MORE THAN 250 AT DINNER FOR FRANK CHENEY

Retiring Head of Fire District Receives Beautiful Gold-Bossed Testimonial at Masonic Temple.

Lauded by Secretary of State John A. Danaher, praised unstintingly for his progressive ideals by chiefs of neighboring fire departments and held up by associates and fellow citizens as a conscientious advocate of all that is best for the community, Frank Cheney, Jr., was made to feel the high esteem in which he is held in Manchester at a testimonial dinner last night in the Masonic Hall.

More than 250 men attended the dinner, which was given in honor of Mr. Cheney in recognition of 36 years of faithful service as president of the South Manchester Fire District. At the close of a fine program of entertainment and speech-making, there was presented to Mr. Cheney by the toastmaster, William J. Crockett, now president of the South Manchester Fire District, a beautifully decorated engraved and framed testimonial the text of which follows:

Text of Testimonial
"Whereas, we have accepted with profound regret the retirement on December 9, 1933, of our beloved friend, Frank Cheney, Jr., as President of the South Manchester Fire District.

"Whereas, his untiring devotion to, and his keen interest in the welfare of the Fire Department has earned for him the unanimous love and sincere appreciation of his associates and town people, both for his sterling character and the straightforward manner in which he has discharged this valuable community duty, and—

"Whereas, his unselfish service from 1897 to 1933 as a charter member of Hose Company No. 1, as the first chief of the Fire Department and for 36 years as Fire Commissioner and President of the Fire Board, therefore be it—

"Resolved, that this expression of our highest appreciation and our heartfelt gratitude for his unselfish assistance during these many years, be suitably engraved and presented to him by his associates who, each and every one, concurs in this tribute to Manchester's outstanding citizen.

Chief Albert E. Foy, the general chairman, introduced Mr. Crockett as toastmaster. Mr. Crockett presented as the speaker Secretary of State Danaher, Colonel William C. Cheney, Fire Chief John C. Moran, of Hartford; Fire Chief George B. Milne, of Rockville; Chief Edward R. Coleman of the Manchester Fire Department and Fire Chief P. M. Meunier, of East Hartford.

Danaher's Talk
Secretary Danaher, who enlivened his address with numerous humorous anecdotes and pointed out his interest in fire departments by reason of his father's connection with a volunteer fire force in Meriden. He said he had no idea that everything worthwhile in the government of the state could be done by reason of any such fashion as is evident here tonight. Declaring that it "warmed the cockles of one's heart" to see such good will as was expressed, Mr. Danaher congratulated Mr. Cheney upon his long record of service and the high esteem in which he is held.

LINDYS TO REST IN SOUTH TODAY

But Tomorrow Will Continue Flight—Next Stop to Be Miami, Florida.

Port of Spain, Trinidad, Dec. 13.—(AP)—Colonel and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh are expected to continue on their return flight to the United States tomorrow. They rested here today after a 1,100 mile flight yesterday from Manaus, Brazil.

"I'm not a bit tired," said Mrs. Lindbergh, but she confessed she was yearning for home and friends and the couple were determined nothing should keep them from spending Christmas with their little son, Jon Morrow Lindbergh. The Colonel was still smiling, but appeared tired.

HIS GIN TRADE NOT THAT KIND

Philadelphia Lawyer Misunderstood Purpose of the "Dixie Gin Company."

Little Rock, Ark., Dec. 13.—(AP)—F. H. Fulkerson wants a certain Philadelphia lawyer to understand the product of his gin business comes in bales, not bottles.

After Fulkerson filed articles of incorporation here for the "Dixie Gin Company" along came a letter from an attorney in the Pennsylvania city advising him he'd better watch his step.

"I am instructed to formally notify you that, if the name of 'Dixie' or any other stipulation of any of my clients' trademarks," the legal expert wrote, "is attempted to be used in any way in connection with the marketing, advertising or distribution of gin, or any other alcoholic beverage, my client will be constrained to take the necessary legal action to protect its interests."

Fulkerson challenges the gentleman from Philadelphia to produce anything alcoholic with the whirring saws of a cotton gin.

HECKLERS DISTURB ENVOY OF GERMANY

Free for All Fight Between Students and Police at New York Meeting.

New York, Dec. 13.—(AP)—A scuffle between police and college students accompanied an address by Dr. Hans Luther, German ambassador, in defense of Adolf Hitler, at Columbia university last night.

Several hundred students from a number of colleges gathered outside the hall where Dr. Luther spoke and started an anti-Nazi demonstration which reached its climax when a young woman student attempted to enter the hall to distribute pamphlets.

Police brushed her aside and a general melee followed. The young woman, Ruth Rosenthal, 18, was finally taken to a police court but later discharged.

Dr. Luther was delayed in starting his speech by three women hecklers who were ejected from the hall one by one as they rose to shout protests at the ambassador.

The German ambassador characterized Hitler as a man who felt himself "most completely responsible to the people." He denied that the recent German election was a farce and that freedom of the ballot had been eliminated. He explained, however, that Germany was not a nation in which the Parliament ruled, but in which it was held that a man in power should not share his responsibility with others by "allowing them to vote on his proposals." The one called to leadership, he said, "is the one solely responsible."

DETROIT THIEVES LOOT P. O. VAULT

Drill Hole in Safe—Get $19,000 in Stamps and Registered Mail.

Detroit, Dec. 13.—(AP)—Drilling a hole through 18 inches of brick and mortar, thieves last night stole registered mail of undetermined value and $19,000 in postage stamps from the Alfred street branch post office.

Police who investigated the robbery said they could find no evidence of forcible entrance to the building and assumed that one of the robbers concealed himself in the vault.

Rout Bootlegger By Low Liquor Levies, Roosevelt Tells Them

Urged by the President to make Federal liquor levies low enough to drive out the bootlegger and racketeer, Congressional leaders are pictured leaving the White House after a conference on liquor taxation to which they had been summoned by the President. From left to right are Representative Samuel B. Hill, of Washington; Representative Robert I. Doughton, of North Carolina, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee; Senator Walter F. George, of Georgia; and Senator Pat Harrison, of Mississippi, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee.

WHISKEY BY THE DRINK HENDERSON SUGGESTS

Yale Professor Says It Could Be Sold for 10 or 15 Cents at Restaurants and Clubs.

Washington, Dec. 13.—(AP)—A new experiment in the control of liquor, permitting the sale of full strength whiskey only in packages but of diluted liquor by the drink in restaurants and clubs, was recommended to Congress today by Professor Yandell Henderson, of Yale University.

Testifying in the joint Congressional hearings on liquor taxation, Henderson suggested a levy on whiskey high enough to make it sell for $3 or $4 a quart, but a lower rate on diluted whiskey so that it could be sold by the drink for 10 or 15 cents.

"I know that an effort will be made by other speakers to persuade you to propose to Congress low taxes on strong liquor," Henderson said. "That might eliminate the speakeasy, but I would restore the saloon and promote drunkenness."

"Proof spirits of all varieties should be taxed so high, perhaps $4 a gallon, that a quart bottle at retail will cost $3 or $4. But that is not all."

"I fully agree that unless a reasonable drink of whiskey can be bought in restaurants and clubs for a moderate price, say 10 or 15 cents, that any man who wants a drink of whiskey will continue to go to the speakeasy."

"What I want to urge on you as earnestly as I can, as a practical and scientific solution of this problem, is that whiskey that has been diluted at the distillery down to 10 or 12 per cent of alcohol and is supplied only in pint, or better, half-pint bottles, should be given the benefit of a relatively low tax."

Favors Ddition
Henderson said drunkenness resulted from the "typical American way" of drinking whiskey straight.

The most effective way to promote temperance, he said, is to promote dilution.

The proposal for a low tax on liquor to drive out bootlegging, Henderson testified, "amounts to encouraging drunkenness."

BOOZE IMPORTS ARE ALLOCATED BY U. S. BOARD

Over Five Million Gallons to Come in Within Next Four Months—Tax Problem Discussed.

Washington, Dec. 13.—(AP)—The Federal Alcohol Control Administration announced today that allocations for 5,595,137 gallons of liquor to be imported within the next four months had been granted.

Aliming so far as possible to smash the bootlegger by making cheap drinks available while at the same time bargaining with exporting nations to work out farm surpluses, the government until a xi March 31 will let in 1,831,253 gallons of wine, 239,218 of champagne, 147,510 of brandy, 3,314,443 of whiskey, including American type rye and Bourbon; 40,830 of rum, 99,066 of gin and 103,927 gallons of "cordials and liquors."

Joseph H. Choate, Jr., face director, explained that a reserve amount, which he did not specify, had been left for correction of any errors particularly to take care of entirely new firms which might be found worthy of receiving permits.

He would not give out the allocations by countries.

At the capitol meanwhile, Senate and House committees again met jointly to discuss the tax problem. Professor Yandell Henderson, of Yale, advocated a new experiment in the control of liquor, permitting the sale of full strength whiskey only in packages but of diluted liquor by the drink in restaurants and clubs.

J. W. Murray, pre-prohibition liquor dealer of Holyoke, Massachusetts, urged the committee to thrust the liquor industry as "an infant industry" to aid it in competing with the illegal trade.

Murray told of one illegal producing organization he said had been preparing for six months to fight the legal industry.

He said he had 26 distilleries in various parts of the country, producing a liquor that

Searchers Find Pieces of Charred Timber Off Coast of San Francisco.

San Francisco, Dec. 13.—(AP)—Searching boats ploughed through the seas five miles off shore and 85 miles south of here today in an effort to find possible survivors of a marine disaster which apparently sent a flaming, unidentified boat plunging beneath mountainous waves.

Terse messages from Coast Guard craft in the vicinity of Point Pinos told a story of a probable explosion aboard the stricken vessel last night and its apparent sinking while angry seas lashed about the rescue craft striving to bring aid.

The Coast and Geodetic Survey ship Guide's executive officer, R. F. Studd said three 25 gallon oil tanks, one of them blazing, had been found in the vicinity of the fire and a piece of charred timber.

Oil Tanker Missing
The Richfield Oil Tanker Larry Donohy was not definitely accounted for, although reports indicated she was about 40 miles south of Point Pinos at the time.

BULLITT PRESENTS HIS CREDENTIALS

New U. S. Envoy to Russia Meets President of the Soviet Republics.

Moscow, Dec. 13.—(AP)—A cordial exchange of official greetings took place today between U. S. Ambassador William C. Bullitt and Mikhail Kalinin, president of Soviet Russia.

They met for the first time in the old "Winter palace" of the Kremlin, executive offices of the U. S. S. R. when Bullitt presented his credentials.

On his part, Ambassador Bullitt said he found Kalinin a "delightful human being."

In presenting his letters, the American conveyed President Roosevelt's "cordial and friendly greetings as well as his earnest hope for the welfare and prosperity of your great country."

Not a Stranger
"I do not come to your country as a stranger," he continued. "My profound interest in it has existed for many years and I come with a deep conviction of the importance and historical significance of my mission."

