Charges of Politics At Milk Board Trial

Hartford, March 20.—(AP)—Arthur P. Bigelow, vice-president and general manager of the Bryant and Chapman Company, Hartford Milk Dealers, today admitted on the Superior Court witness stand that he told a dealers' meeting last Thursday in New Haven that Attorney Hugh M. Alcorn is prosecuting the producer-dealers' case, as counsel for the Milk Producer-Dealers' Association of Connecticut against the state milk board, for political reasons.

Mr. Alcorn drew this testimony from Mr. Bigelow on the fifth day of the suit, today, after recalling to the witness stand the Hartford man who testified last week.

Pressed for what he said at the New Haven meeting, Bigelow, turning to the attorney, testified that he remembered saying to the dealers, "This has got into a political football and you (Mr. Alcorn) were crucifying both the dealers and the farmers."

Asked by Mr. Alcorn if he communicated with Chairman Charles G. Morris of the control board before HOLLAND'S QUEEN MOTHER IS DEAD Dowager Queen Emma, Beloved For Her Charities, Victim Of Bronchitis.

The Hague, March 20.—(AP)—Dowager Queen Emma, beloved for her charities and honored alike by Holland's rich and poor, died this morning of bronchitis. She was 75 years old.

The Queen Mother, widow of King William III, and mother of Queen Wilhelmina, had suffered from bronchitis for some time but became gravely ill only a few days ago.

Through Monday care was taken to avoid heavy traffic in the vicinity of the palace. Throughs formed, however, to receive bulletins of Queen Emma's condition.

After the King's death in 1890, she became regent and served in that capacity until her daughter became of age and ascended the throne.

Then, she retired to the back ground devoting herself to patronage of the arts and to charitable work. In 1928, during the Olympic games representatives of 150 countries took part in a magnificent procession on the occasion of her birthday.

The Dowager Queen was closely related to the English royal family. Her sister was the late Duchess of Albany. She also had many German relatives.

Manufacturers Give Few Details Of Their Conference But Union Leaders In Detroit Go On With Plans To Quit Work Tomorrow.

New York, March 20.—(AP)—Leaders of the automobile manufacturing industry, in session here in an attempt to avert a threatened strike in the industry announced this afternoon that they would go to Washington tonight in response to a request from President Roosevelt.

The automobile manufacturers were advised by General Johnson this afternoon that the President desired to see them tomorrow, said a statement issued after an all-day session.

New York, March 20.—(AP)—Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., Walter P. Chrysler and four other leading automobile manufacturers were closeted for an hour with NRA Administrator Hugh S. Johnson today, discussing the general strike which threatens to paralyze the automobile industry tomorrow.

The meeting, which was surrounded by great secrecy, was held in General Johnson's suite in the Waldorf-Astoria tower.

At its conclusion the six representatives of the manufacturers hurried on foot to the headquarters of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce, only a few blocks away, where the chamber's board of directors was in session discussing strike plans.

Three members of the group of six who called on General Johnson were not identified. Alvan Macaulay, president of the Packard Motor Car Company and president of the chamber, was with the delegation.

When the manufacturers got back to the building housing the chamber's quarters they took great care to avoid the ostentatious reporters and photographers waiting there.

On the ground floor of the building is a clothing store. The six men nattered through this store and boarded a small private elevator which bore them to the top.

The directors of the chamber had their lunch sent into the conference chamber shortly before 1 p. m. and continued their deliberations without interruption. At that hour there still was no indication as to when their conference might be concluded.

DETROIT, March 20.—(AP)—With one strike already in progress, William Collins, National organizer for the American Federation of Labor, announced today that union officials would proceed this afternoon with plans for further strikes in Detroit, Flint, Pontiac and Lansing automotive plants, unless favorable reports are received from a National Automobile Chamber of Commerce meeting in New York.

He estimated that 44,000 men would strike at 9 a. m. tomorrow unless some compromise is reached on the union demand for recognition, or a plebiscite giving employees the right to choose between the A. F. of L. and company unions.

Issues Statement In a statement addressed to Chevrolet employees, M. E. Coyne, general manager of the company, said that the firm had "made every effort within its power during the last few years to provide you with a steady job and a regular pay envelope."

BYRD'S RESCUE FORCES DELAYED

Bad Weather Prevents Expedition Setting Out To Aid Isolated Fliers.

Little America, Antarctic, March 20.—(AP)—(via Mackay Radio)—Rescue expeditions awaited today a break in the weather which would permit them to go to the aid of two Byrd Antarctic expedition members isolated after a forced airplane landing in an uncharted ice field.

Pilot William C. Bowlin and Wireless Operator Clay Bailey, were forced down during a storm Sunday night while returning from a depot where they had deposited supplies 200 miles from their main base.

Rear Admiral Byrd made ready to fly a plane to their relief and a ground party was prepared to rush to the group, but high winds and drifting snow made a start impossible.

Plenty of Food "When the plane left little America," said Admiral Byrd, "it carried full emergency equipment, including a tent, cooking stove, sleeping

Athens, March 20.—(AP)—Samuel Insull plans to return to the United States after the excitement of his case dies down and live in America peacefully the rest of his life, one of the aged fugitive's attorneys told the Associated Press today.

The lawyer, Mr. Xeros, declared he was in communication both with Insull's ship on the Mediterranean and his London solicitors who are handling the former Chicagoan's affairs.

"Insull seems happy now in calm weather," the lawyer said. "Wherever he is going now, he will make his permanent home if the United States continues to persecute him."

"Mrs. Insull will go to Paris Saturday and thereafter will leave for London within a few days," Xeros added.

Insull may visit as many as 30 countries before he finds a haven, said Xeros.

Emperor Bao Dai to Wed Young Christian Woman

Hue, Annam, French Indo-China, March 20.—(AP)—Poets and minstrels sought today to arouse enthusiasm for a love match between Emperor Bao Dai and a lass called Mariette and their verse and song left the people cold.

The reason is that the bride-to-be was reared outside the Buddhist faith—she is a Christian.

Discontent became evident yesterday when the slender girl, 18-year-old daughter of a wealthy merchant of Cochinchina, arrived for the beginning of the marriage ceremonies today, leading to the state ceremony March 24.

The young woman, whose real name is Nguyen Huu Hao although she is known as Mariette, was reared in a French convent. She was not discarded her Paris frocks for native costume.

SENTENCE ILLEGAL IS LIFER'S CLAIM

Waterbury Man Says His Life Was Placed In Double Jeopardy At Trial.

New Haven, March 20.—(AP)—Louis M. Leopold of Waterbury, serving a life sentence in State prison for the deaths of three persons in a fire left the prison for the first time today to make a bid for freedom in U. S. District court. He was presented before Judge Carroll C. Hincks on a writ of habeas corpus, obtained by Leopold, who claims that his commitment in November, 1928, was in violation of the fifth and fourth amendments of the United States Constitution.

Judge Hincks reserved his decision and ordered Arthur G. Solomon, prominent New York attorney who is counsel for Leopold, to file briefs.

Leopold was sent to prison for life on a charge of arson, arising from a fire on his Waterbury property, in which two small Waterbury boys and a New Haven man met death.

Double Jeopardy In his arguments, Solomon contended that Leopold's life was placed in double jeopardy and that he was not tried in due process in violation of the fifth amendment, by trying him twice for the same offense and that his commitment therefore was illegal.

Solomon said that when the jury first brought out its verdict, Leopold was found guilty on four counts, which would mean death by hanging, but that Judge Carl Foster, after discharging the jury, ordered them back and they returned later with a new verdict of guilty on two counts, which meant life imprisonment.

William B. Fitzgerald of Waterbury, assistant state's attorney who appeared for the state, offered no opposition to the contentions of Solomon, asserting the records of the case were sufficient to uphold the state.

NAZARENE CHURCH REVIVAL SERIES

Well Known Evangelist And Gospel Singer Coming Here Next Sunday.

Rev. Alfred Carey of Beacon, New York, Evangelist, accompanied by Professor J. Byron Crouse of Greensboro, North Carolina, gospel singer and trombonist, will open a two weeks' series of revival meetings in the Church of the Nazarene next Sunday, March 25 with services in the morning, afternoon and evening. A great Sunday School rally will precede the revival series of meetings at 9 o'clock Sunday morning.

Mr. Carey is well known in Manchester and throughout New England as a deep student of the Bible and one of the greatest exponents of the Scriptures. Converted at the age of 19, Rev. Carey studied and prepared himself for the ministry against the advice of his relatives and friends and was pastor of churches in the field service for 11 years. After several years in the church as an evangelist, he was called to the Salvation Army and toured the country with Commissioner Bringle, one of the best-loved preachers in the corps. Rev. Carey worked in the evangelistic field for 10 years, joining the Nazarene movement seven years ago in a similar capacity. He has preached in nearly every city in the New England states and his home state, New York.

Professor Crouse has recently returned from a world-wide tour of the missionary field as a singer and preacher. A talented singer, he has made it a regular habit of the formerly heard regularly on the radio. Professor Crouse is also an excellent trombone player and during his visitation here will organize pep classes in religious musical training among the children of the community and church.

Services will continue throughout the two weeks each week night at 7:30 o'clock, except Saturday, with services Sunday morning, afternoon and evening.

The current revival meetings will precede the annual assembly of Nazarene churches of New England scheduled for Manchester, Conn. at which over 300 delegates and 50 pastors of eastern churches will attend the four-day gathering.

trary to the policies of this title" exist.

The policies declared by the title are general and sweeping. One of them is "to induce and maintain united action of labor and management under adequate governmental sanctions and supervision."

"Translated into practice this means that if a few dominant concerns, or even one concern in an industry, will not carry out their part of the industrial act, the President may give public notice, hold a hearing, declare it essential to license the whole industry, then order that after a certain date, no unit in that industry shall operate without a license in which he may write such terms as he considers necessary to cure the abuses.

The President has full power to withhold or revoke a license from any firm and there is no appeal from his decision if it is in accordance with the law.

Operation without a license or in violation of the terms of a license permits a $500 a day fine and six months imprisonment.

The acts of the President himself cannot be questioned in any court, so the only defense an industrial concern could use would be to find a method of challenging the constitutionality of the law.

BIG STRIKE READY Washington, March 20.—(AP)—A big stick lay within President Roosevelt's reach today as he saw a capital-labor controversy threaten to retard the recovery program.

Legal advisers are known to have pointed to the drastic power to license industry granted the President under the National Industrial Recovery act. They are known to have suggested the possibility of licensing the automobile industry, if necessary, to preserve the industrial peace.

None could say whether the President would use this potent weapon. So far, he has never employed it.

The Chief Executive intimated today for word that might settle the controversy which threatens to break out into a major automobile strike tomorrow. He kept general Hugh S. Johnson, his NRA administrator in a position to inform him quickly of all developments. He watched also the railroad wage dispute.

