PAY RESPECTS TOMORROW TO SOLDIER DEAD

Parade at 9.30 Followed By Memorial Service in Cen- ter Park Principal Feature —Two Ball Games.

Manchester will pay tribute to its revered war dead with appropriate ceremonies tomorrow.

There will be a patriotic parade
starting at 9:30 o'clock tomorrow morning, which will be followed by commemorative exercises at Center Park and then the decorating of the graves of soldiers and sailors in the cemetery of the town.

Expect Rain

Memorial Day probably will be marred by occasional rain and overcast skies. It was reported today at the New Haven Weather Bureau
office. The storm which has been over Florida the last few days has moved into North Carolina and is heading northward. Rain is expected to begin tonight but the temperature will remain about the same.

Most of the local stores will be closed all day, and operations in the mills will be suspended. Only drug stores and restaurants will be open. The State theater will have matinee and evening performances
as usual.

Of For the Shore

Many local residents, adhering to custom, are planning to open for the summer season their cottages at the seashore, at lakes and in the mountains on Memorial Day. Picnics and motoring also are favorite pastimes on this holiday, but the success of these depends almost entirely upon fair weather.

Nothing short of an actual cloudburst will prevent the parade from swinging along the line of march,
but if the rain develops into a steady
downpour it is expected that the exercises will be held in Center church. Rev. Karl Richter, pastor of the Concordia Lutheran church, is scheduled to deliver the Memorial Day oration at the exercises. Members of the National Sons of the various veterans' organizations,
Boy and Girl Scouts and other patriotic, fraternal and civic societies
will participate in the parade.

Cemeteries The Mecca

Cemeteries undoubtedly will be the mecca of thousands of Manchester persons who devote at least a part of Memorial Day to making a pilgrimage to the graves of loved ones. Flowers and potted plants are

MENTION RORABACK AS PARTY LEADER

G. O. P. Chairman to Be Picked Next Week in Chi- cago; Those Discussed.

Washington, May 29.—(AP)—
The contest for leadership of the Republican Party, due for a showdown in exactly a week, was termed by one G. O. P. leader today as still in the "dog-fight" stage.

The same spokesman expressed a belief that virtual agreement on a candidate for chairman would be reached before the convening of the National committee in Chicago next Tuesday. He said, however, that at present there did not appear to be sufficient sentiment behind any one man to assure his selection.

Mary Conferences

A cross fire of correspondence and private conferences among Republican committee men and com-
mitteewomen began immediately
after Everett Sanders called the Chicago meeting. He announced it would act on his resignation as chairman and select a new leader.
Although all factions agreed it is too soon to start picking a presidential nominee, the selection of a party chairman is being influenced in part by a group sometimes spoken
of in their own and other sections
as "presidential timber."

Those Mentioned

It includes such names as Ogden
L. Mills, Representative from New York; Walter Edge, former Senator from New Jersey and ambassador to France; Senator Charles L. McNary
of Oregon, the Republican leader and Patrick J. Hurley of Oklahoma, former secretary of war.

For any of these to accept the chairmanship might eliminate him
as a 1936 possibility.

The past history shows that between elections, when out of power
the Republican committee men frequently has turned to its own membership for a chairman rather than go outside.

This consideration has brought increasing mention of such men as Walter S. Hallanan of West Virginia, Charles D. Hilles of New York, J. Henry Roraback of Connecticut and Ralph E. Williams of Oregon, the present vice-chairman

WEIRTON WINS RESTRAINT SUIT BROUGHT BY U. S.

Federal District Court Denies Injunction to Prevent In- terference in Election of Labor Bargainers.

Wilmington, Del., May 29.—(AP)—
The federal government's petition
for a preliminary injunction to restrain the Weirton steel company
from interfering or taking any part in the election of bargaining representatives by its employees was denied today by Judge John P.
Nields in United States district court.

The court denied the injunction
for two reasons, one, that the Norris anti-injunction act applies to this case and, second, that the court is without power to issue an injunction in a case involving a labor dispute until after testimony is taken from witnesses in open court.

The court said affidavits presented by both sides are contradictory and conflicting and that there are serious questions of law involved,
particularly the question as to the constitutionality of the National Industry Recovery Act.

"Counsel in their brief have given
extensive and careful consideration
of this constitutional question," Judge Nields said. "Issues of the greatest importance are raised and should be determined only after a final hearing."

The decision leaves unsettled the company's challenge of the labor
guarantee provisions of the Industrial Recovery Act on constitutional grounds as well as the government's attack upon the so-called company
union. It defeats, however, the plan for an immediate election at the Weirton plants under supervision of the National Labor board.

These and other issues will be de-

ESCAPED PRISONER THOUGHT DROWNED

Companion Rescued as Pair Saw Bars of Cells at Deer Island.

Boston, May 29.—(AP)—One prisoner was believed drowned and a second was rescued from Shirley but today as the pair attempted to escape from the Deer Island House of Correction.

The attempt to swim across the treacherous channel to the Winthrop shore was made after the men had sawed their way out of their cells.

Tony Goodell, 22, of Chelsea, was missing. Major George F. A. Mulcahy, superintendent of the Deer Island institution, believed he drowned. George Baker, alias George Bacon, 23, of Somerville,
was rescued by prison guards.

There was a full moon and an unusually high tide swirled through the Gut as the prisoners attempted to swim the channel shortly before 2 a. m. Of recent years the Gut channel has filled up gradually and has been regarded as less treacherous than in the past, when it was known as a "graveyard" for swimmers.

Missed From Cells

Goodell and Baker were missed from their cells about one o'clock this morning. They had sawed the bars in the doors of their cells, slipped down the cell block corridor,
sawed the bars in a window overlooking the roof of a one-story
kitchen building and dropped 15
feet to the kitchen roof.

Jumping to the ground, they ran to the northeast corner of the island, attempting their swim to the Winthrop shore at a point a little
above the waters of the swift run.

Five Daughters Are Born To A Canadian Woman

Corbett, Ont., May 29.—(AP)— Mother's Day is over and Father's Day comes along pretty soon, but it wasn't exactly this that 34-year-old Ernest Dionne was thinking today.

At the age of 34 Dionne found his already sizeable family of four children more than doubled yesterday.
What joy he may have felt at becoming one of the few fathers of quintuplets on record was somewhat dimmed by thoughts of a heavy mortgage on his farm.

Dionne, as he went about his chores, spoke of the mortgage and explained that he wasn't exactly
"built for hard work"—he weighs 130 pounds and is five feet, 8 inches tall.

At End of Paris-New York Non-Stop Flight

Capt. Maurice Rossi and Lieut. Paul Codos, French fliers, became the first two aviators to fly across the Atlantic in both directions when, as shown here, they brought their silvery monoplane, Joseph Le Brix, to rest at Floyd Bennett Field, Brooklyn, N. Y., after a non-stop flight from Paris. It was in the same plane that the fliers last year made their record breaking long distance flight from New York to Syria.

NOMINATION OF BERGIN IS REJECTED BY SENATE

Senator Lonergan Holds Up- per Hand in Fight With Administration Over State Patronage.

DOLAN FOR U. S. SENATE
Hartford, May 29.—(AP)—
Friends of Dr. Edward G. Dolan, stunned by Senator Lonergan's imminent move for Senate rejection of his nomination as internal revenue
collector, were planning a bold
move today to keep him in the political picture as a militant leader
of the "New Guard."

These friends, it became known,
were urging him to become a candidate for the United States Senatorial nomination at the fall convention and he is said to be responding to the proposal. Dr. Dolan asked what his next move would be,
was non-committal, and apparently, was awaiting further developments before discussing his political future.

Washington, May 29.—(AP)—
With the nomination of Frank S.
Bergin as United States district attorney already rejected, and the rejection of two other nominees slated
for this week, Senator Lonergan
definitely held the upper hand today
in his war with the Administration
over Connecticut patronage.

Striking with a power which showed the support the Senate
usually accords one of its members whose patronage prerogatives have been ignored, Lonergan late yesterday secured the rejection of Bergin's nomination. The judiciary committee voted unanimously to report the nomination unfavorable, and not a voice was raised in Bergin's support
when the Senator brought the matter out on the floor and asked rejection.

Expect Similar Action

The finance committee normally meets Thursday. The readiness
with which action on the Bergin nomination went through on the day of the regular judiciary committee meeting was regarded here
as indicating similar action may be expected that day on the nominations of Mrs. Fannie Dixon Welch
as collector of customs and of Dr.
Edward G. Dolan as collector of internal revenue. Both nominations,

TROOPS IN TOLEDO FEAR NEW TROUBLE

Toledo, O., May 29.—(AP)—National Guard troops prepared to meet new threats of violence today
as Federal mediators divided their forces in attempts to break the deadlock in the automotive strike
and to avert a walkout of electrical workers called for Thursday.

A crowd of 100 assembled at the Bingham Stamping and Tool Company early today with piles of rocks and jeered the 260 employes
entering the factory.

Threats were hurled that "You'll be able to get in, but it won't be so easy to get out."

Brigadier General L. S. Connell,
in charge of soldiers guarding the Electric Auto-Lite plant, said two of his officers are watching conditions at the Bingham factory.

"We have a force in reserve at the armory downtown," he said,
"and at the first sign of violence
these troops will be rushed to the Bingham company."

PLATT PROVISIO ELIMINATED IN CUBAN TREATY

Troublesome Intervention Amendment Is Quashed in Fact to Be Signed at Washington During Day.

Washington, May 29.—(AP)—
The United States and Cuba are expected to sign a new political treaty today in which the Platt amendment is entirely eliminated.
The treaty, in the course of negotiation for several months, will replace the 1903 pact.

The Platt amendment of the 1903
treaty is the one giving the United States the right to intervene in Cuba if such action should be considered necessary for the maintenance of order and the protection of American lives and property.

The amendment has long been bitterly attacked by all Cuban fantists, and has been considered in many quarters an outstanding bar
to completely amicable relations between the two republics.

The Platt amendment provides that the government of Cuba consent to the United States may exercise the right to intervene for the preservation of Cuban independence, the maintenance of a government adequate for the protection of life, property and individual liberty, and for discharging its obligations with respect to Cuba imposed by the Treaty of Paris on the United States, now to be assumed and undertaken by the government of Cuba.

President Roosevelt, when at Warm Springs, Ga., issued a statement in which he promised that the treaty of 1903 would be revised and
the amendment abrogated.

