FLETCHER WALLOPS NEW DEAL POLICIES

G. O. P. Leader Issues Party's Challenge to Administration; Calls NRA "A Badge of Industrial Servitude."

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 10.—(AP)—National Chairman Henry P. Fletcher of the Republican Party called on the country last evening for a "verdict on the New Deal" on November 6.

From the platform of the Republican state convention here, in what was regarded as the party's National challenge, Fletcher branded the NRA a "badge of industrial servitude" and lambasted the farm program as a "tragic disappointment."

His address delivered in the heart of the Midwest prairie, was expected to declare the issues on which the Republicans will do battle for more Congressional seats.

Fletcher accused the Administration of fruitless spending and charged it had launched "dangerous experiments."

"The Black Crew"

While building his party's case against the Administration, he put a new twist into the political picture. It was the "black crew" he said.

"Suppose, in order to compel all farmers to come in under the A. A. A. it decides to do a decree that all those who do not plant a black crop on their backyard gate will get no government money."

"This may sound like a lot of political hooey, but it is no more fanciful than what has gone with the blue eagle, the badge of industrial servitude."

He told the convention crowd that the farmer has suffered, rather than benefited, from the recovery activities.

A. A. A. Strangled

"The New Deal" he declared, "has strangled the A. A. A. In dealing with its announced subject, 'The New Deal and American Ideals,' Chairman Fletcher charged that the Roosevelt program had done psychological damage to the country.

He declared it had undermined "the morale of our people." Saying that "millions are being 'hired and seduced' into depending upon the government for their livelihood, he added:

"American liberty ought not to be sold, even to one's government."

Government Control

Admitting that farm prices have increased since May, 1933, when the Agricultural Adjustment Act became a law, Fletcher declared that the rise had been more offset by a rise in the price of manufactured goods, and called the crop control program "thinly veiled government control," and "sales principle."

Port-of-Spain, Trinidad, Aug. 10.—(AP)—The man who says he is Robert Jones but whom the United States authorities contend is Arthur C. Wilson, charged with the murder of Mrs. Irene Deboit in Texas, said under guard aboard the liner San America today. The steamer is due in New York next Wednesday.

He is the first man to be extradited as a murder suspect from Trinidad to the United States. The extradition followed approval by Sir A. Claud Hoile, the governor of Trinidad, of a formal application made yesterday for the suspect's release to United States officials.

The Same Person

District Attorney Roy Jackson and a sheriff, both of Texas, are accompanying the prisoner. A Trinidad court, in agreeing to the extradition, ruled that "Arthur C. Wilson and Robert Jones have been shown to be one and the same person."

Mrs. Deboit's body was found in the desert near Van Horn, Texas, last November. She and Wilson, both residents of Cleveland, had said they were together, police said. Giving his name as Robert Jones, the prisoner was arrested while serving as a steward on a liner, having signed on at Halifax in December.

INDIANS TO PLEAD FOR RAIN TONIGHT

To Stage Ancient Dance to Invoke the Great Spirit to Help Prayers.

Geary, Okla., Aug. 10.—(AP)—Hundreds of painted, skin-decked Indians will hold tonight in the barbaric annual dance, final recourse of the red man in times of stress.

Rain! The frenzied dancers will plead of the Great Manitou. Rain! That the game may not perish, that the hunters may not return empty-handed from the chase.

Seldom indeed is the annual dance used to invoke the Great Spirit. Only the oldsters remember it that performance, in 1904, and only the older braves and squaws will participate in the ceremony, to be held in a grove south here.

The heads and hides of big game of the plains have been carefully saved for generations, for use only in the annual dance.

Buffalo Feat

Many of the participants will be continued in the pits of buffaloes' faces hidden under masks made of the animals' heads. In similar manner, other Indians will represent wolves, antelope, bears, deer, and elk.

The traditionally uncommunicative tribesman speak guardedly of the dance, its nature and its history. Always, they affirm, it must be held on the banks of a big stream. Manitou will see his animals covet, at last, before he will permit them to be forced by thirst to come to the big water, since their usual drinking places have completely vanished. And then if he will, will drizzle rain.

To Allow Dead-Alive Dog To Die a Natural Death

Berkeley, Calif., Aug. 10.—(AP)—"Thirteen," the fox terrier Dr. E. E. Cornish clinically put to death, and then revived, will be allowed to die a natural death.

