PRESIDENT, RESTED, NOW ON WAY HOME

In Happy Mood After Vacation, Chief Executive Shows No Concern Over Recovery Plan.

En Route With President Roosevelt to Washington, April 12.—(AP)—President Roosevelt told newspapermen aboard his special train en route to Washington today that he had a "perfectly marvelous time just laying around" on his two weeks' vacation cruise which ended this morning at Miami.

Returning to the capital he showed no particular concern over the Congressional situation, rather indicated a belief that everything was in order for an early conclusion of the administration program. He declined comment on pending legislation. A deep tan covered the President's face as he walked down the gang plank from the Nourmala in Miami to the applause of a closely watched crowd.

Sitting back in the observation car of his private car, Mr. Roosevelt took off his coat as he talked with newspapermen. The first "on the record" interview since he left the White House.

In Happy Mood
He was smiling and in a jocular mood, joking the men particularly about their close call with a railroad train en route to the station.

"I had a perfectly marvelous time," he said. "I got a real rest. The first two days I spent fishing. Then I picked up a little cold in the nose and spent the next couple of days sleeping. Then I did some more fishing and a lot of just good old laying around."

General Hugh S. Johnson, industrial administrator, and Donald Rieberg, general counsel of the NRA, rode northward with the President but before seeing them, Mr. Roosevelt said he was going to give them orders to get off the train and get some more rest while they were in Florida.

Johnson and Rieberg said they had several things to take up with the Chief Executive but the latter showed no concern over the recovery program.

Stock Market Bill
The President said he was not surprised at reports of an organized campaign against the Fletcher Ryburn Stock Exchange Control Bill and recalled that he had warned of this in a message to Congress.

He said he had approved a couple of "minor amendments" to the year-old Securities Act but reiterated that he did not want any general revision of the law at this time.

As for extending the licensing power of the National Recovery Act hither unused he said he would reserve comment on that until he had talked with General Johnson. The

MEN IN ANTARCTICA BATTLE BLIZZARDS

Tell of Month's Trip to Outpost Camp; Describe the Effects of Snow Quake.

Little America, Antarctic, March 31. (Delayed)—(AP)—Via Mackay Radio.—Back from a month of struggling in blizzards and snow quakes, the men of the southern party of the second Byrd Antarctic Expedition came rocketing down the slope to Little America today.

Behind three nine-dog husky teams, they had ridden their canvas-topped sledges across the rolling ice barrier, 260 miles out and back, marking a trail with orange flags and putting down food depots so that next spring a trek can be made to the Edsel Ford and Queen Maude ranges.

Captain Alan Inness Taylor, formerly of the Royal Flying Corps, in command of the expedition described it as probably the coldest March journey in Antarctic annals.

48 Below Zero
"We had one terrible day, the 27th," Taylor said. "We broke camp early with the hope of making 75 miles by night. A 31-mile wind made it cruel at 43 below zero. The snow was like sand. Ronne (Finn Ronne) ski expert, froze his wrist harnessing the dogs and later both cheeks."

Paine (Stuart B. Paine, navigator), had a frost-bitten cheek and froze a finger. But it was tough on the dogs.

Taylor described how dogs fumbled in harness and died. The merriest thing was to shoot them. There were 13 dogs of blizzards, and on March 16, a snow quake.

"The air shook with a sound like the roar of a thousand locomotives," Taylor said. "For miles the barrier surface trembled with a loud report settled three or four inches. We heard the sound of quakes but this was the loudest of all. It stopped us in our tracks."

BOARD IS GIVEN ELECTRIC RATE DATA TO STUDY

Special Engineer's Report Received—Calls Some Valuations Too High—Sewer Controversy Looms

The report of a survey of the rate structure and property valuation of the Manchester Electric Company made by Electrical engineer Edgar J. Katos of New Rochelle, N. Y., engaged by the town for this work upon a vote of the town several months ago, and for which the sum of $500 was appropriated, was given Secretary Sherwood G. Bowers of the Board of Selectmen at last night's meeting of the board. The report was not made public, but upon questioning by the other members of the board Secretary Bowers stated that in the engineers opinion some of the valuations of the company had been placed too high. Copies of the complete report, covering night typewritten pages, will be made and will be studied by the Selectmen before a decision is reached regarding the possibility of continuing with the "rate case" against the company.

To talk with President Secretary Bowers stated that in his opinion the next step should be to take up the matter with President Samuel Ferguson of the Manchester Electric Company to see if certain modifications suggested in the report cannot be made by the company. The Selectmen, on the other hand, met during the winter with President Ferguson of the utilities company and engineers of the commission at which time certain concessions pertaining to the local lighting charges and street lighting were made by the company. The Selectmen accepted the concessions without affecting the status of the proposed rate case investigation and at

JOHN HAND DIES BUYING MEDICINE

Passes Away in Quinn's Drug Store as He Seeks Relief from Indigestion.

John Hand of 48 Pearl street, former local groceryman and real estate agent, died suddenly at 6:20 last evening after collapsing in the J. H. Quinn drug store. Mr. Hand had gone to the drug store to seek a remedy for an attack of what he believed to be indigestion. He had purchased medicine earlier in the day for a similar attack. Death was due to heart trouble for which Mr. Hand had been doctoring.

Seeking Medicine
Mr. Hand had been employed yesterday assisting Robert Reid in conducting an auction of the fixtures at the bakery shop of Taylor and Gowans, bankrupt. He had complained during the day of feeling ill and after taking some medicine said he felt better. When the illness returned he went to the drug store for relief again. It was while obtaining the medicine that he collapsed.

Mr. Hand was born in Newry County Armagh, Northern Ireland, on August 10, 1879. He came to Manchester about 18 years ago and had lived on the town since then. His first employment here was in the Cheney mills. He left the mills to open a store just south of the Center, later opening the first grocery store in the Main street and Middle Turnpike area. He sold his grocery business to engage in real estate transactions.

Real Estate Interests
Meeting with considerable success in this vicinity in real estate sales he became interested in the Florida developments. There he became quite active as a developer of property and as a real estate agent. He had also taken a great interest in the development of lake shore property in this vicinity being especially active at Coventry lake. Recently he has been occupied in various lines, always keeping in touch with real estate developments.

Mr. Hand was a member of St.

TREASURY BALANCE

Washington, April 12.—(AP)—The position of the Treasury April 10 was:

Receipts $1,726,231.90; expenditures $1,135,480.34; balance $4,590,899,333.45; customs receipts for the three months ending March 31, $2,392,183,767.83; expenditures $1,135,480.34 (including $3,060,522,102.06 of emergency expenditures); excess of expenditures $2,719,989,489.20; gold assets $7,730,961,222.55.

Expect Over 600 Icebergs
In Atlantic Shipping Lane

Washington April 12.—(AP)—The biggest iceberg threat in years is drawing extra Coast Guard precautions to protect North Atlantic shipping lanes.

Lieut. Commander Everett H. Smith, a recognized authority, predicts about 630 bergs will cross northern ship paths between April and July. The average is around 300. Last year no iceberg of any size reached the shipping lanes but in 1929 a record of 1,000 was set.

The cutter Mendota has been ordered by Rear Admiral E. G. Hammet, commandant, to sail from Boston to join the cutter General Green in studying ice movements in the North Atlantic.

Since the Titanic tragedy in 1912, an international ice patrol has been maintained during spring months through agreement with other nations. In some cases, bergs large enough to damage shipping have drifted as far south as Newport, R. I.

Already, Coast Guard officials say North Atlantic shipping lanes, have moved 60 miles southward, pending word from the service that the ice threat has passed.

The cutter General Green will concentrate on scientific exploration of the Labrador current and the Gulf stream. The Mendota will join the International Patrol and assist in checking ice movements and spotting bergs.

A chart of probable iceberg positions is being prepared at Coast Guard headquarters. The International Patrol several times daily will radio vessels plotting the North Atlantic ice movements.

Notables At Brilliant Soviet Reception

Conspicuous among the hundreds of guests at the Russian Embassy's brilliant first official reception was the distinguished group pictured here. They are, left to right: Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, widow of the War President; Mrs. Lucille McMillin, of the U. S. Civil Service Commission; Senator David I. Walsh of Massachusetts, and Secretary of State and Mrs. Cordell Hull.

REPORT PERU, COLOMBIA ARE PREPARING FOR WAR

League of Nations Hears CABINET IN CUBA That Both Countries Are Purchasing Armaments Now—Cannot Agree

Geneva, April 12.—(AP)—A League of Nations committee was told today that both Colombia and Peru are purchasing armaments and preparing for war while asserting their desire for peace.

The statement was made by Dr. Francisco Castillo Najera, Mexican ambassador to France, former president of the League of Nations Council, and Mexican representative to the disarmament conference.

The committee is empowered to study the "Leticia controversy," the disagreement between Peru and Colombia over the jungle territory between the two nations in which is located the village of Leticia.

Delegates' Statement
Najera told the committee that the disputing parties agreed that the sovereignty of Leticia belongs to Colombia and that, hence, there was no jurisdictional controversy on this subject.

RUSSIAN SCIENTIST RESCUED FROM ICE

Had Been Marooned on Ice With 83 Companions Nearly Two Months.

Nome, Alaska, April 12.—(AP)—Rescued from a drifting ice floe on which he and 83 companions had been marooned for nearly two months, Prof. Otto Schmidt was under medical care here today.

Professor Schmidt, leader of a Russian scientific expedition which nearly met disaster when its ship sank Feb. 13, was one of 62 persons rescued in the past two days by three daring Soviet fliers. He was brought here late yesterday from Cape Van Karem, on the Northern Siberian coast, to receive treatment for a bronchial ailment which developed during the long stay on the ice.

The other refugees are at Cape Van Karem, where the aerial rescue expedition established a base for the perilous flights over the uncharted Bering Sea. Twenty-eight men remain on the ice floe.

Condition Not Serious
Professor Schmidt was taken aboard the last plane to leave the floe yesterday, despite his protests. Physicians said his condition was not serious, but planned to remove him to a hospital at Fairbanks.

When ice crushed the expedition's steamer on the return trip from Wrangle island, Professor Schmidt directed the crew to save everything possible, including a small radio through which they communicated with the mainland. Ten women, five men and two children were rescued by airplanes March 5.

GENERAL JOHNSON HAS A CLOSE CALL

His Auto Barely Missed Being Struck by Engine at a Railroad Crossing.

Miami, Fla., April 12.—(AP)—Gen. Hugh S. Johnson, National Recovery administrator, narrowly escaped death today when a large combination automobile trailer in which Johnson's party was riding barely missed being struck by a train while he was en route to meet President Roosevelt, who arrived here from a two-weeks fishing trip.

Besides General Johnson, those in the car included Donald Rieberg, general counsel for the NRA; Marvin H. McIntyre, White House secretary, and about 20 White House correspondents and their wives. Preceded by a motorcycle escort, the trailer approached the grade crossing just ahead of the train. The military escort darted across the tracks and the trailer followed.

Just Cleared Tracks
The rear end of the trailer in which General Johnson, McIntyre and Rieberg were seated, barely cleared the tracks as the train roared by.

Later General Johnson humorously remarked that if anyone on the trailer had been wearing an overcoat he would have been hit.

The trailer proceeded immediately to the docks where the party alighted and walked to a steamship dock, where the yacht "Nourmala" which had brought President Roosevelt here early today was docked. Arrangements were made for the President to enter a car and be driven immediately to the railroad station where his train was due to depart for Washington at 9:30 a. m.

