WARD'S STORE SAFE CRACKED, GET $50 CASH

Break, Made During Week- End, Discovered Early To- day By Patrolman Thrall; Lock Broken.

Cracksmen whose work indicated they might be professionals laboriously cut away a large section of a safe in the office of the Montgomery Ward store here sometime between Saturday night and 1:30 o'clock this morning and rifled the safe of $50 in change and a quantity of postage stamps.

Leave Note
After completing their work, the burglars posted in a conspicuous place a derisive note which read "I Thank You" and which was signed, "K. K. K." A penciled circle was drawn around the signature.

Policeman Lucius M. Thrall, while making his rounds on Main street at 1:30 this morning, discovered the south door to the store open. Going inside, he found burglar tools strewn around the office floor and a portion of the safe cut away.

Policeman John McMillan, headquarters of the store, then he got in touch with William Lyons, manager. Meanwhile, John L. Cavagnaro and Lieutenant William Barron arrived, the latter to take impressions of the fingerprints if any had been left.

Use Store Tools
Mr. Lyons immediately drove to the store and at once recognized the tools as having been taken from the hardware department, with the possible exception of a hack saw. Two screw drivers, a flashlight, hack saw, six saw blades, an extension electric light cord with a shade for the lamp, a mason's hammer, wire cutter, pair of pliers, pinch bar and six drill bits were used in making a hole in the safe.

The safe is made of steel and of the filing cabinet type. It is fire-proof but not burglar proof. However, the cracksmen must have spent considerable time cutting away a section large enough to permit them to reach the money. The office is enclosed within a double door of heavy iron.

How They Did It
The right hand upper section of the safe first was removed and then a larger hole was made by knocking out the plaster and masonry between the outer and inner walls of the cabinet. When this work had been finished, the burglars saw that the cash drawer was on the opposite side of the safe and could not be reached. They overcame this ob-

24 REPORTED DEAD IN SEVERE STORMS

Series Of Tornadoes Sweep Over Three States In South—Many Injured.

Birmingham, Ala., Feb. 26.—(AP)—The deep south was hit from the series of Sabbath tornadoes had reached 24 today, with the possibility it would go even higher, when full communication is restored.

Smashing the "tornado belt" several weeks ahead of the usual season for such storms, the terrific winds killed at least 14 people in Alabama, 9 in Mississippi and 2 in Georgia. Many were injured and an unknown number of dwellings wrecked.

Today Governor B. M. Miller of Alabama and other officials directed swift assistance for the stricken areas. Food, supplies and medical aid were needed and the Red Cross stepped into the breach.

Hits Mississippi First
The storms hit Mississippi first, laying a trail of destruction and killing a husband, wife and four of their five children. Then, they traced a course along the "tornado belt" in Alabama, near the scene of the tornado that killed more than 200 persons in March, 1932. Finally Georgia bore the brunt of the elements and Mr. and Mrs. Will Phillips died in the wreckage of their home near Carrollton.

The greatest damage apparently was in Alabama, where trees were uprooted, homes and business buildings blown down and the countryside slashed by terrific rain.

Other Dead Reported
Seven unidentified persons were reported killed at Shady Grove, in Clay county, seven persons also were reported dead.

Two aviators believed to be en route from Miami, were injured when their plane crashed in the storm near Ashland. Two houses were blown down in Bylaws, Ala., and others were unroofed. At McDonough, Ga., a dozen homes were leveled. There were reports of wreckage at Jonesboro Hopewille and Jackson, all in the Atlanta area.

Britain Reminds U. S. Of Antarctic Claims

Washington, Feb. 26.—(AP)—Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd and "Little America" may again be the chilly subject of an exchange of notes between Great Britain and the United States.

Great Britain was reported today in unofficial but usually reliable quarters to be thinking of "reminding" the United States again that King George has claimed three large sectors around the South Pole, including the ice and snow of "Little America."

NINE STUDENTS KILLED BY COAL GAS IN SLEEP

All Occupants Of Fraternity House Perish When Fumes From Furnace Pipe Float Through The Rooms.

Hanover, N. H., Feb. 26.—(AP)—The Dartmouth student body carried on today stunned and grief stricken by the deaths of nine classmates who were trapped as they slept by carbon monoxide fumes that floated from a disconnected furnace pipe in the cellar of Theta Chi fraternity house.

Death came to the youths in the early hours of Sunday and brought to Dartmouth the most shocking tragedy the college has ever known. President Ernest Martin Hopkins asked the undergraduates to carry on—their activities uncurtailed—in order not to heighten the effect of the terrible occurrence.

In a brief statement President Hopkins said: "The whole college sympathizes with the parents of those who died."

The dead were:
William S. Fullerton, 20, Cleveland Heights, Ohio.
Edward F. and Alfred H. Moulden, 20 and 21, of New York City.
William M. Smith, Jr., 21, of Manchester, N. Y.

Edward M. Wentworth, Jr., 21, of Mount Dora, Fla.
Americo S. De Maat, 21, Little Neck, N. Y.
Harold B. Watson, 21, of Wilton, Me.
Wilmot H. Schooley, 21, of Middletown, N. Y.
John J. Griffin, 19, of Wallingford, Conn.

The fact that it was a week-end probably saved the lives of eight fraternity brothers who ordinarily occupy the house.

Died In Sleep
An incomplete investigation, indicated that the students died as they slept. All were marked by the pink discoloration characteristic of carbon monoxide poisoning.

Coal gas apparently had caused an explosion which blew open the furnace doors and disconnected a chimney pipe. Some one, Morton Little, the janitor believed, heard the noise, went to the cellar, closed the furnace door, but failed to notice the disconnected pipe in the darkness.

The deadly fumes, it was believed floated from the open pipe mouth through the rooms of the frat house. Fraternity brothers who lived outside the frat house were awakened on Saturday evening for a friendly game of bridge. They played until about midnight, then left for their own quarters. The nine others went to their beds—and died.

Smelled Coal Gas
Sunday morning, Janitor Little fixed the furnace and coal gas was adjusted and the disconnected pipe. Then he went to the rooms of the supposedly sleeping students. A cold wind had blown down through the Hanover hills during the night and the thermometer stood below zero so Little shut down the windows and walked quietly away.

They all were dead then, but it was not until late Sunday afternoon that the tragedy was discovered. Janitor Little returned to find the

Snow Storm and Tornado Cause Death to 37 Persons

By ASSOCIATED PRESS
Death, riding a southern tornado, an Atlantic coast blizzard, an ill fated passenger air liner, had numbered 37 victims today.

In the deep south, authorities rushed food, clothing and medical aid to communities in three states where tornadoes ripped and tore yesterday. Thirteen were known to be dead in Alabama, eight in Mississippi and two in Georgia. Many were injured as the storms wrecked homes.

A two-day search for a missing air liner ended last night when its five passengers and crew of three were found dead near a snow bound canyon not far from Salt Lake City.

HOLD BROTHERS; ARE SUSPECTS IN 2 MURDERS

Arrested In New York Hotel; Charged With Killing Po- licemen While Robbing Needham Bank.

New York, Feb. 26.—(AP)—Irving and Merton, Millen, brothers, charged with complicity in the hold-up of the Needham Trust Company, Needham, Mass., Feb. 2, in which two policemen were killed, insisted today that all their troubles resulted from a good Samaritan act Irving did for a motorist.

The brothers were arrested yesterday as a result of the tracing of a re-charged automobile storage battery. With them was Merton's 19-year-old wife, Norma, daughter of the Rev. Norman Brighton, formerly pastor of an Auburndale, Mass. church. Merton, 24, was arrested in the crowded lobby of the hotel after one shot had been fired.

In the police lineup today Irving told Acting Captain Patrick McVeigh a somewhat rambling story to the effect that several weeks ago a man known to him only casually had stalled in his automobile near Irving's house. To help him, Irving said, he traded batteries with him. He said it was the battery the other man had left with him which led to the arrests here yesterday.

Gave Him $600
Irving told police that the man returned in a day or two, told him that he had been involved in the bank holdup and that the police probably would trace the battery. Irving said the man told him he had better get out of town, and gave him $600. The following day, Irving said, the man returned and gave him $2,000 more and insisted that he get out of town, that his life was in danger.

In answer to questions of Captain McVeigh, Irving said that on February 2 or 3 the man gave him a suitcase to dispose of and he checked it in Boston. This statement was an answer to a question as to whether he had checked any revolvers in Boston.

Irving then said he came to New York and went back to Boston, got the suitcase, and, accompanied by his brother and sister-in-law, went to Washington, where they stopped at a hotel. Later they bought a new automobile for $700.

Brother's Story
Merton Millen told Captain McVeigh that he had accompanied his brother to protect him. Merton said the man who had given Irving money to get out of town also had threatened him. Merton said he was afraid that unless he went along to protect him, Irving would be "put on the spot."

Merton Millen also was asked to

SIX MEET DEATH IN HOTEL BLAZE

Several Injured; Proprietor Leads His Wife And Five Children To Safety.

Utica, N. Y., Feb. 26.—(AP)—Six men and a possibly another burned to death this morning in a fire that destroyed the 26-year-old Marone hotel, a four-story structure. Only four of the six bodies were out of the smoldering ruins and were immediately identified. They were: Salvatore Troje, 40, marble worker.

Dominick Bellacqua, a CWA worker.
Joseph Paladino, salesman.
Peter Gillis.

Several others, taken to hospitals, were reported as not seriously injured with the exception of Steve Salvone who jumped from a second story window.

The flames had gained great headway before the fire was discovered by C. J. Marone, who operated the business. Marone's frantic calls brought to his side his wife and five young children, whom he led to safety down a fire escape. They lived on an upper floor. It was on the same floor that firemen later found the body of one of the unidentified.

The origin of the fire was not determined immediately.

FIGHT POSTPONED
New Haven, Feb. 26.—(AP)—The boxing match between Al Gainer and Lou Brulliard former welterweight and middleweight champion of the world, originally scheduled for Thursday night at the Arena, has been postponed until Monday night, owing to weather conditions.

Confesses Murders
Sheriff Rogers stated that the man repeatedly confessed the slayings, but would not give details. Mrs. Cane and the children—Edna, Marie, L. Leroy, 4, and Johnny, 2, were killed, according to Cane's story, last June 6 while on a picnic. In the woman's purse was found a key to the hotel room the Cane occupied just prior to the murder. Cane, a telegraph lineman, and Mrs. Cane, who was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Stanton of Wichita Falls, Tex., were married seven years ago.

TREASURY BALANCE
Washington, Feb. 26.—(AP)—The position of the Treasury February 26 was: Receipts, $8,812,512.50; expenditures, $8,980,140,853.25; balance, $4,988,709,251.74. Customs receipts for the month, $18,974,879.96.

Receipts for the fiscal year since July 1 were $4,988,928,051; expenditures, $4,148,421,114.84, including $2,249,427,953.80 emergency expenditures; excess of receipts, $810,506,796.17.
Gold assets, $7,290,065,281.71.

Black A "Publicity Hound"? Farley: "Didn't Say So!" Brown: "You Did!"

Did Postmaster General James A. Farley call Senator Hugo Black (upper photo) a "publicity hound" or did he not? Farley's predecessor, Walter F. Brown, said he did. Farley said he didn't. Anyway, there were no hard feelings, for you see in the following photo Farley (left) and Brown shaking hands after each had had his say at the laugh-provoking hearing of the airmail investigating committee, of which Senator Black is chairman.

EDUCATORS OF COUNTRY ARE BEHIND ROOSEVELT

Teachers At Convention Say People Have Learned Their Gods Of Business Had Queer Ethics Code.

Cleveland, O., Feb. 26.—(AP)—With their leaders declaring President Roosevelt's new deal program has whole-hearted support from the Nation's school teachers, several thousand of the country's foremost educators today began general sessions of their National convention.

One of the most outspoken on the subject was Paul C. Stetson, of Indianapolis, president of the convention organization, the National Education Association's Department of Superintendents. "We're solidly behind the President," he said, adding that while the statement may seem broad, he is certain of its accuracy.

Harold G. Campbell, superintendent of schools in New York, not only presented a similar thought, but took occasion to rap the previous leadership the country received from business, industry and banking.

"With recent years, Campbell asserted, the people have learned that 'their gods of business and finance had a queer code of ethics and very little knowledge of economic laws and social problems.'"

