TO CONSIDER NEW SILK CODE RULES

Manufacturers Must Display Posters Giving Wages and Hours of Labor.

A committee to consider suggested amendments to the Silk Textile Industry Code, was appointed at the weekly meeting of the Silk Code Authority held at Silk Association headquarters. The amendment committee includes: W. W. Metcalf, Portland Silk Company; E. C. Geler, Duplan Silk Corporation and B. Edmund David, David Silks, Inc. Amendments submitted by various branches of the industry will be studied by this committee and their conclusions submitted to the Silk Code Authority.

A committee to investigate the operation of winding and other preparatory machinery, operated on commission either by commission shops or by silk manufacturers, and to present recommendations for action, will include Louis E. Cohen and N. Kluger.

To Discontinue Discounts
The practice of giving annual discounts to special customers should be discontinued, the Code Authority ruled. The secretary of the Code Authority was authorized to request any firm who is allowing such discounts to cease and desist after the first of the year.

Posters incorporating the wage and hours of labor provisions of the code will be distributed during the coming week to all mills of the country coming under the Silk Textile Industry Code, it was announced. It will be obligatory for all mills to display one of the posters in each work room.

SAYS DEALERS GAIN UNDER MILK PLAN

State Board Answers Complaint Made By a New London Widow.

Hartford, Dec. 14.—(AP)—The State Milk Control Board today made public a letter written to a "widow with two daughters," living in New London county who had written to Governor Cross pointing out an alleged injustice done her by compelling her to pay $55 monthly to the clearing house established under the board's equalization plan.

The letter to the governor, the name of the signer not being revealed, as from "a widow with two daughters and my only source of income is from running my farm." The woman operates a retail milk route selling about 200 quarts daily. She asked the governor for an answer "in regard to the justice of taking a widow's livelihood from her and her two children."

The Milk Control Board sent the answer on behalf of the governor. It was made public, the board explained, "in belief other producer-dealers continue ignorant of the practical operation of the new price and quota plan, and many of them, like the New London county widow, will actually gain materially under the new regulations."

NATIVE TURKEYS AT LOWER PRICES

Yellow Tag Birds For Christmas Will Be Cheaper Than Ever, Reports Indicate.

Hartford, Dec. 14.—Connecticut turkey growers are launching the most intensive drive ever made to secure a greater appreciation for Connecticut Yellow Tag turkeys among Connecticut people. Neal P. Anthony of West Willington, president of the Connecticut Turkey Producers' Association, Inc., announces that for the Christmas trade, prices have been cut to the core and quality maintained at an unusually high level.

The schedule of prices adopted show them to be by far the lowest in the history of Connecticut graded turkeys. The wholesale price for fancy dressed yellow tag birds weighing 18 pounds and over will be 25 cents per pound.

THURSDAY, DECEMBER 14. A MAYOR'S JOB. There is probably not another municipality in the United States, corresponding in size to Manchester, where the purely administrative expenses of local government cost the taxpayers as little as they do here.

Manchester, in comparison with other well kept, well policed, well schooled communities of its size, is economically conducted from any point of view. When the comparison is confined to the administrative costs alone, this town becomes a very paragon of the virtue of economy.

Particularly are we reminded of this when we notice that in Meriden, not much more than half again as populous as Manchester, they are just now discussing, rather casually, the payment to no fewer than sixteen deputy registrars of voters the sum of $400 each.

It is the lack of it that has put many municipalities hopelessly in the red. It has been made possible here through the fact that numbers of citizens in this town render to the community, without compensation or for purely nominal salaries, services which in many places no larger are generously if not lavishly paid for.

In recent years the burden of labor in the conduct of municipal affairs has been very greatly increased. Particularly have the demands on the time and attention of the members of the Board of Selectmen multiplied.

less instances in which he cannot act without referring some decision to the Board itself. Nor is it possible or desirable that the Board should delegate to any employe too great a measure of authority, while there are many matters which it might, with all propriety and legality, delegate to its own chairman.

