

STRIKE AT TOLEDO APPEARS NEAR END

Governor White Prepares to Order National Guardsmen from City; Believe Settlement Near at Hand.

Columbus, O., May 28.—(AP)—Gov. George White, in a formal statement today, said "I believe that conditions in Toledo are rapidly reaching a point where it will be possible to withdraw the National Guard at an early date and I shall take such action as soon as I am assured by local authorities that they can maintain law and order."

The governor, issuing his statement after a return by plane from a fishing trip in Michigan, said: "I shall not permit the National Guard to be used for the mere purpose of insuring operation of any industrial plant where life and property is not endangered. I shall, however, use the entire force of the state, if necessary, to protect life and property."

"I am convinced that had the dispute, from which has arisen the present violence, been confined to the former employees of the company now on strike, no state action would have been necessary. However, persons who hold the law in utter disregard and who have not the interests of America at heart have insisted upon local labor troubles as a pretext to further their own propaganda and violent intentions. With this element, I will not compromise and shall differentiate between it and bona fide workmen in labor disputes."

White said with the restoration of order at Toledo "the stage has been set for an orderly method of arriving at a settlement of this dispute, fair and just to all parties concerned."

BELIEVE SETTLEMENT NEAR

Toledo, O., May 28.—(AP)—Five days of strike-born violence which has left a casualty list of two dead and nearly 200 injured appeared to have ended today, but soldiers of the state of Ohio patrolled the strike area, alert for any sudden renewal of trouble.

Only a few stragglers disturbed the calm of the riot area during the night.

For the first time since violence flared, Federal mediators, led by Charles F. Taft brought union leaders and officials of the Electric Auto-Lite Company together over the same table cloth yesterday. They left many curious designs on the table cloth and approved what Taft described as a "possibility of complete settlement."

As Taft labored to bring order out of the chaos at the auto plant, E. H. Horgan, another Federal mediator, sought to hold up threatened general strikes which certainly would bring more guardsmen and martial law here. Workers have set Thursday as a tentative date for their walkout at the Toledo Edison company.

There has been much talk of a strike of all union labor in sympathy with the strike in automotive plants. A meeting to further this proposal has been set for tomorrow night.

Federal Mediators

Federal mediators are now attempting to make a settlement of differences at all three automotive plants here where strikes are in progress. The Bingham Stamping & Tool Company and the Logan Gear Company are involved in the negotiations along with the Auto-Lite Company.

HUNT PRISONERS WHO BROKE JAIL

Steal Two Autos and Kidnap Drivers; Are Believed to Be Heavily Armed.

Guthrie, Okla., May 28.—(AP)—Three heavily armed prisoners who escaped from the Grayson county jail at Sherman, Texas, Sunday afternoon, are believed to be making a wide ride for freedom across Oklahoma today after kidnaping two men.

While speeding between Ardmore and Turner Falls this morning, the fugitives—George E. Drodny, 19; Adrian Petty, 16; and Roy E. Bates, 21—encountered Robert Jones, of Dallas, who was enroute to Wynnewood, Okla., to visit relatives. Jones had stopped to buy the glue. The fugitives abandoned their car and took Jones, holding him as hostage.

Steal Second Auto

Two miles north of Guthrie, in Central Oklahoma, Jones' new car headed up and the fugitives stopped another motorist, taking his automobile. His identity was unknown. After shaking hands with Jones, the fugitives warned him not to make a report of the kidnaping and

SEES PROPOSED ACTS AS RUINOUS FOR SILK FIRMS

Horace B. Cheney Cites Four Pieces of Legislation in Verbal Attack Before Kiwanians Here.

Leveling a verbal broadside against four pieces of legislation now before Congress, Horace B. Cheney of the firm of Cheney Brothers, today predicted the complete ruin of the textile industry in the United States if the Wagner Labor bill, the Connery 30-hour bill, the Fletcher-Rayburn stock exchange bill and the Reciprocal Tariff bill are passed and become law.

Cannot Withstand It

"I tell you frankly," said Mr. Cheney, speaking before a large group of business men at the meeting of the local Kiwanis Club at the Country Club this noon, "that if the hand of industry is forced and brings an additional financial burden, our house of cards will come tumbling down in every direction. Cheney Brothers cannot pay higher wages and the firm cannot have less efficiency and remain in business."

Mr. Cheney's gloomy picture of today's problems was brightened somewhat by his closing remarks, in which he said "I still have faith that out of all the terrible errors of today, sometimes, perhaps 100 years hence but at least not in my time, not through the administration of these things but because they were done, will come things better than before."

Youth Radical

The younger generation, Mr. Cheney pointed out, has developed a decided leaning toward radicalism in the form of Communism, Socialism, Nazism or Fascism. They believe, he said, that government can be helpful and by despotic principles rather than the democratic principles of today.

Mr. Cheney attacked the Connery 30-hour bill, which he said is seriously being considered by Congress and may either be passed by that body or put in jeopardy by the House of Representatives. The bill provides for a maximum of 30 hours working week for employees at a proportionate pay of hours operated previously.

NRA's Effect

The speaker said that the NRA has increased an increase of from 27 to 29 per cent in wages from last July and that the passage of this bill would bring an increase of 25 per cent more. The wages in this community, he said, would then be 54 per cent and 10 per cent of the high. This he said would mean a 60 per cent or 25 per cent above the price of the war period. Cheney Brothers are paying wages which result in unit costs comparable to the high efficiency, fortunately, he said has not been lowered, at least very little.

If the labor union situation forces the hand of industry, bringing an added financial burden, "our house of cards will come tumbling down in every direction," he said. "Cheney Brothers cannot pay higher wages, cannot have less efficiency and remain in business. We are doing everything possible to protect the interests of our employees and the workers."

Touches Everyone

Mr. Cheney said that the Fletcher-Rayburn bill, or the stock exchange bill, has been greatly modified but even in its present form it would effect the lives of every man present. It not only provides control of the stock exchange and banks but the regulation of industry. All acts, finances and control, even the personal relation of the employer with his business, fall under its terms and gives the government the right to control the same. It will even materially effect the right to dispose of property, and many other things, the speaker said.

Mr. Cheney declared the Wagner Labor bill to be the worst bill ever considered by Congress in the forty years or more he has been going to Washington. He said the bill had the approval of President Roosevelt and that a determined attempt to make it law was being made.

Labor Monopoly

The bill, he said, would turn industry over to a small body of men and give the American Federation of Labor a monopoly on labor, besides giving the Federation the right to tell the manufacturer what he can and cannot do. It is aimed at the company union, anyone not a national union, or in the final analysis, not connected with the Federation. It outlaws the chance of employees to manage their own affairs in the country. Essentially, it makes every act of the employer illegal while nothing the Federation does would be illegal.

The Reciprocal Tariff bill gives the president absolute control of the tariff on imports and he may increase or decrease the tariff at will. Under it, he can make any kind of customs regulations he chooses. Mr. Cheney gave a detailed explanation of the workings of conditional and unconditional reciprocal agreements, pointing out that a decrease in tariff would force native industries out of business.

Mr. Cheney said that the local question got under way seriously again today.

Premier Ramsey MacDonald, who has been on his vacation at Lossiemouth, Scotland, was due back at

PLOT TO ASSASSINATE U. S. ENVOY TO CUBA

Police Search for Four Men Who Fire Shots Into Entrance of Home Occupied by Jefferson Caffery.

Havana, May 28.—(AP)—The entire strength of the Cuban national police was thrown into a search today for four men who made a daring attempt yesterday to assassinate Jefferson Caffery, United States ambassador to Cuba.

The cabinet, shaken by the affair, met in a special session to discuss the plot against Caffery's life. The explosion of two bombs in a residential section shortly after midnight added to the excitement which gripped Havana.

Authorities expressed a determination to put an end to terrorism which has raged Havana for months. Police raked the city and its environs for the assassins. All automobiles were searched in the vicinity of the diplomat's home.

Caffery spent the night there. A heavy guard surrounded the residence.

The attempt, made in gangster fashion, did not harm Caffery who may cost the life of Francisco Ortega, a soldier on guard at the Caffery home.

Four unidentified men rode slowly in an automobile and blazed away with sawed-off shotguns into the entrance of the home. It was the hour Caffery usually left for the Yacht Club.

The ambassador was some distance away at the time. One of the several shots tore off Ortega's leg. He was reported better today, although gravely wounded.

Police blamed "Communists or other radicals" for the attempt. Thirty radio equipped cars were employed to run down clues which authorities said were "very good."

Communist leaders denied any connection with the incident. "We knew Communists would be blamed," said one of the leaders, "but we had absolutely no knowledge of the Caffery plot."

President Carlos Menéndez and nearly every cabinet member visited the ambassador's home before the special meeting and expressed regrets at the incident. It is on a hill overlooking Havana, six miles from the Embassy.

After the attempt Caffery visited the Embassy and then went to the Yacht Club.

"I am very sorry it happened," said Caffery.

Congress Is Requested To Reconsider Oil Tax

Washington, May 28.—(AP)—President Roosevelt today asked Congress to reconsider the newly enacted tax on coconut oil on the ground that it was unfair to the Philippine Islands.

The President called attention that the Philippine Independence Act exempted 448,000 pounds of coconut oil from duties upon importation from the Philippine Islands.

