wynkoop broke down and cried for the first time. Police said her tears ended with the greatest exhibition of control they ever had witnessed: A waste basket containing absorbent pads the woman physician allegedly had used to stop up blood from the wound was one of the final bits of evidence that resulted in the statement.

SON'S STATEMENT Chicago, Nov. 24.—(AP)—Admissions of conditions surrounding the slaying of Rheta Wynkoop on an operating table in his mother's surgery were made today by Earle Wynkoop, but he did not confess charge of conspiracy to harbor murder sentence of two years in a Federal penitentiary and a fine of $10,000. John R. K. Scott, of defense counsel, moved for a new trial, but his motion was denied. Keyes then moved for imposition of sentence. "It has always been my practice in cases where I believe there has been a fair trial to impose immediate sentence," said Judge Welsh. "Although I am familiar with all the phases of the case and know exactly what I intend to do, I am going to retire with myself for a few minutes before passing sentence." McClure Arrives— Among the first defendants to arrive was Senator McClure. He smiled and chatted with several of the seventeen defense attorneys and with co-defendants. The jurors, who for forty-five days and twenty nights have listened to counsel and 141 government witnesses—the defense rested without putting anybody on the stand—began their deliberation shortly after noon yesterday. They had been charged by Judge Welsh to remember that the defendants were not accused of individual crimes or petty conspiracies, but of a county-wide plot to violate the National prohibition law. Defense attorneys had told the jury that they presented no witnesses because the government failed to prove conspiracy. Keyes argued that the government had proved every one of the 150 alleged overt acts as well as established its conspiracy charge.

ARMS DISCUSSIONS IN NEED OF REICH (Continued from Page One) Italy has been urging on us, was the correct procedure." He declared the British government, coincident with communications with Paris and Berlin, meant "to work in close touch with the Italian government and its head because only by getting a contact between these great capitals and the powers on this procedure can the ground on what is to happen next at Geneva be prepared." The fundamental difficulty facing the world, commented Simon, was to find a way of reconciling rival ambitions and separate suspicions and adjusting the elaborate scheme embodied in the British draft of a disarmament convention to suit 65 nations. Summing up the British disarmament policy, Sir John said the British government welcomed Chancellor Hitler's assurance that Germany's one desire was for peace and that she has no aggressive designs. He said it was hoped that Germany also would make her contribution to rendering a general disarmament possible in practice and that, as an outcome of a proposed exchange of views, "it will be found possible to translate those assurances into such concrete shape as will help build that international security which is indispensable to the condition of disarmament."

COLUMBIA

"The Sinner Beloved" will be presented as a Tricounty Christian Union Program in the Columbia Congregational church, Sunday evening November 26, at 7:30. This morality play which uses the book of the Prophet Hosea as its imaginative basis will be given by a Columbia cast of players under the direction of the pastor, the Rev. Asa W. Mellinger. The play is supported by a number of oriental melodies which will be sung by the church choir under the direction of Mrs. Clayton E. Hunt. Mrs. G. I. Emerson has arranged and coached the production of the priestesses of Ash-toreth. The play is set in the market place of the city of Samaria in the eighth century B. C., a time in which worship of the Lord was threatened by seigniorous paganism. It depicts the conflicting emotions of love and hate which are so evident in the Biblical prophecies of the God of wrath and redemption. Hosea finds his errant runaway wife on the slave block and redeems her. In his love for his faithless wife he perceives that God cannot do less for his covenanted people. Consequently his children whom he has named with names of God's anger, are given names symbolizing hope.

The cast of characters is as follows: The Spirit of Wrath..... Nina Emerson The Spirit of Love..... Ethel Macht Hosea, the prophet..... Asa W. Mellinger Gomar, his wife..... Mabel Regan Jezreel..... Virginia Macht Lo-Ruhamah..... Lucy Derosa Lo-Ammi..... Lucie Derosa Gaal, Prophet of Ash-toreth..... Clayton E. Hunt Seller of Slaves..... William Macht also East Haven, Conn., police. Deputy chief of police John P. Fleming said that while he felt the plates had been legally discarded and had to connection with the slaying, a further investigation would be launched to ascertain all facts of the case.

