GRANDSON OF SWEDISH KING IS WED TODAY

Prince Sigvard Married To Daughter Of German Industrialist In London; Crowds Besiege Couple.

London, March 8.—(AP)—A romance like a fairy tale of fiction came true today with the wedding at noon of Sigvard, Prince of Sweden, Duke of Uppland and grandson of the Swedish King, to the beautiful Fraulien Erika Patzek.

Prince Sigvard

22-year-old daughter of a Berlin industrialist.
In taking his commoner bride at a registry office in the heart of busy London, the 26-year-old Prince—like Lennart, his cousin—abandoned his princely rights for a romantic union with the girl of his dreams.
Instead of a carillon of bells pealing for their wedding in the ancient capital of the Prince's royal forefathers, Sigvard and his bride had chattering song birds in a little park outside and a sea of smiling faces in a sympathetic throng to welcome them on their wedding day.
Obviously happy, the two were wed by the "marrying" superintendent of the registry office, aided by the assistant registrar.
Brief Ceremony
The ceremony was of only a few minutes' duration. Each had only two sentences to say.
Both smiled nervously as they drove up to the registry office in a big limousine for the ceremony.
Erika was dressed in a smart navy blue tailored costume with a hat to match, and a spray of lovely white orchids on one of the lapsels of her coat.
The Prince wore a long navy blue overcoat. He was bareheaded.
There were a number of unexpected developments at the ceremony. In the first place, they were married in the large council chamber of

NEW PRODUCTS INTRODUCED AT COOKING SCHOOL

Lecturer To Feature New Foods And Recipes At Herald Classes In State Theater Here Next Week.

With yesterday's announcement of the Cooking School which will be held next week at the State theater the office of The Herald was flooded with inquiries from local merchants and markets for an opportunity to participate in some way. "It's fine," said one merchant, "to bring a famous lecturer here to tell the women about new ideas in cooking. But can't we get in somehow, so these women know what wonderful things are really to be had in their own town?"

World Supplies Available

The merchant was right, for not only are the obvious necessities of homemaking to be found in our grocers' shops, markets, the dairies, bakeries and other stores but the supplies available to every woman of Manchester include wonderful assortments which come from all over the world. Tea from India, spices from elsewhere in the Orient, fruit from the South Seas, and from California and Florida, fine flours from the great wheat fields of the Middle West, rich dairy products from our finest farms, superb cookery essentials which are the products of American industry and which are so excellent that American manufacturers are also exporters, sending these same products to every country on the face of the globe.
Living so close to these wonders we lose sight of their importance and quality. Next week's Cooking School, besides its lectures, discussions, new recipes, and cookery demonstrations, will bring us some of the highlights, the most important facts about the products which fill our refrigerators and pantries and which make the meals our families love.
Mrs. Edna R. Crabtree urged this paper to repeat as often as possible this week, that every section of the

SEAPLANE SAVES FIVE FISHERMEN

Their Boat Wrecked On Reef They Wait 13 Hours Until Rescuer Locates Them.

Miami, Fla., March 8.—(AP)—Four passengers and the skipper of the fishing boat Sea Spirit were rescued off Elliott Key, near here by the crew of the Coast Guard seaplane Sirius today after they had hung in the water from the side of their almost completely submerged craft for 13 hours.
The passengers were: Earl H. Hefer of Canton, Ohio, Paul Oeschwald of Winton, N. J., Edward Clark of Red Bank, N. J., and H. T. Ormandy of Toronto, Ont.
The skipper of the fishing boat is Captain Armin Dunkel of Miami.
The fishing party left here at 7 a. m., yesterday and when it failed to return, Coast Guard headquarters was notified.
Men Located
Shortly after dawn, the Coast Guard seaplane Sirius, commanded by Lieut. C. B. Olsen, took off from here and after a several hours search, located the men on Elliott Key, approximately 21 miles south of Miami.
The members of the fishing party, suffering from exposure, lack of food and water, were placed in the seaplane and brought back here.
About noon yesterday the fishing boat struck a reef and a large hole was stove in the bottom of the craft. As the boat quickly filled with water, those aboard jumped into the sea and hung on to the side of the vessel.
There they struggled for 13 hours as an easterly wind and a favorable tide slowly propelled the half submerged boat seven miles into shoal water from whence the victims waded ashore at Elliott Key at 8 a. m. today.

