

NAVY PLANE RUSHES TO SAVE MAN'S LIFE

Off on 900 Mile Trip to Lonely Island in Pacific With Surgeon Aboard — Explorer Stricken.

Washington, May 23.—(AP)—Navy Department officials said today that a Navy plane had left the Panama Canal zone at 6:15 for the Galapagos Islands, carrying a surgeon to the aid of William Albert Robinson, noted explorer.

Robinson was stricken with acute appendicitis while aboard a small boat and was reported critically ill. The Navy plane was piloted by Lieut. Commander Herman H. Holland. The surgeon, Lieut. Commander Rollo W. Hutchinson, was the only passenger.

Department officials said the Galapagos Islands were more than 900 miles from the Canal zone.

RACE WITH DEATH Balboa, C. Z., May 23.—(AP)—A United States destroyer steamed full speed ahead today and two big seaplanes were turned up to follow in a dramatic race by sea and air to save the life of William Albert Robinson, critically ill in his little honeymoon ketch Svava far out in the Pacific.

The destination of the ship and planes, carrying physicians and medical supplies, is Tagus Cove in the Galapagos Islands, 1,000 miles from Panama—a lonely, sun-baked spot which once was the haunt of pirates.

The race with death was ordered after Robinson's socially prominent Chicago bride, Florence Crane Robinson, had flagged the fishing trawler Santa Cruz and had its skipper radio the Naval station at Balboa that her husband was stricken Sunday with acute appendicitis.

Carries Reserve Fuel Seven officers, including medical men, were assigned to the seaplanes. While orders were issued for them to take off early today, the destroyer Hale was ordered to move through the Canal from the Atlantic at full speed to carry reserve fuel for the planes. It will be necessary for them to refuel en route.

The Hale cleared the Canal shortly before 10 o'clock last night. Plans to aid Robinson, a Cambridge, Mass., textile engineer, were rushed by Rear Admiral Walter S. Crowley, commander of the Canal Zone Naval District, upon orders from Washington issued when word of the young couple's plight reached there.

On Their Honeymoon Robinson and his bride, heiress of the late Richard T. Crane, multi-millionaire Chicago manufacturer, left the east coast last June planning a 4,200 mile honeymoon voyage in the Svava.

They have been cruising around in the region of Panama and later among the Galapagos Islands for several months. The last three months have been spent in the islands on the Equator.

Robinson's illness left his brave young wife in a desperate plight. The 32-foot Svava has no radio apparatus and there were no (Continued on Page Two)

VOTE TO IMPEACH JUDGE WOODWARD

House Committee by 15-5 Vote Recommends Drastic Action Against Jurist.

Washington, May 23.—(AP)—The House Judiciary committee voted 15 to 5 today to recommend to the House that Federal Judge Charles E. Woodward of Chicago be impeached.

Chairman Summers (D., Tex.) said the vote had been taken on the whole record.

A report will be made by the committee to the House possibly tomorrow. Summers indicated there might be a minority report.

A bill of specifications will accompany the resolution to the House, he said. Neither of these has been drawn up.

Summers said the action of the committee was based upon the McKewen sub-committee's investigation into the bankruptcy administration of the Chicago Federal judiciary.

"Delicate Matter" Summers said the committee would meet tomorrow to discuss what he said was a "delicate matter" in connection with the Woodward case.

He refused to give the names of those voting either for or against the Woodward impeachment motion. He said the committee would meet Friday to discuss the sub-committee report on the bankruptcy administration of Judges James H. Wilkerson and Walter C. Lindsey, both of Chicago.

PRESIDENT TO STAND BY THE RECOVERY ACT

To Stand Pat On General Principles of NRA Until He Completes Survey of the Nation.

By JAMES COPE (Copyright 1934, by AP.)

Washington, May 23.—President Roosevelt will stand by the Blue Eagle of NRA for the second year of its emergency flight.

This was definitely ascertained today, amid the whirl of controversy over the Darrow report, coupled with word that the Chief Executive is eager to hear debate from the country as to the permanent future of NRA after June, 1935.

The President has told inquirers he is keeping an open mind on just how far the government should go a year hence in seeking a permanent arrangement between government, industry and labor.

He plans to survey the results in his tour across the country this summer. In the meantime, he intends to stand pat on the general principles of the National Recovery Administration.

New legislation would be necessary to carry on the NRA in its present form after mid-June next year. Any such action would be handed to the next Congress.

Criticism Continues The opposition faction in Capitol Hill, however, showed no signs today of relaxing its criticism.

Senator Nye (R., N. D.), who proposed the Darrow Review Board's inquiry, and who yesterday asserted the NRA was allowing monopolies to become "more powerfully entrenched than ever before," planned to take the Senate floor again.

Senator Borah (R., Idaho), who stood with Nye for the Review Board investigation, is seeking an opportune time to urge his bill for restoring the anti-trust laws. He regards it as an amendment to some other measure.

Representative Britten (R., Ill.), planned to press his resolution for an investigation of the NRA, should this substantiate the findings of the Darrow board, he would leave the House today for the "immediate abolition" of the NRA.

"Autocratic Act" Among the words passed on the question was a statement from Henry L. D. Harriman, president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, that while the act creating NRA had done much good there was "a widespread fear that it was a 'widespread fear' of an act, based on the self regulation of business with government approval of such regulations, might be a step toward the 'immediate abolition' of business by the government."

President May Act There were signs today that President Roosevelt might take a definite hand soon to cut through the confusion on NRA which the Darrow Board's condemnation intensified.

It appeared probable, however, that he would first let the immediate hullabaloo subside or swing into definite lines, and allow revisionary proposals to be perfected.

It does not now appear likely that the Darrow board will quit silently at the end of the month, as suggested.

FAMOUS CHEMIST DIES IN JERSEY

David Wesson, of Salad Oil Fame, Was Working on Synthetic Beefsteaks.

Montclair, N. J., May 23.—(AP)—The experiments of David Wesson, the chemist who reversed the dream of a silk purse from a sow's ear, were ended today by death.

Still actively engaged in his work to make meat without an animal origin, Wesson died from a heart disease yesterday at his home. He was 70 years old.

The inventor of the Wesson process for manufacturing cottonseed oil, he was the originator of the salad oil that bore his name, and many other cooking oils and lard.

One of his concocted a synthetic hash that was described as indistinguishable from the real thing, as J. again, at a dinner of oil chemists in New Orleans, he served "croquettes a la Creole," cooked with his artificial meat.

Synthetic Steaks He had perfected synthetic beefsteak would soon be on the market at five cents a pound, and contended that meat made from cottonseed meal was as good as real meat.

A native of Brooklyn, N. Y., he was educated there and at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. He retired several years ago, but still maintained a laboratory at his home.

He leaves his widow, two sons and two daughters.

MONEY STABILIZATION IS NEEDED, SAYS PUBLISHER

Col. Frank Knox Urges U. S. to Call Conference to Solve Serious Problems Confronting Europe.

(Copyright 1934 by Associated Press) Moscow, May 23.—(AP)—Col. Frank Knox, publisher of the Chicago Daily News, today advocated the summoning by the United States of an international conference for monetary stabilization as a step toward solving the problem of Europe's economic recovery.

Recounting his impressions in the course of a brief European tour, he described the situation in Europe today as "hair-trigger."

"The general atmosphere," he said, "is electric due to an unformed dread of the future based on uncertainties concerning Germany."

"There is a fear that as Germany grows greater the complete collapse of the disarmament conference draws nearer."

Arms Race Renewed. "Even now there is a universal recognition that the old armaments race has been renewed and, with a half dozen powder magazines in Europe no one knows where the explosion will occur. Everyone hopes it can be postponed but the result is a pretty general pessimism."

"Despite efforts to cover up things, Germany obviously is going from bad to worse economically. This has a repercussion in Central Europe."

Hangs by a Hair. "The political balance in Austria hangs by a hair with Chancellor Dollfus maintained in office almost wholly by Italy's support. The expectation is growing in Austria that, to strengthen this situation,"

Hotel Greeters Tell Tales On Some of Their Guests

Baltimore, May 23.—(AP)—Greeting the public in the opinion of the Champion Greeters of America—the Hotel Greeters Association—is a case of glad-handing with the right hand and pushing a crop of troubles under the deck with the left.

In other words, behind the smile and carnation of a hot man lie such problems as women who are afraid of cats climbing in 17-story windows; persons who make off with every article of furniture in sight; and others who can't sleep on soft mattresses.

Verdicts of greeting were given today by past presidents of the hotel association, in annual convention here.

Roy Moulton, of New York, had to get out of bed one night to take care of a gentleman guest who said it impossible to sleep on a soft mattress. He signed, but with a smile for his guest, called the matter up and saw to it that blankets were saved up and put under the mattress. The guest was able to sleep in peace.

R. D. McFadden and Allan G. Hurst, of Chicago, told plenty of funny tales. For instance, a delegation came from a remote mountain district and without regard to sex or marriage wanted to be packed into a few small rooms.

President Roosevelt's reference to "some of our neighbors" is believed to mean principally Canada and Mexico.

The silver market here was little affected by the American move. The price rose one-eighth of a penny to 19 11-16 pence an ounce.

China rates were down one-sixteenth of a penny, which is a normal movement. Some selling came from that quarter, while India also offered silver in moderate quantities. This was absorbed by some covering orders and buying believed to be on American account.

Market interests are withholding a definite opinion regarding the bill pending receipt of further news from America.

Hoover Given Credit For Recovery Program

Middletown, May 23.—(AP)—government is a new consciousness of the social obligation of the government.

In this respect the New Deal started with Herbert Hoover because the essential approach of Hoover and Roosevelt was more alike than either of them was similar to any other President.

Grover Cleveland or Grant would have thought Hoover just as radical as Roosevelt is charged with being.

"Under the Old Deal," he said, "depression, unemployment and bankruptcy were allowed to work themselves out without interfering with the functions of nature. Under the New Deal the philosophy

BRITAIN AGAINST PARLEY ON SILVER

Not Particularly Interested in Roosevelt's Suggestion for a World Conference.

London, May 23.—(AP)—The idea of convoking a world conference for rehabilitation of silver, thought by many here to have been in President Roosevelt's mind when he submitted his silver message to Congress yesterday, failed to strike a particularly responsive chord in British government circles.

It was declared semi-officially today that whereas silver may be "an extremely important political consideration" in the United States it has no such significance in Great Britain.

While the British government has long expressed the belief that rehabilitation of silver would play an important part in world economic recovery, official circles have been sceptical that the part played would be as great as anticipated in other capitals, especially Washington.

Since the world economic conference has been somewhat chary of world conferences of any sort, semi-officially it was indicated today that this attitude holds good as regards any immediate world silver conference.

So far as is known here there has been no approach by the United States, to bring Great Britain into such a conference.

President Roosevelt's reference to "some of our neighbors" is believed to mean principally Canada and Mexico.

The silver market here was little affected by the American move. The price rose one-eighth of a penny to 19 11-16 pence an ounce.

Desperado Rated With Dilinger as Bad Man Drives Into Police Trap—He and Girl Companion in Crime Riddled With Bullets Before They Could Reach Own Firearms — Trained for Weeks.

Black Lake, La., May 23.—(AP)—Clyde Barrow and his gunman companion, Bonnie Parker, were beaten to the trigger pull by Texas officers today.

Their crime career ended in a blaze of riot gun fire when, disregarding a command to halt and unable to get their weapons into play, the desperado and his cigar-smoking girl crumpled up in the front seat of a car traveling at about 85 miles an hour.

The car careened into an embankment and was wrecked. In the wreckage, the officers who had set the trap for the southwest's Public Enemy Number One and the Parker woman found both bodies riddled with bullets. Bonnie's was almost doubled over the machine gun she had held in her lap. Barrow's broken body was twisted behind the steering wheel, a revolver gripped in one hand.

The car, splintered by gunfire, proved to be a speeding arsenal. The trap was sprung by Frank Hamer, a former Texas Ranger, B. M. Gault, a highway patrolman, and Ted Hinton and Bob Alcorn, Dallas county sheriffs. Hamer was recently commissioned as a highway patrolman for the special purpose of getting his man—and, in this case, his gunman.

Hamer had learned of the highway frequented by Barrow and had been watching for weeks. Hamer and Gault had been watching the Black Lake hideout two months.

Several weeks ago they barely missed the couple at the rendezvous. After that they adopted a policy of "sitting and waiting."

The bandits' trail was picked up this morning by Hamer and the three Texas Ranger associates in Bossier Parish, where Barrow was reported to have relatives residing. They followed the Hamer car to Bienville Parish where the Rangers were joined by Sheriff Henderson Jordan and a staff of deputies.

The officers got ahead of the bandit car and lay in wait until Barrow ran his car into the ambush. With the posse, hamer was hiding in brush along the paved highway. Barrow's car broke over the horizon racing at 85 miles an hour. As the car approached, an officer yelled "halt."

