

FOUR MILLION IDLE ARE NOW MAKING WAGES

Goal Set by President Is Reached — May Carry the C. W. A. Plan into the Spring Months.

Washington, Dec. 15.—(AP)—The Civil Works Administration said today that more than 4,000,000 are now on its payroll.

This was the goal set by President Roosevelt in authorizing use of upwards of $400,000,000 for direct employment of persons theretofore on relief rolls. It is expected that Congress will be asked to provide more funds for this purpose to carry the C. W. A. into the spring months.

Harry L. Hopkins, Civil Works administrator, told reporters his information showed that the full quota of employment planned for December 15 has been completed. He could not, however, give any definite figures and contented himself with the statement that 4,000,000 are employed.

He paid tribute to state and local Civil Works administrations and volunteer workers who have devoted their time to the situation for the past month.

Some Quotas Unfilled

Some of the states have not filled their C. W. A. quota but others have exceeded the number they were supposed to employ. Adjustments will be made to level out the situation. Hopkins estimated there still are 1,500,000 families on relief rolls and said the exact number probably will not be known for another 30 days.

Hopkins today made public rules of the Civil Works administration covering the employment of clerical workers. This carries the stipulation that the so-called white-collar workers may be employed up to 39 hours per week at prevailing rates in the individual communities but not less than the following rates per week:

Base A, Southern Zone, $12; Central Zone, $15; Northern Zone, $18; Intermediate, Southern Zone, $15; Central Zone, $18; Northern Zone, $21.

Operating Supervisory, Southern Zone, $18; Central Zone, $21; Northern Zone, $24.

Technical Supervisory, Southern Zone, $18-$25; Central Zone, $21-$40; Northern Zone, $24-$45.

The rates for semi-skilled labor, the new rules say, depend upon local custom and are to be set between the wage rate for skilled and unskilled labor in accordance with local prevailing rates, unless otherwise provided for by agreements approved by the public works administrations within or through the state.

GREECE EXTENDS INSULL'S PERMIT

Utilities Magnate Allowed to Remain in That Country Until January 21.

Athens, Dec. 15.—(AP)—The Greek government today granted Samuel Insull an extension to Jan. 21 in the length of time he will be allowed to remain in this country.

Previously, in refusing to renew the former American utilities operator's police residence permit, the government announced he would be forced to leave the country Jan. 1. His present permit expires Dec. 31.

Mr. Insull requested and was granted the extension today after the minister of the interior had informed him that he would be expected to leave by the first of the year.

At the same time, today, he was informed that his passport will be vased to any country he chooses to visit after leaving Greece, however, as he has no passport Mr. Insull will be required to travel on temporary papers.

Wanted in U. S.

The aged fugitive wanted in Chicago to face embezzlement charges, made formal application for the extension of the permit yesterday.

Turning toward possible new scenes of asylum, Mr. Insull was without consular status as an American citizen. The United States has revoked his passport.

At Washington, it was said the United States lacks administration treaties only with Afghanistan, Persia, China, Egypt and the internationalized zone of Morocco.

WASHINGTON SILENT

Washington, Dec. 15.—(AP)—State Department officials had no comment today when informed of press dispatches from Athens that the Greek government had granted an extension of Samuel Insull's police permit, allowing him to reside in Athens until January 31.

It was indicated no further negotiations.

DEATH ANSWERS MOTHER'S APPEAL

Doctors Not Allowed To End the Sufferings of Deformed Nine Months Old Child.

Toronto, Dec. 15.—(AP)—Nine months of suffering was ended today with the death of a Toronto baby whose mother had appealed to doctors to end its life.

Victim of hydracephalus which caused its head to grow to three times normal size, the infant became unconscious early this week. Pressure on the brain paralyzed all the vital centers.

Dr. Luke Teetey, surgeon, said it was "fortunate the parents are sensible about it; that the mother is bearing up well after the terrific and utterly unnecessary strain placed upon her by inhumane, cruel law.

"Perhaps now the senseless superstition which seems to control government action in such conditions and cases will be overcome and the authorities will realize the needless agony and suffering which have been caused a baby who did nothing wrong and two parents who loved it."

10 DEAD, 30 HURT IN BUS ACCIDENT

Fear Three More Will Be Added to List—Bus Driver Is Dying.

Crescent City, Fla., Dec. 15.—(AP)—An inquest was called today to fix the responsibility for the train-school bus crash which yesterday killed ten children and injured about 30 others.

It was feared the death list would mount as nine children, ranging from 11 to 17 years of age, lay in Palatka hospitals suffering from injuries. The condition of three was critical and physicians said the outcome of the others could not be determined.

FIND BODY AFIRE; SUSPECT IS HELD

Chicago Police Say Peddler Killed Janitor, Then Tried to Cremate Him.

Chicago, Dec. 15.—(AP)—A few minutes after the blazing body of a man had been found in a vacant lot police had a suspect in custody today and said he confessed to the slaying.

The victim was John A. Jobb, 53, building caretaker, and the man held as his slayer is Fred Markham, a bill peddler. Lieutenant Oliver Hoffman and Detective James Sullivan said he confessed.

Police said they believed Jobb originally came from Saskatchewan in Canada. Letters were found among his belongings postmarked at Brandon and Swift Current in that province.

But it was to eight-year-old Jackie Threlkeld, whose mother, Mrs. Mittie Threlkeld, identified Jobb's charred body, that police owed their clue that led to the quick solution of the mystery.

Jackie told of a "terrible fight" in the building where he lives with his mother and where Markham also resides and where Jobb was employed as janitor.

Taking Markham into custody the two officers said he confessed at once to having killed Jobb Tuesday night and hiding his body in a storeroom until last night when he removed it to the vacant lot under cover of darkness, saturated it with gasoline and touched a match to it after placing it in a crudely made crematorium of bricks.

There it was discovered, still burning, by a passerby.

State Troopers to Search For Boy's Lost Mongrel

Trenton, N. J., Dec. 15.—(AP)—and within a few minutes more than a hundred police stations had instructions to be on the lookout for Adolph's pal.

The governor wrote Adolph that he had a cocker spaniel and that "it is great to have a dog who is always faithful, who is happy when you are happy, and who doesn't care what others say about you, so long as you belong to him and he belongs to you.

"Tonight, when you are sleeping, these fine state troopers will be searching here, there and everywhere for that fine little dog of yours, and I do hope they find him, so that he may share with you in what I hope will be a very merry Christmas."

2 DUCK HUNTERS DROWN AS THEIR BOAT UPSETS

Third Danbury Man Rescued and Taken to Hospital — He Is Placed on the Danger List.

Bridgeport, Dec. 15.—(AP)—Two of a party of three Danbury duck hunters are believed to have perished off the mouth of the Housatonic river, Stratford early today, and one who was rescued is on a danger list at the Bridgeport hospital suffering from exposure.

The man rescued is Minot Barter, 44, of 11 Patch street, Danbury. The men were out hunting ducks in a rowboat when it upset in the heavy sea. Barter was rescued by a fisherman and taken to the hospital.

Hear Man's Cries

Barter was saved by Henry Fordham, Sniffen Point, Stratford, and Donald Johnson, a neighbor, after Fordham heard the man's cries for help as he floated upstream in the Housatonic river more than an hour after the boat had upset. They rowed to mid-stream, rushed Barter ashore and there Felix Bergwald of Stratford took him to the hospital in his car.

Orlocks Froze

The party had come here from Danbury yesterday to take advantage of the last day of the duck hunting season. They hired a boat and set out for the lower river meadows at 4 a. m. today. According to Barter's story to his rescuers, "I soon had trouble because of freezing of orlocks; their boat was swamped about daylight by huge waves, and overturned.

Once the boat capsized Barter did not see his companion again.

Survivor's Story

The story of the tragedy as told at the Bridgeport hospital by Minot Barter, survivor, follows:

"I left Danbury in my car with Sabo about 4 o'clock this morning. Doc left in his car. We came down to Stratford and I had a key to Slatcher's boathouse at Bond's Dock in Stratford. I got a boat from Slatcher's boathouse and put it in the back of my car and we drove to Milford to Smith's Point where my car and Doc's car were left.

"I should say that it was about 5:30 when we put the boat in the water. I had the decoys in a basket and we put our guns in the boat and started out toward the lower breakerwater in the river. It was freezing cold and the boat was rather crowded with the three of us. The spray from the surf was freezing on the oars and our-locks.

GRATITUDE, BASIS OF A LEGAL SUIT

Rescue from Drowning 20 Years Ago Recalled by Letter Writer.

New York, Dec. 15.—(AP)—The rescue from drowning 20 years ago of a little girl brought the story down today upon Clarence Thorne, an elderly investment broker.

Thorne was held in $500 bail today on a charge of having written annoying letters to Mrs. Evelyn Sharp.

The story told by Thorne is this: Twenty years ago Mrs. Sharp, then a girl of six, was fishing from a river bank and fell into the water. She was rescued by a man named John Cavanaugh. The gratitude of Mrs. Sharp's father was so deep, Thorne said, that he declared Cavanaugh would never need for anything.

Met Cavanaugh

Recently Thorne met Cavanaugh. He found him feeble and impoverished, he said. He heard the story of the rescue and offered to write Mrs. Sharp. It was the tone of these letters, Mrs. Sharp declared, that led her to complain to the authorities.

She said Thorne had asked her to provide a trust fund for Cavanaugh, and that in one letter he had threatened to send the elderly man on a lecture tour, his subject to be her "Lack of Gratitude."

Mrs. Sharp said she recalled the river rescue vividly, but did not know the name of the man who saved her life.

CHRISTMAS TRADE BEST IN 3 YEARS

Mercantile Review Reports That All Business Trends Are Upward Now.

New York, Dec. 15.—(AP)—The entire aspect of trade movement was brightened this week by the expansion of retail sales, the moderate gains in industry and a further rise in employment, Dun and Bradstreet said today in their weekly trade review.

"Reports from all parts of the country reveal that more progress is now being made than at any time in the last three months," said the review, "with a complete reversal of the attitude assumed at this period last year.

On Stable Basis

"General business trends not only are upward, but the betterment is resting on a more stable basis than during the mid-summer upswing. As a result, Christmas buying is attaining the largest proportions in the last three years."

Wholesale markets have kept pace with the demand, the review said and distribution is being maintained nearly at the high levels attained during the Thanksgiving season. The report said increased schedules are becoming more numerous from industrial centers and a number of plants already are planning to open earlier than usual to work on spring orders.

LINDYS REACH SAN PEDRO ON HOMeward HOP

Reach Dominican Republic in Short Flight from Puerto Rico — To Continue Trip Tomorrow.

San Pedro, Dominican Republic, Dec. 15.—(AP)—Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh landed here at 10:40 a. m., eastern standard time, today after a flight from San Juan, Puerto Rico, Pan-American Airways announced.

San Pedro is on the southern coast of the Dominican Republic, east of Santo Domingo and about 225 miles west of San Juan.

They alighted here, Pan-American officials said, because of the good airport and facilities. They planned to stay here today and resume their journey toward Miami and New York tomorrow.

THE TAKE-OFF

San Juan, Puerto Rico, Dec. 15.—(AP)—Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh took off from the harbor here in their big red hydro-mono-plane at 8:50 a. m., a. s. t., on their flight toward Miami.

They had stayed here overnight, the guests of acting Governor Benjamin J. Horton and Mrs. Horton after flying the 53 miles from Port-of-Spain, Trinidad, to San Juan in 5 hours and 40 minutes.

Before the take-off, Col. Lindbergh did not specify his intended destination although it was indicated that he and Mrs. Lindbergh might make a stop en route to Miami at Santo Domingo, about 300 miles away. The Lindberghs yesterday obtained permission to enter the Dominican Republic.

The Pan-American Airways route, which the Lindberghs are following, is 1,180 miles from San Juan to Miami.

Start Early

The Lindberghs went to the Pan-American Airport shortly after 8 a. m., accompanied by Mrs. Horton and Melburn Asher, the governor's secretary.

Both Colonel and Mrs. Lindbergh remained in the airport office for an hour checking weather reports and chatting with Clara Livingston, a local aviatrix and "Red" Williams, a Pan-American pilot, before going to the landing stage.

