MIDNIGHT SHOW TICKETS SELLING

Box Office at State Theater to Open Early Sunday Night for Patrons.

Manager George Hoover of the State theater today announced that the box office of the State theater will be open at 10:45 Sunday night to accommodate those planning to go to the New Year's Eve show. The program will start promptly at 11:30. Tickets are now on sale at the theater.

The program will include in addition to a first showing of "Sitting Pretty", the big musical, several fine short subjects. There will be a celebration at midnight and shortly thereafter the feature will be presented. It is expected the show will end about 1:30 a. m.

Sparkling with hit tunes by Mack Gordon, and Harry Revel, the glamour of eighty of Hollywood's most beautiful chorus girls and the imitable fun-making of Jack Oakie, Jack Haley, Ginger Rogers and Thelma Todd, the Paramount musical-comedy, "Sitting Pretty", is a real hit.

"Sitting Pretty" was produced by Charles R. Rogers, under the direction of Harry Joe Brown for Paramount and was adapted from a story by Nina Wilcox Putnam.

Among the many features in this gorgeous, colorful spectacle are the daring "fan dance" number by Ginger Rogers and specialty numbers by the nationally famous Pickens Sisters and by the Beverly Hill Billies.

"Sitting Pretty" details the adventures of the world's two greatest song writers (ask them), played by Jack Oakie and Jack Haley who hitch-hike from New York to Hollywood in search of fame and beautiful girls. They get both, but pass through a series of mad, fantastic and side-splitting adventures, which include experiences with a lunatic movie producer, scheming blondes, furious red-heads, rubber checks, wild parties and narrow escapes from disaster.

was the safest way to prevent uncontrollable inflation.

Printing Press Money

King said bi-metalism would "prevent printing press money and we believe that by free and unlimited coinage of silver we erect an obstacle to inflation."

Wheeler said the program approved was "necessary to raise world commodity prices and its passage will help materially our foreign trade in all silver using and silver producing countries."

"It will prevent the Orient," he continued, "from dumping her manufactured products in this country by reason of the depreciated price of silver."

"We feel this would practically double the primary money of the world and its adoption by the United States alone would mean other countries would have to follow to protect their Oriental trade and their own financial fabric."

"The situation today is different from what it was when we were a debtor nation. We are now a creditor nation. With re-coinage of silver we would not be in any danger of being flooded with silver or losing our own gold even if there was no embargo."

least 20 dead and uncounted injured.

Police placed machine guns throughout the city, prepared to put down further violence. Rebels succeeded in cutting the telephone lines.

Radicals Confer

At Rosario, radicals held a convention and voted not to participate in the forthcoming elections shortly before the attempt was made to take the arsenal.

Radicals also were in convention at Santa Fe.

In Buenos Aires, the revolters were to have worn little white hats, police said. Several persons were arrested when a truck load of hats was seized.

The entire police force of Buenos Aires was in readiness along with the first and second regiments of infantry here after reports of the outbreak at Rosario and Santa Fe reached the capital.

TROLLEY AND BUS LINES IN DEMAND

Cold Forces Those Who Ordinarily Travel by Auto to Use Cars.

All transportation records for trolleys between Manchester and Hartford and on the buses running between Rockville, Manchester and Hartford, since automobiles became a method of travel, were broken today.

Buses coming out of Rockville were loaded to capacity and in many cases persons who ordinarily travel by automobile, but who could not get their cars started this morning, used the trolley cars and the buses to get to Hartford.

From 6 until 8:15 this morning all cars leaving Manchester were crowded. When Pine street was reached the seats were all taken and even standing room was at a premium. This resulted in slowing down of the trolley cars and they were late in getting back to Manchester. The car due at the Manchester Center at 8:07 was ten minutes late. This was due to the large number of negro workers picked up in Hartford and brought to East Hartford to work in the wool warehouses. On other mornings they have been transported by truck, but this morning there was no truck ready, so they traveled by trolley. Any effort that might have been made to make up lost time was prevented by this.

