

ABOUT TOWN

The Republican town committee will hold an organization meeting this evening at 8 o'clock in the hearing room in the Municipal building. A chairman, secretary and treasurer will be elected and Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Russell of Mountain Road will leave Friday.

BASEBALL ATTRACTION GREEN vs. METHODISTS TOMORROW NIGHT

The gypsies are on the move and from all parts of the New England states come reports of their activities which sometimes cause the police to be on the lookout for them. Manchester has picked up two of them.

George H. Ward of Strong street has returned from a vacation spent at Benson, Vermont, in company with Hartford friends. They were guests at Mountain View stock farm, and were so enthusiastic over Mr. and Mrs. Jack Trotter of Bigelow street, who are spending their vacation at their Columbia Lake cottage, will entertain the members of the Amaranth Sewing club and their families at a picnic.

Velvet Workers Voice Opposition to Workers Although Union Leaders Claim 100 Per Cent Are Loyal.

Although officials of Local 2125, United Textile Workers of America, insisted in an authorized statement issued today that the velvet workers had voted during a meeting in Tinker Hall last night to "back Local 2125 fully 100 per cent," interviews with the workers themselves following the meeting indicated there was determined opposition expressed to going out on strike at this time.

Many At Meeting The meeting of the velvet workers was presided over by George Hahn, who also attended a session of the executive committee in Odd Fellows hall earlier in the evening. The meeting was largely attended by the day workers, and in the gathering was observed a sprinkling of women. The strike situation was freely discussed, but at the conclusion of the meeting, Mr. Hahn declined to issue an official statement of the proceedings.

"Loyal To Strike" One of the primary objects of the meeting, it was learned, was definitely to ascertain if there was any truth to the report that the velvet workers at Cheney Brothers were the only ones in New England connected with the United Textile Workers of America. It was felt that if this report were true, as many of the workers claimed, it would be unwise for members of Local 2125 to go out on strike as unfair discrimination thereby would be shown toward the Cheney workers.

Loss of Orders The point was emphasized that in view of these circumstances a strike of velvet workers at the Cheney mills would mean that orders for velvet goods originally intended for Cheney Brothers would be transferred to other firms whose workers were not on strike. This would result in a loss of orders, it was pointed out, which would seriously injure Cheney Brothers and might result in suspension of operations for a long time.

Session Discontinued As the meeting of the velvet workers was reported not to have been sanctioned by the executive committee, President Arthur Shortt (Continued on Page Seven)

SENTENCED TO DIE, SOLVES OLD CRIME

Woman Who Killed Husband Says He Confessed Killing Prominent Society Dentist

Los Angeles, Aug. 31.—(AP)—A fantastic solution for one of California's most mystifying murders came today from the lips of a woman sentenced to die.

Hayden Matthews, special investigator for the district attorney, reported Mrs. Nellie Madison told him her husband killed Dr. Leonard River, Pasadena society dentist, in a fight over another woman.

The former Montana cowgirl, Matthews related, said that shortly before his death her husband confessed he shot Dr. River. It was for the fatal shooting of her husband, Eric D. Madison, that the crack pistol shot was sentenced to be hanged.

The investigator said Mrs. Madison implicated a Los Angeles woman in the fight leading to the dentist's death. A woman to whom Madison gave a costly wrist watch was supposedly one of the many women linked with the socially prominent Pasadena's life.

Watch As Clue This was the watch, Mrs. Madison said, which was taken from Dr. River's wrist when he was shot down last December 12 near the Southern Rite cathedral, and figured so prominently in subsequent investigations.

Arizona afraid of his shadow, every noise starts him to his feet, the fears that assault him has been kept in his white and when indoors he locked even in daytime. Ericson was told in a letter some time ago.

When last heard from Artz was in Milwaukee. Judge Ericson was prosecuting attorney of the county when Duffler was arrested for the double slaying and at the time he said is an unsolved crime.

MAINE'S ELECTION IN THE SPOTLIGHT

Politicians Again Await Result as Barometer of How Nation Will Vote.

By ASSOCIATED PRESS The second Tuesday of September—the eleventh—will be a political smolder. Many opinions will be expressed by party leaders then as to what the Maine election on Monday, September 10, portends as to elections in the 47 other states November 6.

Nearly the Maine results and interpretations thereof, will overshadow the actual voting of September 11. On that day primaries in eight states and conventions in five will be held, and the Maine election will be particularly watched.

