

PRESIDENT TO ASK BILLION IN FUNDS

Will Complete This Year's Emergency Budget Which Relief Agencies Will Use To Continue Operations.

Washington, Jan. 17.—(AP)—Congress soon will be asked by the President for the $1,166,000,000 additional funds to complete this year's emergency budget...

Hears Complaints The President was accused today with Harry Hopkins, CWA head, the complaints from certain sections of the country that the Civil Works wages here higher than those prevailing in the community.

There was said to be considerable difficulty in the adjustment in certain communities to the reduction of the number of hours of work for the Federal workers so that the total received for a week will be at about the local level.

War Debt Message The President does not expect to send his war debt message to Congress for about a month and he is going to confer with Secretary Hull, now enroute home from South America, before transmitting his message on tariff legislation.

Meanwhile, he expects early reports from his aides on Secretary's proposals and to change legislation for the railroads and transportation generally.

Expect Report Soon The President said he expects a report in a day or two from Secretary Roper on his special study of regulation of the stock exchanges.

He is still considering the possible consolidation of the federal commerce commission of all Federal transportation agencies, including railroads, buses, aviation and shipping.

RELIGION, ESSENCE OF OUR EXISTENCE

Keynote Speaker At Lutheran Conference So Declares.

St. Louis, Jan. 17.—(AP)—"Aggressively Christian and progressively conservative" schools of higher learning must be maintained by the Lutheran Church, Dr. J. F. Krueger, Springfield, Ohio, said in the keynote address before the 21st annual meeting of the National Lutheran Educational Conference here today.

Representatives of thirty-five Lutheran colleges, seminaries and universities were here to hear discussions on the general topic, "Higher Education in a Changing World."

Must Be Progressive "That Lutheran colleges must be progressive does not merely mean that they should not be reactionary. Lutheran educators today must not only be willing to abandon dead theories of the past, but they must be found in the very forefront of the progress of educational progress."

Dr. J. J. Arnold, director of the division of special schools of Whiteburg College, Springfield, O., told the conference that the achievement average of students in Lutheran colleges as a group is seven points higher than the average of the nation-wide group.

ENGAGE DRIGGS' ORCHESTRA FOR BIRTHDAY BALL

Choice Of Committee In Meeting Last Night By Overwhelming Vote; Fund For Most Worthy Cause.

Collin Driggs, prominent local and Hartford musician, was engaged last night by the general committee for the Birthday Ball for the President, to furnish music for Manchester's affair to be held in the State Armory on Tuesday, January 30.

Had I, myself, ever been victim to infantile paralysis I might never have been able to follow my musical profession."

Tickets have been widely scattered throughout this town and surrounding communities and reports are that they are selling well. There was no check-up possible at last night's committee meeting but unofficial reports indicated a wonderful response to the local appeal.

Suburban Committee Joseph G. Pero, chairman of the suburban ticket committee, has a large number of prominent out of town persons working on his committee. They are: Glastonbury, Daniel Ferraris, John Goodrich; South Windsor, Thomas Smith; Wapping, G. Walter Smith, Alfred Stone; Wallingford, Polton, Mrs. Maude Woodward, Peter Chamberg; North Coventry, Franklin Orcutt; South Coventry, Louis A. Kingsbury; Buckingham, Joseph Tiboni; and Talcottville, Mrs. Wilbur Smith.

Baby Ray Is Discovered; Is Stronger Than X-Rays

Berkeley, Calif., Jan. 17.—(AP)—A baby ray, which is more penetrating than either X-rays or radium, offers new fields for medical and scientific exploration at the University of California.

The ray is a stream of spray or neutrons, recently discovered "ultimate" particles of matter. Neutrons emerge from the nuclei of atoms when they are smashed by tremendous energies.

These neutrons cast some doubt on the hypothesis that the ultimate building blocks of all matter are wholly bits of electricity, for neutrons have no electrical charge. To fit present knowledge they would have to be either a combination of positive and negative electricity, or the unheard of thing neutral electricity, or something new in science.

It was a...

Sue Trammell, the baby the eyes of a nation were centered on when Jimmy Wedell, the speed pilot, rushed her in a stormy 1,600-mile night flight from Houston, Tex., to Ballmore, Md., for an emergency brain operation, is well again. She peeps out from under her blanket to prove it as she leaves the hospital for home in her nurse's arms.

TAMMANY HALL LEADERS QUIT OLD ORGANIZATION

Revolt Develops At Board Of Aldermen When 35 Go Over To Edward J. Flynn, Friend Of Jim Farley.

New York, Jan. 17.—(AP)—Tammany Hall was disorganized and its once secure political domination badly cracked today under the impact of a spectacular insurrection of district leaders.

The old coalition between the former of Joseph F. Curry and his Brooklyn ally, John McCooey, received the jolt. The blow fell at last night's meeting of the Board of Aldermen, when 14 Tammany and 21 McCooey leaders bolted Tammany leadership for Edward J. Flynn, the Bronx leader and political lieutenant of Postmaster General James A. Farley.

HOUSING PROBLEM STILL IN DISPUTE

But President Believes Situation Can Be Cleared Without More Legislation.

Washington, Jan. 17.—(AP)—A solution of legal difficulties over the Housing Corporation's $100,000,000 slum clearance program today appeared near as President Roosevelt told callers he thought the situation could be ironed out without additional legislation.

Ickes denounced McCarr's communication at a press conference yesterday and said additional legislation might be necessary to take the housing program from McCarr's jurisdiction.

After talking to the President, however, the secretary said he felt things "would work out all right" and today further indications of an understanding were given.

It was pointed out that another agency could be set up under public works to handle the housing program if it were decided that the Housing Corporation was illegal.

