TAMMANY LEADER Tammany Hall has a brand new type of leader. He is young—41—slim, brisk and frankly artulate. Tammany Hall leaders in the past have been either elderly or elderly appearing, stout, heavy-eyed and with a reputation for speechlessness derived from their conversing in brief grunts and gasps in consequence, to all appearance, of always having just eaten too much. As a matter of fact most of them have been afraid of saying anything for fear of convicting themselves of something.

James J. Dooling's pictures look like those of a recent young man just for that they ought to add quite a number of thousand votes to the Tammany strength. On the other hand nobody knows how many they will cost "the Hall."

For hungry eyes
 Hurt Avenue, Conny Island's Broadway, five-footed chop suey, Kerple dolls, frozen custard, hula dancers, what is it? It is a big feature picture. Every side-show claims to be "Direct From Chicago's Century of Progress Exposition." Gorfina, girl show, aridors, and "The Unknown Sex" is the latest.

The corn game, wheels and other out-and-out gambling concessions are fine, enjoyed by covering establishments full of pin games and games, sold-on-own prices. Officials thought to please the citizens by putting the cops devious but citizens are grumbling because they loved to be cheated.

Luna Park, oldest and most famous of Conny playgrounds, closed for the 1934 season. It's the place that made the hot dog famous, and the place that has 1,400 employees, 10,000 electric lights, two square blocks of groves, pavilions and ocean front, can feed more than 7,000 people at a sitting, serves fifteen tons of hot dogs every day.

NEW FIGURES TO WATCH
 The mid-way . . . more freaks, more hula dancers, "cray houses," wheels and roller coasters . . .
 The hula show, advertising separate built-in houses for ladies and gentlemen. Merry-go-rounds and whips and mechanical swings . . .
 The blind man, a year-around Conny resident, who gets his biggest thrill in life by going on all the rides, accompanied by a small boy or two
 The baby incubator owned by Dr. Martin A. Conroy. He's at the Chicago Fair now, but a Doctor Schull and a staff of nurses look after the ten tiny infants in the glass-and-chromium cage. No twins or triplets this season, but they have one baby younger than weighed two ounces less than the smallest of the Boone quintuplets.

Playground of the recent proletariat, who may wear bathing suits and under their street clothes and need spend only subway fare for a day's outing . . .
 Humanity massed by the hundreds of thousands, a forest of arms and legs; acres of suburb . . . Seems to be only one rule governing hula dancing: neither men nor women may drop a shoulder strap.

GOOD CONCENTRATOR
 Time out, please, for an observation concerning our friend Latimer. First Sage of the Hartford Times. Somebody, it appears, has offered the Judge the loan of a college on a lake. "My hope is to announce it on a convenient occasion," he replies to the world, "and, with no other company than that of the trees and the fishes and the waters, concentrate. We have some weighty matters to deliberate upon and that will be an excellent place for the business."

Our only reason for butting in is that the Judge, for all his very great powers of expression, has failed completely to convey even a hint of the implications involved, so far as the general reader is concerned.
 No one, without knowing Brother Latimer, exceedingly well, would ever guess at the astounding greatness of the problems for the coming of which such special and remote environment are necessary or even especially desirable. Because the Judge's capacity for concentration is in the midst of what to others would be 100 per cent. distraction, it is so unusual as to be fantastic.

We recall quite clearly an occasion as when the Judge, absorbed at his typewriter in the production of an essay on, we think, The Frigidity of Southern Ledyard—though it might have been about Abraham Lincoln or Chan Fritters—was completely surrounded for rising tenty minutes by three sailors and a lady with a green ostrich feather in her hat, uttering remarks who had found their telescopic way into the sanctum from the street through an unguarded front office at 12:45 a. m. and who alternately sang "Hot Time in the Old Town" and implored the Judge to join them in a little one out of a bottle—any bottle—without his ever developing the smallest surpicise that there was anybody around.

