DUTCH TEAM AHEAD IN MELBOURNE RACE

Several Forced Down—Fitzmaurice Does Not Start—Miss Cochran Quits After Reaching Bucharest.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.
The twenty aircraft entered in the London to Melbourne Air Derby got off to a perfect start at dawn today, but some of them later were forced down by engine trouble or bad weather.

Apparently in the lead were K. D. Parmentier and J. J. Moll, Netherlands entry, who arrived at Rome at 11:30 a. m., approximately one hour after they took off from Middelham Airfield, England.

Captain T. Neville Stack of England was forced down at Abbeville, France, in a heavy fog bank at 8:30 a. m. He made a perfect landing and planned to continue when the weather cleared.

H. L. Brook also was forced down by bad weather at 9:15 a. m. at Plesis Lauchard, France.

J. D. Hewitt and C. E. Kay of New Zealand were forced down at Boulogne, France, by engine trouble.

John H. Wright and John Polando landed at Lyon, France, at 10:45 a. m. and hopped off again in five minutes.

The Air Ministry at Croydon heard that H. P. Pater and G. E. Home of New Guinea were forced down near Boulogne, France, because of engine trouble.

Squadron Leader Malcolm MacGregor of New Zealand landed at Marseilles at 11:15 a. m., refueled and took off for Rome at 11:45 a. m.

James Woods and D. C. Bennett of Australia arrived at Marseilles at 12:24 a. m.

C. J. Melrose of Australia arrived at Marseilles at 12:08 p. m.

Fitzmaurice Quits
The plane of Colonel James C. Fitzmaurice of India never left the field at Middelham. He withdrew his entry because a required reduction in his fuel supply would have cut his flying radius.

John H. Wright and John Polando landed at Marseilles at 12:20 p. m.

The Dutch team of Parmentier and Moll hopped off from Rome at 11:34 a. m., after a 24 minute stop.

Squadron Leader D. E. Stodart and K. G. Stodart of England landed at Marseilles at 12:38 p. m.

C. J. Melrose of Australia reached Marseilles and set off for Rome again at 12:34 p. m.

D. L. Ayles and G. J. Geyssendorfer of the Netherlands arrived at Marseilles at 12:27 p. m.

Lieut. M. Hansen of Denmark landed his plane at Marseilles at 1:00 p. m.

Parmentier and Moll were reported approaching Athens at 2 p. m.

American Delays
The Americans, Wright and Polando, were delayed in Marseilles by engine trouble.

Lieutenant Hansen took off from Marseilles at 1:29 p. m. for Rome. He was followed four minutes later by the Stodarts, headed for the same point.

After making repairs on the motor, Wright and Polando took off for Rome at 1:50 p. m.

Flying Officer H. D. Gilman, British, who was reported to have made a forced landing at Lyon, later flew on toward Marseilles.

Woods and Bennett stayed at Marseilles only 30 minutes, then took off at 3:10 p. m. for Athens.

J. D. Hewitt and C. E. Kay of New Zealand arrived at the Rome Airport at 3:05 p. m.

Parmentier and Moll passed right over Athens at 2:15 p. m., apparently heading straight for Baghdad.

Flying Officer C. G. Davies and Lieut. Com. C. N. Hill, British, landed at Bourges, France, at 10:30 a. m., refueled, and took off again for Marseilles.

Flying Officer Gilman arrived at Marseilles at 12:15 p. m. and said he had had engine trouble. The tail of the ship was slightly split.

Stack and Turpin of the British team, resumed their flight from Abbeville at 2:55 p. m., heading south.

Miss Jacqueline Cochran and Wesley Smith of New York reached Bucharest, then announced they were abandoning the race.

D. L. Ayles and G. J. Geyssendorfer called in at Marseilles, then took off again for Rome at 1:58 p. m.

Squadron Leader, Malcolm MacGregor and Henry Walter of New Zealand reached Rome at 2:30 p. m.

LOCAL G. O. P. CLUB LARGEST IN STATE

Col. Raymond F. Gates Predicts Bright Future for Young Republican Club.

