DRY SPELL HITS THE MIDDLE WEST

Crops Dying, Wells and Streams Drying Up; Forest Fires Are Raging.

Des Moines, May 8.—(AP)—The dry spell in the middle-west, desperately in need of rain, lingered on today.

As the farm belt went into the second week of crop destroying drought, the only note of relief outside of the weather man's promise of local showers tonight or Wednesday was a report that an assistant to Harry L. Hopkins, National relief administrator would visit the stricken areas to decide on relief policies.

He is Lawrence Westbrook, who will tour the rainless districts and report his findings to Washington.

A blazing sun over most of the central west yesterday sent temperatures rocketing. Many farmers were forced to haul water long distances for their cattle and other stock.

Some Temperatures Lincoln, Neb., had an unofficial top of 96. In Missouri, Kansas City topped up a 92 for the record of the day, while St. Louis sweltered under a maximum 86.

Council Bluffs, hottest spot in Iowa, had a reading of 95 for the hottest May 7 in history.

On the heels of the drought came reports of water shortages in several city reservoirs, lack of feed, hay and pasture for stock, and an alarming situation in small grains, which are suffering the most from heat and dryness.

LOCATE HOUSE WHERE ROBLES CHILD STAYED

Searchers Discover Residence They Believe Kidnaped Girl Occupied as Recently as Two Days Ago

Cananea, Sonora, Mex., May 8.—(AP)—The house in which kidnaped June Robles may have been held as recently as two days ago has been found, two patrolmen disclosed today.

The statement came as a man-hunt, such as this ancient mining settlement has not seen since Mexico's dread rurales swept down in pursuit of early day brigands, spread through Cananea and the surrounding territory.

The policemen, Corporals George Ash and Tom Newell, of the Arizona highway patrol, did not disclose the exact location of the house, but they said they were convinced the 6-year-old heiress to the fortune of Bernabe Robles, Tucson cattle baron, was now in the hands of two men.

They pictured the abductors as dodging desperately from adobe shack to sun-baked arroyo somewhere inside the district around which a closing ring of steel-banded Mexican Federal soldiery with bayoneted rifles is converging. They were confident the kidnapers could not escape.

Child Had Been There. When they came upon the house, they found evidence in which they said there but two days ago, her kidnapers apparently having fled with her in alarm as the search originating in Nogales on the border to the west, touched points near Cananea.

The report of the patrolman came on the heels of a statement yesterday by officers in which they said they knew the child was alive and probably would be returned within 24 hours. The point of her return proved in error and last night a force of officers returned to their bases, empty-handed after an extensive search.

All roads are blocked by soldiery. Cananea and nearby settlements, including Arizpe, Baga Ochi, Baganuchi, Santa Cruz and Ojo De Agua, are encircled.

Mexicans Searching. If the fugitives sought to flee overland through the rugged, scrubby country, it was believed they could not long escape two hard-riding rurales, who are beating through the area searching isolated, adobe-plastered rocky cave dwellings and scattered shacks.

All night the searchers invaded houses, street by street and door by door, through the twisting and oblique byways of old Cananea. Pistols butted against portals as Mexican police, line riders, immigration and customs guards, all pressed in to service for the search, gruffly muttered the Sonora Spanish equivalent.

ROOSEVELT PROPOSES NEW DEBT AGREEMENT

Would Cut Finland's Interest Rate Almost to Zero—Other Debtor Nations Viciously Interested in Plan.

Washington, May 8.—(AP)—A new Finnish debt agreement slashing its present high interest rate almost to the zero point, awaited President Roosevelt's approval today.

The draft, if satisfactory to the President, would give America's only paid up to date debtor an interest rate of .03 per cent as compared to the present 3.5 per cent.

Although Finland's remaining debt is a comparative trifle—$8,264,645—this definite and official suggestion assumed considerable importance when dropped into the muddled situation involving debts running to a total of more than twelve billion.

To Send Message President Roosevelt intends to dispatch to Congress shortly a message.

87 MINERS DEAD FROM POISON GAS

Shaft in German Mine Sealed Up to Extinguish Fire—Villagers Mourn.

Buggingen, Baden, Germany, May 8.—(AP)—A flaming shaft of the Buggingen potash mines formed a temporary crypt today for 87 trapped miners, throwing this village into sorrow and suspense.

With the shaft hermetically sealed because of fire and gas hazards, the blocked entrance must be regarded as a tombstone for two weeks while the blaze burns itself out.

Search for the bodies cannot begin until it is safe to open the shaft. To the sealed entrance children and widows of the victims took tear-stained floral offerings and prayers.

Met Swift Death That the workers met swift death from rapidly-spreading carbon dioxide fumes after the mine timbers collapsed yesterday, short circuiting the electric system, is regarded as a fact.

Flames and dense smoke trapped the men on the 2,800-foot level. The only miner to break through died while being hoisted to the surface. He was the foreman of a crew working on the level.

Pastor Makes His Peace With Unknown Soldier

New York, May 8.—(AP)—The Rev. Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick has made his peace with The Unknown Soldier.

"I renounce war," the pastor of the Riverside Baptist church (the "Rockefeller Church") told a seminar last night.

"Rather than sanction another war, directly or indirectly, I'll see you in prison first," the minister said after 35 of the 36 persons at another seminar had voted to refuse to serve in the event of future armed conflict.

Dr. Fosdick reproached himself for having counseled and exhorted soldiers before they went "over the top" on their murderous and suicidal tasks in France.

For what he had done as a chaplain in France, he said, he had "an account to settle" with The Unknown Soldier. He made his renunciation of war, he stated, in "penitent repentance" to the unknown dead of the World War.

INSULL GOES TO JAIL; UNABLE TO RAISE BOND

Attempt Made to Steal 1,900 Year Old Tunic

Argenteuil, France, May 8.—(AP)—An attempt to steal the "Holy Tunic" which is said to have worn as he bore his cross to Calvary is believed to have been made Sunday night.