One of the buses that transport children to Rockville from Talcottville and Dobsonville, was loaded with passengers going toward Hartford on the return trip.

On Oakland street a wheel became loose. The trouble was discovered by the driver before it came off and let the car down but it made necessary a long delay until a relief bus could be brought from Hartford.

Little help was furnished from Hartford for trouble on trolley lines. Cars in starting out from the yards in Hartford this morning had trouble early. The air for the brakes froze and cars were taken back into the yards to get them thawed out. This made necessary the use of smaller wheels in some cases, and larger ones for the one-man operators in others. In an effort to keep the traffic moving in Hartford and to prevent congestion there the suburban lines got second consideration. It was fortunate that the trouble developed on the Manchester-Hartford trolley line.

The necessity of running extra cars to replace those that froze up, and the additional use of bus drivers, gave many men who were on the spare list an opportunity to get in a day's work today.

DOG, HIT BY AUTO, DIES IN THE POUND

Effort Made to Save Life of George Greenaway's Dog But Of No Avail.

A dog, wearing the Manchester license tag No. 37,812 and owned by George Greenaway of View street, was killed on Wadsworth street this morning by an automobile. Dog Warden Ray Robinson was notified of the death about an hour after it had occurred and when he reached the place he expected to find that the dog would be frozen stiff. Such was not the case. The dog was dead, as reported, but instead of being stiff from the cold the body was still warm. It was taken to the dog pound and an effort made to revive it, but this was of no avail.

AVIATION COURSE AT NIGHT SCHOOL

Lectures to Be Given Two Evenings a Week — Instruction To Be Free.

A lecture course in aviation will be offered in the local evening school, starting next Wednesday night, it was announced today by Superintendent of Schools F. A. Verplanck. The course will be given each Monday and Wednesday nights each week and the superintendent's office will be open Monday and Tuesday for registration. All applicants for the course, which will be given free, must possess a grammar school education at least.

Mr. Robinson in Charge

Chester L. Robinson, principal of the evening school, will conduct the class, which will be formed if a sufficient number register. Mr. Robinson is a licensed pilot and has 150 hours of flying time to his credit. He spent one summer as ground school instructor for Curtiss-Wright at Rockland and Presque Isle, Maine, and is thoroughly versed in the various subjects that will be taught. The course will consist of approximately fifteen lectures and will include the study of aerodynamics, the airplane, motors, ignition, carburetion, meteorology and navigation. In speaking of the course, Mr. Robinson said, "The names of the separate subjects may sound technical and uninteresting. They are, however, quite non-technical and should be of interest to all."

Aerodynamics important

Aerodynamics is the study of the flow of air about bodies of various shapes and sizes. The present day and future stream line effects of motor cars has to do with this science. The airplane is heavier than air craft. Lectures on this subject will consider airplane construction, method of control, stability and maneuverability.

Since nearly all gasoline motors are basically the same, knowledge of the airplane motor can easily be applied to those of automobiles. Carburetion deals with the preparation of gasoline for an explosive mixture. Ignition explains methods used to explode the mixture prepared by the carburetor.

Meteorology has to do with the earth's atmosphere and those weather elements that have so much to do with daily lives. Humidity, fog, clouds, rain, hail, snow, winds and storms are some of the things considered. Navigation is self explanatory. It will be considered in a very elementary form. Map reading and the use of the compass both enter into this study.

U. S. DESTROYER SENT TO FUKIEN PROVINCE

The Nanking government should have no difficulty in safeguarding Americans from the aerial bombing because most of them have taken refuge in the foreign quarter here and in Amoy. The foreign consulates, banks, and missions also are located in these quarters.

It was expected that the National government will heed the warnings conveyed it by Consul General Willis Peck at Nanking respecting the security of United States citizens in the rebel area. All American consuls on the war-affected areas have standing instructions to evacuate the Americans whenever the Chinese government shall give an advance notice of a bombing.

Beyond the safety of the lives of its Nationals, the United States has no large interests in Fukien, which is a notoriously unfruitful and poor province devoid of any special economic or commercial importance. The Chinese naval blockade of the province will not affect the Americans particularly because the United States has no shipping interests here.

