blue skies to the episcopal residence where they joined the bishops. Procession Starts The priests then led the procession into the Cathedral followed by the monsignors and the bishops. The processions of the bishops was headed by Auxiliary Bishop-Elect Donahue, most recently appointed bishop in the east. The Most Rev. Maurice F. McAuliffe, coadjutor bishop in the east, was the celebrant of the mass. Among those in the Cathedral were William Cardinal O'Connell, archbishop of Boston, who was met at the city line this morning upon his arrival by a detail of motorcycle policemen and escorted directly to the episcopal residence. Governor Cross headed the state representatives. In his eulogy, Archbishop Murray told of Bishop Nilan's childhood, spoke about the bishop's efforts in the church and educational, said and praised his leadership. The eulogy in part follows: "Carefully study to present thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, rightly handling the word of truth." "Your Eminence, Your Excellency, Right Reverend, Very Reverend and Reverend Fathers, Dear Sisters, Beloved in Christ: 'The test which have just quoted from the Second Epistle of St. Paul to Timothy, Chapter Second, verse fifteenth, is chosen not as a theme for an eulogy but rather as the motto of the noble Prelate whose remains lie before the high altar of this Cathedral in which he was consecrated a bishop 24 years ago this month. Each incident in his life, each decision he made from childhood to death, each searching of his own heart to weigh the value of men and things in this world, each scrutiny of conscience, each motive for his every action seemed to have been subjected by him to the test which was given by the Apostle of the Gentiles to his beloved Disciple: 'Carefully study to present thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, rightly handling the word of truth.' His Early Years spent on the shores of the majestic Atlantic where the Merrimack brings down thousands of rivulets from the snow-capped mountains to the sea, he learned the story of a Divine Providence sung by the ceaseless waves of the infinite ocean as he nestled in the lap of a God-fearing mother who looked upon him as a child of promise. The associations of his parish church made him conscious of the grandeur of the divine priesthood. When the time came for him to begin his collegiate studies, he went out from his own country to the distant province of Quebec where the traditions of a missionary race and a language rich in the literature of the church opened his mind and heart to the appreciation of the Universal apostolate to which he was called and fitted him to discharge the apostolate with greater distinction to himself and increased usefulness to the church. His First Field "Our young Levite was assigned to his first field in the vineyard of Christ fifty-five years ago last December. It was his good fortune to be associated with a man of God whose ideals and methods he always admired and emulated in his own pastoral responsibilities. During these first years in the priesthood he was put in charge of an institution in which he gained experience not with the chosen souls of the fold but with the stray sheep who needed all the tact, patience and mercy of the Good Shepherd to be won back to the sweet yoke of the Master. "From the quiet and study of pastoral life in a small town came the call to accompany his pastor to the work in the old parish of St. James in the heart of Cosmopolitan Boston. This field of activity which had already trained two members of the hierarchy of New England for the larger responsibilities to the pastoral office furnished abundant opportunity to study the various ways of life in the great city, struggling with the heaving problems of the day by a multitude of immigrants and preserve the integrity of the organizations in the old and live of an ever changing population. "Under way in the Cathedral, the procession of clergy in full vestments formed. The priests and monsignors vested in a building across the street from the Cathedral and then marched under the beautiful

TRADE SCHOOL OPEN NIGHT TO BE MAY 3

All Departments to Display Specimens— Art Class to Exhibit.

By THOMAS J. CHARA Trade School Correspondent

The annual Open Night will be held at the Trade School Thursday evening, May 3. Departments exhibiting finished work will be open from 7 to 9 o'clock to parents and the general public who are cordially invited to attend.

The Trade school orchestra, under the direction of William J. Hanna, will give a concert in the assembly hall.

Aaron Cook, mayor of Manchester, will be the guest speaker at the Trade school assembly, Thursday, April 26.

Members of the Manchester Trade School Student Activities Association presented their third monthly assembly program to the student body of the Trade school Friday afternoon.