COLLEGE STUDENT TAKES OWN LIFE

Freshman At Cornell Com- mits Suicide After Writing Note To His Parents.

Ithaca, N. Y., Feb. 26.—(AP)—Gardiner Williams, 20, a freshman at Cornell University, was found dead in his room in McFadden Hall this morning, a revolver bullet through his head. Dr. William A. Smith, coroner, said the youth, a son of Dr. Rodney R. Williams of the Children's Village, an institution at Dobbs Ferry, had committed suicide.

He had been dead 48 hours, said the coroner, when found by a classmate who missed him this morning. A note addressed to "Dear Father and Mother" said:

"I understand very clearly that you are trying your best to do what is right for me. I honestly believe that your plan is best that can be worked out now. Nevertheless I am not going to go through with it. I have decided to take control of my situation now and forever, rather than drift aimlessly and weakly along. I hope you will respect me more for taking the hardest course."

PRESIDENT FAVORS A NEW U. S. BOARD FOR RADIO, CABLES

EXPECT 10 INCH SNOWFALL TODAY

Weather Bureau Predicts Tomorrow Will Be Clear And Colder.

(By Associated Press)
Another heavy snow fell over Connecticut today, but unlike the one of a week ago, the latest storm was met at the start with armed forces on the part of the state and municipal snow armies and transportation.

By late in the forenoon, five inches of snow had fallen in New Haven, the U. S. Weather Bureau branch reported at the same time forecasting snow during the remainder of the day and tonight, piling up a total of between eight and ten inches on the level.

But tomorrow will see clearing and colder weather, the weatherman said.

The New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad managed to keep all trains running with only slight delays. With the exception of the Danbury and Willimantic routes, the company's buses were coming through nearly on schedule also, it was said.

Trial Trip Made
A trial trip was made on the Danbury run but this was three hours in getting through and the regular service was abandoned temporarily until the highway has been further cleared of snow. On the route to Willimantic, the bus succeeded in getting as far as Middletown, where the trip was abandoned.

In New Haven, the latest fall was tackled in the city's streets by 800 men. The storm brought new worries to municipalities already staggering under the heavy cost of clearing their streets, as a result of the blizzard since 1888, which occurred last Tuesday.

The use of CWA workers in removing the snow was authorized Saturday, but Harry L. Hopkins, National administrator, said the ruling would be effective through tonight only.

WYNEKOOP TRIAL RESUMED TODAY

Defense Tries To Bar State- ment Made By Woman Physician To The Police.

Criminal Courts Building, Chicago, Feb. 26.—(AP)—An attempt by the defense to bar the "statement" by Dr. Alice Lindsay Wynekoop that she shot Rheta Wynekoop after her daughter-in-law had succumbed to an overdose of chloroform was overruled today by Judge Harry B. Miller.

In the statement Dr. Wynekoop related that Rheta went to the bathroom to weigh herself, a habit of hers. Dr. Wynekoop followed her and finding her sitting partly clothed on the examination table, suggested it was a convenient time for an examination in regard to pelvic pains. The girl was allowed to inhale chloroform. During the examination, Dr. Wynekoop asked "if it hurt?" Getting no response, she examined her and found her dead. She got a pistol and shot her in the back, to make it appear an intruder had killed the girl and to preserve her professional reputation.

Defense Claims
The defense, claiming that the statement was obtained under duress, moved that it be not admitted.

"We contend that it is not a confession," said Prosecutor Dougherty. "It is purely an 'incriminatory statement,' an exculpatory statement."

He produced rulings to show that statements which merely incriminate a person accused of a crime, and which did not confess the crime, were admissible without regard to the manner in which they were obtained.

Defense Attorney W. W. Smith argued vehemently that the statement was a confession.

"The defense at all times had treated this as a confession," he

NO AUTOMOBILE DEATHS IN STATE OVER WEEKEND

By Associated Press
With the volume of traffic greatly reduced because of the hazardous conditions of snow covered highways, Connecticut went through another weekend—its second this month—without a single automobile fatality.

Two violent deaths from other causes, however, marred an otherwise perfect record.

Edward Mucci, 48, well known Cheshire farmer, was kicked by a horse on his farm and died soon after at St. Mary's hospital in Waterbury of a fractured skull. He was discovered in the barn by a son who was sent to search for him by Mrs. Moon after her husband failed to return from feeding the stock.

Sends Message To Congress Suggesting a Commission Be Created To Take Over Communications.

Washington, Feb. 26.—(AP)—President Roosevelt, in a special message to Congress today, recommended creation of a federal communications commission to take authority over wires, cables and radio.

"It is my thought," said the President, "that a new commission such as I suggest might well be organized this year by transferring the present authority of controlling communications of the radio commission and the Interstate Commerce Commission."

"The new body should, in addition, be given full power to investigate and study the business of existing companies and make recommendations to the Congress for additional legislation at the next session."

The Senate and House Interstate Commerce committees have been studying this problem for several weeks and early action is expected by leaders.

The Message
The message of the President follows:
"To the Congress:
"I have long felt that for the sake of clarity and effectiveness the relationship of the Federal government to certain services known as utilities should be divided into three fields—transportation, power and communication."

"The problems of transportation are vested in the Interstate Commerce Commission, and the problems of power, development, transmission and distribution, in the Federal Power Commission."

"In the field of communication, however, there is today no single government agency charged with broad authority."

Radio Commission
"The Congress has vested certain authority over certain parts of communication in the Interstate Commerce Commission and there is, in addition, the agency known as the Federal Radio Commission."

"I recommend that the Congress create a new agency to be known as the Federal Communications Commission, such agency to be vested with the authority now lying in the Federal Radio Commission and with such authority over communications as now lies with the Interstate Commission—the services affected to be all of those which rely on wires, cables or radio as a medium of transmission."

"It is my thought that a new commission such as I suggest might well be organized this year by transferring the present authority for the control of communications of the Radio Commission and the Interstate Commerce Commission."

"The new body should, in addition, be given full power to investigate and study the business of existing companies and make recommendations to the Congress for additional legislation at the next session."

PINCHOT TO RUN FOR REED'S PLACE

Pennsylvania Governor Candidate For U. S. Senate; Will Support President.

New York, Feb. 26.—(AP)—Governor Clifford Pinchot of Pennsylvania today announced his candidacy for the United States Senate on a Republican "Support Roosevelt" platform.

The governor, a patient in the Le Roy sanitarium, issued the following statement:

"I am a candidate against David A. Reed for the United States Senate. Reed as Senator has run the errands and taken the orders of Wilson, the International bankers and the steel interests long enough. He should be replaced by a man who will take his orders only from the people."

"In this crisis Republican Pennsylvania requires and deserves in Reed's place a Republican Senator who will work with the President to restore prosperity instead of snapping and snarling at his heels."

Aside from the statement the governor had no comment to make on his decision to run.

For the past few months he has been suffering from shingles, but a week ago was recovered sufficiently to leave the hospital for short walks.

Senate Probers Call For Fi- nancial Balance Sheet Of The New York Exchange.

Washington, Feb. 26.—(AP)—The closely guarded financial balance sheet of the New York Stock Exchange was called for today by the Senate investigators.

Royland Redmond, counsel for the Exchange, agreed to produce the statement tomorrow at the request of Ferdinand Pecora, counsel for the Senate banking committee.

TONIGHT'S BOWLING MATCH POSTPONED

Tronsky-Kebart Not To Meet At Y. M. C. A. Alleys As Was Planned.

The Nick Tronsky-Charlie Kebart bowling match, scheduled to take place at the Y. M. C. A. alleys tonight at 8:30 o'clock, was postponed late this afternoon by David Hamilton, sponsor of the match, when it became evident that the snow-storm would not let up for several hours at least.

RESUMED TODAY

(Continued from Page One) said. "If it were to be used merely as an incriminating statement, we would not object."

Gave Her Chloroform "In this statement, Dr. Wynekoop admits giving chloroform in an illegal manner. It says Dr. Wynekoop, in a panic, fired the shot after the girl had passed away. If the statement is admitted, the state will turn around and seek to prove that it was not fired into a dead body, but into a living person."

"The statement speaks for itself. It is not a confession of guilt." Milton Smith, associate defense counsel, interrupted to say: "It's a confession of manslaughter. 'Of criminal carelessness,' inserted W. W. Smith. 'I don't believe it is either of those,' said Judge Miller. 'At any rate, it is not a confession to the guilt of the crime for which the defendant is on trial. I must overrule the motion.'"

PICK KAMINSKI JURY

Springfield, Mass., Feb. 26.—(AP)—Eight of the 12 jurors who will decide the guilt of innocence of Paul Wargo, 21, of Wallingford, Conn., and Alexander Kaminski, 24, of New Britain, Conn., were selected this morning. The men are on trial in Superior Court before Judge Nelson P. Brown, on indictments charging them with the murder of Mettitt W. Hayden, guard at the Hampden county jail, here last October. The two men were serving short terms for gun carrying and stole Hayden's keys after beating him over the head. Hayden died of a fractured skull.

SCHOOLS ORDERED CLOSED

Hartford, Feb. 26.—(AP)—Because of weather conditions Hartford's public schools were today ordered closed for the rest of the week. Next week had been set as the first of the spring vacation weeks, but under the revised schedule schools will be kept open.

ABOUT TOWN

Latting Caverly of William street who has been ill at his home for the past two weeks with a severe attack of grip and complications, is showing slight improvement.

Arthur E. Bowers, son of Selectman and Mrs. S. G. Bowers of Deming street, celebrated his fourth birthday Saturday afternoon. His mother invited a group of small boys and girls to a party in his honor and the children had a happy time playing games, consuming confections that they enjoy best, and listening to stories by Mrs. Lillian S. Bowers, Arthur's grandmother.

The meeting of the Gleaners' Circle of the Wesleyan Guild, scheduled for tomorrow evening, will be held Tuesday of next week instead.

Carroll Hutchinson, lecturer of East Central Pomona Grange, who is promoting a choral society among Grange members in this section, has called off the meeting planned for this evening. The next rehearsal will take place at Center Church House, Monday evening, March 11.

Fred E. Werner, whose advanced piano and organ pupils in Rockville and this town, were to have given a recital this evening at Watkins Brothers music room, 11 Oak street, on account of the storm has postponed the program to Monday evening, March 5. The assisting artists will be Mrs. Arlyne Garity, soprano, and Arthur Stein of Rockville, violinist.

The bridge party which was to have been held this evening at the home of Mrs. Martha Cone of East Center street, by the drill team of Sunset Rebekah lodge has been postponed until further notice.

The meeting of the Missionary Society of the Nazarene church and orchestra practice both scheduled for this evening has been cancelled.

Mrs. Arra Sutton Mixter's cooking demonstration at the Y. M. C. A. will be postponed from tomorrow until Tuesday afternoon of next week.

200 INCH MIRROR SOON TO BE CAST

Corning, N. Y., Feb. 25.—(AP)—The casting of two years' secret preparations for making the 17-foot "eye" or 200-inch mirror, of the world's largest telescope, was announced today at the Corning Glass works.

The mold for the giant is ready. Its plan is based on recent success in making a smaller model, a 120-inch mirror, a baby eye by comparison, yet itself bigger than the world's present greatest telescope. Into this mold soon about 20 tons of the pyrex borosilicate glass will be poured.

The 200-inch is the largest and most daring scientific engineers ever planned. It is expected to "see" about four times farther into space than the present greatest telescope mounted on Mount Wilson, in California.

Astronomers have calculated that it could make possible a daily weather forecast on Mars, if any one wanted such a stunt.

The pouring of the molten glass is expected to take about ten hours. Its cooling will require nearly a year, and this annealing process will be the critical scientific work upon which the success of the big reflector depends.

HOSPITAL NOTES

Irene Thomas of 889 Main street, Mrs. Catherine McBride of 98 Church street, John Nelson of The Chatsworth House, Main street, and John Dale of Windsor were admitted and Mrs. Angelina Planchaud of 150 Maple street, Mrs. Ella Toyle of 141 East Middle Turnpike, Herbert Hutchinson of Bolton and Mrs. John Bailey and infant daughter of 14 Eldridge street were discharged Saturday.

