TO REGISTER IDLE OF STATE QUICKLY

State Labor Department
Opens Bureaus to Have
All Jobless Men On Books
Before Friday.

New Haven, Nov. 28.—(AP)—The State Labor Department today began opening unemployment registration bureaus in the towns of the state in an effort to register all unemployed before Friday, it was made known today incidental to a conference here yesterday of selectmen of New Haven county towns with State Agent W. E. Hulse and Miss Eloise Tanner, supervisor of relief standards for the United States.

The conference, it was explained at the time, was aimed "to cut through red tape, in an effort to get unemployment relief in action. Questions were asked of the two officials bearing on type of work to be offered, number of hours a week to be worked, the method of payment, and on kindred angles of the general topic.

To James Ross of Milford, Hulse said towns had no jurisdiction in the rate of pay, the government having set a minimum of 50 cents an hour. W. S. Hine of Orange said men on unemployment relief there were receiving 30 cents an hour and he "feared the increased rate would have a bad effect in the future."

Source of Payment
Hulse questioned Hulse closely as to the source of payment, and the latter replied: "Eventually, you (a town) are going to pay out of your own pocket."

"You mean then, the towns have to pay?" asked Hine.
"No, the towns do not have to pay. The government pays the payroll. It costs you nothing," Hulse replied.

"Then, I want some of it—it's the first time in my life I ever got something for nothing," returned Hine.
Hine was unable to present any projects for employment of men, when it came to turn of Orange to present a plan for using men. Hulse said he would consult with town officers and report later.

Guilford had eight separate projects for consideration; Southbury asked for men to re-lay rails and cutting brush in various sections. Bethany had widening, draining and graveling projects. East Haven wants a storm sewer. Branford has suggested footpaths along the Boston-Post road. Oxford proposed that Barry Road and Oak road be improved. North Branford would like road grading done. Madison has a large program of road improvements. Beacon Falls proposed to drain and grade Blackberry hill, Laakey and Tift roads, and Cook Lane.

Other Projects
Seymour could use 150 men on widening and graveling of Maple street. Chebese submitted two dirt road projects. Woodbridge would like to put workers on Clarke, Newton, and Rimmon roads and Ford street. Middlebury offered the improvement of A. Hartwood farm road.

Hulse made it clear that all proposals submitted were tentative and subject to revision. Those accepted will be on the basis of men and amount of money allowed to a town. He said first selectmen would be chairmen of C. W. A. units in their own towns and could approve of their own projects. Town authorities could allow men 12.24, 28 or 30 hours weekly. Hulse advised selectmen to end a work week on Wednesday so that payrolls might be sent in and checks mailed out by Saturday.

Can Make Up Time
Miss Tanner of New Haven, recently appointed a supervisor of relief standards, has advised selectmen that C. W. A. workers who lose time because of inclement weather may make up that time providing rain is done within the calendar month.

Central registration offices were opened today in several New Haven county towns. These were Hamden, West Haven, Milford, Bethany, Woodbridge, North Haven, Branford, North Branford and Madison. Other towns each will have its own office.

There were some 50 selectmen present at the conference yesterday, all representing towns of 10,000 or less.

LAST WEEK'S WORKERS

Hartford, Nov. 28.—(AP)—With 4,711 persons working 113,190 hours at wages of $53,318.45 last week, the state's civil works program continued this week with additional workers taken on "work relief" and put on the Federal payroll. These statistics were forwarded to Harry L. Hopkins, National C. W. A. head, last night by Miss Eleanor H. Little, executive director of the state administration. More transfers from "work relief" were reported to Miss Little, among them 3,456 from Bridgeport, 160 from East Hartford, 485 from New London, 150 from Ansonia, 150 from Derby, 900 from New Haven, 170 from Shelton and 25 from Seymour. Miss Little is notifying local units how to proceed after the quota of

'LITTLE WOMEN' PREMIERE HERE TOMORROW P. M.

Famous Epic Of New England Family On Screen
With Katherine Hepburn
Starred As "Jo".

Manchester theater patrons will be given an unusual treat tomorrow evening when they view, along with theater-goers in four other places in this state, the first exhibition in New England of the picturization of Louisa M. Alcott's famous "Little Women" starring Hartford's own Katherine Hepburn in the tempestuous role of Jo March. The State theater here will present "Little Women" in a show beginning at 8:30 and again at 8:45 p. m. There will be no matinee at the local movie house tomorrow. The box office will be open, however, during the afternoon for those who care to purchase tickets in advance.

Other Showings
Other municipalities in Connecticut that will give premiere showings of the famous picture are Hartford, Torrington, Danbury and Willimantic. No other New England theaters have exhibited the classic film. New York is seeing "Little Women" in one theater at advanced prices. The Connecticut theaters in the Hartford-Bethel system are seeing it at regular prices. The film story, as produced by RKO-Radio opens when the four girl heroines are entertaining young "vamp" and have just begun to like themselves seriously. It tells the strange story of Beth, her beautiful life and more beautiful death. It carries the complete

CHICAGO'S STRIKE PARALYZES TRADE Only 100 Out Of Nearly 400 Carloads Of Live Stock Are Unloaded.

Chicago, Nov. 28.—(AP)—The Chicago stock yards presented a holiday appearance today as the live stock handlers strike continued to hold trade in a paralyzing grasp. Pickets about the main entrances of the huge yard had occasional arguments with workers entering or leaving but did little else than promise under the watchful eyes of policemen.

Only 100 head of livestock were trucked in yesterday more than 700 vehicles clogged the streets near the yards.
Only 100 Cars Unloaded
Arrivals by railroad early today totaled 399 carloads with less than 100 unloaded. Commission men met the emergency yesterday, with news of selectmen and clerks. A truce was made yesterday under the terms of which stock could be unloaded and fed by volunteer crews without interference from the strikers, but this expired at 8 o'clock this morning.

The strikers have agreed to submit their side of the difficulty to an arbitration board this afternoon.
The hog run of 20,000 head carried 15,000 direct to packing plants. The major packers, Swift, Wilson, Armour and Cudahy, have never recognized the striking union and have their own handling crews. The direct shipments were taken care of, but the others were being unloaded as fast as possible and locked in the yards. A public market with little prospect of one until late, if then.

Journey to Stratosphere Helps Plant Life Study

Washington, Nov. 28.—(AP)—The species germinated readily after their return.
It was the first time in the history of science that living species had been sent to such a height above the earth and brought back for scientific analysis. They were carried inside and outside cotton balls tied to the gondola of the balloon.
The species were those of common fungi that float about everywhere near the earth's surface. Mela sought to learn how high in the air they might travel and live. The tests show, he said, that these species, too small to be seen with but a microscope are among the hardest forms of life in existence.

A Wreck On the Six Day Race Track

Sprinters have to take their chances with splinters at the annual whirligig they call the six-day bicycle race. When the grind began at Madison Square Garden, New York, Dempsey of the American team crashed into the pine boards, as shown here. Note the cyclist speeding up from the rear.

RIVAL N. Y. MASS MEETINGS DISCUSS MONEY PROBLEM

Al Smith's Name Boomed
When Mentioned By Fr.
Coughlin; Sound Money
Men Meet In Another Hall

New York, Nov. 28.—(AP)—Two schools of monetary thought played out a tug-of-war with the American dollar at rival mass meetings last night.

On one side was the Rev. Charles E. Coughlin, "radio priest" of Royal Oak, Mich., defending at the Hippodrome the Roosevelt money policies. On the other were the Crusaders, urging "sound" money and deprecating inflation.
Coincident with the two meetings a manifesto signed by 37 Columbia University professors was made public. It urged an "expedient" return to the gold standard by the United States.

The speaker element was added to the difference of opinion concerning the administration's money policies by a letter to Senator Borah of Idaho in which James P. Warburg, banker, suggested a "modernized" international gold standard.
The mass meeting at the hippodrome attracted a crowd which police estimated at 20,000, only 6,500 of whom were able to obtain entry. A force of 175 policemen had difficulty in keeping traffic lanes open, and several persons were slightly hurt in the crush.
Father Coughlin, pointing his dratary at Wall street, the "Tory Press," Alfred E. Smith, J. P. Morgan and all critics of the Roosevelt money policies, referred during his address (which was extemporaneous) to the "sound money" meeting at Carnegie Hall, saying:
"There are only about one thousand persons there and 500 of them are my friends. That meeting was intended to ruin Roosevelt and build up Oggie Mills (Ogden Mills, former secretary of the Treasury) for President in 1936."