HIGH SCHOOL ALUMNI TO ASSEMBLE TUESDAY

Graduates to Gather and Exchange Reminiscences—Accordance With Custom.

A custom followed for several years and which it is hoped will become an established institution at Manchester High school, is that of holding an alumni assembly and open house for all former students on the first school day of each New Year. This serves to keep alive the interest of the graduates in the school in which they spent four years and gives them an opportunity of renewing acquaintances and friendships with former school-mates.

The alumni as a rule provide the greater part of the program, and the stories of their achievements in various fields of endeavor are an inspiration to the under-graduates.

Another feature of interest in the coming assembly, Tuesday at 2 p. m. in High School hall, is the probable visit of C. P. Quimby, headmaster at Cushing Academy, Ashburnham, Mass., will be a guest. Mr. Quimby was principal of Manchester High school for a period of ten years, terminating his associations with the school in June of this year. Present pupils and faculty, and alumni who attended during the last decade, will welcome an opportunity to greet him again.

NOT TO CUT NATURAL ICE BEFORE JANUARY

L. T. Wood Will Await Test Before Starting Work—Expect Good Harvest.

Although it is believed the ice is at present or shortly will be thick enough to make trapping operations worth while, the harvesting of ice by the L. T. Wood Co. on its ponds will not be started until the first week in January at the earliest, Mr. Wood said today. The heavy snowfall of last Tuesday will serve to increase the work, as the snow must first be removed before the ice cutting begins. Tests of the ice are to be made soon, and if it is found to be eight or more inches thick, work will be started at once clearing the surface of the ponds of snow. Then the cutting operations will start. It is believed that the unusually severe weather so far this winter will result in a splendid harvest of natural ice, which has not been the case during the past two or three years.

The data by states, however, showed an increase in private passenger car registrations of 12.77 for Georgia, 88.29 for New Mexico, 39.09 for Oregon and slight increases for Kansas, Kentucky, Massachusetts, Nebraska, New Jersey, Rhode Island and South Dakota.

An increase in all vehicles registered was shown by Georgia, Kansas, Massachusetts, Montana, New Mexico, North Carolina, Oregon and Rhode Island.

Gasoline consumption showed an increase in Connecticut and 14 other states.

NEW BANK RULES FOR CHECK USERS

slash charges below the earnings level.

Observers said the new rules would probably lead to a decreased use of checks and an increased use of currency, especially since the Federal government already levies a 3-cent tax on checks.

The 2 1/2 cent "item" charge holds good for all accounts up to $10,000. On balances of more than $500, however, the base charge is eliminated. Thus the charges on balances under $500 are the most severe; on balances ranging from $500 to $1,000 they are moderate; and on balances over $1,000 they are light.

William Maxwell, Rockville Bank Director, Named to Board of Management.

The Hartford-Connecticut Trust Co., Rockville Branch, is in full operation in Rockville and few, if any, changes have been made in the personnel although the titles of the different officers have been changed.

None of the Rockville National Bank's board of directors has been placed on the board of directors of the Hartford-Connecticut Trust Company, but representation has been secured by placing William Maxwell, a director of the latter bank, on the Board of Management of the Rockville Branch.

William Maxwell is treasurer of the Rockville National Bank and the Hockanum Mills Co., Rockville's largest manufacturing concern, operating eight woolen mills in Rockville.

Board of Management The "Rockville Branch" will be in charge of a "Board of Management," comprised of the former nineteen directors and William Maxwell who has just been elected to the board, making twenty members.

This "Board of Management" will have the following officers: Chairman, Col. Francis T. Maxwell; vice-chairmen, John G. Talcott and Charles Phelps; assistant vice-president and Trust Officer, Frederick H. Holt; assistant treasurer and assistant trust officer, Charles M. Squires; assistant and assistant trust officer, William F. Partridge; assistant trust officer, Miss Marguerite E. Moxon.

