ITALY PROPOSES REARMING REICH

Says Europe Broken Up Into Hostile Groups Is More to Be Feared.

Rome, Jan. 31.—(AP)—Italy came out in favor of the rearmament of Germany as the only practical solution of the armaments questions in an official memorandum issued today.

Introductory portions of the memorandum indicate that a Europe which will be broken up into hostile groups is feared unless something is done immediately to reach a practical agreement.

It was issued immediately following official digestion of Great Britain's disarmament memorandum to French, German and Italian governments.

The text stated it embodies points brought to the attention of Sir John Simon, British foreign minister, by Mussolini during their conversations here early in January, urging each government to assume full responsibility in the disarmament question.

Italy has always favored the ideal of arms cuts, the memorandum said. Begins To Doubt

But from discussions and statements which have marked foregoing efforts at agreement this government has begun to "nourish well based doubts" that armed powers either wish or can agree on complete disarmament measures, the document continued.

While the most immediate practical step not subordinate to clauses or conditions that are already known to be impracticable to other powers is taken, the paper asserted, can hope for success be entertained.

The communiqué said otherwise the Italian government believes the question will be smothered in useless "declarations and counter-declarations," discussions and recommendations, which it states have done nothing to avoid unhappy events of the past.

JAP WARSHIPS TO OUTNUMBER U. S. END OF '36

Admiral Osumi Gives Information at Session of House of Representatives; Compares the Navies.

Tokyo, Jan. 31.—(AP)—Admiral Mineo Osumi, minister of the navy, stated to the House of Representatives today that Japan's strength in cruisers, destroyers and submarines will be slightly superior to that of the United States at the end of 1936.

The admiral's statement was presented in writing in response to persistent questioning by representatives on the relative sea power of Japan and America.

The admiral did not mention the navy of Great Britain or of any other power, but confined himself to a comparison of the Japanese and United States navies at the end of 1936 when the present naval treaties may possibly expire.

When Ships Are Built The figures assumed the completion of the present Japanese naval program for which appropriations are included in the 1934-1935 budget, now up for discussion by the Diet as well as the United States program as approved by the United States Congress, exclusive of the Vinson bill.

(The bill referred to is that offered by Chairman Vinson of the naval committee which was passed yesterday by the American House of Representatives providing for a program of naval replacements to cost $475,000,000 to $570,000,000. By this bill 65 destroyers, 30 submarines, and one airplane carrier would be constructed over a five-year period.)

Osumi's statement climaxed several days of debate in the lower house of the diet on the naval policy of Japan. Previously the navy had reiterated Japan's determination to demand increased ratios at the next conference of naval powers although he declined to indicate the extent of the Japanese demands.

He likewise declined to state whether Japan would denounce the (Continued on Page Two)

MUST OBEY CODES JOHNSON ASSERTS

Says Entire Recovery Program Depends on This—Talks to State Directors.

Washington, Jan. 31.—(AP)—Hugh S. Johnson told the newly chosen state directors for NRA and the Emergency Council today that success of the recovery administration and the entire recovery program will depend wholly on their ability to obtain real compliance with the codes.

"It is a counter NRA device in some small part at least, and depending on its execution."

He explained that under the law employees were to be absolutely free of employer influence in their organizations but that the company union was not, as such, outlawed unless membership in it was made mandatory.

Nathan Straus, Jr., New York state director, inquired whether the state men would be consulted before the selection of their labor advisors. Johnson replied:

"I think the selections already have been made by the Secretary of labor."

Straus expressed surprise, saying he had heard of the action and George Creel, the California director, inquired:

"Do you think the Department of Labor is better equipped to select advisors than the men in the field?"

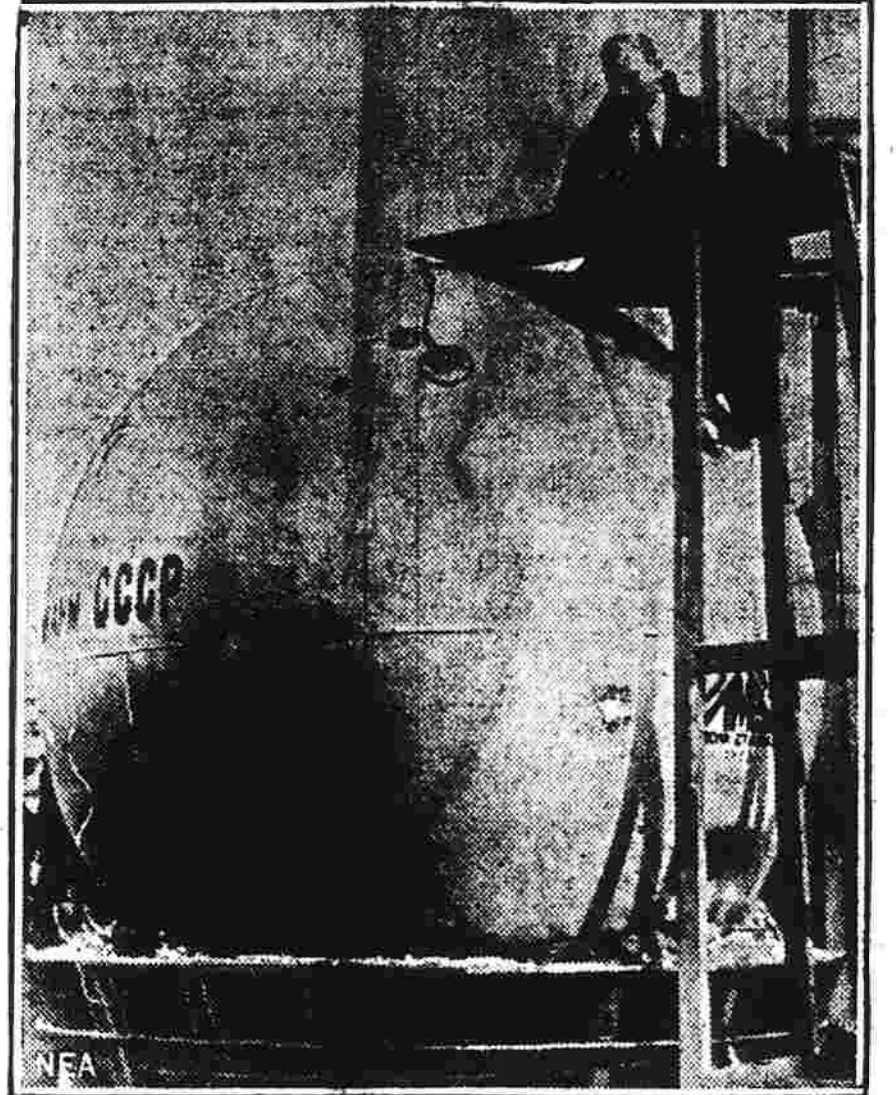

"I am not here to discuss whether it is wise or not," replied Johnson (Continued on Page Three)

Palm Beach, Fla., Jan. 31.—(AP)—Because she thought the officers were gangsters, Mrs. Amy Johnson Mollison, British aviatrix, fled when police sought to arrest her for reckless driving at Fort Lauderdale Monday.

That's the version of the arrest given by Mrs. Mollison last night when she said a thing could not happen in England.

Balloon, Members of Crew In Russian Tragedy

Commanded by Paul Fedosenko (upper left), a scientist with no stratosphere experience, the Russian balloon Osoakiakaim (above), set a new world's altitude mark when it rose more than twelve and three-fourths miles in a secret flight over Moscow. Andrew Vasenko (lower left), the engineer who constructed the gondola, also made the ascension. Today's dispatches announce death of the above mentioned men when balloon crashed.

SOVIET BALLOONISTS DIE AFTER STRATOSPHERE HOP

Three Russians Killed Trying to Land — Balloon Breaks from Gondola and Disappears in the Clouds.

Moscow, Jan. 31.—(AP)—All three members of the crew of the Soviet stratosphere balloon "Osoakiakaim" were killed yesterday, several hundred kilometers southeast of Moscow, near the village of Potiokystroy.

The disaster was announced officially today by the Soviet civil aviation authorities after 24 hours of unconfirmed reports and rumors while a search went on for the fliers who yesterday reported they had reached an altitude of 67,585 feet.

The official announcement said the crew was killed while attempting to land the great balloon. The balloon bag broke away from the gondola as it hit the ground in a hard landing. The force of the concussion killed the three occupants of the gondola and destroyed all the scientific instruments aboard.

Balloon Disappears Following the crash the bag tore loose from the gondola and disappeared into the clouds.

The official account of the ill-fated flight, as published by local newspapers today, follows in summary:

The takeoff was made at 9:07 a. m. Tuesday. The fliers were clothed in electrically heated suits when they entered the gondola which was dedicated as "a present" to the Seventeenth All-Union Communist Party Congress now in session.

As the balloon left the ground Fedosenko leaned from an open porthole and shouted: "Long live the Seventeenth Party Congress! Long live the world revolution!"

A small crowd of civil and military officials stood by and cheered. Two minutes later the balloon disappeared into the fog.

Wireless communication was established in a few minutes. At 9:16 a. m. the listeners heard: "Listen. Listen. Sirius (The balloon's call letters) is calling from 1,600 meters (approximately one mile)."

Thought Cops Gangsters, Mrs. Mollison's Excuse

The men pursued and caught her. She hit one and tried to escape on foot, she said, but was taken to jail. In court, she said, she was not allowed to testify for herself. Mrs. Mollison was fined $50 and costs.

She said she might have been driving too fast but that it was on an open road with no cars or buildings in sight and she was "certainly endangering no one."

Deputy Sheriff Robert Clark in preferring the charge against Mrs. Mollison said she tried to "stude" several times after being arrested. He charged that she drove her car through the center of Fort Lauderdale at 70 miles an hour.

BIRTHDAY BALLS NET MILLION AND A HALF

$11,000 Is Collected In State For Cripples Believe Figures Will Be Increased When All Returns Are In—Early Estimates from 41 States.

(By Associated Press) Connecticut swelled the National donation fund for the Warm Springs Foundation in Georgia by over $11,000 through its functions held last night in honor of President Roosevelt on his 62nd birthday. It was disclosed today. More than 12,000 persons in their respective communities throughout the state attended the various events.

In New Haven where Governor Wilbur L. Cross was one of the guests and in Norwalk, 1,500 persons turned out for the celebrations in each city while 1,000 persons attended dances in Waterbury, Meriden and Bristol.

At many of the observances, huge birthday cakes were auctioned off to the highest bidder to add to the fund which will be sent to the President to aid his favorite charity, the helping of infantile paralysis sufferers.

Hartford reported some 500 at the birthday ball there including David A. Wilson, chairman of the Democratic state central committee. Other places in the state reported crowds at central affairs and capacity throngs at parties held by individual organizations.

Judge John E. Mack of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., a personal friend of the President, who induced him to enter politics, spoke warmly of the Chief Executive at the birthday party in Danbury.

"No country which follows the leadership of a man so noble can ever fail, he said.

Attorney General Homer S. Cummings, another intimate of the President, joined in praising him on his birthday, although his spirits were dampened through the critical injury to his son in an automobile accident.

He sent his greeting to the President from Stamford. Throughout the state, there was just one accident reported which in any way marred the birthday proceedings. A thief stole the big birthday cake awarded at the party in Greenwich, while 700 guests listened to a radio address by the President.