Raymond F. Gates of Willimantic, Commissioner of State Agencies and Institutions, was the guest speaker at the organization meeting of the Young Republican Club last night in the Masonic Temple. A large and enthusiastic gathering of young Republicans listened to the speaker as he gave the history of the Republican party since 1854 and cited its accomplishments during that period in advancing the principles of good government through a succession of statesmen of high caliber.

R. A. Smith, President of the Young Republican Club, presided at the meeting. He was introduced by Chairman Aaron Cook, who is incapacitated by an injury. Chairman Norris introduced Robert J. Smith, deputy comptroller of the state, who presided during the remainder of the evening.

Mr. Smith urged the young people to take an active interest in the club and said he was well pleased with the large number present, indicating a revival of interest in politics among the thinking young people of the town.

Deputy Judge Thomas Ferguson, introduced by Chairman Smith, said he was impressed with the attendance of young people at the meeting. He added, promises a successful campaign to follow.

He urged the young people to do everything possible to get the vote on Oct. 23, the day of the general election.

Chairman Smith introduced the guest speaker of the evening as one of the best known men in the state, one who has a hard job in the department of agencies and institutions caring for widows and orphans and inmates at the various institutions.

The speaker outlined the history of the Republican party since 1854 and later described the special qualifications of the Republican state candidates whom he said were the best ever presented to the voters of the state. He said he was especially interested in the young people and for that reason he was his plan to give them the background of the party and the accomplishments of its various leaders.

The privilege of voting, Mr. Gates said, was one of the greatest of rights and the duty of every citizen to affiliate with one of the two parties to maintain and assist in every way possible the principles he or she thinks are right. The Republican party, through its 80 years of continued effectiveness as a power in the establishment and control of government, has produced statesmen who have accomplished many notable things for the people of the United States.

The United States has had, during its 80 years, the 80 years of the minor parties but all have disappeared and the majority of reasoning people.

Upon being made a voter, he said, it is the duty of the citizen to take part in all elections and to do everything in their power to see that other voters exercise their privilege of franchise.

Records of candidates
One of the most interesting parts of the address by Colonel Gates was his detailed description of the superior qualifications of the Republican candidates for the fall election.

The speaker took each candidate in turn and gave the young people a present and a picture of their past impressive records.

Among those shown to the young people in the light of past accomplishments were the Republican candidates for Governor, State Attorney Hugh M. Alcorn, a self-made man and a farmer, fat administrator "who will bring to the office of the state's chief executive the same high type of executive ability that he has shown during his 37 years as a state's attorney."