He proposed that an effort be made to work out a compromise for consideration at the next session. The text of the President's message follows: "Early in the present session of the Congress the Philippine Independence Act was passed. This act provided that after the inauguration by the new interim or Commonwealth form of government of the Philippine Islands trade relations between the United States and the Philippine Islands shall be as now provided by law."

NEW COAST GUARD ACADEMY PRAISED

Five Cadets in Graduating Class Addressed by Asst. Treasury Secretary.

New London, May 28.—(AP)—The members of the graduating class of the Coast Guard Academy today were invested with the responsibility of commissioned life in the Coast Guard service.

They received their diplomas at 2 o'clock at Bullard Hall in the Academy and received their commissions as ensigns.

For the members of the graduating class, the exercises marked the end of four years of study and practice which prepared them for the duties upon which they will enter.

The graduates are: Evor S. Kerr of Cleveland; Walter S. Bakutis, of Boston; Thomas J. E. Crotry, of Buffalo; Clarence M. Speight, of Norfolk, Va.; and Edgar V. Carlson, of Colerain, N. Y.

The graduates, formerly members of the class of 1933, pursued an additional year of study with the shift of the course at the Academy from three to four years. The class of 1933 was the last three-year class.

TOLLES, CANDIDATE FOR GOVERNORSHIP

Master of the State Grange Says He Will Enter Race If Republicans Want Him.

New Haven, May 28.—(AP)—The name of Louis G. Tolles of Southington, master of the State Grange, was added today to the list of possible candidates for the Republican gubernatorial nomination.

Tolles, active for many years in the campaign for improved rural roads, said he had been approached by one section of the Republican party, but asserted he would not enter the race unless he had the support of the party in general. He did not disclose to what "section" of the party he referred.

"I am not seeking the office," he said. "I have, however, been urged by a large number of friends from all sections of the state to allow my name to be entered. If the two factions of the party wish to nominate me and give me their united support, I am willing to follow their wishes and become a candidate."

Engine Trouble Forces Rossi and Codos to Stop on Proposed Non-Stop Flight to Pacific Coast—Had Been in Air 38 Hours and 28 Minutes and Covered About 3,700 Miles.

Brooklyn, N. Y., May 28.—(AP)—The French fliers, Rossi and Codos, brought their transatlantic plane Joseph Brix to a safe landing at Floyd Bennett Field at 1:35 p. m. e. s. t. today.

They appeared over the field from the northeast at 1:32 p. m., and circled the airport three times, dumping gasoline in preparation for their landing.

They came down in a long graceful glide and rolled their big plane for a considerable distance before bringing it to a stop.

Crowd Surrounds Plane

Rossi and Codos no sooner stopped their motor and its propeller than a crowd of officials and mechanics and others numbering about 1,000 surrounded the plane.

Immediately a motorcycle escort was rushed to the plane to pick the fliers up as soon as they alighted and escort them to a hangar for a little rest while the repairs were being made.

When they brought their plane to land, Rossi and Codos had been in the air 38 hours and 28 minutes since their takeoff from LeBourget Field, Paris, and had covered a distance of approximately 3,700 miles on their projected flight to the west coast.

EARLY REPORTS

New York, May 28.—(AP)—Flying in from the sea with the dawn, Paul Codos and Maurice Rossi sped their silver monoplane over North America today, pointing toward the Pacific and a pot of gold.

The stricken bent on such a non-stop flight as never has been attempted before—the spanning of the Atlantic ocean—the fourth American continent—sighted just as the sun, racing from behind, came up over the eastern horizon.

Kicked along by obliging tailwinds and favored by excellent weather, the monoplane which lifted its great weight of gasoline from Le Bourget Field at 11:10 o'clock (eastern standard time) Saturday night, radioed a cheering "all well," and shot along into the west.

The only mishap of the night was during the dead hours of night when the plane plunged into the "Fliers' Graveyard"—the fog-bound Newfoundland banks. For a time the Frenchmen appeared to be having difficulty getting their bearings. At 2:50 a. m. eastern standard time, however, their distress was heard, working with a French station, and a clear skyway beckoned them down the Nova Scotia coast.

Their route across America was not announced. Should they fly by way of New York City, they could be expected to arrive over the metropolis about noon, for they were making good time. Their average speed for the first 15 hours out of Le Bourget was 105 miles, a speed which was expected to be accelerated considerably as the fuel load of 2,055 gallons lightened.

A more direct route than that via New York would be straight across Canada in a southerly direction, probably following the United States in the vicinity of Detroit.

Most Direct Route

Their most direct route by way of New York to San Diego would take them north of Dayton, O., over Indianapolis, north of St. Louis and then southwest over the Texas Panhandle, New Mexico and Arizona.

San Diego is their destination, although there is a possibility that the fliers may choose to set their plans, the "Joseph LeBrift," down at San Francisco. If they reach the Pacific ocean without a stop, a French government prize of $95,000 is theirs.

Use Same Plane

Their plane is the same one in which they flew from New York to Rayak, Syria, to establish the present non-stop distance record of 8,830 miles. The ship weighed more than nine tons when it climbed horizontally from the French flying field and started one of the most daring adventures of the air.

Seven hundred miles out from Southampton, the plane flew over the steamship Europa. Steamships kept in touch with the fliers by radio, giving them bearings.

Except for the fog and low clouds off Newfoundland weather conditions were favorable. Dr. James E. Kimball, New York meteorologist, said after receiving new reports early today. He said Rossi and Codos had "even better conditions" than prevailed when "Chex" was made their Paris-New York flight in 1926.

Rossi and Codos, who crossed the Atlantic, landed at

SIX ARE INJURED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Two Yale Students Are Among Victims of Head-On Crash in West Haven.

New Haven, May 28.—(AP)—Two Yale sophomores and four other persons were injured, one of them critically, in what police said was a head-on collision of two automobiles on the Milford Turnpike in West Haven, Sunday.

Kennedy Bryan Parker, 21, one of the Yale students, and the son of John E. Parker, prominent attorney of Orange, N. J., is in serious condition at New Haven hospital to be dying there today as a result of the crash. Physicians said his skull is fractured and a vertebrae in his neck crushed.

The other Yale student, Frederic W. Wurzburg, 20, of New York City, suffered a broken jaw, a compound fracture of the left leg and severe lacerations in the accident and is in New Haven hospital.

Others Injured

The other persons injured were: Matthew Fargo, 33, of New Haven, driver of the machine with which Wurzburg's automobile collided; Mrs. Sallie Fargo, his wife, and Betty and Blaine Bogdany of Bridgeport.

Fargo is in New Haven hospital with fractures of both legs. The

NO AUTO DEATHS OVER THE WEEKEND

Drivers Take Heed of Col. Connor's Plea to Drive Carefully.

(By Associated Press)

Although automobile accidents were reported in various parts of the state, the week-end passed without a fatality on Connecticut's highways.

Two deaths caused by other forms of violence, however, marred an otherwise perfect record. In addition, a third person died of injuries suffered earlier in the month in a motorcycle-automobile collision.

The lack of automobile fatalities was gratifying news to Colonel Michael A. Connor, state motor vehicles commissioner. For the past three weeks he had issued a public appeal to motorists to reduce the number of fatalities.

Deaths Reported

The two violent deaths both were reported in the New Haven area. John A. Peterson, 65, of East Haven perished in a fire at his home. Officials expressed the opinion the blaze may have resulted from a chicken brooder.

In New Haven, Earl B. Hoskins, 42 year old bond salesman, was found dead in a garage. The medical examiner gave a verdict of suicide by carbon monoxide. Hoskins had been missing since Friday. Internal injuries suffered May 7, resulted in the death of Edward H. Reimer, 21, of Bristol. He was a passenger on a motorcycle driven by Arthur Dronin which figured in a collision in Terryville with an automobile driven by John Letts.

The hours given in the message are inconsistent with definite advice coming from the Maine coast, since Bar Harbor reported the Joseph Lebriz at 10 a. m. E. S. T. The word "control" in the message is the French word for "service," that is, a supply of gasoline and possible mechanical aid.

WARD'S REOPENING ATTRACTS CROWDS

Throng of Shoppers Visit Remodeled Store—Company Officials Here.

When Ward's newly remodeled store on Main street opened its doors to the public Saturday morning, several hundred people were waiting to enter. They streamed into the store, admiring the beautiful remodeled interior, with its display fixtures and new and unusual interior display effects.

Crowded Through the Day
All day long the store was thronged. Many prominent persons, including several Ward executives, were on hand to inspect the newly remodeled store.

Among those who were recognized were the following: Mr. Rowe, Regional Manager, Mr. DiGroot, Asst. Reg. Mgr., Mr. Tetzelaft, district supervisor, and Mr. Putnam, furniture buyer. All were greatly impressed with the new arrangement of the store, and praised the many new improvements. It is now among the most up-to-date and modern retail establishments in Manchester.

Leonard Company Reports Considerable Improvement in This Particular Section.

This section of the country has contributed considerably to the records made by Leonard Refrigerator Company, Detroit, during the past six months. The C. E. Keith Furniture Co., local representative for this electric refrigerator, has been advised by company officials.