Mrs. Catherine Pavelcak of 148 North School street, Catherine Fries of William street, Parker Soren of 110 Comstock Road were admitted and Harry Curtis of 83 Starkweather street, Michael Hickey of East Hartford, Betty Giuodi of 48 Bissell street, Miss Margaret Healy of 53 Lyness street and Mrs. Hulda Olsen of 12 Jackson street were discharged yesterday.

TOWN HOLDS OWN

IN REPEAT STORM

Plows Keep Apace With Second Heavy Snowfall; Expect No Tiemps.

Snow that range in depth from four inches in the New York metropolitan area to 24 inches in the West Virginia mountains, spread a white blanket about three inches deep in Manchester during the night and, according to the weather reports, will continue to fall throughout today.

Is Countrywide The storm is countrywide, reaching as far west as Oregon and south into the Carolinas. Boston reported a blizzard that may equal the disastrous one of last week. The temperature in Manchester dropped to five below zero yesterday morning, but today it seemed to have moderated.

With the six plows and "60" tractor all working, the local street department at 5 o'clock this morning had men engaged keeping the streets cleared. Unless the storm increases in intensity, little trouble from traffic tiemps and a moderate blizzard is expected. The street department is striving to keep abreast of the snowfall, and during this morning its efforts had been successful.

Traffic On Move Trolley cars to Hartford were maintaining good schedules, as were the downtown and Silver Lane buses. Trains also were on time. The Connecticut company plows were keeping the Hartford line tracks clear of snow.

Roads in the outlying section were being kept clear by state highway department plows which arrived on the job at 4 o'clock this morning. Superintendent of Schools Fred A. Verplanck said the public schools would be open today, but parents could use their own judgment relative to sending their children to attend the classes.

Bus Warnings Warnings went out at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon at all ticket offices between New York and Boston over which motor buses are run not to accept any money for tickets sold as there was doubt of being able to maintain schedules. The reports from New York indicated a heavy fall of snow and the last bus yesterday that left New York for Boston, passing en route through Manchester, was 2 o'clock. This bus was being kept clear by state highway department plows which arrived on the job at 4 o'clock this morning.

Reports were given to the drivers in Manchester that the conditions of the roads were getting worse each hour. The bus left, however with the driver and passengers hoping to reach Boston early this morning, even though from four to five hours.

The wind last night piled snow so high in the roads at Bolton Center and especially in the vicinity of the Bolton Center cemetery that a number of Bolton residents who were in Manchester during the early part of the evening, were informed that in many places the highways were clogged by the drifts.

At 1 o'clock this afternoon the snowfall began to take on the appearance of a real, old-fashioned blizzard. Whipped by a northeast wind that sprang up just before noon, the hard, salt-like snow crystals quickly attained a depth of two inches and gave promise of effectively blocking traffic if it continues many more hours.

Keeping Roads Clear Taking the storm last week as a lesson, the town and Connecticut company had plows working constantly to keep the streets and the trolley tracks clear. Side streets that were not touched by the plows quickly filled with snow and the going for automobiles was none too good. Walking was hazardous because the snow hid from sight treacherous stretches of ice.

Linked in French Swindle Probe

Alfred W. Duffree, a former resident of Hartford, who has been living here for nearly a year, died at 8:30 o'clock this morning at the home of his sister, Mrs. Arthur Anderson of 98 Church street. Death was due to a heart attack that followed a long siege of influenza. He was 28 years old.

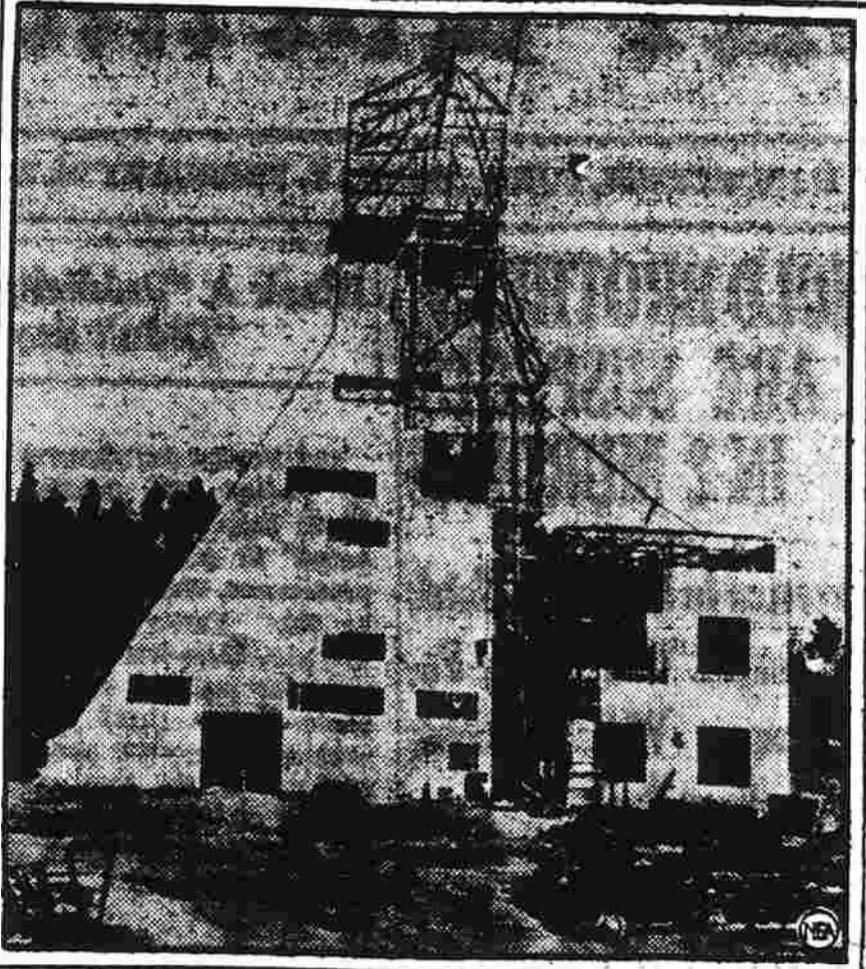

Besides Mrs. Anderson, he leaves three brothers and three other sisters, all of London. The funeral will be held Wednesday morning with a service at the home at 8:30 o'clock and at St. James' church at 9 o'clock. The body will be placed in the receiving vault at St. James' cemetery.

FUNERALS

John Armstrong A private funeral service was held this afternoon at 2 o'clock for John Armstrong of Hartford, whose death occurred Friday evening at the home of his mother, Mrs. John Armstrong of 188 Oak street. Rev. Watson Woodruff of the Center Congregational church officiated. The body will be removed to Jamaica, L. I., tomorrow for burial in Cypress Hill cemetery.

Mrs. Julia A. Wood Funeral services were held this afternoon at 2 o'clock at Watkins Brothers, 11 Oak street for Mrs. Julia A. Wood, prominent north end business woman, who died suddenly Friday afternoon from a heart attack.

New 'Gold Rush' Starts in West

A new gold rush has started out west, with the price of gold up around $35 an ounce. It isn't so exciting or adventuresome as the pioneer event of '49, but at least it has the industry working all available veins for more of the precious metal. Above, the tipple of a new shaft into the Homestake Mine near Lead, S. D., will complete a $2,000,000 investment on this project alone.

DEATHS

WIFE OF FORMER LOCAL PASTOR DIES OUT WEST

Mrs. William P. Anderson, whose husband was Pastor of Emanuel Lutheran, Passaic, N. J., died at her home in Chicago, Ill., after a long illness, according to word received by Rev. K. E. Erickson, present pastor of the local church, from her children, Mildred and Carl Anderson.

Mrs. William P. Anderson, wife of the late Rev. William P. Anderson, who was pastor of the Emanuel Lutheran church here for sixteen years, died last Saturday at Chicago, Ill., after a long illness, according to word received by Rev. K. E. Erickson, present pastor of the local church, from her children, Mildred and Carl Anderson.

Isaac Robbins Isaac Robbins died suddenly Saturday about 1 o'clock of heart disease, at the home of his niece, Mrs. Herman Reinhold, of 28 Flower street. Mr. Robbins who had made his home in Manchester for more than 20 years, was familiarly known to a number of people as "Uncle Ike." He was a native of Brooklyn, N. Y., and was born in that city about 69 years ago. He was one of the most enthusiastic motion picture fans in town. Since the advent of the movies and the talkies, there were few pictures shown here that he had missed. He never seemed to lose interest in the pastime and attended performances at the State theater, the Circle or Turn hall as the case might be.

He leaves besides his wife, Mrs. Josephine Robbins, two sons, Harold and Frank, both of this town, and the following nieces and nephews: Mrs. Wilbur Markham, Mrs. Clarence Martin, Mrs. Howard Hastings, Mrs. David Galligan, Mrs. Marcella Groman; also Theodore, Harry, Lemuel and Fred, sons of the late Mrs. Frank P. Carpenter and Henry W. Robbins, of Brooklyn, N. Y.

Funeral services will be held this evening at 8 o'clock at the W. P. Quish Funeral Home, 225 Main street. Rev. Watson Woodruff of the Center Congregational church will officiate. The body will be removed to Jamaica, L. I., tomorrow for burial in Cypress Hill cemetery.

FUNERALS

Alfred W. Duffree Alfred Walter Duffree, a former resident of Hartford, who has been living here for nearly a year, died at 8:30 o'clock this morning at the home of his sister, Mrs. Arthur Anderson of 98 Church street. Death was due to a heart attack that followed a long siege of influenza. He was 28 years old.

Besides Mrs. Anderson, he leaves three brothers and three other sisters, all of London. The funeral will be held Wednesday morning with a service at the home at 8:30 o'clock and at St. James' church at 9 o'clock. The body will be placed in the receiving vault at St. James' cemetery.

Mrs. Julia A. Wood Funeral services were held this afternoon at 2 o'clock at Watkins Brothers, 11 Oak street for Mrs. Julia A. Wood, prominent north end business woman, who died suddenly Friday afternoon from a heart attack.

TUG BOATS TOSSED BY WINDS AND ICE

Anchor In Bridgeport Harbor Following Buffeting In Long Island Sound.

Bridgeport, Feb. 26.—(AP)—Two tug boats in the Bridgeport Towing Line docked here today after being delayed by ice in Norwalk harbor since yesterday.

The ships' captains reported four tugs with a total number of six barges in tow were being buffetted by strong winds and ice.

The tugs "John Ferrrett" and "John Glen" left Norwalk at 10 o'clock. The tugs encountered difficulty bringing the barge "Delaware" to this city.

Other tugboats reported anchored in Long Island Sound five miles off Seaside Park at the "Nassau" and "Brattleboro" of the Southern Towing Line, towing three barges. The tugs are headed east from Norfolk, Va. The tugboat Montrose, towing two light ships was also prevented from keeping its schedule. The tug was in Bridgeport harbor overnight. The tug "Goliath" taking in tow the barge "Wilmington" for New Haven is the fourth to be anchored off Bridgeport.

CHURCH YOUNG PEOPLE GOING ON SLEIGH RIDE

St. Mary's Fellowship Group To Take Advantage Of Heavy Snowfall This Week.

The Young People's Fellowship of St. Mary's Episcopal church held their regular meeting at the parish house last night. Rev. J. Stuart Neill gave an interesting talk on "Church Music." The members voted to hold a sleigh ride this week and named Frank Miller as chairman of the committee in charge. Members planning to attend are asked to notify Miss Edith Brown, Tel. 7215, tonight.

Plans were also completed for a bowling tournament, to be held at the YMCA alleys. It was announced that Ayrton Cook, chairman of the Board of Selectmen, would be the speaker next Sunday evening.

TO HOLD A HEARING ON NORWALK PROJECT

Washington, Feb. 26.—(AP)—The War Department announced today a hearing would be held in Norwalk, Conn., March 13 on a proposal to modify the existing project in Five-Mile river harbor in that city.

