DARROW SCORES RECOVERY PLAN IN HIS REPORT

Claims Codes Thus Far Examined Are Developing Monopolistic Trend and Hurting Small Tradesmen

New York, April 18.—(AP)—The Herald-Tribune's Washington correspondent says today that operation of the National Recovery Act under Hugh B. Johnson is criticized harshly in a preliminary report, completed for President Roosevelt by the advisory review board on NRA codes.

Clarence Darrow, noted criminal lawyer, heads the board.

"The report is drafted," the Herald-Tribune dispatch says, "sets forth that from the studies the members of the Darrow organization have made they are convinced that the codes thus far examined are developing a monopolistic trend and are doing injury to the small industrialist and business man."

Continue Hearings.

The preliminary findings are expected to be sent to the White House this week, the newspaper says. "The board is continuing its hearings with a view to taking up all codes about which complaints have been made by any appreciable number of small manufacturers and business men."

It is suggested that eventually there may be a report suggesting revision of the whole system under which codes have been prepared.

The newspaper says the first report is based on information obtained at public hearings on more than half a dozen codes, including those for the motor vehicle, bituminous coal, electrical, steel, cleaning and dyeing and ice industries.

MILITIA FOILS AN ATTEMPT TO LYNCH SLAYER

Mob of Nearly 3,000 Storm Jail, Smashes Windows—National Guard Called to Disperse Crowds.

Shreveport, La., April 18.—(AP)—Soldiers of Louisiana guarded a confessed girl slayer today from any attempted renewal of the mob violence that swirled for hours last night around—and even inside—Caddo Parish's million dollar Court House.

"The mob of nearly 3,000 was after Fred Lockhart, 38-year-old slayer of artificial buttermilk. Earlier in the night he had confessed to Sheriff T. R. Hughes it was he who attacked and killed 16-year-old Mae Griffin.

Stragglers from the mob milled about the jail early this morning and there were reports that many men from outside the parish were on their way to join them. Officers were confident, however, any further attack could be stopped by the two companies of National Guardsmen, hurriedly called to duty by Governor O. K. Allen.

Lured From Home

Sheriff Hughes said Lockhart confessed to luring the girl from the home of her widowed mother and slaying her. Small crowds and groups of men about the jail, enraged by the death of the girl, became unmanageable after the confession was made known.

Mobsman, cursing and shouting, took possession of the basement and first floor of the combination Court House-Jail, threw bricks, swung clubs and set fire to the National Guard from Shreveport began assembling shortly after midnight.

Under orders from Governor Allen, Colonel Hollingsworth Barrett, commanding Company E 156th Infantry of the National Guard, took command of the situation, releasing the slayer and taking her to the jail. Officers, city police and special deputies.

Use Tear Gas Bombs

One company came from Minden, La., and another from Ruston, were ordered to his assistance. Tear gas bombs were set off throughout the night to drive back the invaders in their mass assaults. The supply of bombs was replenished periodically.

Some mobsman outside the Court House, swirled about in disorder early in the night, they were

Massachusetts Trio Goes On Trial For Life

Accused of the machine gun murder of a policeman in a Needham (Mass.) bank holdup, the Millen brothers, Irving (left) and Murton, and their friend, Abe Fisher (in felt hat), are shown arriving at Dedham County Court under a heavy police escort for the opening of their trial. A plea to transfer the trial to United States District Court in Boston was denied.

TRAIL OF TODD MURDER LEADING TO NEW YORK

Norwalk Detective Leaves for Manhattan—Two Strangers Enter Into Case—Seen on Bell Island.

Norwalk, April 18.—(AP)—The Norwalk police added a little more mystery to the Arthur Todd case today by declining to comment on the activities of Lieutenant Martin Lengyel, head of the detectives, who after reporting to Chief Jerry Dorsey, left for New York, where he was yesterday.

Todd's body was found beside a retaining wall on the Long Island Sound shore of Bell Island Saturday afternoon and as yet there are no well defined clues to how he came to his death other than afforded by the medical examiner's report that he was drowned.

Lengyel is believed to have been in New York tracing Todd's movements there during Wednesday. Relatives here said Todd was in that city on business, that he returned Thursday with considerable money in his pockets, and it was his intention to have gone from New Haven Friday with his son, to Danbury and Redding. There was no money in Todd's pocketbook which was found not far from the body.

Son Notified Police

Todd's son, Kenneth Stanley Todd of New Haven, expected his father in New Haven Thursday night and his absence led the letter to ask state police at Westport Barracks to inquire on Bell Island about his father. In this way the body was found.

The funeral of Todd took place this afternoon at Georgetown in the town of Weston.

The inquiry here into Todd's death rested today awaiting a report of H. T. Leavenworth of Bridgeport, a state chemist, who was to analyze stomach contents, and for a report of experts on finger prints.

POLICEMAN BEATEN AS NEGROES RIOT

Over Twenty Injured When Officers Attempt to Disperse Crowd in Detroit.

Detroit, April 18.—(AP)—Six policemen were beaten and trampled this morning when they attempted to disperse a mob of negro men, women and children, estimated by police to number 500, that had gathered to protest the closing of the "University of Islam," a negro college.

Twenty persons, including Police Inspector William Rick, commander of the Central station, and five other policemen, were given first aid treatment at police headquarters. None was injured seriously.

The mob first gathered in Clinton street and, after fifteen minutes of fist fighting, was dispersed. A few Detectives John Mulligan was set upon in front of police headquarters. A riot squad of 50 policemen finally scattered the demonstrators by using their night sticks.

Some of the women in the crowd had babies in their arms. Others led small children by the hand.

Reason For Gathering

Apparently, the crowd had gathered to attend the arraignment in Recorder's Court of 14 instructors in the "University of Islam," who were arrested Monday night in a raid on the cult headquarters.

The fighting started, police said, when a large negro identified as one of the cult leaders shouted "Get the coppers."

Fights broke out among the demonstrators themselves, and as policemen attempted to restore order, the blue uniforms became the focal points of the rioting.

Point As Headline

A negro picked up a large pall of green paint standing on police headquarters lawn and drenched a traffic policeman with the contents.

Detective John Mulligan was set upon by half a dozen men and beaten and cut before he could be rescued.

Police expressed the belief that the negroes had mistaken the police headquarters for the Municipal Courts building and that the resulting confusion was a major factor in the outbreak of violence.

The cult, police believe, is a revival of another order which disbanded two years ago after a voodoo human sacrifice had been revealed.

The fourteen persons being arraigned today were described by police as instructors in the "University," and are charged with contributing to the rioting.

BUN BY "LUNATICS"

Philadelphia, April 18.—(AP)—The Sixtieth Congress of Protestant Episcopal leaders has the word of the Rev. Dr. S. D. McConnell of Philadelphia that the National program "was conceived in a lunatic asylum and is being administered by lunatics."

The NRA was the leading subject of discussion—and sharp criticism—at last night's opening session. An unofficial body of prominent laymen, bishops and ministers, the Congress continued for four days.

Attacks were made on the NRA on the grounds that it is too radical and that it is too conservative, but the Federal Administration's program had its defenders.

"Hot tamale stuff that impedes recovery," was the description of radical speeches voiced by Dr. Raymond Cunningham, of Hartford, Conn.

Complete abolition of the profit system was demanded by Dr. William B. Spofford, editor of "The Witness" and secretary of the Church League for Industrial Democracy.

The NRA has not solved the depression because it is controlled by big business solely for the purpose of preserving the capitalist order," Dr. Spofford said. "Minimum wages provided under the code are less than one-third of the scale previously set by governmental departments as necessary for a decent living."

Dr. Robert S. Chalmers, of Baltimore, agreed that "the profit system should be abolished," but said "Socialism is not the answer."

SILK MEN DISCUSS CHANGES IN CODES

Sixteen Amendments Given Public Hearing; Against Additional Machinery.

Washington, April 18.—(AP)—Sixteen amendments to the NRA code for the silk textile industry were given public hearings today.

The amendments, sponsored by the code authority, included changes in the authority membership, methods of assessing administrative costs, methods of gathering statistics and determining reasonable production costs, contract relations, reciprocal trade practices, machinery expansion, and definitions.

All of the suggested changes were explained and urged by members of the code authority.

John McKinley, of Phillipsburg, N. J., member of the code authority, explained the amendments which would prohibit the installation of operation of productive machinery not operated or in operating condition on March 1, 1934, except for the replacement by machinery of substantially the same capacity.

Economic Waste

He said the productive capacity of the industry now exceeded potential consumption and any additional machinery would constitute economic waste.

This amendment was not to apply so as to prevent the sale of existing machinery heretofore in operation by one owner to another.

David Cole, representing the Silk Manufacturers Association of Paterson, N. J., concurred in the above amendment, but took issue with the amendment defining productive machinery.

He said the definitions excluded wipers and winders working on commission and was harmful to that division of the industry. Cole also asked that the Master Weavers Association of Paterson be represented on the proposed expanded code authority.

Frommelt, representing the Master Weavers group, said his association included sixty manufacturers, employed five thousand workers, and produced 75 percent of the tie goods for the industry.

FIRST LADY ACTS AS SALES MANAGER

Shows Patrons of Her School Work Made in Her Hyde Park Factory.

New York, April 18.—(AP)—Hand-carved beds, tavern tables and mahogany chairs from the Val-Kill furniture factory at Hyde Park went on sale today under the personal supervision of the factory's founder, Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Two floors of her town house on Sixty-fourth street were given over to 100 early American furniture reproductions made by the Hyde Park village craftsmen on the Roosevelt's Dutchess county estate. Mrs. Roosevelt arrived in New York this morning. Ahead of her lay a day "cram-jammed," she said. In addition to receiving patrons for the furniture sale with Nancy Cook, her partner in the project, she planned to speak to several graduating classes at Miss Spence's school.

Tonight she planned to attend Jane Hoey's conference of welfare workers interested in New York's Puerto Rican colony, and then take a midnight train for Washington.

Carries Bouquet

Carrying a big bouquet of yellow orchids, she had just received, she greeted the first furniture sale visitors, and posed at photographers' request by a Swedish pine wood cupboard arrayed with pewter pieces.

Eight Hyde Park village boys are learning the craft of cabinet finishing in the factory, which she founded eight years ago as a community industry "to give worthwhile employment."

Skilled cabinet-makers fashion the pieces, which range from scroll mirrors to candle stands. High chests of drawers and tables of a dozen varieties. All the profits go back to the plant, for wages, instruction and to extend the enterprise.

Women As Weavers

Women of the village are taught weaving. Samples of their craft, including several woven coverlets, were among the sale pieces.

The latest piece is a child's doubleberth bed, made of maple, with a ladder that goes "upstairs."

"So far we have weathered the

FRANCE MAY QUIT ARMS CUT PARLEYS

Germany's Own Revelation That She Is Rearming Given as the Cause.

Paris, April 18.—(AP)—France threatens in a note to Great Britain to scrap all current disarmament negotiations unless she is given something equivalent to the military alliance in the Old Entente Cordiale, it was revealed today.

The threat is expressed in a memorandum drafted by Premier Gaston Doumergue and Foreign Minister Louis Barthou.

It supplements a previous note in which France expressed a desire for a new arms "limitation conference," on the thesis that present negotiations have failed.

The note frankly says it is "useless" to argue about conditions until the full truth of Chancellor Adolf Hitler's rearmament program in Germany is determined.

Germany's Revelations

Germany's "own revelations" of rearming, the note says, make it impossible to continue discussion of an arms convention based on the idea of German moderation in rearmament.

These revelations are Hitler's assertions and new German budget figures which the French think prove Germany is rearming far beyond general belief. It is added.

France's strong stand was taken

ROCKS HOLD FAST HUNGARIAN SHIP

Grounded Yesterday in the Sound at Block Island—Hull Is Badly Damaged.

New London, April 18.—(AP)—The Hungarian steamer Pusuta of Budapest was still held fast on rocks on the north side of Block Island today awaiting a decision as to whether she will be salvaged.

Representatives of a salvage company made an inspection which showed the plating in the hull badly damaged. Compartments were flooded and the boiler fires were out making pumping impossible.