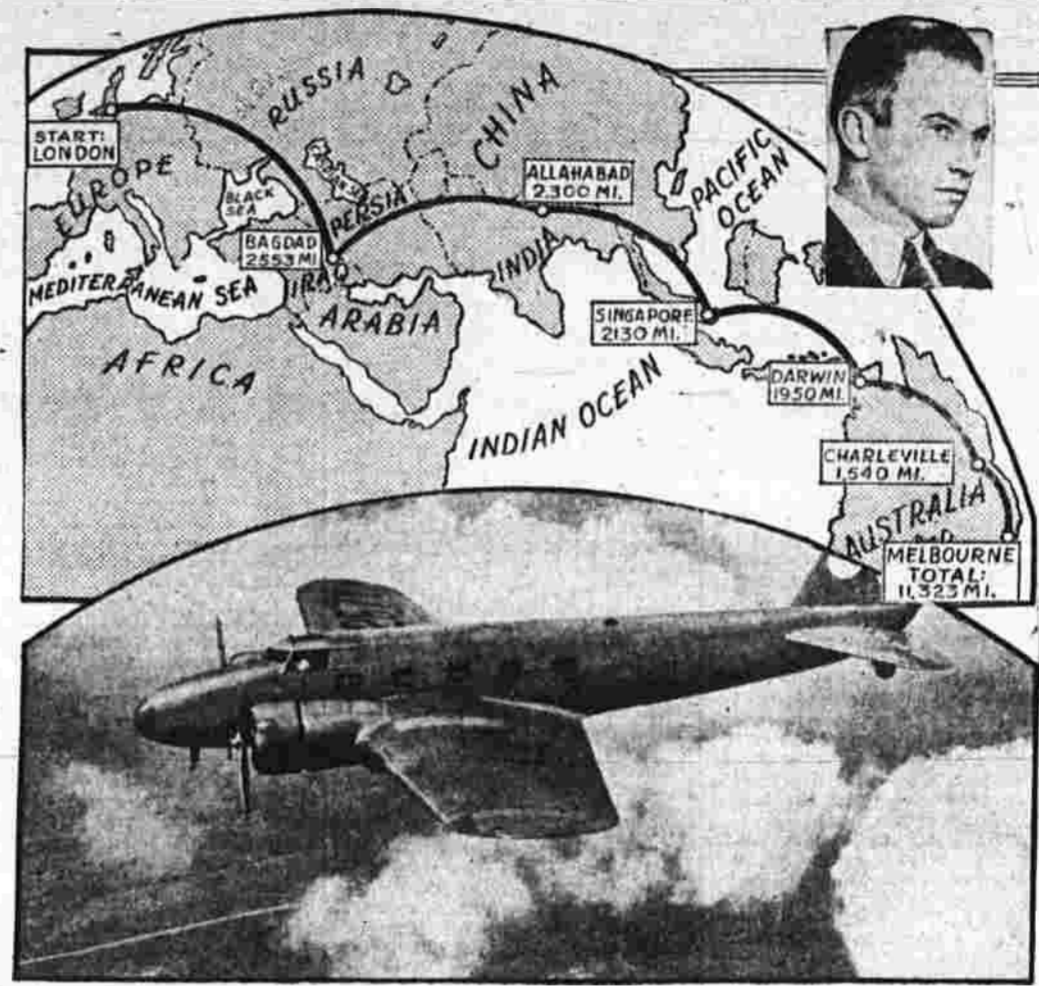

Colonel Gates also gave the record of Roy C. Wilcox, candidate for Lieutenant Governor; Anson Kneeler, candidate for comptroller; H. S. Senator Frederic C. Walcott; Charles M. Bellows, candidate for Congressman-at-large; Anson McCook, candidate for Congress from the Fourth District; and Edward Hickey, candidate for sheriff of Bristol county.

Club's Future Bright
A bright future for the Manchester Young Republican club was predicted by Colonel Gates. He said that at the present time it was the largest in the state and it was his opinion that the group would continue to grow and develop into the most effective organization of its kind in the state and valuable to the body politic.

He urged each member to help the town committee in every way possible.

HAUPTMANN IN JERSEY; LOSES OUT ON APPEAL

Within a Month He Must Face Charge of Murdering the Lindbergh Baby—Closely Guarded

Princeton, N. J., Oct. 20.—(AP)—Bruno Richard Hauptmann is a prisoner of the state of New Jersey today and within a month he must face trial for the murder of the Lindbergh baby.

He is lodged in a solitary cell in the Hunterdon county jail, close by the Court House in which he will be tried.

Hauptmann was brought to the jail by New Jersey authorities last night, a few hours after he had lost his right to prevent his extradition from New York. The Appellate Division of the New York Supreme Court denied his appeal.

Galting, at the custody of the man they formally charged less than two weeks ago with the kidnap murder, the New Jersey authorities made plans today to bring the stolid German carpenter to trial within a month.

The first step will be Hauptmann's arraignment. Attorney General David E. Wilentz who accompanied Hauptmann here on a quick trip from New York, said it will be held at the convenience of Supreme Court Justice Thomas W. Trencor, probably in three or four days.

The decision which ended Hauptmann's fight against extradition was handed down last night by five justices of the Appellate Division who upheld Justice Ernest L. Hammer, of the Bronx in refusing to grant a writ of habeas corpus.

Before the opinion was handed down, James M. Pawcett, Hauptmann's counsel, had sought to introduce evidence to show Hauptmann was in New York, the day of the kidnaping and succeeding days.

Against Evidence
This evidence was in the form of an affidavit by Joseph M. Puchelt, a lawyer who had worked for him at an apartment hotel March 4, 1932, and on succeeding days. The court lawyer never said that this contention is in direct conflict with documentary evidence already in the record.