QUESTION PROVIDENCE MEN

Stafford Springs, Nov. 24.—(AP)—The investigation into the brutal slaying of Albert Silverman, whose body was found in Somers Monday, after spreading fanwise through four states, was centered today in Stafford Springs, where three men were held without bond, for questioning by State Police. The men, Sydney Hines, 30, of Brooklyn, N. Y., Regor Abe Gold, 37, of Brooklyn, and Frank Marshall, 28, of Manhattan, were stopped Wednesday in Providence, R. I., and were returned to Connecticut last night in connection with the death of Silverman, New York and Newark, N. J., gangster. Coroner John Yeomans questioned the men, and reported they told conflicting stories. Their fingerprints also were taken, and were sent to New York for identification.

Blackjack and Rope

The men were stopped by Providence police who found a blackjack and two lengths of rope in a secret compartment in their car, which the officers identified as that of Henry A. Judon, New York City policeman and a brother-in-law of Hines. Silverman, his naked body wrapped in a blanket, was found dead in Somers near Hartford Monday morning. He had been stabbed, beaten and strangled and a rope was tied about his neck and ankles. State troopers of the Stafford Springs barracks conducting the investigation, said the rope found in the New York men's car, did not correspond to that found on the dead man's neck. They said all three were being held without bond, however, for questioning.

Other States Interested Massachusetts, as well as Rhode Island, New York and New Jersey, was drawn into the investigation as Springfield police checked on the possibility that Silverman had been slain there and his body brought to Somers, only a short drive from Springfield. The slain man has been identified as the brother of Dr. Irwin R. Silverman, of Orange, N. J., who is free under $10,000 bond on a charge of conspiracy to harbor

MENUS

For Good Health
A Week's Supply
Recommended
By Dr. Frank McCoy

Dr. McCoy's menus suggested for the week beginning Sunday, November 26, 1933:

Sunday—Breakfast: Coddled eggs; Melba toast; Dish of berries (canned).
Lunch—All desired of one kind of acid fruit; Glass of milk.
Dinner—Stewed chicken; Baked ground beefs; Spinach; Salad of lettuce or endive; Apricot whip.

Monday—Breakfast: Oatmeal with milk or cream (no sugar); Stewed prunes.
Lunch: Cooked beef tops; Carrots; Salad of celery and cucumbers; Glass of milk.
Dinner: Vegetable soup; Roast beef; Steamed parsnips; Asparagus; Pear salad; Junket.

Tuesday—Breakfast: Poached eggs on shredded wheat biscuit; Stewed raisins.
Lunch: Combination salad of cooked and raw vegetables; Baked potato.
Dinner: Broiled steak; Carrots cooked with celery; Head lettuce; Apple whip.

Wednesday—Breakfast: Wholewheat muffins; Coddled egg; Applesauce.
Lunch: Glass of buttermilk; Ten or twelve dates.
Dinner: Salisbury steak; Okra; String beans; Turnip cup salad; Baked beans.

Thursday—Thanksgiving
Breakfast—Grapefruit or oranges, all desired; Glass of milk.
Dinner—Jellied tomato bouillon served in cubes; Roast turkey with Melba toast dressing; Baked pumpkin; Asparagus; Ripe olives and celery; Orange Jello with crushed roasted nuts.

Friday—Breakfast: Genuine whole wheat bread slightly toasted; Peanut butter; Stewed peaches.
Lunch: Raw apples and pecan nuts.
Dinner: Broiled white fish; Baked eggplant and tomatoes; Celery; No dessert.

Saturday—Breakfast: French omelet; Warfle; Stewed pears.
Lunch: Rice en casserole; Mashed pumpkin; Shredded lettuce.
Dinner: Asparagus soup; Broiled lamb chops; Squash; McCoy salad; Pineapple gelatin with cream.

*PEAR SALAD: Use canned halves of pears for this salad. Place a half (cut side up) in a bed of crisp lettuce. Fill the center (not quite full) with thick peanut butter, thinned with a little sweet cream. Place the other half of the pear over the half containing the dressing, cut side down, forming a whole pear. A clove may be used to represent the stem, and a further decorative effect may be given by adding a touch of red coloring with the fingertip to the outside of the top pear, blending it in well.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

(Cooking Improves Starches)
Question: Mrs. Stella D. writes: "A certain health book recommends raw oatmeal water for old people. Steel cut oats are to be placed in a covered dish and soaked in water for thirty minutes, then beaten until milky, then strained, and it is then ready to drink. Is it claimed this makes blood rapidly. What do you think? Is it too starchy? I tried it and it tastes good, especially if some raisins are added."