Grounded Yesterday

The Pusuta grounded yesterday in a fog. She is damaged to such an extent that there was some question as to the practicability of salvage operations.

The Coast Guard reported the vessel did not have as much motion as yesterday and was in no immediate danger of breaking up. The 27 men in the crew were aboard and well.

Standing by the Pusuta, a former British tramp steamer, was the tug Alert of the Merritt Chapman and Scott Corporation and the Coast Guard patrol boat Frederick Lee from Boston and Coast Guard 171 and Coast Guard 186 from this port.

Picturesque Personalities Candidates at Primaries

By Associated Press

Picturesque personalities are seeking nomination both for Congress and state offices at primaries this year.

In Pennsylvania, which votes May 15, there are five candidates for the Republican nomination for U. S. Senator, including Senator David E. Reed and Governor Gifford Pinchot. Roland S. Morris, former ambassador to Japan and Joseph F. Guffey, oil magnate, are candidates for the Democratic nomination. There are 16 candidates for the Republican nomination for governor and five for the Democratic nomination, including George H. Earle, who resigned as minister to Austria to enter the campaign, and William M. McNair, the first Democratic mayor Pittsburgh has had in years.

In Alabama, which has a primary

May 1, former Senator Thomas J. Heflin is seeking a comeback by running for a Democratic nomination for the House.

Miss Maureen Orent, noted golfer, desires to become a New Jersey Legislator. Governor A. Harry Moore is to run for the United States Senate. Apparently he will receive the Democratic nomination without opposition. The primary is May 15.

In Massachusetts there is talk of Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., grandson and namesake of a famous Senator, being put up as a Republican candidate against Senator David I. Walsh, Democrat.

The state will have a primary April 24 to select unpledged delegates to state conventions which will recommend candidates for primaries in September. Governor Joseph B. Ely, Democrat, is running.

AIR TRANSPORT FIRMS SEEKING INJUNCTIONS

Claim Cancellation of Air Mail Contracts Caused Them Big Losses—Federal Attorney Answers.

Washington, April 18.—(AP)—Karl A. Crowley, solicitor of the Postoffice Department today characterized airmail suits against Postmaster General Farley as "a weak effort to evade the law which says that the United States government cannot be sued without its consent."

Four aviation companies whose airmail contracts were cancelled today asked the District of Columbia Supreme Court to enjoin James A. Farley from enforcing the cancellation order and to award them damages.

The exact amount of the damages sought was not specified. Attorneys said the companies had not yet been able to calculate their losses. The companies were Boeing Air Transport, Inc., National Air Transport, Inc., Pacific Air Transport and Varney Airlines.

The court gave Farley 20 days to show cause why the injunction should not be granted.

Other Actions Failed

Crowley pointed out that Transcontinental and Western Air's efforts to obtain a similar injunction failed in a New York Federal Court because it was directed against the government. The Federal Government cannot be sued without its own consent.

This is a suit against the United States Government," Crowley said, indicating he felt basically the suit was little different from that disposed of in New York.

Attorney General Cummings, he said, would direct the defense.

Meanwhile, Senate airmail investigators heard Mark L. Regua, California Republican National committee chairman, deny he had volunteered to sell Warner Postmaster General Walter F. Brown, "on the carpet" in 1931 in the interest of Century Air Lines. He likewise denied he had sought aid from the company from President Hoover.

Black's Charges

Chairman Black (D., Ala.) yesterday laid the committee's letters which said Regua, a close friend of Hoover, had volunteered his aid to the company in obtaining an opportunity to bid for an airmail contract.

Black today read into the record more communications between officials of the Century Air Line referring to Regua's friendship with former President Hoover and his purported disagreement with Brown's airmail policy in 1931.

Regua, in reply, said he did assure Young he would do his best to

PRESIDENT AGAINST BILL TO MAKE GOOD FOR CLOSED BANKS

DRUNKEN SAILORS AS A NAVY INSULT

Secretary Swanson Orders Removal of the Painting Made by a CWA Artist.

Washington, April 18.—(AP)—A painting depicting a group of drunken sailors ashore with a number of women, the work of a CWA artist, was ordered removed from the Navy Department today by Secretary Swanson.

"I simply didn't want it," Swanson said. "It was right artistic but was not true to the Navy."

The painting was done by Paul Cadmus and sent to the Navy by CWA. Assistant Secretary Henry L. Roosevelt personally supervised its removal. He had it sent to his home.

"It's out of sight and will continue to be out of sight," Roosevelt told reporters.

Swanson personally scrutinized the picture after Admiral Hugh Rodman, a retired officer, had written a lengthy letter protesting against it.

"It represents a most disgraceful, sordid, disreputable drunken brawl," Rodman said in his protest to the secretary, "wherein apparently a number of enlisted men are consorting with a party of street walkers and denizens of the red light district. This is an unwarranted insult to the enlisted personnel of our Navy x x x and evidently originated in the sordid depraved imagination of someone who has no conception of actual conditions in our service."

Cast Aside McLeod Measure—Also Wants Some Other Form of Legislation to Take the Place of the Wagner Labor Board.

Washington, April 18.—(AP)—President Roosevelt definitely cast aside today the McLeod Bill for payment of depositors in closed banks in shaping up the Administration's program for an early conclusion of congress.

He is confident of a satisfactory compromise on the tax revision bill and there are hints that the publicity of tax returns proposal approved by the Senate may be modified to allow for executive action.

Mr. Roosevelt wants some form of legislation to provide for labor mediation in place of the present Wagner Labor Board established by executive order.

A bill containing the general principles of the measure proposed by Senator Wagner (D., N. Y.), will be sought in a White House conference tomorrow.

This measure makes permanent the National Labor Board headed by Wagner and outlaws employer-dominated company unions.

The President is still standing for a Stock Exchange Control Bill "with teeth" but the fate of this legislation depends on more conclusive action by the two branches of Congress.

Message on Debts

It was reiterated today at the White House that the President will not issue a message on war debts, but there was still every expectation it would be more in the form of a report than a request for legislation.

The President is understood to regard it as impossible to do justice in any attempt to pay off depositors in closed banks such as proposed in the McLeod bill.

He has, however, directed the officers of the Reconstruction Corporation and the Treasury to seek a more liberal policy in making loans on assets in closed banks.

He feels this is the only sound and just solution of the problem.

Example Cited

It was pointed out at the White House that in the case of two banks which closed at the same time in the same town one might have been in a position to pay off its depositors at 60 cents on the dollar and close its books while the other, because of its assets, has still made no payment.

The latter bank, under terms of the McLeod (R., Mich.) bill, would pay off with government money at 100 cents a dollar, although it was in poorer shape than the bank which paid off at 60 cents on a dollar and whose depositors would not benefit from the proposed legislation.

Another thing Mr. Roosevelt is concerned about is how far back the government should go in making up losses in closed banks.

Just because the government tried to keep banks open the White House feels there is no moral obligation on its part to pay off depositors in those institutions which closed.

GOVERNMENT HELP TO BUILD HOMES

President to Propose New Plan to Help Individuals to Construct Residences.

Washington, April 18.—(AP)—President Roosevelt was expected in Congressional quarters today soon to recommend establishment of "Federal Mortgage Associations" to lend to individuals wanting to construct or modernize their homes.

Coincident with House approval of the agreement with the Senate on Federal guarantee of $2,000,000,000 of home loan bonds, Representative Smith (D., Wash.), told reporters details of the latest administration plan for stimulating employment through the market for building materials.

The Senate has yet to act before the home loan bond guarantee goes to the White House.

As reported by Smith, the new plan would allow construction loans up to 80 per cent of the value or the mortgaged property and run for 20 years at 5 per cent.

Home modernization loans would bear the same interest, be limited to $200 in minimum and $2,000 maximum, for repayment over 10 years on monthly or quarterly basis.

The plan embraces a "Federal Mutual Mortgage Insurance Corporation" to insure mortgages covering the property on which loans were made by the Federal associations.

The latter would have $5,000,000 Federal capital each, with power to issue bonds up to 15 times the capital, all bonds to be covered by the insurance corporation. The Home Loan Bank Board would charter the associations.

The Representative also said banking laws would be amended to permit construction loans by banks on projects eligible for coverage under the mortgage insurance corporation, and to permit Federal Reserve bank members to hold such mortgages up to 80 per cent of the appraised value of the mortgaged property.

Another amendment would remove the present Home Loan Bank restrictions on the amounts loaned by one institution and would permit the rediscounting of mortgages insured under the Mutual Insurance Corporation up to their full face value.

NATION'S PAYROLL IN SHARP UPTURN

Sec. Perkins Reports Nearly Three Millions Got Jobs During Last Year.

Washington, April 18.—(AP)—Estimating 2,750,000 persons had obtained jobs in the last year, Secretary Perkins today reported a sharp gain in manufacturing payrolls during March.

In the Labor Department's monthly statement, the said manufacturing industries added 419,500 men to their forces during the month, bringing the general employment index to the highest point since December, 1930, and wage payments to the highest level since August, 1931.

Payrolls increased approximately $79,000,000 since March of last year, the labor secretary reported and in March this year there was an increase of $12,904,000.

More Statistics

Employment for March, 1934, was listed at 80.8 per cent of the 1923-1925 average, compared with a 77.7 per cent showing in February. This was the first time the Bureau of Labor Statistics used the years 1923-1925 for figuring employment. ## TROTZKY PLANNED REVOLT IN FRANCE

Meant to Use the February Riots to Set Up a Dictatorship There.

Paris, April 18.—(AP)—Leon Trotsky in a sensational effort to use the February riots to set up his dictatorship in France by a Red revolution, was revealed in his personal diary, authorities disclosed today.

A revolution by an armed workers militia, was urged, they said, in a manifesto issued by the exiled former Russian leader after the failed rioting in the streets of Paris February 8.

"The two forces have just measured swords," the manifesto said. "War has begun between them. There is no possible peace, but in a fight to the death, in the street, by force, will be decided the future."

The manifesto urged "a vast workers' alliance of all proletarian bodies and the organization of a workers' militia without delay."

To Speed Expulsion

As a result of the new disclosures of the political activity of Trotsky, the government was expected to speed its moves for his expulsion, ordered yesterday.

Secret Service police revealed that several days of grace have been granted Trotsky for his search in an attempt to find a country willing to accept him.

"We are not pushing him," one member of the Secret Service said, despite the increasing information gathered regarding his plans for his "Fourth International."

"One cannot condemn him to death," this official said. "That is what his immediate departure would mean. We are setting him free."

Another official declared that reports Trotsky is considering the United States and Spain are "more groundless."

RESTRICTION IN DEED PREVENTS NEW TAVERN

One Was Planned in West Side Store But Owner Fears Deed May Be Voided.

A restriction placed in a deed that is now over 50 years old is holding up the possibility of the leasing of a store on the West Side for the use of a tavern.

In nearly all of the deeds a surveyor's description was given and all of the property to the west of Pine street over to West street, with but a few exceptions, was at one time owned by Cheney Brothers.

Such a piece of property changed hands about 50 years ago and now there is an opportunity to lease a store that has been built upon the land for a tavern.

Should the property be used for a tavern and the owner of the tavern lease gives and that the store will have to be used for some other line of business.

There is one piece of property that is located on Pine and Walnut streets that has no such restriction and today an application was filed for a tavern license to be located in a store on Walnut street, just around the corner from Pine street.

YOUTHS COMPLETING HOUSE AT VERNON

Trade School Students Get Practical Knowledge by Building Home.

A single, one and one-half story frame house is rapidly nearing completion in the Town of Vernon.

The house is located about a half mile from the state road to Rockville, near Lewis's Corner, in a section of Vernon as yet undeveloped to any great extent.

Plans for the building were prepared in the drafting department of the Trade School, according to specifications desired by Mr. Schultz.

Every student in the carpentry department at the Trade School has been given an opportunity to work on the house and most of the students in the electrical department assisted in wiring the home.

A minute inspection of the house is most interesting. The work has been done with a care and perfection that loses nothing in comparison with professional work by experienced carpenters.