Dr. Cornish disclosed today he has reached his decision after giving the dog's brain a final examination. He said the dog's condition was so advanced that it was impossible to revive it.

Improvement of the dog's condition has been slow and Dr. Cornish thinks it will be months yet, at best, before he will be able to operate on it. (Including medical treatment has been administered since the first week following April 13 when Thirteen's original life was terminated for three or four minutes, under clinical conditions, to further research into the possibility of revivification of persons whose heart beat and circulation has been stopped by shock or asphyxiation. The dog was given nursing but has been limited to selection of a proper diet and keeping the canine warm. He is not able to stand unassisted.

"He would eat a pound of meat a day if we would give it to him," Dr. Cornish said and while "his improvement is so slow as to be scarcely apparent, it is evident he is gaining gradually in strength. Where at first there was a tendency for him to cross his front legs when he tried to make his stand, he now holds them apart in a more normal way."

Misery Reigns In Onion Strike; Fire Adds To Toll

Stevenson, Ohio onion field striker, and his family until the state stepped in with food and lodging for the 44 men, women, and children evicted from company houses at McGuffey. With all their possessions except their beds piled beside the hut, and cooking in the open, the Stevensons, despite a heavy rain, made the best of matters until last evening. Shows of Nation's Business Surveys 40 P. C. Over 1933 Low.

New York, Aug. 10.—(AP)—Trade volume still is holding 40 per cent above the 1933 low, said the weekly Dun and Bradstreet trade review today, in spite of the worst drought in the nation's history, the epidemic of strikes, and an unfavorable foreign situation. Business sentiment, the review added, shifted suddenly into a more cheerful attitude during the week.

Most of the hesitancy which has been in evidence since the beginning of the third quarter," it continued, "is expected to be dispelled by the President's speaking of more formal announcement regarding the drought stricken areas."

FOUR ARE DEAD AS FLOOD HITS DENVER AREAS

Two Others Missing When Creek Overflows Banks—Floods Reported in Other States Also.

Denver, Colo., Aug. 10.—(AP)—At least four persons perished, and two others, a mother and her son, were missing and feared dead, in a flood-logged death trap in twisting Bear Creek canyon west of here.

Searchers continued today to dig through the debris-covered area that was swept by a terrific cloud-burst late yesterday, seeking any other bodies.

The identified dead: John Hubbard, 56, of Denver, and his wife, 52.

Charles M. Juhnke, 58, of Denver, a tourist camp operator, was killed with food and lodging for the 44 men, women, and children evicted from company houses at McGuffey.

With all their possessions except their beds piled beside the hut, and cooking in the open, the Stevensons, despite a heavy rain, made the best of matters until last evening. In the rear are shown some of the large onion storage barns of the Selco Land Company.

SILVER ORDER PUZZLES MANY; NOT INFLATION

Washington, Aug. 10.—(AP)—President Roosevelt, tanned and invigorated from his 13,000 miles of business-pleasure travels, returned to the White House today to greet a host of New Deal problems.

The President arrived shortly before noon after a fast trip from Chicago.

Several thousand persons were at Union station to greet him after an absence of 41 days on his trip to touring possessions and his journey across the United States from the west coast.

Secretaries Hull and Morgenthau were among the officials to greet the President on his arrival.

MALONEY FOLLOWS UP ATTACK ON THE G. O. P.

Congressman Charges Republicans Can Promise Nothing Better Than a Return to the Old Days.

(By Associated Press)
As a Democrat of Connecticut he indicated their intention of carrying the battle to the Republicans. Governor Wilbur Cross, blaking the way to the enemy trenches the night before last at the Koppelman dinner, Congressman Francis T. Maloney fired a volley last night at a gathering of Fairfield county Democratic leaders at Bridgeport.

Maloney had something to say about rugged individualism, which is often mentioned nowadays, asserting he believed in its preservation. His idea of this was that "preservation of rugged individualism, is to make certain that every able bodied man who is anxious and willing to work, is provided with a job."

Separate Types

The congressman separated the types of individualism, saying that "the one is the rugged individualism, which is often mentioned nowadays, asserting he believed in its preservation. His idea of this was that "preservation of rugged individualism, is to make certain that every able bodied man who is anxious and willing to work, is provided with a job."

