BIG BATTLE RAGING ALONG CHACO FRONT

Paraguay Has 40,000 Men Concentrated Along 25 Mile Front—Bolivia Has 15,000 Men There.

Asuncion, Paraguay, May 22.—(AP)—Furious fighting raged today along scattered sections of the Chaco front as Bolivian forces maneuvered in an attempt to draw the Paraguayan army into a premature offensive upon Fort Ballivian.

An advance of the Paraguayan left wing to the north was reported, but the minister of defense in Asuncion said word from the battle zones indicated the Paraguayan command was not ready to launch its general advance.

The delay in opening the offensive against the fort, Bolivia's most important stronghold, indicated that general Jose Estigarribia is taking fully into consideration the dangers that await his troops in what probably will be the decisive battle of the Gran Chaco warfare.

Strongly entrenched between the Paraguayan army and the fort lies a mile-wide plain. Beyond, before Fort Ballivian, the Bolivian troops—though smaller in numbers—are strongly entrenched.

Paraguay has 40,000 men concentrated along a 25-mile front; Bolivia 15,000 in and before the fort. The first partial and tentative Paraguayan offensive against Fort Ballivian's outposts resulted in disaster. A Paraguayan division was allowed to advance for some distance. Then, drawn away from the main army, it was dealt a crushing defeat with heavy loss of life.

This reverse explains General Estigarribia's caution and the Bolivian hurry to precipitate a Paraguayan offensive.

While watching both armies prepare ruthlessly for the long awaited battle of Fort Ballivian, Paraguayan circles made the claim today that Paraguay was surprised by the war and poorly equipped to fight.

These sources said that at the start of the conflict, Paraguay had only 10,000 rifles, 3 1/2 field guns, 500 machine guns, 17 old fighting planes and antiquated communication means for its army of 30,000 men.

Better equipped Bolivia, they claimed, before attacking the first Paraguayan fort, had accumulated 110,000 rifles, 400 field guns, 800 machine guns, 15 rapid fire rifles, 65 planes, 20 armor tanks and complete and modern transportation and communication equipment.

However, Paraguay has captured 27,000 rifles, 50 field guns, 2,000 machine guns, 35 mortars, a quantity of munitions, a score of trucks and one plane, the Paraguayans here said.

At the same time, they added, Paraguay has captured 1,000 non-commissioned officers, 400 officers and 14,500 soldiers while, they claimed, Bolivia has captured approximately 300 Paraguayans.

It was said that the Paraguayan army was equipped with the most efficient and most modern materials and through the Pilcomayo river and ways opened through wild forests in the Chaco jungle region is able to keep a stream of supplies moving rapidly to a base situated only a short distance from Fort Ballivian.

SLEUTHS UNCOVER BOOZE CANDY RING

Bonbons Sold to Children Contained Over 20 Per Cent of Alcohol.

New York, May 22.—(AP)—Evidence of a liquor candy ring alleged to have sold children $500,000 worth of candies filled with bootleg alcohol was presented to the Federal Grand Jury in Brooklyn yesterday.

The action followed a Federal investigation lasting six months, with agents of the Food and Drug Administration pursuing clues as far west as Chicago. Indictments will be returned this week against two persons and two companies, according to Murray Kreindler, assistant Federal attorney.

BRITTEN URGES MOVE TO SCRAP RECOVERY PLAN

Illinois Congressman Demands Probe of Darrow Board's Findings; Johnson Answers Criticisms.

Washington, May 22.—(AP)—A Congressional investigation of the NRA and the "Roosevelt-Darrow Board of Review" to learn whether the NRA should be abolished was proposed in a resolution today by Representative Britten (R., Ill.).

Meanwhile, Hugh S. Johnson, the NRA administrator said at a press conference that the forthcoming Darrow report on additional codes would be answered by NRA as the first one was.

He predicted, however, that with the Review Board's general conclusions out of the way, answering the second report would be much simpler.

Darrow's Statement Yesterday Clarence Darrow head of the Review Board, and his associates issued a statement challenging Donald Richberg, NRA general counsel, and "his expert staff of economists" to dispose of the second report in 150 pages as they did the first.

Beyond that comment, and repeating that he still thought it would be "the good" to have a semi-judicial body with a detached attitude pass on NRA codes and suggest improvements, Johnson declared.

TAXPAYERS DEMAND STATE INCOME TAX

Grangers Join Alliance in Movement; Attend Public Hearing at the Capitol.

Hartford, May 22.—(AP)—The Connecticut Taxpayers' Alliance and the State Grange were preparing to join forces today in a demand for a state income tax, the proceeds to be turned back to towns and cities on a pro-rata basis.

The two organizations were to lay their program before a public hearing of the special state tax commission at the Capitol at 4 P. M., when the problem of providing relief from the burden of local taxation was to be discussed.

The Connecticut League of Municipalities, which advocated a large bond issue for relief at the last session of the Legislature, was expected to recommend a sales tax as a new source of revenue to shift the burden from the local property tax.

Representatives of the three organizations conferred this noon prior to the hearing in an effort to agree on a program which all could support.

