PRESIDENT SIGNS SUGAR CURB BILL

Means Reduction of One Half Cent in Pound in Tariff — Will Help the Producers Outside U. S.

Washington, May 9.—(AP)—President Roosevelt today signed the sugar production control bill. He expects to sign the $417,000,000 revenue bill tomorrow.

The President proclaimed a reduction of one-half cent a pound in the tariff of sugar.

He also declared that the rate of the sugar excise tax must not exceed the amount of the reduction in the tariff.

"This means," he said in a formal statement, "that the processing or compensatory taxes will not increase, in themselves, the price to be paid by the ultimate consumers and at the same time our own sugar producers will have the opportunity to obtain in the form of benefit payments, a fairer return for their product."

Asks Co-operation

The President designated an informal Cabinet committee composed of officers in charge of the various territorial possessions to co-operate with the secretary of agriculture in administering the sugar control bill.

"I hope that this act," he said, "will contribute to the economic improvement in Hawaii, Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, the Philippines, Cuba and among Continental sugar producers. x x x

"Those engaged in this industry have an opportunity to improve their economic status through operation of this act. I urge their cooperation in carrying out its provisions."

KIWANIANS THRILL IN OLD TIME PLAY

Burlesque "Mellerdrammer" of Early 90's Assisted by Community Players.

Thrilling mellerdrammer, farmer boy hero, sweet, demure heroine, sleek villain, Hawkshaw, the detective, Farmer Stanley and the old mortgaged farm, all the necessary accoutrements of stage play of the early 90's were dusted off last night as the Manchester Kiwanis club presented its annual benefit show for its Hebron Kiddies Camp, assisted in the straight drummer by members of the Manchester Community Players. Kiwanians themselves furnished most of the comedy relief in the extras that for the most part make the production an entertaining one.

200 Attend

The old opry house where the mellerdrammer was portrayed was the Hollister street school auditorium. It made a good house for the show since the stage is adapted rather suitably for amateur plays and there isn't the handicap of three flights of stairs that High school hall presents. About 200 attenders last night's show and a larger attendance is expected tonight.

The play, "There's Gold in Them Thar Hills," was no doubt intended for a burlesque on the old "he ain't done right by our Nell" type of play that has appeared when the Opera House was playing "The Ragged Hero" and "Queen of the Rockies." Some of the Community Players took their jobs seriously, while others accepted the spirit of travesty and interpreted their roles to the amusement of the audience. There was more fun for the audience in the burlesque interpretations, naturally.

The Floradora Girls

The Kiwanians, willing to dance, sing, dress up like women, or recite poetry for the sake of their Kiddies camp, furnished most of the extra numbers during the second act when the story carried little Nell when she was carried off to a Bowery dive. Here it was that the audience was let in on a deep, dark street—the identity of the Floradora sextet. When the "girls" came out they couldn't conceal themselves, not under founce upon founce of Ninety attire, stuffing, bustles, wigs, lip-stick, rouge and even dainty parasols. Every one in the audience knew them and laughed with them in their embarrassment or predicament as the case might be. The parts were played by R. K. Anderson, William Rubinow, Harold Burr, Robert

When 2,000,000 Turned Out To Hear Hitler

The stupendous spectacle of 2,000,000 people gathered in one place was afforded in Berlin's great Tempelhof aerodrome on May Day when Chancellor Hitler, by means of 122 loud speakers, told the vast assemblage of Nazi aims and policies. It generally is credited with being one of the greatest single throngs in history.

6 PERSONS ARE KILLED WHEN AIRPLANE FALLS

Machine Believed Sunk in the English Channel as No Trace of It Can Be Discovered.

Le Bourget, France, May 9.—(AP)—Four Frenchmen and two Englishmen were believed killed today when an "Air France" trimotor passenger plane disappeared on a flight across the English channel between Dieppe, France, and New Haven, England.

It was believed to have plunged into the channel, 50 miles wide at that point, and to have sunk immediately.

The occupants of the plane were: Pilot: Camet, French. Radio Operator: Olier, French. Steward: Hudson, English. Count: Ernest de Neuville, French passenger.

M. Guichard, French passenger. A Mr. Traiffard, English passenger.

The plane was sought on both sides of the channel, by air and sea.

JAPANESE PROTEST TRADE WAR ACTION

Tokyo, May 9.—(AP)—A formal protest against Great Britain's newly imposed quotas on Japanese imports likely will be the first gun fired by Japan in the Anglo-Japanese trade war, it was indicated in high government quarters today.

A majority of the foreign office officials believe the British restrictions on Japanese trade infringe on the most favored nation clause of the Anglo Japanese commercial treaty.

For this reason, a high government official said legal experts are studying the relation of the treaty to the quotas announced by Walter Runciman, British board of trade head.

If infringement is shown, Tokyo will protest, the official said.

Quoted President

He recalled at the present that Japan protested similarly when France instituted import quotas against Japanese commerce.

The official said Japan will refuse to make any peace overtures unless the government said, "It is entirely natural that Britain's sudden drastic action should be deeply resented in certain quarters in Japan where it is compared to a commencement of hostilities

ROOSEVELT STATEMENT

Washington, May 9.—(AP)—Here is the text of the statement President Roosevelt issued today in signing the Jones-Costigan sugar production control bill:

On February 8 last, I sent to the Congress a message setting forth certain facts and problems pertaining to the sugar industry. I said then that "the problem is difficult but can be solved if met squarely and if small temporary gains are

GOVERNMENT SEEKS SUSPECTED BANDIT

Federal Agent on Way to New Haven to Arrest Man Caught There.

New Haven, May 9.—(AP)—The Department of Justice notified New Haven police today that Walter A. Madden, of New York, charged with shooting a detective during an attempted payroll robbery, was wanted by the Federal government on a charge of violating the Dyer act.

In a telegram to Chief of Police Philip T. Smith, the department said an agent was enroute to New Haven with a Federal warrant for Madden.

At the same time New Haven officials received a communication from Detroit saying Madden's description answered that of a man indicated in that city for robbery.

Stolen in Detroit

New Haven officials said the information from the Justice Department indicated an automobile found abandoned last week after the attempted robbery of a $3,200 payroll at the dress factory of Leon Insler and Brother, had been stolen in Detroit several months ago.

The Dyer act is aimed at the interstate transportation of stolen cars.

No details of the Detroit robbery were contained in the communication from that city.

Loot in Auto

The abandoned automobile was registered in New Jersey in Madden's name. In it police found merchandise which they said was stolen in February in a clothing store robbery in New Haven.

Detective Benjamin Racce and Joseph Bennett were wounded, neither seriously, in the attempted holdup last week. The latter was struck by a bullet after Madden jumped on the running board of his car in an attempt to flee.

A second man charged with being Madden's companion escaped and is still at large.

SAYS BIG TRUSTS CONTROL THE CODES

Gov. Pinchot Wants Greater Labor Representation on NRA, He Tells Workers.

Philadelphia, May 9.—(AP)—Greater labor representation of NRA code authorities was advocated by Governor Gifford Pinchot in an address prepared for delivery before the Pennsylvania Federation of Labor today.

Declaring codes now "are controlled by the same giant corporations and trusts x x x who ruled the industry before the depression," the governor said, "NRA can be made to work only through the strong and permanent organization of the workers, absolutely free from the control of the employers."

"The money makers must be driven out of the NRA temple," he asserted. "The workers, the consumers, and the small business men must be heard in the court of the Blue Eagle. A compliance board without representation of labor upon it is an outrage."

"The plan I stand for is to make the workers better off by laws which will protect them directly (not through special favors to big business), laws for minimum wages, for shorter hours, for better compensation, for unemployment insurance, and for special legislation to strengthen labor unions."

"The governor reviewed liberal labor legislation he supported during his two terms as chief executive, and pledged his continued support of labor in event of his election as U. S. Senator to succeed David A. Reed."

Continuance in power of the Republican organization will mean continuance of "ruthless exploitation" of labor, Pinchot said, urging election of liberal legislators as well as progressive executives. The governor is an Independent Republican.

PASTOR MISSING; FEAR FOUL PLAY

Minister's Hat and Car Found Near River; Also Looking for Little Boy.

Halifax, May 9.—(AP)—The mysterious disappearance of a Baptist minister at Debert and a seven-year-old boy at Yarmouth still puzzled Royal Canadian Mounted Police today as they investigated rumors of foul play in both cases.

Rev. G. R. T. Ayling failed to return home after making calls in his Colchester county circuit last Thursday. His car was found Friday near Ingoulish river, and his hat was picked up on a bank of the stream.

Belief was expressed he had missed his step in the darkness while repairing a tire and fallen over an embankment to the water, but rumors of foul play were heard when searchers failed to recover the body.

Dragging the Harbor

In Yarmouth dragging of the harbor for little Johnny Smith, missing since Sunday, continued all day yesterday without success.

Although police had seemed apparently satisfied the lad had fallen in the harbor from a raft, they were basing their investigation of the report the child had gone home a number of times recently trembling with fear at threats to "push him out the water."

TO BUILD 1,000 PLANES FOR UNITED STATES ARMY

Washington, May 9.—(AP)—The Army dug into a $7,500,000 aviation fund today, starting a three-year drive to acquire one thousand of the world's finest fighting planes.

From the office of Harry H. Woodring, assistant secretary of war, came a call for bids on a fleet of eighty huge bombing planes—a call which initiated the War Department's policy of insisting on competitive bidding.

House investigators, looking into purchases previously called for but under the $7,500,000 fund conducted by the PWA, reported Brigadier-General Benjamin Foulois, chief of the air corps, had acted contrary to law in calling for these and past purchases without competitive bidding.

The call today for bids on the 80 bombers to be delivered early in 1935, specified they be the finest in the world.

Requests for bids on 80 attack planes also to be purchased from the PWA fund will be advertised within a few days.

Congress already has appropriated another $11,486,000 for purchase of planes for the Army during 1935 and air corps engineers now are drawing plans for 300 to 400 planes of all types for delivery next year. As quickly as the program is completed, plans will be drawn for anticipated 1936 appropriations.

The entire program calls for the expenditure of approximately $50,000,000, with $30,000,000 to be used for purchase of new planes.

ITALY, AUSTRIA, JOIN HUNGARY IN TRADE PACT

Reach Agreement on Duties and Export Prices; Each to Buy Fixed Quantities of Products from Others.

By ANDRUE BERDING

(Copyright 1934 by Associated Press) Rome, May 9.—(AP)—An Austro-Hungarian economic agreement was reached today and will be signed probably Saturday.

This agreement is based on reciprocal and preferential duties, a minimum export price accord, and an agreement between the three nations to purchase fixed quantities of certain products.

The major points of the agreement, which has been in negotiation for two weeks by Dr. Richard Schuler, the Austrian minister, Dr. E. de Winckler, Hungarian export chief, and Dr. Ciancarelli, the head of the economic section of the Italian foreign ministry are as follows:

1) The minimum export price accord—Austria and Italy agree to buy Hungarian wheat at a price approximating 40 lire a quintal, that is, about 82.6 cents a bushel, a figure appreciably above the present export price. Hungary and Italy agree to buy Austrian lumber and wood pulp at a price approximating a price appreciably above the present internal price in Austria. The minimum export price accord is an effort to raise prices and increase the buying power.

2) To Purchase Wheat

(3) Italy agrees to buy approximately 2,000,000 quintals (7,408,000 bushels) of Hungarian wheat and Austria agrees to buy 2,250,000 quintals ($8,334,000 bushels) thus helping to eliminate Hungary's surplus of 6,500,000 quintals. The feature of this agreement is that Italy agrees to buy wheat at the price that what or not and has the right to reship any portion of this purchase that she does not need, either in wheat or flour.

(4) Austria and Hungary agree to lower their tariffs 10 per cent on the product of any country which goes through Trieste and Fiume. This is an effort to build up these ports at the expense of north German ports, particularly Hamburg.

(5) Italy's and Austria's industrial products are given a large preferential treatment by Hungary. So considerable is this preference that an expert said in the future only Italian automobiles would be sold in Hungary.

(6) A permanent committee has been appointed whose chief members are Winckler, Schuler, and Ciancarelli.

The experts believe that the economic agreement, which was negotiated by Premier Mussolini of Italy, Chancellor Dollfus of Austria, and Prime Minister Goemboes of Hungary, will lift Austria and Hungary out of their economic difficulties and make Austria more independent commercially.

BUSINESS BETTER BUT MORE JOBLESS

More Families on Relief Than a Year Ago, Dept. of Commerce Reports.

Washington, May 9.—(AP)—The Department of Commerce reported today that the number of families on relief as of April 1 was larger this year than at the same time last year.

In its monthly survey of current business, reporting generally improved conditions in most sections of American business and industry, the department noted:

"Notwithstanding the progress made in recent months in absorbing into industry a portion of the unemployed, the number without work remains large.

"The exhaustion of individual resources, together with the demobilization of the CWA workers, has resulted in a substantial increase in the number of families on relief as of April 1 is estimated to be larger than a year ago."

Employment Gains

The survey reported substantial gains in employment and payrolls between the middle of February and the middle of March, with 79 out of 90 industries studied showing improvement in this line.

Statistical information on other aspects of the business scene for March and early weeks of April showed expanding productive activity, a gain in retail sales, higher foreign trade, and an advance in distribution.

Only the construction industry, characterized as the "outstanding exception to the general trend," failed to go along with other industry and trade, its index falling 23 points below December.

Manufacturing production increased during March by more than the usual amount, and stood at 85 per cent of the average for 1923-25, taken as normal.

Police Disclose He Has Been in Custody a Week and Watched Before Then — That Is Why Ransom Was Not Collected.

Tucson, Ariz., May 9.—(AP)—Detention of an unnamed man in the kidnaping of June Robles, six-year-old, was reported to the Associated Press today by an authoritative source.

From the same source came information that the man, described as a Mexican, had given officers details of the plot and named a man and a woman, both Mexicans, and another man, whose nationality was unknown, as accomplices in the kidnaping of the girl here April 25.

The man who was said to have been in custody for a week although not formally under arrest, was described as the "contact" through whom the family of the girl was to deliver $15,000 ransom for her return.

Could Not Get Ransom

It was learned that the man first came under suspicion during the time official investigation of the case was suspended. He was picked up and held without charges, the Associated Press was informed, thus forestalling an opportunity for collection of the ransom.

The ransom money has been waiting the abductors' call in the home of Bernabe Robles, reportedly wealthy grandfather of the girl. Efforts to establish contact with the kidnapers have failed.

Today the man in custody was believed to be with investigators in southern Arizona. His detention clarified the reasons behind the intensive search that was made a few days ago in the vicinity of Santa Cruz, and late yesterday at Cananea, below the border.

Document Found

A document, giving the details of the plan, was reported to have been found. The ransom money, this plan disclosed, was to have been obtained within the first 12 hours after the girl was kidnaped on her way home from school. At the end of that time, it was planned to split the child to Cananea, 55 miles south of the border.

The widespread hunt for the girl, however, was said to have disrupted plans for collecting the ransom. Even when the officers announced they would suspend the search for the victim, the contact man still feared to approach the family.

For several days after the kidnaping, the suspected contact man was reported seen mingling with officers and searchers in and near the courthouse here. He was supposed to be the contact.

"KEEP PARTY PURE" IS MACY'S SLOGAN

New York G. O. P. Leader Opens Campaign to Defeat the "Old Guard."

Alexandria Bay, N. Y., May 9.—(AP)—Republican State Chairman W. Kingsland Macy today called on the voters of the state to stamp out the "invisible government" of the party by electing officials free from all power connections.