Dr. Manuel Marquez Sterling was empowered by his government to sign the new treaty.

Embassy officials declined to discuss details of the negotiation
through which the new treaty was agreed upon. They referred all inquiries to the State Department.

However, the ambassador will act
for his government this afternoon
and it is understood, the treaty will be sent immediately to the Senates
of both countries for their approval.

ATLANTIC FLIERS ARE DISAPPOINTED

Dream of Winning Million Franc Prize Shattered — May Fly Back to Paris.

New York, May 29.—(AP)—Two French air officers whose wings
wobbled after carrying them from Paris to America on a flight which was intended to end at San Diego, Calif., were wondering today where to go from here.

Their dream of a non-stop flight
reared and a million franc prize
shattered when vibrating wings
caused them to set their plane down
at Floyd Bennett airport yesterday afternoon, Maurice Rossi and Paul Codos awoke in their hotel suite today refreshed and ready for New York's official welcome and ac-claiming.

The weary airman had little time
for festivities when they climbed
from their huge monoplane.

Vibration of the wings and ruder-der of their silver monoplane—the Joseph Lebriz—halted their ambitious undertaking, they explained.
Their gasoline supply would have been sufficient for the remainder of their easy 6,100 mile flight.

Were Disappointed

Their words after landing were
of disappointment.

"I am not at all happy," said
Rossi.

"I am very, very sorry," said
Codos.

After some reflection Rossi added: "But it is better to be here alive
than a hero dead." Later over a

DEBTOR NATIONS ASKED TO PAY UP

If They Do Not American Money Markets Will Be Closed Against Them.

Washington, May 29.—(AP)—As diplomatic wings hummed with a dun from Uncle Sam to European war debtors, the administration
sought today an X-ray of the teeth
in the Johnson Act, the measure banning debt defaulters from dealings in the American money market.

Attorney General Cummings, acting on an administration request,
was preparing a ruling on an offer
in this country of "Soviet Union
seven percent debentures." He previously had listed the U. S. S. R. as a defaulter, under the Johnson Act.

Asked To Pay Up

The State Department caused
diplomatic wires to hum with a direct call upon all war debtors to pay up not only their coming installments but also past non-payments.
This was a departure from previous practice and was believed directly connected with the Johnson Act. The usual reminder was handed to the envoys of 13 debtor nations, notifying them of installments due June 15. The total due, including amounts in arrears, is close to $500,000,000.
This action was held to have added
significance in view of the complicated by President Roosevelt of his war debt message. Its content closely guarded, the document may go forward to Capitol Hill today.

The attorney general's study of the Soviet bond offer was precipitated by an advertisement appearing in a New York newspaper which listed the securities as a "direct obligation of this nation (Soviet Union)."

Its Future Effect

Although no other nation has made any public offering of securities since the attorney general handed down his ruling May 5, in which the token payers were not listed as among the debt defaulters, his latest decision appeared likely to have wide future effect.

AMERICA PLEDGED TO KEEP UP WORK FOR DISARMAMENT

BENNETT IS NAMED TROLLEY MANAGER

Succeeds Punderford in Charge of Connecticut Co. Lines—His Record.

Effective Friday Richard J. Ben-

The Connecticut Company since 1925, will become general manager of the company, assistant to the president of the Springfield Street Railway Company, and assistant to the president of the Berkshire Street Railway Company. It was announced today by J. K. Punderford, president of all three companies.

Since 1925 Mr. Punderford has functioned both as president and general manager of The Connecticut Company, while Mr. Bennett as his assistant in the latter capacity
has been in direct charge of operations. Within the last year, Mr.
Punderford was elected president
both of the Springfield Street Railway Company and of the Berkshire Street Railway Company. Thus
Mr. Punderford will devote all his time to the executive duties of the three companies with Mr. Bennett as his executive assistant at Springfield and Pittsfield and as the operating head in Connecticut.

Bennett Experienced

Mr. Bennett has been engaged in the transportation business throughout his life and is familiar with every phase of the operation of

United States Policy

To carry out that policy, Davis said, President Roosevelt had authorized him to summarize the attitude and policy of the United States as follows:

"We are prepared to cooperate in every practicable way in efforts to secure a general disarmament agreement and thus help promote the general peace and progress of the world."

"We are furthermore willing in connection with a general disarmament
convention to negotiate a universal pact of non-aggression and to join with other nations in conferring on international problems
growing out of any treaties to which we are a party."

BODY OF WOMAN FOUND IN GARAGE

Police Do Not Know Whether She Was Slain or Took Her Own Life.

Sacramento, Calif., May 29.— (AP)—Discovery of the partly burned body of Miss Virginia Johnson, 22-year-old daughter of Charles G. Johnson, state treasurer, puzzled authorities here today.

Although investigators said she apparently was dead before fire was applied to her kerosene soaked clothing in a garage three blocks
from her home, they hesitated to say she had been murdered.

Relatives, however, were confident Miss Johnson had been slain.
Nevertheless there was no evidence of a struggle.

The body was found last night in a garage, one of five in the rear of an apartment house owned by C. E.

PRESIDENT LEAVES CAPITAL TOMORROW

To Speak at Gettysburg, Then Go On to New York to Review Fleet.

Washington, May 29.—(AP)—
President Roosevelt, after reviewing
the fleet in New York harbor,
swinging briefly into New England,
spending the week-end at Hyde Park, N. Y., will return Monday to the capital.

Instead of spending two or three days at his Hyde Park home, as he originally had planned, the President will be back at his desk early Monday morning to aid in the Administration drive for adjournment
of Congress.

He will probably send his message on war debts to Congress
on Friday, writing it during his trip.

Leaving here tomorrow by special train Mr. Roosevelt will speak at the Gettysburg Pa. Civil War battlefield late tomorrow afternoon.

DR. DOLAN MAY LOSE HIS REVENUE OFFICE

Rejection of Bergin Nomination Indication of Sen. Lonergan's Power.

Dr. Edward G. Dolan of Manchester, collector of internal revenue in Connecticut, may lose that position if United States Senator Augustine Lonergan obtains the unanimous Senate rejection of Dolan's nomination as he did yesterday in the case of State Senator Frank S. Bergin who previously had been nominated to be United States Attorney for Connecticut.

Action This Week. It is expected that action on the appointments of Dr. Dolan and Mr. Francis Dixon Welch of Columbia, the latter collector of the port, will be taken by Senator Lonergan later on this week.

Senator Lonergan's move yesterday was to get the Judiciary committee to recommend the rejection of the Bergin nomination and then proceed out of order to make the rejection complete, thus preventing President Roosevelt from withdrawing the nomination before a Senate vote could be taken.

Senator Lonergan's position on political appointments is strengthened by the fact that the Senate usually supports its members in such matters. Dr. Dolan has had the backing of Attorney General Homer B. Cummings and Archbishop McNeil, leaders of the New Guard faction.

POLAND'S FREEDOM CELEBRATED HERE

Assembly of 400 Observe Anniversary of Constitution Day in Program.

Approximately 400 people attended the celebration in Victory hall, Galloway street, Sunday, of the first Polish constitution drawn in 1779. The program was under the auspices of the Polish National church and opened at 8 o'clock with the singing by both the junior and senior choirs of the national anthem, "America" in the English and Polish languages.

Speakers. The principal speaker of the afternoon was Rev. Anthony Wojtkowiak of Ware, Mass. Others who gave brief addresses were John Maziarz of Hartford and Rev. Peter Latas, pastor of the church, Charles Skrabacz was master of ceremonies, Joseph Grzyb was secretary and Miss Olive Skrabacz pianist for the afternoon.

At the close of his introductory speech, Chairman Skrabacz summoned the principal speakers and presidents of different organizations to seats on the platform. President Henry Zatkowski and Vice-President Chester Kosak, representing the Young Poles society, proceeded down the aisle carrying the American and Polish flags.

The senior choir sang two numbers and Rev. Anthony Wojtkowiak followed with a stirring speech. He began with a brief account of the conditions which obtained and which led to the adoption of the constitution of May 3, 1791, and followed with a history of Poland's struggles until she obtained freedom from Russia during the World War.

Phyllis Skrabacz then gave a short recitation entitled "May Third" and Regina Patrioka sang a solo, "Halka." Chairman Skrabacz called on Mr. Maziarz and his speech was followed with a solo by Jennie Mysowski. "Say Something to Me," Annie Olbert and Helen Perence received the free will offering, Edward Wiersbioki gave a declamation and the senior choir sang "Poland, Our Native Land."

Recitations were also given by Adella Sumislauki, Stettie Berk and Helen Gryb, Bertha Vincek sang "Blossoming May." Rev. Peter Latas spoke and Phyllis, Edward and Olive Skrabacz appeared in a song and dance act, Edward singing a comic song. The junior choir sang two selections and Mary Kucienski sang "One Night in May."

Rev. Peter Latas in closing thanked Rev. Wojtkowiak for his splendid speech and Mr. and Mrs. Skrabacz for their work in training the children for their part in the afternoon's program. He also thanked the choirs for their contributions and the soloists and readers, and expressed his appreciation and that of the committee for the large attendance.

Y. M. C. A. Notes

All boys in Manchester are invited to hear C. P. Thayer, secretary of the Y. M. C. A., give a talk on the life of a Confederate soldier, Wednesday evening at 7:30. Several years ago Mr. Thayer came into possession of several diaries, written by a Confederate soldier, who enlisted at the beginning of the Civil War, when only nineteen years old. He kept a complete record of his four years in the war, fought in many of the major battles, was captured and spent nearly two years in a Federal prison. His descriptions of camp life are very vivid and it would seem particularly fitting that something of his life be told Memorial Day.

David Hamilton, supervisor of the "Y" bowling alleys says that there were over 13,200 strings rolled this past season.

REAL ESTATE BROKERS TO BALLOT ON A CODE

Town Clerks to Distribute Votes in Places Where There Are No Real Estate Boards.

Hartford, May 28—(AP)—In order that members of the real estate brokerage industry in Connecticut may have opportunity to cast ballots in the mail poll for the National real estate code authority, regardless of whether they are members of local boards, ballots will be put in the hands of town clerks throughout the state in all towns where there are no real estate boards.