Barrow and the woman answered by reaching for their guns and they were met by a fusillade from a dozen guns.

The automobile smashed into an embankment and the officers continued to fire until the bodies were riddled.

Barrow and his companion had led officers in a wild chase over half a dozen states. Frequently they were cornered but eluded their pursuers or shot it out. They replenished their funds by robbing banks and business houses.

Barrow was regarded as one of the Nation's most dangerous killers, shooting at the bat of an eye and fleeing in fast automobiles.

Bonnie Parker was charged by officers with participating in most of Barrow's later crimes. Officers said she was as quick on the trigger as her associate and was just as elusive.

The bodies were being taken to Arcadia, La., 17 miles east of the scene of the killings.

The shooting occurred about six miles west of the old Mt. Lebanon community.

REPORT CONFIRMED

Dallas, May 23 (AP)—The slaying of Clyde Barrow and Bonnie Parker was confirmed in a telephone call today from Ted Hinton, deputy sheriff, to R. A. Schmid, Dallas county sheriff, from Gibson, La.

Clyde and Bonnie were killed by Deputy Hinton and Deputy Bob Alcorn, who, with two former Texas Rangers, had been keeping watch on the gangsters' supposed rendezvous near Gibson.

The report received here said that the couple drove up to the hideout at 9:15 o'clock this morning, and when they saw the officers, drew their guns but, before they could shoot, the deputies and the former rangers fell them with a burst of gunfire.

The deputy said the scene of the killings was the name of a relative of the Barrows. The officers had been hiding near the place for

Spanish-American War Roster Is Incomplete

The monument dedicated Sunday, June 17, was cut into several pieces, which were presented to many of his friends. The pieces were polished and used as paper weights. Mr. Sullivan, who is now living in Massachusetts, is an uncle of Mrs. Thomas Brennan of Bristol street. Daniel Shaw, a resident of Center street, was in Chicago at the time that the call came for volunteers. He enlisted in the regular army and was sent to Cuba.

His letters written to friends in Manchester were published in the Herald at the time and were read with much interest. Mr. Shaw was a baseball player of no small merit, and was credited with being one of the best shortstops that Manchester has ever produced. In the "World War three" nephews, Leo Cleary, Paul Cleary and John Newman were volunteers.

The name of James Veitch was also omitted in the reading of the muster roll of Spanish War Veterans at the dedication exercises. Mr. Veitch, formerly of Manchester, now makes his home in St. Petersburg, Fla. He left Manchester High school as a boy to join Company G and was with them at Fort Knox, Md., and at Camp Alger in Virginia. Mr. Veitch is a past department commander of the Spanish War Veterans of Connecticut.

These are just a few names that a check shows are not included in the list of Manchester men in the service in 1898, and gives rise to the belief that the records of the local camp and the town should be rechecked and the corrections made.

Hugh S. She proposes to fly to Auckland, New Zealand, soon to join her proud father there.

The Australian air hero, Kingsford-Smith, holds the men's solo record for the England to Australia flight. He negotiated the distance in 7 days, 4 hours and 47 minutes.

The notice of the committee presented to Mr. Ray is taken to mean that it is a step toward the recognition of the union. In the letter which went with the list of names the recording secretary, Milton Yeoman, had this to say:

attorney general that during the period of the Federal restraining order granted in the Shore base, many package stores were open after hours or offered for sale alcoholic liquors, other than beer, in containers of less than one-fifth of a fluid ounce and therefore in violation of the provisions of the Liquor Control Act.

The commission asked whether under the terms of the act and the recent decision of the Constitutional Court it is required to revoke the permit of such stores.

"The opinion of the Constitutional Court in the case of Shore against Cross, Governor et al., upholds the constitutionality of the amendment to the Liquor Control Act relating to drugstores permits and the constitutionality of the act, in this respect, as so amended," says the attorney general's opinion.

"There is authority to the effect where a statute or an ordinance is unconstitutional on its face or relates to business enterprises over which the legislative branch of the government does not have complete and plenary power and therefore may not prohibit, but judicial inquiry is necessary to investigate and determine the existence of facts upon which the question of constitutionality or legality depends, the operation of the statute, including its penal provisions, may be suspended by the court, by injunction or order, at the instance of one who challenges the constitutionality or legality of the statute.

"The injunction or order is granted in such a case for the purpose of maintaining and protecting existing rights of the party seeking the injunction, which he alleges are threatened to be illegally curtailed or taken away from him; in other words for the purpose of maintaining the existing status quo, pending the determination of the constitutionality or legality of the statute or ordinance in question. In such cases there is also authority to the effect that such an injunction or restraining order is a defense to a prosecution or the imposition of other penalties after the length of the injunction or order terminates, for violations committed while it was in force."

ABOUT TOWN

The meeting of Troop 5, Boy Scouts, of the Emanuel Lutheran church, scheduled for tonight, has been cancelled and no meeting will be held this week.

The May number of "The Daily Leaf", the little paper published at Long Lane Farm, the state's institution at Middletown, contains among other things the list of trees of different varieties planted by the graduating class each year for some time they wish to honor. One of them is an American Linden, named in honor of Mrs. Thomas Tiffany, who prior to her marriage was Miss Olive McMenemy of Manchester. She was a graduate of Oberlin and a teacher for some time at Long Lane Farm.

The Married Couples club will meet this evening at 8 o'clock at the Second Congregational church for the final business meeting of the season. The entertainment committee includes Mr. and Mrs. William Kuhny and Mr. and Mrs. H. Kingsley.

St. Mary's Ladies Guild will not meet tomorrow afternoon, regular meetings having been suspended until fall.

Linne Lodge, No. 72, Knights of Pythias, will work the second degree at its regular meeting at Orange hall at 8 o'clock tonight.

A dress rehearsal of the pageant, "Christ in America," will be held at Emanuel Lutheran church this evening at the church by a cast of upwards of fifty young people, members of the Junior Mission band and daughters of members of the Ladies' Missionary society. The mission band will also present an impressive vocalistic exercise. The pageant tells the story of the home mission problems facing this country in both the large cities and scattered sections, and the proceeds from the free will offering will be expended for these projects.

COLD DESTROYS FLOWER PLANTS IN CEMETERIES

The cold weather last winter killed so many different kinds of flower plants that there has been a big demand for plants to be placed in cemeteries in town to replace the ones that were ruined. There has been a particularly heavy demand for geraniums and one florist already has sold 2,500 of these plants. It has been found necessary to order additional plants and another shipment of 1,000 is to be delivered this afternoon.

In addition to the planting of flowers, the florists have received orders for bouquets to be made up ready for delivery on Decoration Day.

UNITED WORKMEN ATTEND BANQUET

Forty Members of Manchester Lodge Enjoy Program Presented in Hartford.

Forty members of Manchester Lodge, No. 18, attended the Veterans' night program at the Hartford City Club last evening, recognizing veterans of the Ancient Order of United Workmen in District No. 1. Over 250 gathered for the banquet at 7 o'clock. In this number were members from New Haven, Norwich, New Britain, Winsted, Meriden, Southington, Bristol, Willimantic, Rockville, Hartford and Manchester.

L. V. Longbotham, district deputy grand master workman of New Haven, as eastern manager of the grand lodge at Fargo, N. D., arranged the meeting and acted as master of ceremonies. He was assisted by Past Supreme Master Workman H. Herbert Bishop of New Haven. Following the banquet, more than 100 veterans were grouped according to their standing in membership, and buttons of bronze, silver and gold presented to them. They represented respectively 25 to 35 years, 35 to 50 years and 50 years and over, and were in a beautiful design originated by Grand Master Workman Bradley C. Marks of Fargo, and should mark the wearer with distinction.

A group photograph of the veterans was taken and a short address delivered by G. Herbert Bishop on behalf of the grand master who was unable to be present. Judge John Fahey of Rockville, long an active member of the order and one of its most distinguished veterans, gave the main address of the evening. Morris D. Sullivan of Wapping, well known locally, was awarded a special prize for being the oldest, most active veteran of any lodge. Although 86 Mr. Sullivan attends the meetings regularly in Manchester and visits other lodges about the state.

Veterans from Manchester Lodge in the bronze or 25-35 year group, were Julius Bratton, John B. Wolcott and Franklin S. Brown. In the silver or 35-50 year group, James Wright, Charles Stays, Olin Wheeler, Charles Dewey, Morris Sullivan, John F. Limerick, Robert Richmond, Dennis Bryan and William Welch.

William F. Pickles, who is in the 50 year class, as well as about fifteen members in the 35 years class, were unable to attend and buttons will be sent to them in the near future. The Ancient Order of United Workmen is the oldest fraternal benefit order in the United States. The LaSalle Missionary Players of Hartford presented a one-act play. Those who took part were William Byrnes in the leading role, Thomas Sullivan, Wesley Mason, Edward Rizal and Miss Mary Walsh. Special acts also supplied by the Clements Entertainment Bureau.

Among the things Miriam Hopkins has started in Hollywood's fashion circles is a fad for bright red linen handkerchiefs with white summer frocks. These bits of brilliant color not only supply a chic relief for white ensembles but they eliminate the inevitable red stain which is caused now and then by every woman's pet weapon—her lipstick.

Garden possibilities are not denied completely to those who live in apartments. If spring gives you a desire to do some small-scale "gardening," you may enjoy this method.

Take an old oval vegetable dish, no longer usable for the table, and paint the outside some color that harmonizes with your decorations. Fill it with dirt and place small plants in it. To add a bright note, put a hand mirror in the center for a "lake."

Fashionables who take their bridge seriously may wear their hearts and spades on their frocks this year. Cut strawberries in quarters and put all ingredients into a mixing bowl. Beat with a rotary beater for about twenty minutes. The mixture will expand and become exceedingly light and fluffy. Pile into sherbet cups or parfait glasses and chill thoroughly. Serve with cake or cookies or with a garnish of whipped cream.

Other small fruits and berries can be used in place of strawberries.

You'll long no longer when you catch a glimpse of the new Nelly Dons that have just arrived at Hale's. They're cool, sheer, attractive—everything you desire in an ideal summer frock.

Serve them with cool summer drinks—Lemon Cream Cakes: 2-3 cup butter, 2 cups sugar, 3 eggs, beaten, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 1 tablespoon grated lemon rind, 1-8 teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons cream, 3 2-3 cups flour, 1 teaspoon cream of tartar, 2-2 teaspoon soda.

Cream butter and sugar. Add eggs, beat well. Add rest of ingredients and when mixed, drop portions from tip of spoon onto greased baking sheet. Fatten each cookie with back of spoon. Bake 12 minutes in moderate oven.

ATTEMPTS TO KILL MEMBERS OF LODGE

Man Confesses That He Sent Seven Bottles of Poison Liqueur Through Mails.

Oakland, Calif., May 23.—(AP)—Arthur J. Cleu, 40-year-old Oakland printer, faced a possible charge of attempted murder here today, authorities said, following his reported confession that he sent poison liqueur through the mails to seven fellow lodge members.

Cleu was arrested yesterday at Ukiah where he was attending the annual Grand Parlor of the Native Sons of the Golden West, a fraternal organization. Comparison of his hand lettering with that on the poison liqueur packages, was said by officers to have led to his detection.

Assistant District Attorney Charles Wehr planned to go before the Grand Jury Thursday and ask for return of an indictment against the printer. The indictment probably will be sought, Wehr said, on the ground of "attempted murder."

In his purported confession, taken by Police Inspectors James Goodnight and L. M. Jewell, Cleu assertedly blamed a long standing quarrel with his lodge brothers. Cleu admitted authorship, the inspectors said, of a series of mysterious letters, signed "The Owl," received during the past year by the seven men.

Only the fact that one of them noted the peculiar odor of the liqueur and had it analyzed prevented the plot from resulting fatally for any of the group. Examination of the contents of the other bottles, including one Cleu told police he received, disclosed that they likewise had been poisoned.

OPEN FORUM

THE TOWN MEETING Ha! Ha! Now there was a town meeting for you! We foxed 'em. We didn't let the poor saps say a word. They thought they could come to town meeting and argue that Sunday closing of the taverns would help to decrease the week-end accidents; that workmen's families would have more money to start the week; that men need to go to their jobs on Monday sober; that the community really wants a quiet Sabbath; that boys and girls with a fr. day will be safer from temptation; but we shut 'em up! They know now who is boss in Manchester. We told them where they could go (you know where). Of course in case of one of those accidents the church has to help us bury the poor fellow, and if there isn't any money for food or clothes on Monday morning the church and the Salvation Army have to see about that, but they wait—the poor saps! And when you fellows get a bit rough and forget yourself for the moment and beat your wife and hurt the children (please don't use any more boiling water)—well the hospital is handy. But on general principals, they interfere with our business. Away with the churches!