Shipments of refrigerators to this section during the first half of the company's fiscal year, just ended, were 254 per cent larger than in the corresponding six months of the past fiscal year, the report from Detroit stated.

In commending the local sales organization, Leonard's sales manager, Godfrey Strelinger, said that Leonard made a new record for shipments during the first half of its fiscal year by shipping 79 per cent more refrigerators from the Detroit factory than during the corresponding half of the past fiscal year, when the previous record was made.

He further stated that dealers in practically all sections are placing far larger orders this spring, and that the number of people visiting showrooms to inspect the new models is much greater than in past years.

"We expect to establish a new sales record locally," Mr. Keith said. "Buying power here is being restored very rapidly and interest manifested by local women in the 1934 Leonard refrigerators exceeds anything I have observed in four years."

One reason for the great public interest in electric refrigerators this year, Mr. Keith believes, is the fact that the new refrigerators are much more complete household servants than ever before, and offer many more conveniences and features.

REO STARTER BUTTON UNDER CLUTCH PEDAL

The starter button of the new 1934 Reo Flying Cloud, instead of being operated directly by the driver's foot, is placed below the clutch pedal and comes into operation when the clutch pedal is pushed clear to the floor board. Drivers who realize the extra effort the starter must make to turn a cold engine, when low temperatures make the oil in both engine and transmission thicker than the proverbial molasses in January, are in the habit of holding the clutch out while the starter is cranking the engine. Reo's arrangement insures this saving of battery current and starting effort without thought of the driver.

Reo's clutch pedal, Alex Cole, of Cole Motor Sales, local Reo distributor, points out, is so soft in action that the added resistance of the starter button spring affords ample protection against unintentional closing of the starter circuit during normal operation of the clutch in starting, or when shifting gears, should the Reo be equipped with standard gearshift instead of the patented self-shifter which has banished over 99 per cent of the shifting of gears.

WAPPING

Mrs. Helen Zakany of Manchester, is the guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dyer Carroll of Deming street, Wapping.

Charles J. Dewey motored to Florence, Mass., where he spent the day with Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Dewey and family, last Saturday.

About fifty members of the Federated Sunday school of Wapping enjoyed a very pleasant evening at the regular monthly social which was held at the Community church house last Friday evening. Games were enjoyed by the older ones in the main hall, while the younger ones played their games in the west club room. Sandwiches and punch were served by the committee.

At the First Congregational church of South Windsor yesterday, American Legion Sunday was observed. The Post attended the service in a body. Rev. Harry S. Martin preached a sermon appropriate to the occasion. George N. Martin of Hartford was the soloist. The South Windsor Christian Endeavor society held their prayer meeting in the basement of the church at 7 p. m.

Luther M. Keith of the roadside oceanic division of the state highway department was the speaker at the Garden club at the Wood Memorial Library last Wednesday evening.

CARNIVAL ATMOSPHERE FOR ST. BRIDGET'S FETE

The spacious, hedge-bordered lawn located directly behind the parish house of St. Bridget's church will furnish an ideal setting for the elaborate carnival which the Holy Name society of St. Bridget's church is sponsoring Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, June 19, 20, 21. Detailed reports enthusiastically submitted at a meeting of the entire corps of workers held Friday, May 25 disclosed a program of events planned to delightfully satisfy the varied desires of young and old. It includes the dizzy pleasure of the merry-go-round, the joyous thrill of the pony ride, the safer excitement of the pony race for the less courageous, dancing to the strains of the best in orchestration, an entertainment rich in its popular appeal.

There will be a roast beef supper for the opening night deliciously prepared in every detail by Mrs. George Williams and her group of thirty experienced workers, booths artistically decorated and resplendent with their cargoes of dolls, silk-bound blankets, modern electrical appliances, handcraft articles, skillfully worked, cigars, home made candy, ice cream, soda and the delectable carnival hot dog. A completely equipped grocery store displaying produce and prices will be a novelty in the way of booth construction. Gay balloons and candy-striped canes will be provided to increase the atmosphere of fun and frivolity.

Y. M. C. A. Notes

Charles Holman, Mrs. James Shearer, Wells Strickland and C. P. Thayer have been appointed to make arrangements for the annual meeting of the Manchester Y. M. C. A. to be held June 13, 1934. There will be a supper followed by an interesting program. All members are urged to attend.

An interesting program has been prepared for the business men members of the association. It is to include volleyball, horseshoe pitching, soft-ball baseball and tennis. The first class will be held Monday, May 28th at 5:15. This is also open to any adult who is interested in getting some healthful recreation. Mr. Thayer is in charge of the program.

June 6th will mark the 90th anniversary of the founding of the Young Men's Christian Association. Throughout the nation it has become the custom for the Y. M. C. A. on October 11th, to celebrate the birthday of its founder, Sir George William of London. This year the theme of "Founder's Day" will be "Youth in the Next Decade," which will complete a century of progress of this organization. The Manchester Y. M. C. A. will celebrate the occasion on that day. The program will be announced later.

Something different in lighting effects is promised by James Holman and his committee of electricians. An entrance prize of twenty-five dollars will be offered by the ticket committee of which Miss Beatrice Coughlin is chairman.

BOLTON

The adult class at the Center Congregational church voted recently to take up same worthwhile project work with the children in town. A delegate was sent into the schools to see if children from the fifth grade up wouldn't like to enter a contest along with their regular hygiene work. Essays were written by the seventh and eighth grades on "Why is rule G necessary." The fifth grade were assigned for their topic "Cigarettes." This work was part of their English, spelling, neatness, etc., and $1.00 was offered for best essay by a seventh and eighth grader and was won by Helen Bisk of the North school. Also

The annual 4-H Club picnic of Hartford county will be held June 2 in South Windsor, with the 4-H clubs of this town acting as hosts. The group singing will be held by Mr. Burwell. A hare and hound chase is planned by the Live Wires for the older boys and girls. The picnic will begin in Hill's Grove at 2 o'clock. A new feature this year will be brief accounts of club work by outstanding club members of the county. It is expected that the address of welcome will be given by the state commissioner of agriculture, Olcott F. King of South Windsor.

BURGLARS TAKE CLOTHING OUTFIT

Outfit Selves from Hultman's Store Stock During Friday Night.

Clothing and men's furnishings amounting to $75 in value was stolen Friday evening or early Saturday morning from the Arthur E. Hultman clothing store, 517 Main street. The thieves gained admittance to the store by jimmying a back window, breaking the window catch.

suit, also 30, brown, double-breasted; one boy's suit, blue, with Oxford white shoes, size 5. These items: 12 broadcloth shirts, size 14 and 13 1/2, Shur-Wit, and three dark Temple cravats.

The break was discovered by Earl Clifford, employed in the store, when he opened the store Saturday morning. The back window of the store opens out on a small porch in the rear of the store through which the thieves left after taking the goods.

Police Investigating The break was reported to Officer Seymour who notified Lieut. William Barron at noon Saturday. The result of the preliminary examination was that the theft was made by out-of-town parties who perhaps had looked the ground over before the store closed and made the break during the night. Lieut. Barron is continuing the investigation and making the usual effort in cases of this kind to obtain the stolen articles.

NRA IS RELIEVED UNDER NEW ORDER

President Calls for Suspension of Price Fixing in Service Industries.

Washington, May 28.—(AP)—The NRA's burden was lightened measurably today by a Presidential order setting up a local self-government rule for many of the coded service industries.

The order created a new recovery administration policy. It suspended price-fixing and other provisions of codes for certain of the service industries as may be designated by the NRA. The hour and wage and other clauses were left intact. Hugh S. Johnson, NRA administrator, will decide which industries would be affected.

The service industries, those selling services rather than goods, include hotels, restaurants, barber shops, laundries and cleaning and drying plants.

It was indicated this change of policy probably would be a forerunner of other clarifications and shifts in the NRA program.

It was learned authoritatively that President Roosevelt has decided that Administrator Johnson is to remain at the helm until NRA is on a definitely charted course and has the codes clicking smoothly.

In a statement accompanying his latest executive order last night, the President pointed out that while some industries could operate efficiently under a national code there were others "to which a greater degree of autonomous local self-government is desired."

Under the plan the local concerns could still fly the Blue Eagle provided they live up to "the present code provisions governing child labor, maximum hours, minimum wage and collective bargaining."

The plan provides that if 85 per cent of any local group in an industry on a local code of fair practice it could be made to cover prices and other provisions such as were suspended by the Presidential order.

FEMINIST WHO BEGAN BLOOMER FAD HONORED

Amelia Bloomer Advocated Form of Apparel Back in 1851—Woman's Champion.

Seneca Falls, N. Y., May 28.—(AP)—The memory of a Seneca Falls housewife was recalled throughout America today—and the "bloomers" she advocated back in 1851.

This week feminists observe the 116th anniversary of the birth of Amelia Bloomer, who started the bloomer fad and was one of the nation's leading champions of women's rights.

She was born at Homer, N. Y., May 27, 1818, and became a pioneer reformer in the feminist movement soon after she married a young journalist and came to live in this village.

First presenting her views in her husband's newspaper, she gained national recognition after the first women's rights convention was held here, through her publication of "The Lily."

In 1851, when "The Lily" was six years old, Mrs. Bloomer published her sensational editorial urging adoption in America of the oriental-styled costume that was given her name.