Announcement of this plan was made today by Aubrey Maddock of Hartford, president of the Connecticut Association of Real Estate Boards. The details of the mail balloting in Connecticut will be worked out by Marshall C. Alban of Greenwich, secretary of the state association. If, through error or omission, any town clerk does not receive a supply of ballots, non-board members may secure ballots by mail from Secretary Alban.

The distribution of ballots in towns and cities where there are local boards to both members and non-members will be attended to by the local board. Ballots must be post-marked not later than June 7.

POLICE COURT

Emory B. Fellows, of Andover, who said he sold tonics to farmers for their cattle as a means of livelihood, was fined $100 and costs after being found guilty in police court today of a charge of driving an automobile while under the influence of liquor.

Fellows was arrested by Policeman Walter Cassella at Depot Square last night. He was examined by Dr. LeVerne Holmes and found to be in an unfit condition to drive a car. The Andover man denied he had been drinking and pleaded for leniency, saying he was the father of three children who were dependent upon him for their support. In view of this latter fact, the court remitted $50 of the fine.

FORMER LOCAL YOUTH SAVES DROWNING BOY

Charles W. Kearnes of Chicago Lauded in Telephone Co. Newspaper for His Deed.

Charles W. Kearnes, a former resident of this town and now employed by the Bell Telephone Company, Chicago, recently rescued a drowning boy in Jackson Park, Chicago, a notice in the telephone newspaper states. Kearnes, a switchman in the Franklin Building plant in that city, was watching two boys who were playing on a raft in the lagoon when suddenly one of the boys slipped off the raft into deep water.

The other children nearby started to scream and called for help and Kearnes jumped in without waiting to remove his clothes and dived into the deep water and brought the boy's body to the surface and rendered first aid. Witnesses said that Kearnes' prompt action saved the boy's life.

Kearnes is a nephew of Charles Sweet of this town. Champagne was accidentally concocted 200 years ago by a Benedictine monk, Dom Ferignon, who was trying to rescue a batch of wine that was turning out badly.

TUESDAY, MAY 29.

rapid readjustment to such a fact on the part of the administration somebody is likely to get hurt—and it is a reasonable expectation that it will not be the Senate.

The senators are, naturally, jealous of their time honored prerogative of control of major federal appointments within their respective states. Loneragan, the only Democratic senator from a state which has only two Democratic representatives in the House, has had to witness the selection of Connecticut appointees by a group which had a single standard of virtue—that the appointees must have been an "original Roosevelt man" before the last Democratic national convention.

The Connecticut senator is a moderate sort of person. He did not expect, in the circumstance, to be a full-blown patronage dictator. But he did expect to have recognized his unquestionable power to prevent the ratification of appointments that did not please him; and that power was completely ignored by the administration and the Connecticut New Guard group.

The test could have been avoided with a little diplomacy on the part of the administration's patronage machine. It is quite generally understood that Mr. Loneragan would have been content with considerably less than the big half of the pie. He doesn't appear to have an overweening appetite for pie anyhow. But he couldn't just see having the whole confection gobbled up in front of his eyes when, after all, it was more his pie than anyone's else. No one knows exactly what sort of compromise Mr. Loneragan offered to the administration the other day when he demanded a share in the selection of Connecticut appointees, but it is practically certain that he asked for considerably less than the lion's share. If the administration had accepted his terms there would have been no row.

It is a guess, but it may be a good one, that of the three major appointees—Mr. Bergin as federal attorney for this district, Dr. E. G. Dolan of this town as collector of internal revenue and Mrs. Fannie Dixon Welch of Columbia as customs collector—Senator Loneragan would have been satisfied with the withdrawal of one, Bergin. That would have left Dr. Dolan and Mrs. Welch in possession of their jobs, though there is probably no great amount of political love lost between the senator and Dr. Dolan.

But this was no mere hat-holding plea on Loneragan's part. It was an ultimatum. He served, it is understood, direct notice that if he wasn't given the recognition that was his right he would see to it that the Senate rejected all the major appointments. How thoroughly he could make good on this threat is shown by the prompt and unanimous action of the Senate yesterday. It would seem to be improbable that similar action can be prevented in the cases of Dr. Dolan and Mrs. Welch. It certainly can't unless something important happens very quickly to make Loneragan withhold his hand. He is sitting in the driver's seat.

There is one interesting angle of this affair. President Roosevelt, it is well known, has had considerable first-hand knowledge of the peculiar Connecticut situation. He knew about Loneragan's ultimatum and its significance. Yet he risked what has now happened. Why? Did the President imagine that the New Deal had brought about such a sweeping alteration in Senate sentiment and political necessities that that body would abandon all its ancient precedents and prestige and refuse to support one of its members in a patronage fight with the White House? It actually looks that way.

If the President had any such expectation he has now been disillusioned. Not a single vote or vote rallied to the Big Chief when it came to the gold old question of political jobs. The revelation was complete.

Mr. Loneragan's motion of rejection of the Bergin appointment and the Senate's action on it made history yesterday. They also probably added to the store of practical knowledge possessed by Mr. Roosevelt.

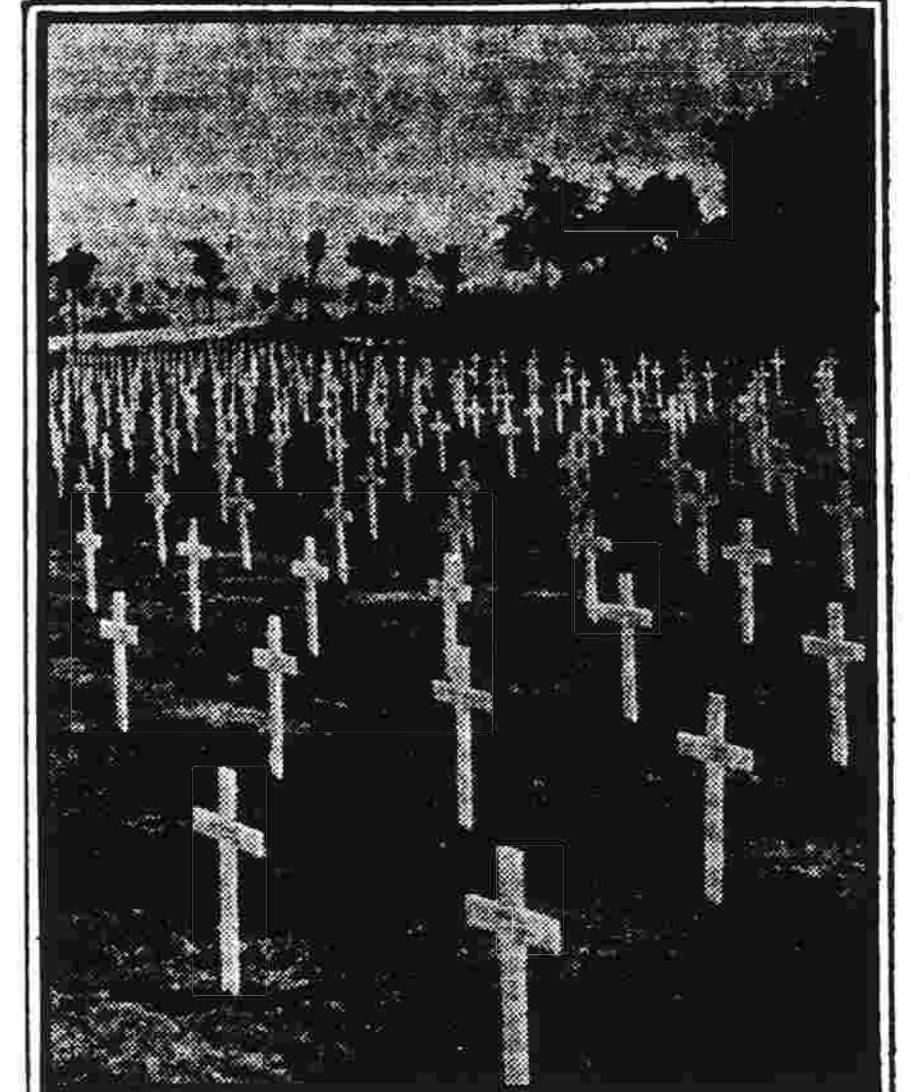

over a certain amount of war material business to some other country. But even so, Congress did well to enact the authorization for the embargo and the President did well in so promptly proclaiming it.

We do not authorize our citizens, by law, to kidnap their rich neighbors for profit, on the theory that somebody will do the kidnaping anyhow; we do not legalize retail murder because it is sometimes a profitable trade. Then why should we countenance and legalize the trade of accessory to wholesale murder, merely because we fear that someone on the outside of our national boundaries may reap the profit from making war slaughter possible?

Naturally there is a further purpose in this embargo than merely a desire to keep guilt away from our own skirts. We want to stop that Chaco war. And the President's action, first taken by any nation in the premises, may even do that. Many munition making countries are pledged to follow suit. The Paraguayan-Bolivian war beast may perhaps be starved to death for want of its diet of powder and shells.

But in any event the United States has taken the unqualifiedly right attitude. It is too bad it didn't take it long ago, while the credit of the belligerents was still better than it is now. There might have been a little more of righteous glory in it for us.

MEMORIAL DAY

There are a great many persons still active in the various affairs of life who have no difficulty in remembering the Memorial Day of, say, 1889, thirty-five years ago. At that period Memorial Day was almost the exclusive possession of the veterans of the War of the Rebellion. In the annual parade there might be a tiny little group of old men who fought in the war with Mexico, but in this part of the country these were very few indeed. The day belonged to the Boys in Blue of the 60's. And there were almost no old men among them.

The Union Army of the Civil War was an army of boys—countless thousands of them 17, 18, 19 years of age. Men of 25 were relatively rare until the last year or two when a good many veteran campaigners had reached that ripe age. Twenty-four years after Appomattox these young soldiers, the vast majority of them born between 1840 and 1845, were still under fifty years of age.

So there is a considerable generation which can recall Memorial Day parades in which marched with swinging steps and straight backs solid bodies of sturdy middleaged, frequently youngish men—not, on the whole so very much older in fact or appearance than the World War Veterans who will march tomorrow. There are plenty of the men of the World War who are almost as old now as the average of the Union veterans were in the time of which we speak. And all within the memory of men and women who do not yet think of themselves as old.

Yet the Grand Army of the Republic has already marched away into the shadows of the past. Some day the Legion, the V. F. W. and the other World War groups will follow the echo of its drums.