There they entered a row boat and went out to the plane which was anchored in the harbor.

Frank Powers, the local manager for Pan-American Airways, accompanied the Lindberghs in the row-boat.

Mrs. Lindbergh at once climbed into the rear cockpit. The Colonel spent about 15 minutes releasing the mooring ropes and looking over the plane, before he started the engine.

Only about 50 persons were gathered at the airport to see the departure. Among them were half a dozen officers of the 65th U. S. Infantry.

Recognizes Officer

Col. Lindbergh recognized one of them, Capt. Miguel Montemios, whom he had met on a previous visit. He stopped and shook hands with the captain, then greeted all the other officers.

After the colonel had started the motor, the plane drifted slowly down the channel of the harbor. The colonel waved to the watching group and in a few moments the plane was off the water and roaring over the city. It was tipped quickly

SLEET STORM AID ARMY OF JOBLESS

Inclement Weather Delays Rail and Road Traffic in New York.

New York, Dec. 15.—(AP)—A sleet storm struck New York early today, delayed rail and road traffic and furnished additional work for thousands of unemployed who were recruited to keep streets cleared.

The Brooklyn-Manhattan Transit company trains on its Brooklyn lines were delayed from five to twenty minutes because of ice forming on the third rails and on the windows of motormen's cars, several of this company's subway lines in Brooklyn run from tunnels into open cuts, along the surface and on elevated structures.

While belated office workers sat in the stalled cars during the morning rush hours, power cars with special scrapers moved along the "dead" sectors, scraping off the ice so that the power "shoes" of the trains could maintain contact. Motormen took advantage of the brief stops at stations to scrape the ice from their cab windows. The lines affected were the Fulton, Brighton Beach, Broadway-Brooklyn and Myrtle Avenue branches.

Brooklyn surface car lines also experienced delays in schedules, and buses, which daily bring thousands of commuters from suburbs to rapid transit terminals in the city, were delayed by ice and snow-covered roads and ice-covered windshields. Some impatient motorists in private cars solved the windshield difficulty by raising the windshields and facing into the teeth of the freezing wind.

The storm, however, had a bright side for the unemployed, as the city ordered that between 9,000 and 10,000 emergency workers be employed to assist the regular snowplows.

U. S. IS CHALLENGED BY RUM SMUGGLERS

Ask to Be Allowed to Bring Their Liquor to Bonded Warehouses.

Washington, Dec. 15.—(AP)—President Roosevelt was said at the Treasury today to have ordered the Navy to cooperate with the Coast Guard in stopping rum running off the Pacific coast.

This step was taken in reply to what the government regarded as a challenge of its law enforcement facilities by a freighter lying off the California coast with a liquor cargo.

It was made plain that if similar steps were needed to stop smuggling on the Atlantic coast the President was ready to issue the necessary orders.

The government's action was taken upon receipt of a telegram sent to Dr. James M. Doran, former head of the Industrial Alcohol Bureau, and signed by the Siegfried Olsen Shipping Company, in the Robert Dollar building, San Francisco.

Rickets Scrambles Bones, X-Ray Photographs Show

Urbana, Ill., Dec. 15.—(AP)—X-ray studies showing that rickets scrambles the interior of bones were announced today at the University of Illinois.

Rickets is a bone disease common to children and the X-rays show that it is more dangerous than has been supposed. For in the pictures the bones of recovered children were not the same and never as strong as normal.

The pictures showed first that a good strong bone is structurally like a person's teeth, the damage being parallel, bound together in orderly bundles. The bone structures resembling tooth-picks are the micelles, extremely small fibrous tissue made largely of calcium.

Rickets scrambles these bone toothpicks, turning them topsey turvey as if spilled out of a box. After the disease is over the disordered array of bone cells freezes together in whatever pattern the cells happen to have. They do not return to their regimented orderliness.

This even orientation of the bone micelles confirms previous theories long held that such a structure properly accounted for bone strength.

These studies were made by Dr. George L. Clark and J. N. Mrgudick of the Illinois Chemistry Department. They said that the pictures show rickets breaks down the "organic cement" which holds the bone micelles together.

"The best thing to do about rickets," says the report, "is to prevent it. The disease leaves an indelible effect. Where it attacks a person a second time, the damage is much more severe, more devastating."

Subject To Surtax

Morgenthau said he agreed that dividends out of earnings and profits accumulated or the increase in value of property accrued before March 1, 1913 should be subjected to surtax.

In discussing the capital gains and loss provisions, Morgenthau suggested two approaches:

"The first would be to provide for a tax at a flat rate on capital gains and permit the deduction of capital losses totally from the gain of the same year or the succeeding year. This provision is similar to that in the 1923 law, but imposes a further restriction upon the deduction of losses.

"The proposed plan has the virtue of planning a further and yet equitable restriction upon the deduction of losses."

WINTER TIGHTENS SIEGE IN STATE

Deaths Number Four Since Wednesday—Traffic Badly Impeded by Storm.

By Associated Press Winter tightened its siege on Connecticut today with a stinging assault of rain, sleet and near zero temperatures that added the names of two duck hunters to the death toll and slackened travel to a small-pace.

A party of Danbury duck hunters met with tragedy in Long Island Sound when their row boat overturned at the mouth of the Housatonic river after their oarlocks froze.

Temperatures in the state ranged from five degrees above zero in Manchester to 18 in Stamford.

Dealers in the former city predicted ice 10 to 12 inches thick would be ready for harvest within a few days.

Connecticut communities sent out crews to sand highways, but everywhere in the state automobiles, trucks, and trolley cars found their progress seriously impeded.

ONE KILLED, SIX HURT IN EAST HAVEN CRASH

East Haven, Dec. 15.—(AP)—East Haven police reported a woman and three children, six other persons were injured today in a bus and an automobile were in collision on Foxon road, near Hunt Lane.

Chief of Police Hugh Farrell said two of those injured were children and that he believed all of those killed and injured were passengers in the automobile, driven by Frank Monahan of New Haven.

The chief said Monahan's car was out of the driver's control and rushed down a hill on the left side of the road.

The bus driver, in a futile attempt to avoid the collision, swung over to his left, Chief Farrell said, but the right front fender of the bus caught the swerving car.

Of those injured five were taken to hospitals. The children, immediately identified only as Jerry and Jack, were taken to New Haven hospital with head injuries.

Others were identified tentatively as Mrs. Monahan, a Mrs. Debory and Harry Dewold of New Haven.

WORK FOR "WHITE COLLAR" MEN SEEN Employment Making Inventory of Nation's Building Situation Is Suggested.

Washington, Dec. 15.—(AP)—An estimate that 11,000 "white collar" workers will be given employment in a few days in making an inventory of the nation's building situation was made today by the Department of Commerce.

Willard L. Thorp, director of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, who will supervise the work, said "the maintenance of balance in employment is the most important problem facing the country today."

The inventory will go a long way toward remedying past difficulties, for it will give actual knowledge of local conditions in detail, before any group of men embarks upon a change of building or real estate development.

The inventory also will show the average current rental which can then be compared with census data for 1929.

Thorp said that among the cities so far included in the real property inventory is Waterbury, this state.

BUYING OPPORTUNITIES MANY THIS CHRISTMAS Frigidaire Prices to Go Up January 1 Kemp's, Local Dealers, Announce.

This Christmas season, already made brighter by increased business during the fall, presents buying opportunities which may never again return.

According to Samuel J. Kemp of Kemp's Inc., Frigidaire dealer, who revealed that on January 1 there will be a price increase on the product of his company.

"Frigidaires has delayed this price increase as far as possible," Mr. Kemp said "because of its desire for this Christmas to be a happy one for everybody.

Material and labor costs in manufacturing Frigidaires have increased decidedly, but officials of the company decided this price increase would not become effective, until after the Christmas season, so that everyone would have the opportunity of purchasing for Christmas at the present low prices.

There is a long pent-up demand for useful articles for the household that is being released this holiday season. This is noted particularly in the household equipment field where the seasonal demand is huge.

Hundreds of Christmas package orders are coming in with instructions for delivery on Christmas.

LINDYS REACH SAN PEDRO ON HOMEWARD HOPE

about and headed west with a brisk tail wind helping.

The airport staff estimated the ship would reach Santo Domingo in two hours.

At 9:29 a. m., a. s. t., Mrs. Lindbergh reported by wireless to Pan-American Airways that she and her husband were off the northwest corner of Puerto Rico, directly over the ancient headquarters of the notorious Captain Kidd, the pirate of the Spanish Main.

At 10 a. m., the Lindberghs reported their position as ten miles south of Cape Engano, which is on the northeast tip of the Dominican Republic. They were about 145 miles from San Juan and apparently headed for Santo Domingo.

U. S. IS CHALLENGED BY RUM SMUGGLERS

and filed at Palo Alto, Calif., said: "We represent the owners of the British freighter Mogul lying off California coast with cargo approximately 40,000 cases of assorted Canadian and European liquors.

"We desire to enter this vessel into the harbor of Los Angeles and place merchandise in bonded warehouse subject to sale in accordance with any import quotas that may be set up.

"This cargo represents all liquor destined for smuggling purposes off Pacific coast which means if vessel is allowed entry cessation of smuggling activities on this coast for at least six months.

Herbert E. Gaston, spokesman for Acting Secretary Morgenthau, said this message was regarded as a challenge to the government and that by presidential authority all the Navy's facilities on the Pacific, on land and in the air, will co-operate with the Coast Guard to establish a blockade against liquor smuggling.

Officials described the Mogul as a 310-foot steel steamer of Canadian registry which left Vancouver last May 20 and so far as the department knows has not touched port since.

Officials said it hangs off the lower California coast acting as the mother boat for ten fast speed boats in a run-running fleet.

These boats were described as capable of 30 knots speed.

Officials said the Mogul was sailing overboard to all corners for a while, but recently stopped that because, it is believed, some counterfeilers began buying stock with bad money.

Dr. Keene was unimpressed by the contents of the note and stuck by his "accidental death" theory.

Glendon's body was found yesterday near a fence on Castle Cove road, not far from Chatham beach.

His shotgun, with one shot fired, lay nearby. His right side and abdomen had been torn by shot.

Dr. Keene explained that the coach's shotgun might have been discharged as he climbed the wire fence near where his body was found.

Was Hunting The 37-year-old crew coach presumably had left his South Chatham home Wednesday to go hunting. His father, "Old Dick" Glendon, famous Navy crew coach, his brother, Hubert a boxing coach at Columbia, and friends searched the beaches and woodland through Wednesday night when he failed to return.

A policeman found the body yesterday beneath a blanket of snow, indication that it had lain in the road during the storm which swept over Cape Cod Wednesday night.

Glendon was a native of Boston. His widow was the former Marie Fahy of Brookline. They had three children. Recent marital difficulties were reported settled during the past weekend.

POLICE PROBE
BABY'S DEATH
Two Other Children Seen
Running After Mother
Just Before Fire.

Investigation into the death of Charles John Weir, 11 months old son of Mr. and Mrs. Adelbert C. Weir, fatally burned yesterday at noon when the small cottage home of the Weirs on Carter street was destroyed by fire, is being made by the local police. It was learned today.

At the same time an effort will be made to determine the cause of the fire which so quickly enveloped the four-room structure, nearly trapping Adelbert Weir, the child's father, who was asleep in the building when the fire started. He was awakened by the smoke and roar of the flames and rushed out of doors to give the alarm. His hair was singed by the flames as he made his way through the smoke and fire to the front door of the house.

Weir, working for the first time since November 12, following a period of sickness, went home from the Case Brothers paper mill where he is employed on night shift. He went to bed in a room adjoining one in which the baby was lying asleep in a carriage. Mrs. Weir, he told police, went to the Highland Park grocery store at about 11 o'clock, leaving the two older children, Edna, 5, and Burton, 4, at home.

Mrs. Weir stated that she closed the wood stove in the front room, after putting some birch wood in it, and left for the store. She had been gone about twenty minutes when the two older children ran from the house after their mother, leaving the front door open. It is believed that the opening of the front door caused the wind to fan the flames.