He served notice that he would fight to the finish to prevent the election of "Old Guard" Republican assemblymen who opposed him in January in his efforts to oust Fred W. Hammond, clerk of the assembly, who, he charged, was linked with the utilities.

Predicting that the forces of public opinion would eventually eradicate "invisible control," he pointed out that the "Old Guard" had already done a "dramatic about-face" in voting for a broad utilities investigation and passing a series of bills to curb the activities of utilities.

"Your duty and mine between now and November," he told a group of young Republicans here last night, "is to see that there is no let-down in public interest, and that a vigorous campaign is waged daily for an untainted party and a complete eradication of invisible control."

He said that the proof of the party's sincerity in the utility fight would be in the character of the man nominated for the governorship in this connection. He denied that he had committed himself to the nomination of any particular candidate.

"Eternal Vigilance"

"I should like to see a vigorous contest among men of the highest standing for the Republican nomination," he said.

Emphasizing the necessity of "eternal vigilance" to keep the party pure, Macy said:

"Remember that the interests

INSULL TO HEAR CHARGES FRIDAY

To Be Arraigned on That Day With Other Defendants in Federal Court.

Chicago, May 9.—(AP)—Samuel Insull will be arraigned in Federal Court Friday, it was announced today, to be charged in the two Federal cases against him.

The deposited utilities magnate, now in Cook county jail, will be brought before Judge Philip L. Sullivan and will hear himself charged with using the mails to defraud, in connection with the sale of stock in Corporation Securities, Inc., and with fraudulent acts violating the bankruptcy laws.

The other defendants in the mail fraud case have already been arraigned, and will have their next day in court on May 15. The business associates who are charged, along with Insull, in the bankruptcy case have never been arraigned, however.

They will come into court with Insull Friday.

Other Defendants

Insull's son, Samuel, Junior, and his brother, Martin, will stand at the bar with him. The other defendants in the bankruptcy case are Harold L. Stuart, president of Halsey, Stuart & Co., securities house; Philip J. McElroy, a vice president of Corporation Securities; John F. O'Keefe, assistant treasurer and later secretary of that firm; Edward J. Doyle, president of Commonwealth Edison Co.; Stanley Field, a director of Corporation Securities; William R. Irwin, an auditor for Corporation Securities, and Charles W. Daniels, assistant secretary and assistant treasurer of that company.

Corporation Securities was organized in 1929, and was one of the last of the blocks in the Insull financial structure.

While Insull rested in the county jail hospital, his attorney Floyd E. Thompson, announced he would go before the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals and ask that it cut in half the $200,000 Federal bond fixed yesterday by Judge John P. Barnes.

Attorney Thompson also said he would seek to free his client on a habeas corpus writ.

Dr. Francis W. McNamara, the jail physician, insisted that Insull be brought into the dispensary on a wheel chair, remarking that his general condition was still bad and must not be aggravated.

DRIVES HIS WIFE TO KILL HERSELF

Husband's Odd Philosophy About Love Held Responsible for Woman's Suicide

Chicago, May 9.—(AP)—A young wife was dead today, apparently driven to end her life because of her inability to accept her husband's philosophy—that there should be no chains on love, not even in marriage.

This was the statement made last night to police by the 29-year-old husband, Kenneth Hamm, who admitted in the presence of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Nelson, another young couple, that he was "in love with Mrs. Nelson."

Hamm found his wife's body in their home, he said, after he returned from a "date" his wife knew he had with Mrs. Nelson. She clutched a revolver in her hand.

Odd Philosophy

"From the things I have learned in reading and studying and from the people I have known," police quoted Hamm as saying, "I have acquired the philosophy that there should be no chains on love—not even in marriage."

"I discussed this matter with my wife several times, writing and talking. She felt badly about the affair, but she was calm about it. She asked me if I wanted a divorce, but I said not yet, because she was in love with Mrs. Nelson. I might have said I didn't want to lose my wife, but I was sure I loved her."

Nelson remained unresponsive. He had divorced his first wife, Mrs. Hamm, but had since remarried. He was a member of the "Date Club," a group of men who met to discuss "date" women.

Nelson was dressed in pajamas, slip-

PRESIDENT'S SON FATHER OF CHILD

Daughter Born to Mr. and Mrs. Elliott Roosevelt at Fort Worth.

Fort Worth, Tex., May 9.—(AP)—A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Elliott Roosevelt here last night. The granddaughter and daughter-in-law of the President were reported "doing nicely today."

Mrs. Roosevelt was formerly Miss Ruth Googins of Fort Worth.

The second son of the President married the Fort Worth society girl at Burlington, Ia., last July 23, five days after his first wife, Elizabeth Browning Comstock Philadelphia, nee, obtained a divorce at Minden, Nev., on a charge of extreme cruelty. The decree was granted on a cross complaint after Elliott had established residence in Nevada and filed the divorce suit. A son was born to them November 17, 1932.

Young Roosevelt and Miss Googins were married at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George C. Swiler of Burlington, aunt and uncle of the bride.

The met at a rodeo in Fort Worth a year ago last March while Elliott was enroute west after resigning from a New York advertising firm. The President's son went to California where he became an executive of an air line for a time.

He made several trips back to Fort Worth to see Miss Googins and within four months after their first introduction they married.

Her former Miss Googins is the daughter of the late John E. Googins, who was Texas manager of Swift and Co. She was educated in Fort Worth schools and at Wellesley College.

TRUCK CONVEYING BUILDING HALTED

Driver Had Failed to Obtain Permit Before Passing Through Town.

Road Superintendent J. Frank Bown this morning held up until the necessary permit and guarantee for damages was secured and signed, the transportation of a one and one half story frame building, owned by the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, after it had come through the Center from Bolton and turned south onto Main street.

about opposite the north Main street entrance when Mr. Bowen, whose attention had been called to the moving, had the truck stopped.

When the necessary details had been overcome in Manchester the truck again started moving, but the rate of speed was reduced and it was expected that it would be 1 o'clock before the house would be out of the town limits of Manchester.

The destination is West Hartford. The building is to be erected on a site in that town to be used as a gasoline station.

UTILITIES AGENT IS PROBE WITNESS

Denies He Ever Asked Senator Thatcher to Intercede for His Gas Company.

Albany, N. Y., May 9.—(AP)—A flat denial that he had ever asked Senator Warren T. Thatcher to intercede for or against any bills in which the Associated Gas and Electric Company was interested was made before the Senate Judiciary committee by Wallace E. Pierce, the company's agent, as the Thatcher inquiry resumed today.

Pierce was again questioned about the purchase of a utility plant from the former chairman of the Senate committee on utilities legislation. He bought the plant for $27,500 for the controlling interest, and $21,000 extra for his services.

Clayton R. Lusk, Thatcher's attorney, concluded the direct examination with these questions: "Did any representative of the Associated Gas and Electric Company ever ask you to intercede with Senator Thatcher for or against any legislation?"

"Never," Pierce replied. "Did you ever at any time ask Senator Thatcher to be for or against any bills?"

"I never did."

Lusk questioned Pierce about a letter written to him by Thatcher February 27, 1928 at which time Thatcher was chairman of the Senate public service committee.

"My best recollection is that that was a reply to an inquiry from me as to what a certain bill was about," Pierce said.

The letter from Thatcher referred to a bill providing that utilities could not undertake rate increases without first notifying municipal officials.

"This is simply one more of the measures we usually get from either New York City or Buffalo legislators but has no possible chance of being reported from my committee," the letter said.

A copy of this letter previously introduced in evidence showed that duplicates were sent to H. J. Magee and H. S. Hopes, officials of the Associated.

MURDERED IN AUTO

Toronto, May 9.—(AP)—A bullet wound in the head, the body of William N. Fitchett, vice president of the Patricia Royan Exploration Company, was found in a car early today on Sheppard avenue, North York, Toronto suburb.

Police stated preliminary investigation indicated Fitchett could not have fired the fatal shot. They advanced the theory he had been slain.

The following members have been assigned to the committee this week: Agnes Comers, Doris Roy, Anna Swilka, Barbara Burdill, Mrs. Newton Taggart, Mrs. John Moske, James Dwyer, James Ballis, Thomas Spillane, Walter Strimike, Charles Zelinsky, Charles Olaski, John Mitchell, Margaret McKeever and Michael Coughlin are the chairman of the respective committees.

OBITUARY

Funerals Thomas LaForge The funeral of Thomas LaForge of 871 Tolland Turnpike, was held at his home at 8:30 this morning and at St. Bridget's church at 9 o'clock. A funeral high mass was celebrated by Rev. J. F. Kenney, acting pastor.

As the body was being brought into the church, Mrs. Arlyne M. Garity played, "Nearer My God to Thee," Roswig's "Ave Marie" was sung by Mrs. Maude Foley at the elevation and at the close of the mass and the blessing of the body, Mrs. Foley sang "That Beautiful Land on High."

The burial was in St. Bridget's cemetery, Father Kenney conducting the committal services. The bearers were Daniel Shea, Frederick Shea, John Shea, Dennis Shea, Robert Edgar and Alexander F. Yakalita.

ELECTRIC REFRIGERATOR SHOW OPEN TOMORROW

Will Be Held in Odd Fellows Building at the Center for Three Days.

The fourth annual electric refrigerator show will open tomorrow in the demonstration rooms of the Manchester Electric Co. in the store in the Odd Fellows block at the Center, formerly occupied by the Talco. This show is sponsored by the electric refrigerator dealers of Manchester. It will be open from 10 a. m. to 9 p. m. on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week and will be in charge of Mrs. Marion Rowe, Home Economist of the Manchester Electric Co. In the past three years it has proven a very popular event and very beneficial to all dealers who have participated. Many contacts have been made at these shows that have meant sales within a few days after it closed. There is no admission charge to this exhibit, everyone being cordially invited to attend no matter what type of refrigerator you are now using.

The dealer displaying models this year are Bartow's Radio Service, Westinghouse, Chet's Service Station, Grunow; Center Auto Supply Co.; Crosby; Kemp's Inc., Frigidaire; G. E. Keith Furniture Co.; Leonard; Standard Plumbing Co.; Universal; Potlitzer's; Crosley; Wetherell Motor Sales; General Electric and Watkins Bros. Inc., Norge.

INSULT TO HEAR CHARGES FRIDAY

The doctor told me I must not smoke," he said, and with a gesture and a smile at McNamara. "And I've followed your orders."

His shock of white hair has been cut by the jail barber, and Insult recalled with amusement that his last trim had been at Istanbul.

How did he like his surroundings? Insult wouldn't talk about that, nor of his family—family affairs were never mixed with business, he explained. He had not conversed with any of the fellow inmates of his hospital ward, among whom are 13-year-old George Rogowski, held for kidnaping and murder of a little girl.

"I have purposely refrained from talking to anyone about why they are there," Insult said.

He would not discuss the charges against him.

"What is the real story back of it all?" someone ventured to ask.

"I'm not going to tell it," he said. Then, under a moment's reflection, he went on:

"Many people seem surprised how a man of my age can go through all this. I can go through it, because I know that I have never had a dishonest dollar in my possession. If a man can look himself in the face in his room and know he has done nothing morally wrong, it isn't any trouble for him to face a crowd."

FEDERAL EXPENDITURES PASS SIX BILLION MARK

Washington, May 9.—(AP)—Federal expenditures today passed $6,000,000,000 for the fiscal year which ends June 30, to represent the first outlay of this size since 1920.

The exact expenditure up to May 7, the latest day available, was $6,000,188,779.

Of this $2,343,715,504 was for emergency purposes and $2,657,482,274 for routine government costs.

The deficit on this day was $3,410,509,129, as compared with $2,710,203,597 a year ago.

The expenditures, which included $358,156,400 of sinking funds, still were $5,000,000,000 short of budget estimates for the fiscal year after sinking fund adjustments.

In 1920 the government spent $8,408,000,000. Not since then has the government spent so much in a single year.

The 1918 and 1919 expenditures were swollen by the war to exceed respectively the amounts of $12,000,000,000 and $18,000,000,000.

U. S. STANDS FIRM ON DEBT PAYMENT

But Will Grant Hearings to Nations in Distress Who Ask Reductions.

Washington, May 9.—(AP)—President Roosevelt emphasized today that the United States stands firm for collection of war debts but will grant a hearing to nations in distress who ask for reduced payments.

Whether token payments which have been made in the past by Great Britain and some other debtors, will be accepted in June, will be decided upon the merits of the individual case, the President said at his press conference.

Debtor nations which have made token payments—a part of the obligation owed—have been exempted so far from the rigid terms of the Johnson bill barring financial transactions with the United States by defaulting debtors.

The President said that no negotiations have been entered into with foreign nations for payments due next June 15.

No applications have been made for a hearing for reduced payments.

It was made plain that the United States still insists upon war debt collections and is offering no terms of revision.

Meanwhile Secretary Hull approved plans for a Congressional investigation of tin which would study the advisability of trading war debts for new supplies of the metal.

Representative Caldwell (D., Fla.), proposed the inquiry, which would be made by a special House committee of seven members.

Testifying before the House rules committee, Caldwell presented a letter from the secretary of state saying:

"As you know, this department would favor any legitimate means which might be employed to protect the supply and the price of the very large amounts of tin required by the United States each year.

"I believe that the proposed investigation would serve a useful purpose and I appreciate your initiative in the matter."

Caldwell pointed out to the committee that the United States needs a large supply of tin for commercial as well as possible war purposes. Annually, he said, American tin purchases amounted to about $85,000,000, of which 80 per cent comes from companies owned or controlled by British.

MILITIA CALLED TO QUELL RIOTS

Two Negro Miners Killed and Several Wounded in Battle With Officers.

By Associated Press

Violence in the Alabama coal and iron ore fields had entered the Nation's strikes scene today.

Two negro miners were killed and several others wounded in a clash with officers' last night near the Ishkooda iron mine on Red Mountain.

National Guardsmen were mobilized to check the disorders.

Longshoremen along the Pacific Coast were called on strike today as members of the President Roosevelt's board of arbitration exerted their influence in an attempt to block the walkout.

Another dispute brought out 2500 to 3000 copper miners and workers in three of the Anaconda Copper Mining Company holdings on Butte, Mont., hill.

Milwaukee, Wis., employees of the Globe Steel Tubes company went on strike today for a twenty per cent pay increase. Workers of three sausage plants in Milwaukee voted to walkout Monday unless their demand for a twenty per cent wage increase was negotiated satisfactorily.

The Sherran Chair company at Sherran resumed operations today after a settlement between the company and the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners.

Strikers picketed the New York Shipbuilding Company plant in Camden, N. J.

The textile mills of the Amoskeag Manufacturing company in Manchester, N. H., were scheduled to reopen tomorrow after a strike of the cotton division involved all ten thousand workers. Labor leaders refused to sanction the walkout.

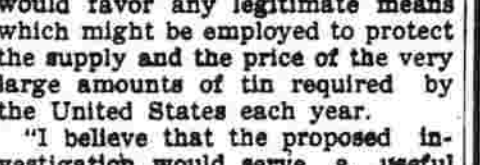

The Southern Railway was the first British system to adopt the steel sleeper.

ASSISTANCE TO CHINA FROWNED ON BY JAPAN

Fear That Western World Funds May Be Used to Buy War Materials.

Geneva, May 9.—(AP)—A Japanese fear that western world funds going to China may be used for war purposes was described today by Masayuki Yokoyama, Japanese consul general in Geneva.

He summed up the Japanese attitude on assistance to China following a visit to the League of Nations where he conferred with Robert Haas, the director of the communications section.

He said he was convinced the League would proceed cautiously in China.