The guardian in the Church of Argenteuil, it became known today, reported that he was attacked while making his rounds of the basilica. He was wounded in the head, but the invaders fled empty-handed.

The purple shroud of wool has been on public display in the church recently, its first public exhibition in 42 years. It is to be shown until May 21 to mark the close of "Holy Year" commemorating the 1900th anniversary of the Crucifixion.

Treasured here for more than 1,000 years, the "Holy Tunic" supposedly was woven and colored by the Virgin Mary herself. Catholic ecclesiastical authorities say it was this seamless tunic which Christ wore on his way to Golgotha.

DEMOCRATS CARRY PELEY'S SALARY NOW AT $60,000

Upsets in Unionville and Naugatuck; Republicans Win in Three Boroughs.

New Haven, May 8.—(AP)—President John J. Peley of the New Haven road whose salary in the last three years had been reduced on $100,000 to $80,000, receives $37,000 a year from the New Haven road, the Interstate Commerce Commission report disclosed today.

However, other companies that are subsidiaries of the New Haven road contribute amounts that bring Peley's total compensation annually up to the $60,000 mark.

The companies that contribute to the total amount of President Peley's present salary in addition to the New Haven road are the New England S. S. Company, the New England Transportation Company, the County Transportation, the New York, Westchester and Boston Railway and the New York, Ontario and Western Railroad Company.

Not Out to $37,000. This explanation of the situation affecting President Peley's salary was made today in refutation of reports that his salary had been cut to $37,000.

The cut to $80,000 was made in accordance with a recommendation of the Federal co-ordinator of railroads that the maximum salary for railroad presidents should be $50,000. The first cut of ten per cent came in 1932, which brought Peley's salary down to $80,000.

Since then further cuts resulted in making the present salary from all sources $60,000.

The New Haven road announced today that with the business improving, all clerical employees will on May 18 be restored to a full time schedule of working hours. The schedule of clerical employees who were forced to take two days off a month without pay will be discontinued.

Miss Silver became hysterical when Bellanger, who disappeared a short time before their scheduled wedding Sunday, failed to recognize her at police headquarters. Both were removed to a hospital afterward.

SEEK AGREEMENT ON SALE OF ARMS

France and Britain Act to Keep War Materials Out of German Hands.

Paris, May 8.—(AP)—France and England are negotiating a bilateral agreement to limit the sale of armaments to Germany.

The two countries, the biggest armament manufacturers in Europe, are regarded as in a position, through the control of arms exports, to keep Germany from assembling a huge amount of war materials.

The negotiations began shortly after Germany withdrew last year from the League of Nations. At that time the two countries became alarmed over whether Chancellor Adolf Hitler sought to build up a powerful army.

French asserted today that the British took the initiative, suggesting the possibility of controlling armaments.

Boston, May 8.—(AP)—Army authorities here said today they were satisfied that the Armand Bellanger, reputedly suffering from amnesia at Schenectady, N. Y., on the eve of his marriage to Mildred Silver of Winthrop, was Corporal Bellanger, a clerk at the army base, who is married and the father of two children.

They said Bellanger was absent from duty without leave and announced immediate steps would be taken to return him to this city where he will face court martial.

Bellanger disappeared after drawing a month's pay May 1.

KIWANIS SHOW BEGINS TONIGHT

Promises to Be Lively and Entertaining — Repeat It Tomorrow Night.

The curtain will be drawn promptly at 8:15 this evening on the first of the two-night performances of the Kiwanis club's annual spring show "Gold in Them Them Hills" given for the benefit of the kiddies' camp at Hebron. Both programs will be given in the assembly hall of the Hollister street school. While the hall is filling the Trade school orchestra will play under the direction of William Hanna. Between the first and second acts the audience will be privileged to join in the chorus singing of old-fashioned songs, popular during the gay nineties. John L. Olson will lead the singing. Between the second and third act the Kiwanis' annual Elmore Watkins, Elmer Thielen, Elmer Weden and Helge Pearson will sing. Russell Potterton will be the accompanist for the singers, and for the Floradora sextet, whose identity still remains a mystery, but who are supposed to be Kiwanians. Suffice it to say that the committee has had their trials fitting them to gowns of the gay nineties, when washbasin waists were the vogue. Many of the costumes have been borrowed from the collection of the late Miss Lella Church, author and producer of Rockville. Miss Helen Bates and Lawrence Case will make up the cast so that the members of their families won't recognize their brothers and fathers when they don their mustaches and sideburns, in vogue in the nineties.

sistent to "Open" and were obeyed. Several times they came across clues which led to belief the hunted men not long since had fled. No formal arrests had been made, but many were questioned. Ash and Newell quietly descended on Cananea after the armed forces from Nogales had proved futile. They approached from Naco, having taken no part in the Nogales invasion, and brought Mexican official authority with them.

The governing powers of Cananea and the Mexican Federal Court of this district turned over the search to a man-power, both official and civilian, of their surrounding territory at their command. Carlos Brown, presidente municipal de Naco came with them from the border, and brought immigration and customs guards—cartridge belted fellows used to gun-fights along the international border. Presidente Ignacio Loayza of Cananea and Amorita Chacon, judge of the District Court, turned over the resources at their command.

Ash and Newell grew up in this territory, and are familiar with its terrain, customs and people. The possibilities of Cananea itself as a hiding place had been about exhausted today as the hunt spread to outlying sections and surged into the hills. The physician observed a sclerotic condition, a hardening of the arteries, and ordered a wheel chair to take Insull to the court room. The white-haired prisoner spurned it, with insistent gestures. "I know the building, it's all right, I'll walk it."