When it is realized how much of the town's administrative business has been done for years by practical volunteers, and that the mass of such business is very rapidly growing, it need occasion no surprise if in the not remote future this town is called on to convert the chairmanship of the Board of Selectmen into a full time job, with a decent salary and a full time office in the municipal building.

SKY NOISE. Possibly due to some unusual atmospheric condition the eerie whirring of airplane motors under test at the East Hartford factories, to which most of the residents of this region have become accustomed, yesterday and last evening forced itself upon attention in unusual degree, with the result that people for miles around became excited under the impression that they were listening to the engines of some plane lost in the snow clouds.

There is one curious fact about the noise of these plane engine tests. It does not particularly annoy East Hartford residents because the testing plant was very carefully engineered to direct the tremendous volume of sound up to the skies instead of permitting it to destroy the quiet and wreck the slumbers of a whole township. But the singular result has been experienced of the noise of the motors arching over the nearby terrain and descending again miles away.

LEGAL LOOT. Two small banks in Bridgeport have been for some time in receivership. The receiver for both is the same man, Attorney George N. Foster. The other day Receiver Foster, having served in that capacity for three months, asked Judge Ernest A. Inglis of the Superior Court to allow him his payment for that period.

Attorney Foster thought that $20,000 would be about right. It is not within our knowledge whether any of the depositors or other creditors of the closed banks had a representative in court when this bill for services was rendered, but it is glaringly manifest that they should have had; and just as clear that if such representative was present it was his plain duty to protest against this piratical attempt to raid the assets of those institutions.

However, it is recorded that no one uttered so much as a single small peep in opposition to the attorney's modest evaluation of his own worth during that session of court.

Since then, however, there has been a storm of protest on the part of the unfortunate depositors and stockholders in the banks, who visualize the assets of the little institutions disappearing into the pocket of the receiver at the rate of $80,000 a year. The court, at last accounts, had not given notice that the fee had been allowed. But whether, or not, the unconscionable looting of suspended banks in this state by their receivers, with the sanction of the courts, should be made forever impossible by no amending the laws that the liquidation of all such institutions would be repaid in the State Banking Commission instead of with private-practice receivers.

with the depositors in broken banks as its victims.

A MORAL TEST

Directors, faculty, friends and student body of Connecticut College for Women have just had imposed upon them a pretty tremendous moral task. Out of a clear sky comes to the college the gift of $150,000 for a new dormitory, the donor being Mrs. Edward S. Harkness of New York and Great Neck, Waterford. It was a genuine surprise because there had never, heretofore, been any special relationship between the college and Mrs. Harkness.

Ordinarily the emotions aroused by such a gift are those of gratified delight over fulfillment of the merest ghost of a desire. But if the Connecticut College people can confine theirs within such limits they will be well nigh heroic in their self command.

It will be an immense strain on the ethical and philosophical fabric of the college and its friends to remain altogether aloof from recollections of what has happened in other instances where the Harknesses began to give money to educational institutions. Gift after gift went to Yale, until the total of the bestowals reached more than twelve million dollars; Harvard got some three million and Columbia has had two million for its Medical Center.

Try as they will, the authorities and students of Connecticut College for Women are going to have the job of their lives trying, like the family cat, to keep their minds off the canary of benefits yet to come.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN Washington

BY RODNEY DUTCHER. Herald Washington Correspondent. Washington, Dec. 13.—The public works money—$3,800,000,000—will be doled out before Christmas, except a few millions for administrative expenses and loose ends.

The cents in charge of the world's greatest spending spree are glad to be about over. The strain was terrific. They had to be sure the money was well allocated. And they couldn't be sure about a lot of it.

All that remains is to see that the states backward in asking for money get their share. Those that got most still are yelling loudest for more, their appetites barely whetted.

Pacific Coast and northwestern states rushed in ahead, taking all the money they could get, while conservative states, such as those of New England and the south, held back.