"I believe," said the Japanese diplomat, "that the great powers like Great Britain and France, and also the United States, which sit on the committee in a consultative capacity, will abstain from doing things in China which are not practical."

"The Japanese apprehension is that funds which may eventually be raised for the reconstruction of China will be diverted to purposes harmful to China—for example, war material."

Yokoyama said that the League was not consulting Japan on the question of Chinese reconstruction.

He said he had planned through the report prepared by Dr. Ludwig Reichman, the League of Nations technical adviser to China, but that he wished to examine it thoroughly before he pronounced any opinion on the subject.

Some deep-sea animals have large eyes capable of seeing only through the phosphorescent light thrown out by other denizens of the deep, while others have no vision at all.

Some early American pioneers are said to have lived in caves in Pennsylvania, New York, Massachusetts and perhaps other colonies.

GLEE CONTEST PROGRAM
SELECTED FOR BEAUTY

Men's Voices to Be Given Best Opportunity in Saturday's Concert.

A program which includes numbers chosen for their inherent music beauty and because they give fullest opportunity for the 500 men's voices which will ring through the Bushnell Memorial in Hartford has been selected for the concert to be presented there Saturday evening, May 12, by the New England Federation of Men's Glee Clubs. Eleven numbers by the chorus and a group of solo numbers by Grace Donovan, soprano, have been included. Ralph L. Baldwin will conduct. The program will open with "Laudamus," a Welsh chorale by Daniel Protheroe. Next will come "Sweet and Low" by Joseph Barnby, followed by "Victory Invictus" by Protheroe, and "Morning-Oley Speaks" arranged by Ralph L. Baldwin.

Mrs. Donovan will next give a solo group of selected numbers, not yet announced. "Let Every Tongue Adore Thee," by Bach, will follow, with "Lamp in the West" by Horatio Parker and "The Lost Chord" by Arthur Sullivan concluding the first half of the program. During the intermission, announcements will be made of the names of the member clubs of the federation which have taken first and second places in the annual contest to be held at the Bulkeley High school in the afternoon.

The second half of the concert will open with "The Reapers Song," a Bohemian folk melody arranged by A. T. D. Next will come the famous Brahms "Lullaby" and "Lift Thine Eyes" by Logan Baldwin. The program will conclude with "Prayer of Thanksgiving" by Kremser. The Bushnell organ and two pianos will be used for the accompaniment, with Marshall Seeley of Hartford and Waldo S. Newbury of Norwich at the two pianos, and Gordon W. Stearns of Hartford at the organ. Decision as to the winners of the contest to be held by the Glee Clubs in Bulkeley High school on the afternoon of May 12 will be made by three judges: Dr. Arthur D. Woodruff of Washington, Conn., oldest choral conductor in the United States; James S. Stevens of Hartford, former president of the Hartford Choral Club, and vice-president of the Associated Glee Clubs of America; and Richard Donovan, assistant dean of the Yale School of Music and a composer and musician of note.

WATKINS INAUGURATE
AUTOMATIC BARGAINING

This week Watkins Brothers are inaugurating a feature never before incorporated in a local store, a window given over to the display of merchandise on which automatic reductions will be made. One of their Oak street windows has been used for the display, and their second window on this street will be given over to this form of merchandise in the near future.

The window operates in this manner: Remnants, odds and ends, broken lots and shopmarked merchandise will be placed in this window from time to time and marked at a reduced price. Each day, a further reduction will be noted. Any merchandise that may escape the eyes of those looking for bargains, and is about to take the final reduction which will wipe out the entire selling price, will, instead be donated to needy families in town.

This "Automatic Window" idea is based on the famous Filene's Automatic Basement in Boston, where merchandise is reduced at regular intervals and finally, if not sold, is given to charity.

This week Watkins Automatic Window is featuring linoleum remnants, the sizes and first reduced prices being noted, as well as the new prices from day to day.

STOLEN CAR USED TO ABDUCT WOMAN FOUND

Believed Same as One Observed Racing Along Beacon Street Last Night.

Boston, May 9.—(AP)—A stolen car, in which a woman was believed to have been held captive, was found abandoned early today in the Charlestown district.

The screams of a woman, believed held captive by three men, were heard last night as the same machine raced down Beacon street in the Back Bay section. Witnesses who saw the machine and heard screams as it sped along a mile-and-a-half of Beacon street, reported the matter to police.

John J. Collins of the Dorchester section said he saw two men push a struggling woman into the car, which, he said, was operated by a third man. He said the men drove off, ignoring all traffic signals. Others saw the car on Beacon street and heard a woman screaming, they said. Collins reported the license number of the machine to police, who found it abandoned in the Charlestown section early today. It had been reported stolen late yesterday in Somerville.

GIRL OUTBOARD RACING
CHAMPION THREATENED

Talk of Kidnaping Will Not Cramp Exploits of Daring Loretta Turnbull.

Monrovia, Calif., May 9.—(AP)—Kidnaping threats will not cramp the efforts of Loretta Turnbull, 21-year-old girl outboard racing champion.

The girl, whose exploits in slender, tricky power boats the past few years have brought her international fame, has been threatened with abduction unless her father, Rupert S. Turnbull, United States bankruptcy referee in Los Angeles, complies with a demand for a large sum of money. The Turnbull family apparently failed to become excited. Miss Turnbull is scheduled to appear next week-end in a series of races at Lake Yosemite. She said the threats will not deter her.

CUBA AHEADS DIVORCE
LAWS TO PULL TRADE

Havana, May 9.—(AP)—Cuba is preparing to amend her divorce laws with a view of getting a portion of the "divorce trade."

The cabinet approved divorce law amendments at a lengthy session last night, but leaders declined to discuss their nature.

Persons close to the situation, however, said strong pressure had been brought to bear on the government to liberalize the laws.

The consensus of well informed persons is that the amendments will provide for granting a divorce after six or seven months' residence in Cuba.

It also is believed that the number of grounds for divorce will be increased.

5 Six-Footers... and not a cramp in a Carload!

FIVE big men can relax in utter comfort on the deep cushions of the Ford V-8. Wide seats keep elbows out of ribs. Ample leg room keeps legs from being cramped.

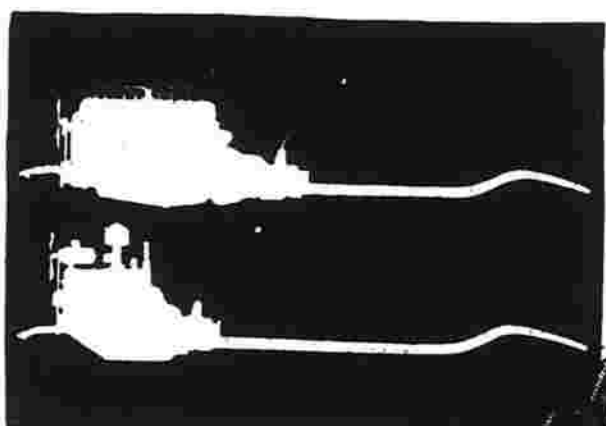

Why? Because Ford measures roominess in terms of usable body room. Not in terms of the distance between bumpers, which means nothing when you come to analyze it.

The Ford V-8's very engine construction gives you more body room, as the diagram explains. Cylinders are "doubled-up" saving space, not strung along in a line to waste it.

The Ford V-8 front seat is adjustable. It quickly and easily adapts itself to a six-foot-two husband or a five-foot-two wife. It ends forever that source of strife.

See the new Ford V-8. Revel in its comfort. Marvel at its performance. And drive it before you buy any car at any price.

AUTHORIZED FORD DEALERS OF NEW ENGLAND

See how much less space is occupied by the V-8 engine as compared to the ordinary "six" or "eight." Less space for the engine means more for the passengers.

This Ford V-8 front seat is easily and quickly adjustable to the comfort of any driver. No one laments being too tall or too short—in a Ford V-8.

PRIVATE LIVERIES ABOUND IN STATE

Over 1,000 Carry Persons to and from Work and Have No License.

Hartford, May 9. — (AP) — The state motor vehicle department, the state police department, the state public utilities commission, banks, insurance companies, various other business enterprises and hundreds of operators of pleasure automobiles, to say nothing of hundreds of others who are given daily transportation to and from business, are wondering about the outcome of the attempted enforcement of the law relative to operators of livery businesses.

The last session of the General Assembly attempted to determine just what constituted a livery service, and declared that an automobile operated for hire to be a livery car, and operators of such cars must obtain a permit from the state public utilities commission; must come under the control of that commission in the matter of rates to be charged, and finally must obtain a livery regulation from the state motor vehicle department.

The law became a thorn in the side of those who had developed a little business of carrying neighbors to work for a consideration.

About 100 secured necessary permits from the commission, principally operating in and out of Hartford and New Haven, but it was stated at the office of the commission today there are more than 1,000 about the state who have not complied with the law.

So far as can be learned there have been no prosecutions as yet under the law, which carries penalties of $100 fine, sixty days in jail, or both. It is reported one livery man from New Britain turned in 27 names of individuals who were evading the law and ruining his business. Transportation companies are conducting their own investigations to push the issue, and regardless of court penalties which may be imposed, Commissioner of Motor Vehicles M. A. Connor declared today he would call in the registration of any car which may be found to be illegally used.

GILEAD

East Hartford Grange is to have a Grange service at the Congregational church, Sunday evening, May 13, at 7:30 p. m., to which Hebron Grange is invited.

The warm weather of the past few days has brought out the leaves and blossoms on the trees. There will be no peach blossoms on account of a severe cold winter which means a great loss to many local farmers.

The Wall Child Conference will be held in the local hall Friday, May 11 from 10 to 12 a. m.

TWO FISHERMEN ROW 170 MILES IN DORY

Trip Was in Open Sea from Grand Banks to St. Pierre—Both Were Exhausted.

St. John's, Newfoundland, May 9. — (AP) — Two fishermen, given up for lost, arrived at St. Pierre today exhausted after rowing 170 miles from the Grand Banks in their dory.

The pair, S. Hodder and J. Martin, set out from the Burts schooner James Young several days ago. Fog shut down on the Banks and they could not find their way back to the vessel.

All they could do was row and drift, watching night and day for a passing schooner. Visibility remained poor, however, and their first hope came with the sight of St. Pierre in the distance.

Having only the meagre food and water supplies always placed in dories for just such a misadventure, they suffered from hunger and thirst during their long and slow trip.

Word of their safety was flashed to St. John's from the French island and it was stated both were recovering.

TEN MEN ARE BURNED IN GRAIN EXPLOSION

St. Louis, May 9. — (AP) — Ten men were burned, six of them seriously, in a violent grain dust explosion this morning in the Missouri Pacific elevator.

The blast shattered all of the windows in the huge structure, broke long cracks in the upper portion of the building and caused a fire in 1,800,000 bushels of grain stored there.

The fire burned for half an hour. Twenty-three men were at work in the building at the time of the explosion, which appeared to originate at the top of the conveyor.

Julius Meyer, vice-president of the Continental Export Co., which leases the elevator, a 240-foot structure, said he had been unable to determine the cause of the explosion.

The explosion caused a burst of flames which seared workmen who were in the vicinity of the blast. Others not immediately affected by the burst and carried the injured men out. Several suffered from the effects of gases generated by the blast.

A Thought

Christianity has made martyrdom sublime, and sorrow triumphant.—Chapin.

SEE LITTLE HARM TO JAPAN'S TRADE

Nippon Will Withhold Retaliation Action Against Great Britain.

Tokyo, May 9. — (AP) — A High Foreign Office official said today Japan believes the British import quotas against Japanese competition infringe on the most favored nation clause of the Anglo-Japanese treaty.

However, he added Japan will withhold retaliatory action—seeking first to protect her treaty rights through diplomatic methods.

At Osaka, textile leaders expressed the opinion the quotas, announced in London yesterday by Walter Runciman, president of the British Board of Trade, would do little harm to Japanese trade.

These authorities declared if British action to place restrictions on Japan's exports to crowd colonies starting Wednesday, goes no further than Runciman indicated, it will not be necessary for the Tokyo government to act.

Nevertheless, Saburo Kurusu, chief of the commercial bureau of the Foreign Office, was assigned to pave the way for a possible Japanese course of action through a study of the effects of the restrictions and the chances of reprisals.

Most Japanese trade leaders appear confident the dominions will remain aloof from the mother country's trade war with Nippon.

THIRTY-FIVE CASES BEFORE U. S. COURT

Hartford, May 9. — (AP) — Thirty-five criminal cases were presented before a Federal Grand Jury this morning, including alleged violations of counterfeiting, narcotic, meat inspection, oleomargarin and postal laws and the Mann act.

The jury was called before Judge Edwin S. Thomas on the opening day of the May term, held in Hartford.

Assistant U. S. Attorney George H. Cohen presented the cases.

Civil law cases were assigned for trial in part as follows: Duralith Corporation against the Barnes Tool Company, to go over to the September term in New Haven.

L. L. Martineau against Domenico Gambardella of New Haven, immigration, June 25. James John Fano, immigration case June 25.

Dr. Lawrence A. Renahan against the Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York, jury case May 18.

Marion Catania of New Haven against Audrey H. Boyd of Springfield, Mass., jury negligence case, May 14.

SUGGEST GOVERNMENT MANUFACTURE LIQUOR

Norwalk, May 9. — (AP) — Recommendation that the government manufacture and sell intoxicants without profit as to abolish bootlegging is contained in a report of the temperance sub-committee of the New York East Conference of Methodist churches which opens Thursday in Brooklyn, N. Y.

Lloyd F. Worley, chairman of the committee and pastor of the Norwalk Methodist Episcopal church, declared today.

The report will be presented to the conference Thursday afternoon, said Rev. Mr. Worley. "So long as the people want to drink, it is better that they be sold good liquor cheap."

"The report in part reads, 'As the most expedient method of liquor control, we favor the social ownership of liquor manufacture and sale without profits to anyone, not even the government. Such profit margins as would be economically advisable to maintain should be devoted to the innocent victims of the liquor traffic and education.'"

COLUMBIA

The whist held under the auspices of the local Grange on Friday evening at the hall was well attended, 15 tables being in play. First prizes were won by Mrs. Clayton Hunt and Horace Little, and consolation prizes awarded to Mrs. Stanley Andrews and John Yeomans. The door prize was drawn by Miss Eva Collins. The next whist will be in two weeks, on May 15th.

The Honor Roll for the 5th period of the Windham High school has just been published and contains the names of the following pupils from Columbia: 90 per cent or over, David Hunt of the Junior Class and Lois Clarke of the Sophomore class; 80 per cent or over, John Zuryk and Wilhelmina German of the Senior class; Joe Szedga, Margaret Badge, Marion Huributt, Frieda Tashlik of the Junior class; and Martin Cohen and Alexander German of the Freshman class.

Carol and Jane Lyman, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Lyman took part in a joint recital given in Hartford Tuesday evening by the elocution pupils of Mrs. Ethel Stannard and the music pupils of Lawrence Coburn. The two girls each gave a recitation. Mrs. Stannard is Mr. Lyman's sister.

Mrs. Laura Squier spent the week in Meriden at the home of a friend.

Miss Edith Sawyer of Brooklyn, N. Y., has come to Columbia for the summer season. She is staying for the present with Mrs. Charles Natsch, until her home "Bricktop Lodge" is ready for occupancy.

Yvonne Northrop has returned after spending the past week in Hartford.

Mrs. Alice McComb of Hartford was a week-end guest at Ovarlock, the home of Miss Katherine Ink.