FOUR BANDITS ALSO STEAL TWO DIAMOND RINGS WORTH $1,000 EACH, THEN FLEE

Troy, N. Y., Aug. 10.—(AP)—Police pressed a search throughout the east today for four bandits who held up five persons along a lonely road at Bardonia Lake, near here, last night and robbed them of $6,900 in cash and two diamond rings worth $1,000 each.

Victims of the holdup, all summer residents at Averill Park, a Reamsville county resort, are Jules Lermer, 35, of New York City, head of a chain of women's apparel stores, Pearl Yaras, also of New York; Barish Daniels, Waterville, Me.; and Gertrude Cohen, Boston, Mass.

Also in the party was a Japanese chauffeur, named Togo, employed by Lermer.

The bandits relieved Lermer of $6,700 in cash, stripped the rings from the hands of Miss Yaras and took $250 from Daniels' pocket.

Had Attended Races

The Lermer party was returning from Saratoga Springs, where they had attended the races, when their car was stopped by a small greenish colored race station there, on the message said.

As they pulled to a stop, four armed men ran from a wooded place, marched them 30 yards into the brush at gun point and bound each with pieces of cloth, making them lie face downward.

One of the women, not tied as tightly as the others, freed herself, released the others and notified state police at Troy. She said the car bore a license of L denonstration.

State police believed the car had been used in a robbery. Report from Corporal Robert Mohr of Lebanon outpost that several motorists had reported to him they were forced off the road in their vicinity by a speeding car in which four men rode.

Waves To Crowd

President Roosevelt smiled broadly as he made his way down the ramp and waved to the hundreds of people who have gathered to cheer him. He appeared in excellent physical condition.

The President reached the White House in time for lunch.

He arranged for a conference at three o'clock with Secretary Morgenthau, at which, it was expected, the whole financial and business situation would be reviewed.

At five o'clock Mr. Roosevelt loped to go over several questions with Secretary Hull.

Mrs. Anna Del, the President's daughter, met him at the station, John, youngest son, was with Mr. Roosevelt.

Members of the Cabinet went out to the President's car to extend their greetings to the returning President.

RICHARD H. GOLDEN, OF NORWALK, DEAD

Former Mayor and Bank President Passes Away After a Long Illness.

Norwalk, Aug. 10.—(AP)—Richard H. Golden, 84, Dean of Norwalk real estate and insurance men, president of the South Norwalk Trust Company and a former mayor, died early this morning in the Norwalk hospital after an illness of several months.

The flag at City Hall was placed at half mast by order of Mayor Charles E. Swartz, out of respect to the man who had given so many years of his life to the city.

Mr. Golden was a native of Glen Cove, L. I. He served as a drummer boy in the Civil War for five years. The congressman separated the types of individualism, saying that "the one is the rugged individualism, which is often mentioned nowadays, asserting he believed in its preservation. His idea of this was that "preservation of rugged individualism, is to make certain that every able bodied man who is anxious and willing to work, is provided with a job."

36 PERSONS DIE FROM HEAT WAVE

Hot Spell Continues in Midwest and No Relief Is in Sight.

The heat wave held on tenaciously today, with a steadily mounting toll of victims.

Thirty-six persons are known to have perished during the past few days as the record-breaking temperatures that baked the mid-continent, with no immediate general relief in sight.

A cool wave, reported sweeping down on the stricken areas from the far northwest, failed to put in its appearance yesterday and temperatures skyrocketed far beyond the century mark at a number of points. Scores were prostrated. Further crop losses were reported.

Texas had fifteen deaths. Nebraska counted seven dead. Nebraska counted seven dead. Nebraska counted seven dead.

It was 103 in Lincoln, the state's capital, yesterday—the fifth day in which 103 was exceeded in the past week.

Missouri has had three dead deaths since the current hot spell began, Illinois three, Indiana and Arkansas one each; Wisconsin, Michigan and Ohio, two each, while Ohio in addition counted five deaths during which she, too, declared medical assistance.

Allows Snake to Bite Him To Prove Faith; Now Dying

By Associated Press
A time-honored snake bite antidote of the mountain—but Teaster would not budge. He was a man of faith.

"Why only makes the snake madder and the poison will sink deeper," he cried, reiterating his determination.

He regained composure, but had to be carried to his cabin near here. He would permit no medicine, no doctor.