We told them what we thought of other laws, too, that would cramp our style. If there is any law you don't like, just stamp on it. No one's going to tell us what to do. They thought when they voted for us last June we could be controlled and restricted (that's another laugh).

And now, boys, with this stupendous victory let's make a record summer. Let's use every method to fill our swanky taverns (ha, ha—the poor saps were so pleased because the "saloon would never return"). Get more entertainment! Don't forget those boys graduating from the High School this June (or the girls either). They make grand customers once they get started. We must have the young ones if we are going to make money. Here's to town meetings and free speech!

John Barleycorn, (Call me Jack. I feel so young and peppy).

APPRECIATION!

POPE TO OCCUPY VILLA IN HILLS

Leaves Vatican City for Inspection of Apartments On Appian Way.

Vatican City, May 23.—(AP)—Pope Pius left the Vatican today, inspected the papal Villa Castel Gandolfo, and returned here at noon.

He was accompanied by the master of ceremonies, Mgr. Caccia Dominioni and the papal court. The party occupied four automobiles.

Today's visit was merely an inspection, preliminary to the Pope occupying the villa for the summer while his apartments in the Vatican are remodeled.

The villa is situated in the Alban hills, 17 miles out the ancient Appian Way. It was the first time His Holiness had left Vatican City since the Holy Year closed April 2 and it was his third trip to the villa since he became Pope. Last summer he visited it twice on similarly short inspection tours. His strenuous Holy Year duties now over, Pope Pius has accepted the advice of his doctors to get away from the sultry atmosphere of Vatican City during the hot months. They had been urging it for years, but he never before felt he could take time enough away from the work that tied him to the Vatican. He plans to move into the villa with his household staff, a detachment of Swiss Guards and papal gendarmes and a few church officials. No Pope before Pius has visited the villa since the church rulers became "voluntary prisoners" in the Vatican in 1870.

HUSBANDS DECIDE WIVES ARE NOT KISSED ENOUGH

35 Members of Oklahoma Gratitude Club Conduct Two Weeks' Investigation.

Oklahoma City, Okla., May 23.—What America needs is more conjugal kissing. Such was the verdict of the Husband's Gratitude Club and the wives of thirty members after a two weeks' test.

The husbands, all members of the Industrial Church, decided two weeks ago that the country needed more osculation. They took this pledge:

"I solemnly pledge myself daily to embrace my wife, kiss her and tell her I love her.

"I promise to compliment her at least once each day on some particular part of the menu she prepares.

"I promise to perform at least one kind and unexpected deed for her daily."

"We think the idea is great and we want the club continued," the wives chorused. "It will be," the men voted, "with unexpected accounts demanded from time to time, in the manner of bank examiners."

NEWSPAPER PLANT SCENE OF EXPLOSION OF BOMB

Havana, May 23.—(AP)—The 35-year-old editor of a Havana newspaper was in a hospital today with a bullet wound in his shoulder while owners of another newspaper were surveying damage caused by a bomb explosion.

Unidentified assailants fired upon Jose Ignacio Rivero, editor of Diario De La Marina, which has been conducting a campaign against Communists.

An automobile drew up beside the editor's car on a downtown street and poured a fusillade into it. Two soldiers, guards hired by Rivero, returned the fire. One of the guards was slightly wounded.

Rivero received a threatening letter yesterday before the shooting. At the Havana Post, which pro-esses no political partisanship, a bomb let go, smashing doors and windows. No one was injured. The offices of the Associated Press, on the second floor of the building, were filled with broken glass.

BON TON CORSETS MAKE MATURE WOMEN SLENDER

Miss Sadie B. Klee, Bon Ton stylist who will be at Rubinow's tonight at the corset fashion show to lecture on the Trend of Fashion of corsets and foundations, has held the attention of large women audiences in some of New England's largest cities. Her way of explaining is precise and clear. She has made a lifetime study of how to wear foundations with comfort and at the same time bring out the bodily charm sought by all women. Her counsel is absolutely free. Women are not obligated in any way. They may ask any question. Bon Ton corsets can give the mature woman the slim loveliness that characterizes the girl of her teens.

FIRST ARMS EMBARGO

Mexico, D. F., May 23.—(AP)—Mexico claimed today the distinction of being the first nation to declare an embargo on shipments of arms to Paraguay and Bolivia in compliance with the League of Nations move to end the Chaco war. The government proclaimed the embargo last night and followed up with an appeal to the South American belligerents "to make a supreme effort to reach an immediate, direct settlement."

The declaration was regarded merely as a gesture of solidarity on the part of the government with the League's program. Virtually no war materials are shipped from here.

OUTBURST OF RACIAL PREJUDICE AT TRIAL

Southern Woman Rebuked By Prosecutor for Denouncing Negro Drivers.

A penalty of $25.93 was imposed upon Robert T. Russell, colored, of 32 Sawyer street, Roxbury, Mass., for running his automobile across the path of a car driven by Mrs. Eva Graves of 3418 Columbian Place, Lynchburg, Va., who was fined $5 for her part in the accident.

This case was brought before Judge E. Fisk in the Rockville City Court Tuesday morning by Prosecuting Attorney John B. Thomas as a result of an accident at the "Goat Farm" intersection, Sunday. Racial prejudice was evident throughout the trial on the part of Mrs. Graves, who said in court, "there was no excuse for any accident, and I come from the south and want to say that the colored people are the most dangerous on the road."

This brought an abrupt interruption from Prosecuting Attorney Thomas who said, "people have a right on the road regardless of what their color may be."

Russell, 23, a stock clerk in a Boston office, was charged with two counts, violation of the motor vehicle laws by having defective brakes, and with driving a motor vehicle without a driver's license. Pleas of guilty were entered to both counts.

Russell testified that he was driving his "1925 Packard," for which he paid $35, toward Manchester from Dobsonville near the "Goat Farm" intersection. It was first stated that George Mulligan, colored, of Boston, was driving this car, but Russell admitted he was driving although Mrs. Graves insisted Mulligan was the operator.

Leverett N. Charter Leverett N. Charter, 33, the last member of Burpee Post, No. 71, Grand Army of the Republic, died at the Rockville City hospital Tuesday morning.

Although he had been ill for several weeks death came rather unexpectedly. He entered the hospital Monday. Mr. Charter was taken ill about three weeks ago and suffered from bronchitis and asthma. His condition became more serious Sunday and Monday he was removed to the hospital.

Mr. Charter was born in Ellington, January 26, 1864, but lived the greater part of his life in Rockville. He enlisted in the United States Army January 25, 1884, being a member of Company G, 11th Regiment, Connecticut Volunteers, of which Captain Randall H. Rice was in charge.

He took part in the battles at Swift Creek, Drury's Bluff, Cold Harbor and Petersburg. He also saw Col. Burpee, for whom the Rockville G. A. R. post was named, before he was wounded at Cold Harbor. Mr. Charter was hit in the head by a bullet. After returning to the army, he continued in service until his discharge December 21, 1895. He took an active part in all Memorial Day observances for many years and was widely known as a Civil War veteran.

For many years he was commander, secretary and treasurer of Burpee Post, No. 71, G. A. R. The other member active with Mr. Charter was Edward F. Lowering of Ellington, who died in his 90th year a short time ago. The only surviving member of Burpee Post at the present time is John M. Allen of Manchester, who was not a charter member of Burpee Post and who has not been active since he moved to Manchester. For a period of seventeen years he was connected with the local post office as a letter carrier and was retired from service when he reached the age limit. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Isabelle (Conway) Charter and a son, Harry Charter of New Haven. ### A SIX COSTS LESS TO RUN

... and the CHEVROLET OVERHEAD VALVE SIX is the most economical car in the world

Engineering facts prove it. Experience in building nearly ten million cars confirms it. And the record of over 3,000,000 Chevrolet Six owners removes any shadow of doubt about it: The only way to get real economy in a low-priced car is to insist on SIX cylinders and OVERHEAD valves.

SIX cylinders—no more!—because extra cylinders mean extra cost for gas, oil, upkeep and parts. OVERHEAD valves—nothing else!—for the same good reason that airplanes use them. And speedboats. And racing cars. They get the MOST power out of the LEAST gas. That's why overhead valves are the choice of leaders—and champions.

MONTGOMERY WARD STORE RENOVATED

Will Be Closed Tomorrow and Friday; Grand Opening Saturday Morning.

Floor space at the newly renovated Montgomery-Ward store here is planned to permit easy access into all departments by patrons seeking stocks.

In the planning of floor space, much thought has been given to the ease of shopping. The bringing of related departments together has been the basis for the new arrangement.

Downstairs
Sporting goods, hardware, electric wares, household utilities, paint, tires, tubes and automobile accessories, ranges, plumbing and heating equipment, and farm and garden needs, are to be found in the basement.

Main Floor
The street level of the newly remodeled store is devoted to fashion accessories, including gloves, handbags, hosiery, lingerie and foundation garments, as well as piece goods, draperies, bedding, notions, house dresses, shoes for the whole family, and infant's wear. In addition, there is a complete men's department featuring suits for men and boys, shirts and related accessories, and a complete line of work clothing, also a large portion is devoted to women's fashions, with ample space for millinery, dresses, and coats.

Second Floor
The second is the "home-maker's" floor, where a complete display of everything for the home may be seen. Important departments are those for furniture, rugs, radios, and the larger electrical appliances for the home, such as electric refrigerators, washing machines, vacuum cleaners, etc.

A Complete Store
The newly remodeled Montgomery-Ward store is a complete department store in every sense of the word. In reality it is even more, because any merchandise that the customer may wish that is not carried in stock can be readily secured from Montgomery Ward's huge catalog, with its hundreds of pages and thousands of illustrations, presenting an almost unlimited assortment Tennant Farmer is now a good farmer, he has received a full pardon from Gov. B. M. Miller.

Farmer was paroled in 1929 after serving three years of a 10-year sentence for murder. Friends told the governor he is farming and leading the life of a good citizen.

Pittsburgh—After Night Watchman Carl Frank found his third fire in the basement of the Federal building, he was questioned by Postmaster William M. Turner.

The postmaster said Frank admitted starting the fire, so that his prompt action in "discovering" and extinguishing them would show he was "on the job."

Now he's held for action by Federal authorities.

MRS. HAROLD SYMINGTON STATE RADIO GUEST STAR

Will Sing New Composition By Miss Miriam Watkins and Collin Driggs.

Mrs. Harold Symington of 28 Monroe street, soloist in the Emmanuel Congregational church, Hartford, will be the guest artist on the State Theater-Manchester radio broadcast tomorrow morning from 8 to 8:30. Mrs. Symington will sing for the first time on the air, composition by Collin Driggs and Miss Miriam Watkins, "My Cargo of Dreams."

The new popular song by Driggs and Miss Watkins has a catchy melody and words, and those who have heard it as played by Mr. Driggs on the State organ, predict success for the new composition. Manchester song lovers should listen in tomorrow morning for this initial offering of these Manchester composers. Mrs. Symington will be accompanied on the State Hope-Jones Wurlitzer organ by Mr. Driggs, and will also sing as her second offering, "Morning" by Oley Speaks.

The Manchester broadcast will open tomorrow morning with Mr. Driggs at the console of the State organ, playing selections from the "Vagabond King." Other numbers will be a medley of songs from "Twenty Million Sweethearts" and selections from "Hit the Deck."

Manchester is on the air four times each week with half-hour broadcasts from 8 to 8:30 Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday mornings and from 3 to 3:30 Sunday afternoon. The broadcast is sponsored by the State Theater, and Manchester merchants.

Tucson, Ariz.—One tough assignment, that's what Edmund Atkinson, Pima county deputy sheriff, says it is.

He has been told to serve a subpoena on John Dillinger.

The fugitive gunman is cited to appear in Superior Court here May 25 to answer to a civil action brought against him by various banks which lay claim to about $24,000 in loot, impounded after the capture—and before the escape—of Dillinger.

Oshkosh, Wis.—Motorcycle Officer Irving Stip is being reprimanded—not for his marksmanship, but for his choice of a place to display it.

A barkeeper told Stip he couldn't hit the broad side of a barn with his underbarrel revolver. Accepting the challenge, the officer smashed a beer glass on a window 50 paces away.

Now he has been deprived of his day off for the next five weeks.

Hutchinson, Kas.—That Number 13 may be unlucky to some, but not to inmates of the State Reformatory.

The reason: For the last year every No. 13 boy who has had a hearing before the State Board of Administration has been paroled.

Philadelphia.—Hotel employees won a race against death by a nose—a guest's nose.

They halted George Haines of Woodfield, W. Va., as he snipped his nostrils with a pair of scissors in what police said was an attempt to end his life.

Doctors said the cuts were not serious.

Chicago—Early to rise may be necessary for good health, says Miss Margaret Gorman, 102 years old—but not early to bed.

"I get up every morning at 7:30 o'clock," she says, "and frequently stay up late at night."