Primary, Parleys Conventions on September 11, include: Arizona—primary, Senator Henry F. Ashurst has four opponents in the Democratic nomination, including Sidney Osborn, resigned state chairman. Mrs. Isabelle Greenway, Democrat, the state's one representative is opposed by Frank Hilgeman, Farmer, Governor B. B. Moser, Democrat, has three opponents for renomination.

Louisiana—In New Orleans, Senator Huey Long and Mayor T. Semmes Walmsley have rival candidates for two of the state's eight seats in the House, the Democratic nomination being equivalent to election.

New Hampshire—The state's two representatives have opposition in a primary, Charles J. Stoddy, Republican being opposed by Edward Tolland, master of St. Paul's school and William N. Rogers, Democrat by Timothy F. O'Connor. There are two candidates for the Republican nomination for governor and three for the Democratic nomination, the incumbent John J. Winan, Republican, being a contender.

Vermont—Primary will decide Republican nomination for Senator by Senator Warren Hastings and Harry B. Amey former "federal district attorney.

Fred C. Martin collector of internal revenue and an original Roosevelt well man, is opposed for the Democratic nomination. Representative Charles Plumley, Republican, holder of the state's one seat in the House, is unopposed for renomination. Stanley C. Wilson, Republican, is retiring as governor. Charles M. Smith, banker, and Benjamin Williams, marble magnate.

GENERAL G. R. DYER DIES IN NEW YORK

Was Member of Port of New York Authority—Was 65 Years of Age.

New York, Aug. 31.—(AP)—George Rathbone Dyer, member of the Port of New York authority and retired major-general of the New York National Guard, died early today. General Dyer, who was 65, was born in Providence, R. I.

During the World War, when National Guardsmen were mustered into the regular army, General Dyer was given command of the State Militia.

He served as brigadier-general for years, commanding the 87th Brigade. In 1925 Governor Smith offered him the commission of major-general and commander of the Guard. Dyer declined. "Obligations to business associations" made it impossible to give the service additional time, he said.

He accepted promotion, however, just before retirement on June 24, 1928.

General Dyer was senior partner in the brokerage firm of Dyer, Hudson and Company.

Headed Bridge Group He was chairman of the New York state bridge and tunnel commission, which joined with a New Jersey commission to build the Holland vehicular tunnel under the Hudson river. When the old commission was merged with the port authority, the general was made one of the port commissioners by legislative enactment.

The veteran officer had undergone a major operation eight days ago and apparently was recovering. He suffered a relapse yesterday. At the bedside in the hospital were his wife, Mrs. Helen Lewis Stratford, Walter G. Elsha, and George R. Jr., Walter, who was at Newport, R. I., and George, who had gone to Europe, arrived yesterday. His wife died several years ago. General Dyer lived in Brookville, on Long Island. He will be buried at his birthplace, Providence.

Ordering Strike Of Half Million Mill Workers

During a portentous meeting in Washington, D. C., the executive committee of the United Textile Workers made the decision to order more than 500,000 cotton mill hands to refuse to return to work after Labor Day. Above is the scene in the committee room during this meeting. Standing are Thomas McMahon (left), president of the union, and Francis J. Gorman, chairman of the strike committee.

USE FAKE ARMORED CAR AFTER TIP OF HOLD-UP

Sent from Boston to New Haven While Big Money Shipment Came Today by Railroad.

New Haven, Aug. 31.—(AP)—A huge shipment of currency from the Boston Federal Reserve Bank to banking houses in New Haven reached its destination safely early today under armed guard, despite a tip to the state police that New York bandits were planning a seizure.

Authorities credited the safe arrival of the currency today to a clever hoax they perpetrated yesterday at the scheduled hour of an armed hold-up. The bandits, who were heavily guarded, arrived at the railroad station in New Haven, and were taken by the money car today. Both yesterday and today. (Continued on Page Seven)

SOUTH'S COTTON MILLS WILL OPEN ON MONDAY

British Labor Declares War on Nazis, Fascists

London, Aug. 31.—(AP)—British labor today declared war on Fascism. A manifesto issued by the General Council of the Trades Union Congress threw the whole weight of British organized labor into the fight.

"Born out of the post-war confusion and despair," the manifesto declared, "the Fascist Party in Italy and the Nazi Party in Germany have used their powers to oppress by violence all other parties."