IN NEW YORK
 By PAUL HARRISON.
 New York, July 18.—The Conny Island subway express, at mid-day
 . . . The crowds at Times Square, rushing for seats. The crowds in the Union Square and Canal Street stations—and no seats left.
 The inevitable gang of rowdy ruffians, singing, whistling, directing wise-cracks at the ubiquitous group of girls.
 The sea-side women with their black-eyes, shrill-voiced, children surveying the staid crowd of humanity with mingled disapproval and amusement. The large faced woman who waddles in at a Brooklyn shop laden with a mo-chila, a camp stool and a two-year-old child. Unmistakable

Behind the Scenes in WASHINGTON
 By RODNEY DITCHER
 (The Herald's Washington Correspondent).
 Washington, July 18.—Things your nation's capital has been talking about since Congress went away from here:
 Crime—This seat of the Department of Justice, Secret Service, modern metropolitan police force, model city government, etc., is found to have a nice little crime record.
 In the first three months of the year, it stood 45 per cent above the average of the 25 other cities in number of crimes committed, in proportion to population.
 The murder record was 28 per cent above average and the capital led the run of the pack by 80 per cent in burglaries and 20 per cent in robberies. It had a sub-average record on crimes against women and killings through criminal negligence.
 Bartenders—Thousands of customers and most bartenders begged the district commissioners to allow drinks to be mixed in plain view, instead of behind partitions as regulations here now require. Customers have been getting some terrible concoctions.
 Bartenders, nevertheless, are good and want to perform in public. But the commissioners said that would lead toward the old-fashioned saloon.
 Woodring—Two camps argue furously whether Assistant Secretary of War Harry Woodring, former Kansas governor and smart politician, will and should escape with a whole skin from the House investigation of Army contracts.
 Aviation crowd is wild because the committee, after hearing Woodring, had, assessing members for a special fund.

"STAY OUT OF MY LIFE"

By Sophie Kerr

BEHOLD HERE TODAY JANE TERRELL comes to New York determined to show her love to Mr. Marbury, and especially AMY Jackson who she can make a success of. Her mother, Mrs. Jackson, who has been her best friend until now, has broken the engagement Jane had forced upon her and married a man in New York. Jane obtains a position in a real estate office and meets a man who is making a large income. She has an affair with ROGER THORPE who is married but lives of her. When he offers to bear the expense of her child, she contemptuously dismisses him, she confides in AMY, realizing she is her only friend. Jane insists on giving her daughter away and AMY takes the child, promising never to reveal its parentage. The baby is named NANCY. For two years Jane stays away from Marbury. Then, on a business trip, she goes to AMY's home and asks to see her daughter. AMY is afraid Jane will insist on taking the child. NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

SENSE and NONSENSE

Dear Column: I read an advertisement that said the French call up 200,000 men a year. Maybe that's what makes them so slow paying their debts. Yours, E. H. F.

What's the worse thing that can happen to a married man? Headline of an insurance advertisement. Brother, it has already happened.

Some Are Like That: Mary bought a bathing suit, new-bigger than a muff. But she did not about this dance. For Mary had the stuff.

IT'S NOT NECESSARY TO HAVE BOTH BRAINS AND MONEY. IF YOU HAVE THE MONEY, THE BRAINS WILL GOON YOU UP.

Father-Daughter, isn't that young man rather fast? Daughter—Yes, but I don't think he's fast away.

OLD MAID—Has the canary had its bath yet? Servant—Yes, ma'am. You can come in now.

What you don't find in the newspapers is adequately reported to your wife by the hairdresser.

There are eight towns in the United States with only two letters each. They are located in five different states. They are as follows: At and Ur in Alabama, Ed and By in Kentucky, Ho and Ro in Texas, Os in Ohio and Ho in Tennessee.

Note that Bing Crosby has a collection of 30 hits. Too bad they're not boomers.

Master—Mary, has anybody telephoned me since I've been out? Maid—Yes, sir. I could not get the message. I was on the safe side, I said you would pay something on account tomorrow.