Marshall Laubenthaler told Insull he must take him to the little back room where criminal suspects are examined, fingerprinted and put through the routine inspections. There Deputy Marshal James M. Nordisk took Insull's fingerprints. "One process his brother, Martin, had submitted to a month ago at the county jail after being brought back from Ontario for trial on the state charges.

PRICES OF LAND ON THE UPSWING

Survey of Nation Shows That Better Market Prevails in Western States.

(Editor's Note: The Associated Presses asked land dealers and bankers in American farming states for opinions and figures on the price and present market for land. What they reported is summarized in the following survey.)

By ROBERT M. YODER

Chicago, May 8.—(AP)—If the Squire didn't get it, the old homestead may be safer now, for real estate dealers who handle corn land, wheat land, ranches and orchards find the market stirring. In many states, recent sales have recorded prices considerably higher than in 1933, and in many others, where there is little price increase, there are more buyers interested in putting cash into what used to be considered the soundest of all investments—a "good farm."

Generally dealers reported where crop prices are up, land prices are up. But many other factors enter, including what the buyer thinks production control will bring about, and what he thinks business generally will do.

Best in Five Years. April land prices in Nebraska, said C. J. Aldrich of the State Banking Department, were the best in five years. Texas farms are selling for 23 per cent above 1933, said A. C. Williams, federal credit agent.

For the first time since the tremendous slide of values in 1931 and '32, land in Colorado, New Mexico and Oklahoma is bringing "more than the mortgage," said the Wichita land bank.

Federal credit has stopped "distress sales" of Central Illinois corn land, said A. J. Surratt, agricultural statistician. The Federal Credit Agency, the Farm Credit Administration, reported land moving faster in South Carolina, Kentucky, Washington, Oregon and Minnesota.

Dull Market. On the other side, Idaho dealers said irrigated land there was selling on a dull market for $40 to $50 an acre, the price it brought before it was improved.

Dealers in the northwest, however, noted that city dwellers were showing interest in farms, and the Omaha land bank said farmers were back as farm customers. Ward Newcomb of the Spokane Federal land bank said western range land was higher, due to better prices for wool and lambs.

Small farms of from 40 to 50 acres are selling best in Indiana, dealers there said. There is a similar demand in California, said Edward Rainey, superintendent of banks, but it runs to farms of any size with living quarters.

Valentia Campo and Reno Bernardo Fined for Breaking Fence Pickets.

Charged with damaging the property of another, Valentia Campo, aged 20, and Reno Bernardo, aged 20, both of Stafford Springs, were before Judge John E. Fisk in the Rockville City Court on Monday morning. Due to the fact that they were under age, Edward Ward was appointed guardian for both youths.

The accused were charged with breaking the pickets off the fence of the Rockville Manufacturing Company both on West Main and Brooklyn streets. Shoe Rebuilders Code Announced. Cobblers Here In Figuring Costs Must Have $35 Weekly Wage Rate. The code governing the working hours of shoe rebuilder was received yesterday from the state meeting held Sunday in Ansonia, and under the ruling the limit of hours that an owner may work is set at 63 a week. On no day but Saturday will it be possible to keep open more than 12 hours. In each locality it is necessary to establish a given number of hours that each shop shall work, and the owners must be governed regarding the working hours by the agreement set by the majority. In case a cobbler has a shop in a store with another line of business, he will not be allowed under the ruling to receive work after or before the given hours, nor can any deliveries be made except during these hours. Violation of the rule carries with it a fine of not more than $500 or a year in jail, or both.

A shop cannot be operated where goods are sold below cost and in figuring the cost the cobbler must figure on a wage rate of $35 a week. To cut the price of wages in order to do the work is considered being below cost. The hours during which the local shops are to operate is within the code. The shops are to open at 7:30 on Monday, Tuesday and Friday mornings and close at 6:30 on the same evenings. They are to open at 7:30 Wednesday mornings and close at noon. On Thursday the hours are from 7:30 in the morning until 7:30 at night. Saturday the shops will remain open from 7:30 in the morning until 9 o'clock at night.

TUESDAY, MAY 8.

MINIMIZING GANGS

When the crime bills were being rushed through in the House of Representatives last Saturday a representative-at-large from Ohio, Mr. Young, who had been a very inconspicuous member ever since he landed in Congress on the Democratic landslide in 1932, saw his chance to make his presence known.

While differences of opinion as to methods and the phraseology of the bills were common enough there was no question in any other member's mind as to the necessity for adopting the drastic legislation proposed for the outlawing of criminals of the "public enemy" type. It remained for Mr. Young to attack the whole proposal and to attempt to heap ridicule on the attorney-general.

Attorney-General Cummings uttered the most scathing and hysterical statement made by any cabinet officer in the last decade. He solemnly assured the Senate Judiciary Committee that the armed gangsters outnumbered the Army and Navy.

Mr. Young's bid for notice was successful. Several members fell upon him with scathing sarcasm and none came to his aid—but he got his name in the papers. Also his attack on the Cummings statement brought to the attorney-general's estimate of the number of gangsters a degree of consideration which it had somehow escaped.

Two hundred thousand gangsters out of a population of 126 million people would be in the proportion of one gangster to every 625 persons. Whether that is an excessive estimate or not probably depends on what you mean by gangster.

Mr. Cummings probably included in his astonishing guess all those who, desiring to live bountifully without work, are more on the side of the bandits, the thieves, the mobs and the rackets than on the side of good order and the law.

Very many of the gangsters are small fry. But none of them is safe to overlook.

DOESN'T CLICK

The Johnson bill chickens have begun to come home to roost. That measure bars citizens of the United States from buying or selling the bonds of defaulting nations.

It was passed with a flourish and without much consideration of the fact that it might possibly be construed to mean what it said. Several nations had been making "token" payments and the President had expressed the belief that such nations were not in default on their war debt payments—a belief which a great many plain thinkers have always considered a bit fantastic.