Al Smith Boomed
During the course of Father Coughlin's address the name of Al Smith, long the political prince of New York City, was boomed. Once when he said President Roosevelt's enemies had "damned him as a crack-pot," a voice from the crowd cried: "Smith's the crack-pot."
At the Carnegie Hall meeting the speakers denouncing inflation included Matthew Woll, vice president of the American Federation of La-

BOARD GRANTS EARLIER SUNDAY THEATER HOURS

Selectmen Vote, Four To
Two, To Allow 5 O'Clock
Opening—Only One Objection Voiced.

With but one layman in a hearing voicing a protest from the ranks of the church, the Board of Selectmen last night voted four to two in favor of allowing the State Theater and "all other theaters" a two-hour earlier opening on Sunday afternoon making the opening 5 o'clock instead of 7 o'clock as at present.
David Warnock of 559 Main street, a member of the Church of the Nazarenes was the only objector present who publicly argued in favor of retaining the present scale of hours under which the theater has been operating for many years. George C. Grover, manager of the Warner Brothers State Theater, was the chief proponent of the plan.

Has Not Faid
In his petition to the Selectmen, Mr. Hoover stated that it was imperative that the local playhouse be given a chance to "break even." The speaker stated that everything had been done to give Manchester a good theater, with good equipment and a corps of courteous, trained workers. Despite this fact, he said, the theater has for years failed to pay.
In support of his petition Mr. Hoover stated that the Selectmen had a list of names of 75 local business men who advocate the five o'clock opening on Sunday afternoon. Taking this cross-cut of men engaged in business, knowing the economic conditions facing the business today, Mr. Hoover gave as his opinion that these men who had signed for the theater interests, realized the conditions facing the amusement house, based on cold, concrete facts with sentiment left out.

Theater Cooperates
Mr. Hoover assured those of the assembly who might have come to the hearing to object, that the State Theater always has been, and will continue to show, a spirit of cooperation and willingness to cooperate with church and civic authorities. "Recently, the State Theater granted the request of the Salvation Army to loan a vacant

LINDYS NEXT HOP WILL BE TO DAKAR

From There Or St. Louis,
Senegal, They Will Cross
The Atlantic Ocean.

Dakar, Senegal, Nov. 28.—(AP)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh sent a message to French authorities today saying he hoped to fly from Porto Praia, Cape Verde islands, to Dakar tomorrow morning.
The colonel said he intended to take-off at 8 p. m., and asked that preparations be made for his landing and refueling.
Because of some illness here in Dakar, the authorities replied immediately with a suggestion that he fly to St. Louis, Senegal, farther up the coast instead of to this city. They were awaiting the colonel's reply.
The "illness" was explained by authorities to be yellow fever. Only one single case has been discovered, but medical authorities are taking responsibility for the health of either of the Americans, particularly of Mrs. Lindbergh.
Patient Isolated
The single case has been isolated since its discovery one week ago, but medical authorities are taking no chances on its spread.
They informed Col. Lindbergh in a wireless message that he and Mrs. Lindbergh would be perfectly safe here in the daytime but that after sundown mosquitoes which are potential fever carriers become active and that an over-night stay was inadvisable.
St. Louis, they advised, was perfectly safe.

MOB BATTLES MILITIA ARRESTING 4 LYNCHERS

Brooke Hart's Father
Regrets Mob's Action

San Jose, Calif., Nov. 28.—(AP)—Praise and censure for San Jose's mob vengeance on the kidnap slayers of Brooke Hart were cast here today by official efforts to close the case and wipe out scars of its furious climax.
Governors of other states, church leaders and other prominent persons in all parts of the Nation were among those who joined in lauding or condemning the mob's action, and the approval of it by Governor James Rolph, Jr., of California.
Disapproval was expressed by Governor Henry H. Blood of Utah, Governor Henry Horner of Illinois and Governor Pollard of Virginia. Gov. W. H. Murray of Oklahoma declared the "citizens would not have taken the law into their own hands" if speedier prosecutions in the courts were assured.

Rabbi Stephen S. Wise of New York declared the lynchers "more barbaric" than their victims. Henry Darling, rector of the Church of Heavenly Rest, New York, sent congratulations to Gov. Rolph "on the stand you have taken."
In view of Gov. Rolph's declaration, he would immediately pardon any one convicted of the lynchings, officials frankly admitted the probability of prosecution was remote.
Alex. J. Hart, merchant and father of the 22 year old kidnap victim, whose body was placed in the family vault yesterday, was among those regretting the mob action.

FORD DEALER PROTESTS AUTO CONTRACT AWARD

Chevrolet Co. Submits Lower Bid But For a Less
Powerful Motor For 700
Government Trucks.

Washington, Nov. 28.—(AP)—An appeal to J. R. McCarl, comptroller general, was threatened today by R. L. Sabine, president of the Northwest Motor Company, of Bethesda, Maryland, a Ford dealer, if he is not awarded the contract by the War Department for new trucks for the Civilian Conservation Corps.
The number of trucks to be purchased has not been stipulated but a maximum of 700 has been set.
Sabine, who offered bids on eight-cylinder trucks, submitted a unit price of $671.10 delivered at the Detroit plant, while the Chevrolet company, bidding on six-cylinder units, had a low unit bid of $629.10.
Sabine claimed the low bid, however, on the ground that his company could deliver the equipment sufficiently in advance of the Chevrolet company that the government would lose by rejecting the Ford bid.
"If the government awards the contract on an evaluation basis," he said, "of course I won't tie it up in the comptroller's office, but if it does that, there isn't anything else for me to do."
By evaluation basis, Sabine said he meant computation of the saving to the government by earlier delivery.

All of the bidders stated in their proposals that they accepted the NRA requirements, although the proposal of the Northwest company said there were exceptions to the NRA in its bid.
The letter was not made public, but R. L. Sabine, president of the company, indicated he might disclose the contents later.
Sabine, who has charged that reports are being made to eliminate Ford products from consideration in government purchases, said that he offered the bid today knowing that he could not be the low bidder, but because he wanted to "play square with the rank and file of the War Department."
He said he desired to be in a position to appeal from any ruling that might be made by J. R. McCarl, to have "anybody" who has been asked for a second ruling on the eligibility of bidders on Ford products.
He understood he could not appeal if he failed to submit a bid today.
The invitation for bids did not state the exact number of trucks that the department will buy, but fixed a maximum of 700. The department may purchase any number below that figure.

'33 Thanksgiving Dinner For Six to Cost $5.50

New Haven, Nov. 28.—(AP)—A shell, cranberries, vegetables and two kinds of pie, without any extra cost, ice-cream can be substituted for the oysters.
Stack said the turkey in the $5.50 dinner is a high quality, fresh killed western turkey. If a Connecticut bird is desired, the price of the dinner will be increased by $1.75.
Figures compiled by Stack disclose that about 300,000 pounds more turkey will be consumed in Connecticut this Thanksgiving Day than last year. He said 63 oysters, each containing about 20,000 pounds of turkey, have already been shipped into Connecticut compared to 52 carloads last year.

BULLETIN!

Annapolis, Md., Nov. 28.—(AP)—At 11:37 a. m. today, Brig. General Milton A. Reckord, state adjutant general, reported to Governor Albert C. Ritchie at Annapolis by telephone that he had the situation "well in hand" in Salisbury where a crowd has been threatening the armory.
Governor Ritchie said he would make a decision about whether or not to send more troops to aid the 300 militiamen who are guarding four men charged with being members of a mob that lynched a negro in Princess Anne last month.

Salisbury, Md., Nov. 28.—(AP)—Tear gas bombs were hurled by State Militia today when a crowd of 400 men apparently incensed at the arrest of four members of the Princess Anne lynch mob advanced on the State Armory here.
The crowd gave way temporarily, but the crowd again advanced and the soldiers who arrived last night from Baltimore were driven back into the armory.
A general fire alarm was sounded and firemen came to the rescue of the 400 members of the militia, ordered by Governor Albert C. Ritchie to arrest nine men said to have been members of the mob that lynched a negro in Princess Anne last month.
The streaming crowd appeared to be unmindful of the tear gas, coming closer all the while. A few minutes later another barrage of tear gas was used.

Addresses the Mob
Brig. General Milton A. Reckord, adjutant general of Maryland, stepped out in the street and said: "Get back. We don't want to hurt anybody."
Whereupon, there was a yell from the crowd:
"What right have you to come down here and run our country?" one man shouted.
Another yell came out: "Oh Reckord's all right. He's a regular fellow. He's just obeying orders."
Crowd Grows Fast
The crowd, which gathered early today after the news spread that the militia had come to Salisbury and was arresting the alleged lynchers, was augmented by long motor caravans converging on Salisbury from many points on the eastern shore of Maryland, Delaware and Virginia.
The Associated Press correspondent, sending messages on the printer wire, said he could see much of the action from where he was sitting.
In Annapolis, David C. Winebruner, 3rd, secretary of state, was informed of the developments in Salisbury and said he would leave at once to take the news to Governor Ritchie, who is ill.