Miss Gorman, a native of Ireland, recently observed her 102nd birthday, anniversary.

be left to local authorities with con- siderable safety and that the schools would be, on the whole, better ad- ministered if restored to town con- trol than when left in the hands of a state bureaucracy. We may be altogether wrong about this and a State Board of Education may be necessary to insure equal educa- tional advantages for all the children of the state; but if the schools are to be state controlled then they cer- tainly should be state supported. This mandatory heaping up of school costs which must be met nine-tenths by local taxation is one of the first tax evils to demand con- sideration. We shall see, however, whether the State Tax Study Com- mission tackles it in earnest.

STAND-UP DRINKING

There has been a general suspi- cion that with the development of the use of the automobile the Ameri- can people were to a considerable extent losing the use of their legs. Not, to be sure, by the route of paralysis or even by perceptible pro- gressive atrophy—not perhaps actu- ally at all so far as the limbs them- selves are concerned, but obvious- ly and to a considerable extent through the loss of any inclination to use them.

The first day's experience of the new New York barrooms under the new law permitting perpendicular drink- ing seems to have entirely justified that suspicion.

When the first set of post-prohibi- tion regulations went into effect in the big city and it was discovered that a return to the practice of drinking while standing at bars was forbidden there was a loud shriek of woe from the chorus of old time- ers. They always used to stand up to drink and to be denied that right now was to be deprived of about everything that made a drink worth swallowing. The protest was loud and long.

Now the customer may, if he pleases, rush in exactly in the 1890 manner, hat and coat on, stand up to the bar and drink one drink or a dozen, all lawfully. And hardly anybody wants to. Only an occa- sional off-horse stands up at a New York bar. Sitting down is easier. Sitting down fits in with the habit of the automobile trained legs. Let the waiter bring the drink to a table.

Another chance for the reformer. Let him point out that sitting down is destroying the physical stamina of the race. Let him demand that the tables and chairs be banished and that everybody who wants a drink must, for the welfare of the national legs, stand up and drink the drink at the bar.

ELECTORAL COLLEGE

One of the really difficult things to understand is why enough sena- tors voted against the Norris Elec- toral College amendment to prevent the passage of the resolution of sub- mission on Monday. Why anyone should wish to retain in the Constitu- tion the nonsensical fiction of the Electoral College is beyond under- standing unless it might be for the retention of some political advan- tage.

The Norris amendment does not appear to affect the political advan- tage of either major party. It provides merely that the total elec- toral vote of any state, in a Presi- dential election, shall go to the can- didate receiving the largest number of popular votes in that state and that the successful candidate shall be the one receiving a majority of the electoral votes as at present. The only important change from the present system would be, it would seem, the elimination of the cum- bersome system of electing Presi- dential electors and having them go through the formality of casting the conclu- sive votes.

As this is written it is expected that the Senate vote will be brought up for reconsideration—and it cer- tainly ought to be reconsidered. The Electoral College scheme, as it was originally intended to operate, was a failure from the start and has been dead since the dodo for the better part of a century. Its only effect is to confuse and to contribute to a suspicion, on the part of the youth of the country, that the Constitution can't amount to much when even the method of electing a President, prescribed by it, is not followed in reality and only sketchily in form.

IN THE DEPTHS

If the men indicated by a federal grand jury in New York for manu- facturing and distributing children's penny candies loaded with a 20 per cent alcoholic mixture are convicted they ought to be sent to the Chicago fair or otherwise put on exhibi- tion before being consigned to pris- on. There can hardly fail to be widespread curiosity as to what such creatures look like—whether they actually resemble, even re- motely, human beings.

It is when people demonstrate by such unspeakable performances as this the depths to which they will descend merely to make money that the Communists get in their most effective argument—that the race can never develop spiritually until civilization is rid of the system of profit and private wealth.

Certainly when men are willing to debauch governments and start bloody wars for the sake of the gain they expect through the sale of munitions and when other men are willing to infect thousands of little children with the alcohol habit for their own private profit it is difficult to doubt that money is, in- deed, the root of all evil.

This Brooklyn gang, if guilty of the offense with which they are charged, are a singularly filthy lot. It would seem in that, somehow or other, the public ought to have an opportunity, beyond ordinary, of letting them, and such as they know what decent people think of them.

But perhaps the other prisoners in whatever penitentiary they are sent to will act as spokesmen for the country. The ordinary robber or gunman might be expected to spit on them.

HERE'S A MIS-GUIDE BOOK TO LITTLE OLD NEW YORK

By PAUL HARRISON
 New York, May 23—It strikes me that the guide books about New York do not get around to telling many of the less apparent, but the less significant, aspects of the so-called major points of interest. Also they are woefully negligent in reciting uncomplimentary things. So here are a few addenda to be pasted in a Baedeker.

Tip of Town A seawall peopled mostly by noisy con- ceSSIONAIREs, somnolent bums, and immigrants staring wistfully down the bay. Here also is the Aquat- um, which was a dismal failure as a fort. Jenny Lind sang there later, and the acoustics were bad. So they put in several hundred varieties of fish, which are still there, and probably are greatly amused by the visitors who stare at them. The Aquarium does not serve a shore dinner.

Prominent Suburb BROOKLYN: A town on the east bank of the East River, which was built for one end of the Brooklyn bridge to rest upon. It is folly to venture into Brooklyn without a native guide.

Oriental Manhattan THE BOWERY: Saddest street in the world. At one end of it lies Chinatown, a district main- tained by the men who run the nightseeing buses.

Original Hollywood UNION SQUARE: A large rectan- gle wherein the rabble babble. Even the Socialists have moved away from it. Also the birthplace of the movies; Adolph Zukor once had his penny arcade there.

"Bond" Street WALL STREET: A place where ex- ceptional football stars try to sell bonds. The older men who wear morning clothes and a wry look are financiers. One of the most prosperous establishments thereabouts is Trinity Church, which owns property providing an annual income of some half-mil- lion dollars.

Status Without Virtue CITY HALL: Good Colonial architecture, but so inadequate in size that municipal depart- ments are scattered through other buildings for a radius of a mile. The structure overlooks the most beautiful view in a city which is full of bad statues. This marble hulk depicts a stieshed young man known as Civic Virtue treading ruthlessly on three females repre- senting various political vices.

Bus Trip FIFTH AVENUE: Begins at Washington Square, which con- tains a much-abused statue of Caribaldi, and runs through dark- est Harlem at the north. Best way to see it is from the top of a bus, because the buses progress with the approximate speed of an indigent pedestrian. You pass the Empire State building, which has an observation tower and a great many offices to rent. The big building with the stone lions is not the headquarters of Metro- Goldwyn-Mayer, but the Public Li- brary.

Showtown BROADWAY: T e longest street in Manhattan, but only the ten blocks between 41st and 52nd streets comprise the "Broadway" that is synonymous with Gay Way and Mazda Lane. Every second person is an actor, scrobal or musician; and every third person is an agent trying to book him.

Village Life GREENWICH VILLAGE: In- habited by artists and poets who are getting money from home. Also by thousands of office workers who are content with kitchenettes installed in clothes closets.

Icees Spikes G. O. P. Gums in U. S. Mine Chief Squabble . . . Congress- man Johnson Stands for No Gypsy Hitler Plot Against Soviet Rumored . . . Hines in Bad For Boost to Senator Reed . . . Communists Make Lofty Claims.

By RODNEY DUTCHER
 Herald Washington Correspondent
 Washington, May 23—The Re- publican GHQ, secretly crouched to pounce on what it thinks will be the first invasion of the federal scientific services by Democratic spokesmen, might as well relax.

Secretary of Interior Ickes has surreptitiously disappointed it. The job involved is that of Scott Turner, chief of the Bureau of Mines, Hoover appointee. The bureau has just been transferred from the Commerce Department, to which Hoover annexed it years ago. Turner is an expert, unconnected with politics.

Word got around that Democ- rats would use the reorganization to get rid of Turner and put in a fellow with political endorse- ment. At least a dozen mining states formally advanced candi- dates for the job and there's been plenty of patronage pressure.

Ickes fooled politicians in both parties by quietly appointing a committee of scientists to which he gave a list of names, including Turner's. The committee may even decide to recommend Turner. Any- way, there'll be little excuse for the G. O. P. barrage now planned.

Congressman Fells a Gyp Members of the House were as- tonished the other day to find themselves being chauffeured up to Congress by a Capitol elevator by Congressman Jed Johnson of An- derson, Okla. His nephew, L. D. Johnson, is the regular operator.

It seemed young Johnson had had to take an hour off to keep an engagement and an acquaintance had offered to handle the elevator for a dollar. Uncle Jed heard about it and insisted it be highway rob- bery. He'd run it himself first. And he did.

Accuse Hitler of Giant Plot Certain people who make it part of their business to report confidentially to the state Depart- ment have dropped the tip that Hitler and his buddies are promot- ing an ambitious scheme to draw a "steel ring" around Russia and then close in.

Such reports square with knowl- edge of Germany's recent secret overtures to Japan and the known belief of some Nazi leaders that they should seek expansion east- ward.

Hitler, apparently, wants to line up Japan, Rumania, Poland, and the 30,000,000 Ukrainian Russians. If he could persuade Mussolini to send the Italian fleet into the Black Sea, so much the better.

The story seems fantastic and much of the evidence is inferential. But our diplomats wouldn't put it past Adolf. They doubt, however, whether Hitler can break up the French hegemony known as the Little Entente, which includes Pol- and and Rumania.

The French government recent- ly sent a high pressure salesman to Poland, who reported that the Poles weren't having any of Hitler—at least for the time being.

Hines Talks Out of Turn Someone in the Senate may yet rise to censure out General Frank D. Hines, Veterans' administrator, for his kind remarks about Sen- ator David A. Reed of Pennsylvania in a recent speech. Anyway, there's plenty of cloakroom squawking about it.

Republican Reed, in a hot fight for nomination against Governor Gifford Pinchot, took Hines along to a rally at the Union League Club in Philadelphia.

Hines referred glowingly to Reed's record and is reported to have said: "We need more Senator Reeds in the Congress of the United States."

Hines, official in a Democratic administration, was a Hoover ap- pointee.

Reds' Claims Soar The recent Communist conven- tion at Cleveland reported a party membership of 25,000. A Communist publication, mean- while, reports that 1500 persons "sign the red cards of Communism monthly . . . they become part of the leadership of the Communist Party represents today; they lead the masses in the heightened class struggle against the ultra-dema- gogue of NRA and Roosevelt; it strikes against the constantly de- creasing wage standards and in- creasingly burdensome conditions of labor; the war against the hun- ger of mass unemployment. . . . There's no way to check the lat- ter figure, but it's probably greatly exaggerated.

ONLY 18,000 FARM HORSES IN STATE

Crop and Livestock Reports for Connecticut Give Much Interesting Information.

Hartford, May 23—The total value of the principal farm crops exclusive of vegetables in Con- necticut during 1933, based on Decem- ber 1 farm prices, is estimated by the State Department of Agricul- ture to be $14,878,000. This is 7 per cent more than the 1932 value of $13,906,000 and compares with $17,125,000 which was the value of the same crops in 1931. Higher prices are given as the principal cause for the increase in crop values.

The number of livestock on Con- necticut farms was practically the same on January 1, 1934 as it was for the same date of the preceding year, according to the State De- partment of Agriculture. The only difference noted is a decrease of 1,000 horses, 3,000 swine and 1,000 sheep. The number of all cattle in- cluding calves has remained con- stant at an estimated number of 159,000 head during the past three years.

Old Dobbin is still being replaced on many Connecticut farms with some other form of power, according to the State Department of Agriculture. The department estimates that on January 1, 1934 there were only 18,000 horses on 19,000 in 1933 and 20,000 two years earlier. The number of horses in Connecticut has reduced steadily over a long period of years and the present total is less than one-half the number of horses on Connecti- cut farms in 1920. Coincident with the declining number during the past year has been an increase in value which has brought them up to an average of $102 per head.

The apple crop in Connecticut last year was 17 per cent less than the 1932 crop, according to the State Department of Agriculture. It is estimated that 1,184,000 bushels of apples were harvested. This com- pares to the 1,420,000 bushels crop of 1932 and the very light crop of 615,000 bushels in 1931. Although Connecticut's total apple crop was larger last year than in 1932, the commercial production was 13 per cent lower with estimated produc- tion of 285,000 barrels in 1933 as compared to 327,000 barrels in 1932 and 134,000 barrels in 1931.

Connecticut peaches will have at least two light production years in succession, according to the State Department of Agriculture. Freezing weather of this past winter and spring has practically ruined the 1934 crop and estimates compiled for 1933 show that there were only 172,000 bushels. This yield com- pares to a production of 215,000 bushels in 1932 and 210,000 bushels in 1931. The pear crop of 20,000 bushels in 1933 is estimated to be about 8,000 bushels less than the 1932 production and compares with 18,000 bushels harvested in 1931.