The program opened with a few remarks from Director J. G. Echnalian who was immediately followed by Walter E. Schober, coach of last season's basketball team.

Basketball letters were presented by the coach to the following: Bill Keish, captain; Edie Raguskus, Charles Novack, Emory Phelps, Otto Cook, Joseph Olander, Stanley Gill, Alton Cowles, Alexander Misaliko and Manager "Andy" Raguskus.

Raymond Skopek and Alexander Misaliko, students at the Trade school, were the guest speakers.

Skopek's talk on "Economics" revealed very interesting facts concerning the economic revolution we are passing through at the present time.

Misaliko, diminutive basketballer, spoke briefly on "Basketball." His talk dealt with big league baseball and predicted the outstanding contenders for the National and American League pennants.

Dante Saccoccio, silver-tongued tenor, favored the assembly with a solo and was later accompanied by Miss Josephine Fiescek in a duet, "Wagon Wheels."

After a number of popular accordion selections by M. S. Saverick, a new musical "find" at the Trade school, the program was brought to a close.

GILEAD

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Way and their children, Ruth and John, and Mr. and Mrs. Morgan Steadman and their children of Hartford, were at the Wells-Way Homestead during the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Pearl F. Young of New York city passed the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Asa W. Ellis.

Mr. Nobles of Hartford was at his bungalow here Sunday. The back roads are still bad and Mr. Nobles found motoring rather difficult.

G. K. White, with his horse, assisted him through the mud.

A fire was discovered in Winthrop Porter's chicken coop Sunday caused from an oil stove. Two hundred baby chicks were destroyed, and considerable damage done to the building.

He had one thousand rider chicks in another section of the building but they were saved.

Representative A. W. Ellis recently purchased a Plymouth sedan.

Mrs. C. J. Fogil slipped on a polished floor in a beauty parlor in Willimantic Friday and injured one foot quite seriously.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Fogil of Manchester and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Porter and their son of Mansfield, were visitors Sunday at Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Fogil's.

Charles Fish has sold his pheasants except the ones he is keeping for breeding purposes. They are laying now.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Fogil and their daughter, Patricia, spent the week-end with Mrs. Fogil's parents in Wallingford.

Miss Doris Hutchinson of Manchester and Mrs. Lovina Hutchinson were dinner guests Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Jones.

Local young folks, appointed to attend an older boys and girls conference to be held in Somers Friday and Saturday, are Edward A. Fouts, Andrew Hooker, Barbara Fish and Hazel Porter.

Miss Callow of Boston, Mass., is here directing a musical comedy, "Listen to Me" to be presented next week, under the auspices of the Ladies Aid society.

AMUSEMENTS

ROMANCE IN HOSPITAL

"Registered Nurse" Coming to the State Theater Tomorrow Features Bebe Daniels and Lyle Talbot.

"Registered Nurse," the first National picture which comes to the State theater tomorrow is said to be a romantic drama of hospital life with an entirely new twist.

Based on the story by Florence Johns and Wilton Lasky, Jr., it deals with the love life of the nurse and doctors in a great metropolitan hospital rather than with the more somber or technical side of such an institution.

Only two patients come prominently into the picture and they supply the laughable incidents in a story that leans more to thrilling melodrama than to comedy.

One of these is a promoter of wrestling bouts and the other the keeper of a disorderly place, each of whom is taken to the hospital against his will after having been battered up in a free for all fight.

Bebe Daniels enacts the featured role, that of a beautiful woman who turns to nursing after her marital life has proven a failure.

The romance of the picture centers about this nurse, for while other nurses have love affairs, Bebe is the one over whom the two leading surgeons of the institution become rivals.

Lyle Talbot and John Halliday are the two surgeons, Talbot the unscrupulous doctor to whom love is a thing of passing moment, while Halliday has a sincere affection for his nurse.

Irene Franklin, recently in pictures, but long famous on the stage, has the part of the "Madame" who does not hesitate to break the legs of her visitors when they get obstreperous while Sidney Toler is the wrestling promoter upon whom she wreaks her wrath.