(Copyright 1936 by Associated Press) New York, Jan. 31.—(AP)—Figures from 41 states and the District of Columbia showed today that the Nation's "Birthday Party" to President Roosevelt and to the Warm Springs (Ga.) Foundation for sufferers from infantile paralysis was a social and financial success.

No effort was made by headquarters here to bring in reports from the tens of thousands of cities and villages where balls and parties were held last night, but the Associated Press, through its bureaus in every state, gathered available figures which indicate that the total receipts will probably reach $1,500,000 and maybe more.

The first figures available which were incomplete and in most cases unofficially estimated, showed 787,067 persons contributed a total of $339,568 at the several hundred celebrations reported.

Philadelphia, with more than 10,000 at one ball topped the list for that form of entertainment in first reports. At Birmingham, Ala., 3,000 participated in a parade.

In New York. Throughout the President's home state couples danced and played cards, 52 communities outside of New York City reporting attendance $1,585 with receipts of $45,215. Forty major parades in New York City attracted an estimated 30,000 persons.

Gifts swelled the totals in some cities and in Washington eleven tables at one hotel went for $1,000 each to boost the capital's contribution. Inasmuch as only two hotels had reported there the city's total was expected to be swelled considerably in a final accounting.

In New England. The six New England states reported 95 celebrations attended by 90,300 persons. Estimated contributions were $27,300.

Texas, home state of Vice President Garner estimated a turnout of approximately 26,000 with receipts estimated at $85,000.

In only one state, Kentucky, was there an estimated net total. Several cities, however, gave estimates of the amount the Foundation will receive.

U. S. TO STAMP OUT KIDNAPING RACKET

Of 15 Cases Handled by Department of Justice All Were Solved.

Washington, Jan. 31.—(AP)—Congress today received from Attorney General Cummings a pledge to continue to make life as miserable as possible for the kidnaper and the racketeer—if the people are willing to provide the money.

Before the House appropriations committee in hearings made available to members today, he reported an "intensive" campaign by his department against "snatchers" and other criminals and added that it is meeting with "highly satisfactory results."

He spoke of a need for overcoming a "bright zone" between Federal and state anti crime authority.

All Cases Solved J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the Justice Department's Bureau of Investigation, in testimony delivered prior to the Brewer case in Minnesota reported that since passage of the Federal Anti-Kidnaping Act:

"We have had 15 kidnaping cases. Every one of them has been solved."

Of the case in which Charles Urschel was kidnaped in Oklahoma City, Hoover remarked:

"The ransom note demanding money was mailed from Joplin, Missouri. The money was paid in Kansas City, Missouri. The money was circulated in St. Paul, Minnesota. Urschel was held captive in Paradise, Texas. One of the kidnapers was apprehended in Denver, one in Memphis and one in Paradise. That covered a territory of thousands of miles, almost equal to the territory of Europe."

"Although believing that 'detection of crime can no longer be carried forward by so-called strong-arm methods,' Hoover said his men won't be without strong-arm weapons.

"We have now equipped all our field offices with the sub-machine gun, with rifles and with gas equipment," he said.

"HAPPIEST BIRTHDAY," DECLARES PRESIDENT

Leaves "Buddy" Party to Express Gratitude by Radio in Behalf of Crippled Children for Party Aid.

Washington, Jan. 31.—(AP)—Across the greatest pile of greetings ever known to modern times—from crowned heads and humble ranklin D. Roosevelt today looked back on what he adjudged the ultimate of happy birthdays.

For him there was mixed in both the memories of what proved a rollicking private party with the "buddies" of 1920 and greater still in his own words, the pleasure of a "tribute through me to the stricken ones or our great National family."

The great central hall on the second floor of the White House was the scene last night of the President's gathering with those who have met with him yearly since his unsuccessful drive for the vice presidency decade and a half ago.

Stunts Were Staged There were staged "stunts" for the small group that took part. Mrs. Roosevelt had several feminine members of the White House staff looked in for a while but later the celebration was made a "st.," party.

There the traditional address of "Mr. President" was more forgotten than not, and titles became "Frank," "Louie," "Mac" and "Steve." The latter three are Mr. Roosevelt's secretaries.

It was from this private party that the President excused himself to address to the Nation his val's for more than 250,000 messages of "Happy birthday" and for the National campaign to aid stricken children that he saw blossoming from the 6,300 birthday balls held throughout the country.

Into a microphone the President gave thanks for the contributions to the "gospel for the care and cure of crippled children in every part of this kindly land."

"I thank you but I lack the words to tell you," he said, "how deeply I appreciate what you have done for this I. to me the happiest birthday I ever have known."

5,000 At Waldorf The balls themselves were by turn swanky and informal. There were in New York City 40 major parties with leading hotels providing the setting. Mrs. James Roosevelt, the President's mother, was guest of honor at the Waldorf-Astoria where 6,000 persons crowded the ballroom floor.

The Astor ball drew 2,000, and at the Roosevelt, named in honor of another President, there were 700 gathered at a ball at which wine and liquor makers toasted the President in water. The toast was their salute to the President. The water was to symbolize their belief in temperance.

New York, Jan. 31.—(AP)—A 30-year-old bookkeeper, imprisoned for embezzling funds from a five-and-ten-cent store chain, was featured today as the agent in the prison office as the gang rulers who held sway over Welfare Island penitentiary.

Vaustin H. McCormick, the new corrections commissioner whose record on the island prison created a sensation recently, transferred this prisoner, Michael Shea, to the municipal farm on Riker's Island yesterday to cut him off from contact with the penitentiary described as "the worst in the world."

McCormick said that Shea held a clerical position in the prison offices. There, the commissioner disclosed, he served for a price, the two gang factions the "ruled the prison, population. One faction was (Continued on Page Three)

Chief Executive Given Power to Devalue Dollar; Will Soon Make Announcement

Washington, Jan. 31.—(AP)—Armed at last with the power he sought, President Roosevelt left Congress today to the shimmering appropriations and St. Lawrence treaty disputes while he set about to devalue the dollar formally. His monetary lieutenants were beckoned into a conference considered important enough to defer the usual Wednesday morning meeting with the press until late afternoon. Capitol Hill anticipated nothing out of the ordinary, a dollar of at least 40 per cent less than the present gold content being now accepted as a matter of course.

missioner in Charge.

An aerial survey and photographic map of the entire area of the State of Connecticut, which will be used for various purposes by the State Planning Board including the planning of future development of the state highway system, will be made during the first half of the present year under a contract which has been signed with Fairchild Aerial Surveys, Inc., according to an announcement made today by Highway Commissioner John A. Macdonald who will act for the State during the making of the survey.

The photographic work will be done from airplanes at a height of 12,000 feet above the terrain and the scale of the map will be one inch per 1,200 feet. A photographic map of this size will give the characteristics of the terrain in great detail.

In order to bring the detail out sharply, the photography will be done while the trees are leafless and while the amount of snow on the ground is not sufficient to mask the true features of the ground. It will also be done under conditions most favorable for aerial photography with respect to sunlight, wind velocity, haze, smoke and the like.

According to the contract the State is to furnish the airplanes and pilots and the contractor the photographers and photographic equipment.

The number of photographs taken will be sufficient to reveal stereoscopically each point in the area of the State and of neighboring states for a distance of half a mile beyond the boundary lines.

Copies of the various sections of the aerial map will be available to state commissions and city and town municipal planning commissions at a cost which will vary in inverse ratio with the number of prints ordered.

Some suggested the meeting adjourn, but one farmer shouted: "That fire can't get through a brick wall. Let's go ahead. This corn and hog thing looks good to us." Not a farmer left until Karr finished his talk.

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 31.

at least with reference to monetary activities.

Mr. Mills, for instance, declares in terms that he can see no reason for our having gone off the gold standard and says that uncertainty as to the ultimate value of the dollar destroys confidence, hinders business decisions, commitments and activity, inhibits credit expansion and brings about stagnation in the capital market. And on the very day on which he delivers his address there comes from the First National Bank of Boston, one of the major financial institutions of the East, a bulletin which says, "The tentative stabilization of the dollar between 50 cents and 60 cents, as provided by the gold bill, will temporarily at least mitigate the uncertainty over the money standard which has prevailed since the United States suspended gold payments."

Certainly the First National Bank of Boston cannot be accused of being a tail to the Roosevelt kite.

"Then there is the powerful Committee for the Nation, a very large majority of whose members are Republican industrialists, which criticizes the administration not for inflationary policies but for not being inflationary enough. And there is the normally Republican Midwest and West, many of whose congressmen and senators voted for the gold bill with a whoop—and for the Wheeler silver amendment which barely lost out.

Certainly Mr. Mills did not speak for anything like the whole Republican party on the money question. As a matter of fact he probably spoke for an extremely small part of it. He spoke as a deflationist—and deflation has no more friends in the Republican party than in the Democratic, very few now in either.

Mr. Mills was on firmer ground when he declared his faith that in the future the "hardships of unemployment must be mitigated by the development of a sound system of systems of insurance" and by the tariff reciprocity principles of McKinley. But it is doubtful if he can win many followers to the theory that prosperity can be restored only through such a wave of optimism that capital goods production—which is another phrase for building "efficient" factories and machinery—will be resumed on the scale of the crazy twenties. No political party is going to get anywhere by promoting or trying to promote industries whose prosperity depends on throwing the workers in other industries out of their jobs.

It is somewhat doubtful whether the time has arrived for the Republican party to attempt even to commit itself to either a political and economic policy. It is pretty certain that when the time does arrive for setting a course, even for the immediate future, the party will not accept any program laid down for it by Mr. Mills and the fast dwindling group of standpatters with which he is identified. He and they are much too closely identified with the circumstances that made the Roosevelt administration and its revolutionary experimentation a possibility.

Time is passing and it is, of course, apparent that the longer the formulation of a tacit party policy is deferred the more difficult it is likely to be to align the party in all its potential strength in time for the Presidential campaign of 1936 to say nothing of the Congressional elections of next November. Mr. Mills and his associates have therefore, in all probability, decided that the element of time must be permitted to be the dominant factor in policy framing, and that the G. O. P. can better afford to risk making mistakes in the nature of its criticism than it can to wait for the developments of the next few months.

MILLS PROGRAM

Ogden Mills, former secretary of the treasury, at Topeka, Kan., on Monday evening undertook the task, difficult at this time, of providing the Republican party of the country with a core upon which it might crystallize its force and effectiveness as an efficient opposition party during the Presidency of Mr. Roosevelt.

Time is passing and it is, of course, apparent that the longer the formulation of a tacit party policy is deferred the more difficult it is likely to be to align the party in all its potential strength in time for the Presidential campaign of 1936 to say nothing of the Congressional elections of next November. Mr. Mills and his associates have therefore, in all probability, decided that the element of time must be permitted to be the dominant factor in policy framing, and that the G. O. P. can better afford to risk making mistakes in the nature of its criticism than it can to wait for the developments of the next few months.

It might have been better to have deferred this Topeka speech until further tests had developed the sentiment of the Republican members of Congress—who are certainly reasonably in touch with the sentiment of their constituencies—toward the various aspects of the New Deal, and further contacts with Republicans in business and industry had developed sentiment, too, in those circles. Manifestly it is not the best of politics to attempt to formulate a policy of criticism of the administration without being pretty well informed as to the extent to which that policy will prove acceptable to the backbone of the party. It is very much to be doubted whether the majority of the business men and industrialists of the country who have always been Republicans and are still Republicans will be at all ready to go along with Mr. Mills in the policy he has set, deno, from the first to the last man?

