MORE FIRING SQUADS IS HITLER'S ANSWER TO REICH'S ENEMIES

German Chancellor Discloses That 77 Were Executed During the "Second Revolution"—Defies the World to Boycott His Nation.

By WALTER E. BROCKMANN
(Copyright, 1934 by Associated Press)
Berlin, July 14.—(AP)—More firing squads and more "purging by blood" await any who challenge Adolf Hitler's rule of Germany.

This was the warning Germany pondered today as it digested the chancellor's Reichstag defense last night of the June 30 "liquidation" of 77 traitors.

"Everyone is to know for all future times," he said, "that if he raises his hand for attack against the state, certain death will be his lot."

The speech, to which many parts of the world including America listened, stood today as a definite marker in Hitler's road to the building of a new Germany.

Hundreds of Nazis rose and cheered when the address was explained. The execution of Storm Leaders and others June 30—explained the chancellor—severely "notified" them. He slumped into his chair, and seemed dazed and somewhat bewildered. He had felt, almost to his knees.

Hitler's Answer
The address was Hitler's answer to those who criticized the "liquidation" of "traitors." It was his defense of his foe and his appeal for continued and renewed "blind obedience" to his authority.

Opinion is divided among foreign observers today as to what extent the chancellor succeeded in his purpose. Many hold that Hitler is now on the defensive, in contrast to his position during the early months of his chancellorship. These observers still the speech one of the least convincing of any Hitler has made.

The belief was expressed by some that the lance at the helm of the nation is not as firm as it was.

Problems Untouched
Most of Germany's burning problems were left untouched in Hitler's 45-minute oratory. Finance and foreign policy were untouched.

The chancellor, however, sounded defiance to any foreign power that seeks to express their criticism by boycotts. Hitler said that in the face of boycotts Germany would make herself "independent through our ability" and through "the ingenuity and inventiveness of our chemists."

He took full responsibility for the execution of 77 men and a woman in the June 30 "purging" and said he would not hesitate to strike down any others who dare defy the state.

9TH'S SESSION IS ADJOURNED IN CONFUSION

Wrangling Over Minor Matters Prevents Transaction of Vital Business; John H. Hyde Beaten by Lessner.

A Ninth District meeting that in this, comedy, and an unwarranted display of personalities ran the gamut of the ridiculous and never approached the sublime in any sense, was closed abruptly after two hours of wrangling and disagreement on a motion to adjourn by a margin of three votes. The motion to adjourn, made in the midst of three conflicting motions, was adopted by a vote of 12 to 9. The speaker, already offered, was voted, 12 to 9, to be seated. Two-thirds of the voters present had left the hall.

In Confusion
The adjournment came only after the meeting had reached a state which was expressed very fittingly by Charles Ray, general manager of the Rogers Paper Company, "in a confusion and rampant with ill feeling and personalities" and after the principal business of the meeting, election of district committee members, appropriation of funds for the current year and the laying of a one-mill tax upon the last grand list to carry on the business of the district had been transacted.

The meeting opened auspiciously on Monday evening, July 9, by the sound of the discordant note of the gavel. The speaker, John H. Hyde, was asked to allow George E. Lessner, named for moderator of the meeting, to question the speaker on residential qualifications. Previous to Lessner's stand, the names of Jacob Greenberg, Mathias Spies and George Keith were offered. The first flurry of dissent had subsided. Mathias Spies was elected and took the chair.

Argue Over Report
Immediately upon the election of Lessner as moderator, the election of a committee to investigate the report of the committee on the election of Lessner as moderator, was taken up. The committee reported that Lessner had been elected and took the chair.

Other Theories
Other possible theories advanced—but only possibilities—were that the blonde baby had been slain by a degenerate, struck and spirited away by an automobile driver, or a woman kidnaper, or a neighbor told police he saw her driving swiftly past the Comor home at the time of the disappearance. The churchman was elected and took the chair.

Support Released
A man peddler, answering the description of the eccentric who was slain by Hartdale Thursday afternoon was picked up by Seabright, N. J. police last night he, too, was released.

The man, who identified himself as John Leddy, 47, of Newark, N. J., convinced authorities that he had been walking elsewhere Thursday and was in no way connected with the Comor case.

The search continued for the peddler originally sought—the last faint clue—a man who mumbled of "cure-all pills" and "castles in the air" and "Spain," as he went from house to house.

MIDDLETOWN PUTS OUT WELCOME SIGN

Expect Visitors from All Over State for Its Celebration; Fireworks Tonight.

Middletown, July 14.—(AP)—The welcome sign was out today to visitors from throughout the state who came here to participate in the celebration of Middletown's centennial.