Beyond Authority McCarr refused to approve warrants for Housing Corporation expenditures on the grounds that the powers conferred upon it "appear to contemplate operations beyond statutory authority."

While there is room for doubt, it is thought also that the practical effects of this neutron "knife" will be very little if at all different from the action of X-rays.

ATTACK LIQUOR LAW AS INVALID LACKING TEETH

Brief Filed In Stamford Claims State Control Act Does Not Prohibit Sale By Non-Permittees.

Stamford, Jan. 17.—(AP)—A ten page brief filed before Judge Clement A. Fuller in Stamford City Court this morning in support of a demurrer holds the Connecticut Liquor Control Act does not prohibit the sale of liquor by non-permittees and makes no provision for punishment for sale of non-permittees. If the demurrer is sustained, Stamford lawyers are of the opinion that a special session of the General Assembly should be called.

The brief contends that the sale of liquor is a common law right, quoting the Connecticut Supreme Court, 81 Connecticut 534. "As common law it was a business lawful and open to any man. Our statutes do not enlarge or restrict this right," the brief sets forth.

The Control Act This alleged common law right is claimed not restricted by the Liquor Control Act of the 1933 General Assembly, which, according to the claims of the brief, provides penalties for violations of regulations by permittees and does not prohibit the sale of liquor by non-permittees.

Judge Fuller took the brief under consideration and continued the case for one week to allow Prosecuting Attorney E. Gaynor Brennan time to study the claims and file an answering brief, if he so desired.

Defense a Surprise Mr. Brennan was a member of the

GERMAN WORKERS HAVE NO FREEDOM

New Labor Laws Make Them Same As Private In Army; Details Of Regulations.

Berlin, Jan. 17.—(AP)—The German worker will hereafter be in relation to his boss what a private in the army is to his captain.

Under the law, if a factory owner or captain of industry is benevolently inclined, workers may enjoy a patriarchal regime in which the employer and the government, working hand in hand, will give him all material comforts—and even spiritual diversion.

Has No Freedom The worker's freedom, however, will be banished forever. If he disobeys, fines or other penalties may be imposed.

In addition, labor's time honored rights of striking to obtain better conditions and collective bargaining are abolished under the law as are lockouts on the part of the employer.

Arrest Japanese Taking Pictures Were Photographing Bridges In New Jersey Meadows; Are Closely Questioned.

Kearny, N. J., Jan. 17.—(AP)—Kureji Takahashi, secretary of the Board of Tourist Industry of Japan, and the four Japanese engineers who were taken into custody with him when police found them photographing bridge structures in the Hackensack meadows, will return here from New York today to have their passports examined.

Although the five are questioned at length late yesterday and last night, Captain of Detectives John Helmsley said the only question involved was the regularity of the men's entry into the United States.

Had No License Takahashi, however, was charged with driving an automobile without a license and using another person's license.

CONGRESS RUSHING MONETARY ACTION; IS CONSTITUTIONAL

President Gets Affirmative Opinion From Attorney General On Plan To Take Over All Monetary Gold; Bill To Be Speeded By Legislators.

Washington, Jan. 17.—(AP)—Congress had a far-ahead glimpse into the administration legislative program today while setting out to dispatch the business more immediately at hand, the extraordinary monetary bill.

Rejoicing that it was given jurisdiction, the House coinage committee put aside its dollar stabilization hearings to polish the Roosevelt dollar bill. Senatorial doubts, meanwhile, had White House word that President Roosevelt obtained an affirmative opinion from Attorney General Cummings on the constitutionality of his plan for the Federal government to take over all monetary gold before he put it into a recommendation for the legislation.

Additional Funds There also fluttered in the capitol from the moment the Pennsylvania avenue news that the promised request for over $1,100,000,000 of additional recovery program funds for this year will be along soon.

Trailing behind a few weeks will be what Mr. Roosevelt has to say on Stock Exchange regulation, war debts, tariff reciprocity powers, railroad and general transportation questions and more government agency consolidation.

Out of the money to be spent between now and June the Civil Works Administration will be financed.

Liquor Regulation Unmindful of National disputes for the moment, the Senate took time today for renewed consideration of the District of Columbia liquor regulation bill. Committee banking and air mail investigations attracted many auditors there; while the House busy with the Interior Department appropriations, had little out of the ordinary to offer. Possibility of a banking committee contest against the coinage committee there for jurisdiction over the Federal mint-gold dollar provided one long chance for fireworks, however.

Chairman Smith of the Senate agriculture committee laid plans to introduce a bill to prohibit government cotton crop predictions, which he insists do not truly reflect the crop's condition and which "disturb" the market.

E. E. George, Memphis, Tenn., farmer, told the Senate agriculture committee he believed the government "how any one could object" to the Bankhead bill to control the cotton surplus by licensing gins. Southern planters, he said, "are planning to intensify their cotton cultivation this year in an effort to make as much as 25,000,000 acres this season as they did on 40,000,000 last year."

Congressmen, their interests being as varied and full as those of the many-sided sections electing them, found in town-town developments more material for reflection, including:

The FWA continued to allot millions for job-making construction, setting aside almost $8,000,000 for 83 new Federal projects in 23 states.

It became apparent that the administration will make no effort to extend the life of the Hawes-Outing Philippine independence bill, which expires today but it will hold the opinion that this legislation can always be revived.

Meanwhile, independence for the Philippines within two or three years, providing the United States grants ten years' preferential trade relations after independence, was proposed to the President by the Quezon delegation from the island.

Suggested alternative was a flat grant of independence on July 4, 1940, with present trade relations between the two countries to continue until then.

Treasury officials said they foresaw no money war between the United States and Great Britain, but to the contrary considered the prospect was for both nations to go along on something like the existing ration between their currencies.