Gordon Westcott has the role of Bebe's irresponsible husband who wrecks her life and later atones for it by taking his own.

Other nurses whose lives and loves are more or less intertwined with that of the chief character include Mirna Combell, Beulah Bondi, Mayo Methot, Renee Whitney and Virginia Sale.

Other players include Philip Reed, Ronnie Cosby, Ed. Gargan, Gordon Elliott and George Humbert.

There are many stirring incidents with snappy dialogue by Lillie Hayward and Peter Milne, authors of the screen play. Robert Florey directed.

IMPROVED TELETYPE MACHINE INSTALLED

New York, Boston, All State Police Barracks and Local Stations Hooked Up.

The teletype machine at the Manchester police station was put into operation last evening. There is a much different method in operating the machine now than formerly.

A dial system is used and to connect with a station wanted the operator dials "operator" and is connected. A white light shows that the line is busy and the only writing done is to and from the point to which the message is being sent.

By the retooling of the machine in the Manchester station a much wider use can be had, as on April 1 a connection was made with all of the state police barracks and in most of the police departments of the state.

There is also an arrangement where messages can be sent into four other states, Boston and New York are the largest cities connected. A general broadcast can be made or transmitted without other stations taking it up. It saves paper and gives to each department the important police news intended to be broadcast.

NORMA TALMADGE

MUM ON ROMANCE

Says She Knows Nothing About Report She Is to Wed Again.

New York, April 17.—(AP)—Norma Talmadge arrived in New York on the 20th Century Limited today and tossed a batch of negatives to interviewers.

She "just didn't know anything." When she alighted from the train she went into a clineh with Sam Bennett, secretary to George Jessel, comedian who has been her long-time friend.

Jessel, who is not known as an early riser, was not at the station to meet Miss Talmadge.

After extricating herself from Bennett's embrace, she was clutched by Miss Betty de Pasque who described herself as a "show girl" and close friend of Miss Talmadge.

Miss Talmadge was granted a mutual consent divorce from Joseph Schenck, producer, in Juarez, Mexico, last Saturday. Was she going to marry Jessel?

"I haven't the least idea," she replied. What was her purpose in coming to New York?

"You'll have to ask Mr. Schenck," she said. All this was done on the run, as Miss Talmadge, Bennett and Miss de Pasque strode swiftly up the platform.

"I don't know anything. I haven't anything to say," Miss Talmadge repeated. She perhaps would not object to having her picture taken, just once?

Miss Talmadge shook her head, then changed her mind after Bennett muttered something to her. So she posed for a photograph.

She was asked if she was going to see Jessel.

"I haven't made any appointment with him," she answered. "Where are you going now?"

Miss Talmadge said she was going to the Lombardy hotel. Which is where Jessel is staying.

HEBRON

The young people of the Hebron Green Congregational church and several of their friends will repeat the minstrel show given at Hebron recently by them. The show will be put on next Friday evening at 8 o'clock over hall, receipts, as before, for the Congregational Sunday school expenses.

A family card party was given Saturday evening at the residence of H. Clinton Porter, in observance of his birthday anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Pratt of Bridgeport are spending a week here, the guests of relatives. Mrs. Pratt was the former Miss Clara Porter, daughter of the late Horace F. Porter of this place.

Local singers attended the first of a series of rehearsals for a choral union concert, under the direction of the Rev. Elmer Thielen, pastor of the Marlborough Congregational church, held at Marlborough, Sunday at 3 p. m.

The six towns of the Tri-County Union Christian Endeavor will be represented in the choral union. All singers from these towns who wish to join the concert are asked to do so, regardless of membership in the C. E. society.

It is a good opportunity to secure valuable voice training free of charge. The property at Amston, the old P. W. Turner silk mill plant, purchased recently by David Hayes of West Hartford, is being put into shape for business in the near future.

A spur track is being built to connect with the railroad, for the shipping and receiving of goods and material. Some local men are being employed in the work. The new owner will operate a brewery.

