NATION MOURNS WOODIN'S DEATH; WAS LONG SICK

Former Secretary of the Treasury Victim of Throat Infection — President Saddened at News.

New York, May 4.—(AP)—William H. Woodin, was mourned today by the Nation which he helped pilot through the 1933 banking crisis, as secretary of the Treasury. The frail little man, died last night of complications which followed a throat infection. He would have been 66 years old May 27. The throat trouble developed last summer and forced him to leave the Treasury post in November. When told of Woodin's death

WILLIAM H. WOODIN

President Roosevelt said at Washington: "I am deeply shocked and distressed by the passing of my dear friend."
An industrialist at the expense of a death came. A warm friend of Mr. Roosevelt, he talked affectionately of the President shortly before the end.

Pictureque Official Woodin made a picturesque Cabinet officer. He liked to play the guitar—and he did it well. Postage stamps, prints and objects of art, all of which he collected, were other hobbies of the mild mannered man. He had a boyish spirit that prevailed no matter how solemn the occasion and he smiled his way through his enormous tasks in Washington.

BURNED TO DEATH IN FIRE ON PIER

$3,000,000 Conflagration in Brooklyn Ruins Rich Tropical Cargoes.

Brooklyn, N. Y., May 4.—(AP)—Rich tropical cargoes smoldered in ruins today on an old Brooklyn pier that was wrecked by fire, bringing death to one man and causing damage estimated at $3,000,000. The blaze, feeding on piles of crude rubber, gum, feathers, bamboo and general cargoes, transformed pier 88, in the Atlantic Basin, into a roaring furnace. Five alarms were sounded, calling 260 firemen, four fire boats and 35 pieces of land apparatus, and it was not until 10:20 o'clock last night—almost five hours after it was discovered—that the fire was brought under control. Albert Bennett, 70 years old, assistant to the general superintendent, was burned to death. A watchman, Thomas Hanson, was trapped at the far end of the pier, but was carried to safety on a tug. Another watchman, Ray Elwood, was burned as he struggled away from the flames, and more than 80 firemen were cut or affected by the smoke. The pier slip was empty, the pier having been loaded with the cargoes of several freighters, the last of which departed Sunday. The fire was believed to have started in the center of the pier, but the cause was not immediately determined.

AWAIT PERMIT TO WORK PART OF SILK MILLS

Code Authority Asked to Allow Cheney to Operate Some Departments Dur- ing Suspension Week.

While silk manufacturers in other industrial centers and labor leaders in New Jersey protested the Silk Code Authority order for suspension of all silk manufacture the week of May 14, Cheney Brothers today petitioned the Authority for permission to operate certain departments on orders already received and which must be delivered by a certain date. Announcement of those departments that will be operated, if the permission is granted, awaits the decision of the Authority.

Expected Next Week.

Cheney Brothers have not entered any protest against the suspension order, the local firm's only reaction being the exception from the order petitioned for today. Since members of the Authority do not meet daily it is not expected that any reply to the Cheney request will be received until the first of next week. What they will do. In the meantime employees in the local mills are discussing what they will do with their enforced vacation. For some it will be a welcome period for planting gardens, going fishing or helping the wife clean house, but for most of them it will be a hard week's wages at a time when work hasn't been very plentiful. Merchants in town feel that the suspension will mean the loss of some business, but on the other hand they believe that any action that will help the silk market will eventually improve conditions in Manchester.

Union Leader's Opinion

"I don't know what to make of it," President Arthur Short of Local 2225, United Textile Workers of America, said when asked today what his opinion was on the order of the Silk Code Authority to have all silk mills in the country closed.

TREATS OF DEATH FROM KIDNAPING

Members of Robles Family Disclose Contents of Some of the Notes Received.

Tucson, Arizona, May 4.—(AP)—Threats of death hung over two members of the Robles family today for failure to pay the $15,000 ransom they have been trying to give kidnapers for the last three days. Revealing a hitherto undisclosed threat of the ransom note delivered to Fernando Robles, a few hours after his daughter, June, was kidnapped April 25, the elderly grandfather of the six-year-old girl said death was decreed for both Fernando and his little girl unless the $15,000 was paid. "They threatened to kill not only the baby but my Fernando, if the money was not given," she told an interviewer. She expressed the conviction the kidnaping was the work of persons in Tucson where she believes June is held.

Money Is Waiting

"My son each night makes the trip those people ask him to. The money was there. What can we do? They do not come. If only they would come!" While the contents of the original ransom note never have been publicly disclosed, authoritative sources said today the family mother of the girl's father drove along a one-way road until certain signals were received when he was to toss the money out and continue without stopping. Meanwhile, from Carlos G. Robles, uncle of the victim, came a denial of rumors that Alphonso Aguirre, chauffeur for Bernabe Robles, on a search for the girl last week-end in Sonora, Mexico, was acting as an intermediary between the family and the kidnapers. All authorities remained out of the investigation, while the family awaited word from the kidnapers. Official investigation was stopped at the family's request to allow unhindered negotiations for June's return.

TREASURY BALANCE

Washington, May 4.—(AP)—The position of the Treasury May 2: Receipts, $140,678,642.24; expenditures, $158,127,586.06; balance, $2,346,219,928.78. Customs receipts for the month, $1,316,045.88. Receipts for the fiscal year (since July 1) $3,528,869,257.49; expenditures, $5,586,224,923.22. Total $1,997,798,172.74 of emergency expenditures; excess of expenditures, $3,589,860,684.73. Gold assets, $7,765,918,898.63.

Reunion in Manhattan

Reunited with their two-week-old daughter, whose abandonment caused their arrest five days before, Maurice Martin, 21, and his 20-year-old wife, Dorothy, are pictured as they prepared to leave New York Foundling Hospital for their home in Southbridge, Mass. The parents, whom the grand jury refused to indict, rebaptized their child before leaving the city.

TRADE WAR NOW LOOMS BETWEEN BRITAIN, JAPAN

Tokyo Says It Is Prepared— Britain Warns Against Japanese Commerce

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

If Great Britain declares a trade war on Japan—as dispatches from London indicate, she may—the Tokyo government will be ready.

Months ago, Japan prepared for just such a conflict.

The Cabinet of Premier Saifu fought through to passage in the Imperial Diet a trade protection act which gives the government power to quickly raise or lower Japanese import tariffs by executive order and at the same time to limit or prohibit imports of exports.

British Warning

Comment was not immediately forthcoming in Tokyo today on the warning given Japanese Ambassador Tameo Matsudaira by Walter Runciman, president of the British Board of Trade, that Great Britain may institute widespread retaliations and possible trade war unless Japan renounces her textile trade. It was understood the ambassador today a report of their meeting to Tokyo last night. Runciman announced he would make a statement on the situation before the House of Commons early next week—indicating he expected an immediate reply from Japan. To Stop Compromise Runciman told Matsudaira that Britain will move vigorously to stem Japanese textile trade.

AMERICAN WOMAN ON LEAGUE BOARD

Miss Sarah Wambaugh of Cambridge, Mass., to Arrange for Plebiscite.

Geneva, May 4.—(AP)—A committee of three, including an American woman, was named today to make arrangements for the plebiscite which will determine the future of the industrially important Saar valley. Members of the group, named by the League of Nations are Miss Sarah Wambaugh of Cambridge, Mass., a native of Cincinnati, who is recognized internationally as an authority of plebiscites, Professor Bindo Galli, president of the Court of Appeal at Genoa, Italy, and Justice A. Nypel of the Holland Supreme Court. The committee will prepare regulations for the vote which will determine whether the Saar basin returns to Germany, which owned it before the war, remains a League of Nations protectorate or is annexed to France. The plebiscite will be held in 1935 and is regarded as of major importance because of the possible repercussions in international politics. Method of Voting The committee will prepare rules

BANK FAILURE IS BLAMED ON RAIL MAGNATE

Senators Told That 30 Mil- lion Crash Was Caused by Big Loans Made to Van Sweringen.

Washington, May 4.—(AP)—Investigators reported to a Senate committee today that the policies which led to the failure of the $36,000,000 Union Trust Company of Cleveland were dictated by Joseph R. Nutt and that he was "influenced" by the Van Sweringens. Nutt, former treasurer of the Republican National committee, and O. F. Van Sweringen, railroad manager, are under indictment for what investigators term a "window dressing" loan to the bank. Nutt once was president of the institution.

Causes of Crash

It held the bank's failure was due to "unsound banking practices over a period of years." Among the practices named were "heavy investment in real estate," "excessive concentration of loans to the Van Sweringen and Eaton interests," "loan to officers, directors and their affiliated corporations," "a bad dividend policy and inadequacy of reserves." Pecora's report, prepared by Frank J. Meehan, his chief statistician, and Walter H. Seymour, charged general use of "window dressing" practices by the bank and suggested that Nutt had obtained advance notice of bank calls. "These window dressing transactions were consummated prior to the call date," the report said. "This supports the conclusion that notice was given to the Union Trust Company sufficiently in advance to permit the officers to negotiate the transactions necessary to carry out their desire."

Other Conclusions

Other conclusions reported were: Loans to the Van Sweringens.

ROOSEVELT ASKS FOR COOPERATION

Warns Business Men Against Crying "Wolf"—His Mes- sage Applauded.

Washington, May 4.—(AP)—Big business, warned by President Roosevelt against crying "wolf" today, voted its opinion of the New Deal.

Applause Follows

Applause followed the reading of the message. A few minutes earlier Roosevelt called on students of the convention to acclaim Representative Snell of New York, Republican leader, with shouts and applause when he was introduced to the body. Resolutions on various phases of the New Deal were proposed for consideration of the delegates after

BRITISH ARMED FORCES ARE SENT TO ARABIA

Italy Sends Warships To the Danger Zone

Rome, May 4.—(AP)—The Italian government today ordered three light warships to Hodeidah to protect Italian subjects and property which may be endangered by the conflict in Yemen. The order for the dispatch of the warships to the danger area came from Benito Mussolini as premier and minister of the Navy. The official communique stated: "In view of the events happening

HARTFORD EMBEZZLER GETS PRISON SENTENCE

Four to Nine Years for In- surance Man Who Stole $58,000 — Pleads Guilty to the Charge.

Hartford, May 4.—(AP)—John H. Schmidt, Jr., former superintendent of the Bonding Department of the Hartford Accident and Indemnity Company pleaded guilty in Superior Court today to embezzlement of $58,000 with intent to defraud the company, and was sentenced to prison for four to nine years. State's Attorney Hugh M. Alden, who arraigned the accused, said that Schmidt had been a trusted employee of the company for 15 years and a very valuable man in the surety department. His salary had been reduced somewhat because of economic conditions. The bench warrant which was issued on Schmidt by County Detective Edward J. Hickey at the Hartford hospital today, where Schmidt had been undergoing treatment for a fractured skull, charged embezzlement covering a period from February 19, 1923 to February 21, 1934. Is Still Sick Schmidt was brought to court in an automobile and remained seated when sentenced. Schmidt began to take money in

ELLIOTT-FISHER DISPUTE ENDED

National Labor Board An- nounces Agreement Be- tween Union and Company

Washington, May 4.—(AP)—The National Labor Board announced an agreement in the dispute between Elliott Fisher company at Hartford, Conn. The dispute involved 4,800 employees but did not develop into a strike. The agreement to which the board is a third party provides: 1. Eight hours shift constitute a day's work on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. 2. All time over eight hours a day or forty a week, and all time work-

FEDERAL AGENTS BUSY IN BOSTON

Investigate Kidnaping and Robbing of Real Estate Broker and His Chauffeur.

Boston, May 4.—(AP)—The robbery and subsequent kidnaping of Samuel Weisberg, real estate operator, and his chauffeur was being investigated today by Federal agents. Department of Justice men entered the case after they learned that the four robbers identified themselves as Federal agents. The robbers told Weisberg they were placing him under arrest. Weisberg was beaten over the head with a revolver, robbed of about $1,000 and then left in his car with his chauffeur yesterday. The pair were kidnaped at Leverett and Minna streets in the west end section and were driven to another part of the district, where they were robbed and left. Three young boys who watched four men force George McCluskey, 19, Weisberg's chauffeur, into the trunk of a car, were seen by police when he was a holdup. Visited Barber Shop Weisberg, as has been his daily habit for the past 21 years, visited the barber shop of Louis Behrman yesterday. The kidnaping took place as he left the shop. The real estate operator carried with him $475.13 of the funds of a fish company of which his wife is a partner besides a certified check for $1,000 and $1,100 in cash. He had the check and the cash in a trouser pocket. The fish company money, which he was about to deposit in a bank, was in a coat pocket. The thieves missed the bank deposit. Weisberg's Story Weisberg, who is at the Phillips House of the Massachusetts General hospital, said one of the robbers hit him over the head with a revolver when he protested that the "officers" were not taking him in the direction of the Federal building. He received severe lacerations, but his condition was not serious. After kidnaping the pair, the robbers drove to Otis Place, in the west end, took Weisberg's money, hopped out at his machine and raced to a waiting car in which they disappeared. Neither Weisberg nor McCluskey was able to identify Regue Gallery pictures as any of the quartet.

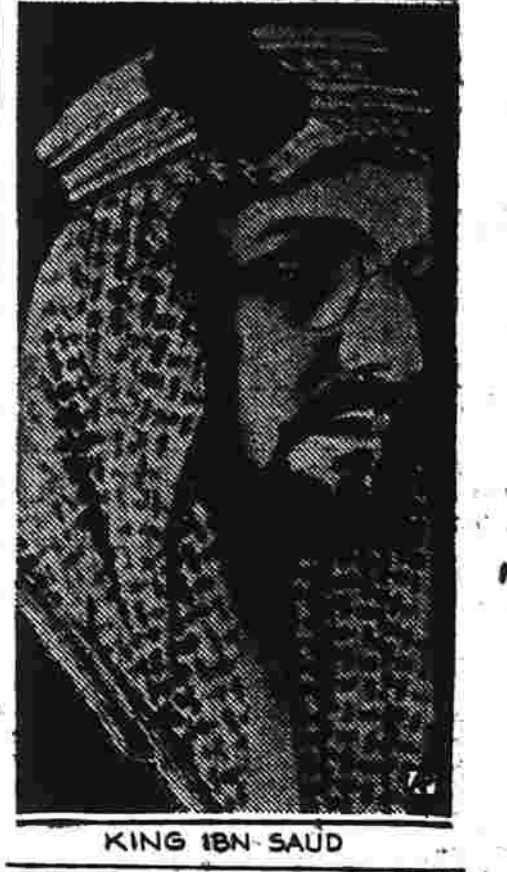

STUDENT KILLED IN HAVANA RIOT

Five Others Wounded When Soldiers Fire Into Crowd; Is Called a "Massacre."