At this time, when the Memorial Day of the Civil War veterans is becoming the Memorial Day of the veterans of the World War, the somber thought suggests itself: Will this thing go on always?

Will there always be a new generation of war veterans to take up the sterner sad duty of scattering flowers on the graves of the comrades who died in the agony of conflict or after some years of maimed and suffering existence? Are we never to be freed from the curse and ruin of war even long enough so that within the memory of a single life there shall not have been two such vast hosts as the Grand Army of the Republic and the World War organizations?

Memorial Day is a beautiful thing, the materialization of a lovely human attribute—gratitude. It is the one day of the year on which we never hear the young men who gave or risked their lives in their country's defense referred to as "treasury raiders." It is the white lily among the florid bouquet of all our other days. But the finest thing we can hope for in connection with it is that in due course it may pass away because there will then be no present generation prompted by its own bitter experiences to breathe new life into it.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN Washington

Argument Waxes Hot Over Liquor Profits . . . Diners Flee When Gillespie Starts His Monolog.

By RODNEY DUTCHER
 Herald Washington Correspondent

Washington, May 29.—You can match the protests of several congressmen that the Federal Alcohol Control Administration is hampering distillers again a current idea here that FACA has let the boys run high, wide and handsome.

FACA has yet to hear from consumers. Director Joseph Choate's blast against the bootlegging "monster," which some officials think he exaggerates, echoed the distillers' plea for lower taxes and import duties without mentioning what Senator Borah calls "huge, enormous, unconscionable profits."

At about the same time, one of the big "wings" of the "whiskey monopoly" was found to have profited at the rate of 49 per cent in the last quarter of 1933.

Choate didn't mention that much bootleg liquor now underselling distillers' products is as good or better than legal stuff. Treasury lab tests show that.

Appointment of Fred Lee as FACA general counsel was hardly a body blow to distillers. Before the big bust-up at AAA, Lee and George Peck fought successfully for a distillers' code eliminating the Wallace-Tugwell program for a federal corporation or such strict control that whiskey could be sold for $1 or $1.50 a quart.

After Peck was eased from AAA, Lee became law partner of Bill MacCracken of airmail-Senate committee fame and turned over MacCracken's files to Col. L. H. Brittin when the latter destroyed documents sought by a Senate committee.

Early FACA threats to attack the profit issue finally resulted in dispatch of cost questionnaires to distillers. But the answers won't disclose profits, because liquor now being made and stored—on which

Flowers and Cannons

costs will be reported—may not be sold for months hence.

Distillers contend that what look like huge profits really aren't, that banks won't give them credit, and that they must have the "profit" money to build up large stocks.

Gillespie Routs 'Em

The House restaurant is crowded. But when Congressman Frank Gillespie of Illinois wants a table by himself he usually gets what he wants.

Sometimes he takes the vacant chair at a table and begins reciting poetry, staring at each other person in turn till they all jump and run.

The other day he sat down beside a strange woman, gazed fixedly at her, and went on like this:

"I see you're eating soup. Well do I remember the first time I ever ate soup. I was 22 years old. It was also the first time in my life I'd worn a pair of shoes.

"Yes, I never had on a pair of shoes until I was 22. All winter I walked to school barefooted, through two or three feet of snow.

"In my pockets I carried two blocks of wood and when my feet got too cold I'd put the blocks down and stand on them until my feet got warm again. Never will I forget the day when I lost the two blocks of wood.

"At that point his audience gulped the last of her soup and went away from there.

An Amazing Shift

No quip reversal of roles ever happened here than the twin performance of Brig. Gen. Samuel T. Ansell and John G. Holland.

Ansell originally was special counsel for the Senate subcommittee investigating Huey Long's election of Senator Overton in Louisiana and Holland was the committee's chief investigator.

Each had his own row with the committee and quit. Both said it was afraid of Huey Long and was trying to whitewash corruption.

Now the two have joined together in a law firm known as "Ansell and Holland" and are representing Mrs. Hilda Phelps Hammond's Women's Committee of Louisiana, which seeks to oust both Long and Overton.

Appearing before the Senate elections committee no longer as Senate employees, they hammer away at the charges which they once accused the Connally subcommittee of "botting up."

Ansell was an acting judge advocate general of the Army during the war. Holland investigated Teapot Dome, air and ocean mail contracts, and many other scandals.

Mr. Ansell never flees

A newspaperman here has just dug from his files a letter from a press agent of Sam Insull, received in 1926, after Insull was reported to have sneered at a threat of Senate investigation. Here's the beginning and the end:

Mr. Insull never runs from anything or anybody. . . . Anything that might tend to suggest or breed disrespect of government is, within his circle of influence, taboo."

Question: Frank says: "I have a bad breath, yellow furred tongue, peaty condition in the mouth, and lots of gas in the stomach and intestines, but no other ill-effects. I have been taking acidophilous cultures with the intention of changing the bacteria in the intestines. The condition seems to have gradually improved under this treatment, but my trouble seems to return after about four or five months. Will I have to start the treatment all over again? I would like to cure myself permanently as it is so aggravating to have this condition come on frequently."

Answer: The best method that I have found for changing the intestinal flora is the orange juice fast. I believe that you will find this more satisfactory than the use of the acidophilous cultures, although they have undoubtedly helped you. I believe that to change the flora it is more important to change the feeding material than to introduce the cultures of bacteria, as the types of bacteria predominating in the intestines automatically change according to the type of food consumed.

I will be pleased to send you my instructions for making this orange juice fast, if you will send me your full name with a large, self-addressed stamped envelope.

ARMES EMBARGO

About the last thing to be considered, with relation to the ban set up yesterday by President Roosevelt on the sale of arms to Bolivia or Paraguay, is whether such prohibition on the part of the United States will have the effect of preventing the belligerent nations from obtaining further supplies of arms or munitions—or even whether it will have an appreciable effect on the amount of such supplies which they may obtain.

Of these things we cannot, of course, be sure. It may turn out that by putting an embargo on the shipment of munitions from this country we shall merely have turned

Unanimous rejection by the United States Senate of the Presidential appointment of United States District Attorney Frank S. NERVE WEAKNESS

If you are suffering from extreme nervous symptoms, then you probably worry for fear you will lose your mind. As a matter of fact, you are in almost no danger of becoming insane, regardless of how long the nerve weakness persists.

If you have a well developed weakness of the nerves you can overcome your nervous symptoms and return to complete good health. Recovery may be gradual, but with persistent effort you may become permanently free from this aggravating trouble. Relief may take several months, although if you are willing to use every helpful measure at your command, improvement will follow in a much shorter time.

One favorable factor is that the nervous patient is frequently an intelligent one and will understand the meaning of the treatment if it is explained to him. Yes, I do not hesitate to say that nervousness is a disorder affecting those with "brains" who are also the ones most likely to have sensitive, highly organized nervous systems.

The symptoms of nerve depletion are many. One of the common symptoms is tiredness. The patient tires quickly and activities carried on by the average person are too much for him. This tired sensation follows either mental or physical work and the patient may say that close mental work causes peculiar sensations affecting the head as though there were a tight band of iron around the skull or a feeling of pressure inside the head.

Another unusual symptom is that the patient becomes acutely aware of all of the sensations arising within in the body. For example, he may be disturbed by the beating of his heart or he may become miserable by a feeling of fullness or distention through the abdomen. A marked feature of true cases of nerve weakness is that whatever the patient feels he feels more keenly than if he were normal. He may complain of headache, gas pains, excessive sweating, twitching of the eyelids, trembling of the legs or hands, mild attacks of dizziness, or may be bothered by burning pains in various parts of the body.

Prominent symptoms are a rapid beating of the heart and digestive trouble. The patient becomes anxious and fearful. He may be underweight, very often has proslapsed organs, and his muscles are soft, lacking normal tone.

The causes of nervousness are many. A marked cause is eyestrain. Other causes are those habits of living which are not good and which tend to produce nervousness. Emotional causes are powerful factors in bringing on nervousness and the patient who is dissatisfied with his work or his home conditions, will, during a period of stress or worry, be most likely to become nervous. Two physical conditions which favor the development of nervous symptoms in an extreme form are rectal troubles and congestion through the reproductive organs.

Nervousness may be relieved when the causes are sought out and removed, if, at the same time, the patient practices faithfully those good habits of living and thinking which restore both mind and body.

I have prepared an article called "If you are Nervous" which I will be glad to send to you. Follow the directions as given in today's article for questions and answers and this article is yours.

IN NEW YORK

By PAUL HARRISON

New York, May 29.—These afternoons, when such New Yorkers as are inclined and able are smacking little pellets around the fairways of about a hundred golf courses, it is likely that not one of them gives a thought to the late Mr. Robert Lockhart.

It is equally likely that very few ever have heard of him. And yet he was the sportsman who introduced golf to New York, and at the same time, America. Lockhart was a Scotsman and a New York linen merchant, and when he got home on business he'd tell his friends that his only objection to America was that people here never played golf, or even knew anything about it. This so astonished his countrymen that in 1887 they took up a collection and bought Mr. Lockhart two sets of clubs, a couple of dozen balls, and told him to hurry back and convert the heathen.

Design for Golfing

A much greater figure in the game was Charles Blair MacDonald, who helped to found the United States Golf Association and later designed some of the most famous courses on this side of the Atlantic. He attended the University of St. Andrews back in the seventies, and there played with the celebrated Tom Morris, father and son. Then he returned to America; but didn't play until after Lockhart had introduced the game in the east. Once MacDonald tried to popularize golf in Chicago, with tomato cans sunk in the turf of a lakefront park. But hoodlums stole the balls and jeered him out of countenance.

His first venture as a course architect was in 1907, when he planned the National Links at Southampton. After that he designed a dozen or more, including the one at York and the Mid-Ocean in Bermuda. Never accepting a nickel for his talents, though; his business was, and still is, in the Stock Exchange. A few years ago he wrote a book of golf reminiscences called "Scotland's Gift." Today, at 78, he's still husky and a frequent player, and lives near the Southampton links.

Indoor Climate

Since writing about those Cuban refugees, the Machados and de Casteles families, I've been asked what happened to the Cuban widow of the late Senator Thomas Walsh. Well, the former Senora Nieves Ferau Chamoun de Truffin is not exactly a refugee, but she is of none-the-less quietly, and she quite a lot of her countrymen. Her Fifth Avenue house, a few blocks from the Machados, is full of steam heat, humidity and tropical ferns. Mrs. Walsh doesn't care much for the New York climate, so she makes her own.