Was In Daze
As soon as he reached the outside of the building, Weir ran barefoot to the house of Henry Olin, nearby, who assisted him in trying to re-enter the house. When awakened by the noise, neighbors said Weir was in a dazed condition and stated that all of the children had gone with their mother to the store. Telephone calls to other neighbors living between the house and the store verified the statement that Mrs. Weir had passed, but that she did not have any of the children with her at the time. It had been her custom on other days to take all three children to the store with her, but due to the snowstorm she had left them at home yesterday.

In the meantime neighbors said others on the road from the house to the store reported that two of the children had been seen running toward the store, scantily clad. Olin made two attempts to get into the burning home but was driven back by the flames each time. On one of his attempts he saw the baby carriage overturned on the floor, but could not locate the infant.

Children Chilled
It was not definitely known whether the baby was in the house, until Mrs. Weir returned with the other children to the home of Henry Olin. There the children were given warm drink and food, which was given them after the long walk to and from the store.

Neighbors Aid
Edna and Burton Weir, the two children living at the Carter street home, were taken to the home of Winifred White, east on Carter street near the Bolton line, and their father stayed at the home of his mother, Mrs. Ida L. Weir, 85 Birch Mountain Road. Father and children escaped from the burning building with only the clothes they had on at the time and in the case of the children, they had only light summer wraps on when seen at the scene of the fire yesterday.

Neighbors supplied shoes for the father. Weir was making an effort today to obtain lumber with which to complete construction of a small building near Winifred White's house which had been under construction by a Bolton man. If this is secured he will endeavor to locate some second-hand furniture and a stove and will move into the new home as soon as possible. An insurance policy which he had taken out on the building several years ago had lapsed, it was stated by neighbors today.

The body of the baby will be placed temporarily in the receiving vault at the East cemetery. Chief Samuel Gordon made it known this afternoon that the police investigation had been brought to an end as nothing has been disclosed to indicate any criminal intent. It was stated that the chimney, located in the center of the dwelling, was of poor construction and the fire could well have started there if it became too hot in the stove.

ABOUT TOWN

Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Finney, South Manchester, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Finney, Glastonbury, Conn., have arrived in Florida for their winter season visits and are guests at Hotel Everglades, Miami.

Members of Helen Davidson Daughters of Scotia, are reminded of the meeting this evening at 7 o'clock to be followed by a party for the children of members at 8 o'clock.

The Manchester Green Community club will hold its regular Friday evening setback and dance tonight at the Manchester Green school. As heretofore the man and woman making the highest score tonight will have choice of a turkey or cash. Second prizes will be in cash and a dollar attendance prize will be drawn by some lucky player.

The second duplicate contract bridge tourney at the Manchester Country club is scheduled for this evening.

Forget-me-not Junior Circle of King's Daughters will meet tomorrow at 2:30 at the home of Jane Taylor, 15 Main street. Lucille Niles will have charge of the program.

Everything points to a large attendance at the Bridge-Tea to be given tomorrow afternoon at the Y. M. C. A. for the benefit of the Verplanck Scholarship Fund by a group of local young women all of whom are graduates of or attended Manchester High school, among them Miss Arline Donahue, Miss Ruth P. Smith, Miss Mary Dielsen-schneider, Mrs. Herbert Swanson, Miss Minnie Olson, Miss Mary McGuire at present on the High school faculty; Miss Harriet Richmond and Mrs. Mildred Paisley. Both auction and contract will be played, beginning at 2:30. There will be prizes and refreshments. A thoroughly enjoyable affair is anticipated, and all women will be welcome to attend.

Giuseppe Mazzini Lodge of the Sons of Italy will initiate a large class of candidates into membership at a meeting to be held in Tinker hall Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock, this being the final initiation under the open charter. Following the meeting a Christmas party will be held by the combined Sons and Daughters of Italy. The afternoon's program will include an entertainment and refreshments.

St. Margaret's Circle, Daughters of Isabella, will have a Christmas party Tuesday evening at the Fogarty homestead in Hilliardville, the home of the brothers of the present regent, Mrs. Helen Donahue. An entertainment is planned. There will be games, refreshments and a general good time. Each member is requested to provide a gift not to exceed 25 cents.

Members of the Junior choir of the Center Congregational church will appear in their new vestments for the first time, Sunday evening at 6:30, at the annual "white gift" service. With the senior choir they will sing during the presentation of the pageant, "Christmas Mystery" in five scenes.

The charity committee of the Rockville Emblem club is requested to meet with the charity committee of the Elks at the Elks home in Rockville Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock, to make arrangements for Christmas cheer baskets in the towns of Rockville, Stafford, Broad Brook and Manchester.

Chapman Court, Order of Amaranth, will hold its regular meeting this evening in the Masonic Temple. At 7 o'clock a Christmas party will be given in the banquet hall for the children of members. All attending are requested to provide a ten cent gift for a child. The grownups will have their Christmas frolic in the banquet hall after the business session.

FAIRBANKS IN ITALY
St. Moritz, Switzerland, Dec. 15.—(AP)—Douglas Fairbanks, suddenly quitting the winter sports here, left in an automobile for Italy today accompanied by Douglas, Jr. The American actors explained they wanted to start before the snow became too deep on the Alpine roads.

The senior Fairbanks said they intended to go first to Milan.

WILL ADD TWO TEACHERS TO HIGH SCHOOL FACULTY

Promotion of 95 Pupils, Bringing Enrollment to Capacity. Makes Step Necessary.

Two teachers will be added to the faculty of Manchester High school the first of next February, it was announced last night after the regular meeting of the Board of Education, the increase being made necessary by the promotion of about 95 pupils from the Barnard school to the High school at that time.

The remainder of the meeting was devoted mainly to the transaction of routine business. The present enrollment of students at the High school is 1,800 and an additional 95 students will bring the enrollment close to capacity as the facilities of the school are now being used to almost the greatest possible extent.

AWAITS TEN INCH ICE
BEFORE CUTTING STARTS

L. T. Wood Will Fill Two Houses With Natural Ice—Ice 5 to 6 Inches Thick Now.

Ice cutting operations will not be started before January 1, 1934 at the L. T. Wood ponds at Bolton Notch and Salter's, according to Mr. Wood this morning.

The ice houses at Bolton Notch and Salter's have a total capacity of 4,000 tons, 2,500 at the former and 1,500 at the latter. Mr. Wood said it would hardly be worthwhile to commence cutting operations until the ice has attained a thickness of at least ten inches. If the near zero temperatures during the past week continue until the end of the year, the ice should be fully twelve inches thick, it is felt. At present the ice on Center Springs pond is from five to six inches thick.

Asked today if he thought the job of harvesting the ice would necessitate hiring several men in addition to the regular force, Mr. Wood said he thought not much more extra help would be needed.

MUCH SAND USED UPON ICY ROADS

Like ammunition dumps in the war, the State Highway Department has deposited at strategic intervals along the Connecticut highway system huge piles of sand, the ammunition used in the department's annual warfare against dangerous ice conditions. These piles, established in October, hold 35,500 cubic yards of sand. Immediately after roads have been cleared following a snow, the highway crews fill their trucks with this sand and begin spreading it on curves, hills, crossings, and, when necessary, even over whole roads to protect motorists from the danger of skidding. Often, these sanding operations continue for days.

BODY IDENTIFIED

Bridgeport, Dec. 15.—(AP)—Police today established the identity of the man's body found in the Pequonnock river yesterday through a key discovered in the overalls which the man wore. The body, it was learned, is that of Frank Sapparin, handy man for the Brennan Stone Company and other concerns along the waterfront here, who disappeared November 4.

SILVER TEA SERVED BY WESLEYAN GUILD

Newly Formed Groups at South Methodist Church in Charge of Yesterday's Affair.

The atmosphere of Christmas, with daintily hung greens and seasonal table decorations greeted over one hundred ladies of South Church parish Thursday afternoon at the Christmas Silver tea served in the church parlors. The affair was in charge of two of the newly formed groups of the Wesleyan Guild. On entering the ladies were welcomed by Mrs. Santa Claus, especially engaged for the occasion. Mrs. Santa presented each with a gum drop necklace which was her identification tag for the afternoon. The ladies were escorted into the chapel where a series of get-acquainted games were played under the direction of Mrs. Harry Anderson. In groups of four, with a hostess they later assembled in the parlors around small tables, where tea, sandwiches and cakes were served. During the afternoon Mrs. Minnie Goble and Mrs. Carl Nymad presided over a table of gift articles for Christmas.

A program was given consisting of piano numbers by Miss Grace Adams, duets by two of her pupils, the Misses Doris Stratton and Alice Little; readings by Miss Hazel Driggs; songs and skit by Emma Lou, Joyce and Connie Kahler. Between numbers, Christmas carols were sung by the group, with Miss Thelma Carr at the piano. Mrs. Edward O'Malley was master of ceremonies. Mrs. Paul Ferris, decorations, Mrs. Levi Carr, refreshments.

A large number of new members were enrolled in the various working groups of the Guild. It is planned to hold a series of such occasions during the season.

COUNTY REPUBLICAN CLUB IS ORGANIZED

Judge Raymond A. Johnson Landed for Service; Group from Here at Session.

Manchester Republicans took a prominent part in the organization of the Hartford County Republican Association which was formulated following a banquet at the Hotel Bond, Hartford, last night. Judge Raymond A. Johnson, acting in the role of temporary chairman of the meeting, was highly complimented by Judge Jacob Schwolsky and State Senator Alice Pattison Merritt for his able and fair handling of the meeting, and the entire gathering unanimously voted him the thanks of the association for his services.

Those from Manchester Fifteen Manchester Republicans attended the meeting. They were: County Commissioner Robert J. Smith, Judge Johnson, Representative Thomas J. Rogers, Representative William J. Thornton, Judge Thomas Ferguson, Ronald H. Ferguson, Ernest L. Kjellson, Joseph Pero, Leroy Norris, Harry Russell, E. L. G. Hohenthal, Chairman of the Board of Assessors, Town Clerk Samuel J. Turkington, Assessor Henry Murie, Deputy Sheriff James H. Johnston, and Victor Bronkie, Adjutant of the local Legion Post. Following the dinner which was served at seven o'clock to a gathering of nearly 300 Republicans residing in Hartford County Judge Raymond A. Johnson took the chair as temporary chairman. Judge A. S. Bill of West Hartford acted as temporary clerk. The constitution as drawn by a committee of 30 named at a previous gathering was then read to the assemblage. Because of its length and because there were details that required careful consideration and not hasty judgment, Mrs. Merritt asked that the action on it be postponed until another meeting. This was voted down.

Constitution Adopted Then the constitution was presented by articles and paragraphs. Several changes and amendments were proposed. All seemed designed to protect the interests of the two large cities in the county—Hartford and New Britain. Judge Henry Hunt fought strenuously to protect the small towns. A membership committee of seven was authorized with the power to accept or reject applications for membership. A rejected applicant was given recourse to the entire membership through an amendment.

An attempt to have the officers elected annually instead of biennially was defeated by a close vote. A separate article was included to allow nominations from the floor. A proposal that an advisory committee be set up was defeated on the grounds that it would be too cumbersome. Col. Clarence Seymour was of the opinion that the county was well enough organized and wanted to adjourn the meeting without completing the adoption of a constitution. This was almost unanimously defeated.

The executive officers of the association were elected as proposed by the nominating committee. They were: President, Edward N. Allen, of Hartford; vice-president, Kenneth Cramer of Wetherfield; secretary, Frank Sparks, of West Hartford; assistant secretary, U. Hayden Brockway, of Suffield; treasurer, William Judd, of New Britain; assistant treasurer, Mrs. Elsie C. Case, of Bristol. Executive committee from the various Senatorial districts were named as follows: Fourth, Raymond A. Johnson, Manchester; fifth,

Miss Watkins makes a most engaging platform presence. Her opening numbers were well known classics by Mozart, Schubert and Schumann, in which she showed herself to be particularly at home. Her second group was equally pleasing, including Bizet's Pastorale, and the closing quartet of numbers, by Woodman and other modern composers were all enthusiastically received by the appreciative audience. Several of her songs were greeted with such hearty applause she generously gave encores, one of them the inimitable, "Kerry Dancers"; another Barcarolle from Tales of Hoffman, in which she was accompanied by Miss Rood and Miss Scheib.