A BOOK A DAY

BY BRUCE CATTON

FINDS MACHINE AGE LONG BEFORE STEAM

This Book Traces History of Man's Use of Power

When did the industrial revolution start? With the steam engine? That's the answer you usually get. But Lewis Mumford has been looking into things, and in a fat and studious book, "Technics and Civilization," he announces that the answer is all wrong.

The machine age, he says, began way back in the Middle Ages. Man began his conquest of natural forces at least 700 years ago; lathes, cranes, waterpower mills, pumps, windlasses, and so on were old and hoary when James Watt began his experiments.

Indeed, mankind had reached a high state of technical efficiency before it began using steam. It had found out how to make mechanical power supplement, and even replace, human power; the arrival of the steam engine simply accelerated a trend already begun.

And Mr. Mumford, surveying the whole field, concludes that man has hardly begun to learn how to use the power which he has gained. Instead of fitting his machines for the service of human life, he says, he fitted human life to the service of machines; the profit motive—that villain of so many recent books—prevented him from exploiting his machines and led him to exploit his fellows.

It is Mr. Mumford's conviction that the machine age has outgrown capitalism. Capitalism, in his view, cursed the machine age from the beginning; he sees it now as an obstacle which the race must leap before it can begin to draw from the machine the unimaginably rich human values which the machine makes available.

Published by Harcourt, Brace and Co., this book sells for $4.50.

ROCKVILLE MEMORIAL DAY PLANS NEARING COMPLETION

Graves of Departed War Veterans to Be Decorated Following Parade Wednesday.

Plans are nearing completion for the observance of Memorial Day Wednesday, at which time all business and industry in Rockville and vicinity will be idle out of respect to the dead veterans of wars.

Memorial services were held Sunday in the outlying sections so as to leave Memorial Day open for a Rockville's observance.

At the Union Congregational church Sunday evening a Union Memorial service was held with Rev. Dr. George S. Brooks, pastor, in charge. An interesting address was delivered and a special musical program presented.

The Memorial Day program will open in the G. A. R. hall at 9 o'clock, Wednesday morning followed by a parade to the different cemeteries, starting at 9:30 o'clock, with the exercises in Grove Hill cemetery at 10 o'clock.

Graves of the veterans will first be decorated in Grove Hill cemetery and then in St. Bernard's cemetery. Those taking part in the parade will return to the G. A. R. rooms at noon where refreshments will be served.

The following program will be observed at Grove Hill cemetery—selection, "America," Elks band; prayer, Logon's Memorial Day Order, High school student; Lincoln's Gettysburg address, High School student; Memorial Day address, Rev. Valentine Allison of Tolland; address to the unknown dead, Rev. Edward L. Nield; decoration of veterans' graves, benediction.

The following is the formation of the parade: marshal, A. Leroy Martin; American Legion color bearers, police escort, Elks band of Rockville, Stanley Dobosz Post, American Legion, Frank Badstuehner Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, James W. Milne Camp, United Spanish War Veterans, Aiden Skinner Camp, Sons of Union Veterans of the Civil War; flower wagon with Sons of Veterans escort, auxiliaries to patriotic organizations in autos.

The graves at the Vernon and Vernon Center cemeteries will be visited Wednesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock by the Sons of Veterans. As in former years there will be a miniature cemetery in Central Park prepared by the American Legion.

The trees in the yard at Maple Street school, which were placed in memory of fallen World War Veterans, will also be decorated.

The Boy Scouts and the Girl Scouts have been invited to march in the Memorial Day parade and the invitations have been accepted by George Hammond and Francis La-Crosse, leaders.

The music Wednesday will be furnished by the Elks Band, the Legion Bugle and Drum Corps and the Polish Band.

Plans for Memorial Day are being prepared by other organizations in Tolland County.

Flower Show

The Rockville Community Garden club will hold its annual spring flower show Saturday, June 2, in the vacant store in the Monitor block opposite Central Park.

The show will open at noon and will continue until 10 o'clock in the evening with no admission charge being asked.

The following committee will have charge of the event: chairman, Joseph Kuch; staging and arrangements, William Schaefer; exhibition hall, Luther H. Fuller; schedule, Mrs. Fred Dowd; secretary, Mrs. Dennis J. McCarthy; classification, Mrs. Fred Schlotz; judging, Mrs. Ernest Backhaus; publicity, Miss Louise Bingenheimer and Mrs. Frank Irmisher; information, Mrs. Edward Davis and Mrs. Henry Degonkolbe.

Salvation Army Drive

The annual membership drive of the Salvation Army in Rockville and vicinity is meeting with unusual success. A detailed report of the work of the past few days is expected to be issued tomorrow.

A large amount of money is being sought and a portion of the funds raised will be used for relief of those in need in this community.

The canvass for funds in this section is in charge of the following members: former Mayor Frederick G. Hartenstein, chairman; Frederick H. Holt, treasurer; Mayor George Sheets, Rev. Dr. George S. Brooks, Edward W. Burke, Mrs. Edwin G.

Butler, former Mayor John F. Cameron, Representative Sherwood C. Cummings, Judge John S. Finney, Mrs. Frank S. Harborsburg, Col. Francis T. Marzwell, Rev. Henry E. Olmstead, County Commissioner Harry C. Smith, David A. Sykes, I. Tilden Jewett of Tolland, John G. Talcott of Talcoctville.

Willa E. Reed, clerk of the Tolland County Superior Court, is preparing the list of cases to be heard at the June term of the court which will open in Rockville Tuesday with Judge Alyn L. Brown of Norwich on the bench. Both civil and criminal cases will be heard in this terminal.

The Boy Scouts of St. Joseph's Catholic church held a supper for members and their families at St. Joseph's school hall Sunday evening. A very interesting program was presented.

Scores of local sportsmen enjoyed fishing trips Sunday, reporting large catches of brook trout.

The Every Mothers club will hold a rummage sale on Tuesday from 10 a. m. until 4 p. m.

Henry Cosgrove, head clerk at the Rockville House, who has been ill for the past ten days, is now able to be about again.

The Stafford High school baseball team will meet the Rockville High school baseball team at the Fair Grounds Tuesday afternoon.

Camel Smokers can verify these facts!

A famous New York research laboratory announces a basic discovery that throws new light on our past knowledge of cigarettes. It embodies an "energizing effect"... a quick restoration of the flow of natural body energy... an experience well known to Camel smokers. When you smoke a Camel you feel an almost immediate relief from fatigue. What has actually happened is that you have released and made available the latent energy in your body. You've helped your body to help itself. During the day your energy curve hits certain low points. Camels raise your flow of energy... quickly, conveniently and without jangling your nerves.

There's a "Lift" in CAMELS that drives away Fatigue and Irritability

Feel "all in"? Then's the best time to light a Camel.

It's cool and fragrant and delightful... but far more important than that, it brings your flow of energy up from the depths!

You feel fatigue vanish. Irritability seems to slip away. And you go back to work—or play—with the energy and cheerfulness that are naturally yours.

YOU'VE HAD THE EXPERIENCE...HERE'S THE EXPLANATION!

This experience is no news to Camel smokers. But the explanation is news—and good news—to everyone.

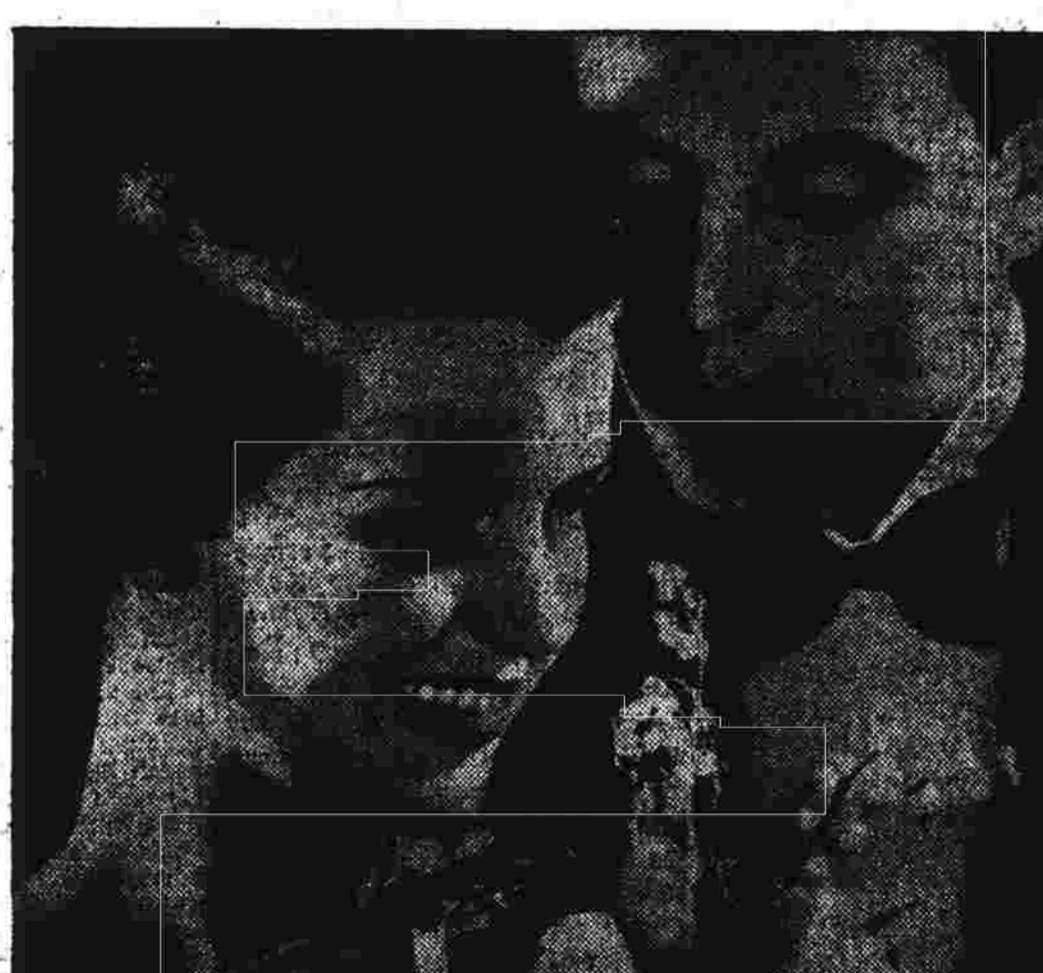

The "lift" you get from smoking Camels is simply a release of the natural latent energy in your body. In other words you have helped your body to help itself... easily, naturally, and without the slightest strain.