It's Hopkins' Baby. Civil works, the great employment program, is the baby of Relief Director Harry Hopkins, who had millions of people to feed and nowhere near enough money. Hopkins sold it to Public Works Administrator Lakes and they both sold it to Roosevelt.

The FWA has turned over many non-federal projects to Hopkins for his consideration. But it won't tell which ones. Anything Hopkins approves represents a 100 per cent grant instead of the 75-25 plan-grant arrangement of FWA. This fact makes lobbyists for states and cities that much more eager.

Hopkins asked lakes to keep the boys off his neck. "Don't send that gang over to me," he said. "They're used to loitering in your corridors. Let 'em stay there."

Sow Note Struck. As you might have supposed, there were tart words during private preliminary conferences on the AAA vinegar code. The industry soured promptly on a suggestion that bottles be labeled as containing 96 per cent water and 4 per cent acid vinegar, inasmuch as vinegar concentrate is watered to that extent.

One nice young man representing vinegar first accused every one to wonder where A.A.A. people questioned a complicated sales-becow-oust clause which seemed to threaten price-fixing. "I want to ask the consumers' council if he means to imply that the government is thinking under this act, of regulating profits," he demanded in outraged tones.

INFLATION

HEALTH-DIET ADVICE

BY DR. FRANK McCUOY. Questions in regard to Health and Diet will be answered by Dr. McCuoey who can be addressed in care of this paper. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, for reply.

LOW BLOOD PRESSURE CURABLE. The normal blood pressure in the adult ranges between 120 and 130 and any figure above 140 would be considered high blood pressure.

Low blood pressure frequently precedes the development of serious, chronic disorders and should be reined in before it discovered before such disorders appear. It also accompanies many diseases and is commonly found in tuberculosis of the lungs, diabetes, anemia and is common with some of the acute infectious disorders.

Unless the patient has a doctor test the blood pressure he may not suspect that low blood pressure is the cause of his distressing and alarming symptoms. Some of the usual symptoms are: headaches, "that tired feeling," inability to concentrate, with perhaps numbness of the hands and feet, or trembling or nervousness.

After a few days of rest, through the heart region, through the abdomen or in the arms or shoulders. Such annoying symptoms as dizziness, rapid beating of the heart and discomfort after eating, may appear. The one symptom most commonly found among low blood pressure patients is an alarming fatigue. If you suffer from any of these symptoms, it would be a good plan to have the pressure tested to find out if low blood pressure is present in your case. If so, then you should begin immediately to overcome this condition and you will find that the symptoms are completely relieved once the blood pressure returns to normal, which is from 120 to 130.

There exists a type of low blood pressure, such as that found among the Chinese, which is very interesting. According to our figures, the entire Chinese race has low blood pressure, with no harm to health. When the Chinese came to North America and adopt our ways of living, they gradually develop a higher pressure. Among adults of the white race, we occasionally find cases in which low blood pressure exists for long periods with the patient able to maintain a fair state of health, providing he is not placed on any strain. However, I believe that even in these cases, the patient would benefit by a determined effort to raise the blood pressure and after it has been brought to normal, he would find that he has gained in strength and vitality and has become able to do more and to get more out of life.

Some general rules to follow in overcoming low blood pressure are: to use the short fast to cleanse the body of accumulated poisons, to follow the fast with a careful diet, and to increase the strength in every way possible. Certain physiotherapy treatments are beneficial and massage is often helpful. If you wish more complete instructions, I would advise you to secure my article on Low Blood Pressure. Write to me in care of this newspaper, following the correspondents' instructions as given at the heading of this article, and enclose one large, self-addressed, stamped envelope and I will be glad to send the article to you.

QUESTION AND ANSWERS. (Alligator Fears). Question: J. O. asks: "What is an 'Alligator Fear'?" Answer: "Alligator Fear" is the name which has been given to the avocado, but this name should not be used as it does not describe the avocado.