A rain of bricks was hurled at the armory by the crowd outside and this was followed by shots, although it was not immediately apparent who had fired them, the soldiers or the mob attacking.
The firemen continued to send streams of water into the tear gas, apparently in an effort to deny the effects of the fumes. They appeared to be in sympathy with the crowd. This brought cheers from the crowd.
General Reckord appeared on the outside of the armory and ordered all persons standing on porches of private homes in the vicinity of the armory to evacuate.

TREASURY BALANCE

Washington, Nov. 28.—(AP)—The position of the treasury on November 28 was: Receipts, $5,756,405.88; expenditures, $51,133,411.76; balance, $1,150,700,858.95. Customs receipts for the month, $23,680,088.20. Receipts for the fiscal year to date (since July 1) $1,122,155,379.96; expenditures, $1,249,970,186.41 (including $448,603,331.51 for emergency relief); excess of expenditures, $727,507,906.78.

TO RELEASE MURDER SUSPECTS ON SUNDAY

Trio Held On Vagrancy Charge To Be Freed, State Police Announce.

The trio held at the Tolland County Jail, Sidney Hines, 30, Negro, of 564-A Gates Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y.; Abe Goldberg, 37, of 401 Schenectady Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y.; and Frank Marshall, 28, of 69 West 69th Street, Manhattan, on suspicion in connection with the murder of Albert Silverman, are to be released on next Sunday morning at 8 o'clock. The trio were committed to the Tolland County Jail on Thursday, November 23, on the charge of vagrancy, after being taken into custody at Providence, R. I., on the same day and brought to Stafford Springs.

Major Frank Nichols and Captain Walter Stiles at the Connecticut State Police Headquarters at 100 Washington street, Hartford, confirmed this statement yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock. When questioned the officers stated that the trio had not been connected with the case of the murder of Albert Silverman in Somers on November 20 and that they were through with them.

County Jailor Esten Clough at the Tolland County Jail in Tolland also confirmed this statement last evening.

Captain Stiles stated last evening that there were no new developments in this murder investigation as yet but that it would still continue. He did state, however, that several additional aliases had been found for the murdered man who was known to many as Albert Silvers. They were "Jacob Lubin" when arrested May 13, 1932 at New York City and "Albert Shaw" when arrested for burglary at Brooklyn, New York, on May 23, 1920.

To Restore Street Lights
A considerable change is expected to be noticed in the street lighting of Rockville within the next ten days as notices have been posted for the municipal meeting at which time an appropriation of $12,000 is to be sought of the taxpayers. This is an increase of two thousand dollars over the appropriation of a year ago which necessitated the elimination of about one-fifth of the street lights. Much complaint has been heard of the street lighting but the Rockville-Willimantic Lightings Company insisted on reducing the number of street lights in proportion to the reduction in the appropriation. The fixtures were permitted to remain on the poles along the different streets of the city. Little or no opposition is expected this year to voting the full appropriation.

The largest appropriation sought on the warning is for $28,000 for the public works department. The next largest sought is the police department who are seeking $10,683.85 after which the health and sewer department asks for $9,700 then comes the fire department seeking $8,750. The salaries of the different city officials amount to but $4,500 while the amount sought for a part payment on the entrance to Union street, voted on April 29, 1931, amounts to $3,750, being but 25 per cent of the amount voted at that time. The miscellaneous groups ask for a total of $17,425. The smallest item sought this year is for $300 for the renovation of the Common Council Chambers which has been in need of repairs for nearly a score of years.

Personal Taxes Coming In Fast
The collection of Personal Taxes in the town of Vernon and the city of Rockville is surpassing all expectations as close to one thousand people have paid their personal taxes to date.

There are a total of 3,856 on the Personal Tax Records of the town of Vernon, which includes the city of Rockville. Of this number there are a total of 2,151 women and a total of 1,705 men. The smaller number of men on the list is due to the number of World War Veterans residing in this locality.

Address High School Students
Dr. W. Smith of the Connecticut State Department of Health addressed a meeting of the assembly of the stockville High School yesterday afternoon at 1:45 o'clock in the auditorium of the George Sykes Memorial School. Dr. Smith spoke on the different health tests which are being given to the high school students throughout the state. Many doctors and parents were also in attendance.

Hear State Educator Tonight
Miss Maude Keator of the Connecticut State Department of Health will address a meeting of the Ellington Parent-Teachers Association at a meeting to be held this evening in the town hall. Miss Keator, who is a director of special education, will speak on the topic "What is mental testing and its value to the adjustment of the problem child in school."

Rockville Brevs
A special meeting of Court Hearts of Oak, Foresters of America, was held last evening in Foresters Hall, at which time plans were formulated for the attending of the funeral of former Mayor Joseph Grist who was treasurer of this court or nearly thirty years.

A large number attended the meeting of Ella G. Berry Auxiliary, United Spanish War Veterans, which was held last evening in the G.A.R. Hall Memorial Building. Following the business meeting a social hour was enjoyed after which refreshments were served. The committee in charge consisted of the following—Mrs. Mary Stiles, chairman; Mrs. Lucy Murray and Mrs. Clara Hewitt.

The public and parochial schools of the town of Vernon will close Wednesday noon for the Thanksgiving recess which will extend until next week.

Queer Twists In Day's News

Philadelphia—Eddie Hinkle, 16, wanted a smoke in the worst way and, it appears, that's about the way he went after it. Police said he whipped out a pistol and demanded a cigarette from Charles Palmer. The latter shouted for help and Hinkle was captured and lodged in jail—still without his smoke.

Pana, Ill.—W. Frank White, county superintendent of schools, thinks Shelby county holds some kind of a record, but isn't sure. In going over the rolls he found 30 sets of twins enrolled in the schools.

Black River Falls, Wis.—The Martins and Gustafsons went to a dance and enjoyed themselves until they left the dance hall and two women alleged bossed Archie Martin while he was tinkering with a balky automobile motor. Martin lost his temper. He began beating the women. Carl Gustafson drew a pistol and wounded Martin. Gustafson went to jail and Martin to a hospital.

BIG 6 MILLION LOAN WAS NEVER REPAYED

Washington, Nov. 28—(AP)—Senate investigators received evidence today that the Chase National Bank let $6,000,000 in 1930 to General Theatres Equipment Inc., for market operations in Fox film stock designed to strengthen the market preliminary to large refinancing operations.

When the loan was made, Murray Dodge, former vice president of Chase Securities Corporation, testified, Fox Film faced maturing notes of $55,000,000 in 1931.

Ferdinand Pecora, committee counsel said the market operations were designed to "boost" the market price of the Fox Film stock, so that options on it would make bonds attractive to the public.

Dodge said the plan failed, as the market collapsed, and the loan was never repaid.

Ossining, N. Y.—William Cunningham, a policeman who plays right tackle for the Mamaroneck All-Stars football team in his spare time, was more than a little surprised when his team played the Sing Sing prison eleven.

Facing him was Sing Sing's star left tackle, Whitey Hand, whom Cunningham arrested for robbery and assault two years ago and who is now serving a long term. Prison officials said there was no "rough stuff" between the two. Sing Sing won, 3 to 0.

Pittsburgh—Accused of stealing three ducks, Robert Lewis, 19, a negro, told Judge S. J. Snee he was awakened in his home by a quacking sound, and there were three ducks in the room.

"I guess they wanted to come in out of the cold and rain," he explained, but he couldn't satisfy the court as to why the ducks crossed the Monongahela river from the home of Mrs. Anna Kurka to find shelter. He was ordered to pay $8 for the ducks and was placed on two years probation.

GOLD BUYING PLAN GIVEN NEW SUPPORT

Increase Of Nine Cents An Ounce—First Boost Since a Week Ago.

Washington, Nov. 28.—(AP)—President Roosevelt's gold buying plan was given a spurt after a week's price standstill, to top London's gold quotation by the biggest margin since its inauguration.

The RFC offered $33.85 an ounce for the newly-mined domestic metal, an increase of nine cents over yesterday's figure and the first boost since a week ago—before acting Secretary Morgenthau conferred with Mr. Roosevelt.

The London gold price was $32 on an opening sterling quotation there of $5.10 to the pound.

During the week of unchanged RFC gold prices, the dollar and government bonds were off, while public controversy over the administration monetary program mounted.

Dollar Strengthened But in recent days, the dollar strengthened abroad and government bonds climbed.

In some quarters today's advance was considered to serve as a reply to criticism of the President's program.

Morgenthau told newsmen upon his return from Warm Springs that the daily gold price would constitute his only comment on the money program.

Today's departure for Warm Springs of Governor Eugene Black of the Federal Reserve board centered interest in possible shifts in the monetary program, but Black declined to discuss the subject.

