PRESIDENT MOVES TO NAME A BOARD TO MEDIATE STRIKE

Manufacturers Meet to Plan Defense Against Acts of Union Heads to Force Employees to Quit Work.

New York, Sept. 5.—(AP)—Heads of the silk, woolen and cotton industrial organizations today decided to obtain all possible protection for textile workers who wish to remain at their looms.

The heads of the three divisions of the industry conferred on the general strike information at luncheon today and at the conclusion of the session Peter van Horn, president of the National Federation of Textiles and chairman of the silk code authority, said all three had decided to ask protection for workers.

By ASSOCIATED PRESS President Roosevelt moved today to appoint a mediation board for the general strike in the textile industry at the same time that employers' representatives announced a meeting to plan a defense against alleged intimidation of workers remaining on their jobs.

The President acted at the request of the National Labor Relations Board and will shortly announce the personnel of a board of three members to enquire into the strike situation.

The President aside from this move, however, is contemplating no Federal interference in the general strike.

Plan of Defense Heads of the silk, woolen and cotton industrial organizations announced that they would meet today in an effort to effect a plan of defense against alleged intimidation forcing workers who desire to remain at their jobs to walk out.

At the conference will be George A. Sloan, president of the Cotton Textile Institute, Arthur G. Beese, president of the National Association of Wool Manufacturers, and Peter van Horn, president of the National Federation of Textiles.

AN APPEAL TO SILK WORKERS

We understand that the leaders of the local union have told their members that the information issued by the Company about the Velvet, Cravat and Silk Dyeing industries is not true.

We have checked carefully again today and again state positively that no strike has been called by the general strike committee either in the Velvet industry, the Cravat industry, or the Silk Dyeing industry anywhere in the United States except at Cheney Brothers in South Manchester. Our competitors in these industries are operating without restraint.

We have also just received the following telegram:

New York City, September 5, 1934.
Postal Telegraph 12:10 standard
Have received report this morning from all sections of Throwing Industry. No mills other than your own are reported out on strike.

H. E. BISHOP,
Secretary Code Authority of Throwing Industry.

We understand that our employees are not striking against the Company, but out of sympathy with the general strike. It seems to us that an unjust burden is being put upon our employees and ourselves in these non-striking industries.

We again urge employees to return to work.

WARD CHENEY.

EX-PRESIDENT PLEADS FOR HELP FOR NEEDY

Mr. Hoover Declares Need Greatest Now and Giving Difficult—Calls It Year of Great Test.

Los Angeles, Sept. 5.—(AP)—Characterizing the present as "the years of a great test" former President Herbert Hoover appealed here today for open-hearted giving to the needy.

"In these days when so many think to risk humanity of its faults by discard also of its hard-won virtues," he said, "it is strengthening to see this great group intent upon the high virtue of charity."

While the former National Chief Executive addressed a joint meeting of 65 local service clubs in launching the Community Chest drive here, his appeal was not to Los Angeles alone. The program was broadcast over both National radio chains.

"These are times when the need is greater and when giving is more difficult," Mr. Hoover continued.

VELVET WORKERS STAY OUT DESPITE APPEAL

Official Union Statement

The following official statement was issued at strike headquarters today.

"President Arthur Shorps of Local 2126, United Textile Workers of America, today was empowered by more than 400 strikers assembled at Center Park to appoint a committee which will determine the number of stores in Manchester which are affiliated with the Chamber of Commerce and which will be subjected to a boycott by the families of striking employees of Cheney Brothers.

The boycott will be launched in retaliation for the telegram alleged to have been sent by the Chamber of Commerce urging the strikers to return to work. The strikers were instructed to keep a sharp watch for Communist agents and to promptly advise the police of their presence. One of the strikers who only stores having no connection with the local Chamber of Commerce will be patronized by the strikers.

"Two men who were passing out allegedly inflammatory propaganda in the vicinity of the mills were halted by a group of picketers and turned over to Police Sergeant Rudolph Wirtalla who ordered them to leave town without delay. The Communists were distributing copies of the 'Daily Worker,' concealed in which were handbills bearing 'Red' literature. The picketers were instructed to be prompt and advise the police of their presence. One of the strikers who only stores having no connection with the local Chamber of Commerce will be patronized by the strikers.

WOMAN'S REQUEST

Officials Believe Gerald Chapman Had No Sister, Woman Claims Kinship.