CULTURAL ENVOY SENT TO RUSSIA

Dr. Duggan Sails Friday to Develop Educational and Artistic Cooperation.

New York, Dec. 18—(AP)—A doctor of philosophy sails Friday as a cultural ambassador to the Soviet Union, bent on healing a breach that has separated two civilizations since the czar fell.

Dr. Stephen Duggan told today that his mission to the Soviet Union will be to develop educational and artistic cooperation with the United States.

Dr. Duggan is director of the Institute of International Education, which is endowed by the Carnegie Corporation and the Rockefeller Foundation. He goes at the invitation of the Soviet government to develop the same educational and artistic co-operation as the United States enjoys with France, England and other countries.

He will arrange for exchange of professors and students, stimulate the study of English over there and Russian here and plan for an exchange of educational exhibits. On this side of the water work will be handled by the institute; on the other by a new Anglo-American Institute at the University of Moscow.

"We will try," said Dr. Duggan, "to stimulate very strongly American universities the study of the Russian language, literature, history and institutions."

"We needn't fear a spread of Communism or Socialism," he said, "as long as Americans have an open idea that they can better themselves, or at least that their children can." As long as Americans feel that way, he believes, the idea of the class struggle will not take root.

His institute, he points out, has nothing to do with politics or economics. Russia, like other countries whose political philosophy varies from ours, has a civilization, he says, and if we're wise we'll want to know about each other.

NEW HAVEN ROAD POWER PLANT TO HAVE NEW UNITS

Two Steam Generators Being Installed at $500,000 Cost—High Efficiency Will Cut Operating Costs.

For the purpose of improving the efficiency of operation of its big electric generating plant at Cos Cob, which supplies practically all of the power for its New Haven-New York division, said to be among the most heavily traveled four-track lines in the world, the New Haven Railroad is remodeling its boiler house at the plant and installing two ultra-modern steam generating units at a cost of approximately $500,000. The work will require six months.

These two new units which are of the latest modern design are so efficient that they will be able to perform the work formerly done by four older ones, which will be removed during the course of the alterations. Due to the extremely high efficiency of the new apparatus, it is expected by the company engineers that it will result in a saving of between $60,000 and $100,000 per year in the operation of the Cos Cob station.

The new generators are built to furnish an average of 110,000 pounds of steam per hour, the output running between 95,000 pounds and a maximum of 125,000 pounds. In their operation, the water will be preheated to 210 degrees Fahrenheit, just below the boiling point, before being passed into the generators, thus insuring a greater degree of efficiency than would otherwise be possible.

The boilers of the new units will be fed with pulverized coal. They are built to withstand a pressure of 250 pounds.

The steam generated by the equipment will be used to operate the steam turbines which produce the electricity needed for the operation of the huge locomotives operating between the two terminals. This power is sent into the overhead wires from which the locomotives take their energy at 11,000 volts.

PICK MACDONALD FOR ARBITRATOR

Stone, Sand and Gravel Industry Selects Commissioner for Seventh Man.

At a meeting held at the State Office building, Hartford, yesterday afternoon, Highway Commissioner John A. Macdonald was selected by the committee for the State of Connecticut on the code of fair competition for crushed stone, sand, gravel and slag plants to be the arbitrator member of that committee.

Commissioner Macdonald thus becomes the seventh member of the committee for Connecticut. The other six members were elected at a meeting held in Boston on December 4 and 5 for the purpose of choosing committees in each of the states in New England, which is designated under the code as Region No. 1. Each state thus has a committee which will decide questions of fair competition within the crushed stone, sand, gravel and slag industry.

The six men elected at the Boston meeting were organized yesterday and elected officers as designated: Chairman, Benedict M. Holden, Hartford; vice-chairman, Chester G. Bridge, Hazardville; secretary, Ray J. Reigeluth, New Haven. The other committeemen are William R. Smith, Meriden; D. B. Frison, New Haven; John F. Dunning, Hartford.

In accordance with the plans evolved at Boston, these six elected the highway commissioner to be their seventh member.

At yesterday's session, the committee voted to hold a meeting in the auditorium of the State Office building, Hartford, on Thursday, December 21, at 2 p. m., for the purpose of determining whether or not Connecticut should be a "permissive area" under the code. In other words, the meeting will decide whether the installation of portable crushing outfits should be

WAPPING

The Wapping Community church house will be the scene of two interesting basketball games next Saturday evening, December 19. The Wapping "Senior Y" will play the New Britain Whitebirds and the "Uncas" will meet the Thompsonville Terror Reserves. This will be a good game and is called for 7:45 p. m.

The Men's Bible Class served about forty-five at their oyster supper in the Community House last Tuesday evening. After the supper there was a short program. A male quartet sang and Mr. Bockman of Hartford was the speaker of the evening.

Next Tuesday evening, December 19, there is to be a bridge and netball party at the Wapping school hall. This is to be a benefit party for the Wapping school children. Everybody is welcome. Refreshments will be served.

The regular Thursday evening prayer meeting will be held at the primary rooms of the church at 7:30 this evening.

This afternoon the State Department of Health held an X-ray clinic in Rockville. A number of children of South Windsor took advantage of this opportunity to be X-rayed.

Mrs. E. V. Parker returned from Schenectady Thursday after spending six weeks with her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. William Page.

Mrs. Estelle Irion of Waterbury is a guest at the home of her uncle, George P. Charter and Mrs. Charter.

Edwin Lawless who has been spending some time in Tolland has returned to his home in Orange, N. J.

Arnold Thebaud who has been guest of friends has returned to his home in Webster, Mass.

The small farm of the late Harry Brown has been sold to a Manchester party and the house is now vacated.

New electric light poles have been set ready for wiring on a short distance from Leonard's Corner on the Crystal Lake road. There are four subscribers on the line.

The regular meeting of Tolland Grange will be held next Tuesday evening, December 19, in the Community House. After the regular business the social hour will be enjoyed with a Christmas party, when members are expected to bring a ten-cent present to exchange. Refreshments will be served following the party.

Several members of Tolland Grange motored to Manchester Wednesday evening as guests of Manchester Grange and took a part in the Neighbors' Night program, when several other Granges were also present.

Tolland Grange will hold one of their series of whists Friday evening, December 19, when the public is invited to be present. Prizes will be offered and refreshments served.

CROWD OF 350 HEARS MARGE HULL'S BAND

Marge Hull and her 10 playboys played to an estimated dance crowd of 350 people last night at the School Street Recreation gym. This band which has toured many states made a decided hit with the dance followers, and Director Frank Busch has received a number of requests from dance lovers for a return engagement of this popular band. Included in its program of dance music was the playing of any number of college songs which proved very entertaining though a bit late in the season.

Another of these popular dances will be held again on next Friday night. It is not known at this time just what band will be engaged for that night though Director Busch is negotiating with several popular bands for that date. The name of the band will be disclosed within the next few days.

In Day's News

Charleroi, Pa.—Detained by county officers, Elmer Chink of Bobtown said three men accosted him between Newtown and Poland and while one of the men poked a pistol in his ribs, the other two handed him a pint of liquor and compelled him to drink it.

Chicago—Martin Quirk, reputed South Side beer hoodlum, in Felony Court, charged with vagrancy, pleaded he wished to go to Florida and never come back.

"I can be Santa Claus," said Judge Jay A. Schiller. "I'll set this case for Dec. 21, and if some one representing Quirk can come here and show he's gone, never to return, I'll dismiss the charge."

"I'm on my way," said Quirk. Seattle—University of Washington students "examining" for the Christmas examinations, might as well quit, says Psychology Professor William R. Wilson, adding "stuffed brains won't stay stuffed, and last minute efforts are often wasted effort. Facts easily learned are apt to be retained a long time, just as a pair of pants that takes a press easily usually retains it longest."

Portland, Ore.—The thief who stole George Allen's automobile, was at least considerate, Allen reported to police. The prowler broke the locks of the Allen garage, took the car on a 100 mile trip, then returned it, undamaged, to the garage.

Chicago—The Rev. J. J. McCabe of St. Rita's church, does his own police work.

After a tussle he hauled Joseph Conroy from beneath a pew and turned him over to police.

Conroy, who allegedly had taken a dime from the poor box in the church, was fined $100 by a judge.

Rock Island, Ill.—There's a lot of shooting going on in Rock Island, but only the sparrows have suffered so far.

There were so many of the birds about the pedestrians and motorists complained to police.

Armed with shot guns the police killed 200 in one night.

Haverford, Pa.—Things have reached a pretty pass in Haverford township. With a works program of $288,990, the community has 329 men at work, needs one thousand more and is having difficulty finding them.

Pittsburgh—Roy W. Stafford gave Judge Ralph H. Smith two reasons why he thinks he ought to have a divorce from his wife, Mrs. Sarah J. Stafford. In the first place, he said, his bride went on a honeymoon in his automobile by herself, and in the second place he asserted, she left him and refused to return because she was "having too good a time." The application was taken under advisement.

SECRET SESSIONS

Mayor Jasper McLevy of Bridgeport, who jammed his way into a star chamber session of the Board of Education of his city and took newspaper reporters along with him, declaring that "the public's business must be done in the open while I am mayor," deserves the support of every good citizen in this attack on one of the commonest but one of the worst abuses in America's municipalities.

The so-called executive session (a perfectly meaningless term in this connection, by the way) is a confession that the body or group engaged in it intends to deal with matters which it is unwilling should be disclosed to the group's boss—the public. That there might conceivably arise circumstances in which positive injury to the community might result from the disclosure of matters within the knowledge of a governmental body is hardly to be denied. That such circumstances do arise often rather than once in a blue moon is not to be admitted.

Secret sessions, secret hearings, secret conferences are not held in the public interest but in the interest of some political party or some fraction of the people in contradiction to all the people. The secret session in municipal government is the nursery of oblique and dubious decisions, of plans for the benefit of individuals rather than the community, or of classes and groups within the community. The exceptions to this indictment are so rare as to be negligible. Every experienced city hall reporter in the country knows perfectly well that, any time some body in the local government holds a secret conference or "executive session," there is some kind of a cockeyed hen on which wouldn't stand plucking. Generally he knows the color, size and breed of the hen and could so describe it in print that the world could behold it, if he were so disposed.

Time was, too, when newspapers very often indeed made a special point of reporting these "executive sessions"—which they usually did with a fidelity to the facts that frequently flabbergasted those who held them. Since the World War, however—that war took too many of the old-time fighting reporters and developed too much newspaper yielding to suggestions that things "should not be published"—the arrogant and inexcusable assumption that the public's business is none of its business has been permitted to gain ground in official circles. Public servants in far too many cases actually believe they have a right to exclude not only the public but the public's representative, the press, from their sessions while they cook up robbery, plan wasteful extravagances or arrange appointments with eyes on partisan objectives.

It is that kind of thing that the hard boiled McLevy does not intend to stand for. It is the kind of thing no newspaper should stand for and which, above all, the voters should make a special business of rebuking on election days.

If our reader, official and unofficial, gathers from these remarks that the Herald is opposed to star chamber sessions of Manchester boards, commissions, committees or departments he is altogether right.

COUNTY REPUBLICANS

The organization meeting of the Hartford County Republican Association last evening will undoubtedly take on historic significance with the passage of time. It marks, if we mistake not, the beginning of a new era for the Republican party in this division of the state. For the first time more or less haphazard individualistic leaderships, not often sufficiently cohesive, and too often aiming at minor personal objectives, bid fair to be replaced by candid representative leadership that, under the constitution of this new organization, will be responsive to the will of a solidified and virile party.

This new county organization, it was made very clear last night, is no ordinary "pop" device, working up for the purpose of arousing a momentary enthusiasm, but a well considered and wisely planned mechanism through which the Republican voters of this country can give the fullest possible effect to their political convictions and purposes. Much thought, much effort and much political experience have been brought to the making of this County Republican Association. It starts off with every prospect of becoming a model organization and of exercising an important influence on the politics of municipalities, state and nation.