SHORTER HOURS, HIGHER WAGES, IRK OPERATORS

Warn They Will Start a Civil War Rather Than Accept NRA'S Demand—Workers Reply to Threat.

Washington, April 12.—(AP)—Alabama coal operators today stood fast on threats to start a "civil war" in the bituminous fields rather than accept NRA's demand for a seven-hour day and higher wages. In a sensational climax to a storm-filled three-day hearing on the questions, Forney Johnston, representing the Alabama operators, last night charged Hugh S. Johnson with "arbitrary, illegal and unwarranted" action in approving the new schedule.

For a moment, fatigues between the Alabama and John L. Lewis, heavy-set leader of the United Mine Workers, seemed imminent when Lewis accused Johnston of attempting to "brow-beat" members of the union.

"If we're going to descend to the level of personalities," shouted the small but wiry Johnston "I think there's a better way to settle this."

"How delightful, how charming," exclaimed Lewis, glowering down from the platform at his adversary. "I don't think that would add to the gaiety of nations, however."

As the hearing neared its close, Johnston had requested an opportunity to make a statement and, after being accorded the floor, said: "As between civil war in the industry and subjection of the industry to three pro-consuls working through a military ringmaster, we prefer civil war."

Lewis described Johnston's statement as "bombast."

"The Alabama coal operators are not quite ready yet to declare war on the United States," Lewis said, "but if they feel they are, the United Mine Workers are ready within 35 days to furnish the President with a war plan."

WITNESS AGAINST POLICE MURDERED

Jacob Eisman Had Testified Unfavorably Toward Defendants at Recent Trial.

Passaic, N. J., April 12.—(AP)—Jacob Eisman, 45, a state witness in the trial of four police officials who subsequently were found guilty of nonfeasance in office, was mortally wounded early today as he patrolled as a private detective, an area of small shops in Monroe street.

Shot four times, thrice in the back and once in the arm in front of a funeral parlor, he made his way to a nearby garage where he collapsed after telling the night watchman there to call an ambulance. He was taken to a hospital where he died.

A widow and 2 children survive. Eisman was one of 93 state witnesses in the trial of Police Chief Charles J. Monks, Police Commissioner Abram Preisel, Detective Captain Owen Cunningham and Police Captain Edward Boyko.

The trial ended in the conviction of the four by a jury. They are now awaiting sentence.

The case arose out of an investigation into the slot machine and gambling rackets in Passaic County. Police in seeking for a motive for the slaying, were not inclined to regard Eisman's testimony in the trial almost a decade of hiding in his mother's home from officers who hunted him on a charge of killing his wife.

Since last September when they found him, Charles E. Youngblood had been held in county jail, but yesterday he was suddenly cleared of all charges after Judge Charles Gilbert of Criminal Court directed a verdict of not guilty at the conclusion of prosecution testimony.

"First I'm going to try to regain my health," Youngblood, who is now 39 years old, said. "Nine years in an attic will do no one any good. Then I'm going to write a book about my experience."

BLUMENTHAL HOME DESTROYED BY FIRE

Mansion Worth Over $300,000 Ruined; No One in House at the Time.

Larchmont N. Y., April 12.—(AP)—The home of A. C. Blumenthal, wealthy New York theatrical producer and real estate operator, was destroyed by fire early today at a loss estimated between $300,000 and $500,000.

The 22-room mansion, noted for its luxurious appointments including a gold leafed bathroom installed at a cost of nearly $200,000 was one of the show places of Westchester county.

Blumenthal and his estranged wife, Peggy Fears of Broadway musical comedy fame, have not been living there for nearly six months and neither was present when the fire broke out about 1:30 a. m.

INSULL IS STARTED ON HIS TRIP BACK TO UNITED STATES

Gilbert, Missing Months, Found Dead In Woods

Istanbul, April 12.—(AP)—Samuel Insull Sr., was started on his long, involuntary journey back to the United States from a Turkish jail today. He was removed under guard from the Istanbul house of detention to be taken to Smyrna where he will be placed on board the S. S. Exlonia sailing Friday.

Former extradition when Turkish police band over the former Chicago utilities magnate to an American diplomat, Burton Y. Berry, third secretary of the United States Embassy to Turkey.

The late afternoon sun bathed the minarets of Istanbul with glory as the aged prisoner stepped out of the jail accompanied by detectives.

Guards Present Arms
The uniformed sentinels at the door presented arms while throngs of curious onlookers obtained a view of the deported man.

Insull was placed aboard the vessel Adana, which will carry him to Panderma, where he will be put on a train for Smyrna. He went aboard at 3:15 p. m.

The party emerged from the old Turkish quarter a few minutes after leaving the jail and sped by automobile across the long Karakaysey bridge to the Galata section.

On the bridge the 74-year-old fugitive had the Golden Horn on the left and the Bosphorus on the right, rated "one of the world's most inspiring views."

Sees His Ship
As the car whizzed along the streets to the dock the Malotis, dingy little freighter on which Insull vainly fled from Greece, could be seen anchored at some distance.

At the Adana there was no more formality than at the jail. The prisoner was taken immediately aboard and a cabin was assigned to him. Every arrangement was made for his comfort.

Insull's boat was to sail at 7 p. m.

Although the weather had turned murky in the late afternoon, the sun filtered through the clouds as the former utilities magnate started out back to the city where he once was mighty to face trial on criminal charges.

White-turbaned muezzings came out on balconies and high towers of the mosques to call the people to prayer.

"Allah, Allah," they sang, "Allah is the only god and Mohammed is his prophet."

From shipboard Insull could look back at the needle-like spires and domes of the mosques standing out blackly against the evening sky.

That was the last which could be seen from the Adana as it sailed at 7 p. m., toward the open sea.

Earlier in the day the Turkish Court of Appeals had refused to consider his plea against extradition.

PREPARES TO LEAVE

Istanbul, April 12.—(AP)—The Turkish Court of Appeals refused to consider Samuel Insull's appeal against extradition, and authorities notified him immediately that he would be started on his return trip to the United States without delay.

The decision blasted the last hope of the famous fugitive's lawyers to halt his extradition.

Turkish authorities immediately completed plans for starting him towards Smyrna this evening—the point at which he will be handed over to American agents tomorrow, continuing in their custody to the United States.

The Adana, a more comfortable ship than the steamer Adnan previously chartered, was ordered used in tonight's run with Insull to Panderma.

Preparing Luggage
While his lunch was en route to the jail from a nearby restaurant, Insull was notified that he was about to leave Istanbul and was told to prepare his luggage after dining.

His fellow prisoner and twelve-cent-a-day valet, Hassan, when informed that his master was about to leave began gesticulating in an effusive farewell.

KIWANIANS ATTEND DISTRICT MEETING

Local Delegation Hears the International President Speak in New Haven.

Six members of the Manchester Kiwanis club motored to New Haven yesterday to attend a meeting of the New England Kiwanis District at the New Haven Lawn club. International President Joshua Johns, of Wisconsin and New England District Governor Wesley Inman, of St. Johnsbury, Vt., were the guest speakers.

The Manchester delegation consisted of Dr. D. C. Y. Moore, Dr. LeVerne Holmes, Harlowe Willis, Edward J. McCabe, C. Elmore Watkins and Thomas Ferguson.

After an excellent luncheon had been served, Mr. Inman was introduced to the gathering. Mr. Inman reviewed the work of the Kiwanis clubs in the New England district and made the revelation that since January 1 more than 500 new members had been added to the New England District. He gave a glowing account of the clubs' activities and expressed the hope that his term would be one of the most successful in the history of the New England district.

Kiwanis Objectives
International President Johns, who is a graduate of the Yale Law School, said it felt like "coming home again" to return to New Haven and greet his fellow Kiwanians. His subject was, "Objects and Objectives of Kiwanis."

During the course of his splendid address, Mr. Inman made the astounding observation that if President Roosevelt should announce tomorrow that he would place the business men of the nation on their honor during the next six months to conduct business as they saw fit, without any code of restrictions, the improvement in business conditions, as a result, would be remarkable.

Qualified
Mr. Johns has traveled through 42 of the 48 states and is thoroughly qualified to speak with authority on business conditions in those states as he found them. The Manchester group was enthusiastic over the meeting and deeply impressed by the high calibre of Mr. Johns and Mr. Inman.

Delegations also were present from Springfield and Westfield, Mass.; Hartford, New Britain, Norwalk, Waterbury, Stamford, Darien, Shelton, Meriden, Bridgeport and Winsted.

THREE AMERICANS LOST NEAR HANGCHOW, CHINA

Nine Planes Conduct Search of Bay for Trio Missing Since Tuesday.

Shanghai, April 12.—(AP)—Nine planes roared in and out of the dark enveloping Hangchow bay today in a frantic search for three Americans lost since early Tuesday in the hazardous flying area. A cold, northerly wind of gale like proportions blew up along the China coast to increase fears for the three—James Finck of Miami, Fla., Robert Gast of Louisville, Ky., and Ivan Carlson of Omaha, Neb. No word has been received from them since they hopped on the Shanghai-Canton mail route. They carried a Japanese passenger. Frank Hawker, American speed pilot, took off in a big bomber this forenoon, but reported by radio that after driving the great craft into the teeth of the winds, combing the island studied bay, he had seen no trace of the missing men. To the fliers, the bay has become known as "China's grave-yard."

E. S. FOOTE, CONCERT PIANIST, TO APPEAR

Talented Hartford Musician Will Take Part in Beethoven Glee Club Concert.

The assisting artist at the ninth annual concert of the Beethoven Glee club, to be presented Monday evening, April 23, at the high school auditorium, will be Elliot S. Foote, concert pianist of Hartford. Mr. Foote has appeared many times as a concert pianist and has established an enviable reputation as a talented musician. He has studied with a number of outstanding teachers, including Edward Noyes and Francis Grover of Boston, Aurelio Giorni of New York, Tobias Matthey and Harold Craxton of London. Mr. Foote's choice of numbers for this concert will have a wide variety and are bound to please all music lovers. The Beethoven club will also strive to give a program that will be of interest to everyone and will include some of the best choral arrangements of the old masters, besides a number of the lighter and popular type of mad chorus selections. Tickets for the concert are selling rapidly and may be obtained from all members of the chorus.

NEW AIR ROUTE

New Plymouth, N. Z., April 12.—(AP)—The Australian airman, C. T. Uim, landed today from Sydney, Australia, carrying aboard his airplane a consignment of 39,000 letters, the first air mail to be flown from Australia to New Zealand. The distance is about 1,200 miles.

Dublin, Irish Free State, April 12.—(AP)—Despite a heavy downpour of rain, the little Baptist church here was crowded today for a memorial service to William Wallace McDowell, the late United States minister to the Irish Free State who died of a heart attack Monday night.

The diplomatic corps was fully represented. The pastor paid tribute to Mr. McDowell saying that while he had been known to only a few at the time of his arrival four weeks ago, such was his force of character, friendliness and tact, that he quickly won the wide esteem of the Irish people.

AUCTION OF QUALITY BAKERY NETS $1,000

Fixtures and Small Amount of Stock Sold—Large Number of Buyers.