New Haven, Sept. 5.—(AP)—The effort of Mrs. Margaret Gerwin of New York City to claim as his sister, the body of Gerald Chapman, who was hanged at State Prison in 1926 for killing of C. James Skelly at New Britain, that she might have it buried in New York, recalls to those who were closely identified with the trial of Chapman that the mystery never dispelled by him as to his family.

The late Colonel Norris G. Osborn of this city, veteran editor who was president of the State Prison Board, was virtually the only person with whom Chapman talked to a personal way while the latter was in prison.

GOVERNOR LAYS FOUNDATION FOR HARMONY TALKS

Eastern Point, Sept. 5.—(AP)—Governor Wilbur L. Cross, assured by party chieftains that his renomination is a forgone conclusion, Germany, declared today for a series of conferences which he hoped would lay the foundation for harmony at the Democratic state convention.

While the convention scheduled to begin its deliberations at 6 o'clock tonight, party leaders expressed the belief Mayor Frank Hayes of Waterbury held the answer as to whether the nomination of the party would be made up of delegates.

Two years ago Governor Cross and Mayor Hayes clashed over this same nomination and as a result the convention was thrown into an uproar.

LESS THAN ONE THIRD WORKERS ON STRIKE

Union Leaders and Manufacturers Agree 10,000 Persons Are Idle in State—Trouble in Danielson.

By ASSOCIATED PRESS The list of textile strikers in Connecticut passed the 10,000, slightly less than one-third of the union estimated force. The gain of more than 4,000 overnight was brought about by the closing of additional plants as the state entered the second day of the strike.

Twenty-eight mills definitely were closed today while three were partly operating out of the close to 100 mills in the state.

The first serious violence erupted in the Connecticut situation today at Danielson where picketers attacked the occupants of a factory owned by the L. Y. Spear, a vice president of the concern, said in order to do business in South America you had to "graze the weeds." A letter from Spear to an official of Veterans Aid, the British concern with which they cooperated in submarine business, said:

"We all know the real foundation of South American business is graft."

Letters produced that Commander Louis Aubry, a Peruvian salesman for the submarine company, proposed to get himself appointed to the position of vice president of the company, and that they should not be held responsible for a statement made by the president of the national association.

MILLS SWEETHEART ATTEMPTS SUICIDE

Woman Had Told Him That She Had Been Wed Secretly to Another Man.

Port Chester, N. Y., Sept. 5.—(AP)—A fit of jealous rage was blamed by police today for the fatal shooting last night of Miss Florence Lemming, 26, who died at the local hospital, by a former sweetheart, who turned the gun on himself.

Charles McGuire, 34, teacher in the Port Chester high school, in critical condition in the United hospital here today, a bullet wound in his abdomen, was said by police to have

GERMAN DICTATOR REPORTS IT HAS FULFILLED ALL ITS HOPES—CLEAR ROAD AHEAD.

Nurnberg, Germany, Sept. 5.—(AP)—Adolf Hitler, dictator of Germany, declared today for a series of conferences which he hoped would lay the foundation for harmony at the Democratic state convention.

While the convention scheduled to begin its deliberations at 6 o'clock tonight, party leaders expressed the belief Mayor Frank Hayes of Waterbury held the answer as to whether the nomination of the party would be made up of delegates.

Two years ago Governor Cross and Mayor Hayes clashed over this same nomination and as a result the convention was thrown into an uproar.

TALK OF BRIBERY AT U-BOAT PROBE

But New London Firm Denies It—Said They Did Pay Commissions.

Washington, Sept. 5.—(AP)—Talk of bribery in the sale of submarines to South American countries mingled with evidence that a Peruvian salesman for the submarine company sought to serve as a delegate to the 1935 disarmament conference in testimony today before the Senate munitions committee.

The Herald made an inquiry at the Chamber office and each member of the Chamber directorate was asked if any such telegram was sent to Washington and it was learned that this was not true. The story is evidently the result of a rumor which persisted yesterday afternoon and evening. The Chamber officials said that those making assertions about such a telegram would be asked to furnish proof of their statements.

Perhaps some leads for the boycott talk was forthcoming at a meeting of the Connecticut Federation of Labor Unions in New Britain yesterday in which action was asked against the National Chamber of Commerce because of a statement attributed to the president of the organization. The local Chamber members feel that they should not be held responsible for a statement made by the president of the national association.

A Chamber of Commerce statement in regard to this phase of the situation will be found in other columns of today's Herald.