Why should this be so? What is there about the military training to make a man so superior to the average of his countrymen in matters of business responsibility? The Army and Navy do, of course, teach a very fine and lofty code of personal honor. But so do the Sunday schools and the churches and some fraternal organizations—without very closely approaching, sad to say, one hundred per cent results.

A good deal of the Army's impeccability in business and money matters, beyond shadow of doubt, is due to the fact that men who go into the profession of arms are animated by other impulses than the desire for gain, else they would not be Army or Navy officers. When their palms itch it is not for the feel of cash but of sword hilt or pistol butt. When they think of distinction it is the distinction of promotion and honorable mention, not of display of personal possessions.

Here, then, is one group of men whose training in honor and loyalty and duty is not qualified by the overweening instinct of avarice. They wouldn't be in the United States military service if it were.

We are not exalting the profession of arms. We are simply suggesting that at least it is one profession where the ruling passion is not the lust for gain. Which easily can account for our unreasoned faith that an Army officer will be dead sure to run a CWA office without grafting, while we have no such faith concerning the lawyer, the politician, the butcher, the baker or the candlestick maker.

TEN PER CENT

If the naval construction bill goes through as it was passed by the House yesterday much of the gravy will be missing from the aircraft contracts to be let under it. Provision is made in the bill for 1184 planes to be built within five years, and a related amendment introduced by a New England Republican, Tobey of New Hampshire, limits the profit to be made by the manufacturers to 10 per cent of the gross contracts.

This is, of course, a direct result of recent revelations concerning the huge profits derived from the promotion of aircraft factories and from government mail contracts. It has never been shown that the actual profits of the aircraft manufacturing industry were scandalously excessive. Thirty-six per cent profit is fairly fat, of course, but judged by the standards of the boom periods, it is really modest. The members of Congress, however, evidently had in mind the unbelievable rakeoff of aircraft promotion and swung their axe accordingly.

Still and all, ten per cent profit—actual profit after all proper charges—is not so bad. It is, as a matter of fact, probably about the limit of margin which business generally will stand without defeating itself and destroying consumer purchasing power.

Health and Diet Advice
 By Dr. Frank McCoy

THE SLEEP CURE
 You really need sleep more than you need food, as you can do without food for thirty days or longer, but five days is about as long as you can do without any sleep.

Undoubtedly sound, restful sleep has a great value and the average person does his best work the next day after six to eight hours of deep slumber. When it comes to sleep, the average human being has no record such as that held by animals like the hedgehog and the bear who actually sleep several months at a stretch.

Sleep is a great restorer and one of the most necessary healing measures. I know that you want to be a success in life and your success depends to a large degree on the habit of regular, restful sleep. People very often neglect sleep and forget that the sleep cure is one of the best helps to staying healthy. If you are sick, the deep repose found in restful slumber will bring rich rewards in building up better health and stronger nerves for you. The almost magical change which a good quiet sleep will bring about in the way you feel, will make you eager to secure all the benefits of regular rest. Sleep is an inexpensive beautifier and after a sound sleep the skin appears velvety, the face is smooth and free from lines, and the eyes are bright.

How much you should sleep will depend upon your own individual case. The best plan is to experiment and try to find out what number of hours makes you feel the best. The average person gets along with six to eight hours of sleep but the sick person may need from eight to twelve. When you go to sleep, be sure that you have plenty of fresh air. You will also sleep better if the blankets or bed covering are of just the right weight to keep you warm but are not heavy enough to oppress you. In choosing the mattress and springs for your bed, the best plan is to pick out those which enable you to secure the most comfortable sleep possible. I would strongly advise you to treat yourself to a comfortable bed as you will find that the many benefits to be derived will more than repay you for the money it cost.

If you find it hard to drop off to sleep, I would advise that you put a hot water bottle at your feet as this helpful measure will usually produce very good results.

I want you to form the habit of trying to sleep in various positions; for example, sleep on the left side, the right side, flat on the stomach and so on. In this way you give the different groups of muscles a chance to relax and you will avoid that cramped feeling which occurs when you try to sleep too long in any one position.

The first few hours of sleep are the soundest and taking enough exercise to make you physically tired will in every case cause your sleep to be deeper. The man who has done a hard day's work, whereby the muscles are fatigued, will find it as easy to go to sleep as to roll off a log. For this reason, exercise really helps you to sleep better, and you will find that after exercising you will sleep more.

You may be sure that, if you find it hard to sleep, then this refreshing repose is one of the things you most need. In case you suffer from sleeplessness or insomnia, I would advise you to write to me for my article on this subject. Write to me in care of this newspaper and please follow the instructions for Questions and Answers as given at the heading or end of this article. Enclose one large, self-addressed envelope and a loose 3c stamp with your letter and I will be glad to see that you get the article on sleeplessness.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
 (Intestines Probably Not Paralyzed)
 Question: From Chicago, Ill.: "I believe that my intestines are totally paralyzed and I never secure any natural stimulation and have to take a mild laxative."

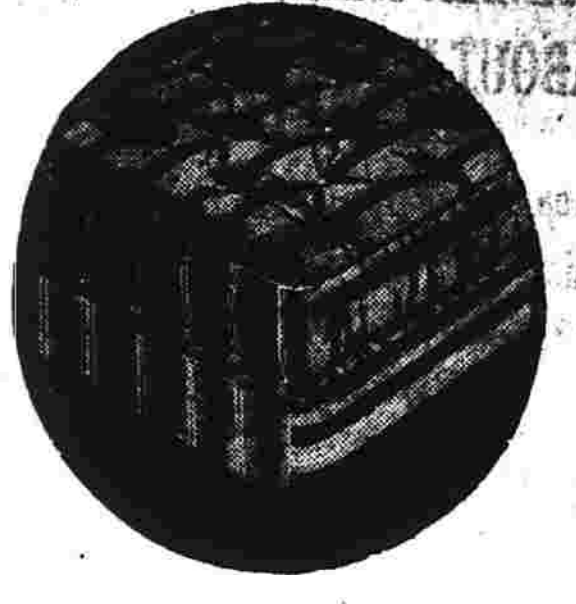

Answer: I doubt very much if your intestines are completely paralyzed as, if they were, you would not be able to secure any results with a mild laxative preparation. It is probable that you have some condition such as a spastic contraction or perhaps a kink in the intestines or possibly adhesions. I have seen many cases where such abnormal intestinal conditions were entirely overcome and the natural stimulation of wastes two or three times a day was again established.

(Pure Tomato Juice New On Market)
 Question: Clyde of Seattle, Washington, writes: "I have been wondering if there is any way that I could buy plain tomato juice in cans such as you recommend."
 Answer: Yes, several companies are canning pure tomato juice and, if you will go to the market, I feel sure that you will find a brand which is entirely satisfactory to you.

(Has Pleurisy Attacks)
 Question: Aunt Grace of Christopher, Ill., writes: "I have a nephew who has had several attacks of pleurisy. Have you any instructions regarding pleurisy which would be helpful to him?"
 Answer: Yes, I have an article giving the treatment for pleurisy which I could send to you. If you would like to see the article, I would appreciate it if you will write me again and will accompany your letter with a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

DILLINGER TALKS ABOUT HIS CRIMES

Indiana Bad Man Refuses to Admit That He Murdered a Policeman.

Crown Point, Ind., Jan. 31.—(AP)—John Dillinger, the swashbuckling Indiana bad-man tamed by Arizona peace officers, was behind steel bars in the county jail here today apparently resigned to his fate—a fate which the state hopes will be his execution for killing a policeman.

Apparently deserted by his pals who are reputed to have taken an oath to "kill coppers" the desperado was brought back to Indiana last night and placed in a solitary cell.

There, while the state made preliminary plans to try him for the slaying of Policeman Patrick O'Malley during a recent $20,000 bank robbery at East Chicago, Ind., the gang leader began to talk, confessing, Prosecutor Robert G. Estlin said, to robberies totaling over $250,000. He denied, however, he had slain Policeman O'Malley.

Admits Robberies

"Dillinger," said the prosecutor "is convinced he's going to burn so he's talking. He admitted bank robberies at Racine, Wis., St. Mary's, Ohio, and Green Castle, Ind., and said it was his boys who liberated him from the Lima, Ohio, jail.

It was during the Lima jail delivery that Sheriff Jess Barber was shot to death.

Fight Out of Him

All fight out of him, Dillinger talked agreeably with newspapermen and told them he had learned in St. Louis before he went to Arizona that John Hamilton one of his henchmen, had been slain, but the authorities discounted the story.

Hamilton one of the Indiana convicts who made a sensational escape from the Indiana state prison at Michigan City last fall, is wanted in Chicago for slaying a policeman and officials said they believe Dillinger was attempting to "cover up" for his pal.

Dillinger said that a "buddy" of Hamilton's had told him of Hamilton's death and had given him $7,000 to deliver to Hamilton's children, adding that this money was part of that taken from him at Tucson, where he and a group of his followers were arrested last Thursday.

PRESENTS PURPLE HEART INCORPORATION BILL

U. S. Senator Loneragan to Introduce Measure — Headquarters in Ansonia.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 31.—A bill granting a charter of incorporation to The Purple Heart Association of the United States, which has its national headquarters and officials in Ansonia, Connecticut, will likely be introduced in the Senate by Senator Augustine Loneragan, (D.) Connecticut, he said today.

The Association had its inception in September, 1932, the Senator said, and is composed of veterans who were disabled in actual combat during the World War, and who have received the Purple Heart decoration of the United States Government. The Association now has chapters in California, Washington, Minnesota, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, New York and Massachusetts, besides the organization in Connecticut.

BUCKINGHAM

The Buckingham Community Players will present their introductory program on Monday evening, February 5, at 8 o'clock in the church vestry. No admission will be charged but a collection will be taken to cover expenses. The presentation will be a comedy in two acts entitled "The Red Lamp." A chorus of forty voices will be heard in popular musical selections of the day. A short business meeting will be held at the conclusion of the program.

The Buckingham church was represented by Rev. H. A. Fast and two of its members at a meeting of the Gastonbury committee of the Wethersfield Tercentenary celebration to be held June 8, 9 and 10, 1934.

The meeting was held at the home of Lewis W. Ripley on Main street, Gastonbury, Sunday at 2:30 p. m. A committee of five was selected to prepare plans for the part that Gastonbury will have in the celebration and report same next Sunday afternoon. The Gastonbury Green, located near the Gastonbury Town hall, is the place selected for the meeting on June 10. On June 8 and 9 the three towns of Gastonbury, Newington and Rocky Hill will go to Wethersfield and return home on the tenth to carry out its part in the celebration as outlined by the Wethersfield committee.

FIND OLD GRAND LIST

Greenwich, Jan. 31.—(AP)—A grand list for Greenwich in 1897, which was filed in 1905 with sixty-six names and a total assessment of $3,818 pounds and 18 shillings (about $18,000 in American currency) was uncovered here today in old files in the town clerk's office.

In contrast, the present assessment total for Greenwich is $174,752.80.