Answer: The best method that I have found for changing the intestinal flora is the orange juice fast. I believe that you will find this more satisfactory than the use of the acidophilous cultures, although they have undoubtedly helped you. I believe that to change the flora it is more important to change the feeding material than to introduce the cultures of bacteria, as the types of bacteria predominating in the intestines automatically change according to the type of food consumed.

I will be pleased to send you my instructions for making this orange juice fast, if you will send me your full name with a large, self-addressed stamped envelope.

Question: Miss A. K. writes: "I have a fatty tumor which the doctor says is a wen. Can I do anything for it?"

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

(Starve the "Bad" Bacteria)

Question: Frank says: "I have a bad breath, yellow furred tongue, peaty condition in the mouth, and lots of gas in the stomach and intestines, but no other ill-effects. I have been taking acidophilous cultures with the intention of changing the bacteria in the intestines. The condition seems to have gradually improved under this treatment, but my trouble seems to return after about four or five months. Will I have to start the treatment all over again? I would like to cure myself permanently as it is so aggravating to have this condition come on frequently."

Answer: The best method that I have found for changing the intestinal flora is the orange juice fast. I believe that you will find this more satisfactory than the use of the acidophilous cultures, although they have undoubtedly helped you. I believe that to change the flora it is more important to change the feeding material than to introduce the cultures of bacteria, as the types of bacteria predominating in the intestines automatically change according to the type of food consumed.

A BOOK A DAY

BY BRUCE CAITON

Savior in This Novel Gets Into a Horrifying Jam

"The Death Ship" by E. Traven, is a startling novel, full of the terrible things that can happen to a man in the cock-eyed post-war world of Europe if he can't prove that he is who he says he is.

A young American sailor goes ashore in Antwerp and is left behind when his ship sails ahead of schedule. His passport, sailor's book, and all other papers are on the ship, and he immediately finds that to be adrift in Europe these days without identification papers is about the worst of imaginable.

No country and no ship will have him. Officially, he has no citizenship and no identity. Consuls cannot help him, shipmasters cannot hire him. Police arrest him and shove him over the nearest border. He can get no job, nor can he legally do any traveling. He is simply in the discard, permanently and irrevocably.

So, finally, he ships out on an antiquated, filthy tramp steamer, with crew underfed and undermanned, a vessel engaged in running munitions illegally to the revolting tribesmen of North Africa. Only such a ship will take him, and everybody in the crew is a fix like him—no papers.

Therefore, they are all at the mercy of the ship's owners. No matter how badly they are treated, they cannot complain.

And then begins the tale of hardship, brutality, and misery that is hard to match in modern literature. Our sailor is entangled in a world gone mad, a world in which justice and sanity have simply ceased to exist.

There can be no escape. Legally, he and his fellows do not exist.

It makes a moving and horrifying book.

Published by Knopf, it retails at $2.50.

When its present 10-year program of improvements is completed, Sweden will have one of the best highway systems in Europe.

SUSPECT NEIGHBOR IN WOMAN'S DEATH

Relatives Tell Police Piece of Wood Used by the Man as a Weapon.

Norwich, May 29.—(AP)—Amodio Amedeo, 37, was detained on a coroner's warrant today to await an autopsy on the body of Dora Migdal, 45, a neighbor, with whom he had had an argument and who died some hours later in her home in Preston, apparently from effects of a blow on the left side of the face.

An autopsy was ordered by Coroner E. G. McKay as Medical Examiner N. E. Lewis was unable to certify the exact cause of death. The man and woman had an argument about 3 p. m., yesterday in a woodlot owned by Amedeo adjoining land of the Migdal woman. At the time the man was chopping wood. Relatives told state police Amedeo hit the woman on the left side of the head with his hand. Amedeo denied this, saying the woman in his anger, picked up a stick and struck at him and, he believed, in so doing she struck herself.

APPENDICITIS VICTIM RESTING COMFORTABLY

Balboa, C. Z., May 29.—(AP)—The United States Navy apparently was the winner today in its dramatic mercy dash by air and sea to save William Albert Robinson, writer and explorer stricken by appendicitis.

Brought here by the U. S. Destroyer Hale from the lonely Galapagos Islands, 1,000 miles away, Robinson lay today in the Army hospital. Physicians believe he will recover.

His bride, the former Florence Crane, Chicago heiress, who dispatched wireless appeals for aid when Robinson was taken ill, said he suffered "tortures of the damned" before two naval planes arrived with surgeons.

"You will simply have to use your imagination to know how we felt when those two planes soared in from the Canal Zone," she said. "It is impossible to describe. It was the same when the Hale steamed in. Robbie was constantly asking concerning the planes, and we had to keep telling him they would be here any minute."

The Robinsons were on a honeymoon cruise in a small vessel when the attack came a week ago, with no medical aid at hand. The wireless did its work and the navy responded. Surgeons carried by airplane operated on Robinson Thursday night and the Hale began the return trip with him Friday.

AMUSEMENTS

"FORGOTTEN MEN" IS UNBIASED WAR RECORD

Official Films from Archives of Nations Involved Used in Great Production.

"Forgotten Men," a war spectacle with official film from the archives of the world's fourteen warring nations, will be shown at the State theater Wednesday and Thursday.

The co-feature will be "The Merry Frinks" starring Hugh Herbert. "Forgotten Men" is an unbiased official record of each nation's participation in a struggle where millions of men fought like demons; died in droves; faced death, devastation, despair and destruction to make one of the most stupendous action spectacles ever photographed.

Al Handy, a Sergeant-Major of the American Expeditionary Forces, who saw exciting service at Kimmsel Hill, Hindenburg Line, Bellecourt and Somme, explains the American sections of the film in "Forgotten Men" which predominate, in a clear, concise manner. Sergeant Handy was wounded at St. Soupley in October, 1918, and received the following citations: Silver Star, Purple Heart, Croix de

GIENNE and CONSPICUOUS SERVICE CROSS

You will actually see "U" boats sinking ships; cannons belching death and destruction; sky fighters crashing to death in flames; air raiders showering missiles of devastation; machine guns murdering thousands; the horrors of hand-to-hand fighting and killing with bayonets; fierce fighting with the most hideous of weapons—liquid fire; Zeppelin raids; hundreds of tanks spitting venomous death; and the twisted mass of strangled horses in the wake of a gas attack.

The American scenes are most astounding, starting with the Declaration of War up to the signing of the Armistice. Every scene is real—not staged! Hundreds of cameramen of all nations died that you might now see it.

Owing to the great number of casualties and the actual killings that are plainly visible, it is not recommended for those having weak hearts or for nervous people who cannot stand terrific action and excitement.

BAPTISTS RESOLVE TO REPUDIATE WAR

Harmony Prevails at Convention as Delegates Clean Up Business.

Rochester, N. Y., May 29.—(AP)—Harmony prevailed today as delegates to the annual Northern Baptists convention cleaned up routine business and listened to several addresses on the closing day of their six day meeting.

Dr. William S. Abernethy, of Washington, D. C., retiring president of the convention, expressed satisfaction with the results of the Assembly and hailed resolutions adopted Saturday as representing "an advanced viewpoint on social and economic problems."

"Our fight now is not for individualism, but for co-operative effort in meeting new problems," he said. "It's America's job and the church must take the lead." Vision for spiritual values and their translation into programs of action was seen as the need of the church by the Rev. Harold C. Phillip, D. D., of Cleveland, in an address last night. The convention's repudiation of the proposition of armistice was signed lengthy debate Saturday, a strong minority opposing a clause stating "I will cross no national boundary line to kill and to destroy nor will I support any government in sending its army and navy to do so." Majority opinion resulted in passage of the resolution.

ROCKVILLE

INVESTIGATE ORIGIN OF TIRE WORKS FIRE

Seeking to Determine If Any Suspicious Person Was Near Premises.

The Gordon Tire Works, located at the Dobsonville intersection, a short distance from the center of Rockville, was totally destroyed by fire of unknown origin Monday morning with a loss estimated at $10,000.

Operated by Gordon and Sons, the Gordon Tire Works is used for the re-reading of automobile tires and is located in a one-story building 40 by 80 feet.

The equipment included five mauling machines for re-reading automobile tires, one boiler, one compressor, incidental tools and considerable stock.

Within a short distance of the tire re-reading plant was a gas station with four pumps which were damaged by the flames.

Questioned as to the cause of the fire, members of the Gordon family state that they are unable to determine the cause which might be of suspicious origin.

An investigation is now under way to determine if anyone of suspicious character was discovered near the premises.

The fire was discovered at 9 o'clock in the morning by a neighbor. As there is no water near the building it was impossible for the Rockville fire department to answer a call for aid.

The building is partly covered by insurance, leaving a net loss of $8,000.

Court Session For the first time in many years an afternoon session of the Rockville City Court was held Monday afternoon with Judge John E. Flak on the bench.

The session was arranged to accommodate Miss Helen Wanager, 24, R. F. D. No. 4 (Tolland), who was brought before the court for violation of the motor vehicle laws.

Miss Wanager was arrested by State Policeman Thomas Abbotts of the Stafford Springs barracks, while on Union street, and was charged with operating a motor vehicle without a license.

She was fined $10 and costs of $10.81 were imposed by the court.

Shoplifting Case Louis Pertuzi, 26, of Tolland, was before Judge John E. Flak in the Rockville City Court Monday morning at 9 o'clock, charged with the theft of personal property valued at 75 cents.

He was arrested Saturday evening for shoplifting at the Royal Store about 9:30 o'clock. He was arrested by Patrolman Merrill Cedar upon complaint of Harry Wanager, proprietor of the store who charged him with taking two flat iron cords.

Prosecuting Attorney John B. Thomas stated that this was only one of the "hundreds of complaints" he receives of shoplifting.

Mrs. Thomas testified to seeing Pertuzi take the goods, she informed her husband, who stopped him before he left the store. He had one hidden under some wreaths and had another in his pocket and another in his coat.

Pertuzi's defense was that he had been drinking. This was verified by his sister who testified in his behalf.

Pertuzi testified that he did not remember putting anything in his pocket. He did remember, however, drinking the wine on his farm in Tolland with his brother-in-law while chopping wood.