Havana, May 4.—(AP)—Cuban youth cried out today against the slaying of one High school student and the wounding of five others by government soldiers. Their leaders called it "massacre" and asserted "this is worse than under Machado." Eduardo Chibas, junior student leader called on students of the world to protest this massacre. "I fought Machado (former president Gerardo Machado) six years," Chibas declared, "but I never saw anything like this. It was massacre without cause." Soldiers fired on a group of rioting students yesterday with rifles and sub-machine guns after the students refused to disband a meeting in front of a High school. Old Man Wounded In addition to the students struck, an 85 year old man was wounded in a leg and amputation was necessary. One of the soldiers was wounded slightly in the wild firing. Chief of Police Joseph Pedraza, expressing regret, said the trouble started when one student engaged in a quarrel with a soldier and struck the soldier with his fist. School men and parents joined the students in their protests to President Carlos Mendita. "The attack," said Dr. Gustavo Aragon, principal of the high school was "unprovoked and unqualified." Students stood as guards of honor throughout the night at Havana University alongside the bodies of Ludovico Moreno, who died yesterday as a result of the May Day disorders, and the High school student. After a three hour interview with President Mendita, Colonel Fulgencio Batista, leader of the army, described the President as "profoundly depressed." Batista said, however, that he was not disposed to permit disorders which students are trying to provoke.

Wrong Powder Causes Death of 3 Children

Sapulpa, Okla., May 4.—(AP)—Shortly afterward Betty Jo, six; Marie, Kathryn, three, and Wanda Marie, two, died. Those seriously ill are Mr. and Mrs. Barrett, Cora Lucille, 12; Duane, 10; Mildred, 8, and Dorothy, 5. A 7-months old baby was not given any of the poison. Attention of authorities first was directed to the case when Mrs. Clara Hugo, a neighbor, heard screams from the Barrett home. Running to the house she found several of the children in convulsions and unconscious, she called Dr. F. K. Lewis who immediately summoned other physicians. Doctors spent the greater part of the night with the family and announced today that barring complications, the survivors should recover.

KING IBN SAUD

that important South Arabian port as a result of the headlong flight of Yemeni warriors before the conquering troops of Ibn Saud, ruler of Saudi Arabia. Apprehension over the future ambitions of the powerful Ibn Saud in other parts of the Arabic world were overshadowed in British official quarters by alarming reports that a state of anarchy exists in Yemen itself. Reports today said Ibn Saud's formidable military machine was in possession of a great part of Yemen—a state bounded by the Red Sea, the desert and British-controlled Aden. It was indicated that the fighting between Ibn Saud and the Imam Yahya, ruler of Yemen, probably was over, but the danger of widespread disorders brought a new threat to the early establishment of tranquility. May Take Control Pending the restoration of order by Ibn Saud in Hodeidah and other towns evacuated by the retreating Yemeni, British official circles indicated it may be necessary for British authorities to take over control. British armed forces already have been dispatched to the war zone to assure the safety of foreign residents and interests. It was indicated Italy and France—whose Arabian connections compel their interest in the situation—may also make some move. Meanwhile, nomads of the desert are reported to be rushing into Hodeidah and looting the city, the capture of which Ibn Saud is reported to have made certain by putting the Yemeni to utter rout. A British warship lay in Hodeidah harbor today, but it could not be learned immediately whether any patrols had been landed or whether Ibn Saud's army had arrived to take control of the fallen city. It was said in government quarters that there are 300 British subjects in Hodeidah. The British commander of the sloop Penance, sent to Hodeidah to protect British nationals, was instructed to keep the government informed of developments. Some Reports There still was no confirmation today of reports that the Imam of Yemen was dead, but it was pointed out that there are no British sources of information in Sana, the ruler's capital. One version is that the report may have been circulated purposely to aid a revolutionary movement in Yemen, although it is known that the ruler held thousands of hostages at Sana and that they may have seized an opportunity to slay him. With reports that Wahabi Fundamentalists Mohammedan war troops were not far behind the Imam of Yemen on the way to Hodeidah, a spokesman for the Arab League in London said the Associated Press today that the Imam "should reach Hodeidah if they have not already arrived there." Asked if the Imam will push on to Sana as well as to the frontier, he said: "That depends on the Imam. The Imam has an army of 10,000 men."

TO SHOW PICTURE OF CHRIST'S LIFE

Religious Story in Sound and Color to Be Shown at Second Congregational Church.

Rev. F. C. Allen of the Second Congregational church has arranged with Aaron Radding, formerly of this town, for a showing of the famous Pathe motion picture, "The Life of Christ", at the church on Tuesday evening of next week at 8 o'clock. Mr. Radding as agent for the concern has shown the picture in most of the large centers not only in this state but throughout the East, furnishing the complete equipment for sound and music. Wherever it has been shown it was enthusiastically received.

The picture was made near Oberammergau, Bavaria, where the famous Passion Play is presented every ten years. The beauty of the colors and impressive scenes, reverently enacted by the principals, combined with skillful projection and perfect equipment, make this picture one that neither adults or children should miss.

There will be no admission but a free will offering will be received to cover expenses.

ESCAPED PRISONER REPORTED CAPTURED

Chester, Ill., May 4.—(AP)—Warden Joseph Ragen of Southern Illinois penitentiary announced that James O'Connell, who with Randolph Eugene Norvel, kidnap gang leader, has been a fugitive from the prison, was captured this morning near Alto Pass, Ill.

Warden Ragen said capture was by a group of prison guards and that O'Connell surrendered without resistance. He quoted O'Connell as saying Norvel was near-by and exhausted by the chase.

O'Connell, 33-year-old burglar, was exhausted and hungry and unarmed when taken, Ragen said. Norvel, leader of the gang convicted of kidnaping August Luer, Alton, Ill., bank president, last summer, and O'Connell escaped from the Chester prison last Friday by working their way through a sewer outlet to the Mississippi river. A posse of more than 200 men searched for them for several days.

ASHES OF DR. WELCH BURIED IN NORFOLK

Senator Walcott and Dr. Harvey Cushing Attend Services in Connecticut Town.

Norfolk, Conn., May 4.—(AP)—In keeping with his wish, the ashes of Dr. William H. Welch, eminent pathologist, were buried today in a cemetery in Norfolk, his native town.

Several notables, among them Dr. Harvey Cushing, the noted brain specialist, and United States Senator Frederic Walcott of Connecticut, attended the simple committal services at the Welch family plot in Center cemetery.

Dr. Welch died Monday in Baltimore at Johns Hopkins. His remains were cremated at the crematorium in Norfolk where he was born, 84 years ago. Senator Walcott, whose wife was a niece of the famous physician, took personal charge of the funeral arrangements.

The Rev. James H. Potter of the Norfolk Congregational church officiated at the services. Norfolk residents honored the memory of the distinguished fellow citizen yesterday by placing wreaths on the bronze barge at the Hammett house, Dr. Welch's birthplace.

STEAMER HITS ROCKS NEAR BLOCK ISLAND

New London, May 4.—(AP)—The steamer Coastwise of Portland, Me., of 4,015 tons, 356 feet long and crew of 32 men, laden with coal, struck on Cerubus shoals in Block Island Sound while proceeding in a dense fog at 7 o'clock last night and today, her hull damaged, but no immediate danger was at anchor in Block Island Sound near Fort Pond Bay.

Several Coast Guard boats were standing by. The steamer was bound from Newport to New Haven when the accident occurred. A first report to the Coast Guard said the vessel was gaining in her hold and the Coast Guard Cutter Acushnet and the patrol boats CG-192 and CG-406 from Base Four here rushed to assist the craft. Pumping equipment was carried but on arrival alongside the Coastwise, the Coast Guard learned that the crew was successfully combating the water which seeped through damaged plates with the vessel's own pumps.

A Coast Guard report said the steamer bumped off the shoal but her master decided to anchor until the weather cleared. A heavy rain hung over waters in this area today and the Coast Guard said when the weather clears the Acushnet will escort the Coastwise to New Haven.

TEXTILE WORKERS GET PAY INCREASE

Arbitration Board Decides on 5 to 10 P. C. Raise After Long Discussions.

Washington, May 4.—(AP)—Wage increases of five to 10 percent, retroactive to January 26, are provided for employees of the Amoskeag Manufacturing Company of Manchester, N. H., in a decision made public today by the Board of Arbitration which has been studying the Amoskeag problem since March 19.

The decision, which was unanimous, was returned by the Cotton Textile Industrial Relations Board, consisting of Robert Bruere, E. F. Geer and George L. Berry, and Thomas H. Hagan of Boston, employers' representatives, and John H. Powers of Pawtucket, R. I., special representative of the employees.

The wage question was determined on a basis of wages paid for other operations in other comparable mills and the decision is of extreme interest to the Amoskeag company, which has 600 employees, in the largest single unit in the industry and the case is the first major wage controversy to be settled by arbitration since the creation of the Textile Industrial Relations Board.

In announcing the decision to F. C. Dumaine, representing the Amoskeag management, and Horace Riviere, representing the employees, petitioners for the arbitration, the board said:

"In response to your request the board has enlarged its membership for the purpose of this arbitration by the addition of John H. Powers, appointed by the United Brotherhood of America, and by Thomas H. Hagan, appointed by the Amoskeag Manufacturing Company. The board so enlarged held hearings in Washington during the five days, March 19-24 inclusive, at which both sides were given the fullest opportunity to present all relevant facts and arguments.

"In addition to the evidence so presented by the parties the board, as a part of the National Recovery Administration, has had access to the most authoritative information with respect to wages in 'other comparable mills.'"

"At a meeting of the board held in Manchester, N. H., on April 6, you jointly agreed to permit 'the representatives of both the employer and the employees to cooperate through their several constituents in broadening the basis of the facts required for making a practical, fair and just determination.' The board has taken full advantage of this authorization to give exactness to the term 'other comparable mills.'"

"Having given thorough consideration to all of the evidence before it, the board has arrived at a unanimous decision. This decision covers all cases of wages presented during the week of March 19, 1934, and submitted to this board for arbitration, namely: one case to ten in the cotton division, one case to two in the worsted division, and cases one, two and three in the mechanical and miscellaneous divisions.

"On the basis of wages paid in 'other comparable mills,' the board finds that the groups of employees listed are entitled to retroactive pay, as there stated, retro-active to February 26, 1934.

"As to all other groups in the cotton and worsted divisions, the board finds that the wages paid by the Amoskeag Manufacturing Company are already as high or higher than the wages paid for similar work in 'other comparable mills.'"

KILLS HIS SWEETHEART THEN ATTEMPTS SUICIDE

Wayne, Neb., May 4.—(AP)—Dr. L. E. Young opened his dental office today and found Nancy Ann Hford, 19, dead in a chair with her wrists slung and his son, Ronald, 20, unconscious on the floor nearby. The youth's wrists also were cut.

Officers expressed the opinion that Ronald chloroformed and killed the girl and then attempted suicide. He may recover, doctors said.

Miss Hford was a sophomore at Wayne Teachers College. Ronald is a freshman at the college.

County Attorney H. D. Addison gave a cause for the slaying. He said they had confessed looting the James Ahern store recently.

He said he believed the young man killed the girl and then attempted suicide rather than face charges of robbery which were about to be filed.

Addison added that the young couple apparently were implicated in a dozen other robberies. A quantity of silk goods was taken from the Ahern store Saturday.

EAGLES RECALLED
Hartford, May 4.—(AP)—The N.R.A. Code Eagle jinx which has followed the attempt to distribute the new emblems in Connecticut continued today, when a telegram was received from Washington by State Compliance Director William S. Meany, directing that all Code Eagles given out to restaurant owners be recalled. A telegram late Wednesday night ordered the director to withhold all Eagles not already sent to members of that industry.

ABOUT TOWN

The Educational club as its final activity for the season will bring the well known lecturer, Sumner B. Vinton, of Roselle, N. J., here for a series of lectures on Thursday, May 31, at the different schools. Teachers and pupils are disposing of the tickets which will be reasonably priced and the profits accruing will be for the nutrition and milk fund of the club. As the season closed, members are reminded of their dues by the treasurer, Mrs. F. P. Handley, and Mrs. L. S. Ewers, president of the Educational club, called attention to the annual meeting which is scheduled for the afternoon of Tuesday, May 15, at the South Methodist church.

John Hutchinson, grand knight of Campbell Council, Knights of Columbus, and Paul Moriarty, junior past grand knight, will represent the local council at the state convention of the order which will open in Middletown on Sunday. The convention will continue through Monday when officers will be elected and delegates to the national convention named.

Mrs. William T. Burgess, chairman of the Sample Fair which is to be held in the Masonic Temple, on Thursday of next week, in response to numerous inquiries, explains that nothing will be sold at the fair but the tickets and they will admit the fairgoers any time between the hours of 2:30 and 9 p. m., continuously. According to Mrs. Burgess, the samples are arriving "thick and fast." The number of tickets is necessarily limited to 500 so that manufacturers may know how many to ship. The fair is being sponsored by the Wesleyan Guild of the South Methodist church.

Mrs. Paul Gustafson was first prize winner and Mrs. John Struff, second, at a bridge given by Mrs. Rose Kronick at her home, 18 Stephens street, Wednesday night. Mrs. Ernest Bush was the winner of the consolation prize. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

The Polish Women's Alliance Society Group 518, is going to hold a banquet at Victory Hall, Golvay street, Wednesday night, May 9, to be held the 15th of May on account of the Turn Hall, which has recently burned down.

John Mikoleit, who has been connected with the Backliffe Oil company at the station on Main street at Hilliard street, has left the employ of that company and is now engaged by Ernest Roy at the Depot Square garage.