The largest amount paid in as disclosed on the old list was $165 by one John Morshall, while the smallest was $18 paid by Joseph Studwell.

The list, made out in script on yellowing foolscap was signed by Timothy Knapp, recorder.

LARGE BIRTHDAY CAKE STOLEN IN GREENWICH

Thought at First a Joke But Later the Police Are Notified — $700 Realized at Dance.

Greenwich, Jan. 31.—(AP)—A large birthday cake baked especially for the Roosevelt celebration here last night, was stolen from the ballroom in the Elks' home while seven hundred persons attending the function were listening to President Roosevelt's address on the radio.

At first, with the discovery that the cake was missing, it was believed to be merely a joke, but when the cake was still gone today, police were notified and the theft theory considered seriously.

The cake, baked by William Widmann, Greenwich baker, and presented by him for the affair, had just been awarded to Eric Brandt, a member of the orchestra, who placed it on the second floor for safekeeping.

Police are wondering how any thief could have made away with the huge object without being noticed.

Approximately $700 was realized for the Warm Springs foundation through the ball as a result of efforts by the Elks and other fraternal organizations here.

Tests by tractor manufacturers under guidance of the department of agriculture have shown that the use of alcohol as a motor fuel blend is practical mechanically but not economically as yet.

FRANK DOUBLEDAY, PUBLISHER, DEAD

Passes Away in Florida at Age of 72—Well Known in World of Books.

Miami, Fla., Jan. 31.—(AP)—The body of Frank Nelson Doubleday, 72, who was known as "the man who made publishing a business," will be taken home—Oyster Bay, N. Y.—today. He died here yesterday of an internal hemorrhage.

The firm today is known as Doubleday-Doran Co. Among Doubleday's enterprises were World's Work, Country Life, Garden Magazine, Short Stories and other magazines.

Funeral services are planned for Saturday in the cathedral at Garden City, L. I., not far from the plant where Doubleday first showed the principles of industry could be successfully adopted to book making.

At the bedside when the book publisher died was his wife, Florence. Other survivors are a son, Nelson W., a daughter, Mrs. Huntington Babcock, both of Oyster Bay, and a brother, Russell W., of Glen Cove, N. Y.

Born in Brooklyn Born in Brooklyn, he entered the employ of Charles Scribner's Sons, publishers, at 15 and worked there for 18 years. He left there to publish a magazine known as the Book Buyer, but when Scribner's Magazine was first published in 1886, Doubleday was at the helm as manager. The first books to bear the Doubleday imprint were issued 1907 when S. M. McClure united with him in a publishing venture that lasted three years, and with McClure's departure, Water Hines Page, later ambassador to England, joined with Doubleday.

The firm today is known as Doubleday-Doran Co. Among Doubleday's enterprises were World's Work, Country Life, Garden Magazine, Short Stories and other magazines.

Frank G. Jordan, California's secretary of state, is beginning his twenty-fifth year in office.

DRUNK PROSECUTIONS SHOW BIG INCREASE

13 Cases of Plain Intoxication in January Compare With Just One in December.

A startling increase in the number of cases resulting from the use of spirituous liquors was noticed in the Manchester police court during the month of January, according to records given out today which showed that twenty-two out of a total of thirty-four cases evolved from drink. In December, only six cases were before the court for similar causes.

Of the 22 January cases, five were for driving under the influence of liquor, four for intoxication and breach of the peace and thirteen for intoxication alone. In December there was only one case of simple intoxication. The remainder of the 34 January cases were for causes that included three reckless driving charges and one non-support charge. Seven persons were sent to jail and one to the state farm for delinquencies. Three cases were nolle and four persons were placed on probation. Total receipts for the month were $951.72 of which $592.46 went to the state and $359.26 to the town.

NO DRUGGISTS TAX
Hartford, Jan. 31.—(AP)—If and when pharmacists of Connecticut receive druggist permits for the sale of alcoholic liquors, there will be no state tax imposed for liquor sold on prescription. Druggists have been so advised by the state tax commission; it was learned today. Druggists will be required to keep a record of alcohol used for prescription purposes according to the information sent out from the department. At the present time, in accordance with an opinion from the office of the attorney general, the absence of a druggist permit under the provisions of the liquor control act, it is illegal to sell alcohol under prescription.

How to Reduce Heating Costs

by JOHN BARCLAY,
Heating Expert

We are all anxious, particularly in these times, to make the coal in our bins last as long as possible. Because of this we believe that by throwing a shovelful or two on the fire at a time we are getting the most economical results. As a matter of fact, however, this is very uneconomical. A thin fire allows large quantities of air to pass through the fuel bed, absorbing heat and carrying this heat with it up the chimney.

The most economical way to refuel your furnace is to carry a heavier bed of fuel, at least up to the level of the fire door, at all times. When refueling a furnace never shake down the grates unless it is necessary to make room for a fresh charge of coal. Of course, in extremely cold weather it will be necessary to put on more coal than in mild weather and consequently the grates will have to be shaken more at this time. In any case, however, stop when you see the first red glow in the ashpit. Do not shake after live coals begin dropping through. This is wasteful. If we stop when we see the first red glow in the ashpit, we automatically leave a layer of ash about 2 inches thick on the grates, which helps to support the live fuel above and prevent it from dropping through into the ashpit and being wasted.

Remember: If you use Chestnut, Pea or smaller coal, be sure to pull a mound of the live fuel to the front of the furnace and then throw in the fresh fuel to the back, making sure not to cover this mound of live fuel at the front. Then before you leave the furnace, look at the position of the turn damper and make sure that this is almost tightly closed. You will find with advantage that you can operate with the turn damper almost in the closed position and still get sufficient heat in the house. In this way you save money by allowing less waste of heat up the chimney.

ANSWERS TO QUESTIONS.

Mrs. G. W. Hudson, N. Y. There is hardly sufficient information in your letter to solve this problem. However, it appears there is improper or insufficient cold air return to the base of the heater. This is partly resulting in hot air grilles coming in from the outside. It is suggested that a large cold air return be placed at the foot of the stairs leading to the second floor, and piped directly to the base of the heater. If there is any cold air coming in from the outside, it should be shut off. All air should come from the basement or from the cold air return on the first floor.

If detailed information could be mailed to me in the way of a sketch, I would be glad to give you a more definite answer on your heating problem.

Miss J. P. T., Burlington, Vt. In your letter you do not give us the size of the boiler in which this coal is being burned.

Unburned coal in the ashpit may be caused by incorrect size of fuel, improper firing methods, and too vigorous shaking of grates.

If the grate openings are one inch or less and the draft sufficient, it will be possible to use chestnut size coal fired without the "heating fire" method. This method of firing with this size fuel should eliminate unburned coal in the refuse, provided there is no vigorous shaking of the grates.

(If you have any heating problems address John Barclay, Room 1314, 120 Broadway, New York City. He will be glad to reply in a personal letter.)

STUDENT VISITS

NIAGARA FALLS

Margaret Toman, '35, Describes Trip to Great Natural Wonder.

Margaret Toman, '35, who visited Niagara Falls last summer, described that famous scene for the benefit of those who have not visited the place.

"There are many wonders in the world but Niagara Falls is the greatest natural wonder. Niagara Falls is situated about twenty-two miles from the beginning of the Niagara River at Lake Erie. It is divided by Goat Island into two sections, the American and the Horseshoe Falls, one being in the United States and the other in Canada.

"The most thrilling adventure one can have while at the Falls is to cross the great whirlpool in the Aero Cable car. The cable car is very small and swings over the whirlpool by means of wires and a pulley. If this is too thrilling, one can take a ride on the Niagara River on the Maid of the Mist, which is a passenger ship.

"Another thrilling adventure is to go into the Cave of the Winds, which is under the Falls. In order to go here, you enter a large house and are given a raincoat, a hat, and a pair of boots. You then enter an elevator which takes you to the foot of the falls. Here you follow a small fenced-in path which leads you under the Falls. This is a very thrilling feeling because the noise under the Falls is deafening. You can imagine the noise when fifteen million cubic feet of water are rushing through the Falls each minute at a terrific rate of speed.

"Another thrilling adventure can be turned on and off at the mere pushing of a switch button, which throws on the billion candle power battery of electric searchlights which floodlight the falls. The Falls are floodlighted by colored lights—one of the most remarkable things that can be done through science.

"Niagara Falls is visited each year by thousands of people, and is one of the rare beauties of the world. Niagara Falls is said to be 'The pride of New York.'

BARNARD SCHOOL

HAS NEWSPAPER

Barnacle Has Regular Staff of Twelve Editors—Some Entering High.

Competition?—No, simply preparation.

The Barnard school has a flourishing little newspaper all its own. It has a regular staff of about twelve editors and their assistants who run the paper under the supervision of Miss Anna McGuire, eighth grade teacher. The paper is published under the name "Barnacle." Incidentally, one of our Juniors, Roberta Hansen, suggested that name when she was a member of the Barnard news club. It is mimeographed in a pamphlet form and has an attractive cover.

The staff is quite capable of, and enthusiastic in performing their assigned duties. For example, the joke editor keenly listens for school incidents that might be classified under her department, and the advertising manager scouts all over town finding business men who will advertise in the paper at a small charge, depending upon size and wording of the advertisement.

Anyone in Barnard School is entitled to write an article, and the club receives plenty of cooperation. The various editors select the material to be used. It might be interesting to know that they have an oversupply of really good poetry, and that most of the writers are talented in various ways.

This seems like good news for our High School world staff, as, through mid-year graduation, we have about ten of these editors or assistant editors in our Freshmen class.

We'll be waiting to hear from Blanche Gattic, Michael Smick, Jerry Badmington, Dorothy Wurtz, Bob Hamilton, Betty Woodruff, Wallace Plesch, Walter Boras, Gladys Addy, and Barbara Lundberg later on.

COLLIN DRIGGS PLAYS

AT RECREATION HOUR

Tells Students Interesting Facts About Rhythm—Popular Songs Sung.

Collin Driggs, well known radio pianist, recently entertained at the noon hour school held at the assembly hall each day. Everyone sang while he played many popular songs including "Annie Doesn't Live Here Any More," "There's an Old Spinning Wheel in the Parlor," and "By a Waterfall." He also played records on the victrola to illustrate rhythm. From the enthusiastic singing, it was evident that the students appreciated Collin's playing and would be glad to have him come again.

Read "Alice" Three Times, Enjoyed The Film Version

When asked for her opinion of the film "Alice in Wonderland," a member of the Junior class said: "I have read the book three times and have always wanted to see it as a picture. It was very good and I enjoyed it immensely; in fact, I think older people would enjoy it even more than the children, especially if they had read the book, because they could appreciate the scenery necessary for the picture, and also the efforts to make Alice's sudden growth seem natural."

Further questioning resulted in the following account:

"I think I appreciated most the manner in which Alice became larger and then smaller. In the play, it necessary to raise the furniture to give the desired effect, but I believe the change in the picture was made in the same manner in which Frederick March changed from Dr. Jekyll to Mr. Hyde in the picture of the same name. "Alice opened the first door she came to after falling into a hole, she found four doors exactly alike and each one smaller than the one before. As she opened each door, she became smaller, in proportion to the door. Another amusing episode was the story of the 'Walrus and the Carpenter.' This was shown on a small stage in an animated cartoon.