The idea in Washington appeared to be, of course, that the Johnson bill would hit nobody but France, which realistic country did not go very strongly for the idea of trying to pay a hundred dollar obligation with a nickel.

Lately, however, there has been some uneasiness lest the attorney-general might rule that these token payments did not relieve the debtors or nations of default. But Mr. Cummings played "regular" and has ruled that a token, even if it doesn't help much to balance the books, is enough to keep the sheriff and the Johnson law away.

This sounds a little silly to people who have been trained to either pay or stand on the fact that they couldn't pay, and who would expect to get the rough side of their creditor's tongue if they should offer a dime where a big bill was due. But since the money for the debts will never be paid anyhow, the average citizen wouldn't care very much about all this if the attorney-general hadn't, at the same time, ruled that Russia is in default for money borrowed by the Kerenyky government, with the result, quite possibly, of knocking this country out of a lot of big Soviet orders for goods.

Soviet Russia has paid her debts to the last nickel—her own debts, that is. But she takes the position that she isn't responsible for the debts incurred by former governments—an argument none too convincing.

That, however, isn't Russia's only argument. She insists that she couldn't be expected to pay these old debts anyhow, even if she were responsible for them, so long as Russia has some considerable unadjudicated claims against this country, particularly for the very questionable invasion of Siberia during the World War by the Allies while Russia was still at peace with them.

There are a great many Americans who will be unable to see complete justice in this ruling on defaults which exempts several nations which unquestionably are in practical default and yet puts up the bars on a first-class potential customer who has a prima facie offset claim against our government.

In other words it looks as though Mr. Cummings had pulled a boner with relation to Russia, whatever the wisdom of his course toward Britain and the other token-payers.

FREEDING CRIMINALS
The Connecticut Board of Pardons is not a fair subject for loose and unthinking criticism because it is doubtful if any state has a similar body habitually more alive to its responsibilities to the people as well as to the criminal. Just the same it is difficult to reconcile one of its acts of yesterday with the extraordinary efforts being made by state and federal governments just at this time looking to the suppression of the rising tide of banditry.

BRITISH TRADE BOARD

A good many Americans, reading the current news dealing with a trade war between Great Britain and Japan, may be a little confused by the fact that pronouncements that otherwise appear to bear the stamp of official authority are issued by the president of the Board of Trade, whereas on this side of the water a president of a Board of Trade would seem to be about the same as any head of a Chamber of Commerce or Business Men's Association.

The British Board of Trade, however, is quite a different thing. It is part of the government, corresponding in a very sketchy way to our Department of Commerce but with considerably more power in many directions. It comes pretty near to being the supreme law, for instance, in the regulation of all maritime matters—and its authority in such things as the regulation of tariffs, the imposition of quotas and the setting up of conditions with relation to Japanese imports into the United Kingdom is not likely to be called into question.

The Board of Trade, however, is without actual authority throughout the British Empire outside the United Kingdom and would have to rely, in the case of a trade war such as is being inaugurated, on the co-operation of the various colonial governments for its full effect throughout the British Commonwealth. At home, however, Board of Trade rules have all the effect of law.

Washington, May 8.—Somehow, and butterflies scientists recently disclosed, live 30 to 60 per cent longer if their heads are cut off.

The same seems true of some politicians and some brain trusters, recalls Prof. Raymond Moley, who resigned his federal job after a row with Cordell Hull and was supposed to have lost out as an intimate Roosevelt adviser.

Insiders have known all along that Moley remained close to the throne and in constant contact with the White House. His value to Roosevelt is even greater than if he had remained here in the spotlight. His frequent visits here are unannounced, but occasionally come to light as the president is considering momentous decisions.

Question: From Arthur P.: "Why is it that when you go to the doctor he knocks you on the knee. Does this mean anything?"
Answer: "The doctor strikes you across the knee in order to test the knee jerk. This is a reflex contraction which is produced by striking the knee in the correct spot. It is seen normally in a person of good health; disappears in the patient who has locomotor ataxia, multiple neuritis, or who has developed a lesion of the spinal cord."

SYNOVIALS AND BURSTS
If our bones were fastened together without any padding between, we would have a painful sensation with every move we made. Without joints we would have the agility of pokers, and would be unable to bend, or twist. This ability to move freely, to run, jump and dance depends upon the joints, smooth movements of our knees, elbows, ankles and other joints. Fortunately, nature has provided us with a clever invention; whenever two bones meet they are separated by either an elastic cartilage or by a small sac or pouch filled with liquid. The sac is arranged so called the synovial membrane acts as a cushion and prevents grating and absorbs jar. The fluid inside of the synovial membrane looks something like eggwhite and is made up of mucus and albumin, with some fat and inorganic salts.

Question: From Arthur P.: "Why is it that when you go to the doctor he knocks you on the knee. Does this mean anything?"
Answer: "The doctor strikes you across the knee in order to test the knee jerk. This is a reflex contraction which is produced by striking the knee in the correct spot. It is seen normally in a person of good health; disappears in the patient who has locomotor ataxia, multiple neuritis, or who has developed a lesion of the spinal cord."

POPPY SALE HERE TO BEGIN MAY 17

American Legion and Auxiliary to Conduct Sale for Vets' Fund.

On their way to work Thursday morning, May 17, the people of Manchester will be offered little red poppies to wear in memory of the World War dead. They will also be offered an opportunity to contribute to the welfare of the war's living victims. All day Thursday members of the American Legion and Auxiliary will be on the streets with baskets of the poppies and with coin boxes to receive contributions in exchange for the memorial flowers.

The custom of wearing poppies in memory of the war dead is fifteen years old this year, and is generally observed throughout the English-speaking world. In the United States the women of the American Legion Auxiliary have developed it into a great national program for commemorating the services of those who died and for bringing aid to those who sacrificed health and strength in the nation's service.