RAILROADS, BUSES

One of the saddest and most complete reversals in a big and important situation that this country has ever witnessed is in the case of the motorbuses and the railroads. It is no time at all ago—so recently in fact that the echoes are still reverberating—since the railroads were shrieking to every authority in sight or hearing for rescue from the devastating competition of the buses. They were being utterly destroyed by this new transportation agency that built no roads, was free of government control and could and did carry passengers, on long as well as short hauls, cheaper than the railroads could possibly do so. If something were not done by law to protect them the rail companies would all be completely bankrupted and driven out of business altogether.

That was yesterday, so to speak. Today, with nothing done by government to rescue the railroads from this bogey, we hear identical from the same loud walls and demands for government protection—only this time it comes from the bus companies while the devouring ogre of unmeasurable competition, if you can believe it, the railroads. It all came about by the lowering of railroad fares. After having devoted year after year to seeking some way or other to compel the country's travelers to ride on their

STABILIZATION CANARD

For a week or more there have been published numerous news items indicating that United States government officials, inferentially acting for the administration but whose identity in no case has been even hinted at, were negotiating with the British and French governments with a view to stabilizing the dollar in terms of gold and foreign exchange. The fact that for a considerable number of days there had been no increase in the dollar price of gold daily fixed by the government was seized upon by the adherents of the gold standard in support of these rumors. The belief was expressed that these things indicated that President Roosevelt was about to definitely abandon his effort to restore the 1926 price level through devaluation, in other words stop inflation before it was fairly begun. Last night this structure of gold-bug imagination was suddenly smashed. Definite announcement was made at the White House that there is no thought of stabilizing the dollar and that all talk about fiscal treaties between the United States, Britain and France is simply untrue.

Probably some minor official, after the fashion of Dean Acheson or Professor Sprague, did take it upon himself to talk to some embassy understrapper about exchange stabilization—even yet it is unlikely that the administration has been able to rid itself of all the saboteurs in its employ. But to believe that such whisperings by underlings indicate impending abandonment by this government of the vital principle on which its whole venture is predicated is to evince a degree of sapience disgraceful to the profession of the reporter.

There is no more likelihood of the United States government entering into a stabilization deal with any European government on any basis that has been mentioned or considered than there is that tomorrow Mr. Roosevelt will remove the embargo on gold, put the gold content of the dollar back where it was last March, disband the NRA, and AAA, the PWA and all the rest of the emergency recovery organizations and let the Wall Street money trust run the show in whatever way it pleases.

Because all these effects would inevitably follow the surrender to foreigners of America's control over her own money—and they might as well come all at once as after a little.

trains at their old excessive rates of fare, the roads finally were driven to the last resource—which should have been the first—of transporting people at reasonable charges. Certain Western roads started the experiment of reducing coach fares from 3.6 cents a mile to 2 cents and in some instances even to a cent and a half. They were amazed to find that their net incomes increased substantially. As a result some hundreds of railroads went onto these reduced fare schedules at the beginning of the present month—and they are getting so much passenger traffic that the bus business, which had been built to enormous proportions upon no foundation but that of the railroads' high fare folly, finds itself in the position the roads were in a few months ago.

Throughout much the greater part of the United States it is now possible to travel considerably cheaper and considerably faster by rail than by bus. So long as that remains the case there is little doubt where the bulk of the passenger traffic will go: it will go to the railroads.

Here in the East we are not so fortunate as the people in the West. The Eastern roads have not changed their rates—neither their coach rates nor their Pullman surcharges. If you want to go from Manchester to New York or from New York to Baltimore you have your choice—you can pay the wartime fare or you can ride on a bus or you can drive your own car. Perhaps the indifference of the Eastern roads to the remarkable discovery of the Western roads—that you can get more money into your trains at a cent and a half a mile than you can get at three cents and a half—may be measurable by the extent to which the Eastern roads own the buses.

Anyhow, it is an interesting development—interesting particularly from the fact that it took the railroad magnates fifteen years to find out that the way to get business was to carry passengers at pre-war rates, something that thousands of very ordinary people could have told them—and did.

How much longer it is going to take the Eastern roads to realize that same thing is a matter for guessing.

IN NEW YORK

New York, Dec. 15.—The august board of admission of the New York Social Register Association has finished its annual job of blue- penciling the names of some more blue-bloods. And the resulting volume, for the year 1934, is slimmer than ever — slimmer by thirteen pages than it was in 1932.

Nobody but the board itself knows the rules, if any, for official admission into recognized society. This year, for example, the Register doesn't contain the name of Mrs. Rhoda Tanner Doubleday, who sued Harold McCormick of Chicago for $1,500,000 worth of breach of promise. That's the first such case on record filed by a genuine socialite, and apparently it isn't an approved practice. The first blue-blooded participants in a murder trial, however, are still accepted members of the Four Thousand. Mrs. Grantville T. Fortescue, and her daughter and son-in-law, Lieut. and Mrs. Thomas H. Masie, who figured in the sensational Honolulu case, are listed as usual.

They Don't "Belong"

When Polly Lauder, who belonged in the book as a member of a prominent family, married Gene Tunney, the couple were listed for a year. But some of the old guard protested so vehemently against being placed on the same plane as an ex-pugilist that the Tunneys were dropped. . . . So this year the governing board took no chances with the marriage of Mrs. Phyllis Baker Potter, a blue-blood in her own right, to Fred Astaire, the actor. Of course, the polished Fred is very popular with the people who do belong; and it is true that his sister, Adele, is now Lady Cavendish. But it is also a fact that Fred is the son of a mid-western brewer. So the Astaires aren't listed.

Neither, by the way, are George Palmer and Amelia Barhart Putnam, though they're seen at all manner of society functions. . . . Col. Charles and Anne Lindbergh, on the other hand, are named in the new Register, though they do not get about much on the upper crust. . . . It's all very confusing. And the omission of the names of most of the titled foreigners resident here scarcely simplifies matters. To be sure, there are counts driving taxicabs and countesses working in the five-and-tens.

But when the Social Register neglects to mention such people as the Grand Duchess Marie, Prince George of Russia, Prince Serge Orlovsky, and the Prince and Princess Chavchavadze — then you get an idea of what it takes to crash our native nobility.

Broadway's-Busiest Man

A comedian who has been gathering an impressive share of fame recently is Gene Lockhart, who appeared with George M. Cohan in Eugene O'Neill's "Ah, Wilderness!" and from Cohan one of the most glowing tributes one actor ever paid another. . . . But what generally is not known about Lockhart is that, in addition to being an actor, he is a director, monologist, pianist, composer, singer, teacher, lyricist, librettist and playwright. He also is about the busiest man on Broadway, performing eight times a week for the Theater Guild, he teaches stage technique and voca-lism at the Juillard Institute of Music, lectures to the Junior League on acting and play reading, writes, produces, makes movies, shorts, writes skits and songs for the Radio, and directs and appears in "Sunday Nights at Nine," and his summer revue, "How's Your Code," is scheduled for Broadway this season. He has done the words and music of several songs, but his biggest royalties are still coming from the lyrics of "The World is Waiting for the Sunrise."

Letting Cat Out of Bag

Smuggling story: A man returning to New York after a vacation abroad asked the customs officials not to open one of his suitcases. It contained, he said, nothing but a cat. The customs agent, naturally, opened the suitcase. And a cat actually jumped out and dashed back up the gangplank. . . . While the rest of his luggage was being examined and cleared, the man went aboard with the suitcase, ostensibly to catch the cat. When he finally reappeared looking red and flustered as if from a long chase, he was waved by with a knowing grin and a murmured apology. . . . But when he got to his hotel and opened the suitcase, nothing jumped out. It now contained twelve bottles of liquor.

Jack Manders, although he hadn't scored a single touchdown, led the Chicago Bears scoring in their first seven games with 18 points—four field goals and seven points after touchdowns—with not a single miss in either of these chores!

Health and Diet Advice
By Dr. Frank McCoy

HEADACHE

Some people are so sensitive to bad air that they are forced to avoid crowds as they develop a headache whenever they mix with a group. This is an unusual cause of headache as the only result of poor ventilation on most of us, is that we become sleepy.

There is a large number of different kinds of headache and conditions which will bring on this trouble in one patient will not affect another. Headache may occur in various parts of the head and may be felt in the forehead, the side of the head, the top, back, or over the entire head. A dull ache at the base of the nose is commonly due to catarrh and a pain through the side of the face may come from neuralgia, defective teeth, or from sinus trouble in the sinus cavity found in the cheek bone.

The pain in headache varies greatly and may be boring, shooting, dull, heavy, splitting, blinding, sharp or drawing. Headache is not a disease, it is only a symptom. A list of all the conditions which may produce headache is so long that it would be much quicker for me to tell the diseases in which it is not found than to give you a complete list of all the disorders in which it appears. A short list follows of some of the diseases which may cause headache; constipation, indigestion, eyestrain, catarrh and pro-lapsus, which are probably the most common causes of headache in the average person.

Other possible causes are head injury, kidney trouble, both high and low blood pressure, any acute disease beginning with a fever, diabetes and nerve weakness. Emotional strain due to anger or excitement may induce headache and it is likely to follow intense and prolonged mental work. It may be due to habits which are not good such as excessive use of coffee, tobacco, alcohol, or rich, greasy foods. It is sometimes brought on as a result of constant noise or motion.

The ache seen in the back of the head and neck is usually due to congestion in the pelvic organs and may be caused in men by prostatic disorders and in women by those diseases limited to their sex.

The principal cause of headache is a toxemia, which is present in practically every headache except those due to accidents. Headache can be permanently cured if the patient uses a treatment which removes the systemic poisons.

The treatment which will be found successful in alleviating the ordinary attack of headache is as follows: you are to stop eating and are to begin on a fruit juice fast, taking orange juice, pineapple juice or tomato juice every two hours. Drink as much water as desired. As soon as possible you are to cleanse the colon with a warm enema, which will relieve the headache in the average case within one-half hour. After the enema you are to put the feet in a hot foot bath and to place feet in a hot cloth on the front of the head, for a period of 30 minutes. You will be feeling greatly improved by this time and are to finish the treatment by resting quietly in a darkened room.

Many headaches are benefited by treatment to the vertebrae of the upper spine, such as are given by an Osteopath or Chiropractor and I would suggest that you secure these relaxing treatments if possible.

I do not advise the use of medicinal preparations for killing the pain in headache, as unwise and repeated use of these substances, when they are not prescribed by your doctor, may produce much harm and they cannot be considered a permanent cure.

In those cases where a headache returns often, the best plan is to go to your doctor and have a thorough examination to determine the cause of the symptom. You will then know what treatment to use to remove the cause of the headache. However, the instructions which I have already given you will be helpful in temporarily relieving an attack of headache and have the added advantage of being perfectly safe.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
(Proving Relationships)

Question: Reader asks: "Is it possible to find out the parentage of a child by a blood test?"

Answer: There is no accurate way of determining relationship by blood tests although in some cases the blood test may be helpful. Blood is divided into groups and if the blood of the child happens to be the same as that of the parent, this would indicate a probable relationship. It may interest you to know that at the present time no doctor whether a certain child had a parent belonging to the white or to the negro race.

(Raw Eggs and Milk)
 Question: M. L. asks: "Is it healthful or not to drink a whole (not beaten) raw egg in milk?"

Answer: I do not recommend the mixture of raw eggs and milk. If these foods are used together they should be cooked in the form of custard.

(Find a Good Dentist)
 Question: H. G. writes: "Have become interested in your health articles and am asking advice for a friend. He is an old gentleman in the seventies, never been sick in his life, and is as full of ambition as any young man. But for some reason the dentists cannot replace his teeth, all of which he has lost. Now he suffers at times with pains in his stomach after eating, and the action of his bowels is not as it should be."

Answer: I am sure your friend will be able to secure artificial teeth which will fit if he can only find a dentist who is skilled enough. Modern dentistry has progressed very rapidly in the last ten years, and dentists using the newer methods are able to do wonderful things that they could not accomplish before. Until your friend finds a dentist who can fit him properly, he should live on an exclusive milk diet, supplemented with minced non-starchy vegetables. Three quarts of milk daily will give him enough nourishment if the vegetables are used.