"Charlotte Henry, as Alice, was a very natural and realistic Alice and she played her part very well. She was just as anyone who has read the book would imagine Alice to be. The Red Queen and the White Queen played by Edna May Oliver and Louise Faenza, respectively, were excellent. Gary Cooper was a grand White Knight.

"The story was briefly as follows:

GEOLOGY ADDED AS H. S. SUBJECT

Takes Half Year Period as Substitute for Astronomy, Mr. Emery in Charge.

Geology, the study of the history of the earth and the earth's inhabitants, is being taught by Mr. Emery. Geology is a broad science and is closely related to other sciences.

The subject is divided into two parts—physical geology and historical geology. Physical geology deals with the arrangement of materials on the earth and the changes going on within and upon the earth. Historical geology deals with the history of the earth and plant and animal life during the past ages.

Geology is a half-year subject. Astronomy was the first half-year subject of the course.

EDITORIAL

WHAT HAVE WE?

Perhaps many of us have not been as thankful as we should have been during these past years of depression—we pupils of the Manchester High School especially. It could have been worse. To see how really well off we are and have been, let us imagine ourselves in a more difficult depression and consider how it would affect our school life.

After having a small breakfast, of perhaps bread and cold milk, we leave for school. We are still hungry and cold. The soles of our shoes are worn through and we might as well have no shoes on at all. Our clothes are ragged and are hardly suitable for keeping us warm. All walk because they feel they can neither afford to run their car nor pay for a taxi.

When we arrive at school, we find that there isn't any heat at all and we must wear our coats in order to be comfortable. We also find something very different about the atmosphere of the school. There is no laughter, and no exchanging of smiles. We enter the class room and find it crowded with pupils. Many of the teachers, because of lack of funds, have been dismissed, and the few that are left are held responsible for the teaching of all the pupils.

Class begins. As there are few books it is necessary for the pupils to share their books with each other. The class recitation is very poor—one of the results of the lack of books. After this unpleasant day we are dismissed and return home again to face still more cold and hunger. Are we thankful?

LEARN TO DANCE

"Jimminy! that song makes me feel like dancing! Who whom shall I take? That girl over there looks pretty good; I wonder if she can dance." Thus may run the thoughts of a high school boy during noon hour. Many of the girls know how to dance, but there are not many couples on the floor.

TANK TEAM WINS BROCKTON MEET

Members Are Royally Entertained at Y. M. C. A. in That City.

The Manchester High swimming team defeated the Brockton, Mass. Y. M. C. A. swimming team in the Brockton "Y" pool Saturday night by the narrow score possible—34-32.

Manchester splashed their way to victory in four of the seven events. Leary and Stechholz swam their way to first places in the 40-yard back-stroke and breast-stroke respectively. Both the medley relay team and the 160 yard relay teams won first places. The Brockton relay team was disqualified when their anchor man, Davis, "jumped" the gun. Lear, Stechholz, and Brennan starred for Manchester, while Davis led the way for Brockton with first places in the 40 and 100 yard dashes.

The results of the meet follow: The 180 yard relay won by Manchester (Carney, McCormick, Starzewski, Brennan). The 40-yard breast-stroke, time 30 2-5 sec.: 1. Stechholz (M); 2. Coburn (M); 3. McGuire (B); The 40 yard freestyle, time 20 2-5 sec.: 1. Davis (B); 2. Svirsky (B); 3. Mover (M); The 40-yard back-stroke, time 28 3-5 sec.: 1. Leary (M); 2. Cox (B); 3. Starzewski (M); The 100-yard freestyle, time 1:05 2-5; 1. Davis (M); 2. Brennan (M); 3. Carney (M); The 120 yard Medley Relay, time 1:17 1-5, won by Manchester (Leary, Stechholz, Mover). Diving results were: 1. Noonan (B); 2. Giard (B); 3. Stechholz (M).

The team left Manchester at one o'clock Saturday in private cars with Mr. Greer and Leland Stevens driving and arrived in Brockton about four o'clock. The team went to the Brockton Y. M. C. A. and then to the families of the Brockton swimmers for supper. After supper the boys returned to the "Y" and the swimming meet was held at 8 o'clock.

After the meet the team witnessed a basketball game between the Brockton and Lynn "Y" teams and were able to see that Brockton lost. Later a lunch of cocoa, sandwiches, and cupcakes was served to the Manchester team.

The boys played pool for a while and then went around Brockton and saw the Brockton High School and athletic field before returning to their rooms in the Y. M. C. A. where they slept Saturday night.

Sunday morning the boys got up about eight o'clock and several of the boys went to church. After church the members of the team went to the same houses for breakfast as they had for supper the night before. When they finished breakfast some of the boys went to see the outdoor swimming pools and the Ellis Bret pool where Coach Johnson was life-guard.

About eleven o'clock all the team gathered at the Y. M. C. A. and started back to Manchester. They arrived home about two o'clock.

All the boys had a great time and each declared it the best trip he had ever been on. They were greatly impressed by the cordial hospitality shown them. The boys who made the trip were: "Bill" Brennan, George Leary, Ewald Stechholz, Leland Coburn, "Ray" Mover, George Frost, Albert Starzewski, Leland Stevens, Wilson McCormick and "Bob" Carney. Mr. Greer and Coach Johnson completed the party.

BULLETIN IS ISSUED TO NEW FRESHMEN

First Plan of Acquainting New Students With High School Facts.

An information bulletin has just been issued by the Franklin Building office for use by the new freshmen entering at the half-year. The bulletin was first suggested by the Character Education Committee, presided over by Miss Mary McGuire, and then laid out by a committee of students chosen for that purpose. The committee of students is as follows: O'Brien, F. Salmonson, G. Frost, S. Oplack, F. Zatkowski, T. Freney, H. Brooks, H. Kerr, H. Berger, C. Frost, H. M. Behrend, H. Haar, W. Moore, and G. Weil. The Character Education Committee is responsible for the fostering of the noon recreation hour also.

The bulletin issued contains such things as a list of the teachers conducting freshman classes and their room numbers, attendance requirements as well as those rules governing tardiness and absence, a list of clubs open to the freshmen, class officers and their manner of election, standards for promotion, explanations of the marking system, the honor roll, and rank cards, lunch-room facilities and athletic eligibility. A foreword, dedicated to the class of '36, and a list of standards to be lived up to by M. H. S. students are also included.

This bulletin, it is felt, will eliminate the usual blunders made by students new to the school and will result in better cooperation by all.

TO ADAPT MARIONETTES

Miss Condon spent the week end in New York where she attended a performance of Vittorio Pedrocchi's "Piooli Players"—in other words, marionettes from Rome. SWIMMING TEAM'S RECORD IMPOSING

Students Proud of Honor Brought to School by Tank Stars—Hope to Beat Bristol.

Manchester High school should be very proud of its swimming team. Under the fine coaching of Mr. Johnson, Manchester High is almost certain of capturing the C. C. I. L. two weeks ago the swimming team went up to Stony College. The team worked very hard but just couldn't get the last stroke in ahead of its opponents. They lost by the score of forty-two to thirty-two. It is important to know that the team that Manchester swam against was the junior varsity team of that college.

On Friday afternoon, January 19 they splashed their way to victory against Meriden High school. The final score of this meet was forty-seven to twenty-eight. During this meet Stechholz broke the school record in the breast stroke event by the fast time of 1:34.2. Stechholz claims that he is out to bring the school record down to 1:18.

Bob Carney, the captain, certainly gave a good example to the rest of the team while at Meriden. His fight and scrap when he was swimming the two-hundred-yard swim earned first place. "Bill" Mover, the flashing fullback of the football team, came in first in the forty-yard dash.

Saturday, January 27, the team traveled to Brockton, Mass., where they edged the Brockton Y Junior team by the score of 34-32.

The swimming team shows promise of a successful season. Their swim against Bristol in two or three weeks will probably decide the winner of the C. C. I. L.

—Tom Serpilus, '35.

SMITH IS INJURED IN BRISTOL GAME

Hard Fighting Home Team Loses to Rivals in Exciting Game.

Without a bit of doubt, Manchester High school played its best game of the basketball season with Bristol High school at the Armory, Friday, January 26, with the losing score of 32-22. The largest crowd to witness a high school game this year packed into the seemingly small building to watch one of the typical fights between the two ancient rivals, Manchester and Bristol. Those who expect Bristol to give Manchester High school a royal trouncing, in an uninteresting, one-sided game, were certainly surprised and even over-whelmed to see their team come through with a thriller. This was true not only with the many spectators, but with the older-follower who attend the yearly battles.

Bristol started out with a good lead which got under the skin of the "Reds and Whites," and they immediately started to push ahead. This at first seemed quite hopeless, for every basket Manchester would land, Bristol would follow up with another. This kept up for the first half with wonder running through the minds of the spectators as to who would keep it up the longer.

Before the half, the Reds had spurted almost up to Bristol with the close margin of 18-13. This put a thrill of hope through the locals and a feeling of fear into the Bristol boys which made the beginning of the third quarter a straight fight. Manchester made the first point which made it seem certain that she was coming through, and this same feeling kept popping up through the remainder of the game.

At this point, however, Manchester was stunted by the loss of "Chucky" Smith, who received an injury to his ankle while fighting his hardest. Preceding this, "Chucky" had fought like a real warrior and the crowd was in an uproar, but at the fall of this fighter the noise died down to a whisper. Chucky had performed perfectly, teaming with Judd, and had proved real ability in passing successful shots to O'Leary, Shelton and Garone, who carried out his passes successfully.

The remainder of the game, although extremely exciting as proved by the shouts of the thousands of cheerers, got deeper each basket as the Reds fought on to the end, but the disappointing score of 32-22.

Real clear fighting was displayed in this unforgettable game between the two greatest rivals. An almost equally exciting game was played between the Manchester seconds and the Bristol seconds. Real fighting was also displayed brilliantly in this game, but Manchester also lost this game by the same number of points, score 32-28.

MISS GIST REMEMBERS MANCHESTER STUDENTS

Former Dramatics Coach Studying for Ph. D.—Teaching on Long Island.

Miss Helen Smith, head of the high school cooking department, spent a very enjoyable week-end in New York City as a guest of Miss Margaret Gist, former M.H.S. English teacher.

About five years ago Miss Gist left Manchester to teach at the George School in Pennsylvania. During the past year she has been teaching in Long Island under the New York City school system. Her present school has an enrollment of 8,000 pupils; morning and afternoon sessions are held to accommodate the large number of students. Miss Gist recalls that among her students at M.H.S. were Jacob Rubinow, Alice Modin, and Florence Schledge.

Miss Gist had complete charge of dramatics during the last part of her term at Manchester. Miss Gist holds two college degrees and is working on a third, a Ph.D., at the University of Pennsylvania.

TO ADAPT MARIONETTES

Miss Condon spent the week end in New York where she attended a performance of Vittorio Pedrocchi's "Piooli Players"—in other words, marionettes from Rome. Miss Condon returned full of new ideas for the art class which is now busy making the little actors for our own marionette show, "Rip Van Winkle."

LAGUARDIA ISSUES "A CALL TO ARMS"

State Legislature Defeats His Economy Bill; To Put Matter Up to the People.

New York, Jan. 31.—(AP)—A call to arms against legislative interference from Albany is to be made to the people of New York State tomorrow night by Mayor Fiorello H. LaGuardia in the belief that the municipal credit, not only of New York City but of upstate cities, is in jeopardy.