Mrs. Edith Shutt of Long Island, N. Y., was a week-end guest at the home of Mrs. Florence Sadge. Mrs. Shutt made the trip in her car and brought with her Miss Adella Sadge, who is a student at Pratt Institute in New York.

Several of the young people went on a hike Saturday to the Cards Mill section of the town and cooked their dinner over a camp fire.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Neitzel of Troy, N. Y., and their sons, Robert and Gordon were week-end guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Hutchins. Robert Neitzel is a student at Wesleyan College in Middletown, and was in Columbia a few weeks ago as one of a Deputation Team of ten young men who spoke in the churches of the Tri-County Union, two going to each church.

Merton Wolf had a surprise party Friday afternoon after school in honor of his 7th birthday. Those present were the children in his group in Sunday School, Jane Lyman, Violet Smith, Margaret Melinger, Herbert Newberry, Arthur Cobb, Chauncy Squier and Philip Inham. A birthday supper was served by Mrs. Wolf, with a birthday cake in a prominent place.

Mrs. Emerson, who has lived in part of the Old Inn on the Green for the past year, moved Saturday to Manchester, where she will make her home.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Hawkins and daughter Eleanor, and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Stewart of Hartford motored to Columbia Sunday to attend the morning service at the local church.

The temperature Sunday was a decided contrast to a week ago, last week being below freezing and this week well into the 80s in the middle of the day. Many of the lake cottages were opened for the week-end for the first time this year, and signs of activity were noticeable all around the lake.

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Porter motored to Shelburne Falls, Mass., Saturday to spend the week-end with their daughter, Mrs. Cariton Davenport and her family.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Snyder and family of Kingston, N. Y., motored to Columbia Sunday and held a picnic at the home of their friend, Mrs. Will Lyman. Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Venberg and two daughters of New

WIFE ASKS DIVORCE FROM DRUNKEN MATE

Bridgeport, May 9. — (AP) — Business worries caused Harry Leroy Reynolds a Stamford salesman, to drink between a pint and a quart of liquor a day, but he did not "see pictures", according to Dr. Frederick D. Williams, a Stamford sanitarium physician, who testified before Judge Arthur F. Ellis of the Superior Court today in behalf of Edith Lore Reynolds, who is seeking a divorce for cruelty and intemperance.

Dr. Williams told Judge Ellis that Reynolds was admitted to the sanitarium four times within two years, and in each instance the history of his case was practically the same, Reynolds, according to the physician, said that his drinking was caused by business worries. The action which is being tried on a contested matter, is the second divorce suit brought by the wife. She married in 1917, the wife divorced her husband in 1921, and then remarried him.

Miss Janice Clarke celebrated her 10th birthday Saturday afternoon by a party at which 13 of her little friends at school were present, Janice Belle Huributt, Carol Huributt, Jean Inham, Shirley Trythall, Virginia Collins, Carol Lyman, Jane Lyman, Muriel Austin, Lucy Derostier, Sophie Szedga, Betty Cobb, Margaret Leasco and Ruth Leasco. Games were played and a birthday lunch served.

Little Norma Wolf spent the night Thursday and all day Friday at the home of her grandfather, in Lebanon.

Mrs. R. G. Proctor and Miss Alice Clark have opened their Columbia home after spending the winter in Washington, D. C.

WHY...

IS THE MECHANISM OF THE REFRIGERATOR YOU BUY SO IMPORTANT?

5 YEARS PROTECTION FOR ONLY $1 A YEAR

With the General Electric Monitor Top refrigerator you get the standard 1 year warranty... PLUS 4 more years protection on sealed-in-steel mechanism for only $1.

The mechanism represents approximately 70% of your investment in any modern refrigerator. Look to its performance record for the greatest value in the refrigerator you buy... and your greatest satisfaction in its use year after year. Features alone are worthless unless the mechanism provides constant cold 24 hours every day throughout many years.

The General Electric Monitor Top set a new standard in dependable electric refrigeration at low cost. Its performance record is without parallel. Introduced in 1927, the General Electric was the first electric refrigerator to carry a 2 year guarantee, then a 3 year guarantee, then a 4 year service plan. Now, you are protected 5 years against any possible replacement cost on this famous sealed-in-steel mechanism for only $1 a year!

See the new 1934 General Electric models we are now displaying and you will understand why the General Electric is universally recognized as the standard of refrigeration excellence.

Far ahead OF LAST YEAR'S GREAT SALES RECORD

—and here's what's doing it...

It was a great record of leadership that Chevrolet made in 1933... And this year, it's even greater. Sales are already thousands of cars ahead of last year. Production is the largest in the industry. And every day, from state after state, comes the same report on registrations: Chevrolet is leading all others! What's the reason for this success? The pictures tell the story. Chevrolet is the only low-priced car with this winning combination of five features. Chevrolet is the only manufacturer who can say:

- KNEE-ACTION WHEELS FULLY ENCLOSED AND WEATHERPROOF
- 80 HORSEPOWER—80 MILES PER HOUR
- CABLE-CONTROLLED BRAKES
- BODIES BY FISHER
- SHOCK-PROOF STEERING

Drive it only 5 miles and you'll never be satisfied with any other low-priced car.

FEW APPRECIATE HOSPITAL'S VALUE

All next week, Manchester will be thoroughly canvassed from house to house by an army of volunteer workers seeking to raise the sum of $15,000 with which to carry on the work of the Memorial hospital. This year's campaign brings to mind again the interesting story "About A Man Named Jones," which can be applied to almost anyone who has ever been a patient at the hospital.

Once there was a very successful business man, named Jones, who found it necessary to go to a hospital. It was his first experience as a hospital patient. He thought it was a wonderful place to be until he received his hospital bill. The charges for X-ray examinations, use of operating room, anesthesia and other series seemed outrageous. $50 for X-rays! He didn't understand it.

The hospital did not blame Mr. Jones for his attitude. He had been concerned with everything in the world except the care of the sick. Now he was looking at the hospital in much the same manner as he did his own business. But $50.00 for X-ray service! The thought of how much that department could produce in a day caused him to wish, momentarily, that he owned it. Mr. Jones made his money in quantity production and was well aware that the quantity produced controls the profits. From the superintendent he learned that hospitals have problems peculiar unto themselves. He learned that a competent physician was full time director of the X-ray department; that full time graduate nurses were technicians; that several thousand dollars were invested in equipment; that a very substantial amount was spent monthly for supplies and with every expense, that one little glass tube, if broken during his examination, would have necessitated spending $125.00; that hospitals have the equipment and personnel to operate on a quantity basis but are never busy more than half the day.

And that's true in every department of every hospital. If hospitals could only control the hours for rendering its services, it would be a big step toward lowering charges and improving service. Some days several babies will be born and on other days none. But the full personnel is always there, waiting for the unforeseen to happen during the hours to come.

Mr. Jones admitted that if he had no more control over production in his factory than hospitals had in their work he would be forced to charge more for his products or else close his shop.

At first Mr. Jones also was inclined to think that the charge for his room was too high as he recalled what hotels had charged, but on second consideration he remembered that the hotel did not serve him three meals each day in bed nor had he called for the bell boy as often as he did for the nurses. The nurses worked hard to please him, and morning and evening care with a "backrub" made him very comfortable. There were many services and treatments rendered without charge. At the hotel he was charged for every service he received. And he paid the hotel bill with a smile! The hospital rendered him excellent service, relieved his sufferings, re-established his health, placed him in a position so that he could go back to the office, enjoy life and be of use once again.

He also learned that the discoveries and results produced by the labors of the scientific laboratories were not confined to the benefit of hospital patients but were shared as well with the sick in homes all over the world.

Mr. Jones then decided that the hospital was worthy of support. He felt sure that any money donated would be efficiently used for the good of the community. When he checked out, the hospital bill was paid with a smile and he gave them a check to enable them to carry on. Every good hospital needs many friends just like Mr. Jones. The Memorial hospital needs them. Why not be a Mr. Jones when you are asked to contribute?

ADJUSTERS HAVE TOUGH TIME AT TURN HALL

Insurance Men and Representative of Owner Expect to Complete Task Tomorrow.

Insurance adjusters have visited the ruins of Turn Hall on North street. There has been a representative from the company and one for the owners of the building. There was little or nothing that was left of the stone contents and the extent to which the building was damaged required a lot of investigation to get to the bottom of the loss. This has been gone over by the two adjusters and the figures will be given to the owners tomorrow. It may be decided to rebuild the building although this will not be decided upon until tomorrow or the day following. The safe's contents were not damaged by the fire and it was opened without trouble and the contents found secure.

The projected Golden Gate Bridge is to be 6450 feet long; including its approaches, the total length will be seven miles. The new bridge will handle a maximum of 80,000 automobiles every 24 hours, if plans succeed.

APPLE BLOSSOMS FESTIVAL EARLIER

Warm Weather Has Advanced Buds So That Middlefield Changes Date.

The very warm weather of the past week end has so advanced the millions of buds in this town's extensive apple orchards that Middlefield's second annual Apple Blossom Festival, previously planned for Friday and Saturday, May 18 and 19 had been officially changed to Monday and Tuesday next May 14 and 15.

John Lyman, owner of the immense orchards of the Lyman Farm where the Apple Blossom Festival will be staged under the auspices of The Federated Church of Middlefield, stated today that the indications are that the blossoms will be at the height of their magnificent display the beginning of next week.

A musical program worthy of Nature's gorgeous setting of thousands of apple trees in full bloom, has been arranged for, featuring the crowning of the Queen of the Apple Blossom Festival with fitting pageantry. The United States Coast Guard Band will provide a concert in the orchards both Monday and Tuesday evenings from 5 to 7:30 o'clock interspersed with other features of a delightful out-of-door program.

The hours chosen for the festival will make it possible for business and industrial workers in the neighboring cities to enjoy the beauty of the blossoms and the music in the late afternoon and early evening at the close of the business day.

The coronation of the Queen of the Apple Blossom Festival will take place at six o'clock both evenings. As the festival will be held during the usual supper hour period, the women of The Federated Church of Middlefield will provide refreshments suitable to the informal out-of-doors character of the festival.

Entertainment will be provided both nights in the Town Hall. On Monday night a 3 act comedy "The Path Across the Hill" will be given by the Middlefield Players and a dance will be held on Tuesday night as a climax to the festival.

Ample parking arrangements are being made to park thousands of cars in the orchards. No charge will be made for admission or parking and the general public all over the state has been invited. This will be Middlefield's biggest event of the year.

There is no finer view in Connecticut than is to be seen from the top of the Lyman orchards on Powder Hill when the broad and sloping hillside are covered with pink and white and green of thousands of apple trees in full bloom.

Middlefield's Apple Blossom Festival was inaugurated last year and so captured the imagination of the public that an attendance of 7,000 people from every part of the state enjoyed the unique feast for eye and ear and determined the policy of making it an annual affair.

READY TO QUIT?

To many minds the action of the National Recovery Administration in proceeding to impose a code upon the telegraph industry is well nigh incomprehensible in view of the administration's declared intention of abandoning the licensing provision of the National Recovery act and of the lack of any step toward preventing that provision's expiration at the end of June.

Not once while it still had the Licensing power visibly behind it, and in that power an effective instrumentality for enforcing its orders, did the NRA "crack down" on any industry by writing its own code and compelling its acceptance. When, therefore, within a few weeks of the time when it will have deliberately abandoned its one effective enforcement weapon, General Johnson starts this proceeding in full knowledge that no mandatory code can be enforced without resorting to the license, it is difficult to see the queer business in any light of sincerity.

The refusal of the telegraph industry to write its own code is of long standing. If it were intended to "crack down" on it in earnest the NRA could have drawn its own code away back last fall and could have put all the corporations concerned under license. Then, if one of them or all of them should have refused to live by the code their licenses could have been revoked.

But nothing was done until the NRA had left its big gun behind and sent its ammunition to the rear. It must be a matter of weeks, yet, before the hearings are concluded and the licensing machinery could be put into effect, even if the NRA proposed to go along under the present law just as though it were to continue. By the time the real big "cracking down" act could be ready, June would be over and the whole business might as well be called off for want of any law under which to proceed.

There is, of course, nothing to prevent the NRA from going ahead and imposing its code. But neither would there be anything to prevent the telegraph industry from having a good laugh when all was done. The force of the NRA lay in the licensing power. Without that power the act is about as effective as a town ordinance without a penalty provision. What a terrible slap on the wrist it would be to deprive the American Telegraph and Telephone Company or the Western Union of its code eagle!

There is just one hypothesis on which this action appears reasonable. That is the theory that the administration has had its fill of the NRA experiment and is casting about for a real good excuse to abandon it. It can make a great show of doing its utmost in this case of the telegraph industry and then, when its utmost proves to amount to nothing, get out from under with the best grace possible in the circumstances.

SOMETHING NEW

For almost as long as we can remember, and that is no short time, the Connecticut State Register and Manual, issued annually in cloth binding at public expense, has conformed with very little change to the same pattern of content. It has been principally distinguished for not containing the things you would expect to find in such a publication and for containing some astonishing things you would never expect to find printed anywhere—for example fifty-seven and a half pages of names of notaries public; eighteen pages of "Ecclesiastical Statistics"; a list of all the physicians in the state and another of all the dentists; still another of the hygienists, one of the druggists, one of the certified accountants, a roster of the state's newspapers—but try to find in it a hint that there are factories in this state!

Such expansion as the Register and Manual has undergone, until now, has been, apparently, the result of something very like accident. It has been about as dull and uninteresting and perhaps as little useful a publication as a state manual could possibly be.

Now, however, John A. Danaher, secretary of the state, has breathed the breath of life into the mummy and, behold! a New Deal in State Manuals. One can actually learn something from it now. Heretofore, for instance, if you wanted to know something about the State Board of Finance and Control you might hunt it up in the Manual and discover that it had offices on the first floor of the Capitol and that its members consisted of 80 and 80. If you wished to know more you might ask your lawyer or the ice man. Now, in addition to the purely technical matters of name, address and membership, you will find in the new Manual an article setting forth very succinctly but illuminatingly the history and purposes of the board, written by Commissioner Edward F. Hall.

Similarly, the duties and powers of each of the elective officers of the state are explained in articles prepared by the incumbents and other explanatory articles, the work of a responsible official member in each case, are printed in connection with the listing of all the more important state departments and commissions.

Altogether the new State Register and Manual for 1934 is, compared with its predecessors, a revelation. It becomes a highly useful and convenient textbook of the state government. The schools will be especially interested in it and the average good citizen ought to have it.

Secretary Danaher is to be complimented. He has had a real idea—and it is almost the first one, not stuffed and mounted like a dead squirrel, that has entered into the making of the Manual in a blue moon.

CHEAP POLITICS

Evidently the Department of Justice brought the federal grand jury proceedings against former Secretary of the Treasury Mellon as an act of partisan duty and for the record, without any expectation whatever of accomplishing anything beyond making an entry in the political diary for campaign purposes. "We instituted income tax proceedings against the richest man in the country," Mr. Cummings can declare by and by; "it was not our fault if a grand jury representing the people refused to do its duty."

That the performance was a perfunctory one is evidenced by the brevity of the hearing, the fact that the government presented only three witnesses and the circumstance that the whole proceedings occupied but five hours.

As a political trick it was a poor one. It will be far more likely to react against the credit of this administration than in its favor. If there were any justification whatever for instituting a criminal action against so noted a member of the opposition party it would have to lie in a case of such extreme probability of guilt as to warrant the most earnest effort to obtain an indictment. That any such effort was made there is hardly a pretense. The inevitable conclusion is that Attorney-General Cummings was perfectly well aware he had no case and that he was making the cheapest and most discreditable kind of a partisan political play.