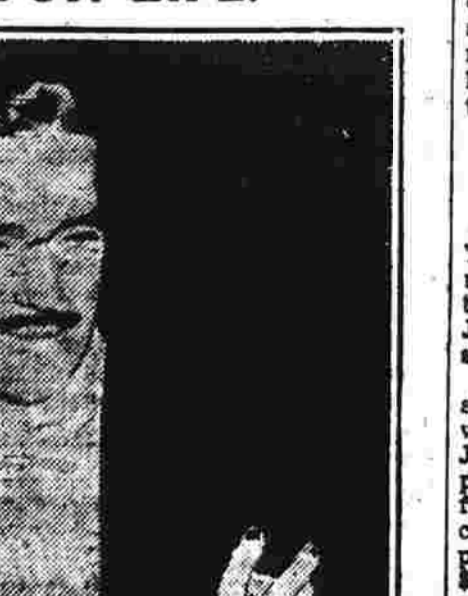

A petition seeking improvement of the harbor was recently presented Senator Longeman (D., Conn.), by citizens of the Sixth Towing District of Norwalk. The War Department notified Longeman the board of engineers for rivers and harbors already had named a committee to investigate a series of projects which included that in Norwalk. The hearing will be conducted by the district engineer at Providence as part of the committee's work.

PUBLIC RECORDS

Probate Notes Edward J. Murphy of Strickland street was appointed by Judge W. S. Hyde, administrator of the estate of Rev. Christopher T. McCann in the weekly session of the Manchester Probate court on Saturday.

In the same session, Dr. Mortimer E. Moriarty was appointed administrator of the estate of his father, Marcus Moriarty and Samuel K. Levery of 62 Jessamine street, West Hartford was appointed administrator of the estate of Rachel Gibson, deceased.

Revive Romance After Accident

An auto accident has revived the romance which Elaine Malchoir, above, and Lyle Talbot, film actor, below, believed was dead. Once divorced, Hollywood reports persist that they'll renew. Their friendship was renewed when Talbot was injured and now he is trying to arrange a screen career for his ex-wife.

NRA COMPLIANCE BOARD AND FORD IN NEW FEUD

Charges Made That Collective Bargaining Clause Being Violated.

Washington, Feb. 26.—(AP)—The Ford Motor company is under investigation by the National compliance board in a new outbreak of the feud between the two. The board said it had "quite definite charges" about violations of a collective bargaining clause at Ford assembly plants at Edgewater, N. J., and Chester, Pa. It notified Edsel Ford that in view of the company's refusal to send a representative here, it would investigate.

The Ford company submitted a detailed answer to the complaints, but it refused to be represented at a secret hearing here last Friday. William H. Davis, compliance director, said that unless there was a change of attitude he would "proceed."

SUES FORMER HUSBAND

Bridgeport, Feb. 26.—(AP)—A suit against Houghton Bulkeley of Hartford for 10,000 damages and performance of contract was filed in Superior Court today by his former wife, Margaret Whitmore Perkins of Fairfield.

The former wife contends that when they were divorced at Geneva, Switzerland, in 1928, Bulkeley, a son of the late Governor Morgan G. Bulkeley, agreed to pay her $25 a month unless she should "remarry," and $250 a month for each of their two daughters.

FEAR ANOTHER TIEMP

New Britain, Feb. 26.—(AP)—With 700 CWA workers striving to clear away snow which fell during last Tuesday's blizzard, a second storm which broke today threatened to tie up all traffic again.

The local office of the Southern New England Telephone Company prepared to house its day force of operators in hotels tonight. No school sessions were held this afternoon. Only one interstate bus line has been making regular trips through this city since last Monday.

"NEW HAVEN'S" REPORT

Boston, Feb. 26.—(AP)—The New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad in its monthly statement today, reported that its deficit for January was only one-half of that shown for January last year.

The January, 1934, deficit was shown to be $369,943 as compared with $693,281. Gross revenues for January increased $750,757 or 14.3 per cent over the previous year, freight revenues showing an increase $688,176 or 23.3 per cent and passenger revenues an increase of $64,247 or 3.5 per cent over the corresponding month of last year. This is the second successive month that such increases have been shown since the early part of 1928.

DROPS DEAD AT WORK

Bristol, Feb. 26.—(AP)—Henry J. Brunelle, 44, of Bristol, died after a heart attack today in the printing plant where he worked. Several hours after walking to work through the storm, Brunelle went to a sink, drank some water, and fell suddenly to the floor. He was dead when Dr. Arthur S. Brackett, the medical examiner arrived.

WATERBURY CLOCK COMPANY FLAYED

Labor Board Spokesman Says Firm's "Subterfuges Are Unworthy" In Code.

New York, Feb. 26.—(AP)—The Regional Labor Board, despite its criticism of the attitude of the Waterbury Clock company in refusing to receive representatives of their workers who have sought collective bargaining, admitted today that the company does not have to negotiate with its workers.

The offices of the labor board reported that there were no developments since its criticism, issued by Mrs. Eleanor M. Herrick, acting chairman of the board, but said that since the company has not signed the president's reemployment agreement and is not under any NRA code, it does not have to deal with employer section 7-A of the recovery act.

The statement issued yesterday by Mrs. Herrick said: "The fact that this company claims it need not negotiate with workers represents an attitude it has not signed the President's reemployment agreement and the code for the industry has not yet been signed are subterfuges unworthy of a firm that has been so long established."

Workers for the clock company, the labor board statement said, "fear to present demands or grievances individually and have come before the regional labor board to ask help in securing collective bargaining." The board announced also that it is investigating charges that the Waterbury Clock Company of New Haven is violating a settlement of a strike last November.

Fred E. Kin-sbury, secretary-treasurer of the company, denied that the company re-hired strikers for a day and then discharged them, explaining that between 200 and 300 workers have been laid off because of curtailed production, but that there was no discrimination.

HARTFORD STORE ROBBED

Hartford, Feb. 26.—(AP)—Burglars entered the office and warehouse of the Post and Lester Company here today and carried away goods valued at more than $1,000. An electric drill was taken from the company's stock room and it was used in an unsuccessful attempt to open a large safe. A steel plate resisted the drill. Fifteen radio sets and four electric drills were included in the loot.

CHURCH ROOF COLLAPSES

Danbury, Feb. 26.—(AP)—The roof of the Church of the Nazarene, 2 Granite avenue, collapsed today under the weight of accumulated snow, causing damage estimated at from $2,000 to $3,000. The outer walls of the building were badly cracked. Supported only by a metal ceiling above, the stiltorium of the edifice, the roof with its burden of snow, threatens to fall into the interior of the church, in which event further heavy loss will result.

THE BARGAIN HOUND

Most Cookery is to be the subject of the lecture demonstration given by Mrs. Arra Sutton Mixer from the Manchester Gas Company at the Y. M. C. A. at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. Her menu will include baked lamb chops, veal Hungarian steak, liver with vegetables, and smothered steak. Doesn't it sound appetizing? This is Mrs. Mixer's best cooking demonstration and it's sure to be a most interesting one.

Couturers have gone back to pre-war days, taken an idea here and there, and sewed them right in to fashions for 1934. For instance, hobble skirts and cart-wheel mushroom hats are revived for both day and evening wear. Feathered capes and hats contribute to the pre-war fluffiness trend. Shaded ostrich plumes trim immense sleeves on some evening coats.

The importance of fabrics and colors that are new throughout the collections. Severe tailored things are enlivened by color contrasts. Luminous silks and satins make the shining sheath frocks which prevail for evening.

How about that dress that should be on its way to a cleaner? I know you'll want it to be given special attention, that's why I'm suggesting The West Cleaning Company, Dial 5907.

Try this method when preparing a quantity of oranges for slicing. Pare off the outside yellow portion of the peel leaving the white inner part. Put the fruit away in a cool place for at least two hours. The white outside that has been left will have hardened and this may be removed easily, leaving the orange perfectly fresh and free from pith.

MUSICAL REVUE FOR ST. PATRICK'S NIGHT

Younger Members of St. James' Church Will Be Selected For Cast in "Radio Revels."

St. James' choir and the Children of Mary, have set the date of March 17, St. Patrick's night, for a musical revue entitled "Radio Revels of 1934." The cast will be made up of younger members of the church, and the program will feature vocal and instrumental music and comedy sketches. One well known broadcasting unit has already been engaged for the show. Dancing both old-fashioned and modern, will follow the revue.

Organist Charles Packard of St. James' church is chairman of the committee. Associated with him are Michael Cordero, Miss Dorothea Hynes and Miss Susan Gleason. Tickets will go on sale this week.

COMMITTEE FAVORS AIR MAIL BIDDING

Committee and Senator Robinson (R., Ind.), over the administration's cancellation of airmail contracts and deaths of Army fliers.

Clifford Ball, former operator of a Pittsburgh-Cleveland route, occupied the special Senate investigating committee throughout the morning with an elaboration of his charge that former Postmaster General Walter F. Brown had forced him to sell out to Pittsburgh Aviation Industries, Inc.

Barred for Five Years Under present law, the airmail companies whose contracts were cancelled are barred from bidding further for five years.

The House committee added a limitation which would prevent any carrier from receiving more than 50 cents a mile.

Chairman Mead said the committee later would consider a recommendation to it by one of its advisors under which competitive bids would be accepted.

"The committee already has approved a flat two mill pound-mile rate," Mead said, "which compares with the present average of 4.2 mills and would result in a saving of about $9,000,000."

Even Lower Price "But it has been suggested that by using the two mill figure as a maximum in the permanent bill we are considering, and then accepting competitive bids, we might be able to get rates as low as 1.5 mills."

Mead said the present mile rate runs from 40 to 80 cents.

The committee also decided to include in the new basis law a provision which would prevent interlocking companies from obtaining airmail contracts, whether the companies were related through holding companies or interlocked directorates.

explain his possession of a revolver seized in the Miller brothers' car yesterday and which Captain McVeigh said bears the shield number of one of the slain Needham policemen.

Merton insisted Captain McVeigh's statement must be a mistake, declaring he had bought the revolver about three months ago at Worcester, Mass., where he struck up an acquaintance with a man who said he was in the plumbing business. When the man showed him the revolver during a game of checkers, Merton said, he bought it.

Merton said the suitcase given his brother to dispose of was opened and they found it contained a machine gun and two or three revolvers. He said that they later checked it in the Union station in Chicago.

Merton said he was in the radio business with a man named Faber. He said he had $200 or $300 in a bank in Boston, a similar amount in a Washington bank and about $1,000 in a safety deposit vault in Washington.

SUGAR EATING YELLOW BUTTERFLY IS CAUGHT

Avon's butterfly, caught on Thursday by two men as it floated out from a factory building over the snow, would have found company here in Manchester, for Joseph Chambers, foreman of Hose Company No. 2, found a yellow butterfly with black spots in the hose house at the Center yesterday. He caught it and taking it to his home nearby asked Mrs. Chambers to guess what he had. She had just been reading Avon's butterfly story, and her guess was correct.

Now she has a feeding problem on her hands. The only article of diet that the dainty butterfly seems to relish is sugar. However, it enjoys the warmth of sunny windows among potted plants. If butterflies are around, can spring be far behind, even if mountains of snow are on every hand?

80 P. C. AT SCHOOL DESPITE SNOWSTORM

High School Attendance Good Today—No Check On Elementary Schools.

Despite the snow storm, the reopening of local schools today after a week's vacation found eighty per cent of the pupils at Manchester High school in attendance, Superintendent of Schools F. A. Verplanck stated. "I said that no check has been taken on the elementary schools but that the percentage was probably lower."

the possibilities of attaining an improved social order through the realization of old ideals and we are making a determined intelligent and cooperative effort to find a way out of our difficulties, not by turning to some new form of government, but within the framework of the old democracy.

"We hear it said there has been a political revolution. Has the revolt not been against dishonest and incompetent politicians, against the failure of our leaders to practice what they have preached, or to live up to what they have always been American ideals?"

"Has the revolt not been one against the abuses of our system rather than against the system itself—against unfairness, unethical conduct and attitudes in business, industry and banking?"

Earlier in his address, Campbell said what should be the deepest concern to us is the fact that most of these men who failed so miserably were the products of our system of education.

"They, and those who worshipped them and found them to be false gods, were once in our schools, public or private. Either we failed to teach them the proper way of life or having taught them, they deliberately ignored the lesson."

Another speaker Dr. George F. Zook, United States commissioner of education stressed the need of bringing the schools into closer touch with the economic, social and political life of the day, and recommending giving an increased place in the school program to adults.

"In more than one country," he said, "democratic government has been supplanted by some form of centralized action simply because popular intelligence and the spirit of unity are insufficient to enable people to realize their hopes and aspirations through their own decisions.

"We in America cannot hope to escape the same fate unless we take the necessary measures or widespread education of adults in present day problems."