Fishes Fish Themselves, Chicago Expert Asserts

Chicago, March 8.—(AP)—Don't shed any more tears for the poor fish that gets caught on the fisherman's hook.
The fishes themselves have been doing much the same thing since the earth was young—even before men existed.
So said Alfred C. Weed, assistant curator at the Field Museum of Natural History as he explained the habits of newly acquired strange fish that catch other fish with bait. He said they were found in all seas.

England's Hunger Marchers Protest Jobless Bill

When 16,000 hunger marchers from all parts of Great Britain converged on London to protest the government's new unemployment bill, the city mustered 12,000 police to keep order. Here a contingent of mounted police is seen holding back the crowds at Hyde Park.

60 Feet Under Water Diver Becomes Drunk

Unusual Story Related Before Royal Society of Arts In London—How the Feat Was Accomplished.

London, March 8.—(AP)—Elbow benders may well doff hats to Tom, the man who sat at the bottom of the ocean and drank whiskey, with water under his chin and sixty feet of air above him—drinking when a ship would have drowned him like a rat in a trap.
The story of Tom was told to the Royal Society of Arts by Sir Robert Davis, noted authority on deep sea diving, and here it is:
"Tom, a diver working on a wreck, had sent up no cargo for the last couple of hours and everybody became anxious about him. At last he shot to the surface and was dragged to the latter. Then, it was seen that he was drunk. Yet, he went down as sober as a horse at a funeral, and the chief salvage officer set about clearing up the mystery.
How It Was Done
"This is how Tom did it. As the ship sank he had seeled over slightly to one side. Some air in the hold, instead of escaping out of the hatch when the water poured in,

FIRST LADY SEES VIRGIN ISLANDS

Inspects Improvements Being Made Under New Deal; Given Warm Welcome.

St. Thomas, Virgin Islands, March 8.—(AP)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt today swiftly circled through the Virgin Islands to see what the New Deal and public works program of her husband, the President, had brought to the island possession.
She went swimming at 7:30 a. m. then she and her party visited the lofty, buttressed "Bluebeard Castle" where Federal money is now building a hotel to turn the pirate lair into tourist dollars as an aid to the impoverished islands.
They watched around Lindbergh, buildings repaired, and swamps drained.
Untringly she asked practical questions to bring out the facts on school on poverty, and on the pressing local problem of vagrant, parentless children.
Officials told her that the activi-

SAILORS DESCRIBE SINKING OF SHIPS

Vessels Collide In Ocean; No Lives Lost But 430 Heads Of Cattle Drowned.

Weehawken, N. J., March 8.—(AP)—Her bow crushed, the steamer Black Eagle arrived in port today carrying the crew of the freighter Concordia which she rammed and sank Monday afternoon near Sable Island in the "graveyard of the Atlantic."
The rescued sailors told a vivid story of the collision. Like a phantom ship, the Black Eagle emerged from a fog, crashed into the Concordia and backed away, leaving a gaping hole in the latter's side.
"We hardly knew what had happened," one of the seamen said. "It was so sudden."
No lives were lost, no one was injured, but bedlam reigned on the sinking boat. Bulls bellowed and were cascaded into the water.
Captain Allan Murray of the Concordia told this story of the accident:
"We had a general cargo in addition to 430 adult cattle. We had a crew of 61, including 17 cattlemen.
"Just a few moments after we heard the Black Eagle whistle the crash came. The Black Eagle's bow struck us amidship, penetrating an officer's cabin. The officer had left just a moment before.
"The Black Eagle backed away and abruptly vanished. The fog was that thick."
The vessel was affected without incident, Captain Murray said.
"We abandoned ship about an hour after the collision in our four life boats," he said. "Fogborns in the life boats enabled us to contact the Black Eagle. We finally found her and scrambled aboard."
Captain Murray was sure the Concordia sank after he had left her.
"The fog rang down the curtain," he said.
The 17 cattlemen were a dejected lot.
"We are men without a country,"

STATE DRUGGISTS WIN TEST CASE ON LIQUOR

Highspots in Opinion On Druggist Permits

By Associated Press
What the opinion held:
Legislature had Constitutional right to provide for control of use and sale of alcoholic liquors by pharmacists.
Legislature had power to distinguish rights under two classes of permits, (package store and druggist's).
Upheld trial court in ruling that, place being suitable, a druggist permit rather than package store permit should issue to druggist-applicant.
Intent of Legislature was for state control of intoxicating liquors through delegation of discretionary power to commission to grant or withhold permits.
Druggists are subjected to additional responsibility—namely to be provided with a certificate of fitness from the pharmacy commission.
Druggists likely to forfeit both druggist and pharmacy permits if convicted of allowing alcoholic liquors to be drunk on premises.
Trial court upheld that commission regulations went too far in refusing druggists permits.