In any event this additional evidence is cumulative and not in itself conclusive and there still exists a definite conflict of evidence upon this record.

NEW DEAL ISSUE CAMPAIGN FEATURE

State Matters Virtually Ignored by Speakers Last Evening; Some Highlights.

By ASSOCIATED PRESS.
The New Deal shows promise of becoming the outstanding issue during the closing days of the political campaign in Connecticut.

Except for Governor Wilbur L. Cross and State Attorney Hugh M. Alcorn the gubernatorial nominees made targets of an attack by the State's leading newspaper, the Connecticut Post, in its editorial on the recovery policies of President Roosevelt.

Representative Francis T. Maloney, Democratic nominee for the United States Senate, once again criticized the New Deal "grab bag" program.

Senator Walcott is the greatest reactionary in the United States Senate. Representative Maloney asserted in a speech at Bridgeport.

"Socialists' Attack
In New Haven, both Representative Maloney and Senator Walcott were made targets of an attack by their Socialist opponent, Devere Allen. The Socialist nominee said: "The American Federation of Labor is justified in asking the voters of Connecticut to repudiate United States Senator Walcott."

"But," he added, "by what reasoning can they possibly endorse Congressman Maloney, advocate of the sales tax, higher armaments and other reactionary measures which are inimical to the well being of the people?"

Representative William L. Higgins, Republican nominee for reelection in the Second District, and Anson T. McCook, U. S. Representative for Congress in the First District, pointed out the high cost of the New Deal program and the agricultural policies of the tobacco reduction program and the agricultural program in "bad for the farmer."

McCook asserted the tobacco reduction program is "bad for the farmer."

Alcorn, in a speech at Salisbury in Bridgeport, Governor Cross told of his activities to speed up construction of the Merritt highway.

Support of the New Deal was voiced by various Democratic nominees, including Major James A. Shanley, the Congressional candidate in the Third District; Mayor Charles C. Schwarz of Norwalk, who seeks the Comptrolership; and Mayor Frank Hayes of Waterbury, nominee for Lieutenant Governor.

New Haven
New Haven was second on the list with 130. d Bridgeport third with 107. Greenwich reported 82, Stamford 60, Waterbury 47, New Britain 36, Norwalk 33, Danbury 29, Meriden 28, Middletown 22, New London 22, Torrington 21, Norwich 18 and Manchester 13.

Hartford Again Leads In Automobile Crashes

Hartford, Oct. 20.—(AP)—Hartford again took its place last month in the lead of cities of the state reporting automobile accidents, according to information obtained from the state motor vehicle department.

New Britain was second on the list with 130. d Bridgeport third with 107. Greenwich reported 82, Stamford 60, Waterbury 47, New Britain 36, Norwalk 33, Danbury 29, Meriden 28, Middletown 22, New London 22, Torrington 21, Norwich 18 and Manchester 13.

There were 11,670 accidents reported in Connecticut for the first nine months of the year compared with 9,432 last year. Total of 9,829 were injured including 1,688 children compared to 9,841 injured last year including 1,591 children. Thirty-two children were included in the total of 317 killed this year as against 322 killed last year. 56 of them children. During the nine months there were 355,708 automobiles registered as against 356,902 last year.

WIDE EDUCATION NEED OF NATION—ROOSEVELT

Text of the Speech Made by President

Williamsburg, Va., Oct. 20.—(AP)—Following is the text of President Roosevelt's address today to the college of William and Mary. "I value far beyond the sentiment conveyed by my mere acknowledgment in words, the honor that you, in behalf of this institution, have conferred upon me today.

"I well know the great tradition that the college of William and Mary has carried through the centuries. You have taught your sons and daughters to honor the memory and name of the great and devoted men who were responsible in such large part for the shaping of the cause of American independence.

"On this occasion of your inauguration as president of this institution, I congratulate you on the opportunity of service that has before you.