BRISTOL NURSERYMAN GARDEN CLUB SPEAKER

Alexander Cumming Warns Against Allowing Chrysanthemum Buds To Blossom Too Early.

Alexander Cumming, Jr., secretary of the Bristol Nurseries, was the guest speaker at the March meeting of the Manchester Garden Club last evening at Center Church House. There was an unusually large attendance of members and guests. One new member was admitted, John McConville, proprietor of McConville Nurseries, 7 Windemere street.

Mr. Cumming gave a comprehensive description of edging plants, new and improved perennials and annuals, giving his opinion and experience with them, and especially stressing the new Korean chrysanthemums which have become very popular in this country. Many of these lovely single varieties blossom early and escape the frosts which have been the fiercest enemy of garden chrysanthemums. One of the earliest of all has been named "Auldin." Its ease of cultivation has made it very popular, and its wonderful fiery copper color makes it ideal for cutting and worthy of the name. Mr. Cumming cautioned about allowing the buds to blossom out too early and recommended pinching them off, as chrysanthemums are essentially cool weather flowers. There are dozens of other named varieties in these new chrysanthemums in white and colors.

At the close of his talk Mr. Cumming answered a number of questions on garden subjects put to him by the members, and at the suggestion of Mrs. R. K. Anderson, chairman of the program committee, the gardeners accorded him a rising vote of thanks.

ENGLISH GARDENS AT FLOWER SHOW

Displays Occupy Four Floors Of Grand Central Palace In New York.

New York, March 20.—The largest first-day crowd in many years filled four floors of the Grand Central Palace yesterday as the Twenty-first International Flower Show was officially opened at 2 p. m. Outside the visitors braved the cold winds of a new March day, with fur coats buttoned tight and collars turned up; inside was warmth and a kaleidoscope of color in which all the flowers of spring participated.

The show was declared open when Lady Moore, wife of Sir Frederick William Moore, of Glasnevin, Dublin, Ireland, cut a green ribbon at the foot of the grand floral staircase. Sir Frederick was for many years head of the Botanic Gardens at Glasnevin and is the honorary master of judges, representing the Royal Horticultural Society, which is presenting a silver bowl trophy for the best exhibit reminiscent of English gardens.

New Narcissi on Display
A radio program from the stairs, broadcast over an N. B. C. network followed. Richardson, night chairman of the flower show committee, opened the program, describing the exhibits before him and introducing Mrs. Bert Schiller McDonald, who presented corsage bouquets to the guests of honor. They were Mary Pickford, Lily Tomes, Judith Anderson and the Three Pickens Sisters. Miss Pickford and Miss Tomes later posed for photographs with new types of narcissi which had been named for them.

On the main floor are numerous types of beautifully arranged gardens including rockeries, lawns, principally in the English manner. The first one the visitor sees is a private garden, the exhibit of Miss Mary L. Constable, executed by her superintendent, James Stuart. It is of an Australian type, with a harmony of yellow, orange, blue and lavender. The background is composed of a bower of yellow acacias, surrounding a rustic seat.

Rhododendron Garden Shown
An azalea and rhododendron garden, covering 1,000 square feet, arranged by Robbink and Atkins Company, is the center of a group of three gardens in which is included a narcissi garden of John T. Scheepers Company. This is arranged in a Devonshire setting with an old mill and mill-race built into a hillside. A background of tall cedars creates the impression of distance. Stone steps lead from the mill to the stream; blending shades of yellow and white.

Opposite the garden of Miss Constable is a rock garden of Marcel LePine, of Bergenfield, N. J., which contains hundreds of varieties of plants, large and small. Against a background of a gnarled pine and masses of rhododendrons and andromedas are several types of dwarf trees. Adjoining is Alfred Kottmiller's display which is a rustic scene built on various levels and containing rocky ledges, running brooks and pools.

Other exhibits showing the English influence are formal gardens of the Peter Henderson Company, copied from a garden at Warwick Castle, and that of Stump & Walter Co. representing England in Maytime.

Entries on One Floor Worth Million
Among the private gardens, those of Mrs. Payne Whitney and Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Field attracted much interest and praise. The former is in a setting of dogwood, birches and boxwood, and the latter is based on a pool surrounded by a formal planting of roses, irises, lilies, laurel and pink wisteria.

On the mezzanine floor is the exhibit of the Garden Club of America and adjoining it are the competitive entries of roses orchids and other plants. The entries on this floor alone are estimated to be worth $1,000,000.

BIRD STILL KEEPS NEST BEHIND ELECTRIC GLOBE

Sparrow Maintained Warm Home During Winter And Hasn't Moved Out Yet.

A sparrow that early last fall established its home behind an electric light globe just over the doorway of the State Service station owned by Gorman and Fitzgerald on Main street, has remained all winter. The bird did not build a nest, but when it came to perch above the door sill near the electric light globe, which gave off sufficient heat to warm its body. When snugly settled, the bird would stick its head under a wing and sleep. It was never molested and each night occupied its usual place. Not one night during the hard winter was it missed.

The sparrow was sheltered from snow, rain and the wind, and was fortunate in having its nesting place near where it was possible to get food. Now that the winter is almost over, the bird still holds its usual place. Whether it will go when the weather becomes warm is interesting to the many who knew about the bird's perching place during the winter.

USE 65 TABLES AT CARD PARTY

19 Win Prizes In Bridge, Whist Or Setback At St. Bridget's.

Sixty-five tables were used in the card party held at St. Bridget's church last night, but even this number was not sufficient to accommodate all who attended. Several were engaged punching the score cards or preparing lunch. It was the largest card party ever held in St. Bridget's hall.

The party was arranged by Miss Nellie Bockus, as chairlady, assisted by the Lithuanian societies. Three prizes were awarded to men and women in bridge, whist and setback. In the bridge playing the women who won prizes were Mrs. T. McCarthy, Mrs. Jennie Fogarty and Mrs. Agnes Chartier; whist, Mrs. James Fogarty, Mrs. Oliver Bingham, Mrs. Sarah Healy; setback, Miss Mildred L. Monson, Mrs. L. McIntosh, Miss Lena Dent. The men prize winners were: bridge, Edward Moriarty, Delphis St. John, Jr., Mr. Jarvis; whist, John O'Keefe, F. P. Gavello, Michael Dillon; setback, John Oterman, Joseph LaChance, P. Barr.

The special door prize award, a hand made rug room mat, went to Mrs. Edward Coleman. There was an auction sale that was not announced until the evening's program was underway. Several household articles that had been brought to the church were offered at auction by R. M. Reid. "Bob" took up his duties. His explanation of the values of the articles to be disposed of added a touch of comedy to the gathering.

FEAR PLOT TO KIDNAP NOTED RADIO SINGER

Los Angeles, March 20.—(AP)—Bing Crosby, actor and singer, was warned by police today of a reported plot to kidnap him or his nine-month-old son, Gary. W. Vincent Noice, 22, informed police a man he saw making a telephone call in the Pacific Electric Station aroused his suspicion. He followed the man and said he overheard him engage in conversation with another, with such remarks as these dotting the talk: "Are you sure Crosby will pay?" "Sure, he'll pay; he's making $3,000 a week." "We'll get the money so slick the cops won't ever hear about it." Officers said the singer has long kept a special guard at his Toluca Lake home.

SPRING STYLE SHOW AT HALE'S OPENING

Fashion Review To Be Staged On Newly Decorated Second Floor.

Manchester women may see all the new spring fashions tomorrow afternoon when Hale's stage their annual spring fashion review. This showing will be staged on the second floor of the Hale store which has been newly decorated for the spring and Easter business.

The second floor which has been temporarily closed for business for the past few months has been refurnished and now open for business. This floor will be confined exclusively to women's sports wear, women's cotton frocks and children's apparel (7 to 14 years). For some time, the need has been felt at the Hale store for an enlargement of these departments and the management has moved these three departments to the second floor where there is more space for display and selling of these popular items. Herbert E. House, president of the Hale concern, feels that Manchester women will welcome this new change. New sitting rooms have been added and the floor affords more opportunity for the store to carry larger and more complete stocks. This floor is in charge of Mrs. Mary Segerdahl, who is buyer in these departments.

The theme of the fashion review will be "Simonesque with practicality on a limited budget." All the garments which will be shown have been taken right from stock and are the type of apparel which the Hale concern are promoting for spring and Easter wear. About fifty garments will be presented which will feature the "windwept" vogue which is the theme song of spring fashions 1934. The review will stress swaggy suits in the new tweeds, practical, smart jacketed frocks, and the new coats. Even the smart spring fashions for little children and school girls will be included.

The fashion show will begin promptly at three o'clock Wednesday afternoon on the second floor. Girls who will model women's apparel will be Alice Modin, Edna Cordy, Maud Turkington and May Little. Girls clothes will be modeled by Ruth Lautenback and Doris Bloom. Little tots apparel will be shown by Laura Lautenback and Edward Quinn.

The Hale concern wishes everyone to attend this spring fashion show which promises to be the big event of Spring opening. The show will start promptly at three o'clock and there will be plenty of seats for everyone.

FEAR STEAMER LOST; SENT OUT SOS CALL

Manila, P. I., March 20.—(AP)—Mystery surrounded the fate of the Italian freighter Otranto today after her SOS was heard of northern Luzon. Twelve hours after the Japanese steamer Kamo Maru picked up the distress call early today, no trace had been found of the craft and no further word had been heard from her.

After fruitlessly searching the waters surrounding the Otranto's reported position—Latitude 15 North, Longitude 118.43—the Kamo Maru continued toward Hong Kong. The Otranto's call for help was reported by the Japanese steamer at 7:40 a. m. The last regular marine report of the Italian vessel was at 12:30 p. m. yesterday when she was 200 miles southwest of Manila, enroute from Singapore to Shanghai. A craft of 2,056 gross tons she is listed as of the fleet of Societa Anonima di Navigazione "Puglia" of Bari, Italy.

H. B. CURTIS DIES
Newtown, March 20.—(AP)—Hobart H. Curtis, 74, former member of the Legislature from this town, died of pneumonia Sunday at St. Petersburg, Fla., where he spent recent winters. He formerly was in business here.

C. S. HAMILTON DEAD; NEW HAVEN ATTORNEY

New Haven, March 20.—(AP)—Charles S. Hamilton, 87, who had practiced law for more than 60 years, died of pneumonia at Grace hospital last night after a week's illness which began with a slight cold. He had been active in his legal work until that time.

An old fashioned lawyer, Hamilton was widely known as a jury pleader. In this capacity he appeared in hundreds of cases. Among fellow members of the bar he was looked on as one of the best of an old time school of practitioners. In court Hamilton invariably appeared in black swallow tail coat and in recent years he also wore a green eye shade. He was probably better known to laymen than any other lawyer at the New Haven bar because of his years of practice. Hamilton began life as a boat builder. His recreation until a few years ago was yachting. He was an able skipper and at times had craft which were well known along Long Island Sound shore. A son, William S. Hamilton, of Larchmont, N. Y., and a daughter here survive.