Between 20 and 25 young people, friends of Charlie Bednar, were present at a surprise party given Saturday evening in observance of his 20th birthday. The party was held at the home of the young man's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Bednar, owners and occupants of the place known as the Bill farm, on the old Colchester road.

The young folks spent the time in playing games, dancing and music. Refreshments provided by the guests were served, and all had a delightful time.

Miss Marjorie Martin was a week end visitor at her Hebron home, returning Monday morning to her duties as librarian at the Dalton, Mass., public library.

Week-end visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Stanek were sister-in-law Mrs. Michael Stanek, her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Boggett, and another daughter, all of Hillside, N. J.

There has been something of an epidemic lately among children of school age hereabouts. The disease frequently attacks several children in a family, the symptoms being a sort of general indigestion. Victims of the complaint recover after a few days or a week or more of illness.

The latest case to be reported is Mrs. T. D. Martin's grandchild, Kathleen, who is sick in bed. The cause of the disease is not known. Nearly every child on or near the Green has been affected.

Local school teachers attended an open meeting of the Hebron-Colchester-Marlborough club, held in Day Hall, Colchester, Tuesday evening.

Former Supervisor Herschel Libby, of the Hebron and Colchester schools, was present and spoke on "The Equalization of Educational Opportunities."

WINDSOR LOCKS PRIEST

IS HOST TO CARDINAL

Boston Prelate Overnight Guest of Rev. John Conlon, Pastor of St. Mary's Church.

Windsor Locks, April 17.—His Eminence William Cardinal O'Connell, archbishop of Boston and dean of the American hierarchy, who was present this morning with over 30 bishops of the Catholic church at the funeral of the Most Reverend John J. Nilan, seventh bishop of the Catholic diocese of Hartford, was the guest of Rev. John Conlon, pastor of St. Mary's Catholic church in Windsor Locks last evening.

Rev. Father Conlon considered it a great honor to have his close friend, Cardinal O'Connell, as his guest.

Cardinal O'Connell is widely known throughout Connecticut and officiated at the consecration of Bishop Nilan in Hartford in 1910.

EX-U. S. SENATOR DIES

Boscobel, Wis., April 17.—(AP)—Pneumonia caused the death last night of former United States Senator John J. Blaine, 58, who was three times governor of Wisconsin, and a member of the R.F.C. board. Funeral services were tentatively set for Thursday.

Blaine was one of the outstanding political figures of the state for more than a quarter century. He was one of the "Old Guard" in the Progressive Republican faction headed by the late Senator Robert M. LaFollette, Sr.

Survivors include his widow and a daughter, Mrs. Don Farris of Madison.

TALKING BOOKS

BOON TO BLIND

Priced at $1,200 Each, But Mass Production May Lower Cost.

Chicago, April 17.—(AP)—"Talking short stories," for the blind were demonstrated today.

Miss Anna Caldwell of the American Foundation for the Blind said the foundation has recorded half a dozen stories, among them De Maupassant's, "Happiness." A dozen or so full length books may be ready by midsummer, she said.

They are a set of thin records, finely grooved. Two sides will carry a full-length short story, or two or three chapters of a novel.

The first books will be selected by the Library of Congress, and be available free to blind readers. The Foundation officials have suggested fairly light and entertaining books.

E. M. Peterson of the Chicago Public Library said the talking books may make it possible for the blind to have libraries, if mass production would sufficiently lower cost. At present they cost around $1,200 each. Books printed in Braille or other dot systems have cost from $12.50 to $30 a volume.

ADVERTISING INCREASE

SHOWS BUSINESS UPTURN

Newspaper Circulation Figures Throughout Country Also Reveal Gains—Employment Improving.

New York, April 17.—(AP)—The increases in newspaper circulation and advertising over the country in the last few months tell a story of business upturn.

These figures, one index to trade conditions, show that in the wake of increased employment, trade is on the increase.