The old officers of the Rockville National Bank were as follows: Col. Francis T. Maxwell, vice-president; John G. Talcott and Charles Phelps, cashier and trust officer; Charles M. Squires, assistant cashier and assistant trust officer; William F. Partridge, assistant trust officer; Miss Marguerite E. Moxon.

The "Board of Management" of the Rockville Branch comprises of the following, all but William Maxwell being a member of the old Board of Directors: Francis T. Maxwell; William Maxwell, Charles Phelps, David A. Sykes, Charles A. Thompson, George B. Hammond, Sherwood C. Cummings, Frederick N. Seiding, Marshall E. Charter, Frederick H. Holt, Edward L. Newmarker, John G. Talcott, A. Leroy Martin, John E. Flak, Lebbeus F. Bissell, George Arnold, Sr., Arthur T. Bissell, Charles M. Squires and Lester E. Shippee.

Get Charles in 1933 The "Rockville Branch" of the Hartford-Connecticut Trust Company is the oldest of the five branch banks taken in the combine by the latter concern. On June 26, 1865 the Rockville Bank obtained its charter from the State of Connecticut.

Nine years later, on September 3, 1864, the First National Bank had been organized. Sixty-two years later these two banks, the Rockville National and the First National Bank, merged. This was after the Hartford-Connecticut Company acquired control of both banks in 1929.

The Rockville National Bank now has deposits amounting to about $1,150,000 gained through a steady increase since the organization. In 1923 the Rockville National Bank obtained permission to offer a trust service to its customers in Rockville. This department has had a remarkable growth. Commercial banking, a safe deposit department, Christmas and vacation clubs were other services offered to the people of Rockville by this bank. This branch is served by a staff of thirteen employees.

40 Years a Director Col. Francis T. Maxwell has been a director of the Rockville National Bank for over 40 years and has served as President since June 24, 1915. His father, George Maxwell, had previously served as president of the bank and had been director since 1866. Mr. Maxwell, in addition to being president of the Hockanum Mills Co., is a director in many corporations.

John G. Talcott has held the office of vice-president since the merger of the two banks June 13, 1890. Prior to that Mr. Talcott had been President of the First National Bank since 1890. Mr. Talcott is now treasurer of Talcott Brothers Company, woolen manufacturers.

Charles Phelps has been a director for 30 years, and has served since June 24, 1915. Mr. Phelps was formerly State's Attorney of Tolland County and at one time held the office as Secretary of State for Connecticut. He was also Connecticut's first Attorney General.

Mr. Holt's Long Service With the exception of five years, Frederick H. Holt has been with the Rockville National Bank since 1866. He became a teller in 1868, assistant cashier on January 14, 1908 and cashier on April 1st, 1912. Mr. Holt has also been Trust Officer since the opening of the trust department in 1923.

Charles M. Squires was originally with the First National Bank and served as bookkeeper, teller and on August 21, 1913, was appointed cashier. At the time of the merging of the two banks, Mr. Squires was appointed assistant cashier of the Rockville National Bank as a bookkeeper in February, 1906, and became a teller April 1, 1912. On April 25, 1929 Mr. Partridge was made assistant cashier.

Miss Marguerite E. Moxon has been associated with the Rockville National Bank since September 20, 1913 and was made assistant trust officer in 1926. Miss Moxon is one of the few women in this state holding a position of responsibility in this field of service.

Many Questions Answered Many questions have been asked as to the changes that will result from the merger of the Rockville National Bank and the Hartford-Connecticut Trust Company. The individuality has been lost as the name now is "The Hartford-

AMERICAN MILLS GO OVER TO OIL HEATING

Plant Being Modernized and Two 25,000 Gallon Tanks Installed.

Modernization of the heating plant of the "American Mill" of the Hockanum Mills Company is now under way as they are installing oil burning equipment in their four boilers at this plant. The oil will be stored in two 25,000 gallon tanks, which it is estimated will run the plant for approximately three weeks.