LATEST STOCKS

New York, Feb. 26.—(AP)—Mid pessimism, based apparently on doubts rather than on definite developments, dominated most financial markets today and prices again pointed downward.

Equities dropped from the start, although selling was orderly and the ticker tape was never pressed by volume. There were a few issues that even moved up moderately. Declines ranged from fractions to around a point.

The trading timidity was blamed partly on the belief that Federal regulation of Stock Exchanges is imminent, that the curtailment of CWA spending may affect industry and that business unsettlement might follow inauguration of new Washington investigations. Scattered strike situations also entered into the picture.

Commodities, including wheat, cotton, silver and rubber, were lower. Bonds lagged with stocks. International dollar rates were comparatively steady.

Shares of U. S. Smelting, American Can, Loew's, Seaboard Oil, Snyder Packing and Armour improved. Moderate losers included American Telephone, U. S. Steel,

TO CUT CWA EXPENSES

Hartford, Feb. 26.—(AP)—Miss Eleanor H. Little, acting state administrator for the CWA, is working today and expects to work tonight on a plan for further reduction of the CWA payroll in Connecticut. This is in compliance with a telegram from National Administrator Harry L. Hopkins to reduce the state quota from $38,000 to $34,500 this week.

The reduction is the second ordered from Washington, the first having been $6,000 which went into effect last Friday. Because of cessation of work due to the heavy snows, there has been as yet no actual reduction in the Connecticut forces.

were still closed as a result of the previous heavy snowfall, when the main roads. It sent out 800 men at once to remove the latest fall and these were to be added to today unit, a force of 1200 men and 275 plows would constitute the entire snow fighting force in Connecticut.

The new storm saw three persons in hospitals in Hartford with injuries as a result of icy falls. Several scores of travelers were stranded in Hartford last night when bus service to New York was cancelled owing to a heavy blizzard in that city, and the air mail failed to go when flights were called off owing to the storm.

As the storm continued this afternoon, New Haven faced a coal famine, several dealers reporting their supplies of the fuel on hand exhausted and declining to "take orders for immediate delivery."

Many families looked to closing their homes and doubling up with relatives or friends until the shortage was over.

RECORDS SHATTERED

The snowfall for February to date stands at 40 inches in New Haven, shattering all records for the month. C. J. Doherty, director at the U. S. Weather Bureau said. The previous record was established in 1893, with 33 inches and the average snowfall in February for the last 65 years has been 10.7 inches and last year the total was 14.2 inches.

Many events scheduled for tonight in New Haven and in other cities of the state were cancelled today but the Foot Guard will in New Haven will be held despite the storm. Major Charles E. Lockhart, commander of the Foot Guard announced.

The Department of Public Works in New Haven planned today to allow 450 CWA workers to rest from 4 p. m. to midnight, setting them to work again at that time and hoping that Washington CWA authorities will listen to an appeal to defray the cost.

Eight Inches at Noon

Nearly eight inches of snow had fallen in Bridgeport at noon and the city's removal force of 2500 men working under the CWA were making a concerted effort to open all main streets and highways by nightfall.

Also in Bridgeport, heavy snow was blamed for the collapse today of the roof of a garage, crushing an automobile.

In Danbury, the roof of the Church of the Nazarene collapsed under the weight of accumulated snow with damage estimated at between $2,000 and $3,000. The outer walls of the structure were badly cracked. Firemen were placed on guard about the edifice in case of fire springing to the presence of a heater on the main floor.

The New Britain office of the New England Telephone Company prepared to house its day force of operators in hotels tonight owing to the storm. No school sessions were held in New Britain this afternoon.

NO LOOSE ENDS

Round
Firm

the tobacco does not spill out

Every Lucky Strike is made from the finest tobacco and only the center leaves. Not the top leaves—because those are under-developed—not ripe. They would give a harsh smoke. Not the bottom leaves—because those are inferior in quality. They grow close to the ground, and are tough, coarse and always sandy. The center leaves are the mildest leaves, for which farmers are paid higher prices. Only these center leaves are used in making Luckies the fully packed cigarette—so round, so firm—free from loose ends. That's why Luckies draw easily, burn evenly. And remember—"It's toasted"—for throat protection—for finer taste.

Direct from the Metropolitan Opera House

Saturday at 1:30 p. m., Eastern Standard Time, over Red and Blue Networks of NBC. Lucky Strike will broadcast the Metropolitan Opera Company of New York in the complete Opera, "Lucia di Lammermoor."

NOT the top leaves—they're under-developed—they are hard!

MONDAY, FEBRUARY 26.

PERILOUS BUREAUCRACY

The extent to which blundering bureaucracy has muddled the activities of the Civil Works Administration from the very beginning of that hastily conceived agency of federal relief had its finest possible exemplification in the panic-breeding mixup over snow removal funds last week.

For no better reason, apparently, than that some plan-and-scope draughter of the CWA program happened, inexplicably and idiotically, to specify that CWA funds were not to be expended on snow removal, and that that provision after being forgotten had suddenly been remembered, Mr. Hopkins' Washington bureaucrats out of a clear sky and in the very midst of a desperate battle with the results of Tuesday's blizzard, revoked the permission granted by its representative in this state for the use of CWA money on that job.

It is impossible to restrain impatience in the face of such a completely stupid and immensely dangerous performance or to refrain from saying that nobody would have issued that countermand but a fool.

In this state alone many thousands of desperately needy men were thrown into the gigantic task of snow clearance upon the quick witted and absolutely sane authorization of Miss Eleanor Little, state CWA administrator, who used the brains that God gave her in the face of a great emergency and showed herself a far better man than her superiors at Washington. Then, after these thousands had toiled in the snow and slush and bitter winds for two days, along comes this idiotic command that no CWA money shall be used to pay them.

In many cases there was no other money. So far as the municipalities' ability to finance the clearance was concerned the snow would have to stay just where the storm left it till it melted next spring. So that the disarming, cancellation of authority was at the risk of leaving an army of needy and already harassed men penniless, cheated out of their pay for the work they had done.

From the record of his achievements CWA Administrator Harry L. Hopkins could hardly be expected to size up this situation from the viewpoint of justice or public policy; but short of being a complete numbskull he ought to have known that he was pursuing a course splendidly calculated to cause rioting and violence. There certainly isn't another country in the world where a stunt could be pulled like this one of the CWA administrator without having the bricks begin to fly—and nothing but luck and the long patience of the American people got the state through this experience without serious disturbances.

President Roosevelt is a very busy man. But he would have to be busier than he is not to have had a good many intimations reach him of the fatuous inefficiency with which the CWA has been conducted at the very head, ever since its inception. Municipal authorities, state administrators, everybody who has been trying his best to make this splendid conception operate according to its intention, have been driven half frantic by the constant procession of conflicting orders, ambiguities, commands and countermands, that have issued from that nest of bureaucracy over which Hopkins presides with such enormous inadequacy.

That he hasn't been removed and his job given to somebody with at least a glimmering of capacity for organization and with more steadfastness than an April weathercock is a very serious reflection indeed on this administration's ability to do business of any kind in a business like way.

And the belated reversal of the countermanding order on Saturday only made more completely convincing the already existing proof of the ineptness, stupidity and uncertainty with which the CWA is being conducted in Washington.

TEACHERS AND TEACHERS

With Mayor LaGuardia fighting tooth and nail for his Economy bill which offers the only visible means of keeping New York City out of complete financial collapse, the largest and most potent group opposing the mayor and the economy movement is the school teachers. It is possible to get a little light on the position and the point of view of these people from a statement issued by one of their most conspicuous leaders, Abraham Lefkowitz, legislative representative of the Teachers' Union. In its course the statement says:

If the budget must be balanced then the burden should be borne by those responsible for the city's plight, and especially by those who have thus far escaped taxation and are best able to bear it—the utilities, the bankers, the insurance companies and the political parasites. Why should we take far less than political parasites who haven't even a good elementary school education?

Not one out of twenty of the school teachers of New York has a nickel's worth of education that wasn't provided free by the city of New York. Yet the teachers, according to this singular philosophy of Mr. Lefkowitz, are just naturally entitled to be paid more by the city because of this schooling bestowed on them by the taxpayers, than other city employes upon whose education the city did not spend nearly so much.

The Lefkowitz statement holds out the vital importance of "education" and the necessity of safeguarding it—together with the teachers' standard of living. Yet the effect of so-called education on these New York teachers would seem to be a little disappointing when it is considered that the Teachers' Union has been passing the word among its members to have them buy heavily at department stores on credit and then refuse to pay their bills so long as the stores continue to support the mayor's Economy bill.

Connecticut's teachers come off a different piece of cloth from the members of the New York Teachers' Union. They have recognized the actual desperation of the financial situation of their communities and have not expected to enjoy any such special exemption from the stress of hard times as these unionized teachers in New York demand. Here and there, throughout this state, a few of them have attempted to set up organized resistance to any sharing in the common distress, but they have met with little encouragement from the great majority.

The teachers of Connecticut, and particularly those of Manchester, can at least have the satisfaction of knowing that they have behaved, in this period of depression, like self-respecting men and women and have not made of themselves any such spectacle as is presented by the Teachers Union of New York City—which doesn't, evidently, care a rap what happens to the city or its people so long as its members get their salary checks unimpaired, hasn't the intelligence to know that it is riding the school system to a fall, and possess the ethical development of a gang.

AIR TRAGEDIES

Not yet has the time arrived bringing conclusive proof or even a substantial degree of partial proof, that the administration made a great mistake in cancelling all the airmail contracts and turning over the job of flying the mails to the Army. Just possibly that may be the conclusion eventually arrived at by serious and fairminded citizens. But the case is not yet proven. Nothing can be more certain than that those who have been halting with something very like glee the tragedies of the first week of the experiment are animated solely by sympathy with a group of looters.

If any great mistake was made by the government it was not in the cancellation of the contracts but in the assignment of the task to the Army without allowing sufficient time for preparation. This nation would be at a pretty pass if it could not defend itself against such proceedings as those airmail contracts merely because it would inconvenience the country a little if the unfair and illegal practices were interferred with. It may very well be that it would have been better to suspend the airmail service altogether than to inject the Army fliers into the picture, but even if that be the case it does not in the least affect the principle of cancellation.

After all, only a very small part of the country's mails is carried by planes; it would be no dreadful hardship if that kind of mail service were given up altogether for awhile. Nevertheless the tragic circumstance that several Army fliers have been killed and several planes wrecked in the early days of the shift-over is being seized on by the friends and bootlickers of the aviation companies and loudly exploited as a reason for submission to the system of whack-up-and-freeze-out under which the airmail was organized.

Perhaps for a day or two, after the major air tragedy in Utah, with eight dead, there will be a slight let-up in the chortling over the Army's misfortunes. That was a commercial, not an Army plane.

CAN WE TAKE IT!

Toward the close of a winter superlatively calculated to test the fortitude of the stiffest backbone, this people is beginning to hold a just pride in its capacity to "take it." We are getting to the point where it wouldn't need a tremendous lot of persuasion to induce the folk of this town to gather on Center Park and sing "Who's afraid of the big bad snow?" in a half superstitious hope that the weather man will proceed to hang up an all-time winter weather record—just so that we can satisfy ourselves that we are a pretty tough lot of guys, or at all events of going under with a grin if we must go under at all.

And in the midst of our grunting and hard breathing under our burden of weather woes we perhaps have one real blessing—we are discovering that we have legs. Not very good legs, to be sure; legs more or less atrophied for want of use—but still legs of a sort. There probably have been more miles walked in Manchester during the last week than in any two months before in the last ten years. Another six weeks of this and this community—or whatever was left of it—might get back to the physical fitness of the days before the automobile.

But anyhow: Can we take it? Yeah!

Holland has more than 4,500 miles of canals.

IN NEW YORK

IT'S DIFFICULT TO KNOW JUST WHO'S WHO ON BROADWAY

By PAUL HARRISON

New York, Feb. 26 — Meandering: Harry Richman and F. Harris, the songsters, are wearied of being mistaken for each other. And Max Baer, when he has most of his length tucked under a night club table, looks like both of them.

Estelle Taylor (once Dempsey) and Mary Livingston have likewise trouble too. And you are never sure, seeing a four-inch collar worn by somebody in front of you at the theater, whether it's old Daniel Frohman or Will Hays.