FIFTY LIQUOR CASES AWAIT COURT RULING

Hartford, March 20.—(AP)—Nearly fifty liquor cases have been held up by Judges William M. Harney and John M. Bailey of the local police court during the past several weeks and the fate of all these cases rests with the decision of the State Supreme Court as to the validity of an important section of the State Liquor Control Act, which has to do with the sale of liquor. The question before the Supreme Court is whether or not it is a violation to sell liquor without a permit. Pending this decision, the judges of the Police Court have continued all these cases and if the Supreme Court finds that the control act failed to make proper provision for the

TO CREATE NEW BANKS TO ASSIST INDUSTRY

Washington, March 20.—(AP)—Democratic leaders saw today a reasonably clear path ahead for President Roosevelt's plan to create 12 new banks, dedicated to pouring $700,000,000 more capital into small industries.

A bill to set up the new banking system, with one institution in each Federal Reserve district, will be considered tomorrow by the Senate banking committee. A similar House group also expects to start work almost immediately. A need for "immediate relief" for "the medium sized man" in business was stressed by Mr. Roosevelt. Even before this call reached the capital yesterday, bills to carry it out were ready for introduction in both chambers.

"They're NEW, DIFFERENT These Carrot Drumsticks"

with Bond Bread in the 'makings'
Said Mrs. Edna Riggs Crabtree at the Manchester Herald Cooking School

HERE'S how Bond Bread and a little imagination can dress up carrots. And this is only one surprise Bond has in store for you when you start using it as an ingredient.

Here's the Trick: Mix together 1 cup cooked mashed carrots, 2 cups soft Bond crumbs, 1 well-beaten egg, 1 tablespoon minced onion, 1 tablespoon chopped pimiento, 2 tablespoons celery salt, and salt and pepper to taste. Shape into drumsticks, dip in fine, dry Bond crumbs and brown in deep, hot fat. Makes 6 drumsticks.

As any food expert can tell you, Bond's delicious flavor is made to order. It's baked into the firm, fine-textured loaf—after the rising reaches what is known as the "flavor-peak."

And now science has turned this home-like bread into a rich source of vitamin-D, scarcest of all the vitamins. So for this tooth-decay-preventing and frame-strengthening element (which you must have), use Bond Bread in some form at each meal... And get the habit of ordering an extra loaf for cooking. Tests have proved that cooking in no way affects the vitamin-D content.

40 GUESTS FLEE FIRE IN BOSTON

Smoke Empties All Night Theater in Scollay Square But None Injured.

Boston, March 20—(AP)—Forty guests fled Crawford Chambers at 5 Hanover street, off Scollay Square, today as fire swept through the basement of the building.

Three alarms were sounded and many occupants of the Chambers were carried from their rooms by firemen. The halls and rooms of the five-story brick building were filled with heavy smoke but the fire damage was confined to the basement.

The quick work of the firemen was responsible for the confinement of the flames.

About 70 persons in an all night moving picture house, located in a building adjoining the chambers, were driven to the street by smoke that seeped into the theater.

Firemen left their charges temporarily in the lobby of the theater as they carried them from their rooms. Later they were cared for at the Crawford House, around the corner in Scollay Square. The Crawford House and Crawford Chambers have no connection and are under separate management.

Fire Chief Henry J. Fox said the blaze began in a bowling alley in the basement of Crawford Chambers and was caused by a carelessly dropped cigarette. He estimated the damage at $15,000.

The fire was discovered by Miss Cora Robbins, housekeeper, who rang the first alarm, then began waking rooms.

None was injured and several affected by the smoke were treated at the scene.

Crawford Chambers is a rooming house and has few transient guests. All were believed to have lived here for some time.

Paul Sklodosky, 46, of West Main street, is lodged in the Tolland County Jail at Tolland in default of payment of a fine and costs for an assault on his 19 year old daughter in a family brawl.

The case was brought before Judge John E. Flisk in the Rockville City Court Monday morning after Sklodosky had been held since Saturday morning at which time he was arrested by Captain Richard E. Shea.

The pictures of the members of the faculty, who are to take part in the play, "The Rivals," Friday evening, were posted on the walls in the hallway for the members to guess the correct names. The only leads the students had were the names of the parts the teachers are to take in the play.

Unusual interest was created as the cast for this production was kept secret and rehearsals were behind closed doors.

Prizes were awarded to eight students for their guesses, four of whom guessed six of the 18 characters correctly and four guessed five of them.

Those awarded prizes were as follows: Cecelia Bodman, Marjorie Jesanis, Leopold Putz, Sylvia Corr, Ruth Allen, Edward Glanz, June Dick and Alice Dimlow.

The different characters in the production are to be as follows: "Lydia," Miss Marjorie Smith; "Captain Absolute," Miss Betty Towle; "Sir Anthony," Miss Elizabeth Burger; "Mrs. Malaprop," Miss Ellen Murphy; "Bob Acres," Elizabeth Wedel; "Sir Lucius Triggler," Miss Elizabeth Dixon; "Julia," Gwendolyn Cook; "Faulkland,"

He is still in a serious condition, but definite hope is now held out for his recovery.

The boy is at the Rockville City hospital under the care of Dr. E. H. Merrill. He is able to recognize his parents after regaining consciousness early Sunday morning.

Rev. William F. Tyler, secretary of the Tolland County Young Men's Christian Association, who was driving the other car in the crash, is still in a critical condition at his home in Vernon Center. POLICE LOOK FOR BODY IN WATERS OF HARBOR

Information Conveyed in Letters Prompts Search For Man Thought Suicide.

Boston, March 20—(AP)—Acting upon information they said was contained in letters addressed to a Long Island woman and a Brooklyn, N. Y., man, harbor police today began dragging the waters near the Charlestown bridge for the body of an A. B. Gallo.

Anthony Kraso of the Charlestown district found the letters tied with a scarf to a rail of the bridge early today. He turned them over to police at Forest St. station.

One of the letters, police said, was addressed to Mrs. Anthony B. Gallo, 28-44 Talbot street, East Garden City, N. Y. Police quoted the letter as follows:

"It's all for the best. Tell my little son his father has gone for a long time."

The other letter, they said, was addressed to Peter Gallo, 152 Harmon street, Brooklyn, N. Y. Both were signed "A. B. Gallo."

Harbor police boats began dragging the waters about the bridge early today in the belief the writer of the letters had committed suicide.

"NOT CONSTIPATED FOR SEVEN WEEKS"

Writes Mrs. Johnson After Using Kellogg's ALL-BRAN

Sufferers from constipation will be interested in this unsolicited letter:

"Your ALL-BRAN surely relieves constipation. I am so glad over the good it has done me that I feel I must write and tell you of it.

"For lunch I take a banana, a large one. Six tablespoons of ALL-BRAN in a sauce dish, and dip banana at each bite until all is consumed. I haven't been constipated now for seven weeks."—Mrs. Louise Johnson, 1488 Forest Street, Denver, Colorado.

Constipation often causes headaches, loss of appetite and energy, sleeplessness. This condition is usually due to lack of "bulk" to excite the intestines, and vitamin B to further promote regular habits. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN has both, as well as iron for the blood.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that in leafy vegetables. Within the body, it forms a soft mass. Gently, it clears out the wastes.

Try ALL-BRAN in place of patent medicines—often harmful. Two tablespoons daily will overcome most types of constipation. Chronic cases, with each meal. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Use as a cereal, or in cooking. Recipes on the red-and-green package. Sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Forget all the creaming when you make cakes with CRISCO

It wouldn't tire a child to make a cake with Crisco. Crisco is already creamed, you see, so naturally it's the perfect shortening for speedy cakes!

Here's how Crisco helps you save 5 minutes and a lot of hard arm-work—
First, put Crisco into the mixing bowl. Then pour in all the sugar. And if it's a whole-egg cake, break in the eggs, too.

Then beat heartily. It's easy because Crisco is the creamy, velvety shortening. In 3 minutes you'll get a fluffy, well-blended mixture. (It takes 8 minutes with a stiff hard shortening!) And you'll love the feathery cake that you'll get!

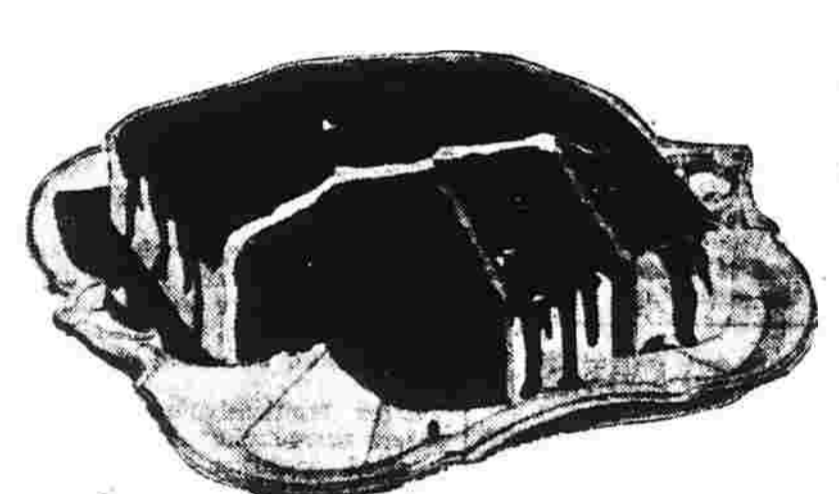

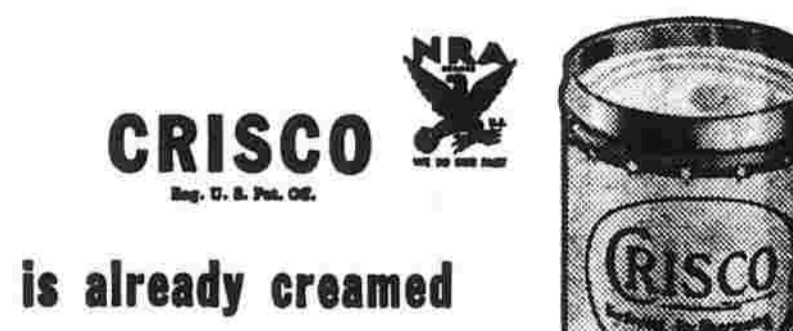

Crisco protects digestion, too

Before you French-fry another potato or make another pie—think this over: Crisco digests quickly. Crisco is the creamy, digestible shortening.

Crisco gives you crispy fried foods good to eat—and good for you! Crisco pastry is light and flaky—digestible! Why? Because Crisco's secret process turns pure digestible oils into fluffy, digestible Crisco. And it stays digestible for months!