Moving in his characteristic vigorous manner, Mayor LaGuardia made known his purpose following the defeat of his economy bill in the State Legislature last night by which he hoped to effect economic reforms in Gotham's government and balance the city's budget.

An appeal by radio was made directly to the people of Rochester, Syracuse and other key cities of the state for support in his fight to obtain necessary legislation.

Both major broadcasting systems have offered facilities for 10 to 10:30 p. m. Thursday night. Upstate voters, the mayor declared, have only slightly less at stake than those living in New York City in the solvency of the municipal government.

He feels a breakdown in the solvency of New York's seriously threatened financial structure would react directly upon the solvency of other hard pressed upstate municipalities, and might fatally impair needed credit, even to the extent of setting back the Federal government's relief and civil works program in New York State.

The mayor early announced his intention of going over the heads of the Legislators if his economy program was wrecked. Although supported by Democratic Governor Herbert Lehman in the present bill, the mayor originally modified his bill at the governor's urging to eliminate the dictatorship features.

But it was the Democratic vote in the State Assembly last night which killed the bill, the measure falling 19 votes short of the necessary two-thirds majority. Three Democrats joined the Republican bloc to vote "aye."

The most recent estimates on the financial plight of New York City show these adverse factors, a deficit in the current budget approximating $35,000,000—unpaid land awards under previous administrations of $20,000,000—and $57,000,000 in short term notes issued last fall to meet payroll emergencies due to mature in three years.

The feature of the mayor's proposed program of economy, the most serious opposition has been his intended furloughing of city employees. A strong lobby has worked against this proposal in Albany.

MRS. ALMA OSBORN HEADS EASTERN STAR

Hartford, Jan. 31.—(AP)—Mrs. Alma Osborn of Meriden was elected worthy grand matron of the Grand Chapter of Connecticut Order of the Eastern Star, at the sixtieth annual session at Foot Guard hall, this morning.

Other grand chapter officers elected were: Worthy Grand Patron, Frederick W. Horton, West Hartford; Associated Grand Matron, Mrs. Isabelle Reynolds, New Haven; Mrs. Associate Grand Patron, Edwin R. Barrington, Thomaston; Grand Conductress, Mrs. Ruth A. Jones, Waterbury.

Mrs. Osborn is a member of Azalia chapter of Stratford. The business of the annual session was concluded this afternoon. The new officers will be installed this evening.

ROCKVILLE

600 ATTEND BIRTHDAY BALL FOR PRESIDENT

Tolland County People Participate—Cold Weather Puts Stop to CWA Labors.

Young Guard and Old Guard Democrats, Republicans and people of minor political parties and of no party joined in making the President Roosevelt birthday ball a big success last night.

The event, held in the Town Hall, was attended by close to 600 people from all parts of Tolland County. There were several unusual features, including several acts of entertainment and the cutting of a big birthday cake weighing 344 pounds, which was decorated with 62 candles.

The evening's program opened with a short concert by Prof. Arthur Stein's Orchestra followed by several acts of vaudeville, including the following: Marley Sisters of Rockville; dancing act; George D. Neff, of Tolland, old time fiddling act; Paneria Sisters Trio, of Stafford Springs, singing act; Prof. Charles Bartlett of Rockville in his loop and lamp act; Bobby LaBreck of Somers, five year old dancer; Three Black Spots, Rockville trio of dancers; Albert Jarvis of South Coventry, solo dancing.

The committee in charge comprised Charles S. McCarthy of Rockville, general chairman; Mrs. Francis Dixon Welch of Columbia, vice-chairman; Ernest H. Woodworth, of Columbia, treasurer; Raymond Spielman of Rockville, secretary.

The CWA road work on Mile Hill near the Vernon-Tolland Town Line had to be postponed for a second time yesterday because of the cold. When the workers appeared at the Town Hall yesterday morning about 7 o'clock they were sent to their homes because the temperature was close to the zero mark. This was also the case on Monday. The high winds of the day before were absent yesterday morning and many of the CWA workers were eager to go to work. The group working on the CWA job in the Memorial Building continued their labors as usual.

The master painters and their helpers completed their week yesterday and will lay off until Friday morning when they start another week.

The work in the Memorial Building has reached a stage where it was impossible to hold the regular meeting of the Common Council in its own chambers last evening. At the suggestion of Mayor George C. Schets the Council adjourned to the Police Court Room at the rear of the building. The meeting was very short and only routine matters were acted upon.

The Common Council rooms were given a second washing yesterday. It is hoped to start the painting of the rooms on Friday morning.

First Aid Class Tonight The CWA First Aid Class which was started on Monday morning will hold a session this evening with Dr. Robert P. Knapp of Manchester in charge. About forty CWA workers are members of this class.

This group is to receive the regular Red Cross instruction in First Aid Work and will have about six lessons in place of the usual ten.

Because of the activities of Dr. Knapp it will be necessary to hold these classes in the evening starting tonight. The classes will also be held at Manchester for the convenience of Dr. Knapp. This group will give first aid relief on the CWA projects about Tolland County.

Officers School on Saturday Captain E. P. Armstrong, state treasurer of the American Legion, will attend a meeting in Rockville on Saturday afternoon where he will conduct a Tolland County service officers school.

An invitation has been extended to all World War Veterans to attend this school. A very interesting address will be delivered by Captain Armstrong.

It is also hoped that Clarence Scarborough, department liaison officer of the American Legion, will be present as will John J. Connors of the Veterans Bureau. The meeting will be held in the G.A.R. rooms, Memorial Building.

To Meriden Tonight The Luther League of the First Lutheran Church of Rockville will go to Meriden this evening to attend a social which will be held by the Meriden Luther League. The party will be about 6:45 o'clock by bus, returning about midnight. An invitation has also been extended to the young people of the church regardless of whether they are members of the Luther League or not.

Properties In Town Assessed For $10,000 Or More

Herewith is presented the list of taxable properties assessed at $10,000 and over in Manchester. Upon the shoulders of the taxpayers listed here will rest the tax burden of this town this year. The tax rate will be set at the adjourned annual town meeting to be held on March 5.

The budget recommended at the annual town meeting in October totaled $1,052,598. Estimated income reduced this a figure to be raised by taxation amounting to $814,808.84. According to Town Treasurer George H. Waddell this estimate remains approximately the same now. The schools budget was increased $11,000 after the October meeting but there have been some reductions to offset that.

The grand list announced yesterday by the Board of Assessors totals $41,538,372. A 19 1/2 mill tax rate would raise sufficient to meet the budget total if there are no further reductions made by the Board of Relief. On the grand list as announced a 19 1/2 mill rate would raise $815,808.84. It is required. A 20 mill rate would raise $836,767. As drains on the charities account continue it may develop that the 20 mill rate must be instituted but if the present CWA program holds the charities will be considerably relieved and the 19 1/2 mill rate made possible.

CONSULT YOUR WIFE

for Sound Advice...

MR. MAN, you may know more about the intricacies of the stock exchange, more of high finance, more of the whys and wherefores of politics, more of this and that—

BUT, when it comes to shopping, your wife has probably got you beat six ways to the jack-pot.

Now don't let your male egoism get the better of you and just say, "The bl—k she has,"—think about it. After all, women have made it their business to be good, economical shoppers. They have devoted thought and effort to the business "you haven't had time for."

Go to your wife and ask her how she handles this shopping proposition. She'll tell you, "Well, the first thing, and it's the most important, too, is to read the ads in The Herald."

And then she'll be glad to demonstrate for your benefit exactly how reading the ads led to economies and advantages in the purchase of everything from that club steak you liked so well last night to the new dress you've just been admiring.

Then, too, she'll probably welcome the opportunity of proving to you that she can save you money and assure you of better quality by buying your shirts and socks and such for you after checking the ads. Why not let her try it? She is a real expert at this shopping business. Above all, don't forget to follow her advice when you're shopping for yourself and check the ads in this paper before you start out to do your buying.

Married Flirts

MABEL MELLIOTT

BEGIN HERE TODAY
GYPSY MOORE L.L. and TOM WEAVER are married on the same day as LILA HOTALING and DEREK BLISS, but Lila expects to live in luxury while Gypsy keeps her job teaching in a settlement school. Gypsy has to struggle to keep expenses within Tom's income. Another problem is Tom's jealousy of wealthy MARKO BROUGHTON who once asked Gypsy to marry him and whom they meet at the Blisses' home.

When the doctor tells Gypsy she is to have a baby she gives up her job. Summer comes on and is intensely hot. Gypsy and Tom move to a cottage on Long Island owned by a friend.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XXIV

Derek said, "We haven't had a quiet evening at home for weeks." He said, "I'm tired of this everlasting merry-go-round. Let's cut some of it."

Lila frowned, the expression creasing her smooth white forehead into unbecoming ridges. And she did so hate to frown! But Derek was being tiresome. What else was there to do besides what they already did?

"Don't be stupid," she said airily. She was sitting at her dressing table, a sheer lace and satin jacket thrown on over her fitted creamy slip. Her stockings were sheer, her sandals were fashioned of gilded straps. Her yellow hair was smooth as satin except where it sprang, just below the temple, into two deep, adroit waves. "Don't be idiotic, darling," she said, arching her neck to enjoy the lovely line in the mirror. "Anyone'd think you were 50 and gouty. It's a lovely party tonight."

"It's always a lovely party," Derek told her, looking more annoyed than ever. "And why do you persist? We dine, dance with the same people see the same plays, laugh at the same deadly jokes. Jove, sometimes I feel as if I were on one of those Coney Island ferris wheels and couldn't get off."

"Well, that's perfectly silly of you, and I don't know what you're talking about." Usually when she talked like this Lila disposed of her husband's "mullish" moods. Tonight he was different. He was not to be won back so tractably by smiles and soundings. He persisted in his attitude of discontent.

"It's this beastly way of living," he complained. "In a rabbit warren, with all the rest of the animals. Now if we had a house in the country, and a couple of children."

"A couple! I like that!" Lila offended by the thought of even one baby, allowed her tinkling laugh to sound at this preposterous notion.

"I'd like a house, a more simple, solid way of living," Derek said stubbornly. "I'd like kids. Wouldn't you?"

Lila threw out her hands. "Of course, darling," she agreed, as sweetly as reasonableness. "Of course! But later. Not now. We're young! We must amuse ourselves. In five years . . . in ten, perhaps . . ."

THE VERY YOUNG ARE VERY SMART AT THEIR VERY FIRST PARTIES

A Striped Taffeta Dress With Ruffled Sleeves Is Bound To Please the Dark-Eyed Miss—For the Little Blonde What Could Be Nicer Than a Mauve Taffeta Creation With Purple Buttons?

Even the tomboy child will suddenly go clothes-conscious at her first party and, unless she's just as scrubbed and frilly as her more sedate neighbor, she'll very likely turn cynical. The wallowing in the mud, scrambling up trees and other pastimes that form her boydenish allure on other days won't mean a thing to the little boys at an ice cream and cake soiree. Dressing her to look like an angel child may give your daughter a complex so that she'll act like the lady you so desperately want her to be.