Squirrels Departing— Whither, No One Knows

Overrun with gray squirrels this past fall, Manchester apparently has no attraction, like other communities in New England, for these bushy tailed rodents, for they have started westward in one of the largest migrations since 1866, according to scientists, naturalists and forest workers.

Local admirers of squirrels, which were so numerous that as many as a dozen have been observed in Center Park, are dismayed at seeing so many headed toward the sunset. Reports today stated that the squirrels are crossing bridges, swimming rivers, dodging automobile traffic and doing other un-squirrel like things in order to get started to wherever they are going. None of the Manchester persons questioned today had any idea of why the squirrels were going, and some indicated that the squirrels themselves were a little hazy as to their destination.

LONERGAN STUDIES SMALL LOAN PLAN

Suggests Cash for Citizens Employed on Small Salaries in the Cities.

Washington, Dec. 15.—(AP)—A Federal agency to provide cash loans to citizens employed on small salaries who are not reached by other relief legislation, was suggested today by Senator Lonergan. (D., Conn.)

to him by Thomas H. Beck of Wilton, Conn., chairman of the state board of fisheries and game. The Senator has asked officials of the Home Owners Loan Corporation and the Federal Reserve system for suggestions.

Purpose of the Plan
The purpose of the plan, he said, was to reach those employed persons who are in need of financial aid until business and industry sufficiently revive to increase wages.

"A large group of people are in this middle strata which is not reached by present relief laws," he said. "It would be an indication of faith in the future if the government could encourage small loans to them until their incomes are increased, providing they are of sufficient character and integrity."

"There would be no competition with private business where banks and loan associations are willing to make such loans on guarantee of payment by the Federal government where reliability has been established. The only restriction would be to encourage fair interest rates to small borrowers."

LAGUARDIA NAMES CABINET OFFICERS

Mayor-Elect Picks as One, Prof. Berle, Member of Roosevelt "Brain Trust."

New York, Dec. 18.—(AP)— Mayor-elect F. H. LaGuardia, today announced four of his Cabinet appointments, one of which was Prof. A. A. Berle, a member of the so-called Roosevelt "brain trust."

Berle, one of LaGuardia's close advisers in the campaign in which the fusion leader defeated Mayor John P. O'Brien, the Tammany incumbent, and Joseph V. McKee, Recovery candidate, will be city chamberlain in the LaGuardia administration.

The other appointments were: Paul Windels, corporation counsel; Paul Blanchard, commissioner of accounts; Irving Ben Cooper, special counsel to the commissioner of accounts; Windels, also a close campaign adviser to LaGuardia, is associate counsel to the Port of New York Authority. He is a graduate of Harvard University, lives in Brooklyn and has law offices in lower Broadway.

Blanchard, chairman of the city affairs committee, resigned from the Socialist Party to aid LaGuardia in the campaign. Cooper was an aide to Samuel Seabury in the investigation of City Magistrate's Courts and in the Hofstadter legislative committee's investigation of the city administration. Cooper ran for City Court justice in the November election and was defeated.

GIRLS FRIENDLY GROUP HOLDS ANNUAL ELECTION

St. Mary's Church Society Will Stage Christmas Party Monday Night.

St. Mary's Girls' Friendly Society held their regular meeting Monday night after a short Christmas devotional service, and elected branch officers. Mrs. Viola Trotter, chairman of the nominating committee, was in charge of the meeting.

The following were elected: Branch chairman, Edith Thrasher; vice-chairman, Mrs. Robinson; recording secretary, Mary Law; treasurer, Dorothy Jensen; financial secretary, Margaret Robinson; program chairman, Evelyn Carlson; worship chairman, Lucille Kilpatrick; recreation chairman, Nora Scott; social service, Ruth Britton; missionary work, Edna Kennedy; publicity, Dorothy Russell.

It was announced during the meeting that the members of the society will hold a Christmas party Monday evening at the beginning of the year the members drew names and formed a "mystery friend" circle and corresponded to each other during the year. At the Christmas social next Monday the members will bring their "mystery friend" a gift with an identification card attached so that all signs or mystery will be solved. The members have also been asked to donate a small gift for the missionary box to be sent to Miss Nelson.

HOLD STRATFORD MAN ON BLACKMAIL CHARGE

Bridgeport, Dec. 13.—(AP)— Charged with blackmail in connection with a series of attempts to extort $5,000 from Gustav A. Pfeiffer, wealthy Hudnut Company official and resident of Easton, Ernest Present plans call for arraignment for four months, is held without bail following his arrest last night by State and Stratford police. Schnack, 28, resident of Stratford in Easton, Justice Court, but state police say it is likely before that that a bench warrant will be issued in order that Schnack be presented to the January term of the Superior Court, civil side.

Schnack and his wife were employed for two years at Pfeiffer's estate. They left last May. In August, Pfeiffer received two threatening letters demanding payment of $5,000. In September the demand was repeated, with the letter containing a map in which a tree stump on the shore of Aspeluck river was designated as repository for the money.

CITY SEIZES PROPERTY

Waterbury, Dec. 13.—(AP)—The threat of Tax Collector William Ennis of three weeks ago that the city would seize downtown business property, on which back taxes were due, materialized today. A business block on West Main street was seized by the city sheriff by service upon the owner, William J. McGrath. Advertisements were placed in newspapers announcing the property would be auctioned off to the highest bidder on February 15. Taxes due on the building amount to $10,400 and no payments have been made since 1930.

ALL-WHITE JURY FOR NEGRO'S TRIAL

Judge Tells Those in Courtroom Not to Stir Up Race Feeling.

Leesburg, Va., Dec. 13.—(AP)— Testimony that Mrs. Agnes Boeing Ialey put up a terrific struggle for her life before she was slain in her Middleburg cottage was placed before a Loudoun county jury today in the trial of George Crawford, negro, for murder.

After 12 white men had been selected to decide the guilt or innocence of the negro, Judge James L. McLemore admonished those in the courtroom against "giving rise to anything that would stir feeling in this case."

Dr. Oscar B. Hunter, Washington pathologist, testified that neither Mrs. Ialey nor her maid, Mrs. Mink Buckner, who also was found dead, was criminally assaulted.

He added that the former apparently had fought hard before she was beaten down under blows that fractured her skull. Skinned and hair belived by him to be that of a negro, the physician said, were found under her long, had been pulled off.

In opening the case, Commonwealth's Attorney John Galleher said the state intended to prove that the defendant was guilty and told the jury:

"I hope you give this man the penalty commensurate with the horrible offense he has committed."

Dr. H. A. Spitzer, Middleburg physician, and Dr. John A. Gibson, the coroner, described the scene of the crime, agreeing that while Mrs. Buckner was killed instantly by blows on the head that Mrs. Ialey struggled before her death.

The Women's Home Missionary society of the South Methodist church will meet Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. William E. Keith, 561 Main street. Members are requested to bring 10 cent articles, suitable for Christmas gifts for children.

The Brotherhood of the Lutheran Concordia church will hold the first bowling match tonight at 7:30 at Murphy's alleys. Every member is requested to be prompt, and other members of the congregation who would like to enter the League will be welcome.

The Manchester Public Health Nursing association will give its annual Christmas party for pre-school children, Wednesday afternoon, December 20, at 2 o'clock at the Y. M. C. A. Fully 80 children who would not otherwise have such a party are expected. Santa Claus will be on hand with a full pack to all the stockings. A Christmas tree, refreshments and other good things will be provided by the nursing committee which is composed of Mrs. J. F. Van Ness, chairman; Mrs. C. W. Holman, Mrs. Albert Dewey, Mrs. H. B. Learned and Mrs. C. C. Currier.

Temple Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, will hold its annual meeting this evening at 8 o'clock at the Masonic Temple. Election of officers for the coming year will take place. After the business there will be an informal card party for members, with a prize for the player making the highest score. Miss Ruth Porter and her committee will serve refreshments.

The Women's Home League of the Salvation Army will conduct a sale of their well-made aprons, women's and children's garments and household linens, many of them embroidered and otherwise trimmed, tomorrow from 2 to 8 o'clock in the store formerly occupied by the Home Bank.

Mons Ypres Post, British War Veterans, will hold a regular meeting at the Army and Navy Club tonight at 8 o'clock. All members are urged to attend, as important business, including nomination of officers, will be transacted.

Linn Lodge, No. 72, Knights of Pythias, will hold its regular meeting at Orange Hall at 8 o'clock tonight. Officers will be nominated for the coming year.

The Manchester Community Players will hold their regular monthly business meeting this evening at 8 o'clock in their clubroom in the Balch and Brown building. After a brief business session a Christmas party, in charge of Mrs. J. L. Handley and her committee, will follow. The players are requested to appear as children, and to bring gifts that would please little boys and girls, as well as a "white elephant gift" to take home. Games, refreshments and a jolly time are in store for all members who attend this second annual Christmas party.

Sam Rubin, of 15 Salem street, Springfield, Mass., and Jacob W. Freedman, of 65 Beacon avenue, and Aaron Fine, 424 Hillside avenue, Holyoke, Mass., were arrested at 10:45 this morning by Officer Arthur Seymour on Charter Oak street and charged with peddling apples without a license. They will appear in town court tomorrow morning.

Winners at the Degree of Poo-bontas card party held at the home of Mrs. Schaeffer last night were as follows: Women's first, K. Rutters, second, B. Rutters, third, Edith Daley; men's first, Glen Peterson, second, Charles Rutters, third, Joseph Rutters.

ABOUT TOWN

The Ladies Aid Society of Emmanuel Lutheran church will meet at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon in room 230, as the regular business session will be followed by a Christmas party. A special Christmas program has been arranged by the committee in charge. Members and friends are requested to provide a 10 cent gift.

All children taking part in the Christmas entertainment to be given Friday evening at 7 o'clock at the Masonic Temple by Chapman Burt, Order of Amaranth, are requested to meet at the Temple for rehearsal directly after school tomorrow afternoon. Mrs. Ethel Wilkes of Stafford Springs will be present to coach them.

Ward Cheney Camp No. 13, United Spanish War Veterans, will hold its annual election of officers for 1937 at the regular meeting tomorrow evening at the State Armory. A report of the monument committee will be given at 8 o'clock and all members are urged to be present to inspect the plans and hear an explanation of them. The camp hopes to erect a memorial to all comrades of the Spanish-American War 1898-1902, in Center Park, sometime during April of 1937.

Gibbons Assembly, Catholic Ladies of Columbus, held an enjoyable bridge last night in the K. of C. clubrooms. First honors were won by Mrs. Louis Tack, second by Mrs. Edwin C. Higgins. Home made cake and coffee was served at the close of the games by Mrs. Alice Buckley and a committee.

Helene Davidson Lodge, Daughters of Scotia, will meet Friday evening at 7 o'clock in Tinker hall, to allow for the children's party at 8 o'clock. All members are urged to attend, bringing their children under supervision. The children will provide musical numbers and recitations and will receive gifts of fruit and candy. Tea will be served.

130 MEN TO WORK ON WATERSHED JOB

With 171 On Summit Street Project, Total Unemployed Number 301.