Crisco is not sold loose or in bulk

When you buy, look for the vacuum-sealed can with the familiar blue-and-white Crisco label. It's your health protection against dust and contamination. And it's the only way you can get genuine Crisco—the pure, wholesome fat that digests quickly. For Crisco is not sold loose or in bulk.

CHOCOLATE PEPPERMINT CAKE

- 2 squares unsweetened chocolate
- 1 1/2 cups flour
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon soda
- 1 cup sour milk
- 1 teaspoon vanilla

Beat Crisco, sugar, and egg yolks briskly. (No creaming needed with Crisco, the creamy shortening!) Add chocolate, melted. Add sifted dry ingredients alternately with sour milk. Mix well. Add vanilla. Pour into square (7 1/2 inch) or oblong cake pan, rubbed with Crisco. Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) 50 to 60 minutes. Cool.

Easy Frosting: Put 1 1/2 cups granulated sugar, 2 unbeaten egg whites and 1/2 cup water to cook

TOASTED SPICE CAKE

- 1/2 cup Crisco
- 1 cup brown sugar (sifted)
- 2 eggs (separated)
- 1 1/2 cups flour
- 1/2 cup sour milk
- 1/2 cup water
- 1 teaspoon baking powder
- 1 teaspoon cloves
- 1 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon vanilla

Blend wholesome, fluffy Crisco with sugar and egg yolks in one brisk beating. (Crisco needs no preliminary creaming!) Disolve soda in sour milk. Add milk alternately with all sifted dry ingredients. Add vanilla. Mix until smooth. Pour into a Criscoed and floured shallow pan (8" x 12"). Spread with—
Recipe: Beat 2 egg whites (left from cake) until they hold a point but are not dry. Slowly beat in 1 cup sifted light brown sugar. Spread mixture over raw cake bases. Sprinkle with 1/2 cup of brown nuts. Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) 45 to 50 minutes.

All Measurements Level—Recipes tested and approved by Good Housekeeping Institute. Crisco is the registered trademark of a shortening manufactured by the Procter & Gamble Co.

For heaven's sake, Sue—having a party?
No, I'm making a chocolate cake for the cake contest. I could spend that $3 prize!

But you'll never get a decent cake unless you cream the shortening first—
Says who? Watch me beat up the Crisco, sugar and egg yolks—all at once! Crisco is already creamed when you buy it.

Sue, your Chocolate Peppermint Cake gets the prize. The texture was lovely. We all want your recipe!

Why, it's a Crisco recipe, Mrs. Parlor. And so easy to make because you never have to cream Crisco!

WAPPING

Farnum H. Lane and his sister, Miss Jessie A. Lane of "Maple Ridge" attended the Passion Sunday, carillon recital and vesper service at Trinity College Chapel, Hartford, last Sunday.

Mrs. Hattie Skinner Dart, wife of Albert Dart, who lives in the northeastern part of the town, or just over the line in the town of Vernon, passed away at 2 her home last Sunday. Mrs. Dart had not been very well for some time, yet her death was unexpected. She leaves besides her husband a daughter, Mrs. Henry Gunther. The funeral was held this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

There was a rehearsal for the Easter Pageant held at the church last Sunday afternoon.

There will be the regular Thursday evening prayer meeting held at the primary rooms of the church this week. The picture story of the Passion week will be told by the pastor, Rev. David Carter. These stories, which are illustrated by pictures, are very interesting and everyone is cordially invited.

Judge William J. Thresher bound William H. Coburn, 29, of 89 Clark street, Torrington, over to the April term of the Superior Court, when he was presented in the South Windsor town court last Tuesday night on charges of driving an automobile and carrying a concealed weapon. Coburn pleaded not guilty to the second charge. His bond was raised from $1,000 to $2,000.

TRADE SCHOOL NOTES

By THOMAS J. CHARA
Trade School Correspondent

Members of the Trade school orchestra are invited to attend the Hartford Oratorio Society's presentation of the "Requiem" by Brahms at the Bushnell Memorial, this evening. Paul Volquardsen, machine instructor and also a member of the Oratorio Society, obtained the complimentary tickets which have been distributed among the school's popular musicians.

The Boston Symphony Orchestra-Ensemble will accompany the chorus which is under the direction of Dr. Edward Laubin.

The Trade School Interdepartment Basketball League opens its season this afternoon when the Machine and Drafting departments engage at the School Street Rec.

According to Coach Walter Schober who is in charge of the ten-game series each department will have two teams. The contests will consist of four, five-minute quarters under the scrutinizing observation of student referees.

Until the opening of the baseball season in April, two games will be played every Tuesday and Thursday, beginning at 4 p. m.

A joint meeting of the Student Activities Association and Executive Board of the Trade school was held yesterday afternoon in the assembly hall.

Coch Crowley petitioned the Association to appropriate funds for the purchase of new baseball uniforms if the treasury of the school warranted that immediate expenditure.

Upon debating the question an unanimous vote, in favor of the motion, was given for new uniforms.

The motion to appoint a committee to fabricate plans for a year book was tabled pending further consideration.

A light luncheon was served to the basketball players competing in the Bridgeport Trade-Manchester Trade game, last Friday. The committee in charge consisted of Ruth Mahoney, Edith Chapin, Alma Novill and Mrs. Alice V. Volquardsen who prepared the fine "feed" in honor of the Bridgeport players.

TUESDAY, MARCH 20.
A SUNBEAM

Quite the most promising development in connection with the President's advocacy of a system of intermediate banks to provide relief to distressed industries by the making of capital loans lies in the fact that it is planned to have these banks managed by directorates not suffering from the banker complex. "I desire," says Mr. Roosevelt in his letter of transmission, to call attention to two prominent features: First, the matter of caring for the small or medium-size industrialist; second, the control of the proposed banks by directorates a majority of which will themselves be industrialists.

The outstanding significance of this lies in the fact that it is the first time in the entire history of the administration's many angled recovery program, so far as we can recall, that Mr. Roosevelt has given official recognition to the truth that bankers, by reason of their training, their confirmed habits of thought and by their instinct for double security, are utterly inhibited from participating in financial rescue work in any successful way.

How much more encouragement there would have been to the industries if the proposed emergency banking system had been freed, in the proposed legislation, from any connection with the Federal Reserve System it is probably idle to speculate. But the proposal to take the direction of the intermediate banks themselves out of the banking atmosphere and place it in the hands of business men who are not hounded by tradition and the deflationary instinct is one of the breaks in the clouds. Not only does it hold promise that the intermediate banks may really do something but it also warrants the deduction that Mr. Roosevelt may be beginning to see that the banker influence to which he has so often yielded is not as good as he had believed it to be.

"SCHOLAR IN POLITICS"

There are certain descriptive terms which discriminating persons hesitate to apply to themselves. It is rather more than doubtful that Black Jack Pershing would refer to himself as a hero. Even Billy Sunday never called himself a saint—nor did Amy Semple McPherson. References to "the scholar in politics" are frequently made in the third person, perhaps occasionally in the second, but scarcely in the first.

It was reserved for Governor Cross, speaking at the University of Oklahoma, to be the first "scholar in politics" to so describe himself.

There is no false modesty about the good Doctor. Perhaps he wanted to show the Southwesterners that they are not alone in their ability to toot their own horns. Perhaps he has been a bit irked over the failure of his own Connecticut people to be sufficiently impressed with his scholarship. At all events he was prompted to let the Oklahomans know that he is good—and he did it.

And to make this business of the scholar in politics the more binding he deftly omitted all reference to his second and third claims to distinction—those of having fostered respectively the two worst pieces of legislation put over in Connecticut in a hundred years—the terrible Milk Control Bill and the iniquitous Liquor Control Act.

THE DIES BILL

The passage of the Dies silver bill by a vote well exceeding two-thirds yesterday will excite no great degree of enthusiasm among the consistent advocates of an adequate reflation. These will see in the Dies measure a more or less fumbling and altogether experimental effort to reach an objective over a blind detour when there is a straight and proved road to the same point, closed only by a single barrier.

The Wheeler bill for the free and unlimited coinage of gold and silver at the ratio of 16 to 1 would provide merely for a return to the system in operation for generations before the Civil War. The Dies bill is guesswork.

At the same time the adoption of the measure by a vote of 257 to 113 is a matter of the highest importance in its reflection of the refusal of the House to let Secretary Morgenthau—or President Roosevelt—determine its attitude with relation to the currency. If the administration cannot see the warning in this tremendous vote for an experimental attempt to remonetize silver then it is blind to what is obvious to everyone else.

It is becoming increasingly apparent that sooner or later President Roosevelt must choose between the deflationist influence in his administration, now best represented by the Secretary of the Treasury, and a Congress which is inherently inflationist. And the sooner Congress makes it a showdown the better for the country and the prospects of real recovery.

NAZI-GERMAN FINANCE

Germany having determined, with the encouragement of Great Britain and Italy, to convert her treaty army of 100,000 long term soldiers into a force of 300,000,000 short service men—thus immensely increasing her reserves as well as her permanent army, is naturally concerned with the question of ways and means. In tripling the strength of its military establishment, the Reich will, it is fair to assume, practically triple its expenditures.

Well informed American correspondents in Berlin take it quite for granted that, in view of the greatly increased budget resulting from much larger armament, it will be necessary for Germany to repudiate in large part, perhaps altogether, her heavy debts, commercial in character, contracted abroad. That she will be able to do this with as little disturbance to her conscience—or for that matter to her standing in the creditor countries—as when she repudiated her war debts is not at all impossible.

To say, "We cannot pay you what we borrowed because we need the money to build another great war machine like that of 1914" may appear fantastic; but it is the fantastic that rules not in Germany alone but throughout Europe and a good part of the world.

Not only will the new army and its equipment need all the money that Germany should be paying on her debts, but a great deal more, and it is the question of how she is going to raise the balance that plagues the curiosity of observers.

Perhaps she will be able to borrow it, in France, Belgium, Great Britain and the United States. So long as the international bankers and the international munition makers all belong to the same gang the idea is not so wild as it might seem.

"FIRE" INSURANCE

One who signs himself Stanley Went at the foot of a letter to the New York Times brings up what will be, to most folks, a bit of news. Since it has to do with a subject which possesses a personal interest for a great many people perhaps Mr. Went's letter will set large numbers of them to inquiring as to the terms—and significance—of their fire insurance policies.

Mr. Went, it appears, paid fire insurance premiums for twenty years—and nothing happened. Then one day recently he discovered that the seat of an arm chair in his house was burning. He put out the fire, though not till the seat of the chair was ruined, and afterwards made a claim on his policy. To his astonishment—and perhaps to that of a good many of his readers—he was told, so he says, that since the first of the present year fire insurance companies do not pay claims based on fires that merely smolder; there must have been actual flame. The chair fire just smoldered.