TALCOTTVILLE

On Saturday afternoon Mrs. James McNally entertained some little folks, the occasion being Donald Wetherell's sixth birthday. The afternoon was spent playing games and doing stunts. First prize for the donkey game was awarded to Newell Hale and second to Marilyn Welles. The supper table was prettily decorated in a pink color scheme and a birthday cake with six tapers graced the center of the table. Those attending were Ethel Litz, Lucille Beebe, Marilyn Welles, Newell Hale, Arthur Bowers and Donald Wetherell.

The Christian Endeavor Society met at 7 o'clock on Sunday evening. The leader was Miss Christine Pettig. There was special music by the Misses Lylabel Strong, Ruth Blinn, Francis and Marjorie Ewing, Miss Ivy Craig of Mt. MOSQUITO ELIMINATION WILL EMPLOY 500 MEN

Civil Works Administration Approves Project; Already Started In Some Towns.

New Haven, Nov. 28.—A statewide project of mosquito elimination, which will employ at least 500 men now on relief rolls, has been approved by the Civil Works Administration of Connecticut, under the federal relief program. Supervision is in the hands of the Connecticut Agricultural Experiment Station, which since 1913 has been in charge of mosquito elimination under state statute.

The work started last week in Stratford and Clinton, and will go forward this week in New London, Waterford and Milford. The project will proceed in other towns as soon as arrangements can be made. R. C. Botford, Station deputy in charge of mosquito elimination, explained today that the project would be centralized under the Station, but that labor would be employed only from lists furnished by the towns. According to federal regulations, the men will be drawn

WHAT'S ON THE AIR BY JOHN BAUSOLA

Ten years ago, or thereabouts, a Manchester youth, John L. Reinartz, owner of Station 1QP, spanned the Atlantic for the second time in history at the dawn of international amateur radio. On Nov. 27, 1923, Fred H. Schnell traffic manager of the American Radio Relay League, at Station 1MO in Hartford, contacted Leon Deloy at Station 8AB in Nice, France. Our own operator who developed the transmitting circuit that all three stations were using, accomplished the same history-making feat.

After considerable preparation, Schnell took a day to get his transmitter working on the 110 meter wave-length, and on Nov. 27, 1923, listened for Deloy who had come to America for special parts designed by Reinartz. The throaty gurgle from far-away France came in on schedule. A long call, and then the invitation to transmit. Schnell replied and the first transatlantic amateur radio conversation of history was on. The Atlantic, subsequently, has been conquered by innumerable amateurs.

Political observers say they believe he will get this vote without difficulty but that the real test of his Cabinet's life will start Tuesday when the Chamber will begin its discussion of government finance measures.

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 28.

SUNDAY TAVERNS.

It has been a source of never ending wonderment to us that this newspaper, an uncompromising advocate of prohibition repeal, should, in its opposition to the Connecticut Liquor Control Act last spring, find itself confronted by a considerable group of church members who, themselves bitter opponents of repeal, nevertheless gave enthusiastic approval to a state liquor law which permitted the opening of beer taverns on Sunday. With all due respect to our church member friends, we have never been able to see how their position in this matter made exact sense.

So far as we can recall there has emanated from no pulpit, nor from any of the various church associations interested in matters of public welfare, one word of protest against the Sunday opening of the taverns. It seems to be left to their newspaper—of whose position toward prohibition we are sorry to say few of them ever approved—to come forward as a proposer of a change in this matter of Sunday tavern opening.

This we unhesitatingly do. The Sunday opening of the taverns has been given a test over a period of a number of months. It does not work well. Several times these places have been the scenes of noisy disturbances on Sunday. Perhaps this is because their doors are then the only public ones open to persons who have been doing their more sincere drinking elsewhere. But in any event New England and Connecticut never suffered, and their people never suffered, in pre-prohibition days, from the fact that on one day of the week the sale of beer over a bar or otherwise was not permitted; and there were no Sunday rows in saloons.

In our opinion it would contribute to the community's orderliness and self respect, and work no hardship at all, if the taverns were required to remain closed all day Sunday. Why should they be permitted to open when package stores must remain closed?

It is within the power of the town of Manchester to close them. While the Liquor Control Act permits the opening of taverns on Sunday between 1 and 9 p. m. the same law extends to the towns and to cities and boroughs the right to "fix by ordinance the time of sale . . . and such ordinance shall supersede the regulations of the commission within the limits of such town, city or borough."

Though the people of Manchester by a vote of nearly five to one declared for repeal of the Eighteenth amendment we do not believe that anything like a majority of them would, if given the opportunity, declare in favor of the Sunday tavern. At all events we should like to see a by-law prohibiting the Sunday sale of any alcoholic liquors, by taverns as well as anybody else, submitted to a town meeting.

Knowing our town, we thoroughly believe such a by-law would be approved by an overwhelming number of the people.

The Liquor Control Act is, of course, a frightful mess. It was put over by making a lot of well intentioned but ingenious people believe that it was a pure and holy scheme to remove the control of liquor from these double dyed princes of political evil, the various boards of county commissioners—who, by the way, under the lax old saloon laws did a very much better job than has been done so far by the State Control Board, which has had to do with nothing but beer. Under the act there is not much that the towns can do to secure rational liquor control within their own limits; but they can, at least close the Sunday tavern.

Let the church people take the lead in this and they will find that they have plenty of support.

HOOTS OF OWLS

For considerably more than a week it has been impossible to pick up any of those newspapers which have been prominently featuring attacks from this, that or the other source upon the administration's money program without finding, conspicuously displayed on the first page, some news story announcing that "President Adheres to Gold Buying," or "Roosevelt Still Stands by Fiscal Policy." This appears to us to indicate a curious sense of news values.

Mr. Roosevelt and his advisors have been pursuing, for many months, a policy of endeavor to raise prices—to halt and to a considerable extent compensate for the deflation of the last four years. The whole immense undertaking upon which the country has been engaged ever since last March is predicated on an increase of values and a diminishment of the grip of the over-powered dollar on basic prices, on land and property values, on securities, on business, on agriculture and on labor. Measures to combat currency deflation were, of course, an inevitable part of the program of rehabilitation. Neglect or abandonment of such measures would be tantamount to neglect or abandonment of the whole vast enterprise, of which they are an integral part.

It followed, as night follows day, that any proposal, of any kind, to free the country from the strangling grip of a monopolized gold standard currency would arouse the bitterest resentment of the extremely small class which had been benefiting by the credit monopoly born of a contracted currency. The campaign of assault on the reflationary program was absolutely certain to develop. President Roosevelt and his immediate supporters could, no doubt, have written down months ago, had they had the time to inculcate for such diversion, substantially word for word every statement and argument now being advanced in opposition to any reflationary measures—and initiated each set of notes with the name of its prospective author. The whole plan of attack, down to the smallest detail, is utterly conventional and conforms precisely to the well understood school of tactics of the deflationists followed for the last sixty years.

Why, then, should there be the slightest surprise—why should it be regarded as even secondary news—that the President does not strike his colors at the merest sniping of the deflationary enemy?

If, on the other hand, the President should show even the slightest inclination to yield, to give up the forward march of his immense army of the American people just because he found a handful of entrenched deflationists in his path—then, indeed, there would be news calling for big headlines. It would be as big news—and as panic breeding—as if Pershing had ordered the American Expeditionary Force back onto its ships because there had appeared on his front a squad of German grenadiers.

What would have been thought, in 1918, of a newspaper which, day after day, screamed in its headlines, "Pershing Still Fights," or "A. E. F. Not Yet in Retreat"? It would probably have been mobbed out of existence.

Last night in New York City there were two great money meetings. According to the Herald-Tribune of that city, the most convinced and the bitterest enemy of the administration's currency policy among the daily newspapers of the country, Carnegie Hall, which seats only about 3,000 persons, was but two-thirds filled for the so-called "sound money" meeting while 6,500 jammed the Hippodrome and 13,000 more packed the streets outside the old theater as they cheered Father Charles E. Coughlin, militant reflationist and booted Al Smith and his "bologna dollar" sarcasm.

Two thousand adherents of deflation, mustered in the very citadel of financial reaction, against twenty thousand boosters for the administration's money plan!

Where on earth is the news in the President's failure to run home at the hoot of an owl? For the life of us we can't see it.

CHURCHES, TAXES.

The City Affairs Committee of New York has tackled a subject which, because to touch it is to impinge on the sensibilities and convictions of so many people, is generally regarded as too hot a poker to lift. That subject is the tax exemption of church owned property.

Very large areas of tax-free land within the limits of New York City are owned by churches and religious institutions and by cemetery corporations, conspicuous examples being on Staten Island where it is said hundreds of acres of the most desirable land on the island are held out of use until sold off in lots, no tax whatever being paid thereon. This, of course, throws the entire tax burden of the area onto the secular property owners.