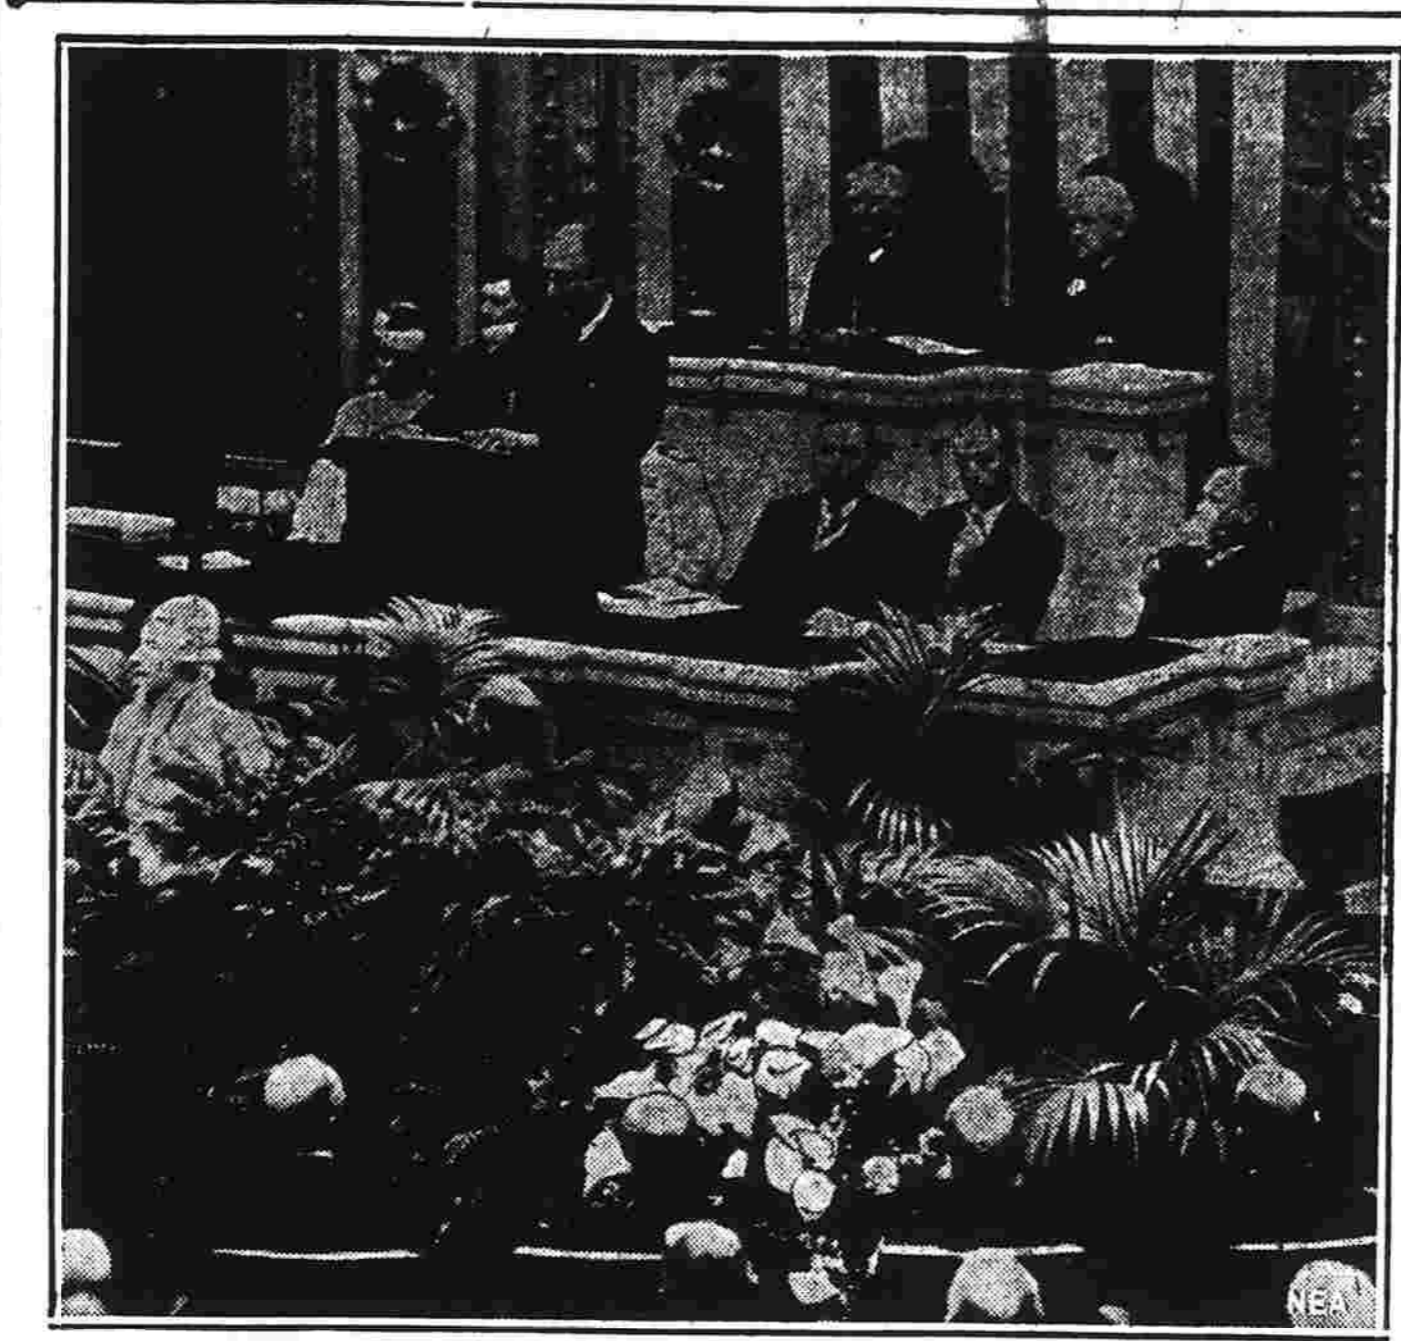

The Grange and the Taxpayers' Alliance, says George W. Hull of Burlington, secretary of the latter organization, are together on the income tax plan. He said that real estate was bearing 70 per cent of the tax burden though it represented only 30 per cent of the wealth in the state.

The Taxpayers' Alliance was strengthened yesterday when the Danbury Taxpayers Alliance with 700 members paying annual dues of $2 a year joined the state unit. The state organization, Mr. Hull said, now contains thirty local units ranging from thirty to 1,000 members.

Needs Market for Coffee So Recognizes Manchukuo

Tokyo, May 22.—(AP)—Leon Siguenza, El Salvador's consul general in Tokyo, declared today that his country's recognition of the Japanese-protected Empire of Manchukuo was "purely a matter of business, the outgrowth of San Salvador's acute need of new markets for her coffee."

Lafayette: "We Cherish Your Memory"

"We cherish his memory above that of any citizen of a foreign country." This was the glowing tribute President Roosevelt paid the Marquis de Lafayette when, as shown here, the President addressed a colorful joint session of Congress called to observe the 100th anniversary of the death of the French nobleman who became an American Revolutionary War hero.

ROOSEVELT REAL RULER TEXAS EDITOR ASSERTS

Gene Howe Declares He Stands Next to Mussolini and Lenin as Dictator — Results of Survey.

Amarillo, Texas, May 22.—(AP)—Gene Howe, Amarillo editor, said today a survey he had just completed revealed President Roosevelt as "having complete mastery of the Nation," in contrast with the fifty names James W. Gerard said were running the United States in 1933.

Howe, son of Ed Howe, famous Kansas editor, and a controversialist, who has tilted with Mary Garden and other notables, picked 49 of the President's chief advisers "who are consulted at his pleasure rather than their leisure." He called at least half of them "yes men" and said "there is not one of the remainder who can speak for the President without first consulting him."

Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt heads the list of advisers which Howe, with the aid of newspapermen in Washington, New York, Chicago and other eastern cities, selected after a month's survey.

Gerard's list was made up principally of bankers, financiers and big industrialists. Howe said that the classes are not represented among Roosevelt's advisers.

"The closest approach to a financier," he said, "is Bernard Baruch. Then there is Jesse Jones, a spectacular real estate operator. Jones who is a national leader and tremendously ambitious, is reasonably close to Roosevelt, but the President keeps every one at a respectful distance."

"Louis McHenry Howe is his intellectual valet; Jim Farley is his political strategist, whose advice is seldom taken except regarding party organization. Vice President Garner doesn't speak or understand."

NEW YORK NEWSPAPER LOCATES GEN. MACHADO

Ex-President of Cuba Sought on Murder Charges Is in New York City — Gives Interview.

New York, May 22.—(AP)—The New York Post today said it had located and interviewed General Gerardo Machado, former president of Cuba, in New York, and at the same time printed the first of a series of copyrighted articles obtained from the Cuban fugitive.

Machado is sought on a Federal warrant charging him with murder and embezzlement in Cuba. The Post said its representative, through a friendly intermediary, located and interviewed Machado "at a spot where neither the general nor the reporter had ever been before," and added "this newspaper has no knowledge of General Machado's present whereabouts."

It took the reporter just four days to find the Cuban ex-President, "three nights and four days of alternate encouragement and discouragement" and then a meeting was effected yesterday morning. The place of meeting was described as "in midtown" New York City.

Meets Ex-President Machado looked tired and distressed when he walked into the room. "Buenos dias" was the greeting as he walked across the room. There was no handshaking. The general stood six feet away, his hand resting on the back of a heavy chair.

"I have," he began slowly, "I have a statement vindicating my regime." Asked for the statement, the general without taking his eyes from his visitor, drew forth a sheaf of papers, handed them to the reporter, bowed and smiled and said "adieu."

The "statement" is the five articles telling in detail his side of the story during the last days of his regime in Havana. His First Article In the first article he wrote of leaving the presidential palace last August 12 after withdrawing from the Presidency.

"I did not know that a few hours later I was to leave Cuba in haste," he said. (Continued on Page Three)

Exiled Tibetan Pontiff On a Visit to Shanghai

Shanghai, May 22.—(AP)—Amidst Asiatic splendor seldom seen outside Asia's most remote citadel, Tibet, the Panchen Lama, exiled living Buddha of that mysterious land, arrived today for a visit in Shanghai—one of the world's most modern cities.

This Pontiff of a nation still living within the Middle Ages and unacquainted with so-called modern civilization, for the last ten years has not been permitted to return to his native land.

His exile was enforced by the late Dalai Lama, Tibetan secular chief, who accused the Panchen Lama of plotting to overthrow the former's political grip upon the superstitious Tibetans.

Asks for 25-75 Ratio With Gold in Country's Money Base—Makes Known He Has Already Started Negotiations for International Agreement on Bimetallic Money—Seeks Power to Nationalize Existing Silver Stocks and Proposed Profit Tax.

Washington, May 22.—(AP)—President Roosevelt recommended to Congress today a mandatory legislation to make silver one-fourth of the metallic base of the United States currency.

His message carrying out the understanding with Congressional silver advocates, stipulated that payments on silver purchases to build up the necessary reserve be limited to 50 cents an ounce so far as domestic metal is concerned.

Pointing to a world-wide bimetallic agreement as the ultimate solution of the silver problem, Mr. Roosevelt revealed to Congress that he has already begun negotiations with neighboring countries "in regard to the use of both silver and gold, preferably on a co-ordinated basis, as a standard of monetary value."

The Presidential message also asked authority to take over "present surpluses of silver in this country not required for industrial uses or payment of just compensation, and to regulate imports, exports and other dealings in monetary silver."