A small and smelly business.

PRIZE EDITORIAL

What standards are employed, by the people who award the Pulitzer prizes, in weighing the relative merits of the various works under their consideration, we do not know, but it would seem reasonable to expect that in awarding a prize for a newspaper editorial the judges would require that the article selected as the best American work of the year must close as well as open and discuss its subject, particularly when that subject is an interrogation.

The prize this year goes to E. P. Chase, newspaper editor of Atlantic, Iowa, for his answer to his own question, "Where Is Our Money?" It is a bright, well written, forceful article in the course of which Mr. Chase tells much harsh truth. It attributes the economic plight of the country to the universal extravagance and speculative tendencies of the people during the post-war period, to the artificial pyramiding of values and investments predicated on impossible expectations, to keeping up with the Joneses by installment buying and to the abandonment of thrift. It winds up with the paragraph:

"Where is our money? The answer is not difficult. It can be told in one short sentence: We spent it."

It is to be submitted that Mr. Chase does not answer his question. He tells us not where our money is but where it is not. We, the people, no longer have our money because we spent it. But what became of it? On that point Mr. Chase's editorial is silent.

It is somewhat doubtful if, even as far as it goes, his answer is entirely correct. Did we ever have any money to speak of—or was what we spent on our automobile-year and our $400-an-acre farms and our winters in Florida and California and so on nineteen-twentieths credit?

And when the credits fell due where was the money on which they were based and which must be produced to discharge the credits? If Mr. Chase had really pursued his subject through to the end, could he have shown that his Iowa readers, whom he scolds for expecting the government to rescue them now, ever had any real money to spend, or that substantially the whole stock of that commodity was not, in those hysterical boom days, in precisely the same place as now, tightly held in the fist of the money trust represented by the Federal Reserve Banks? And isn't it in the same place now as then?

Mr. Chase's editorial is a good piece of newspaper writing. But as a solution of the economic problem of this nation, or as a really important contribution to the solution, or a ray of light on the money question with which it sets out to deal it is just a little difficult to see where it rates selection as the outstanding journalistic achievement of the year.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN Washington

By RODNEY DUTCHER
 Washington, May 9.—Washington handed prohibition to the country and Washington abolished it.

Congress undertook to frame a model liquor control law for the capital, too. So this city seems a good test-tube for post-repeal observation purposes. (Papers in dry areas please copy.)

Already a vociferous minority of wets wishes prohibition were back again. A wave of public drinking drowns the charm of private drinking.

Liquor is sold in every one-arm lunch, chain store, and pharmacy. Officials who once obeyed the law now feel compelled to add alcohol to their social functions.

The police report no increase in arrests since repeal. But you wonder what's become of those who would use liquor as a way to get and when Hoover's 1928 guarantee of breaking removed, or that there'd be a desertion of hard liquor for beer and wines.

Drinking among the young was a curse of prohibition. There's a lot more of it here now. High school boys present more than their usual problems.

Remember tempting promises of repealists that social groups would stop talking about the price and quality of hooch and turn to serious national problems?

They were no more prophetic than Hoover's 1928 guarantee of a prosperous millennium.

Droves of loud-mouthed men and women who were barred from the better speakeasies are now at large in hotels and restaurants. Men parties are visible and painfully audible in every public drinking place.

All too often they break into rollicking song just to show what a happy, emancipated time they're having.

This town boasts itself the most cosmopolitan in America, but it's a long way from the boasted drinking police of Europeans.

The pet story around Capitol Hill has been that Dr. Wirt owes his visions of Red revolution to too many cocktails at that Virginia party. Fact is, he didn't touch a drop. He's a tee-totaller and firmly refused a cocktail.

The swank hotels are still astonished by the heavy patronage of their new cocktail lounges.

Out at the Shoreham, where the lounge's walls are of pigskin leather and waitresses in the adjoining "Garbo Room" are all supposed to look like Greta, they're still hoping to have dancing as originally planned. But customers so fill up the place that it's been impossible.

One reason is the new Mae West cocktail—brandy, grenadine, and lime—which makes the floor c'm up'n see you sometimes.

The Mayflower expanded cocktail facilities to seat 150 persons—and 750 rushed in the first day. It has resumed public dancing after three years, during which it insisted that hip flasks had ruined that form of amusement.

The Ambassador's Hi-Hat Cafe draws NRA and code authority folk, featuring its "drink of the week," which lately was "the Old Smoothie."

Frank McNeely, the impresario there, who used to be with Dick Campbell, says it includes rye, grenadine, lime, fruit decoration, and seltzer.

All these lounges become mad-houses whenever a large convention is here.

Russians are shrewd. Local liquor stores sold out of vodka soon

HEALTH-DIET ADVICE

 Questions in regard to Health and Diet will be answered by Dr. McCloy who can be addressed in care of this paper. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, for reply.

The nerves which supply the synovial joint are peculiar in that they can be squeezed, cut and touched with but very little pain, yet they cause much distress whenever the joint is injured by a sprain (which dislocates it from its usual position) or, whenever the ligaments are stretched beyond their normal give. These nerves act like jealous watchdogs which raise an uproar whenever the joint is in danger of being dislocated, lying quietly at other times.

Synovitis causes an acute pain because the swelling may push the sac out until it looks something like a tumor, and the blood also becomes congested, causing a greater swelling so that these nerves and ligaments in this area are greatly stretched.

Since burstitis and synovitis greatly resemble each other they both respond to the same treatment. When there is chronic inflammation of these tissues, you will generally find that the condition has been built up from a chronic poisoning due to retention of toxic wastes.

The quickest way to cleanse the blood stream of these toxic substances is to start on a fruit fast which should be continued from eight to fifteen days, and then a careful diet used for a month, and then another short fast of about five days. It is important to take no oxema in the morning so that the bowels are kept free from toxins. No walking or exercising of the affected joint should be used as long as the inflammation is present, although other parts of the body may be exercised.

A very good electrical treatment over the affected joint is with the use of diathermy, since this form of treatment creates an internal heat and brings a greater supply of blood to the part to aid in absorption of poisons and toxins present. If diathermy is not available, hot applications or a deep therapy lamp may be used around the joint, although in either of these cases the heat is not as penetrating as with diathermy. Even after chronic synovitis is entirely cured, it is necessary that a careful diet be used for quite some time.

In acute synovitis the correct treatment is to rest the part, and instead of hot applications, it is usually better to use cold applications. A wet towel wrapped around the knee, for example, and covered with two or three thicknesses of dry woolen material makes an excellent cold compress. The fast should be used the same as for chronic synovitis.

As the soreness leaves, gentle rubbing or massage may be used to good effect but this should never be used over a tender area. It is better to use the massage around the circumference of the tender area, on the parts where there is no pain. Acute synovitis being usually due to injury or strain, usually recovers quickly if the part is rested and this treatment followed.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS (Noesbled)

Question: From Mrs. Persie D.: "Two members of my family, both have nosebleeds. The first one is a boy of six and the other one is my father who is a man of eighty. I have wondered if there is any systemic cause which might be producing the nosebleeds."

Answer: Sometimes a nosebleed is a result of a blow; however, in those cases where a child or an older person is subject to regular attacks of nosebleed, this indicates that there are present causes producing the trouble which should be investigated. As a general rule, the child who develops a nosebleed will be found to have an inflammation of the mucus membrane of the nose and throat. This inflammation may be overcome through the use of a suitable dietetic regimen. One of the frequent causes of nosebleeds in older people is the presence of high blood pressure together with hardening of the arteries. If high blood pressure is present, it is sometimes helpful to allow the nosebleed to continue for a reasonable time. Although of course it is then necessary for the patient to undertake a treatment to reduce the blood pressure and bring it back down closer to a normal figure. Inasmuch as the two members of your family have this trouble, I know that you will be interested in reading my article called "Why Nosebleeds?" which I will be glad to send to you if you will write to me in care of this newspaper and will enclose one large, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

A BOOK A DAY

BY BRUCE CATTION
 DON'T ENVY MEXICO.
 WARNS MR. HUXLEY
 Writer Finds "Simple Life" Is Not Our "Way Out."

People who find modern industrialism too much for them and look wistfully at the primitive life of the Mexican native will get scant comfort out of Aldous Huxley's new book, "Beyond the Mexique Bay."

Mr. Huxley, wandering north to Mexico City from Guatemala, has taken a long look at the innocent child of nature in his native haunts and he reports that Mexico does not offer us our much-sought-after way out.

Stuart Chase felt that Mexican life would be pretty close to the ideal, if it could be touched up just a little. Give the Mexican modern sanitation and hygiene, he suggested, good roads, a few simple machines, and everything will be lovely.

Mr. Huxley disagrees. Give the Mexican that much, he says, and you've got to give him the rest. You can't mix just a tincture of industrialism into a primitive society. Modify that society at all, and you go the whole way. And just that, he suspects, is ahead for the Mexican.

For the rest, "Beyond the Mexique Bay" is a travel book of more than ordinary richness. Mr. Huxley travels with open eyes and an alert mind. He looks at Central American politics and is moved to an eloquent discussion of the problems of world peace.

He studies ancient Mayan ruins and straightway writes an absorbingly interesting essay on the deterministic theory of human history.

Everything, in short, he sees something that stimulates his mind into action. "Beyond the Mexique Bay," as a result, is a book very much worth reading.

Published by Harpers, it sells for $2.75.

HOT SPELL CONTINUES THROUGHOUT MIDWEST

Scattered Local Showers Fall to Have Effect on Drought--Heat Kills Woman.

Des Moines, May 8.—(AP)—The mercury was out to set more new records in the midwest today, after scattering high readings for the month of May that have stood for 60 years.

Scattered local showers failed to produce any visible effect on the drought.

North Platte, Neb., topped the midwest yesterday with a thermometer reading of 99, the highest of any May in the 60-year records kept there.

Mrs. Ida Kappelkam, 38, election worker at Evansville, Ind., dropped dead. Her death was attributed to the heat and excitement.

While abating winds and scattered showers reduced forest fire and crop hazards in Wisconsin, a strong, hot wind continued to sweep over Nebraska, reaching velocities up to 41 miles per hour.

Iowa baked under temperatures ranging from 9 at Sioux City—the coldest May 8 there in 39 years—at 58 at Iowa City.

Measurements of the Mississippi river have been the lowest for the respective months since September of any year since 1861.

While the midwest suffered under a hot sun and comparatively light winds, a tornado swept Pleasantwood, Mont., wrecking business buildings and damaging houses.

the Federal government sought last night to avert a walkout.
"It looks very much like the strike will go on," was the final word from Judge C. A. Reynolds of Seattle, member of President Roosevelt's mediation board, after a meeting at which he and Dr. J. L. Leonard tried to bring about a last-minute compromise between employers and employees on the stevedores' demands for a pay increase of from 33 cents to $1 an hour and a 30 hour week.
"The question of wages," Judge Reynolds explained, "is the only point in dispute, but on this point neither side is willing to compromise. Try as Dr. Leonard and I would we could not get them to budge an inch. I look for a long fight."

FINDS HIS FIRST VIOLIN

New York, May 8.—(AP)—Jacsha Heifetz, the violinist, returns from Russia tomorrow with two prized possessions of his childhood—his first violin, a tiny quarter size instrument, and a small bag of coins.

Both had been left behind when the Heifetz family fled the Russian revolution and came to America, but an uncle of the young musician saved them for him.
The trip was the violinist's first to his homeland since he left it as a boy of 16.

LEVIATHAN GOES BACK INTO SERVICE AGAIN

New York, May 8.—(AP)—P. A. S. Franklin, chairman of the board of the United States Lines, has announced the liner Leviathan will be put back into service next month. Her first trip will be from New York on June 9 with the European ports of call yet undecided.
The return of the former German liner to service follows a recent ruling of the Shipping Board. The board decided that under the terms of the sale of the ship it must make seven round trips this year.

She will not call at any German port, Franklin said. The ship will be taken at once to Boston for reconditioning and overhauling at an approximate cost of $100,000.
Franklin said return of the Leviathan to service would not interfere with plans of the Roosevelt Steamship Company, present owners of the United States Lines, to build a new ship of the Washington and Manhattan type.

18 CHINESE WILL STUDY NEW MILITARY METHODS

Special Commission Deaf to Japan's Protests Against Fighting Activities.

Shanghai, May 9.—(AP)—Chinese government officials, deaf to Japan's protests against China's military activities, announced today a special commission to study modern fighting methods. Consisting of 18 members, the special military and communication commission will be dispatched to the United States and Europe May 10 on an eight month tour.

The commission will be headed by General Han Ting-Yao, vice-minister of communications.
During the tour the group will visit Italy, Austria, Germany, France, Belgium, England and the United States.
Japan has complained repeatedly against warlike moves on the part of China, particularly against the purchase of fighting planes from American and Italian salesmen now in China.

DECLINE IN SILK TEXTILES HALTED Sales Rally Late in April, But Are Still 25 Per Cent Less.

New York, May 9.—Preliminary tabulations from 237 firms and about 50,000 looms, made known yesterday by Peter Van Horn, chairman of the Code Authority of the Silk Textile Industry, after the regular meeting of the code authority at the headquarters of the National Federation of Textiles indicate "considerable improvement" in market conditions. The new set of figures covered operations in the silk textile industry for the second half of April. Although sales in this period were still 25 per cent under the same period in 1933, Mr. Van Horn said, that the strong buying by converters of late summer goods, the psychological effect of the proposed curtailment of production which goes into effect Monday for one week, and the low prices prevailing, all operated to tend to an impending resumption of the market. Sales, he continued, increased 12 per cent in the last two weeks of April as compared with the first two weeks, according to joint reports of stock-carrying mills and converters. This contrasts, in part, he said, with the 10 per cent drop in sales between March 31 and April 15. Production during the last two weeks in April was reported as off close to 6 per cent, and the amount of goods to come off the looms decreased by about 5 per cent. New orders to commission weavers were 20 per cent less than in the first part of April. The ratio of stock to sales was reported as improved, although it was higher than in the same period in 1933. Total stock on hand amounted to 50,232,000 yards in the last week of April as against 49,216,000 yards in the first part of the month. Of the total on hand as of April 30, there were 47,318,000 yards unsold. The stock in the mills was reported as having fallen off about 8 per cent, showing clearly, it was pointed out, the trend toward advance buying by converters. The gross shipment of goods during the last half of April was 9,198,856 yards, of which 3,222,083 yards were all silk fabrics, 3,233,027 yards synthetic fabrics, 2,446,151 yards printed fabrics and 497,613 yards all other fabrics.

MANCHESTER MOOSE OFFICERS INSTALLED

John F. Limerick is Made Dictator for Fifth Term — Plan for Memorial Day.

Manchester Lodge, No. 1477, Loyal Order of Moose, installed its officers last night in the lodge rooms in the Home club. About 100 members of the order were in attendance. John F. Limerick was installed as dictator for the fifth consecutive term. His son, Francis J. Limerick was installed vice dictator; prelate, Luke Deane; sergeant-at-arms, Libro Fracchia; treasurer, William D. Warnock; inner guard, Victor Zabiankas; outer guard, Leo Rowe; trustee for three years, David J. Dickson. The officers were installed by Past Dictator Frank A. Montie, assisted by Joseph Chicone. Following the business session a committee was named to make plans for the decoration of the graves of deceased members, and to hold a memorial service at the club-rooms on Monday evening, May 28. The committee includes Joseph Chicone, David Dickson and Luke Deane. James Stevenson of Newark, N. J. gave an interesting talk on Mooseheart. A male quartet composed of William Warnock, Luke Deane, Albert Fracchia and Herbert Kerr, sang, with Paul Quish at the piano. Refreshments and a social time followed.