(Reduce Stomach Acidity). Question: Miss C. W. E. writes: "Why is it that when I am full and eat at intervals I feel fine and can work hard, but the minute I am the least bit hungry, I have a dizzy feeling or lightheadedness?" Answer: The hunger you complain of is due to gastritis and over-acidity of your stomach. You should stop eating, and drink only water for a few days, and the dizzy feeling and headaches will disappear.

(Use Ice to Strengthen the Muscles). Question: Mrs. F. G. R. asks: "Is it safe to rub ice on the neck and face to tighten the muscles? Is there any chance of causing paralysis of the neck muscles?" Answer: The ice treatment to the neck and face is excellent for strengthening the muscles. The cold makes the muscles contract, and in this way they are developed and brought back to a normal tone.

(My Life and Hard Times" Is Packed With Laughs). You are not apt to find any funnier book than the "My Life and Hard Times," by James Thurber. This book, I suppose, is an autobiography—but what an autobiography! Told with a perfectly straight face, it includes some of the most thorough and insane anecdotes and reminiscences anybody ever heard.

There was the time, for instance, when the residents of Columbus, O., thought that a dam had burst and noised good waters on their city. Everybody started running—young and old, healthy and infirm, male and female—and what Mr. Thurber does with this frantic begonia is nothing less than side-splitting.

Then there was the time when the Thurber family heard footsteps downstairs at night, suspected burglars and called the cops, and then grandfather, the old Civil War veteran who slept in the attic, got the Evacuation Day since. The residents of those early celebrations now catch their pneumonia at football games. Still tarring, in fact; she plays with a small steam company touring outlying towns hereabout.

Back to California will go Rudy Vallejo—not to see Fay Wrobleski but for the screening of George White's "Scandals." George Jessel and Norma Talmadge are going places again. But for years in succession the weather played hob with the outdoor carnival spirit. Comment was made that the parade organizers who didn't get colds got drunk trying to keep from getting cold.

Subway-reading was invented about the middle of the depression, and it was discovered that few people followed their impulses with actual purchases. Now, though, the scheme seems to be working, but there may be trouble with the hired readers themselves. The three young men complain that they can't keep on simulating gleeful chirps and making expressions of pathos, horror and passion unless they're provided with a fresh book once in a while.

HEAVY SNOWFALL RETARDS TRAFFIC

Men Regularly Employed By Town Put To Work Clearing Streets.

The snow storm that started shortly after 8 p. m., yesterday continued until 12:30 this morning. When it was over there was a fall of four or five inches. The snow was light, but the state and town streets were well cleared, especially those in the more traveled sections. They had plenty of time to do the work and, as a result, the plows were run so close to the curbing that the walks in front of many homes were covered over, making it doubly difficult for those who removed the snow from the walks in front of their houses.

Queer Twists In Day's News

New London, Wis.—Phillip Williams, 52 and his wife, 40, are celebrating the arrival of their twenty-ninth child. They have had three sets of twins. Five children were born in one year when triplets and twins arrived. Only nine of the children are alive.

Madison, Wis.—The annual University of Wisconsin girdiron banquet, once considered a gathering for men only, has gone feminine in earnest after a trial of women attendance last year. Betty Jean Daniel, Wausau, has been named "Queen" to preside at the 1933 event.

Yarmouth, N. S.—James Purdy's hen must have heard about the NRA. About three times a week she speeds up production and lays an egg with two yolks. Today James is showing neighbors a huge egg—big as an ostrich's which he says the hen laid.

Denver—Manager of Parks Walter Lowry is trying to figure out a way to make the lilacs and other park shrubs realize it is winter. During the last few days, under summer-like skies, they have started to bud. "We're going to get a cold wave sooner or later, it's going to freeze the buds and then there won't be a new crop next spring," he wailed.

Hutchinson, Kas.—With only four members of the Joe Hooker Gar Post left to attend a post meeting and election, the organization was forced to draft members of the Women's Relief Corps, and Daughters of Union Veterans to fill out the roster of the post.