Very large speculative profits have thus been cleaned up by churches all over Greater New York, which bought their land cheap and sold it dear without having contributed at all to the very great costs of city development.

Many communities outside of New York will be interested to see whether the City Affairs Committee's drive for reform of this system amounts to anything. If it does, it is possible that there may be an extension of this idea of limiting the tax exemptions of churches and other institutions at least to the original purposes of such exemptions. It is difficult to see any reason, when a church sells at a profit land which it has held free of taxation for many years, and reaps a profit therefrom, why the community should not claim the back taxes out of the profit. Nor is it much clearer why such back taxes should not be collected when income-producing property is sold at a profit after having been tax free during its use.

We know of no state or city where there is any general demand for the taxing of property actually devoted to church or religious institutional uses, though there are of course occasional individuals who insist that in a country without an established church there is no justice in any of these exemptions; but it is not probable that there may come a time when the only church or institutional property given the tax-exempt privilege will be that actually and necessarily used by the church or the institution. Such a time would be likely to be hastened by too stubborn an attitude of opposition to attempts to remedy such a situation as that of which the City Affairs Committee complains.

IN NEW YORK

New York—Martial music, hunting horns and southern accents; human and equine aristocracy; topers and tails, ermine and orchids; pretty women on high-stepping, high-spirited mounts; brilliant uniforms sailing over jumps; polite applause, swelling now and again to thunder, with yells of enthusiasm—these are some of the things a National Horse Show is made of. And over it all, nearly as tangible as the sound and light, and the smell of tanbark, are the accumulated traditions of the sportsmanship of the past.

Just now the nation's greatest horse show is celebrating a half-century of progress, this being the golden anniversary of the day when a few gentlemen rented Gilmore's garden and charged 25 cents to see an exhibit of "horses, ponies, mules and donkeys."

That's why Madison Square Garden is full of mellow sentiment at present. Officials even considered putting a few mules and donkeys just for old time's sake. But they compromised on utilitarian heavy-harness classes and frequent exhibitions of an eight-horse brewery team.

These shows are not run for profit, and in past years some of them have lost a good deal of money. Now can any exhibitor hope to win enough cash prizes (most of the awards are cups and the coveted ribbons) to pay the various transportation and entrance costs. It's all done for the love of the sport, and in appreciation of blood-hoofed horses which never, obviously, are to be replaced by automobiles or autogiros.

Style in the Basement. In the basement of the Garden reached by winding ramps, are the box stalls—long rows of them separated by narrow aisles. Here mingle the trainers and grooms, and proud owners come to inspect their mounts, and a few privileged visitors who "oh" and "ah" over the sleek beauties, soon discovering that fine horses seem to have a taste for orchids and gardenias.

To be admired, too, are the tack rooms, some with silk-lined walls and ceilings and containing rich rugs, shaded lamps and modernistic furniture. Tack rooms are primarily, of course, for the exhibition of trophies and the storage of saddles, bridles and all the dozens of other horsey accessories.

Just to give you an idea, a "gentleman" member of a hunt team has to appear in the ring with these appointments, which count .2 per cent in the judging; colored coat, white breeches, silk hunting hat with guard, and black boots with brown or colored tops with white garters; spurs, gloves, white woolen rain gloves (under girth); hunting crop with thong; sandwich case off side rear, flask near side front, containing food and drink.

According to English hunting etiquette, gentlemen and ladies have to have port wine in their flasks, tiny sandwiches in their cases. Some judges in prohibition America have refrained from looking into flasks. Other judges, holding sternly to their duty, have sampled them and found everything from fine whiskey to bathtub gin. Last year the flasks contained cold oler, and ten points were lopped off for deficiency in "appointments."

WHAT DOES HEARTBURN MEAN?

Heartburn is a symptom which means that something is wrong with the stomach, not the heart. Heartburn develops after eating and refers to a burning sensation at the top of the stomach, which may rise upward along the tube through which food enters the stomach. Since the top of the stomach is close to the heart, it may appear that a trouble is a burning sensation at the top of the stomach, which rises upward along the tube through which food enters the stomach. Since the top of the stomach is close to the heart, it may appear that a trouble is a burning sensation at the top of the stomach, which rises upward along the tube through which food enters the stomach.

Since heartburn is a digestive disorder, a patient with a severe attack will also have other signs of indigestion, particularly a large amount of stomach gas, hyper-acidity, some nausea or a sick feeling at the pit of the stomach, and there will rise to the throat a sour, bitter, watery fluid called water brash. Palpitation or too rapid beating of the heart is usually present, due to a large pocket of gas at the top of the stomach, which presses against the heart. The rapid pounding of the heart frequently misleads the patient into believing he has heart trouble, which is not true.

Some people suffer from heartburn only occasionally, others may have it after every meal; in the latter case, heartburn indicates hyper-acidity of the stomach and some degree of stomach inflammation. At this stage heartburn is curable, although the treatment takes more time than when the trouble is just starting. Heartburn should always be corrected before more serious ulcer complaint develops such as ulcer of the stomach or severe stomach inflammation.

Heartburn is a sign that you are not eating properly. The most common causes are: eating too much, using wrong food combinations, eating in too much of a hurry or when nervous and excited, and eating highly seasoned foods. The foods most likely to bring on heartburn are the starches, as faulty digestion of starchy food is often responsible for the production of excessive amounts of stomach gas.

The quickest way to secure permanent relief is to use nothing but water for several days to keep the stomach well washed. This will relieve the gastritis or inflammation of the stomach which may be present, and you are to use one glassful of water every half hour during the day and any time during the night that you may happen to be awake. You will be pleasantly surprised to note how rapidly the annoying burning is relieved during this period when the digestive organs are resting. While you are taking the water, it is necessary for you to use one enema each day.

Then one of the officers tried him as a jumper. And Ugly has been jumping beautifully ever since.

HEALTH--DIET ADVICE

WHAT DOES HEARTBURN MEAN?

Heartburn is a symptom which means that something is wrong with the stomach, not the heart. Heartburn develops after eating and refers to a burning sensation at the top of the stomach, which may rise upward along the tube through which food enters the stomach. Since the top of the stomach is close to the heart, it may appear that a trouble is a burning sensation at the top of the stomach, which rises upward along the tube through which food enters the stomach.

Since heartburn is a digestive disorder, a patient with a severe attack will also have other signs of indigestion, particularly a large amount of stomach gas, hyper-acidity, some nausea or a sick feeling at the pit of the stomach, and there will rise to the throat a sour, bitter, watery fluid called water brash. Palpitation or too rapid beating of the heart is usually present, due to a large pocket of gas at the top of the stomach, which presses against the heart. The rapid pounding of the heart frequently misleads the patient into believing he has heart trouble, which is not true.

Some people suffer from heartburn only occasionally, others may have it after every meal; in the latter case, heartburn indicates hyper-acidity of the stomach and some degree of stomach inflammation. At this stage heartburn is curable, although the treatment takes more time than when the trouble is just starting. Heartburn should always be corrected before more serious ulcer complaint develops such as ulcer of the stomach or severe stomach inflammation.

Oscar Chapman, over-worked assistant secretary of the interior, gazed over a pile of documents. "Haven't time to read 'em all, but I must. If I go to jail for NRA, I want to know why," he jested. But he didn't go to jail. He's gone to the hospital. "High fever, run-down by overwork," was the doctor's verdict.

About Face, Quick!

General Johnson's "thorough agreement" with the Gerard Swope plan for turning over NRA to industry for operation was modified drastically at the behest of newspapermen who didn't believe the administrator meant what he said. The newspapermen probably just beat the White House to it. Johnson's second statement next morning made it plain that no abandonment of government supervision was contemplated.

Still Go After 50

Workers past 50 are not ready for the scrap heap. That's the verdict of Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins. She studied the new civil service rule barring applicants over 40. "I've found workers over 50 capable, efficient with valuable, mature judgment, better disciplined, less subject to turnover," she said. She favors a balance between younger and older workers in office and industry.

WAPPING

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Van Sicklein and family motored to Winsted last Saturday, where they spent the day with Mrs. Van Sicklein's mother, Mrs. Annie Parkington.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene W. Platt of Wapping will have as their guests on Thanksgiving Day, Mrs. Platt's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Addison Frink of Andover and Mr. Platt's mother, Mrs. Sadie N. Platt of Manchester.

Mrs. Martha (Stoughton) Williams and Mrs. Lillian M. Grant served a chicken pie dinner to an out-of-town party at their tea-room last Thursday evening and afterwards the party hired the Wapping School hall, where they enjoyed the rest of the evening dancing.