WALL ST. BRIEFS

New York, May 8.—Due to weakness in the Pittsburgh and Chicago markets the "Iron Age" scrap steel composite dropped this week to $11.92 a ton compared with $12.17 last week and the March peak of $13.

J. J. Pelley, president of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad said today that April results showed a small deficit after charges but before guarantees on separately operated properties, in spite of some recession in traffic last week, it is still running ahead of last year, he said.

Henry W. Clark, vice-president and general counsel of the Union Pacific Railroad Co. has been elected to the board.

This was the last day for dealing on the New York Stock Exchange in rights to the New York Central railroad's 6 per cent convertible bonds. All transactions were for cash.

HOLD CONTACT MAN IN ROBLES CASE

ANOTHER FALSE CLUE. Chicago, May 9.—(AP)—An anonymous telephone call sent detectives to the Congress hotel today on a hunt for a clue to the missing June Robles, kidnaped Tucson, Ariz., girl. A man's voice, traced afterwards to a telephone booth in the Union Station, said to the Oak Park police: "Are you interested in the Robles case?" The sergeant said he was. "The kid is in Chicago and is alive and well. Tell her parents to come to Chicago and have them see Ben Franklin of the Congress hotel. Have them bring $25,000." The informer hung up. Skeptical of the tip, the police went to the hotel and found a Bernard Franklin registered but absent.

PRESIDENT SIGNS SUGAR CURB BILL

(Continued From Page One) sacrificed to the ultimate general advantage." I have today signed H. R. 8861 which I am advised will permit a rapid approach to the solution of the many vexing and difficult problems within the industry. I hope that this Act will contribute to the economic improvement in Hawaii, Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, the Philippines, Cuba and among Continental sugar producers. These are the objectives outlined in my message to the Congress last February. Under the terms of the Act, the rate of the processing tax shall not exceed the amount of the reduction on a pound of sugar raw value of the rate of duty in effect on January 1, 1934, as adjusted by our commercial treaty with Cuba. "Acting upon the unanimous recommendations of the United States Tariff Commission, I have today signed a proclamation, under the so-called flexible tariff provisions of the Tariff Act of 1930, reducing the rate of duty on sugar. Using 96 degree Cuban sugar as the unit of measure, this results in a reduction of the duty from 2 cents to 1 1/2 cents a pound on that sugar. The rate of the processing tax must not exceed the amount of the reduction as adjusted to this unit of measure. This means that the processing or compensatory taxes will not increase, in themselves, the price to be paid by the ultimate consumers and at the same time our own sugar producers will have the opportunity to obtain, in the form of benefit payments, a fairer return from their product. To co-operate with the secretary of agriculture in carrying out the provisions of this Act, I have designated an informal committee from the Cabinet. This committee includes the secretary of agriculture; the secretary of the interior, who is charged with the administration of Hawaii and the Virgin Islands; the secretary of war, who is charged with the administration of Puerto Rico and the Philippine Islands, and the secretary of state, who is charged with the conduct of our negotiations with Cuba. Those engaged in this industry have an opportunity to improve their economic status through operation of this act. I urge their cooperation in carrying out its provisions.

"FEED THE INNER-MAN" IS ASSOCIATION PLAN

Thinking Supper May Draw Members, Improvement Officials Arrange for Meal. As a special inducement to bring out members of the Manchester Improvement association for the meeting to be held in the Y. M. C. A. building Thursday evening of next week, a committee has been named to provide a supper that will promote the business meeting. Danie Pagan is the chairman of the committee and the other members are Matthew Merz, Charles Sweet and T. Edward Brosnan. There was a meeting of this committee held last evening and it was arranged to provide a supper that would cost the members but 25 cents each. Following the supper the annual meeting will be called and officers will report and a new board of officers will be elected. The committee arranging for the program for that evening has asked George H. Wadell to address the meeting and explain to the gathering the methods under which the town government functions and other information that the committee feels will enlighten the members of the association concerning town affairs.

ATTRACTIVE NEW SHIP SIGNS NOW DISPLAYED

The Manchester Chamber of Commerce has erected one of the ship signs on Depot Square. The sign, which has been repainted and presents a fresh look, was one of those erected in different parts of Manchester in 1923 when the town celebrated the 100th anniversary of its founding. The old ship signs withstood the weather for a number of years, but had lost the purpose for which they were intended. The Chamber of Commerce had several of the signs removed, repainted and attractive signs now on display is the result.

KIWANIANS THRILL IN OLD TIME PLAY

(Continued From Page One) Hamilton, Dr. Forbes Bushnell and Charles Burr. The evening's entertainment was opened with selections by the Trade School orchestra and piano overture by Russell Potterson. Distinct from most amateur plays this one really started on time. It was but a few seconds after 8:15 when "lights" and "curtain" was called and the show was on. The first part was a prologue done in rhyme and recited by Robert Hamilton. He let the audience know that it was to see a thrilling play. Our Nell Endangered. The old honestest front room was the first scene with Mrs. Mabel Potterson dusting about and gossiping to herself about "dirty work at the crossroads." As the story develops we find our Nell (Miss Evelyn Jones) endangered by the smooth tongue and clutching hands of one Richard Murgatroyd who boasts of his virtues but practices foul deeds. Of course the audience couldn't have known Murgatroyd was the villain from his sithering mannerisms and his was mustache but it hit close to the heart's content. This part was admirably played by Karl Kailer. Jack Dalton, the farmer boy who loves our Nell, was played by Walter Henry. He seemed real serious about his love for little Nellie, but the vicious Murgatroyd had crossed him up and there wasn't anything left for him to do but run away from town. Little Nell was put out of Uncle Hiram's home for her weakness in accepting a very modern type cigarette extracted from Villain Murgatroyd's very modern cigarette case. Jack Dalton and Little Nell run to the city to try to live down the shame of it all. Wicked Scene. Then comes the wickedness. Big Mike's piece on the Bowery draws both Nell and Jack (at different times of course, because they're not supposed to know each other's in the city). There's plenty of liquor flowing and the joint by howl respectable for a respectable lot of Kiwanians to be found hanging out. But it's all in the play and the audience enjoyed Big Mike's place the best of the entire three acts. Jack and Little Nell, but Murgatroyd appears on the scene at just the right cue spot and Jack suspects the worst. Things take a bad turn when Uncle Hiram, played exceedingly well by A. F. Howes, can't meet the mortgage payment and he finds it has been bought from the bank by Murgatroyd. But Jack Dalton comes to the rescue with a beautiful pack of stage money just in time to save the old home and his beloved Nell. It all ends thrillingly and happily for Community Players, Kiwanians and the audience when Murgatroyd is shackled in iron by howl respectable, even if the audience knew it and Murgatroyd hadn't guessed it. Comedy Quartet. Between the acts Captain John Nichols made the necessary management announcements and assured the audience that it was having a wonderful time. But the best comedy of the evening came when the Kiwanis quartet, C. Elmore Watkins, Elmer Thiens, Elmer Hilden and Helge Pearson, attired in costumes like father's tinsyties, rendered old favorites. C. Elmore Watkins was introduced and was attired as a mezzo-soprano but proved to be quite a pronounced basso profundo. During the play there were incidental songs by Walter Henry, Fayette Clarke and Betty Walworth. The Players. The cast and staff follow: Lizzie Jones, a housekeeper, Mabel Potterson; Barbara Nellie's younger sister, Betty Walworth; Hiram Stanley, an honest farmer, A. F. TRADE SCHOOL NOTES

By THOMAS J. CHABA
Trade School Correspondent

Manchester Trade opposes Enfield High school at the West Side four acre diamond instead of at Mount Nebo grounds this afternoon.

The Manchester Trade School Orchestra-Ensemble furnished the musical entertainment for "Gold in Them Thar Hills," a three-act comedy melodrama presented by the Kiwanis of Manchester for the benefit of the Kiddies Kamp in the Hollister School auditorium, last evening. The group, under the direction of William J. Hanna, will again entertain during the second performance tonight.

A dance under the auspices of the Manchester Trade School Student Activities Association, will be given in honor of the 1934 Trade school graduating class, Friday, May 11. An ensemble from the Trade School Orchestra will furnish the music, under the direction of John Marzalek. Dancing will be held from 8 to 12 o'clock in the assembly hall.

The regular monthly assembly, sponsored by the Student Activities Association, will present an assembly next Thursday afternoon. President Adolf Storm will preside.

The Trade school graduating class has recently selected The Falot Studio to do the class photography, photographs of the faculty and individual photographs of the graduates will be taken for the Trade school year book.

for several hours before hope was abandoned.

The air ministry notified ships along the coast to search the channel but they reported they were unsuccessful.

The plane weighed 10 tons and it was believed that, if it fell in the channel, it would have sunk immediately.

The plane is the "Wibault" on the regular Paris-London service.

It left Le Bourget at 11:15 a. m. today with Pilot Canet in charge. The other members of the crew were a steward and radio operator.

When Last Sighted

The Wibault was last sighted over Treport near Dieppe, leaving the French coast at 12:19 p. m.

One minute later came the last radio message indicating that, apparently, all was well aboard.

The plane was due at Croydon Airfield at 12:40 p. m., and when it failed to appear, the English field sent out a general alarm.

Croydon reported that a searching plane had been sent from there to search along the coast and that it was hoped a forced landing may have been made in South England.

It was reported from London that the Coast Guard had been advised to keep a sharp lookout.

MISS WATKINS TO SING OVER RADIO TOMORROW

Returns to Manchester Program by Special Request—Mother's Day Songs.

Because of many requests Miss Miriam Watkins will again sing over the radio on the Manchester On the Air program to be broadcast from the State theater at 8 o'clock tomorrow morning. Miss Watkins has arranged a special group of songs about Mother in connection with Mother's Day, Sunday.

Collin Driggs will play his usual number of organ numbers on the broadcast. Persons desiring to witness the broadcast are welcome to the theater for the half hour program.

A further Manchester flavor has been given the broadcast by the assignment of Technician Edwards to the State Thursday mornings. Mr. Edwards lives in Manchester and is employed by Station WTIC over which the Manchester programs are sent.

TENNIS ELIMINATION

Of the six players to be chosen to represent Manchester High school in tennis during this year, four were named without entering the elimination series, because of their unquestionable ability.

ROCKVILLE

GOAT FARM DEATH TRAP ELIMINATION STARTED

Work Putting in New Section Expected to Be Finished in August.

The actual work of eliminating the death trap at the "Goat Farm" on the Rockville-Hartford state road has been started by the M. A. Gammone company of Providence, R. I.

At the present time the contractor is working with an excavating shovel moving the loam from the top of the spot where the new section is to be placed.

The work of putting in a new section near the so-called "Goat Farm" where several have met death, will take less than three months' time. The contract calls for the work to be completed within 75 working days, which would mean that the work should be finished early in August.

As a means of rushing the work, the Connecticut state highway department has placed a penalty of $50 per day for each day over the 75 days. Should the work be completed ahead of time, the highway department is to pay a bonus of $50 per day.

The road is to be reinforced concrete construction, twenty feet wide and a trifle less than three miles in length.

The superintendent in charge of the work is Camino Diczno of Hartford and Providence.

The work of surveying for the new layout is in charge of Junior Highway Engineer Vincent Yannoni, while the inspector in charge is Junior Highway Engineer John Calandrello.

Certificate Privilege
The New England College Entrance Certificate Board has notified Principal Philip M. Howe of the Rockville High school of the extension of the certificate privilege to colleges which are members of that board, until December 31, 1938.

This extension for four years is the maximum allowed by the board and is dependent on the quality of the work done in the colleges by the pupils who have entered during the last four years.

The colleges that are members of the board are as follows: Amherst College, Boston University, Bowdoin College, Brown University, Clark College, Colby College, Massachusetts Agricultural College, Middlebury College, Tufts College, Wesleyan University and Williams College.

Among the list of graduates who have entered these schools during the past four years are the following: Buenos Young, '31, Brown University; David Hirth, '31, Bowdoin College; Robert Murphy, '32, Brown University; Wesley Osborne, '30, Boston University.

Denies Sale of Mills
Rumors of the possible sale of the Hockanum Mills company were laid at rest yesterday by a denial by General Manager Percy Ainsworth of the company.

Rumors were circulating about Rockville for several days that the mills have been purchased by the General Motors company which controls the possession in the immediate future.

"You can say there is no truth to the report that the General Motors company is to acquire our plant," Mr. Ainsworth replied when questioned as to the truth of the report.

Discharged by Court
Wilson Wright, colored, was before Judge John E. Fisk in the Rockville City Court Tuesday morning. He was charged with indecent exposure but Judge Fisk failed to find him guilty and discharged him.

Wright was arrested by Captain Richard E. Shea upon a complaint of Mrs. Johnson of Linden street.

Repairing Cave-In
The work of repairing the cave-in at the intersection of High and Hammond streets is now well under way and it is hoped to have it completed late today or early tomorrow. The fact that the storm sewer under High street failed to hold the weight of the trucks passing over it is causing the public works department considerable money at this time. It was also found that work had been started on the installation of a tile drain under this street but that it was never completed. The water seeping through the road passed out through this eighteen-inch tile and carried the foundation of the road with it.

MURDER SUSPECTS KNOWN IN STATE Brothers Held in New York for Slaying of Officers Served at Wethersfield.

Two Italians being held by the New York police as suspects in connection with the murders of Policemen Lawrence Ward and Ernest Krahenbuehl, a citizen in East Harlem, N. Y., last Friday, are known in Hartford and in Ridgefield, Conn., the police revealed today.

These brothers have been in this country about 20 years, natives of Sicily. They have been arrested in Ridgefield and served time at Wethersfield prison. They are both armed and very dangerous and probably will be found together. They may seek employment as mill or farm hands, or may attempt to leave the country.

These men are known in Hartford, Ridgefield, Passaic, N. J., and Garfield, N. J.

A Fancied Grudge The brothers were said by the police to have a fancied grudge against society and religion, their minds had been inflamed by reading Communist literature and they were on their way to burn down a church to rid themselves of evil spirits. Another brother, Calogero Farruggia, is held as a material witness in the slayings. All three are the only survivors of a family of twenty-four children, according to the police. They came from the Province of Giggenti in a remote corner of the island of Sicily. Joseph and Salvatore were arrested in Ridgefield, which is near Danbury, a 1931 on a charge of receiving July 1

ARE REAPPOINTED Hartford, May 9.—(AP)—Governor Cross has announced the following re-appointments: Dr. William L. Weed of Norwich, member of the state dental commission for five years from July 1, 1934; Fred I. Denton, trustee of the Mystic Oral School for three years, from July 1

You'll be dialing 3537 every day after you've tasted the cookies you'll receive from Mohr's Bakery.

Quinn's are seeing to it that at the Sample Fair will be "sweeter than sweet" for they're sending up six pound boxes of luscious chocolates.

You'll dance for joy if you win the lovely silk dress pattern that Cheney's have placed on the Lucky Table for some fortunate winner—and you'll all receive a beautiful chiffon hankie.

You'll wear that cool crisp Nelly Don everywhere. Here's hoping you win it. It will come to you directly from Hale's Cotton Shop. Be on hand at 3:30 for there's to be a fashion show of Nelly Dons—the newest summer arrivals on living models.

Well, I'll be getting a long now, see you all at the Sample Fair.

TAX COLLECTOR NOT TO RETIRE

George H. Howe Spikes Persistent Rumor That He Will Quit.

Tax Collector George H. Howe today laughed off persistent reports about town that he intended to resign in September owing to ill health.