A general survey shows that newspapers have an all time high in circulation and that circulation is now about ten per cent higher than at this time last year, according to S. P. Weston, newspaper analyst.

Retail advertising lineage, another business barometer, also shows gains over last year. Statistics of Media Records, Inc., reveal that that newspaper (radio) advertising gained 37.8 per cent in March over the same month last year.

INSULL STEAMER NOW OFF SICILY

Former Utilities Magnate Closely Guarded on Month Long Trip to U. S.

S. S. Exilona, Catania, Sicily, April 17.—(AP)—This was Burton Y. Berry's busy day in his job of guarding Samuel Insull.

While the Exilona put in to Catania to take on freight, Berry, Istanbul American Embassy official, stalked Insull everywhere in the fear he might attempt to leave the ship.

The chase of the grinning old captive led from deck to saloon to cabin to deck—and back again.

The Exilona, bearing Insull back to the United States for trial, reached Catania at 7:30 o'clock this morning, traveling at reduced speed to avoid arriving before daybreak.

The captain said that, as a precautionary measure, the Exilona would not put into port at night at any stop during the month-long journey.

The fact he was not allowed to go ashore did not prevent Insull's sending in a big bag of mail. He had been toiling over it since the departure from Smyrna, Turkey.

Apparently the former Chicagoan wanted to get the letters aboard the Rex, sailing from Genoa, Italy, April 19, so that they reach New York well ahead of their author.

The former Chicago utilities financier will have his name on the declared passenger list given to port authorities at all stops, but he will be guarded closely by Berry and held aboard ship throughout.

With the Exilona tied up at the waterfront, Insull would have had merely to walk down to companionway and he would have been in Italian territory.

Although he remained away until well after midnight talking with other passengers, Insull was up early today—in time to see the ship's deck.

Passengers who went ashore to spend the day promised to bring him magazines and other simple requirements for which the 74-year-old passenger had expressed a desire.

The captain said the Exilona would finish loading in time to sail with the expectation of making Marseilles early tomorrow morning.

HOLD TWO RUNAWAYS

New York, April 17.—(AP)—Two Bridgeport, Conn., boys who thumbed their way to New York to see the opening game of the National League season found themselves in the Bronx Children's Society shelter today while word was awaited from their parents.

Samuel Mikulancz, 14, (of 422 Spruce street) and Michael Kapa, 15, (of 48 Spruce street), wanted to be on hand in plenty of time for the opener; so they left Bridgeport as soon as school was out yesterday.

By thumbing rides from motorists they had reached the Bronx before midnight. There a patrolman who heard their story decided it best to inform the parents.

Queer Twists In Day's News

Chicago — When eight-year-old Warren Dawes got up Monday morning he was ambitious to become a taxicab driver, but when he went to bed he had changed his mind. Here's why:

A taxi driver left his machine standing, with the engine running, Warren climbed in and began pulling gadgets to see what would happen. Almost everything did. Traffic was demoralized by the sight.

The boy driver forced to the curb a car in which Joseph Brady and family were riding. Then he tangled fenders with another car, killing his engine. Dazed and out he he finally rescued.

Joliet, Ill.—A curfew order for the canaries in the state penitentiary has been issued by the warden.

It means covers will have to be placed on the canary cages at 9 p. m.

Some of the convicts complained that the singing of the canaries kept them awake.

Philadelphia—Miss Mary Curran, regional director of the public works project, decided to paint a picture herself in addition to supervising the work of 100 Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Delaware artists and sculptors.

She painted a group of grazes and sent it to Jefferson hospital in response to a request—then discovered the picture was intended for the bronchial clinic. A frantic call got the picture back before the doctors saw it.

Belleville, Ill.—An 80-year-old "penitent" former coal miner, John Tobin, left $11,700 in cash and Liberty bonds, Mrs. Fred H. Brewer, his landlady for 23 years, found.

Several weeks ago Tobin told Mrs. Brewer he could no longer pay for his board and room. For years her husband had given Tobin old clothes, tobacco and pipes.