Monday morning 130 local men will be called for work on the Civil Works administration project on the town watershed in Glastonbury, Conn. Superintendent George H. Waddell stated today. This is the largest number of men so far selected for CWA jobs in a single group. There are 171 men employed on Summit street and the various highway projects at present, making the total number called for work 301.

The men selected for work Monday will be advised of their selection direct from the Civil Works administration office in Hartford. In this connection, it is pointed out that a large number of men have applied to the local office for work. It was stated today that the local CWA office and the charity department are powerless to place any man not certified by the state CWA on any of the jobs now in progress or contemplated. Other projects are being prepared by the local engineers and CWA directors for submission to the state supervising engineer for approval. It is expected that projects now contemplated will provide work for 150 men, the remainder of Manchester's allotment of unemployed. At the present time only 90 local men have been given work on state projects. This number of local veterans are being employed on a job in the Black Ledge forest in East Glastonbury.

A. A. TRUDEAU DEAD

Meriden, Dec. 13.—(AP)—Arthur A. Trudeau, 34, employment manager of the Meriden branch of the General Electric Company, died suddenly about 3 o'clock this morning at his home (281 Elm street) following an attack of indigestion, last evening. Mr. Trudeau had been at his office and about the city as usual yesterday. Upon returning home, he complained of indigestion and a physician was summoned shortly after midnight, but Mr. Trudeau did not respond to medical treatment.

THREE FIRES KEEP FIREMEN ON JUMP

Building at 100 North Street Scene of Explosion and Blaze.

Both fire departments in Manchester had fires to contend with last night and the South Manchester department was again called for a fire this morning. The most serious fire, causing the greater loss, was in the one story, basement building at 100 North street, at Kerry street.

The building is occupied as a barber shop by Stephen Lucus. The basement is used as a storage place by Waclaw Rubacha, who owns the building. A still alarm was received about 10:30 and one of the automobile trucks responded, as did Chief Edward Coleman. There was a blaze and much smoke in the basement at the time the firemen arrived in response to a still alarm. Seeing that there might be further damage, Chief Coleman turned in an alarm, which brought the second company. As the line of hose was attached and brought to the door in the basement an explosion of some kind occurred which drove back the firemen for a second or two.

Joseph Limerick was caught by the flames. His hair and forehead were burned. Charles O'Connor was hit in the face, but he had no idea as to what hit him. The water was turned into the basement and heavy clouds of smoke poured through the door, making it difficult for the firemen to locate the fire, which had started between the partitions. Soon the barber shop was in flames.

The heat was so intense that the mirrors in the barber shop began cracked. The chairs were damaged and the electric equipment destroyed. Mr. Lucas this morning placed his loss at $1,000, partly covered by insurance.

This morning, shortly before 8 o'clock, as James H. Quinn was about to take his automobile from the garage, he had trouble in getting it started. He succeeded in getting it backed into the yard and was about to start it again when he noticed a fire around the carburetor, as he lifted up the hood to throw some snow upon the fire, there was a sudden burst of flames. While water was being thrown upon the fire, Mr. Quinn called for No. 3. The fire was soon extinguished, but not before the wiring was burned off and the paint on the car damaged.

A still alarm was received just before 7 o'clock last night for a fire in one of the lower apartments in the Centennial block on Chestnut street. A majority of the firemen were at the banquet given in honor of Frank Cheney, Jr. It was a call that No. 1 would respond to and, upon being informed that there was a fire, about a dozen firemen of No. 1 left the banquet hall and went to duty. The fire was of short duration and after it was over the men returned to the banquet. There was little damage.

H. B. Picht, plumber and juror in a Seattle, Wash., murder trial, became official barber of the jury when the bailiff refused to let outsiders in.

Col. J. H. Darlington, committee clerk of the Seattle, Wash., city council, has successfully grown bamboo in his garden.

AUTO OCCUPANTS UNHURT IN CRASH

Collision at East Center and Porter Streets Without Serious Consequences.

An automobile owned and driven by Robert H. Cole of 83 Stephen street, Manchester, and another owned by Beatrice Silverman of 46 Capen street, Hartford, and driven by Harry Silverman of the same address, collided at the junction of East Center and Porter streets at noon today. Considerable damage was done to both cars, but the occupants escaped injury. As a result of the collision, the Silverman sedan was turned over on its side and was well over on the north side of East Center street, fully 75 feet from where the two cars came together. The Cole car, which took a semi-circle turn when the cars hit, was facing north, slightly off the traveled road on East Center street.

Mr. Cole stopped at the Esso gasoline station at Main and Bissell streets but a short time before, and was driving toward his home, going east. The Silverman car was coming east along Porter street.

There is a stop sign at the intersection of the two streets but Mr. Silverman said he did not stop.

This brought him past the point for a distance of about fifteen or twenty feet. The left front fender of the Cole car was caught under the rear left fender of the Silverman car. The left wheel of the Cole car was crushed and drew the car to the left, across East Center street. The Silverman car continued on along East Center street until it struck the rough spot where the north side of East Center street meets the improved section. Then it turned over on its side. Mr. Silverman was able to climb out of the car uninjured. His machine lost a rear wheel and the frame was splintered in several places. It was necessary to get wreckers to pull in both cars.

David F. Galligan was at the Center doing traffic duty and was detailed to investigate the case. As a result of the investigation, Silverman was arrested on a charge of reckless driving.

FIRE MENACES ORPHANS

Buffalo, N. Y., Dec. 13.—(AP)—Two hundred children in the St. Vincent de Paul orphan asylum, Ruy and Elliot streets, were aroused from their sleep and dressed preparatory for flight when fire swept the store room and repair garage at the rear of the Brost Chevrolet, Inc., in Main street early today.

From the garage the flames spread to the orphanage gymnasium but was checked there. Ten graduates of the orphanage high school, occupying a house on Main street adjoining the automobile showroom, were forced to leave.

The damage was placed by fire department officials at $100,000.

CHARITY EXPENSES GREATLY LOWERED

Decrease of 71 Per Cent. Over Last Year is Noted; Wood Orders Increase.

Comparative figures of the charity expenses of the town of Manchester for the first ten days of December, 1933, as against the first ten days of December, a year ago, shows an average of 71 per cent decrease in the cost of food, rents, fuel and miscellaneous items. The expenses for the ten-day period of 1932 as shown by the comparative chart prepared by Charity Superintendent George H. Waddell were $4,007.19, for which 590 orders for groceries, rents and fuel were drawn. For the same period this year, only 221 orders were issued or a total of $1,152.21, or $2,854.98 less.

The only increase shown in the chart is in wood orders amounting fourteen, which total $94 over last year. Decreases of 17 per cent in the number of oil orders and 83 per cent in coal orders were also noted. Approximately $5,000 has been paid to the 171 men employed on the CWA projects during the past four weeks, most of the recipients being heads of families taken from the charity list. This accounts for the decrease in the charity expenditures.

RADIO CLUB LISTENS TO TELEPHONE HISTORY

W. B. Halsted Speaker at 14th Meeting of Group at West Side Rec. Quarters.

The Manchester Radio Club held its regular meeting, the 14th since the club was organized, last night at the West Side Rec. which has been obtained as the permanent meeting place of the club. Twenty-two members were present to hear William B. Halsted, manager of the Manchester telephone exchange, give an interesting talk on the operation of telephone communication.

Mr. Halsted started with Bell's invention and traced the progress of the telephone down through the succeeding years to the present, modern instrument, also touching on trans-Atlantic communication by telephone and radio. Through the courtesy of the telephone company, Mr. Halsted presented to each member a map of the United States by means of which members may trace their radio contacts.

COLUMBIA

Four Columbia men under the CWA are working on the new road being built over Village Hill to Wilimantic.

The last in a series of moving pictures given every two weeks at the hall to the school children in the afternoon and the general public in the evening was shown Friday of last week. There were two pictures, one showing the beauties of the Canadian Rockies and the other Christopher Columbus. There was to have been one more in the series Christmas holidays has made it seem better for the school children to postpone further pictures until later in the season.

The New England Bus Company has just established a ticket agency for its lines at the Columbia service station situated at what is locally known as Katsman's Corner.

The first Christmas package for 1933 arrived at the local post office Thursday afternoon.

The Thursday afternoon club met this week at the home of Mrs. Vera Lyman.

After several days of mild weather a sudden drop to nearly zero accompanied by a wind of gale force Sunday morning was very unwelcome.

At the morning service of the local church the pastor spoke on the subject "The Gold Standard." The choir sang "Joy Bell." Next Sunday morning will be the Christmas White Gift offering. Food, clothing, toys and money are asked for, and will be distributed where they are most needed, with the help of the school nurse, Miss Margaret Danahy. There will be special Christmas music at this service. On the next Sunday, Christmas Sunday, there will also be special music by the choir, and in the evening a candle light carol service is being arranged so that all who wish may join in the singing of the many beautiful and loved Christmas carols. The Sunday School Children's party will be on Saturday afternoon, December 3, and Santa Claus has agreed to be present.

The Ladies Aid Society will meet Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Jennie Hunt. She will be assisted by Mrs. Clayton Hunt. At the Christian Endeavor meeting held Sunday evening in the chapel the annual election of officers was held as follows: president, Miss Margaret Badger; vice president, David Hunt; secretary, Delbert Lemaire; treasurer, Everett Cole.

GILEAD

Local talent will present the play, "The Adventures of Grandpa" at the Buckingham church Friday evening December 15. The players are, as Grandpa, Homer W. Hills; Montgomery Ray, Grandpa's nephew; Tod Hunter, Andrew Hooker; Officer McCormack, Edward A. Foote; Lucy Hunter, Ruth Ackerman; Dorothy May, Olive Warner; Mrs. Pansy Hopscotch, Marjorie Foote; Marie Ribeau, Allene Warner; Kloombly, Hazel Porter.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Hilliard and their sons of Andover, were visitors Sunday afternoon at Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Post's and at Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fish's.

Miss Lovina A. Cole, a senior at Middlebury College, Middlebury, Vt., is expected to arrive here Friday to spend the mid-year vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Foote.

Elie Sunday was observed at the church Sunday morning and in the evening. Rev. Fred Bunker, of New Haven, showed slides on the "Life of Jesus." The Hebrew Christian Endeavor Society joined in the evening service. The Sunday school children presented Hart E. Buell, who is a shut in, with a basket of fruit.

The bridge party sponsored by the Grange will be held Thursday evening at Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Fogel's.

E. W. Buell was a caller in Colchester Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Foote were visitors in Wilimantic Tuesday.

Queer Twists In Day's News

Pomona, Cal.—With the repeal of prohibition, the caretaker of Pomona's city dump has found it necessary to ask for an allowance of $30 monthly.

It seems that about 35 Pomona bootleggers have purchased thousands of whiskey bottles from the caretaker in the last few years. Came repeal and with it went the caretaker's source of revenue. He told the City Council every bootlegger in the city had been forced out of business. The council voted him the allowance.

Pittsburgh — Allegheny County Commissioner C. C. McGovern thinks he has found a prospective purchaser for the 40 county owned toboggans being offered for sale as an economy measure.