$10,000 LOAN GIVEN TO FEDERAL OFFICIAL

Aircraft Head Tells Senators He Advanced Sum To Deputy Assistant Postmaster General Gove.

Washington, March 8.—(AP)—Paul Henderson, vice president of United Aircraft and Transport Corporation testified before the Senate airmail investigating committee today that he had loaned $10,000 in 1930 to Chase C. Gove, deputy second assistant postmaster general under W. Irving Glover.
Henderson previously had termed impractical President Roosevelt's proposals for return of the airmail to private carriers under new terms.
Henderson said in the last year, two he had drafted the notes evidencing the loans totaling $10,000.
Gove, he said, was a close personal friend of long standing.
"He told me he had been gambling in the Stock Market with all the money he had in the world," Henderson explained.
Meanwhile, the New York Curb Exchange agreed to furnish the Senate banking committee a list of sellers of air company stocks prior to cancellation of the airmail contract and Chairman McKellar of the Senate post office committee told newsmen private aviation companies would have to undergo a thorough housecleaning if they expected to receive any contracts under President Roosevelt's program.
A Year Needed
Asked about the feasibility of a six-months' qualification period for mail bidders, as proposed by the President, Henderson asserted at least a year would be required to build up a smooth-running organization.
"Even at that, men would have to be employed from other companies."
Illustrating his contention aviation companies must plan a long subsidiary had developed two planes better than any now used by the system, but that about 2 1/2 years would be required to get them into service.
The Post Office department meanwhile pushed an investigation to determine whether airmail carrying companies had been overpaid.
Karl Crowley, department solicitor, said final payment had not been made to any of the companies whose contracts were cancelled.
To Speed Up Bill
Talking to newsmen in his office with a tentative draft of a bill to carry out the President's plan before him, McKellar said the legislation would be introduced in the next few days.
Contracts are not expected by capital authorities to be let for several months although some said it was the administration's desire to

JOHNSON STARTS EMPLOYMENT DRIVE

Blue Eagle Chieftain Selects Men To Map Out Plan To Create Jobs.

Washington, March 8.—(AP)—General Hugh S. Johnson took a new step today in his drive for employment. The NRA chief summoned two select industrial committees to help him work out a program for making more jobs.
This he did after closing the first committee assembly with a sharp announcement that enforcement of Blue Eagle rules will be tightened up.
"I have been too gentle x x x 'You ain't seen nothing yet'—he asserted last night.
To draft his new plan, Johnson asked the code authorities of the heavy goods industries and of the consumer goods groups to select twelve men each today.
Much Work Ahead
He aimed for something concrete to announce to the public in a week-end if possible. But he promised weeks of continuing effort to round out a complete scheme.
The Blue Eagle chieftain closed

CHURCH QUARRELS ARE DYING DOWN

Presbyterians Say They Are More United Than Ever And Moving Forward.

Atlantic City, N. J., March 8.—(AP)—The Rev. Dr. John McDowell, moderator of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States, believes the Fundamentalist-Moderate controversy waged in the church for years has died down.
At the same time, he feels, he said at the close of an executive session of the General Council last night, that the need of the church today is a religion based on the teachings of Christ.
"Never in my 36 years in the church," he said, "have I found it more wholeheartedly united in its essential beliefs, or more generally cooperative in its support of the authorized agencies of the General Assembly, viz, the Board of National Missions, the Board of Christian Education and the Board of Pensions."
Church Goes Forward
"This statement grows out of my contacts with 26 synods and more than 50 Presbyteries in the past ten months. The church is going forward in all its life and work with confidence in its leadership, and in its membership. It is beginning to be apparent that the depression is bringing people back to the church. Men and women are taking religion more seriously, and recognizing that religion is fundamental."
"Except in one or two sections of the country the controversy between the Fundamentalists and Moderates is not playing a large part in the life of the church today, and that for the reason that men and women are recognizing now that there is no substitute for the spirit of Christ in the Christianity of the New Testament."

Receipts for the fiscal year since July 1 were $1,938,889,731.84; expenditures, $4,284,415,888.56; unexpended balance, $1,459,714,833.84 of temporary expenditures; excess of expenditures, $2,824,696,054.72; total available, $7,734,038,789.12.