Answer: Starchy foods are the one class of foods which is always improved through cooking. The raw starch cell is very difficult to digest but is broken up through heat. The cold raw starch soup which you write about is composed practically of nothing else but starch and water and, of course cannot be truly called a blood builder. It would likely cause flatulence because of the large amount of undigested starch.

(Body Odors)

Question: Mr. Clive W. writes: "What about the question of personal cleanliness? There are often the foul odors from humans from lack of soap and water. I understand that the persons concerned do not detect this odor, therefore, it is more difficult to overcome."

Answer: Some people bathe regularly and are yet troubled with body odor. It is not always because of lack of soap and water, but often from internal uncleanness. Certain odors are associated with certain diseases, but a full colon is the principal cause of all repulsive bodily odors. The remedy is diet and intestinal cleanliness.

THEATER TAXING ASSET TO TOWN
Pays Over $4,000 Annually, Says Assessors Chairman, Favors Early Opening.

In another part of today's Evening Herald is a letter by Emil L. G. Hohenthal, Jr., in which he lays particular stress on the fact that from a business point of view it is important that the State Theater open at 5 o'clock Sundays.
Mr. Hohenthal points out the fact that Warner Brothers, owners of the State Theater pay a tax of $4,129.46 annually. The tax is paid promptly and is not listed among the delinquent taxpayers, of whom there are many in Manchester.
Emphasis is placed by Mr. Hohenthal on the fact that the State Theater should remain in Manchester, and that a matter of two hours should not deter the Selectmen from fixing 5 o'clock as the opening hour on Sundays.
Mr. Hohenthal, chairman of the Board of Assessors, today spoke from a personal point of view and declined to air the opinions of his colleagues on the Board of Assessors. Thomas Lewis, another member of the Board said he personally was in favor of the 5 o'clock opening hour. Henry Mutrie, the other member, refused to commit himself one way or the other.

HOTEL BANQUET HALL CAN ACCOMMODATE 150
Kiwanians to Meet First Time in Sheridan Monday—Soren to Be Speaker.

The Manchester Kiwanis club which is accustomed to meet at the Country clubhouse each summer and fall, will return to the Hotel Sheridan on Monday at noon. The meeting will be held in the spacious banquet hall. The extensive alterations made this summer to the hotel have added nearly one-third to the capacity of the banquet hall, and Manager Loefler states that fully 150 can not be accommodated for dinners or dances. The hall has been newly decorated and is most attractive. The kitchen which formerly occupied considerable space on the second floor has been moved to the basement and an attractive grill room established on the ground floor.

Parker Soren of the Manchester Electric company, a member of the Manchester Kiwanis club will give an illustrated talk on his travels in Central America countries.
The nominating committee will bring in its report of officers and directors for the coming year, and election will take place at this meeting. A 100 percent attendance is hoped for.

PLAN TO PLACE PLAQUE IN CENTER PARK HERE
Ward Cheney Camp Seeks Suitable Memorial for Local Veterans of Spanish-American War.

There has never been a tablet or stone of any kind erected in Manchester in memory of the Manchester men who volunteered for service in the United States Army in 1898 for the Spanish-American War and, while members of the First Regiment did not see service in Cuba or in the Philippines at the time, there were several Manchester men who did.
At the meeting last night of Ward Cheney Camp, Spanish-American War Veterans, named after the young lieutenant killed in action in the Philippines and an original volunteer in Company G, it was voted to take steps toward the erection of some suitable memorial. This monument or plaque will be placed in the Center Park, if plans discussed at the meeting last night mature. A committee was named to gather data on costs and will get the work underway at once if the cost is not to be too high.
The city of London had its origin as a resting place for sale traders

EXPECTS SMALL CROWD

New York, Nov. 24—(AP)—Tony Cannoneri and Kid Chocolate who once fought before a $90,000 house will renew their feud in Madison Square Garden tonight with prospects of receipts barely touching $20,000.