The house contains four rooms on the first floor, a kitchen, combination living and dining room and two bedrooms and also a bathroom.

BELIEVE DILLINGER LED BANK ROBBERS

Shreveport, La., April 18.—(AP)—The Bank of Montgomery, in Grand Parish, 35 miles south of Shreveport, was robbed by an armed band this morning and the bank president said he believed the gang was led by John Dillinger, notorious outlaw.

The gang invaded the bank at 9:30 a. m. armed with a machine gun, seized cash and fled in a car, heading north toward Shreveport.

L. D. Wardlaw, president of the bank, advised local authorities that the bandits were led by a man whose features tallied with those of Dillinger, whose picture was hanging on the wall of the bank at the time of the robbery.

WARD ALTERATIONS TO BE BEGUN SOON

Manager Lyons Says Store Will Be One of Best for Size in the State.

"Final preparations for the complete remodeling of the local Montgomery Ward store have been completed," states Mr. Lyons, local manager. "Within a month Manchester will have one of the most completely merchandised and most completely modern department stores of any city its size in Connecticut."

Work will start in a few weeks and will involve an expenditure running in to many thousands of dollars according to Mr. Lyons. All the local help, it is possible to use, will be utilized. The store will be completely re-laid with all new, modern, up-to-date fixtures, counters, and floor displays. "It has been impossible for me to give much time or thought to the completion of plans I made last September to completely modernize this store, because of the tremendous response to Ward Week," Mr. Lyons said. Manchester has always been a source of many retail sales to Montgomery Ward and the company wishes to reciprocate by furnishing Manchester with a newer and more beautiful landmark.
People who have shopped the local store during the past week can see the reason why Mr. Lyons had had no time except to devote all his time to seeing that every customer is satisfied and that every person who so wishes may take advantage of the sensational sale prices now being offered in one of the country's greatest sales—Ward Week "when all America goes shopping."

Last Thursday night the store was so crowded it was impossible to reach many of the sale items and the sale reached such tremendous proportions Saturday that more than 100 extra local salespeople were called in to work. It is expected that this week-end—the end of the sale—that many more customers, who could not come last week will be added to the crowd. Mr. Lyons stated Monday morning that during the previous Thursday, Friday and Saturday more than 20,000 people visited his store. The influx from Hartford, Wethersfield, Rockville, Willimantic, New Britain, and other towns and cities was so great that it will be impossible for truck deliveries to be made on schedule but Mr. Lyons feels that the customers are so well satisfied with their purchases that they will be willing to wait a few days longer than they would ordinarily expect.

Many of the items that were sold out last week have again been put back on sale due to manufacturers' prompt cooperation in answer to wires sent from the local store Saturday night. The response to the new all-wave radio and new electric refrigerator was so great that deliveries cannot be completed for two weeks.
Mr. Lyons is doubly elated over the success of Ward Week because he feels that the large number of out-of-town and local shoppers who have come to take advantage of the great values offered in a positive indication that business conditions in Manchester are definitely on the up-grade.

PASTOR RESIGNS POST AFTER WARNING LETTER

Hot Springs, Ark., April 18.—(AP)—The Rev. L. D. Summers, who recently received a threatening letter after he had been outspoken in opposition to the revival of horse racing here, has resigned the pastorate of the Park Place Baptist church.

Although some members of the congregation had voiced disagreement with his policies, the congregation had given him a vote of confidence following his criticism of the revival of racing this spring. His resignation, tendered to the board of deacons and accepted last Sunday, came as a surprise to most of the congregation.
The threatening letter, which was turned over to postal authorities warned him to leave the city or he would be killed and his church burned.

FIND WRECKED PLANE OF AMERICAN PILOTS

Shanghai, April 18.—(AP)—Definite proof that three American pilots missing for eight days had crashed in Hankchow bay was supplied tonight when Chinese fishermen, combing the bay, pulled up parts of the airplane.

The hull and part of the pilot's seat, where Robert Gast of Louisville, Ky., was sitting, were found.

No trace has been seen of the bodies but searchers feel these will be recovered shortly. Fishermen are working over a large area as a result of a reward of 500 Shanghai dollars (about $175) for the bodies by the company operating the passenger plane.

Officials now believe the craft struck the water at high speed during a fog, wrecking the machine and killing its occupants instantly. The other Americans were Ivan Carlson of Donna, Tex., and James Frink of Miami, Fla. A Japanese business man was a passenger.

ELM TREE DISEASE THREATENS STATE

Two Trees in Greenwich Stricken and Experts Fear Disease Has Foothold

(The "Dutch Elm Disease" found in New Jersey is regarded by entomologists as another very serious menace to shade trees of Connecticut and New England. It was found on two trees in Greenwich, Conn., which were cut down and destroyed. A section of 214 men from the Federal Bureau of Entomology has been operating on control work in this state. This is the first of three articles on the history of the disease by Edward Connell of the control group.)

Stamford, Conn., April 18.—(AP)—One spring morning in 1919, Herr D. G. Vervooren, state park director in Rotterdam, Holland, walked along on his daily inspection trip. He gazed lovingly upward at his beautiful, green elm trees—his particular pride. Suddenly he stopped and looked at the topmost boughs of a fine specimen of elm. There it was again. The wilted foliage and shriveled top. Almost overnight it had come and this was the first such sight he had witnessed that week among his elms.

The troubled burgher Vervooren told his good friend Frauslein Doktor Westerdijk, who was a woman and knew much about trees and their troubles. She worked vainly on the problem for a few months. The dead tops of elms along the dykes and in meadows were now common sights and the despair of Dutch tree lovers throughout the land.

Rotterdam's elms fell victims to the new malady. And in Utrecht and Amsterdam the fatal scourge struck mercilessly. The symptoms were always the same—sickly tops and wilting foliage, then disintegration. And the ever-present straggling on the branches when the bark was stripped.

Disease Spreads
The disease spread into Belgium and Germany it swept while scientists in the universities of Europe tried to determine its cause. It was not for several years following Herr Vervooren's discovery that Doktor Schwarz definitely identified the cause of elm disease—a fungus.

But by this time the elms of Versailles were wilting; on the outskirts of London century-old elms were struck with the blight, and decayed and dying tops of elms were to be seen in the Scandinavian countries, Austria, Poland and the Balkans. In 1929 it appeared in Italy. It had leveled the elms of Westphalia, the Rhineland, Potsdam and Bonn. And today, after fifteen years, it is in every European country except Russia, Spain and Portugal.

As late as 1928 it was believed "isolation" would protect American elms. Thousands of miles separated the elms of the Newark and Connecticut from the infected stumps of Berlin and Utrecht. But late that year European scientists confirmed the fact that the disease could be spread from an infected tree to a healthy one by an insect—the "elm bark beetle," one species of which had been in New England since 1909.

What Is "Dutch Elm Disease"?
In plain language it is a fungus growth which clogs the liquid-conducting vessels of the sapwood in the elm. It is a stopping up of the circulatory system, literally "choking" a tree. The fungus in culture grows out from small pieces of infected wood in about four to seven days. The disease spreads rapidly in a tree although death may vary from a period of several months to a year or more.

After fifteen years, European scientists are not advancing any proven remedy for the disease. It is not fatalistic to say that the disease is incurable. There are cases where the disease has been checked by removing a diseased limb, but as a general statement it may be said once the disease enters a tree and is definitely confirmed the logical step is to remove the tree at once to prevent further infection of nearby trees.

How About the Insect?
The fact there is a "partner in crime" working with the Dutch elm disease complicates the situation. The European elm bark beetle, carrier of the disease, is one of the engraver beetles. They make a fan-like design beneath the bark on elms and hickory trees. Elm bark beetles are attracted to sickly trees. The female digs a

ASSERTS PRE-WAR ERA APPROACHING AMERICA

Washington, April 18.—(AP)—The Daughters of the American Revolution, assembled in annual congress, heard an educator assert today that America has passed from the post-war era to a new pre-war era.

Dr. Thomas Healy, assistant dean of Georgetown University's foreign service school, made this statement in an address hitting repeatedly at Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia University, as a poor prophet on war.

He quoted Dr. Butler as saying four months after the World War started that there was no sanity in "useless armaments against nobody," and as saying more recently that some "have not heard Napoleon and Bismark are dead."

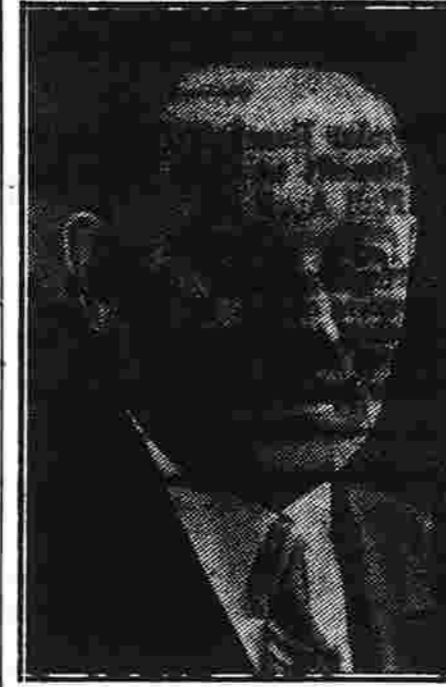

"The ignorance of the American people," Dr. Healy said, "is not so amorphous but they are not aware of the fact Napoleon and Bismark have been replaced by modern and possibly more dangerous counterparts in Hitler, Stalin, and a host of other military dictators who at this moment are ruling a large portion of the world. Unlike Napoleon and Bismark, the Nazism of Hitler and Communism of Stalin have reached over into the very heart of America in an attempt to undermine the structure of our government."

He pronounced the Far Eastern situation "at least as dangerous as the European situation," with Russia and Japan both "feverishly preparing for war," and almost ready to "fly at each other's throats."

WAR MANEUVERS

Panama City, April 18.—(AP)—Canal defense forces mobilized every resource today for Saturday's mass attack of the United States naval fleet in joint army-navy war maneuvers.

The fifteenth naval district's submarines from Coco Solo and the fleet air base force will co-operate with canal department forces of the army, which include the first and fourth coast artillery, the 33d and the 14th infantry and all squadrons from France and Albrook fields.

ASSEMBLY IS TOLD DUTY IS CONVERSION

Nazarene Denomination In Conference Here — 85
Churches Represented.

A declaration of the trend of religious endeavor in the Nazarene denomination was ably given by Dr. James B. Chapman of Kansas City, general superintendent of the Nazarene church last evening at the opening meeting of the New England Nazarene District Assembly at the Nazarene church. Dr. Chapman's subject was "The Present Truth."

Ministers' Duties
Dr. Chapman stated that the duty of all ministers of the denomination is expressed in the words of John: "I baptize you with water unto repentance, but He shall baptize you with the Holy Ghost and fire." All efforts should be directed, he said, to convert and to lead all people to a saving knowledge of Jesus Christ, even as John prophesied. Aaron Cook, chairman of the Board of Selections welcomed the nearly 200 delegates and 90 ministers of the denomination from the 85 churches in New England to the first assembly ever to be held in the state of Connecticut. Mr. Cook stated that it was a genuine pleasure to be present at the assembly and urged those present to avail themselves of the hospitality of the "silk city."

Rev. Harris Present
Rev. Leonard C. Harris, pastor of the South Methodist church, brought the greetings of the Manchester churches and offered the use of his church and expressed the willingness of members of the parish to assist in any way possible to make the assembly a success.

Rev. Mabel Manning, Evangelist, was in charge of the singing and rendered a request number, "The Man of Galilee." The church was filled to capacity for the first time since the church was remodeled two years ago.

Other Meetings
Dr. Joseph G. forms for years. What can be done under the law is being done. The tota are no longer being sent to the unspeakable boarding schools, but to day schools. Hospitalization is being improved. Federal officials no longer treat Indians like the dirt under their feet. Individual graft and exploitation is being eliminated. But the root of the evil is still fast in the law—and this Congress' mind is full of many things.

However, profound agitation is going forward for the repeal of the evil allotment law of '37, for the restoration to the Indians of adequate communal lands and for the return to the Indian tribes of the right to manage their own affairs and to live, peacefully and free from white man's robbery, their own lives.