Neighboring communities sent delegations to join in the parade which was to get underway at 1:30 p. m. tonight. More than 3,000 persons were expected to march along Main street to Municipal Field where a program of speeches and exercises was to follow.

Twenty-five state policemen were assigned for special duty during the ceremony.

Tonight the celebration will be brought to a close with a display of fireworks.

Middletown received its charter from the General Assembly in 1784 but it was not until 1834 that its first mayor and Common Council took office.

The eastern Lozano pact which France is fostering and which England and Italy have endorsed, was regarded as a major factor in the determination to carry on conversations in furtherance of world peace. ### Meeting of France and Britain Encourage League Officials to Call a Meeting.

Geneva, July 14.—(AP)—The world powers were committed today to another serious fling at disarmament next September by the official convocation of the steering committee.

Arthur Henderson, conference president, encouraged by the recent Franco-British conversations, officially called the committee meeting for the early days of the League of Nations Assembly beginning September 10.

Searchers At Spot Where Lost Boy Was Last Seen

Memories of the famous Litchfield baby kidnap hunt were revived when a posse of 700 citizens, police and firemen searched the picturesque woods about exclusive Hartdale, Man. N. Y. for Robert Connor, 18-month-old grandson of a wealthy retired clothing merchant, who was feared kidnaped from his home by a demented peddler. Here police point at the missing baby's doll at the point where he was last seen.

MAJOR CLUES CRUMBLE IN BABY KIDNAP CASE

Woman and Man Suspected Are Released.—Police Baffled; Two Theories Are Advanced by Detectives.

Hartdale, N. Y., July 14.—(AP)—Two major clues to the disappearance of Bobby Connor, 18-month-old baby, who was kidnapped as a woman driver and a man peddler were cleared of suspicion.

United States authorities, state and local police, co-operating in the investigation, said they were baffled—knew not, even if the case was one of kidnaping.

On the belief, however, that Bobby would have been found by the army of searchers if he had wandered away when he disappeared, for which the death penalty is mandatory. The seven others were convicted of first degree manslaughter, punishable by imprisonment for ten years to life.

Loyigan is secretary of the New York branch of Zaganag, an Armenian revolutionary society opposed to the policies of the archbishop of the city.

Killed in Church
The churchman was stabbed as he led a procession up the aisle of the church.

One witness testified he saw Loyigan plunge the butcher knife into the archbishop's abdomen. Sarokin was accused of holding the preacher's right hand during the stabbing.

The seven convicted of manslaughter were Juan Gonzalez, Osgan Yarganian, Martin Mosha, Haron Sirokian, John Mirjanian, Mikhael Zaidjian and Ohanes Andreadjian.

The state charged the killing was plotted by members of the Zaganag, angered by the archbishop's opposition to the society. The plot was a supporter of the present Armenian Soviet Republic.

Judge Joseph J. Corrigan said he would sentence the convicted men July 24.

The President yielded to his son, Franklin, Junior, in the initial haul, which was said to be the largest in the history of the island. That haul, a mere 15 miles in circumference, but just as a reminder.

Savannah, Georgia, Boasts It Does Not Owe a Cent

Savannah, Ga., July 14.—(AP)—There is no depression hangover in Georgia's oldest city.

Savannah, on whose bluff General Oglethorpe landed some 200 years ago to establish the Colony of Georgia, went through the depression paying its employees promptly and was out of the tax assessment.

Savannah can boast that the city does not owe a dime to any bank. It has paid its employees promptly on every pay day without leaving a cent in arrear.

Has reduced the tax assessment 12 per cent, with another $1,000,000.

SUSAN C. O'NEILL, ATTORNEY, IS DEAD

First Woman Actively to Practice Law in State, San Francisco's Mayor Declares, Heat, Light and Food Passes in Waterbury.

Waterbury, Conn., July 14.—(AP)—Miss Susan Cecilia O'Neill, 63, a member of an old Waterbury family and the first woman actively to practice law in the state, died this morning at her home in Woodbury after an illness of six months. Miss O'Neill was a brilliant lawyer and a highly educated woman.

A requiem high mass will be celebrated at 10 o'clock Monday morning in the Church of the Immaculate Conception in this city. Burial will be in the Holy Sepulchre cemetery.

Miss O'Neill is survived by a brother, Attorney Frank B. O'Neill, at Waterbury, and a sister, Mrs. O'Neill Garvan, of Hartford. Graduated in 1897.

Miss O'Neill was the daughter of John and Mary Fitzpatrick O'Neill, one of the oldest families of Waterbury. She attended the Convent of Notre Dame here and later the law school of New York University from which she was graduated in 1897.

On June 19, 1898, she was admitted to the practice of law in Connecticut and on April 24, 1904, she was admitted to practice before the Supreme Court of the United States in Washington.