50 Per Cent Tax Mr. Roosevelt proposed a tax of "at least 50 per cent on profits accruing from dealing in silver."

The legislation to carry out the Presidential proposal was ready for introduction and swift passage was believed in prospect as a result of the understanding among the western silver advocates.

Text of Message The President's text follows: To the Congress of the United States:

On January 11, 1934, I recommended to the Congress legislation which was promptly enacted under the title, "The Gold Reserve Act of 1934." This act vested in the United States government the custody and control of our stocks of gold as a reserve for our paper currency, and as a medium of settling international balances. It set up a stabilization fund for the control of foreign exchange in the interests of our people, and certain amendments were added to facilitate the acquisition of silver.

As stated in my message to the Congress, this legislation was recommended as a step in improving our financial and monetary system. Its enactment has laid a foundation on which we are organizing a currency system that will be both sound and adequate. It is a long step forward, but only a step.

As a part of the larger objective, some things have been clear. One is that we should move forward as rapidly as conditions permit in broadening the metallic base of our monetary system and in stabilizing the purchasing and debt paying power of our money on a more equitable level. Another is that we should not neglect the increased use of silver in improving our monetary system. Since 1933 that has been obvious.

Some measures for making a greater use of silver in the public interest are appropriate for independent action by us. On others, international co-operation should be sought.

Of the former class is that of increasing the proportion of silver in the abundant metallic reserves held by our paper currency. This policy was initiated by the proclamation of December 21, 1933, bringing our current domestic production of silver into the Treasury, as well as placing this nation among the first to carry out the agreement on silver which we sought and secured at the London conference. We have since acquired other silver in the interest of stabilization of foreign exchange and the development of a broad metallic base for our currency. We seek to remedy a maladjustment of our currency.

In further aid of this policy, I am recommending to the Congress the following:

One of the greatest dogs in the Little kennels is "Silk City Bob Jr.," four months old, who is expected to uphold the reputation of the Silk City strain.

NEW YORK NEWSPAPER LOCATES GEN. MACHADO

(Continued from Page One) he said, "nor did I imagine the bloody wave of destructive violence and anarchy that was about to flood the cities and the countryside."

He charged that the slogan that served "to destroy me was of the purest anarchy—namely to destroy everything."

"In point of truth," he wrote, "during the last years of my service, I was the victim, and the young men believed me a beast of prey. I seemed a beast of prey because, in the face of the possible anarchy, I did not permit anarchy to fall upon the country for which my fathers before me and I as a youth fought to gain independence."

"Strictly, if I had been the monster they delight in describing, I would have left my office without danger to myself and quit my land long before I did."

FINANCIERS STUDY FALL OF THE MARK

(Continued from Page One) tant foreign exchange circles in Wall street. A few months ago, when the Bank of France was losing gold and the French fiscal snarl seemed the most inextricable, the uncertain position of the gold bloc countries seemed to militate against any early general stabilization of currencies.

It is to Germany, still pegging her currency to gold on the basis of the stabilization of 1923, that international banking quarters now look for the next important move in world monetary affairs.

The Reichsbank's reserves of gold and foreign exchange have fallen almost to the vanishing point, to less than five percent of currency circulation, and in her export trade, the Reich is already enjoying the advantages of currency depreciation.

Exchange authorities here believe that the mark is being officially pegged at its gold parity only because of the intense fear of currency inflation felt by the German people, who recall all too vividly the post-war experiences, when the mark devalued in value until it was virtually worthless, until it took billions of marks to buy a loaf of bread.

Effects on Gold Block. The question is, what would the effect be upon the gold bloc? Both Holland and Sweden, economically are closely allied with Germany. If German devaluation should cause either of those important members of the gold bloc to devalue, exchange authorities here think it might well bring general revaluation of the continental gold currencies.

The factor which might soften the blow to the gold bloc of German devaluation is the fact that so far as her export trade is concerned, she already has a de facto devaluation for some time through the system of "blocked" marks. It is also possible, according to informed Wall Street opinion, that the German situation may not be quite as bad as it is pictured. There may be some fairly important reserves of gold and foreign currencies held which do not appear in the Reichsbank statements.

SOFT GROUND HINDERS TAKEOFF OF FLIERS

Pond and Sabelli Hope to Leave Ireland for Rome This Afternoon.

Lahinch, Irish Free State, May 22.—(AP)—Capt. George Pond and Lieut. Cesare Sabelli, transatlantic fliers, attempted to take off this afternoon on the first leg of a flight to Rome but their efforts were frustrated by the soft ground.

The wheels of their plane sank in the mud and the fliers had to jump from the machine to help extricate it.

Another attempt was planned for later in the afternoon. The men, who were on the farm where the airman landed when they arrived from America was removed to permit of a longer runway. This was the third one to be leveled.

Farmers of the vicinity volunteered to help prepare the field.

Pond and Sabelli also took a hand with pick and spade to accelerate the operation.

UNITED STATES ARMY OFFICER IS SPEAKER

Major Hayes Kroner Talks On China Before St. Mary's Church Societies.

Last evening eighty members of the Girls' Friendly Society and the Young People's Fellowship of St. Mary's church enjoyed the rare privilege of hearing as their guest speaker, Major Hayes Kroner of the United States Army. Major Kroner is connected with the American Embassy at China, has traveled extensively in foreign countries and is a most interesting and thoroughly entertaining speaker.

At 8:30 a delicious supper was served under the direction of Mrs. Alice Briggs, Margaret Stratton and a committee made up of the younger members of the society. The menu consisted of a variety of salads, baked beans, ham, rolls, relishes, cakes and coffee. Table decorations were cut flowers. Seated at the guest table were the Rev. and Mrs. J. S. Neill, Colonel and Mrs. William C. Cheney and Major and Mrs. Hayes Kroner. Rev. Neill introduced Miss Edith Traubner, members' chairman, who welcomed the guests and also the Young People's Fellowship. William Davis responded for the latter. Rev. Neill then introduced Colonel Cheney who spoke very highly of the work done by the young people for the church.

Major Kroner, was then introduced by Rev. Neill. His talk dealt chiefly with the characteristic traits of the Chinese people, and with conditions there at the present time. His address was unusually interesting and was well applauded by those present. At the close of his talk Major Kroner was called upon to answer several questions relative to China in general, which were ably answered. He also spoke briefly in the Chinese dialect, later translating it into English. At the close of the program a short worship service was led by the rector, Mrs. Caroline Britton assisted at the piano.

Plans have been completed for the Mother and Daughter banquet to be held Monday evening, May 28. Supper will be served at 6:30. A varied program will follow which includes a short play written especially for the affair by Evaline Pentland entitled "What is a Girl Worth?" There will also be vocal solo, selected readings by several members of the G. F. S. Candidates and a short ceremonial service by younger members of the society. Miss Evelyn Carlson would like a final report on the number of tickets sold. Tickets may be obtained from the members. The next regular meeting will take place Monday evening, June 4.

Blubber now is believed to be the equipment that enables whales to withstand the pressure of great sea depths.

OLD STEAMSHIP IS REMEMBERED

Flags Unfurled on Government Buildings Today in Honor of "Savannah."

Washington, May 22.—(AP)—Flags fluttered today for the old steamship Savannah—the first of her kind to cross the Atlantic—whose smoke caused a false fire alarm when she steamed into Liverpool, in 1819.

This was "Maritime Day," proclaimed by a seafaring President to celebrate the sailing 115 years ago from Savannah, Ga., of the Savannah.

On United States embassies and consular buildings, in foreign lands as well as on public buildings here, President Roosevelt ordered the unfurling of the flags.

From Savannah to Liverpool in 22 days was the Savannah's record—8 days under sail, the rest under steam.

And when she reached the other side, so the historians say, she was "signaled to Liverpool as a vessel on fire, and a cutter was sent from Cork to her relief."

One often-quoted account says great was the surprise and admiration when she entered the harbor of Liverpool under bare poles, belching forth fire and smoke, yet uninjured.

But the Savannah did not pay. She was sold "to New York parties" who took out her steam engine and made a packet of her. And she "foundered off Long Island in a heavy storm" a few years later.

The raid conducted by the investigation found that most of the candy was sold from pushcarts in crowded sections of the larger cities. The peddlers ordered by telephone, and received their supplies in alleys and other secluded spots.

Candy Confiscated. One 6,500 pound lot was confiscated in New York; in Baltimore a 6,000-pound seizure was made, and more was taken in Paterson, N. J., and Chicago, the agents said.

