Would Talk Revision With Any Nation That Is Not Using Its Resources for War Preparation — Asks Congress to Take No Action on Defaults at This Session — British Ambassador Said to Have Asked for Discussion of Problem

Washington, June 1.—(AP)—President Roosevelt, in a report to Congress today on war debts, held out a promise for discussion of revision of present funding agreements to any European debtor nations who ask and present "special circumstances relating to means and methods of payment."

He indicated that "special circumstances" would be considered by emphasizing that factors would be whether the nations are utilizing their resources for "recovery purposes" or to make a "reasonable payment" on the debt owed, or are spending for "unproductive, Nationalistic" purposes.

In some official quarters, the President's statement concerning possible conferences was considered significant as a prelude to Great Britain's note on the debt question expected here any time.

At the end, however, he emphasized that the debtor nations have been told "again and again" that they have full opportunity to discuss their problems with this country.

In my statement issued November 23, 1931, I had the honor to advise you that I firmly believe in the principle that individual debtor should be given the opportunity to live.

An Essential Rule—This is a rule essential to the preservation of the ordinary relationships to live. It is a basic principle of justice.

The British government has asked for a discussion of the debt. The incoming administration will be glad to receive their representation.

On March 1, 1933, the situation with regard to the debt of the United Kingdom to the United States was as follows:

FRIDAY, JUNE 1. ARMS AND SECURITY... At the sessions of the Disarmament Conference were resumed at Geneva this week.

There is this to be said for the Soviet government: It does not feel obliged to adhere to a policy, no matter how vital a one it may appear to be, if its experience demonstrates its mistakes.

Russia has heretofore shown the disarmament first, then a very limited policy of security through political measures. The new advance by disarmament is the logical sequel to that condition.

Amrita's contributions to the consideration of disarmament have been great. This country's proposal to cut away weapons of mass destruction is probably the wisest that has been made within the field of these arms reduction.

It is not plain sense to start over in the other way about, and work for the prevention of war. With small chance of war, armaments would become small.

ALARM BLOWS AS CAR HITS POLE

Prospect St. Driver Has Big Cash in Head as Result of Accident.

Belvedere C. Carrigone, 38, of 187 Prospect street, purchased a doll and a car for the first time in his life last night after he had crashed his work as a painter and was on his way home on Hartford road.

The automobile accident of the road, leaving after the right front step and rear end of the car, causing the front left part of the car to come in contact with a tree.

A driver of another car coming in the same direction nicked the man's head, found that he was covered about the head with blood and started to take him to the Manchester Memorial hospital. When they reached the intersection of Hartford road and Prospect street Carrigone was not at all that he had been dazed.

Both he and Officer Pringle went to the house on Prospect street and Carrigone was found in a delirious state. He had a deep cut in his head, brought to the police station by the ambulance.

The traffic was so heavy that Superintendent of Fire Alarm James M. McEay and his assistant were late in getting to the fire. Assistant Chief Daniel Hagerty had arrived and Jack Frazee, fireman, examined the wrecked automobile.

DESPERATE BUT SANE, HE SAYS

"Mad Man" Who Sat On Explosives, Keeping Police at Bay, Arrested.

Alameda, Calif., June 1.—(AP)—Frank Bennett, unemployed mechanic, who for almost 24 hours kept police at bay as he sat on a load of powerful explosives, denied today that he is insane.

"I hope nobody believes that I am nutty," said the 28-year-old veteran. "I was frantic and desperate because my family was starving, half crazy by my own, but not starving, half crazy by my own."

He remained in a hospital ward under observation on the order of District Attorney Earl Warren. He was returning to the police station on a load of powerful explosives, denied today that he is insane.