CENTER CHURCH PLAY
BRAVE PIONEER TALE

"Rolling Wheels," to Be Given by Junior Children, Follows Prize Story of Days of '45.

"Rolling Wheels," the three-act play to be put on tomorrow afternoon by children of the junior department of Center church Sunday school, is based on Katherine Grey's book of the same name. It is a prize story of the real experiences of a pioneer family who went overland to California in 1845.

The play is full of excitement and color and cannot fail to hold interest. The story in brief follows: Into the peaceful Indiana home of Lisha Lambert and her family bursts fifteen-year-old Jerd who tells the teacher he has come from "California," a land where it is always summer, and where oranges grow like golden apples. After Jerd comes two sisters, Nancy and Betsey, all excitement because the teacher from back East is coming to stay a week with them. The mother, on whom the responsibility of the family weighs rather more heavily than on her husband, who loves "far places," makes hospitable preparations for the coming guests but she wonders fearfully what his influence is to be on her family.

SOCIAL WORKERS OF STATE GATHER

Three Day Conference Opens in New London; Prominent Speakers Present.

New London, May 4.—(AP)—The twenty-fourth annual session of the Connecticut Conference of Social Work which will occupy three days opened this morning at Connecticut College. The central theme of the conference is social work in the new order.

The principal speaker this afternoon was Dr. Hilda Smith, director of adult education of the Federal Emergency Relief Administration, Washington, D. C., who talked on "The New Leisure." The morning speakers were Dr. Antoinette Cannon of the New York School of Social Work whose subject was "The Social Motive" and Dr. Hertha Kraus of the Family Welfare Association of America, former head of the Department of Public Welfare of Cologne, Germany. Dr. Kraus spoke on "The Social Motive in Action."

The opening general session began at 11:30 with Professor Bessie Bloom Wessel, president of the Connecticut Conference of Social Work presiding. An invocation by Rev. Raymond J. O'Callaghan of this city, chairman of the conference, was followed by addresses of welcome to the delegates. These were made by Mayor Alton T. Miner, Ezekiel Spitz, president of the Chamber of Commerce and Dr. Katharine Blunt, president of the Connecticut College.

At the round table meeting held before the general session various phases of the central theme were discussed. A discussion on social problems in rural communities was led by the Rev. A. Wallace Canney of North Westchester. Mrs. Helen B. Levens, publicity director of the Connecticut Children's Aid Society presided at a meeting on finance and publicity for the private agency.

The question of the place of the non-professional in community planning was considered by another group of which Mrs. Edwin Ross of Norwichtown was the chairman. The discussion on this topic was conducted by Mrs. Sophie Robinson of the Welfare Council of New York. A quarterly meeting of the Connecticut association of child caring institutions was held at 9:30 in connection with the conference. The meeting took place at the Lyman Allyn Museum with Harold F. Strong presiding. The speaker was Dr. Arthur H. Ruggles of the Emily Fendleton Bradley home, East Providence, R. I.

At an institute for board members which was also held in the morning in Knowlton House, Miss Margaret F. Cuyington, instructor in the New York school of social work presided.

A luncheon meeting was held from 1:15 to 2:45 at the coast guard academy. Allen B. Lambdin, member of the New London City Council presided. At this time Dr. Smith's address on the new leisure was given.

GUNMAN SHOT TO DEATH BY OFFICERS IN OZARKS

Bloodhounds Used to Track Down Hideout of Desperado; does in Missouri Hills.

Cabool, Mo., May 4.—(AP)—A couple of Ozark bloodhounds were credited today with leading officers and possemen to a hideout where one gunman was killed and a companion wounded and captured. The end of a 24-hour search for the men came near here yesterday after the hounds had trailed the pair seven miles through dense underbrush. The dead man, tentatively identified by officers of the state highway patrol as Harry Williams, about 30, of Evanston, Ill., was killed after he had emptied his pistol at patrolmen and possemen. His companion, who gave his name as Walter Allen, 8, Quincy, Ill., was shot in one arm.

Earlier in the day, officers had arrested a woman who was seen with the men during a chase in which they fired at a patrolman and took pot shots at curious residents of Mountain View, Mo. The woman, believed to be William's wife, was captured a short distance from where the fugitives had abandoned their motor car.

A quantity of allegedly stolen merchandise was found in the machine. Allen said he had met Williams and the woman at Franklin, Ky., a week ago.

HIROTA EXPRESSES JAPANESE POLICY

Foreign Minister Declares Further Talks on Peace Will Be Abolished.

Tokyo, May 4.—(AP)—Foreign Minister Koki Hirota voiced a vigorous expression of Japan's new "Hands Off China" policy today and implied that Japan proposes never again to discuss the question of peace in the Far East with western powers.

Addressing the annual conference of prefectural governors, the foreign minister declared Japan refuses to submit to a repetition of what happened at Geneva in 1932 "when unfortunately Japan's opinions concerning the maintenance of peace in Eastern Asia were rejected—compelling us to secede from the League of Nations."

Although Hirota mentioned only Geneva in this, his first public expression of the Tokyo government's recently enunciated policy toward China, there was a strong implication Japan intends never again to debate Oriental questions on equal terms with the Occident as she did at Washington in 1922 when the nine power treaty was framed.

Referring to the powers treaty rights in China, Hirota said that "if necessary, Japan is willing to exchange views individually with powers concerned about their rights and interests."

The foreign minister restated the main points in recent declarations through which Japan answered the challenges of Great Britain and the United States concerning her policy in Eastern Asia.

Hirota reiterated Japan respects the rights and the rights of other powers in China. Then he added "Japan is the principal protector of the stability and the peace of eastern Asia. "It is Japan's mission to maintain peace and order in Eastern Asia in cooperation with the other countries of the Far East."

"Japan sincerely desires the unification, integrity and prosperity of China which can be attained only through China's own self-awakening efforts."

COL. THEO. ROOSEVELT MUST WORK FOR LIVING

Elected Chairman of Board of American Express Co., Affiliate of Chaste National Bank

New York, May 4.—(AP)—The election of Col. Theodore Roosevelt, former Governor of Puerto Rico and later Governor General of the Philippines, as chairman of the Board of the American Express Company, affiliate of the Chase National Bank, became generally known today.

Col. Roosevelt, in confirming the report, said he had been a member of the board since the first of the year. "This is not my first connection with the banking business," he added, "in 1917, before the United States entered the war, I was with a private banking firm. Neither I nor my wife inherited anything, so we have to rely upon my earnings."

The Chase National acquired its interest in the express company in 1929. The company is engaged in a general financing, travel and forwarding business abroad.

VETS TO DISCUSS ALLIED COUNCIL

Representatives of Ex-Serv-ice Men to Meet at A and N Club Tonight.

Representatives of four ex-service men's organizations will meet at the Army and Navy club tonight to discuss the possibility of forming a local branch of the Allied Council. The plan will be presented to the gathering by Andrew Holzner, who has been securing data from Council branches in 22 different cities where there are now units. The American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Disabled American Veterans and the Spanish War Veterans will be represented at tonight's meeting to hear about the plan. The Allied Council is supposed to unify the work of ex-service men in obtaining governmental recognition and in aiding the cause of veterans who are either ill or unemployed.

HOUSE'S FEATURES MEN'S SPORT WEAR

Local Clothing Store Has Big Stock to Meet Demands This Season.

With the ever increasing popularity of golf the demand for sports wear for men has created an unusually large field for the sale of such products. Many houses producing various lines of men's wear are giving a great deal of thought and attention to producing novelty clothing and furnishings for men who enjoy golf and all other types of sport.

C. E. House & Son, Inc., are featuring a greater assortment of such merchandise this year than ever before. Light weight jackets of various kinds of leather are becoming very popular. They come in either zipper style or button front and you can get them in various shades if you so desire.

All weights of sweaters come in a much more attractive line of patterns this year than ever before. Colors and designs make them much brighter.

Frederick J. Raff, Inc. of Hartford, sole distributor for Universal Electric Refrigerators in this part of Connecticut is opening a branch store at 541 Main street tomorrow.

This location is the former office of the Gas Company.

A full line of Landers, Freary and Clark Universal refrigerators and other major home appliances will be on display. In addition to this the Raff Company features various makes of gas ranges, oil burners and installs heating and air conditioning plants.

The local store will be in charge of Donald Hagstrom. He has had fifteen years' experience in this line of business.

Mr. Raff is especially sold on the Universal refrigerator because, as he says, "the name Universal has come to be a household word with a background of 100 years of business, making household appliances that have always been known for their quality."

WALL ST. BRIEFS

New York, May 4.—The Interstate Credit Corporation's recent statement shows that $14,028,624, or 18 per cent of the fund created by pooling emergency freight revenues through March 31, 1933, has been repaid. The participating roads up to April 30, seven distributions have been made since the corporation began to liquidate last June 1.

H. C. Bohack Company's sales for the four weeks ended April 28 totaled $2,415,818, an increase of 1.3 per cent over last year.

SANDERS RESIGNS AS G. O. P. LEADER

Three Cornered Struggle Follows; Those Mentioned to Succeed Him.

Washington, May 4.—(AP)—A three cornered struggle for control of the Republican Party was precipitated today by the resignation of Everett Sanders as chairman of the Republican National committee.

The contest crystallized overnight into a push between the G. O. P. Old Guard, the forces of Herbert Hoover, and the demand of leaders in the Congressional group now in power for "new blood."

The names of James E. Watson of Indiana, former Senate leader and Frank O. Lowden of Illinois, were spoken frequently today as being outstanding men among the old regulars for the party chairmanship.

On Capitol Hill, however, the survivors of the 1932 Roosevelt landslide who are seeking re-election this fall, talked about new blood. The Congressional minority is far from united on a chairmanship selection.

In New York, Charles D. Hilles, Republican committeeman from that state, asserted the retirement of Sanders "leaves the field open."

A letter from Sanders to members of the committee said:

"I have decided to tender my resignation as chairman of the Republican National committee, to take effect upon the selection of my successor."

"I therefore, in accordance with the rules adopted by the Republican National convention held in Chicago, June 1922, governing the procedure of the Republican National committee, do hereby call a special meeting Tuesday, June 5, at Chicago."

The Chicago meeting held prospect of some power, but many of the many factions and many men of the several factions. Presidential candidates for 1936 enter the picture, but the high hurdle of the fall Congressional campaign intervenes.

Lowden's name was mentioned. The name of former Governor Lowden of Illinois, and candidate against Hoover in 1928 for the Republican Presidential nomination, came quietly but firmly into talk of the new Republican setup last night. It was reiterated at the same time that Frank Knox, Chicago publisher, would not consider the post.

The names of those mentioned as possibilities included: Milton S. Eisenhower, Chicago; Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., and Charles D. Hilles of New York; Senator Dickenson of Iowa; George H. Moses, former Senator from New Hampshire; Ralph E. Williams of Oregon; present vice chairman; Harold MacNider of Iowa, and James E. Goodrich, former governor of Indiana.

LYMAN H. CALL HEADS CIVIL WAR VETERANS

Bridgeport, May 4.—(AP)—The unanimous election and the impressive induction of Lyman H. Call of Meriden as department commander closed the 67th annual department encampment of the G. A. R. here today. Call succeeds Edward T. Abbott of this city.

Mrs. Ida R. Hart of Hartford was elected department president of the Woman's Relief Corps, auxiliary to the G. A. R. Elanthe Minton of Waterbury was elected senior vice president. Mrs. Hart succeeds Mabel H. Nodine of Torrington.

The feature of the final session of the G. A. R. was the announcement by Ira Wilman of Danbury that a recent law provides for $8,000 exemption from taxes for all Civil War veterans over 85 years of age.

Final tributes were paid to retiring Commander Abbott and rising voices of thanks were ordered for Lieutenant Colonel Arthur Bennett, who directed the encampment here. The Elias Howe Post G. A. R. and the City of Bridgeport for sponsoring the encampment.

Other officers elected today were George Lyon of Ansonia, senior vice commander; Casper D. Wallace of Bridgeport, Junior vice commander; Nathan Coe of Hartford, chaplain and Charles L. Russell of Cheshire, medical director.

The Woman's Relief Corps will finish its election and installations this afternoon.

STEAMER IN DISTRESS

Seattle, May 4.—(AP)—A wireless message received by the Coast Guard here today from the Norwegian freighter Chidar, aground in a heavy gale at the mouth of the Columbia river, said, "We have no chance to get out ourselves."

The vessel, carrying a crew of 30, reported that all its life boats had been put overboard and that four had been lost, the message did not say whether any persons were on the lifeboats.

NEED NINE MEN.

Hartford, May 4.—(AP)—With 51 men recruited this morning for the C. C. and sent to Fort H. G. Wright, Fishers Island, only nine more remain to be enlisted in the quota for the Hartford area. It was announced this morning by Lieutenant William Massello.

When its police department came into being more than 100 years ago, London was the most criminal place in the world; there was, on an estimate, one criminal for every 12 of the population in 1828.

ASKS TO MODIFY SECURITIES BILL

National Commerce Chamber Also Urges Further Changes in Bill.

Washington, May 4.—(AP)—The Chamber of Commerce of the United States today adopted resolutions requesting modification of the Securities Act, further revision of Stock Exchange control legislation, approving international silver negotiations and demanding repeal of the wheat processing tax.

Other resolutions urged greater authority to code authorities in NRA; endorse a policy to give code authorities more power in fixing minimum wages and disapproved taxation which discriminated among types of businesses.

One resolution said the Chamber opposed compulsory legislation for unemployment reserves, and advised code authorities to report within six months on a plan for their industries individually.

The Chamber recommended that when the Federal budget is presented a "real" one in accord with actual expenditures be produced.

Another resolution said railroads must be considered the central part of the Nation's transportation policy, and that the government should encourage only voluntary consolidation.

Individual Rights In a resolution entitled "Individual Rights" the Chamber said "the rights which are guaranteed to American citizens, and which they cherish, should always assure them protection in their lawful occupations and lawful enterprises from reliance upon the fallible judgment of persons in official position."

In respect to food and drug laws the Chamber said "any attempt by government authority to impose a censorship in any form upon advertising would be an inexcusable intrusion into private business affairs."