Remember this explanation when your energy curve is "down"... times when you're irritable and your brain just doesn't seem to work and you feel too tired to move. At such times... "Get a lift with a Camel!"

AND CAMELS NEVER JANGLE YOUR NERVES!

Camel fans smoke frequently—and they can—as often as they like. Camel's costlier tobaccos never get on the nerves.

Keep your flow of energy at a higher level with Camels.

CAMELS Costlier Tobaccos never get on your Nerves

Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS—Tobacco and Dunhill—than any other popular brand.

TOO TIRED FOR FUN...and then she smoked a Camel!

KNOW THIS FEELING? The feeling of being too "all in" to respond to the galaxy of the crowd? No taste for the pleasure and fun of the sort of social evening that you would ordinarily look forward to? That's one of the many times to light a Camel, enjoying its rich flavor while your flow of natural, healthy energy is restored. You'll like Camels—a marvelous blend of costlier tobaccos!

AUCTION MARKET
PLANS CHANGED

Three Officials to Handle
Transactions in Order to Avoid Disputes.

In addition to the auctioneer there will be three officers in charge of the fruit auction market, which will open on the Charter Oak street grounds next month. It was voted at a meeting of the association held Saturday night at the Sub Alpine hall on Eldridge street.

There will be an auction clerk, a market master and a cashier. The auction master, under the new rules and change in by-laws adopted Saturday night, will have the final say on all questions of dispute. In the case of the clerk he will keep a record of all sales and the cashier will collect from the buyers, all money due from purchasers made by him. This may mean that the buyer will buy from five or six different farmers, but instead of making out separate checks to each farmer he will pay in one check which will be made payable to the association. The checks will be deposited in the name of the association and the dealer following the sale the grower will be paid the amount that is due him, less 2 per cent. on a check made out from the association.

Robert M. Reid & Son will again have charge of the auction. The date for the opening of the market was set with the trustees of the association. While no date was set, it is considered likely that the first auction will be held on Sunday, June 10.

In opening the market on June 10, it will take care of the berries that will be ready for the market grown by Manchester members of the association as their crop will come in earlier than the Bolton, Andover and Glastonbury growers.

FIRMS HERE REPRESENTED IN HARTFORD SHOW

Big Display to Be Held in State Armory, Hartford,
Starting Next Saturday.

For the first time, residents of Manchester and the surrounding territory will be afforded the opportunity of viewing the most complete line of General Motors cars ever presented here under one roof when the General Motors exhibit opens in the State Armory, Hartford at 1 p. m. next Saturday.

The showing will last for one week, June 2 through June 9, opening each week day at 10:30 a. m. and closing at 10:30 p. m. Admission will be free. This exhibit is one of 60 being held in the principal cities of the United States and includes, besides General Motors cars, General Motors and Chevrolet trucks, products of Frigidaire, Delco heating plants and United Motors.

The three local General Motors dealers interested in this show are James M. Shearer, Kemp's, Inc., and the Riley Chevrolet Co. Similar shows were held by General Motors two years ago but Hartford was not included because it was impossible to rent the State Armory at that time. Hartford General Motors dealers are pleased that a show will be held here this year and also because of the ideal place in which the products will be displayed. It is believed that the State Armory has a larger floor space than any of the other 59 halls in which the other shows will be held.

As a result of the large floor area of the armory, 80 cars and trucks of General Motors division will be displayed in a space in which 150 cars are displayed annually at the dealers show. This will provide visitors with ample space to view in an uncrowded and leisurely manner any of the products that strike their fancy. Ample parking space will be available with attendants, and demonstrators likewise for those who wish to actually know what a "knee-action" ride feels like in any of the cars.

LITHUANIANS OBSERVE ANNIVERSARY OF HALL

Over 200 Attend Affair in Liberty Hall Saturday Night—Supper Is Served.

Liberty Hall held a large gathering Saturday night, the occasion being the observance of the fifth anniversary of the dedication of the hall which was built by public subscriptions from the different Lithuanian organizations in Manchester. Over 200 were present and enjoyed a supper, which was served in the lower hall and later adjourned to the main hall where a stage entertainment was given. The remainder of the evening was given over to dancing.

CRASH VICTIM IDENTIFIED

New Haven, May 22.—(AP)—The body of a man killed recently in an automobile-truck collision was identified today as that of Harry Statmore, about 30, of New York City. A brother and sister of the victim came here to make the identification, and the body was later shipped to New York. Statmore and John Meade, New Haven salesman and pharmacist, were killed in the accident last Thursday. The New York man at first was identified tentatively as Antonio Kalak.

SPECIAL ARRANGEMENTS TO FEATURE BROADCAST

Collin Driggs to Play Lew
White Numbers on Tomorrow
Morning's Program.

One of the special features on the broadcast from the State Theater tomorrow morning from eight o'clock to eight-thirty, is the organ arrangement of St. Louis Blues, by Lew White, nationally famous organist. The arrangement of this popular melody was made especially for Collin Driggs, by Mr. White, and will be one of the numbers in the program of organ melodies entitled "Six Shades of Blue."

The Tuesday morning broadcasts from the State Theater, are sponsored by Kemp's, Inc., Manchester Electric Company, The Edward J. Holl Real Estate and Investment

Company, and The Bantley Oil Company. Many favorable comments have been made to these local merchants concerning the programs given on Tuesday mornings, and the program for tomorrow is expected to add many listeners to the series of broadcasts now going on.

Next week's broadcast will feature a nationally famous vaudeville star. A very unusual program will be given by the artist engaged by the local merchants above. The artist and program will be announced later in the week.

WELCOME HOME PARTY GIVEN BY CHURCH FOLK

Mr. and Mrs. Hjalmar Carlson and Miss Mina Nyquist Honored
Saturday Night.

Mr. and Mrs. Hjalmar Carlson and Miss Mina Nyquist were pleasantly surprised at their home on Hemlock street Saturday evening by approximately 80 of the members and friends of the Swedish Congregational church. The affair was in the nature of a welcome-home party as Mr. and Mrs. Carlson have returned to town after being for some time in Brooklyn, N. Y., and Miss Nyquist recently arrived from Sweden through which country she made an extensive tour.

Rev. S. E. Green, pastor of the church was in charge of the ceremonies and made a few appropriate remarks. Others who spoke were Charles Nilsson, pastor of the Swedish Lutheran church, and Mrs. Frank Johnson, Mrs. Samuel Johnson and Miss Anna Johnson. During the evening Mr. and Mrs. Carlson were presented with a mirror and Miss Nyquist with a brooch. There was group singing to music by stringed instruments and a social hour with refreshments.

NEW CRUISER SAILS
Philadelphia, May 22.—(AP)—

Commanded by Captain Charles H. Davis, the newly commissioned USS Albatross (Zepherus) of the Navy Yard today sailed down the Delaware for a cruise, known as the "Shakedown." The vessel was built by government at the Philadelphia Navy Yard. Upon its return to Philadelphia it will be up for inspection. The "Shakedown" starts. That continues until October 23. She is expected to be sent by February.

"Move these pieces by June 2nd" is the order that makes possible
these sensational prices

Something radical had to be done. Our floors were too crowded. We tried taking a hundred or more pieces off and storing them away. Even then there were too many samples. So we did the radical thing. We slashed prices on nearly every one-of-a-kind sample on our floor . . . especially the pieces we will not show again. You can select the furniture that you have needed . . . now . . . at sensational reductions. You save money. We get the much desired floor space. We both benefit!

CHRIST'S SERVANTS HARDENED SOLDIERS

In Memorial Address Rev. Erickson Rallies Veterans to Saviour's Service.

Honors to those who died in the service of their country from Manchester was paid by veterans and members of the auxiliary units at the Memorial church service

His voice as were our boys in khaki and blue, to obey the call of their country?
"Good soldiers they learned to sacrifice. At the call of their country they left all that was dearest to them, ready even to make the supreme sacrifice for their country what anyone gained through the tremendous sacrifices of the World War, but if we will learn from the heroic example of those who sleep in soldiers' graves such lessons as these, they will not have died in vain.