Dr. Max Herson, director of the Food and Drug Bureau of the New York City Health Department, said that more than 100 New York storekeepers and peddlers have been arrested and fined for selling the candy.

The Federal agents found and seized a deserted manufactory of the candies in Paterson. Molds and labels were found, but the staff of the plant had fled before the agents arrived.

ROOSEVELT DOMINATES U. S. SAYS TEXAS EDITOR

"Hugh S. Johnson is a bogey-man who overdid it. He takes orders from the President. The thunder is his own, the lightning is Roosevelt's."

"Rex Tugwell is a Socialist, a brilliant conversationalist, a dull thinker. He has become publicity go-get of the administration, and likes it. Salvoes hurled at him are intended for the President. He is headed out."

Howe said he found the "brain-trust" not very brainy and Roosevelt's Cabinet "mediocre."

Cordell Hull, Henry Wallace and Harold Ickes stand out in the Cabinet, he said. "They have a deeper and more profound understanding of the economic status of this country than any three men in the inner circle."

"Never in the history of the United States, not excepting the administrations of George Washington and Woodrow Wilson, has one individual so completely dominated this country as does Roosevelt."

Howe continued. He stands next to Mussolini and Lenin, and above Salin and Hitler in having complete mastery of a nation.

"He seeks to travel not to the left, nor to the right, but straight to the hearts of the people. If he had been the war President, he likely would have out-Wilsoned Wilson."

"Roosevelt's outstanding bid for lasting greatness is his willingness to change his mind. He has absorbed much and learned much in the year he has been President. But he must hear the roars of an ungrateful and un-understanding mob, and stand hitched, to prove that he has the iron in his soul that most of the American people think he has."

SAYS GOVERNMENT HITS RAILROADS

Head of New Haven Road Tells What Ails the Roads of the Nation.

New York, May 22.—(AP)—The most acute ailment of the Nation's railroads, J. J. Pelley, president of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad, declared today, lay in "subsidized transportation."

Addressing the annual meeting of the Freight Claim Division of the American Railway Association, Pelley said: "There are four things that matter with the railroads today."

He listed them as follows: "The depression, which is common to everyone and all industry. 'What I call 'subsidized transportation'—the most important ailment of all.

"A little too much regulation, though I feel that whatever regulation has been done for the railroads has been for their own good.

"And, fourth, the complete absence of any regulation of our competitors."

Highways Subsidized. Pelley asserted that airlines, waterways and highways were "highly subsidized" by city, state and Federal government.

"The Federal government, he said, is spending $12,000,000 a year more than it has to, in order to carry air mail."

For every person who flew in a commercial plane last year, Pelley continued, the taxpayer paid $100 through either city, state or Federal levies, for the maintenance of airports, beacon systems and "other phases."

"No question except the NRA is more discussed today than that of the railroads," Pelley said. "Thirty-two million people in the United States have a stake in the railroads of the country, for they have placed an investment of $26,000,000,000 in our hands."

Pelley declared that there are "some nineteen different plans now in the country designed to help the railroads." Most of them, he added,

"PENALTY BOX"

What program of street and highway reform shall emanate from today's safety conference called by Motor Vehicles Commissioner Connor is no easier to forecast than the degree of earnestness with which that program, whatever it may be, shall be executed.

of the spirit of aggression in this country any more. But when they set about committing the youth of the nation to a pledge never to take up arms even in the event of invasion they are beating a tub as empty as it is creditable.

What way was there other than war for the England of the Ninth century, when for some reason that the historians have never been able to ascertain the Danish marauders began to arrive, without quarrel or even previous acquaintance, and to kill, rape and destroy out of sheer wantonness?

That is only one of a hundred conspicuous examples of there being no other way out but war. And there is absolutely nothing about our modern world civilization to warrant the belief that conditions are essentially different from those of the Ninth century.

We are more or less pacific ourselves. It is our firm conviction that if there is one thing above all others that should be discouraged in this country it is militarism, the glorification of war.

SEA DISTANCE SIGNALS. Jumping at conclusions is risky. The other day, commenting on the Nantucket lighthouse disaster, this newspaper remarked that the scientists were now confronted by the task of building into the radio direction beam some arrangement for informing oncoming ships of their distance from the beacon or source of the beam.

PACIFISM CRAZE. There seems to us to be a marked anomaly between the extreme pacifists' remedy for war and the militant prohibitionists' remedy for the liquor habit.

SILLY STUFF. Either we have some very funny economic experts, these days, or some of our economic experts who are not necessarily completely ridiculous in their pretensions to expert standing are saying some very funny things, than which they must know much better.

income tax increases, he put over this one: Suppose we tax a person having a $5,000 income $2,000 a year. Of course a man can keep a family on the three thousand dollars a year that would be left to him; but of course he cannot buy and maintain an automobile.

Washington, May 22.—The most important, least formal bloc in the Senate is one you never hear about. It calls itself "The Common People."

A BOOK A DAY

BY BRUCE CATTON. Selma Tells How Munitions Firms Work For War.

A few years ago, when the indefatigable William B. Shearer sounded off about his exploits at the Geneva naval conference, the people of America got a look at something horrible—the spectacle of armament makers thwarting efforts for world peace, for the sake of dividends.

In the World War, for instance, English mines sank English warships in the Dardanelles. English hand grenades that killed German soldiers were equipped with German-patented fuses—and after the war a German firm collected millions in royalties on them.

German firms sold steel to the French, in wartime, and shells to kill German soldiers were made of it; the Germans built Zeppelins of aluminum and silk bought from France, in war-time, and killed Englishmen with them.

Romances are not made to order. I still believe in them, however. One may overtake me at any time.

It's the girl who bosses love-making nowadays, not the man. —Miss Jane Roth of Baltimore, 18-year-old love story prodigy.

Capitalism is not a principle of our form of government; it is an accident. —Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia University.

It is my belief that science will never find a way to revive a dead mind. —Dr. Charles Mayo.

IN NEW YORK

By PAUL HARRISON. New York, May 22.—The passing show: One of the most absorbing items of the theatrical season is that there will be produced a play entitled "Forty-nine Dogs in the Meathouse."

Rebecca Rich — the same Irene Rich who went into the movies fifteen years ago — has become a producer, bought a play, and plans a descent upon Broadway. . . . And Elsie Ferguson is in town looking for a comeback vehicle.

Hits That Hit Back. Producers are not such all-wise people as we're inclined to think. Five of them refused to put money into "Dodsworth" which is one of the season's biggest hits.

INEXPENSIVE MENU FOR 5 WORKED OUT

Nutrition Professor Develops "Wholesome and Adequate" Food Schedule.

New York, May 22.—A menu for a family of five costing $9.46 a week and two daily menus for individuals costing less than fifty cents each were suggested yesterday at Teachers College, Columbia University.

The family food schedule, developed by Dr. Grace MacLeod, Professor of Nutrition, with the cooperation of students, provides 13,800 calories a day for a family consisting of mother, father, and three children, aged 15, 9 and 6 years. Twenty-seven cents a day is allowed for food for each member of the family.

Meals for a Day. A typical day's menu follows: BREAKFAST: Cereal with bananas, milk and sugar.

Roast and butter. Glass of milk for each child. Coffee for adults with top milk and sugar.

LUNCHEON. Macaroni and cheese. Stewed tomatoes. Bread and butter. Glass of milk for children and adults.

DINNER. Liver loaf. Potatoes, baker or creamed. Cabbage and carrot salad, dressing of top milk, sugar, vinegar.

Gingerbread with whipped evaporated milk. Glass of milk for each child. Coffee for adults, using top milk and sugar.

"We know that this menu would satisfy the food requirements of an average family of five," Dr. MacLeod said. "It is wholesome and adequate. In computing the cost I deliberately chose foods that were of average cost rather than shopping for the lowest prices we could find. With a little care, the cost per day could be reduced."

Children should have at least a quart of milk a day and adults not less than a pint, Dr. MacLeod said. The cereals for a day should be about half whole grain and half refined.

Food purchased to make up the day's menus includes:

- 7 oz. whole wheat cereal. 8 oz. white bread. 19 oz. whole wheat bread. 6 oz. white flour. 8 oz. macaroni. 2 qts. whole milk. 4 2-3 cups evaporated milk. 2 lbs. potatoes. 2 oz. onions. 1 can tomatoes. 5 1/2 oz. cabbage. 2 1/2 oz. carrots. 5 medium sized bananas. 1/4 lb. butter. 4 tablespoons cod liver oil. 2 1/2 tablespoons lard. 1/2 cup molasses. 12 oz. sugar. 12 oz. beef liver. 2 eggs. 2 oz. cheese. 5 tablespoons coffee.