THE BARGAIN HOUND

Fluster's Group, S. M. E. church are soliciting Christmas orders for home made Plum and Fig Puddings. For particulars dial 3585.

There is a feeling among women whose clothes are important for novel and unusual evening dresses. From the new collections some of the most important clients are choosing evening gowns which might almost be described as eccentric. The winter mode is simple, straight, slim and dark colored.

If illness mars the holiday season remember that five registered pharmacists are available for your prescription work at the Center Pharmacy and the Depot Square store of the Murphy Drug Co.

A new bag closes by means of a magnet. A large envelope shape in black antique has a fastening on one side that looks like a long oblong of silver, with a plaque or disk of black metal in the center. You lift the disk to open the bag, and when you close it again, it stays in place without any ties. The silver oval is really a double magnet.

There's just a limited amount of Mrs. Letney's mince meat left and if you hurry you may have a pint for 25 cents.

A nourishing salad for winter luncheons as a family is found in lima bean and celery salad. Two cups lima beans are arranged as carefully cooked dried ones, 1 cup dried celery, 1 tablespoon minced onion, 2 tablespoons shredded green pepper, 3 tablespoons grated cheese, French dressing. The green pepper, of course, can be omitted but it gives a pleasing touch of color. Vivid yellow cheese is attractive, too, if available. Mix beans, celery, onion and pepper, tossing lightly to avoid crushing beans. Pour on French dressing and arrange on crisp romaine. Garnish with grated cheese and serve more French dressing in a separate sauce boat.

Oh, what a perfectly gorgeous "Evening in Paris" perfume gift set I saw at the Center Pharmacy this morning.

For those who want a velvet glove to match other accessories of velvet, but who do not like the entire hand in fabric, a new glove has the hand to the wrist in black suede. Attached to the wrist is a double ruffle of black velvet with five rows of smocking at the seam to take care of the fullness.

Count noses—then give handkerchiefs. You will find a large and varied assortment at Hale's Handkerchief Bazaar. There are the daintiest lot of linen ones with pretty little initial designs, colored linens with colored initials, a large size linen with doggy corners, and here's what a great many of you will herald as a discovery—I at last found some of those super size white linens with three rows smocking around the hem. In addition to this there's all sorts of chiffon and novelty handkerchiefs as well.

Remember the rose pajama pillows everybody was making for their friends a few years ago? The same idea practically is found in one of the season's most popular gift items—petal pajama pillows that sell for a dollar.

The Remnant Room Library will purchase your Christmas books and deliver them to you at regular list prices. Call 4141 extension 315 and leave your order.

Prune Walnut Pudding is as inexpensive as any desert you've tried this year. It's different from the regular prune whip and much easier to prepare. The recipe follows: Prune Walnut Pudding: 1-2 cup cooked prune pulp, 1-2 cup prune juice, 1 cup boiling water, 1-2 cup sugar, 1-8 tsp. salt, 1-4 tsp. cinnamon, 18 lemon snaps, finely crumbled, 1-8 cup chopped walnut meats, 2 egg whites. Combine prune pulp and juice, add boiling water, sugar, salt and cinnamon. Bring to boiling point and add crumbled lemon snaps and nuts and stir. Stiffly beat egg whites and fold hot mixture into them. Pour into mold and place in refrigerator to set and chill. Serve with whipped cream.

Schraft's attractively wrapped gift packages are 50 cents to $5.50 at the Wilson Drug Company.

Wouldn't your son like a Delta saw with a motor that can be used for various kinds of woodwork? Call 4481 and inquire.

The off-the-face hat is seen in quantities of different versions. It may be a cap, cut away on the forehead to show the roots of the hair, or it may be turned down on either side of the face almost to the shoulders, and so low on the shoulders in the back that it entirely covers the hair.

There's everything baby could ask for in Stager's Baby Shop. When you're in Hartford stop in and see their adorable hand made dresses and rompers. They also have the softest and most cuddle-able toys you've ever seen.

It will be indeed hard "not to open till Christmas" if gifts are wrapped in those intriguing papers and ribbons I've seen in my travels about town.

The Norton Shoe has comfortable looking black slippers lined with blue, pink or peach with or without heels—a lovely gift for somebody. They also have specially nice chafers and service hose for 67c a pair.

AUTO HITS WOMAN, SLEET IS BLAMED

Mrs. Margaret McKinney Walks Into Rear Fender of Car at Center.

Mrs. Margaret McKinney, 60, of 91 Laurel street, is at the Manchester Memorial hospital suffering from injuries to her left hip, right elbow and head sustained when she was struck by an automobile driven by J. William Stevens, 20, of Lake street, at the Center at 12:50 p. m. Mrs. McKinney was taken to the hospital by Stevens.

Any college girl or traveler, in fact any girl at all will be thrilled to death with one of those smart Helena Rubenstein makeup kits found at Hale's cosmetic counter. They contain every item necessary for a complete facial and makeup—all for $3.75.

Be careful when you're crossing Main street—The Bargain Hound fell on all fours—poor creature.

There are the most exquisite ivory sets in colors to match your room at Donnelly's, at the Center.

While the feather fury seems to be finally past its day, plumage of the flat unobtrusive style is still used for trimming. Some marabout which never became as common as ostrich is seen.

Choose your Christmas or New Year's Greeting Cards from the fine display at The Murphy Drug Store at Depot Square or the Center Pharmacy.

The double dresses are about the most sensible thing in the way of evening clothes that have appeared for a long time.

Lamps of every known specie are on display at Watkins on tables just outside the Irwin-House. There's a specially fine student lamp conveniently made for desk use, lamps with maple, bronze and pewter bases. Some of the gay and modern trend with their bold fonts and milk-white fonts with colored polka dots. They cover a wide range in prices—starting as low as $1.35. Light the way this Christmas.

Have you bought brother or cousin Bill that cravat yet? If not trot right down to Cheney's selection. They have a splendid selection. They also have some beautiful satins, and crepes that will make mother, sister or sweetheart unusually happy.

There's nothing like the glowing red, rich green and snowy white of old-fashioned Christmas when it comes to decorative Yuletide plans. However, if you are completely modern, blue and silver can be tried out. You can even get blue Christmas trees with silver hangings, silver snow, silver angels to light up. Outside the house your home should exude the Christmas spirit by stringing electric lights about fir trees in the yard. It's still one of the nicest of American customs.

A box of cigars helps the problem of a man's gift, either the Murphy Drug Store or the Center Pharmacy can assist you here—they know the most desired brands.

Even though you are in a hurry—mention the Bargain Hound.

CORONER HOLDS INQUEST INTO FATAL ACCIDENT

Robert Anderson, Driver of Truck Which Killed Mrs. Frances Keeney, is Questioned.

Coroner William H. Leete was conducting an inquest in Hartford this afternoon into the fatality which cost the life of Mrs. Frances J. Keeney, 695 Keeney street, on Main street opposite the Montgomery Ward store Thanksgiving Eve. Mrs. Keeney was struck by a Mohr bakery truck as she was crossing the street. She died twenty minutes after her admission to the Manchester Memorial hospital.

Among the witnesses due to be questioned by Coroner Leete were Robert Anderson, of 8 Finley street, driver of the truck; Policeman Michael Fitzgerald and others. Two daughters and a son of Mr. Mohr, owner of the bakery truck, were riding with Anderson at the time of the accident. They were scheduled to give their versions of the accident to the coroner.

The UNKNOWN BLOND

By Laura Lou BROOKMAN

BEGIN HERE TODAY DAVID BANNISTER undertakes to find out who killed TRACY KING, orchestra leader, in his hotel apartment. Bannister is an author and former newspaper man. He works on the murder case with GAINIE, star reporter on the Post.

Among those suspected are JULIET FRANCE, blond and pretty and known to have visited King shortly before his death; HERMAN SCURLACH who wrote King a threatening letter; and JOE PARROT, down-and-out vaudeville actor. It is also known that MELVIN A. HOLLISTER, middle-aged spinster, had quarreled with King recently.

AL DRUGAN, friend of King's, is found dead in a wrecked automobile. Bannister persuades the police chief to let Juliet come to his apartment, ostensibly as a guest, on the theory that if the girl believes herself free they can learn more about her.

Parrott is located in St. Louis and a detective is sent to bring him back. Bannister, walking home one evening, sees Juliet France just ahead of him.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XXXII The girl did not see Bannister. She was walking rapidly, her hands in her pockets. In the dim light from the street lamp he caught a glimpse of the green suit, knew at once that it was Juliet France.

But where had she been and what had she been doing? Bannister cursed at Jordan, the "house man" who was supposed to be keeping a constant watch over the girl. Then he saw the mail box. It stood on the corner, not a dozen feet from where she had been when he first noticed her. So that was the explanation!

Bannister quickened his step and caught up with her. "Aren't you afraid of getting lost?" he asked. She turned. Was it fright or confusion that brought the girl's hand to her throat? Then suddenly she smiled. "Oh, it's you! I—I didn't recognize you."

They walked along together. "It's dark," Bannister objected, "and you're a long way from the house. Aren't you afraid to be out alone?" "No," she said. "What is there to be afraid of?"

"Nothing—I hope." She looked up at him and her eyes were not smiling now. They studied his face searchingly. After an instant she said, "I just wanted a little walk. I didn't think there could be any harm in that. I've been in the house all day."

Har tones a so repentant that Bannister smiled. "Perhaps there isn't," he said. "Only after this I think it would be better to take your walks while the sun is shining. Tell me, what have you been doing all day?"

She gave him a resume of hours spent at reading; at household tasks and routine. "You must let me help make the chocolate cake you're going to have for dinner tonight," she told him proudly.

"Aunt Kate knows how to cook all right," Bannister admitted. "Oh, indeed she does! And beside that, she's a darling!"

"Well, I'm glad you two hit it off so well together. Aunt Kate's a real person. Has a lot of character. Some people don't like her but that's because they don't understand her."

They had reached the house now and Bannister pushed open the door. The warm air and subdued lamp-light was delightful after the cold and dark. Kate Hewlett called a greeting from the kitchen and Bannister answered her.

There was no time to talk to Jordan until after dinner. Then Bannister found the policeman in the basement, putting a shovel of coal on the fire.

Bannister lowered his voice discreetly. "Listen," he said, "did you know Miss France left the house this afternoon?"

Jordan's eyes were reproachful. "I know it, Mr. Bannister, but what could I do about it? Mrs. Hewlett sent me to the grocery store to buy some butter. I didn't know the girl had gone until after I got back. Listen, if I've got to be an errand boy? I can't."

HEARING ON UNLICENSED SALE HERE TOMORROW

Manager of Store in Tinker Building Out on Bond Following Arrest Yesterday.

Irving Babroux, manager of the store in the Tinker building arrested yesterday for conducting an unlicensed sale will be given a hearing tomorrow. He has been engaged in this line of business since a youth.

He admits that he is in trouble in Waterbury where he is also to face charges as operator of a store in a building where the owner has allowed his name to be used as a partner. In New Jersey he also has a store that has brought him trouble.

A bond furnished for his appearance before the Town Court tomorrow there is a sign in the window that announces that the store in Manchester will be opened for business on Saturday.

HEWES EXPECTED HOME

Hartford, Dec. 15.—(AP)—Colonel Thomas Hewes of Farmington who resigned as assistant secretary of U. S. Treasury, will arrive home late tonight. He was reported to have left Washington this morning with the expectation of returning to the practice of law here.

FIRST LIQUOR THEFT

New Haven, Dec. 15.—(AP)—The first burglary of liquor from a package store since repeal of prohibition has been reported to New Haven police. The burglar entered a Columbus avenue store yesterday and took bottles of whiskey, gin wines. The case was turned over to a detective sergeant for investigation.

10 DEAD, 30 HURT IN BUS ACCIDENT

(Continued from Page One) terminated for a day or so, due to the probability of internal injuries. D. R. Niles, the 65-year-old bus driver, who swerved his vehicle into the path of a freight train in an early morning fog, was in a serious condition. He was quoted as saying he did not see the train because of the mist.

While an accurate check was lacking, because some parents took their slightly injured children home, it was estimated that between 35 and 39 children were in the school bus which had reached the end of a five-mile route and was about to return to the elementary school here when the crash came.