The aged man died Sunday night. Hidden in the lining of an old suitcase belonging to him, Mrs. Brewer found $11,700 in Liberty bonds. In a closet she found $1,700 in cash.

White Plains, N. Y.—Dr. George G. Starke, had a patient in the chair and at the same time a twinging ache in one of his teeth. Finding the pain intolerable, the doctor stepped into an adjoining room, injected an anesthetic into his gum and with a forceps extracted the offending tooth.

Macon, Ga.—Dr. Arthur J. Todd, dean of the Department of Sociology of Northwestern University, offers this solution of the country's problems:

"If women would eat four slices of white bread daily and wear cotton stockings, agriculture and industry would have no further problems of consequence."

Aboard S. S. Windsor Castle at Sea—the fanciest dresser on board is Prince George of England.

Homebound after a tour of Africa, he won first prize for the most original costume at the ship's fancy dress ball.

Kentville, N. S.—Fred Avery, 86, walked 14 miles from his home in Baxter's Harbor to appear before the magistrate. He was convicted of assault and given a suspended sentence. Then he turned around and walked home.

Avery was accused of pushing

"I SELL THEM GASOLINE BUT THEY SOLD ME Plymouth!" A CERTIFIED INTERVIEW WITH VERNON F. KRAUSE OF CHICAGO, ILL. "Talking with Drivers of 'All Three' Convinced me that Plymouth gives the Most for your Money" WHEN VERNON KRAUSE decided to buy a new car, he didn't have to take any time off to "look at All Three." He stayed right where he was... in his service station... and the cars came to him. "I just stayed right here," Krause says, "keeping my eyes open and listening to owners compare notes." Plymouth won their vote in the low-price field... hands down. But there wasn't just one reason. There were all kinds of reasons. Some of his customers said how pleased they were with Hydraulic Brakes. Others boasted of having Safety-Steel Bodies. Many of them mentioned the extra comfort they got from Floating Power engine mountings and Individual Wheel Springing. "It all added up to the fact that Plymouth gave the most for the money," says Krause. "The most that you want in a new car? Then Plymouth is the car for you. It's the only low-priced car with all four of the vital features you need. Any Dodge, De Soto or Chrysler dealer demonstrates Plymouth." 3. "I liked Plymouth's looks. All Teams Are Optimistic as Baseball Season Opens

M. H. S. NINE OPENS SEASON AT ROCKVILLE ON APRIL 30

SCHEDULE SHIFTED TO ALLOW TUNE-UP BEFORE LOOP TILT

Many Berths Still Open as Coach Kelley Reads Team for First Game; Four Seem Certain as Regulars.

Manchester High will open its baseball season against Rockville High in the Windy City on Monday, April 30, it was announced today by Coach Thomas F. Kelley, the game originally scheduled with Meriden High for April 27 having been moved to June 8 because of the Red and White's disinclination to face a C. C. I. L. opponent in the opener.

Two days later, Manchester will open its League slate at Middletown, on Wednesday, May 2, and the following Monday, May 7, will play its first home game against the local State Trade school at Mount Nebo field.

Kelley has no predictions to announce on the season's prospects, due to the lack of players experienced in competition. A number of positions still remain open, with two or more candidates seeking each berth.

Captain Charles "Chucky" Smith is a certainty at his favorite position, second and Earle Judd seems to have earned the shortstop post. Hutchinson and Richard Cobb are in a close battle for the position at third.

Daily practice sessions were resumed today, after rain washed out practice yesterday. Coach Kelley expects to engage his charges in a tune-up game against a picked nine from the West Side tomorrow on Thursday in an effort to discover how his charges will fare in actual competition.

Reports from the other five schools in the League would indicate that no team can boast all-around strength. Bristol, defending champ, has a strong outfield; Meriden, the most promising contender, has a strong battery; West Hartford has a good infield; East Hartford has a veteran aggregation.