The present emergency bank deposit insurance law should be continued on a temporary basis, the Chamber resolved, calling the permanent plan "unsound and destructive."

Position on Silver

On silver the organization said: "This Chamber has steadily maintained that only international action can successfully deal with silver in its monetary uses. The unquestioned benefits of the two international agreements of the past year confirm the soundness of this position with respect to a metal existing in large supplies."

"In these international agreements the United States had a leading part, and it is now proceeding to carry out its obligations in a manner which gives our own silver producers a price more than twice the price which prevailed in the recent past. The progress which has been made through previous conferences augurs well for the possibilities of further international agreements."

On the Stock Exchange legislation, the Chamber said that while regulation was necessary, Congress should not interfere with the normal functions of exchanges.

The original legislation, the Chamber said, went beyond this theory and recent revisions have not been sufficient. A separate agency,

At the last meeting of the Board of Selectmen, the figures of the debit and credit districts were approved.

LOUGHRAN FIGHTS GERMAN TONIGHT

Expect Betting Will Be at Even Money When Batters Enter Ring.

New York, May 4.—(AP)—They are feeding another young and aggressive heavyweight to Tommy Loughran in Madison Square Garden tonight—blonde Walter Neusel of Germany.

For a time it looked as though the Philadelphia veteran would be a short ender at 8 to 5, but the odds were shrinking rapidly today and indications were they would be at even money by the time the rivals enter the ring for their ten round bout.

Both Primo Carners, heavyweight champion and Max Baer, who'll fight Primo for the title here June 14, think Tommy will win, Baer emphatically so.

"Loughran will blind the Dutchman," said Max. "He pokes left-hand into your face until you begin to think some one's trying to smother you with a leather blanket. I'd like to know as much as that fellow's forgotten about boxing."

AAA RECOMMENDS 'BACK TO GRASS' MOVE FOR FARMS

Washington.—(AP)—What are farmers going to do with the more than 40,000,000 acres, an area larger than Illinois, withdrawn from crop production this year?

"Back to grass" is the answer of the agriculture department.

A picture of the new national plan for agriculture, slowly evolving at the department, might be drawn from remarks of agricultural officials, and it might be titled "Pastoral America" with a pleasanter farm life, more leisure, less drudgery and lower operating costs pictured as its chief advantages.

Joseph F. Cox, chief of the replacement crops section of the A. A. A., says that the "only logical adjustment" in farm production is to "shift to grass" if the high-gear, commercial farming machine is to be slowed down without a jar.

"Sod is a shock absorber that will cushion the adjustment program," he says.

Less Intensive Farming While the replacement crops section is investigating plants producing drugs, insecticides, oils, perfumes, fibres and other products in an effort to find new crops for the abandoned acreage, Cox believes not more than 1,000,000 acres will be used in that way in the next few years.

Chester Davis, farm administrator, has pointed out that sowing more grass is a return from intensive commercial farming to a less intensive system, to the days before the war when farmers had not yet plowed up their blue grass pastures and meadows to plant corn and wheat.

"Grassland farming takes less work than high-pressure plowland farming; it provides, speaking generally, a pleasanter farm life, with lower operating costs, less man-killing and woman-killing drudgery and more leisure," says H. R. Tolley, assistant administrator.

Needn't Increase Livestock The practical effects of grassland farming are explained by Cox. It reduces the production of crops and yet does not necessarily reduce the surplus of livestock products because each cultivated acre produces about twice as much animal substance as does an acre of pasture. About 70 per cent of the present cultivated acreage, he estimates, is used to produce animal feed.

Other uses of various grasses are to prevent erosion by wind or water, choke weed growth, restore soil fertility, and to aid in controlling plant diseases harbored in the soil as a result of long devotion to one crop.

That farmers are turning to grass generally is reflected in an increase in grass seed sales this spring.

Presenting: That First Poppy

The daughter of an Eaton Rapids, Mich., war veteran, three-year-old Muriel Morgan, presents President Roosevelt with the first buddy poppy of 1934. Witnessing the ceremony is James H. Van Zandt, commander-in-chief of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

It said, should be created to administer the act.

The Securities Act, it contended, should be modified to remove unreasonable liabilities, and to permit a normal capital flow.

On the wheat processing tax, the Chamber said experience had shown "unexpected and unintended consequences" and that the exemption of farmers who exchange their wheat for flour should be repealed.

Parents Halt Marriage Of Heiress to Hairdresser

Greenwich, May 4.—(AP)—The romance of Sylvia Martin, 18 year old New York debutante, and her hairdresser fiance, Robert H. Esquele, apparently was at an end today.

"There'll be no marriage," said Mrs. Leonard J. Martin, Sylvia's mother, and added that her daughter had agreed that the romance was a mistake.

Sylvia's father, reported to have amassed a fortune of $120,000,000 later the World War through the sale of airplane linen, expressed surprise on his return from Florida to learn that his daughter and the 25 year old Esquele had applied for a marriage license.

"This came as a great surprise to me," he said, "but nothing will be done quickly."

Application for a license was filed in the town clerk's office Wednesday, but the license was not issued because under a Connecticut law a girl under 21 years of age, must obtain her parents consent to marry.

Sylvia's sister, Eileen, married Kay Don, noted British speed king in 1922. Esquele, the son of a retired Stamford fireman, said he was an insurance man when the application was filed, but he is employed as a hair-dresser in a Greenwich beauty shop.

IMPORTING NEGROES

Hartford, May 4.—(AP)—State Commissioner of Labor and Factory Inspection Joseph M. Tona has received several complaints from the alleged importation of negroes from the south for work in the tobacco fields in Fogouonock. The matter has been referred to Deputy Commissioner William J. Fitzgerald, who will make an immediate investigation.

MATRESSES CONFISCATED

Hartford, May 4.—(AP)—The campaign started last year by the state department of factory inspection against the manufacture of mattresses which do not comply with the requirements of the state law is being continued unabated this year, and as a result 78 mattresses confiscated by the state in the New Haven district were destroyed.

Pet Canary a Radio Critic

"Fuss and fine feather" do make one beautiful "Whichie"—a cageless canary—tells Frances Ingram, noted authority on feminine charm and beauty, as she perches jauntily above a World Broadcasting System microphone to supervise each of Miss Ingram's "Through the Hollywood Looking Glass" programs.

NEW YORK.—(Special)—When Frances Ingram, charm and beauty authority, "goes on the air" in her weekly radio broadcasts, her severest critic is "Whichie," a cageless canary. "Whichie" is Miss Ingram's constant companion at all of her programs and is usually found perched on the radio artist's shoulder or atop the microphone.

When Miss Ingram invaded Hollywood last year to gather material for "Through the Hollywood Looking Glass" radio series, "Whichie" went along on the airplane journey from New York. On this occasion the bird had to stay in the cage, but in the studio she came out to give her own radio broadcast.

"I do not believe in sentencing bird pets to the imprisonment," declares Miss Ingram. "The canary is a faithful, sensitive pet and will not fly away if given liberty. The cage should be merely its home to come to for water and seed and to sleep. If I had my way there would be a law compelling owners of bird pets to give them some liberty each day."

"Whichie" often is a "soloist" on Miss Ingram's radio program, singing to the accompaniment of Sam Lanin's lifting music—and when not singing he appears to listen intently to Miss Ingram and her secretary, Marian, as they discuss the secrets of Hollywood stars. The program is heard every Tuesday night.

FRIDAY, MAY 4.

KNUCKLE DUSTERS

When dainty and high toned gentlemen get into politics and, being there, make up their minds that to attain their high purposes they must adopt at times the "practical" methods of the lowbrow politician, they sometimes give surprising exhibitions of elastic ethics. This has transpired a good many times. Politicians of this type somehow suggest the impeccable citizen who arrives at sedate middle age without having tasted alcoholic beverages and then one day gets pifficated. He is liable to climb a telephone pole or go swimming in the fountain at the Civic Center at noonday. He doesn't know much about "holding his liquor."

President Roosevelt appears to be suffering from an obsession to get into his own hands, for administration at will, the entire tariff system of the country. There is considerable reluctance in Congress to grant his request, and outside of Congress there is a veritable storm of protest against any such caper. In order to meet and overcome this opposition the President has resorted to what, in a less immaculate personality would be called by the very plain name of dirty politics.

It is notorious that a huge mistake was made in the overtaxing of liquor; that the exorbitant prices charged for high grade booze have put a premium on bootlegging and that the racketeer is still flourishing like the green bay tree in consequence. It has been taken for granted that Congress would do something to remedy this situation. Now, however, it suddenly develops that Mr. Roosevelt is dead set against any such remedial action. He wants the liquor tax problem left strictly alone. And his reason is to be found in the fact that, if the Reciprocal Tariff Act is passed, he will be in a position to lower liquor prices by lowering the tariff on imports of this class. Summed up, this means: Give me my Reciprocal Tariff Bill and I will give the people lower prices on legitimate liquors; refuse, and the people must pay the fancy prices or patronize the moonshiner and the bootlegger.

This is very practical politics indeed. But it's a long way from the sort of weapon we should have expected to find our patrician President using. It is almost as if somebody found a set of brass knuckle dusters in his pocket.

WALL STREET RACKET

There are some interesting aspects to the Pecora revelations on the Wall street stock brokerage business besides the mere fact that, depression or no depression, more than eight hundred and eighty millions of the public's money went into the "itty" of the operators of the stock gambling game in six years. Exactly as with an ordinary lawbreaking faro bank or poker joint, roulette wheel or craps layout, the broker's office takes down its relentless percentage—and the bigger the play the bigger the profits to the keepers of the game.

The disappearance of a sum approaching a billion dollars into the pockets of the Wall street brokers incidentally is something to think about. If an American Methusalem had had a billion dollars on the Fourth of July, 1776, and had started spending it or giving it away at the rate of $10,000 a day he could have kept up his squandering from that time to this, Sundays and holidays included, and would still have enough to last him more than another century. Some dough!

But that isn't what we had especially in mind. What may be even more illuminating to some folks is the inevitableness with which the brokers win, no matter who loses. Of the sixty-four brokerage firms whose reports are displayed in the Pecora figures, every last one made a profit in 1928, the biggest boom year, and in only sixteen instances could the profits be represented by six figures or less. Forty-eight cleaned up sums running into the millions, from one to twelve.

Even with the October collapse, only two brokerage concerns showed loss as for the year in 1929, while again sixteen of them had earnings of a million or more and again one firm reached twelve millions.

In 1930 the profits of only thirteen of the sixty-four reached a million or more, but there was one concern which in that year cleaned up no less than sixteen million dollars, while eleven out of the lot wound up the year in the red.

In 1931 the brokerage firms got up against the same thing that the professional gamblers do when they already have all the money in camp and nobody has had a payday. They had their expenses to meet and there was very little business indeed. Twenty-nine of them operated at a loss, but still thirty-five managed to better than break even. And while not a single concern reported making as much as a million dollars a large number managed to pull down profits of several hundred thousand dollars.

Nineteen thirty-two was the only depression year in which more brokers made losses than made gains—thirty-four of them reporting on the minus side. But how they did come back last year! Fifty-eight out of the sixty-four cleaned up in the hundreds of thousands or the millions, four of them to the tune of seven figures again.

And all of these bad years, it must be remembered, were included in the total period for which the profits exceeded losses by eight hundred and eighty-odd millions.

Is it any wonder that the propagandists and agents of the brokers are putting up the hardest kind of a fight against a national law whose aim is to curb frenzied speculation? The madder the craze for stock gambling and the easier it is made for the gamblers to get credit from brokers and banks, the more vast the mountain of profit piled up by the Wall Street crowd. They are fighting for a racket—the biggest racket in the country.

TEXTILES AND NAVIES

Bigger news today than President Roosevelt's scolding of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States for not swallowing its program at face value is the open threat of a trade war against Japan by Great Britain unless the former country takes steps to throttle the enormous campaign of cut rate selling by which she is trying to gain the trade of the world. Great Britain's particular interest in the matter is with the textile business, in which Japan has been slashing the ground from under the British industries by selling cotton fabrics in the British dominions, India and half the far flung regions heretofore constituting England's markets, for much less than the cost of production by British workers.

So far as the mere threat of a trade war is concerned it is very doubtful if any such gesture would produce much effect on the Japanese. In any contest in currency depreciation the advantage would be all with them, for they have no such monetary traditions to maintain as has Britain, nor have they any particular fear of revolt against further reductions in the standard of living among their own people. But behind any such trade war as is threatened would inevitably loom the British navy.

To talk trade war as Walter Runciman is reported to have talked to the Japanese Ambassador is merely, in these circumstances, to talk naval war—and with all her bumptiousness Japan knows perfectly well that in an actual war on the seas with Great Britain she would be wiped out.

It is for precisely such occasions as this that Britain, through thick and thin, has persevered in keeping herself mistress of the seas—actually so in the present instance, for Japan inevitably must stand alone if a conflict were to develop; and, alone, she would be helpless in the presence of British sea power.

ARKANSAS WAY

Arkansas does not enjoy, perhaps, the very first reputation among all the states of the Union for progressiveness, culture or even piety. Its standing as a model of civilized modernity may be reflected in some degree by its prison system, in which trustees armed with shotguns are used as guards over the other prisoners.

CARE OF THE FEET.
 There are but few perfect feet in the civilized world. The minute we begin to walk the distortion of the feet begins.

You may remember the strange looking feet you saw at the beach looking over or swimming pool? Many were disfigured with dark, horny nails, crooked toes, bunions, corns, rough thickened skin, poor arches and many feet do not have a good healthy color but look like a plant that has been shut away in a cellar for a long time.

Most people do not know as much about caring for their feet and toes as they know about caring for their hair and fingernails. Next time you take care of your fingernails, remember your feet and give them a little attention. If you care for your feet in your youth, your feet will support you in your old age.

Nothing spoils a good time as readily as tired painful feet. If the feet are weak the whole body is subject to repeated jars every time the weight is shifted.

Here are a few simple rules for caring for the feet: The hot soaps bath is very good for those with sweating feet, and is also of value for those with bunions and corns. This bath taken daily will refresh the feet and harden and tone up the skin. Those who are troubled with sweating feet, should use this bath daily. Wash the feet in warm water to which has been added a tablespoonful of epsom salts ten minutes, and after carefully drying them sprinkle some talcum powder over the feet and between the toes.