The engineer of the train, R. A. Howell, said he did not see the bus until his engine was within ten feet of it.

C. E. FLEMING DIES Bridgeport, Dec. 15.—(AP)—Charles H. Fleming, former harbor-master, real estate man and a prominent figure in Masonic circles, died today at his home. He was 74 years old and had been suffering from a heart ailment. A native of Bridgeport, Maine, Fleming came to Bridgeport about fifty years ago. He became a local leader of the Republican party and served several terms as harbor-master. His widow, a member of the Fleming family of wealthy gold miners, survives him.

HANGS SELF WITH TIE Stamford, Dec. 15.—(AP)—Using a necktie which he looped around a bed post, David F. Addison, 60, committed suicide yesterday at his home, 15 Linden street. Friends were unable to advance any reason for the act. Addison, who operated a luncheonette in Coe Cob, is survived by two sisters, both residents of Scotland.

To The Public of Manchester and Vicinity: During the past two days, we have received a great many telephone calls inquiring, and in a few cases complaining, about the noise coming from our plant in East Hartford. In fact this noise or hum comes from the requirements of the United States Government. The Government requires that every new type of propeller or engine shall undergo an endurance test to secure Government approval and to insure its safe operation before the product can be released for manufacture. The noise or hum comes from a new type of propeller being tested for the United States Government in accordance with official requirements. The requirement is that the propeller should operate at a test of 2100 revolutions per minute for fifty hours, not necessarily continuous. The propeller being tested is three-bladed (the ordinary type carries two blades). Unfortunately, the sound can be heard at a great distance from our plant. How much the present local weather conditions are responsible for the hum, we do not know. Unfortunately, there is no known practical method of entirely muffling the sound. Due to the importance of this test, we had planned to run it for a period of 16 hours each day. We have, however, changed this schedule so that the testing will cease at six p. m. The conditions as noted above are exceptional, and we ask that the public bear with us for the next several days until the tests are concluded and the Government requirements satisfied. Bruins Win Ice Game Under Altered Rules

New York, Dec. 15.—(AP)—The favorite hockey pastime of suggested changes in the rules has been carried one step further than usual by two National Hockey League clubs, the Boston Bruins and New York Americans. The result, as shown in Boston's 5-4 overtime triumph last night, was laid before the fans and hockey writers today for consideration.

With comparatively little at stake in last night's game, the clubs agreed to play under an altered set of rules, aimed to reduce the blowing to a minimum and to speed up the action. The principal change from the regulations in effect in the other games was that players on the offensive team were allowed to cross into the attacking zone without waiting until the puck had passed the blue line.

MAJOR LEAGUES AGREE TO STANDARD BASEBALL

Chicago, Dec. 15.—(AP)—Baseball affairs today were the property of the hot stove leaguers for a long winter of discussion as to who had the better in a record three days of trading.

The annual major league meetings closed last night, with a decision by the managers to adopt a uniform ball for both big circuits and as many minor organizations as can be brought into line.

A discussion of Sunday double-headers ended in a compromise. It was decided to ban the synthetic holiday programs until after June 15.

John B. Shibe, vice-president of the Philadelphia Athletics, was voted permission to recruit a winter team from the American League to make a world tour after the 1934 campaign.

The National League was invited to participate, but declined.

A piece of legislation also was passed for the protection of players sold by major league clubs to minor organizations.

Under an amendment to the by-laws, a major league club must guarantee a player's salary if he is sent to a minor league team which later disbands.

The training was an exclusive American League proposition, the older circuit failing to come up with a deal.

The bulk of the unusual amount of business was accomplished by Boston Red Sox, who left-handed, Bob Grove and Ruben Wagner, and infielder Max Luberg.

They also obtained Carl Reynolds from St. Louis, and promise to quit quite a figure in next year's title race.

Cincinnati's representatives got away from the meeting without announcing the identity of next year's manager.

CUBS DEFEAT MERCURIES
The Cubs basketball team of the Manchester Y. M. C. A. took the smooth working Mercuries into camp by the tune of 25 to 24. The Cubs started to click in the first quarter and continued to until the final whistle blew.

At the half the score was 17 to 13 in favor of the Cubs. In the third quarter the Mercuries closed the gap between them and the Cubs until then were in the lead 19 to 17.

The fourth quarter was very well played by both teams. With two minutes to go the Mercuries were ahead 24 to 22. Hann was given a free try and made it good to make the score 24 to 23 in favor of the Mercuries.

With a minute to play Grabauskus got the ball off the backboard and sank a pretty shot to put the Cubs on top 25-24. Staum, Grabauskus and Covies played best for the Cubs while Clifford, Brannick and Herrick played best for the Mercuries.

Miller's floorwork was outstanding for the Mercuries while Staum's floorwork was best for the Cubs.

The Cubs would like games with teams ranging from 14 to 17 years old. For games call Manager Dumars 6819.

CARNERA READY TO MEET LOUGHRAN IN TITLE BOUT

TWO GAMES SLATED IN REC. SR. LEAGUE
Bout All Set for February Although Contracts Are Not Signed; Wrecks Jack Dempsey's Fight Plans for the Winter Months.

New York, Dec. 15.—(AP)—Jack Dempsey's efforts to break the monopoly Madison Square Garden long has held on the heavyweights had met with a decided setback today as Tommy Loughran continued negotiations looking to a title match with Primo Carnera at Miami, Feb. 22.

Dempsey still has one leading contender under his wing, Max Baer, and seems to be a flying 48 hour visit, was too busily engaged at a bankruptcy hearing yesterday to get around to the Garden and talk terms, but expected to make it today before returning to Italy on the same boat that brought him here yesterday.

Carnera, interviewed on his arrival, made it clear he was ready to fight Loughran anywhere, any time so the Garden should have no trouble from that quarter.

Loughran, who has been in the holding pen for a little longer than 12 1-2 per cent usually awarded the challenger.

Fights Wrecked
With Loughran on the verge of signing with the Garden, Dempsey's plans, involving two bouts, have been completely wrecked.

Jack was to have been associated in the promotion of a Loughran-Schmeling match either here or in Atlantic City Jan. 31, and planned to match the winner with Baer in San Francisco, Feb. 22.

But Joe Smith, Loughran's manager has turned down the Schmeling bout in favor of a whack at the title, leaving Dempsey with two heavy weights, but no match.

Should Carnera beat Loughran, Dempsey and the Garden might get together and pool the resources for a Baer-Carnera bout in the summer.

RANGERS TO OPPOSE SPORT CENTER CUBS
The local Rangers' basketball team will oppose the Sport Center Reserves of Hartford tonight at the School street gym the game being called for 7:30 o'clock sharp.

It will be remembered that the Ranger team compiled a most impressive record last season in winning 21 out of 25 games, losing three games by the narrow margin of one point and the other by four.

Along with this record the Ranger team won the championship in the senior class "B" division of the Y. M. C. A.

A great deal of credit for its splendid record must go to its coach, Hugh Greer, local high school teacher, who is well adapted in the finer points of the game.

The team itself is not made up of several stars as in the usual case, in teams, but composed of players that work as one unit, and the many fans that have seen the Ranger team in action thus far, are not hesitating in mentioning the good prospects that they have for the future.

To date the Ranger team has won two games and are out to make it three straight, as well as surpassing last year's record. There is no admission price attached to this game.

HAS EVEN CHANCE
Boston, Dec. 15.—(AP)—Irvine (Ace) Badley, Toronto hockey player, remained on the danger list at the Boston City hospital today, his chances for recovery "even."

At 6 a. m. hospital physicians described his condition as "fair after a comfortable night."

Y. M. C. A. Court Quintet To Enter Semi-Pro Field

The Manchester Y. M. C. A. will make its debut in semi-pro basketball circles tomorrow night at the local Y against the Glastonbury Town Team, which last week lost a decision to the West Side Recs, 23 to 21.

It will be the first time in many years that Manchester will have three semi-pro quintets, the Y team, West Side Recs and National Guards.

If the Y is successful in its endeavor to place a team in action that will be on an equal footing with other fives throughout the state, indications are that much interest will be added to the annual town series at the end of the season, with two challengers for the title now held by the Guards.

The Y. M. C. A. team is being coached temporarily by Joseph Zaparka, who, as yet, is unable to announce anything definite on the permanent lineup of the team.

His players include Phil Welles of Wapping, who plays with the Sport Center Reserves, and Jimmy Spillane of Morse College five and Jimmy Spillane well known North End athlete.

Zaparka states that Stan Richtmeyer, who is widely known in basketball circles as an outstanding performer of several years ago who is still going strong, will be a member of the team, and also "Dutch" Leonard, another luminary of some years ago.

This seems to indicate that the Y is determined to develop a team capable of giving a good account of itself against the leading teams of the state. Zaparka anticipates difficulty in making up a schedule this season but is prepared to meet any team in this vicinity.

Tomorrow night's game will start about 8 o'clock and dancing will follow.

Local Boy Gains Berth On Wesleyan Cage Team

Jim O'Leary To Fill Position At Forward As Quintet Opens Slate Against Swarthmore.

Middletown, Conn., Dec. 15.—The Wesleyan University basketball team left this morning for Swarthmore, Pa., where they will open their winter schedule when they meet the Swarthmore College five this evening.

Tomorrow night they will face their second opposing team of the season when Hartford meets them on the home court of the Pennsylvania college.

The Cardinals with plenty of experienced material to choose from have looked good during the practice workouts to date and, according to Coach Dale Lash, should outdo the team of last season because of their added strength and the greater number of seasoned veterans.

The Wesleyan outfit suffered its main loss of last year's aggregation when Larry Schlims, flashy forward, graduated, but O'Leary, star of the freshman outfit last season, has capably filled the berth at forward and will start the game tonight.

The remaining starting lineup will find Goode, a lanky veteran of the past two years, at forward; Allen, rangy center, at the pivot position; and Burton and Thompson, the former a star sophomore and the latter a third year veteran, at guards.

CANZONEI FAVORED
New York, Dec. 15.—(AP)—Heavily favored in the betting, Tony Canzonei hoped to ruin the American debut of Cito Locatelli in Madison Square Garden tonight and win the right to meet Barney Roy, lightweight champion for the third time.

The Italian holder of the European lightweight title comes here highly recommended, but Canzonei rules a 2 to 1 favorite for their ten-round battle.

East Hartford is expected to provide stiff opposition for the locals and a victory for the Red and White will establish the team as a strong contender for the League title now held by Bristol.

The Bell City five opposes West Hartford tonight and is an overwhelming favorite.

Coach Johnny McGrath's charges have already engaged in one League encounter, trouncing Middletown High, 38 to 29, last week. Tuesday, East Hartford lost a close tussle to Hartford High by the slender margin of three points, 19-18, an indication that McGrath has developed a fine, well rounded quintet of hoopers, capable of playing high calibre basketball, offensively and defensively.

Manchester High fished a world of promise in its decisive victory over Rockville last Friday, winning 48 to 28, and this week's practice sessions have done much to whip the team into fine form.

Coach Clarke has been stressing a short, snappy and deceptive passing offense and the team is fast acquiring a smooth-clicking attack that is based entirely on team work and not the individual play of any one player.

Every man in the starting lineup has scoring potentialities that will be further developed as the season goes along.

Against Rockville, Johnson, Clarke, Sheldon and O'Leary all tallied more than once from the floor, with Johnson and Clarke leading the attack.

With these five at forward, Sheldon at center and O'Leary and Judd at guards, Coach Clarke has a team that should rate the equal of any quintet in the C. C. L. L.

Another welcome sign is the return of Chucky Smith to the lineup. Smith attended practice sessions all this week, after being kept on the sidelines by football injuries.

Coach Clarke plans to spell him at the forward berth with Clarke and Johnson. Captain Albert Salswicks is still out, however, with no definite time set for his return.

Phil Canaman of New Haven, who gained much popularity as a referee here last season, will officiate tonight. The first game between the second team will start at 7:30 o'clock with the main feature about 8:30 o'clock. Dancing will follow the second game.