Menus for Individuals. Of the two individual menus one is for men at 49 cents a day and the other for women at 44 cents a day.

The 49-cent menu for a man requiring 8,000 calories per day, includes:

- BREAKFAST (In room): One pint milk. One-fourth loaf whole wheat bread. Two bananas. LUNCH (In cafeteria): Glass of milk. Whole wheat raisin bread and butter. Macaroni and cheese. Buttered carrots and peas. SUPPER (In room): One pint milk. One-fourth pound graham crackers. One package raisins. One orange. The 44-cent menu for a woman requiring 2,400 calories was made up of:

BREAKFAST (In room): One pint milk. One shredded wheat biscuit. On. banana. One teaspoon sugar. One teaspoon cod liver oil.

LUNCH (In cafeteria): Vegetable chowder. Whole wheat raisin bread and butter. Stuffed egg and watercress salad. Glass of milk. SUPPER (In room): One pint milk flavored with chocolate. Syrup. One-fourth loaf whole wheat bread. One orange.

These menus furnish the people for whom they were planned all the dietary essentials for a day at low cost, said Dr. MacLeod. "They are recommended for anybody who must live on a small income, but who, inspite of having only a small amount of money to spend on food, still wishes to be adequately nourished."

ROCKVILLE

FIVE ROCKVILLE LOTS SOLD FOR UNPAID TAXES

Properties Owned by Vermont Man Knocked Down for $100 at Auction.

The first property to be sold in Rockville for taxes was auctioned off Monday afternoon at the town clerk's office by Tax Collector William A. Kuhnly.

The five lots owned by Hiram F. Weatherhead of Brattleboro, Vermont, and located on the west side of Aborn street between Chamberlain street and Columbus avenue, were sold to the Singing and Declamation Club for the sum of $100.

They were sold in satisfaction of taxes amounting to $57.12 plus interest and tax liens. Taxes were due for 1919, 1920, 1921, 1922, 1923, 1924, 1925, 1926, 1927, 1928, 1929, 1930, 1931, 1932.

The lots were designated as Lots No. 13-5 on the "J. F. Chamberlain addition to Rockville in 1888," and also lots "26 and 28" of the same addition.

Ernest Bertache made the bid for the lots offering $50 which would not be accepted by George E. Dunn, the auctioneer. Bernard Strzyb was the only other person bidding.

The second property to be sold was that known as "Lot 50" of the same tract and owned by Myron R. Fluke of Montpelier, Vermont. Taxes were due for 1929, 1931, 1932 and totaled $7.32. The bid of $50 was asked. The sale was finally postponed until July 28 at 8 p. m., due to the fact that two-thirds of this tract lies within the town of Ellington and only one-third in Rockville.

More Class Honors. The second group of graduation honors of the Class of 1934 of the Rockville High school was announced Monday morning by Principal Philip M. Howe.

The honor of "class speaker" went to Arthur Kairott of Broad Brook. He was selected by members of the senior class.

The honor of "faculty speaker" went to Rowell Crane, of South Windsor, who was selected by the members of the faculty.

The valedictorian honors went to Hannah Cohen of Vernon, who attained an average standing in scholarship of 94.63 per cent in 3 1/2 years.

The salutatorian honors went to Fannie Winokur of Vernon whose average standing was 93.97 per cent. Both of the above girls are graduating from the commercial course.

The annual graduation exercises will be held Thursday evening, June 21. The graduation speaker will be announced by Superintendent of Schools Herbert O. Clough this week.

Placed on Probation. John Kalina was before Judge John E. Flisk in the Rockville City Court Monday morning charged with the non-support of his small child.

Kalina was before the court on January 13 last and ordered to pay $3 per week for three months for the support of his child, although he was not ordered to support his wife with whom he does not live. He carried out the order to pay $3 weekly for six months together with costs of $8.98, and was given three weeks to pay costs.

Severe Thunder Storms. Rockville was visited by several severe thunder and lightning storms Monday afternoon and evening. No serious damage was reported although the storm cleared the streets of patrons, providing a serious handicap to the local storekeepers.

The first storm appeared shortly after 2 o'clock in the afternoon and the second after 7 o'clock in the evening.

Adjoining towns reported much hail accompanying the heavy down-pour of rain.

It was necessary to abandon the outside work on the roads because of the storms, particularly at the "Goat Farm" where a new state road is being constructed.

Demonstrate School Work. Plans are nearing completion for a demonstration of the work in the public schools of the town of Vermont and the City of Rockville which will be held on Thursday and Friday.

The East school will have an exhibit Thursday afternoon from 1:15 to 6 p. m., and Friday afternoon from 1:15 to 9 p. m.

There will be an old fashioned show and entertainment Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock and again Friday evening at 8 p. m.

The Maple street school will hold an exhibit Thursday afternoon from 1:30 to 5 p. m., and from 7 to 9 p. m., and Friday from 1:30 to 5 p. m. There will be an entertainment Thursday evening.

The Talcottville school will hold its exhibit Friday at 2:30 p. m., and the Northeast school Wednesday evening at 7 p. m. No admission charge will be asked at any school.

Mrs. Elizabeth Fiedler, 66, of 121 East Main street, wife of Richard Dedler, died Sunday at her home. Death was caused by complications following a long illness.

NEW YORK UNIVERSITY TO GRADUATE BOGGINI

Son of Spencer Street Couple Active in Athletic and Social Activities.

Nino Boggini, son of Louis and Julia Boggini of 53 Spencer street will be graduated from New York University in June with B.C.S. degree in accounting, according to a letter received from the College.

Mr. Boggini has led an interesting life at the metropolitan university. In his freshman year he played baseball with the all-university freshman nine. He drew the attention of the coach to himself by smashing two home runs on successive days.

His ability at clouting the ball was further enhanced when he ended the City College game by driving a long homer over the right field fence in the eleventh inning.

Because of his apparent ability, Mr. Boggini was promised a regular berth with the varsity in his sophomore year. When the baseball season opened at the promised time, Nino was sent in with the regulars.

Unfortunately, he contracted an acute attack of rheumatic fever before the regular season started. He was sent to the French Hospital by N. Y. U. where he spent several months.

Upon recovering, he was told not to play baseball in cold weather again. This command kept him from the diamond for the remainder of his college days.

In addition to his field athletic activities he has been a councillor at the Community Center for four years, a physical director at the N. Y. U. Varsity House for a year and he has also helped in applying theories in social work among the boys of the lower west side in New York city.

Boggini was a student at the local public schools and was graduated from Manchester High school in 1928. He intends to make his permanent residence here following the termination of graduation exercises at N. Y. U. He is twenty-three years old.

Among those present were Mrs. Baron's sister and several of her nieces who had made a special trip from New York city. In all fifteen guests came from New York to attend the party. The guests brought a wonderful wedding cake, elaborately decorated and other appetizing and delicious refreshments, which were served. Dancing and merriment were kept up all night. Gifts for Mr. and Mrs. Baron included a silver banded tea set, a set of cut silver, a cut glass water pitcher, and many other articles. A mock wedding, with Stephen Mosny as bride, and Paul Potocek as groom, made fun for the company.

"Building a Canal. or Buying a Car. — good Engineering Counts"

A CERTIFIED INTERVIEW WITH CONSTRUCTION ENGINEER FRANK VIOLETTE, PANAMA CANAL ZONE

"We punish cars down here...but let me tell you how my Plymouth takes it." FRANK VIOLETTE is a modest man. He talks very little about his supervising millions of dollars' worth of Panama's construction. But ask him about cars... "In the Canal Zone, our everyday driving soon proves to us how a car takes punishment. I've found that of all the low-priced cars, Plymouth stands up the best." And Mr. Violette isn't surprised that Plymouth proved to be the strongest. As an engineer, he knows from long experience that steel reinforced with steel is the safest form of construction you can have. But Plymouth engineers didn't stop with this one safety feature. They added Hydraulic Brakes—the safest brakes made. Then, they built in extra comfort, too...with patented Floating Power engine mountings and Individual Wheel Springing. Any Dodge, De Soto or Chrysler dealer will demonstrate Plymouth.

1 "Ten years in Panama taught me to take precautions many people overlook. I wanted a tough car."