"Good soldiers can endure hardships. They know how to suffer. Our boys knew what it meant to suffer the smart, burn and pain of gaping wounds; they knew what it meant to lie out there on the battlefield, torn and bleeding, parched with thirst hour after hour; they knew what it meant to inhale suffocating poisonous gas, yet when they were lucky enough to get back to hospital as soon as they were patched up they begged to be sent back to the front, that they might suffer still more for those whom they loved and for what they believed.

of the local Y. M. C. A. Memorial Day Committee took part and placed flowers on the graves.

The graves of Veterans of all wars will be decorated Tuesday evening and early Wednesday morning by members of the Memorial Day Committee and delegations from the various posts and auxiliaries.

STOP HAY FEVER NOW, HEALTH DEPT. ADVICE

Six to Ten Weeks Ahead of Season Proper Time for Immunization.
The present—six to ten weeks before the hay fever season begins—is the time for Connecticut's 40,000-odd sufferers from this disease to have themselves immunized against it by the family physician, the State Department of Health advised in its weekly bulletin today.

likely to lead into chronic asthma and sinus trouble, the bulletin said. Hay fever is usually caused by irritation of the mucous membranes of the nose by the pollen of various trees and grasses. About fifty per cent of it in Connecticut is caused by ragweed pollen. This pollen may be carried for miles by the wind and will bring hay fever to anyone susceptible to its irritation.

CHARCOAL IS LOST IN BIG SHED FIRE

30 Tons Burned at Hartman
Plantation in Buckland Yesterday.

Fire of undetermined origin destroyed a charcoal shed and 30 tons of charcoal at the Buckland plant of the Hartman Tobacco Company yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock. The fire was discovered by a neighbor but before the fire department arrived from Manchester, the shed was completely enveloped and beyond saving. The efforts of the firemen and volunteer helpers from the Hartman company were directed in saving several tobacco sheds and other buildings within range of the fire. Charcoal for use in the tobacco sheds of the company, to the amount of about 30 tons quickly ignited and will burn for several days. It was necessary for the firemen and plant workers to stand by the fire last night to prevent sparks from the ruins spreading to other buildings. Included in the loss of building and charcoal was a quantity of farm and tobacco machinery. The loss will be about $2,000, according to J. Healy, plant superintendent said.

FOX'S HARTFORD STORE TO HAVE ESCALATORS

Installation, to Be Made at Once, Will Complete Vast Program of Improvement.

One of the most beautiful stores in New England, if not in the entire country, will be that of G. Fox and Company in Hartford, when a program of step by step modernization, now near completion, is finished. Practically the entire store is being remodeled, including new show cases, electric light fixtures and paneling. The mezzanine floor is being considerably enlarged. Each floor is finished with highly attractive woodwork of various types, some of which was imported from England.

One of the most important parts of the Fox Company's modernization plan is the new elevator and escalator installation. Realizing the necessity of getting customers to the upper floors where they can see the improved fixtures and be induced to purchase the merchandise therein displayed, it was recognized that an efficient system of vertical transportation was essential. The first step in the modernization of vertical transportation system was made in 1928 when a new gearless self-leveling passenger elevator system was installed. The second step in the plan was accomplished when the eight original gearless passenger elevators were changed to micro self-leveling with multi-voltage control.

The next step was the installation of one additional Otis passenger elevator of the gearless type with self-leveling and with automatic department store signal control. This elevator, lifting 4,000 pounds at 450 foot speed, is now in operation. At the same time new hatchway fronts were furnished at all first floor entrances. New elevator entrances will later be installed on all upper floors for the nine old elevators; each of these elevators will also be equipped with a new car, provided with center opening power operated doors on platforms.

The next contemplated step is changing the nine old elevators to this same type of department store signal control which provides much improved service for the customers. A most important addition to the transportation system which is now about to be made is that of two escalators traveling from the basement to the first floor. These are of the reversible type, three feet wide and each having a capacity of 6,000 persons per hour. Arrangements are also being made so that additional escalators for the floors above can be installed where necessary. Contract has just been signed for these escalators and work will start at once.

Queer Twists In Day's News

Chicago—Max Blumenthal, owner of a liquor store, was putting the day's receipts, $170 in his pocket, when a man with a pistol entered. "Hand that to me before somebody steals it from you," the man ordered. Blumenthal obeyed.

Vienna—Bad luck came instantaneously when a black cat crossed the path of Peter Sussbauer as he was driving near Klagensfurt.

The cat leaped from the road to the car and began biting and scratching the driver's neck. Sussbauer succeeded in keeping the car on the road while two companions pulled off the cat. Then he was taken to a hospital.

Wilwaukee, Wis.—Charles H. Mather's sliding scale of birthdays brought dismissal of his application for an old age pension.

He was listed as 45 in a life insurance policy; 56 in county reaper records; 66 in his marriage papers, and 70 in his pension application.

Seventy is the minimum age for eligibility to a pension. Independence, La.—The Rev. Gerald L. K. Smith, a friend of Huey Long, delivered his speech in furtherance of Senator Long's "Share-the-Wealth" campaign to a scanty audience.

There was an explosion of a torpedo and an attempt to draw a pistol, but flanked by deputies an highway police, the Reverend Mr. Smith spoke on.

Kent, Wash.—Good housewives here plan to serve lettuce salad June 8—with pitchforks.

The salad will contain about two tons of lettuce, grown in the Kent district, and several barrels of mayonnaise.

The occasion will be Kent's first lettuce festival.

Oklahoma City—Signs of a campaign year: They've added a "please" to the "No Parking" signs at the State Capitol.

San Mateo, Calif.—When Raymond Andre's wife suggested that he stop the car, he did so parking at the side of the road.

When he got going again, he drove directly to a hospital where doctors told him everything was all right—mother and baby who arrived by the roadside are "doing nicely."

Milwaukee, Wis.—When Edward Igratowski, 15, knocked down an 11 year-old girl with his bicycle, he converted the wheel into an ambulance, peddling the girl two blocks to a hospital despite the sprain in ankle he himself suffered.

Wichita, Kas.—Police Sergeant Carl Adams is an involuntary collector of autographs.

A joker, unnoticed by Adams, wrote his name on the plaster cast the officer wears about his neck, which was broken several weeks ago in a scuffle with a fellow policeman.

ing was not a swindle—and died in the proving.

When a charge of faking was brought by a gendarme as Gherlach performed before a peasant crowd, he took the gendarme's bayonet and slid it easily down his throat.

Applause broke out and coins showered at his feet. But when he pulled out the bayonet blood spurted. He died a few hours later.

The Poet's Column

A FISH STORY

My brother, my sister, and little me, Threw in our line and waited patiently, I thought as I sat under a great oak tree, What if I catch all the fish in the sea.

My brother pulled in a baby whale, And soon ran off to tell the tale, My sister Sue saw good luck too, For she caught so many that I felt blue.

I gathered my courage and dived in, But got swallowed up by a dolphin, And this, boys and girls, is the end of me, And the cause of it you can readily see.

MONTGOMERY WARD

ATTACK ON CIVILIANS NEXT WAR'S OBJECTIVE

Gaylord Douglass, in Address at South Methodist Church, Says Attempt Will First Be Made to Shatter the Moral of Folks at Home.

When the next war comes it will be better for parents having sons they care for to induce them to enlist for duty in the front line trenches right at the beginning, for the first attacks will be concentrated on civilians at home, according to Gaylord Douglass, New England secretary of the National Council for the Prevention of War.

Mr. Douglass spoke at the last of a series of open forum meetings in the South Methodist church last night on the subject, "Can We Prevent War?"

Shatter Morale
The speaker said the purpose of the enemy in the next war in striking first at the civilians at home will be to shatter the morale of the people at the outset by the use of poison gases and other nefarious methods of modern warfare.

Predicating his talk with the assertion that he was no prophet, Mr. Douglass said if he was able to answer the question, "Can We Prevent War?" he would be like the Delphic Oracle which gave forth answers acceptable either way. He pointed out that those who feel war is inevitable should be classed as pessimists. If war is inevitable, as the pessimists declare, then the next war will end civilization and "we might as well quit now," he said.

System of War
The former head master of Willbraham Academy emphasized that the root of the evils of war was not so much in the possibility of another war as in the system of war, the background of war, and the possibilities that must be considered in revealing to mankind the way to continue human relations.

Not only does the youth of today honor the dead of past wars, the speaker said, but the attitude of youth seems to demand an answer to the question, "who sent them to their death?" and of feeling that war is inevitable within five years, as does H. G. Wells in his latest book, Dr. Douglass said the matter should be looked at the same way as did a Gold Star mother whom he had met in Portland, Me., and whose son had been slain in Belleau Wood.

"It Must Never Happen Again"
"Why did it ever happen?" this Gold Star mother asked, and then she stated the conviction, "it must never happen again."

"What is war?" he inquired.
Then he quoted General Von Hindenburg, famous German military strategist, who said that "war does not stimulate; it demoralizes. This last war killed not only men's bodies but their souls."