Chicago—Miss Lillian Murray, who had charge of the World's Fair lost and found department, revealed that among the articles turned in were these:

Fifteen sets of false teeth, a false eye, and a half pint of whiskey. The teeth and the eye were returned to their owners.

"I don't know what became of the bottle of whiskey," she said.

Koosuk, Ia.—Moose Dye, a Montrose, Iowa, hunter and trapper, reported the capture of two white skunks, which are reported to be just about as scarce as the proverbial hen's teeth.

HEBRON

Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Sellers and their infant son, Horace Wells Sellers, of New London, were Sunday visitors at their Hebron home.

A special service was held in St. Peter's Episcopal church Sunday afternoon for the Czech-Slovakians of Hebron and vicinity. The Rev. John Bellas, pastor of the Stafford Springs Slovak-Lutheran church, conducted the service and there was a celebration of the Holy Communion. There were 40 communicants.

Mrs. Helen Fitzgerald attended Sunday afternoon at Bay Ridge, N. Y., the christening service for her grandson, John Henry Fitzgerald, Jr., son of the Rev. and Mrs. J. H. Fitzgerald of Bay Ridge. Mr. Fitzgerald, the child's father, is rector of Christ Church, Bay Ridge, and is the son of the late Rev. John H. Fitzgerald, for many years rector of St. Peter's church here. Mrs. Fitzgerald was the guest of friends while in New York.

LONERGAN FAVORS DIRECT CASH LOANS

Senator Is Studying Plan To Create Employment Loan Corporation.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 14.—Senator Lonergan of Connecticut, said today he is studying a plan to create an Employment Loan Corporation with authority to make direct cash loans to employed persons of the middle class who are not reached by other relief legislation, or to guarantee payment to private banks which extend such loans at reasonable interest rates.

He indicated that he will offer an amendment to the Reconstruction Finance Corporation Act, authorizing such an organization in connection with the Federal Reserve System, unless a way can be found to set up an organization under the Federal Savings and Loan Association laws now in the House Owners Loan Corporation Act.

Officials of both of these organizations have been asked by the Senator to submit suggestions for legislation. The proposal has also been presented to the Senate Banking and Currency Committee and Senate Finance Committee. In commenting on the plan, Senator Lonergan said that its details had been originated by Arthur L. Clark, now connected with the Connecticut Board of Fisheries and Game, and presented to him by Thomas H. Beck, chairman of the Board, and editor of Collier's Weekly.

Its purpose is to reach a large group of employed persons who do not qualify for charitable relief under the Civil Works program and other relief measures, and who are in need of financial aid until business and industry sufficiently revives to increase wages.

For Middle Class "A large group of people are in this middle strata" the Senator said, "which is not reached by present relief laws. Most of them are struggling along on a small pay, exhausting every resource. It would be an indication of faith in the future if the government could encourage small loans to them until their incomes are increased, providing they are of sufficient character

MAY USE NEW CAR PLATES ON DEC. 30

Commissioner Michael A. Connor of the State department of motor vehicles invites public attention to the fact that 1934 number plates may be displayed on cars this year on Saturday, December 30. The law specifically provides that "on renewal of any registration, the number plates assigned for the ensuing year may be so displayed on the last day of December of the year preceding that for which such number plates shall have been assigned, and, if said day is Sunday may also be displayed on the Saturday preceding."

The last day of December this year falls on Sunday so 1934 number plates may legally be displayed on the Saturday preceding. The demand for 1934 number plates has not developed as was hoped for by the commissioner when paid notices

THREE BODIES FOUND IN SUBMERGED AUTO

Cleveland, O., Dec. 14.—(AP)—The bodies of Frank M. Samons, 39, a lake captain, his wife, Gertrude, 37, and John Murphy, chief engineer of the freighter Marquette, were found today in their automobile submerged in the Cuyahoga river.