"I think we ought to offer them to the Republican organization," McGovern said at yesterday's meeting of the commissioners. "They seem to be on the toboggan." Democrats defeated the Republicans in the November election. The toboggans were used in county parks last winter.

Chicago—What a surprise a lone drinker had in store for him when he discovered that those five very old and authentic looking whiskey bottles he snatched from a window of a retail liquor store after breaking the same with a brick, contained—tea—and rather stale tea at that.

Chicago—City employees are beginning to believe there is a Santa Claus after all. Chicago banks bought enough tax warrants to make possible a $3,900,000 payday for Christmas.

Philadelphia—Men are not going to be left entirely out of the parade back to fashions of yesterday, it seems. With designers of women's clothes dragging out the bustle, puff sleeves and the like for Missy's wear, the male stylists have been stirred to action.

At a meeting of the Philadelphia Club of Clothing Designers it was announced the Norfolk jacket is coming back next spring.

St. Louis—Mice now are available in all colors except green, bright blue and orange, and prohibition repeal has nothing to do with it. It's science. This was announced today by Dr. George D. Snell, assistant professor of zoology at Washington University, who has been studying the effects of X-ray in the heredity of mice.

A combination of dieting and exposure to the Roentgen rays produced the startling colorations and in some instances strange malformations and abnormalities, Dr. Snell reported.

Middletown, N. Y.—A stranger entered the Seventh Day Adventist church where the Rev. Walter R. Andrews was alone working on some week-day duties.

Apparently embarrassed, he told the pastor he was out of a job and wanted to do some work for a meal. "Just sit down and wait until I come back. I think I can find something for you," the Reverend Mr. Andrews said.

A few minutes later he returned and the stranger was gone. So were the minister's hat, overcoat and keys.

Kansas City—Among the things that Passio High school students are learning to do is drive a car. More than 100 of them have organized a club to which members are eligible only after they have passed driving tests in which city traffic rules are applied.

Seattle—T. P. Blum, county bridge engineer, is authorized for this story of a man who chased a bridge 30 miles in Washington's floods—and finally caught it—but he doesn't know the man's name.

The private bridge of the Mummer coal mine across the Green river, about Kent, tore loose Monday and sailed off downstream.

A man hopped into a rowboat and grimly piled his oars in pursuit. He wouldn't give up, even when an acquaintance saw him many hours later some 10 miles downstream.

Today, however, the bridge finally sailed proudly down the Duwamish river and into Elliott bay. There the man's chase was ended.

WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 13.

book the deposits in commercial banks grew between 1923 and 1928 by the enormous sum of thirteen and a half billion dollars, while the banker's loans and investments increased by fourteen and a half billions.

Meanwhile mark this extraordinary fact: The stock of money of all kinds in the United States, during the same period, decreased by about fifty-eight millions.

Who was it that by the inculcation of false doctrines convinced the nation that money was not necessary any more because bank credit had taken its place—bank credit at six per cent instead of money at no per cent? Was it the farmer? Was it the industrialist, either employer or employee? Was it the merchants? It was not. It was the banker.

And by his operations he filled his vaults with the proceeds of the maddest, wildest inflation ever known—writing scrap paper into thirteen and a half billions of so-called credit money without the backing of a single dollar of gold, silver or even good, honest government greenbacks; backed instead by a deficit of fifty-eight million dollars.

If the reader of Mr. Aldrich's little booklet of suggestions fails to discover in it any proposal to rid the country of the danger of the filling up of another such balloon as the bank inflation of 1922-23 perhaps it is because there is no such proposal there. After all, Mr. Aldrich is just another big banker.

SUNDAY TAVERNS

Recently this newspaper expressed its surprise that no steps had been taken by the temperance people of Manchester in opposition to the Sunday opening of the taverns, and that it had been left to such an earnest opponent of federal prohibition as The Herald to point out that we have, under the existing law, a state of affairs that never was tolerated in the days of the old open saloon.

Since then we have received considerable commendation for our proposal that a town-by-law be adopted, as is permissible under the state law, prohibiting the sale of alcoholic liquors in Manchester on Sunday—and no adverse criticism of that suggestion. Even among the tavern proprietors themselves there appears to be no antagonism to enforced Sunday closing. Several of them are understood to look with favor upon the proposed restriction, their position being that individually they are not anxious to work seven days a week and only keep their places open in order to prevent their regular customers from drifting away to other taverns which might be doing business.

Yet so far as we can learn there has been no concerted movement among the church people or similar groups to get behind a Sunday closing regulation.

The adjourned annual town meeting will be held in a little more than two months. The matter is one that might properly be acted on at that meeting. That it will not be, unless there is some organized effort put forth, may be taken for granted. That it will be, if the citizens who believe that six days of beer selling—any kind of potent beer—is enough manifest some interest in the matter, is reasonably certain.

BY THE HUNDREDS

Some one has said that he who has one friend is lucky and he who has three is rarely blessed. That philosopher would have been confounded, had he attended the testimonial dinner to Frank Cheney, Jr., at Masonic Temple last night, for he would have learned that it is possible for a man to number unqualified sincere friends by the hundreds.

They came from all walks of life. They were there from no motives of policy or self interest. Their sole purpose was to pay a tribute of devoted respect to one who, through thirty-six years, had given himself to the service of his community in the exacting, inconspicuous, unrequited but vital capacity of guardian of the community from the ever lurking menace of fire.

The affair, regretfully celebrating the conclusion of Mr. Cheney's long, long tour of duty as head of the South Manchester Fire District, was a remarkable demonstration of genuine affection such as very few individuals in this or any other community are ever privileged to receive.

ANARCHISTS

The term "anarchist" has appeared conspicuously in the reports of the political disturbances in Spain and it is often strangely used. For instance, an editorial in the New York Times says, referring to the anarchists: "Even the syndicalists of Barcelona and elsewhere, who have long been a civic danger, are unwilling to be identified with the thorough going anarchists." The natural deduction from this is that the syndicalists—and the Socialists, who are similarly referred to—might naturally be expected to travel along with the anarchists in their efforts to overthrow society but are not quite hardheaded enough to go to the same lengths of violence as the latter.

For a good deal more than a generation anarchism as a political or economic belief has ceased to have any relation to the fine spun theories of Proudhon and the word has simply stood for an aspiration to do away with all law and all government. That is the only definition of anarchism that fits the Barcelona cult's ideas. They believe or pretend to believe that the world and its people would be better off without any control over the individual except such as he exercises himself. There's nothing fine-spun or compromising about Spanish anarchy.

Then why on earth anybody should expect any sort of partnership or co-operation between socialism and anarchism, and why it should be assumed that they could travel together if the anarchists were only somewhat less violent, it is extremely difficult to see.

Socialism—any sort of socialism—must necessarily require a more intricate and meticulously observed code of law than our own capitalistic civilization. Socialism is all law, all the state, no individualism, no law, no state. They are antithetical.

Linking socialists and anarchists together is like trying to drive Black and White as a matched pair.

SNOW

Down on the shore of Long Island Sound the newspapers are printing photographs of the first snow of the season that stayed long enough to have its picture taken. Here in Manchester we have had seven separate falls of snow heavy enough to blanket the ground and make what the old timers used to call "slipping" for sleighs, if there were any such thing nowadays.

Yet in a fairly fast airplane you could fly from this region of seven snows to that of a single snow in about fifteen minutes.

We don't know that there is either significance or sense to these dislocated reflections; but somehow it seems that, what with the drawing together of what used to be rather widely separated localities, through the medium of time, so that we are in a manner of speaking practically within sound of the lighthouse sirens, modern progress might arrange it so that we wouldn't have to shovel snow off our walks seven times as often as they do in New Haven nor wade through drifts seventeen times as deep.

A BOOK A DAY
 BY BRUCE CATTON

BENEDICT ARNOLD'S TIME OF GREATNESS.

Some day the reading public will wake up to the fact that Kenneth Roberts is writing American historical novels that are as fine as any in existence. It seems to me a safe bet that people will be reading "Arundel" and "The Lively Lady" a great many years from now.

And now Mr. Roberts has added a third, "Rabble in Arms," which is well up to his high standard.

"Arundel" told about Montgomery and Arnold's gallant expedition to Quebec in the early part of the Revolutionary War. "Rabble in Arms" takes up the story and tells how Burgoyne was checkmated in his bold stroke down the Champlain valley to the heart of America.

It brings in such familiar characters from "Arundel" as Steve Nason and Cap Huff, and it spins a romantic story about one Peter Merrill, a young state of Maine shipmaster who becomes a scout for the Continental arm. But mainly it is the story of Benedict Arnold—the Arnold who was America's best soldier, a flaming genius who could make even untrained militia fight for him and who unquestionably saved the country he later tried to sell.

Mr. Roberts shows just how Arnold was driven to dishonor; how jealousy and suspicion dogged him at every moment; how incompetent officers pestered and bounded him; how Congress nagged and tormented him. Later on, Arnold became infamous; in the Saratoga campaign he was matchless, superb.

And Mr. Roberts also brings the ragged Continentals to life. They are not picture-book heroes in this book; they are tired, ragged, sick, and discouraged men—one in four had smallpox on that retreat from Canada—who managed, by virtue of a miracle and Benedict Arnold, to save a country in which they almost had lost their faith.

This really is a splendid book. What matter if it runs to more than 800 pages, or if its romantic love story creeps a trifle? It is interesting on every page, a magnificent picture on a great, glowing canvas.

Published by Doubleday, Doran & Co., it is priced at $3.50.

MILK PRODUCERS TO ELECT BOARD

Directors Will Be Named at Meeting in Hartford December 18.

Hartford, Dec. 18.—In 18 district meetings throughout the state the 8000 voting members of the Connecticut Milk Producers Association will elect a new board of directors for their milk marketing cooperative on Monday, December 18, it was announced today at the office of the association in Hartford.

At the same meetings, all to be held at 1 p. m. on the same day, the members also will elect, for the first time, a body of voting delegates, five in each district, who with the directors will represent the members at the annual meeting of the association in January. Also for the first time they will elect district officers, establishing a definite local organization in each of the 18 districts.

Reduce Number of Districts The elections are held under the new by-laws of the association, adopted at a special meeting of the membership in Hartford, November 28. The new by-laws reduced the number of districts from 24 to 18 and set up new district lines. They also gave to the members in each district the power to elect directly the director who will represent them. Heretofore the directors have been nominated in the district meetings in December and elected at the annual meeting in January.

The December issue of the C. M. P. A. Bulletin, in which the announcement of the district meeting plans was made, urges every qualified member to attend. "Every member entitled to vote should attend this district meeting on December 18," says the Bulletin, "and should do his part to see that his district elects representatives who are capable, honest, reliable and loyal to the best interests of our association. The future welfare of hundreds of dairymen and their families hangs in the balance. The coming year is sure to be a critical one for the C. M. P. A. and for orderly milk marketing in this state. Every member must decide what kind of leadership he wants to follow. His vote here determines what that leadership will be in 1934."