"That was a good Methodist doctrine from the lips of a German," remarked Dr. Douglass.

"Parade of the Dead"
Referring to the "Parade of the Dead" by Bruce Barton, noted author, the speaker used the figures mentioned in this book to measure the frightful cost of war in terms of lives lost and money spent.

If an army of men were marching ten abreast and passed a given point every two seconds, the man would continue to march with unbroken ranks from sunrise to sunset for 46 days. This gives some idea of the number of men—10,000,000—killed or wounded during the World War.

As to the cost of the World War, if one billion dollars in dollar bills were placed one on top of another, the pile would reach 63 miles into the sky. When it is said that the World War cost 450 billions, few people realize the enormity of this stupendous sum, he said.

"War Is Hell"
Dr. Douglass wondered what William Tecumseh Sherman would have said about the World War, with its mammoth guns, poison gases, ruthless submarines, etc., when 70 years ago he observed that "war is hell."

"There is no word in any language that can begin to describe the horrors, the dangers and the destructive features of war," he declared.

Only a few choice, college trained minds can grasp the manifold causes of the World War, Dr. Douglass said, but he did point out that the war had failed to settle any problems. Next he proceeded to enumerate some of the reasons which he believes are capable of causing future wars.

Cause of War
These were: (1) International problems in which the matter of war debts emerges as one of paramount importance; (2) the fluctuation of currencies; (3) the tariff; (4) armaments.

"War debts are not simply an American proposition," the speaker maintained. "This system of borrowing and loaning went on among 28 nations. All of these countries loaned just as much in proportion to their respective resources, as did the United States."

War Debts
"This problem of war debts must be solved in a decent, practical manner or there is danger in it. Andrew Mellon was right when he said in 1926 that satisfied and contented customers are better than discontented and dissatisfied customers."

"There has been a terrible shrinkage in business. Discontent, danger and disaster are in the air. That's another thing that war has left us."

"Now about the tariff. Since the World War almost every other nation has followed our example by putting a tariff wall around their countries. We cannot blame these nations when our policy has been to buy from none but to sell to all. Other countries have adopted this policy and it has wrecked business. It has made nations feel as if they were to live alone. It simply means to live for self and let the devil take the hindmost. The tariff question is a little flame at the bottom of the pile that may burst forth into fire at any time."

Shrinkage in Business
"Regarding armaments. Since the end of the World War practically every nation has increased its armaments. There are more soldiers under marching orders today than in 1914. All they are waiting for is the command to move into action. Unfortunately, people in the past have allowed themselves to be fooled. Even now we don't want to let ourselves believe that the building of armaments is leading up to war."

Overbalanced Budgets
"These huge expenditures for armaments by governments are overbalanced budgets. It is like taking from one pocket and putting it into another. Appropriations for one department are going into another. The appropriation originally for the postoffice department is being transferred to the war department, for the PWA and CWA into the navy department. The idea is like putting all our eggs into one basket."

Other Fellow's Viewpoint
"We must adjust ourselves to that idea. Youth knows it but age has not yet grasped it. The peoples of other nations love and are loyal to their flags just as we are. We must respect their loyalty as we want them to respect ours. Our greatest loyalty should be toward the spiritual nature that guides us toward the uplift and betterment of all mankind. We must see the other fellow's viewpoint. Then we can talk over the matter sensibly and forget the time worn idea that if they don't see our point of view they must take the consequences."

Brotherhood and Good Will
"There is no permanent cure for war. It will be a slow process to drive out the great god of war. We cannot cure war until we cure human beings of the belief that war is greater than God. War is entirely contrary to the precepts and personality of Jesus Christ. Is it not in the scriptures that "blessed are the peacemakers, for they shall be the sons of God?" And the munitions makers and trouble makers were not mentioned in that, either. We can prevent war if we teach Christianity, brotherhood and good will to our fellow man."

Dr. Douglass termed the recognition of Russia by the United States as the "greatest step toward peace that has taken place in 12 years. He said if this had been done two years ago he had reason to believe Japan would never have entered Manchuria."

Japan Won Bet
The speaker contended that Japan had bet on a "disunited world" and had temporarily won its bet. He added that Japan stepped into Manchuria because, "with the world at present undivided, it was considered the best time."

Dr. Douglass lauded the World Court for deciding the disagreement between Norway and Denmark over the definition of a treaty having to do with a strip of territory on the eastern coast of Greenland. The decision was given in favor of Denmark and Norway accepted it with sense and reason. "Nobody was hurt there," he said.

Another step forward was the agreement between Peru and Colombia to permit a League of Nations commission to study and decide the affairs of Cuba. Dr. Douglass called this "the greatest act of self-restraint in 150 years."

Referring to the decision of the United States not to interfere in the affairs of Cuba, Dr. Douglass said, "This is the greatest act of self-restraint in 150 years."

That Missing Ship Sign, Never Was, Says Chamber

The mystery of the missing Manchester ship sign is by no means longer. The Chamber of Commerce came forward this morning with the simple explanation that only eleven of the signs were in existence originally and not twelve as previously stated. And the Chamber ought to know, as the signs were built and maintained by the organization.

Painted by E. E. A.
During recent lean years, the painting of the signs, which are placed at advantageous points on the outskirts of the town, has been done by the CWA and more recently by the ERA, for which the Chamber is deeply grateful.

The Chamber also explained about the sign that was removed from East Middle Turnpike. The removal was accomplished with the authority of the Chamber, it being felt that the sign should be placed in a better location, namely, the triangular park at Manchester Green.

To Install Nine
Of the eleven signs, nine of them will be re-installed, while two will be held in reserve. The latter were originally located at the Buckland corner in Hillstown and the other on Deming street near the Green Kettle Inn. Both these spots were considered as not appropriate. The sign on South Main street, which was blown down in a heavy storm two years ago, will be moved to the small town park at South Main and Fern streets.

First prize in the amateur photo contest for last week, was won by Randall Toop of Center street. The second prize awarded by the judges in the contest being sponsored by Kemp's Inc., local Kodak dealers, was won by E. Ribenburg of Talcottville.

That Missing Ship Sign, Never Was, Says Chamber

The mystery of the missing Manchester ship sign is by no means longer. The Chamber of Commerce came forward this morning with the simple explanation that only eleven of the signs were in existence originally and not twelve as previously stated. And the Chamber ought to know, as the signs were built and maintained by the organization.

Painted by E. E. A.
During recent lean years, the painting of the signs, which are placed at advantageous points on the outskirts of the town, has been done by the CWA and more recently by the ERA, for which the Chamber is deeply grateful.

The Chamber also explained about the sign that was removed from East Middle Turnpike. The removal was accomplished with the authority of the Chamber, it being felt that the sign should be placed in a better location, namely, the triangular park at Manchester Green.

To Install Nine
Of the eleven signs, nine of them will be re-installed, while two will be held in reserve. The latter were originally located at the Buckland corner in Hillstown and the other on Deming street near the Green Kettle Inn. Both these spots were considered as not appropriate. The sign on South Main street, which was blown down in a heavy storm two years ago, will be moved to the small town park at South Main and Fern streets.

First prize in the amateur photo contest for last week, was won by Randall Toop of Center street. The second prize awarded by the judges in the contest being sponsored by Kemp's Inc., local Kodak dealers, was won by E. Ribenburg of Talcottville.

Both first and second prizes are splendid examples of amateur photography and the judges had to deliberate considerably before deciding which should be awarded first prize. These prize snapshots will be on display in Kemp's window this week.

The contest is drawing more entries each week, and with the prospect of good weather for Memorial Day, it is expected that an unusual number of snapshots will be entered this week. Kemp's, Inc., have all of the standard films in stock and look forward to a large call for Kodak film for picture taking over the holiday.

Finishes Eight Points Behind Hillhouse High In Sixth Annual Event

Harold Civiello Winner Of Schoolboy Golf Title

Posts an Even 80 Score for Final 18 Holes for 159 Total to Win Greater Hartford Links Crown; Leads Field by Six Strokes.

Harold Civiello

Continuing the consistently fine play which gave him a 79 and a three stroke lead on the field at the half way mark, Harold Civiello, captain of Manchester High's golf team and its ace club member, posted an even score of eighty for the second and final 18-hole round on the West Hartford Country Club course Saturday to capture the Greater Hartford schoolboy championship.

Six Strokes Up. Civiello's 86-hole total of 159 was six strokes better than the total of John Hughes of Wethersfield, who turned in an 82 which added to his previous 83 good for 165 and runner-up honors. John Vigeant of William Hall High of West Hartford was third with 166 and Vignone of Bulkeley was fourth with 167, while three entries were tied for fifth place. Civiello's card Saturday was as follows: Out 554 446 447-48 In 455 445 543-57-80 A week ago at the East Hartford links his card was as follows: Out 644 435 435-79 In 544 435 645-79-79 A Brilliant Record. Civiello's record this season is one of which any golfer might well be proud. In the nine dual matches in which Manchester High's team has played thus far, he has had an average of exactly 79 and has won or tied for low medal in every one of the nine matches. His scores have been: 81, 75, 80, 81, 76, 76, 81, 78 and 83. A golfer of exceptional promise, Civiello bids fair to do far on the links if he pursues the game on completion of his high school career.