These tanks are located by the side of the "New Haven" railroad tracks at the end of the Rockville freight yards and are set on concrete cradles. A cement housing is also to be built around them, insulated by a twelve inch layer of sand. Adjoining the tanks is a pump house. These pumps will send the oil direct to the boilers.

The contract for this installation has been given to a Hartford concern and work was started a few days ago. The heavy snow, however, has delayed somewhat the cement foundation work for the tanks.

It is planned to install one burner in a boiler each week end, so as not to interfere with the production of the mill. The oil consumed will be delivered by tank cars over the "New Haven" railroad.

The management of the Hockanum Mills decided to change over from coal to oil burning on account of the inadequate facilities for the storage of coal at the American mill. In the past it has often been necessary to unload coal cars in severe winter weather.

The American Mill was purchased by the Hockanum Mills Company from the McLean family in 1917.

Superior Court The criminal session of the Tolland County Superior Court will open on Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock with Judge Frank P. McEvoy of Waterbury on the bench.

State's Attorney Michael D. O'Connell of Stafford Springs, has prepared the list of criminal cases which will be put to plea at the opening of the session. All cases not disposed of by plea of guilty at this time will be assigned for trial at a later date.

The criminal cases will be called as follows: Albert Stone, Thompsonville, breaking and entering with intent to steal. Bound over from Stafford Springs Justice Court. Fred L. Lee of Bolton, violation of motor vehicle law, appealed from Bolton court. Paul Rodvan, of Rockville, violation of the liquor law, from the Rockville city court. John Kaminski of New Britain, theft, from the Mansfield town court. Earl Morokovich and John Ethridge, violation of the game laws

HOTEL MEN CARRY PROTEST TO NRA

Say They Signed Code Expecting Added Revenue from Liquor Sales.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 29.—Protests from members of the Connecticut Hotel Association against financial difficulties arising under the NRA code through inability of the hotels to dispense liquor under state laws, have been received by Senator Loefergan, (D) Connecticut, and presented to General Johnson's code authorities. The hotels contended that their code was adopted with the expectation of increasing revenues from liquor sales after repeal, according to Senator Loefergan. They accepted higher wage scales and other provisions increasing their operating costs on the basis of estimated returns from that source. The Connecticut group points out that the re-

2 - that no other regular priced gas will give more power, more mileage or greater economy
3 - that TYDOL will continue to be different because it lubricates as it drives.

You'll read plenty of gasoline claims in 1934... new gasolines may appear... and other gasolines may show improvements. But TYDOL is set to maintain its 1933 quality leadership.

TYDOL will not be surpassed in anti-knock. It contains tetraethyl lead, formerly used only in premium priced gasolines. It will give you power, mileage, economy... plus TYDOL's lubricating feature that is yet to be matched by old-fashioned gasolines. Prove it today in your own car.

The South End department got the second call, a still alarm, at 8:45 this morning. It was in William Walsat's garage at Center and Linden streets. Harold Walsh had gone out to start a car in the garage. The self starter worked, but a spark contacted the carburetor and started a fire. Mr. Walsh threw snow upon the gasoline and had the blaze extinguished when the firemen arrived from No. 3.

SEEK TECHNICIANS TO TEACH TRADES

May Expend $300 CWA Fund for Instructors at Local Trade School.

With vocational rehabilitation and vocational guidance on the list of activities under which the local allotment of the Civil Works project to furnish work for teachers who are unemployed and in need may be expended. It was announced today that the $300 allotted to Manchester to employ six teachers may be used in that direction. To this end, Director John G. Schmalian of the local State Trade School requests that tradesmen and technicians with ability to teach be registered at his office at the Trade School or at the office of Superintendent of Schools F. A. Verplank. It is felt by Mr. Schmalian that there are numerous graduates of high school who, unemployed at present, can be organized into classes to learn a trade as electrician, carpenter, machinist, draftsman or textile worker, all of which trades are taught at the local school. As expenditure of funds under this CWA project is limited to six channels, it is felt that vocational guidance may prove the most feasible, as it is believed to offer the greatest field in Manchester. According to present plans, the project will end February 15. It is therefore necessary to start as quickly as possible. The project may be extended beyond that date by either the President or Congress, but no definite information to this end has been announced.