All articles offered for sale at the auction of the fixtures and a small amount of stock of the Quality Bakery on Main street were disposed of yesterday by Robert M. Reid and son, in charge of the auction. The sale included all of the bakery equipment in the brick building, which is located in the rear of the store, and was followed on from the back right up through the store. Articles were taken up and sold as the auction proceeded, winding up inside the store with the sale of the electric light fixtures inside of the show window and then out onto the street where the awning was sold, bringing an end to the auction of nearly hours duration. There was a large gathering of buyers, the prices were low and the entire sale grossed a little under $1,000.

HOW WOMEN CAN WIN MEN AND MEN WIN

The Favor of Other Men

Unless two pints of bile juices flow daily from your liver into your bowels, your food decays in your bowels. This poisons your whole body. Movements get hard and constipated. You get yellow tongue, yellow skin, pimples, dull eyes, bad breath, bad taste, use diarrhea, headache. You have become an ugly-looking, foul-smelling, sour-thinking person. You have lost your personal charm. Everybody wants to run from you. But don't take salts, mineral waters, oils, laxative pills, laxative candies or anything else and expect them to get rid of this poison that destroys your personal charm. They can't do it, for they only move out the tail end of your bowels and that doesn't take away enough of the decayed poison. Sometimes won't help at all. Only a free flow of your bile juice will stop this decay poison in your bowels. The only mild vegetable medicine which starts a free flow of your bile juice is Carter's Little Liver Pills. No calomel (mercury) in Carter's. Only mild vegetable extracts. If you would bring back your personal charm to win men, start taking Carter's Little Liver Pills according to directions today. $10 a drug store. Before you get up, loosen teeth or scald rectum. THIEVES STEAL FAMOUS PAINTING BY VAN EYCK

Authorities Doubt if Robbers Will Be Able to Sell Noted Belgian Panel.

Ghent, Belgium, April 12.—(AP)—A section of the celebrated Van Eyck triptych—"The Adoration of the Immaculate Lamb,"—is missing from the St. Savon cathedral where it was assembled after the World War.

The panel, which measured five feet by two, was stolen Tuesday night. Authorities said they were unable to sell the work which is as well known in Europe as the painting of the "Mona Lisa."

"When I started shopping for an electric refrigerator, I thought they were all pretty much alike."

"Then a friend gave me a list of convenience features she said I should insist on having—"

"I found to my surprise that only the new Leonard has them all!"

SEE THESE FEATURES

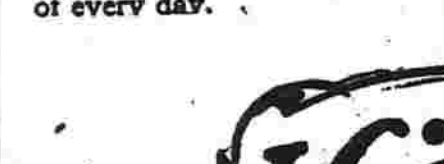

LEN-A-DOR (a touch of the toe and the door swings open); 12 freezing speeds (one for extra fast freezing); Steady Kold Defroster (refrigerates while it defrosts); sliding and folding shelves, new serving tray; dairy basket, vegetable crisper, refrigerated shelf, cold chest.

AND MANY OTHERS

No indeed, refrigerators are not "pretty much alike." You'll quickly learn for yourself how different they are, by shopping as this woman shopped, with a list of features you would like to have.

We believe you will find them all (as she did) in the new Leonard. For this is the complete refrigerator, designed and built to save you time and steps—to do away with trouble and annoyance—and serve your convenience every hour of every day.

Thousands of women, shopping for their "ideal" refrigerator, have chosen the new Leonard for its beauty, its modern, graceful lines, its snow-white, non-fading finishes. They know it is the quality product of an old, experienced manufacturer. And they can't find, elsewhere, such a combination of convenience features. See the new Leonards to-day, at our showrooms. There are 11 beautiful models (5 all-porcelain), from which to choose.

THURSDAY, APRIL 12

PUBLIC SCHOOL REFORM

It is regrettable that only a very small part of the people of Manchester heard Deputy Commissioner of Education Frank W. Wright of Massachusetts discourse, Tuesday evening, on the utter failure of the present public school system of the United States in its duty of preparing the country's children for participation in the life of the nation. Mr. Wright's views may seem extreme and revolutionary to a good many people but they are based on a set of conditions so obvious and so undeniable that they cannot fail to command serious consideration. The Bay State educator is more hopeful than we have ever been of drastic reforms in our public school system within a relatively brief time, but many of the things he said on Tuesday are in effect the things that this newspaper has been saying for years—and for which it has been roundly abused on more than one occasion.

Readers of the Evening Herald who follow these columns will recall with no difficulty numerous occasions on which we have insisted that, though the American people were spending vast sums on public school education, and though certain pedagogical groups were forever insisting that even more be spent, the mere expenditure of money and the mere erection of school buildings and the employment of great numbers of teachers constituted no proof whatever that our children were receiving any real education at all.

In other words we have maintained to the best of our ability that our public school system has not proved its case, that there is no evidence that it is fulfilling its function of enlarging the general intelligence and capacity for citizenship of the successive generations, despite its very great increase in cost. At no time, however, have we ever attempted to draw any such indictment of the system as that brought by Mr. Wright.

That this subject must be taken under review by educators themselves, with their minds opened to the dismal fact that most of our public schooling has been without valuable results, has been evident for some time. It is gratifying that in some rare instances at least this truth is now being faced by educational leaders. Because, after all, it is upon the educators that the duty of reorganizing and rehabilitating the school system upon wholly new lines should devolve. Politicians can't do it. Laymen can't do it. Legislatures and city councils can't do it. They wouldn't know how to make a start even if they had an objective. It is to liberal an unshackled mind in the educational profession itself that the country must look for the very drastic reforms so manifestly needed. It is a matter for public congratulation that leadership away from the stuffed conventions has begun to develop.

A CASE OF JUMPS

No single definite cause brought about the defeat of Mayor George A. Quigley for re-election of mayor of New Britain, who had served six terms with very considerable distinction. There is little warrant for the assumption that Mayor Quigley's eclipse is due to the fact that his opponent is a member of the party in national ascendancy, because even last fall, when the enthusiasm for the Roosevelt administration was certainly in some degree greater than it is today, it was depicted that in many local elections throughout the country the state of national politics had very little to do with the results.

...dect Dunn adopted the strategy of refraining from anything like caustic criticisms, in fact, definitely acquiesced in many of Mayor Quigley's policies. Aided yet he not only defeated the mayor but received an astonishing majority.

Nothing has transpired, so far as is apparent, to diminish the personal popularity of Mr. Quigley in his home city and though Mr. Dunn has a great many friends and admirers, so have other candidates, whom Quigley has soundly beaten in the past, had many friends and admirers.

If neither revolt against real or fancied abuses, nor national party ascendancy, nor a question of personal popularity was responsible for the complete reversal of the usual Quigley victory, the causes of the Dunn landslide must be sought elsewhere. One of them, undoubtedly, was in a feeling among New Britain Republicans that no one individual should occupy the leading political position in the city as a permanent one. Always there are young men coming up who have their own political aspirations. They believe in rotation of office, naturally. Beyond any doubt, this feeling was strong in New Britain this year—and a pretty bitter primary fight ensued. Bitter primary fights, after all, seldom contribute to enthusiastic unity in any party on election day.

But it may well be that the major factor contributing to the New Britain upset is to be found in the condition of extreme unrest prevailing all over the country at this precise moment. Never in all their history have the people of the United States suffered from such a pronounced case of the fits as in the last few weeks. They have been in deeper despair; they have been more completely without hope; they have been angrier; but they have never been in such a jumpy, uncertain mood. In such circumstances there is always a hysterical tendency to leap at anything that smacks of change—without purpose, without reason in many cases, but from the impossibility of sitting still, even politically.

On the whole the New Britain election seems to have been a case of the jumps.

THE HAIR OF THE DOG

The fantastic Wirt revelations, not taken too seriously in most quarters and treated in many as sheer farce-comedy, have received an explanation in the editorial columns of the New York Herald Tribune which, for sheer ingenuity, is the cleverest thing we have seen in connection with the subject.

From the very beginning of the New Deal, according to the Trib's analyst, its "radicals" in Washington have contained two separate and mutually hostile groups, the "planners" and the inflationists. The purposes of these groups, it appears, are diametrically opposed. The inflationists wanted to have the administration and Congress solve the depression problem by the simple expedient of expanding the currency and floating the economic ship off the rocks on a high tide of plentiful money and the resultant higher price level. They were opposed, the Tribune asserts, to trying to rebuild the ship.

The "planners" on the other hand, blamed not the ocean but the ship for the grounding of the craft, so they set out to reconstruct the vessel—an attempt, the editorial says, "in which currency inflation not only had no part but to which it was directly inimical, since you have to be sure of a stable ocean before you can design a ship to float in it."

Dr. Wirt, the Trib points out, is an inflationist—hence an enemy of "planning." Like other inflationists, he would like to see the "planners" discredited so that the administration would be compelled to have recourse to inflation, the conclusion being accepted that we must have either "planning" or inflation and that the two things are wholly incompatible.

All this is interesting and leads up to the Herald Tribune's own suggestion that the right thing is to have nothing to do with either "planning" or inflation but to chuck both ideas overboard and "give the normal business processes their opportunity." Of course there is just a wee mite of doubtful data in the Trib's postulate. It is not exactly true that all "planners" are opposed to inflation nor that all inflationists are opposed to planning. There are quite a number of people in and out of the government who believe we need a balanced measure of both. Also the Trib's idea that you must be sure of a "stable" sea before you can fit a ship to it has the distinction of being brand new; a sea that was always the same would be a very pleasant thing to sail on, but no one saw, alive has ever seen or heard of such a thing.

the administration to follow its suggestion—scrap the National Recovery Act, give back the gold to the banks, repeal the devaluation of the dollar and the elimination of the gold clause, go squarely back onto the gold standard, dissolve the C C C, the FEERA and all the rest of the "alphabetical soup" and return to good old normalcy—we are, for the moment, in favor of it. It would probably be worth the price of admission—the hell that would pop—to see this country trying to run itself on exactly the same lines that were followed before the present era of "planners," "inflationists" and confusion. It would probably be the quickest and most effective possible way of putting an end for good and all to the ridiculous pretense that this economic crisis would heal itself if we would only partake plentifully of the hair of the dog that bit us.

PIRATE GOLD

That's a good tale about forty-five million dollars worth of Inca gold buried by pirates long ago in a lonely South Sea island, having been found and recovered by an organized treasure hunting company; and maybe it's true.

However, born skeptics will probably wonder how it came about that the pirates, who are supposed to have stolen the twenty-five tons of gold ingots in Peru, cached all that dough at a spot more remote than any other in the world from any place where it could be spent.

Pirates of the old times are supposed to have accumulated their riches with the idea of some time or other setting up as grandees—and some of them actually did that. When they hid their loot ashore it was within striking distance of civilization. But in this instance the pirate who made his treasure depot in the Tuamotu Archipelago would have known that his chance of ever finding his island again was remote, and at best a job that would consume many months, starting from anywhere.

Our guess is that if any seveneenth or eighteenth century pirate ever muscled in on forty-five million dollars worth of Peruvian gold he didn't pick out a spot five thousand miles from a bottle of rum to hide it in.

PIN NEW YORK

By PAUL HARRISON. New York, April 12.—Out of the pitiful poverty of the quarter-million Negro residents of Harlem have come a lot of the social institutions that you read about in novels of the black belt.