Today his arm had swollen until the skin burst and his back neck puffed, and his swollen tongue lay upon the congregation. He was still held.

Welfare authorities were advised, but they were believed too late, even if Teaster's weakness should finally overcome his religious scruples against their ministrations.

Teaster ran from the pulpit, ran to the church yard and rolled, squinted in the grass.

STORK'S-EYE VIEW OF THE DIONNES' NEIGHBORHOOD

MARIE EMELIE CECILE ANNETTE YVONNE

Too sleepy and tired even to "watch the birds," the Dionne quintuplets recline in their beds with all the hallmarks of picture taking. And this is a characteristic photo, too, for 16 or 17 hours a day are spent in this manner, though mostly in their separate incubators. Pleasant dreams!

Maria, Emelie, Cecile, Annette and Yvonne All Sleep Peacefully As Their Mother, Mrs. Oliva Dionne, Watches Over Their Nest.

EMELIE FINDS THIS THE HARDEST WEIGH

Just because she's a quintuplet, and weighs less than four pounds at two months, is no reason to Emelie Dionne why she should not express herself. And she expresses herself with emphasis when Yvonne Lacroix takes her up for the daily weighing. It's largely through these differences in temperament that the nurses are able to tell the five baby girls apart, as they all look alike. Emelie's lusty lungs and positive temperament identify her.

THE ROCKY ROAD TO CORBEIL, IT'LL BE SMOOTHER NOW

Last fall the quintuplets be isolated from the twice-daily visits of Dr. Dufour and their milk supplies, the Ontario government put a crew to work on the rocky side road that leads to Callander. With the coming of snow and winter weather the road might well have become impassable and the quintuplets' lives endangered. The crew building the all-weather road is shown above.

POWER OUTPUT GAINS FIRST HALF OF YEAR

State Shows Increase of 24 Per Cent Despite the Fact That June Lost.

During the first six months of 1934, electrical generation in Connecticut increased by 24 per cent over the total output of kilowatt hours in the corresponding six months of 1933, although a distinct slump in the State's electricity took place in June, it is revealed in a study of the monthly reports of the United States Geological Survey for the first half of the year.

At Connecticut's generating stations in the first half of 1934, there was produced a total of 250,889,000 kilowatt hours as against 498,176,000 kilowatt hours in the same part of 1933. This was a gain of 12,711,000 kilowatt hours.

Every month of the first six months of the year recorded a gain over its corresponding month of last year, the increase varying from 33 percent in February down to 13 per cent in May. June showed a decline of about two percent below the kilowatt hour output of June, 1933, which was definitely not in keeping with the figures of the first five months.

By far the larger part of this increase in electrical generation during the first half year took place in power produced at the hydroelectric stations. In the first half of last year, the steam generation for the State was 311,282,000 kilowatt hours. The steam output rose this year to a figure of 431,406,000 kilowatt hours, a gain of 34 per cent.

Hydro or water power generation also enjoyed an increase over last year, but the gain was limited to 12,857,000 kilowatt hours or about seven percent. Had there not been a substantial decline in steam production in February, the gain would have been a very substantial one.

Both April and May found Connecticut rivers and streams high and well charged with power for the hydro plants. The water power production in both months ran well above 30,000,000 kilowatt hours, but fell short of the State's all-time hydro record of 40,499,000 kilowatt hours created in April, 1933.

PRICES ON UP AND UP BUT NOT HOME INCOME

Average Housewife Has to Pay for New Deal Experiment and the Ballyhoo As Well.

Washington, Aug. 10.—The average housewife has to pay the bill for all the experimentation and ballyhoo of the New Deal, according to the statisticians of the very New Deal who have figured it all out.

Thus sixty-four articles of food have increased in price during the efforts of the Roosevelt Administration to increase purchasing power. The index number, by which comparisons over differing years are computed, of farm products has gone up from 43 to 64 of all foods, from 61 to 70 of hides and leather goods, from 68 to 87 of textile products, from 72 to 71 of building materials, from 60 to 68 of all other goods.

Or to state it differently, the government bureaus figure that housewives are paying 24 per cent more for all the things that they did fifteen months ago, 18 per cent more for meats, 8 per cent more for dairy products, and 10 per cent more for all other foods. And for many of the articles which enter into clothing and house furnishings they are paying fully 100 per cent more.