"First I've heard of it," he chuckled, then added, "but I suppose there are some who would like me to resign." Mr. Howe said his health was good and in this he was supported by his daughter who works in the office.

Rumors have been going the rounds that both Victor W. Bronka, prominent in local Legion circles and Clarence H. Anderson, well known insurance man, would seek Mr. Howe's job if the latter decided to retire but neither of the men has publicly given any indication of a desire in this matter.

Local political leaders appreciate the influence which Local 2125, United Textile Workers of America, may exert in future elections if the local decides to endorse candidates seeking public office.

With a membership of more than 2,300, this union's power must be reckoned with, it is admitted.

Raymond Shea, a nephew of Internal Revenue Collector Dr. Edward G. Dolan, who formerly was his uncle's chauffeur, was said today to have made a trip to Washington sounding out the prospects of his obtaining a Federal post.

Paul Mantz, Los Angeles pilot, recently made what he claims to be a new world speed record for an international flight. He flew from Balboa to Los Angeles, a distance of 3800 miles, in 21 hours, 40 minutes actual flying time.

"Evil Spirits" Captain Edward Mullins of the New York homicide Squad said it was plain from Calagero's story that his brothers were obsessed with the idea that they were haunted by "evil spirits," and that the only way they could rid themselves of the spirits would be by setting fire to a church—any church.

How many shots did you hear? Calagero was asked. His answer was, "one!"

In another part of his statement he told of sitting with his brothers in the bedroom of the flat that they shared with their 86-year-old mother.

Hated Churches "Why did you want to burn a church?" "I have no use for churches." The brothers were stopped by Patrolman Ward whose suspicions over their actions was aroused they were carrying a suitcase containing two-gallon jug of ethyl alcohol which they had just purchased.

The Board of Control of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday voted to sponsor a joint membership meeting with the East Hartford, Glastonbury and Rockville Chambers during the month of June, the arrangements being left to the meetings committee. It was suggested that the event be held on Wednesday at the Country Club with a golf tourney in the afternoon.

The Board also authorized the publication of a weekly resume of Chamber activities to enlighten the townspeople on the amount of work accomplished by the Chamber. This resume will be started next week, as the Chamber is now devoting most of its time to the many details of the hospital drive which will start next Monday.

It was voted assistance to the farmers' marketing association this summer in an attempt to increase the number of wholesale buyers at the market.

Completion of the campaign organization for the Memorial hospital drive for $15,000, which will get underway next Monday night, is expected tonight, or tomorrow morning by the latest. All teams captains were reminded today by General Chairman William B. Hallett to report the personnel of their teams to the Chamber of Commerce office as soon as possible.

It was announced this morning that twenty-one of the thirty-two teams of the organization had been completed. The drive will be in charge of the executive committee of twelve. There will be eight divisions with a major in charge of four teams of five workers each in every division, each team headed by a captain. In all, there will be 180 volunteer workers.

Each worker will be given a list of about fifteen prospective contributors to canvass. In order to protect the townspeople from illegal solicitation, an identification card signed by Chairman Hallett and countersigned by Secretary E. J. McCabe will be issued to every worker, who will also have a ribbon prominently displayed for further identification. The townspeople are urged to give only to those having these marks to identify themselves. Each worker will also have a supply of blue campaign cards, one for each person to be canvassed, and must issue a receipt for every contribution or pledge.

Mr. Goss has stated he will accept the invitation.

HOSPITAL DRIVE PLANS COMPLETED

180 Volunteer Workers Will Strive to Obtain Quota of $15,000 in Pledges.

Completion of the campaign organization for the Memorial hospital drive for $15,000, which will get underway next Monday night, is expected tonight, or tomorrow morning by the latest. All teams captains were reminded today by General Chairman William B. Hallett to report the personnel of their teams to the Chamber of Commerce office as soon as possible.

It was announced this morning that twenty-one of the thirty-two teams of the organization had been completed. The drive will be in charge of the executive committee of twelve. There will be eight divisions with a major in charge of four teams of five workers each in every division, each team headed by a captain. In all, there will be 180 volunteer workers.

Each worker will be given a list of about fifteen prospective contributors to canvass. In order to protect the townspeople from illegal solicitation, an identification card signed by Chairman Hallett and countersigned by Secretary E. J. McCabe will be issued to every worker, who will also have a ribbon prominently displayed for further identification. The townspeople are urged to give only to those having these marks to identify themselves. Each worker will also have a supply of blue campaign cards, one for each person to be canvassed, and must issue a receipt for every contribution or pledge.

ACCEPTS FEDERAL POST Waterbury, May 9.—(AP)—John H. Goss, vice-president of the Scovill Manufacturing Company has been requested in a letter from the National Recovery Administration to accept the state chairmanship of the new educational drive to clarify the public mind as to the operation of the permanent NRA codes, which will start in the near future. Mr. Goss has stated he will accept the invitation.

Did You Ever Hear This One?

The one about the chap who searched all over the world for a four-leafed clover—and then came home—old and weary—and found a perfect one in his own back yard. How much valuable time he would have saved—and how much happier he would have been—had he searched his own back yard first.

OTHER CLUBS MUST 'GANG UP' TO STOP YANKS IN AMERICAN

NEW YORKERS GAIN FIFTH TRIUMPH IN ROW BY 8-3 SCORE

Trim Browns With Rally in 8th; Senators Take 2nd Place; Pirates Advance as Giants and Cubs Are Beaten.

(By Associated Press) If seven other clubs can "gang up" to stop the Yankees, the prospects look very good for the closest American League race in many seasons.

The Yankees today held a 2-1 game lead, but the pack, in full cry on their trail, included five clubs, bunched within in the compass of a game and a half in the standings. Washington's Senators, pursuing a four game winning streak, took the second notch with a ten to six victory over the White Sox yesterday.

In the For Third Cleveland, victims of Joe Casarella's three hit pitching and a 2-0 defeat by the Athletics, dropped in to a virtual tie for third place with the Detroit Tigers, who whipped Boston 5-1. The A's and the Red Sox in turn, tied for fifth, a half game further back.

Buck Newsome ruined a good pitching job by making two wild peps past first base in the eighth inning and the Yankees rushed over six runs and beat the St. Louis Browns 8-3 for their fifth triumph in a row.

Pirates Now Second The Pittsburgh Pirates advanced into second place in the National League by beating Brooklyn 5-2, while the Cubs took a 13-6 trimming from the aroused Phillies.

The league leading Giants also took a beating when Cincinnati ended an eight game losing streak 7-3, by driving Fred Fitzsimons to the showers and scoring six runs in the first. St. Louis tightening its hold on fourth place by defeating the Boston Braves 5-4.

PLAYER LISTS ANNOUNCED OF EIGHT TEAMS FORMING LEGION-REC JUNIOR LOOP

To Play Four Practice Games Next Week to Determine Strength of Nines Entered—Open Season Following Week—The Selections.

The tentative personnel of the eight teams that will form the American Legion-Recreation Centers junior baseball league, was announced today by Frank Busch and Earl Wright, who are in charge of the formation of the circuit.

The games will be played either at the West Side or Mount Nebo, the definite place to be announced later. Teams No. 1 and No. 2 will meet at 5 o'clock Tuesday evening, with Teams No. 3 and 4 meeting at 6 o'clock on Thursday evening.

The teams are as follows: Team No. 1—Ernest Kiasman, Jack Bellamy, Norman Pitt, Joseph Stamler, Walter Suchy, Marvin Cio, Harry Squatrito, Henry Haets, Edward Benache, Vito Agostinello, Elmo Gavello and John Thurmer.

Team No. 2—Noble Kiasman, Alfred Roberts, Peter Pautaluk, Ernest Irish, Harold Mikolet, Thomas Moran, John Wenzler, Donald Venant, Earl Yost, Fred Serval, Thomas Donahue and Donald Simmons.

OVER 1,000 ENTRIES FOR GOLF TOURNEY

Unusual Number of Contestants for National Event Which Opens June 7—Many Stars Entered.

New York, May 9.—(AP)—Another sign of better business conditions was seen today in a substantial increase in the number of entries for the National open golf championship to be played at the beginning of June 7.

All told, 1,083 players, 112 more than a year ago, entered the list. They included Johnny Goodman, the defending champion, virtually all the leading professionals and many of Goodman's leading amateur rivals.

A notable absentee will be George T. Dunlap, Jr., National amateur titleholder. Neither Dunlap, Francis Oulmet and Chandler Egan, all of whom are abroad with the Walker Cup team, entered the open.

Of the big entry list, 36 players—led by the first 30 and five in last year's championship and four members of the Walker Cup team—automatically qualify for the 72 hole competition at Merion. The other 114 places in the field limited to 150 are filled through the sectional qualifying round system in 21 districts.

Los Angeles already has held its best and qualified five players for the championship. The other 20 district trials will be played next Monday. Although the exempt list takes in many of the leading stars, a sprinkling of top flight golfers will have to participate in the sectional qualifying rounds next week.

Billy Burke, who defeated George Von Elm in a record 72 hole playoff for the open title in 1931, will try to qualify in the Cleveland district along with Al Espinosa, Phil Perkins and Maurice McCarthy.

QUIMET NAMES TEAM FOR FOURSOME PLAY

St. Andrews, Scotland, May 9.—(AP)—Captain Francis Ouimet has decided on the lineup of his American squad in the Scotch foursomes which open the two day Walker Cup golfing series with Great Britain here Friday. Satisfied with their performance in practice, Ouimet has decided to enter the series with the same combinations he has used the last two days. This means Johnny Goodman will team up with Lawson, Ouimet with George Dunlap, Max Marston with Chandler Egan and Gus Moreland with Jack Westland.

This lineup leaves Johnny Fischer of Cincinnati, who drives the longest ball on the team and has displayed the most consistent going in practice in the role of a spectator on Friday, although he is a certain starter in the singles Saturday. Marston probably will not be used in singles.

THINKS HELEN WILLS OUT OF COMPETITION

New York, May 9.—(AP)—Alice Marble, winner Wightman Cup player from San Francisco, believes Helen Wills Moody will play no competitive tennis this year.

Here to sail for Europe with other members of the Wightman Cup team at midnight tonight, Miss Marble brought word from the far west that Mrs. Moody has not touched a racket or a tennis ball this winter or spring and that it was generally believed on the west coast that the former champion is suffering from the back injury that forced her withdrawal from the cup matches here last summer.

Sailing with Miss Marble will be Josephine Cruickshank, Carolin Babcock and Sarah Palfrey. The team captain and national champion, Helen Jacobs, sailed for abroad several days ago.

BULLDOGS VICTORS
The Bulldog Athletic club took the Greenacres All-Stars 4-0 to the tune of 25-14. It was a very one sided game, with countless errors by the All-Stars. Barber did some good hitting for the Bulldogs while Machey was the all around star for the Greenacres team.

PILE UP WIDE MARGIN IN THE FIELD EVENTS TO GAIN 3RD VICTORY

Locals Conserve Strength for Defense of Rhode Island Title This Saturday But Win Easily; Capture 22 Out of Possible 34 Places.

Although conserving its strength for the defense of its out-of-state title at Kingston, R. I. this Saturday, Manchester High's track and field aggregation displayed enough power to overwhelm East Hartford High at the West Side field yesterday afternoon. The final score was 66 to 38 and gave the Red and White its eighth straight triumph in dual competition this season, Middletown and Hartford having been previous victors.

Superior All Around
East Hartford unleashed its greatest threat in the track events, taking four out of six first places, four seconds and four thirds to outscore the visitors in this department by 28 to 24. In the field events, Manchester's superiority was most decisive, the locals taking five firsts, four seconds and three thirds to tally forty points to fourteen for East Hartford.

Sprinters Beaten
Manchester's sprinters again failed to come through in the 100 and 220, both of which events went to Brennan of East Hartford in fairly good time. The sprints were closely contested and only separated the victors by a narrow margin. Coach Diana started his bid for the lead but could not pass Strehlan, who was running close to the pole. In his attempt to get by, Diana was shoved by the East Hartford runner and took a nasty spill in the stretch. Strehlan and Rowell finished in that order. As no track judges had been appointed, no disqualifications were made.

Unpleasant Incident
For the first time in a number of years an unpleasant incident marred the meet, occurring in the 440. Ceraso of East Hartford went to the front at the start and was closely pressed all the way by Strehlan and Diana. Coming into the home stretch, Diana started his bid for the lead but could not pass Strehlan, who was running close to the pole. In his attempt to get by, Diana was shoved by the East Hartford runner and took a nasty spill in the stretch. Strehlan and Rowell finished in that order. As no track judges had been appointed, no disqualifications were made.

Long Distance Cleanup
Charlie Donahue and Joe Packard romped home with the mile without much effort in slow time, the former leading Packard to the tape by nearly ten yards. Neither runner exerted himself to any extent. East Hartford won the relay as Coach Pete Wigren again sent his freshmen team into action. The local youngsters gave good account of themselves but were no match for their veteran rivals. It was Manchester all the way in 800, Coburn, Carpenter and Leary placing one, two, three with the brakes on. Loughmott of the final lap.

Sweep Field Events
Frank Robinson was the winner of the discus with his teammates, Garrone and Saimond, taking the other places. Leo Johnson won the shot and again it was all-Manchester. East Hartford's only first in the field events was in the javelin. Milewski being first with Johnson and Guthrie of Manchester both placing.

Wilson McCormick's ten foot pole vault gave him the honors in that event, with his teammates, Wolfram second. Ralph Smith came through again in the high jump and Lockhart Rogers was the first place winner in the broad jump, in both of which events East Hartford, took the runner-up positions.

Coach Wigren is planning to send a squad of twenty athletes to the out-of-state meet at Kingston, which is sponsored by Rhode Island State college. The team will leave here directly after school closes Friday.

MOHAWKS EDGE ACES
The Mohawks defeated the Aces by a single run in a nine-inning tussle at the Mill Lote, the final score being 10 to 9, the winner having a much older team than the losers. The Mohawks lineup consisted of F. Modera, F. Mohr, G. Nelson, B. Roscoe, B. Gorman, G. Wilson and V. Tomm. Modera and Tomm got four hits apiece. The Aces lineup consisted of Gordon Server, Russell Haugh, Joe Thompson, Thomas Thompson, John Merrick, Jere Williams and Randall Pillsbury. Merrick got seven hits and Pillsbury five for the Aces.

The score by innings:
Mohawks 442 000 000—10
Aces 041 000 004—9

DONNA of the BIG TOP

by BEULAH POYNTER

BEGIN HERE TODAY DONNA GABRIEL and MADELINE SIDALL who call themselves "The Gabriel Sisters" are trapeze performers with Renfro's circus.

When Madeline's grandfather, who is blind, asks her to spend a week-end at his farm the persuades Donna to go instead. Donna, pretending to be Madeline, falls in love with BILL SIDALL, Madeline's cousin.

CON DAVID, animal trainer, is devoted to Donna but she repulses him merely as a friend. Madeline loves Con and schemes to win him.

Donna falls from the trapeze and is injured. Madeline vows Bill to come for her and begs Donna to continue the impersonation. Bill takes Donna to the farm to recuperate. MRS. PLANTER, the housekeeper, is suspicious of the girl.

Madeline tells Con that Donna is going to marry Bill. When members of the circus gossip about Madeline and Con he offers to marry her, believing he has lost Donna.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XII

With $25 in his pocket, the result of two weeks' labor on the Sidal farm, Nub Planter considered himself affluent and due for a period of rest. Much against his mother's wishes, he set off on a tramp to the Kentucky metropolis and landed in Louisville the day that "Renfro's Monstrous Three Ring Circus" was due to begin a three days' engagement.