Urges All to Attend President Robert C. Mitchell in a signed editorial in the Bulletin personally urges every member entitled to vote to attend. "The future success of our association," he says, "depends upon the character and integrity of the men whom you will elect at these meetings to carry on the association's affairs. This is entirely your problem."

In each district meeting members will elect a director who will be ex-officio president of the district organization. They will elect a district vice-president and a district secretary-treasurer, and they will elect five voting delegates, who with their director will attend annual and special meetings of the association. The first annual meeting under the new plan will be held in January and the voting delegates and district directors will then name three directors-at-large and will elect the officers of the state association.

Under the new rules the directors will serve staggered three-year terms. To start this rotating system six of the eighteen districts will elect directors for three-year terms, six for two-year terms and six for one-year terms. After the first election directors will be named in six of the districts annually. Terms of office for voting delegates and district officers, other than the director, will be one year.

CHRISTMAS TREE PRICES ARE SAME AS LAST YEAR

Range from 25 Cents to $1.50 for Home Use — Brought from Vermont Here.

Christmas trees and wreaths are being offered in as many places this year as usual. The price has not changed to any great extent, and range from 25 cents to $1.50 for regular home use. The trees are being brought to Manchester from Vermont in most cases and one man, with two carloads going to Hartford, came to Manchester with a truck load of the trees and left 840 of them in Manchester.

These trees are not to be left in one place, but were brought to be distributed in one or two places. Those dealing in the trees are not depending on one grower alone, but are getting their trees from several. There are but few native trees being offered, although wreaths are being made from a pilot wren and are being sold by children from door to door, in addition to those offered by dealers.

AIR PILOT EXONERATED IN PLANE ACCIDENT

Tells Coroner He Cannot Remember Any Details of Crash—Doctors Back His Testimony.

Bridgeport, Dec. 13.—(AP)—Although declaring himself unable to definitely learn if criminal carelessness on the part of Urban Loudon was made for a pilot was responsible for the plane crash in which William Waters, 20, and Jonathan D. Wadsworth, 16, both of Norwalk, lost their lives in Norwalk on July 28 last, Coroner J. J. Phelan today declared the deaths due to an accident.

Loudon, testifying before the coroner on Monday, declared that he could recollect nothing at all concerning the accident or events leading up to it. Medical experts testified that Loudon's memory will probably never return and declared that it is not unusual to find pilots suffering from memory lapses after surviving plane crashes.

The plane had been in the air about 20 minutes and was preparing to descend when it suddenly went into a nose dive and crashed. The plane was in good condition, the coroner was told, having been inspected three days before at Roosevelt field.

Foot traffic in Glastonbury by Station 35 was halted recently and everybody stared at an unusual sight. A half loaf of bread had been dropped into a garbage can by the big lunch wagon. It stayed in the can for a short time, suddenly jumped out and started running in back of the Odd Fellows building and out across the west end of Hebron avenue. Over the picket fence it went and then that loaf of bread climbed a large maple tree to a height of thirty feet and disappeared in a large hole in the tree. The motive power that furnished the feet, legs, and bushy tail to that half loaf of bread was a large gray squirrel.

BUCKINGHAM

Professor Hadley of the Hartford Theological Seminary was the speaker at the meeting of the Y. P. S. C. E. meeting Sunday evening. His subject was, "Palestine." He gave the dimensions of Palestine as one hundred miles long and about thirty five miles wide with a population of 900,000. The Arabs number 700,000 and the Jews 200,000. Professor Hadley was in Palestine in 1927 and engaged in archaeological research. He describes the country as very rocky. A parcel of land

GALES SWEEP BRITISH COAST

London, Dec. 13.—(AP)—A fierce winter gale swept the British coast

today, dislocated the cross-channel shipping service, and endangered many small vessels—but with no reported loss of life. The gale was especially violent in the southeast where it whipped up heavy seas and caused the English channel steamers on the Dover-Calais route to be transferred to Folkestone.

The cargo services between British and French ports were cancelled and many other freighters went to shelter from the icy gale. Snow and frost made many of the roads in England dangerous to traffic.

WAPPING

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Christensen, Police Sergeant John Keene and Mrs. Keene and two sons, Francis and Raymond, all from West Hartford, were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ansel Christensen and family of Wapping last Sunday.

The Parent Teachers Association has decided to re-open the soup kitchen for the children of the Wapping grade school next Monday, December 18, at noon. Mrs. Augusta Burger is to have charge of the kitchen.

What came very near being a serious fire occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter N. Foster, last Monday evening, when the large old-fashioned chimney caught fire but was extinguished before much damage was done. Salt was used in putting out the fire.

There was a meeting of the Community Building committee Monday evening at the home of the chairman, Mrs. Marion F. Pierce of Foster street.

The Junior Christian Endeavor meeting was postponed last Sunday afternoon on account of the Christmas rehearsals, one of which was upstairs in the church and one down in the primary room. The senior society held their meeting at 8:30, with Harold Porcherson as the leader.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth Fairbanks Tuesday, December 5, at their home. Mrs. Ellsworth's mother, Mrs. Homer Lane, is caring for her.

Mrs. Josephine Foster motored to Somers last Sunday where she spent the day with her brother and family. Mr. and Mrs. Gowdy, and attended church and Sunday school there also.

Erastus D. Burnham and Donald Grant of Wapping, and Harold Newberry of South Windsor, were elected director to represent the South Windsor district on the board of directors of the Connecticut Valley Broadleaf and Havana Seed Growers, Inc. at a meeting Saturday evening at the South Windsor Town Hall. The local officers elected were Judge William J. Thresher, chairman, and John Jones, secretary and treasurer. A council of five was elected to assist the district directors. They were Judge Leslie W. Newberry, John F. Reardon, Thomas Hickey, Byron E. West and William Barton. Mr. Burnham said after the meeting that more than one hundred growers have joined the organization in South Windsor.

SCHOOL PLAYS

SANTA CLAUS

Plans Are Made for Annual
Distribution of Dinners
at M. H. S.

Manchester High School is full of Christmas spirit as the students eagerly plan Christmas baskets. Instead of having a Christmas party, the high school students have, for the past two years, filled baskets to give to the poor people of the town on Christmas day. As the students favor this plan, it will be followed again this year.

One of the weekly notices read: "To be truly true with the Christmas spirit, our goodwill must extend even beyond the scope of friends and acquaintances, and include those whom we may not even know, but for whom Christmas morning means just another day of cold and hunger and perhaps suffering, simply because circumstances robbed them of their right to a comfortable living."

Each home room decides upon a plan to be followed in filling its basket, and appoints a committee of three to take charge to see that the basket is ready on the Saturday before Christmas.

In past years, some of the rooms have filled two baskets. This year it was decided that a packing box was better than a market basket for delivery of the goods.

The home room committees fill the basket and then it is given to Miss Reynolds to be sent out.

The following committees were selected although not all rooms have reported:

Main Building, Room 28 — E. Berggren, chairman, E. Brown, S. Bateson; Room 15 — Rhoda Mohr, Lillian Klunkhammer, Doris Little; Room 23 — Grace Procter, Bernice Robinson; Room 18 — William McBridge, chairman, Julia McKee Ruth Martin, Wilson McCormick; Room 13M — Constance Germaine, chairman, Dorothy Gustafson, Ellen McClintock; Room 11 — (morning class) T. Plans Are Made for Annual
at M. H. S.

Manchester High School is full of Christmas spirit as the students eagerly plan Christmas baskets. Instead of having a Christmas party, the high school students have, for the past two years, filled baskets to give to the poor people of the town on Christmas day. As the students favor this plan, it will be followed again this year.

One of the weekly notices read: "To be truly true with the Christmas spirit, our goodwill must extend even beyond the scope of friends and acquaintances, and include those whom we may not even know, but for whom Christmas morning means just another day of cold and hunger and perhaps suffering, simply because circumstances robbed them of their right to a comfortable living."

Each home room decides upon a plan to be followed in filling its basket, and appoints a committee of three to take charge to see that the basket is ready on the Saturday before Christmas.

In past years, some of the rooms have filled two baskets. This year it was decided that a packing box was better than a market basket for delivery of the goods.

The home room committees fill the basket and then it is given to Miss Reynolds to be sent out.

The following committees were selected although not all rooms have reported:

HIGH SCHOOL ALUMNI MAKES REUNION PLANS

Expect Reorganization May Lead to Enrollment of Many New Members.

Plans were made last evening for the annual reunion of the Rockville High School Alumni Association to be held next June at which time the association will also sponsor the "Rockville High School Prize Speaking Contest."

Notwithstanding the fact that the Alumni Association has been inactive for several years, the executive committee has plans underway for reorganization and the enrollment of many new members.

The executive committee is comprised of the officers and Principal Philip M. Howe of the High School. A meeting was held in the office of Principal Howe at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon at which plans for the reorganization were considered.

It was unanimously agreed to sponsor the "Alumni Prize Speaking Contest" and offer prizes for this event at the school next June.

A meeting of the executive committee will be held early in March to formulate final plans and to arrange the rules and regulations for the event.

The following attended the meeting: President, James W. Gallavin, class of 1889; vice-president, Mariette N. Fitch, '94; second vice president, Arthur E. Hayward, '94; third vice-president, Marguerite E. Moran, '18; fourth vice-president, Clarence J. McCarthy, '19; fifth vice-president, Elizabeth Gessay, '28; secretary, Dorothy Harlow, '19; treasurer, Raymond Spurling, '23.

Many of the graduates of the Rockville High School have taken executive positions in both the town of Vernon and the city of Rockville as well as in the different offices in Hartford and other large cities.

Due to the fact that many prominent business men and women are graduates of the Rockville High School, it is hoped to reorganize the Rockville High School Alumni Association into an organization which will sponsor many improvements advocated throughout Tolland County for many years.

Should the association reorganize and materially increase its enrollment, there is little doubt in the minds of those sponsoring the movement that the association could be of help in both the town and city governments as well as aiding in welfare work throughout the community.

Both Principal Philip M. Howe of the Rockville High School and President James A. Gallavin are eager to have all graduates enroll in the association. Membership enrollment cards are expected to be ready for distribution within a few days.

Republican Dinner Tomorrow
Victory in the recent city election by the Republican Party will be celebrated Thursday evening at the Rockville House, at which time a "Victory Banquet" will be served to the newly elected city officials and workers in the recent election.

Close to 40 people are expected to attend and several prominent speakers will be heard.

The evening's program will open at 7:30 o'clock when a turkey dinner will be served by Chef Arthur Busch with Mrs. Ellen Chapdelaine, hostess, in personal charge of the serving.

Following the banquet a short entertainment program will be presented.

It is hoped to have a prominent speaker whose name will be announced tomorrow.

The following committee are in charge: Herbert Krause, recently elected city sheriff, chairman; Mayor-elect George C. Sheets and Fire Chief George B. Milne.

Bank Meeting
A special meeting of the shareholders of the Rockville National Bank, which is soon to go out of existence when it is absorbed by the Hartford-Connecticut Trust Company, was held yesterday morning at 10 o'clock in the local banking rooms.