Since he outpointed Chocolate in a 15-round lightweight championship match two years ago, Cannoneri has been stripped of his title by Barney Ross of Chicago. Chocolate still is world featherweight champion in the eyes of the New York State Athletic commission, but the Cuban's stock has taken a drop in the last year. Cannoneri rates a 7 to 5 favorite for their ten round non-title duel tonight.

"LITTLE WOMEN"

Chapter Two

To seal their new friendship, old Mr. Laurence gives a party at his mansion to which the "little women" are invited. Jo, Beth, Meg and Amy have a glorious time, and Meg is to be married to Laurie. It is a new vision of Paradise for them all, though they come in comparatively plain clothes, and have to make three pairs of gloves do for four pairs of hands.

Jo at this party is in an embarrassing position, having come with a dress scorched in the back. Like a true sportman Laurie solves the difficulty by dancing with her in the hall, so the other guests won't see the scorched spot. Then the front of the dress gets ruined by a plate of ice cream spilling over it.

ANNOUNCE CHANGES

IN GOLFING RULES

U. S. Association Makes

Alterations in Close to Sixty Definitions.

New York, Nov. 24—(AP)—With the approval of the Royal and Ancient Golf Club of St. Andrews, Scotland, the executive committee of the U. S. Golf Association today announced adoption of a long series of changes in the rules, effective Jan. 1, 1934.

The changes, approved by the Royal and Ancient, ruling body of the game in Great Britain at its fall meeting September 28, and by the U. S. G. A. executive committee at its meeting yesterday, represent the fruit of a year's discussions between the two associations.

Rule On Hazards

All told, some alterations have been made in close to sixty of the definitions, general rules and stroke rules of the game. Among the changes were: A change in the definition of a hazard, the removal of loose impediments is not permitted, even though they are more than a club's length from the ball and even if the loose impediment lies in a hazard.

May Tee The Ball

An amendment to rule 15, adding a provision that before striking at a ball in play, "a player shall not improve the position of his ball," by moving, bending or breaking anything fixed or growing.

An amendment to sub-division 1, rule 27, so that now where a ball is played from the teeing ground into a water hazard, it may be teed. Formerly it had to be dropped.

A change in sub-division 2, rule

29, now omits the right given to either side to refuse to allow a person not engaged in the match to stand at the hole.

The Stroke Rules

In the stroke rules, some of the changes made were: Sub-division 2, rule 8, has been altered to make the penalty two strokes instead of disqualification for playing one or more strokes with a wrong ball.

Rule 9, has been altered to make

THE TINYMITES

HAL COCHRAN GEORGE SCARRO

Wee Duncy eyed the Milky Way and then he loudly shouted, "Say, I thought the Milky Way was made of lots of milk, somehow."

"Of course it's always puzzled me, as to how milk got up here. Gee, I must admit, up in the sky, I've never seen a cow."

The Star Man laughed, and then he said, "What queer thoughts pop into your head. The Milky Way is naught but stars. It's always been that way."

"Why, milk would never stay in air. 'Twould fall and splash 'round everywhere. However, one cow was up here, so I've heard people say."

"It came and then left very soon. It merely jumped right o'er the moon and traveled back to earth, with kicking feet and swishing tail."

Then Dotty, said, "That's nothing new. I've heard that little story, too, but I have never believed it. It is just a fairy tale."

Just then wee Goldy shouted,

"Gee, the moon is smiling down at me. I only wish that I could go up there an' say hello."

The Star Man said, "Well, let me see if you will leave the plans to me. I'll very shortly fix it, little lass, so you can go."

He then brought forth a shooting star and cried, "Hop on. 'Twill take you far. When you reach Mister Moon Man you can crawl out on his chin."

"The star will linger, never fear, so it can bring you right back here. Now, this will surely be a trip to where you've never been."

It wasn't very long until the Tinymites all got a thrill from seeing Dotty sail through air. She traveled about a mile.

"Oh, look! She's found a place to sit, and Mister Moon's enjoying it," said Scouty. "He must like wee tots, 'cause Dotty's made him smile."

(The Tines help the Star Man with his work in the next story).

SENSE and NONSENSE

The average young man is driven crazy by two kinds of women—those who can't forget him and those who can't remember him.

General Saleslady (to old customer, purchasing 4 paper plates)—Pardon, is your wife out of town?