This great and terribly belated measure of justice is as much the concern of New Englanders as of the people of any other part of the country. It is an opportunity to wipe out the worst stain on our country's record and to put us square with the Indian and with ourselves.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN Washington

Here's an Idea Where That Two Billion Is Going... Red Plot or Just Alcohol? Jobless Statistics Another Guessing Game... Auto Ads in A. F. of L. Magazine.

By RODNEY DUTCHER
 Manchester Herald's Washington Correspondent

Washington, April 18.—We're a forgetful people, but it might be fun to see how the two billion dollars we handed Secretary Morgenthau to use at his own discretion.

Sometimes, as your correspondent lies awake at night worrying about it, that exchange stabilization fund seems like the biggest thing in the world. Anyway, it's the biggest secret in Washington.

The money is supposed to be used to keep the dollar down on foreign exchange. But what's being done with it?

Nobody knows except Morgenthau and one or two others whose identity remains undisclosed. Nobody tells.

But some of the insiders, well equipped with inside information, can guess. It's something like this: Once upon a time we had a large export trade and financed it by the money of other countries so they could buy our goods. (It seemed like a good idea at the time.)

Many foreign customers stopped buying when we stopped lending. But many kept buying.

What did they do for money? They used foreign-owned dollars in American banks, with the result that whereas foreign countries had about three billions in bank balances and short-term notes here at the end of 1929, they now have less than 500 millions.

Well, that can't go on forever. Foreign balances here dwindle and dollar depreciation boosts our commodity balance of trade, making the problem of payment for our goods more and more difficult.

Foreigners must get American dollars to pay their debts for goods. They bid for dollars and that raises the value of the dollar abroad in terms of francs, lira, pounds and so on.

There's only one thing Morgenthau can do in a case like this. The law directs him to keep that dollar stabilized. So, almost automatically, we toss some of our stabilization fund into the pot and keep on dumping it. The process seems bound to go on unless we create something like an equal balance of trade.

If the process hasn't begun, as those insiders are sure it has, it will begin in the very near future.

An Alcoholic Plot?

Everybody here keeps on talking about Dr. William Wirt and his expose of the brain trust. At least one of the members of the brain trust was worried when he heard about Wirt's claim that a trustee had told him of a Communist plot to upset the government.

He recalled at least one party of which, thanks to the refreshment, his memory of details is not too clear. He thought very likely he had amused himself by delivering a Communist speech. Sometimes he's like that.

"What did I say that night?" he kept asking his friends. And it took a lot of reassurance to quiet him.

Another Guessing Game

Once upon a time there was a New Deal and one of the first, most important things it was going to do was assemble very accurate statistics on unemployment.

The Hoover administration had so often fumbled, and falsified, those statistics that everyone agreed a cleanup was in order.

Miss Perkins was going to do it. Harry Hopkins promised the FEPA would do it whether she did or not. Hoover recently there was a plan to have the C. W. workers conduct an unemployment census.

Well, the American Federation of Labor's estimates remain the best and the most commonly accepted—and no one knows how accurate they are. (They place the unemployment at more than 11,000,000.)

The A. F. of L. used the Bureau of Labor Statistics index figures on employment for industry and trade—with the census figures of 1930 for comparison, the Department of Agriculture's basic figures for farm employment, the I. C. T. figures on railroad men and a certain degree of guesswork. (BLS figures are rarely examples.)

One of these days someone in the government will again suggest accurate unemployment statistics.

Maybe it's funny. Anyway, it's not, considering the way automobile magnates condemn the A. F. of L. and vice versa.

But the American Federationist, official A. F. of L. magazine, in its latest issue, carried full page advertisements for General Motors (Chevrolet, Pontiac, Buick, LaSalle, Cadillac), Dodge, Oldsmobile, and Plymouth.

Queer Twists In Day's News

Chicago—Into the Separate Maintenance Court came Mrs. Jennie R. Barth, with the allegation that she was a "gasoline widow."

For sixteen years she had been happily wed, but, she charged, the affections of her husband, Otto, were alienated by streamlines so that he purchased one new car after another, while their five children went hungry.

Judge Walter Labay granted an injunction prohibiting Otto from buying new cars for a while.

Waukegan, Ill.—Underground exploration held a fascination for George Clark, 5, so he crawled into a twelve inch drain pipe.

Five feet underground, he found himself in a tight place, unable to go forward or backward. George screamed.

The neighbors dug. Somebody called the police; they dug. After an hour, George was brought to light, unharmed.

Chicago—Henceforth visitors to the monkey house at the Lincoln Park Zoo have got to stop acting like monkeys.

It's to save the wear and tear on the bears, not the visitors.

These things are reported to have occurred:

A gentleman visitor took off his toupee, and a monkey tore out part of its own hair trying to imitate him.

Another visitor pretended to give himself some well directed uppercuts, and a monkey almost knocked himself out trying to do the same.

Result: Two policemen are stationed in the monkey house to make visitors stop monkey business.

Denver—Police Chief Albert T. Case has a couple of his best detectives seeking a poisoner accused of killing 52 dogs here since last fall. Clark's own dog was a victim and the chief has offered $100 reward for apprehension of the killer.

Topeka, Kas.—Ritzy new agoon at Gage Park—it won't hold water. Investigation disclosed that the water is seeping into an abandoned coal mine.

Caldwell, Idaho.—Mess Sergeant Cornelius T. Cramer of Headquarters Troop, 116th Cavalry, Idaho National Guard, knows his onions, as well as his cabbage and vitamins.

Major John Hood was giving the organization its annual examination.

"Do you believe in feeding your troops on salads and greens?" he inquired of Sergeant Cramer.

"Yes, sir."

"Because green stuff contains Vitamin C?"

"Name some disease this vitamin prevents," directed the major.

"Scurvy, sir."

"Do you know what a Sacrament-Cervicis is?"

"Yes, sir."

"How do you happen to know that?"

"I'm biological instructor of the college of Idaho here, sir."

Portland, Ore.—A spot on the planet Jupiter's making a night owl of A. V. Goddard, Portland astronomer.

Goddard says the spot moves across the planet in about three hours time each night. Through his 18-inch telescope Goddard has been watching the phenomenon closely, but is unable to explain its presence.

Brookfield Mines, N. S.—Lloyd Fancy's quest for gold led him close to death.

The 67-year-old prospector set out on his annual spring gold-hunt with only two days' provisions.

Just as he arrived at a cabin on Cranberry lake, he suffered a paralytic stroke. Four and a half days later he was found, lying helpless before the stove he had kindled but was unable to light.

NETTLE RASH

Many people are troubled with the appearance of a rash on the skin, accompanied by an intense stinging, burning sensation. This rash is in the form of wheals, and they may become maximum size, varying from that of a pinhead to that of a half dollar, within a few minutes, and they sometimes disappear as rapidly as they form.

These lesions may appear on any part of the skin, and they sometimes occur inside of the throat on the epiglottis, giving a choking sensation or feeling of suffocation. When they appear on the tongue, they may cause it to become greatly enlarged.

The itching is so intense that it is almost impossible for the patient to resist scratching, which only increases the size of the wheals.

Attacks of hives can only occur in people who are suffering from a form of chronic acidosis, and each attack is preceded by a period of lassitude, digestive disorders, coated tongue and possibly headaches. A fingernail drawn over the surface of the skin of these patients usually leaves a red line, and it is possible to write words on the surface of their bodies in this manner.

Poorly fed and undernourished children are most frequent sufferers from this disorder. The eruptions are usually small and appear about the hair follicles, accompanied by the usual intense itching.

In some forms of this disease, technically known as urticaria, there are also large swellings under the skin like small eggs, occurring most frequently on the face. The disease has a variety of forms. In some cases, it occurs at regular intervals. Sometimes the irritations leave brownish discolorations or stains. These people usually become badly swollen as the result of mosquito or insect bites.

One susceptible to this disorder may suffer an attack from a number of causes, but there is almost always some irritation of the digestive tract. The foods that are most frequently blamed for bringing on these eruptions are shellfish, cheese, sausage, pork, strawberries, cucumbers, and an almost endless variety of foods and drugs.

This disease may occur as a complication in the course of many chronic diseases, and in susceptible people the irritation of various substances applied to the skin will bring on an attack. Some of the substances which bring on this rash meet frequently when in contact with the skin are rotopropane ink from newspapers, the content of certain plants such as the primrose,

IN NEW YORK

New York, April 18.—Easter Sunday is not a good time to prove to an out-of-town visitor that Gotham has much religious reverence in its nature. For it seems that the proletariat has glanced over its morning paper, selected the Fifth Avenue fashion parade as the best show available, and has come en masse to watch the top-hatted minority going to and from its worship.

The going "spin" is about that of a golf tournament—solemn gravity and whispered wise-cracks, with plenty of gawking at the movie cameras and the newspaper photographers scurrying among the social registers. Attending service in one of the big churches is out of the question, because they already are filled by people who belong there. So the spectators crowd as far as they can into the vestibules, a practice quite deleterious to Easter frocks and bowties, and to the Easter tempers of distraught users. Usually they have to call the cops.

New York's Got Religion

The Easter season is a good time, though, to write about churches, and to point out that New York really does have a religion.

Every Sunday something like a million people attend the 600 churches scattered the length and breadth of the city, from the Cathedral of St. John the Divine, up on Morningside Heights, down to aged Trinity at one end of Wall street, and the calligraphic missions of the lower East Side.

It is easy to be statistical about the Cathedral because the figures are so impressive—$20,000,000 spent so far; $10,000,000 more required to complete the building; another $10,000,000 needed for interior furnishings; central tower 445 feet high;

PROGRAM FOR CHILD HEALTH ADVANCED

Minimum of One Quart of Milk a Day Is Suggested by State Department.

As part of its program for the approval of day care, designated both by presidential and gubernatorial proclamation as Child's Health Day, the State Department of Health in its weekly bulletin today described a health pattern to which, with variation only for age requirements, each child should conform closely.

First and foremost in the pattern, the bulletin said, is a minimum of one quart of milk a day to provide the elements important to growth.

"If the child will not take milk, the mother should conceal that amount in cooked foods. When the family's economic situation prohibits the provision of the daily quart of milk for each child, a pint at least should be obtained.

Second is the inclusion in the diet of green vegetables, cereals, breads (some of the coarse variety), buttermilk and eggs and a little meat or fish, each of which contributes to the child's health. For the younger children the foods should be more simple in character and less in amount. All children should have a suitable breakfast of fruit, cereal, milk, bread or toast and butter, with an egg or a small amount of bacon for the older group.

Third, the heavier meal should be in the middle of the day with a light supper, so that digestion may go on without interfering with the night's sleep. High school hours may make the noon dinner impossible for the older children, however. Three meals a day should be substituted.

Fourth, definite times for rest and play are important. There should be a quiet half hour before each meal. Hours of sleep will vary according to age. Twelve hours are needed up to the seventh or eighth year with a daytime nap up to the fifth or sixth year. The hours of sleep should be gradually shortened as the child grows older, but even at 16 years nine hours are required for good health.

Fifth, sunshine and fresh air play an important part in the health pattern and should be provided daily.

Sixth, the child should be kept free from emotional concern. The more pleasurable the attitude of the child toward the daily habits, the more effective will be the health pattern. Fumigation just before meal time and the hours of sleep, digestion and affect sleep.

QUITS ASSOCIATION

New Haven, April 18.—(AP)—The Keney Park Golf Club voted unanimously to resign its membership in the New England Public Golf Association, it said today. Application will be made by the organization for associate membership in the Connecticut Golf Association. Goodwin Park's Golf club resigned from the New England P. G. A. last Saturday.

Nearly 13,000 acres of farm land owned by Indians of the Kiowa reservation in Oklahoma have been preserved in a soil conservation program.

INDIANS

We New Englanders are a long way, geographically and in point of time, from the Indian question. But because we are, too, a long way from the period when our ancestors looked upon the Indians with much the same contemptuous lack of understanding and sometimes with much the same hatred as they have been looked upon much more recently in the West—even, by some people, still so regarded—we are in a position to bring reason and sanity to the support of the New Deal for the original American.