The early potato crop which goes into market from southern states promises to be considerably larger than the 1933 crop, according to in- formation released on May 16 by the New England Crop Reporting Service. It is expected that this year's acreage which is one-fourth larger in the seven early potato pro- ducing states will yield a crop 30 per cent greater than the 1933 pro- duction. In the second tier of early producing states the commercial plantings are estimated to be about one-third larger than the acreage harvested last year.

The number of sheep and swine according to estimates just released by the State Department of Agricul- ture. There was a total of 9,000 head of sheep on Connecticut farms in January, 1934 which compares to 10,000 head for the preceding year. The number of swine are estimated to

BLOOD EXAMINATIONS ARE IMPORTANT

Every good physician considers blood tests of the utmost impor- tance as an aid in making diagnoses. You will realize how important the blood is when you consider it the principal method of providing nour- ishment and drainage to practically every living cell of the body.

Contrary to the opinion of many people, taking a blood test is neither painful nor does it require the loss of much blood. In order to obtain the blood, a small amount is usually taken from the end of the finger or the lobe of the ear. The part is first cleansed with alcohol and dried. Then a small puncture is made with a special instrument which cuts through the skin with no more pain than that from the prick of a pin. The blood is then squeezed through the opening as the doctor presses just below and samples of the blood collected in sterile pipettes. After a few drops of blood have been re- moved, the spot is again sterilized and covered with some protective substance so that no germ can enter and is this way guarded against infection.

One of the usual tests made is to compare the color of the sample with the right shade for normal, healthy blood. If the color is too low, it is an indication that the hemoglobin of your blood is not plentiful enough. The color is ex- pressed in percentages, thus the normal blood may be said to range from 85 per cent to 100 percent. The hemoglobin of the red cells give them the special ability to ab- sorb oxygen. When the hemoglobin is reduced, it means that the cells of your body do not obtain as much oxygen as they should.

Usually the next step is to make a smear, that is, a small amount of blood is put on a glass slide. This is then placed under a microscope so that the cells can be distinguish- ed and counted. In this way it may be found whether the cells are in the normal range of color, shape and size. The comparative number of cells to each other and to the normal is of great importance.

Much publicity has recently been given in regard to the use of the blood test in determining the patri- dity of children in contesting di- vorce cases. The blood from the mother, from the child, and from the supposed father is all taken. By comparing the samples, it can sometimes be told from whom the child has inherited its blood. All blood may be divided into four groups. In case the four tests belong to the same grouping of blood or in case the two suspected fathers both have the same kind of blood, nothing can be determined.

Many parasites inhabiting the blood may be detected by the mi- croscopical examinations. The most common parasite to be found in the blood are those of malaria. In some of the tropical countries an organism known as trypanosoma or the parasite of sleeping sickness may be present in the blood. Some- times in tropical countries blood can be found containing quantities of a small worm called the filaria sangui- nis hominis.

The blood can also be tested for the Wassermann reaction. In this way the doctor may be able to de- termine the presence of a disease which might otherwise only be sus- pected. My readers know that in this column I have often warned noses without careful tests and you see from reading this article how important it is for you to have your blood examined the next time you wish a thorough diagnosis.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Question: Mrs. J. B. writes: "Is it ever advisable to use any kind of bread stuff with a meal containing either potatoes or meat?"

Answer: Genuine wholewheat crackers or muffins may be used in a limited quantity with either a meat or starchy food by those in good health. This is an exception to the general rule against the use of proteins and starches. The crackers or muffins occasionally, if it all right for you to use them.

Question: Mrs. J. O. W. writes: "Will you kindly tell me what causes an ache like a toothache in the middle of one's foot?"

Answer: Sometimes one of the bones in the arch of the foot be- comes slightly misplaced. This can usually be corrected by a Chiro- podist or by an Osteopath, who un- derstands the construction of the foot. While such condition may cause considerable distress, never- theless it is very often easily re- lieved.

Normal Blood Pressure
 Question: A. W. writes: "What is the Normal Blood Pressure?"

Answer: For the adult, the nor- mal blood pressure should be from 120 to 130 systolic. This should not increase much in those of advanced age, and should never go higher than 140.

'Dr.' Doumergue Cheerful As Old Fashioned Remedies Ease French Economic Ills

Paris—(AP)—Premier "Papa" Doumergue feels he has a good start in curing his people's troubles. All were a cue from President the matter with France?" to which Doumergue answered: "Politics!—Finance!—Dwindling business!"

Having diagnosed the ailment he is prescribing the old fashioned remedies of hard work, sacrifice and discipline.

His cure for politics is to elim- inate them.

His treatment for money trouble is a balanced budget and faith based on good works.

His medicine for poor business is to reduce costs so customers can buy.

In Roosevelt's Steps
 Evidently the former president of the republic, who came from retire- ment to stop bloodshed and "save France," warns his "friends" listen- ing in of "civil war" and the dan- ger of "foreign invasion."

When his ministers or others com- plain his ire is too loud, he threat- ens to return to his country home at Tournesville and let them shift for themselves. He smiles but means it.

Politics have been cured momen- tarily at least by forming a cabinet of all parties, with the ministers pledged to political peace. Each is charged with keeping his followers quiet. In time, Doumergue thinks, all will learn the forgotten lesson of cooperation.

Uses Scalpel On Budget
 Bad finances came from growing budget deficits and the unrest that combined to make people hoard their money and refuse to renew bonds. As the French government has a large floating debt and has long lived partly on borrowed money, three times in little more than a year there have been treas- ury crises.

Twice the government has had to borrow abroad, last year in London and recently in Amsterdam.

Doumergue, exacting decrees powers from parliament, balanced the budget, on paper at least, by re- ducing expenses largely through trimming the pay of 800,000 govern- ment employes and pensioners. He saved the equivalent of $264,000,000.

Aside from the budget deficit there is a railroad deficit of about the same amount, guaranteed by the government. Doumergue ordered much reorganization, includ- ing motorizing costly small "feeder" lines, often maintained solely for political reasons.

People Exhibit Confidence
 When the people saw the premier was cleaning the financial house, withdrawals from savings banks slackened and renewal of short time bonds gave the government money to operate.

Reestablishment of peace and of faith in the government, even the premier recognizes, still depends on the effectiveness of the measures taken and very much on the punish- ment of the judiciary, and the admit- ted criminality of a group in the famous "surete generale," the French secret service.

Police Seen As Gangsters
 Albert Sarraut, minister of the interior, weeks ago declared there was a "Mafia" at work in France, served by a band of assassins. The "surete generale" is accused of working with and even being a part of this mysterious gang.

Business is the present pressing problem of the "save France" cabi- net. Industrial leaders think things have hit bottom but each month for a long time the trend has been downward.

Costs are so high France finds it difficult to compete abroad. High costs reduce consumption at home.

Reduced consumption tends to maintain if not increase prices be- cause France is a country of small merchants and as the business vol- ume decreases, each proprietor needs larger profits to make a liv- ing.

Hope To Meet America
 Louis Germain-Martin, minister of finance, recently recognized French prices as "90 to 30 per cent above world levels."

Doumergue is trying to deflate He believes he can force prices down and that the United States will force prices up on world markets as the two will meet and France can do business again.

Critics of this program comment that budget economies, railroad re- organization and price reduction never can be fully realized and that it will be a year before appreciable results can be obtained.

Because You Folks
Are Valued Friends
And Prized Customers

Unusual circumstances alone prompt this letter. In April, I told you of certain plans I had in mind for changes in the store and of a Clearance Sale to prepare the way. The Clearance Sale was held as you know - because many of you were here - and was successful. We sold and delivered a lot of furniture but when we drew on the storehouses and tried to make proper displays of the remaining stock, honestly, it looked as though we hadn't made a dent.

Then we did a radical thing: took off the floor nearly a hundred fine pieces and put them in the storehouse. Still we are crowded. Still you have to walk through narrow aisles on three of our floors. This condition means needless expense for storehouse rental, constant possibility of damage from overcrowding, and the floors "look like thunder".

In the words of General Grant, "I mean to fight it out on this line if it takes all Summer". Consequently, with penalty to hoped-for profit and again throwing our organization into confusion, we will start on Thursday, May 24th, another timely Clearance Sale.

Part of the reductions to be made are listed to the right. You will find several unusual items in the list you will both like and need - therefore will buy; and both of us will be helpfully served.