Surely this must have been some one particular company's ruling—or some particular group's. It seems rather incredible that the life insurance business as a whole could have gone into the business of making over the dictionaries, setting up an entirely new conception, all its own, of what constitutes combustion and destruction by fire.

However, a single letter in a great newspaper like the New York Times can often start a trail of apprehension, and it is to be imagined that the fire insurance companies will have quite a time catching up with the spreading impression that when one buys a policy of protection against fire he must find out what, in the insuring company's lexicon, the word "fire" means in order to

GRACE CHURCH

Rev. W. Russell Bowie of New York, in a sermon on Sunday, described as "shameless political banditry" the activities of the American Legion lobby in Washington and the lobby itself as "a sinister and deadly cancer upon American life."

One is seldom treated to a more intolerant, angry and altogether uncontrolled exhibition of temper in a pulpit than that poured by Dr. Bowie on the men who might be called, if you are not too particular, his companions in arms in the World War—for was not Dr. Bowie chaplain of a base hospital?

But it is worth considering that Dr. Bowie is rector of Grace Church, and Grace Church has long had a reputation of its own. It is the kind of reputation to give rise to a story about the late Admiral Robley D. Evans.

Evans was in New York on one Sunday and dropped in, a stranger, at Grace Church. Since no one offered to find him a seat he took one in an unoccupied pew. Presently a tremendously important and plethoric looking personage with the typical parted white beard of the old time New York banker came in, gave Evans a dirty look and seated himself in the end of the pew. Several times the obvious pew holder glared at Evans but that brusque and dauntless soul paid no slightest attention. Whereupon the pew holder took from his pocketbook a card, scribbled on it and handed it to the sailor. The scribble read:

"Do you know I pay $1,200 a year for this pew?"

Evans glanced at the card, took out a pencil, wrote and handed it back. This is what he had written:

"Do you know you pay too damn much?"

From the rector of that kind of a church one need hardly be surprised at denunciation of the Legion for trying to get a foot, too, in the trough. And the effect will be, probably, much like the effect on Evans.

Burlesque Reformers New York's burlesque shows haven't changed much, in spite of a succession of self-styled hard-boiled City License Commissioners who, by virtue of absolute authority in the granting and revoking of licenses, can exercise dictatorial powers of censorship. But the present commissioner, Paul Moss—who used to be a theatrical man himself and generally is supposed to know an improper show when he sees one—has approved a new morality code which is to be clamped on the burlesque houses at an early date.

First of all, the strip-and-grind establishments must discontinue runways, those narrow platforms built out over $104.50 worth of orchestra seats and employed exclusively by mal-assorted chorus girls whose prime function in this branch of show business has been demonstrating the truth of the adage that proximity lends disenchantment.

Anyone who has attended a burlesque show in an analytical frame of mind cannot have missed notice of the more lecherous regulars are never so engrossed in contemplation of the nude cupids painted on the proscenium arch as when the chorus is flourishing along the runway.

Definite rules are provided to govern conduct of the strippers, a classification which today includes all the feminine principals except the elderly singers of ballads. They may reduce their costumes, bit by bit, to brassieres, and such a garment is likely to be opaque, translucent, transparent or invisible. There are no restrictions on the "post-burners."

As for dialogue of the so-called comedy skits, burlesque managers have agreed to request their performers to keep it clean. This is likely to be quite a hardship on a mischievous one of its spokesmen recently declared at a hearing that "not one new burlesque skit has been written in the last twenty years."

BEHIND THE SCENES IN Washington

Hungry G. O. P. "Shark" Hopes for Democratic Wreck... "Immoral Dead" May Have Turned Over... Curiosity Gnaws Garner.

By RODNEY DUTCHER
 Herald Washington Correspondent
 Washington, March 20.—The role in this era is that of a hungry shark hanging around a leaky lifeboat.

Essentially, that was the position of the Democrats during most of the Hoover administration, just as it's the Republican position now. Democrats—though noisily scornful as depression deepened—had no party program. Nor have the Republicans today.

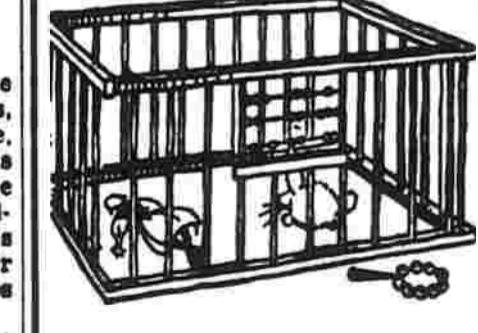

Current Republican moves have no significance except as they mean a party can't let congressional elections go by default. The time to get interested in Ogden Mills' speeches, Hoover's visit east, and G. O. P. congressional attacks will come J and when the New Deal begins to disappoint people.

Republicans in Congress know that. Anti-administration attacks never brought such a hail of denunciatory mail from constituents. Thus they're hard put for campaign issues unless they can endorse Roosevelt, though some believe, with the good Senator Simeon "Red" of Ohio, that Roosevelt is leading the country to "hell."

The weakness of the Mills speech under present political conditions is seen in the fact that his one positive stand—which seemed to be for a reciprocal tariff policy—deserted party traditions for a Roosevelt idea and at once created Republican division.

They Turned Over
 Tongue-Slips have spoiled the effect of many a good speech. Congressman Francis H. Shoemaker, Minnesota Farmer-Laborite, was making a dandy spiel at the "big navy" bill, to the delight of pacifists

Curiosity Gnaws 'Em
 Curiosity is doomed forever to bite Jack Garner, the vice president, and Senator, Joe Robinson, the majority leader, if Governor Pinchot of Pennsylvania doesn't do something about it.

Mystery still shrouds the contents of a letter which Pinchot sent to the Senate last year, when he forwarded the credentials of Senator "Ben" Jim Davis, former secretary of labor.

Pinchot stipulated that it must not be opened until conclusion of Jim's trial in New York on the Moore lottery charges. The envelope was plastered with Pennsylvania state seals.

So the thing stayed in a safe while the special session adjourned and a jury decided Davis should stay out of prison. It still was here when Congress reassembled last month.

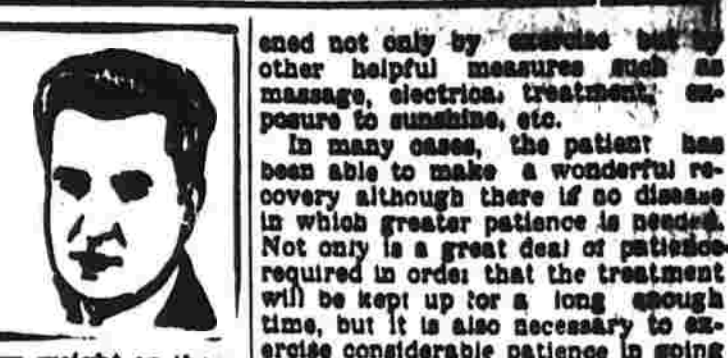

Garner and Robinson went into a perplexed huddle. Presumably the letter said some nasty things about Davis. Presumably Davis would love to open it in privacy.

But, as an official document, it shouldn't be opened without being made public. Jack and Joe agreed they shouldn't have received such a misadventure in the first place. Joe asked some newspapermen what they thought should be done.

They advised returning the letter unopened to Pinchot, whereafter the governor could use his own judgment. So the letter went back. And those who knew about it are still wondering.

HEALTH--DIET ADVICE

TREATMENT OF INFANTILE PARALYSIS

In those cases where deformity follows the acute attack of infantile paralysis, there is still much hope for recovery. Even though the weakened muscles become twisted and fall to support the affected part, producing toe-drop, shoulder-sag, etc., much can still be done.

During the acute stage, the patient needs rest in bed and should be placed on an orange juice or tomato juice fast. Two enemas must be given each day, and the patient is to drink an abundance of water. Very often cold packs will prove welcome which are given by wringing towels out of cold water and laying them along the spine. The limbs must be protected against cold.

No massage or active exercise such as walking is to be permitted at first as it will retard the cure. The patient must be handled with great gentleness and it may be helpful to support the affected parts in bed with pillows or sand bags which keep the limb as nearly as possible in a normal position.

The safest rule is to put all treatment for overcoming the paralysis for at least three weeks or longer. When the legs are involved, it is important that the patient should not try to bear his own weight on them. When the time comes to start the re-training of the muscles, the treatment must be directed by a doctor or a nurse. It is possible for some patients to secure special treatments as given at Warm Springs, Georgia where the muscles are slowly re-educated while the patient is in a pool of warm water. The advantage of the warm water treatment is that the patient will be buoyed up by the water and will therefore weigh less. Very often he can carry out movements more easily under water than when he is out of it. For example, a man weighing 130 pounds will weigh only about six pounds under water.

However, such pools are not available everywhere, and in many cases the recovery of the child will depend upon the parent's learning how to give the child the exercises which consist of slow controlled movements.

Before the exercises are taken, heat may be applied and massage or passive exercise may be given. At first it may be that the patient cannot move the muscle himself, and the nurse or parent must do it for him at the same time that he uses a strong effort of willpower to carry out the exercise for himself. The muscles are slowly strengthened

MUSSOLINI SEES ITALY EXPANDING

Predicts That Nation Will Be First in World in Twenty-first Century.

Rome, March 20. — (AP)—Premier Benito Mussolini foresees an era of Italian expansion extending steadily despite all obstacles into Asia and Africa.

The expansion, Il Duce told 5,000 cheering Fascists gathered yesterday for the quinquennial assembly of Italian leaders, is to be part of a vast 60-year program.

There was thunderous applause as Mussolini predicted that the program would give Italy "the primacy of the world" in the twenty-first century.

He denied, however, that the expansion would be a "case of territorial conquests."

Natural Expansion
"It is a case of natural expansion tending toward collaboration between Italy and the people of Africa and of the Near East."

The historical objectives of Italy are two—Asia and Africa. The south and the east are the cardinal points to awaken the interest and the will of Italians. To the north there is little or nothing for us to do. Neither to the westward, in Europe or beyond the ocean.

Despite his assertion that it would be only "natural expansion," however, Il Duce warned against attempts to interfere.

REACTION IN FRANCE
Paris, March 19. — (AP)—Mussolini's bold language in his speech at Rome yesterday in which he reviewed Italy's foreign relations was described authoritatively today as like "throwing dust" in the eyes of French officials.

They were keenly disappointed, fearing Il Duce had upset the delicate equilibrium that has been quietly heading toward a French-Italian and Little Entente friendship.

Il Duce today told Fascists that none of the problems with France in 15 years had been solved, warned Paris not to block Italian progress in Africa and endorsed rearmament of Germany.

PAINT MAKERS STRIKE FOR HIGHER WAGES

Cleveland, March 20. — (AP)—Five hundred employees of the Sherwin-Williams Company, paint and varnish manufacturer, were called out on strike today over demands for a wage increase.