If you have any trouble with your feet, avoid tight shoes. Buy good shoes and have them fitted by a good expert. The wearing of properly fitted shoes will do a great deal to help your feet to greater comfort and will in the majority of cases produce a gradual improvement. The patient with some pronounced trouble such as a painful bunion, or weak arch will do well to try to find a shoe store where a "pedigraph" will be made. This is an imprint or picture of your foot and will show you whether your arch has fallen, or if it is the opposite type which is extremely high. Such a picture greatly assists the man who fits your shoes in choosing the best kind of shoe for you to wear.

If your feet perspire, in many cases it is advisable to change the hose twice each day. It is good to get into the habit of taking care of your toenails once a week. There is more danger from infection from badly cared for toenails than from the fingernails. If the skin around the nail is harsh and dry, one should work in some cold cream after the hot soaps bath. Underneath the toenails and the edges of them should be cleaned with an orange stick and bit of cotton dipped in peroxide of hydrogen.

I have a number of mimeographed articles which go into detail about various foot troubles and I will be glad to send them to you if you will write to me in care of this paper and follow the directions for questions and answers and enclose one large address envelope and a three-cent stamp for each article you desire. If you want more than one article, add an extra stamp for each extra article desired.

Behind the Scenes in WASHINGTON
By Rodney Dutcher
The Herald Washington Correspondent

Washington, May 4.—Federal relief agencies are quietly working on an elaborate plan to save America's small manufacturing towns from threatened pauperization.

Industry has stopped moving backward, outlying communities for the sake of getting cheap, tractable labor. It tends to return to large distribution centers.

Thus NRA wage and hour standards intensify the "stranded community" problem and encourage industrial centralization just when everyone is urging decentralization.

The Federal Emergency Relief Administration will make at least an experimental start toward introducing new industries in communities where factory jobs have been abandoned. It hopes it can stimulate relatively non-competitive new products which will offer new inducement to purchasing power.

Big business can't go into small business because nationalized products and national products requires big capital investment and the number of new products that can attract capital is very limited.

New products in mind fall largely in the luxury class. Appealing to limited, discriminating tastes at first, they could logically be made by small units. Unemployed persons would sell them from house to house.

Author of the plan is Dr. Chester G. Gilbert, scientist employed by the Research Corporation at the Smithsonian Institution. Most of his engineering work has been selection of locations for industries.

He says plants employing 30 to 50 hands can be started for $15,000 or $20,000. Not only would the expense be comparable to a couple of years' relief costs, he says, but the plants should pay their way or make money.

WOODIN

The death of former Secretary of the Treasury William H. Woodin, probably far from unexpected by his intimates, removes a personality with which the country regrettably had too little opportunity to become well acquainted. During the relatively short time of his association with the government, however, and particularly through that terribly tense month at the very start of this administration, Mr. Woodin contributed tremendously to the recovery of confidence by his dauntless courage, his unusual and charming personality and by the example he provided of an undoubted representative of big business facing and participating cheerfully and hopefully in what appeared to be at that time an economic revolution.

The country learned enough about Mr. Woodin to be very sure indeed that he was an honorable gentleman and a brave one; it will not be at all sure that, in his enforced retirement through ill health, the nation did not lose a more highly motivated champion and the President a wiser adviser than his successor has turned out to be.

Illinois Vote Boon to F. E.

That brass band with which Congress greeted Roosevelt's return was an echo of the Illinois primaries. Big Democratic gains inspired renewed respect on Capitol Hill for F. E. and his policies.

The most important effect of the vote result was its encouragement of the administration crowd here who, with Roosevelt away, had been worrying as to how accurately the attacks of lobbyists and others on the New Deal were reflecting a shift of popular attitude.

Dillinger For President
 Dr. Wirt's victims have been kidded no end by fellow government workers. One received the following, in normal memorandum style, from an NRA official:

"CONFIDENTIAL (for front pages only). As soon as an appropriate house can be found in Virginia, invitations will be issued to meet a neighbor of Dr. Wirt of Indiana—very far from Indiana just now—and launch a next step in the revolution.

"The Kerenzy phase is obviously a bust; the next stage must be to get support (satellites) for the John Dillinger for President movement.

"Dillinger's record on banks is sound, greatly admired by the public, and exhibits a record of solid achievement which stands in marked contrast to the administration's vacillation on financial policy. 'Brain trusters' must give way to 'train busters.'

"Once elected President, Dillinger will be the Stalin everybody is looking for. The party emblem has already been chosen—a toy pistol rampant on a steel-

IN NEW YORK

New York, May 4.—An evening stroll along the radio never fails to remind me that of all the people who have figured in Broadway life, the only one whose name remains in lights is Edward W. "Daddy" Browning.

Of course he pays to keep it there, as an advertisement for his real estate business. But it also serves to make thousands of persons wonder about the current existence of the enigmatic, elderly fellow whose daddyy-isms adventures used to provide such sensational grist for the tabloids.

Well, it seems that Browning has turned downright monkish in his private and professional life. Or maybe Spartan would be a better term. He works all day and some nights in his garish real estate office, and declares he has not had a day off in four years. All he likes to talk about are business and health. He is 87 years old, weighs 190 pounds and has a chest expansion of nearly eleven inches.

When he goes home at night it is to a two-room-and-terrace apartment in a west-side hotel. The terrace is painted white and is unfurnished except for an ordinary kitchen chair. The living room is painted white and along one wall has some exercising apparatus. There is one white table and a hard white chair. In the white bedroom is a bed, one wooden chair and small dresser.

On the bureau in a white frame is a picture of "Peaches" Browning. Sometimes, I am told, an orchid is placed in front of the photograph.

On a Different Scale.
 Marion Talley's arrival in New York, unaccompanied by Mama and Sister Florence, revealed that she no longer is the same prim little prima donna, a subject of parental prompting. And by this time she is well launched on her western tour, traveling, alone, doing much as she pleases, never baking a biscuit or milking a single Kansas cow.

But it was only a few years ago that Marion and Mama called on

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

(Veal-Skin)
 Question: From Mrs. T. R.: "A friend of mine says that she has a veal-skin. I would like to have you tell me what this means?"
 Answer: Veal-skin is a skin eruption which resembles veal in appearance.

(Drooping Eyelids)
 "A friend of mine has drooping eyelids and will appreciate any advice. I will watch for your answer and make sure that it reaches him."
 Answer: Drooping eyelids are caused by paralysis or inflammation of the nerves supplying the muscles of the eyelids. Sometimes a fasting and dieting regimen is helpful and osteopathic or chiropractic treatments are frequently beneficial especially if the doctor uses electrical treatments as given with the sinusoidal current as this current is of assistance in stimulating the nerves.

Non-starchy Vegetables
 Question: Alice C. writes: "With what foods may we combine non-starchy vegetables?"
 Answer: Non-starchy vegetables may be combined with any other single article of food. But remember, when combining with carbohydrates, or starches, no protein should be used, and the same rule applies the other way round. Combine with either protein or starch, but never with both at the same time.

QUAKE IN ALASKA

Anchorage, Alaska, May 4.—(AP)—A sharp 90-second earthquake hit the Anchorage residents from their homes last night. Plate glass windows were broken, and store goods were jarred from shelves, but no injuries were reported.

The tremor, occurring at 8:35 p. m., was felt several hundred miles away, as far north as Fairbanks and Nenana. It was said to be the most severe quake here since April 26, last year.

DONNA

of the BIG TOP
by BEULAH POYNTER

BEGIN HERE TODAY
DONNA GABRIEL, MADE-LINE SIDDAL who call themselves
"The Gabriel Sisters" are trapeze performers with Renfro's circus.
DON DAVID, the animal trainer, is in love with Donna who regards him merely as a friend. He loved her in love with Con, has been flirting with NED TRAFFORD, boss canvasser.

When Madeline's grandfather, AMOS SIDDAL, asks her to spend the week-end at his farm she persuades Donna to take her place.
Donna is much attracted by BILL
SIDDAL, Madeline's cousin.

Two weeks later Donna falls from the trapeze and is taken to a hospital, badly injured. Madeline sends word to Bill that "Madeline" is ill.
She leaves a note telling Donna to continue the impersonation until she is well. Then Madeline goes on with the circus.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
CHAPTER VIII
Bill Siddal was not conscious that he had been praying all that long, bitter night as he sat in the shabby, ill-ventilated day coach in a train that seemed to be drawn by slow-footed oxen instead of a steam engine.

Madeline's letter had been not only shock but an eye-opener. Until he had learned of the accident he had not analyzed his feelings toward the girl he believed to be his cousin. Her visit had been a never-to-be-forgotten event in his colorless life. Her charm and beauty had made an indelible impression, but he had not realized that he loved her until he read the letter telling him of her danger. How much danger he dared not think about.

Wishing to spare his grand-uncle suspense and worry, he made an excuse to get away, intending to keep all knowledge of the accident from the old man, if possible, until Madeline was on the road to recovery.

Haggard-eyed, unshaven, and wearing his work clothes with stout-cowhide boots, he did not present a very prosperous appearance when he strode into the hospital that bright morning at eight o'clock. Dr. Cotton, though by no means mercentary, wondered why he was going to have a charity patient on his hands and whether he had not been foolish to permit the other sister to leave without paying for at least one week in advance.

"Is she alive?" the young man demanded across the desk.
Assured that she was, Bill sank weakly into a chair and for several seconds seemed unable to speak.

"But she can't be moved at present," Dr. Cotton said. "Not for two weeks at least."
"I—I may see her?"
"Surely, Miss Wyatt—take Mr.
Siddal to 39."

Donna was asleep when they stepped into the hushed chamber.
The nurse in attendance sat by the window, reading a magazine. She arose and instantly became professional.

Bill crossed to the bedside and looked down at the white, pinched face. It required a tremendous effort not to bend down and kiss that face, not to murmur the love that surged through him like a tumultuous torrent. He wanted to get close to his arms and beg her to live for his sake, to put aside forever the hazardous career she had begun and stay in his love and shelter.

"You must go now," the nurse said when he had stood motionless for several minutes.
"She is going to live?"
"Of course. But she must not have any excitement."

Below Dr. Cotton was waiting for him. "Miss Gabriel—the other sister said that you—it's customary to pay hospital bills in advance, but the circumstances were such that—"

"I understand," Bill said gravely.
"I will take care of Miss Siddal's expenses." He drew a check book from his pocket, asked the amount and filled in a blank.

In all his 26 years Bill had never known a sick day. Possibly it was his own virile health that had prompted him to take up the study of medicine. All that he had learned about it was forgotten now in the flood of relief that swept over him.
Madeline would recover! He did not question Dr. Cotton's diagnosis, nor his statement that she could not be moved for two weeks. If she had to stay then Bill would stay.

Not until hours later did the fact of their close relationship discolor his dreams of their future together. Then, like a specter, this fact arose to haunt him. Even if Madeline loved him could they face a community that would look upon their marriage as a sin? So long as Grandfather Siddal lived, Bill knew he was tied to the farm and the environs of Lebanon.

Almost with this new anguish of spirit, he hoped she would be maimed, or crippled so that it would be his joyful duty to care for her all her life, even though marriage were out of the question. But immediately he pushed this thought from him. How could he ever think of such a thing!

At noon Donna awakened and the nurse informed her that her "cousin" had come.
"Cousin? I—I haven't any cousin."
"Mr. Siddal, dear. You were asleep when he arrived. He said he would be back this afternoon."
Vaguely Donna understood the words. But she was still too befogged to understand the real meaning of the statement. The knowledge that Bill Siddal cared enough to come to see her caused a warm glow in her heart and brought tears to her eyes.

"That's just too bad, but she had to go on with the circus."
Yes, of course, she had to go on. Donna fought to smile bravely.
"She left a letter for you, but I don't think you are strong enough to read it yet. Shall I read it to you?"

It was no premonition of what the letter contained that prompted Donna to refuse the offer. She was merely too weary to listen to whatever excuse Madeline might have made. She shook her head and contrived to stretch out her unbandaged arm.
"Just give the letter to me," she said. "I know what she says."

Madeline's letter was clutched in Donna's damp fist when Bill came the second time. It slipped from her fingers to the floor as her eyes met his. His face, inexpressibly dear, seemed covered with a thick haze that cleared, then became more opaque. He came closer and she could see nothing except his eyes—kind, compassionate, loving. Again the warm glow enveloped her. Her pain-wracked body seemed to float through space, drawing nearer and nearer to him.

Neither spoke for a full minute.
Bill dared not say what he wanted to and could find no words for anything else.
"I can't shake hands," Donna laughed tremulously. "I've a broken right wing."
"I know, and I'm so sorry. If there is anything—"

"It's wonderful of you to come.
Just wonderful!" Tears choked her voice. "How did you know?"
"Your partner wrote me. I took

Your CHILDREN

By Olive Roberts Barton

LET'S BE MORE CHARITABLE OF NEIGHBORS.

By Olive Roberts Barton
Every once in a while I receive a letter from a lady criticizing her neighbor.

All of us have had neighbors whom we felt were far short of perfection, and in turn we have very probably had our own share of unfavorable attention. The truth is that no one can know or even guess the other woman's problem.

Take, for instance, a neighbor of mine one time who told me that no one in the world could touch her baby's clothes but herself and re-proved me for letting a laundress iron the little white dresses my small girl wore.

She knew that I was working, that I was doing other things my own way, but because it was not her way I caught it.

Looking Out for Others.
Not so very long after that I was ironing in the kitchen one day when another neighbor rushed in to tell me that I'd better look after the baby in her buggy on the front porch. A little boy who had had whooping cough was sitting on our steps. "I see that my children are safe," she remarked in more words than that. "It doesn't matter about things being thus and so. All that does matter is to keep them away from harm."

side in.

SOAP JELLY IS TONIC FOR SOILED WOODWORK

By ROGEE B. WHITMAN
Home and Garden Expert

Woodwork that is dingy and soiled can be revived with soap and water.