"Each affiliated organization," every lover of democracy and freedom, is called upon to make all possible efforts to achieve this object and strengthen the hands of the labor movement in the campaign to revert to the democratic principle of freedom of thought, of action, of the press, of association have all been swept away. The spirit of new labor today declared war on Fascism. A manifesto issued by the General Council of the Trades Union Congress threw the whole weight of British organized labor into the fight.

GOVERNMENT TO START NEUTRAL STRIKE PROBE

Garrison Still Hopes for Peace; To Appoint Board to Make Impartial Survey of Situation.

Washington, Aug. 31.—(AP)—The government appeared ready today to launch a neutral inquiry into the issues behind the general cotton-textile strike, as all hope of averting the giant walk out vanished.

Still striving for a quick peace, Chairman Lloyd Garrison of the National Industrial Relations Board announced her resignation from a committee of three to explore the conflict impartially and perhaps recommend a solution.

Union leaders threatened to call a silk, wool and rayon operatives out on the strike line unless their employers meet demands. This, they said, would boost the grand total to 2,000,000 employees.

Her resignation was submitted to the Treasury, Henry Morgenthau, that as collector of ports she cannot continue as National committee-woman.

UNUSUAL HEROISM SHOWN BY WOMAN

Saves Lives of Two Men and Then Drives Away, Refuses to Talk About It.

Bancroft, Ont., Aug. 31.—(AP)—Two men today owed their lives to the heroism of a woman who they had never seen before.

Dr. F. Hopkins and George Bradshaw, who came from Illinois for a vacation at Pusbas lake, were castling from a canoe Wednesday afternoon. One of the fishermen had a strike and the doctor and his companion tried to change positions, when the canoe capsized.

Bradshaw went down. Dr. Hopkins swam to his rescue and brought him to the surface. The rescue quickly carried the canoe out of the doctor's reach. Bradshaw became unconscious and the doctor, unable to make shore, was weakly unable to raise him, but still grimly hanging on to his friend.

Miss C. Folard of Picton, Ont., an employee of the Ontario Mothers Allowance Commission, was driving along the shore road in her automobile. She saw the two men in the water.

Without hesitation, Miss Folard stopped the car and ran to the water's edge where a rickety old punt was moored. It was a matter of minutes before she had pulled the two men ashore. She saw the two men in the water.

Labor Day Not Observed as Holiday There and Owners Believe Workers Will Not Obey Strike Call—Many Make Pledge to Continue Work Despite Statements Made by Union Leaders.

By ASSOCIATED PRESS The Nation's greatest labor conflict—the general strike in the cotton-textile industry—will face its first test on Labor Day.

Textile mills of the south uniformly do not observe the Labor Day holiday and operators have served notice that plants will open Monday as usual despite the calling of the Nationwide walkout for 11:30 o'clock Saturday night after the last shift of the week goes off duty.

From many sections union organizers report that the strike will be 100 percent effective. From others mill operators claim less than 10 percent of their employes will answer the strike call.

In some Carolina mills workers voted to report for work Monday morning while in other parts of the south workers have already left their spindles.

Violence already has echoed the strike call. Employees of the Payne mill in Macon, Ga., struck yesterday and before midnight, two automobiles had been attacked, the companies firing in their defense. Pickets, armed with clubs, marched outside the mill fence. Company guards, carrying firearms, patrolled inside the gate.

An estimated 425,000 workers in the cotton-textile trade will be affected by the general strike. Another 200,000 employees in allied fields such as silk, rayon and wool, have orders to "stand by." Francis J. Gorman, strike committee chairman, predicts they will join the walkout.

Dispute Over Wages About 200,000 mill hands are members of the United Textile Workers of America, which says their average weekly wage is only $10.86. The manufacturers organization—the Cotton Textile Institute—disputes this, saying the industry has granted bigger wage increases under the NRA than any other line.

The NRA is a center of the fight. The union demands, under the Industrial Recovery Act, the right to represent labor in collective bargaining; the operators say they cannot see where this representative.

The union asks: A 30-hour week with 40-hour pay; an end to the "stretch out" of the individual workers' duties; collective bargaining recognition; and cessation of discrimination against union members.

Changing it would regulate the NRA as the code making authority, the manufacturers refuse to arbitrate the strikers' demand. They say they cannot increase costs and remain in business.

From Maine to Alabama the 1,251 cotton mills extend with scattered plants in inland states. The Carolinas, Georgia, Alabama, Massachusetts and Rhode Island have from 20,000 to 50,000 workers each, the union figures say.