BALDWIN'S TROUNCE HOLY GRAILS 10-4

Gain Early Lead in Win by Lop-Sided Score; Senkbeil Gives Five Hits.

The Baldwin A. C. gained its first victory of the season at the expense of the Holy Grails at Mt. Nebo yesterday morning by the lopsided score of 10-4. Senkbeil, Baldwin's star pitcher, pitched a steady game allowing but five hits. He eased up in the eighth and ninth and the Holy Grails scored four runs. Richardson hit safely three times. Antonio hit a double and a single. Jerry Lovett hit safely twice and made a fine catch in short right field. Bingo Sturgeon led the Holy Grails with the bludgeon by doubling to right center in the third and by singling in the ninth to knock in two runs.

It simply meant that the German senior and junior teams took Manchester's senior and junior teams by the total of 2 clear goals and were every way worthy of their respective wins.

GREEN TURNS BACK HARTFORD JUDEANS

Push Across Tun in 11th To Win 5-4; Game Tight, Hard Fought All the Way.

It required eleven innings, fighting every inch of the way, but Manchester Green stopped the winning streak of the invading Hartford Judeans yesterday afternoon, and sent them back to Hartford on the short end of a 5 to 4 score. Jarvis Grove has seldom been the scene of a tighter, more hard-fought game than the tussle staged there yesterday afternoon, and the crowd was remarkable for its size and enthusiasm. The game was a hard fought affair, with the Green batsmen working every minute of the game.

List 500 Harness Horses For Rockingham's Meeting

Boston, Mass., May 28.—(Special.)—Nearly 500 harness horses, among them every star trotter and pacer this year, have been entered in the 10-day Grand Circuit meeting at Rockingham Park, N. H., Aug. 1-11, according to Allen Wilson, local sportsman promoting the racing card.

Twenty-five events scheduled for the first week of harness racing, which will feature the American Stakes for two and three-year-old trotters and pacers, will be repeated during the second week, when the National Stakes, also for two and three-year-old trotters and wigglers, will claim the spotlight.

McLARNIN IS FAVORITE OVER ROSS IN BETTING

Champion Is Quoted at 7 to 5 as Time for Battle Nears; Many Feel Challenger Will Lift the Title; Expect $250,000 Gate.

By HERBERT W. BARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer
New York, May 28.—(AP)—Jimmy McLarnin will stake his welterweight championship against Barney Ross tonight with the outcome so much in doubt that fully 60,000 fans will elbow their way into Madison Square Garden's Long Island bowl to see what all the shouting is about.

McLarnin's personal popularity in New York plus the 10-round pull he will enjoy in weight were reflected in the betting odds that favored him at 7 to 5 today. There were many competent critics, however, who thought the speedy Ross, champion of the lightweights, would outbox the Irishman and earn the decision in 16 rounds.

AN EXPLANATION

Allow me a small space to explain the conditions of our poorly played game yesterday at the West Side field in which we trounced the West Hartford Red Sox by a 15 to 3 score, and this score doesn't indicate how the Catholic club should have beaten this team.

NOSE OUT MACKMEN AS BROWNS WALLOP YANKS BY 16 TO 7

Tigers Drub Red Sox to Hold Third Place; Senators Top Chisox — Cards Again Second in National.

By HUGH S. FULLENTON, JR.
(By Associated Press)
The slump of the New York Yankees had carried them today out of the lead for the first time since the end of April while the constant Cleveland Indians had replaced them at the head of the American League.

Leaving home with a 4-1-2 game lead over the Indians, the Yankees began to slip both in hitting and pitching. One of their most dismal performances came yesterday when they collected ten hits and eleven walks off Buck Newsum and still dropped a 16-7 decision to the St. Louis Browns.

Cleveland came from behind to beat Philadelphia 7-6 after the A's had scored five runs in the first. Tigers Hold Third. Two other battles for places in the standing remained drawn as Detroit trimmed the Boston Red Sox 9 to 2, and Washington outslugged Chicago 9 to 6 with the aid of circuit swats by Buddy Myer and Joe Kuhel.

Two state records were shattered in Class A, including William Johnson's standard in the discus, which he established as a member of Manchester High's team back in 1929. Johnson's toss of 115 feet, 5 inches, the local school record, was broken by Kramer of Stratford, who let loose with a heave of 122 feet, ten inches. The other record was set in the ball, mine when James Bryere of Central negotiated the distance in two minutes flat.

Red and White Wins Eight Places for 25 1-3 Points as Winners Score 33 1-2; Cade Sets School Record in 440; Rogers Just Misses New Mark in Broad Jump; Leary, Garrone, Robinson, Smith, Fraser and McCormick Also Feature; Locals Never Below Fourth.

Manchester High's track and field standard bearers brought further glory and prestige to an impressive 1934 record Saturday in the state title meet at Yale University Field in New Haven when they carried the Red and White colors to second place in the sixth renewal of the championship to keep intact Manchester's record of never having finished below fourth place in this competition.

Only eight behind. Only a shade over eight points separated Manchester and Hillhouse High of New Haven in the final standing, as the latter retained the title captured last year. The local aggregation compiled a total of 25 1-3 points, while the winners amassed a total of 33 1-2. Eleven other schools that were represented in the scoring were led more than by the two leaders, Norwich Free Academy nosing out Bristol High for third place with 16 points to the latter's 15 1/2.

It was the second time in the history of the meet that Manchester High has finished in the runner-up position, leaving its greatest goal—winning of the title—still to be realized. Embarking on this year's schedule with no more than ordinary prospects of a successful season, it was a brilliant achievement to add to the record that has been compiled to date, which consists of five consecutive dual triumphs and the winning of the out-of-state title in 1932.

The result added another well-deserved accomplishment to the remarkable twelve-year record of Coach Charles L. Wigren, the modest and unassuming Red and White star in the 100 and 220 and second in the broad jump. Fraser of Manchester ran a good race to take fourth in the 100 but failed to place in the 220 final. Shedd seemed a certain point winner in the 440 but tripped and was unable to regain his stride.

Orlando Garrone gave Manchester a third in the discus with a heave of 115 feet, 1 inch, his best attempt this season, while his teammate, Frank Robinson, took fourth place. Wilson McCormick also turned in his best performance this year in the pole vault, clearing 11 feet to take second place. Ralph Smith, who had been competing for the fifth place in the high jump, which was won by a jump of 5 feet, 5 inches, although the qualifiers cleared an inch better than that figure in the morning.

The Class B championship was won by Fitch High school of Westford, which scored forty points. Two records were broken in this class, Frank Edmonds of Naugatuck throwing the javelin a distance of 175 feet, 3 inches, and William Sullivan of Fitch who annexed the high jump with a leap of 8 feet, 1/2 inch.

HIGHLAND PARK PLANS A TEAM THIS SEASON

The Highland Park baseball team will hold an important meeting tonight at the baseball grounds shortly after 6 o'clock. All players are requested to be present. Work is being started to put the Diamond in good shape. George Beer, long connected with sports, will coach the team. A practice game will be held Saturday afternoon with the Baldwin A.C.

prints furnished Hillhouse with margin necessary to retain its title. Lightner of this school accounted for fourteen points alone, with firsts in the 100 and 220 and second in the broad jump. Fraser of Manchester ran a good race to take fourth in the 100 but failed to place in the 220 final. Shedd seemed a certain point winner in the 440 but tripped and was unable to regain his stride.

SENSE and NONSENSE

Second Ditto—The same for me—legal tender.

The wise man knows he can never learn anything while talking... that's the reason he listens so much.

Man—Aren't you afraid the birds will eat up your seed? You ought to put up a scarecrow.
Farmer—Oh, I guess we needn't bother. One of us is always in the garden.

The United States Secret Service wants us to be on the lookout for counterfeit $100 bills... Thanks for the compliment.

Minister—You know, Sam, it's no disgrace to work for a living.
Samuel—Yes, that's what I always tell my wife.

It isn't polite to use profanity of course, but in case of emergency, it's nice to have around.

It seems to be almost impossible for the average man to keep his memory and his imagination from merging.

Wife—The couple next door seem to be very devoted. He kisses her every time they meet. Why don't you do that?
Her husband—I don't know her well enough yet. Just give me time.

Criticizing other people does not improve the critic.

McTavish had bought a new cash register. One day a friend entered his store and bought a 5-cent cigar. McTavish put the nickel in his pocket.

Customer—Why don't you ring it up? Aren't you afraid of forgetting it?

McTavish—I'll nae forget it. You see I keep track of it in my head until I get a quarter, then I'll ring it up. It saves wear and tear on the cash register.

Our grandmothers objected to being photographed in a bathing suit. But just look at the kind of bathing suits our grandmothers had to wear.

Logan—What did Hogan say when Kelly called him a liar?

Perry—Nothin' much.
Logan—That's funny. Hogan used to be a hot-tempered man.

Perry—Well, he never said a word except "Have ye had enough yet?"

Patient—Doctor, I'm bothered with a queer pain. When I bend forward, stretch out my arms and make a semi-circle movement with them, a sharp sting comes in my left shoulder.
Doctor—But why make such motions?

Patient—Well, well if you know any other way for a man to get on his overcoat, I wish you'd let me know.

People who live in hick towns know how to sympathize with those who live in glass houses.