Nearly ten million Americans wear the American Legion and Auxiliary poppy each year on "Poppy Day," the Saturday before Memorial Day, and contribute nearly one million dollars for the relief of the war disabled, the widows and fatherless children. All of the poppies are made by disabled veterans, as the label on each poppy shows.

Early in the winter the making of the poppies which will be worn the following May, begins in government hospitals and in special workrooms maintained by the Auxiliary throughout the country. Hands of disabled veterans, weary of idleness, are given employment shaping the little paper flowers. Discouraged men whose spirits have sunk to despair from months and years of unemployment are given the reviving experience of again earning money.

A penny apiece is paid for each poppy made. A veteran, if he is not too badly disabled, can easily turn out 300 of the flowers in a short working day. This is usually the maximum number the disabled men are permitted to make in a day to prevent them from overtaxing their strength, and means earnings of three dollars a day.

For men who have lain in hospitals for months feeling that they were useless incumbrances on the earth, three one-dollar bills actually earned are worth a fortune. For the families of these men—the poppy makers are all men who receive little or no government compensation—the money earned often means food, shelter and fuel for the winter. For the men without families the poppy makers provide a "stake" for the day when they must go out and attempt to re-establish themselves in life against the handicap of their disabilities.

Veterans too badly disabled to make complete flowers sometimes form what they call "Poppy Corporations." Several of them work together on the same flowers, each performing the operation which he can do and passing the flower on to others to be completed. Even blinded veterans can take part in the work under this arrangement. Manufacturing the poppies involves large problems of financing, management and distribution for the Auxiliary women directing the project. This year wages paid to the disabled veterans will total nearly $100,000. Employment has been given to many hundreds in 58 different hospitals and workrooms in 40 states.

The funds derived from the poppies are used by the Auxiliary and the American Legion in giving aid to disabled veterans, their families and families of the dead for whom no other aid is available. Groceries for the family of a veteran too sick to work—shoes for the children of a veteran lying ill in a distant government hospital—a loan to a convalescent veteran struggling to get back on his feet—these are typical of the purposes for which the poppy contributions are used. The money is expended entirely in the community in which it is raised under the direction of the rehabilitation and child welfare committees of the local Auxiliary Unit and Legion Post.

The wearing of the poppy draws its wide appeal from its dual purpose of honoring the dead and serving the living. Every red flower on a label on "Poppy Day" means that the wearer has thought of the men who lie beneath the poppies in France, and has contributed something to the relief and rehabilitation of the men, women and children who are still fighting the long battle against physical and financial handicaps resulting from war service.

TEN TO TWENTY YEARS FOR ATTEMPTED ARSON

Brooklyn, N. Y., May 5.—(AP)—Abraham Zahron, 34, of Brooklyn, was sentenced by County Judge Franklin Taylor today to a term of ten to twenty years in Sing Sing prison on a conviction on a charge of attempted arson.

Zahron was convicted by a jury in King's county court on a charge that he attempted to set fire to a dress goods store owned by Mrs. Rose Dahdah, located at 130 Smith street, Brooklyn.

Persons who lived above the store smelled escaping fire and called a gas company emergency crew, who found gas pipes in the basement of the building had been punctured. The crew called police, who found gasoline-soaked rags in the store and charged they found Zahron asleep and intoxicated on a couch in the store.

Mrs. Dahdah was charged with hiring Zahron to set fire to the place, but this charge later was dismissed. She came here several years ago from Springfield, Mass.

JUDGES NAMED FOR GLEE CLUBS

Three men who are widely known in musical circles throughout Connecticut and much farther afield have been chosen as judges for the competition between member clubs of the New England Federation of Men's Glee Clubs, which will be held Saturday afternoon, May 12, at the Horace Bushnell memorial in Hartford. They are James S. Stevens of Hartford, Dr. Arthur D. Woodruff of Washington, Conn. and Richard Donovan, assistant dean of the School of Music at Yale university.

The competition will be one feature of the day which will be taken up with the activities of the organization from mid-morning until late in the evening.

The first event on the program will be a lecture in the morning by James D. Price in the Hartford high school on "The Making of an Orchestra." This lecture will be attended by rural boys and girls from all over Connecticut, and will be illustrated by boys and girls, who will play the different instruments as mentioned of them is brought into the lecture.

In the afternoon the competing clubs will each sing the requested number, "Feasting I Watch," by Sir Edward Elgar, and one song chosen by the club itself. Announcement of the winners of the plaques to be given as first and second prizes will be made during the evening at the concert which will be presented at the Bushnell for a fund for music training for boys and girls in the rural districts of the state.

Mr. Stevens, who will act as one of the judges, was for several years president of the Hartford Choral club and is known throughout the country as vice-president of the Associated Glee Clubs of America. At present he is also chairman of the associate member committee of the Choral club, which will take part in the concert the evening of May 12. During the war Mr. Stevens organized the liberty concert which were held all over the state, and was at one time president of the Treble Clef Club.

Dr. Woodruff, who is more than eighty years old, has been noted for fifty years as a conductor, and is the oldest choral conductor in the United States. He has been associated with the Mendelssohn Glee club of New York, and with women's choruses in the Orange and Montclair, N. J., and in 1930 conducted a concert in Carnegie hall, New York. He has since retired.

Composer and Conductor Mr. Donovan is well known as a composer and conductor. His interest is chiefly in intensely modern music and he has had the distinction of having his compositions played at the Yaddo Festival of Modern Music in Saratoga, N. Y. Last year he wrote "The Tale of a Rat," for strings, with a soprano solo, which was sung at the Yaddo concert by his wife, who will act as soprano soloist for the concert May 12. He is interested primarily in experimentation and new composition.

Mr. Donovan was born and brought up in New Haven, and is a graduate of Yale university and of the Danforth School of Music in New York. He has studied in Europe and taught at one time at the Taft School in Watertown. After that he was professor of music at Smith college, and went from Smith to the Yale School of Music.