"The first time I visited Williamsburg was more than twenty years ago. I arrived at Jamestown by boat and landed at the same place as Jamestown. I was picked up by an old negro in a horse and buggy and driven over what was then a nearly impassable road from Jamestown to Williamsburg. There were no Capitol building, there was no palace of the royal governors, there was no Raleigh high school.

"Modern buildings had crept into the place—the Nation's birthplace of crowding out the fine old colonial structures which were still standing.

"Historic Avenue
"What a thrill it has been to me to return today and to have the honor of formally opening the reconstructed Duke of Gloucester street, which can be called the most historic avenue in America, what a joy to come back and see the transformation which has taken place, to see the Capitol, the House of Burgesses, then an governor's mansion, the Raleigh Tavern, born again, to see sixty-one buildings during his term and later four Colonial buildings rebuilt, the magnificent gardens of Colonial days reconstructed in short, to see how through the renaissance of these physical landmarks the atmosphere of a whole glorious chapter in our history has been recaptured.

"Something of this spiritual relationship between the past, the present and the future was expressed by Sir Walter Raleigh.

"It is not the least debt that we owe into history that it hath made us acquainted with our dead ancestors; and out of the depth and darkness of the earth delivered us their memory and fame."

"I am happy to say that the Federal government, inspired by the fine vision and example of Mr. Rockefeller in re-creating Williamsburg, has effectively taken up the preservation of the Nation's history.

"Every form of co-operative endeavor cries out for men and women, who in their thinking process, will know something of the broader aspects of any given problem."

"Government is greatly using the point of view and at the same time have a normal and extraordinarily comprehensive knowledge, not of the details but of the progress and the purposes which underlie the work of the specialists themselves."

Frances Restoration
He also spoke in praise of the restoration, through the efforts of John D. Rockefeller, Jr., of Williamsburg's original Colonial buildings and streets.

Shortly after leaving his special train this morning, the President visited the old Capitol building and led a procession formally opening the reconstructed Duke of Gloucester street.

At the ceremony inaugurating John Stewart Bryan, Richmond publisher, as the nineteenth president of William and Mary, Mr. Roosevelt congratulated Mr. Bryan on the opportunity of service that he before him. He lived in the governor's mansion during his term and later served on the board of visitors of William and Mary.

"It was largely the result of his starting out to walk it from Jamestown.

No Capitol Building
"Then there was no Capitol building, there was no Palace of the Governors, there was no Raleigh Tavern," he said, referring to the reconstructed Duke of Gloucester street, which rightly can be called the most historic avenue in America.

"What a thrill it has been for me to return today," he said, "and to have the honor of formally opening the reconstructed Duke of Gloucester street, which rightly can be called the most historic avenue in America."

"The work of restoring Williamsburg and nearby historic spots is completed, he said, America shall have saved for future generations three historic places—the Nation's birthplace at Jamestown, the cradle of liberty of Williamsburg, and the sealing of our independence at Yorktown.

WILLIAM, MARY COLLEGE HAS A NEW PRESIDENT

John Stewart Bryan Inaugurated With President of United States as Witness.

Williamsburg, Va., Oct. 20.—(AP)—John Stewart Bryan was inaugurated today as the nineteenth president of William and Mary College. He was inaugurated in the presence of President Franklin D. Roosevelt, who was in the city on his way to Williamsburg to inaugurate the reconstruction of the old Capitol building and the sealing of our independence at Yorktown.

$15,000 Damage But No One Injured and No Trouble With Inmates

Columbia, S. C., Oct. 20.—(AP)—A fire of undetermined origin early today wrecked a building at the State penitentiary and menaced several nearby structures, but was soon brought under control.

The building, one of the units of the original penitentiary plant and known as the old "Federal building," contained the automobile repair shop, a carpenter shop and a paint shop. No prisoners were quartered in the structure.

Fire Chief A. McManus said he had not officially estimated the damage but expressed the belief it would be $15,000 to $20,000. Col. Malcolm Scarborough, superintendent of the prison said none of the prisoners today. As he once suffered from sleeping sickness, Procurement Attorney William J. Shan recommended that his case be continued to Monday. Menhville, an examination, was made into Walker's mentality.