Amid the multitude of innovations started by the present administration in Washington and in contrast to many that now appear to have been blunders, two stand out as conspicuously worthy. These are the Civilian Conservation Corps, which has been the salvation of half a million young men and has opened the eyes of the nation to the need and value of forest improvement, and the very splendid efforts now being made to undo as much as possible of the murderous injustice done to the Indians over a century.

Under existing laws and under the administration of Indian affairs by all parties and for many decades, the Indians have been outrageously exploited by rogues and grievously mismanaged by grossly incompetent reformers. With the result that they are impoverished where they were rich, pitifully weak where they used to be strong, wretchedly diseased where they once were marvels of health, despairingly inert where they were filled with rugged courage and self reliance.

Two causes have operated to make this nation's Indian policy in the past a thing of shame and horror. First was unscrupulous greed on the part of political Indian commissioners and agents and their friends and political associates. Second was a purblind belief of ignorant theorists that the good and kindly thing to do with the Indian was to make a white man out of him.

Tincturing both of these causes was an 1880 superstition that anything soavoring of "socialism" as community ownership of property was an offense in the sight of God.

So, after the Indians had been driven from pillar to post for fifty years by one treaty violation after another, there followed another half century in which the government set itself to destroying the prosperous tribal system under which for centuries the Red Man had thrived.

Under the "allotment" law of 1887 the Indians were robbed of much of their land wholesale and the rest was divided up into individual holdings—which the holders were denied the right to pass on to their children but which must be sold at death. Under the workings of that abominable system 100,000 Indians are now landless and another 100,000 almost so—and land is the very lifeblood of an Indian population—land held in community for cattle, horses, communal crops.

To make the Indians "white" the children were taken from their homes and put in boarding schools where they unlearned how to be Indians and never learned how to be whites—then were turned back to live in poverty as government wards.

Volumes could be written without more than scratching the ground of abuse and wrong doing in our Indian history—and even at that the tale of dishonesty, intrigue and betrayal would be enough to turn the stomach of the reader.

Just now the Indian question is being forced to the front. It happens that the Secretary of the Interior is a man deeply interested in the welfare of the red man. He has an Indian Commissioner who has been counseling for Indian re-

WINTER'S COSTS

The futility of budgeting expenditures accurately in any business whose costs are so greatly influenced by such a wary factor as the weather is quite clearly demonstrated this year in Manchester. No matter how keen the voters of the town were to cut appropriations to the bone when they were gathered in town meeting they could not reckon on the weather man's influence.

This has been an unusual year—a most unusual winter. Perhaps the present generation will not see such a succession of heavy storms and periods of severe cold again, and yet, next winter might easily be worse. When the time comes to fix the budget for next year's town expenses the Board of Selectmen will have to list a considerable amount in the balance sheet under the deficit item.

It is not pleasant for the directors of any concern to try to explain away a deficit. Exceedingly more difficult is it for a board of selectmen to present a story of a trying business year to a meeting that can be as rambunctious as a town meeting. Yet the present board will have to do that very thing next October. Every citizen of this town has not forgotten the winter we have just encountered and all know the damage the winter caused to the town's highways. But memory fits pretty easily and it may be hard to bring vivid recollections of the winter's ravages to the minds of the voters next October.

The weather is something we must all endure and when it goes on a rampage we must all share equally in its costs. When the selectmen produce their balance sheet next fall it might be well for the voters to dig up some old copies of The Herald and read again the story of blizzard of February 1934.

A FUTURE COMPARISON

To those persons who keep scrap books of newspaper clippings for reference — they are not, unfortunately as numerous as they might be—it is suggested that, it might be of interest to preserve a record of two estimates in connection with the current tax bill.

Treasury experts ventured the prediction that the elimination of consolidated returns by corporations, forced by Senator Borah, would not increase the public revenues by more than $20,000,000. Senator Borah insisted that the elimination would add at least $150,000,000 to the treasury. This is merely another way of saying that Mr. Borah saw a leak in the old method of taxation of corporations seven times as big as that seen by the Treasury experts.

When in the course of time the Treasury shall issue its detailed report of revenues for the period covered by these estimates, it will be interesting, if we can remember about the forecasts, to compare them with the actual results.

Mr. Borah is, of course, just a senator and Treasury experts are Treasury experts. But if we were required to bet a cookie on the prediction of either we should put our little cake on the estimate of the Senator from Ohio—solely on the ground that there would have been no such concerted drive against the elimination proposal if it did not involve a greater total sum than twenty millions. The financial lobby doesn't use elephant guns to kill mosquitoes.

POST OFFICE BOBBED

Colchester, April 18.—(AP)—Safe thieves broke into the Colchester post office last night drilled open the safe and escaped leaving postal officials in doubt at noon as to what loot, if any they had obtained. The robbers gained entrance by breaking open a door at the rear of the post-office which is one of several stores in the Merchants block.

Queer Twists In Day's News

Chicago—Into the Separate Maintenance Court came Mrs. Jennie R. Barth, with the allegation that she was a "gasoline widow."

For sixteen years she had been happily wed, but, she charged, the affections of her husband, Otto, were alienated by streamlines so that he purchased one new car after another, while their five children went hungry.

Judge Walter Labay granted an injunction prohibiting Otto from buying new cars for a while.

Waukegan, Ill.—Underground exploration held a fascination for George Clark, 5, so he crawled into a twelve inch drain pipe.

Five feet underground, he found himself in a tight place, unable to go forward or backward. George screamed.

The neighbors dug. Somebody called the police; they dug. After an hour, George was brought to light, unharmed.

Chicago—Henceforth visitors to the monkey house at the Lincoln Park Zoo have got to stop acting like monkeys.

It's to save the wear and tear on the bears, not the visitors.

These things are reported to have occurred:

A gentleman visitor took off his toupee, and a monkey tore out part of its own hair trying to imitate him.

Another visitor pretended to give himself some well directed uppercuts, and a monkey almost knocked himself out trying to do the same.

Result: Two policemen are stationed in the monkey house to make visitors stop monkey business.

Denver—Police Chief Albert T. Case has a couple of his best detectives seeking a poisoner accused of killing 52 dogs here since last fall. Clark's own dog was a victim and the chief has offered $100 reward for apprehension of the killer.

Topeka, Kas.—Ritzy new agoon at Gage Park—it won't hold water. Investigation disclosed that the water is seeping into an abandoned coal mine.

Caldwell, Idaho.—Mess Sergeant Cornelius T. Cramer of Headquarters Troop, 116th Cavalry, Idaho National Guard, knows his onions, as well as his cabbage and vitamins.

Major John Hood was giving the organization its annual examination.

"Do you believe in feeding your troops on salads and greens?" he inquired of Sergeant Cramer.

"Yes, sir."

"Because green stuff contains Vitamin C?"

"Name some disease this vitamin prevents," directed the major.

"Scurvy, sir."

"Do you know what a Sacrament-Cervicis is?"

"Yes, sir."

"How do you happen to know that?"

"I'm biological instructor of the college of Idaho here, sir."

Portland, Ore.—A spot on the planet Jupiter's making a night owl of A. V. Goddard, Portland astronomer.

Goddard says the spot moves across the planet in about three hours time each night. Through his 18-inch telescope Goddard has been watching the phenomenon closely, but is unable to explain its presence.

Brookfield Mines, N. S.—Lloyd Fancy's quest for gold led him close to death.

The 67-year-old prospector set out on his annual spring gold-hunt with only two days' provisions.

Just as he arrived at a cabin on Cranberry lake, he suffered a paralytic stroke. Four and a half days later he was found, lying helpless before the stove he had kindled but was unable to light.

NETTLE RASH

Many people are troubled with the appearance of a rash on the skin, accompanied by an intense stinging, burning sensation. This rash is in the form of wheals, and they may become maximum size, varying from that of a pinhead to that of a half dollar, within a few minutes, and they sometimes disappear as rapidly as they form.

These lesions may appear on any part of the skin, and they sometimes occur inside of the throat on the epiglottis, giving a choking sensation or feeling of suffocation. When they appear on the tongue, they may cause it to become greatly enlarged.

The itching is so intense that it is almost impossible for the patient to resist scratching, which only increases the size of the wheals.

Attacks of hives can only occur in people who are suffering from a form of chronic acidosis, and each attack is preceded by a period of lassitude, digestive disorders, coated tongue and possibly headaches. A fingernail drawn over the surface of the skin of these patients usually leaves a red line, and it is possible to write words on the surface of their bodies in this manner.

Poorly fed and undernourished children are most frequent sufferers from this disorder. The eruptions are usually small and appear about the hair follicles, accompanied by the usual intense itching.

In some forms of this disease, technically known as urticaria, there are also large swellings under the skin like small eggs, occurring most frequently on the face. The disease has a variety of forms. In some cases, it occurs at regular intervals. Sometimes the irritations leave brownish discolorations or stains. These people usually become badly swollen as the result of mosquito or insect bites.

One susceptible to this disorder may suffer an attack from a number of causes, but there is almost always some irritation of the digestive tract. The foods that are most frequently blamed for bringing on these eruptions are shellfish, cheese, sausage, pork, strawberries, cucumbers, and an almost endless variety of foods and drugs.

This disease may occur as a complication in the course of many chronic diseases, and in susceptible people the irritation of various substances applied to the skin will bring on an attack. Some of the substances which bring on this rash meet frequently when in contact with the skin are rotopropane ink from newspapers, the content of certain plants such as the primrose,

PROGRAM FOR CHILD HEALTH ADVANCED

Minimum of One Quart of Milk a Day Is Suggested by State Department.

As part of its program for the approval of day care, designated both by presidential and gubernatorial proclamation as Child's Health Day, the State Department of Health in its weekly bulletin today described a health pattern to which, with variation only for age requirements, each child should conform closely.

First and foremost in the pattern, the bulletin said, is a minimum of one quart of milk a day to provide the elements important to growth.

"If the child will not take milk, the mother should conceal that amount in cooked foods. When the family's economic situation prohibits the provision of the daily quart of milk for each child, a pint at least should be obtained.

Second is the inclusion in the diet of green vegetables, cereals, breads (some of the coarse variety), buttermilk and eggs and a little meat or fish, each of which contributes to the child's health. For the younger children the foods should be more simple in character and less in amount. All children should have a suitable breakfast of fruit, cereal, milk, bread or toast and butter, with an egg or a small amount of bacon for the older group.

Third, the heavier meal should be in the middle of the day with a light supper, so that digestion may go on without interfering with the night's sleep. High school hours may make the noon dinner impossible for the older children, however. Three meals a day should be substituted.

Fourth, definite times for rest and play are important. There should be a quiet half hour before each meal. Hours of sleep will vary according to age. Twelve hours are needed up to the seventh or eighth year with a daytime nap up to the fifth or sixth year. The hours of sleep should be gradually shortened as the child grows older, but even at 16 years nine hours are required for good health.

Fifth, sunshine and fresh air play an important part in the health pattern and should be provided daily.

Sixth, the child should be kept free from emotional concern. The more pleasurable the attitude of the child toward the daily habits, the more effective will be the health pattern. Fumigation just before meal time and the hours of sleep, digestion and affect sleep.

QUITS ASSOCIATION

New Haven, April 18.—(AP)—The Keney Park Golf Club voted unanimously to resign its membership in the New England Public Golf Association, it said today. Application will be made by the organization for associate membership in the Connecticut Golf Association. Goodwin Park's Golf club resigned from the New England P. G. A. last Saturday.

New Haven, April 18.—(AP)—The body of Alphonse Dalmisch, 68, was found last night in an untenanted house at Morris Cove. He had been missing since Sunday. Mrs. Dalmisch found the body hanging from a cellar beam. A verdict of suicide was given. Dalmisch had sought vainly for employment.

"Clean House"--is the order

"--and do a good job of it"

"Things are too crowded. Make it easy to shop"

Saturday night we got this order from Mr. Watkins. Monday we started in. Worked from top to bottom. And HOW we slashed prices. Half the bedroom suites marked half price.. a dozen dining room suites reduced..desks and secretaries on the Main Floor..hundreds of odd pieces in the basement.