RAIN HALTS NET PLAY
White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., April 17.—(AP)—The tennis world, especially that part of it interested in America's chances of regaining the Davis Cup, will keep close watch on proceedings in the 14th annual Mason and Dixon tennis week.

New Rules Make Duffer's Golf Easier This Season

The 1984 rules of golf still bear marked resemblance to those of last year. Yet the U. S. Golf Association has prepared 23 typewritten sheets listing upwards of one hundred definitions and regulations rephrased, simplified, rearranged as to order and, in a few instances, altered as to meaning.

Ah, the water hazard! Many's the time, perhaps, that you've teed up your ball at the water hole and arched it right into the drink. The old rule forced you to accept a stroke penalty and to drop the ball, although you were given leeway clear back to the tee. Subdivision 1 of Rule 27 now entitles you to return to the tee and retake the ball with a stroke penalty.

A putt out of turn SHALL be recalled, states Rule 31, instead of MAY be recalled, as in the old rule.

er for making two consecutive strokes with the wrong ball. Under the new rules, he incurs a penalty of two strokes and then must play his own ball.

FIELD OF 218 ENTERED FOR BOSTON MARATHON

List Includes Many Veterans of 26-Mile Grind, Also Five Former Winners; Race Slated for Thursday.

Boston, April 17.—(AP)—Marathoners, according to other runners, are a queer lot, but nevertheless there were 218 starters for the 38th running of the famous Boston A. A. classic Thursday enroute on the list before the arrival of today's mail.

And a great many of these 218 were veterans of this 26 miles, 385 yards uphill and down date grind from Hopkinton to Boston, including five former winners.

The Sub-Alpine Juniors are organizing a baseball team again this season and would like to hear from teams with players who average from 10 to 13 years of age.

COMING UP!

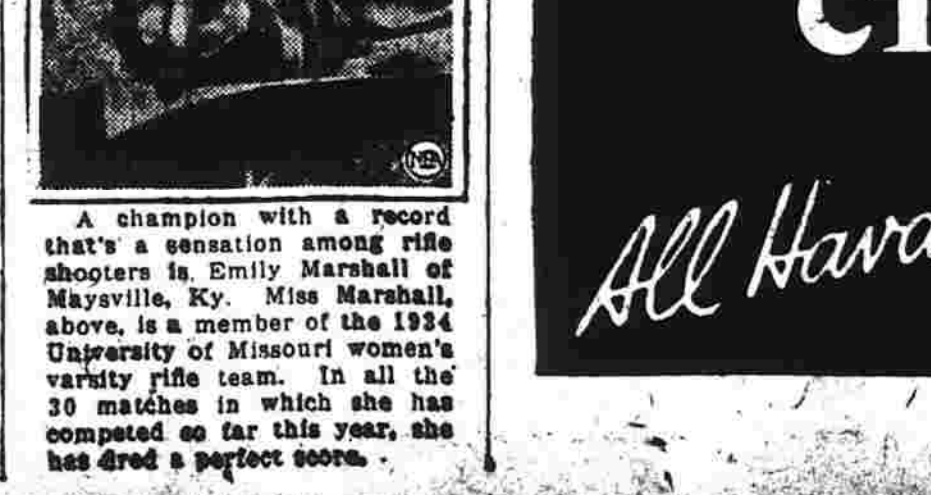

Babe Ruth Doesn't Think Baseball Days Are Over

me, I'll not only play in more than 100 games but I'll be in there next year too. Of course a lot depends on what Colonel Ruppert has to say, but if we both have a good year why there should not be any contract trouble."

The Babe not only anticipates a good season for himself, but for the Yankees as well. "We can't have any worse pitching than we had last year," he mumbled. "Gosh, the law of averages ought to favor us this season and our pitchers should do a whole lot better. If they do, and if Rolfe and Don Hefner are as good as they seem to be, we should breeze home easy winners."

CLOSE RACES EXPECTED IN BOTH MAJOR LEAGUES

At Least Five Clubs in Each Loop Figured as Contenders With Champs Favored to Repeat; 200,000 Fans to See First Games.