Having ironed out weaknesses in the passing attack, gained greater shooting accuracy and improved defensive play through extensive practice sessions during the week, Manchester High's basketball quintet is waiting for the opening of its Connecticut Interscholastic League competition against East Hartford High at the State Armory tonight with a confidence that furnishes good cause for optimism on the part of cage fans who desire to see a winning local combination in scholastic court circles.

READY TO PLACE PARKING SIGNS

Several Objections Raised
But Plan of Police Commissioners Will Stand.

All the signs necessary to designate the hours of parking in the different sections of Main street from Locust to Forest streets on the west side of Main street have been properly painted, and this morning Chief of Police Samuel Gordon marked off the different poles on which the signs are to be placed. Work was started at once placing them in position. The work will be completed by tomorrow.

The U turn signs have also been painted and they, too, will be placed in position. Several have already entered objections and asked for a change in the time, but the plans, as decided upon by the police commissioners will remain in effect.

One of the reasons given to prompt the changes was the number of tags presented to the police station where the owner of an automobile came from out of town. There are cards on record that shows Manchester draws trade for many miles around, some coming from Windham, New London and Tolland counties, in addition to communities in Hartford county.

"JIM" REED SCORES ROOSEVELT'S PLAN

Ex-Senator from Missouri
Says President Is Smashing
the Nation's Credit.

Memphis, Tenn., Dec. 15—(AP)—James A. Reed and his bride, the former Mrs. Nell Quinlan Donnelly, were "honeymooning" here, today. They arrived last night.

The 72-year-old former Senator from Missouri said he and the former Mrs. Donnelly, owner of a Kansas City dress manufacturing business, were trying to avoid publicity, but he consented to an interview in which he criticized the Roosevelt program.

"I think we are headed for a whole lot of trouble," Mr. Reed said, "piling up the National debt to a point where we will ultimately break down the National credit." In another blast at the administration, the fiery Democrat charged, "The government is interfering with every man's business, assuming that the business of the United States can best be conducted by a group of gentlemen who have never transacted any business in their lives."

He attacked the idea of inflation, and said "any man who wants to pay a one dollar debt with a fifty cent dollar is not honest." "If you have a fifty cent dollar, or a 25 cent dollar, or a 10 cent dollar, what is to become of the millions of women and children whose husbands and fathers paid into insurance companies dollars equivalent to gold?"

The investors "What is to become of the millions who invested their honest earnings in bonds and notes or other

Mr. Reed and the former Mrs. Donnelly were married Wednesday night in a surprise wedding at Kansas City. He was credited with effecting her unannounced release after she became one of the early victims of the kidnaping wave.

Asked if he had retired from politics, Mr. Reed said, pointing to Newman's notes, "That is putting me right back into politics. I've been asked about inflation a number of times and this is the first I've had to say about it."

Between 8 and 10 o'clock, the thermometer had dropped many degrees and the storm showed no signs of abating.

LUTHER LEAGUE YULETIDE PARTY TO FEATURE PLAY

Members Will Present Christmas Pageant as Part of Evening's Program at Emanuel Church.

The Luther League of the Emanuel Lutheran church will hold its annual Christmas party at 7:30 o'clock tonight, the affair being open to all members of the church. The feature of the evening will be a pageant, "Hope of the World," to be presented by members of the League, and the first appearance of the recently organized junior choir, under the direction of Helge E. Pearson.

Following the program, refreshments will be served and a social hour held. The committees in charge are the lookout committee, Helge Pearson, chairman; and the junior committee, Ida Anderson, chairman. This is the last session of the Luther League this year and at the next meeting, to be held Friday, January 6, the new officers will be installed for the coming year.

FUGITIVE KILLER ELUDES POSSE BY STONE'S THROW

Wilbur Underhill Nearly Taken When Police Swoop Down on House in Oklahoma.

Seminole, Okla., Dec. 15—(AP)—A foray into the hills which, officers said, took them within a stone's throw of Wilbur Underhill, intensified the search today for the fugitive killer.

Chief of Police Jake Sims of Seminole, member of a posse which descended upon a house between here and Ada, said Underhill had eluded the officers "by 75 yards."

Of two suspects arrested at the farm, Sims said Bruce Brady, reputedly a brother of "Big Boy" Brady, one of the 10 convicts who escaped from a Kansas prison last Memorial Day with Underhill, was taken to jail to Ada to face an inquiry.

Convicts who escaped from the Kansas prison last Memorial Day with Underhill, were taken to jail Wednesday's $3,000 robbery at the First National bank of Coalgate and for questioning as to Underhill's movements. The other man was released.

Underhill has been sought as the leader of the three machine gunners who robbed the Coalgate bank. Most of those who escaped from prison with him have been recaptured or slain.

DOUG LEAVES SWITZERLAND

St. Moritz, Switzerland, Dec. 15—(AP)—After a sking expedition, Douglas Fairbanks, Sr., the motion picture star, left by automobile today for Italy.

He said he intended to go to Milan and from there to the Italian Riviera, then on to Egypt.

DELICIOUS CEREAL OVERCOMES COMMON CONSTIPATION

ALL-BRAN Provides "Bulk," Vitamin B and Iron

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN meets a basic need of the American dietary. It supplies "bulk"—so helpful in correcting common constipation. In eleven years, ALL-BRAN has won millions of satisfied users.

New tests show added reasons for the success of ALL-BRAN. Laboratory experiments prove that, in addition to "bulk," it provides vitamin B to help tone the intestinal tract.

The headaches, loss of appetite and energy that so often result from constipation can be overcome by this pleasant cereal. How much better than using pills and drugs.

ALL-BRAN is mild. Its "bulk" is much like that of lettuce. Within the body, it absorbs moisture and forms a soft mass, which gently cleans the intestines of wastes.

Two tablespoons daily are sufficient to overcome most types of constipation. Chronic cases, with every meal. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Another benefit of ALL-BRAN is that it has twice as much blood-building iron as an equal amount by weight of beef liver.

Serve as a cereal, or use in cooking. Tempting recipes on the red-and-green package. Sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

STATE POLICEMAN HURT

Hartford, Dec. 15—(AP)—State Policeman Adolph Pastore of the Hartford barracks, was in the Hartford hospital today with leg and shoulder injuries received yesterday in an automobile accident at North Haven.

The police car in which he was a passenger was in collision with a car driven by William Richman of New York City. The driver of the police car, Inspector Napoleon J. Fournier, said the other car was passing a truck when they met. Richman was ordered to appear in North Haven court Saturday.

"MUSICAL TAXIS" SILENCED

New York, Dec. 15—(AP)—Musical taxis are being silenced under a police order which bans radios from cabs.

Police Commissioner James S. Bolan declared yesterday that radio sets must be taken out of the cabs

PORK, BEANS AND EGGS NEXT FOR STATES POOR

To Be Given Away Next Week—Eggs to Be Bought from Local Dealers.

New Haven, Dec. 15.—(AP)—Edward R. Potter, Connecticut agent for the Surplus Commodities Corporation, reported today that pork, beans and eggs, bought by the Federal government for free distribution to the needy, are expected to arrive in this state before Christmas.

Potter said that while the holiday freight shipments could not be predicted with certainty, the foods were scheduled for delivery late next week.

Twelve cars of pork and four cars of beans were reported enroute to Connecticut. The eggs will be purchased locally. Potter said between 80,000 and 85,000 dozen eggs will be bought from stocks in Connecticut warehouse, and 7,500 fresh eggs, for special diet cases would be bought from the Connecticut Poultry Association.

Distribution of the 80,000 tons of Federal coal, announced earlier, would be made, as soon as possible and city and town allotments have been made.

MRS. HEN: "DEARIE, WILL YOU TELL ME WHY WE DON'T GET ANY CAKE ANY MORE? SHE USED TO THROW SOME OUT REAL OFTEN!"

MR. ROOSTER: "MY LOVE, DON'T YOU SEE THAT CAN OF CALUMET BAKING POWDER ON THE SHELF AND THAT CALUMET RECIPE BOOK? SHE DOESN'T HAVE TO THROW AWAY ANY CAKE NOW!"

Always depend upon Calumet Baking Powder to give successful results. The remarkable texture will be a revelation to you. The "velvety crumb" of Calumet cakes—the delicate fluffiness of Calumet biscuits and muffins—are the result of perfectly controlled Double-Action. The first action takes place in the mixing bowl—but the second is held in reserve to act in the heat of the oven. It is the two actions, so well-balanced and sure, that make all Calumet baking rise to such beautiful, even lightness. Notice the thrifty small proportion called for in Calumet recipes—usually only one level teaspoon to a cup of sifted flour, much less than with many baking powders. Thanks to Calumet's efficient Double-Action—a little goes a long way!

Ribbon Cake—(8 eggs)

3 cups sifted Swans Down Cake Flour	1/4 teaspoon cinnamon
3 teaspoons Calumet Baking Powder	1/4 teaspoon cloves
3/4 cup butter or other shortening	1/4 teaspoon mace
1 1/2 cups sugar	1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
8 egg yolks, well beaten	1 1/2 tablespoons molasses
1 cup milk	1/2 cup raisins, finely cut
8 egg whites, stiffly beaten	1/2 cup figs, finely cut

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder, and sift together three times. Cream butter thoroughly, add sugar gradually, and cream together until light and fluffy. Add egg yolks and beat well. Add flour, alternately with milk, a small amount at a time. Beat after each addition until smooth. Fold in egg whites. Fill two greased 9-inch layer pans with two-thirds of mixture. To remaining mixture, add spices, molasses, and fruit, and pour into one greased 9-inch layer pan. Bake layers in moderate oven (375° F.) 25 minutes. Arrange spice layer between light layers. Spread red currant jelly between layers and boiled frosting on top and sides of cake. (All measurements are level.)

THE DOUBLE-ACTING BAKING POWDER

SENSE and NONSENSE

About the time we think an old joke has performed its last service to newspaper, magazine and musical comedy we turn the dial and there it is on our radio.

Johnny (Oct. 15)—Aw, you're always picking on me. Why don't you let Sis do it?

Johnny (Dec. 15)—Say Ma, ain't there something more I can do to help you?

You can't kill a fly that is smart enough to sit on your fly-swatter. There must be a moral to this rather important discovery of ours, but we're hanged if we can provide it.

A bishop who was feeling very ill called on his doctor.

Doctor—You must spend the winter in Florida.

Bishop—Haven't the time.

Doctor—Well, I'm afraid it's a case of either that—or heaven.

Bishop—All right. I'll go to Florida.

They might loan prosperity a pair of crutches and let him hobble around. Most of us have forgotten how he looks since his illness.

A man caught a boy in his orchard stealing apples, and handed him over to the police. As it was the boy's first offense the judge let him off, but told him never to yield to such temptation again, adding: Judge—You should have flown from the evil one.

Boy—So I did, sir, but he grabbed me before I got over the fence.

Grandma Tellem from Brushville says: The woman who used to roast her husband a chicken, now has a daughter who roasts her husband about a chicken.

Hugh—Strange thoughts go through my head.

Amos—Well, they are in a strange place.

Men who used to struggle to live within their income, now struggle to live without one.

Youth—A hold-up man held me up tonight for all I had.

His Sweetie—I don't see how those fellows make a living.

Lounging Robes are usually given to men who have no time to lounge.

Phyllis—Sometimes you appear real manly, and sometimes you are effeminate. How do you account for it?

Philip—I suppose its heredity. Half of my ancestors were men and the other half women.

"There aren't many people," that you can find on the same side of the fence every day in the week.

Visitor—I should think, by the look of things, that nothing ever happens here.

Brushville Native—Oh! Its a pretty lively place for its size. Why it's not two weeks since we had an eclipse of the moon.

Correct This Sentence: "I treat all of daughter's boy friends alike," said the mother, "whether they are rich or poor."

Producer—If I make you a star you must lead a life of strict decorum.

Actress—But can't my double do that?

We've listened to several jazz orchestras over the radio made up of blacksmiths, boiler-makers, fish-peddlers and... at least one musician.

No one ever asked you to worry.... That was your own idea!

There is still hope for good manners, when the drug store man sells you a stamp and says "thank you."

A good many seem to be afflicted with "sleeping sickness" about the time the alarm clock goes off.

FLAPPER FANNY SAYS:

There's many an unexpected snow "fall" in winter.