The best process is to make a soap jelly, which, incidentally, is most convenient for many housecleaning jobs. A cup of soap flakes of the kind used for fine laundering is put in a wide-mouthed jar, four or five cups of water are added, and the whole allowed to stand until it forms a thick jelly.

Some of this is taken on a cloth and rubbed on the furniture until it lathers. The entire piece of furniture is gone over, and then wiped with a clean cloth, damp with clear water.

The woodwork is rubbed to a polish with a soft, dry cloth in the direction of the grain.

Use "Jelly" on Upholstery To clean upholstery, some of the jelly is placed in a bowl and beaten with an egg beater to raise a thick and stiff lather. Using a soft brush, some of this is rubbed on the upholstery in a space 8 or 10 inches across, more lather being added if needed.

The lather is then wiped off with a clean cloth, damp with clear water, followed by wiping with a dry cloth.

All upholstery is treated in this way, the spaces cleaned being rubbed with the soap jelly. The nap is brushed in one direction.
This method should be used only when the colors are fast; a test should be made to find out about this.

A whitish and cloudy cast on varnished wood can usually be taken off by wiping with a mixture of one quart of water and one tablespoon of vinegar, applied with a soft cloth rubbed with the grain.
White rings and marks from hot dishes should be wet with a little turpentine; if not deep they will disappear as the turpentine soaks in.

Should a mark be too deep to be taken out in this way, the turpentine should be dried off, and a trial run made to take it out by rubbing.

SUMMER CHAIRS LOSE GARISHNESS, YIELD TO STYLE AND COLOR HARMONY

"The old order changeth" in summer furniture.
By MARGERY TAYLOR

The new summer furniture has clever design, new materials — it even has embellishing and, above all,
it has color.

This doesn't mean garishness and general cheapness which used to be the curse of summer furniture. The new kind has as much dignity—you might almost say formality—as the smartest living room furniture.

This magic is really simple when you stop to see how it is done.
Here's an ordinary and inexpensive folding chair for beach lawn—but it has a painted white frame covered with chocolate brown fabric, and that makes all the difference. Or there is a more de luxe chair with top and bottom edged with coarse white fringe.

The newest styles in reed and rattan furniture have replaced the old natural color with painted effects.
White is very popular, but whatever the color may be, it blends smartly with the fabric. There is, for instance, a sand-colored frame with a deep brown fabric or a black frame covered with gray fabric.

The ensembles, of course, are carefully styled both for line and color harmony. They come in six pieces—sometimes as many as ten.

Metal furniture, also, has been transformed from the plumbing pipe styles of the good old days. There, too, are style and color, new and fascinating, and yet dignified. And it is amazing what unexpected effects the designers can get with linoleum, the new plastics, cork, wood and many other materials in table tops and details.

GLORIFYING YOURSELF

By Alicia Hart

"How shall I fix my hair so that I won't look like everyone else?"
One out of every five letters that come to my desk asks that question.

First of all, no smart woman should consider a cure for one that is so "different" as to appear grotesque or conspicuous. Any girl like to feel that her hair is a trifle out of the ordinary but she must stay within the realm of the dictates of fashion and consider her hair dress from a practical viewpoint.

Let's consider what can happen to the average woman with average hair. There's no use in telling her to dress it in a fashion meant to be worn only in hair style shows.
Aside from the fact that such coiffure creations are too "different" to be flattering to anyone but an exotic stage beauty, they are, generally speaking, highly impractical.
They won't withstand a hat nor a strong wind nor anything else for that matter. So the simple hair styles are best for anyone who leads an active life—at least for daytime anyway.

Most women look prettier when their hair is waved softly about their faces. However, if you are lucky enough to have classic features that need no softening touches, wear your hair straight and be glad that you don't have to bother getting it waved. But, such fortunate types are few and far between. For the average, wide, loose waves, brushed back smoothly from the face are easy to keep in place and usually are most becoming.

Mulberry Leaf Makes Up Design For A Stunning Cocktail Frock

THE NEW DEAL gets passed under a critical professional microscope in "Economic Reconstruction," a book containing the report of the Columbia University Commission appointed in 1932 to examine ways and means of promoting prosperity in the United States.

The report voices some criticism of the New Deal; yet it will prove cold comfort to many of the administration's critics, for it urges action a good deal more drastic than anything that Washington has tried, and it states bluntly that the old ideal of rugged individualism is as dead as a salted herring.

Its chief criticism is aimed at the NRA and the AAA for their efforts to curb production.

"It is important," it asserts,
"that the NRA should not develop a permanent policy. For the slow regulation of output by each industry in terms of its own particular interests, and it fears that the country's program might result in a conservative restriction of output."

WHEN ABDOMEN GROWS,
LOOK OUT FOR DROOPY

Condition Caused by Accumulation of Fluid Can Be Cured by Tapping or Operation to Remove the Cause.

BY DR. MORRIS FISHER
Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association and of Hygiene, the Health Magazine.

There is one form of stoutness which should warn you quickly of a dangerous condition in your system. That's droopy, which is an accumulation of fluid in the abdominal cavity. Its medical name is ascites.

In some cases, fluid accumulates not only in the abdomen, but also in tissues of the hands, the feet, the face, and other portions of the body. But the most usual form confines itself to the abdomen.

The characteristic sign of droopy is a gradual enlargement of the abdomen not explainable by other causes. As this enlargement continues, there is a flattening out of the skin, which becomes tense.

The doctor can determine the presence of fluid in the abdomen by putting one hand on one side of the abdomen and giving the abdomen a sharp tap on the other side. When he does this, he can feel a wave of the fluid strike his hand.

There are other ways in which he finds out that fluid is present, including actually feeling of the abdomen and the movement of the fluid to one spot or another.

Of course, certain diagnosis is made by putting a needle into the abdomen and withdrawing the fluid.
This procedure is commonly called tapping.

The collection of fluid in the abdomen usually is associated with an inflammation of the tissues lining the wall. Blocking of the circulation through the liver, the presence of tumors in the abdomen, deficiencies of the kidneys, disturbances of the circulation, and sometimes conditions which produce swelling of the whole body, may also produce droopy.

Obviously if the droopy is due to any general cause, such as those last mentioned, the only way to bring about relief is to treat these causes successfully.

In the treatment of such conditions, rest is an exceedingly important matter and control of the diet is vital. Such control not only involves the amount of water taken, but also the amount of salt used in the diet. If the kidneys are involved, a diet that will relieve them of too much work is helpful.

In the type of droopy due to local causes within the abdomen, however, it is usual to tap the abdomen repeatedly, withdrawing large quantities of fluid. This gives opportunity for circulation of the blood to develop in such way as to prevent accumulation of fluid.

Sometimes the swelling and accumulation of fluid in the abdominal cavity is due to growth of a cyst or tumor on some of the organs, the walls of which become filled with fluid.

In such cases the only possible method of successful treatment involves a surgical operation for removal of the growth, including its walls, so that further accumulation of the fluid may not occur.

It will need more than a brain trust to turn the United States communist.

The sorry fact is that the average congressman is entirely willing to buy votes so long as he can hang around the felony by doing it with somebody else's money.

If American teachers are slaves it is not from choice. They have become satisfied in conformity to the public demand that they act in a way which is too good to be true.

ENGLISH WALKER CUP YOUTHS BEGIN NEW BRITISH GOLF ERA

FOUR CARRY HOPES OF JOHN BULL FOR VICTORY IN EVENT

Success of Squad Against American Invasion to Depend on Younger Players, New to Competition.

Eric Fiddian... one of the younger players who will play for England in the Walker Cup matches at St. Andrews.

By ART KRENZ
NEA Service Golf Writer

In the mist swirling over historic St. Andrews on May 11 and 12 will be the ghost of Britain's greatest golfer following England's Walker Cup amateurs over the thistle-studded rough and neatly clipped greens.

The ghost will be that of Young Tom Morris, son of Old Tom, who is regarded as the father of the game.

Young Tom, who died at 24, took the front in British golf 'way back in 1868, in the eighth playing of the British Open. At that time he was only 17 years old, but he took the measure of England's outstanding golfers, and came right back in the following two years to win again. After a lapse of a year, during which no tournament was played, Young Tom copped the cup for the fourth consecutive time, a feat that hasn't been equaled.

In late years most of the men who have carried John Bull's colors on the courses have been well along in years.

Among them were John Ball, who copped British Amateur on eight occasions; Harold H. Hilton, winner of a pair of British Opens, four British and a U. S. Amateur; Harry Vardon, the stylist; Josh Taylor, James Braid, Ted Ray, Abe Mitchell and the Hon. Michael Scott.

This quartet is composed of Jack McLean, Eric W. Fiddian, Sam McKinlay and Harry Bentley. With the veterans Scott, Tolley, T. A. Torrance and Roger H. Wethered, these youngsters will give England a well-balanced team.

McLean is only 22 years old and has won the Scottish Amateur and Irish Open titles with remarkable putting.

McKinlay, Glasgow journalist, is rated McLean's equal in every department except putting. Bentley bagged the French championship and the Lancashire Amateur. Fiddian is better known in the United States than being up there every year in the 1892 Walker Cup, a success in which he and his partner took a triumph.

Wilson Tells His Side Of Quarrel With Frisch

St. Louis, May 4.—(AP)—One side of the story of how Frankie Frisch and Jimmy Wilson, one-time pals, fell out after Frisch became manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, was told today. It was Wilson's version of the feud. Frisch had nothing to say.

"I don't know," said Wilson, now manager of the Philadelphia Nationals, "is that Frisch, right after being named manager, held a meeting he told us all he was going to run the club and wanted no suggestions from anyone. Right after that I was taken out of the game for reasons unknown to me.

By HARRY GRAYSON

In trying to talk himself into a major league uniform, Sam Gray talked himself out of one.

The veteran right-hander's trouble with Rogers Hornsby amounted to nothing more than a wisecrack in regard to a monkey suit.

Despite Louis B. Von Weise and the ice and coal millions back of the Braves, it appears that the club is retrenching. So is the St. Louis public, insofar as the American League is concerned. An opening day low was set there the other day when the Cleveland outfit was paid off on 4,000 paid admissions.

Well, only 28 new uniforms were purchased, and when Gray dropped around for his, he was handed a 1933 model that had been dry cleaned.

"Don't I rate a new uniform?" he demanded.

The quartermaster explained the shortage.

Talk Himself Down River Gray, who barely was hanging on anyway, carried his case to Hornsby, and when he came out not forthcoming, grunted: "Huh! A big league ball club in the minors!"

"You shouldn't complain," replied the dominant manager, coldly, "you're a minor league pitcher."

And he departed for Milwaukee that night.

The Cantankerous Mr. Ferrell Cleveland fans generally are not in sympathy with Wesley Ferrell, the once invincible right-hander who retired after a violent bout.

RAIN WIPES OUT A. LEAGUE GAMES

Braves Whitewash Cubs 6 to 0—Cardinals Hitting Ball Hard—Giants Still Lead.

By HUGH S. FULLESTON, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

The St. Louis Cardinals, riding the crest of a hitting wave that has supported their supposedly invincible pitching, now are justifying the predictions made for them before the National League season started.

After losing seven of their first nine games, the Cards began hitting and an 8 to 7 triumph over the Phillies yesterday made it five in a row. In the course of this streak they have collected 60 hits and 34 runs.

Despite their comeback the Cardinals still are out of the first division. The Boston Braves, the only team they had a chance to oust from the top four yesterday, came through with a smashing 6-0 victory over Chicago's Cubs and went into a tie with the defeated Pittsburgh Pirates a half game ahead of the Cardinals.

Ed (Dutch) Brandt added to the southeast plague which has bothered the Cubs recently by holding the Chicago sluggers to two puny singles to shut them out for the first time.

The New York Giants improved their position at the top of the standing by defeating the Pirates 5-3 as Travis Jackson accounted for four runs with a triple with loaded bases, and a homer. Brooklyn and Cincinnati battled through seven scoreless innings before the Dodgers got to Ray Kulp for three runs, enough to win 3-2 in the eighth.

Rain wiped out all four American League games.

INTERNATIONAL TENNIS STARS AT NEW HAVEN

New Haven, May 4.—The famous international professional tennis stars, Henri Cochet and Partin Fila, of France, and Vincent Richards and Bruce Barnes, of the United States, will appear in a series of singles and doubles matches at the Arena Saturday evening, May 12, at 8:30.

The American-French court game is a unit of Big Bill Tilden's touring troupe of tennis pros. Tilden, together with Ellsworth Vines, Keith Gledhill and Alfred H. Chapin, Jr., played a series of matches at the Arena earlier in the season.

Tennis enthusiasts are especially anxious to watch in action Cochet, Francis of the French Davis Cup team in his amateur days, who has lost none of his color or volatile personality through his association with the paid racket brigade.

Popular prices will prevail for the appearance of the United States-France professional men when they appear in New Haven on May 12.

GREENWICH AMATEUR ENTERS GOLF FINALS

Hot Springs, Va., May 4.—(AP)—Robert A. Stranahan, of Toledo, medalist, faced William S. Mesny, Jr., of Greenwich, Conn., in today's final of the men's division of the Old Dominion golf tournament here.

Stranahan, a favorite to win the title forfeited by Jimmy Watts, Washington and Lee who did not enter this year's tournament, reached the finals by eliminating H. D. Gray of Chicago, in the semi-finals 3 and 2.

M. H. S. Track Team Opens Loop Slate at Middletown With 27 Athletes Entered

A squad of twenty-seven athletes will compete for Manchester High in the first dual track and field meet of the League season at Middletown tomorrow afternoon, it was announced today by Coach Pete Wigren. The team will make the trip by private cars, leaving the High school at 12:30 o'clock.

Having gained a decisive 69 to 35 triumph over Hartford High in the season's opener recently, Manchester is optimistic over its prospects through the remainder of the schedule and is confident of returning from Middletown a winner. Last year the Red and White drubbed this rival, 69 to 26. The team has a difficult task ahead in duplicating last year's record, when only one defeat was suffered against six victories, the beating being at the hands of Hartford. Manchester won all its dual League meets but lost the C. C. I. L. title to Bristol in the annual meet by a close margin.