2 "We depend on steel for safety in the Canal and in our buildings. We've found it's positive proof against everything from termites to earthquakes. So I know a Safety-Steel Body would be strongest."

3 "Some of our roads weren't built for comfort. But my Plymouth is. Its Individual Wheel Springing levels off the bumps. And Hydraulic Brakes keep me out of many unexpected mud holes."

4 Mr. Violette and Mr. Martins, President of his construction company, each with his De Luxe Plymouth. Plymouth prices begin at $536 at the factory. Time payments arranged to fit your budget. Ask for the Official Chrysler Motors Commercial Credit Plan.

FARMERS RECEIVE $75,000 IN LOANS

Federal Land Bank of Springfield Gives Financial Aid to 154 Persons.

During the past year more than $75,000 in farm mortgage loans were granted to farmers in this locality through cooperation of the Rockville National Farm Loan Association and the Federal Land Bank of Springfield, Mass. The Rockville association, an organization with a membership of 154 farmers to obtain financing through the Federal Land Bank, covers Andover, Bolton, Columbia, Coventry, Ellington, Vernon, Ashford, Hebron, Willington, Somers, Stafford, Union and Tolland counties.

Exactly $78,000 was disbursed in the past 12 months to 32 farmers. Of this amount $27,300 was on Federal Land Bank first-mortgage loans and $51,000 distributed among 29 of the farmers assisted came from special funds for Land Bank Commissioner's loans. In making the latter group of loans the association merely assisted farmers to file applications, but had no part in responsibility for the loans themselves.

"Practically every loan was made expressly to refinance an old mortgage or previously existing debts," says Mrs. Eldred Doyle of Tolland, secretary-treasurer of the association. "In the past year banks have not had the funds or have not been willing to finance farmers. Many banks that held farm mortgages have been glad to have them taken over by the Land Bank. The farmers who received these loans were refinanced on a sound basis and their debts were consolidated with one creditor, the Land Bank. Payments will be spread out over a long period and interest payments are low."

The Rockville association was organized August 12, 1917. Since that date it has made 194 loans and now has 154 active members. The association is a permanent unit of the Farm Credit Administration of this locality to supplement the activities of commercial banks and lending agencies and to provide farmers with funds for investment in land, buildings and improvements.

Officers are Robert E. Doyle, President; Charles E. Lanz, vice-president; Frederick Ecker, Myron Avery, John Kingsbury and Robert Aborn, directors.

Loans now made are written with interest at 5 percent but the provision for reduction to 4 1/2 percent until July 1936. Instead of coming due in a sum, these loans are repaid during a long period of years and thus amortize themselves.

In New England, New York and New Jersey—the area served by the Springfield bank—there are 147 local associations. The association here has 154 members, and $94,519,089 in loans have been made; $1,419,089 is outstanding now, the balance having been repaid. During the first 3 months of 1934, a total of $294 mortgage loans were made, for $11,963,700.

20th CENTURY Communication and how it came about, as related by GEORGE ARLISS from data discovered during the filming of 'THE HOUSE OF ROTHSCHILD'

American Indians Used Fast Signals On Hills

(By GEORGE ARLISS) Chapter V While methods of rapid communication were taking queer turns in the progress of the Old World, the aborigines of the North American continent, too, struggled with this advantage-offering problem. They left in many places, odd records of their signalling attainments.

On a chain of lofty hills between Chillicothe and Columbus, Ohio, on the eastern border of the Scioto Valley, not far apart, may be counted twenty signal mounds, obviously a "trunk" message hub for the Indian. Similar mounds can be found at intervals along the Wabash and Illinois Rivers, as well as along the Miami, Ohio and Mississippi basins. Roaming the country, the Indians found these mound centers helpful to their favored signal, smoke columns.

New York, May 22—All silk mills operating under the silk textile industry's code were advised yesterday by the Code Authority that more detailed information was now required in reference to machinery, wages and hours of labor. New questionnaires have been mailed to all mills, according to Peter Van Horn, chairman of the Code Authority. They now call for the following additional information:

1. Enlarged number of labor occupational groups in the industry. 2. More detailed information on direct and indirect labor. 3. "Actual hourly rate of wages paid during this four-week period per person," subdivided into "maximum," "minimum" and "average" instead of "minimum hourly rate of wages a person a week," as required previously.

4. Information on machine load: (a) Number of preparatory machines tended by one person subdivided into "maximum," "minimum" and "average." (b) Number of looms tended by one weaver, whether manual or other than jacquard; also whether automatic or non-automatic for broad goods mills. Special care was asked of all mills in filling out the questions on machine load and individual earnings based on the number of machines tended by one person. The questionnaires asked for data for the four-week period ended May 19.

DONNA of the BIG TOP by BEULAH POYNTER

BEGIN HERE TODAY DONNA GABRIEL AND MADE-LINE SIDDA... "Send for Minnie and don't worry, please." Those were hectic days that followed...

CHAPTER XXIII Donna sprang to her feet, her face livid with anger. "You honest old woman!" she cried. "You would choose a time like this to say such a thing! And you know it's not true! I admit that I was in your room because I wanted to find the handbill because I expected you to use it to back up your damnable gossip. Well, you can go ahead! Tell my husband about the bill. Tell him anything you want to and see how much good it does you. Do you think Bill will believe your stories? He knows my partner was married a short time before I was and he hasn't your evil, suspicious mind! He'll know by the date that the handbill couldn't possibly have anything to do with me. Why, I wasn't even with the circus then!"

There is a date! Donna insisted. "Handbills always have a date. Leave me alone now and go away. You can do whatever you like! All it will get you is to be thrown out of this house, but I'll be a g g g e! Bill will believe my word against yours!"

Without a retort the housekeeper opened the door and left the room. Donna stood holding the scraps of paper in her trembling hands and listening to the woman's footsteps down the hall. She triumphed, but she knew that that moment on Mrs. Planter would be her active enemy.

What's this about Mrs. Planter leaving? he demanded. "Good Lord, Honey, we can't let her go now! With Grandp needing constant care, the dairy to look after and the means to cook for her to get here. Why didn't you wait until things were running a little smoother before you let Mrs. Planter go? I think you're making a mistake, Donna. At a time like this—" "He'll be all right," Donna inter-

YOUR CHILDREN By Olive Roberts Barton

Suppose you were given a car and the donor said, "You may only drive it round the block. If you go beyond that I shall have to take the car away." What would happen? You would think he was joking, or wasn't quite in earnest at any rate. After a week of driving around the block it would be entirely natural to try just one more block. Eventually more territory would be tried out, and then the country.

Reason for Order One day we met our friend and he tries to protest. He tells us just why he gave such odd orders. But his reason doesn't seem good enough, and we cannot take him seriously. Why give us the car at all unless our own common sense could be trusted? He explains, let us say, that we don't know all the things that he does about the car, or about the neighborhood or about the country. So then we just know he is an old granny with queer obsessions and are sure our ideas are as good as his. So we drive this fictitious car until the bolts fall—never quite enjoying it.

When his parents came out later and he saw sand all over the place and the pile most wonderfully diminished. From that time on there was trouble. The effort to make Johnny leave the sand on the sandpile continued. They just can't mean it, thought young Johnny. "They gave me the wheelbarrow and put it in the sand." He had seen workmen wheeling dirt in barrows from one place to another again. His own idea of fitness were stronger than his obedience or his inhibitions.

Working of the Mind After a while they gave up. "He is pretty little and he doesn't understand," they smiled. "We can get more sand anyway and it's good for the ground." But Johnny always felt uneasy about his wheelbarrow. He never thing guilty about the whole thing. If he had been older and a philosopher, he would have said, "Why did they give it to me at all?"

The arrival of the letter made Donna sit down immediately to write a long reply. In it she told Madeline all the facts about the girl's illness. From that hour she waited for the farm. But she waited in vain. The blow that would wreck her marriage. Donna did not know whether it would come in the form of a letter addressed to Grandfather Siddal or whether Madeline herself would arrive at the farm. But about her inheritance without even knowing that Amos Siddal was ill, Donna was sure that Madeline would take drastic measures to make certain she did not lose what-over fortune Amos Siddal should leave. It made little difference how Madeline went about it. Any revelation, Donna felt, would crush her own happiness forever.

It's a cheery "good morning" that the Chic twins greet you with in the sprightly house frock they made themselves. Percale or linen with lawn for contrast are suggested as materials. Designed for sizes 14 to 20 and 32 to 42, size 18 requires 2-7/8 yards of 35 inch fabric plus 1-1/2 yards contrast.