Small Woman's Charms More Appealing to Men

Ann Arbor, Mich., March 8.—(AP)—Even such old standbys of classical love affairs as Helen of Troy and Cleopatra failed to convince the judges of a campus debate here that a woman's charms do not vary inversely as to her size.

The co-eds responded with a flash back into history. "Look at Helen of Troy; her face launched a thousand ships and it must have been large to do that. Cleopatra was buxom."

GRANDSON OF SWEDISH KING IS WED TODAY

Princess Sigvard underwent the customary military training in Sweden, but developed artistic tastes. At completion of the period of training he went to Hollywood to study film methods. Returning to Stockholm, he painted scenery for the Oskar theater. The lure of the motion picture studio drew him to Berlin against the wishes of his royal relatives, however, and he became connected with UFA.

NEW PRODUCTS INTRODUCED AT COOKING SCHOOL

Cooking School will be full of new, good cookery, fine recipes demonstrated for the first time in Manchester and besides the food part of the program, she will talk about new home equipment. "Labor saving devices" said Mrs. Crabtree "are becoming more marvelous every year. We press a button and something cooks, or a refrigerator makes its own ice, or washing is done, or the children's clothes ironed—almost without the need of busy Mrs. Housewife. There are new appliances and equipment of every description which I have been studying and using and which I shall have in the kitchen next week at the State theater."

shorten as far as possible the army emergency airmail service. "If any company whose contract was cancelled keeps it present officers and affiliates, it won't fare so well," McKellar asserted, "but if they recognize with new officers and without their affiliates and interlocking directorates they will be permitted to bid like all other companies." "If they want to stay in the picture they must conform to the law," Henderson said on October 10 he endorsed notes for Govt at the District National bank totalling $3,000 on November 10, he said, and endorsed an additional $2,000, and on December 23 lent him $6,000 directly.

JOHNSON STARTS EMPLOYMENT DRIVE

The industrial gathering last night with a speech which coupled an energetic appeal to play the game with a declaration that in many industries, "there is no excuse" for ducking his ten per cent hour shortening plan. Issues Warning Then he paraded a disclaimer of dictatorial intentions toward industry with three earnest warnings: "Under specific orders from the President, we are reorganizing to enforce the penal sections of the act," he said first. The other warnings were in substance as follows: "That the country faces this spring, 'the worst epidemic of strikes in our history'; that company unions in 99 out of 100 cases involve illegal 'interposition' by employers."

ELECT HYDE PRESIDENT OF ORFORD REALTY CO.

John H. Hyde was elected president of the Orford Realty company at the annual meeting of the company held this week. Reports indicated that the company was in an improved condition and a brighter year is expected. Other officers elected were: treasurer, William S. Hyde; secretary, Thomas Ferguson. An advisory board was also elected consisting of Christopher Glenney, Harold Alvord and Thomas Ferguson.

HALT EXPERIMENTS BAKEWELL WARNING

That the President should have dismissed from his inner council the man who did not see eye to eye with him in the matter of policies. The methods he has said, are frankly experimental. Every scientist engaged in an experiment knows that often his severest critics are his most helpful collaborators. "Inasmuch as he has done this, however, it is all the more important that Congress should exercise fully its right and perform its Constitutional duties, and see to it that no action is taken without full and free discussion, through which, alone, the people can be kept informed of the full significance of what is being done. If the Democratic majority shrinks this responsibility, the duty of the minority party is made so much the more evident."

Warden, a cattleman, said the hold of the Concordia, where the cattle were, was thrown into confusion. "The hulls were bowing," he said. "Several were split in half. A few poured out through the hole into the water along with many crates of apples." The Concordia was enroute from Halifax to Glasgow. Captain Murray, true to tradition, was the last to leave his ship. One of his officers told of the heroism of his chief. "The captain saw me dash by without a life belt," the officer said. "So he took his off and made me do it."

Wee Goldy watched the turtle for a while, and said, "He's getting sore. Why don't you let him have the fish you're holding out in front?"

"You've had a ride that's been just swell, while sitting on his funny shell, and now you should stop fooling him with such a crazy stunt."

"All right," the friendly man replied. "Here's where I end a dandy ride." In just about a minute more the fish was out of sight.

"I'll bet that tasted very good," said Doty. "Gee, I wish I could go riding on the turtle's back. I'm really very light."

"Well, miss, I fear that what I've done," replied the man, "will spoil your fun. Now that the fish is eaten, my ol' turtle will not race. But go ahead and have your ride, if you're sure you'll be satisfied to ride real slowly." Then a smile spread on Wee Doty's face.