The Federal surplus relief corporation, to warm the needy, purchased 1,052,000 cotton blankets from 13 States operating cotton mills in New England and the south.

VALLEE DESCRIBES MARITAL TROUBLES

Crooner Arrives In New York And Tells About Wife's Telephone Talks.

New York, Jan. 17.—(AP)—Rudy Vallee, crooner, came back to town from Hollywood today with his marital troubles pressing heavy against his lawyer's mind.

Not were the troubles so far from Rudy's. Both of them sat in the singer's nicely appointed office on 57th street after their arrival on the Century and went over the whole controversy between him and Fay Webb Vallee, his wife.

Valley sighed: "My marriage cost me a lot of money."

The lawyer, Hyman Bushel, said: "Didn't I tell you, the whole thing's a big stickup."

Vallee mentioned Gary Leon, adagio dancer, and said he would have much more to say about him when the courts got around to hearing about it. Just offhand somebody said: "Why didn't you punch him in the nose?"

Vallee stopped toying with a paper cutter and said "Lay off the bawling, now. We aren't school boys. A hot word would be a fool to go out and poke a man."

The man who mentioned it said

OPERATING TABLE USED AS EXHIBIT

Wheeled Into Chicago Court Room At Wynkoop Murder Trial.

Criminal Court Building, Chicago, Jan. 17.—(AP)—The operating table which was the death bed of Rheta Gardner Wynkoop was trundled into court again today to play an important part in the trial of Dr. Alice Lindsay Wynkoop, accused of murdering her daughter-in-law.

While the 62-year-old defendant who yesterday suffered a "dizzy spell" when the gruesome articles of evidence were introduced, watched without outward show of emotion, Policeman Walter Kelly deposed in minute detail the appearance of the slain girl as she was found on the night of November 21.

The defense showed special interest in the position of two pillows which were under the girl's head, and directed Policeman Kelly to indicate the exact manner in which they lay.

Stormy Scene Kelly was placed on the stand following a stormy scene in which Milton Smith, one of the defense attorneys, completed his cross-examination of Policeman Arthur F. March. March yesterday identified the blood-stained undergarments worn by Rheta, blood-stained sheets and blankets, the operating table and described the condition of the operating room in the basement of Big Strike Begins Communications throughout the republic were tied up shortly before noon when government telegraph and postal employees walked out.

They were joined shortly in their strike by employees of the Department of State, Public Instruction, Public Works, Justice, Agriculture, and the Interior.

A spokesman for their strike committee declared: "This is not a political strike; it is simply a protest against the military dictatorship which Cuba is suffering at present."

PLANE GROUND BY HEAT AFTER 70 BELOW WEATHER

Edmonton, Alta., Jan. 17.—(AP)—Grounded by the heat, Pilot W. L. Brintell, president of Mackenzie Air Services, was held four days in a region gripped by Arctic weather.

On a flight into the Nahanni river country 500 miles north of here, Brintell took off from Fort Simpson in 70-below zero weather.

As the flight progressed into the mysterious Nahanni land of "tropical valleys," he flew into a chinook—a warm current which swept in over the mountains.

Within a short time the air was so warm that heavy grease, plastered on the springs of his airplane, led the undercarriage.

When he landed it was to remain grounded by the heat for four days while the balmy winds melted the snow. It was, in the middle of an Arctic winter, actually too hot for flying. The airplane specially fitted for the frigid conditions of midwinter, heated up too much in the warm upper air.

After his four day holdup, Brintell took the southern path again, only to be held up in Fort Smith, two days later by a raging snow-storm. Here he was again grounded, but for directly opposite causes, for another day.

Justice Department officials decided that work of cleaning up prohibition cases would be centralized in Washington.

Ralph Pultizer, of the newspaper publishing family, was named a deputy administrator of NARA, to have charge of the newspaper and allied codes when they are approved.

At the Senate air mail investigation R. L. John, formerly personal secretary to W. Irving Glover, second assistant postmaster general in the Hoover administration, testified

PAPER CARGO AFIRE

Bridgeport, Jan. 17.—(AP)—Reflection of flames in the mirror of his truck as he was driving through Southport early today caused Edward Beck of Springfield, Mass., to discover the trailer and a nine and one-half tons load of paper on fire. The blaze which is believed to be of incendiary origin by Beck and the Southport fire department, was checked. The truck is owned by the Sommers Motor Line of Springfield, Mass. The incendiary origin theory is based on the sudden burst of flames. Fire officials point out that paper does not burn that way and it might indicate the use of some inflammable fluid.

$200,000 BLAZE

Watkins Glen, N. Y., Jan. 17.—(AP)—Fire early today destroyed three business and residence buildings and damaged four others with an unofficially estimated loss of $200,000. Six families were driven out by the flames.

GREAT WORKS OF ART DISCOVERED IN TURKEY

Washington, Jan. 17.—(AP)—Thomas Whittemore, Boston archaeologist and director of the Byzantine Institute, who is in charge of the restoration of mosaics in the historic mosque of St. Sophia at Istanbul, told newspapermen today his workers have uncovered art treasures which far surpass examples by Byzantine artists in any of the famous world museums.

"We have already done enough to discover that the walls of St. Sophia contain work which outranks anything yet discovered," Whittemore said.

"Many of the mosaics are concealed only by layers of paint, but some of them have been plastered over. We are using only metal tools in uncovering and restoring them and shall not resort to acids or anything which will damage the colors."

A BOOK A DAY

SAILED 3,600 MILES IN A 23-FOOT BOAT

Heroic Seamen of "Bounty" Described in This Novel

That 19 men could travel 3,600 miles across stormy seas in an open boat 23 feet long seems almost beyond belief. It actually did happen, though, back in the golden age of English seafaring, and in "Men Against the Sea" by Charles Nordhoff and James Norman Hall, the feat becomes the basis for one of the finest seagoing novels you ever will read.