Employees of two other concerns, the Addressograph-Multigraph Company and the Cleveland Twist Drill Company will meet tonight to discuss grievances and consider means of gaining wage adjustments.

The results of a strike vote taken recently at the plant of the Fisher Body Company were withheld until Wednesday pending further deliberations. Union recognition is being asked.

Employees of the Industrial Rayon Company who are affiliated with the United Textile Workers of America met yesterday and Carl Cummings, union organizer, said they had chosen a committee of ten to call on company officials, but did not disclose their demands.

BIG INCREASE REPORTED IN STATE INCOME TAX

Hartford, March 20. — (AP)—Collector of Internal Revenue Edward G. Dolan reported today an increase of 67 per cent in the amount of money paid on income taxes up to last Saturday, as compared to the corresponding day last year.

This big gain, representing a tremendous sum, indicates notable progress in Connecticut toward the restoration of property.

Not only has there been this increase in money paid to the government, but in addition 10,000 persons who filed no reports last year had income this year requiring them to file returns, although deductions of one kind and another left them with no net income on which to pay a tax.

The amount of the increase in the money received by the collector's office is greater than the total amount of taxes received from all sources at the corresponding date last year.

HEBRON

Mr. Pardee of New Haven, of the Anti-Saloon League, took charge of the meeting at the Hebron Green Congregational church Sunday, addressing the people on the liquor question.

D. A. Lewis of the Hartford Theological Seminary was in charge of the union service at the Hebron Christian Endeavor societies Sunday evening, it being one of the series of Lenten services started some weeks ago.

His topic was "How Can We Know God?" Owing to the icy condition of the roads the attendance was not as large as usual.

The postponed Father and Son banquet will be held at the Hebron Congregational church Friday evening, beginning at 7 o'clock.

Mrs. Elizabeth Ives is in charge.

Allan L. Carr, reader, preached from the text, "As a man thinketh in his heart, so he is," at the 11 a. m. service at St. Peter's Episcopal church.

Grace Porter was a visitor at his Hebron home Sunday.

A Tri-County Union Christian Endeavor meeting will be held at the Westchester Congregational church next Sunday evening, with Wesleyan students in charge.

Local Endeavor services will be omitted. All interested are invited to attend.

Pussy willows are out in full force, surprisingly soon after the severe weather experienced just lately.

Robins are becoming common. Mrs. Paul Potoczek is the latest to report seeing one.

J. Howell Conkling of East Hampton and Carl Ellison of Baltic were members of a hunting party in Hopeville Sunday, conducted by Frank Jones who lives on the Conkling place.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur V. Linde and their son, Richard, of West Hartford, were Sunday visitors and dinner guests at the home of Representative and Mrs. Edmund H. Horton.

Allan L. Carr, reader for St. Peter's Episcopal church, visited the Card Home for the Aged Sunday afternoon and preached to the inmates on the subject of eternal life.

A discussion followed the sermon. A group of young people of the junior vested choir accompanied Mr. Carr and gave a program of song for the old people.

Those taking part were Dwight Martin, Dorothy and Lloyd Gray, Ellena Mooney and Katie Kulynych.

Miss Marjorie Martin of Dalton, Mass., spent the week-end with her mother, Mrs. T. D. Martin.

Malcolm Burdick of Hampton was a recent visitor at the home of William Hills, spending two days. The CWA force has dwindled from between 80 and 40 men to six, who are employed cutting brush by the sides of some of the back roads.

Mark Hills continues to act as time-keeper. Instructions as to how many men to put to work are received weekly by the selectmen.

CARDINAL O'CONNELL BACK

New York, March 20. — (AP)—Cardinal O'Connell, of Boston, arrived on the liner Mauretania today from Nassau, Bahamas islands, where he spent the last eight weeks.

The cardinal said the severity of northern winters made it necessary for him to go to a southern climate each winter.

"I am now seventy-five," he said, "and I don't care for Boston winters half so much as I did when a younger man."

The cardinal said he would remain in New York for several days on business and that he had cut short his stay in Nassau in order to be home for Easter. He was accompanied by Mgr. M. J. Spaine, the Rev. J. Minihan and the Rev. J. Coppinger.

JOHN CALVERT DIES

Philadelphia, March 20. — (AP)—John Calvert, 79, a descendant of Lord Baltimore, colonizer of Maryland, and of Dr. Benjamin Rush and Richard Stockton, two of the signers of the Declaration of Independence, died in Washington yesterday.

He was also related to John Parke Custis, step-son of George Washington. Calvert had gone to Washington on business. He is survived by his widow and a son, Cecil Baltimore Calvert, New York.

ESTABLISHES KEY AIR MAIL ROUTES

Army Resumes Task of Carrying Mails After Layoff of One Week.

(By Associated Press)
Army planes resumed the task of flying the air mail today. Under ideal flying conditions, planes took off on scheduled time under the new schedule. The service was grounded a week ago.

At the Chicago airport, planes carrying mail left for Cleveland and the West Coast. Air mail service also was resumed out of the other key cities specified in the eight new routes.

These routes over which the army now is carrying the mail cover a distance about one-fourth as long as that previously traveled by commercial companies.

Eight routes:
New York to Chicago and Chicago to San Francisco; Boston to New York; New York to Atlanta and Jacksonville; Chicago to Dallas; Salt Lake City to Seattle and Portland; Salt Lake City to San Diego; Cheyenne to Denver.

Army mail planes left Newark this morning for Boston and Jacksonville soon after midnight, a transcontinental army plane with mail—the first since the service was halted—left Oakland, Calif. It took additional mail at Salt Lake City and sped on to Cheyenne, Wyo. Another Army plane with air mail was bound from Kansas City to Dallas. Cities between the terminals reported normal service on the planes dropped down to take on mail and continued their scheduled flight.

PLAN TO IMPROVE ROAD NEAR LAKE

Manchester Residents Owning South Coventry Property Would Benefit.

Over thirty persons residing in Manchester who own cottages on the lake at South Coventry, are to have their property further improved as a result of a vote taken at an adjourned town meeting in that place Saturday, when it was voted to set aside $7,500 of the state aid dirt road money for the rebuilding of a road from the state highway at Ayers' farm that will extend south a distance of one mile, entering South street.

The decision to make this appropriation was brought through the efforts of the Bellevue association, of which E. L. G. Hohenthal of this place is the president, and has only been brought to a head after a five-year period of effort. The road was never wide, but was laid out in the early days of the history of Coventry, more as a right of way to people living on the south side of the lake to get into their property. By its continued use it became a road, although little work to improve it ever was done. Many people who live on the road did not know it was owned by the town. The road followed a winding course back from the lake, and as a result it was rough and hard to travel. The lots on the west side of the lake were sold and cottages built on most of them.

The so-called Actors' colony could be reached by this road if it were passable, and there is a large development owned by John Hand of Manchester that will be benefited. A farm purchased by the late George F. Rich and still held by his family, is another part that will be improved by the rebuilt road.

The meeting Saturday, after much discussion, voted to set aside $7,500 from the $19,000 to be received from the state for the rebuilding of a nine-foot rebuilt and hardened center and there will be shoulders, improved and leveled that will give a total width of 13 feet and 6 inches.

Yesterday engineers were at work surveying the new road. The improved conditions will add further to the popularity of South Coventry lake, which has for many years been a place much patronized by Manchester people.

OPEN FORUM

DISCUSSES TRADE UNIONS

Editor of The Herald: Carolin Korner Britton, in her interesting letter, in which she urges the women silk workers to join the Textile Union, says: "The more the employees demand of the employers the better it will be for both; for in turn the employer can make demands from the government. This demanding, and granting of demands, of course, is to be repeated, and continued endlessly."

Now, if all the people, in a certain town, got rich, doing each other's washing, I do not see why this economic scheme should not work. Carolin Korner Britton has asked so many questions, that to answer them all, would require more space than the Herald can spare. I shall pass over the many questions which deal with matters that are based on hearsay, and others that are trivial and unimportant, such as the following: "Do you know that labor has been hypnotized?" "Do you know that the political power of the state is lined up against labor?" "Can you imagine why the local silk mills are almost the only industry in Manchester?" "Do you think it should remain the principle, industry?" etc.

Here is one that may be of interest: "Do you believe the 'system' was a bright idea?" Now, the "system" is nothing more or less than scientific management. The system was introduced at a time when competition became so fierce, that profits dwindled to the vanishing point. It increased production, and enabled the firm to keep up wages. And if the firm weathers the present economic storm, it will be due largely to the scientific management, known as the "system." A firm with a knowledge gained by the experience of four generations should be, and is better able to judge as to what is best, than those of us who have had no experience.

Here is another: "Did you ever hear of people who were dropped from work, because they made an attempt to join a union?" No I haven't heard of any; but it may have happened. Some noisy overzealous fellow, more interested in creating discontent than in work, may have been dropped. The firm is composed of human beings like the rest of us; and like the rest of us, do not love their enemies. Another question is: Do you know who the competitors are, who pay lower wages than the local firm. The statistics which I have on hand, show that Pennsylvania pays the lowest wages of any of the northern states.

The wages of silk workers are but little more than one-half what is paid in the local plant. Wages in the south are below those of Pennsylvania. I would copy the whole list, but space will not permit. These statistics are three years old. There may have been some changes during that time.

The most important question of all is: "Do you think the Union is out of place in the local silk mills?" A few years ago, a wiseguy came into the mill in which I was working. After the usual shake hands, he said: Well, I saw something this noon that did me good, I stood on the corner near the railroad track and watched the mill hands pour out of the mill; and I never saw such neat well-dressed mill hands in my life. I visit all the mill-towns in New England and nowhere have I seen anything to compare with it. They looked as well-dressed as the mill hands of some factory towns look on Sunday. He spoke of the park-like surroundings, and the absence of factory tenelements; and there was much praise for those who made it possible. It is such as this, that makes one feel that the local firm is a little different, and a little better, and of a higher class than others. And it is worth mentioning that the local silk workers are healthier than other textile workers; and according to a Hartford insurance expert, Chesney Brothers employees, live two years longer than the average.

And it should be remembered, too, that the silk workers in the local plant, although they have not been organized, are better paid, and better off, in every way, than the organized silk workers of other places. It is reasonable to assume, that any meddling with a policy that has produced such excellent results will work injury, rather than good.

LABOR'S RIGHTS

Editor of The Herald:

As one taking active part in encouraging trade unionism in Manchester, may I express appreciation for your amenable fair editorial "Labor War Threat" in Friday's paper?