The meet tomorrow will consist of ten events and Manchester will have a strong representation in every one. The list of entries, as announced by Coach Wigren, is as follows:

- 300 yard dash—Salomonson, Pratt and Fraser.
- 220 yard dash—Salomonson, Fraser and Rowell.
- 440 yard run—Cude, Shedd, Converse and Rowell.
- 880 yard run—Leary, Coburn, Diana and Hestz.
- 1 Mile run—Packard, Donahue, Peckham and Carpenter.
- High Jump—Ralph Smith, Silverstein, Rogers and Bantley.
- Broad Jump—Rogers, Smith, Silverstein and Judd.
- Shot put—Johnson, Garrone, Hestz and Salmond.
- Discus—Garrone, Robinson, Lytle, Wolfram and Salmond.
- Javelin—Johnson, McCormick, Wolfram and Lytle.

Textile Workers Here Organize A League

George Hahn of Local 2125 to Represent Manchester at Meeting in Willimantic Sunday to Discuss Plans for Forming Teams.

George Hahn of Local 2125 United Textile workers of America, has been named to represent Manchester in the formation of a baseball league to be composed of members of the different locals in the state. All players, it is proposed under the plan, must be members of a local union, and at a meeting to be held in Willimantic Sunday the reports of other locals will be given.

There has been a representative from New London named to act with Mr. Hahn and they will receive reports of the different sections that will be able to put a baseball team on the field.

The plan is to play games Sundays and Saturdays. There will be eight teams in the proposed league representing locals from the different parts of the state. At present it seems assured that Manchester, New London, Willimantic and Rockville will have teams.

The plan to have a team here will be acted upon by the executive committee of the Manchester local tomorrow afternoon. When the meeting is held in Willimantic Sunday it is expected that there will be reports from other locals to assure the starting of the league within the next two weeks.

SCHOLASTIC LINKS TOURNEY PLANNED

Event to Be Held at East Hartford Open to All Schoolboys of District.

In response to many requests, a Hartford District Inter-scholastic golf tournament will be staged at the West Hartford and East Hartford Golf Clubs. It has been announced by G. C. Stumpf, manager of the courses. The event, which is open to all schoolboys in the district, including students at Manchester High, is scheduled for May 19 and May 20.

The first eighteen holes will be played at the West Hartford links, while the last eighteen will be played at East Hartford, where the course is located on Long Hill drive. The dates are tentative and will be changed if conditions warrant. An entry fee of fifty cents will be charged and post entries will be accepted.

Holly Mandly of Wethersfield, who was the title last year, has been graduated from high school and will not defend his crown. An entry of more than fifty schoolboys from high schools in this vicinity has been assured for the tourney.

Manchester High school's fine golf team added to its string of victories yesterday afternoon by defeating New Britain High's team at the Manchester Country club by the score of 16 to 2. Bats didn't hinder the local team's ability since Captain Harold Civello chalked up a 75 to take three points from his opponent. The team score follows:

- Manchester High (16) 8
- H. Civello (75) 3
- D. Civello (83) 2
- H. and J. Civello 2
- Weir (82) 2
- Anderson (87) 2
- Weir and Anderson 2
- New Britain High (2) 0
- Chalko (82) 0
- Chalko (84) 1
- Chalko and Taylor 1
- Tyler (88) 0
- Anderson (89) 0

COAST STARS GIRD TO SHATTER MARKS IN ANNUAL RELAYS

Nearly 300 to Compete in West Coast Meet May 12; Marty and Lyman Expected to Make Records Topple.

By RUSSELL NEWLAND
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Fresno, Calif., May 4.—(AP)—California's wealth of track and field talent will be mobilized as a team for the first time this year when some 300 stars of the scanty uniforms and spiked shoes compete in the annual west coast relays, May 12.

Illustrious predecessors have set up many local records and in some instances world marks, but the 1934 renewal of the coast's biggest relays fixture is expected to contribute new achievements.

Two brilliant performers who have laughed at world's records this season will head the list of individual stars. They are Walter Marty, indoor and outdoor high jump champion, and John Lyman, Stanford strong man.

Making Records Fall Marty, spring-limbed representative of Fresno State college, unofficially has cleared 6 feet 9 1/2 inches. No recognition was sought for the jump because of an insufficient number of officials attending, but those who have followed the Fresno boys' consistent performances look for him to improve on his 6 foot 8 1/2-inch outdoor mark before the season is over. His indoor top height is 6 feet 8 1/2 inches.

Lyman bettered all existing distances in the shotput when he topped the 46-pound ball 64 feet 1 inch last April 21, during the meet with the University of California. Since then, however, Jack Torrance of Louisiana State contributed a heave of 55 feet 1 1/4 inches at the Drake relays.

More Field Notables This year's performances will be augmented by the efforts of such cinder path and field notables as Johnny Mottram, Stanford javelin thrower; Bob Clark, California broad jumper; Jimmy Luvalle, negro quarter-mile of the University of California at Los Angeles; Gus Meier, Stanford hurdler, and possibly "Bullet Bob" Kiesel, California's premier sprinter.

Mottram has consistently tossed the spear around the 220-foot mark. Luvalle has not been defeated in the broad jump this year. His best leap is 24 feet 6 1/2 inches. Luvalle, winner of the 1933 Inter-collegiate A. A. A. 400 meter title in 46.9 seconds has turned the fastest 440 yard dash on the coast this season. His speciality is not among the Fresno relay events but he probably will run in the half mile and mile relays.

Local Sport Chatter

The Catholic club will practice Saturday afternoon at 1 o'clock. All members of the team are asked to be on time as use of the diamond will be allowed only for a limited period.

Players on the Bluefields baseball team are asked to report for practice Saturday and Sunday at 2 o'clock. Those still seeking berths on the team are requested to be on hand Sunday.

Friday night at 5:30 o'clock the Oakes A. C. will hold a practice at the diamond on Locke street in preparation for the first game of the season Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock against South Windsor. Members and those wishing to try out for the team are asked to report.

The Methodist baseball team will practice at Mt. Nebo Saturday between 3 and 5 o'clock. All persons interested are asked to be present.

Manchester devotees of horse racing are ready to back their favorite starters in tomorrow's Kentucky Derby with real money. After all, a race is not a race unless there is a little wager riding to make it more interesting. Cavalcade probably will carry the lion's share of the money, although Mata Hari, Bazaar, Rialkuss, Peace Chance and Sergeant Byrne will have followers. The winner should pay good odds.

The Manchester Green baseball club will hold practice tonight at Jarvis Grove at 6 o'clock. All players are requested to be present.

MATA HARI AND BAZAAR CONTENDERS IN CLASSIC

Twenty Grand's Record of 2:01 4-5 May Be Broken If Track Is Fast—Winner Will Get Major Part of $40,000 Purse and Added Money.

By ALAN GOULD

Louisville, Ky., May 4.—(AP)—The beauty and the civility of the three year old thoroughbred world will race tomorrow for the honors that go with victory in the most famous stake on the American turf, the Kentucky Derby, but take it or leave it, you can put down this tip from the betting man and the blacksmith: At least one gentleman at the party will refuse to see the ladies home first.

Mata Hari Fast Perhaps one or both of the popular equine beauties involved in this affair, Charles T. Fisher's flashy Mata Hari and Colonel Edward Riley Bradley's more sedate Bazaar, will dispense with the usual masculine superiority but the odds are against them. If a lady is to enjoy the thrills of triumph, it is more likely to be Mrs. Isabel Dodge Sloane, New York and Florida sportswoman whose crack colt Cavalcade rules the 2 to 1 favorite, with his stable-mate, Time Clock. If something more convincing than the betting odds is required, there's the sword of the blacksmith who will affix the light aluminum racing plates to the twinkling hoofs of the Brookmead stable's pair. Up to now, he's the one fellow who has been silent.

Cavalcade Favorite "Cot or cilly, there's no horse that can beat Cavalcade in this Derby," he volunteers. "Boy and man, I have been putting plates on 'em for upwards of 30 years and I tell you there's no three year old as fast as this fellow today. Don't believe any of that stuff about his being nervous and jittery. He's just a big bully, that's what he is."

This may be conclusive, but it is by no means unanimous. Cavalcade's last workout has satisfied the rail birds he is in good condition, fresh from two record performances in Maryland, but there is still the live-kind of a debate over what will be the break on top of the field. Peace Chance, trained in Kentucky to carry the hopes of Joseph E. Widener, broke Twenty Grand's mile record for Churchill Downs this week.

In a fast track and under the proper conditions Twenty Grand's Derby record of 2:01 4-5 may be broken. Cavalcade has the speed to do it. Mata Hari has shown rare flashes of racing form and may ever be headed, if she breaks on top of the field. Peace Chance, trained in Kentucky to carry the hopes of Joseph E. Widener, broke Twenty Grand's mile record for Churchill Downs this week.

Others, including Norman Church's Rialkuss and Alex Gordon's maiden colt, Sir Thomas, have shown real turns of speed. Mrs. Payne Whitney's English bred Spy Hill, a late arrival, and Alfred G. Wynne, Vanderbilt's Discovery also have turned in performances which rate them among the leading contenders. Colonel Bradley's filly, Bazaar has worked the Derby route of one mile and a quarter in 3:05 or better and is coupled with Blue Again in the Kentuckian's bid for a third successive Derby triumph.

The picture of the Derby bears all the earmarks of a come-back except the added money has been cut from $50,000 to $30,000, the lowest since 1920.

DUNDIE WINS

Pateron, N. J., May 4.—(AP)—For the second time since he won his middleweight title, Vince Dundie has succeeded in turning back a challenger.

In a 15-round championship engagement last night, Dundie demonstrated his ability at the expense of twenty years old Al Diamond of Paterson.

Dundie won at least 11 of the 15 rounds. The referee gave him that number, presented one, the third, to the challenger, and called the other three even.

WILD LIFE COMMISSION MEETS WITH PRESIDENT

Washington, May 4.—(AP)—President Roosevelt today met by invitation to them, Thomas H. Beck of Wilton, Conn., chairman of the Connecticut Fish and Game Commission, Jay N. Darling, chief of the Bureau of Biological Survey and Professor Alde Leopold of the University of Wisconsin, who comprise the Special Wild Life Conservation Commission.

The conference was the first since the commission reported to the President in February recommending diversion of over 5,000,000 acres of submarginal lands for wild life refuge purposes under the administration's contemplated 50,000,000-acre land use plan to aid agriculture. In the plan would be 25,000 acres of poor farming lands in Connecticut.

GEORGE F. BAKER LEFT ESTATE OF $73,759,683

Daughters of Bankers Received $5,000,000 and Residue Went to Son After Public Bequests.

New York, May 4.—(AP)—George F. Baker, banker and philanthropist, left a net estate of $73,759,683 when he died May 2, 1931, a transfer tax appraisal field today showed. He was head of the First National Bank of New York.

The gross assets amounted to $77,520,652 and the principal assets consisted of securities which totaled $75,863,302. Four public bequests were provided for in his will in the sum of $550,000, and the three principal beneficiaries were his son, and two daughters.

DARROW'S REPORT WILL SCORE NRA

Will Suggest a Number of Changes to President on Small Businesses.

Washington, May 4.—(AP)—An embarrassing spot for NRA developed today with completion by Clarence Darrow's review-board of a report on codes from the viewpoint of small business.

The review board, after six weeks of listening to objections against a score of codes, has passed judgment on six or eight, among them the steel industry's. It is now recommending a series of changes to President Roosevelt.

RICH GOLD STRIKE IN MONTANA MINE

Assay Reports Show Ore
Valued at $27,123.14
Per Ton; Bonanza Vein.

Helena, Mont., May 4.—(AP)—Montana gold prospectors eagerly scanned assay reports today that showed values of $27,123.14 a ton in samples submitted from a vein discovered in the property of the Channel Gold Mines Ltd., at Marysville.

The vein approaches in value those discovered in the bonanza days of Montana's early mining history.

Samples were taken from the vein about six feet below the level from which ore previously assayed showed values of $17,800 a ton. The assays were made by Goodall Brothers of Helena.

Officials of the Channel firm said the vein is about seven feet wide and the high grade streak averages about a foot in width. Lead near the new discovery is privately owned.

for one week because of overproduction.

"Nor can I understand what they mean by 'overproduction,'" he continued. "But I do know that a week off now and a week off then hurt the mill workers as these forced layoffs take them over a month to make up what they lost. And when the workers are without money to purchase things, business is just that much worse off."

Paterson Leader Here

Mr. Shortz said no overtures had been made to Cheney Brothers by Local 2125 regarding the proposal, being discussed at a meeting today of the national executive committee of the United Textile Workers, for a 30-hour week in the silk mills instead of the existing 40-hour week. He said that William Green, of Paterson, N. J., an official of the union, had been in Manchester during the past two days and planned to address the meeting of the local tomorrow afternoon. Mr. Green is here going over the program of Local 2125 with the local officers.

PROTEST THE ORDER

New York, May 4.—The order of the Code Authority of the Silk Textile Industry closing the country's 900 silk textile mills for one week beginning May 14 in an effort to bring about stabilization in the industry caused by over production, brought protests yesterday from leading producers in Paterson, N. J., and caused labor leaders to announce renewal of their fight for a thirty-hour work week to replace the present forty-hour week.

The curtailment order is conclusive proof of the need for a shorter work week, Francis J. Gorman, vice-president of the United Textile Workers of America, said yesterday. He held that eighty machine hours in two shifts of forty hours each, was too much; maintaining that production would be more evenly balanced by having two shifts of thirty hours each. The Emergency Board of the United Textile Workers of America, he said, would meet today at the Bible House, Astor Place, to map out the union's plan of action.

On Monday a committee of four labor leaders will confer with Peter Van Horn, chairman of the Silk Textile Code Authority, and with other principals in the silk trade. The labor delegation will include Elizabeth Nord, representing the Silk Workers of New England; Frank Schweitzer, national secretary of the American Federation of Silk Workers and leader of the A. F. of L. union in the Paterson silk strikes last fall, expressed opposition to the curtailment plan as a "scheme to make the workers bear the burden of their employers' losses."

ed on Saturdays, Sundays and seven enumerated principal holidays shall be paid for at time and one-half, this applying also to piece work.