S. CAROLINA

LASHED BY STORM

Does Thousands of Dollars Damage to Crops, Property and Shipping.

Charleston, S. C., May 29.—(AP)—A storm which lashed the Carolina coast with almost hurricane ferocity appeared to be spending its force in the interior today, leaving thousands of dollars damage to crops, property and small shipping craft.

Whipping this old seaport with a velocity of 45 miles an hour, rain, swept away a number of smaller boats were washed away or sunk.

After striking Charleston, the storm seemed to veer inland where high winds which tore down trees, crippled communication systems, and wrought havoc with crops.

At Florence, an inland city, the wind reached 45 miles an hour. Throughout the eastern part of South Carolina telephone and telegraph communication was not established until the early hours today. At Spartanburg and Greenville, situated in the foothills of the Appalachian mountains, trees were uprooted and minor damage was done to property.

The storm extended over a wide area. After sweeping virtually the breadth of South Carolina, it hit a number of points in eastern North Carolina, but with diminished fury.

CARDS BLANK PHILLIES AS PIRATES BOW TWICE

Hallahan Hurts St. Louis to 10-0 Victory; Giants Trip Bucs in Twin Bill to Gain Third Place; Cleveland Holds First.

By HERBERT W. BARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The banner of the St. Louis Cardinals waved high over the National league today.

To "Wild-Bill" Hallahan fell the honor of pitching the Cards into first place. He shut out the Phillies with seven hits yesterday, while his teammates rattled 15 hits off the fence in Baker town and coasted to a 10-0 decision.

To oust the Pittsburgh Pirates from the top rung the Cards needed help and they got it from the New York Giants who turned back the Corsairs twice in a pair of epic pitching duels, 3-2, in 11 innings, and one to nothing. Travis Jackson punched out home runs for the deciding tally in each game. Larry French and Hall Schumacher allowed no hits for seven innings and only two pieces in the first nine innings of the extra-inning affair. After the Pirates had counted twice in the tenth, the Giants came back to tie the score and then win out in the 11th on Jackson's homer. His second home run in the second inning of the night cap was the only score of a great duel between Carl Hubbell and Ralph Birkofer.

The Giants moved into third place when the Chicago Cubs were beaten by the Boston Braves, 5-3. Benny Frey's fine pitching gave Cincinnati an 8 to 1 decision over Brooklyn.

Cleveland maintained the narrow lead over the New York Yankees in the American league race with a sensational 6-5 victory over the Philadelphia Athletics. Lou Gehrig hit his 11th and 12th home runs and Babe Ruth, Tony Lazzeri and Jack Saltszger contributed one apiece as the Yankees slugged the St. Louis Browns into submission 13-9.

Faced by Hank Greenberg, who hit a pair of home runs, the Detroit Tigers drove Lefty Grove out of the box in six innings and beat Boston Red Sox 12-4. Chicago's 47 hits gave the White Sox an 11-7 verdict over Washington.

CATHOLICS WALLOP RED SOX 15 TO 2

East Hartford Proves Woefully Weak in Every Department of the Game.

The Catholic club bombarded the ball to all corners of the West Side field Sunday afternoon to swamp the East Hartford Red Sox by a score of 15 to 2. The visiting team was woefully weak in every department of the game and the locals scored virtually at will to pile up a wide margin.

East Hartford played four pitched and not one could have been called a moundsman, all four lacking control. "Jock" Hewitt pitched four innings for the Catholic club and struck out five, while Hartly finished the game and fanned the same number of batters. Senowick and Nino Boggino featured with the willow for the locals, the latter hitting two doubles.

Norwich, May 29 — (Special)—Thirteen Connecticut boys will match strides with the nation's best long distance runners in the dash for the National A. A. U. 15-kilometer championship at Elks field here tomorrow. The native sons are listed in an entry of 54 athletes, that includes five different national champions and several former Olympic stars.

The championship run will feature a huge program that will mark the official dedication of Elks field, known for over a half century as the Norwich Fairgrounds and purchased early in the year by Norwich Lodge of Elks, No. 430. In addition to the title run there will be brief dedication exercises, vaudeville, horse racing, aerial circus and other features.

The Connecticut athletes listed for the championship run are: Delphis J. Brocher, Taftville; Daniel M. Wetmore, New London; Joseph Dimaria, Waterbury; Thomas E. Schultze, Manchester; Nicholas A. Schultz, and Eugene N. of Gales; William J. Donahue, Williamantic; Stephen Demouch, New London; James Crowe, Buckland; James W. Bottomley, North Windham; John M. Matchett, Manchester; Frank Hupal, Glenville; Thomas L. Hagerty, Jr., Poquonock Bridge. Listed among the celebrities are: Paul Mundy of Philadelphia, national 15-kilometer champion; William Steiner, New York, 20-mile champion and holder of the unofficial world record for the marathon; Louis Gregory, New York, national 10,000 meters champion; Paul Mundy, Philadelphia, junior cross-country champion of U. S.; Clarence DeMar, Keene, N. H., seven time winner of Boston marathon and two-time member of the Olympic team; Leslie Pawson, Pawtucket, R. I., winner of Boston marathon in former national 20-mile champion and former Olympic star, and Juan Forada of Panama City.

Horses from Manchester, New London, Middletown and Danielson are entered for the harness racing.

HOLY NAME JRS. VICTORS.

In a hard fought game played for seven innings, but which lasted about three and a half hours, the Holy Names swamped the Bullheads with the score of 23-0. The Holy Names were so tired of running around the bases that they had to be left handed and then they got hits.

To save the men for future games Coach Benny Ballon sent in practically a whole team of subs and they being so fresh and the pitcher so tired that the score increased twofold.

Kaye Don Has Close Shave As Helper Dies In Crash

Douglas, Isle of Man, May 29 — (AP)—Kaye Don, whose flashing feats in automobile and speed boat racing have brought him fame to face with death many times, has had another close shave—one which cost the life of his mechanic.

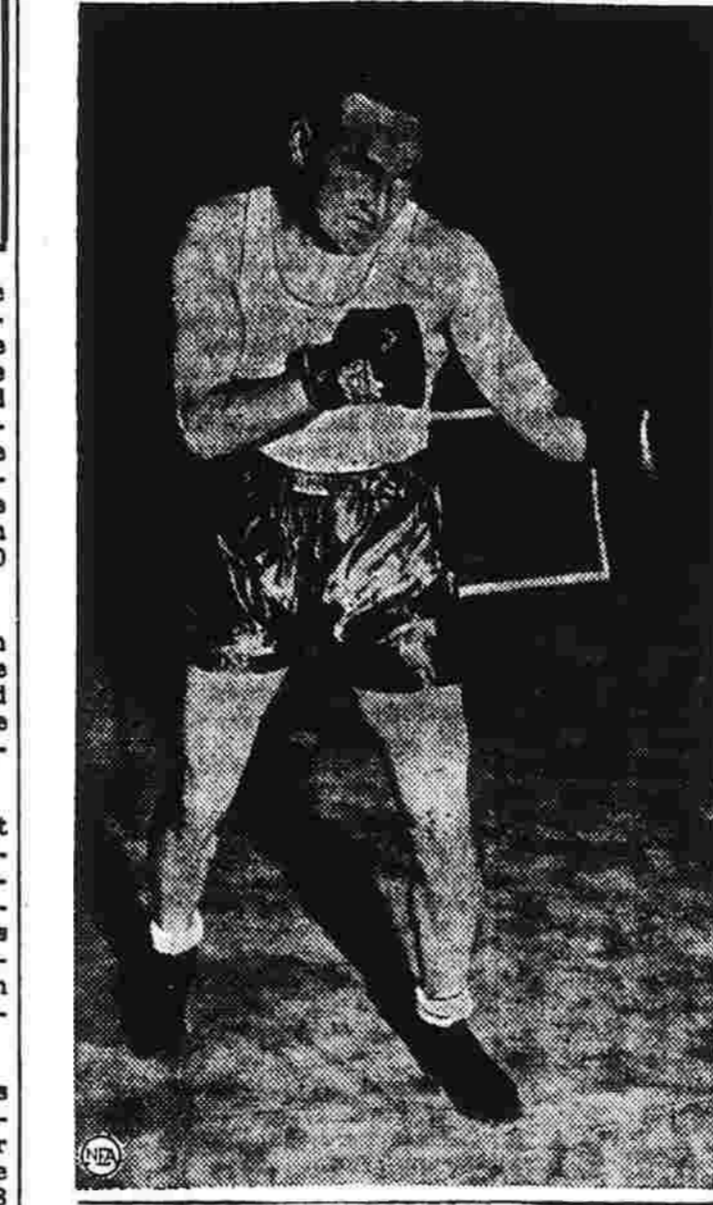

His racing car overturned when he decided suddenly to make a practice midnight run for "round the house" race here Friday.

The mechanic, F. Taylor, died early today in a hospital, where Don was also taken, severely shaken up but not badly injured.

Friends discovered Don's absence from his hotel and made a search for him. They found the overturned car, a short way out of town, with an ambulance at hand. A policeman had found the two beside the roadside semi-conscious and telephoned for aid.