The Samons automobile, in which the three are believed to have driven off a dock accidentally Monday night, was located in 15 feet of water, and was brought to the surface with the aid of a derrick.

Search of the river was begun this morning after a maid in the Samons home reported that the couple had not returned to their two small children, Robert, 4, and Frank, Jr., 3, after leaving home Monday afternoon.

Further investigation disclosed that Mr. and Mrs. Samons had called on Murphy at his boat, tied up in the river, Monday night.

Murphy entered their automobile when they left, presumably to visit friends on another steamship moored a short distance away. Tracks of the car were traced to the unprotected edge of a dock over which the machine apparently plunged.

about the New Ford V-8 for 1934

Greater power at still lower cost through new Dual Carburetion... Increased motoring comfort because of simplified Clear-vision Ventilation... Easier riding through more flexible springs, deeper seat cushions and softer cushion springs... Distinctive new appearance... Many other features

1 More Miles Per Gallon—More Power, Speed and Efficiency with Dual Carburetion—Greater Oil Economy The performance and economy of the 1933 Ford V-8 have been the talk of thousands of motorists. Owners said: "Leave it alone, don't change it." Dealers said: "Impossible to improve it!" But we have improved it—in every direction. We started with the engine. The Ford V-8 for 1934 is more powerful, more efficient, easier to start in cold weather, yet it is the most economical Ford to operate ever built—largely because of the new Dual Carburetor and Dual Intake Manifold. Even in the coldest weather the V-8 engine warms up quickly and maintains an efficient operating temperature because of new thermocouples in the waterline. Added engine refinements—get the details about all of them from the nearest Ford dealer—reduce oil consumption and further reduce operating and maintenance costs.

Put It to the Test Ride in this New Ford V-8 for 1934 and find out—personally—what it can do. It is the one sure way to find out which car gives you the most for your money.

Ventilation. It's built-in—simplicity itself. The same handle that raises the window glass also slides it back horizontally to the ventilating position, and then the forward motion of the car draws the air out of the body. Drafts are eliminated, passenger comfort is assured, and windshield will not fog in cold weather. Another interesting feature of the Ford system—the windshield can be opened! This, and the cowl ventilator, provide the additional air needed for hot-weather comfort.

Greater Security—New Radiator Shell and Grille—Fenders in Color A car to be proud of, the Ford V-8 for 1934 has newly designed chromium-plated radiator shell and grille, and other distinctive features. Interiors are more attractive, with new tufted upholstery, new moldings, new cove-type headlining, new instrument panel, new arm rests and new hardware. Swivel-type sun visors in De Luxe bodies prevent glare from front or side. Fenders on all De Luxe cars are in color to harmonize with body colors. New enamel finish on all bodies and fenders has greater wearing quality and more enduring luster.

Transverse Springs—Comfort with Stability and Safety Ford transverse springs provide the utmost stability and safety. Placed cross-wise, they tend to prevent the body from tilting on uneven roads, and turns can be taken safely at relatively high speeds. Free and easy action of all four wheels is permitted because the outer flexible tips of the springs are attached to the axles. Thus the most sensitive parts of the springs receive road shocks first and absorb them before they reach the body. The advantages of the solid axle are retained.

Lawyer (to plainly dressed witness)—I presume, my good fellow, you're a laborer?
Witness (who was a Civil Engineer)—You are right. I am a workingman, sir.

Lawyer—Familiar with the use of the pick, shovel and spade, I presume?
Witness—to some extent. Those are not the principal implements of my trade, though.

Lawyer—Perhaps you will condescend to enlighten me as to your principal implements?
Witness—it is hardly worth while. You don't understand the nature of their use.

Lawyer (lortily)—Probably not, but I insist on knowing what they are.
Witness—Brains.

If Christmas were rescued from the horde of swapping adults and restored to the children to whom it belongs it would not be so profitable to the merchants but it would be a heap happier to all of us.

The young man hasn't become very valuable to his firm until he gets over wanting a high-sounding title in the city directory.