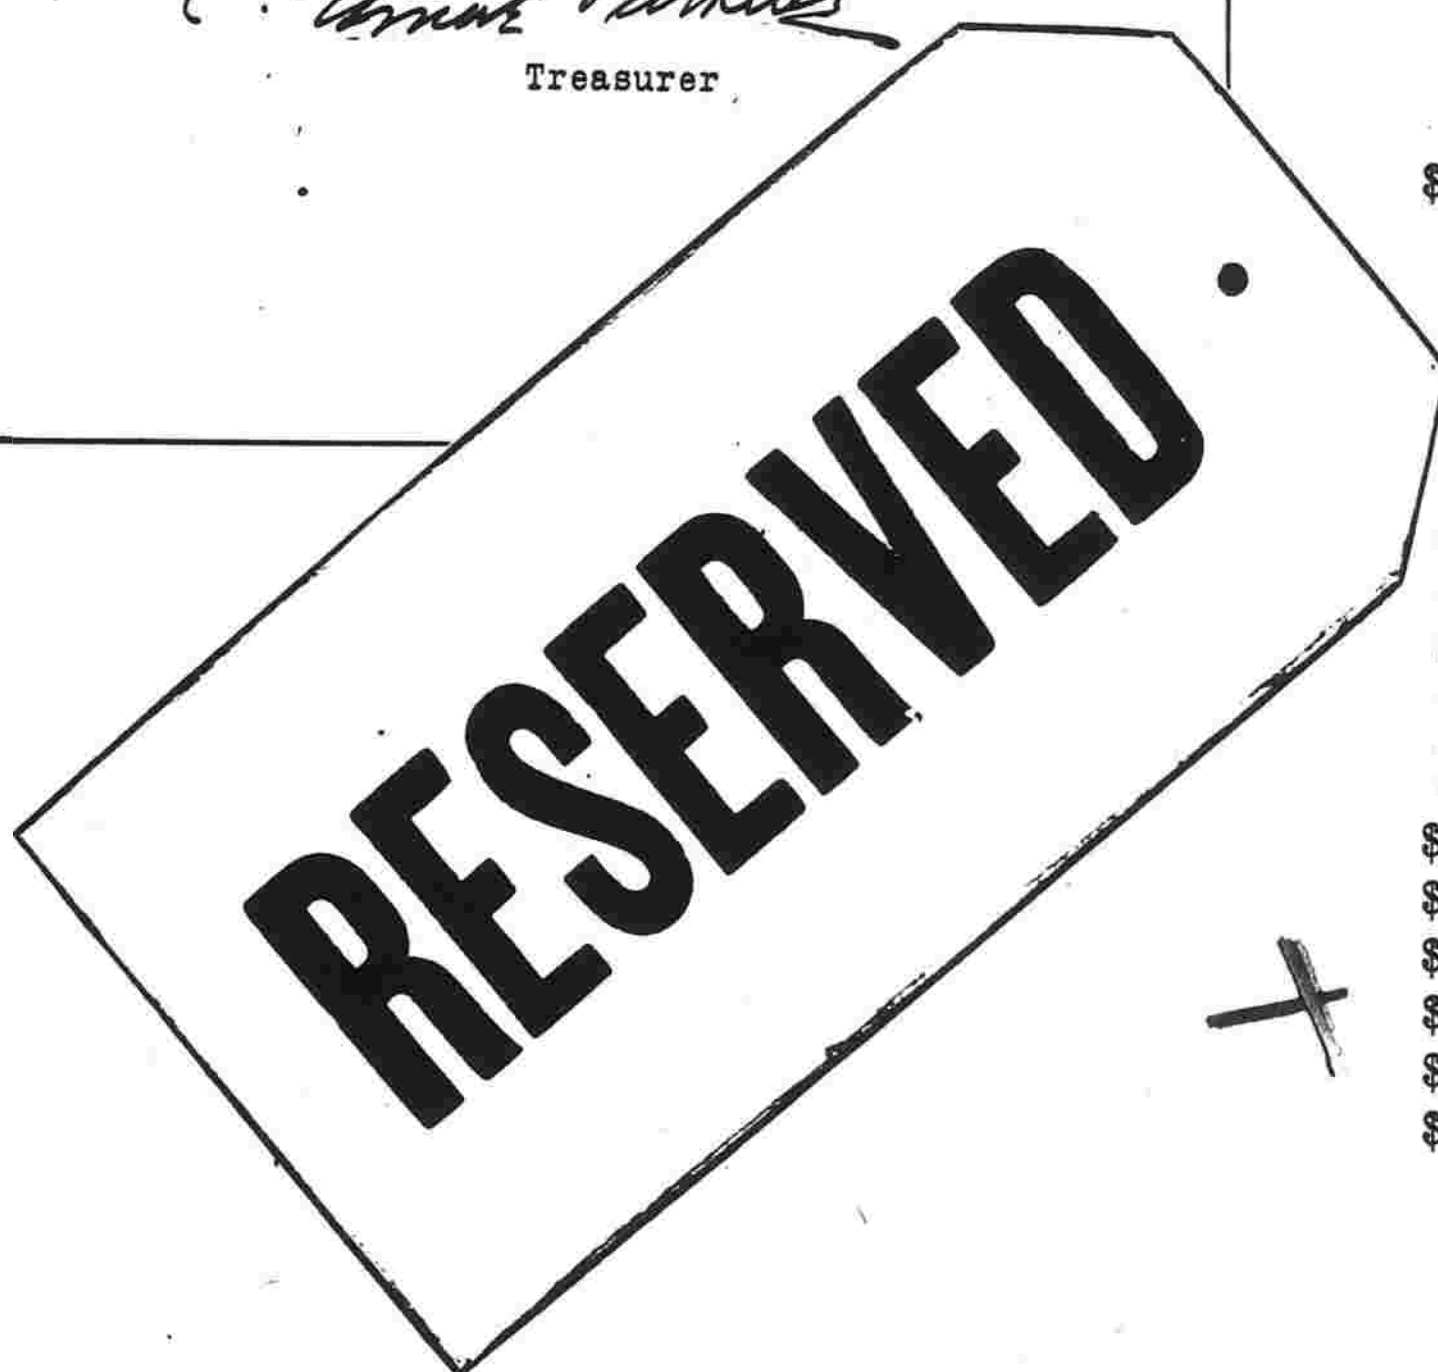

Sincerely, to serve you,

BIG SUIT SETTLED OUT OF THE COURT

Twenty-two Lawyers Used in Bridgeport Legal Action—Million Involved.

Bridgeport, May 23.—(AP)—A settlement out of court was reached today in a $100,000 damage action that involved the estate of the late Norman P. Ream of Thompson, at one time considered the state's wealthiest resident.

The action in which 22 attorneys are interested, arose out of the man's will in which Ream, Edward K. Ream of Louisville, Ky., sought to gain the income of a trust fund established by his father and reputed to come close to the $1,000,000 mark.

The suit was brought by the National Iron Bank of Pottstown, Pa., and Edward J. Storb, also of Pottstown, as trustee under the will of Norman P. Ream and the Pottstown bank.

The litigation was aimed against Norman Ream, Greenwich; Robert Ream, Stamford; and the New York Trust Company as trustees under the will of the late Norman P. Ream of Thompson and his wife, Caroline P. Ream, all of Thompson.

All Beneficiaries All of the Reams including the Louisville resident, Edward K. Ream, are beneficiaries under these trusts. Edward, to get the benefit of the income from the trusts issued what is known as state bonds on himself in Pennsylvania, bearing interest to be paid from the income and from premiums on insurance policies. The Pottstown bank is the holder of considerable of these bonds.

One issue, for $850,000 and the one at stake in the litigation, so reduced the income from the trusts that it merely paid the interest on the bonds held by the bank.

The standing between Edward K. Ream and the bank became a bit uneasy when Ream, to meet the situation that had arisen, contended that he was not responsible for the interest on the bonds as his part of the income from the trusts was not assignable. He said that the bank should pay the interest.

MONEY STABILIZATION NEEDED, SAYS PUBLISHER

the restoration of the monarchy with Otto the Pretender on the throne is necessary.

"Economically, Europe would work best if gradually were it not for the political situation which for the moment, dominates economics.

"The atmosphere at present is wholly unfriendly to the progress of negotiations between European countries looking toward greater international trade and the lowering of tariff barriers and quotas.

Adjust Currencies. "This hair-trigger condition obtaining in Europe might be used skillfully by the American government to achieve an immediate stabilization of international exchange. All Europe is longing hungrily for the stabilization of economic conditions and it is universally recognized here that the first step to this end is the prompt adjustment of currencies on a stable basis in relation to each other.

"A courageously launched and vigorously pressed campaign by America to bring about an international conference for monetary stabilization would, I believe, meet with the universal acceptance of Europe.

"Since, in the United States, we have achieved a substantial stabilization of the domestic dollar it would seem that this is the natural next step.

"It should not be overlooked that, because of the outcome of the London economic conference last year, Europe is waiting for the United States to take the initiative."

CONFESSES KILLING A NAVAL OFFICER

Greensburg, Kas. Informed that Kansas officers were unable to find the body, Hudgins signed an extradition waiver and volunteered to join the hunt.

Hudgins was arrested at Thatcherville, Okla., Sunday night, when he drove Trowbridge's blood-stained automobile into a garage for repairs.

His Confession The hitch-hiker's confession told how Trowbridge gave him a ride at Thatcherville, Okla., Saturday. He said that shortly after he entered the car they began drinking.

"The man had me drive the car," said Hudgins, "and about fifteen miles north of Greensburg, Kas., he told me if I hit another bump that had hit me on the head with a hammer.

"After a while I got a chance to grab the hammer he held and hit him with it. I hit him on the left side of the head, and after I hit him, by the time I got the car stopped he held it of me. I had to hit him several times with the hammer to get him loose from me."

Friends of Trowbridge in San Diego, Calif., his home, said he left there last week to drive to Hayward, Wis., for a visit with his father, reported critically ill.

Hudgins, whose home is in Lucas, Miss., told officers he was released about a year ago from the Parchman, Miss., prison for volunteering as a subject of medical experiments and permitting himself to be bitten by mosquito, suspected of carrying a disease.

CLYDE BARROW SLAIN WITH BONNIE PARKER

weeks, taking up their post soon after being commissioned to track down the desperado pair, dead or alive.

The two former Rangers aiding the deputies were Frank Hamer, former captain, and M. T. Goss.

FIRST BULLETIN Shreveport, La., May 23.—(AP)—A man and a woman identified by Bienville parish officers as Clyde Barrow, noted southwestern desperado, and Bonnie Parker, cigar-smoking woman companion, were shot and killed today between Sales and Gibeland, in Bienville Parish. They were slain by officers, reports reaching here said.

Circumstances of the killings were not immediately available.

Frank Hamer, former captain of Texas Rangers, and a party of six officers who waited on the roadside near Sales, are reported to have slain Barrow and the Parker woman. Hamer has been on the trail of the Barrow gang for several months. He had worked out his route and secured the aid of deputies from Sheriff Henderson Jordan, of Bienville Parish.

Six officers, armed with shotguns waited on the road for the car to come along, and killed Barrow and the woman without the officers firing a shot, it was reported from the sheriff's office at Arcadia, and by Sheriff Hughes here.

Reports here were to the effect that as Barrow and the Parker woman were overwhelmed by the officers both reached for machine guns but were riddled before they could use them.

BARROW'S CAREER

Dallas, Tex., May 23.—(AP)—Clyde Champion Barrow, the southwest's Number One Public Enemy, was sought in connection with at least a dozen killings throughout the southwest, on several of which he faced formal charges of murder.

His police record dates from 1926 when he was arrested in Dallas for automobile theft. In 1930, still known only as a minor hoodlum, he was sentenced to the Texas penitentiary for 14 years on burglary and theft charges.

Early in 1932 Barrow was granted a general parole by Gov. Ross Sterling, shortly thereafter embarking on his spectacular career of armed robbery and terrorism.

Here are some of the crimes for which Clyde Barrow, either alone or in company with his brother, Marvin, killed by officers in Iowa in 1933, was wanted:

April 30, 1932—Murder of J. W. Bucher, filling station operator at Hillsboro, Tex.

August 5, 1932—Murder of Deputy Sheriff E. C. Moore at Atoka, Okla.

October 11, 1932—Killing of Howard Hall, grocery clerk, at Sherman, Texas.

Dec. 25, 1932—Killing of Doyle Johnson at Temple, Tex.

January 7, 1933—Killing of Deputy Sheriff Malcolm Davis in Dallas.

April 10, 1933—Slaying of Constable J. W. Harryman and Detective Harry McGinnis at Joplin, Mo.

June 23, 1933—Killing of Marshall Henry Humphrey at Van Buren, Ark.

January 16, 1934—Killing of Major Crowson, guard at State Prison farm near Huntsville, Tex., when Barrow allegedly staged a raid in which Raymond Hamilton, convicted killer and bank robber, and four other convicts were liberated.

April 1, 1934—Killing of E. B. Wheeler and H. D. Murphy, Texas highway patrolmen, near Grapeville, Tex.

April 6, 1934—Killing of Constable Cal Campbell at Miami, Okla. Bonnie Parker, Barrow's companion on many of his forays, was charged by officers with active participation in the gunplay.

Most of the victims charged to Barrow's deadly machine gun and pistol fire fell without a chance to protect themselves. The outlaw seemingly developed a bitter hatred of the law and its enforcers, resorting ruthlessly to firearms at the slightest provocation.

'TWISTER' HITS TALCOTTVILLE

Tree Uprooted and Water-spout Created by Wind-storm on Pond There.

A "Twister" rarely observed in this part of the country careened swiftly up the course of the Tankaroon River in Talcottville during the thunderstorm last evening, uprooted a large elm tree on the property of Talcott Brothers at the edge of the bridge and created a water-spout 30 feet high over Talcott's pond before dying out in the distance.

Part of the fallen tree fell on top of the bridge and some of the branches were spread over the road. A crew of men from Rockville were called to remove the debris. The "Twister", which was a windstorm of high velocity, did no other damage.

The old elm tree will be remembered by oldtimers as the tree which prevented the bridge from being swept away by the turbulent waters of Tankaroon river, which normally is nothing more than a stream, during the famous flood of 1868.

Although the thunderstorm seemed to be centered in the vicinity of Talcottville, Wapping and Rockville, no damage from lightning was reported from those places. The electrical storm and the steady rain that followed broke the back of the heat wave in evidence during the past few days and brought considerably cooler weather.

DEMOCRATS EXPECTING SUCCESSOR TO FARLEY

Postmaster General Says Resignation Up to President Roosevelt.

Washington, May 23.—(AP)—Speculation as to the length of Postmaster General Farley's tenure as Democratic chairman was reopened today by a new divorce between a national committeeman and a Federal job.

Both President Roosevelt and Farley have agreed the latter would abandon his political chairmanship as soon as a successor is found. Democratic chieftains are looking around, chiefly westward.

Farley now says his resignation is "up to the chief." Party leaders regard a new line-up certain before the fall campaign.

Horatio J. Abbott of Michigan was the latest national committeeman with a Federal job to send in his resignation. But unlike most the others, he left his government post and today still was on the committee.

Abbott was collector of internal revenue for Michigan when charges were made that employes in his office—George Woods, his secretary, and John T. Emerson, of Emerson of Boston, was to be re-assigned in superior court today for a strange reason—kidnaping.

Sprague was to have appeared yesterday in court in his $15,000 suit against Emerson for injuries he claims to have suffered when he was struck a year ago by Emerson's car.

Monday night, Sprague claims, he agreed to drive two strangers to Long Hill. In an isolated spot near Stevenson dam, he told police, the men flourished guns and guarded him from 11 o'clock Monday night until 8 o'clock last night. When another car approached the place, the men fled.

FISCHER, WESTLAND BOW IN GOLF PLAY

Goodman, Dunlap, Little and Guilford Survive in British Amateur.

Prestwick, Scotland, May 23.—(AP)—Johnny Fischer and Jack Westland fell by the wayside today, but Johnny Goodman and George T. Dunlap Jr., American open and amateur champions, respectively, and W. Lawson Little and Jesse Guilford, galloped gayly on in the British amateur golf championship.

Fischer, the young Cincinnati star, lost a thrill-packed third round match to Jack McLean, young Scottish and Irish champion and the pride of Prestwick. Shooting sub-par golf, the local golfer established a lead of two up at the halfway mark and finally noosed out his over-seas rival by that margin.

Westland, a Chicago broker, underclubbed his way out of the championship, bowing to Roger Chambers, 1923 titleholder, who played steadily to win by three and two. In order to catch up with the lead, Goodman and Little each played two matches and they won their jousts with plenty to spare. Goodman defeated Capt. G. A. Rusk, of St. Andrews by 5 and 3 in a second round, and the American king then took

MISS MILDRED BERGGREN G CLEF CLUB PRESIDENT

Officers Elected at Annual Meeting Held in Mrs. W. P. Law's Home Here.

The G Clef club at its annual meeting held last evening at the home of Mrs. W. P. Law of Coburn road, elected the following officers to serve for the coming year:

WAPPING

The Federated Sunday school will hold the regular monthly social next Friday evening at the Community church house at 7:30.