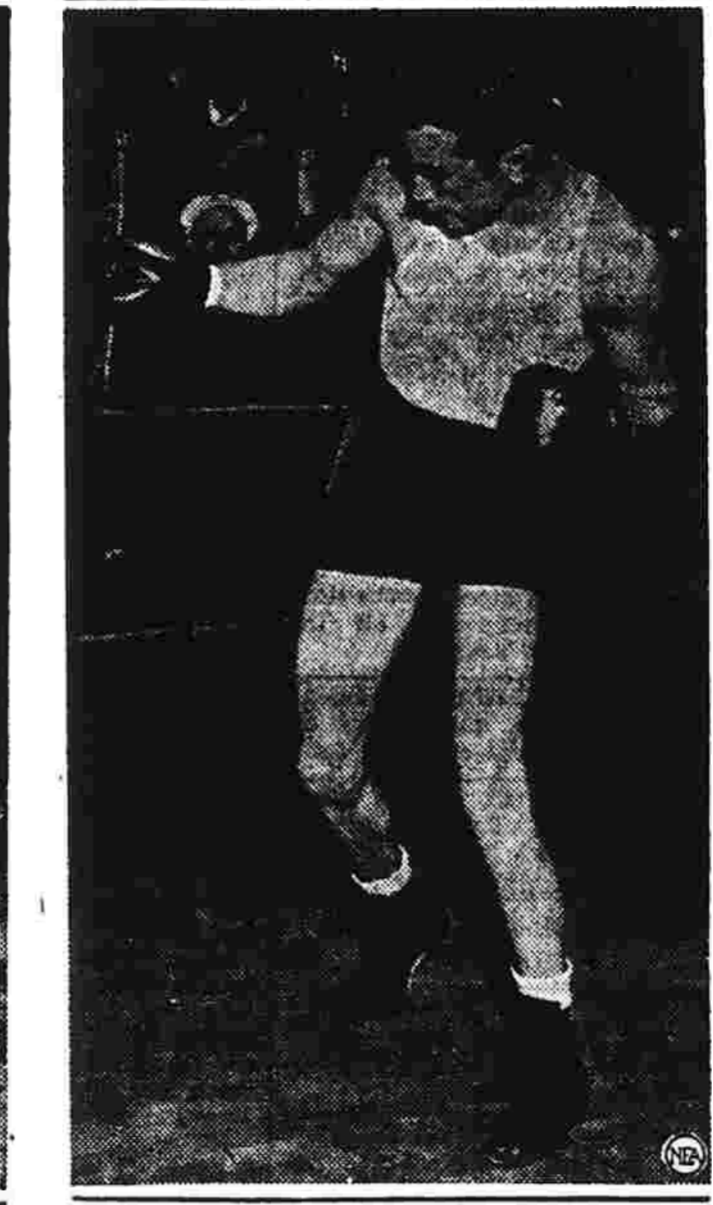

The accident occurred when Don's car collided with an automobile, jumped a hedge and overturned. Occupants of the other car were unhurt. Don, suffering from shock and abrasions, will not be able to race Friday.

LOCAL BOOTERS TO CLASH IN HOLIDAY BATTLE TOMORROW

Senior and Junior Elevens To Play at Charter Oak Field at 3 p. m.; Close Game in Prospect.

In response to an almost incessant demand on the part of local soccer enthusiasts a second game has been arranged between the Manchester and Olympic teams. This game will be played Memorial Day afternoon at Charter Oak street. Kickoff will be at 3:00 p. m., with Sam Pratt the odd man on the field.

A vast improvement was noticed in the greens over the week-end due to the liberal top-dressing which was administered by Greenkeeper J. B. Foster. The few patches of winter-kill in the greens are rapidly filling in. The rains of the past week have also advanced the course a long way towards its midseason perfection.

A vast improvement was noticed in the greens over the week-end due to the liberal top-dressing which was administered by Greenkeeper J. B. Foster. The few patches of winter-kill in the greens are rapidly filling in. The rains of the past week have also advanced the course a long way towards its midseason perfection.

The greens and players of both clubs were willing to play another game but on account of the heavy schedule in the junior league and the orders from the junior league executive committee for the teams to utilize every available date to complete the league by June 10th it did not seem it would be possible to find a date on which to stage a game. Late Monday afternoon advice was received that the teams would be available for withdrawal from the junior league. This withdrawal cleared the junior schedule of six games and the junior team was advised they would not be required to play any midweek games in order to finish by June 10th. With the league schedule cleared in an inopportune way the game tomorrow was immediately arranged.

Expect Good Game Irrespective of the result the game should be well worth watching. If the display given by both sides two weeks ago can be reproduced by each another capital game will be seen. Spectators who witnessed the first game will form their own opinions as to the winners. It will be a case of experience against youth. Which will prevail? The answer can be better told at 5 p. m. tomorrow.

It is not definite yet whether both teams will dress the Recreation building or at Baldwins. Officials and players are to meet at School street at 7:00 p. m.

MAPLE END TIGERS WIN. The Maple End Tigers due to their brilliant performance of "Lefty" Vaillant emerged victorious in a closely fought game at the Golf links Saturday afternoon. Vaillant and Harris led the Tigers at bat while Donnelly was the big gun for the Greensacre All Stars. The Maple End Tigers would like to hear from the Royals, Green All Stars and the Y. M. C. A. Jrs. For game call 6243 or 6604.

Nebo on Tuesday afternoon of next week. Today, the Red and White is host to Meriden in a league battle and needs victory to stay near the top of the standing.

For the first time in historic history, a fighter, namely Barney Ross, holds both the lightweight and welterweight titles, having deprived Jimmy McLarnin of the latter crown last night. And for the first time in history, this department backed the winner to furnish cause for great rejoicing on the part of the writer.

As a member of the New York Athletic Club, Joe McCluskey is keeping in trim for his clash with the country's greatest distance runners on June 16 at Princeton, by scoring impressive victories in special races over the two-mile distance in New York meets.

Last Sunday, McCluskey won the two-mile handicap run in the second handicap track and field meet of the Manhattan Athletic League at Gas Companies A. A. field in Astoria. The "Iron Duke" started from scratch and began to overtake the field of forty athletes strung out in front of him to hurl himself across the finish line a scant half yard in front of Martin Johnson of the Mercury A. C., who had a ten yard handicap. McCluskey's time was 9:32.4, which bettered the 9:41.3 in which he captured the Robert L. Douglas two-mile handicap the Sunday before, starting sixty yards behind scratch.

The result of the event was as follows: Two-mile run—Won by Joseph McCluskey, New York A. C. (scratch); Martin Johnson, Mercury A. C. (10 yards); second, A. Zampitella, Shanahan Catholic club, Philadelphia (25 yards); third, Herman Junk, Queens Electric A. A. (140 yards), fourth, Time, 9:39.4. McCluskey is slated to meet Joe Mangia, John Follows and Raymond Sears in a special invitation two-mile race at Princeton on Saturday, June 16, at which time Glen Cunningham, Bill Bonthron and Gene Venks will clash in a special mile race. McCluskey and his rivals are recognized as the outstanding distance runners in the United States and all four possess impressive records.

Jewish Lightweight King Batters Irish Titlist to Defeat in 15 Stirling Rounds Before 65,000 Fans; Winner by a Wide Margin.

By ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor

New York, May 29.—(AP)—Black-haired, flashing eyed Barney Ross, sensational Jewish fighter born on New York's teeming east side but reared to ring greatness as a product of Chicago westside Ghetto, stood out today as a double champion on a pinnacle never before scaled in boxing history.

Dazzling Speed The 25 year old Chicago youth, with a speed that was as dazzling as the courage with which he slugged toe-to-toe with his hard-hitting rival thrilled a vast crowd in Madison Square Garden bowl, Long Island last night by battering Jimmy McLarnin to defeat in 15 stirring rounds and thereby added the world welterweight championship to the lightweight title he has held for a year.

Sixty-five thousand fans, nearly all men, roared their acclaim to the gallant youngster who ended the domination of McLarnin over a long line of Jewish boxers with a rousing finish and shattered a staid precedent that has been long standing. Twice before the lightweight titleholders stepped out of their class in quest of the welterweight crown, the last unsuccessful attempt being made by Benny Leonard against Jack Britton in 1922. Leonard was among the first who leaped up to congratulate Ross last night.

A Decisive Win It was not a one-sided victory for Ross, nor without its dispute after a savage duel from which both emerged bleeding and somewhat battered. Two of the three officials gave the lightweight king a wide margin, and to the majority of observers it appeared bounding Barney had decisively outboxed McLarnin.

Referee Eddie Forbes cast the deciding vote in favor of Ross after the two judges, Tom O'Rourke, old time manager and promoter, and Harold Barnes disagreed. Whereas O'Rourke gave McLarnin the eleventh, and scored nine for McLarnin, with the others even, Barnes tallied only two rounds, the first and tenth, for McLarnin, and scored an even dozen rounds for Ross with one round even.

There was no doubt in Forbes' mind however, for the veteran referee scored 13 for Ross, scored the first even and gave only one, the 12th, to McLarnin.

Throws Low Punches McLarnin was penalized by both Forbes and Barnes for landing low punches. Under the rules of the state athletic commission, violation of the code, such as hitting below the belt, is automatically cause for loss of the round, regardless of what else may happen. In at least four rounds the fourth, ninth, eleventh and thirteenth, the Irishman was warned by Forbes for failing to keep his punches in the proper zone.

On the A. P. score sheet Ross was credited with nine rounds, including the second to seventh inclusive, and the last three. The first was scored even and the ninth to 12th were tallied for McLarnin.

Outboxed Champion Ross won, regardless of all controversial angles, because he outboxed McLarnin from start to finish, took the sturdy Irishman's stiffest punches without backing up and landed the cleaner, more effective blows, against a rival outwrestling him nearly five pounds.

Before McLarnin was able to solve his rival's flashing style and untangle himself from a succession of swift left jabs and hooks to the head, Ross had taken a commanding lead. For the first seven rounds he blocked or dodged McLarnin's most earnest swings, meanwhile countering with swift darting shots to the head, gave the Jewish boy an astounding advantage. For five rounds thereafter, the lightweight champion fought defensively with flashes of slugging willingness, as McLarnin tried aggressively and desperately to turn the tide, but Ross rallied to outpunch the Irishman throughout the last three rounds.

Barney Draws Blood There were no real knockdowns, although the ninth both went to the floor. Ross, half spinning as he took a long right, lost his footing but bounced up without a count and quickly connected with a left-hook that caused McLarnin, as he dodged to slip and land heavily on his haunches. Jimmy also jumped on before the knock-down timekeeper could go into action.

The left, with which Ross bewildered his opponent throughout the fight started the blood flowing freely from McLarnin's nose as early as the fourth round. From the eighth on Barney was cut about the mouth and was spitting blood. Frequently in the last half of the fight, both were red-nosed, but neither could land another knock-down punch. McLarnin, tiring fast, almost slipped to the floor again in the final round as Barney cutted him solidly at close range.

A Banner Crowd Ross, barely five years out of amateur ranks, quickly cut a swath through professional ranks and startled the flaccid "wise-ones" by whipping Tony Canoneri for the lightweight title last June in Chicago. Just to show there was no fluke to that triumph Ross came to New York and repeated his conquest of Canoneri on the latter's "home" grounds.

The crowd that saw ring history made was the greatest to attend a fight in two years. The gate receipts, estimated by promoters at $225,000, also marked a new high for a two year period and represented the biggest figure for any fight inside the big time classes since Benny Leonard and Lew Tendler were packing them in over ten years ago.