No wonder stage and screen stars change their names—many of the real monikers would be too long to go up in lights. It would take two or three marquees to write the name in incandescents of Dolores del Rio—Alta Dolores Aunsole De Martines—and Richard Arlen is really Richard Van Mattimore: Karl Dane is Rasmus Karl Thekelson Gotthieb.

Since reducing, Paul Whitman no longer goes around worrying about a lot of imaginary ailments. So the title of greatest hypochondriac falls to Carl Laemmle, Jr., who's always taking medicine, and to Walter P. Reuther, who, before he became a diagnostician of the movie business, Marilyn Miller's nickname is "Lumpy." No reflection on her figure; just a relic of the days when she was billed as "The Little Lump of Sugar."

Short story: During a Folies rehearsal several years ago a girl named Ethel Shustis stalked up to Flo Ziegfeld and declared irrefragably that George Olsen's music was too loud. Ziegfeld said to run along and tell Olsen about it if she didn't like it. She did. Olsen didn't mind. In fact, he married her.

A Prize Hint: "Men in White" and "Ah, Wilderness!" look like the leading contenders for the Pulitzer Prize. If you were to address a letter to "No. 1, New York," it would find its way to a lunch wagon in Battery Place, below the No. 1 building, which stand at the end of the streets stretching northward. Sinclair Lewis, just a Babbitt at heart, bought a home in the suburb of Bronville, thinking to do a lot of writing there. But he found himself devoting so much time to his small son that he didn't get a lick of work done. So now, when spurred by inspiration, he finds seclusion in an ordinary hotel room.

It's the same story with George Clark, the artist and author of "Side Glances." He chose a house in a quiet part of Westchester and turned around for weeks getting a shakedown sweater fitted up just as he wanted it. Finally trying to settle down to work he discovered he was spending most of his time with his 19-month-old daughter. So now he commutes to a noisy Manhattan office, finding trains and fire whistles much less distracting.

Dancing Men: There has been a great upturn in the gigolo business, and even in some of the most respectable gay spots—two of them at least—no lady needs to cool her heels just because her escort does not feel like dancing. Billy Rose, who rules the Casino de Paree, started taking a load off the feet of genuinely tired business men when he hired 30 personable fellows for his music hall. And the Palais Royal comes along now with an assortment of tall and short, blond and dark youngsters who can sip a cocktail, talk about new books, new plays and infatuation, and capably guide a feminine patron through a few fancy steps.

"They're just robots," said Mr. Rose, waving toward a group of immaculately clad men, each identified by a green carnation. "Intelligent, nice looking, and with educated feet. But robots, all the same. There's no charge for their services. If the ladies want to tip them, that's all right; if they do not, there's no argument."

One fellow was discharged the other day for un-robotlike behavior. He was caught jutting down on a cuff the name and address of a pretty matron.

Until taking up golf 12 years ago, Miss Virginia Van Wie was an invalid.

CONSULT YOUR WIFE for Sound Advice....

MR. MAN, you may know more about the intricacies of the stock exchange, more of high finance, more of the whys and wherefores of politics, more of this and that—

BUT, when it comes to shopping, your wife has probably got you beat six ways to the jack-pot.

Now don't let your male egoism get the better of you and just say, "The bl—k she has,"—think about it. After all, women have made it their business to be good, economical shoppers. They have devoted thought and effort to the business "you haven't had time for."

Go to your wife and ask her how she handles this shopping proposition. She'll tell you, "Well, the first thing, and it's the most important, too, is to read the ads in The Herald."

And then she'll be glad to demonstrate for your benefit exactly how reading the ads led to economies and advantages in the purchase of everything from that club steak you liked so well last night to the new dress you've just been admiring.

Then, too, she'll probably welcome the opportunity of proving to you that she can save you money and assure you of better quality by buying your shirts and socks and such for you after checking the ads. Why not let her try it? She is a real expert at this shopping business. Above all, don't forget to follow her advice when you're shopping for yourself and check the ads in this paper before you start out to do your buying.

LET'S WORK TOGETHER

Editor of Evening Herald: If anything I may convey will in any way help to produce a right split I will be thankful to The Herald for giving it space in your valuable paper.

My father-in-law spent the greater part of his life as head bookkeeper in the office of Cheney Brothers, I have thereby known of the interest of that firm taking advantage of anything that would benefit those that they employed.

They conscientiously work with the Government in every way even though it may not always be to their advantage. Why should not the people work with them? What is for the good of one is for the good of all.

In talking with one in authority from an insurance company I learned that plans are being worked out by experts employed by them whereby insurance and old age pensions can be made possible through all firms.

The firm at Highland Park where by late husband was employed in the office for forty years, carried a blanket insurance for their help. All through the ups and downs they carried on, sometimes running at a loss.

We as adults might take a lesson from the Herald newboys in the recent blizzard. Did they give up and blame their employers for the hard pull? Not a bit of it.

So in these days that we live, let us to God, freely give of what we have, talents small, and He will bless.—use them all.

And when life's storms, or shall be, to heaven, and God—Christ to see! Dear friend, where bound? Go you must!

BIRTH RATE LOWEST IN STATE'S HISTORY

Year's Statistics Show Duplication Of 1932 Low Death Rate; New Tuberculosis Record.

Connecticut had its lowest birth rate in history during the year of 1933, according to the year's provisional statistics published by the State Department of Health in its weekly bulletin today.

Maintenance of the very low general death rate of 10.1 per 1,000 population which was established as a new record last year is considered by health authorities throughout the State as a distinct achievement.

Deaths from tuberculosis last year numbered 710 as compared with 805 in 1932; and other forms of the disease took a toll of 68 lives as against 114 five years ago.

monary tuberculosis last year numbered 710 as compared with 805 in 1932; and other forms of the disease took a toll of 68 lives as against 114 five years ago.

Exactly the same situation applied to the infant mortality rate as did to the general death rate; namely, that the record low rate of 1933, 42 deaths in the first year of life per 1,000 live births, was exactly equalled in 1932.

There was a slight increase in the death rate of mothers in the postwar period. Besides decreasing from 222 in 1929 to 277, but there was an increase in accidental deaths.

Other death rates (all per 100,000 population) for 1933, 1932 and 1928 in the order named are: Tuberculosis, 1.4, 1.3, 0.8; whooping cough, 1.2, 2.7, 2.0; diphtheria, 1.5, 1.6, 2.4; pneumonia, 21.5, 21.5, 20.7; poliomyelitis, 0.5, 0.7, 1.1; diarrhoea and enteritis (under 5), 4.7, 4.3, 3.3; influenza, 14.5, 10.1, 14.9; accident, 68.3, 68.0, 68.3.

WALL ST. BRIEFS

New York, Feb. 25.—Raw sugar shipments from Puerto Rico to the United States from Jan. 1 to Feb. 24 amounted to 150,000 short tons, an increase of 51.5 per cent from last year, according to cables to the New York Coffee and Sugar Exchange.

January furniture orders increased 133 per cent over those for December, report Seligman and Seligman, certified public accountants. New business was 56 per cent greater than in January, 1933, and shipments about equalled those of a year ago.

The Northwest Shippers Advisory Board estimates that freight traffic in Montana, the Dakotas and Minnesota during the first quarter of 1934 will total 130,000 cars, or 1.5 per cent less than for the same 1933 period.

MASONS DRUBBED BY JEWELS AS PHANTOMS WHIP CELTICS

WINNERS NOW TIED FOR 1ST PLACE IN REC COURT LEAGUE

Both Chalk Up Decisive Victories Over Rivals; Two Loop Games Slated Tomorrow Night At Rec.

LEAGUE STANDING

Phantoms	W. L.
Jaffe Jewels	3 1
Anasid Masons	2 2
Herald Newsboys	1 3
Dugout Five	1 3
Celtics	1 3

TOMORROW'S SLATE
7:45—Herald vs. Celtics.
8:45—Jaffe's Jewels vs. Dugout.

The Jaffe Jewels and Phantoms went into a tie for first place in the Rec Senior League when they easily polished off the Anasid Masons and the West Side Celtics at the East Side Rec before a good sized crowd Saturday night.

In the first and most important game of the night the Jaffe Jewels team easily disposed of the Anasid team by 24-24 score. The Jewels team forged to the front in the early minutes and ran up a 10-8 lead at half-time. The second half, the winners but loose with an offense that fairly crackled with power to blast the hopes of the Anasid team, who at no stage of the game were in the running. They were clearly outplayed by the winners in every department of the game. The Jaffe team used an effective defense which kept the Anasid offense thoroughly checked and the Mason players were able to net only two goals in the first half and five in the second. Both teams were guilty of many fouls, a total of nineteen being called on each team by the officials. Gorman, Faulkner and Anderson were outstanding in the Jaffe Jewels victory, while Quinn and Opliss played best for the losers.

The Phantom team, one of the outstanding entries of the second round in the Rec League proved its worth again by winning against the Celtics in a rough and fast game. The final score was 22-22 and marked the third tie win of the Phantoms who have surprised the fans by their aggressive play and who have only one game to play and that against the Herald Newsboys. In the event the Phantoms win their next game and the Jaffe team loses, the Phantoms will tie for the honors for the season.

Both the Phantoms and Celtics played a good brand of basketball in the final game with the Phantoms staging a second half rally to outclass the Celtics. Play throughout the first half was close, both teams using a tight defense, but Courtney kept his team in front with four field goals, the half ending with the Phantoms leading 15-13. The Phantoms came back the second half and with Rem, Fraser and the "second brothers," all counting heavily in a bombardment, shattered whatever the Celtics chances were of finishing on the long end of the score. The work of Courtney and the "second brothers" featured for the winners while F. Bissell and Brown stood out for the over west quietest.

Jack L. Blott Is Named As Wesleyan Grid Coach

Middletown, Conn., Feb. 26.—Jack L. Blott, All-American center in 1924 and for ten years chief assistant football coach at the University of Michigan, his alma mater, has been appointed Jim Oberlander's successor as head football coach at Wesleyan University, effective next fall. President McCaughy announced today. He will also coach the Wesleyan baseball team. Considered one of the greatest line men that ever played at Michigan, Blott has ably assisted Yost and Kipka, his classmate and roommate, in producing conference championship teams. Last fall two of his charges were selected for the All-American. Mr. Blott was mentioned prominently recently in connection with the Yale football coaching staff.

As an undergraduate he was the Wolverine center in 1923 and 1924, making Walter Camp's first All-American team in 1923. He was starting catcher on the Michigan baseball team in 1922, 1923 and

JOHN J. MCGRAW, NOTED BASEBALL FIGURE, DIES

Former Manager Of Giants Suffers Relapse And Passes Away At 60; Led Team To Ten League Pennants, Three World Titles.

New Rochelle, N. Y., Feb. 26.—John Joseph McGraw, former manager of the New York Giants, died yesterday in New Rochelle Hospital after an illness of ten days. The colorful, pug-nosed veteran of baseball, who had been thought well on the way to recovery from a severe attack of uremic poisoning, suffered a sudden relapse last night and died at 11:30 o'clock this morning. He was sixty years old.

Mr. McGraw will lie in his red brick home at 620 Ely avenue, Pelham Manor, tomorrow and Tuesday. On Wednesday he will be taken to St. Patrick's Cathedral in New York, where a requiem mass will be celebrated at 10 a. m. with the Rev. Vincent de Paul Muires, pastor of St. Catherine's Roman Catholic Church of Pelham, officiating.

After the funeral services the Giants' vice-president will be taken to Baltimore, where as a youth he joined the best of Baltimore Orioles in 1891, and there will be placed in a vault in Bonaventure cemetery outside the Cathedral of our lady.

Mr. McGraw's life had been despaired of a week ago, but the man who had directed the Giants to ten National League pennants and three world championships during a managerial career of thirty years fought stubbornly, and hopes were held for his recovery until Saturday night.

The primary cause of death was the intestinal hemorrhage which caused his relapse, but physicians said uremia, carcinoma of the prostate gland and metastasis were contributing factors.

Mrs. Blanche Stindell McGraw, who had been called to the hospital a few minutes after her husband's relapse, was at the bedside when death came in the hospital room where a group of intimate friends, two priests and three physicians.