He was organizer and at present is director of the choir of Christ church in New Haven, and teaches organ and theory at Yale. He is also conductor of the New Haven Women's chorus, which will be the only woman to sing with the chorus of 800 men's voices at the Bushnell May 12 has sung at concerts of modern music at the New School, under a money-back guarantee of chamber music at Yale and on various musical occasions in other parts of New England.

"I know how Steel Protects You - in a Warship or a Car"

A CERTIFIED INTERVIEW WITH M. E. MERRITT, NAVY YARD, CHARLESTON, S. C.

1. "Welding steel in a Navy Yard, I see plenty of examples of the punishment steel has to stand. And anybody knows that if a battleship weren't made of steel it wouldn't stand a chance in action on the high seas today."

"I bought a Plymouth for its Safety-Steel Body... Lucky for me that I did!"

You've seen the steel armor on warships. It's Merritt's job to help make it. He knows how strong it is. Small wonder that when he wanted a car, he picked Plymouth for its Safety-Steel Body. But he never thought that this precaution would one day save his life!

The drawing shows what happened. A foggy night. A sudden stop. Rammed by a truck from behind... catapulted into the air. Smashing down! Turning over and over!

"The Safety-Steel Body was all that saved me!" he told us.

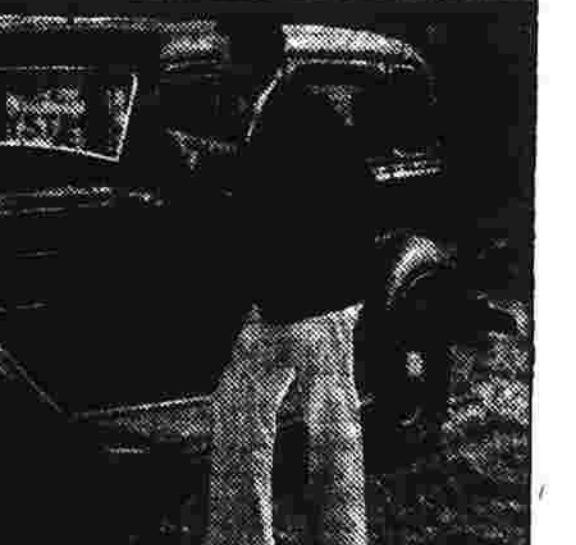

2. "There's nothing but steel plates on today's warships. And steel is what I wanted in the body of my car. Though I never thought, at the time, I'd be in a serious accident."

3. "One night it happened! I'd pulled up behind a parked car. A truck tore up behind and sent me sailing. But I lived to tell it!"

DONNA of the BIG TOP

BEGIN HERE TODAY

DONNA GABRIEL and MADELINE SIDDAI, who call themselves "The Gabriel Sisters" are trapeze performers with Renfro's circus. When Madeline's grandfather who is blind asks her to spend a week-end at his farm she persuades Donna to go instead. Donna, pretending to be Madeline, falls in love with BILL SIDDAI, Madeline's cousin.

CON DAVID, animal trainer, is devoted to Donna but she regards him merely as a friend. Madeline loves Con and schemes to win him. Donna falls from the trapeze and is injured. Madeline wires Bill to come for her and begs Donna to continue the impersonation. Bill takes Donna to farm to recuperate.

MRS. FLANTER, the housekeeper, is suspicious of the girl. Donna grows stronger and soon is able to get about in a wheel chair. NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XI
Ned Trafford was surly and belligerent. Irritable without provocation. Twice Renfro had caught him under the influence of liquor and threatened him with a "notice" if he ever caught him drinking again. But Trafford avoided Madeline and, as the days passed, her fear of him lessened and gradually died.

She concluded the canvasser was more afraid of what she might say or do than she was afraid of him. Nevertheless Madeline remained convinced that Trafford had been responsible for Donna's fall and she told Con David this. The result was that Con hated Trafford with a deadly, silent hatred that made him careless and bitter and even cruel to the smiling beasts that helped him earn his living.

Renfro had watched Madeline performing on the trapeze alone and since business was bad and there was no prospect of Donna's return, he had decided to let Madeline remain in the show as a "single." One Gabriel sister did not make a feature act, but the cut in salary helped a little.

Madeline knew Con's interest in her was due to the fact that he could get news of Donna through her, but his very indifference only spurred Madeline's determination to win him.

In every conceivable manner she contrived to keep him near her. She made rabbits out of sandwiches and invited Con into her stateroom to share them with her, though she knew Renfro would "read the riot act" if he heard of it.

During every performance she watched the animal trainer put his "cats" through their paces and she never failed to compliment him on his daring when he left the arena. His white silk shirt clinging to his body and beads of perspiration about his white lips.

"There isn't an act in the world that can equal it, Con," she would exclaim ecstatically. "I simply marvel at you! I could watch you all day, even though my teeth chatter with fright for you."

She hovered over him like a mother, watching for a loose button or a dangling bit of braid on his coat. As though it were her duty to perform such tasks, she demanded that he hand the garments over to her to mend.

When the new tiger, a gorgeously beautiful Bengal, gave Con a vicious scratch on the wrist Madeline changed the dressing on the wound daily for a week. Con insisted the injury was nothing.

He was flattered by these attentions. The sting of Donna's repulsion still rankled, though he loved her with all the fervor of his Latin temperament. Con was perfectly aware of Madeline's love for him, as was every one else, but he accepted it as homage due his position as the star performer of the troupe.

Now and then he invited her to dinner at a hotel or restaurant as a change from the fare in the meat tent. Madeline always made the most of these occasions, combing her hair as Donna had worn hers, dressing as nearly as possible like Donna and aping her mannerisms until the man was a trifle bewildered.