McLarnin was stripped of the welter title he won less than a year ago from Young Corbett III. McLarnin knocked out Corbett in less than a round at Los Angeles.

MARRIED MEN LOSE The Bolton Orioles defeated the Married Nine at their field for the second successive win by the score of 10 to 2. Joe White, star pitcher of the Married Nine was nipped for ten hits and eight in seven innings. He was taken out in the seventh and replaced by Lee who allowed two hits and two runs for the rest of the game.

The Married Nine looked as if they were going to score in the ninth when singles by Mack Giffin and Manager filled the bases. The rally was cut off when Lee sent a line drive to A. Massonelli who made a nice catch and doublet. Mack at second. The Orioles' season fine hitting for a young team, making 10 runs and 11 hits in the ninth. The Married Nine made two runs and eight hits. L. Massonelli struck for the Orioles.

The Orioles will play the Married Nine at Bolton Memorial Day and a double header Sunday. The married nine and another team.

PEN PUSHERS EDGE

FIRE EATERS 7 TO 6

Main Office Nine Beats Hose Company No. 1 in First Soft Ball Tussle.

The Main Office and Hook and Ladder Co. No. 1 officially opened the Manchester Soft Ball League at the West Side oval last night when the "pen pushers" won the "fire eaters" out by one run. Score 7 to 6. Art Lashinski was on the hill for the firemen and did a very good job after a shakey start in the first inning in which the white collar men nicked him for three runs. Jim Hutchinson twirled for the Main Office and kept the smoke eaters well in hand.

Both teams gathered ten hits apiece but the Main Office managed to squeeze over an extra run to chalk up their first victory. One of the fielding features of the game was the work of George "Fleet-foot" Hunt of the firemen who bagged seven put-outs in left field. This league is sponsored jointly by the Recreation Center and the American Legion and tonight the Legion team and the Y. M. C. A. are scheduled to battle it out at the north end playgrounds.

SEC. DERN BACKS BILL TO ENLARGE U. S. ARMY

Would Increase Officers and Enlisted Men from 130,000 to 179,000.

Washington, May 29.—(AP)—Secretary Dern told the House military committee today that he believed the Army as at present constituted could not perform its necessary mission of National defense.

In his first appearance before the committee, Dern endorsed a bill by Representative Thompson, (D., Tex.), to require an increase from 130,000 to 179,000 in the number of officers and enlisted men.

Making clear that he did not speak for President Roosevelt, Dern said the Army's military functions are:

- 1. To protect outlying possessions.
- 2. To train civilians for service in war-time.
- 3. To repel invaders until new forces could be trained and put in the field.

"I don't believe the Army as at present constituted could perform all those functions simultaneously," Dern testified.

"I have become convinced that the Army as at present constituted is below the minimum necessary to carry out its mission."

PHIL PLANT WEDS AGAIN

New York, May 29.—(AP)—The Daily News says that Phil Plant, former husband of Constance Bennett, the actress, was married more than a month ago at Clearwater, Fla., to Mrs. Edna Dunham, New York divorcee.

Several months ago Max Bear, the boxer, announced that he and Mrs. Dunham would be married, but Mrs. Dunham made prompt denial.

The wedding Plant was married to Miss Bennett in 1925, and they were divorced three years later. Mrs. Dunham's first husband was Ernest F. Dunham, a broker.

Various washing processes for oysters rob them of from 9 to 20 per cent of their iodine content and 3 to 17 per cent of their iron.

CROWDS GATHERING FOR AUTO RACES

Expect 100,000 to Be Present in Indianapolis for Memorial Day Contests.

Indianapolis, May 29.—(AP)—The vanguard of a race-going throng of more than 100,000 pushed into the Hoosier capital today for the 22nd annual 500-mile automobile classic at the Indianapolis motor speedway.

Inside the huge racing plant west of the city, workers washed an accumulation of oil from the brick course and put the place in order for the spectacle of speed.

At 10 a. m. (Central Standard Time) tomorrow, Kelly Petillo of Los Angeles, Calif., will roar over the starting line in the pole position, leading a field of 33 of the country's most daring drivers.

Petillo won the pole with a record 119.329 miles an hour average in the 25-mile qualifying test. All the cars surpassed the 100-mile-an-hour average required.

Back in the fifth row will be Louis Meyer of South Gate, Calif., seeking his third triumph in the blue-ribbon event of American speedways. Meyer received the checkered flag in 1928 and again in 1933, and is the only former winner to start this year's event.

Meets With Accident. Fred Frame of Los Angeles, the 1931 winner, was the victim of a mishap during his attempt to qualify yesterday when his racer crashed against a wall and could not be repaired in time for another try. Frame and Al Thieson of Dayton, O., escaped injury. Frame has two other speedsters in the starting field, however, and can serve as a relief driver.

Sixteen of the racers are powered with four-cylinder engines, including the two oil-burning cars; two-15 have eight cylinders and ten are 16-cylinder power plants. Four are front-wheel-drive creations; one is driven from all four wheels and the others are the convention rear-drive type.

For the first time, the drivers will be limited to the use of 45 gallons of gasoline during the race. Speedway officials believe this will eliminate some of the excessive speed which has produced numerous accidents on the course. A comparable restriction, placed on the qualifying trials, kept the 16-cylinder, two-cycle car entered by the veteran Leon Duray from qualifying yesterday.

By motor, by air and on regular and special trains, the crowds poured into the city today. Some jammed hotels; others camped along roadsides near the speedway.

Last Night's Fights

(By Associated Press) New York—Barney Ross, 137 3-4, outpointed Jimmy McLarin, 142. Vancouver, 115 (for welterweight championship); Davey Day, 136, Chicago, outpointed Frankie Marchese, 134 1-2, New York. (6); Frankie Fullam, 158 1-2, New York, outpointed Joe Gorman, 157 1-4, New York. (4); Johnny Coniglio, 149 1-4, Brooklyn defeated Carman Knapp, 145 1-2, New Haven, Conn. (4); Tommy Romano, 147, Albany, N. Y., stopped Jimmy Phillips, 148, Bernardsville, N. J. (1).

Pittsburgh—Anson Green, 161; Homestead, Pa., outpointed Johnny Pic, 162, New York, (10). Indianapolis—Jimmy Buckler, 127 1-2, Louisville, outpointed Scotty Scotten, 128 1-2, Indianapolis (10); Charles Rudney, 138 1-2, Chicago, knocked out Ray Drake, 142, Indianapolis (4).

They traveled down the road a while and then was Dotty, with a smile said, "Look at that big rooster. What's that beneath its wing?"

One Tinnie answered, "It's a shoe. A fiddlestick is tucked there, too. My goodness, that ol' fellow is a funny looking thing."

The rooster then crowed, "Hello, lots. Of real fund I've had lots and lots, and started quite a row. My master wonders where they are, and he has searched both wide and far. In fact, I'm pretty sure that he's still looking for them, now."

She brought a big cake out and then all of the Tinnies studied again. They thanked the friendly woman and then left, when they were through.

At just this moment Goldy spied a friendly woman, and she cried, "Say, tell us, are you looking for a fiddlestick and shoe?"

The woman answered, with a smile, "Why, yes! My husband looked a while, and then he got all tired out, so I started looking, too."

"Well, we have found them," Dotty cried. "We saw your rooster trying to hide them underneath his wings. I guess he did it just in fun."

"Of course he did," the woman said. "And then she stood and shook her head and added, "Ay, oh, my, what crazy tricks that bird has done."

(The Tinnies meet the ladybug in the next story.)

SENSE and NONSENSE

MEMORIAL DAY, MAY 30, 1934.
Lest we forget those who fought for the liberties which we enjoy, may the day be fittingly observed.

Wife—I didn't like the looks of that stenographer you engaged, so I discharged her this afternoon when I was in your office.
Man—Before giving her a chance?
Wife—No, before giving you a chance.

IN THE GOOD, OLD-FASHIONED DAYS A FELON WAS SOMETHING A CARPENTER HAD ON HIS THUMB.

An old colored woman who had a great many children, takes in washing and works like a slave was told by a doctor and health officer during a smallpox epidemic that she must be vaccinated. She said she had no time to stop to be sick with vaccination. She could not spare one of her arms; the children would starve if she could not do her laundry work.

Doctor—Well, auntie, I will vaccinate you on one of your lower limbs.

Colored Woman—No airs. I can't spare one of my legs either.

Doctor (kindly)—Well, what spot could you spare, because you must be vaccinated.

Colored Woman (after thinking and thinking)—Well, Lord knows, I don't ever get no chance to sit down.

ONE REASON WHY NAUGHTY COPS AREN'T FIRED IS BECAUSE THEY KNOW TOO MUCH ABOUT PROMINENT CITIZENS HIGHER UP.

He was talking with great vigor against corporal punishment for boys, which he declared never did any good.

He—Takes my own case, I was never caned but once in my life, and that was for speaking the truth.

Somebody (in the audience)—Well, it cured you.

If you improve your opinions it may be necessary for you to change them once in a while.

A business man had a notice on his door: Burglars! This door is fitted with electric alarms. If it is touched in any way the police will automatically come here at once.

One morning on reaching the office he found a second notice which read: "Thanks for the tip. We broke through the wall instead."

A BUSINESS MAN IS NOT MUCH OF A COMMUNITY ASSET IF HIS ONLY PURPOSE IS TO OBTAIN PROFITS FROM BUSINESS.

Unemployed—Could you give a man a job, buddy?

Barber—Yes, I've wanted my pole repainted for a long time and I'll give you the work you want.

Unemployed—But where can I get the striped paint?

NOW THAT CURVES ARE BACK IN STYLE GIRLS' FIGURES WILL PROBABLY BE SPOKEN OF IN ROUND NUMBERS.

Mother—Junior, I heard that instead of going to Sunday School this morning, you played ball.

Junior—That isn't true and I've got a string of fish to prove it.

HOW TO WIN A WAR—THERE IS ONLY ONE WAY—STAY OUT OF IT.

A man dismissed an office boy for slovenliness and advertised for a new boy. An applicant entered his office.

Business Man—What I require is a boy who is smart and tidy. I'm tired of slovenly, sleepy boys who never see anything that ought to be done for the good of the firm. Do you understand?

Applicant—I sure do. Shall I run out and buy you a nice clean collar?