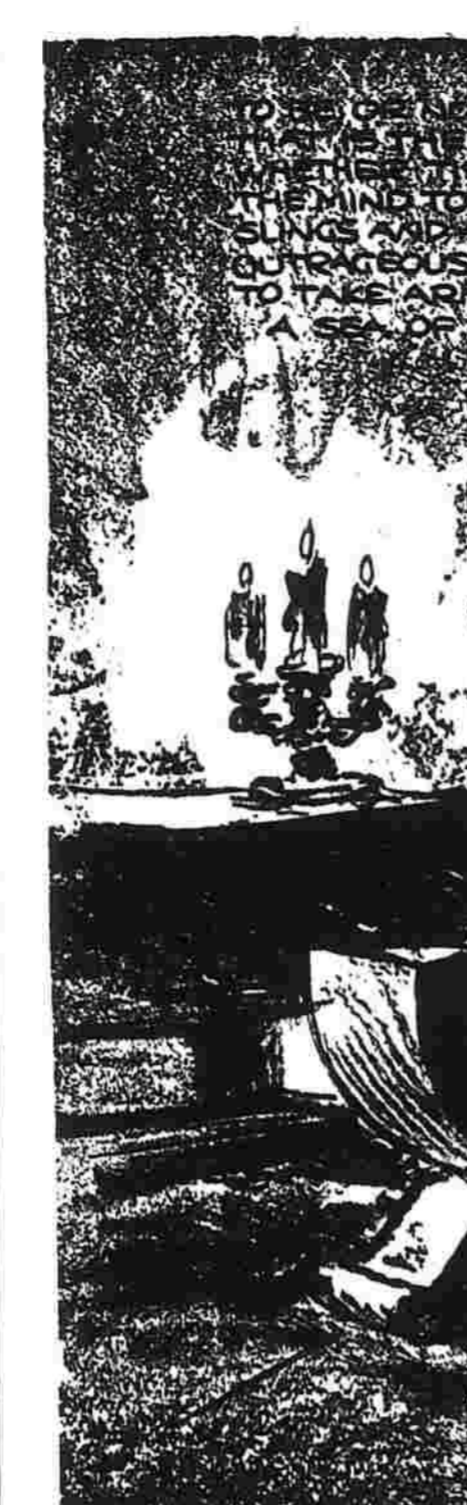

For example, there are more clubs and societies to the square block there than in any other place on earth, simply because house-to-house entertaining doesn't cost much. And there probably is an average of one "buffet flat"—a private apartment where cheap liquor and a little food is sold—to every tenement building.

And then there are "rent parties." We climbed to an apartment in the fifth floor of a tenement street. Four girls were giving the party to raise a rent money. I never did identify the hostesses because their men friends did the collecting for the gin (10 cents the glass, raw), corn whiskey (25 cents the small pitcher), and the chicken and yams. Some chairs and tables had been borrowed from the neighbors, a piano toted up, and a fellow invited to play it.

In the three rooms there were about 35 people, all young, and of all shades and apparent states of affluence. A crap game flourished in the bedroom, with a small percentage going to "the house."

They've Got Rhythm. Dancing was mostly solo, the party having reached the exhibitionistic stage. Guests clapped and nodded to the rhythm, and with two girls in monkey-like hunchbacks tapped on a washboard he had found in the kitchen. "Underneath the Harlem moon".... A gangling, high-yellow girl squirmed in sinewy sensuousness. "Swing it, honey!".... "Go that thing!".... "Got Harlem on my mind!".... "Go to town, baby!".... About that time a man reeled out of the bedroom and sat down right in the middle of the floor. He had a sort of dry dusty pallor and was slouching at his right side somewhere in the region of the fifth rib. "I'll never know why, for sure, I remembered exactly where I'd left my coat and hat.

Behind the Scenes in WASHINGTON

Mitchell - Admiral Fend Still Flashes... Doorkeeper Loyal Butler at 70... If You Want Better Cheese FSRC Has It... No Limit on Senate's Joke Resolutions.

By RODNEY DUTCHER. Herald Washington Correspondent. Washington, April 12.—General Billy Mitchell and the navy's admirals still love each other — like hyenas. It was hushed up, but the House sub-committee inquiry into naval aircraft purchases was marked by a hot skirmish between the rambunctious Billy and supercilious Admiral S. J. King, chief of naval aeronautics.

Committee members spurred by naval officers who may have noticed Mitchell's visit to the White House to discuss aviation, tried to keep the rebuttal out of the record. MacFarlane of Texas insisted it stay in the incident ended when King met Mitchell in MacFarlane's office and graciously apologized.

Loyal to the Last Punch. Harry Parker's loyalty, to the House Ways and Means committee is matched only by the committee's loyalty to him. Harry is its party 70-year-old doleful doorkeeper.

Better Cheese? Try FSRC. The FSRC (Federal Surplus Relief Corporation), buying and distributing relief foods, is producing better cheese than you can buy in the average grocery store.

No Limit on Senate Jokes. Resolved, That the whitefeep shall be the national bird and the delphinium the national flower. King answered Mitchell's statement alleging inefficiency, by recalling Mitchell's court-martial conviction, accusing him of exaggeration and propaganda, and saying his charts were "subject to suspicion."

IT'S NOT CRICKET IS SENATE'S VIEW OF LONG'S BLASTS

Washington — As far as the United States senate is concerned, as important a question as any before it at the present is what is to be done about Huey Long.

Such things strike at the very heart of what senators prize the most. As a result, Long stands almost alone in the senate. All have deserted him, even young Bennett Clark of Missouri, once friendly.

Probably many would like to get rid of him, but they don't know how. They recognize his shrewdness, his ability and his fearlessness. And they know that they've got to have an immediate case against him before they date proceed toward anything like expulsion.

Long Stands Alone. It's not cricket for a senatorial standpoint for a colleague to threaten to invade another senator's state and lend his aid to defend him, to bring up incidents like the paying $500 for a brand truck for use in a colleague's campaign, or any number of other like references voiced by Long.

Such things strike at the very heart of what senators prize the most. As a result, Long stands almost alone in the senate. All have deserted him, even young Bennett Clark of Missouri, once friendly.

Probably many would like to get rid of him, but they don't know how. They recognize his shrewdness, his ability and his fearlessness. And they know that they've got to have an immediate case against him before they date proceed toward anything like expulsion.

Rules under which senators govern themselves have without all attempts at change. They are cherished, guarded and upheld by them all — except one.

The unwritten rules are dearer to the hearts of senators than their own constitutions. —Senator Charles McNary, in "Senate Manual." These are grouped under the broad title of "senatorial courtesy."

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS. (How To Receive Answer) Question: Mr. J. J. L. New Jersey writes: "I would like to receive an answer from you but my question is not one which could be printed in the Ledger. How do I reach you?"

(Baked Potatoes) Question: Shawnee, Okla., writes: "What do you think of baked potatoes?" Answer: A baked potato is a very wholesome form of starch and I consider them one of the best starches to use. If you are interested in obtaining a list of the starches which I recommend, write to me in care of this newspaper and enclose one large, self-addressed, stamped envelope, and request a copy of the article called "Best Starches."

(Migraine Headaches) Question: Miss D. D. Cottonport, La., writes: "Do you think that Migraine Headaches are curable?" Answer: Migraine is the name given to periodic headaches which occur only on one side of the head. This disorder is due to various disturbances of the nervous system and I have found that the most common cause is a systemic toxemia. My own experience has shown me that migraine headaches may be overcome through using the same treatment which is helpful to the ordinary headaches. In some cases, Colitis, Constipation, and Protrusion are also contributing causes.

legues so much concern. And there's just nothing they can do about it. Consider the lament of Joe Robinson, democratic leader. "It's regrettable," said he, breaking in on Long's harangue, "that we have in our midst here, recognizing their rights which senate rules give us, but which we possess independently of the rules to entertain, to express our views on public questions, unrestrained and unimpeded by denunciatory expressions from others who differ from us."

What he meant and what other senators think, is that Huey is not playing cricket.

HOME FURNISHING TALK TOMORROW

Paul Towsley, Nationally Known Authority to Speak at Watkins.

"The Art of Furnishing an Attractive Home" will be the subject of a lecture to be given at Watkins Brothers tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 by Paul Towsley.

Mr. Towsley is a feature writer for national furniture magazines. For several years he was educational instructor and lecturer to the sales organizations of furniture and department stores for the Berkeley and Gay Furniture company of Grand Rapids, a division of the Simmons Company of New York.

Mr. Towsley's lecture will be not only educational, but of a practical nature, assisting the woman with a modest budget in knowing the fundamentals of color, style, furniture styles, rugs, wall papers and draperies so that a relaxing, inspiring atmosphere of studied harmony is achieved within the home.

Mr. Towsley insists that beauty and harmony of color, style and fabrics does not necessitate lavish expenditure of money, but on the contrary is less expensive than the hit-and-miss furnishing of a home that so often results in the grotesque, utterly unsuited to the personalities of the people that inhabit the home.

The stage for the lecture Friday is three attractive model bedrooms furnished with reproductions in maple and pine that reproduce the best efforts of our homestead fathers to adopt old world charm to their new homes in a new undeveloped country.

A recent fashion trend that is rapidly growing in popularity is to furnish a bedroom so that it will be representative of the best efforts of our English, Dutch or French ancestors—whichever strain is dominant—and to adopt the accumulated culture of centuries of old world living and adopt it to a new country and rugged living conditions thus elevating their simple homes above a mere utilitarian collection of ugly, dull furnishings.

The furniture on exhibition in the three special rooms built to provide the proper background for this exhibit, is a collection of bedroom pieces, called "Regional American," found in homes in New England, Pennsylvania, New York state and Louisiana dating back to early Colonial days. These reproductions also will appear in suggested room backgrounds in early issues of the Delineator and Good Housekeeping magazines.

Regional American Furniture is on display at Watkins Brothers exclusively for Central Connecticut.

ABOUT TOWN

Mr. James M. Shearer of Hilliard street and Miss Grace Robertson of Oakland street are enjoying a vacation in the Carolinas.

W. B. A. Guards will meet tomorrow evening with Mrs. Helen McCarthy of Oakland street.

Members of St. Margaret's Circle, Daughters of Isabella are reminded of the meeting at the home of Mrs. John Lappen of Cone street, tomorrow evening. A members social will follow the business.

Mr. and Mrs. James O. McCaw, Sr., have been spending the past few days in Boston.

Professor Munroe of Connecticut State College at Storrs will be the speaker at the Men's League meeting at the Center Congregational church Sunday morning at 9:30 o'clock. His subject will be "Scotland." All men interested are invited to attend.

Ever Ready Circle of King's Daughters catered to fully 200 at its annual spring supper last evening at the Y. M. C. A. The tables were attractive and the color scheme of blue and yellow prevailed. The committee begs to be remembered about 5 o'clock and continued until 7. Generous pit-ers of roast beef, gravy and vegetable dishes were placed on the tables, family style and the diners were privileged to help themselves. Mrs. C. E. Wilson, Mrs. E. P. Wilson and members of the circle received unstinting praise for the well-cooked, satisfying meal.

Under the auspices of the Women's Guild of the Center Congregational church, Mrs. Sidney French gave a delightful musical program yesterday afternoon which included a talk on "The Child and Music," and a description of the works of such modern composers as MacDowell, the American composer; Grieg, Norwegian; Debussy, French; Tchaikovsky, Russian and Sibelius, the Finnish composer. Mrs. French played selections from each, all of which were enthusiastically received. The hostesses yesterday were Mrs. Julian Cary, Mrs. R. E. Warren, Mrs. J. Seth Jones and Mrs. Joseph Motycka.