He wondered why, when the two girls were so alike, he should love one and not the other. A month went by, then six weeks. The heat became intense. Under the tents the air was heavy, almost intolerable. The poor animals, forced to stay in small quarters, suffered and snarled and roared and spit. The staterooms in the Pullman were stifling. Electric fans merely stirred the fetid, stifling air.

Under the glare of a thousand blazing lights the performers tried to concentrate on their numbers, to forget their discomfort and put forth their best efforts, but the air moved slowly and without pep. A grizzly bear sickened and died. Renfro tore his hair and wailed that there was a jinx on the show and they might as well close.

His wife, who had heard the same wall many times, for once listened to him. Then she said, "Well, why don't you stop beeing and get rid of the jinx?"

"I wish to God I could! If you can tell me who it is I'll fire him quick enough."

"It's not a 'him.' It's that Madeline Gabriel."

"Oh, you've got it in for Madeline because she's alone. She's all right."

U. S. JURY REFUSES TO INDICT MELLON

proceedings were irregular and that he was given no hearing by the Treasury before the charges were made public.

H. S. Dumbauld of Uniontown, U. S. district attorney for Western Pennsylvania presented the case to the Grand Jurors.

In his statement last week, Mellon said he was "in the dark" about the charges and Attorney General Cummings replied "he knows perfectly well the basis upon which the Treasury Department made the additional assessment."

The government's charges of which Mellon now in effect has been cleared by the Grand Jury became known March 10 last. Cummings, in a statement then, not only claimed the Pennsylvania had underpaid the tax but announced an inquiry into the Mellon-controlled Aluminum Company of America.

The company long a target of monopoly charges, was described by Cummings as "a one hundred per cent monopoly in the producing field."

Mellon interests control the Gulf Oil Company and have huge holdings in the steel and coal industry. For years an outstanding figure in business and finance, Mellon was appointed secretary of the Treasury by President Harding. He held the post through the Coolidge administration and part of the Hoover administration. He was the only Treasury secretary ever to serve under three Presidents. President Hoover appointed him as ambassador to London and he held that post until the end of the Hoover term.

MELLON GRATIFIED
Pittsburgh, May 5. (AP)—Informed a Grand Jury had refused to indict him on a charge of income tax evasion, Andrew W. Mellon said today:

"I am, of course, gratified that I have been exonerated by a jury of my fellow-citizens. The fact that the Grand Jury reached a sound conclusion, notwithstanding the unusual methods pursued in my case, is proof of the good sense and fairness of the American people."

age on war debts at least part of which will deal with the Finnish obligations. Responsible officials said today the more favorable terms to be offered Finland could not be considered any standard formula for solution of the entire tangle. There were no denials, however, that the agreement would be held up as an example to other powers.

If finally approved, Finland's interest rate would drop from the highest to the lowest. Great Britain also shares a 3.5 per cent rate. The scale runs down to a present 1.0 rate by France and an .04 figure for Italy.

Johnson's Stand
The war debt situation flared into high relief yesterday with an assertion by Senator Johnson, Republican of Florida, author of the act banning financial transactions with defaulters, that further token payments would not be accepted on the next judgment day—June 15.

Johnson, angered by Attorney General Cummings ruling that token payees were not defaulters and thus were outside the scope of the Johnson bill, hit particularly at Great Britain in his Senate speech. While debtor nations and administration officials considered the ifs and ands of tokens, Alexander Troyanovsky, the Soviet Ambassador, made a prompt appearance at the State Department to protest the attorney general's designation of Russia as a "defaulter."

He told reporters he had "objected" but said he could not make public the official Soviet position "at the present time."

and eventually limiting or even forbidding the exportation of war material to "certain countries disarmed by treaties."

The reference is to Germany and Austria.

Sold Plans Motors
The negotiations came to light through the revelation that a big British company recently sold 80 airplane motors to Germany.

The French took the position that while the motor, apparently, were destined for civil use, they could easily be transferred to war purposes and, consequently came with in the scope of the proposed agreement. The agreement is still incomplete.

The French called attention to the British sale of motors and asked what attitude Great Britain would take on such transactions. The British are studying the question.

The French claim that not a gun of French manufacture is sold outside France without the permission of the government.

ODD FELLOWS CONFER SECOND DEGREE AGAIN

Expect 200 to Watch New Degree Team Friday Night—Plan Memorial Day.

King David Lodge I. O. O. F. plans another second degree Friday evening at Odd Fellows Temple, Main street. Last week more than 200 witnessed the degree. It is planned to put on the work this week in a grand and elaborate manner.

The third degree team will also stage a rehearsal Thursday evening for this degree which will be worked May 25 also in full form.

Plans for Memorial Day will also be discussed Friday evening. The special committee to handle this will make its first report. Another committee working on the annual picnic of the Odd Fellows and Rebekahs will report Friday evening.

Following the degree work there will be a baseball game and refreshments in the banquet hall.

TELEGRAPH CODE SHOWDOWN SOON

New York, May 5.—(AP)—Pressure on stocks lifted somewhat today, although prices shuffled about nervously and neither traders nor investors exhibited any pronounced inclination to expand their positions.

News again was of an indecisive character in the drought ridden crop sections brought some easiness in grains. Rubber was a loser under profit taking. Silver steadied as the President conferred with Senate proponents of the metal. The dollar improved slightly in foreign exchange markets.

U. S. government securities displayed further strength, pushing into new high territory for the past year or more. Corporation bonds, however, were hesitant.

Shares of Case and Johns-Manville came back 2 points each and others up fractions to top sections. Included Dome, McIntyre, Noranda, American Smelting, U. S. Industrial Alcohol, American Commercial Alcohol, Westinghouse, Chrysler, Consolidated Gas, Loew's, American Telephone, U. S. Steel and Bethlehem Steel.

Loss 3 and Borden was active at a point or so decline. Dupont and Western Union were also a little heavy. General Motors, Santa Fe and Commercial Solvents eased. Most of the utilities and rails did nothing.