CWA FOREST PROJECT IS SHOWING RESULTS

Railroad Fire and Forestry Fire Lines Completed Over Wide Area Despite Weather. Hartford, Dec. 29.—Fine results have been obtained from the activities of the CWA workers on forestry project No. 32 of the State Forestry Department, according to progress reports submitted from the various localities to Robert M. Ross, administrator. Although hampered to a certain extent by cold weather, snow and sleet, the reports for the three weeks ending December 21, disclosed that 14,840 feet of railroad fire lines and 21,090 feet of state boundary forest fire lines had been cleared. In the same period 72,829 feet of wood roads have been opened up, 8,919 feet of ditches dug and 9,705 feet of road slopes graded. Fire prevention steps have been taken on a broad scale with the clearing of fire lines of all brush and dead timber therefrom, and in numerous places water holes have been constructed to provide means of combating any fires that may occur during the spring and fall forest fire seasons. The reports show that 15 of such water holes have been dug and others are in the process of making. In the Pachaug, Cockaponset and Meshomac state forests more than 47 acres of salvage work has been done. Fully 20 acres of forest ravaged by fire in recent years have been cleared of all timber growth in the Pachaug forest and 15 acres in the Cockaponset area. This timber has been graded and a total of 435 cords stacked. Some of this will be distributed to the needy through the selectmen of town in the vicinity. In addition the poorer grades of wood are being used in the various CCC camps where it is sawed into lengths suitable for the camp stoves. Considerable work in pine shoot moth and blister rust control has been accomplished. Though this work was begun a week later than other CWA projects, the report disclosed that 254 acres had been worked and over 544,000 pine tips destroyed.

Queer Twists In Day's News

Hastings Neb.—"Gems" from the examination papers of Hastings school children are keeping local school teachers smiling. In the papers the teachers "learned" that George Westinghouse was the first President of the United States; that a squab is an Indian woman; that a grouse is a gruff old man; and that in preparing lettuce for the table one should wash off the bugs, worms and other livestock. Fairmont, W. Va.—It was Mark Twain who said he experienced 365 kinds of weather in New England in 24 hours and now comes Fairmont to offer a luke-warm threat to that record. Saturday before Christmas boys bathed in the Monongahela river; Sunday brought lightning and thunder; Christmas day was warmish; Tuesday brought snow and Wednesday morning saw the thermometer at three degrees above zero; yesterday a bright sun hoisted the temperature to 62 degrees. Kings, N. D.—Game Warden James J. Johnson announced that "King" his pet coyote, but the coyote proved he was a smart animal by escaping. Johnson recently was sentenced to five days in jail on a charge of trapping without a license after the coyote had dug out a skunk. He was not jailed then, but yesterday wardens charged the coyote had been catching game birds for him. Johnson denied that, but admitted he had trained the animal to catch smaller birds. Allerton, Ill.—Ache Payne says a name means absolutely nothing and Bequests to charity include $20,000 to the National Chapter of the American Red Cross, $5,000 each to the Asheville Chapter of the Red Cross, the Salvation Army of Asheville and the Asheville Community Chest. To Marie Logan of Asheville the testator left $50,000. The executors are Alfred B. Meacham and Lucius H. Beers.

13 YEAR OLD GIRL CONFESSES MURDER

"Josie Told Lies About Me So I Killed Her," She Tells Police.

White Plains, N. Y., Dec. 29.—(AP)—A thirteen-year-old girl has confessed, District Attorney Frank H. Coyne said today, to the murder last Sunday of her eight-year-old girl chum. Mery Kavala, Coyne said, told him after long questioning last night that she had killed Josephine Woropay, hitting her on the head with a rock and then strangling her. "I did it," the district attorney quoted her as saying. "Josie told lies about me and about my family. I did it. I lost my temper." Josephine's body was found Christmas eve under the porch steps of St. Matthew's Iveyum at Hastings-On-Hudson. District Attorney Coyne said he was undecided whether to place a charge of murder in the first degree against Mery. Meanwhile she was being held in the Children's Shelter under a technical charge of being a material witness.