Mrs. J. L. Handley, who is directing the mystery play, "The Raisin McCoy," to be produced Tuesday evening at the Whiton Memorial by the Manchester Community Players, has called rehearsals for tonight and tomorrow night in the clubrooms in the Balch and Brown building. Sunday afternoon and Monday evening dress rehearsals, with all stage properties in position will be held at the Whiton Memorial.

$500 LOSS AS BLAZE SWEEPS GAS STATION

Tires, Tubes and Auto Accessories Damaged in Fire at 6:45 Today.

A fire thought to have been caused by an overheated oil stove was discovered in the Standard Oil gasoline station at Main and Lilley streets at 6:45 this morning. No. 3 responded to a telephone call. About 20 automobile tires were damaged, some badly, the interior of the building was smoked up and the plate glass windows in the front were cracked. In addition to the tires, tubes and other automobile accessories were damaged. The loss is estimated to be between $300 and $500.

No. 3 was called to East Center street at 3:45 p. m. yesterday for a grass fire on the Rich estate which was spreading toward houses. The fire was extinguished without damage.

Last night's rain and the rain this morning is expected to prevent further grass fires for a few days at least.

REVISE CREDIT CODE TO FIT LOCAL NEEDS

40 Manchester Business Men Hear Talk on Subject by Bridgeport Expert.

Over forty professional men and merchants met last evening at the Hotel Sheridan and listened to an interesting talk by George Flynn, secretary-manager of the Bridgeport Credit Rating Bureau. After a long discussion it was left to a committee of six to reword the proposed Retail Credit Code to fit the needs of Manchester.

"Credit grants all over the country," said Mr. Flynn, "and more especially in the west, have come to realize that this thing called credit has much more significance than ever before. The most radical step today is the prevention of duplication of accounts."

"Do not erect a barrier to deserving people," he continued, "but extend to them a helping hand when seeking credit. The installment buying, throughout the country, has stood the long strain of depression better than any other class of business. Facts from the Department of Commerce show that losses from controlled installment buying are practically nil.

CHARLES S. HOUSE ELECTED DIRECTOR

43rd Annual Meeting of Manchester Building and Loan Association Held.

Charles S. House was elected to the Board of Directors of the Manchester Building and Loan Association, Inc., for a period of two years at the 43rd annual meeting of the association last night. He is the son of Herbert B. House, who was re-elected treasurer, and the grandson of the late Charles E. House, who was secretary for about forty years.

Mr. House is a graduate of Harvard College and Law school and recently opened an office here to practice law. John F. Pickles, a mechanical engineer and treasurer of the local Chamber of Commerce, was elected to serve as director for one year, these being the only two vacancies that it was necessary to fill.

SUES GOLF TEACHER

Bridgeport, April 12.—(AP)—The Norwalk Y. M. C. A., and Viola La Londe, a golf instructor, have been named defendants in Fairfield county's first golf injury case.

Seeking damages of $10,000, Agnes Litzberger, Norwalk, claims that she was struck on the head by a golf club while taking a lesson from Miss La Londe.

The suit is returnable to the May term of the Superior Court.

RECENT MOVINGS HERE FEWER THAN LAST YEAR

Charles Ecabert Exchanges Local Property for Farm in Vernon, His New Home.

Recent movings in Manchester, as reported through the office of R. J. McCann, have not been as many as was the case last year. Among the more recent changes are: Paul Donze, from 137 West Center street to 69 Brookfield street; Walter Cowles, from 105 Hill street to 17 Trumbull street; John Gitz, from 48 Chestnut street to 151 Pearl street; C. G. Jilson, from Springfield, Mass., to 21 Armory street; Mrs. Mary A. Whittle, from 16 1/2 Florence street to 26 Newman street; Tennessee McFall, Rockville, to 83 Wadsworth street; John J. O'Mera, from Wadsworth street to 380 East Center street; Charles Scheiner, Rockville, to 25 Lilley street; Mrs. Mary De Rosier, from 82 Summer street to 21 Florence street; Clarence R. Walker, from Chestnut street to 30 Lilley street; L. H. Piper, West Hartford, to 38 Maple street; John Clark, from 192 Woodbridge street to 44 Ridgewood street.

Charles Ecabert, who owned the property at 20-22 Wadsworth street, has exchanged the house for a farm on Lake street in Vernon. He has made several improvements at the farmhouse and is now living in Vernon.

FOX CLAWS YOUTH ATTEMPTING CAPTURE

Wapping Boy Ferociously Attacked When He Tries to Hold Mother of Five Puppies.

After smoking a female fox out of its den in the woods of Wapping, Alfred Kavalis, of that community, succeeded in grasping the fur of the animal as it left its lair. But Alfred might just as well have tried to hold a wildcat. The fox clawed and bit him in such a ferocious attack that the boy was forced to give up his hold.

The fox was the mother of five puppies which now are kept in a box beside the stove in the home of Harold J. Collins in Wapping. She frequently has been observed about farmhouses apparently searching for her missing babies. The puppies have learned to take milk from a saucer and all but one spent content with their new surroundings. One of them, however, continues to be wild and will snap at anyone putting his hand into the box.

WASH OUT 15 MILES OF KIDNEY TUBES

Win Back Pep... Vigor... Vitality. Medical authorities agree that your kidneys contain 15 MILES of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. They should pour out thru the bladder 3 pints of fluid a day which contains 4 pounds of waste matter.

If kidneys don't empty 3 pints every day, bladder passages with scanty amount causing burning and discomfort, the 15 MILES of kidney tubes need washing out. This danger signal may be the beginning of nagging headache, leg pains, loss of pep and vitality, setting up nights, lumbago, swollen feet and ankles, rheumatic pains and dizziness.

But don't take chances with strong drugs or so-called "kidney cures" that claim to fix you up in 15 minutes. Your common sense will tell you that this is impossible. Treatment of this nature may seriously injure and irritate delicate tissues. Insist on DOAN'S PILLS... the old reliable relief that cures for over 40 years. They give quick relief and will help to wash out the 15 MILES of kidney tubes.

THREE DIE FROM FUMES OF BURNING CELLULOID

300 Employees of Brown Shoe Plant in St. Louis Flee Building to Safety.

St. Louis, April 12.—(AP)—Smoke fumes from burning celluloid caused the death of three employees last night following a fire in the Brown Shoe company building. City hospital physicians said today.

The dead are Fred Pointer, 37, Albert F. Deitch, 55, and Miss Minnie Schultz, 42. Two other men employees suffered burns, a woman sprained her ankle as she jumped from a fire escape to the sidewalk and about 300 employees were endangered by the fire, but left the building safely.

The three died in the City hospital several hours after the fire. According to physicians there, burning celluloid generates a high poisonous gas which partially destroys lung tissues and paralyzes nerves. Deaths were unexpected, preliminary examinations at the hospital indicating the injured were not in serious condition.

ARMED WITH RETRENCHMENT AUTHORITY, MAYOR PROCEEDS WITH ECONOMY PROGRAM IN METROPOLIS.

New York, April 12.—(AP)—Mayor LaGuardia and his experts had whacked $12,429,541 off the city's $31,000,000 deficit today and have only just warmed to the job.

Armed with retrenchment authority since Tuesday, when the municipal economy bill was passed by the state legislature, the mayor and the board of estimate have taken the pruning knife to thirteen city departments in an effort to balance the half billion dollar budget.

The last action of the mayor and the board of estimate had these results: 1—Elimination of 1,010 jobs. 2—Scaling down ranging from thirty to seven days. 3—Salary reductions for departmental commissioners of from $13,390 to $10,000 annually, with corresponding cuts for deputy commissioners.

ZOO ANIMALS THIRSTY WHEN WATER SHUT OFF

Keeper Threatens to Turn Wild Beasts Loose Unless Water Is Turned On.

Salt Lake City, April 12.—(AP)—There was a great thirst among the 125 animals in the Salt Lake City zoo today because of an unpaid water bill.

They sniffed at empty troughs, while officials of the city and the zoo aired their differences. George D. Keyser, water commissioner, had ordered the water shut-off for non-payment of $196.

"I'll open every cage before I'll let an animal suffer for water," Ralph D. Collin, zoo director, told the commissioner.

He warned he would release the animals to seek their own drinking water unless Commissioner Keyser changed his mind.

ELECTRICAL SHOW IS OPENED TODAY

Latest Improvements Displayed in Electric Company's Showrooms.

The Manchester Electrical Appliance Dealers are featuring the first all electrical show to be held in Manchester, an event that is worth the attention of all people interested in the latest improvements. The show opened today at one o'clock and will be open until nine o'clock, also on Friday and Saturday from one until nine o'clock. These articles are shown in the display room of the Manchester Electric Company in the Odd Fellows block at the Center.

Not Luxuries
The day has passed when electrical devices are looked upon as luxuries and most homes today have any number of electrical appliances. The average householder would be surprised to find just how many are to be found in his house and how difficult it would be to get along without them. Of course, many improvements have been made in the last few years and a much higher efficiency is to be found in the new models now on display. The only articles not displayed at the Electrical Appliance Show are refrigerators and radios. You will find the latest and most efficient washing machines, one that produce a snowy white washing in a minimum of time, toasters that will not burn your toast though you may forget it, but pop it up a golden brown, attractive clocks, ironing machines that really are a boon to the woman with a large family, waffle irons to tempt you with crisp, delicious waffles, the last word in electric stoves and so many other wonderful things. You really just have to go in and look around for yourself to know how many lovely and useful things are on display.

Sponsors
This show is sponsored by Poterion and Krah, Montgomery Ward and Co., Kemps, for Electric Motor Sales, Manchester Plumbing and Supply Co., Standard Plumbing Co., Watkins Brothers, The J. W. Hale Co., G. E. Keith Furniture Co., and the Manchester Electric Co.

NIGHTY BATTLE ARMADA NEARING PANAMA CANAL

San Diego, Cal., April 12.—(AP)—Spring cleaning took the place of mimic war maneuvers today among the 100 ships of America's armada as it steamed toward the Panama Canal.

Battle stations and plotting rooms lost the atmosphere of tension that had marked them for three days. Going into cruising formation, the naval ships became scenes of peaceful activity.

Routine drills were ordered. Some ships carried out radio direction finder calibration. All equipment was checked carefully after the exciting battle exercises in which the fleet engaged since it departed Monday from Southern California bases for the Atlantic via the Canal.

All aircraft were stowed away and the dirigible Macon had sailed northward. The great fleet is due in the bay of Panama a week from next Saturday.

WAPPING

Miss Alice E. Stratton of Wapping carried out radio direction finder calibration. All equipment was checked carefully after the exciting battle exercises in which the fleet engaged since it departed Monday from Southern California bases for the Atlantic via the Canal.

Harold J. A. Collins found a litter of five fox puppies last Sunday and had them at his home. They are about the size of half grown kittens and with one exception are contented with their quarters in a box beside the kitchen stove. One cries continually and snaps at persons if they come close. All of them have learned to lap milk from a saucer. The mother fox, unusually large, has been seen many times carrying off plump ducks or chickens but has escaped every shot aimed at her. Sunday morning, Alfred Kavale got a hold of her fur as she came out of her burrow but she bit and scratched the boy's hands so fiercely that he was glad to let go.

The annual election of directors and district officers to represent South Windsor on the board of directors of the Connecticut Valley Bread and Flouring Co. will be held Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the South Windsor Town Hall.

Miss Joan Brown of Manchester, N. H., who has been a guest of Mr. and Mrs. David Carter for the past week, left Monday for Hartford, where she will visit before returning to her home.