Man (making up his Christmas list)—When I think of all the lonely men in this city, friendless, without family or home at Christmas time—gosh, I envy them!

The board of trustees of the Manchester Y. M. C. A. failed to make any appointment of a director at their monthly meeting last night. At the meeting a month ago the resignation of E. J. Simonds was received by the board and accepted. Mr. Simonds has since left Manchester and is now located in New Mexico. It was expected that his successor would be named at the meeting last night, but no selection was made, current matters only being disposed of.

Mrs. A. E. Crawford of 329 East Center street who underwent a major operation yesterday at the Hartford Hospital, is reported to be as well as can be expected today.

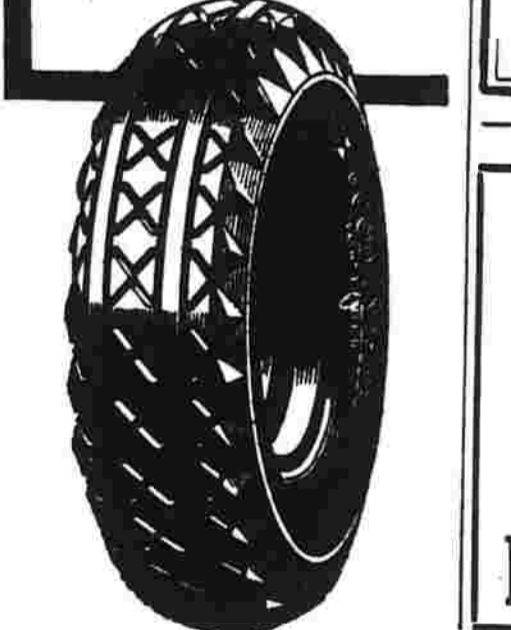

Despite the snowstorm last night 45 visiting Grangers from Tolland, Wethersfield and Suffield, attended the regular meeting of Manchester Grange last night and furnished an interesting program of music, readings and sketches. The local Grange voted to hold its annual Christmas party on Wednesday evening, December 27. The usual custom of exchanging ten cent gifts and bringing grocery staples to be turned over to the Public Health Nursing association will be followed.

The beginners department of the Center Congregational church school will have its "white gift" service Sunday morning, December 17, during the regular Sunday school hour. The children are reminded to bring their gifts, wrapped in white paper, marked as to the contents so that they need not be unwrapped before sending to the Atlanta school.

Mrs. Anna L. Minor of 62 Bigelow street, has been confined to her home for seven weeks with a bruised leg and is still kept in the house.

Word was passed yesterday to men on the local CWA jobs that the salt pork now stored at the L. T. Wood Company plant on Bissell street would be issued to them. Over 700 pounds of the remaining 1,800 will be distributed to applicants today.

Manchester doctors are going in strong for exercises, having formed a club that is to meet each Wednesday afternoon at the Y. M. C. A. They have taken up volleyball and yesterday afternoon the team met for the first time. Not all of the doctors could be present yesterday afternoon, but there was a good turnout.

The Young People's society of the Concordia Lutheran church will have its Christmas party tomorrow evening at the church.

Winners of the setback prizes at George's Tavern, at Oak and Col-tage streets, last Friday night were W. Johnson and J. Frazier. Art and Dan will be at George's Tavern tonight to entertain the patrons with their accordion and guitar specialties. There will be another setback tourney tomorrow night with two chickens being put up for prizes.

Mr. and Mrs. Weir were married

15 years ago and 10 children have been born to them, four being dead. Two of the children are in the Hartford County Home, Warehouse Point, and another child is living with Mrs. Ida A. Weir, 88 Birch Mountain road. The building burned was one-story, wooden construction, 18 by 24 feet with four small rooms downstairs and a large open attic, unfinished.

Burning timbers of the house late this afternoon prevented firemen from searching the ruins for the body of the child believed to have died in the fire.

Medical Examiner William R. Tinker this afternoon requested Town Treasurer George H. Waddell