This book continues the story which the same authors began early in their excellent book, "Mutiny on the Bounty."

That book, as you may remember—and if you didn't read it you are urged to do so without delay—told how the British seaman, Bounty, sailed to Tahiti in 1789 to collect breadfruit trees for transplantation in the West Indies.

On the way home the crew mutinied against the severity of the ship's commander, Captain Bligh. The captain and 18 loyal seamen who stuck to him were set adrift in the ship's launch and the ship went on her way in the hands of the mutineers.

"Men Against the Sea" tells how Captain Bligh got his men to safety. It is a truly amazing story of heroism, determination, and endurance.

Unarmed, they could not land at any of the islands they reached, because of hostile savages. There was nothing for it but to sail. Near Tahiti in the Dutch East Indies, 3,600 miles away, battling storm and hunger every mile of the way, enduring astounding privations and finally, incredibly, coming through safely.

The authors make a genuinely excellent book out of it, and the reader who likes sea stories will greet it with vast delight. Published by Little, Brown and Co., the books sells for $2.

WALL ST. BRIEFS

New York, Jan. 7.—The Annalist's preliminary index of business activity for December was 69.2, a slight upturn following four months of recession. The November figure was 68.4 and October's 72.4. Except for a further pronounced decrease in the index of cotton consumption caused by voluntary curtailment under the code, the combined index would have shown a larger gain, the publication says.

November shipments of pneumatic castings totaled 2,197,485 units, a decrease of 13.4 percent from October but a gain of 28.4 percent from November, 1932, says the Rubber Manufacturers' Association, Inc. Production was 3,039,386 castings, 11.4 percent under October and 31.9 percent above a year ago.

BELIEVE 2,000 KILLED BY INDIA'S EARTHQUAKES

Calcutta, Jan. 17.—(AP)—The estimates of India's earthquake dead leaped into four figures today.

Some observers said two thousand was a conservative estimate of those killed in Monday's earthquake. The paralysis of communication lines made accurate information most difficult to obtain.

Officials were confining their statements to the list of known dead, still standing at 112; but reports from aviators flying over parts of the shaken area were much more horrifying.

Hundreds were reported killed at Muzaffarpur. Some said the streets were littered with corpses and that the town lay in ruins.

STATE TRUCK OWNERS TO HOLD CONFERENCE

Hartford, Jan. 17.—(AP)—The Motor Truck Association of Connecticut, Inc., will discuss Federal regulation of trucks and plans for improving the trucking industry in this state, at the annual dinner and meeting here January 18.

Officials of the association said today the organization is much concerned over the Federal bill regulating trucks, which was introduced recently in the House and that some action in this matter will be taken at the meeting.

Myles W. Hingworth, executive secretary of the association, said any Federal regulation of trucks should be deferred until a code for the trucking industry has been adopted and given an opportunity to function.

Two officers of the association have asked to be relieved of their duties at the election. They are Stephen L. Smith, the president, who has served two years, but who was recently elected mayor of Meriden wants to devote all of his time to his business.

Charles Garter was represented on a hearing on the Federal truck bill in Washington today.

MARLBOROUGH

Chester Casella, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Casella, underwent a mastoid operation at the Middlesex Hospital, Middletown, last week.

Mrs. Frank McNally has returned from the Middlesex Hospital, Middletown where she was operated on for a cracked neck cap recently.

The association will be represented at a hearing on the Federal truck bill in Washington today.

FEAR BRITISH STEAMER LOST WITH CREW OF 40

San Francisco, Jan. 17.—(AP)—Concern was expressed today over the safety of the British steamer Cape Cornwall and her crew of 40.

Not a word has been heard from the 3,180-ton vessel since yesterday when she was reported in distress and leaking badly in the engine room in a message received here by the Marine Department of the Chamber of Commerce.

The message failed to give the Cape Cornwall's position, but shipping men estimated she was somewhere off the coast of Japan, about 3,000 miles west of Vancouver, B. C. Her charterers, the Ocean Shipping Company, Ltd., said they were without word of the ship's plight.

The Cape Cornwall, carrying lumber and a general cargo, sailed from Vancouver, Dec. 29, bound for Shanghai. Her master is Capt. J. Clothier.

Free Action for all 4 wheels

plus the safety of a front axle and comfort of Cantilever Springs

A GREAT deal of thought is being given today to springs. Various experiments are being tried in an effort to get independent action for an automobile's front wheels. All of which is simply another tribute to the soundness of Ford engineering and the Ford V-8 for 1934. When you drive this car you get free action not only for the front wheels—but for all 4 wheels. Ford springs provide individual transverse cantilever suspension for both front and rear axles. In the new Ford these springs have been made more flexible. This type of construction is not experimental and has the advantage of unequalled comfort plus the proved safety of a front axle.

FUN IN GOLD QUESTION

So far as any effectual opposition from the hard money men is concerned the anticipated contest over the government's plan to impound all gold and proceed to dollar devaluation seems to be already about all over but the shouting. The Republican Senate caucus contented itself with demanding, as it was quite right in doing, that "adequate" hearings be held on the monetary legislation. The emergency is not so dire that there need be any refusal to hold hearings—and it would be useful for the Senate and House to learn how many thousands of industrial leaders and big scale business men are heartily in favor of a sane nationalization of the currency.

As for the Democrats, Senator Glass is not going to be able to rally a corporal's guard of them in opposition to the administration's monetary proposals. One of the most extraordinary political jokes that has been cracked in many a long day was played by the Federal Reserve Board on that doughty phalanx of its defenders who of late have been fairly offering to shed their hearts' blood in support of the Reserve Banks' right to hang onto any profit that might accrue from possession of gold after dollar devaluation.