FIREMEN RESCUE 17

Lynn, Mass., Dec. 29.—(AP)—Seventeen persons were taken down ladders with the thermometer at ten below zero early today as fire swept one side of a three story brick duplex house.

The blaze started in the cellar and damage was estimated at $15,000. The occupants of the house, were cared for by neighbors.

ANNOUNCE ENGAGEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. Emil J. Koehler of North Coventry announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Eva Anna Koehler, to George Andrew Kingsbury, son of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Kingsbury of Coventry. Both young people are well known here, having attended Manchester High School. Miss Koehler is also a graduate of the Williamianic Normal school.

New Haven railroad line between here and New Haven at 6:50 a. m., gave rise to a report that signals had frozen. This was denied by Division Superintendent J. J. Snavely of Hartford who said the electrical signals cannot freeze, and that he understood the trouble was caused by a "heavy ground" of unknown cause. When the defect occurred the automatic safety system turned all signals to "stop," and trains came to a halt. They started in motion again, however, as soon as they could release their brakes, according to the superintendent, so that the delay was slight. Within six minutes railroad men were working on the trouble and the signals were in order again within a short time. KING BORN HERE Sofia, Bulgaria, Dec. 29.—(AP)—King Boris is rapidly recovering from an attack of influenza, an official statement said today, but a precautionary measure he will remain in bed a day or two longer, the advice of his physicians.

The annual community Christmas tree exercises held last week proved most successful. An entertainment in charge of Mrs. A. J. Vinton illustrated how Christmas was observed in the various countries, having the different people in town in charge. The tableau of the Nativity was also presented. Gifts for the White Christmas were brought and placed on the tree. Santa came and each youngster received a little gift. Friday evening members of the Ever Ready Club met at Mrs. Vinton's and made home-made candy to take to the sick and old people of Coventry. Saturday and Sunday evening the young people of town went Christmas caroling. Mr. Vinton decorated and lighted a Christmas tree which he carried around on his truck. A special Christmas service was held at the Second Congregational church Sunday morning. Mr. and Mrs. Walter S. SENSE and NONSENSE

The small boy with much interest in watching a baldheaded man scratch the fringe of hair around the side of his head. The man kept it up so long that the boy finally reached over and said in a loud whisper "Say, mister, you'll never catch him that way. Why don't you run him out in the open?"

Don'ts for the bride who wishes to get along with her mother-in-law Don't begrudge waiting on her. Don't criticize her personal habits. Don't criticize her "old-fashioned" ideas.

Don't forget to practice tolerance always. Don't belittle her real or fancied ailments.

Don't (out loud) resent dealings she has with her son. Don't try to reform her methods of household management.

A great man who stood up to address a crowd, with a pair of buttons off his vest would probably find that the absence of the buttons attracted more attention than he did.

Junior—Where are you going, Mother dear?
Mother—Your Daddy and I are going to a surprise party.

Junior—Can't I go too—and can't we take Bobbie and Susie along too?
Mother—No, you were not invited.

Junior—Well, don't you think they'd be lots more surprised if you took us all?

No man has so many secrets as the married man who attends a convention and fails to get in on any of the meetings.

That he is a baby.
How the rooster goes.

How the moo-cow goes.
That he is knowing for his age.
That he is grandma's bessedest angel.
That he has rosy-posy tooty-wooties.
Who's a tummy itay bitay lump o' sooda.
That he must pat-a-cake pretty for the ladies.
That he is a boofle-oofoe, lumpy-dumpy, so he is.
But the infant of today does not know how the horse goes.

The old commercial traveller was relating his experiences to a young man:

Old Salesman—And don't forget never try to sell an encyclopedia to a bride.

Young Man—Why not?
Old Salesman (smiling cynically)—She always thinks her husband knows everything.