The two Miss Sawyers who have been the guests at the home of Mrs. Harry E. Files, left Monday for their home in Maine.

Wapping Grange has received an invitation to neighbor with Wallingford Grange Friday evening, April 20.

The officers and teachers of the Second Congregational church of Manchester, with their wives and husbands, will motor to Wapping this evening. They will gather at Mrs. Martha Williams' tea rooms at the "Old Firehouse" for supper and later hold the meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Leverett Gates moved back to their home on Avery street recently.

Wapping Grange No. 30 held its sixth regular meeting last Tuesday evening at the Community church. It was the initiation in the first and second degrees. A class of six members was received. The work was done by the regular officers of the local Grange. Worthy Deputy Roberts was present and spoke interestingly. There are over one hundred members in Wapping Grange at the present time.

HEBRON

Mrs. Louise Blume, who has been spending the winter at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Claude W. Jones, has returned to Canaan, where she is employed through the summer.

Mrs. Mary B. Cummings was in charge of the town library Tuesday afternoon and evening as Mrs. Martin, the regular librarian, was detained at home owing to the illness of her grandson, Dwight.

Whooping cough continues to increase. Nearly every child on or near the Green either has the disease, or had it previously. Children in the active stages are not allowed in school, church, or library, but where recovering, strict quarantine rules are not applied.

A small flock of purple finches was seen at one of the places near the Green a few days ago. While these birds are not particularly rare they are not seen every day, and they are a beautiful sight.

Local members of Colonel Henry Champion Chapter, D. A. R., at the home of Mrs. Stanley Bevin, in East Hampton, Mrs. Bevin, Mrs. W. N. Hill, and Mrs. Williams, all of East Hampton, acted as hostesses, and arranged the program.

Miss Marion Gott and the Misses Pendleton and Mrs. Anne C. Gilbert were in Hartford Tuesday, on a shopping trip.

Mr. and Mrs. William Worthington of Wallingford, Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Boy of Manchester, Professor and Mrs. John Smith of East Hartford, and William H. Kibbe of Rockville were Sunday visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George P. Kibbe.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Owen spent the week and as guests of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. William Owen, in Amston.

Mrs. Robert F. Porter, entertained the Ladies' Afternoon Bridge club at her home Tuesday afternoon. Two tables were in play. Mrs. Frederick Wyman and her sister, Miss May Sparks won highest honors. Refreshments of cake, macarons, punch and coffee were served.

Mr. and Mrs. Gibson Preston of Brooklyn, N. Y., spent the week end as guests of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Porter.

The Hebron Congregational Ladies' Aid society is among those invited to attend the 100th anniversary celebration of the Dorcas Society of the Marlborough Congregational church, Saturday, April 14, from 3 to 5 p. m.

STOLEN GEMS RETURNED
New York, April 12.—(AP)—As mysteriously as it was stolen, jewelry valued at $30,000 belonging to Mrs. John Loeb, daughter of the Arthur Lehman and niece of Governor Herbert H. Lehman of New York was returned last night.

The gems, reported stolen last Wednesday, were found loosely wrapped in tissue paper in the vestibule of the Lehman five-story mansion off Park avenue on 70th street.

TRUCK REGISTERING TASK STARTS SOON

Authority Prepared to Complete Code Job—Await Final Word.

Registration of trucks in Connecticut in compliance with the Trucking Code will begin in a week or ten days, according to an announcement made today by Myles W. Illingworth, Secretary-Treasurer of the State Code Authority for the trucking industry.

The State Code Authority has set up machinery for the registration work which will be put into operation within forty-eight hours after final instructions are received from the National Code Authority in Washington. An attempt will be made to place Connecticut on record as one of the first states in the United States to complete its registration program.

Authority Members
The Temporary State Code Authority in Hartford consists of J. Arbour, of Hartford, representing inter-state operators. The other members are, Bryant C. Edgerton of Bridgeport representing intra-state operators, Robert A. Waters of Waterbury, representing owners of industrial trucks, and Sharp Mossey of Bridgeport, representing the dump truck operators. Headquarters have been established in the Capitol Bank Building, 410 Asylum street, Hartford.

A complete list of all of the truck owners in the state and the number of vehicles each one operates is now being made up, and a card index system is being established at headquarters which will enable the State Code Authority to make a close and constant check-up on those who fail to register their trucks or file rates as required by the Code.

Temporary Offices
Sixteen Chambers of Commerce have offered space to the State Code Authority for temporary branch offices for registration purposes. While these offices scattered throughout the state may be opened for a period of two weeks for the convenience of truck owners who want to register their trucks, they can not be used for the distribution of the insignia. A ruling has just been issued by the National Code Authority that all insignia must be obtained from headquarters of the State Code Authority.

The form to be used for registration of trucks has been approved by the National Recovery Administrator, General Hugh S. Johnson. These forms are now being printed in Washington and a supply for Connecticut is expected within a week or ten days.

Mr. Illingworth said that the State Code Authority has just been notified that designs for insignia and the certificate of registration to be issued to members of the trucking industry have also been approved by the National Recovery Administrator.

Insignia
"There will be two types of insignia, said Mr. Illingworth, one for the "for-hire" trucks and the other for the "not-for-hire" vehicles. They will be numbered serially for the entire country and will be issued by the State Code Authorities following completion of registration. Insignia must be displayed on every truck registered under the code."

Mr. Arbour, Chairman of the temporary State Code Authority, when asked today how soon the registration work would begin said, "We have been ready for three weeks to start the work but have been delayed on account of not having received official instructions from Washington as to the exact method of procedure. Present indications are that we will get going in about a week or ten days. We understand the forms to be used for registration are now on the press and will be rushed through to us as soon as possible. The fees to be charged have not yet been approved but no doubt this will be done following a meeting that has been called by General Johnson for Wednesday, April 18th, at the Willard Hotel in Washington for the purpose of discussing assessments."

Assessments
"The National Code Authority has approved an assessment of $8.00 per vehicle for all for-hire vehicles coming within the jurisdiction of the trucking code and $2.00 per vehicle for all not-for-hire vehicles to be registered and report under the trucking code. As soon as we are officially notified that these fees have been approved by General Johnson's office we will begin immediately with the registration work."

SAYS HEALTH COST TO STATE IS LOW

Commissioner Osborn Asserts Amount Is Under 17 Cents a Person.

All of the activities aimed at conservation of the public health which are carried on by the Connecticut State Department of Health cost each person in the state less than twenty cents a year, while at the same time hundreds of thousands of dollars are being saved annually for the residents of the state by these activities, Dr. Stanley H. Osborn, State Commissioner of Health disclosed in the weekly broadcast of the State Department of Health today.

Increasing interest in public health by business men and particularly chambers of commerce make it plain that in the decade to come Connecticut will continue its progress in the elimination of disease and the maintenance of good public health, that has been given such great impetus in the past two decades, Dr. Osborn predicted.

The average citizen, he said, is so busy with his own business affairs that he little realizes the vast amount of protective public health machinery and preventive medicine that has been thrown around him during those past two decades—but which still costs him less than seventeen cents a year. This machinery has aided immensely in making lives of parents and their children much healthier, thus relieving the family of illness, thus relieving the financial burden caused by it, the commissioner declared.

He drew many examples of the improvements in health that have taken place since "the good old days" when parents were wont to expose their children to diseases in order that they might "catch them young." Such epidemic diseases as typhoid fever, diarrhea, enteritis and diphtheria have been cut to a minimum. Close supervision of water and milk supplies have nearly eliminated diseases borne by those elements.

If conditions of 25 years ago existed today, there would be 2,500 cases of typhoid each year instead of less than 100; there would be 3,000 cases of diphtheria instead of 200 or 300. Tuberculosis, malaria and scarlet fever have been appreciably reduced. The newer diseases, such as undulant fever and parrot fever, as well as the venereal diseases, lockjaw and rabies have been greatly restricted by measures taken by the state legislature, physicians and health officers.

Various groups aside from the medical profession, including sanitary engineers, public health nurses, laboratory workers, industrial hygienists and mental hygienists have and are contributing largely to the work. Dr. Osborn said, while the dissemination of information to the public by the press, leaflets, the radio, moving pictures, lectures, exhibits and other means is a most important contributing factor in the improvement of the public health.

DAYLIGHT SAVING
To the Editor of the Manchester Herald:
The time again is here, when let us advocate or disapprove of the continuation of daylight saving time may be seen in the Open Forum column of the newspapers. Some of the lovers of D. S. T. claim that the majority of the people are in favor of this annual change. And the dialtlers claim the opposite. Only through a referendum of the people is it possible to find out what the majority wants. I am of the opinion that the newspapers of Hartford and vicinity could find this out by asking their readers to send in their opinions by postal cards addressed to the newspaper, which could then publish the result. And then we all could abide by this result and be satisfied with what the majority wants. I have asked the Hartford Courant and the Hartford Times to do this and hereby would also like to request the Manchester Herald to do the same. To many it seems as though the time for discontinuing the moving of clocks forward and backward is at hand.

HEAVY RAINFALL DRENCHES TOWN

Storm Warning Indicates Gale Is Due Here This Afternoon and Night.

Manchester was drenched today by one of the heaviest rainstorms of the year. The rain began to fall last night and continued with increasing intensity during the night.

The weather bureau issued a storm warning today which indicated that there will be storms accompanied by high gales this afternoon and tonight. The wind will shift to the northwest this evening, which probably will mean a drop in the temperature.

Bigelow brook, swollen by the downpour, was going over its banks this morning. Pools of water were visible where there were depressions in the ground, but the storm sewers seemed able to handle the flow of water from the streets.

WHY GET UP NIGHTS?

Relax the Bladder With Juniper Oil, Buchu, etc.

Drive out the impurities and excess acids that cause irritation, burning and frequent desire. Juniper oil is pleasant to take in the form of BUKETS, the bladder inactive, also containing Buchu leaves, etc. Works on the bladder similar to castor oil on the bowels. Get a 25c box from any drug store. After four days if not relieved of "getting up nights" go back and get your money. If you are bothered with backache or leg pains caused from bladder disorders you are bound to feel better after this cleansing and you get your regular sleep. BUKETS guaranteed by J. H. Quinn & Co.

CHARGES BROUGHT AGAINST PLUNGER

Jones Says Chicago Board of Trade Needs Regulating—Hearing Shortly.

Washington, April 12.—(AP)—Charges filed against Arthur Cutten, noted grain trader, were used today by Chairman Jones of the House Agriculture committee as the basis of a contention that the Chicago Board of Trade needs regulating.

Cutten was charged yesterday by Secretary Wallace with violation of the Grain Futures Act. A hearing will be held at Chicago next month. Jones made his remarks after Charles V. Essinger, vice president of the First National Bank of Chicago and treasurer of the Board of Trade, had opposed legislation for Federal regulation of grain exchanges.

Henry I. Harriman, president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, also opposed the administration-backed legislation and asked that the grain code first be given a chance to show what it could do.

Saying that Cutten was reported to have been short several million bushels, Jones told Essinger: "Then if the officers permit the selling of such tremendous short holdings and like practices and don't know about it, they certainly are not, in my opinion, in much of a position to do their own self-governing very properly, are they?"

"It is answer no, to that," Essinger answered.

"It doesn't look to me," Jones insisted, "like that is much of a recommendation for self-governing. If the accounts in the morning papers are correct, it is an indication of the Chicago Board of Trade is badly in need of regulation. If those transactions are evidence of what is going on, then it is a sad commentary on the ethics of business men in Chicago."