Wandering along the main business section of the city and staring in shop windows, he was accosted by a small colored boy who thrust a handbill toward him.

Nub glanced at the green printed sheet, accepted it and, leaning against a building, read the following:

"Saturday Afternoon in the Trena Con David, King of Wild Beasts, Star of the Greatest Circus on Earth, and Madeline Gabriel, Superb, Beautiful, Glorious Aerial Gymnast, Will Be Married in the Presence of Thousands of Spectators: Who Will Join Them? To the Young Couple Who Will Join Hands in Holy Matrimony at the Same Time and at the Same Place

It was three o'clock when he reached the fair grounds, leased for three days by Renfro. The afternoon performance was in progress and Nub could hear shrieks of laughter occasioned by the clown's antics. Near the side show tents and the concessions small groups had collected, more interested in getting something for nothing than in paying for entertainment under the "big top."

Nub watched a farmer lose three dollars at a shooting gallery, then strolled over to the owner of the concession and offered his services. The other man, black-browed and bleary-eyed, sized up Nub and told him he would pay him 50 cents as a "come-on." Nub accepted and for two hours pretended to shoot revolving ducks with a success that drew more spectators.

Part of the 50 cents went for "hot dogs" and root beer. Then Nub sauntered on, looking for more employment. By seven o'clock that evening he had the wherewithal to buy a ticket for the show but, having remembered how he had dodged policemen in his youth, he tried the same stunt again and found a seat (unreserved) and settled into it without any qualms of conscience.

He was too far from the arena to get a clear view of Madeline's face and, since three acts were presented at once, he left after the performance, disgruntled and no wiser. No announcement of Madeline's identity had been made and he did not know which girl on the flying bars or trapeze was to be the bride the following afternoon. However, he put the handbill in his pocket, sought out a speak-easy and promptly forgot the whole affair until several days later when the circus had departed to new fields. Then his hand encountered the wad of green paper and he decided to send it on to his mother. She could "have it out" with the girl on the floor.

Mrs. Planter, on receipt of the document, did nothing at all. She asked no questions and gave Donna no information, but folded the handbill carefully and put it among her treasures in a battered cigar box in the bottom of an old camel-back trunk. Like her son, Mrs. Planter was convinced that there was something odd about the affair. Of course, Madeline might have been the more prominent of the two Gabriel sisters and the owner of the circus might have thought it good business to use her name instead of the other's. On the other hand—well, it paid to keep a thing like that. The handbill might come in handy some day.

Secure in the knowledge that Lebanon citizens would be most unlikely to see the Louisville newspapers and that nothing concerning her marriage would reach the ears of her grandfather, Madeline had agreed to the public wedding. At first she considered asking to have the announcements read, "Donna Gabriel," but that would have called for a great deal of explaining and might get her into further difficulties with Renfro, just as refusal to do what he asked would have done. Once married to Con, it would make all difference to Madeline what Donna's position might be. The ceremony that tied her for life to the man she adored was for all that mattered.

Con had at first rebelled against making a "holly show" of himself. He wasn't ready to marry yet. He wasn't going to become a benedict before a lot of gawping yaps! Renfro argued that business was bad. They were to remain in Louisville for three days and something had to be done to attract the public. A double wedding would be sure to draw a crowd, especially if a cash prize were offered to be married in the arena for the prize of $100 and furnishings for an apartment. Knowing the value of a laugh, Renfro chose the most unimpressive couple in the group. The man was little, weighed and well past 60. The woman was middle-aged, almost a giantess, with flaming red hair. An itinerant preacher, badly in need of funds, consented to perform the ceremony.

On Saturday afternoon the "big top" was packed, but Nub Planter was not one of the spectators. Throughout the performance Madeline was in a glow of anticipation, not unmixed with fear. Suppose at the last moment Con should rebel and the ceremony fail to take place! Had she been foolish to argue for the public display? Would this ruin her chance of ever winning his love?

And what if Donna should insist upon returning to the show and Con learned he had been trapped into marriage? Madeline repeated to herself all the plattitudes concerning love that she had ever heard in order to brace up her waning courage. "All's fair in love and war." She did love Con; she loved him once married to him, he would be hers forever.

The chariot races ended. The audience was still shouting and stomping. Small boys whistled and gave cat-calls. Then a brass band started the wedding march. Madeline adjusted the long lace veil that fell in graceful folds over her white satin gown. A last glance at herself in the mirror, and then stepped outside where Renfro, in Prince Albert coat and silk hat, waited to escort her to the arena.

There were 12 bridesmaids—six for each bride. The tiny flower girls were midgets, dressed in tartan ballet frocks. La Belle Matilde was matron of honor and De Lucca was the best man.

Flowers were strewn over the sidewalk from the entrance to the raised center platform. At the sound of a gong a huge wedding bell opened in the top of the tent and ribbon streamers, bearing the names, "Madeline Gabriel" and "Con David" in huge gold letters, awayed in the field air, set in motion by giant fans.

Behind them the local bride gilded ecstatically and pinched the arm of her husband-to-be.

Slowly the procession started, the flower-maids carrying Madeline's train and the bridesmaids following. From the other side of the arena came Con. His face, now devoid of grease paint, was ashen.

All of the circus performers gathered about the entrance. Some chuckled, but most of them were awed by the splendor of the occasion. The fat lady sobbed audibly, explaining that she always wept at weddings.

A pair of bleary eyes above lips drawn in an ugly snarl watched every motion of the bronze-haired girl. When her hand was placed in Con's and her lips mumbled, "I

Management of Renfro's Circus Will Give $100 and Furnishings for a Four-Room Apartment. Let's Hear From the Boys and Girls! Who Will Have This Supreme Honor?"

Only the first part of the announcement registered with Nub Planter. So Madeline Gabriel, who was really Madeline Sidall, was to be married Saturday afternoon! How could this be possible? Nub had left Madeline in a wheel chair in a farm house just outside of Lebanon only two weeks before.

Obviously she could not have regained use of her limbs in two weeks, or rejoined the circus. Something was wrong some place.

Nub decided that he would see the wedding ceremony and the girl who was using Madeline's name. Since Nub's $25 had vanished the day before he could secure a seat at the circus was to produce a bride and take part in the ceremony or else to find some sort of employment and earn enough for a ticket.

Nub's curiosity had been aroused. Maybe the dame who claimed to be Madeline wasn't Madeline at all. Or maybe the girl at the farm—but Mom would have seen through any effort at deception, even if the blind old codger had been fooled. Nub assured himself it was his duty to look into this. Yep, it was his duty.

It was three o'clock when he reached the fair grounds, leased for three days by Renfro. The afternoon performance was in progress and Nub could hear shrieks of laughter occasioned by the clown's antics. Near the side show tents and the concessions small groups had collected, more interested in getting something for nothing than in paying for entertainment under the "big top."

A pair of bleary eyes above lips drawn in an ugly snarl watched every motion of the bronze-haired girl. When her hand was placed in Con's and her lips mumbled, "I do," a smothered oath escaped those lips. Their owner shoved another canvassman out of the way and dashed from the tent.

That afternoon New Trafford "jumped" the show and a younger man became boss canvassman.

And that same night Con David, after kissing his bride with more affection than he had hitherto shown, informed her he was going to put her in his animal act and give the public something new in thrills.

SENSE and NONSENSE

Temptation is the balance in which character is weighed.

Debunked!
From old Ben Franklin we once learned.
"A penny saved's a penny earned;"
Just now we are severely scored
When anybody tries to board.
And more advice Franklin spoke
Is now regarded as a joke.
Where is this nation going
When our main job is debunking
Ben?

The latest algebra problem in this land seems to be whether NRA plus AAA plus CWA plus PWA plus CCC won't result in the answer HCL and do it PDQ.

Mrs. P.—I hear that your divorced wife has made up her mind to marry a struggling young lawyer.
Mr. S.—Well, if Margaret has made up her mind he might as well cease struggling.

Youth (rather bashful)—I would give $5 for just one kiss from a nice, sweet little innocent girl like you.
Innocent Girl—Oh, how terrible!
Youth—Did I offend you?
Innocent Girl—No, I was just thinking about the fortune I gave away last night.

Small Boy (in the country)—No, mother dear I won't drink this milk that comes from a wagon, but do you know where they got this milk? They pulled it out of a cow!

your father?
New Boy Friend—Of course not, why?
Girl—Then quit pawin' me.

A young couple of sweethearts were sitting in the parlor late one evening, when suddenly the young man made this remark:
"Gosh, it's dark in here. I can't see my hand in front of my face."
"Don't worry, dear, I know it's not there," the skirt replied.

Daughter—The preacher just phoned and said he was coming to call this afternoon.
Mother—Gracious, we must make a good impression; give baby the Bible to play with.

DID YOU KNOW THAT—

The CWA airport program includes 385 new fields and 308 improvements to existing facilities.

The city of Boulder, and almost inaccessible town in Utah, is planning and airport because of the length of time necessary to travel between Salt Lake City and Boulder.
The Roosevelt Field Aviation Historical Museum has acquired an old single seater, French Spad 13, many of which were used during the latter part of the war by the allies.

A mail plane recently flew from Brazil to Berlin, a distance of 8700 miles, in three days, eight hours and 40 minutes, making only three stops along the way.

FLAPPER FANNY SAYS:

Patent—What are your charges, doctor?
Doctor—Five dollars a visit.
Patient—But we don't want you to come on a visit; we only need about ten minutes.

It's real ticklesome to hear a Catholic-hating preacher lambast the Catholics and then call on his organist to play "The Rosary."

Husband—You think more of that dog than you do of me.
Wife (sweetly)—Why shouldn't I? He growls less.

Never Worry About What Is Going To Happen. It May Not Happen. And Then You Would Be Disappointed.

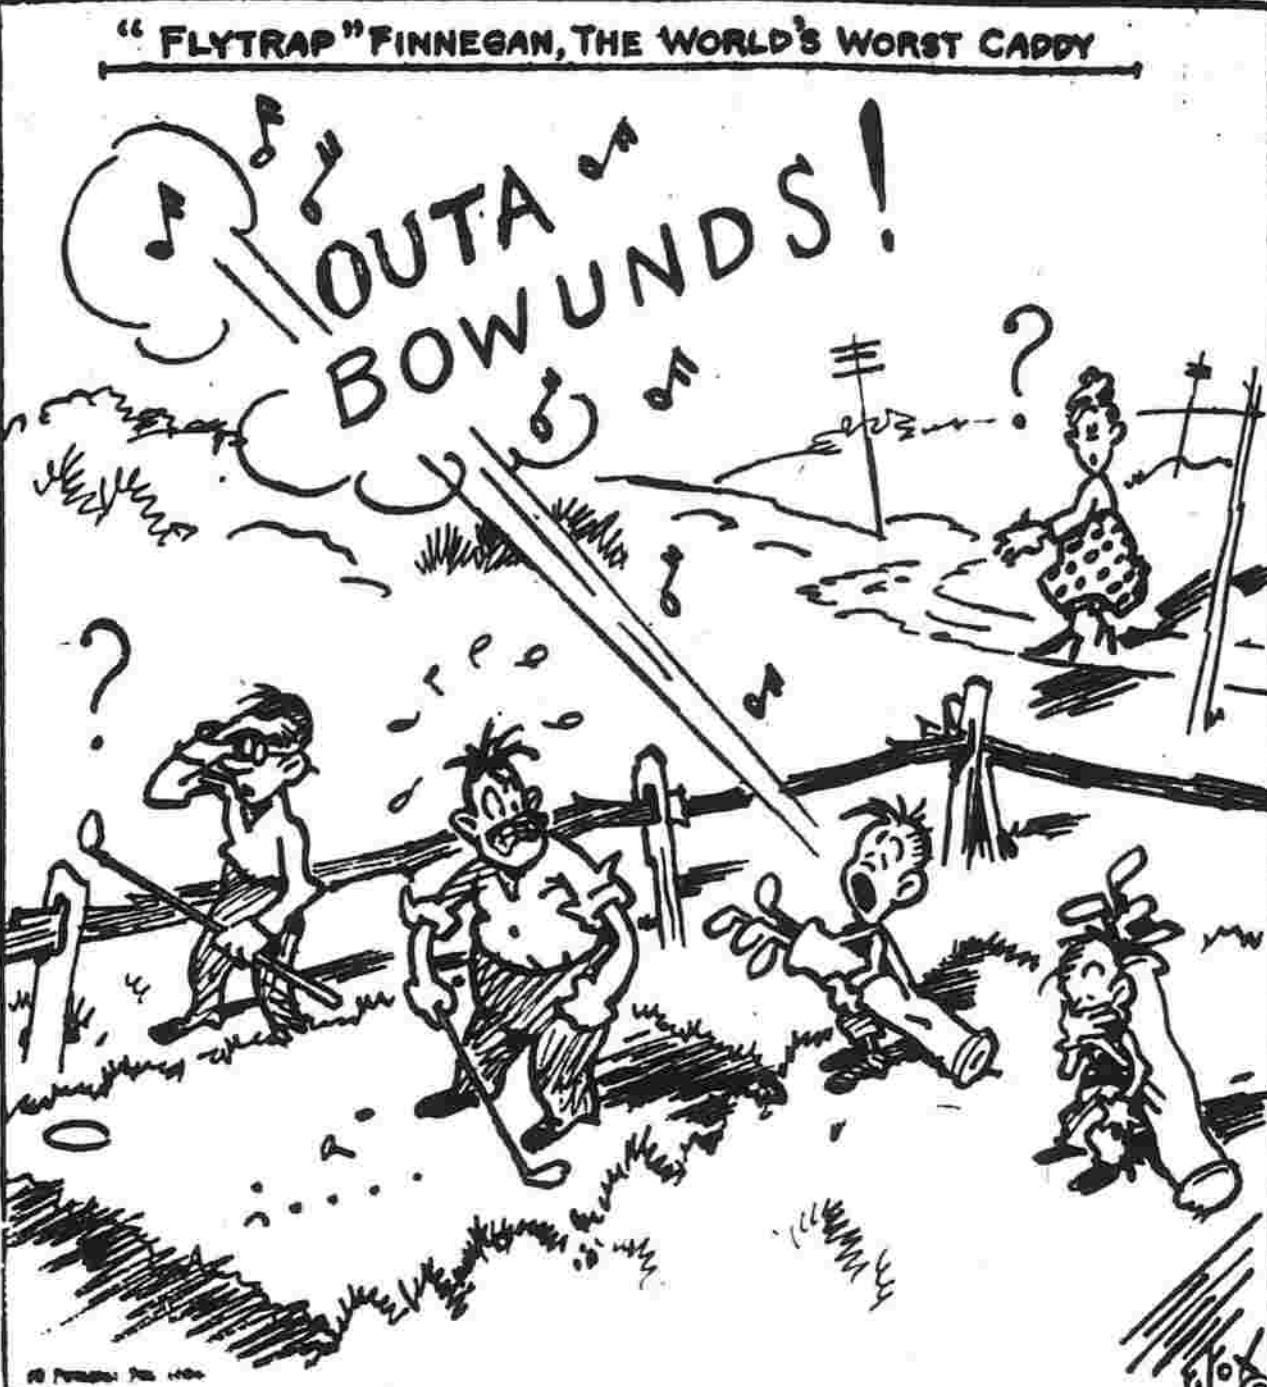

Health may be purchased but not from a shelf.
The price is prevent—take care of yourself.

If a kiss is an outward demonstration of inward emotion, a local man says he pines the riotous inner feelings of confirmed neuters.