Those eager champions, who had clean forgotten that a great part of the Federal Reserve gold came out of the pockets of the people upon command of the government last spring, have shouted "Thieves!" and "Robbery!" at the bare thought of the government ordering the surrender of the gold to the United States Treasury for the benefit of all the people.

And now it transpires that even before President Roosevelt proposed to commandeer the gold, the Reserve Board itself had told the government, "Of course our banks are not entitled to the devaluation profit—that should go to the government. And for that matter so should all the Federal Reserve gold."

DOLLAR-TWENTY

Some member of Congress, preferably some ardent follower of the administration, has opportunity to distinguish himself and at the same time render a distinct service not only to the country but to the recovery program by making a frontal attack on a feature of that program which—while distinctly a very minor matter—has done more to discredit and make ridiculous the whole vast enterprise than anything else. That feature is the dollar and twenty cent an hour pay-rate for "skilled labor" under the CWA and the PWA.

That feature was, of course, jockeyed into the policies of these administrations by some of those organized labor leaders, who in the earlier stages of the recovery program were permitted far too loud a voice in the determination of methods, and who even yet have not been reduced to a stage of influence commensurate with their merits or their value as advisors. But the responsibility, nevertheless, is not theirs; it rests, as all these responsibilities must rest, with Mr. Roosevelt's administration. And the dollar-twenty regulation is making the whole country laugh. Mr. Roosevelt can afford to be attacked, abused, vilified—but he cannot afford to be laughed at. Laughter is fatal. Mr. Hoover made the mistake of telling the country that prosperity was just around the corner. In the bitter laughter that followed that prediction lay the impulse of the Democratic landslide of 1932. What the administration seems to be wholly unaware of is that the "skilled labor" wage of $1.20 an hour is a higher wages than was ever paid to even the most highly skilled labor, in the days of wildest prosperity, in nine-tenths of the communities of this country; and that in every one of those communities the very great majority of the people regard the fixing of such a wage scale as proof positive that "the people who are running this thing are crazy."

The matter does not reach the field of argument. It merely makes the people laugh. In that laughter there is more danger to the success of the recovery plans than in all the stupid and surly opposition of monopolists, super-individualists and selfish cabals arrayed against the administration. Because it is the plain people of the country who are laughing—people who never in their lives got a dollar-twenty an hour, even in war times when living was twice as costly as it is today, and never expect to.

Perhaps Mr. Roosevelt, Mr. Johnson and the other big lights in this administration consider this too trivial a subject to interest themselves in. If they could send their ears on tour and get the reaction of the ordinary man and woman to this one small aspect of the recovery program they might realize what a lot of dynamite can be packed into a tiny space.

TOO MUCH "WOLF!"

Whatever may be individual opinions as to the rights or demerits of the original order requiring the surrender of gold coin and gold certificates by individual owners, there is likely to be little disagreement with the position that the Treasury Department has done altogether too much nagging in connection with the enforcement of the rule.

Several times a date has been set, after which all persons retaining gold were to be prosecuted. Then, when the Department knew well enough that a good many people were still holding onto gold hoards—and knew well enough, too, who they were—nothing happened. It is not to be wondered at, then, if a certain proportion of these individuals have acquired the fixed impression that nothing will happen. Such an impression may very well be a mistaken one and it is fairly probable that quite a good many ordinarily well disposed American citizens may find themselves in fairly serious trouble in consequence of ignoring the government's warnings—in which case, of course, they will have no one to blame but themselves. At the same time it is not to be denied that the Treasury has done altogether too much crying of "Wolf!" about these private gold hoards and not enough acting.

CITY AND STATE

It is probably true that some of the most far-reaching changes in national life are those which get under way unnoticed and take shape without anyone having worked consciously for them.

Prof. Charles E. Merriam, head of the Department of Political Science at the University of Chicago, suggests that such change now may be starting in relations of city governments to governments of state and nation. Writing in the current issue of Public Management, Prof. Merriam points out that the city is coming into far closer relationship these days with Washington than with its own state capital. The city's importance as a political unit has increased in the depression years, and Washington's sway over internal affairs likewise has increased. The state capital, on the other hand, has had a progressively smaller part to play, especially in connection with affairs of cities. This, he remarks, is largely because the chief problems afflicting cities lately have been national problems, which require national action for their solution. Cities have gone short of cash, they have needed to launch public works and slum clearance projects, they have needed huge sums to support jobless citizens; and in almost every case they have turned to Washington for help, and not to their own state capitals. At the same time, state governments have been slow to give the cities the relief that they might. Metropolitan districts cannot form unified governments, to eliminate expensive waste and lost motion, without state consent. This consent seldom is forthcoming. There is rural jealousy of urban domination, there is intricate trading for petty favors, there is frequently undue consideration in the statehouse for special vested interests. "The state," remarks Prof. Merriam, "neither will grant autonomy to the cities nor will it assume the burden of administrative supervision over them. The state neither will rule nor permit anyone else to rule over metropolitan regions."

There are innumerable fields in which city activities could tie in neatly with a federal pattern—in education, in health, in public works, in public welfare services, in handling of interests of business and labor.

HARD TO FORGET

Probably it was just as well, in the interests of international amity and that sort of thing that the Senate changed its mind and struck out from the liquor tax bill the provision which would have put an extra duty on imports from nations in default on their debts to this country.

But a whole lot of Americans are going to feel that the incident ought to serve as a useful little reminder to people overseas that the debt question is something of a sore spot in this country. We probably are going to have to kiss the debt money goodbye, sooner or later, with as good a grace as we can muster. But there doesn't seem to be any particular reason why we should fail to let our debtors know that the whole business has left an uncommonly sour taste in our mouths.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN Washington

Page of Prohibition Still Loves His Child. What a Man Is Garner! . . . Mills Isn't Ready to Name Cabinet . . . Union "Kickback" Bared.