In an effort to get at the bottom of the misunderstanding over the velvet strike, the Herald contacted representatives in Norwich, Mystic, Stoughton, Shelton and West Haven where velvet mills are located. This newspaper was told that there is no strike in the velvet mills in those places and none is expected. No strikes there had been reported as The Herald went to press, although union officials here expressed the belief that employees in those plants would be out before the day ended.

Cravat Strike Cravat department employees were planning to return to their work. The Herald was told after a telegram from Louis Fuchs, head of the United Neckwear Makers' Union, addressed to Cheney Brothers, said that there is no strike in the cravat industry and none was expected. Union officials held statements from both the union headquarters here and from Cheney Brothers will be found in other columns of today's Herald.

When the mills opened this morning, Mr. Shorps, Clarence Loring and George Hahn were in conference with Horace Chasney Austin, C. Cheney and John Learned for the purpose of deciding what should be done about permitting some of the velvet workers to invoke and ask for a quantity of finished

WALLACE, HOOVER LITERARY RIVALS

Both Have Written Books Which Will Be Issued Later in the Month.

Washington, Sept. 5.—(AP)—Herbert Hoover and Secretary Wallace, whose political views have clashed repeatedly, are going to be literary opponents before long.

Both the former President and the secretary of agriculture are publishing books this month. They will be issued by the same publishing firm and will be distributed by an organization which selects books periodically for its members.

The latter concern has placed both books among others on its list. The clients can choose either or neither, publishing rights in sagely awaiting the result.

The contents of the Hoover book, "The Challenge to Liberty," were indicated in an article by the former President in this week's Saturday Evening Post. He criticized the New Deal.

Secretary Wallace's book is called "New Frontiers." Persons close to the secretary say it will be considered an answer to the views expressed by Mr. Hoover in his magazine article. This is a new coincidence, however.

Boiled Legumes. Son of the secretary of agriculture under President Coolidge, Wallace headed the forerunner party in 1928 to support the Democratic presidential nominee, Alfred E. Smith, and remained to back President Roosevelt when he was named to his father's old post.

It was because of the Wallace farm policy expressed by Hoover as a candidate in 1928 that Roosevelt left the Federal Farm Board in its infancy and became a critic of the farm policy.

Both the former President and the secretary of agriculture are publishing books this month. They will be issued by the same publishing firm and will be distributed by an organization which selects books periodically for its members.

Paraguay was able to repay her debt for her expenditures by selling the Bolivian fields? Another easy guess?

There was a time when that sort of thing would work. It has worked many times, with the United States coming to the assistance of "American" weak foreign countries. Not any more. Not even when the good old scheme of ribbing up the Washington correspondence to "break" the idea is employed.

Paraguay takes away Standard Bolivian fields and puts them in her own pockets. It is just too bad for the Americans who have put their money into the oil-and-perhaps into gunpowder—but this country is all through, for all time, with the "ancient and easily scheme" of buying the little country into giving back the spots of war.

PENSIONS DE LUXE

Upton Sinclair's ridiculous may be giving a lot of people in California and elsewhere the heebie-jeebies, but it isn't a marker to another California movement that is said to be making its way East by way of high jumps and to be getting adherents actually by the million. It is a scheme to end this depression and prevent all other projects from getting on their feet. It is a scheme to end this depression and prevent all other projects from getting on their feet. It is a scheme to end this depression and prevent all other projects from getting on their feet.

NOT ON HIS JOB

One highly unsatisfactory circumstance in connection with the local textile strike is the inability of workers, employers or the general public to obtain accurate and dependable information as to the extent of the walkout or anything like a true picture of the progress. The newspapers and the press agencies seem themselves without any authoritative source of information. The result is that the newspapers, doing the best they can, are obliged to do little more than publish the contradictory claims of representatives of both the strikers and their employers, leaving the reader very sketchily informed as to the actual state of affairs.

WIDE DIFFERENCES IN STRIKE FIGURES Employers and Workers' Spokesmen 40,800 Apart; The Strike by States.

Copyright, 1934 by Associated Press. Employers and workers' spokesmen were 40,800 apart in their estimates of the number of workers on strike in the textile industry.

Both totals include independently collected figures for Georgia and the Carolinas as well as an estimate of 2,400 strikers in scattered states.

Accepting the figure of 600,000 as representing the total number of workers in the industry, the strike is estimated to affect fifty per cent effective and by the Associated Press is estimated to be 25 per cent effective.