The friends present were Charles A. Stinson, president of the New York Giants; Mrs. Stephen Van Dusen, sister of Mrs. McGraw; Frank Belcher, actor and life-long friend; and Mrs. Belcher; Mrs. Peter Fieger, sister-in-law of the late Christy Matheson; and Mrs. John O'Brien, a family friend. The physicians were Dr. Louis B. Chapman,

Seek Playoff Berth
New York, Feb. 26.—(AP)—The struggle between the Montreal Canadiens and New York Americans for the last open position in the Stanley Cup playoffs continued to furnish the high spots for the National Hockey League during the last week.

For the first time this season the A's got up into a third place tie Thursday night when they played a scoreless tie with the Blackhawks at Chicago after trouncing the same club at New York.

They went back to fourth last night when their winning streak petered out at Detroit and they lost by a 2 to 1 count after carrying the game to overtime.

John McGraw Pitches A Curve and Wins $1

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the first of a series of four articles on the 66-year diamond career of the late John McGraw, whose years as player and manager of the New York Giants is one of the most colorful chapters in baseball history.

By BILL BRACHER
NBA Service Sports Editor
New York, Feb. 26.—It was a hot midsummer day in 1899. An accommodation train was pulling out of Truxton, N. Y. On the back platform stood a black-haired boy, waving.

As the train receded from view, the boy turned, picked up a basket and started through the aisle, calling, "Chewing gum, candy, magazines!"

The boy was John Joseph McGraw. That was 45 years ago, and McGraw was 16 years old. Since then the slender boy fought his way to the very top of baseball and became a legend of the game as a player for the old Orioles and as manager of the New York Giants for 30 years.

An argument started in the smoking car. Some smart aleck of a drummer was trying to tell the folks that a man could throw a curve with a baseball. McGraw put his basket on a seat and listened.

"I can throw a curve ball myself!" He looked at him dubiously. One of the passengers possessed a sporting instinct.

"I'll bet $10 he can't," he challenged the crowd. The bet was made, McGraw taking a dollar of it himself. The conductor took a part. So did the drummer.

At the next town the conductor stopped the train and the passengers assembled on a vacant lot. Three stakes were set 30 feet apart. McGraw had to prove his curve by making the ball go to the right of the middle stake and to the left of the third stake where a catcher was to stand. The ball broke around the middle stake and sailed to the left of the last stake. The demonstration was conclusive. A man could make a baseball curve.

McGraw was younger and smaller than the other boys, weighing only 105 pounds. But he made up for it with fight. After he had pitched and won a few games around his home town, which was Truxton, he was offered a job on the Olean team of the Iron and Oil League. Besides his board he was to get $50 a month.

Because of his hitting and run-making ability, McGraw (he was then only 17) was placed at third base. He was not so successful as a fielder at first because of a tendency to throw wildly. But he studied and practiced.

Ambitious, he obtained his release at Olean and moved on to Wellsville in the Western New York League. The following season saw him tackling a job at Cedar Rapids, Ia., in the Three-Eye League.

He met Henry Fabian at Cedar Rapids, and Fabian remained his friend through the years. McGraw's old teammate now being ground-keeper at the Polo Grounds. Says Fabian of those early days: "McGraw was the cockiest kid that ever broke into a ball game. He was convinced he was a big leaguer right from the start. You just couldn't stop him."

Forty-three years ago a scout for the Baltimore Orioles was going through the bushes for talent. He saw McGraw and produced a pen and contract at once.

On Aug. 22, 1897, little John McGraw, then 18, made his first appearance in the uniform of the Orioles, at Columbia, O. It was team destined to enact an everlasting glorious part in the drama of baseball history.

NEXT: McGraw as a major leaguer.

TRONSKY, KEBART MEET AT Y ALLEYS TONIGHT

Town Champ To Roll Against Country's Leading Pin Toppler in 10-Game Total Pinfall Match; Start At 8:30 O'Clock.

Unless the present snowstorm increases in force to make traveling more difficult, the bowling match between Charlie Kebart and Nick Tronsky will go off as scheduled at the Y. M. C. A. alleys at 8:30 o'clock tonight, preceded by a match between Mrs. Jennie Schubert and Miss Florence Johnson at 7:45 o'clock. Much interest has been shown in this attraction and a capacity crowd of bowling fans is expected to be in attendance.

Traveling conditions are precarious at the present time and it is not certain that Tronsky, Ranking No. 1 honorary bowler of the United States, will be able to make the trip from his home town of Williamsport, Pa., to New Rochelle, N. Y., where the match is announced in another section of this paper, it can be expected that the match will take place as scheduled.

Tronsky and Kebart, the latter Manchester champion, will roll ten-games total pinfall and some unusually high scores are anticipated as both men are possessed of exceptional ability on the polished lanes. Tronsky holds more individual records than any other bowler in the country and Kebart has proven that he is capable of competing with the best.

The preliminary match will be five games total pinfall. Mrs. Schubert is anchor bowler on the Charter Oak Girls team and has been clicking in fine style this season. Miss Johnson is a leading pinner in the Hartford Insurance league and the match seems likely to be close all the way.

SPEEDS TO NEW WORLD MARK TO SCORE NOTABLE TRIUMPH

PENN IS UPSET BY CORNELL TO CAUSE COURT LEAGUE TIE

Quakers And Princeton Deadlocked For 1st Place As Result; Leaders Meet This Wednesday Night.

New York, Feb. 26.—(AP)—Pennsylvania and Princeton, leaders of the eastern intercollegiate basketball league, clash this week in one of the two games which probably will decide the championship.

Tied for first place following Cornell's surprising victory over the Quakers Saturday, these teams come together at Princeton Wednesday night in the first of their annual pair of games. The winner of this contest, the feature of a heavy week's schedule, will take the undisputed lead but no matter which team wins it will have a hard time holding first place following their Wednesday duel.

The Tigers travel to Ithaca Saturday to meet the Cornell team which had done most of the league's upsetting in the past week or two, then they face Penn in the windup game at Philadelphia a week later.

Penn's second game of the week will be played at home Saturday night against Columbia team which has been strong at times, although it has won only two of its eight league games.

Dartmouth, down in fifth place with three victories and five defeats, appears in most of the other games this week. The Indians face Yale at New Haven tonight, play Harvard, which still is seeking its first league victory. The heavy schedule gives Dartmouth a chance to climb considerably in the standing. Yale, the 1933 champion, also can advance if it beats Dartmouth tonight. The Elis, with five victories and four losses, play Columbia Saturday at Columbia, N. Y.

By winning both games they reach second place if Cornell should run into a couple of reverses.

The Pitt Panthers, with a victory in the Eastern intercollegiate conference almost assured, can clinch the title this week if they add two more victories to their already imposing list. After winning five straight games, Pitt faces Carnegie Tech Tuesday and Temple Saturday. Both games away from home.

This week's contest, Pitt has only one more league game, meeting West Virginia March 10. The Mountaineers already have lost two decisions and will be out of the running unless Pitt drops out of their clash. West Virginia is in little danger in this week's one game which sends them against the last-place Bucknell five at Lewisburg Saturday.

Boilermakers Meet Ironmen Once More

The Boilermakers and Ironmen have finally agreed to resume their series tonight at the West Side Rec. These teams have met but once and the Ironmen think they can beat the Boilermakers providing the Boilermakers don't use any fingers.

The last game the Boilermakers used Earl Bissell in place of Bill Russell who was then on the sick list. This game will be played similar to the last game, the referee, yet unannounced, will have but one duty. That is to throw the ball up at center and then beat it to the side lines until either team scores.

Times will be four 15 minute periods with no time out allowed. The crowd which saw the last game will surely turn out for this game. Both teams will lineup about the same as last game.

Manager Armstrong will use Swick Gustafson and himself at forwards, "Uncle" Johnson at center and Earl Anderson and Fritz Wilkinson at guards. The Boilermakers will use "Bugs" Russell and Bill Russell at the forward berths, Bert Hagenow at center and Manager Angelo and Larry Maloney at guards. The two managers have agreed to play each other.

Any one seeking 60 minutes of fun will be able to find it at the West Side Rec tonight.

Four Marks Fall
The 1500 meter record was only one of four world marks to fall while another was tied as the most was contested in masters. For only the second time, nine new national champions were crowned while three retained their 1933 titles. A fourth champion shares the 1934 throne.

James Owens, Ohio State freshman, set the first new mark of 25 feet 3 1/4 inches. Joe McCluskey, of New York, broke his own 3000 meter steeplechase mark of 9:08 with an 8:50 effort. Charles Eberhart set a new 1600 meter walk mark of 8:14.8 and Ralph Metcalfe tied his own 60 meter dash record of 6.7 seconds.

Other champions were John Collier in the 35 meter high hurdles, Charles (Chuck) Hornbostel in the 1000 meter run, Milton Sandler in the 600 meter run, John W. Follows in the 5000 meter run, Bill Graber in the pole vault, Tom Gilbane in the shot put, Henry F. Dreyer in the 35 pound weight throw and George Spitz and Walter Marty, tied for first place in the high jump.

The New York Athletic Club defended the team title with 27 points to 15 for the second place squad, the Boston A. A.

Local Sport Chatter
The West Side Recs bowed to the Chance Vought last night, 27-26, in the preliminary to the Blue Ribbons game with Babe Didrikson's All-Americans at Foot Guard hall in Hartford, won by the latter team, 46 to 37. "Hank" McCann featured for the Ribbons with a total of 14 points. The West Siders trailed by a single point at halftime and were unable to get in front and stay there in the final half. Brown featured for the Recs.

The Charter Oak Girls bowling team is planning a series of tea parties in the near future, having received fifteen pounds of tea as a prize for placing second in the girls' division of the Washington Birthday carnival at Hartford last week. What? No lemon?

The Bluefields will hold a most important business session at the clubhouse at 8 o'clock tonight and all members are requested to be present. The Bluefields will hold their business sessions on the second and fourth Monday of each month in the future.

Al Getsewich, local wrestler, who was formerly known as the Red Devil, will meet Pat O'Hara of Boston at the New Haven arena tomorrow night in a time limit bout.

Bristol, Meridan and New Britain came through with smashing victories Saturday night to assure selection to the Yale Tunny league month, along with Windham and four other outstanding scholastic teams in the state.

BRUNNS WIN AGAIN
Sunday afternoon the local Brunns defeated the snappy Forestville Towners to the tune of 7-6 in a football game. The scores for Manchester were: George May, who garnered five, "Hanz" Chambers who tallied once and "Dusty" May who in scoring also contributed the high light of the game. On a face-off "Dusty" very neatly executed a drag and rang up a score right near the amazed goals and the brilliant of defenses.

COMPOSER BURIED

Worcester, England, Feb. 28.—(AP)—Barely a score of persons attended the funeral services today of Sir Edward Elgar master of the King's music, held with a minimum of ceremony as he had wished.

There were no mourning dresses and the only flowers were a tiny bunch of daffodils. Composer of the "Pomp and Circumstance" Marches was buried in the little church yard of St. Wilfrid, by the side of his wife, who died in 1924.

SCHOOLS REOPENED

Bridgeport, Feb. 26.—(AP)—While another storm raged today, breaking all records for February in sixty-five years, more than 30,000 public and parochial school children here braved the storm and trooped back to their class rooms after a week's enforced vacation.

With nearly eight inches of snow, recorded at noon, the CWA men made a concerted effort today to clear the main arteries before tonight, when the CWA force will be withdrawn.

TIPS on TABLE TENNIS

VARIETY OF SHOTS MAKES FOE STEP

By JIMMY DONAHUE
NEA Service Sports Writer

Table tennis isn't a game of merely tating the ball back and forth across the table, nor is it to be won only with freak deliveries and finger spins. To play it well one must be a strategist.

The idea is to keep the other fellow guessing by alternating your shots. Bank away at one corner of the table with smashes and chops for a while and then, when your opponent is convinced you play only one side of the table, switch from long smashes and cuts to little dribbles just over the net and on the opposite side of the table.

When drawn-in, the opponent is a sucker for a smash to the opposite corner.

By using a finger spin serve and stroking the paddle either to right or left, the hop of the serve can be controlled.

One of the main objections to finger spin serves is that they generally have the same hop and an opponent soon gets wise to the way they bounce.

You can change the hop on your serve by making it directly in front of the body. The left hand doing the serving is held slightly in front of the paddle and, as the ball is snapped, the paddle is moved, with blade slightly inclined toward the net, to either right or left.