Representative Cummings (D., Colo.) asked Essinger: "That in all Al Capone wanted when he ran Chicago, wasn't it, to be allowed to do what he pleased?"

LATEST STOCKS

New York, April 12.—(AP)—Stock Market specialists accounted for what little activity there was in today's session and price changes generally seemed to be without any important meaning.

While the strike situation at Detroit was still highly indefinite, and Washington news was what might be called "spotty," speculative circles were encouraged by the strength of bonds, many of which reached new peaks for the past two years or more.

Silver and rubber futures moved markedly higher today. Silver advanced steady and grains were inclined to drift lower. International oil rates held to a narrow groove.

Shares of Curtis Publishing Preferred were up 5 and the Common gained 2. Industrial Rayon stepped up more than 3. American Beet Sugar Preferred got up 6 and the Common 1. Armour Preferred, Celanese and Barker Bros. advanced 1 to around 2. Goodyear and U. S. Rubber rallied about 1 point each and Firestone firm led, with Parsons and Warner Bros. recording small advances.

American Telephone came back a point and Consolidated Gas and Public Service of New Jersey did better. Most of the rails and metals were slightly under water and the motors were hesitant.

STORMY ON SOUND

New London, April 12.—(AP)—Wind from the southeast churned heavy seas to the eastward of this port last night and with rain driving heavily to hinder visibility the passenger steamer Lexington and the freighter Marlon of the Colonial Line sought shelter in the local harbor early today. They were bound from New York, the Lexington for Providence and the Marlon for Pawtucket. With the water shifting into the northwest quarter and diminishing the two boats resumed their runs shortly before dawn. A lightning storm prevailed with the downpour about 3 a. m. this morning, and the rain continuing through the night was coupled with an especially high tide.

MRS. JENNIE ALLEN DIES

Bridgeport, April 12.—(AP)—Mrs. Jennie L. Allen, aged 80, a descendant of the early settlers of Fairfield, died this morning at her home in Derby.

HEAVY RAINFALL

New Haven, April 12.—(AP)—The overnight rain which fell in Connecticut was measured at an inch and a half today by the United States Weather Bureau at this port. Seventeen hours after the start of the rain, the Weather Bureau said cloudy skies, with intermittent showers were in store for the rest of the day, with fair and warmer weather in prospect for tomorrow.

DIES ON STREET

New Haven, April 12.—(AP)—Mrs. Julia Lyman White of New Haven collapsed today while walking to work, and died before doctors could reach her. Death was attributed to a heart attack. She leaves a son and a granddaughter.

POURED LYE ON SLEEPER

New Haven, April 12.—(AP)—Charged with pouring lye on the face of a sleeping friend, with whom he had been arguing, Felix Mallick, 39, of New Haven, was ordered held under $3,000 bond today for trial in superior court.

GREENWICH WOMAN KILLED

Los Angeles, April 12.—(AP)—Vivian O. Guion, 18, of Brookside Drive, Greenwich, Conn., was injured today when she drove her automobile into an oil company tool house being moved on jacks along a boulevard.

CENTER CHURCH CHOIR TO GIVE "THREE PEGS"

Rehearsing for Comedy Under Direction of Mrs. Henry Lowd—Those Playing Parts.

Tomorrow evening at 7 o'clock a rehearsal of the play, "Three Pegs," will be held in the parish hall of the Center Congregational church, under the direction of Mrs. Henry Lowd. This delightful comedy from the pen of Alice Williams Chaplin, will be played next Wednesday by a cast of young girls from the choir, with Miss Emma Strickland and Miss Beatrice Clulow who have had considerable theatrical experience, in the leading roles. Miss Strickland plays the part of Emily Weston, a rich and cultured woman of today and Miss Clulow, crochety Aunt Euphelia, who sees absolutely no romance in life.

Miss Barbara Stoltenfeldt as Marguerite, one of the three girls named "Peg" is the ill-mannered one, while Madge, Miss Jessie Bellamy, is a dainty, sweet-tempered creature. The other Peg, Miss Hazel Rogers, is vivacious and always eager to make others happy.

Miss Esther Wells has a good character part in Sarah, the Irish cook. Miss Beatrice Irwin, a male plays the part of an Italian woman, Mrs. Conti, and Miss Lois Howe as Mrs. Barclay, a friend of Emily Weston, completes the cast.

Center Church Women's Federation is sponsoring the play. Mrs. Lucius Foster and Mrs. George Smith are in charge of ticket distribution. They may also be secured from members of the federation and cast. Mrs. Sidney French will provide music between the acts, and Mrs. Edna Case Parker and Mrs. Elmer Weden will supervise the sale of home made candy.

HOME LOAN DATA KEEPS TAX COLLECTOR ACTIVE

A change will be made in the method of checking up the questions asked after an application for a home loan is made to the government, the mailing of 31 reports to the tax collector, asking the assessors' value on land and buildings and the total of the whole value of the property, is going to result in a detailed search to clear up the information also being asked about the liens or any other incumbrances on the property.

NO STRIKE TODAY AT CHANCE VOUGHT

Hartford, April 12.—(AP)—Employees of the Chance Vought Corporation, manufacturers of military and mail planes, failed to walk out this morning, despite the present range of crippling strikes in which 1,600 from the Pratt and Whitney Aircraft Company and the Hamilton Standard Propeller Company have already struck in the past 24 hours.

Meanwhile a meeting between employees and management for the purpose of settling if possible the Army and Navy contract and a strike was in progress; several raises offered by the Underwood-Elliott-Fisher Company have been refused by the workers' committee, though strike action is deferred pending arbitration and a recent report from the organizer, automobile salesmen of Greater Hartford, insisting on salary plus commission.

PRESIDENT, RESTED, NOW ON WAY HOME

latter has announced he is willing to permit this drastic club of enforcement to lapse upon the expiration of its life next June. The President declined any comment on the pending tax bill, remarking that he would have to wait and see how much it finally provides.

Some members of the Nourmahal party, including Frederick J. Kernegan, of New York; George St. George, of Tuxedo, and Kermit Roosevelt, rode north with the President. Arthur Brisbane, the journalist, also boarded the train at Miami and had a visit with Mr. Roosevelt.

James Roosevelt, eldest son, left the Nourmahal, and accompanied his father also. The sun beat down hotly as the special train sped along the Florida shore line carrying the President on his first day on land in two weeks.

RIPTIDE WHEN A WOMAN LOVES

do I love you that all I want is for you to be happy? He meant it, deeply. And it was, all of the things he might have said, the very worst thing he could say. Gently, he helped her from the low chair and together they went up the stairs and down to the corridors to the distant, old wing where her room was. They stood a minute, without speaking, at the door. Then suddenly—neither of them could remember afterward just how it came about—she was in his arms. They went in and closed the door.

It was a little after midnight when some one smelled the smoke. There was a wild scramble when the alarm was given and in a few minutes, guests and servants were in the garden. They had not waited to dress, but had thrown coats or bathrobes—anything which came to hand first—over their night clothes.

It had seemed as if the fire had been conquered, when some one said sparks were being blown toward the old wing. Aunt Hetty gasped.

"The old wing! Mary is there—she wanted to be off by herself—probably, at that distance, she hadn't heard! Quick!"

She ran toward the house and several of the guests went with her. They banged on the door.

"Don't speak!" cautioned Tommy. "Don't let them hear a sound."

"Mary! Mary! Mary!" screamed Aunt Hetty. "Come out. The house is on fire!"

"My God!" said Tommy, as Mary started for the door. "If only—I know, Tommy dear," said Mary. "But it doesn't matter any more."

She opened the door. "Thank God, you are all right!" said Aunt Hetty, throwing her arms

Mary felt the world had fallen to pieces around her.

fortunately he did none of these things. She danced, she drank, she played with the rest of them and she believed none of them noticed that she was simply going through the motions of being lighthearted and happy.

She was eager for the post. Every time the telephone rang, her heart lost a beat. She had not tried to communicate with Philip—that she could not do—but she had left word at the London house where she had gone and if he tried to communicate with her, he would be told where he could reach her.

Hope was running low as the days went on. It was almost a week and there had been no word. One night everyone was tired. They had been up at dawn followed by the hours and hours in the saddle and the knowledge that the morrow was also to be a crowded one, decided them to go to bed early.

Mary, knowing she could not sleep, telling herself that Philip might come before midnight, silently crept downstairs when all the lights were out. She lit the lighted the candle in the old scion on either side of the fireplace and sat there in the soft dim light. It was there that Tommy, coming down for a book, found her—beut over, her face in her hands.

"Mary!" he gasped. "What is the matter? Are you all dead?" She could not speak, but her grief-stricken face when she lifted it to him, told him more than any words could have done. He thought he had never seen anything quite so sad as the smile she managed, by heroic effort, to summon.

"Mary," he said in a low tone. "Tell me anything you want to— or nothing. That is up to you—much I must tell you I love you—so much around her. "Don't tell me you slept through it all."

"No," Mary said. "Tommy and I were talking down" said Aunt Hetty. "I think it is under control—but there'll be no sleep this night and we all need a drink and some food after this scare."

Everone was talking at once as they gathered around for drinks and the bacon and eggs which the servants were bringing in. Nothing was said, of course, about Tommy's having been in Mary's room.

"Essential we should talk. Will you come here at once? I beg you not to fail me. Waiting. Love always, Philip."

Mary hurried toward the stairs. She was calling Celeste, telling her to pack their bags at once. They must leave immediately, Aunt Hetty and Tommy followed Mary.

"You're going to him," said Tommy. "He whistles for you and you scamper to him. How charming! Don't you think you owe me anything?"

"Be still, Tommy!" said Aunt Hetty. "Mary is going, of course. It is right that she should."

"But he called it a day" protested Tommy. "Yes," conceded Mary. "He did, and now something that was apparently dead, has flamed up again and his sake. This kind of thing is not going to exist for a moment, ever again. It was dead—and it's going to stay dead."

Announce All Prize Winners of Bowling Tourney

Official Listing Sends Local Bowlers Far Down In the Final Standing

Clara Jackmore Is 7th in Women's Singles, Gertrude Nelson Places Eighth; Kebart Is 10th in Men's All-Events; the Complete List.

In the official list of the leading scorers and division of the money for the national bowling tourney held at Baltimore, Md., local bowlers failed to place as previously announced, possibly due to error in checking scores while the tourney was in progress. Miss Clara Jackmore was eliminated from the all-events, in which she hit 1012, and finished seventh in the women's singles for a prize of $5.50. Miss Gertrude Nelson was eighth and won $3.

Charlie Kebart, town bowling champ, was also eliminated from a standing in one event, but finished tenth in the men's all-events for a prize of $5. As a member of the Wooster team of Hartford, he shared in the $30 prize money the team won for finishing in 12th place in the men's team event.

Baltimore, April 12.—(AP)—Nearly $3,800 was divided among 145 leaders in the seventh annual tournament of the National Duckpin Bowling Congress. The official list of the leading scorers and division of the money was announced today by George L. Isemann of Washington, secretary of the bowling organization.

Isemann said the tournament which opened here on March 24 and closed Sunday night, was one of the most successful held by the Congress. There were 17 more teams entered than in 1933, he said.

COLLEGIANS AFTER 2ND STRAIGHT WIN

Oppose East Sides at Rec Tonight in Clash for Junior Court Honors.