A man approached a stranger upon the street, stopped him, and said:

The Man—If a train left Chicago for New York and averaged 59 miles an hour, and another train left New York for Chicago and averaged 64 miles an hour, and they passed, how old am I?
Stranger—Why, you're 38.

The Man—That's right; but how in the world did you figure it out?
Stranger—Well, you see, I have a cousin that's half crazy, and he's 19.

The trouble with the average shopper, is the same as the trouble with the average golfer; he is too tight.

Gene—Say Pete, I hear your wife still adores you after two years of married life, is that true?
Pete—Well, I suppose it is, she places burnt offerings in front of me three times a day.

The management has kept the prices low and given everyone a good time. In appreciation for the patronage they are giving chances on four cash prizes and a good night's fun to all those attending the anniversary dance.

Miss Claire Stephens of Green Hill, a student at Manchester High School, underwent a delicate operation on her knee at the Hartford hospital yesterday. Miss Stephens injured her knee while skating at Center Springs park two years ago, and in October suffered another fall, since which time it has given her considerable trouble.

The management of the Hotel Sheridan has arranged for a foot show that is sure to prove a high light of the New Year's Eve frolic to be held at the hotel. Reservations are continuing to come in and every effort is being made to make the hotel's first New Year celebration a big success. The chef will prepare a special dinner to be served at ten o'clock Sunday night and dancing will start at midnight. Al Behrend and his Hotel Sheridan Orchestra will provide the music. Favors and souvenirs will be distributed and the bar serving beer and wines will be open until nine o'clock.

With a thick blanket of snow covering Manchester, the attention of many townspeople has been directed to the plight of birds unable to forage for food. A number of calls have been received by The Herald from local bird lovers, who ask that the townspeople remember the birds by placing food outdoors for them where it will be easily accessible.

TAXPAYERS' ALLIANCE
PLANS TO MEET HERE
Annual Meeting of New Organization to Be Held in February, It Is Stated.

The newly organized Connecticut Taxpayers' Alliance, at a session in Bristol last night, decided to hold the annual meeting of the Alliance in Manchester in February, 1934, the exact date to be made known later. S. G. Bowers of this town was elected to the committee on legislation and budget. Mathias Spiess, of this town, attended the Bristol meeting along with Mr. Bowers.

The Connecticut Taxpayers' Alliance decided last night not to seek to place an independent state ticket on the ballot in the state election next fall, but instead will endeavor to secure pledges of co-operation from a majority of the members of the 1935 State Legislature. It was said following a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Alliance held in the offices of the John Cooke Company in Bristol.

The legislation and budget committee, of which Mr. Bowers is a member with E. J. Burns, of Torrington and Richard Barrett, of Bristol, as his colleagues, plans to draft a legislative program.

LEND A HAND

Many of the men working on the CWA projects are without proper footwear for the weather conditions they must face. Charity Superintendent G. H. Waddell urges all persons having warm footwear stored away and willing to supply these men, to bring them to the municipal building at once. The need is great Mr. Waddell states, if many of the men now employed are to continue employed. A large number of the men in need of warm arctic have not yet begun work, Mr. Waddell stated.

The regular evening setback and dance of the Manchester Green Community club will be held tonight at 8 o'clock. Players will have a chance to win four cash prizes.

CONSTABLE JAMES DUFFY
STRUCK IN HARTFORD

Getting Out of Car He Is Hit by Passing Car—Is Improving Today.

Constable James Duffy, of 232 Henry street, a bus driver employed by the Connecticut Company, is at the Hartford hospital, suffering with leg and back injuries caused when struck by an automobile in front of the Vernon street barn, Hartford, early yesterday morning. The car that Mr. Duffy uses for travel between Manchester and Hartford was frozen up and it had been towed to start it. He was unhooking the wire rope that had been used to tow his car when struck by a passing automobile, driven by John Labachy, of 98 Noyau street, Hartford. He was taken to the Hartford hospital. Reports at his home this morning are to the effect that he is feeling better. X-rays have been taken and just how bad the injuries were will not be known until later.