One local gentleman went out in the role of peacemaker this week and came back with the usual result—both ears mashed down flat on the back of his neck.

Elderly Lady—What are all those men doing?
Nephew—They are funners—the first one gets a gold loving cup.
Elderly Lady—But what are all the others running for?

"This day," said a recent horoscope, "is a time to avoid discussions and arguments." Every day is a good time for that.

When Eve had eaten the apple she realized for the first time her nakedness. "It looks to me," says a local person, "as if it is about the time to pass the apples again."

"Car manufacturers make no secret of the fact that they cater to women now." So says a magazine, adding that bathtubs are rose-colored; handbags and golf clubs betray feminine influence. But one still may buy a he-man shaving brush.

Manager of Restaurant (to Scotchman)—The idea! You come in and drink a glass of water, then walk calmly out!
Scotchman—Did ye expect me to stagger out?

It's surprising how many people don't want a drink, but won't have anybody telling them they can't have it.

Boss—Is Perkinson a good salesman?
Manager—You bet; he could sell glass eyes to potatoes.

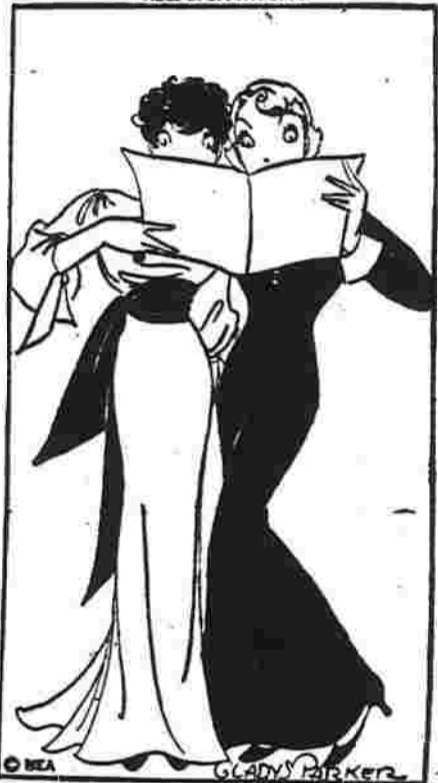

To be successful on the stage a girl must be pretty, wear her clothes well, and have something to show when they swish.

Political Speaker—I'm pleased to see such a dense crowd here tonight. Voice from the Audience—Don't be too pleased. We ain't all dense.