By RODNEY DUTCHER
Herald Washington Correspondent

Washington, Jan. 17.—A beautiful child of surpassing brilliance, out off in the bloom of youth, after beginnings of rare promise was mourned by a heart-broken father on Jan. 16.

The neighbors deemed it an ugly brat and a general nuisance. But not Senator Morris Sheppard of Texas, parent of the 18th amendment, upon whose grave he now tenderly will toss posies. For 13 years, on successive anniversaries of prohibition's birth, he rose in the Senate to pay fond tribute to his offspring. Repeal will not deter him from his annual speech.

It was a success," he says. "Best enforced law we ever had."

Originally, to Sheppard, prohibition was the greatest event since the Nativity. He hasn't changed his views.

In 1930: "Our country is now the light of the earth, by virtue of its moral and economic supremacy, for which prohibition is largely responsible."

In 1931, the amiable, white-haired little senator was estimating repeal would take a hundred years. Last year he was saying that repeal would "begin the moral dismemberment of America, and Texas prepared to ratify he made 40 speeches against it. Today, leaning against the walling wall, he hopes for a national re-conversion. Mighty Man Is Garner Jack Garner, the vice president, couldn't get into the Senate chamber a day or two before Congress opened. His "wouldn't" fit. After 10 minutes of fiddling, cussing and summoning, he learned the locks had been changed during the summer. "Feel my muscles!" bragged Garner when someone suggested he wasn't strong enough to bust the door. "I did a lot of bending to touch my toes and just to make it interesting, I picked up handful of pecans every time." The hardy vice president slept on the bare ground until, he says, his hips began to hurt him. Then Mrs. Garner fashioned him a feather mattress. Wet Blanket on G. O. P. Chubby Ogden Mills, former Treasury secretary and a leading Republican presidential possibility for 1936, isn't picking his cabinet just yet. Asked when the G. O. P. really would open fire on the Roosevelt administration, he replied: "You can't shoot when you're under a wet blanket." Returning Republican members of Congress feel the same way. Few arrived before the morning session opened. Not even Senator Dave Reed of Pennsylvania, who will be the most effective attacker in any offensive. "You will hear plenty from Reed this session. He's worried about the renomination and re-election and the hope is that National Committeeman Joe Guffey is aiming to be the Democratic senatorial nominee. Kickback Racket Bared The "kickback racket" is one unearthed by Senator Copeland's Committee on Crime Prevention. It's the term used in those labor unions which demand a cut-in on a member's wages before they let him take a job. Love that survives the first year is as much of a novelty these days as a mustache cup or horse and buggy.

IN NEW YORK

By JULIA BLANSHARD
New York, Jan. 17.—New York's new administration started in with much the same democratic simplicity with which the national government took control almost a year ago. . . . No high hats. No striped trousers. No gardenias.

La Guardia in the flesh is a much pleasanter looking person than his pictures would have you believe. . . . He has a habit of shutting his lips very, very tight when he is serious but when he relaxes and is pleasant, his eyes glow with merriment and his whole face softens as he smiles one of the looziest smiles in all New York. . . . He is particularly nice to children that friends bring down to meet him, always calling them by name.

When Friends Meet Phillips, movie actor, and a friend were walking down 53rd street the other noon when a street urchin rushed up and queried, "You're Phillips Holmes, aren't you?" He was a dirty hand and said, "Put it there, Mr. Holmes!" Then he asked Holmes if he would stand used in the short five day fast as taken to reduce weight. PINEAPPLE.

Many of the foods you serve at your own tables come from far away and this is especially true of pineapple. The greatest part of the pineapple supply comes to you from Hawaii and has made an ocean trip to reach you.

Fresh pineapple is not available in any great quantity and it is the canned pineapple which is now used in ever-increasing amounts, and most of the questions I receive about pineapple refer to the canned product which is the only kind of pineapple which you can get easily which has been picked at the prime of real ripeness. . . . Because the canned pineapple is gathered when fully ripe it contains the full flavor when at its best.

When the name pineapple was given the fruit because it resembles a pineapple. This has been used as a symbol to denote hospitality. As to food value, the pineapple is a very good source of the vitamins A, B and magnesium, and is considered an alkaline forming food and is therefore beneficial in correcting acidosis. You obtain all of the above benefits whether you use the fruit slices, the crushed fruit or the juice. Pineapple contains a special digestive aid which helps to digest meats. The juice also contains this digestive aid. In using the unsweetened juice about one half hour before breakfast you will find it very refreshing to the mouth. Anyone who used between one pint and one quart of the unsweetened juice each day would secure enough of the alkaline elements to build up the alkalinity of the body and would thus avoid the disease which thrives best when the body is in an acid condition. As pineapple increases the appetite it is beneficial when the appetite is sluggish. The unsweetened juice may be for past help and hope you will answer this question." Answer: I find that many patients with high blood pressure have been advised to give up meat and have tried this advice without good results. . . . However, since I have seen many cases of high blood pressure existing in vegetarians I was forced to come to the conclusion that meat is not the sole cause of this trouble. It has been my experience that a small amount of protein is needed in the daily diet and that it will do no harm when the patient has high blood pressure. With the meat the patient should use non-starchy and salad vegetables, and also the acid fruits. It would be beneficial to your father to use either no salt at all or the very smallest possible amount. I am pleased to know that you improved your health through following my instructions.