Mrs. Mary V. Ackley, who was a resident of Wapping for many years, returned recently from her winter home in Florida, and was taken to hospital in Boston, Mass., where she has had several X-ray pictures taken.

The South Windsor Garden club will hold its next meeting this evening at the Wood Memorial library.

The Connecticut Valley farmers have signed up nearly 100 per cent of their tobacco and to the government in an acreage reduction program.

REPORT CARDS

Report cards were given out Tuesday after school. They will be due on Friday of this week.

COMMENTARY

A Senior Class meeting will be held Wednesday at which a discussion will be carried on concerning commencement.

Were They "Mushy" In Shakespeare's Time?

Were young men and women in love, "mushy" at the time of Shakespeare? The freshman English class, Div. II, which is studying "As You Like It" had quite a discussion on ancient love affairs.

STEADINESS PUTS CIVIELLO IN LEAD

Captain of High School Golf Team Wins Against Field of Thirty.

The steady playing of Harold Civello, captain of the Manchester High Golf team, brought him victory over a field of thirty entries from schools in the Hartford District on May 19th.

STUDENTS SPEAK ON ROOM CHARM

Plans Outlined for Keeping the Study Halls Clean and Tidy.

Talks on keeping study halls neat in appearance were given each period on Tuesday in Room 23M and Room 4M.

CINDER NEWS

M. H. S. received its final test Friday before entering the State Interscholastic meet next week when the team took on West Hartford in another dual meet of the C. C. I. L. circuit.

It is interesting to note that in the nine years of C. C. I. L. track contests, Coach Wigren has produced six teams that have won the league title, five of them being won in as many consecutive years.

SPORT SLANTS

Friday afternoon the greatest baseball game of the century (?) will take place. Mt. Nebo, that historic old ball diamond, will be the site on which the baseball drama, rivaled in high school sports only by Manchester-Bristol contests, will be unfolded.

In giving the pre-game dope I may seem slightly prejudiced in favor of the Hermits as I play the left field on that team but switched there from right field when it was discovered that the Bullnecks hit mainly to right field.

$471 Expense To Probe Liquor Sales In 1884

The annual report of the Selectmen of the Town of Manchester for the year ending September 15, 1884—fifty years ago—has been brought to light by the recent request of the Chamber of Commerce for copies of town reports to complete a library that will be maintained at the Chamber office for reference and study by members and townspeople.

The report, consisting of a 17-page leaflet in a fine state of preservation, was given to the Chamber by John M. Williams of 30 Hudson street, whose father, the late Elisha Williams, was second Selectman at that time. C. D. Parsons was first Selectman and he and Mr. Williams were Republicans. C. O. Treat was third Selectman and was a Democrat.

The report contains much of interest to those who can recollect when Manchester was a village of some 6,200 inhabitants. It is replete with names of citizens who played an important part in the affairs of the town in the eighties, most of whom have long since passed away.

A recapitulation of the various items of the budget, then known as Selectman's Orders, for the year ending September 15, 1884, to which was added sundry other disbursements to make a grand total outlay of $35,768.04 for the year, as against receipts of $34,075.70. There was only an indebtedness of $1,692.34 contracted for justices' fees in criminal cases. Daniel Wadsworth was then the town treasurer. The report was audited by O. P. Wilkes and Lucius Pinney.

The Selectmen's Orders listed the following items: almshouse, $1,466.15; outdoor aims, $3,161.57; highways, $2,883.52; extra highway improvements, $983.52; cemeteries, $383.66; schools, $11,501.47; lock-ups, $13.05; bridges, $164.08; miscellaneous, $2,472.16.

The receipts for the year include such interesting items as $158 from the town clerk for 140 dogs registered and $471.62 from sundry persons to reimburse the town for all expense incurred in suppressing the illegal sale of intoxicating liquors, while the disbursements include an item of $122 for globes and drawing paper for common schools, by order of the town.

Under the heading of miscellaneous expenditures, are included the following: $29.50 to Herbert Annis, for services as registrar and advertising; $25 to C. H. Arnold, for services as registrar; $65 to James Lyons, for services as assessor; $174.40 to John M. Williams, for services as assessor and making rate book; $7 to Aaron Cook (grandfather of the present head of the Board of Selectmen, who bears the same name), of the Board of Relief; $6 to John S. Cheney, Board of Relief; $40.57 to Daniel Wadsworth, for recording 159 births, 66 marriages, 96 deaths, and making the abstracts for the town, state, etc.; C. O. Treat, for services as assessor, $100; Elisha Williams for the same, $100; and C. D. Parsons, for the same, $480.

LATEST STOCKS

New York, May 23.—(AP)—Financial markets were a little sluggish today and prices, as a whole, were inclined to drift to moderately lower levels.

Overnight consideration of the President's silver message found speculative circles somewhat confused and a bit disappointed that the aid proffered the white metal did not provide the inflationary stimulus sufficient to lift stocks and staples. Equities, especially those of the steel category, were in supply. Trading activity, however, was dull and intermittent rallies found the ticker tape barely moving. Grains showed some recovery on further indications that little relief was in sight for the drought-stricken areas. Cotton dropped most of the time, as did silver and rubber futures. Secondary bonds were a trifle soft, but prime investment loans maintained a steady to firm position. The dollar developed strength in foreign exchange transactions.

Some scattered shares registered gains of fractions to around a point. Among these were Otis Elevator, Brooklyn-Manhattan-Transit, American Commercial Alcohol and Westinghouse. Losers of as much included U. S. Steel, Bethlehem Steel, Chrysler, Case, American Telephone, Dupont, Montgomery Ward, Eastman Kodak, Santa Fe, N. Y. Central, Howe Sound, American Smelting, Kennecott and Cerro de Pasco. U. S. Smelting lost a point or so then retrieved the decline.

LANDSLIDE KILLS 250

Hongkong, May 23.—(AP)—At least 250 men, women and children were reported to have perished today in a devastating landslide at Lokohang in northern Kwangtung Province of China.

The reports, from Chinese sources, said heavy rains caused a slide on the Kaiman mountain burying villages while water in torrents poured down the mountainside driving many.

Doctors were said to have drowned when huge waves rolled over after the slide crashed into a strait containing 100 river boats.

DOCTORS' CONVENTION
Bridgport, May 23.—(AP)—Sixty physicians, representing the jurisdictional and executive body of the Connecticut State Medical Society, registered today for the opening session of the 142nd annual meeting, held here today. Approximately 300 members are expected. The initial session of the convention was held by the council, the jurisdictional body of medical men of the state, composed of one representative from each county.

FOY IS NOTIFIED OF HARTFORD FIRE

Apparatus Made Ready To Assist But Services Were Not Needed.

Fire Chief Albert Foy of the South Manchester fire department was notified soon after 10 o'clock last night of the fire on Commerce street, Hartford, by the Hartford fire department. The chief was ready to send a company from the South Manchester department to assist in case there was another call for aid.

The South Manchester and Manchester fire departments are both members of the mutual aid, and while Manchester has been notified on several occasions of fires in Hartford it has never been necessary for the local apparatus to assist in the Hartford district. Under the plan of operation, when there is extra help needed in Hartford an East Hartford company goes to Hartford. This leaves part of the East Hartford district unprotected and the Manchester company moves into East Hartford. This saves time, as the East Hartford department does not have so far to drive as the Manchester department, and about the time that the East Hartford company reaches Hartford a Manchester company will be in East Hartford.

TANK CRASH KILLS THREE

Chicago, May 23.—(AP)—The thundering plunge of a steel water tank through the upper floors of the seven story Oakley building left three dead and seven injured today.

Three others were missing but were immediately because of the fear that tangled steel and smashed masonry would come crashing down in another collapse.

The known dead were Kenneth Healy, 29, an engraver employed on the top floor; George Fischer, 69, a commercial artist who had a business visit in the building, and an unidentified man. Their bodies were recovered.

Pirates Regain the Lead As Cubs Lose

YANKEES MARGIN AGAIN CLIPPED BY CLEVELAND

Paul Dean Hurls Cards to Win Over Giants; Reds Defeat Braves; Senators Trim Tigers, Browns Jump from Seventh to Fifth Place.

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR. Associated Press Sports Writer
The Pittsburgh Pirates had returned to the top of the National League standing today and a major share of the credit belonged to Ralph Birkofer, young southpaw who came up to the Buccaners from Toronto late last season.

While the veteran Larry French, only other left-hander on the staff, has been slow to round into form, Birkofer has blossomed out as one of the league's most effective elbowers.

The Pirates' 13-4 victory over the Phillies yesterday gave the youngster his fifth triumph against only one defeat. He was rapped rather freely, giving nine hits before rain halted the contest at the end of seven innings, but there was no need to bear down after Freddy Lindstrom's homer with the bases filled in the fifth had given him a 13-2 lead.

The victory sent the Cubs into the lead by a few percentage points over the Chicago Cubs who blew a 5-4 decision to Brooklyn in the 12th when Augie Egan let a grounder go through him. Hack Wilson's pinch homer in the ninth paved the way for the Dodger triumph.

The Dean family of St. Louis brought the count up to 4-0 against the Giants as the Cardinals batted out a 7 to 4 victory behind the younger member, Paul. Each of the brothers has beaten the world champions twice. The Cards got the winning runs in the ninth when Lefty O'Doul failed to hold Joe Medwick's fly when the sacks were crammed and it went for a triple.

The Cincinnati Reds shattered their hard luck streak when they piled up 17 hits behind Paul Derringer to beat the Braves 10-4 and gave the big right hander his first victory of the season.

The Yankees' lead in the American League dwindled further when the Cleveland Indians walloped the Red Sox 5 to 1 behind the three-hit hurling of Lloyd Brown which effectively offset Lou Gehrig's tenth homer. The victory left Cleveland only a game and a half behind while Washington moved into a virtual tie with Detroit for third place by trimming the Tigers 5 to 2 behind Al Crowder's steady hurling.

Rogers Hornsby's Browns made another jump from seventh place to fifth when they scored six runs in the ninth to defeat Philadelphia 12 to 11 after the A's had scored nine runs in the last two frames. The White Sox also won in the ninth, edging out the Red Sox 6 to 5 when Henry Johnson walked in the deciding run.

FRENCH HARD COURT TENNIS PLAY OPENS

Paris, May 23.—(AP)—The first big tennis fixture of the season, the French hard court championships, opened today in Roland Garros stadium with a cosmopolitan entry list which included eight Americans.

POLAND SENDS TEAM INTO GOLDEN GLOVES

Chicago, May 23.—(AP)—Poland, tonight will attempt to accomplish what France, Ireland and Germany failed to do in previous years—smack the chin in the fourth international golden gloves contest, presented by the Chicago Tribune.

TWO BATTLES END IN DRAW VERDICTS

Fred Steele Meets Gorillo Jones, Kid Chocolate Faces Tommy Paul.

Seattle, May 23.—(AP)—Fred Steele, hard punching Tacoma, Wash., battler, climbed another step on the way to national status recognition last night by earning a draw decision with Gorillo Jones, Akron, Ohio, former N. B. A. middleweight titleholder, in a 10-round bout here. Steele weighed 158 3-4 pounds and Jones 151 1/2.

Steele, Washington State welterweight champion fighting his fourth bout in the middleweight division, won an edge by his aggressiveness in the first six rounds but came close to losing the decision when the Negro whirled him around the ring with a driving right to the chin in the eighth, ninth and tenth to easily gain back any losing points.

A crowd estimated at 8,000 one of the largest ever to gather at a boxing match in Seattle, packed the big ice arena.

CHOCOLATE IN DRAW

Los Angeles, May 23.—(AP)—Kid Chocolate, former featherweight champion of the world, met another ex-title holder in this class last night, Tommy Paul, Buffalo, N. Y., and went through a dull ten round bout to a draw. Chocolate weighed 128, two pounds less than Paul.

Local Sport Chatter

The first game of the Rec-Legion junior league, scheduled between the Red Sox and Tigers last evening, was called off in the first half of the fourth inning, due to the heavy rain. The Red Sox had gained a lead of 16 to 0 when the game ended, scoring two in the first, nine in the second and five in the third. Except for the fact that the Tiger pitchers were unable to find the plate. If the opening games demonstrate that teams are out of balance, it is planned to swap players to even up the strength of the six teams in the league.

Charges that Trade schools which are members of the Interscholastic Athletic Conference are violating rules of membership certainly doesn't apply to the local State Trade school. Director J. G. Edmundson made it plain today that the local school is living up to every rule and will not tolerate any violation by its athletics. Two members of the baseball team were recently dropped for playing with outside teams and similar dismissal await any game player who violates the regulations.

MICHIGAN-THE WINNER OF GOLF TITLE AGAIN

Chicago, May 12.—(AP)—The University of Michigan won its third consecutive Western Conference golf title yesterday when Charley Kocalski, the Wolverine star, maintained the steady pace he set Monday and finished the 72 holes at the Kildeer Country Club with a score of 283, one under par.