All this in order that we may show the remaining pieces as fine furniture should be shown. Long ago we established the reputation of being the finest small town furniture store in the United States. We mean to live up to it.

OFFICE OF THE
TREASURER

To Our Old Customers:
An automobile accident, followed by two serious illnesses, has kept me out of active business for some time. Now I have resumed my old job of buying. On checking up I find an excellent stock but too much of everything. To operate successfully under the New Deal, as I see it, it will be necessary to do three things immediately:

1. Reduce the number of floor samples.
2. Discontinue certain lines entirely.
3. Rearrange the remaining stock so that it will be easy for you to make selections.

Therefore, on Thursday, April 19th, the Anniversary of the Battle of Lexington, we shall start a Clearance Sale as unexpected and dramatic in some respects as that famous battle.

- I call your special attention to these features:
1. All of the samples to be sold are new and smart--most of them recent purchases.
  2. Merchandise in departments which are to be discontinued will be sold for what it will bring.
  3. The sale will last for 10 days only.

I hope you can attend.

Yours sincerely,

Charles Watkins
Treasurer

THE BARGAIN HOUND

Prick up your ears! Hale's are having a store-wide sale. Why absolutely everything is marked down. Think of all those necessary little home needs that you can now buy for a song.

Skirts that are plain in front with several pleats in back make short figures look taller, more willowy. Little set-in pleats that flare out as you walk are the smartest right now though box pleats are being used in sports skirts. Lengths vary somewhat, but ten inches from the floor is the most popular skirt length for street frocks and skirts.

Housekeepers one and all—can you imagine what a perfect summer it will be if you do all your cooking on an electric range? How much cooler your kitchen will be! The Manchester Electric Company will install one of these electric ranges in your kitchen for a year's trial absolutely free of charge. Mrs. Rowe will demonstrate this range at her demonstration tomorrow. You are all invited to attend.

Frocks of printed Irish linen are going to be important summer fashions this year. They're as cool as they look. They won't fade no matter how long they are exposed to the sun or how often they are washed. Hand-fagotting on jabot and cuffs add a flattering decorative note.

When Watkins announce a ten day clearance sale it's time for you to feel the urge for bargain hunting for there certainly are some wonderful bargains on everything in the store.

New York's smartest young women are marching to the altar in white satin and most of them are carrying handsome bridal bouquets of roses and lilacs-of-the-valley.

If you have a family of chocolate lovers try this Sour Cream Chocolate Cake:

One and one-half cups light brown sugar, 1-2 cup butter, 8 eggs, 1 cup sour cream, 2 cups flour, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1 teaspoon soda, 1 teaspoon baking powder, 1 cup grated chocolate, few grains salt.

Cream butter and sugar and add the yolks of eggs well beaten. Melt chocolate over hot water and add to mixture. Mix and sift baking powder, soda, salt and flour several times. This is very important because the soda must be thoroughly mixed through the flour. Add to first mixture alternately with sour cream. Add vanilla and fold in whites of eggs beaten until stiff. Bake in two layers in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.).

With every fifty cent cash purchase at Hale's sale you'll receive a ballot which you must not fail to sign and hand in the lucky number wins a Voss electric washer.

FINAL REHEARSAL
TOMORROW NIGHT
Beethovens to Meet at Emanuel Church to Put on Finishing Touch.

The Beethoven Glee club will meet tomorrow night at 7:30 o'clock at the Emanuel Lutheran church for a rehearsal of the program to be presented at its ninth annual concert next Monday night at the High school auditorium. At this rehearsal, the finishing touches will be given to the club's part in the program. Every number has been memorized and it is hoped to present a concert that will be enjoyed by every person in attendance.

Composers whose works will be presented by the chorus of sixty male voices include Handel, Brahms, Cadman, Elgar, LaForte, Kowalsky, Andrews and other well knowns. A well balanced program will be the endeavor of the club and should suit the musical taste of all concert-goers.

The Beethovens have had a large number of concert engagements throughout the state during the past season and have been well received at all these appearances. All the four-voice parts of the club are equally well balanced and the tone quality of the chorus will be noticeably improved as a result.

One of the features of the concert will be the appearance of Elliott S. Foote, concert pianist, as assisting artist. Mr. Foote has studied piano with the leading teachers in this country and abroad. His program will include some of the best known classics by renowned composers, including Chopin, Schumann and Liszt. It will be varied and should prove an interesting addition to the program. In his playing, Mr. Foote displays strength and power even where the tone quality is light, and beyond his ability as a pianist from a point of technique, he always displays an exceptional appreciation of expression.

Single tickets for this concert may be obtained from any member of the Glee club and will also be on sale at the High school Monday evening.

SANDWICH SHOP OPENS TOMORROW

North Methodist Church
Women to Conduct Oakland Place Again.

Simple Simon's Sandwich Shop, which is located in the former Oakland schoolhouse, will reopen for the season, tomorrow under the same management and for the same object, namely to assist in the running expenses of the North Methodist church.

In the spring of 1933 a group of loyal women of the church believing in their ability to make pay a shop where tourists might stop for refreshments, where the surroundings were attractive and parking space ample, approached the Manchester school board with a proposition to rent the school, abandoned since public schools were consolidated a few years ago. They readily consented and no time was lost in redecorating the interior in preparation for the opening on May 25. The school committee members were the first guests. The novelty of the idea and the excellent home-cooked food, served at below tea-room prices, assured the success of the venture from the start, and the shop was well patronized not only by tourists but by local people, until closing time in November.

This spring the committee has deemed it advisable to build an addition to the kitchen, which has been done under the supervision of Arthur Ingraham. Another electric refrigerator has been added to the already very complete electrically equipped kitchen, and the old-time hand pump which served to quench the thirst of the boys and girls as they rushed in from playing has been replaced by an electric device. Larger tables to accommodate family parties have been added and several other necessary improvements made.

It is proposed to serve a special luncheon each week-day in addition to the regular menu of salads, sandwiches and other items, and a Sunday dinner which was a popular feature last summer and fall.

The finance committee of the Ladies Aid society, of which Mrs. Thomas D. Smith is chairman, will be in charge; other workers are the president, Mrs. C. G. Tyler, Mrs. LeVerne Holmes, Mrs. Jessie Sweet, Mrs. Annie McLagan, Mrs. John J. Flavel.

WAPPING

The minstrel which has been planned for Friday evening at the Wapping Community church house, will be postponed until Monday evening, April 23, on account of other activities in the town.

The Junior Christian Endeavor Society has changed the hour of its meeting from three o'clock on Sunday afternoon to six o'clock. Carolyn Burger was the leader last Sunday afternoon.

The Senior Society of Christian Endeavor held its meeting at seven o'clock. Harold Forcherson was the leader last Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Calvin C. Bolles and daughter, Miss Jeanne Bolles, motored to New York last Sunday, where they spent the day.

Miss Nellie Cavanaugh of South Windsor died at the St. Francis hospital last Saturday. She leaves two brothers, Daniel Cavanaugh and William Cavanaugh, a sister, Mrs. Frank J. Griffin and several nephews and nieces, all of South Windsor. The funeral was held from the Ahern funeral home, 55 Chapel street Monday, at 9:30 a. m., and at St. Mary's church, East Hartford, at 9 o'clock. Burial was in St. Patrick's cemetery, Thompsonville.

Felix Baltulonis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Baltulonis of Wapping has returned to the home of his parents recently, from a year spent in the U. S. Army at Panama.

At the community "Y" monthly meeting which was held last Wednesday evening, Rev. David Carter, Harold A. Collins, Homer B. Lane and Richard E. Reichenbach were elected to serve on the executive committee for the Wapping Community "Y" groups. Their term is for three years. G. A. Collins was elected to fill the unexpired term of one year left open by the resignation of Alfred H. Stone last fall.

Mr. Stoughton will coach the "Y" baseball teams for the season.

The annual basketball banquet which is to be held this evening, will feature Pa Smith as toastmaster. C. Elmore Watkins will be the speaker of the evening. The small admission fee offers a supper, basketball game and dance. Music will be furnished by Morgan Bradley of Pleasant Valley.

The Pioneers commenced their baseball training on last Saturday afternoon.

Struck by an automobile as he was delivering papers at High and Alyn streets Saturday noon, John Toos, age 10, of 35 Portland street, was taken to the Hartford hospital with a fractured right leg. The automobile was driven by Herman L. Hale of Wapping. The boy's condition was not considered serious.

A little heat does all the freezing in an air-cooled gas refrigerator. There are no mechanical contraptions such as are used in operating the usual automatic refrigerator; in fact, there is no machinery whatever. That is why the air-cooled gas refrigerator is permanently silent. It is sponsored and serviced by your Gas Company for all time, which is something to think about. And, too, the cost of operation is so low that it is hardly worth mentioning.

Electrolux, the gas refrigerator, is taking Hartford by storm; in fact, it is being sold by the thousands throughout the length and breadth of the land.

Don't wait a minute to buy at these low prices, which are subject to change at any time. Stop in at our display room as soon as you can, select the refrigerator that meets your requirements, and be sure that it is large enough for your future needs.

HALT STUDY OF VOLCANO BECAUSE OF ERUPTIONS

Reykjavik, Iceland, April 18. — (AP)—Sulphurous fumes have driven back an expedition which attempted to explore the crater of Iceland's famous volcano, Skeldarar Jokull, Cirka.

Reaching the vicinity of the crater during a blinding snowstorm, the men found eruptions still continuing, throwing a pall of volcanic ashes over the surrounding countryside.

An ice field more than 15 miles in circumference is covered with mounds of ashes which, with the choking fumes, have greatly handicapped explorations.

The volcano began erupting March 30. Vivid, lightning-like flashes were visible in Reykjavik, about 155 miles away. The eruptions could be heard 100 miles from the crater.

PEARL DREGER HEADS SENIOR HONOR STUDENTS

Marjorie Wilson and William Gray Tied for Second Place; Thirty-three Names On Honor Roll of Fifteen Per Cent of Class.

Pearl Dreger is the highest ranking member of the senior class for four years of high school work, while Marjorie Wilson and William Gray are tied for second place.

The honor students of the senior class were announced by Principal Illing at a special assembly of juniors and seniors held this afternoon. The highest fifteen percent of the two hundred and eighteen members of the class follow: Pearl Dreger, William Gray, Marjorie Wilson, Barbara Stoltenfeldt, Rita Dwyer, Russell Wilson, Marcia Kelly, Loretta A. Copping, Harold Cude, Fred Johansson, Barbara Nickerson, Margaret Kompanik, Irving Comber, Edward Swanson, Anthony Gryll, Marvin Strickland, Florence DeVito, Katherine Mrosek, Caroline Rubacha, Alice Bunce, Olga Kwash, Joseph DeSimoine, Ernestine Maynard, Ernestine Montie, Francis Barlow, June Iloomie, Mary Currie, Samuel Silverstein, Angelo Massolini, Eleanor Simler, Marion Fraser, E. Waldo Hyson, William Brennan.

Pearl Dreger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dreger, Andover, in addition to her scholastic record, has been captain of the freshman girls' track club, a member of the girls' varsity hockey team for three years and of the girls' varsity basketball team for two years, a member of the girls' tumbling team one year and the Life Saving team one year, and is in the Leaders Class. She took part in this year's triangular debate and held the position of vice-president of the club. She was secretary of the travel club, a member of the class photograph committee and of the student-faculty activities committee, assistant-editor of Somanhia, and is vice-president of the senior class.

Marjorie Wilson is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James B. Wilson, a member of the Life Saving team one year, and is in the Leaders Class. She took part in this year's triangular debate and held the position of vice-president of the club. She was secretary of the travel club, a member of the class photograph committee and of the student-faculty activities committee, assistant-editor of Somanhia, and is vice-president of the senior class.

William Gray, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Gray, 80 Garden street, is president of the senior class and a member of the staffs of the High School World and Somanhia. He has served three years on the student council. He was captain of the soccer team, a sport which he helped to introduce and in which he has played for three years.