(Artificial Ear-Drum?) Question: Kant from Tulsa, Oklahoma: "I have heard there is an artificial ear-drum which I can put in my ear myself to stop ringing noises. Would you advise me putting this in?" Answer: I do not advise that you try to install an apparatus of this nature by yourself. I would suggest that you consult an ear specialist as to the best method of improving your hearing. It would also be a good plan for you to follow the instructions in my article "Ringing Noises in the Ear."

(Rice Raised in California.) Question: "Puzzled Mother" writes from Los Angeles: "My little boy has come home from school and says that rice is raised in California and that it is sometimes sowed by means of an airplane. Could this be true, and how do you think rice should be cooked?" Answer: Your little boy is correct. I regard rice as one of the "Good" starches. I believe that the most desirable ways of preparing rice is to use the steam pressure cooker or pressure cooker. If you do not have either, then cook the rice for a long time without stirring in a double boiler, so that the grains of rice will not be mashed together. Serve with butter or cream. I believe that if you will get some of the whole rice, also called brown rice, you will enjoy it, as it has a delicious flavor and contains organic minerals found in the outer covering.

NEVER HEARD OF CASE? SAYS MURDER SUSPECT

Hilton Scott Questioned By Boston Detectives Declares He Knows Nothing Of Slaying.
Barrington, N. S., Jan. 17.—(AP)—Mrs. Hilton Scott said last night neither she nor her husband could assist Boston police in solving the mystery of Maybelle Matheson's death.

At her father's home, she explained she had not been living with Scott for a few months. From police it was learned he had assaulted her last fall and was under bonds of $5,000 to keep the peace.

Scott, who has been living with his parents on the farm, said he did not know why the detectives expected him to help them with their case.

"I never heard of the girl—that is until after I read about her in the newspapers," he declared.

He said he was working in a factory about 300 or 400 yards from where the girl's body was found in January 1927, but he had never seen her.

His acceptance of a place on the committee, organized by Secretary of Commerce Daniel C. Roper, was announced today by Yale University, where he is a research associate in highway transportation.

GERMAN WORKERS HAVE NO FREEDOM

The law, designed to give the employer undisputed mastery over his employees, begins: "Within the shop an employer, as leader of the shop, the office employees and laborers as his followers, must work jointly for the advancement of the shop's purposes and for the common advantage of the people and the state."

The leader of the shop decides on all shop matters. He must look after the welfare of his followers. These must be faithful to him.

Germany's labor legislation hitherto has been a series of measures abolishing the Workmen's Councils for wage and tariff arbitration. Settlement of all disputes will be left to the initiative of the employer.

CWA BOARD GIVES JOBS APPROVAL

Campmeeting Road And Birch Mountain Road To Be Improved.

Two additional projects totaling construction costs of $10,000 were approved by the local CWA board at the weekly meeting this noon.

The two jobs approved this morning are the largest submitted at CWA board meetings since the federal administration work began here. The work will provide no extra jobs unless the CWA grants the local board an increase in the local quota of men employed.

Fire House Jobs. An application was received by the Eighth School and Utilities District for painting the fire house Main and Hilliard streets. The District agrees to pay the cost of materials. The board voted to include the work in the same project of painting the fire quarters of the Southchester Fire Department.

The South Manchester library submitted the first project for women to date, asking the board to approve a small project in the library cleaning and repairing books. Two women will be required for the job and the work will take about two weeks.

Hamlin Street Job. Upon application of the Board of Selectmen, the CWA board voted to discontinue work on the Hamlin street storm sewer job now in progress to allow the Selectmen to place additional men from the charity and unemployed lists on this work.

Chairman Aaroe Cook stated that the Hamlin street sewer job seemed to be the only project suitable for changing from a CWA to a town project to increase the number of employed. The men employed will receive town wages and will conform to the same hours as the highway workmen.

Those Attending. Chairman Frank C. Cheney presided at the meeting which was attended by Chairman Cook, Board of Selectmen: David Chambers, J. Frank Bowen, Hayden L. Griswold, E. J. Holl and Harlowe Willis.

Hollywood, Calif., Jan. 17.—(AP)—Greta Garbo and Rouben Mamoulian, her director, were back in town today—and not married or thinking of marriage, it was reported.

Reached over the telephone at his home later, Mamoulian good-naturedly denied that his journey with the actress signified romance or approaching marriage.

"All For Nothing." "There seems to have been quite a stir about there?" "And for nothing?" "No, we're not married, and there are no plans at all for marriage. We certainly weren't playing 'I spy' or hide-and-go-seek with the people."

The Manchester Green sewer advocated over a month ago as an absolute necessity, due to the sewage conditions existing at the Manchester Green school, was again referred to for an opinion.

ELECTORS IN SAAR TO BE PROTECTED

League Of Nations May Mobilize Force Of Soldiers To Assure A Free Plebiscite.

Geneva, Jan. 17.—(AP)—League of Nations circles today expressed the opinion that it may be advisable to mobilize an international force of police or troops to assure a free plebiscite in the Saar Basin where voters are to decide next year whether that area will be German, French, or remain under the League's control.

Charging that Nazi terrorism makes the Saar Basin plebiscite in 1935 impossible, opponents of the Nazi regime demanded today that the present League of Nations control over the territory be continued for another five or ten years.

Chancellor Adolf Hitler, who came here yesterday, Max Braun, leader of the "German Liberty Front," arrived today to protest against holding the plebiscite as scheduled.

In a statement to the press, Braun asserted the delay was justified by what he called a Nazi campaign of terrorism in the Saar which was increasing daily.

Without taking any action in regard to these and similar accusations, the League Council reappointed members of the Saar governing commission to serve until the scheduled plebiscite.

Checks for town bills for the month of December totaling $18,247.10 were signed after the Selectmen made a close examination of all accounts. The total paid out for December bills was $4,955.52 less than the November account, due to the CWA activities here which removed 200 men and heads of families from relief rolls.