This motion of the paddle will change the direction of the ball's bounce on the other side of the table.

GETS FEDERAL POST

New Haven, Feb. 28.—(AP)—Pietro Diana of this city, twice a member of the Legislature, at present employed with the state banking commission, has been given a place in the Department of Justice. The telegram from Washington announcing the appointment received yesterday did not specify the office he is to take.

Diana was a founder of the state federation of Italian-American Democratic clubs, and was active in the campaigns for election of Governor Cross.

McGraw Comments

New York, Feb. 28.—(AP)—What John J. McGraw's friends and associates thought of him:

"The outstanding manager of all time"—Connie Mack, manager Philadelphia Athletics.

"None of us ever doubted that his main thought was to have us do the best we could"—Bill Terry, McGraw's pupil and his successor as manager of the Giants.

"A grand man, a true sportsman"—George M. Cohen.

"He was the spirit of our National game"—Roger Bresnahan, long-time McGraw associate and called by McGraw the greatest catcher of all time.

"One of the outstanding characters of baseball and a wonderful man to know"—Garry Herrick, president Philadelphia Phillies.

"Everyone regrets his death but none more than I"—Charles A. Stoneham, president New York Giants.

"Some will remember his baseball greatness but all will remember his unselfish acts of charity to those in need"—Emil Fuchs, president Boston Braves.

"A great friend. Lord have mercy on him"—J. A. Robert Quinn, general manager Brooklyn Dodgers.

"To me he was more than a great baseball figure. I don't know of any man x x x for whom I had more admiration"—Edward Trowbridge Collins, general manager Boston Red Sox.

"He was the best in the business"—Edward Burke, general manager Havre de Grace race track.

"I hate to see McGraw leave, above all of them"—Frank Bowerman Baltimore Oriole associate.

"I have never met a finer character in baseball than McGraw"—Arthur Fletcher, former great Giant shortstop.

"He was an outstanding figure in baseball and while actively engaged added much color and enthusiasm to our National game"—Will Harbridge, president American League.

"That is one of the saddest messages that has ever come to me"—Wilbert Robinson, who played with McGraw at Baltimore and later opposed him as manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers.

"None ever was further removed from the commonplace than he"—Kenesaw Mountain Landis, commissioner of baseball.

The American Red Cross was founded by Clara Barton.

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

The muskrat said, "Oh, well, I guess that I am over my distress. I am awake, and I can't go right back to sleep again."

"As long as you have bothered me, why not just keep me company? I like to have some little folks to talk to, now and then."

"All right," said Cobby. "Ere we go, we'll gladly take you for a row, we'll back our little boat up so that you can hop right in."

"Hurrah!" cried Molly. "What a treat!" And then she hopped into a seat. The Tinies rowed to shore, and Dotty cried, "Where have you been?"

"Oh, just out rowing," Scouty cried. "And see who's joined us for a ride. Step up and meet Miss Muskrat!" "Howdy do," the muskrat said.

"Hello, there," answered Duncy. "Gee, you look as funny as can be. What is that dotted bonnet you are wearing on your head?"

"Why, goodness me, lad, don't you know? I wear it every time I go into my house to take a nap. I sleep in it, you see."

"That's what I'd like to do, right now. I want to get back home, amehow." "I'll take you," answered Cobby. "Don't you fret. Leave it to me!"

When he returned, and hopped ashore the Tinymities all heard a roar just overhead, and Golly cried, "For goodness sake, look there!" "It's all of you will stand and strain your eyes, you'll see a little plane. A fish is in the pilot's seat. Say, that is something rare."

Just then the plane swooped down real low. The fish looked out and cried, "Hi, ho! I'll tell you, you don't know who I am. I'll tell you, if you wish."

"It's all around whenever I please in this fish plane, with dice. The reason I can do it is 'cause I'm a flying fish."

(The Tinies watch a strange bird perform in the next story.)

WARD'S STORE SAFE CRACKED, GET $50 CASH

stale by boring a hole with a drill into the wall adjoining the cash drawer.

Using a large breast drill to cut an opening in the steel, the cracksmen inserted the pinch bar to widen the opening. Next they applied the hand saw to cut away a corner of the safe to a depth of five inches. They were then able to saw across the top and down the side, leaving a gap in the safe about five by six inches in size. The plaster Paris was torn out and the saw again used to break through the inner wall.

Pay Envelopes Misused

All this work went for naught, however, when it was seen that the cash drawer was on the opposite side of the safe. Undaunted by this discovery, the burglars used the hand saw and pinch bar and created an opening in the wall next to the cash drawer. The hole was large enough to permit one of the burglars to extend an arm into the safe and to the drawer containing the money. In another drawer, tucked below that from which the money was taken, reposed the pay envelopes of two employees who did not work Saturday. These were not touched.

Had the burglars undertaken their task Friday night their haul would have been much greater, as the day's receipts were not deposited at the bank until the next day. The $50 which the burglars obtained was set aside Saturday night for use as change when the store opened today.

Broke Elevator Door

Examination of the store by the police this morning disclosed that entrance was gained by first removing the lock from a hasp in the elevator door. After getting to the floor, the burglars broke a four square piece of glass, pushed back the catch on the inside of the door and entered. Once inside, they made their way to the hardware section, procured the tools and another lock which they fastened to the hasp. This locked the door. The burglars departed through another door on the south side of the building after breaking off two locks on the door. They left this door partly open and some snow had drifted inside the store at this open door street. Policeman Thrall's attention and resulted in discovery of the theft.

BARRON MAY GET $50 FOR ARRESTING THIEF
Prosecutor Shea Recommends Sum Be Paid Police Officer For Work On Capen Case.

Attorney William J. Shea recommended to Judge Raymond A. Johnson in Town Court this morning that Lieutenant William Barron of the Manchester police department be awarded $50 reward for the capture, on October 2, 1933, of Leon A. Capen for the theft of eight chickens.

Judge Johnson will make application to the state comptroller for the award to Lieutenant Barron.

Lieutenant Barron received complaint of chicken stealing and became suspicious of Capen. After several talks with him, Capen broke down and admitted his guilt. At the time Capen told the court that he stole the chickens while he was under the influence of intoxicating liquor.

Capen was given a 30-day jail sentence last October for the theft.

TO DESCRIBE SKATING HERE FOR MAGAZINE
New York State Recreation Secretary Asks H. F. Murphy To Prepare Article.

Park Superintendent Horace F. Murphy is in receipt of a request for information concerning skating in Center Springs park during the past several seasons by George A. Nesbitt, secretary of the National Recreation association of New York.

Mr. Nesbitt viewed the skating lodge and rink here on February 13 and on his return to New York was so impressed with Manchester's municipal rink and park system that he has asked Mr. Murphy to prepare a story of the Manchester rink for the association's magazine, "Recreation."

During the present season skating has been enjoyed by an estimated 40,000 people over a period of 56 days. The blizzard last Monday night ended skating for the season on the municipal rink.

LEGION MEETING TONIGHT POSTPONED
Storm Puts Off Post Session Indefinitely; Banquet Committee Meets Tomorrow.

Tonight's meeting of Dilworth-Cornell Post, The American Legion, has been postponed it was announced today by Adjutant Victor Bronke. No date for the meeting was set until weather conditions are better.

It was also announced that the Legion banquet committee meeting scheduled for tonight is postponed and will be held at the State Armory tomorrow night. The banquet will be held in Orange Hall on Wednesday night, March 7 and the ticket price is low enough to allow every Legionnaire to attend without crippling his pocketbook.

EVERYBODY'S MARKET SALE BIG SUCCESS
Saturday's "Pantry Sale" by Everybody's Market proved an overwhelming success, three trucks being busy until 11 o'clock at night to deliver more than 238 orders, the manager of the store said today. More than 1,943 sales were registered.

The management wishes to apologize to the public for delay in deliveries, but road conditions were responsible. Many items offered at special prices were completely sold out. This was the second Pantry Sale by the Market and will be repeated at five-week intervals.

BISHOP'S CONDITION
Hartford, Feb. 26.—(AP)—The Most Rev. John J. Nilan, bishop of the Catholic diocese of Hartford, was reported in "slightly better" condition today at St. Francis hospital.

Bishop Nilan was taken to the hospital last Thursday, suffering from arthritis, but his name has been on the danger list.

WADDELL RECEIVES $6,636 FOR RELIEF
Sum Represents Grant Of Emergency Commission For 3rd Quarter In 1933.

Town Treasurer George H. Waddell is in receipt of a check for $6,636.04 from the Emergency Relief Commission, representing the grant of the commission to the town of Manchester for the third quarter of 1933, July to September. The money was voted by the commission at the meeting held December 15, 1933 in accordance with the regulations of that body.

During the period named, the town spent for charity $22,896.51, of which $19,808.13 was certified for inclusion in the sharing plan. The money will be used, Mr. Waddell stated, to pay the cost of truck and team hire in connection with local unemployment projects.

RECIPIENTS OF CHARITY MAY LIST SONS FOR CCC
Preference Will Be Given Youths Whose Parents Are On Town Relief Roll.

Albert Behrend, assistant charity superintendent, has received a communication from the Emergency Relief Commission, asking for information regarding the possible number of young men between the ages of 18 and 25, sons of parents who are on the town charity list, who are eligible for service in the state's C.C.C. camps.

The notice states that sons of parents on town relief rolls will be in the preferred class. No estimate of the number of boys to be sent from this town was made, but it is expected that all those able to go will be sent soon.

The charity office requests parents of boys between the ages of 18 and 25, on town aid, file the names of sons who are desirous of entering the state's C.C.C. camps as soon as possible.

CWA SNOW REMOVAL FORCE NUMBERS 250
All Other Jobs Stopped By Storm; Time Limit On Snow-removal Work Tonight.

A force of 250 CWA men are at work today on snow removal jobs, cleaning gutters and sidewalks and other local emergency jobs brought about by the recent storm. All other CWA jobs have been called off today due to the storm.

The time limit for including pay of CWA workers for emergency relief work in connection with the snow-removal ends today.

SPECIAL SONG SERVICE AT ARMY CITADEL HERE
Meeting Conducted By Band To Develop Talent — Songs Bearing on Scriptures Played

The Salvation Army band was in charge of the special service in the citadel yesterday, and Adjutant Reginald Martin took a seat in the audience. The meeting was conducted by the band in order to develop talent among the bandmen. At the morning meeting, Bob and Buddy Lyons played a cornet duet and their father, Jack Lyons, preached the sermon.

At the evening meeting Adjutant Nicol, a bandman, was the preacher. The afternoon special service was the most inspirational of the day. The band played a full concert lasting an hour and a half and members of the band read verses of scripture between each number. As each verse was read, the bandman led the congregation in singing songs bearing on the scripture read by him.

In many cases the scripture was not altered in a single word; one such adaptation was that of Luke 15:10: "There is joy in the presence of the angels of God over one sinner that repenteth." Harold Turkington set the verse to music. One of the special items of this program was the cornet quartet, "The Gleaming" arranged for this group by Hudson Lyons. Sylvania Nicol played a saxophone solo which was written for him by Merle Johnson, acclaimed the finest saxophonist in America, whose father is a Salvation Army major.

The band and songsters gave a novel treatment to Handel Parker's "Deep Harmony" with the audience joining in on the last verse. Many remarks were heard in praise of the excellent musical program.

Next Sunday afternoon Rev. George S. Brookes of Rockville and a colored quartet will be the featured act in the morning. Adjutant Martin and the band will conduct a service at the State Prison, Wethersfield.

Selectmen Meet Tonight To Prepare Call For Annual Town Meeting

The Board of Selectmen will meet this evening in the municipal building to prepare the call for the adjourned annual town meeting and the special town meeting to follow on March 6. At the adjourned town meeting the tax rate for the year of October 1, 1933 will be laid by the voters of the town.

At the special town meeting the town will vote on an appropriation of $6,600 for an addition to the town garage and the purchase of the six new voting machines hired by the town for the past two years. The cost of the voting machines will be $5,580.

A petition filed by 35 voters, asking for the closing of the tavern on Sunday, was read at the regular monthly meeting of the Selectmen last week and was sent back to the signers for revision. It is not known whether the petition will be re-submitted in proper form this evening.