In 1901 Miss O'Neill gained the distinction and honor of being the first woman lawyer to argue a case before the Supreme Court of Connecticut. During her legal career she tried many cases in the Superior Court of the state.

When she entered the practice of law Miss O'Neill became associated with Attorney John A. Albert, Chief Justice of the Superior Court, and Major William Kepner are preparing for man's greatest fight in the this upper air.

Want to Know How They Can Tune Out Songs at Football Games.

Hartford, July 14.—(AP)—Conceding that the same old strike, which has crippled shipping since May 8, urged "rule of reason." He declared that "neither the employers nor the working men have been sufficiently mindful of the rights of the people as a whole."

As far south as Stockton in the San Joaquin valley, crates of fruit and vegetables piled up. Butcher and fruit harvesting were halted at some places because of the transportation blockade.

Highway patrolmen, attempting to prevent violence and keep trucks moving, lashed into alleged strike pickets at Santa Rosa. Four were accused of shooting holes in a gasoline tank of a produce truck.

San Special Guards
The Southern Pacific Company announced special guards were being placed along its rail lines after receipt of reports that bands of "reds" were converging on San Francisco to wreck bridges.

Revolutionary handbills were distributed at Portland, resulting in the arrest of Mark de Jongh, once Communist candidate for mayor. The Columbia river district from Portland east to Pendleton and south to Marshfield faced a gasoline shortage.

Gasoline Shortage
An acute shortage of gasoline and fuel oil was feared at Seattle. One Puget Sound steamer was tied out to burn wood instead of oil and others were to be similarly equipped if the shortage continues.

The Federal Mediation Board said it would issue a public statement on the situation after another meeting today. O. K. Cushing, spokesman for the body, said the board felt it should call for a vote among the maritime unions for selection of an arbitrator.

PWA GOING BROKE: EVERBODY HAPPY! $300,000,000 Spent Within 3 Weeks; Expect Empty Purse by Next Week.

Washington, July 14.—(AP)—The PWA is going broke, and feeling rather happy about it. A pessimist says the public works program is the plight of the Public Works Administration has been seeking for relief.

Its activities, aimed to speed recovery by pouring huge sums into job-giving projects, got off to a slow start. Officials said it required time to pick worthy undertakings.

But now the PWA has only about 100,000,000 left, and the work will be almost empty by the end of the week.

It has taken about two and a half years to get the program started. The PWA has received three-fourths of $400,000,000 turned over to it by President Roosevelt before he left for Hawaii.

Funds to keep a number of Federal projects going and to start a few new non-Federal ones will not be up all at a small reserve. This probably will be held in trust to meet contingencies.

The Public Works Special Board will meet Wednesday to divide up the money. The board will meet at 2 p. m. at the Shorter Building, 125 Lexington avenue.

Weekly Sunday School Lesson GOD CARES FOR ELIJAH

By GEORGE HENRY DOLE

Heretical Sunday School Lesson of the field how they grow; they are not, neither do they spin; and yet I say unto you that nothing like one of these. We need have no more anxious thought than they. We are clearly told that our troubles in this respect arise from imperfect faith.

There was a hush when the chancellor went through the round of shaking hands with individual members of the Cabinet.

Contrary to expectations he did not discuss the foreign situation except to emphasize the old Nazi program. He asserted that Germany could not be a world leader in foreign trade through artificial trade restrictions.

Many Experts Advise Noticeable among most ambassadors, including those of the United States, France and Great Britain.

Hitler's assurance that France was not a danger to Germany was in doubt in the "revolt" against him. As we make that the supreme quest of his life, we can see how it is in the hands of the Lord.

He had to be told that Hitler was not to be trusted. He had to be told that Hitler was not to be trusted. He had to be told that Hitler was not to be trusted.

Hitler's intense opposition to her, as the enemy of true religion may blind our minds to the extent to which Jesus may have been sincere and earnest in the religion that she professed.

But it was a religion that had no room for the devotion of Jesus and his devotion to Jehovah, the God of Israel. It was a religion that had no room for the devotion of Jesus and his devotion to Jehovah, the God of Israel.

It is not enough in life to be earnest and zealous. We are in need of the love of God. It is not enough in life to be earnest and zealous. We are in need of the love of God.

Even a prophet may have his life, though he may be willing to die for it, but he will be destroyed by the power of the devil.

Here the Lord's care was manifest. He was not only a prophet, but he was a man of God. He was not only a prophet, but he was a man of God.

Installed So That It Can Be Reached Any Time Without Breaking Floor.

A new drainage system for the basement of the Town Court and Police building, part of the renovation operations there, is approaching completion. During production of the dumping of much silt in the gutter made put an added strain on the drainage facilities.