8. Rates for all jobs shall be increased 10 per cent over those of March 2, but in no case shall wages exceed the July 15, 1929, hourly earnings. Adjustment under this provision, recognized to be difficult must be made by July 15.

4. No increase shall be made for learners' wage rates but when the learners make the work limits fixed by the company they shall be paid the full rate for the particular job.

5. All wages will be paid weekly in cash.

6. Women doing substantially the same work shall be paid the same as men.

7. Workers, while machines are shut down or stoppages occur may be assigned to other work temporarily and shall get the full earnings established for that work but in no event less than the regular rate on their own job.

8. Any employee called for work any working day will be permitted to complete the full day's work except where operations are suspended more than half an hour due to causes beyond the company's control.

9. The company will deal with representatives of its union employees on wages, hours, grievances and conditions of labor.

10. When a union employee thinks he has a grievance it may be taken up with his foreman by the union representatives of his department. Falling settlement there the general

FLASHLIGHT BIRTH AS ELECTRICITY FAILS

A baby was born on North School street Wednesday morning as Turn Hall on North street was burning. The fire burned electric wires and the lights at the north end went out. There were no lamps in the house and the attending doctor found it necessary to go out to his car, bring in a pocket search light and with this method of lighting the new baby arrived in this world. Both mother and child are doing well.

February, 1923, and in the passing years his exactions increased until they assumed a considerable quantity in the later years, the state's attorney said. He had control of the remium accounts and his methods were that when the funds came into his department, said Mr. Alcorn, he would draw a check by his company on the Hartford-Connecticut Trust Company, signed by him for an aggregate sum. On the back of the check, he wrote the names of individuals to whom the checks were to be drawn.

The Hartford-Connecticut Trust then drew these checks, the checks went to Schmidt and were then transmitted to the payees. In many instances Schmidt used fictitious names and amounts, some of them being actual forgeries, Mr. Alcorn said. Some checks were deposited in his own account.

The greatest peculation, the state attorney said, were in the accounts of the St. Joseph Exchange, the Omaha Livestock Exchange and the Chicago Livestock Exchange.

Mr. Alcorn told the court that the accused had suffered physical difficulty, and had been in the hospital for a fractured skull.

David R. Woodhouse who appeared as counsel for Schmidt said the man is married, has a 19 year old daughter, who has now given up her college career; that Schmidt with his wife, jointly, owned their home on Fern street, and that had been turned over to make restitutions.

The attorney said Mr. Schmidt's extravagance ran to automobiles and he had had two expensive cars which were turned back in restitution.

Before the coming of the oil lamp, lighthouses were lit by candles or coal fires. The last of the latter was the lighthouse at St. Bees, where a coal light burned until 1822.

shop committee of the union will take up the case with the work manager, with appeal to the general official of the company.

11. There shall be no strike or lock-out; while negotiations are in progress.

12. The company will not discriminate against union employees or committee members.

The terms were set out in a letter addressed to J. A. Ortelli, chairman of the shop committee and signed by L. E. Leitz, vice president of the company and Father Francis J. Haas of the National Labor Board. It was accepted in writing by Ortelli and five representatives of the union involved.

Paterson Leader Hits Order

Paterson, N. J., May 4.—(AP)—Protesting the proposed curtailment of silk production by NRA code authorities, Benjamin Kaminsky, president of the Silk Manufacturers Association, today denounced the plan as "discriminatory, unfair and unjust to the silk manufacturer, the curtailment is opposed also by organized labor, it was announced here.

Mr. Kaminsky's objection to the move is based, he said today, on his belief that the curtailment will be ineffective unless it is also made to include the rayon manufacturers. "Unless rayon is bracketed with silk in this move," he said, "the curtailment will mean nothing. It will simply glut the market with rayon."

Frank Schweitzer, national secretary of the American Federation of Silk Workers and leader of the A. F. of L. union in the Paterson silk strikes last fall, expressed opposition to the curtailment plan as a "scheme to make the workers bear the burden of their employers' losses."

long distance runner and the only thing that troubles me is that I don't know the best foods to eat. In these days when you could furnish me with a diet?
Answer: The instructions for a training diet for you to use are entirely too long to be printed in this short space; however, I have a two-page article along this line which I will be pleased to send to you. Write to me in care of this newspaper asking for the article called "Training Diet for Athletic Contests." Follow the directions for questions and answers and be sure to enclose one large, self-addressed envelope and four cents in stamps.

(Wrinkles)
Question: "I would like to know of a good method of developing my neck and improving its appearance."
Answer: I suggest that you write to me in care of this newspaper following the directions for questions and answers and that you ask for my two articles on the subject of "Wrinkles and Facial Contours." These articles will provide you with some exercises to use that should prove helpful. Please enclose one large self-addressed envelope with your letter and four cents in stamps.

(Booboo)
Question: Miss Marylin Q.: "This question may sound rather silly to you but a friend of mine has told me that he heard of a disease which is called 'boo-boo.' I insist that there is no disorder of this name known to medicine. Which one of us is right?"
Answer: There is a disorder named booboo and this is a form of gastritis which is accompanied by great mental depression. It is rare in this country but frequently attacks visitors to the Pacific Islands.

(Training Diet)
Question: John Y.: "I have considerable hope of becoming a good

Queer Twists In Day's News

Dodge City, Kan.—Here's a windy story.

Harry Free, Dodge City businessman, reports he saw a farmer this week driving on a level road near Ingalls with his motor shut off and his car doors open. A stiff wind was blowing and Free said it was carrying the car along at a rate of between 10 and 15 miles an hour.

Pittsburgh—Pittsburgh's mayor William M. McElrath has proved himself something of a rough rider.
After visiting Central Police Court he found himself without transportation. Stepping into the street he hailed Lieutenant Edward Kirby bounding along astride a motorcycle.
The mayor hopped into the side car and curtly said: "City Hall, Lieutenant."
Winfield, Kas.—Going through an old trunk, Mrs. F. L. Mischler found a dress pattern she purchased twenty years ago and had never used. She decided to make a dress by it. Now neighbors are asking to borrow the pattern "because it's so stylish."
Memphis, Tenn.—The problem of farm rentals originated way back in the Garden of Eden, says W. M. Landess, Shelby county agricultural agent, commenting on Secretary of Agriculture Wallace's proposed conference on protection of cotton tenants.
"Adam and Eve were put out of the garden of Eden because they wouldn't abide by the rental terms," Landess said, "and there has been a tenant problem ever since."

Miami, Fla.—Because of a letter he found posted on his father's desk years ago, Roger Babson, economist, did not disclose the New Deal when he addressed students at the University of Miami.
The motto, Babson said, was as follows: "The codfish would never have been caught if he had not opened his mouth—and so Babson talked of other subjects than the New Deal."

In northern Siberia, in 1848, a huge, hairy mammoth suddenly appeared on the surface of the Indigirka river. Some 20,000 years before, he had mired down at this spot and had frozen solid; the unusually warm weather and floods of 1848 released his body.

SIMPLE SIMON'S SHOP POPULAR WITH TOURISTS

North Methodist Church Women's Announce Baked Shad Dinner for Tuesday.

Simple Simon's Sandwich shop, which opened for its second season, April 19, in the former Oakland schoolhouse on Deming street, has been doing a most satisfactory business. The special Sunday dinners have been well patronized by local people and travelers on the New York-Hartford-Worcester and Boston highway on which the shop is situated. Although it is still comparatively early for tourist traffic, many of the regular patrons on the through route have been welcomed by the hostesses, a group of women workers of the North Methodist church. The menu for Sunday's dinner will be found elsewhere today.

The management announces another special dinner for Tuesday of next week from 12 noon on, featuring baked shad, just such a dinner as they were accustomed to serve in past years at the church. Battered fish and others are urged to watch for their advertisement of this meal, which will be served at the same price as the Sunday dinner.

FIVE PERSONS WOUNDED IN OHIO BANK HOLDUP

Bandits Use Machine Guns and Escape With $17,000—Chief of Police Dying.

Peteria, O., May 4.—(AP)—Police watched highways throughout Northern Ohio today for a trace of two machine gunners who wounded five persons, two seriously, as they escaped yesterday with $17,000 from the First National bank.

Poston's chief of police, Frank Culp, and William Feisal, 37-year-old farmer, were critically wounded, as the robbers sprayed the interior of the bank and the street with machine gun bullets in making their get away in a motor car.

The robbers had red hair and police recalled reports of John Dilling, desperado, sought in several other states had dyed his hair but Andrew Emrine, president of the bank said he was certain neither man was Dilling.

To protect themselves from the gunfire, police officers who were attracted to the bank by the sound of shots the robbers took along four bank employes and released them several miles from town.

Seven employes were at work in the bank just before closing time when the robbers entered, armed with machine guns. Without warning they sprayed the interior with bullets, forced the employes against the wall while they looted the cages of $17,299. They forced Emrine into the rear of the car and covered their retreat with bullets.

Culp was struck as he entered the bank.

REPORT HEPBURN IN CONNECTICUT

Mother Declines to Discuss Star's Affairs When Questioned at Home.

Hartford, May 4.—(AP)—Katharine Hepburn was reported today to have returned to her native Connecticut, but if she was in seclusion at the home of her parents here, the fact was guarded as a secret by her family.

The screen and stage star, back from Merida, Yucatan, where she filed suit for divorce from Ludlow Ogden Smith, slipped out of New York last night. Her parents' home in Hartford was suggested as her possible destination.

But at the Hepburn home on Bloomfield avenue, Mrs. Thomas N. Hepburn, the actress' mother said she preferred not to discuss her daughter's affairs.

A maid said later: "Miss Hepburn is not here." Asked if she knew where the actress had gone after leaving New York, she said: "I haven't the least idea."

Miss Hepburn's father is a prominent Hartford physician.

HEADS BIBLE SOCIETY

New York, May 4.—(AP)—John T. Manson, of New Haven, Conn., has been elected president of the American Bible Society, it was announced today.

Manson was elected at a meeting of the society's board of managers here yesterday. He is widely known in Presbyterian church circles, is a member of the Presbyterian Board of Home Missions and a trustee of Princeton Theological Seminary and of Lafayette college.

VICTIM BLAMED IN FATAL CRASH

Coroner Yeomans Places Responsibility for Accident on Deceased.

Attorney John H. Yeomans, coroner for Tolland County, today issued his finding in the death of William Copeland, who was killed when his car overturned in Bolton on April 15. Coroner Yeomans finds Copeland himself was responsible for the accident. His finding follows:

"William Copeland, late of 171 Hilliard street, Manchester, Connecticut, died at the Manchester Memorial hospital on April 15, 1934 as a result of injuries received on an automobile accident on 'Nigger Hill,' Bolton, Connecticut.

Mr. Copeland was returning from a gathering of the employes of the Bon Ami works at Bolton Lake when the accident occurred. Copeland left the lake shortly after midnight driving a Dodge roadster. He was accompanied by John Mitchell, Raymond, all of Manchester. A short distance west of the top of 'Nigger Hill' Copeland's car collided with a Chevrolet sedan driven by Delphis A. Dion of Willimantic, Connecticut, which was proceeding in the opposite direction.

"The highway at this point is paved with concrete and is 40 feet wide. The marks on the highway indicated that the collision took place about 1/2 mile south of the center line of the highway on Dion's side of the road. After the collision, the Copeland car travelled about 175 feet, struck the south curb, turned over and came to rest on its right side about 300 feet from the point of collision. Copeland was thrown out of the car and received a fractured skull. He was immediately removed to the hospital where he died a short time after being admitted.

"The Copeland car had passed at least two other cars a short time prior to the accident. This fact, together with the fact that the car had considerable distance after the impact, indicates that it was proceeding at a high rate of speed.

"I find that said accident and the resulting death were caused by the act and negligence of Copeland in operating his car at a fast and dangerous rate of speed on the left side of the highway and without having the same under proper control.

Dated at Andover, Connecticut, this 3rd day of May, A. D. 1934. John H. Yeomans, Coroner."

TRUCK DRIVER CATCHES LARGE SNAPPING TURTLE

While driving west on Deming street and approaching the Oakland bridge this morning, Thomas Sullivan of 263 Main street saw a large turtle walking across the road. He stopped the truck he was driving and managed to get the turtle into the rear of the truck. It was a big fellow and put up a fight.

While driving down Oakland street he had occasion to look around and found that the turtle had bounded out of the truck. Going back he again picked it

HUNDREDS INSPECT THE TRADE SCHOOL

Big Crowd of Parents and Friends Attend for Open Night Program.

By THOMAS J. CHARRA Trade School Correspondent

A crowd of approximately 1,200 parents and friends of Trade school students attended the Manchester Trade school's seventeenth annual "Open Night" last evening.

The art exhibit attracted a large group of spectators as the mural painting was unveiled for the first time last evening. A model of a child's head and a life-size clay model bust of Allen Thompson, electrical student, were exhibited by Mrs. Fred Schultz, a student attending the FERA art class at the present time. Among other exhibits in the auditorium besides the large wall painting were illustrations, sketches, lettering, costuming and still-life water colors, all work of the art class students.

The Trade school orchestra, directed by William J. Hanna, furnished a program of concert music throughout the evening in the assembly hall. Many excellent comments were made on the music played by such a large orchestra. Warping, winding, cop winding, twisting, 5B spinning, braiding, plain weaving and fancy weaving were exhibited in the textile department.

The textile theory department exhibited coverlet fabrics and designs as well as dyed and printed fabrics. Index planning and worm-gear index milling were illustrated by machine department students along with a large array of tools which were on exhibit in the shop. Students' drawings, tracings and blue prints made by the blue print department were shown in the mechanical and architectural drafting departments. Many favorable comments were made in regard to the improved lighting installations recently completed by the electrical department of the Trade school.

House wiring, motor rewinding and repair work were illustrated and exhibited in the electrical production department. In the electrical testing department, students were busily engaged in electrical laboratory experiments which provided of interest to many.

Use of power machines and some of the work done by students in the carpentry department were on exhibition in the department and the assembly hall.

The great interest in the Trade school was manifested by the exceptionally large number of visitors from the surrounding towns and cities of New Britain, Hartford, Stafford, Rockville, Norwich, Willimantic and Thompsonville.