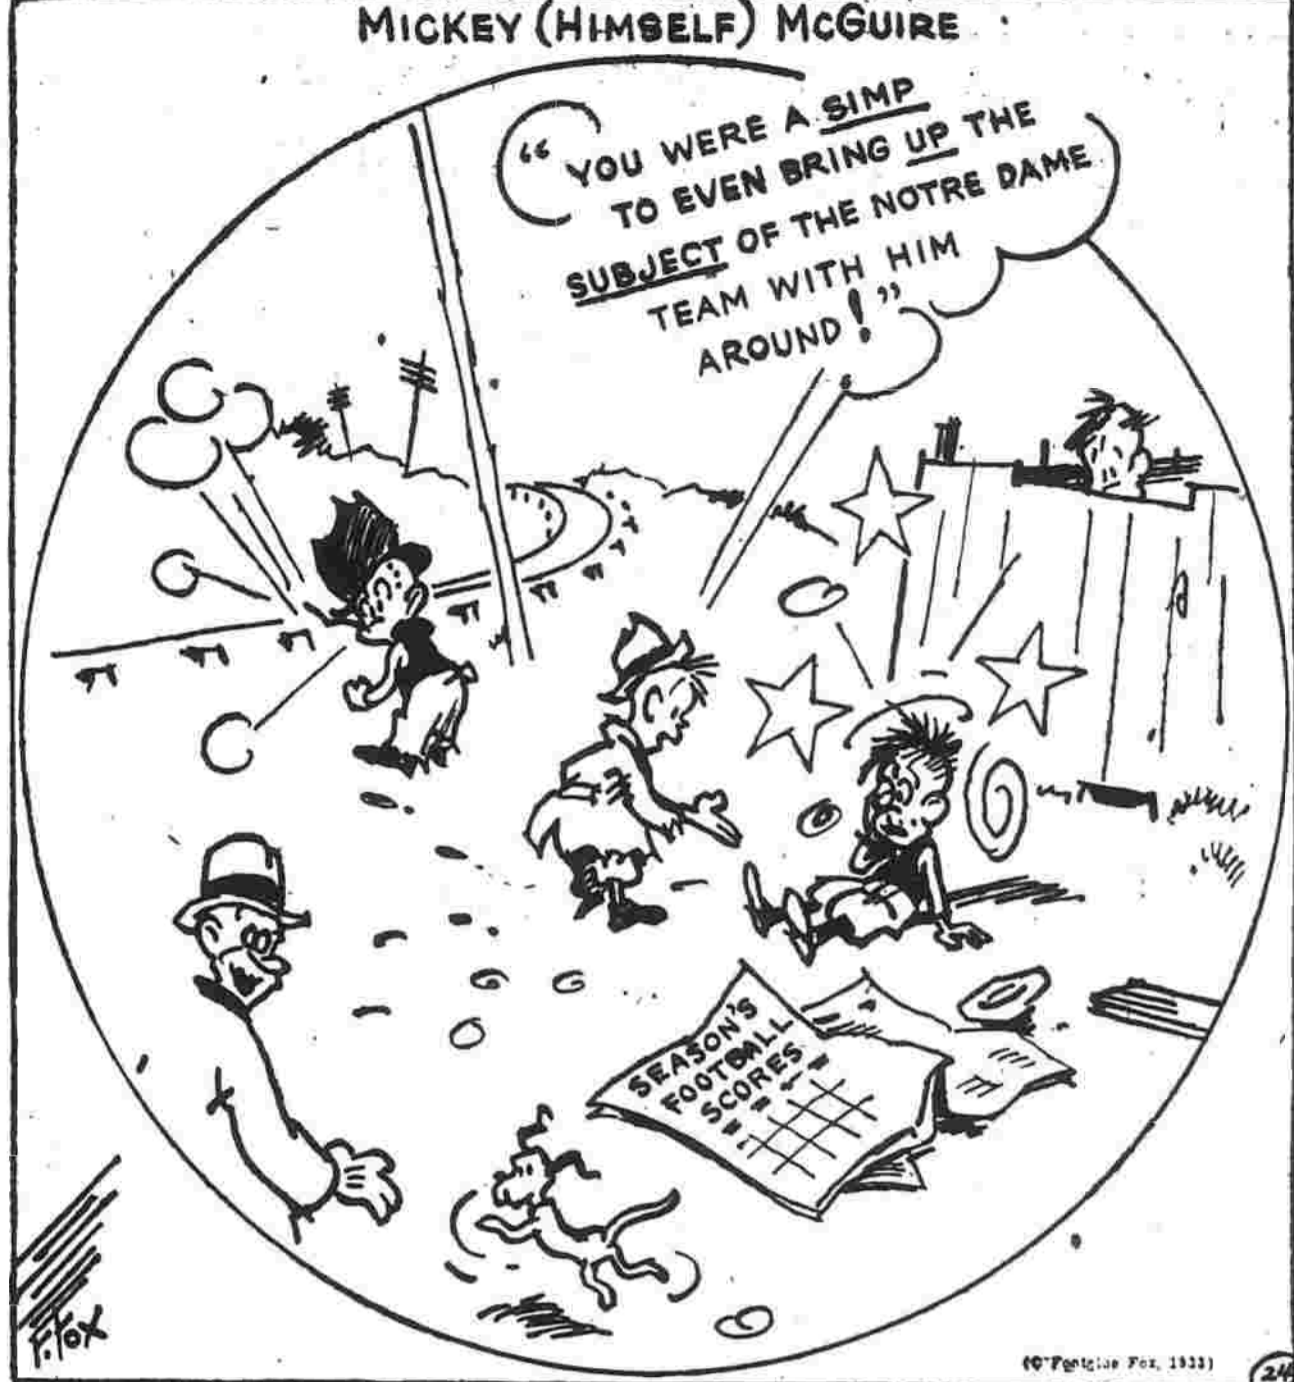

A girl who marries a widower is bound to be disappointed because she loses all of the fun taming him.

The age of the average adult is only 14 mentally, says a psychologist. Which would indicate that the average adult is considerably below the average.