The vegetable cathartics include all the common preparations which most people use and have used for many years, including cascara, senna, castor oil, aloes, rhubarb, jalap, and many others. These cathartics act by irritating the bowels.

GLORIFYING YOURSELF By Alicia Hart

The greatest beauties of all time have been particularly noted for their calm, relaxed and almost placid expressions. A modern woman will do well to realize that rested and restful-looking beauty is preferable to the variety that is tired, worn and slightly haggard. In addition to enough sleep, the proper amount of sleep she can expect to be fresh and beautiful the following day. Remember that lack of sleep causes lines around the mouth and eyes.

HOSPITAL DRIVE RAISES $10,277

Executive Committee Hopes $12,000 Will Be Obtained After Final Returns. The Memorial Hospital campaign for $15,600 for maintenance of the institution during the coming year came to its official close last night when the final report meeting of the 183 volunteer workers at the Masonic Temple brought out that a total of $10,277.80 had been raised, less than one-third short of the goal.

Officials of the campaign expressed much satisfaction with the results of the house-to-house canvases which has been conducted during the past week, pointing out that the results obtained were overwhelmingly successful in view of existing conditions. Charles W. Holman, president of the Memorial Hospital, Inc., presided at the meeting in the absence of General Chairman William B. Halsted. Mr. Holman and F. A. Verplanck, secretary of the hospital Board of Trustees, thanked the workers for their splendid efforts and this morning E. J. McCabe, executive vice president of the Chamber of Commerce and secretary of the drive executive committee, said that the campaign organization was one of the best which he has been affiliated.

ed in accordance with law, without fear or favor." The loss of 120 lives on Connecticut roads in the first quarter of this year "stands out as a blot on the fair name of Connecticut," he said, declaring that if there were memorials along the highways marking where men, women and children have been run down and "scalped" by automobiles—as there are monuments w.l.e.s Indians fell upon early settlers—"they would line the highways with monuments as thick as in cemeteries." Education Needed The conference was told that education of young people in the responsibility of driving, with which they will soon come in contact, is vital, and likewise "the time for educating responsible traffic signals and devices should receive the closest attention" of officials. Commissioner Connor reviewed the safety work of his department and declared "the time for educating responsible traffic signals and devices should receive the closest attention" of officials. At the open forum New Milford representatives suggested compulsory insurance, club insurance, damaged car which was acquired by a new owner for $3, the owner obtaining a temporary drivers' license for $3 and now presenting a "license" to others on the road. Traffic Captain Brown of Hartford recommended that new drivers be given special training before driving through heavy traffic in business districts.

ARMY TO BUY PLANES

Washington, May 22.—(AP)—The army speeded its air program today by requesting bids for ninety attack planes. Under the original three year program only 30 attack planes were to be asked at this time. But Assistant Secretary of War Woodring requested the general staff to approve plans for sixty planes for the 1935 program. The 60 planes will be purchased with $7,500,000 in PWA funds and the others from Congressional appropriations for the air corps in 1935. Requests for bids for more than 200 bombers, pursuit, observation and cargo craft will be issued before July 1.

LIGHTNING KILLS COWS

Middletown, May 22.—(AP)—A lightning bolt, which last night struck a barn on the farm of Frank Cone in the Eastham district, tore through the roof and killed two of 18 cows as the animals were being milked. All of the cows were knocked to the floor by the bolt and when those still alive recovered from the shock, they refused to eat, Cone said. Cone's son, Shirwood 20, who was milking in the barn at the time was stunned but unharmed.

Yesterday's Stars Wrestling

Earl Averill, Indiana—Drove in five runs against Yankees with two homers and single.

My confidence is based solely on my knowledge that I have speed, bating ability, a winning opportunity, stamina and strength for such a hard fight as impends, to offset the abilities of McLarnin.

My managers, Art Winch and Sam Pain, and myself have worked out training plan for the final days before the bout. Although it may dry out as usual, just as if I were making 135 or under, the day before the fight I will vary my usual routine by partaking of a 10 o'clock breakfast—large one consisting of three lamb chops, potatoes, and other things.

DEMONSTRATIONS REVEAL SUPERIORITY OF MAZDAS

Wide Difference Between American Lamps and Foreign Importations. An interesting demonstration is being conducted at the Manchester Electric company this week that points out the wide difference between the American-made Mazda lamps and the cheap foreign importations now flooding the market. The demonstration is being conducted by a representative of the Electrical Testing Laboratories of New York whose business is to check and maintain the quality of lamps and appliances.

A portable lamp testing outfit has been installed to the left of the main entrance of the Electric Light company and lamps are tested throughout the day for the benefit of customers. The testing outfit includes a transformer, table and about eighteen different gauges, with which the lamps are put through no less than 117 tests, this number being considered enough to cover the commercial quality. In factories, the company's experts make as many as 800 checks, although 460 are generally considered enough to establish the quality of lamps.

The Electrical Testing Laboratories work under a certain set of specifications and when lamps are outside of this criterion they are rejected. The tests are most rigid and the lamps are subject to virtually every conceivable examination before being given the stamp of approval. The lamps are taken from the stock of the local company. The testing outfit includes base torsion test, an attempt to tear off the base, a polaroscope to detect the glass strain of the lamp, an optical thickness gauge, an overall length gauge, mica disc gauge, solder gauge, fragility gauge, base contact gauge and a seasoning test, on which the lamps are tested at 137 volts, about 17 above normal, to detect atmospheric defects. Lamps manufactured in Japan are used as a basis of comparison and it is pointed out that although these lamps can be purchased cheaply, the percentage of mechanical defects are so high that the cost is greater in the end.

COMMISSIONER RESIGNS

Norwich, May 22.—(AP)—Earl Mathewson has resigned as United States commissioner for New London county, a post he has held 17 years.

He said he relinquished the office because of his recent appointment as referee in bankruptcy for the county. Although each county originally had only one commissioner, two were named for New London county during the prohibition years because of the increase in liquor seizures and the growth of rum-running.

WALL ST. BRIEFS

New York, May 22.—Because of the possibility of dividend action Wall Street is interested in the directors' meeting of Louisville & Nashville railroad scheduled for June 21. The board voted a dividend of $1 a share in January and it was stated at that time that future distributions would be governed by earnings. For the first three months this year the road earned a balance of $1.67 a share.

Venezuela is increasing its petroleum production until now its monthly exports have reached about 10,000 barrels. Among ruined cities probably the oldest in the eastern hemisphere is Nineveh, the ancient capital of Assyria, which was known as far back as 2500 B. C. Kentucky ranks second in the use of lime on farm lands in the states. Lightning struck a barbed-wire fence near Pierre, S. D., and killed 21 head of cattle. There are no female lightning bugs.

LEADERS SET PACE

Ridgewood, N. J., May 22.—(AP)—Leader and runner-up respectively in the qualifying round, Charlotte Glutting of Rock Spring and Maurine Orcutt of Ridgewood paced the field of 32 into the first match play round of the women's Metropolitan Golf Association championship today. They are outstanding favorites to proceed to the finals. Miss Glutting posted a brilliant 79 yesterday to win the medal by five strokes from Miss Orcutt whose putting lapses spoiled an otherwise fine round. Two strokes behind with 56 was Mrs. F. J. Holleran of Greenwich and Mrs. George Viebrock in fourth place with 58.

RICHARD G. RICH WAS WAR VETERAN

Name Has Not Appeared, However, On Local Spanish-American Roster. Through an error that has been made for a period of over twelve years there has not appeared on the list of Manchester men who served in the Spanish-American war the name of Richard G. Rich.

Mr. Rich, at the time a student at the University of Vermont, then known as the Norwich Military Academy, was one of the first to be enlisted in the Vermont Volunteers. He, like many other Manchester men who volunteered for service, did not serve in Cuba, but was invalided home with typhoid fever. He later became a member of Ward Cheney Camp, United Spanish-American War Veterans and was selected from that organization in 1910 to be the marshal of the Memorial Day parade.

LATEST STOCKS

New York, May 22.—(AP)—Stocks shuffled about in a moderate irregular manner today pending publication of the President's message to Congress on silver legislation.

While speculative circles anxiously awaited details of the forthcoming note, the impression in Wall Street was that it would not be of a particularly inflationary nature and probably would do little more than reiterate the Chief Executive's ideas on the purchase of present holdings at about 50 cents an ounce, the placing of a substantial tax on profits and the international cooperation.