COCHET AND TILDEN IN PRO SEMI-FINALS

New York, May 23.—(AP)—Big Bill Tilden and Henri Cochet, tennis rivals in the amateur days, filled the first two brackets in the semifinal round of the eastern professional tennis championship today.
Tilden romped through his quarter-final match with Alfred H. Chapin, Jr. of Boston, yesterday, 6-4, 6-2, 6-2, but Cochet had a struggle on his hands before he could eliminate the Texan, Bruce Barnes, 6-4, 10-8, 9-7.

High School Netmen Again Defeat Hartford High, 3-2

A change of schedule sent Manchester High's netmen against Hartford High yesterday afternoon on the local high school courts in a match that virtually duplicated the earlier encounter, the score again being 3 to 2 in favor of the Red and White. It was the fifth straight victory for Manchester.
Again Harris was the only singles player on the local team to win and again Manchester won two doubles. This time it was the Urbanetti-Harris doubles match against Hartford that lasted the longest, going to three sets before

Playing Garden City Links Like Trip To St. Andrews

By HARRY GRAYSON (NEA Sports Editor)
New York—Most country clubs haven't been any too particular about members since the depression let down the bars, but the staid Garden City Golf Club, out on Long Island, has traveled along in the same conservative and serene stride. In many respects, this club resembles ancient British associations more than any in this country.

There is the same air of lavender and old lace. The same hoary traditions are rigorously upheld. There is the same aspect of gentility and the same devotion to the sport that characterizes St. Andrews, Troon, Prestwick, Glen Eagles, and other old country groups of ancient and patrician lineage.

Defeats Lester Rankin, 5 and 3, to Gain Third Round of Golf Tourney; Meets Eric McRuvie, Scottish Ace, This Afternoon.

Prestwick, Scotland, May 23.—(AP)—W. Lawson Little, young San Francisco golfer, advanced into the third round of the British amateur championship today, defeating Lester Rankin of Sunningdale, 5 and 3.
Playing some of the finest golf of his career, Little was only two over Prestwick's strenuous par for the 15 holes the match lasted. The San Francisco golfer led a two-hole lead on the first nine and then put the match on ice by winning the first three holes of the incoming trip when Rankin blew up.

Lawson Little Advances In The British Amateur

He got out with the next and with a 14, failed to qualify for anything, including membership, inasmuch as a half dozen members had listened to his remarks. He never was admitted.
The Garden City Golf Club was built for golf and golfers in 1898, and the present generation plainly sees no reason to switch from the main idea.

MATA HARI FAVORED IN ILLINOIS DERBY

Chicago, May 23.—(AP)—Mata Hari, the game little filly which thrilled more than 55,000 spectators by setting the early pace in the Kentucky Derby, figures to go to the post favorite today in the $10,000 added Illinois Derby, closing the 20 day meeting at Aurora. The distance will be a mile and an eighth. A field of 14 was named in the overnight entries.
It is believed that at least ten will accept the issue for the first big purse of Illinois season. The field will include Flight, winner of the Texas Derby; Indiana Salute, Boy Valet, bred by Col. Edward R. Bradley, and Patchcock, one of the outstanding three year olds.

HIGH SHRUBBERY HIDES R. R. TRACKS FROM VIEW

Horace Murphey and J. J. Dwyer Agent for the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad in Manchester, was in conference this morning with Park Superintendent Horace Murphey regarding the condition of the shrubbery that grows on the north side of the railroad tracks on North Main street from Main street east.

There has been such a thick growth that the view of the tracks from North Main street is almost hidden from automobile drivers. The conference this morning was in regard to trimming the shrubbery, which has grown exceptionally high this year and is badly in need of care.

The proposed improvement will add to the appearance of that section and also reduce the hazard at the Main street railroad crossing.

ERA PROGRAM HERE HANGS IN BALANCE

Town Faces 50 Per Cent Reduction Unless $4,000,000 More Is Granted.

Facing the possibility of a 50 per cent reduction in the budget for emergency relief, Chairman Frank Cheney Jr., certifying officer George H. Waddell, and Supervising Engineer Hayden L. Griswold are in Hartford this afternoon at a meeting called for the purpose of explaining the summer schedule of the Emergency Relief Administration of the State. Miss Eleanor H. Little state administrator, will preside.

Plenty of Excitement It is expected that the conference of state relief administrators this afternoon will provide plenty of excitement as it is known that but few cities or towns in the state are satisfied with the plan now in force. Under the ERA plan as instituted six weeks ago, $6,000,000 was allotted to the State of Connecticut. Based on the relief quotas of the state, a brief in support of claims for increased appropriation of $4,000,000 was prepared by Rollin B. Posey, director of the Hartford Research department, to which was submitted estimates for the remainder of the year by the state's, towns and cities.

Brief Submitted The brief was submitted to Governor Cross by Mayor Beach of Hartford and Rollin B. Posey, Governor Cross, after reviewing the estimates, stated he was convinced the state needed the additional appropriation from Federal funds. The conference today is preliminary to a trip to Washington composed of a delegation of Connecticut mayors and relief administrators, seeking the increased appropriation recommended.

Would Work Hardship The proposed 50 per cent reduction in ERA work relief will work considerable hardship in Manchester. Last week 218 ERA workers received $2,707.75 and with a reduction in the budget for Manchester of from 45 to 50 per cent, it will mean that no more than 125 of the several hundred applicants eligible for ERA work relief will be gainfully employed.

Under the ERA plan, certification of work relief projects has been slow. Several projects approved under the CWA were to be dropped during the summer months and jobs which could be more advantageously carried on during the summer were to be substituted. In view of the proposed reduction in budget, the future program in Manchester is indefinite.

POLICE COURT

Found by Policeman John Cavanaugh in the hayloft of a day-laborer's livery stable on Purnell place last night, William MacDonald and Frank Hapenny, two old offenders, were arrested on charges of vagrancy. In police court today each man was given an opportunity to enjoy the comforts of a real cot in the county jail for the next sixty days, by receiving a sentence for that length of time.

Wilbert I. Tedford, of East Center street, charged with assault on a child of a young High school girl, will appear in court Saturday morning as the result of a plea for continuance, made by his counsel, Attorney George Lesner, to allow time in which the mentality of the youth will be examined. Tedford went to jail until Saturday in default of a $1,000 bond.

Paul Jodoin, said to have been with Tedford at the time the alleged assault was committed, was charged with breach of the peace. His case also will be heard Saturday. Unable to raise a bond of $200, he was sent to jail.

John Knybel, 19, of 33 Brooklyn street, Rockville, who was involved in an accident on Tolland Turnpike last evening when the car he was driving ran into a bus, was arrested on a charge of reckless driving. His case was continued to Friday. A bond of $100 was fixed which was furnished by his mother, which was continued by driving an automobile with improper brakes, was fined $10 and costs.

20th-CENTURY Communication and how it came about, as related by GEORGE ARLISS

from data discovered during the filming of "THE HOUSE OF ROTHSCHILD"

Geo. Arliss Concludes Communications Story

By GEORGE ARLISS

Chapter VI

The semaphore, of which we spoke in the preceding chapters, underwent a metamorphosis from a visual to an audible agency of communication, chiefly through the electrical experiments of Samuel F. B. Morse, in 1832. It was put into first practical application by him in 1844. The visual methods of transmitting signals remained in almost universal use as far as Europe and Asia were concerned, until late in the nineteenth century.

It must not be supposed that Morse invented the perfect telegraph of this day and age, unaided. Many men and many nations developed the sciences of electricity and magnetism, fundamental telegraphic sciences. It was the application of the Morse ingenuity to these scientific developments which today allows the entire world to keep in touch with all its parts.

And a tremendous step from the dot and dash method of Morse was made by the new Simplex machine. This development of the telegraph, as adopted by Western Union, now utilizes an automatic printing or typing receiver, which receives and records, in the fashion of a typewriter, messages which have been actually typed in a similar manner, on a similar machine at another point.

Had one of these machines been at my disposal instead of the method called for by the honesty of the script, it is likely that as a child in "The House of Rothschild," my new feature for 20th Century, I would have been worshipped or martyred as one with diabolic powers, instead of being allowed to pose as a shrewd bargainer with an altruistic diplomat complex.

I trust that my new picture will be as entertaining to you as have been the research incidents in this quest for data, to me. To you, and to Mr. George Forster, whose "Story of Communication" is now in preparation, I say "thanks."

(THE END)

World Capitals' Reaction To Roosevelt's Silver Note

(By Associated Press)

World capitals turned a speculative eye today upon President Roosevelt's proposal to Congress for a bimetallic basis for currency. High lights of the foreign comment follow.

London—The Post said "events alone can show whether the whole project is anything more than a devious maneuver to put silver on the shelf."

The Times: "It is extremely doubtful how far prices will be affected by manipulating the metallic content of the currency unit. 'It looks as though the President has yielded to the silver interests, but the whole history of Roosevelt's clever resistance to the more extreme demands of the silver advocates makes a more cautious view necessary.'"

The labor-Socialist Herald: "Roosevelt has capitulated pretty completely to the silver interests."

Rome—How the new American metallic standard might affect war debt payments interested Italy. It was said that if Italy could save money by paying in silver she would do so. In any event, however, only a 10 per cent token payment is planned June 15.

Paris—France feigned disinterest.

Berlin—Official comment was withheld. The Lokal Anzeiger, commenting on the President's suggestion of an international bimetallic standard, expressed doubt that an agreement to use both silver and gold could be reached.

Mexico, D. F.—The Mexican silver market showed no definite reaction to the Roosevelt message. The opinion was expressed that traders were awaiting definite legislation at Washington.

Shanghai—Chinese bankers and commercial leaders expressed virtually unreserved approval, believing the passage of the Treasury draft measure would result in a stabilizing of China's trade, hampered by fluctuating exchanges.

Tokyo—Elgo Fukai, vice-governor of the Bank of Japan, said that "owing to domestic complications in the world's leading nations, President Roosevelt's hopes for an international silver agreement 'probably are impossible of realization.'"

SENSE and NONSENSE

Bachelorhood has advantages, but the meek inherit the earth.

Stenographer—This "To Be Done To-day" note on your desk is two months old.
Business Man—That's all right. I haven't done it yet.

Pompous Man—They told me that if I didn't quit reading dime novels I wouldn't amount to anything.
Cheerful Puncturer—Well, why didn't you quit?

Live Happily!
If you want to live long, live happily.

Tune in with a song, live happily. Better smile than to sigh, to cheer than to cry.

Let depression go by—live happily. If you wish to be well, live happily. Of your great blessings tell, live happily.

Don't talk of disease, avoid doctor's fees.

Try always to please—live happily. If you long to succeed, live happily. All wise counsel heed, live happily.

To win in life's race, keep the optimist's pace, keep the optimist's pace.

Wear a radiant face—live happily.

MAY BRAYS—Experience has the habit of teaching people a lot of things they would rather not know.

Friendship is one fire that will never burn the fingers of those who hold it. Without a right state of mind, nothing goes right. Some people leave their screen doors on all winter just to keep out the peddlers. You can do what you like if you like what you do. If fate gives you the cold shoulder put your own shoulder to the wheel again. Never judge a man's knowledge of human nature by the opinion he has of himself. We only live once, but if we live right, once is enough. A slap on the back is worth two in the face. Getting along nicely in the world is not inherited. It's easy for a stingy man to become rich, but what's the use? Making a fool of ourselves is only giving nature an encore. Radio singers should practice what they preach. If you are not in love with your job—your job may get another lover. A man and his umbrella are soon parted. Work is never half as hard as you think it is. Sometimes a man is too good for his own good. Smiles lighten the trials. Most of us are found wanting before we are tried. There is no time like the present.

Lo. Brow, the new mayor of Brushville, posted this notice on the town bulletin board: "The fire brigade will be reviewed Tuesday afternoon should it rain in the morning and in the morning should it rain in the afternoon."

If you're not having a little fun every day, you're missing something.

The following social note is from last week's Brushville Bugle: "Mrs. Sarah Allen is seriously sick at her home north of town and all persons are requested by her sons to stop coming to see the big hog until she improves."

Departing Guest—You advertise this as the best hotel in town?
Guest—Well, that may be a fine boost for the hotel, but it is a mean knock for the town.

Ignorance of the law should excuse a lot of lawyers from practicing it.

Man—Is your wife very economical?
Neighbor—Very. Look at the clothes she makes me wear.

Now that "Obey" has been struck out of the marriage service, the next forward step will be to change that phrase to "to love and to cherish until divorce do you part."

"I wish that good looking man would give me his seat," said the sweet young thing, to her friend on the street car, and five men arose.

Are we approaching the point in social affairs where the grand march must be led by friends supporting the drunken grand march leaders?