Collar are white organdie and blue velvet ribbon forms the tie and belt. Mauve taffeta in the center with pleating at neck and hem, makes a dress of delicate charm, for an ethereal little blonde. The purple buttons prominently fastening the back with tiny buttons of deep blue velvet. The sleeve ruffles and demure hit at any party, and when it's made of sprigged organdie with plenty of ruffles and topped with curly hair, it's practically irresistible. Tiny red and yellow flowers are sprinkled on a white back ground and accented with a sash of red grosgrain ribbon.

himself muttering under his breath, "Better a dish of herbs where I've riss wheas and couldn't get off." "Well, that's perfectly silly of you, and I don't know what you're talking about." Usually when she talked like this Lila disposed of her husband's "mullish" moods. Tonight he was different. He was not to be won back so tractably by smiles and soundings. He persisted in his attitude of discontent.

Today's Patterns

Adorable for party wear in this frock of pale blue crepe with white tiered collar. Another frock in dotted net with a wide collar and puff sleeves.

Pattern 129 Pattern 130

A TREAT for any tot are the cute models you see illustrated here. Pattern 129, which can be made with either plaid gingham or taffeta, is designed in four sizes: 2, 3, 4 and 5. Size four requires 1 1/2 yards of 35 inch material. The collar portions in contrast require 1-3 yard.

Pattern 130, which can be made in gingham or cotton prints, may be had in four sizes: 2, 3, 4 and 5. Size four requires 3 1/2 yards of 32 inch material plus 1 2/3 yards of lace edging. The collar and sleeveband in contrast require 3-3 yard, 18 inches wide.

To secure a PATTERN and simple sewing chart of these models, tear out this sketch and mail it to JULIA BOYD, 168 PARK AVENUE, NEW YORK, N. Y., together with 30 CENTS FOR BOTH or 15 CENTS FOR EACH. Be sure to enclose on a separate sheet of paper, YOUR NAME, FULL ADDRESS, YOUR SIZE, THE NUMBER OF THE PATTERNS (No. 129) and (No. 130), and mention the NAME OF THIS NEWSPAPER.

Address your envelope to Julia Boyd, Manchester Herald Fashion Bureau, 108 Park Avenue, New York, N. Y.

GLORIFYING YOURSELF

Plenty of sleep is necessary for clear skin. Authorities estimate that adults require approximately seven hours and fifty minutes of sleep every night and that it is better to stay up one night each week than to try and get along on six hours.

Lines and wrinkles have no place in the skin of the modern woman, busy though she may be. Everyone knows that middle age is bound to bring a few lines and there's no reason to worry about them unless too many appear. As a matter of fact, they often are quite becoming and a face has more real character in it because of them.

Whenever you consult a doctor you go to him with some special complaint. However, doctors know that even when you apparently are well you may have physical difficulties which should be attended to, but which you overlook because they do not cause sufficient pain, suffering, or disability to demand medical attention.

Paris creates frivolities! Chanel makes evening accessories which do their part to dress up any formal costume. Left to right are long, soft velvet evening gloves; a lace purse lined with the same velvet; evening gloves in gold and another lace evening bag to match the gloves.

YOUR CHILDREN

By Olive Roberts Barton

When a prisoner has long existed in solitary confinement in a dark cell, he can't see when he comes out into the light. If it lasts long enough he may be blind forever. There are many such records in history.

By the same token, a person can develop mental blindness who shuts himself up in the fastness of his own hates, prejudices and old-fashioned time such a person reaches a pathological state where the sun of better things simply cannot get in.

For out and thrill, she often finds the yard and an hour's gossip with a neighbor all she wants. The bitterness of so many backbite tongues is a natural thing. They tell a sad story of starved souls, of pent-up feelings, of social inertia, and a stolid indifference to fate.

Table Tennis Takes The Town By Storm

By JIMMIE DONAHUE NEA Service Sports Writer The citizen who used to dote on mah jongg, delight in doubling the opposition at five no trump, vulnerable, and pass in pinochle with 100 ases in his hand, now spends his time looking for a little white celluloid ball under the basement stairs or washing machine.

Wherever you go you hear discussions concerning the merit of the penholder grip, finger-spin serve and the superiority of pebbled rubber paddles over the sandpaper style. And everywhere the populace, both rich and poor, is passing that pellet across a net and shouting "Change service."

The history of pee-wee tennis isn't lost in antiquity—but it's lost just the same. Historians go back to about 1880, when one James Gibb, an Englishman, found he could have a lot of fun with a ball and a paddle in a game he named "gossima."

More than 400 players from all parts of the country recently took part in a New York tournament, and at present players are on a tour through the middle west. The tour will wind up in a national extravaganza at Chicago, February 3 and 4.

Heading the parade are Jimmy Jacobson of New York, men's champion, and Jessie Purves of Des Plaines, Ill., women's champion. They will defend their titles against players from every city, town and hamlet in the United States.

As popular as it is in America, this indoor sport is more widely spread in Hungary, considered the hot-bed of the game. There the kiddies cut their eye teeth on the spheroid, play right through school, and may soon be given a diploma in the noble sport on graduation from college.

Some of the greatest players in the world, notably G. Barna, come from that country.

Japan, too, must play its table tennis, and 200,000 of the little men and women are said to be up in paddles, whaling the ball across the net. England has succumbed to the game, there being more than 600 clubs in that country.

Up until a couple of years ago the game was looked upon as a "sissy" sport. It was shunned by the manly devotees of golf, football and baseball because it was considered unworthy of the brawn and brain of a big he-man.

It is faster than tennis, because it is confined to a much smaller court—nine by five feet—and an expert can make a ball do tricks that make you think your eyes are deceiving you.

The game has progressed to a point where there is even competition similar to the Davis Cup contents in tennis. In 1932, ten nations competed for the Swatling cup, which is similar to the tennis trophy.

THREE LOCAL TEAMS TURN IN VICTORIES

Masons, Sons of Italy and Phantoms Are Winners; Heights Are Beaten.

Four basketball games were played at the School Street Rec last night. Rec teams emerging victorious in three out of the four. The feature contest found Anasaldi's Masons taking the Gastonbury A. C. into camp by a score of 35 to 21, the locals having a 19 to 6 lead at half time.

The Burnside Guards, led by Ray Hutt turned back the Heights in the opener, 39 to 26, after which the Sons of Italy triumphed the Hill Billies, 37 to 5. In the third game of the evening, the Phantoms walloped the Rockville Clerks, 33 to 20.

Says Foxx Due To Break Ruth's Mark For Homers

By BILL BRAUCHER (NEA Sports Editor) add seven more homers to Foxx's 1934 potentialities and thank Mr. Comiskey for his thoughtfulness. Sunday baseball was illegal in Philadelphia last year. On Monday games scheduled at the Shibe park ballpark had to be taken to the opponent city. . . . now Shibe park is as lovely a rendezvous for right-handed home run hitters as Walfare Island has been for financially embarrassed thugs. . . . playing on Sundays at home, Foxx should hit at least six more homers, there being 12 games at home he played elsewhere last year.

Thanks to Comiskey Foxx went to bat in Chicago at Comiskey park in 11 games last year. . . . but the owners of the premises, dissatisfied with the rate at which their Mr. Simmons was bashing the apple over the old left field barrier, have moved home plate up to accommodate him. . . . not only are they thereby helping Simmons but are inviting lawsuits filed by the kin of slain customers in the left field stands immediately after Jimmy Foxx completes his batting chore. . . . let us hasten to

MARTY McMANUS SIGNED AS PLAYER BY DODGERS

RANGERS WIN 10TH BATTLE OF SEASON Former Pilot of Red Sox Goes to Brooklyn and Experts Predict Ousting of Joe Stripp; Has Been at Odds With Carey.

New York, Jan. 31.—(AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers signed Marty McManus to a 1934 contract today and baseball sharps immediately forecast the end of Joe Stripp's connection with the club.

It all may be a trifle premature, but the strenuous effort Manager Max Carey made to get McManus, a former pilot of the Boston Red Sox, to join the Dodgers, coupled with a reported coolness between Carey and Stripp left color to the belief that Joe was on the trading block.

Carey has been dickered with McManus for some time on a player, and not a coaching, basis. Marty has played every infield position during his 14 years major league career with the Browns, Tigers and Red Sox, but is most at home at second or third base.

Not only has Stripp been at odds with Carey but likewise has been reported dissatisfied with the terms the Dodgers offered him for the coming season. The club plans to pay about $75,000 off the payroll and few members of the hapless Dodger ensemble of 1933 have escaped a slash.

Although there has been no official basis for the reports so far, rumor most frequently has connected Stripp with a trip to Boston and a place with the Braves. The latest deal, perhaps attributable mostly to the imagination of those who have predicted it, would have Stripp and Sam Leslie going to the Braves in exchange for short stop Bill Urban, pitcher Bill Betts and first baseman Baxter Jordan.

SAVOLDI TO WRESTLE JIM LONDOS TONIGHT

Chicago, Jan. 31.—(AP)—Jim Savoldi, most persistent of the heavyweight wrestling claimants, and Jo Savoldi, former Notre Dame full back, will meet tonight in the Chicago stadium ring to finish something they started ten months ago.

On the occasion of their former meeting, which was billed as the world championship, Savoldi won a fall and the match.

"Tonight's match is billed as a championship event, but the commission neither has approved nor disapproved the billing," he has, however, decided there shall be a winner. If neither gladiator has achieved a fall at the end of ninety minutes, the time limit, the referee and two judges will render a decision.

TIPS of TABLE TENNIS

Here are the three most popular paddle grips in table tennis—tennis grip, at top; penholder grip, center, and thumb support grip, bottom.

By JIMMIE DONAHUE NEA Service Sports Writer

There are three grips common in table tennis—the penholder, tennis and thumb support holds. These, by no means, are the only paddle grips used, but they are most common.

One cannot be recommended above the other because each player must find a grip that suits his style of play. One of the common errors at beginnings is to adopt a style used by an expert he has seen. This often results in a miserable game for a time until the player changes his grip to suit his style.

The penholder grip is just what the name implies. You grip the paddle like you would a pen, with the handle extending up between the thumb and forefinger, and the blade taking the place of the pen point. This hold is very effective on shots to the player's left, but has its weak points in returning hot shots on the right.

The tennis grip is made by grasping the handle of the paddle with the full hand and then extending the finger across the blade. The grip is effective on both sides of the player.

The thumb support hold is favored by the writer. It is the same as the tennis grip, except the thumb, instead of the forefinger, is held against the back of the paddle. This support at the rear enables the player to play both fore and backhand shots with equal ease, and is exceptionally effective in getting "english" on the ball in serving.

VINES WINS AGAIN

Pasadena, Calif., Jan. 31.—(AP)—Playing before 3,000 fans in his home town, Ellsworth Vines defeated William T. Tilden for the eighth time in 12 matches of their professional tennis tour last night. The scores were 6-2, 4-6, 7-5.

Tilden, starting slowly, was in good form by the second set, displaying a beautiful forehand stroke that conquered Vines. The third set was a wild affair. Vines won when he broke Tilden's terrific delivery to take the eleventh game and then smashed the ball across the net on his own service to blast Big Bill off the court.

John Roberts may set a new record by winning three major athletic C's in one quarter at the University of Chicago. He stars as a pole vaulter, fancy diver and tumbler.