There will be a Thanksgiving service at the Federated church on Thursday morning at half past nine o'clock but the regular Thursday evening prayer meeting will be omitted this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Sharp, Mr. and Mrs. George Sharp, and Miss Harriet E. Sharp, all of Mystic, motored to Wapping Sunday and attended the dedication service of the community house.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN Washington

By RODNEY DUTCHER
 The Herald Washington Correspondent.

Washington, Nov. 28.—Dr. Rex Tugwell, No. 1 man of the Brain Trust, is embarked on a labor of love.

Food and drug law reform wasn't just a problem which fell into his lap when Mr. Roosevelt made him assistant secretary for agriculture. Tugwell reached out and embraced it.

He had an active, studious interest in protection of consumers from physical harm or swindlers by dishonest makers of patent medicines, foods and cosmetics. He was a friend of F. J. Schlink, co-author of the sensational "100,000,000 Guinea Pigs," and a backer of the Schlink-directed "Consumers' Research," which informs folks on how to get their money's worth—if any—in everything they buy, from pink pills to automobiles.

The Food and Drug Administration here had sought curbs on misleading claims for years. No support came from higher up.

Tugwell promptly worked out the pure food and drug bill sponsored by Senator Copeland of New York. Under his inspirations, the Agriculture Department, against opposition from many medicine makers, began an extraordinarily intensive campaign for the legislation.

Publicity was most sought. Tugwell's best break came when he induced Mrs. Roosevelt to view his exhibit of horrible examples. She discussed dangerous cosmetics at her press conference and public interest since has been stirred increasingly.

Tugwell made a sound movie speech, reproduced locally and referred—not by name—to an eye-rolling eye alleged to have blinded people. Dozens of Washington beauty parlor operators wrote for information Mr. Tugwell were using that dye on their customers.

The department, bold under Tugwell, promptly issued a press release calling the preparation by name.

3 INTOXICATED DRIVERS FINED

Fourth Offender Arrested For Own Safety—Three Are Guilty.

Three men were before the town court this morning charged with driving their automobiles while under the influence of intoxicants and one other was charged with intoxication. All three intoxicated drivers were found guilty and fined. In the case of the fourth offender judgment was suspended upon payment of costs.

Raced Up Street
Lawrence McNamara, 26, of 610 North Main street, a local garage employee was arrested by chief of Police Samuel B. Gordon charged with intoxicated driving and with reckless driving. He had raced up Spruce street yesterday afternoon about 4:50 narrowly missing a smashup at the junction of East Center street and had turned back down Spruce. Chief Gordon saw the near accident and pursued McNamara in a commandeered car. The driver was caught on Bissell street after he had driven 45 to 50 miles per hour past dangerous intersections, Chief Gordon testified. McNamara said he was guilty of reckless driving but that he was not intoxicated. Dr. LeVerne Holmes testified McNamara was not able to operate an automobile. Judge Johnson imposed a fine of $125 and costs which was paid.

Car Jumps Curb
Peter Goldrick, 30, of South Windsor, employed in a garage in South Windsor, was arrested about midnight by Patrolman Raymond Griffin after he had jumped a 14 inch curb at the Manchester railroad station and was proceeding up the railroad tracks towards the Main street crossing. Goldrick's wife was with him at the time. He was examined by Dr. LeVerne Holmes who said that Goldrick was intoxicated. Goldrick pleaded guilty and was fined $100 and costs.

Night's Lodging
Joseph Kaleda of Rockville, was arrested at Depot Square at three o'clock this morning for intoxication by Patrolman Raymond Griffin. Kaleda was brought in for his own protection since he was doing no one any harm and was not causing a disturbance. Judge Johnson suspended upon payment of costs of $8.32. He remarked that it was a costly night's lodging for him.

CURLEY PROPOSES FEDERAL AIR BASE

Boston's Mayor Wants It Situated On Governor's Island; Would Create Jobs.

Washington, Nov. 28.—(AP)—Mayor Curley of Boston came to Washington today to promote Federal development of Governor's Island in Boston harbor as a Federal air base.

Curley estimated the project would cost about $4,000,000 and said it would give employment to 4,000 men for a full year.

The Boston mayor said he expected to see, in connection with the project, officials of the War Department and the Public Works Administration.

The Governor's Island site is immediately east of the civilian airport and would be linked by an earth fill with the latter port.

"Today we have," said Curley, "perhaps the most accessible and largest airport in the world."

Studied Previously
The project previously had been studied by the War Department in 1930 and 1931, Curley said. He pointed out that the Governor's Island site could be used for both an airfield and a seaplane base.

Mayor Curley also said that while in the capital he proposed to take up with Secretary Roper the question of getting some of the surplus overcoat cloth now owned by the government. If this could be done, he said, a large number of women would be put to work at making about 4,000,000 yards of the cloth into coats for poor children.

Dodges Money Question
Before he left the White House, where he chatted for a few minutes with Stephen T. Early, of President Roosevelt's secretary, the Boston mayor was asked by newspapermen what he thought about inflation.

"I'll tell you what I'll do," said Curley, "I'll send you a copy of a statement on 'How to be prosperous with rubber dollars and happy with beloney dollars.'"

With this Curley laughed, slapped his questioner on the shoulder and departed.

The principles of mass production were seen and practiced more than a century ago, and have been in continuous use ever since.

OPEN FORUM

ANDREA ART GUILD

To the Editor:
A happy venture is beginning its way this week in Hartford. On Friday The Andrea Art Guild will open its newly founded gallery to the public. Each month will introduce a special exhibition of work by contemporary American artists.

In several ways this is a unique undertaking—not the least of which is the motive behind the idea. Although frequently the works exhibited will be for sale, the chief object in showing them is to acquaint the American public constantly and adequately with what artists in America are producing. There is no other institution in Connecticut devoted to that patriotic and much needed purpose. It is a truly pioneer purpose, this one of finding, sponsoring, and heralding native worth in art. No more appropriate auspices could be asked than that of a Christian clergyman; for art is inseparable from spirit.

Rev. Andrew J. Kelly of St. Anthony's Church, Hartford, has so fine an appreciation himself and has become so impressed with the need of art in the lives of people that he has formed this guild of Catholic priests and laity for the patronage and propagation of American art. He was much affected and encouraged in his attitude by James Britton who all his lifetime has fought for recognition of art produced by Americans. No one could spend an hour with Mr. Britton and not realize that something necessary is missing in the life of a man who can find in himself no sense for art. No one could become his friend without discovering that America has produced and is producing rich veins in art.

The first exhibition at the Andrea Art Guild Gallery shows some canvases by Mr. Britton and by Louis J. Lumbor of New York City. Some of the canvases are religious subjects, one of which is Jambor's "Descent from the Cross." The arrangement of the figures is unusual, the color rich, and the drama restrained. His large canvas portraying Christ on a healing mission within the temple gates is freely composed, dignified in structure, beautiful in its rich warm tones. All his canvases carry a luxuriant warmth of color and emotion which is rather in contrast to the very highly keyed color of Britton's canvases displayed. Clear, decisive, and vibrant are the lines and tones in Britton's portrait of Pope Pius X. visioning St. Teresa, brilliant in his "Cardinal Newman", frank though cool in his "Women in Church." His colors seem to sing and enjoy, his lines to strike, while Jambor's colors beckon softly, soothingly, richly, and his lines mould their way along. Britton also shows a few landscapes which cannot be surpassed in color composition, and atmosphere. One of them depicts St. Mary's church during a snow-storm, another St. Mary's in the moonlight.

One of the ways in which Father Kelly plans to further an interest in American pictures, particularly religious subjects, is to issue series of high grade color prints. His first series which has just come from the press comprise Jambor's "Last Supper", and Britton's "Pope Pius X", "Cardinal Newman", and "Two Women in Church."

In the near future it is expected that the Guild will broadcast a series of lectures on American art. The Guild Hall adjoins St. Anthony's Rectory on Market street. It provides a quiet, dignified, helpful place in the midst of town turmoil, and is open to all without charge.

Altogether Father Kelly has undertaken a project which only a man of far vision, much courage, and unswerving faith would undertake in our unsettled times. But the worthiness of his motive insures success.

WAGE SCALE REDUCTION IS CALLED UNOFFICIAL

But Dr. Dolan Says He Got His Authority Direct From Washington.

Hartford, Nov. 28.—(AP)—An exemption granted by the local N. R. A. board through Dr. Edward G. Dolan reducing the wage scale from 30 cents per hour as set forth by the blanket code to 25 cents now being paid by members of the Connecticut Valley Shade Growers' Association was made "without proper authority," according to an opinion handed down by the Regional Labor Board of New York following a hearing on a complaint of the Cigar Makers and Tobacco Workers International Union of America.