In THIS STATE New Haven, Aug. 31.—(AP)—The general strike of the cotton textile industry called for at 11:30 p. m., tomorrow, is not expected to have immediate effect at textile mills in this vicinity.

At the United States Rubber Company, Naugatuck, officials forecast a possibility that fabric shortages might cause a shut-down of the Naugatuck plant in September. The plant uses millions of yards of cotton fabric in the manufacture of tennis shoes and rubber footwear. Its supply on hand was described as "limited."

Frederick M. Chambers, vice-president and treasurer of the American Mills with plants in Allington and Hamden, said the general strike probably will have no immediate effect on the operation of these mills.

"Our plant is not under the cotton-textile code, so we anticipate no labor trouble," Mr. Chambers said. "Our workers are unincensed, however."

PRESIDENT URGES SAFETY ON ROADS

Suggests Uniform Auto Laws — September Designated as "Safety Month."

Washington, Aug. 31.—(AP)—A recommendation by President Roosevelt for uniform automobile safety laws with strict and impartial enforcement was made public today by Secretary Hoover.

The President's views were contained in a letter to the commerce secretary in connection with a plan by governors of 44 states to designate September as "safety month."

Hooper, in his statement, estimated that 35,000 persons would be killed and 1,000,000 injured during the current year.

HEARING IS POSTPONED ON FAKED KIDNAPING

Officials Await Reports from Washington Before Proceeding Against Evangelist.

Goldboro, N. C., Aug. 31.—(AP)—A preliminary hearing for Rev. R. H. Askew, 28-year-old evangelist who admitted recently that he "kidnaped himself," has been postponed for tomorrow until September 2, U. S. Commissioner Fred E. Pearson announced today.

Askew is in jail awaiting a hearing on charges growing out of ransom notes and threats against his wife and to Anne Temple McPherson, Los Angeles evangelist, while he was supposed to be in the hands of abductors early this month.

Commissioner Pearson said the hearing was delayed at the request of the charitable bureau of the Department of Justice, which was awaiting reports from Washington on the telegrams and letters Askew admitted sending.

The notes demanded $20,000 of his wife, 50-year-old former mountain school teacher, and you never want to see your husband alive again. Another demanded a letter amount from Anne McPherson on threat of dynamiting her Angelus Temple in Los Angeles.

Askew turned up in Nashville, Tenn., four days after his disappearance, claiming he was abducted by three men in "a big brown automobile." He made a confession that the kidnaping was a hoax soon after he returned home, his only explanation being that he was ill and needed to go away for a rest.

Patrolman Frustrated Attempt at Holdup

Bandit Shoots Five Times and Misses His Target—Is Arrested as Companion Escapes.

New Haven, Aug. 31.—(AP)—Zigzagging out of the range of five shots Patrolman John Toole of Headquarters frustrated an attempt by two bandits today to kidnap and rob Alphonse Ferrucci of this city in the St. George Club on Chapel street.

A half hour after the running pistol battle in which one of the gunmen missed all five of his attempts to make a target of Tooley, one of the bandit pair was arrested by Patrolman Simon Ferrucci.

The youth, said to be Joseph Stancore, 37, of this city, is being held today on charges of robbery with violence, assault with intent to murder and carrying concealed weapons.

Although police said Stancore was assaulting Ferrucci with the intention of robbing him, he has failed to divulge the identity of his search in its progress for the second man.

Battleground Reproduced

Gumbinnen, East Prussia, Germany.—(AP)—To commemorate the 20th anniversary of the battle of Gumbinnen, local soldiers built a topographical reproduction of the battleground in their drill hall.

They placed in the proper setting scores of trees, houses, churches, roads, and 18,000 tin soldiers.

YOUTHFUL ELOPERS FOUND IN AN AUTO

Two Sixteen Year Olds Discovered Asleep on Outskirts of Washington—Will Be Sent Home.

Washington, Aug. 31.—(AP)—Two 16-year-old New Englanders were here today after police interrupted an elopement to Florida which, the would-be bridegroom fiancée by selling his dog for $50.

They said Connors had gone away the night before, saying he would return. The couple left Newport last week. They said Connors had promised to drive them to Florida and help them get married there.

Police wired Allen's parents. The girl explained that she was an orphan but had a brother operating a night club at Hyannis.