Rangers Bow To Bruins, Slip Into Tie For Lead

New York, Jan. 31.—(AP)—Only didn't out a very wide swath during the game itself. Babe Seibert, former Ranger wingman, and Joe Lamb scored the goals that gave Boston a 2-0 lead in the first period, then Cecil (Tiny) Thompson held the spotlight in turning back the Ranger assaults through the remainder of the contest.

Paul Thompson, Tiny's brother, played an important role in Chicago's triumph over Ottawa but was another goalie, Chuck Gardner, who was the real hero of the game. Thompson along with Doc Romnes and Mush March, figured in all the scoring. Gardner, turning in his ninth shutout of the season, stopped 33 shots in sensational fashion as the Senators had the edge in the play.

In the Canadian section, the New York Americans defeated the third-place Montreal Maroons 3 to 2 in a game marked by break scoring and avenged last Saturday's "hard luck" loss. The Amerks couldn't change their position in the standing although they increased their margin over Ottawa to four points and kept the Maroons from taking second place.

Charter Oaks To Oppose Holland Girls Tonight; 1st Place Is At Stake

A most important and interesting bowling match is scheduled for the Charter Oak alleys at 8 o'clock tonight, when the Charter Oak Girls will face the Holland Girls of Bridgeport in a State League match on the outcome of which depends the league leadership. According to the official standing, the visiting team has won 24 and lost nine games, while the locals have won 23 and lost ten.

Can Take Lead By sweeping all three games tonight, the locals can go into undisturbed possession of first place, while the loss of one game will result in a tie for top honors. The Charter Oaks defeated the Holland Girls on the latter's home alleys last week, two out of three games and feel confident of repeating here.

The visitors have some of the best girl bowlers in the state in their lineup, including Miss Alice Diugo, who ranked as No. 1 honorary bowler of the United States by the National Congress. Miss Diugo is third in the individual state league standing with an average of 105.15 for 30 games, while Miss Kirk tops the list with an average of 108.15 for 30 games. Miss Roberge, also a member of the Holland Girls, is sixth in the standing with an average of 104.21.

Locals Are Listed The Charter Oak Girls have four members listed in the individual standing as of January 25, Flora Nelson being tenth with an average of 102.25 for 24 games, Clara Jackmore 12th with an average of 102 for 27 games, Jennie Schubert 18th with an average of 101.15 for 27 games and Gertrude Nelson 14th with an average of 101.3 for 27 games.

SOCCER CLUBS TO MEET, DISCUSS CONSOLIDATION

INDIANS TO PLAY HOME GAMES HERE

Hartford Hockey Team To Use Center Springs Pond as Their Home Rink.

The Hartford Indians Hockey team, who are to play all their home games at Center Springs in Manchester, will open their home season at Center Springs this Sunday afternoon, opposing the strong Bristol Hockey club, at 2:30 p. m.

Manager Jack Whalen of the Indians has booked teams with a national reputation to oppose the Indians at Manchester, among such as the Newburgh (N. Y.) Bears, Middle Atlantic Champions; Norwich French Club, Providence Hockey Club, Jamaica (L. I.) Hockey Club (N. Y. Champions), and many other fan attractions.

The Indians are coached by Alvin Reinhart (All-American Intercollegiate at University of New Hampshire, 1925), captained by "Whitey" Jacobsen, formerly with the Vancouver Hockey Club, and managed by Jack Whalen, recently professional with New York and Massachusetts clubs. During the season of 1930-31 the Indians annexed the title of State Champions through their winning of ten games and losing two.

To acquaint the fans of Manchester with the Indians' players and their positions the following is the roster of the Indians: Whitey Jacobsen (1), wing; Al Reinhart (2), center; Ferd. Melchard (2), wing; Jack Whalen (3), defense; Co. Hawkins (7), defense; Jack Perkins, goal, and spares of Phelps (5), Forbes (4), Kallinas (8), Scoville (9), Fairchild (10), Lindsay (11), and Palmeroy (12).

The Indians will expect a faithful following from the Manchester fans at all the games, inasmuch as they will be under the "Silk City Banner."

MARANVILLE MAY TOP MARK SET BY WAGNER

Pittsburgh, Jan. 31.—(AP)—A National League record that Old Honus Wagner has held for 18 years is in danger of being eclipsed this year if Rabbit (goes-on-forever) Maranville's aging, but elastic, legs carry him through another full season.

Wagner, the "Flying Dutchman" of Pittsburgh Pirate fame, in 21 years of active diamond warfare set a mark of participation in 2,785 games by the time of his retirement in 1916. He is now a Pirate coach. No other National Leaguer has come near that figure, but year by year the Boston Braves shortstop, now 42 years old, has been creeping up and by playing in 143 contests last season he reached a total of 2,647 for 23 seasons.

Hence the rubbery Rabbit can pass the old Pirate shortstop's record by playing in 139 frays this year. More than once he has said it's his ambition to set up a new total games mark.

If Maranville does break the National League record he still has the all-major league goal ahead of him—the 3,033 figure set by Ty Cobb in the American League.

The University of Virginia has 1 baseball games on its spring schedule, which will take the team into five states.

METRIC SYSTEM IS UNABLE TO CHANGE MILE AS STANDARD

Fans Eager to Learn If Indoor and Outdoor Records for Distance Can Be Broken; Is Held Possible.

By ALAN GOULD

New York, Jan. 31.—(AP)—The high pressure adoption of the international metric system for track sports by the American Athletic Union has failed to budge tradition or alter the fact that the mile is the standard by which the success of the 1934 indoor foot racing season will be measured.

The headline features of the campaign, the chief box office attractions for the big eastern meets are the mile races in which such runners as Glenn Cunningham of Kansas, Bill Bonthron of Princeton and Gene Venzke of Pennsylvania are entered.

Must Better These The question agitating track followers is not what any of these stars can do for the 1000 meters but what the chances are of cracking Venzke's indoor world record of 4:10 for the mile or of surpassing Jack Lovelock's new outdoor mark of 4:07.6 for the classic distance.

The "four minute mile" likely will prove to be a mirage but a competent authority as Bill Hargis, Cunningham's coach, thinks the stocky Kansas runner can do 4:04 and Lawson Robertson of Pennsylvania believes 4:06 is likely, under proper conditions.

Is Not Impossible With at least three potential record crackers turned loose on the boards, in addition to such capable foot racers as Glen Dawson, Cunningham and Joe Mangano of Cornell, this speculation may prove to be far from just an academic discussion before the season is over. Two miles in less than nine minutes was supposed to be impossible until Paavo Nurmi came along to reel off the distance in 8:58.2 on the old Madison Square Garden track in 1925.

Venzke has the benefit of the indoor mile race under his belt by way of preliminary to renewing his rivalry this Saturday night with Cunningham in the Vanamaker mile, featuring the Milrose A. A. games on the Garden track. Cunningham beat the Penn tier in this event last winter in 4:13. He will be favored to repeat but likely will have to move at a faster clip to do so. Venzke is now considered to be closer to his 1932 record breaking form than at any time since then and capable of doing at least 4:12 for the mile.

Stars To Clash Cunningham is due to monopolize the Hunter mile at the Boston A. A. meet, Feb. 10, at the Vanamaker again, as well as Bonthron, in the Baxter mile on the New York A. C. program Feb. 17. This is the event for which the rail riders are most eagerly waiting, with Cunningham for the first time matching strides with Bonthron, the Detroit boy who chased Lovelock to the tape in their memorable record mile at Princeton last July.

BOUT OFF BETWEEN SCHMELING-BAER

German to Leave for Europe After Fight With Hamas to Meet Uzcudun.

New York, Jan. 31.—(AP)—For the time being at least, the proposed return "bottle of the Maxes" Baer vs. Schmeling, seemed today to have been written off the books.

Lou Daro, California promoter, recently opened negotiations for a Baer-Schmeling match at Los Angeles in March and Schmeling was reported to have accepted terms. Now, however, Joe Jacobs, the German manager says Schmeling will leave for Europe shortly after his bout with Steve Hamas at Philadelphia, February 13, to meet Paulino Uzcudun at Barcelona, April 18.

Miller Is Favored New York, Jan. 31.—(AP)—Freddie Miller of Cincinnati, national boxing association featherweight champion was a heavy favorite to whip Frank (Kid) Covell of New York in their ten round non-title match at the Broadway arena tonight.

Christopher (Bat) Battalino of Hartford, Conn., former featherweight champion, who now is campaigning among the waterweights, meets Joe Barra of New York in another ten rounder on the same card.

Ross Has Bout Chicago, Jan. 31.—(AP)—The lightweight champion of the world, Barney Ross, will leave tomorrow for Kansas City to meet Pete Nebo, Ken West Fla., junior welter weight February 7.

Three University of Chicago assistant football coaches are budding lawyers—Marvyn Schwartz of Notre Dame, Julian Lopez of Loyola of the South, and Sam Horvitz of Marquette.

SENSE and NONSENSE

Speaking of gluttons for punishment there is the woman who goes traipsing around all day with a peck of feet in a quart of shoes.

Those Women Workers
There was a man who looked around for work 'most every place; But everywhere he looked he found a woman in the case.
A woman took his railroad fare, a woman ran the lift;
A woman took the cash with care for cigarettes he whiffed;
A woman sold him hats and hose and pies and cakes and tea,
And women at the movie shows the tickets sold with glee.
Then to an agency he came, for work to meet expense,
A woman clerk wrote down his name and read his reference.
"The proverb old, I find, is true," he said, with gloomy face
"And all life's worryments are due to women in the case."

Water—These are the best eggs we have had for years.
Diner—Well, please bring me some you haven't had so long.

Some one has discovered that many boarding houses are not boiling their eggs long, enough. Not soon enough, either.

Employee—I understand you've got your divorce, Mandy. Did you get any alimony from your husband?
Mandy—No, Lady, but he done give me a first class reference.

It is impossible for a fat man to dress so he will not look like a slob. The best he can expect to do is to keep clean shaven and see that he is buttoned up.

Diner—Look here, waiter, we've been waiting over half an hour.
Waiter—Can't help it, mister; this ain't the divorce court.

It won't do any good to spank a girl after she's sixteen years old, but it must be lots and lots of fun.

Kate—I went to a bargain sale today.
Mary—See anything cheap?
Kate—Yes, I saw a couple of husbands waiting outside for their wives.

They are telling us that education costs too much which is a reminder that the little red school house never got in the red.

Husband—Hello, here's your dreamer's bill again. I thought I gave you the money for it several days ago.
His Wife—Oh, that went to pay my bride losses. Debts of honor first, you know, dear.

When the little girls in a neighborhood meet, they jolt hands and play "Ring Around The Rosey." A few years later not enough of them speak to each other to get up a game.

Customer—You haven't sent me a bill.
Merchant—I never ask a gentleman for money.
Customer—And if he does not pay, what?
Merchant—I conclude he is not a gentleman and then I ask him.

A Negro couple living near Guilford, North Carolina, are reported to have given their baby a most appropriate name—"Electricity." The mother's name is Diah and the father's name is Moses.

Storekeeper—Say, listen, this quarter didn't ring good.
Customer—Say, what do you expect for a quarter—a set of chimes?

A refractory mule is sometimes taught to pull by hitching it up with three or four tractable animals. Wonder if the idea would work with United States Senators?

Mother (visiting a well-known college)—What does the college man do with his week-end?
Dean—Well, madam, sometimes I think he merely hangs his hat on it.