Dr. Dolan, commenting on the situation this morning, said that the authority under which he granted the exemption was direct from Washington, and added that local disputes are handled by the regional board in Boston and not the regional labor board of New York. He said he did not wish to enter into a dispute and desired to be fair to both sides in the tangle that has resulted following the exception permitting members of the Connecticut Valley Association to reduce wages five cents below the minimum set in the blanket code.

Approximately 1,000 of the country's needy residents at Ishpeming, Mich., have been supplied with firewood for the winter.

SAY WOMEN REPEATERS WORKED IN HARTFORD

Hartford, Nov. 28.—(AP)—As a result of disclosures obtained in his investigation into the recent city election frauds, State Attorney Hugh M. Alcorn secured the arrest of Salvatore "Boso" Malone, 26, of 71 Ferry street, Middletown, by police in that city this morning.

Malone, a well known figure in Middletown, where he has been arrested several times previously in connection with disturbances of one kind or another, was picked up and held until representatives of County Detective Edward J. Hickey arrived to bring him to Hartford for questioning. In Hartford, Malone has been known in political affairs as "body-guard" for Alderman Edward D. Fallotti in the Second Ward. County Detective Hickey said that he had evidence that women repeaters were used in the city election. He also said that he was seeking illegal voters who had been arrested by policeman but released before court by "some authority" connected with the police department.

CROSS APPOINTMENTS

Hartford, Nov. 28.—(AP)—The appointment of Seth Lowe Pierce, point of Litchfield, and Professor George M. Dutcher of Middletown as members of the commission for observance of the 800th anniversary of the settlement of Connecticut, was announced this morning by Governor Cross.

EMERGENCY DOCTORS

Doctor Moriarty, 5445 and Dr. Lundberg, 5629, are the physicians who will respond to emergency calls tomorrow afternoon.

ABOUT TOWN

H. W. Hollister of Woodland street, local building remover, who has been seriously ill for the past two weeks with pleuro-pneumonia, is now on the road to recovery.

The Catholic Ladies of Columbus will omit its regular meeting this week on account of the holiday, and will also postpone the charity card party from December 5 to December 12 at the K. of C. clubrooms.

Alfred Novelli of South Main street is spending a few days in New York where he is visiting his brother.

While engaged in sawing wood this morning, Charles Winchester, 28, of Lake street, employed by C. E. Wilson of 302 Woodbridge street, cut his left index finger badly and was taken to the Manchester Memorial hospital for emergency treatment by Mr. Wilson.

A lucky number dance instead of a barn dance, will be held at Turn hall, North street, Saturday evening, under auspices of a committee of the women of the Polish National church.

Miss Shirley Richmond of Edgerton street, a senior at Manchester High school returned home yesterday from St. Francis hospital where she underwent an operation for appendicitis on the 18th.

The Personal Finance Co. will change their regular schedule of hours in view of the Thanksgiving holiday and remain open Wednesday until 6:30 p. m.

A number from this town are planning to go to Wapping tonight for the performance of "Peg O' My Heart" by the Manchester Community Players, at the new Wapping Community church house.

The Manchester branch of the Better Films Council, heartily endorses the picture, "Little Women" which is to be presented at the State Theater tomorrow evening at 8:30 and the remainder of the week.

Winners of the turkeys raffled off last evening by the American Legion auxiliary at the home of Mrs. Edward Hess, were as follows:

No. 929, H. C. Flavel, 452 Hartford Road; 1837, George Duncan, Hollister street and 2019, J. Hutchinson, 2 Gerard street. The winners may have their turkeys at the Pinchurst Grocery on presentation of the corresponding stubs. A number of the unit members and the finance committee were present at the drawing last night.

The Odd Fellows remind all who have tickets out on the turkeys to be raffled off at Odd Fellows hall tomorrow night at 9 o'clock, and urge that they be turned in before that time.

John Chartier, of North Main street, reached his 62nd birthday yesterday. He has had so many birthdays that he had forgotten about another, but his friends did not and while reclining in an easy chair reading the papers his friends marched in. There were fifteen in all and they brought along provisions for a dinner that was served later. The radio was turned on, the carpets rolled up and a merry time was enjoyed until midnight.

THREE LOCAL STUDENTS ENROLLED AT YALE

Of the 1,485 Connecticut students at Yale University at New Haven, three are from Manchester. They are: Kimberly Cheney, at the School of Law; and Roger Olcott and Robert M. Treat at the School of Engineering. A total of 5,476 students are registered this year and the Connecticut enrollment is the largest representation of state students; at Yale in the 232 years of the University's history.

JOB REGISTRARS MOVE TO ARMORY

Unable To Handle Crowd Of Unemployed At The Municipal Building.

Agents of the Connecticut Employment service were literally swamped this morning at 9 o'clock when they reported at the Municipal building to conduct the federal registration here. Immediately upon looking over the crowd, Ettore P. Costello, registrar in charge, decided that the work could be done to better advantage at the armory.

The registration began shortly after 10 o'clock with six registrars at work on a long table placed on the east side of the armory drill floor. During the forenoon approximately 300 of the large group were listed but the line continued to lengthen until early this afternoon while the workers were taking time out for lunch, it extended down the basement stairs along the walls to the rear end of the armory.

Today Only Chance It was estimated that fully 500 men, most of them but a few years out of high school, were awaiting their turn to register. It was stated by the clerk in charge that Manchester will only be given today to list the remaining men out of work. Those remaining after the registration closes tonight will be obliged to register in Hartford, the worker said.

BACK-FIRING STARTS BLAZE IN GARAGE

Hose Company No 3 Called To Home Of W. B. Rogers; Two Other Small Fires.

The garage of W. B. Rogers, on East Center street, was threatened by fire at 9:30 this morning, making necessary the calling of Hose Company No. 3 on a still alarm to extinguish the blaze. Mrs. Rogers had gone into the garage to start her car. The motor was cold and when the driver stepped on the starter it caused a back-fire.

The embers of carbon from the exhaust pipe set fire to the building. Seeing that there was likely to be trouble Mrs. Rogers called Hose Company No. 3 and Chief Foy with No. 3's apparatus responded. The fire was extinguished without much damage to the building.

At 7:30 this morning a still alarm brought No. 3's apparatus to extinguish a chimney fire at 68 Essex street. The fire had not gained much headway and was soon extinguished.

Yesterday afternoon Company No. 1 was called to a fire on the top of McLean Hill. The Chapman cottage on the hill was in danger. Sparks from a chimney had set fire to the roof and chemicals were used to extinguish it.

FIREARMS STOLEN FROM BLISH STORE

Robbery Discovered Early This Morning—Lot Valued At $150.

Five revolvers and a valuable shotgun were stolen from the F. T. Blish Hardware Company store some time during last night. The robbery was discovered when an employe of the store opened up this morning.

Window Jimmied Entrance to the store was gained through a small window over the rear door of the store. The window is within a short distance of the escape leading down from the upper floor and the robbers inserted a jimmy under the window, climbing in and down over an assortment of shovels and hardware displayed on the inner wall.

No one in the block heard the commotion which must have been made by those who entered by the window. The shovels and assortment of tools and hardware were discovered when the break was investigated by Lieutenant William Barron of the Manchester Police department.

Discovered This Morning The store was closed as usual last night at 8 o'clock and the break was made some time between that time and 8 o'clock this morning when the window was found open and the revolvers and shotgun were missing early this morning. The value of the lot taken was estimated at about $150. A quantity of ammunition was also taken.

Attention of the members of Manchester Grange is called to the fact that there will be no meeting tomorrow evening. The Grange was to have entertained the Past Masters' association tomorrow night, but by request of the association it has been postponed to Saturday evening, December 2.

"PAYING GUESTS" AGAINST THE LAW Motor Vehicle Commissioner Cites Many Points Now Being Ignored.

Private car owners have seemingly increased the practice of seeking passengers for long trips and assessing these "paying guests" so as to defray the costs of the journey. Commissioner Michael A. Connor of the state department of motor vehicles...

Attention is further invited by Commissioner Connor to the provision under Section 3 of the same chapter, effective January 1, 1933, emphasizing that "no person, association or corporation shall operate a motor vehicle in livery service until such person, association or corporation shall have obtained a permit from the public utilities commission...

From time to time advertisements appear in newspapers of the state advising readers that "young men driving to Miami, Florida soon can accommodate two passengers. Reasonable." Or else "Leaving for California soon. Will take two congenial passengers."

Giving Friends a Lift Commuters who travel between home and office by motor car often take friends along with them, sometimes at no charge and sometimes sharing the estimated expenses of the trips back and forth.

There are cases where several persons ride back and forth daily with a car owner and, by mutual agreement, take care of the gasoline and oil supply required for the mileage covered. These are automobile vacations on which expenses are divided between the car owner and a personal friend on Sunday trips on which the guests pay running costs.