Illustrated by GEORGE SCARBO
Washington, Jan. 17.—(AP)—A little criticism and a welcome with Senator Bulow of South Dakota, explained today, "is good for a dog." "What do Senators call each other privately and in fun? Well, diminutive Carter Glass, Virginia's senior Senator and former Treasury secretary slid into a big chair to await opening of discussions on the new gold measure before the Senate banking committee. Along came amply proportioned Senator Barkley of Kentucky with a heavy thump on the back, exclaiming: "Why, Hello there, Senator." "Calcium is the hardest mineral to obtain, of all the minerals needed for the body."

West Side Recs to Play Putnam Quintet Tonight

The West Side Rec basketball team will furnish the entertainment for the local basketball followers tonight at the West Side Rec, when they meet the Putnam Woolens for the second time in a series in an effort to square accounts for a 23 to 22 defeat suffered in Putnam some time last month. In that particular game in Putnam the local outfit gave a good account of themselves in a fast and rough game, playing the Putnam team on even terms and holding a one point lead with ten seconds to go for the final whistle, when Donnelly dropped one in from half the length of the floor to pull the game out of the fire for the home team. The West Siders have met some stiff opposition in their past few games and feel that they are capable of reversing the score and removing any doubt as to which is the better team. However, this remains to be seen and those who find it convenient to make their way over to the West Side Rec. tonight can be assured of a good game. This Putnam team is supposed to be the pick of all the basketball talent employed at the Putnam Woolen mills and holds a victory over the Collecting Company which defeated the Ansaldo Masons at the East Side Rec.

SENSE and NONSENSE

The average wife would be a lot happier if she could mend her husband's disposition as easily as she mends his clothes.

"Gloves," declares a writer, "are the most personal and individual of all human garments." The lingerie displays must have been entirely wasted on this fellow.

Distracted Wife—And is there no hope, doctor?
Doctor—I don't know what you're hoping for.

Parade of Short-Thoughts—Truth may sometimes lose a battle, but it has never lost a war. . . . The reason why so many romances go smash, is that the moonlight was mistaken for love-light. . . . The fellow who expects a lot from others never gets very much from himself. . . . There are hundreds of the best things of life that neither poverty nor poor health can take away from us. . . . Nothing like catching a boy trying to pull the wool over your eyes to make him feel sheepish. . . . A skunk is merely a cat that uses the wrong brand of perfume. . . . The modern wife has a house with hot and cold water, and a husband with hot and cold kisses. . . . Those men going around with wide smiles on their faces these days are coal merchants. . . . When a report is loudly denied, the people begin to believe it is true. . . .

When we were young we played with rubber dolls. Now that we have matured we can play with rubber dollars.

Young Man (dancing with very attractive young lady at a roadside dance)—Do you know that sap, the manager? He's about as dumb an egg as I ever saw.
Young Lady—Young man, do you know who I am? I'm the manager's wife.
Young Man—Oh-oh-oh, do you know who I am?
Young Lady—No.
Young Man (leaving hurriedly)—Thank goodness!

Lawyers often refer to all crooks as "dumbells." This is not always true. Usually the "dumbbell" type are U. S. only ones the officers can catch. The intelligent law-breakers are too smart for our law enforcement men. This is why the ones caught are called "dumbells."

A city woman, somewhat uptight, went to the country to visit her cousin.
City Woman—Is there any society in this neighborhood?
Country Cousin—Well, we have the Holsteins and the Humbergs.
City Woman—Well, those names

When you give a man something, the next thing that's likely to occur is that he thinks perhaps you might give him still more.

Women are born gamblers and more than one didn't know enough to quit until she lost the shirt off her husband's back.

Elias—I'm engaged to a wealthy real estate man!
Janice—For land's sake!

Good times in the past have depended chiefly on credit. There comes a day when a considerable number of people begin to want their money. That's the beginning of a depression.

Juror—We acquitted him out of sympathy.
Friend—For his aged mother and daddy?

Juror—Oh, no, for having such a lawyer.

Recently we heard a woman lecturer declare: "Treat a husband as if he had some sense." To which we say: "Hooray, the New Deal at last!"

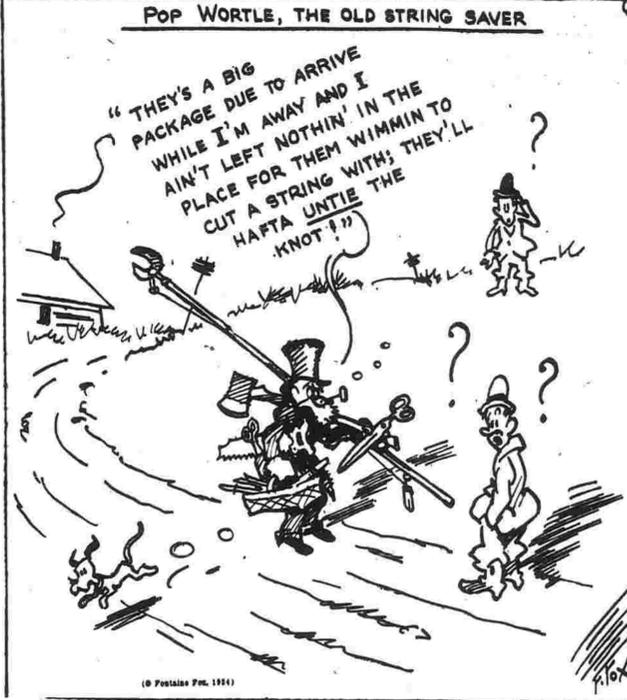

Woman—Here's a dollar for you, my good man.
Tramp—Lord bless you, lady; if ever there was a fallen angel, it's you.