Coach Kelly is forming a scrub team to be composed entirely of freshmen and sophomores. In this way he hopes to avert situations like the one he is facing this spring. Next season when he needs someone he will know where to get him. He intends to form a team of this sort every year. When one team graduates the other team will step in.

The Meriden game instead of being played on April 28 will be moved down the schedule to about June 7 or thereabouts.

The coach stated that a left-handed pitcher with plenty of speed would be able to win practically every game he pitched in the C. C. I. L.

So you see, the team isn't as bad as I had previously painted it. With out being too optimistic, one could say that they have an even chance to land first place.

The team expects most of its opposition to be from the Eastern and Meriden teams. I wonder if the Middletown and West Hartford teams are as unsteady as their last years football teams.

FORMER TEACHER VISITS IN TOWN

Miss Helen Nute Now at Newton High School in Massachusetts.

Miss Helen Nute, former M. H. S. English teacher who is at the present time teaching at Newton High school in Massachusetts, spent the past weekend at Manchester.

Miss Nute renewed her acquaintance with many of her old friends of Manchester, among whom are several of the present M. H. S. faculty. During her years at M. H. S., Miss Nute spent much of her time coaching High-school dramatics.

Miss Nute takes an active part in most faculty plays at Newton and also coaches the annual senior play, which is the most important dramatic production of the year. She is a graduate of Radcliff and has received her Ed. M. from Oxford University, in England. During her second trip abroad, Miss Nute visited the Passion Play at Oberammergau and traveled alone through Italy and Germany.

CINDER NEWS

Although it was stated in a recent issue of the Courant that Manchester is "optimistic" over the prospects of a very good season this year, this is not Coach Wigren's opinion. "Pete" expects a fair season with an even break in the dual meets but he does not give the team much of a chance in the interscholastic events.

It is rumored that "Bing" Fraser local sprint flash is working at school and will not be able to compete this spring.

George Leary furnished the upset of the tryouts by winning the half-mile in 2:15 and in so doing defeated the favorite Barney "Locomotive" Shedd.

In our opinion Leary looked most impressive and will probably prove to be a consistent point getter. He has a fast pace, plenty of stamina, and a sprint that should carry him to the tape well in front of many of his rivals.

Lockhart Rogers, the fellow who recently sprung by surprise by breaking the old record in the broad jump, has been showing up well in practice and may develop into a reliable high-jumper as well as a star in the broad.

The meet Friday will begin promptly after school at the West Side Track and although Coach Wigren isn't making any predictions, Manchester should furnish Hartford High plenty of opposition.

FRESHMEN TO MAKE BOOK ILLUSTRATIONS

GASOLINE DANGER RIVALS DYNAMITE

Fire Chief Tells C. Y. P. of Precautions and Protective Devices.

Several M. H. S. students had the pleasure of hearing Albert Foy, chief of the South Manchester Fire Department, speak Sunday evening as a guest of the C. Y. P. Club at the Center Congregational church.

During his speech, Chief Foy stated that in Manchester there are two paid fire officials and one hundred and fifty-five volunteer firemen. Due to the large number of volunteers, it is necessary to have the audible of a fire are as average of one hundred and twenty-five alarms yearly and of this number approximately ninety per cent are "still" alarms.

At this point, the chief stressed the importance of telling where and what kind of a fire you are reporting when putting in a "still alarm." It is difficult for the firemen to know the direction in which the numbers run on all streets in Manchester. If he knows that you are reporting a grass fire—he can look for a grass fire and thus save much valuable time.

Chief Foy explained the danger and foolishness of using gasoline as a cleaning agent in the home. "Gasoline has a fast blow," he stated. "A pint of gasoline can do as much damage as a pound of dynamite."

The chief also explained the importance of understanding and being able to apply artificial respiration. "The Boy and Girl Scout organizations are the most wonderful in the world because they teach a boy and girl just these things. Every boy and girl should go through the training," the chief stated.

Chief Foy demonstrated an H. H. Inhalator which he brought with him as well as the use and importance of the Burrell gas mask. Several smaller articles of great importance were also discussed by the chief.

One of the audience asked Mr. Foy which one of the many fires he has attended was the worst. "The school fire back in '14—by all means," he answered quickly. "That fire was so hot we couldn't get near enough to put it out. Thanks to the careful training and drilling before the fire, however, not one of the eight hundred students was as much as scorched. That's why we advocate more fire drills," the chief concluded.

ECONOMIC STUDENTS VISIT PAPER MILLS

Group from Mr. Johngren's Class Inspects Lydall & Foulds and the Colonial Board Co. Mills.

A week spent by Mr. Johngren's fifth period economic geography class on the study of lumber, climaxed on Friday, with a trip through two local paper mills taken by several students.

Kenneth Beebe, Roberts Hansen, Robert Salmund and Susan Wigold enjoyed a visit with Mr. Johngren to the Lydall & Foulds and the Colonial Board Co. mills, which are located in Parkerville. The trip was especially interesting in that the students were enabled to see the difference in manufacturing paper at the two plants, by two different processes.

On Monday, these students gave reports of their visit to the rest of the class, illustrating their reports with blackboard sketches of paper mills. Visits to Cheney Mills, San Ami, Chance Young and other manufacturing concerns in the vicinity are being planned by Mr. Johngren.

CANADA IS IN RED OVER 135 MILLION

But Report Shows an Improvement of 22 Millions Over Last Year.

Ottawa, April 12.—(AP)—A deficit of $185,300,000 for the fiscal year ended March 31, 1934, an improvement by $22,500,000 over the previous year, was revealed in an expected annual account tonight by H. N. Rhodes, minister of finance. It was Rhodes' third budget during the troublous years he has held office, and he was able to speak in a happier vein than on the two previous occasions, in spite of the substantial addition to the National Debt.

"The fiscal year which just closed has been a year of recovery," he declared, "recovery that is unmistakable and of greater magnitude than many had thought possible." He named numerous proofs in support of this declaration.

Practically the whole of the decrease in the deficit came through trimming ordinary expenditure, which the minister observed had now been reduced to a level beyond which it would be impossible to go. The deficit on ordinary account was $84,300,000 as compared with $48,300,000 last year, a betterment of $36,000,000.

Total expenditures on ordinary account reached $347,700,000 and ordinary revenue amounted to $263,400,000.

Capital expenditures, unemployment relief and other special expenditures brought the deficit up to $76,300,000. Adding to that the losses on operation of the Canadian National Railway system amounting to $58,000,000, brought the net deficit to $134,300,000, as compared with $137,700,000 last year.

The minister announced the government's intention of setting up such legislation as may be necessary to ease the burden of debt on the provinces and explained why it would be impossible to go further and make this applicable to all forms of debt and interest charges.

The total net debt was estimated at $2,781,698,000 as on March 31, 1934, as compared with $2,699,089,000 on the same date last year.

Revenues. The grand total of all revenues was $324,018,000 as compared with $311,380,000 the previous year, while total expenditures were classified as follows: with last year's figures in brackets: Ordinary expenditures $347,700,000 ($348,311,000).

Alford the S. S. Ballona at Milwauke, Wis., April 12.—(AP)—Samuel Insull has notified his attitude toward photographers, but he still isn't ready to talk for the films.

He agreed to pose for photographers, but it was "nothing doing" to all enterprises that he "may something" for movie sound apparatus.

On this, the second stop since the ship left Turkey to return the former utilities financier to America for trial, Insull was watched closely.

Ship's officers joined Burton Y. Berry of the Istanbul American Embassy staff in taking care that the aged captive did not work some scheme to give them the slip and escape to shore.

Insull gave them no reason for alarm. He was up early and watched loading operations for more than an hour. Then he retired to the salon and read a novel.

The teachers of the Wapping schools gave a birthday dinner party at the school last Monday noon to celebrate Morris D. Sullivan's eighty-third birthday which included a fine birthday cake.

There was a party of young people held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter N. Foster last Friday evening in honor of the four young ladies who spent the week-end with Miss Lois Foster.

In past years the oldest annual social event in town was held in Cheney Hall, but of late years the ball has been held in the state armory as the popularity of the ball increased. In 1932 the attendance was over 700.

Harold Clemson of North Elm street has captured the first prize for the most comical "get-up" for a number of years. One of the contraptions which won first prize in recent years was the "Fresh Air Taxi" of radio fame. Hartford, April 12.—(AP)—The seven members of the household of the Rev. and Mrs. Fletcher, D. Parker of Hartford, will try on a little more than 8 cents per meal during the week of May 6.

The family, it became known today, is the first to volunteer to go on the "work relief" diet which will be tested during that week by many Hartford families as a social welfare experiment.

The minister, pastor of the Immanuel Congregational church, has not yet worked out the details of the diet.

The Parker household consists of the pastor, his wife, four children and two grandchildren. The diet will be a "work relief" schedule of payments, cannot exceed $12.80 a week.

At the meeting of the men's group of the Y. M. C. A., Clyde Courtzen, chief of the Milington Volunteer fire department, and Earl Goding, also of Milington, gave an interesting talk on the work and equipment of their organization and its value to the community.

Let us help you to pay your taxes. You can conveniently repay us a small amount monthly out of your income.

Baton Rouge, La., April 12.—(AP)—State Senator J. T. Sanders, Jr., Anti-Huey Long candidate, has the lead today as returns came in from the Sixth District Primary to nominate a successor to the late Representative Soliver E. Kemp, but returns from 22 precincts will determine whether a run-off primary is necessary.

Sanders and Harry D. Wilson, State Commissioner of Agriculture, were the two high men in the race. The unofficial count from 180 of the 202 precincts gave Sanders a lead of 1,790 votes over Wilson, but Sanders lacked 31 votes of having a majority of those cast for the five candidates, indicating that a run-off primary must be held between Sanders and Wilson unless one noses out the other with a majority in the precincts to report.

The 180 precincts gave Sanders 14,276 votes and Wilson 12,518.

Murphy J. Sylvest, former state representative, was third with 1,188 votes; John B. Nelson, clerk of court of Livingston parish, was fourth with 465 and E. M. Whitman, of Amite, fifth with 219.

Senator Long took no part publicly in the primary campaign as he did in a riotous special election called by Governor O. K. Allen last December.

TERRY GREATLY PLEASED WITH CHAMPION GIANTS

New York Manager Admits Team Had Him Worried a Little in South But Display Against Phils Yesterday Removes His Fears.

By EDWARD J. NEIL
New York, April 18.—(AP)—You could almost see the catenary feathers sticking out of the corners of Bill Terry's mouth—he was so pleased with the world in general and his world champion Giants in particular.

"They had me worried a little in the south, but I'm afraid everything is going to be very much all right," he grinned. "They sure look good in there. This is quite a ball club."

The Giants had just finished picking up against the Phillies in the opening game of the season exactly where they left off last fall against the Washington Senators.

Hubbell in Form
But there was Carl Hubbell, anything but a champion this spring, pitching beautifully again.

"Yep," said Terry, "the only two men I'm worried about on this club now are Mel Ott and myself. We're not hitting. But speaking directly for one and on behalf of the others, we will. And did you see the crowd out there? Must have been 37,000 people. Say last year we didn't see that many in the stands until we hit the world series."

The experts had agreed the Giants were due to get off badly looking Cris, who has an infected foot, and Gus Mancuso, sturdy catcher. Cris will have to battle Bloddy Ryan for the second base job when the Mississippi boys get back.

Ryan never missed a gulp. "That's Wilson," he said, "hitting another homer."

SECOND HALF HONORS ARE WON BY IRELAND

Ireland captured the second half title of the British-American bowling league at Murphy's alleys by taking three out of four points from Scotland in the roll-off match, winning total pinfall by 76 pins. Ireland lost the first game by 29 pins but came back to hit the brilliant team single of 610 in the second game and 628 in the third to clinch the match.

Stevenson nosed out Poots for high single with 144 while Poots led 145, but the team won high three-string honors by the same margin, hitting 860 to Stevenson's 859.

Carolyn Hits Twice Her Weight On Links—And Can She Putt!