George Slager, a tobacco worker, got drunk on hard cider yesterday and came into town to "whop it up." This he did in a "vulgar" manner on Oak street at midnight. He was arrested and arraigned in court today on a charge of intoxication. He was found guilty and fined $10 and costs. Unable to pay, he went to jail to work it out.

Arthur Fillmore of West Hartford won a further continuance of trial next Wednesday on a charge of driving a car without a license. Fillmore maintains he did procure a license but that through a mistake in the office of the motor vehicle department no record was made available of his registration. Fillmore said he actually had obtained a license but had lost it. His lawyer, George Cutler of Hartford, expects to produce a person in court who will testify that it is possible for an error to be made in regard to the records of a license.

DRIVERLESS AUTO BACKS DOWN HILL

Car Owned by William Knofla Hits Truck After Rolling from Parking Place.

An automobile, recently purchased by William Knofla, which was parked on the west side of Main street yesterday while Mr. Knofla went into the postoffice, started to roll back on the north grade of the street, cut across the road into the lot owned by the Masonic Lodge at the rear of the postoffice and struck a stop when it came in contact with a truck. The car was somewhat dented, but not badly damaged. In the trip down the hill it managed to keep clean of traffic coming south and several drivers did not fancy turning to avoid what might have been a serious accident.

Herald Adv. Brings Order From Maine

Watkins Brothers' store-wide 60th anniversary sale is attracting customers from all over New England, and at the same time is proving the effectiveness of advertising in The Herald. Yesterday an order came by mail from Maine to which was attached a clipping from Watkins' ad, advertisement in last Tuesday's Herald.

under the eyes of a hundred rubberneckers. Perhaps—but we doubt it—this newspaper is as much interested as anybody in the enforcement of the most rigid municipal economy in these distressing times—nobody any more completely realizes economic necessity. But we have considerable doubt about this being the best way to effect it.

To us it seems more important, a good deal more important, to institute a better system of checks and investigation of applicants for relief. There is a great need of justifiable suspicion that there are a good many people on the relief rolls who should not be there at all; that there are others who are getting more relief than their circumstances justify; that there are instances where the town is paying more rent than the landlords care to receive from anyone else. It is a serious question whether, in establishing a municipal store, the town is not leaving at the expense of the white lying through the bung holes. At all events it is to be hoped that there will be no decision to include the town store without the fullest consideration of all the angles. It certainly is not the kind of a proceeding to effect upon the municipal store proposal which is earnestly to be hoped that, before deciding on such a step, the selection shall make very rare indeed of their ground.

The Ducks Might Try A Little Camouflage Themselves

Who will contend that this undesirable falling off in the popularity of the Roosevelt program is to be attributed to a daring realization of the futility of trying to bring about recovery by far and unfettered devices and that it indicates a desire on the part of the people to return to the Constitution and the old tried way of doing things. We don't believe that the falling away from Roosevelt is due to a widespread belief that the President hasn't after all done more than he had the right to do. THE NEW YORKER
A BUSINESS SERVICE UNIT

...By PAUL HARRISON

New York, Oct. 20.—From down Richmond way comes word that O'Broder-Boak is with weakness. Together a still sturdy ark and Gabriel is still asking whether it is time to blow his shabby trumpet, and that there's still a great show at the beginning of the second season. "Granway! Granway!" de Laed Wood Johnson.

All this, of course, in "The Great Pastures," which already has been a best-seller and is running out its fifth lucky year as a modern dramatic miracle. The show and its all-Negro cast will travel 15,000 miles during the next few months, going through Canada, down into the non-middle, west across the south, and back to Broadway in February for its triumphal revival, ironically enough, "The Great Pastures" is not back for the drooping, high notes. Pastures weren't green enough so folks got by tickets.

TOWN STORE

It would be difficult to bring up another subject so favorable at first sight as the municipal store proposal, yet against which so many objections might be honestly entered.

If it is true that the establishment of a town store would mean a redistribution of food and clothing to persons on relief, in substitution for the "order" system, it is not yet demonstrated that it would be a good thing. It is not yet demonstrated that it would be a good thing.