Like the birth of any new and big idea, this idea of labor having an independent voice in its relationship to industry is attended with struggle—perhaps a more struggle than any of us want to see. Nevertheless, free representation is a truly American principle, and we must stand by it. When we all cool off we will see that it is no more shocking that labor and ownership should have separate and cooperative representation than that separate states should have representation in a National union. With all the charges and ulterior motives that can be cast truthfully against either side, there is really no very good reason that we should be alarmed about the possibility of labor being exploited by its leaders. People are used to being exploited in political government. There is only one sure way to clean it all up, and that is for the rank and file of people to be actively interested in both their political and industrial government, to watch the principles and movements of their leaders—not to be swayed by emotion mostly, but judgment always. The present conflict by no means will end in a settlement which will be the cure-all for the common folk's ills. It's only a step. The vision from the hilltops, above the cross, the resurrection of mankind into a new world is what our eyes must see. But in the struggle, we must never forget that as Americans we have a priceless heritage—all covered with dirt it is true, but the right of every man to express the heart and mind within him without fear of violence.

NATIONAL NEGRO HEALTH WEEK SET FOR APRIL 1

Will Mark 20th Anniversary Of Campaign Started By Booker T. Washington In 1914.

Marking the twentieth anniversary of the founding of the movement, the week of April 1 to 8 has been designated as National Negro Health Week and will be observed throughout the country by a nationwide effort to improve the health of America's Negro population, the State Department of Health announced today in its weekly bulletin.

Special programs have been planned for each day of the week in each community with the idea in mind of stimulating interest in the definite year around program promulgated by the United States Health Service in 1930. The year-round program includes the pressing into service of all local negro associations, encouraging them to take active interest and to cooperate in state and local health work. By spreading information among lay groups—churches, civic groups, fraternal organizations and schools—during National Negro Health Week, it is hoped to stimulate participation in child health activities, adult health examinations, the prevention of disease, home and community hygiene and other activities aimed at promotion of health.

The Negro health movement was started twenty years ago by the famous broker T. Washington. Prior to 1914, there had been only sporadic attempts with local "clean-up" week programs to encourage Negro communities to clean up homes, lots, fields and communities. Washington sensed the possibilities for health improvement of the negro race on a national scale and in that year issued a proclamation for "National Health Improvement Week," which included not only the clean-up activities, but the dissemination of health information by lectures, literature, pageants and other demonstrative means. In 1921, Health Service were solicited in Promoting Negro Health Week and a year around program. In 1930, a definite program was instituted with plans of procedure as a guide for states and local campaigns with states and cities having the larger Negro populations.

WATKINS REFURNISH ALL MODEL ROOMS

Will Be Open For Public Inspection On Spring Opening Day.

The refurnishing and redecorating of the many model rooms at Watkins Brothers is always one of the features looked forward to by hundreds at Spring Opening time. This year, Watkins have again refurnished nearly all of their twenty-eight model rooms so that those who visit the Watkins store tomorrow, Spring Opening Day, will be able to view these changes for the first time.

In the Irwin House, main floor, two rooms have been given over to the display of strictly modern bedrooms, replacing Modern Classic furnishings previously shown. Both of these bedroom groups are moderately priced and show up to excellent advantage in the beautiful backgrounds seen previously in Irwin House. The living room has been entirely rearranged, with the addition of new pieces to replace others that have been sold.

The two Irwin period rooms, also found on the main floor of the Watkins store and to the rear of Irwin House and displaying new furnishings. The bedroom displays a fine mahogany Chippendale ensemble, while the living room shows luxurious furnishings appropriate for the rich pine paneled walls.

The living room in Plymouth House in the basement has been redecorated and refurnished, while the dining room and bedroom are displaying a change of draperies, floor coverings and furniture. Plymouth House is always furnished with pieces from Watkins famous collection of Provincetown maple.

To the front of Watkins basement, and adjoining the range and kitchen appliance department, are located Watkins model kitchen and breakfast rooms. These three rooms are now refurnished and redecorated for the Spring opening, with the breakfast rooms showing smart ways to furnish the small nook.

Five rooms of the "Cottage" one of the first suites of rooms ever built into a store, three model dining rooms on the second floor and five bedrooms on the third floor are likewise refurnished for the occasion.

In addition to the refurnishing and redecorating of the many rooms at Watkins other features are being presented for Spring opening. First in importance, probably, is the preview of summer furniture. At this time it is almost impossible to place on exhibit the entire display of furniture for summer as shipments are just beginning to be received, but Watkins arranged to have shipped a few pieces from each manufacturer so that an advance idea can be had of what this summer will offer in hot-weather furniture.

Modern furniture, too, it will be noted during Spring Opening week, is beginning to assume importance. Here and there throughout the store will be seen modern pieces. As already mentioned, two different bedrooms are being shown in Irwin House. Another bedroom grouping is on display in Watkins Main street window for Spring Opening week, while a special exhibit of modern rugs and carpets has been arranged in the rug department.

Queer Twists In Day's News

Philadelphia—The fire department sent one man to put out a fire and he succeeded in jg time.

Thomas Tobin, dispatcher at the fire bureau, got a telephone call from a worried huckster. "I left the gas burning when I ate breakfast," said the voice. "Could you send a fireman to put it out?"

Philadelphia—Avis Thayer, daughter of George C. Thayer of Villa Nova, has recovered her hat and the woman who found it is richer by a $50 reward. The hat was a mere $2,000 headpiece. Diamonds and rubies were the trimmings.

Topeka, Kas.—H. D. Shotwell, high school golf coach, sent his boys against Washburn college golfers in a practice round so "they'd get a good beating and be properly humble to start the season."

The strategy backfired. His youngsters won every match from the collegians.

Columbia, Mo.—Given the unusual privilege of sentencing her husband after his arraignment for drunkenness and disturbing the peace, Mrs. H. C. Wren said: "He must have, ten days." Wren protested.

"Ten days," repeated his wife firmly. "The judge says ten, and ten days it is," said Judge N. M. Hickman.

Stromsburg, Neb.—If Charles Krue's rake handle had held out a moment longer, during a fire at his home, he would have saved $300 in currency which was destroyed by the flames. The money was in a baby's shoe, hidden beneath the mattress. Entering the house when the fire was burning briskly, he tried to retrieve the shoe with a rake. He had almost succeeded when the shoe handle burned in two. The rake dropped into the flames.

Fargo, N. D.—For the next two months, Christ Wroistad will have to go to church every Sunday. Refrain from taking a drink of liquor.

Report to a brother-in-law twice weekly on his good behavior. If he doesn't he will serve sixty days in jail.

So ordered Judge Daniel B. Holt in District Court yesterday when Wroistad pleaded guilty to carrying a concealed weapon.

WOMAN ATE 1,203 HARDWARE PIECES

Swallowed Pins, Tacks, Screws And Glass In Week's Store Work.

New York, March 20.—Physicians of the Kings County Hospital, 451 Clarkson street, Brooklyn, reported yesterday that 1,203 items of hardware had been successfully removed on Saturday from the stomach of Miss Mabel Wolf, forty years old, of 476 Eastern Parkway, Brooklyn. The operation was performed by Dr. Anthony Pirandini, surgeon, of 482 Clinton street, Brooklyn, who is an attending physician at the hospital. Dr. Edwin H. Fliske, president of the medical board of the hospital, estimated last night that the hardware weighed "over a pound." The hardware, most of which she ate five years ago during one week's employment in the hardware department of a New York store, did not cause Miss Wolf any violent pain until a week ago, when she called in a doctor. He immediately ordered her to the hospital, where several examinations were made. An X-ray was taken and revealed the metal in her stomach. Examples of Varied Nations The list of articles removed from her stomach, according to Dr. Pirandini, were: 584 fine upholstery tacks 144 carpet tacks 1 chair tack 1 round-headed thumbtack 3 thumbtacks (ordinary) 46 small screws 6 medium screws 80 large screws 1 hook-shaped screw (coat hanger)

30 small bolts 47 larger bolts 3 picture-frame hooks 8 nuts 2 large bent safety pins 2 small safety pins 1 nail head 3 brass nails 83 stray pins 9 stray pins without heads 1 matted mass of hair containing screws and pins 89 pieces of glass (all sizes) 1 piece of tinscup handle. Suffered Only Minor Pains The operation took more than an hour and was performed under a general anesthetic. The matter was removed from the stomach with sponge forceps and by hand. Dr. Fliske said that none of the articles had caused irritation which, he felt, was unusual in that each one held that potential danger. Last night she was reported as resting comfortably. Dr. Leo A. Lieberman, of the hospital staff, who is supervising the case, noting that she appeared to be "emaciated and undernourished," said she would be kept at the hospital until her health had been built up. He said she would now be fed more orthodox meals. Early yesterday afternoon when confronted with questions, Miss Wolf was reported as having said she suffered minor pains during the course of the five years and had treated herself successfully with a patent medicine. Physicians at the hospital were at a loss to explain how she retained the metal over such a long period of time. She declined to speak of her background or disclose her living conditions. Asked why she had taken the hardware, she said: "I guess I did it to be funny. Please don't ask me any more, I want to go home and forget."

FIVE MEN ARE INJURED AS AUTO HITS TRUCK

Norwalk, March 20.—(AP)—Five men were taken to the Norwalk hospital this morning after the machine in which they were riding was involved in a collision with a truck driven by Seth W. Booth of 388 Bank street, Waterbury. The injured, all from Orange, N. J., are: Robert Hegarty, 20, driver of the car, broken right thigh and fractured wrist; John Haller, 19, lacerations of the face and hands; Frank Hoffman, 20, cuts on the nose and face; Ray Tamarack, 19, multiple bruises; Paul Lauter, 20, lacerations of the knees. The accident happened in the Boston Post road and Officer Paul McGrath, who investigated, said that the New Jersey machine shot across the front of the truck as the latter was making a turn into East avenue. REC SENIOR LEAGUE TITLE PLAY STARTS TONIGHT

MASONS-JEWELS TO OPEN CAGE SERIES FOR CHAMPIONSHIP

Jaffe Quintet Rules A Slight Favorite To Win; Close, Hard Fought Contest Seen; Start At 8:45.

The first in a series of games for the championship of the Rec Senior Basketball League will be played tonight between the Anasid Masons and the Jaffe Jewels, both teams being round winners. Considerable interest is taken in the contest which is scheduled to start at 8:45 o'clock at the School Street Gym.

The feeling between the two teams runs high and nothing would please either team more than to win the other. To date both teams have compiled impressive records, with the Jaffe team showing more improvement right along, while the Masons have not played up to their standard of late, in comparison to the first round. However, when these two teams clash, with the winner of the series to receive a beautiful basketball trophy along with gold basketballs to members of the championship team, it can be expected that it will be a bitterly fought contest.

Both teams will present their strongest lineups and it would not be at all surprising to see "Bevo" Hurley, outstanding Hartford player, holding down one of the forward berths for the game. Hurley will possibly pair up with "Ty" Holland. At the center post will be Giratus, Hartford K. of L. player, which moves Kish back to a guard berth. This player is a tower of strength on the defense, also a capable scorer. Pairing up with Quish will be "Cop" Campbell, leading scorer of the Rec Senior League. Other members of the Anasid team include Opizki, Dowd, E. Bissell and Anasid, all of whom are outstanding players.