San Antonio, Tex., April 18.—Standing player in the state and probably the nation. Two years ago Carolyn took up golf. The veteran pro, Willie McGuire of the Houston Country club, showed her the basic principles of the game.

Now she wears the San Antonio women's municipal crown, scoring a 6 and 4 triumph over Mrs. J. Lee Wilson, city and state municipal title holder, in the finals. Carolyn breezed through the meet with scores in the low eighties, although she had been around the course but twice before.

Carolyn's first tournament campaign will come this summer. She plans to compete in the San Antonio city tourney, the Texas Women's Golf association meet at Dallas and the Southern women's championship at New Orleans. Mrs. Peggy Chandler, former Texas women's champion and one of the greatest female shotmakers in the South, believes Carolyn "the finest prospect, without doubt, in the history of Texas women's golf."

JOE FARR IS HOST TO BOWLING LOOPS

Eighty Members of NRA and Merchants Leagues Entertained With a Banquet.

Joe Farr, owner of the Charter Oak alleys, was host last night at a banquet to the NRA and Merchants bowling leagues at Urbans Orono's cottage on Bolton Lake. Close to eighty persons were in attendance and enjoyed a delicious Orono dinner of chicken and spaghetti. Following the dinner, entertainment was presented that included song and musical sketches, a number of them by members of the leagues. Buddy Bost and his orchestra furnished dinner music and also entertained later, while George Smith featured with several novelty numbers on the banjo. Mr. Farr was given a hearty vote of thanks, but no speeches were given at all, as the event was given over entirely to a good time.

NINE "BEST" HORSES IN KENTUCKY DERBY

Louisville, Ky., April 18.—(AP)—With little more than two weeks remaining before the running of the sixtieth Kentucky Derby at Churchill Downs, nine thoroughbred owners have nominees conceded the best chances to win the $80,000 added stake May 6.

The constantly shifting Derby odds indicate that turf owners with the strongest nominees are A. B. Gordon with Sir Thomas, Charles T. Fisher with Mala Hari, Norman W. Church with Rikulus, Mrs. John Hay Whitney with Singing Wood, and Mrs. I. D. Sloane with Cavalcade and Time Clock.

Slightly less favored in the public eye are the chances of Colonel E. K. Bradley with Baraar and Baker's Dosen, Alfred G. Vanderbilt with Discovery, and Mrs. Payne Whitney with Black Buddy and John Simonetti with Sergeant Byrne.

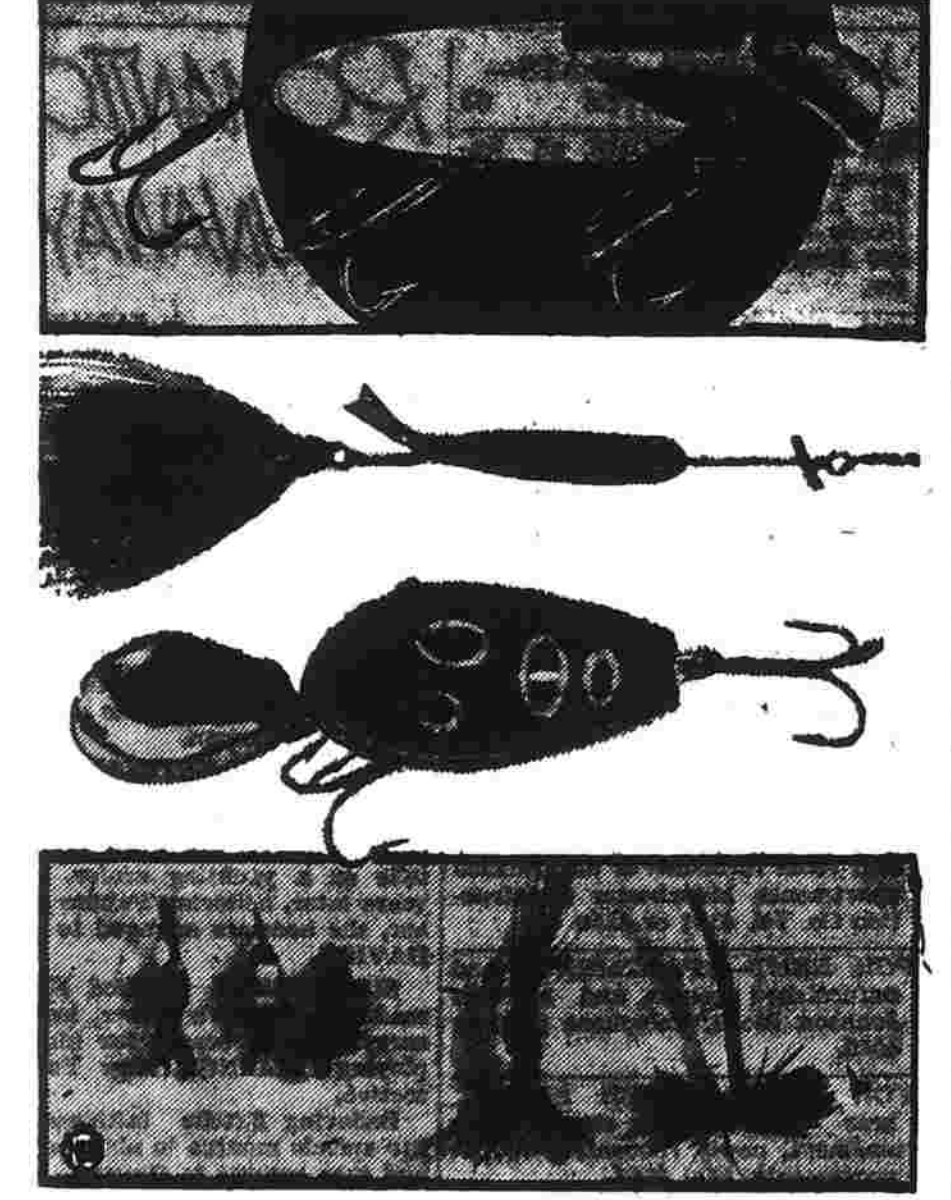

START PLAY TODAY.
White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., April 18.—(AP)—Weather permitting, the 14th annual Mason and Dixon tennis tournament, twice postponed on account of rain, will get under way today.

Here's What's New In Fishin' Tackle

Here are several new fish coolers on the market this year. Top is the improved bass-oreno; next is the "smacker" minnow, made in both bait and fly rod size; under it is the "flip-flap" combination spoon and wooden body bait casting lure, and below are five varieties of new nymph flies for trout.

FUN A-FISHIN'

By JIMMY DONAHUE
NEA Service Sports Writer

With pockets just a little fuller than last year, a greatly increased membership of the clan of old Ike Walton is storming fishing tackle counters all over the country to paw over and purchase new items designed to entice members of the finny tribe from their families and friends.

Probably the greatest development in the tackle line this year is the perfection of hollow steel bait and fly casting rods. Your correspondent has seen three makes of this type, made from hollow, drawn steel.

With two of them he took the "blindfold test." This consisted of being blindfolded and given one of the new rods to hold in one hand and a bamboo in the other. Then you are supposed to guess which is which—and, brother, you can't do it.

This new steel offering may settle the old question as to which is the perfect of hollow steel—the steel unit or bamboo. The steel unit has all the lightness of bamboo, plus the flexibility of the metal.

It will outlast a bamboo rod, as the name of one, "Life Pal," would indicate. The steel fly rod, coming in three pieces, is a real work of art.

Most new rods have offset handles and automatic locking devices which completely remove the peaky possibility of the reel falling off into 30 or 40 feet of water just when a stirring fight with a bass is at its height.

Reel development has been a bit backward, due, perhaps, to the height of excellence already reached in this item of tackle. There is one new unit out, however, which is quite an improvement. It is a "no-tangle" affair, designed to prevent backlashes. In addition to the reel, the manufacturer has produced "governor-control" units which may be fitted to standard reels of other makes.

Then there's the "duo-paul" idea, which gives you two pauls in one. When one end of this part of the reel wears out under the heavy duty of the level-wind mechanism, it can be reversed.

Fly-rod reels are pretty much the same, with the exception of a few new automatic units being offered. Sure casting outfits and reels for use in deep sea angling have differed in one all-important respect—they have been produced in a low-priced class and are very serviceable.

As to casting baits and fly rod lures, numerous new ones have been added. Among them is the

CUBS PITCHER BLANKS REDS BUT IS TOUCHED FOR SINGLE IN NINTH

Hurls in Mid-Season Form to Win, 6-0; Giants, Dodgers and Cards Also Win in National; Senators, A's, Tigers and Indians Victors in American Loop.

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Major league baseball clubs today settled down to the serious business of daily games, hopeful a glorious round of opening contests had set the keynote for the entire season.

Encouraged by fine weather, the fans poured through the turnstiles in greater numbers yesterday than in either of the past two season inaugurals, although the aggregate attendance fell far short of the 1931 record turnout of 249,010. In all more than 187,000 attended the eight opening games.

Giants Trim Phils
The world champion New York Giants attracted a crowd beating their high station, about 87,000, and the faithful were rewarded by seeing Carl Hubbell, last year's world hero pitch four-hit ball to beat the Phillies, 6-1.

The rebuilt Red Sox were the leading attractions of the American League as they clashed with the champion Washington Senators. The crowd of 33,336 which filled Fenway Park was one of the best on record in Boston and it had plenty of thrills in an eleven inning game which Washington won 6-5.

Misses Perfect Game
Throngs of around 30,000 also appeared at Brooklyn where the Dodgers inaugurated Casey Stengel's managerial reign by seeing the Boston Braves 6-7 in an exciting slugfest, and at Cincinnati where the first view of the rebuilt Reds proved mostly to be a view of Lonnie Warneke, Chicago's stellar right-hander.

Pitching in Midseason form, Warneke missed a no-hit-no-run by one throw as he blanked the Red Legs 6 to 0 and whiffed 13 batters. Cincinnati did not get a hit until after one was out in the ninth when Adam Comorosky connected for a single.

A's Nose Out Yanks
The Athletics staged a rally to defeat the highly touted Yankees 6-5 in a mixed up game which saw 13 passes given out.
With 11,000 fans looking on, Cleveland's Indians made eight hits good for a 5-2 to two victory over Rogers Hornsby's Browns as Earl Averill smacked in three tallies with a homer and a double.
Mickey Cochrane and his Detroit Tigers showed a new brand of scrappiness as they converted six blows into an 8-3 triumph over Chicago.

The St. Louis Cardinals, with Dizzy Dean holding forth on the mound pounded out the day's high total of 13 hits and trimmed the Pittsburgh Pirates, 7 to 1.

NET DATES SHIFTED
New York, April 18.—(AP)—As compensation for the loss of the National doubles championship, the Longwood cricket club's annual invitation tennis tournament, usually a July fixture will be held this season starting August 6.

The National Doubles were awarded this year to the German-Lowis cricket club, Philadelphia, which has not conducted a major feature since the Davis cup matches in 1927.

The time has come, my sweet-heart said, to speak of many things: of kitchen stinks, salt-risin' bread, a horse, and wedding rings. But I—I am so shy and scamper from such things. For he might try to fence my sky and then go and clip my wings.

The theater was in an uproar. Manager—They're calling for the author.
Man Responsible for the Play—But I can't make a speech!

Mother—Meth, I'm surprised at your putting out your tongue at people.

Beggar—Fine, now I can get in a crap game.

TOWN STOCK TAX SHARE IS $6,604

Vernon's Portion Much Larger and New Britain's Is Considerably Smaller.

Manchester's share of the distribution of $995,702.84 to towns in the corporation stock tax levied on the stock of national banks, trust companies and insurance companies this year amounts to $6,604.

The amounts to be paid to towns surrounding Manchester are as follows: Lebanon, $67; Hebron, $72; Columbia, $79; Coventry, $88; Ellington, $430; Glastonbury, $1,887; Vernon, $14,014.81.

Perusal of records in the state tax department reveals that there are several towns in the vicinity of Manchester which receive less from the town taxes than from state aid.

Manchester itself, of course, receives far more from town taxes than from state aid in 1932. The local tax receipts were $856,867 and $44,313 was received from state aid, or a percentage of 5.17.