Some of the gold mining issues were moved up following declaration of an extra dividend of $1.50 by Dome Mines. An additional disbursement had been generally expected in view of increased income due to the higher price of gold.

Marglin calls continued to go out in all directions as the result of yesterday's break, but brokers expressed considerable satisfaction at the lack of unsettlement caused by necessitous bolstering up of shaky financed commitments seemed to be well absorbed.

Some market commentators pointed out that, while business seemed to be a trifle spotty in certain districts, actual business conditions were much better than sentiment. The latter, it was added, is now being governed largely by Washington happenings and relatively little attention is being paid to good trade reports, improved earnings and extra dividends.

Opinion in the boardrooms was divided as to whether the drop through the market low averages was a decisive indicator of a reversal of the upward trend. At the same time, public demand for equities on a scale down basis was at a minimum and commission houses with foreign competitors said that, at the moment, Europe did not appear to be interested.

FIRE WRECKS CHURCH
Beebe, Que., May 5.—(AP)—The Roman Catholic church here, was partly destroyed by fire of undetermined origin today. Damages were estimated at $15,000 after flames had swept a portion of the building and totally destroyed the apse with a valuable collection of vestments, consecrations, and works of religious art.

that Kluegel had forced his way into the house and attempted to force acid down the woman's throat. Physical indications pointed to a terrific struggle.

Both Were Burned
Both were burned by the poisonous acid, but neither of them seriously. Miss Abbott was removed to the Meriden hospital in a hysterical condition, and Kluegel was taken to police headquarters. Using a razor blade he had concealed on his person, he slashed his wrists and had lost considerable blood when police discovered his action and rushed him to the hospital.

Authorities say he will recover. Bonds of $25,000 were continued as his case was postponed until May 15 in Police Court today.

HOSPITAL NEEDS FINANCIAL AID

Helping folks to get well is the job of the Memorial Hospital—24 hours of every day in the year. And because the receipts do not equal the expenditures in the performance of this task, it is necessary to conduct an annual drive for financial assistance. This year's campaign, headed by William B. Halsted, general chairman, will open next Monday, when a huge corps of volunteer workers will start a house to house canvass of Manchester to raise a quota of $15,000.

Complete 14 Teams

Majors and captains of the drive organizations have already been selected and the various teams are now being completed. This morning it was reported that fourteen teams had been organized in full and the other eighteen will be completed in a few days. In all there will be more than 180 workers in the campaign.

"Helping folks to get well" is a short and simple phrase but it covers a lot of territory.

Illness and accident do not choose daylight hours in which to strike; sudden attacks of disease may come in the wee sma' hours. In many instances, life itself may depend upon the speed with which medicines, training, nursing, care, instruments and other things needed by the doctor are made available.

Mr. Halsted said today:

"So the hospital can not shut its doors at 5 or 6 in the afternoon and close down from Saturday noon until Monday morning, as many offices and factories do. Instead of a 40-hour week, the hospital operates on a 168-hour week. Every hospital day is three 8-hour working days."

"Let us think about this hospital day in terms of services and supplies.

The admitting service, the telephone service, the engineering staff, and many other departments, not to mention the laboratory, X-ray, diet and surgical services, all must be operated 24 hours a day. Think of those things in terms of payroll, of heat, light, fuel, building maintenance and the thousand and one things the hospital needs.

"Has it ever occurred to you that hospital linens and beds are used three times as long each day as the linens and bed in the average home?"

So it is with other hospital equipment. It must be ready for use at all times. When we think of the hospital day as being three times as long as the average working day, we can begin to appreciate why a large item of hospital expense lies in "being ready" night and day.

"The largest item of hospital expense is payroll, for the simple reason that 'helping folks to get well' is a task that can not be handled on a hand-production line.

The hospital can not prepare so many meals of uniform ingredients, for when we realize that food is a part of the treatment and that meals must be made up as the doctor suggests or orders, we also must remember that sick people have likes and dislikes that are accentuated by their illness.

These few examples show why machine methods can not be introduced into the hospital and they explain why so many different types of training and experience are represented among the personnel of the hospital.

Many of the hospital personnel, who actually spend from a few minutes to several hours in doing something of a special nature for one patient and for nobody else at that time, are never seen by the patient. Yet, the invisible army of hospital personnel, like the building and equipment, must be kept ready night and day.

"Officers of this invisible hospital army are the doctors on the staff. These physicians are carefully chosen by the hospital for competency and ethical qualities, and they have full charge of the treatment of the patients. They direct the trained personnel of the hospital insofar as matters pertaining to the treatment of the sick are concerned.

Well Equipped

To assist the doctor, the hospital not only provides equipment and personnel, but also sets up such conditions as the doctors have found to be for the best interests of the sick. Certain routine and practices which to non-medical people may seem entirely unnecessary are insisted on, because the doctors know that such procedure help folks to get well most rapidly.

Patients and their visitors play a very important part in this work of 'helping folks to get well.' The patient who follows the hospital routine, as approved by the doctors, and who cooperates with the doctor in all phases of treatment, is able to leave the hospital earlier than those who continually question. Realizing that hospital routine and doctor's orders are important parts of the program for speedy recovery, every patient ought to cooperate.

Quiet and rest sometimes are the best aids the sick may have.

So the visitors who really want to join in "helping folks to get well" will not only carefully observe visiting hours, but they also will walk softly and talk in low tones at all times. In doing this, they will be helping all the patients whose rooms they may pass.

Fees Necessary

And just one more thing about this job of "helping folks to get well." Fees are used to keep the hospital going. Not only that, but most hospitals charge fees to the patient's purse, without regard to the actual cost of the service. They depend on public spirited folks to make up the difference—and it is to the credit of the public that these folks have appreciated the value of the hospital and its work, and have gladly helped.