New York, April 17.—(AP)—For the 69th time the National League plunged into the opening of a new baseball season today and for the 59th time not one of the eight clubs would admit the possibility of finishing last.

Forecast of clearing skies in the east and fair weather in the midwest indicated all four opening games would be played with a turnout of some 100,000 baseball hungry fans who have spent a long, hard winter studying unprecedented number of playing shifts.

Expect Big Crowds Some 35,000 fans were expected at the Polo Grounds where the Giants opened their bid for another flag against the Yankees.

IN THE AMERICAN Chicago, April 17.—(AP)—The American League joined in the baseball's rousing opening chorus today, with no less than seven of the eight clubs harboring honest hopes of making pennant music next September.

Deprived by rain of opening the campaign under the presidential eye yesterday at Washington, Boston's new deal Red Sox, and the champion Senators were in Boston today to start even with the rest of the league.

Expert opinion figures Washington to land the title again, with the New York Yankees and perhaps the Boston Red Sox furnishing the foremost opposition. Cleveland, Detroit and Chicago rank as lively possibilities.

SENSE and NONSENSE

The merchant's biggest problem is to keep the stall out of installment.

While his mother was away on a visit, Junior's pretty nurse took him to see his two old aunts.
Aunt—And how do you like living alone with your daddy? Do you hug and kiss him?
Junior—Oh, yes. He hugged and kissed daddy last night.
Nurse (correcting)—That's wrong. You should say, "I hugged and kissed daddy last night."
Junior—That was Friday night, Nurse.

If there were more words of praise in the home, and less censure and criticism, there would be fewer cases for the divorce courts. How long has it been since you complimented your wife?

CHAMBER'S BOARD AGAINST U-TURNS

To Ask Selectmen to Take Action to Eliminate New Regulation.

The Board of Control of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday afternoon voted unanimous approval of the stand taken by the Merchants Division of the Chamber against the police regulation that prohibits U-turns on Main street.

The regulation against U-turns was adopted by local police to curb accidents on Main street, but merchants claim that the ruling is absolutely unnecessary and tends to increase rather than decrease mishaps.

EAST HARTFORD

MAN FINED $110

Alleged Hit-and-Run Driver Had Crashed Into Parked Car Before Arrest.

Anders H. Nyberg of 33 Garvan street, East Hartford, was arrested at 1 o'clock this morning soon after the police had been notified by telephone that a hit-and-run driver had crashed into a car owned by W. J. Eagleton, of 127 Cooper Hill street, which was parked in front of the Eagleton home.

Sergeant John McGinn was detailed to investigate the report as it came in. He drove down Center street heading for Cooper Hill street and at the corner of Cooper and then decided to proceed back to his starting place. The car, he said, was owned by J. H. Warren of Burnside and that he had been given permission to use the car.

Nyberg went on to tell how he had come to Manchester in company with J. H. Warren of Burnside, and had called on friends on Edgerton street, had taken the car to drive a girl to her work and was on his way back when he struck the other car. He said he stopped, tried to awaken the people in the house and then decided to proceed back to his starting place.

Nyberg was examined by Dr. LeVerne Holmes, declared under the influence of liquor and locked up. An effort to locate the rightful owner resulted in a visit to Edgerton street where Warren was found. At the police station he explained that the car had been loaned to him by Lamb and claimed that Nyberg had taken the car without his knowing about it.

Soon after the man was arrested Mr. Eagleton came to the police station and showed that part of his car had been broken off by the impact. He denied there had been a stop made after the crash.

Unable to get a bond, Nyberg was booked on the charge of operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor, evading responsibility and operating without a license.

ating a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor, evading responsibility and operating without a license. In Police Court today, Nyberg was fined $100 and costs after entering a plea of guilty to the charge of operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor. He also was fined $10 and costs for driving a car without the necessary license. Prosecutor William Shea found no evidence to support another charge of evading responsibility and, consequently, dropped this charge.