Official Supervision There must be official supervision of all methods of transportation for the sake of public safety as well as public revenue. When any transportation service develops revenue to the car owner the state is justified in considering it a gainful purpose and so subject to additional taxation.

A Thought For scarcely for a righteous man will one die; yet providence for a good man sends even more care to die.—Romans, 5:7.

AVOID THE DANGER OF CONSTIPATION

Delicious Cereal Overcomes This Condition Safely and Pleasantly

The first signs of constipation may be headaches, tired feelings, shallow complexion, sleeplessness, loss of appetite. If neglected, constipation may seriously impair health.

Today, you can banish constipation by simply eating a delicious cereal. Laboratory tests show that Kellogg's All-Bran provides "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and vitamin B to further aid regular habits.

Two tablespoons daily will overcome most types of common constipation. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

DANCE

Modern and Old Fashioned At City View Dance Hall Keeney Street Thanksgiving Eve Native Fowls Given Away

MODERN and OLD-FASHIONED DANCE

Lone Oak—So. Windsor TOMORROW NIGHT Thanksgiving Eve Admission 35c—Door Prices.

ABOUT TOWN

The monthly chest clinic which would ordinarily be held tomorrow morning at the Health Center on Haynes street, will be postponed until a week from tomorrow, Wednesday, December 6.

The Young People's society of the Church of the Nazarene will hold a business meeting this evening at 7:30 at the home of Miss Grace Hausmann.

A son was born this morning at the Hartford Hospital to Mr and Mrs. Clarence W. Thornton of 60 Westminster Road.

Just before midnight last night an automobile drove down East Center street, headed for Hartford, traveling at a high rate of speed. It was a sixteen cylinder car, but it was a Police car. It was stopped by a policeman on West Center street. The driver of the car showed the registration, said he was hurrying back to get a doctor in Hartford and some medicine and to bring it back to Bolton in a hurry as a man was dying. He was driving a doctor's car. The officer decided to give the driver the chance and allowed him to continue on his way.

F. C. Shaver of Washington street yesterday made application for a building permit to erect a single tenement house on Gerard street. No plans sent in with the application and pending their receipt no permit will be granted, as the plans are required by law. The estimated cost was given as $8,500.

Two large native turkeys will be given away free to the holders of the lucky admission tickets at the Thanksgiving Eve dance at Jarvis Grove dance hall Wednesday evening. Prof. Johnny Grogan does the prompting which assures the dancers some lively "squares". The hall is equipped with modern heating apparatus for all winter dancing. Bill Munster's five-piece orchestra will provide the music.

Sunset Council, Degree of Poo-hontas will give a card party this evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Irving Keeney of 401 Keeney street. Those desiring transportation are advised to be at the Coffee Shop by 8:10 p. m. Prizes in merchandise will be given and refreshments served by the standing committee.

Miss Dorothy Robshaw, a teacher at the Barnard school will spend the Thanksgiving week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Robshaw of Norwich, Vermont, formerly of this town.

Memorial Temple, Pythian Sisters, at its meeting this evening in Odd Fellows hall, will conduct the annual roll-call. Each member is urged to be present, and to be prepared with some response in addition to their name.

The newly formed Brotherhood of the Concordia Lutheran church will hold its monthly meeting tonight at 8 o'clock at the church. All men over 21 will be welcome to attend and to join, as the charter will be closed after tonight. Oscar Anderson is president of the Brotherhood, Fred Werner, vice-president; John W. Lange, secretary and Otto Heller, treasurer. A social hour with refreshments will follow the meeting tonight.

Albert Klotzer of Oak street won the Philco radio, with ticket 9512, that was given away at the Oak street tavern, 30 Oak street last Saturday night.

High score at the public setback tournament at George's Tavern last week were Joe Muldoon and Peter Partons. Tonight's playing will be the last of the series.

NRA TO INVESTIGATE PRICE INCREASES

Retailers Welcome Proposed Study — Hearings Start Dec. 12.

The announcement of General Hugh S. Johnson, National Recovery Administrator, that charges of profiteering under the codes and Blue Eagle agreements will be aired at public hearings in Washington starting December 12, has captured the interest of retailers from coast to coast.

The great majority of retailers welcome the investigation of prices because they expect the results will reveal and bring to the attention of the buying public the fact that the retail trade, taken as a whole, has not only set itself against the charging of exorbitant prices, but that retailers have been doing their utmost to hold prices down to the actual minimum.

Advance Purchases
This was disclosed today in a statement issued by the National Retail Dry Goods Association. Channing E. Switzer, Managing Director of the Association, declared that retailers had performed a great service to the public by foresight in making advance purchases while prices were low, thus enabling them to offer a considerable amount of stock at prices far below the replacement cost at the present time.

"Even if retailers had not stocked somewhat in advance," declared Mr. Switzer, "I seriously doubt whether still higher prices than those existing at the present moment would be found unjustifiable; for the very nature of retailing excludes the possibility of excessive prices. It is the most competitive business in the world, and any store which would attempt to step up prices beyond reason would immediately find itself undersold on every hand by its competitors, with the result that that store would soon find itself bankrupt and out of business."

"Statements criticizing retailers for unjustified prices are based on a lack of understanding of the four basic elements which enter into increase at retail. These comprise, the processing tax, the smallest of the four; the higher NRA manufacturing costs; the higher retail operating costs due to the NRA; and the fact that raw commodity prices as well as finished goods at retail prices would have risen in any event from the distress lows of last spring."

Fairchild Index
The National Retail Dry Goods Association referred to the Fairchild Index of Commodity Prices which indicates that while the price of department store articles have risen from the rock-bottom average of 69.4 in March to 86 at the beginning of October, an advance of 16.6, this increase is still little more than half of the difference between the prices of the property era and the demagogic lows of last spring.

To prove its assertion that the advanced prices charged by retail merchants are fair and equitable, and that the whole business and industrial community is benefiting as a result, the Association through the division of its Controller's Congress has made a number of exhaustive surveys of prices charged for articles on sale in the majority of its member stores at the present time.

The price of a high grade pair of overalls of the type selected by mechanics or railroadmen, was used as one example. This pair of overalls which sold for $1.85 on October 1, 1929, and for $1.80 on October 1, 1932, now retails for $1.75. The cost of material on October 1, 1929, that is, yardage and fasteners, was $.72. A year ago on the same date the cost was $.41, this low price reflecting the low wages in mills producing cloth and the low prices paid to cotton growers. The material on October 1, 1933 cost $.78, showing the improved return now given to mill workers and growers.

Other Costs
The direct labor cost on October 1, 1929 was $31. This fell to $20 by October 1, 1932, the employees suffering the loss. By October 1 of this year the labor cost had risen to $26, the employees gaining almost half of the pay loss between the rich and lean years. Indirect labor, that is overhead of the manufacturer, cost $.37 in 1929, the identical figure at which indirect costs are placed this year. But poor conditions in the industry created an overhead cost of $.40 for each over-all in 1932. In 1929, the labor cost in the retail store selling the over-all was $.27. A year ago this had dropped to $.24, but as of October 1, 1933 the merchant had increased his payroll costs to $.34. The retail overhead in 1929 was $.27, it fell to $.25 in 1932 but on October 1, 1933, had climbed to $.35.

The Association noted that the retail price is $.10 lower than it was in 1929, reflecting at the present time a $.04 saving on material, a $.05 saving on mill labor, a $.07 increase in retail payroll and an $.08 increase in retail overhead, as compared with that year.

The recent mounting sales of stores throughout the country are evidence that the public has faith that the advanced prices are justified on the basis of increased costs, the Association said, and the resultant benefits of higher prices are showing themselves in increased purchasing power throughout the country.

"LITTLE WOMEN"

Pictorial Scenario of the RKO-Radio Picture Starring Katharine Hepburn, Opening At the State Theater Here, Wednesday, 6:30 P. M.

In Six Chapters

Chapter Five

In New York at Mrs. Kirke's, Prof. Bhaer, the kindly lodger, provides the treat of her life for Jo, taking her to hear Adeline Fard at the opera house, a friend having conferred a priceless pair of tickets upon him in return for one of his many generous deeds.

Chapter Five

This period of happiness is interrupted by news that poor Beth is falling fast and may die. Jo has to hurry back to the village home, perhaps never to return, as she may be needed there if Beth does not recover.

Chapter Five

The advantages given Amy by Aunt March happen to promote an unexpected romance. They meet Laurie abroad, and Laurie, resigned to his loss of Jo, and reasoning that it would have, as Jo pointed out, resulted in an incompatible match, begins wooing Amy.

Chapter Five

Tragedy descends upon the March home with the affecting death of Beth surrounded by all of the March family who can reach the scene in time.