Take the item of pork chops. A year ago the index number of cost was 85. Today it has gone up to 113. Sliced bacon has increased from 78 to 86, and the index of lamb has gone up from 113 to 147. Hens which a year ago had a price index of 100 now have one of 119. Bread which you could buy a year ago for an index of 116 you now have to pay 147 for. Cornmeal was 116. It is now 120. Potatoes were 100. They are now 128. Rice was 96. It is now 90. All of these index numbers represent a comparison with a figure of 100 in 1913 just before the war began in Europe. Shifting by economy are planned for the New London and New York areas.

It is all well enough for those who are employed. No endorses or sequesters necessary. The only cost is a monthly charge of three per cent on the unpaid balance. Larger amounts up to $300 are available on other convenient plans.

It is exclusive with Watkins Brothers in this vicinity. Regular $74.50 for three pieces. Two weeks delivery.

CHINA'S DRIFT ANIMALS

ANTHROPOLOGY CODE AIDS

Nanking (AP)—In order to check the rapid decrease of livestock in China, due to ignorance and cruelty, the Nationalist government has issued regulations for the treatment of draft animals, whether cattle, donkeys, horses or mules.

The maximum load drawn by an animal must henceforth not exceed one-half of the weight of the animal itself. A load carried on the back must not exceed one-third.

Prescribing a 10-hour working day for all draft animals, the government has decreed that three hours must be taken for rest and grooming must take place once a day, and no animal under three or over 15 years of age is to be allowed to do heavy work.

COVENTRY LAKE ACTORS TO OFFER GREAT SHOW

Members of Group Living at Lake Colony to Give Benefit at Willamant.

Names to conjure with in the theatrical world will be seen on the program of the Actors' Colony Club. Full of the program at the Capitol theater on August 15 and 16 for the benefit of the Coventry Lake Improvement Association. All acts are different from those presented at the show staged by the same group last year. A three-hour performance is promised with twelve individual acts.

Included on the program will be the Keller Sisters and Lenore, the Stantons, Jack McLallen with Sara and Sammaras, characters familiar to all listeners of the Fishman radio program, Caesar Ruiz with Bonita, the Freeman Sisters, William and Joe Mandell and Jeanne Lang.

All members of the actors' colony at Coventry have offered their aid to the committee staging the show and enthusiasm for a real professional production is great. All of the performers who will be seen are acknowledged to be at the top of their respective fields and have had a considerable amount of experience on the stage or in radio work.

Setting all doubts as to how far the government would go to back up Fascist militarism, the Tribunal ordered a retrial for Alfredo Motta de Luca. He had been absolved by lower courts of disrespect toward two forest patrolmen. The high court held that "even the forest militia are agents of public safety and therefore any affront to them constitutes a public outrage."

Today Marks Closing of 1934 Camping Season - Closing Banquet Held.

Today marks the close of the 1934 camping season for boys at Camp Woodstock—and from breakfast time on campers have been busy breaking camp, packing their belongings, collecting the many articles they have been making during the craft classes, and saying their last farewells. A steady stream of cars have wended their way down the winding campus road, to come back shortly laden with blankets and other camping paraphernalia. From car windows have peered the turned youthful faces of the departing campers as they got their last glimpses of the Camp and their camp friends.

Last night came the closing banquet of the season, followed by the closing camp fire, service as well as campers lighted their torches of friendship at the closing campfire, signifying their intention to carry out into the world the principles of helpfulness, honesty and fair play furthered at the Camp.

Visitors at Camp Woodstock this summer, who have lived closely with the campers and joined in their activities, have been Frank Kerckhoff, German Exchange Student at Amherst, in whose honor the model German Village on the Chapel area has been built and dedicated—she, who is now on his way back to his native country; Theodore Koons of the staff of the Jerusalem YMCA, who has been taking a special course at Springfield College; and Summer R. Vinson, world famous traveler and lecturer. The Camp has enjoyed a successful season, so less than 150 boys from Hartford County alone having spent two or more weeks at the Camp. From Aug. 14 to 25th a camping period for girls will be conducted to be headed up by Mrs. Nelson Reed of Rockville.

Town Treasurer George H. Wadwell will be the speaker at the Monday noon meeting of the Manchester Kiwanis Club at the Country club house. His subject will be "Municipal Administration." Mr. Wadwell is a past president of the Kiwanis club. Elmer Weden will furnish the attendance prize.