The second game of the series to decide the Junior championship of the Recreation Centers basketball teams will be played tonight at the East Side Recreation Center. The Collegians and East Side five meet at 8:30 o'clock.

This contest will be preceded by a preliminary game in which the Capitol Five will meet the All-Hartford in an exhibition affair. Both teams consist mostly of ex-high school players. This game is scheduled to start at 7:30 p. m.

Winning the initial contest of the series by a narrow margin, the Collegians are favorites to make it two straight though the East Sides expect to even up the count tonight. In the first game the Collegians jumped into an early lead holding the upper hand the entire game, though the East Sides staged a belated rally in the final period to throw a scare in the Collegian camp.

A win for the Collegians will give them the championship and they are confident of making it two straight while a win for the East Siders would extend the series to a final game which would be played Saturday night.

Ready for action in tonight's game will be Dave Muldoon and center, Thayer and Churchwood, forwards, complete the picture of the Collegians starting lineup. Against this array the East Sides will have Weir and Urbanetti for forward berths, Gavello at the tapoff post, with Vance and John Muldoon for guards. Both games are open to the public.

CHARTER OAKS FACE WALLINGFORD GIRLS

Engage in State League Match Here Tonight; World Record Holder in Lineup.

The Wallingford Star Girls come to Manchester tonight to oppose the Charter Oak Girls in a State League match at the Charter Oak alleys at 8:30 o'clock. This is a return match, the visitors having taken two out of three games from the locals in the first encounter. The Charter Oaks, however, are confident of turning the tables tonight and hope to sweep all three games and thereby improve their standing in the League.

The local team has won 41 games and lost 19 and is right behind the leaders, the West Ends are Leavitt Girls, both of Bridgeport, who are tied for first place. The Wallingford star team includes Miss Eris Bandedchi, who recently rolled the amazing single string of 196 to establish a new world record. She is also holder of the New England 3-string record of 403.

WOMEN'S DOUBLES OF HAND BALL TOURNEY

New York, April 12.—(AP)—Quarter final matches in both singles and doubles were on the schedule today in the national four-wall handball championships today after a day of doubles play which reduced the number of teams, five from New York.

The singles pairings set Sam Atcheson of Memphis, the defending champion, against Jack Seneca of St. Louis; Angelo Trullo of New York, second champion, against Charles Mentz of Cleveland; George Nelson of Baltimore, and John Endzevick, co-holder with Goudreau of the doubles title, against John Walsh of New York.

With the five New York teams in the doubles are the defending champions, Goudreau and Endzevick; Anthony Caballera and Joe Rutzky of Boston and Jack Seneca and Mike Cunningham of St. Louis.

BASEBALL BRIEFS

WHITE SOX

Tulsa, Okla., April 12.—(AP)—Mule Haas, slick outfielder who has been doctored up for a month, was back with the White Sox today, eager to get back into the lineup. With Haas' arrival, Pitcher Ed Durham was sent to Chicago to a search for a pitcher who would be a great major league prospect, may be one of the first to be dropped, but Charlie isn't sure of his talent.

CUBS

Chicago—Manager Charlie Grimm of the Cubs is going to take his time in releasing rookie hopefuls. Dick Ward, who everyone thought would be a great major league pitching prospect, may be one of the first to be dropped, but Charlie isn't sure of his talent.

PIRATES

Tulsa, Okla.—There are no celebrations in the Pirate camp over the brand of pitching turned in by the mound department this spring. In fact it's been about the worst spring for pitching that the Pittsburghers have ever known.

DOGGERS

Washington—With the departure of Marty McManus, young John McCarthy, the sensational rookie first baseman, seems pretty sure of a job with the Brooklyn Dodgers. Brooklyn still has seven infielders on the roster but Manager Casey Stengel remarked: "I'll certainly keep McCarthy until we run up against the player-union reduction on May 15. And maybe I'll keep him after that, too."

INDIANS

Charlotte, N. C.—Confidence in their batting ability is the principal result of the Cleveland Indians' seven victories out of 10 in the 14-game barnstorming series with the World Champion New York Giants. The Indians are telling themselves that if they can beat the offerings of Hubbell, Schumacher, Parmelee and Fitzsimmons, they have little to fear from American League hurlers in the coming season.

REDS

Chattanooga, Tenn.—Tony Piet, infielder for the Cincinnati Reds, is recovering today from an attack of influenza.

Piet was unable to play in yesterday's game, when the Reds trimmed the Atlanta Crackers, 11 to 8. Trainer Rhode said, however, he hopes to have him in condition for tomorrow.

KATHERINE RAWLS SETS WORLD AQUATIC RECORD

15 Year Old Miss Swims to New Mark in 300 Yard Individual Medley in National Indoor Meet; Lenore Kight Upset in the Dash.

Chicago, April 12.—(AP)—Katherine Rawls, a boyish looking mite of a girl, tucked one world record away and went looking for more swimming glory today as the tussle for the women's National A. A. U. indoor championship swam at the Lake Shore Athletic club.

Picking up where she left-off with her dazzling campaign a year ago the 15-year-old Miami Beach, Fla., high school girl made her first start in championship competition for 1934 last night and came up with a title and a new world mark in the 300-yard individual medley. Making a show of her field, "Katie" swam the distance in 4 minutes, 12.3 seconds, bettering her old mark of 4:14.8 by 2.8 seconds.

In an official test, Jack Medina, 19-year-old University of Washington sophomore, bettered the mark in the 400 meters, established in 1932 by Jean Tavis of Reims, France, finishing in the official time of 4:43.2 as compared with the Frenchman's record of 4:47.

One upset was scored in the women's title tussle last night as Olive McKean, Washington A. C. defeated Lenore Kight in the 100-yard free style.

FENCING TITLE GOES TO GERMAN GIRL ACE

New York, April 12.—(AP)—Helen Mayer, a student at the New York Olympic women's fencing title for Germany in 1928 and the national outdoor championship last summer, is the new women's national indoor fencing champion.

The German girl, a student at Scripps college, Claremont, Calif., captured the title last night by defeating Dorothy Locke of New York, champion for the last two years, in a fence-off. Miss Mayer lost only one of 11 bouts and was touched only 12 times but in the final round-robin she lost to Marion Lloyd in an upset and had to defeat Miss Locke a second time to clinch the crown.

Miss Locke took second place and Mrs. Joan Detenusa of Detroit, third.

BASEBALL BRIEFS

CARDINALS-BROWNS

St. Louis—Daisy Dean and Buck Newsum will oppose each other here today as the two St. Louis major league clubs, the Cardinals and the Browns, meet for the second game in a "city championship" series.

With the announcement of the batteries Frank Frisch, Cardinal manager, indicated he was grooming Dean to open the National League season for the Cards next Tuesday. Manager Rogers Hornsby said either Irving Hadley or George Blasholder would open the season for the Browns.

YANKIES

Knoxville, Tenn.—Don Heffner, the New York Yankee's brilliant second base coach, appears to be the second best of the club's mascot as well. With Heffner on the job the Yankees won seven straight games. When he dropped out for a rest they lost three straight, then won the last two since he returned.

GIANTS

Charlotte, N. C.—Stoney Ryan, sparkplug of the 1933 New York Giants, has it all figured out for this year's club is 80 per cent better. Watkins improves the attack 15 per cent, but, although the defense lost three per cent with the going of George Davis, Travis Jackson's comeback is good for a ten per cent gain with Biondy as a substitute; heavier hitting because of the liveball ball adds six per cent and the general development of a young team provides the necessary two per cent to make up 80.

PHILLIES

Philadelphia—The Phillies put one over on the Penn Athletic club today. Invited to luncheon, they called a two-hour workout first to be sure of food appetites.

ATHLETICS

Baltimore—The Philadelphia Athletics play the Baltimore Orioles today minus the services of Pinky Higgins. The American League's third baseman is out with a badly swollen hand because of falling on it in a dive for a ball. His place probably will be filled by Rabbit Warstler or Johnny Wingfield.

TIGERS

Chattanooga, Tenn.—The Detroit Tigers and Cincinnati's Reds met today in the first of a four game series they will take part in while enroute north for the opening of the major league season. Yesterday the Tigers piled up a score of 18 to 4 against the Birmingham Barons of the Southern Association.

TWELVE EXPERTS PICK EIGHT ENTRIES AS DERBY WINNERS

Those 'B' Horses Threaten To Run Bradley String to Five Kentucky Derby Wins

By C. ROBERT KAY

Louisville, Ky., April 12.—(AP)—Col. E. R. Bradley has taken $215,800 and four gold trophies out of the Kentucky Derby pot. Will he be in on the pay-off this year?

With four nominees—Bazaar, Boy Valet, Blue Agate and Baker's Dose—training nicely, he is conceded an excellent chance to place a horse at least fourth in the 1934 derby, which would net him $1,000.

Bradley won the 1921 derby with Behave Yourself, the 1926 event with Bubbling Over, and his Burgo King and Broker's Tip were victorious in 1932 and 1933. In addition, three of his horses have run second in the derby, one has come in third, and one has taken fourth place.

Passed $3,000,000 Mark In 1933. It will be many years before this record is matched, and when the success of his green and white silks in other rich events is considered, the genial blue grass turfman and philanthropist has a firm claim on the title of "America's premier turfman."

Bradley, a native Pennsylvanian, went away as a youth, laid the foundation of his fortune, returned to Chicago several years later and increased his wealth, and entered racing in the '90s.

His stable, known as the "Lucky B" stable because of his habit of giving his horses names beginning with the letter B, won small annual amounts until 1910, when its earnings began increasing rapidly and passed the $2,000,000 mark in 1932. High Cost Of Thoroughbred Racing. The colonial says his habit of breeding operations cause him a net loss of $30,000 annually, because of the maintenance expense of his magnificent Idle Hour farm near Lexington. His philanthropies have been legion. Donations to orphanages are his principal contributions to charity, and he has presented several charity race meetings at his Idle Hour farm. But the public never hears of many of his gifts to worthy causes and of his "loans" to stranded turfmen.

He is unquestionably the champion Kentucky Derby winner, as the following recapitulation of his record in that event will show:

Year	Entry	Place	Prize
1921	Behave Yourself	1st	$38,450
1921	Black Servant	2nd	10,000
1922	Bat Mole	2nd	6,000
1924	Beau Butler	3rd	3,000
1926	Bubbling Over	1st	50,775
1926	Baggenbaggage	2nd	6,000
1929	Blue Larkspur	4th	1,000
1932	Burgo King	1st	52,850
1933	Broker's Tip	1st	48,925

Total Kentucky Derby stakes winnings $215,800. The real "class" of this year's Bradley derby quartet, so far as breeding is concerned, is Blue Agate, a colt by Black Servant, sired by Black Servant, and sired by Black Servant, and therefore a full brother to Blue Larkspur, which placed fourth in the 1929 Derby but which proved to be Bradley's best money-winner, acquiring $373,000.

His stable, known as the "Lucky B" stable because of his habit of giving his horses names beginning with the letter B, won small annual amounts until 1910, when its earnings began increasing rapidly and passed the $2,000,000 mark in 1932. Smith and Brown were making their first trip across the ocean. Smith soon found his sea-legs, but Brown was less fortunate, and was forced to return to his cabin. After awhile Smith came in, clearly greatly excited.

Smith—Come on there's something I want to show you!
Brown (groaning)—What—what is it?

Smith—It's a most wonderful sailing ship.
Brown—I don't want to see a ship. Call me when you see a tree.