The favored Jaffe Jewels team will rely on its usual lineup of Faulkner and John Tierney, forwards, the hard working Nelson at the tipoff with Anderson and Gorman at guards. There is a possibility that a last minute change will find "Whitey" Byscholsky replacing Tierney at forward, giving Byscholsky the task of holding down Campbell. Hitt, All-Burnside player will be on hand for the game and no doubt he will be called into action before the game is very old. Reserve material finds Jim Tierney, Anderson and Seelert all ready to fill any substitutions that may be necessary.

Preceding the main game a fast preliminary has been arranged starting at 7:30 o'clock. Boggin, local official will referee both games.

Kebart Beaten by Dente In First Half of Match

In a match featured by the mediocre bowling of Charlie Kebart, Bill Dente of Fairfield gained a 71 pin lead over the town champion in the first half of a twenty-game home and home match at the Charter Oak alleys last night. Dente rolled consistently good scores to compile an average of 120.9 for the ten games while Kebart hit a low average of 113.8.

Kebart plainly showed the effects of too much bowling, speed and accuracy being lacking in almost every game. Kebart has been bowling almost nightly for the past several weeks and seems in danger of "burning out" unless he catches up on rest, which he intends to before the National tourney at Baltimore, when he will roll with the Wooster team of Hartford.

Kebart had two poor games that gave Dente his wide margin of victory, a 98 in the second game to 122 and a 98 in the ninth to Dente's 158, the latter score being high single for the evening. Kebart's best mark was 137 in the seventh game. The second half of the match is slated for Friday night but will probably be postponed to a later date.

The scores were as follows: Dente—118, 122, 114, 119, 112, 118, 124, 126, 158, 103—1209. Kebart—108, 95, 128, 109, 111, 128, 137, 115, 98, 116—1138.

Conacher led in goals with 32, five more than Barry, while Primeau and Boucher finished one-two in assists with 32 and 30 respectively.

Lionel Conacher of Chicago was second this year with 87 minutes. In clean this year with 87 minutes. In clean this year with 87 minutes. In clean this year with 87 minutes.

MIT NELSON HOLDS PING PONG HONORS

Retains West Side Rec Title By Beating Earl Bissell In Finals, 6-0.

Milton Nelson waded through all the opposition in the West Side Rec ping pong tournament for the second time in two years to retain the title he won last year by defeating Earl Bissell in the final 6 to 3. Last year Bissell gave the champion a battle and made him earn his title but this year "Mitt" stroked his way to a one sided victory that erased any doubt that may have been harbored in the minds of the other contestants as to which was the better player.

Nelson had little trouble in disposing of his opponents. His first victim was Eddie Werner and following on the heels of Eddie, came Bert McConkey, followed by "Buddie" Russell, and of course the finalist, Earl Bissell. On the other hand to reach the finals, Earl had found Fritz Fraser his toughest opponent and had to fight every inch of the way to eliminate him 6 to 5. This is Nelson's second year as champion of the crown will rest comfortably on his head until some one else proves worthy of wearing it. There was a great deal more interest in the tournament this year as there were sixteen entries received compared to ten last year.

EXPECT CHARTER OAKS TO MAKE GOOD SHOWING

Local Girls Enter National Tourney at Baltimore; Rank Among Best Pin Topping Team in State; Plan Benefit Sweepstakes.

Collectively and individually ranking with the best in Connecticut, the Charter Oak Girls are expected to give good account of themselves in the National Duckpin Bowling Congress, to be held at Baltimore, Md., on Saturday, March 31. The girls have entered the team event, won last year by the Recreation Girls of Baltimore with a three game total of 1871, the doubles won by M. Holliday and L. Janowitz of Baltimore with a six-game total of 747, and the individual contest, won by Lois Clifton of Richmond, Va., last year with a three string of 397.

Miss Jackmore and Mrs. Schubert will team up for the doubles event as well as the Nelson sisters, Gertrude and Flora. This quartet has also entered the individual competition. In view of her sensational showing in

PERRY THINKS JAPAN WILL BE CUP THREAT

London, March 20.—(AP)—Japan and not the United States or Australia will be the main threat to Great Britain's hold on the Davis cup in the opinion of Fred Perry, England's cup ace and holder of the American singles championship.

In an effort to raise the funds necessary to make the long trip to Baltimore, a sweepstakes tournament will be held at the Charter Oak alleys Friday evening of this week, in which it is hoped at least 100 bowlers will take part. There will be three prizes, one for high three string, one prize for second and one for high single. All receipts will be donated to the team, through the generosity of Joe Farr, manager of the alleys.

CHALLENGE THE RECS
Dear Editor,
The Celtics, who by the way, are supposed to be anybody's fish, according to some of the spectators on so called "sport fans" in this Side, issue a challenge to this "high powered" West Side Rec team for the championship of the West Side Rec. for a side bet of money or marbles.

Our players will consist only of those who were listed under the Celtics in the East Side League. We feel that it is only fair that after the Celtics' victory over the West Side Recs, it will eliminate any of their dreams of challenging the winner of the town series.

The Celtics record for the season consists of ten victories and ten defeats. Remember we hold wins over some of the leading teams in this section. Namely: The Herald, Jaffe's Jewels, and the Travelers' All Stars. Have the Recs gained a victory over any team as strong as the aforementioned?

We are expecting to hear from you as soon as possible. Failure to accept this challenge may cause a bit of argument around the pool tables at the Rec. Before closing, we suggest that the Sudides and the Boys' Club get together in the preliminary as there seems to be some keen rivalry between these two major teams or would the Recs prefer to play either of the junior aggregations to boost their record again.

Patently waiting, we remain
The Celtics.

NORTH ENDS-OXFORDS PLAY DECIDING GAME

Tomorrow night at the "Y" the final game of the Intermediate series will find the Oxfords clashing with the North Ends. Keen rivalry exists between the two teams. The North Ends winning the first 31-16 and the Oxfords turning the table with a 30-25 win in the second encounter. Tomorrow night's game will be a grudge battle with both teams ready to take any break which comes their way.

A great deal of credit is due the Oxfords, who after losing the first game came back and took the second. They are counting on Stan Opalack to carry them through to victory.

The North Ends will be out to make the game a repetition of the first encounter. The game will start at 8 o'clock with George Stavnitsky officiating.

SENSE and NONSENSE

MANCHESTER
I find Manchester Pays me better for working than for bragging. Is full of sunshine if I wear a shining face. Extends courtesies to the fault-finder. Presenting more opportunities as I become more useful. Is not as easily fooled by my conceit as I am. Full of people out of whom I may make friends or enemies. Is judged more accurately by its homes than by its streets and fields. Is a mighty good town to live in; if you don't think so why don't YOU move?

Real Estate Agent—I don't see why you hesitate. This tobacco plantation is a genuine bargain. I assure you.
Building Financier—I was just trying to decide whether to grow cigars or cigarettes.

It is invariably the other key that fits the lock. . . . It's the other drawer that hides the scissors. . . . Why can't some smart person invent something to pick the right place the first time? . . . Think of all the time that would be saved.

Put It in the Home Town Paper—If you want your advertising to sell, don't bury the sales appeal. Put it out where the reader can see it.

The incorrigible joker of the office put on hat and coat preparatory to going home. Nearing the door, he said:

Joker—Boys, before I go I want to leave a conundrum with you. You can give me the answer when I return to the office next Monday. The conundrum is this: What's the difference between a pound of sugar and the ocean?
The Others (yelling in chorus)—We give up! Give us the answer now! We can't wait till over the week-end.
Joker—Oh, 'weight and sea.' Then he bolted for the door!

Science is making much of a purported new discovery that the speed of light is not constant. But we have noticed all along that it dawns upon some people a lot more slowly than on others.

Doctor—You had better be X-rayed.
Patient—There's no need for that, doctor. Get my wife—she is able to see right through me.

Parents get no ruder jolt than when they recognize their own faults in their children, and have to deal with them justly.

Woman—There, darling, look what a nice birthday present I've bought for you—the latest type of radio. Cheap, too, only $5 a month.
Husband—Really. How many months?
Wife—Gracious! I forgot to ask.

If he hires an expensive lawyer he's probably guilty. If he's innocent it's very doubtful if he has the price of one.

Jim—What an appropriate looking hot-dog stand.
Sam—Yes, it's made of dogwood and covered with bark.

PERHAPS—If I had but the power to alter men And make of them what they should be. I'd start first with myself, and then Perhaps there'd be no further work for me.

He—She wants her engagement to John kept secret for a while. Wife—I expect she wants to tell him first.

When a man is looking for a wife, it would pay him to pick out a girl who can sing, paint or play the piano well. It will keep her happy for years feeling sorry for herself because she gave up a big career to marry.

No wonder it hurts. A bee uses 22 different muscles in stinging.

DID YOU KNOW THAT—

The six U. S. navy planes made the flight from San Francisco to Honolulu, a distance of 2,396 miles, in 24 hours, 45 minutes.

Dr. August Piccard estimates that the maximum speed at an altitude of ten miles would be approximately 448 miles per hour.

A flier may now obtain the title of amateur pilot with 25 hours' flying time.

Prisoners are now being transported to the Minnesota State Penitentiary by plane.

Only about 3 per cent of the passengers in French planes are Frenchmen.

The air lines of the United States flew 48,771,533 miles in 1933, an increase of more than 3,000,000 miles over 1932.

There are more than 7,000 transport pilots in the United States.

There are 6,896 airplanes bearing the license numbers of the Department of Commerce.

Airline operators spent $10,000,000 in 1933 for new planes.

About 500 planes are used by the airway systems of the United States.

Fashion Questions on every woman's lips that you naturally expect HALE'S to answer sanely and sensibly.

What colors are the newest?
The news in color is navy... it is Spring's leading shade. Black is good right now, too. Then light beige and gray tones.

How long shall I wear my skirt?
10 inches from the floor for daytime. 8 inches for dressy afternoon. 10 1/2 to 11 inches for sports. Just touching the floor for evening.

What kind of suit is most practical?
The swagger with 7-8 coat in tweed mixture... wear the coat separately over wool frocks.

Will accessories match or contrast?
They may match or contrast the trimming of the costume. In gloves, white is smartest for dress wear.

What about new jacket ensembles?
One of the season's pets! the dress that sports a separate little jacket. The jackets vary from real short to 7-8 length.

Will a last Spring coat be right?
Frankly no! Because the fullness has moved to the front giving a "windblown" look. Collars have gone "windblown", too. Trimmings in new ways.

Are the hats hard to wear?
No, they are most flattering. Youthful brims for you tall and slender. Off-the-face models for petite women.

Is neckwear smart?
By all means! It's the "hit" of the season. As frilly and feminine as you desire... or school-girlishly simple.