Inasmuch as Col. Francis T. Maxwell, president, was absent, Lester E. Shippee, president of the Hartford-Connecticut Company, which holds the controlling interest in the local bank, explained the plan of absorption.

Mr. Shippee explained how the Hartford-Connecticut Trust Company officials had voted to fix the ratio of exchange of three and one-third to one when the bank is taken over.

Most of the stock of the Rockville National Bank was exchanged for stock in the Hartford-Connecticut Company in 1929, which means that the controlling interest lies with this company which is also to go out of existence. Three and one-third shares of this concern must be offered to obtain one share of the Hartford-Connecticut Trust Company.

The nineteen directors of the Rockville National Bank retained their original stock in the bank, or at least part of it to be eligible to act as directors. This stock is to be exchanged for stock in the Hartford-Connecticut Trust Company although the ratio of exchange has not been made public as yet.

The officials of the Hartford-Connecticut Company are expected in Rockville again Friday morning when more details will be worked out.

Damon Temple Elects Officers
Damon Temple, Pythian Sisters, elected a new staff of officers at the annual meeting held Monday evening in Foresters' Hall. The new staff is as follows: Most Excellent Chief, Mrs. Marion Teabo; excellent senior, Mrs. Bertha Phillips; excellent junior, Mrs. Gertrude Ullsch; manager, Mrs. Mildred Miller; mistress of records and correspondence,

Mrs. Beatrice Minor; mistress of finance, Mrs. Frieda Weber; protector, Miss Pauline Weber; outer guard, Miss Loretta Kemmiser; pianist, Mrs. Harriet Nutland; auditing committee, Mrs. Harriet Nutland; Mrs. Gertrude Ullsch and Mrs. Bertha Phillips.

St. Joseph's Society Elect
St. Joseph's society of St. Joseph's Catholic church elected a new staff of officers as follows: President, Stanislaw Szarek; vice-president, Kasper Baron; corresponding secretary, John Krukierak; financial secretary, William Wajda; treasurer, Alexander Mancus; trustees, John Kulpa, and Peter Satory; auditors, Frank Golemba, William A. Rogalus, Anthony Sadiak; marshal, Antoni Prosnaki; flag bearers, John Radomski and Walter Galewski.

Briefs
James Mahoney of Putnam, formerly of this city, was in Rockville last evening on a business trip.

A meeting of the Rockville Visiting Nurse Association was held last evening in the rooms in the Prescott block. Plans were considered for the Christmas season.

Alden Skinner Camp, Sons of Veterans, will hold a meeting in the G. A. R. Hall Thursday evening. Following the business meeting a card party will be held followed by a social and refreshments.

The Ladies Aid society of the Rockville Methodist Episcopal church will hold a card party this afternoon in the parsonage.

The members of the U. C. C. of the Union Congregational church will hold an important meeting this evening in the church social rooms. A large number attended the meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary, of the Ancient Order of Hibernians, last evening. Following the business meeting a social hour was enjoyed and refreshments served.

Frank Kenney and daughter, Miss Gladys Kenney, sailed today on the "S. S. Haiti" for a trip to South America. On their return they will stop at Jamaica for several months, coming back to Rockville in the spring. A most interesting itinerary has been arranged for this trip.

Miss Barbara Heinz entertained the Tawasi Campfire Girls at her home on Union street last evening at 8:30 o'clock.

Court Hearts of Oak, Foresters of America, will hold a "Charter Members Night" Thursday evening in Foresters' Hall. Several state officers are expected to attend.

DIRECTOR TO RETIRE

Thompsonville, Dec. 12.—(AP)—For 45 years Denslow King has been head of the music service in the Enfield schools. He will retire this week to be succeeded by Wesley Merritt of Springfield, a graduate of Western Teachers College, Michigan, where he majored in music.

King was appointed teacher of singing in 1887 and 10 years later made supervisor of music. This has been his title. His early years were part time work, and for eight years he was supervisor of music in Bristol.

A brother, Henry W. King of Hartford, was for 50 years leader of the Methodist Episcopal church choir here, and another brother, Douglas King, has been in that choir nearly 60 years.

NEW PINEHURST STORE MAKES BOW TOMORROW

Celebrates Its 14th Birthday In New Dress— Now One of Most Modern in State —Everything Planned to Make Shopping Easier— Service the Watchword.

In the 14 years the Pinehurst Grocery has been serving an ever-growing clientele, first as a neighborhood store and more recently as a virtual kitchen for the entire town, the word "Service" has come to be more than a shallow slogan. In the first few years the store was established, customers found to their utmost satisfaction that here was a store that really adhered to its promise of quality and service. Pinehurst Delivery Service and Pinehurst Telephone Service were advertising phrases that really meant something to the store's patrons.

Special Offers

Tomorrow Walter F. Gorman, proprietor of this most unusual grocery and market, celebrates the 14th anniversary of the store's establishment. A special anniversary sale will continue through Friday and a great many unusual quality and price offers are featured. Customers on those two days will be given tickets entitling them to chances on a long list of attractive gifts, the principal one being an electric Mix Master.

But the store's birthday is not the only reason for the celebrations on Thursday and Friday. The 14th anniversary should be considered but a minor factor in Pinehurst's two-day fete. The occasion is the formal opening of the beautifully decorated and completely re-arranged grocery and market interior. Pinehurst makes its bow tomorrow dressed in the most modern style, beautifully and tastefully attired. Proprietor Gorman can claim for his store the distinction of being one of the most attractive and one of the most systematically arranged in Connecticut.

Customer First

In remodeling the interior of the store and re-arranging the shelves and merchandise containers Mr. Gorman still kept his idea of service and utility to the customer foremost. Everything has been done to make it not only easy to shop at Pinehurst but a delight as well. Customers who have been so dependent upon the store's Telephone Delivery Service that they have not recently visited Pinehurst will marvel at the changes that have been made. Potential customers who have not seen the store will be amazed that such a unique, so typically metropolitan a store exists in Manchester.

Pinehurst's service to the customer extends beyond the shelves of merchandise, however. In opening this New Pinehurst store Mr. Gorman has made it an occasion for introducing to shoppers here the very latest kind of equipment. Several new refrigeration units, themselves worthy of high praise alone, have been added. The huge meat box has been given a new refrigeration plant. The "dairy box," or the refrigerated storage for cheeses, milk, butters and eggs, has a separate cooling unit, too. To the rear of this box is still another unit designed and built for fresh fruit and vegetable storage alone. An even temperature of 40 degrees is maintained in this box.

Meat Display

Another cooling unit in the meat display counter equipped with all the latest contrivances to make the handling of meats easier and at the same time display them at best advantage to the customer. This is located toward the rear of the floor and the cuts of fine meats displayed in it are such to whet the most jaded appetite. A feature of the "dairy box" unit that was the work of a most ingenious mind is the separation by an insulated partition of the cheeses from the other materials to eliminate, of course, any possibility of the cheese products "tasting" the other foodstuffs in the box.

himself at Pinehurst the very latest kind of price labeling has been adopted. Strips of molding for holding price tags directly below the products on display were purchased in Aurora, Ill., it being impossible to obtain this particular type of molding in the East. The molding is in reality a track that allows the merchant to adjust the tags properly at any time and as the stock on the shelves is moved or changed in any way.

Considerable has already been said in the Herald news columns and in Pinehurst advertising about the Birdseye Frosted Food products. These are being featured at all times at this local store and the more customers become acquainted with the adaptability of this kind of product the greater the demand. There are 31 items in the Birdseye line at Pinehurst, the most popular of all being fresh green peas. Fresh lima beans seem to be meeting with considerable favor and the delicious fresh apparatus is in great demand now. The imaginative serving piping hot succotash made fresh in a bantam corn and fresh green lima beans on the coldest day in January, Birdseye Frosted Foods make that possible.

Eleven Employees

This husky 14 year old youngster employs 11 full time workers, two having been added under the NRA code. Three fast trucks deliver Pinehurst orders to its customers all over town and to a great many homes in surrounding communities. Although Pinehurst's Telephone Delivery Service is maintained at as high a standard as ever and new ideas are constantly being incorporated to speed up this service, customers will find that they enjoy visiting the store to make their purchases. So handy have things been arranged at the store that the shopper will soon be able to satisfy himself or herself in selecting goods without the need of calling upon one of the several efficient clerks.

Planning Menus

The many fine Pinehurst lines include hundreds of items that add the housewife in breaking the boredom of planning three meals a day. Customers are welcome to browse around Pinehurst just as they would around a library seeking something to whet their literary appetites. There is plenty of room in this New Pinehurst store. Clerks are there to assist you, but you will never need to feel rushed. Pinehurst folks enjoy your company and you will enjoy theirs.

Attracted Others

Many a success story has referred to the old saw about the world beating a path to the door of the man who builds the best mouse trap. It might well be applied in Pinehurst's case. Not so many years ago the area surrounding the Main street and Middle Turnpike intersection was quite barren, almost desolate. The most optimistic resident could not picture the section as a thriving business center. But today it is one of the busiest spots in town, so busy in fact that the police authorities are considering installing a traffic light there. Business was drawn to this area through the attractions that the Pinehurst Grocery offered. People from all over town were drawn to the store to shop. As a result a little city in itself has grown about the Pinehurst Grocery.

Tomorrow and Friday something resembling a food fair will be held at Pinehurst in connection with the anniversary and re-opening celebration. There will be several demonstrations of nationally known and advertised products. There will be a limited number of free samples. Pinehurst wants its friends to pay a visit to this fine, ultra-modern food store these next two days. Mr. Gorman will feel amply repaid if you just drop in and look around. He knows you'll come again after you have seen for yourself what Pinehurst has to offer.

Nearly Outgrow Store

During the present year Walter F. Gorman has incorporated his business. In the 14 years he has owned this business it has grown in strides that almost outdid the quar-

Beautiful New Pinehurst Store Open For Inspection Tomorrow

Here's an interior view of Walter F. Gorman's new Pinehurst Grocery at Main Street and Middle Turnpike. This shows the expanse of the store along the south side of the store. All goods are accessible and plainly marked. Tomorrow and Friday the public is invited to take part in the store's big anniversary sale. There will be free gifts and several food demonstrations with a limited number of samples. The store interior has been completely rearranged so that shopping at Pinehurst is a real pleasure.

ters in which the business was established. By careful planning Mr. Gorman was able to utilize all the space available and about double the actual working area. All grocery stocks have been moved forward in the store. The shipping room has been made larger. The office to the right of the floor area has been made more adaptable to the store's needs and goods are right out where customers may see them and make a selection. Without building on to the store or making any changes in the size or shape of the outside walls Mr. Gorman has been able to greatly increase the floor space.

The entire work of alteration and painting was done by Manchester labor. The ideas for the changes were Mr. Gorman's assisted, of course, by members of his staff. The #### Job was done without disrupting the usual Pinehurst service in any way.

Mr. Gorman is proud of the results and his customers are proud of the store with which they deal daily. Tomorrow and Friday are "open house" days at Pinehurst and Mr. Gorman cordially invites the townspeople to visit him and see the store famous for its "Good Things To Eat."