APPOINT MC MILLIN AS INDIANA COACH

Produced Colorful Grid Teams At Kansas State For The Past Six Years.

Bloomington, Ind., March 8.—(AP)—To A. N. (Bo) McMillin, the quarterback who led Centre College's "Praying Colonels" in their notable victory over Harvard more than a decade ago, has been entrusted the task of improving the football fortunes of Indiana University. The 1919 All-American, who has coached at Centenary, Geneva and Kansas State, will take over the head football coaching reins at the Hoosier Western Conference school next week when he arrives to conduct spring practice.

McMillin accepted the post in a conference with Z. G. Clevenger, Indiana athletic director, at St. Louis yesterday, and his appointment was announced here last night. His will be the second new face in Big Ten coaching circles this year. Francis A. Schmidt, formerly of Texas Christian, has been named head coach at Ohio State University.

Neither the length of McMillin's contract nor the size of his salary was made public. A statement by the faculty athletic committee said the salary "is considered in line with that generally paid for the services of Big Ten coaches."

E. C. (Billy) Hayes, Indiana track coach and the man McMillin succeeds in the football position, hailed the Kansas State coach as "the best possible choice," and said he anticipated "a promising future for Indiana."

Hayes, who was drafted to take over the football coaching job after H. O. (Pat) Page was ousted three years ago, relinquished the duties recently to devote his attention to track.

With McMillin and a new line coach to be named by McMillin, however, Hayes is expected to cooperate to form a board of football strategy. J. (Butch) Nowack, former Illinois player, has been coaching the Indiana line. Immediate reaction on the campus to the selection of the 37-year-old McMillin was favorable. He produced colorful teams at Kansas State, where he has coached for six years.

What's the matter? How can I pry this thing off your skull, with you jumping all around? Hey, King - th' Cardiff Giant has been knocked cold! Alley oop has only a few men left! Let's try another attack! YEEEEOW! 'EM! WE CAN TAKE 'EM! WHAT? AGAIN? ON-OH! THEY MADE IT TOUNDER MY FEET! THAT GUY WAS BEEN KNOCKED OUT!

SENSE and NONSENSE

The farmer would like a dollar that would buy less pork and more clothes, food and harvesting machinery.

A judge who was deaf was hearing a case in which both plaintiff and defendant also were deaf.

Plaintiff—This man ought to be made to pay his rent.

Judge—What have you got to say about that?

Defendant—I always grind my corn by night.

Judge (finally)—I have considered this case very carefully and reach the decision that both of these brothers should help to support their mother.

Just as though it wasn't bad enough trying to keep the wolf from the door without trying to keep him out of the radio!

Fame's Ladder
Round after round we struggle to its top—and then come down again without a stop!

SPRING FLOWERS—The dollar really doesn't buy less. It just buys less at a time. Floppers are said to be a necessity—and necessity knows no law. Forbidden fruit is always sweetest, and the dress you can't afford always seems the prettiest to your wife. Some people are good, like carrots—everybody says they are good but nobody likes them. The shingle used to be considered the best board of education. Marriage is an institution—where two people are confined who are crazy about each other. In politics an ounce of pull is worth a pound of push. A monologue is a conversation between an insurance salesman and a prospect. The man who knows it all never tires of trying to put other wise. It needs more than "nail white" and polish to get one into court with clean hands.

Spring Jingle
Lovers love it!
Well,
What of it?

First Woman—My husband considered a long time before he proposed to me. He was very careful not to get involved.

Second Ditto—It's always those extra careful people who get taken in, isn't it, dearie?

Candid to Say the Least
(Advertisement appearing in The Boot and Shoe Recorder)—
FOR SALE—Shoe shop very cheap to anybody crazy enough to buy it.

Most of us can stand being poor because we are used to it. The real test of character is to accumulate a little money and refrain from being arrogant and uppish.

In a Negro school near Danville, Virginia, there was one boy so black that even the other pupils called him "Midnight." This comes to us rather straight from a traveler who has just motored through that part of Virginia. It seems that this was all very well until a new pupil only a few shades lighter than "Midnight" entered school. On being called his nickname "Midnight" by the new pupil, the black one answered:

"Lissen heah! Don' yo' call me no Midnight. Yo's 'bout half-past seven yo' self."

Blessed is the man whose wife knows more about pots and pans than she does about spades and clubs.

About this time of the year, it's hard to tell if it's really love, or just a real bad case of old-time spring fever.
