SENATE BATTLE OVER WAGE CUT QUICKLY ENDED

(Continued From Page One) "Fighter Friday" agreement, but he was ruled out of order by Speaker Governor Mark Hayes on the ground that a motion to table was not debatable.

Wants the vote on the motion to table in progress, Hogan again tried to gain recognition but again was ruled out of order.

After the result of the rising vote had been reported Hogan finally gained recognition and reminded the Senate of the agreement.

Senator Bradley told the Senate he was willing to abide by the "Fighter Friday" rule if this course was agreeable to Senator Raymond D. Devlin, the Democratic floor leader and the Socialist.

Devlin and the Socialists later said off the floor they favored expediting all controversial issues on Friday.

Senator Thompson explained to the Senate after the vote that he made the motion to table in order that he might have time to study the provision of the bill.

Asked by Senator Bradley if he was agreeable to having the measure come up Tuesday the next legislative day, Senator Thompson replied that he was agreeable to the measure.