DARTMOUTH COLLEGE BOY IS REPORTED MISSING

Hanover, N. H., Dec. 13.—(AP)—Clarence L. Marks, Jr., of Philadelphia, a Dartmouth senior, was reported as missing by college officials today. An announcement said he was last seen Saturday night. College authorities discounted suicide or kidnapping theories and expressed the belief he was carrying out a self-expressed belief that he should have closer association with "working men."

The youth's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence L. Marks, arrived today to direct the search for their son. The missing student is 21 years old. He wrote for college publications and acted as correspondent for a Philadelphia paper. He was not athletically prominent.

HEWES QUILTS JOB IN TREASURY DEPT.

President Accepts Resignation—Hopes He Will Take Another Federal Post.

Washington, Dec. 13.—(AP)—Henry Morgenthau, Jr., appears to be having a free hand in the reorganization of the treasury. President Roosevelt has given every indication, he does not desire to interfere with the acting Secretary's orders on departmental matters.

Reorganization has involved a number of resignations, the installation of half a dozen of Morgenthau's selections in advisory positions and imposition of a new order under which all interpretative treasury information is supposed to go through one man's hands.

Thomas Hewes' resignation as assistant secretary has been accepted by President Roosevelt, who said in an expression "I do hope you know that I want you as part of the administration."

Hewes had been among his assistants for responsibility for orders from Morgenthau.

GIFT FOR COLLEGE

New London, Dec. 13.—(AP)—Mrs. Edward S. Harkness of New York and Waterford, Conn., will give Connecticut College a new dormitory, President Katharine Blunt announced to the students at a general assembly in the gymnasium this morning. The announcement, which was a complete surprise, was received with enthusiastic applause. President Blunt stated that in a letter received by her yesterday, Mrs. Harkness offered the college $150,000 for the construction of a new dormitory.

MORE THAN 250 AT DINNER FOR FRANK CHENEY

Connecticut, Mr. Denaher said the first Constitution the world has ever seen was adopted right here in this state. He said the fundamental point of all authority was the people, and that this theory of political philosophy underlay the activities of our forefathers which led to the Declaration of Independence.

"We are the legatees of the ages," he stated, "and here in Manchester we see, year after year, Democracy at its purest."

Mr. Denaher read the Supreme Court decision in the Jewell fire case in New Haven which cited duties of firemen and their relationship to the public. Turning to Mr. Cheney, he said, "Your services and the inspiration of your services will ever be remembered."

Colonel Cheney Laughs

Colonel Cheney's talk was replete with laugh provoking stories. He mentioned about receiving a letter from "Bob Smith," saying he was "supposed" to be one of the speakers, remarked that 45 minutes was the maximum on speeches and recalled advising Mr. Smith that "this is not adequate under the New Deal. The figures should be changed so as to make the minimum four minutes," he said.

Colonel Cheney took occasion to point out how remarkable it was that such an organization as the South Manchester Fire District could be kept up by volunteer services, and emphasized that the fire department of South Manchester had long had a record of which it could feel proud. He went back to the early days of the fire department and recalled the work of the bucket brigade. Once, he said, it was found that there was no bottom in the bucket and declared it was no wonder that the firemen who carried it was "out of breath, out of wind and helped from the smoke."

Mr. Cheney congratulated the fire department on its willingness to give service and to go out at all times. He caused laughter when he spoke of the old days of Number 4, when Numbers 4 and 5 were ancient rivals and "their consolidation was brought about by Dr. Tinker's famous punch." In conclusion, he wished Frank Cheney, Jr., the best of health and years of comfort and happiness.

Chiefs Speak

Chief Moser spoke in a laudatory vein and concluded his remarks by wishing Mr. Cheney a "dazzling pig" that got up and walked away, which started chuckles all around.

Chief Coleman expressed his thanks for the invitation to attend the occasion and congratulated Mr. Cheney for the many years he had put in as head of the South Manchester fire department.

Chief Moser said 38 years of service was a "long while" and indicated that Mr. Cheney had seen "many changes," both in the personnel and the apparatus of the local fire department. Such a long record of service, he said, was hardly equalled in any other town "where commissions are continually coming and going."

After Toastmaster Crockett had presented him with the testimonial, Mr. Cheney responded and said the affair came to him as a great surprise. He said he had no idea such a party was contemplated, and that the banquet had been an inspiration to him.

Worth 36 Years Waiting

"Indeed, it has been well worth waiting 36 years for," he said. He praised the work of his associates in the fire department, and mentioned by name F. Ernest Watkins, J. W. Hale, Emil L. G. Hohenthal, Sr., the late Oliver P. Toop, Lewis N. Heebner and Emil L. G. Hohenthal, Jr. All these men, he said, contributed to "what has found expression here tonight." Without their assistance, he stated, things could not have been accomplished the way they have been.

Mr. Cheney said he always has been deeply interested in the activities of the fire department, and that it had been a pleasure to carry on the work. Referring to the late Mr. Heebner, he said it was he who was instrumental in bringing about the establishment of the fire alarm system.

The fire commissioners, he reminded his hearers, never asked for anything but that it was backed up by the citizens of the district. He said everything had been done to save unnecessary taxon, and that nothing had been overlooked to bring the fire department to the state of efficiency it now has.

Outstanding Citizen

Mr. Crockett said the affair was a gathering to "pay tribute to Manchester's outstanding citizen." Mr. Cheney's leaving the department, he said, was a great loss, but he reminded that the guest of honor had served unflinchingly for 36 years and "should be relieved of his duties."

Robert Gordon, bartone, rendered two solos, "The Rose of Tralee," and as an encore "Home On the Range." Hill-billy songs were sung by Tony, Peter, Bruno and Victor Dubaldo, who accompanied themselves with banjos and guitars. Halgo Pearson had a couple quartets which gave an evening's entertainment. The quartet consisted of Raymond Erickson, Arthur Lander, Charles Fort, George Davis, Paul Erickson, Elmore Anderson, Halgo Pearson and Herbert Johnson.

A turkey dinner was served, Oromo catering.

At Head Table

Among those at the head table were Frank Cheney, Jr., W. J. Crockett, William G. Cheney, Secretary Danaher, Horace Clarke, of Hartford; Chief Moran, of Hartford; Chief Milne, of Roxbury; Chief James of East Hartford; Chief Edward Coleman of Manchester; Chief Albert Foy, Daniel G. Haggerty, James O. McCaw, Robert J. Smith, Emil L. G. Hohenthal and Rev. Watson Woodruff.

At the conclusion of the program, Mr. Cheney thanked on the spot Mr. Smith's coat, a fire badge in token of the latter's recent election as a commissioner of the South Manchester Fire District.

The committee of arrangements consisted of the following: Chief Foy, general chairman; First Assistant Chief Daniel J. Haggerty; Second Assistant Chief and Foreman Hose Co. No. 2, Joseph Chambers; Superintendent of Fire Alarm, James O. McCaw; Foreman Hose Co. No. 3, Thomas J. Haggerty; Foreman Hose Co. No. 4, Harry R. McCormick; Commissioners, William J. Crockett, Emil L. G. Hohenthal and Robert J. Smith; George Hunt, Arthur Lashinske, Fred Finnegan, Clifford Joyce, Rudolph Klesman, Tyre Larson, James Schaub, Arthur Short, Frank Gravino, Albert Sabielo and Ralph Russell.

The Testimonial

The design of the beautiful engraved testimonial was sketched by Mr. Crockett, who is chief engineer of the City's Patent Firearms Co., and one of the draftsmen there. The engraving and decorative art work were done by Taylor and Green, 506 North Main Street. About $200 worth of gold leaf was used in the work, which was mounted on high quality, white paper of a quality that is outstanding and only equalled by parliament.

building when it was closed for the night. The theft was discovered by a clerk who opened the office this morning.

The loot, post office authorities said, included 50 pieces of registered mail.

Makes An Estimate

John D. Stastopoulos, superintendent of mail, said the value of the registered mail could run as high as $50,000, or a maximum of $1,000 might be in each envelope. He did not believe the loss would reach half that amount, however.

The police theory was that several men were admitted to the building some time during the night. A hole large enough to admit a small man was broken through the rear of the office vault, through this, officials said, one of the thieves entered and passed out the loot.

The Alford street station is located just east of Woodward avenue, the city's main thoroughfare, and less than a mile north of the downtown shopping district. Through it is cleared the mail from hundreds of smaller business houses and also a number of motor car salesrooms and professional men.

The Conviction

The account published by the Yale Daily News, undergraduate publication, quoted the policeman as saying:

"Oh, you're looking at my number, are you. I'll teach you whose number you're looking at. I told you to get a x out of this neighborhood yesterday. You're looking for trouble are you? I'll give you the trouble you're looking for."

LEON'S COUNCIL CHAIRMAN
Five Other Merchants Also Named to Advise NRA
Complaints in Town

William Lyons, manager of the local Montgomery Ward Company store, was appointed chairman of the Manchester Retail Trade Council at a meeting this noon of the members of the council named last night when, more than thirty merchants representing eight classes of retailing, gathered at the Hotel Sheraton.

Nine merchants were named to the Council last night and E. J. McCabe, executive vice president of the Chamber of Commerce, was designated as the official with whom correspondence may be arranged and whom complaints and matters for adjustment are to be filed and scheduled for consideration by the Council, created to enforce the rules and regulations of the retail code of the NRA.

Fred T. Blish, Jr., was appointed treasurer of the Council, the personnel of which must be approved by NRA authority in Washington before being given the power to act. The Council, as named last night, will be as follows: furniture, Robert Olson and Irving H. Halprin; music and radio, John Barstow; department stores, Herbert B. House; hardware, Fred T. Blish, Jr.; mail order, William Lyons; men's furnishings, Thomas Brennan; and variety, P. A. Brophy.

All retailers in town are represented, with the exception of jewelers, food dealers and druggists. The last two named come under separate codes.

The Council announced today that all complaints, to receive attention, must be made in writing and backed by facts, not hearsay and rumor.

Potato caramel cake is good to keep on hand during the holiday season. It is better several days after baking than when fresh, and cut in slices and served with whipped cream. It is an acceptable dessert.

Recipe: Beat one cup of sifted eggs, 2 cups light brown sugar, 3-cup butter, 2 cups flour, 1-2 cup sweet milk, 1 cup hot mashed potatoes, 1 cup grated chocolate, 1 cup nut meat, 2 teaspoons baking powder, 2 teaspoons cinnamon, 1 teaspoon cloves, 1 teaspoon nutmeg, 1-2 teaspoon salt.

Cream butter and sugar. Half butter and half lard or any other shortening can be substituted for the entire amount of butter. Add 1-2 cup sifted flour to creamed mixture. Beat well and add yolks of eggs well beaten. Melt chocolate over hot water and add to hot mashed potatoes, beating in milk and nutmeg. Mix and sift remaining flour, baking powder, salt and spices. Add with nuts to first mixture. Stir just enough to mix smooth. Fold in whites of eggs beaten until stiff. Turn into a large square and flour cake pan with a moderate oven. Bake to 375 degrees F. ENGINEER INSPECTORS APPOINTED IN STATE

Bridgeport, Dec. 12.—(AP)—John C. Williams, former city engineer of Stamford, was sworn in here today as a resident engineer inspector under the P. W. A. in the state. It is expected that he will be assigned to the Lebanon state road construction project.