There was some selling of the metal shares. U. S. Smelting, American Smelting, Howe Sound and Cerro de Pasco were off 1 to around 2 points at one time. Silver futures were just about steady and the bar metal was unchanged at 45 1/8 cents an ounce.

Gains showed signs of improvement, with wheat getting up about 1 cent a bushel before relaxing under realizing. Cotton was a little better. Bonds were mildly mixed. The European gold currencies improved in terms of the dollar.

Trading was still dull. Some of the dairy issues advanced on reports of higher prices for produce. A firm tone was shown by American Telephone, Western Union, Dupont, Border, Corn Products, Curtiss-Wright, Armour, Santa Fe, General Foods and Postal. Preferred U. S. Steel just a point and General Motors, Chrysler, Case, Consolidated Gas, American Commercial Alcohol and Bethlehem Steel were down fractionally to around a point or more.

Declines in the production and sales of automobiles recently were attributed partly to cost difficulties as well as seasonal considerations. Labor difficulties were also said to have been a factor. Production of motor cars last week was estimated at 75,550, a drop of 3,755 from the preceding week, but an increase of some 35 percent over the corresponding period of last year.

Followers of the utilities were forecasting some recession in the present electric power output. Utility companies in the drought area were said to be experiencing increasing costs and lower hydro-electric production as a result of dry weather and low streams.

Coincident with the Administration's silver recommendations, it was announced that the tender yesterday of 1,225,000 ounces of silver for delivery against May contracts brought the total tenders against this month to 38,125,000 ounces, a new high record for the Commodity Exchange, Inc., and its predecessor market. The previous record was 35,500,000 ounces tendered against December contracts. Prior to last year the high mark was 12,100,000 ounces delivered in December, 1932.

ROCKVILLE GIRL WINS $5 AWARD

Largest Crowd of Season Attends St. Bridget's Card Party—Many Prizes. Last night's card party at St. Bridget's church hall was the last for the season and proved to be the largest of all held since the parties were started in March. The committee for the party last night was headed by Miss Madeline Smith and Attorney William J. Shea, assisted by 25 members who worked hard to make it a success.

The storm at 7:30 last night made it look as though the attendance would be light, but by eight o'clock the storm had cleared and their were visitors present from Hartford, Rockville, Wapping, Vernon and Manchester, providing sufficient players for 135 tables. The winners were Miss Ruth Wilding and Alexander Hanna in bridge, with Miss Anna Noonan and Fred Nelson taking first honors in setback. Miss Sue Batson and Michael Dillon were the winners in whist.

Mrs. Frederick McCarthy and Edward Colson were awarded second prizes in bridge; Mrs. F. E. Bray and John Tierney second prizes in setback and Mrs. Carrie E. Charlier and D. J. Moriarty the second awards in whist.

A special prize of $5, donated by Mrs. Charles Kenney, was won by Miss Hazel Pinney of Rockville. The woman's door prize, a permanent hair wave, donated by Miss A. McAdams, was won by Miss Mary L. Murphy and the electric clock, donated by William Fallon, by the men's door prize, was won by William Gorman.

A hook rug that had been donated was bid in at the auction by William Shea. William P. Gulah was the high bidder for table mat also offered. The card parties have been exceptionally successful and with the coming of colder weather in the fall will be resumed.

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

As Scouty turned the big wheel crank, he said, "Say, I will gladly thank somebody for a little help. This task is hard to do. I know the kitten's in the well, but it is going to be up here, on safe ground, ere I'm through." Then Windy yelled, "I'll lend a hand," and very promptly took his stand beside kind little Scouty. "Round and round the handle went. Together, we seem pretty strong," said Scouty, "and it won't be long until we've saved the frightened kitten. 'Twill be time well spent."

The lad who owned the kitten cried, "I see my kitten, now, inside the bucket that you're pulling up. He's wet, but quite all right. Then, as the whole bunch gathered round, the frightened pet jumped to the ground. The way its owner hugged it was a very touching sight. "Say! What's become of Johnny Green, the lad who acted very in the next story.)"

SENSE and NONSENSE

Disillusionment
When I was really very young I thought I'd like to be a cowboy with a great big hat and ride the plains so free. But since I've grown to man's estate I yearn no more to go And be a cowboy—for I've heard their songs on the radio.

Talk about heroes, this country is full of 'em. They're the fellows who are trying to feed and clothe their families on small incomes—incomes little better than nothing. And with living costs increasing daily. They don't wear any medals, and darn little of anything else.

The two Brushville gossips were exchanging the latest news:
Mrs. Tweed—And those Richleys, he says very bitter things about his two good-for-nothing sons, but his wife is always making excuses for them.
Mrs. Flaid (nodding)—Yes, she may make the excuses, but he has to make the allowances.

If everybody who has borrowed trouble were asked to pay it back immediately, I think what a calamity that would be!

Man—It was the ring that ruined me.
Friend—Boxing or betting ring?
Man—Wedding.

There is no such a thing on this earth as a perfect safety device. But we might add that suspenders are almost perfect.

Wife—I don't think that women have always been vain. You know, women were made before mirrors.
Her Husband—Yes, and they've been before them most of the time since.

"I can always tell when my husband has been cutting up," said a woman, "but I can't always tell what he has been doing till my neighbor across the street comes in and gives me the low down."

Father—Alicia, what was it kept that young Neckmore so late last night when we all wanted to sleep?
Daughter—He was trying to explain inflation to me.

Religion and life insurance are very much alike in one respect. Everybody wants a lot of each when they die, but can't be bothered keeping them up while living.

Editor—We'd better make a front page story of this wedding.
Society Reporter (surprised)—Why? They aren't very prominent people.

Editor—That may be, but this is the first account of a wedding you have turned in for four years that has not had as a last line, 'They will reside with the bride's parents.'

It's In the Air
And now the festive fisherman unto the brooklet lies.
He's sure to bring a big string home — if not of fish—then lies.

Wife—Susanne is engaged at last.
Her Husband—Did she tell you all about it?
Wife—Mercy, no! I only spent the afternoon with her.

It's difficult for the average man to maintain faith in his opinions, because so many fools agree with him.

First Stenographer—You've been a stenographer for about all the big shots in this building.

Second Stenographer—Yes, I guess I'm on my last lap now.

Look out for the man who is eternally complaining that he has gotten the worst of it. There's usually a reason.

Doctor—Congratulations, old man! Your wife has presented you with quadruplets.
Larry—Four cryin' out loud!

If you follow the straight and narrow path, you'll seldom get on the front page of any newspaper.

Dorothea—I like to dress to match my complexion.
Ronald—But those hand-painted costumes are very expensive, aren't they?

DID YOU KNOW THAT—

Abkhassian, a language spoken in the Caucasus mountains of Russia, is perhaps the most difficult in the world; it has no alphabet and no apparent relationship to any other tongue.

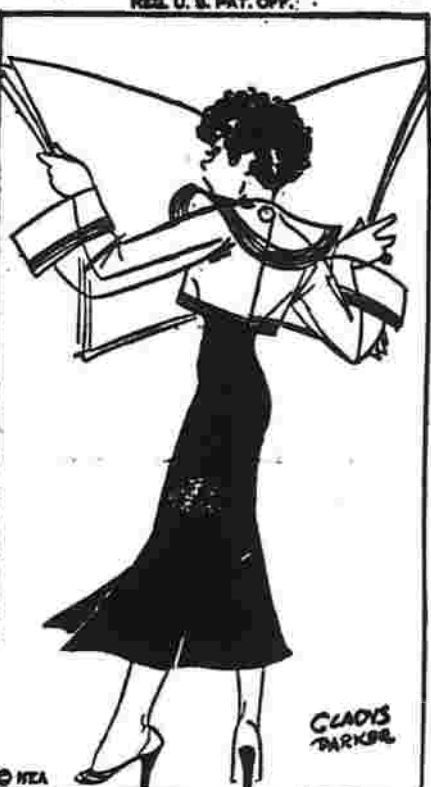

The island of New Caledonia boasts of a peculiar large bird which barks like a dog; the species is found nowhere else in the world.

Finland contains so many lakes that they have never been counted; the country is often called the world's greatest land of lakes.

According to a scientist, the average amount of absolute rest during a night's sleep is only eleven and a half minutes, there being muscular or mental action the remainder of the time.

Small three-wheeled automobiles are being used by squads of London police to speed through dense traffic.