Four other resident engineer inspectors appointed under the P. W. A. are Joseph M. Curley of Bridgeport, George W. Gawley of New Haven, Louis F. Quirk of Middletown and William J. Long of Providence, R. I. Mr. Curley will act as inspector of the Easton State Road construction project to be started next Monday. Mr. Gawley will act as inspector for the state highway project. Mr. Quirk will inspect the Meriden sewer work and Mr. Long will inspect the Warwick water works and high school projects at Warwick, R. I.

The appointments were announced by Leslie A. Hoffman, Federal public works engineer for Connecticut and Rhode Island. The new work under the direction of Frank J. Carew of Fairfield, chief P. W. A. engineering inspector for Connecticut and Rhode Island.

SUGGESTS TABLE OF PROPER FOOD

State Health Department in Bulletin, Stresses Economy in Menu.

Bread and cereals form a valuable and necessary part of the diet, but the extent of their use should be controlled, the State Department of Health said today in its weekly bulletin in which it recommended this general rule for a healthy diet: Limit bread and cereals to a quarter or fifth of the food budget; spend the rest of the money available on milk, vegetables and fruits with some eggs, butter and cheese and a small amount, no more than is spent on vegetables, and fruit, on meat and fish.

Excess bread and cereals may cause gains in weight, but such gains are very likely to be in fatty tissue, the bulletin says. On the other hand, milk, vegetables, fruits and eggs, called the "protective" foods, are a source of high quality protein and contain important mineral elements as calcium, phosphorus and iron as well as the essential vitamins. These foods, therefore, should not be crowded out of the diet by too great an abundance of starchy foods which, while inexpensive and rich in calories, are low in other health essentials.

The bulletin gives the minimum calorie or energy requirements for a typical family of five as follows: Man, 3,000 calories; woman, 2,200 calories; child, three years, 1,100 calories; girl, six years, 1,400 calories; boy, twelve years, 2,000 calories.

From these figures may be estimated those of other ages, though children show the age of twelve and above as adults.

Based on these requirements as well as those of the other items of diet essential to health, the State Department of Health has compiled a table of foods which should be included in the weekly food order of the family of five as described above. The table is designed for a very limited food budget and is based on minimum requirements. If the amount of money available for food is greater, the bulletin states it might well be increased by: (a) increasing the milk, most important of all foods; (b) increasing the butter; (c) increasing the vegetables and fruits; (d) increasing the eggs.

The foods suggested together with the amounts to be purchased to meet adequately the minimum requirements of the family of five are as follows:

Milk, 14 quarts;	potatoes, 15 pounds or one peck;	beans (dr.), 2 pounds;	tomatoes, 4 cans; cabbage, 4 pounds;	carrot, 2 pounds;	onion, 2 pounds;	oranges, 1-2 dozen;	leaves, 1 pound;	bread, white, 7 loaves 1-4 lb. size, dark, 4 loaves 1-4 lb. size;	oatmeal, 2 pounds;	rice, 2 pounds;	cornmeal, 1 pound;	macaroni, 1 pound;	flour, 2 pounds;	butter, 1 pound;	lard or vegetable fat, 1-2 pound;	salt pork, 1-2 pound;	cheese, 1-2 pound;	eggs, 1 dozen;	meat, 3 pounds;	fish, 2 pounds;	peanut butter, 1-4 pound;	sugar, 2 pounds;	mollases, 1 can.

ROOSEVELT STUDIES NEW FEDERAL RULE

All Lines of Communication May Be Merged If Plan Is Accepted.

Washington, Dec. 12.—(AP)—The administration is making an intensive study of the communications problem with preliminary reports trending toward the creation of merged telephone, telegraph and radio agencies under strict government regulation.

A special committee of the Department of Commerce was submitted a tentative report to the President, who is reserving an opinion pending further study by the Congressional committee involved.

The report sets out the three possibilities:

1. A continuation of existing conditions.
2. Creation of monopolies in the telephone, telegraph and radio fields under strict government regulation.
3. Government ownership of communications.

The preliminary report was stated authoritatively to tend toward the second position—monopolies under Federal control.

This would involve, of course, a merger of the Western Union and Postal Telegraph in the telegraph field.

The report indicates a virtual monopoly at present in the telephone business and is rather scrambled in the radio industry.

The report also takes up the question of foreign communications and the problem of relating the cable and radio in this field.

President Roosevelt is going to forward the report to the chairman of the Senate and House interstate commerce committees for their study, and meanwhile he is reserving his decision.

Truck Drivers Take Their Case Before the National Labor Board

Washington, Dec. 12.—(AP)—Representatives of striking truck drivers in Massachusetts and the Motor Truck Association of western Massachusetts appeared before the National Labor Board today in an attempt to settle a strike which has threatened to spread into adjoining states.

The disputing parties were summoned to appear before the National Labor Board after efforts of the Regional Labor Board in Boston had failed to bring about a settlement had been unsuccessful.

The employers were represented by Walter McCarthy, a Springfield attorney, while John Gateley of the Springfield Central Labor Union appeared as spokesman for the strikers.

Both agreed that union recognition was the chief obstacle to a settlement and neither showed any disposition to recede from their original positions.

The strike, involving more than 800 truck drivers in western Massachusetts, has been in effect for seven weeks with some violence and considerable property loss through destruction of trucks operated by non-union drivers.

The Boston board in its report to Chairman Wagner of the National group charged that the operators refused to appear before the regional organization on the ground it would prejudice court action which the motor truck association had instituted. It charged also that the refusal was for the purpose of prolonging the strike.

The recommendation of the Boston board that the strike be ended with indefinite postponement of the open and closed shop question is hiring of strikers without discrimination and the setting up of arbitration proceedings on wages and hours, was accepted by the strikers on November 23 but was rejected by the employers on December 10.

McCarthy told newspapermen before today's hearing opened that the truck owners from the beginning had been willing and eager to arbitrate the issues but that they would not consent to any proposal which involved the closing of the plant. The employer group insisted that the right of the labor board to jurisdiction in the controversy.

Gateley said the strikers' demand of recognition of their union, a requirement that they would be hired without discrimination and arbitration of issues relating to wages and working conditions.

McCarthy said the demand for recognition of all strikers could not be met until the right of the labor board to jurisdiction in the case had already been established.

FOUR MILLION MEN SOON ON PAYROLLS

Will Be Off Charity Lists by Saturday—To Continue Civil Work Plan.

Washington, Dec. 13.—(AP)—President Roosevelt will continue the civil works administration until next spring, but in his study of the budget he has not reached a decision on the extent of public works to be proposed for next year.

The President was informed today by Harry L. Hopkins, civil works administrator, that 4,000,000 men would be on the C. W. A. payroll by Saturday. Funds are available to carry on this program only until February 15 and Mr. Roosevelt has decided to ask for an additional $200,000,000 to permit a tapering off of the work between March 1 and May 1, when it will be ended.

The President has been going into these matters in the course of his conversations with Lewis Douglas, director of the budget, and acting Secretary Morgenthau.

No Disputes

It was stated emphatically there is no dispute or row between the President, the director of the budget and the Treasury on this subject.

The President holds the position that it is the duty of Director Douglas to keep government expenditures at a minimum, so far as he can.

On the other hand there is the proposal from Senator La Follette, R. Wis., for an additional $10,000,000,000 public works program for next year. When the time comes the President expects to reach a decision on the matter.

It was stated at the White House that the aid issue is regarded as a technical one and not a political one. The President was represented as seeking to find out how much money was needed to keep people from staying in the city.

THINK BOAT LOST FOLLOWING BLAST

It was stated that the White House the boat was destroyed as a result of the blast. The boat was a small one and not a pleasure boat. The President was represented by a person named Mr. [Name obscured] who was looking to find out how much money was needed to keep people from staying in the city.

It was also stated that the aid issue is regarded as a technical one and not a political one.

Gray Squirrels Continue Their Trek to the West

New York, Dec. 12.—(AP)—The winter of 1939-40 is now in full swing, and the gray squirrels are making their annual trek to the west.

The rodents are not only seen in the city but also in the suburbs. They are seen in the city and suburbs of New York, and are seen in the city and suburbs of New York.

Smile Hides Heartbreak As Mack Breaks Up Team

By PAUL MICKELSON. Chicago, Dec. 13.—(AP)—It's tomorrow again for that grand old fighting heart and patriarch of baseball, Connie Mack.

PLAN TO MAKE WINSTED WINTER SPORTS UTOPIA

Winsted, Dec. 13.—(Special)—A bill of a ski hill in the eastern States that would eclipse the ski hills of the rest of the world is blossoming into fact at Winsted...

The search was started for a ski hill. There were so many conditions to be placed on the project that it seemed impossible. It must be in the cold belt. It must face north-east.

One of the first questions that was asked was the problem of constructing the hill. How large a hill shall this be? The town's professional record is 261 feet, made by Alf Engen who has joined this group already.

The first half of the game was for the most part of the defensive type with the North Ends leading at intermission time.

The landing field is 400 feet and has a slope of 39 degrees which is as steep as any slope can be and hold snow.

The take-off of the jump is 40 feet wide. It would be theoretically possible for twelve jumpers to jump at the same time.

from Boston. That's all." He smiled as he announced the deal and calmly swept aside a barrage of questions as to salary, terms, etc.

But outside the conference room, he almost surrendered to his emotions for the first time.

A'S TRADE FIVE STARS IN HUGE PLAYER DEAL

Grove, Walberg, Bishop Go to Boston, Cochrane to Detroit and Earnshaw to Chicago as Connie Mack Again Breaks Up His Team.

Chicago, Dec. 13.—(AP)—The biggest baseball player deal of them all was in the bag today, and the annual major league meeting settled down to regular business and lesser swaps and sales.

Connie Mack had disposed, as had been reported he would, of Lefty Grove, Rube Walberg, Mickey Cochrane, George Earnshaw and Max Bishop getting in return a $300,000 in cash and pitcher Bob Kline and infielder Harold Warstler from the Boston Red Sox and Catcher Charlie Berry from the Chicago White Sox.

Boston Gets Three. Boston got Grove, Walberg and Bishop; Cochrane will manage Detroit and Earnshaw will pitch for Chicago.

The two leagues will meet in joint session tomorrow, to tie into the standard baseball and radio problems. The latter question was expected to remain as it is, with each club making its own decision as to whether there should be broadcasts of games.

Philadelphia, Dec. 13.—(AP)—Its 19 years since Connie Mack broke up his pennant winning "100,000 infield" but that upheaval apparently still stands as the most devastating to the Athletics.

There's no doubt the substantial sales announced yesterday at Chicago overshadowed them financially, but the transactions that started at the close of the 1934 season, after the A's had lost four straight games of the world series to the amazing Boston Braves, ripped the team apart like nothing before or since.
