TRADE BRIGHTEEN ON MARKET TODAY

Philices, Steels and Industrial Specialties Point the Way Upward.

New York, May 22.—(AP)—The stock market took a sharp look at generally bright business news to-day and bids for many of the leading stocks were raised fractions to a point or more.

Traders felt they were careful, however, and quiet dealings were the rule throughout. The utilities, steel and industrial specialties pointed the way upward.

Favorites among the utilities included Consolidated Edison, American Water Works, U. S. Steel, Johns-Manville, Westinghouse, Union, Chrysler, Sears Roebuck, International Harvester, Phillips Petroleum, Standard Oil of New Jersey, Amrad and National Commodities.

Commodities, however, were generally lower, with most metals and grains down to the lowest since October, 1935.

A slackening in automobile production during the first five months of this year was in line with some previous forecasts.

Huge war preparations being made by Great Britain are expected to overshadow other foreign developments from a market standpoint.

On domestic stocks, the market was question, but being threshed out in Washington, demand is expected to attract the attention of financial analysts.

The boom of about 40 per cent in the last few months of 1935, when Japan, was cheering to some manufacturers who have been complaining of excessive foreign competition.

NEGRO ELECTROCUTED FOR ATTACK ON GIRL

Four Persons Killed and Court House Burned When Guardsmen Protected Him from Mob.

Nashville, Tenn., May 22.—(AP)—K. H. Harris, 23-year-old negro, was electrocuted today for the attack on a young white girl.

The girl was assaulted near Shelbyville in the fall of 1934. Harris, a white man, was the perpetrator and the negro maintained his innocence until shortly before the electrocution, but finally made a "full confession."

A mob stormed the Shelbyville Court House when Harris was put on trial there December 10, 1934, a few weeks after the electrocution. Pulling to subdue the crowd with tear gas bombs, military men guarding the negro fired into the mob.

Four persons were killed. A military was declared, the negro was escorted out of the Court House district to a guardhouse, and at a later trial here on a charge of murder he was sentenced to the electric chair.

After the rioters discovered Harris' absence from the Shelbyville court room, they destroyed four National Guard trucks and burned the Court House.

WELLS ST. WOMAN WINS POPULAR MARKET PRIZE

Mrs. E. Russell Gets 5th Pound Roast of Beef in Yesterday's Drawing; Chickens Too.

Mrs. E. Russell of 11 Wells street was the winner of the six pound roast of beef in the special drawing held at the popular market Wednesday afternoon. In this special drawing the winner had to be present to receive the prize.

MR. CHENEY'S PLAN

The informed and thoughtful leader from Horace B. Cheney dealing with the subject of charter revision which appeared in this newspaper yesterday impresse us, and we believe it must have impressed a great many of our readers, as a most valuable contribution to the expression of Manchester opinion in the matter of municipal government.

We will hazard the guess that he is right. His plan is a most practical one, and it is our hope that it will be adopted by the people of Manchester. It is a plan which we believe will be better than the one which we have now operating, and which we believe will be better than the one which we have now operating.

As to Mr. Cheney's suggestion of electing the Board of Selectmen or Council or whatever the municipal governing body might be called should appoint not only a town clerk but also a city manager, charter writer, finance and any other necessary commissions, none with more than three members, we are so much in accord with this suggestion that we believe that one commissioner in each town better than three commissioners.

As to the elective governing body, under the elective, the number proposed by Mr. Cheney seems to be to be exactly right—three. There can be but little danger of responsibility in so small a group—and the dodging of responsibility to the course of good municipal government everywhere. There might, of course, be even less chance of it if the people voted for nobody, but a mayor or whatever you might call the community chief executive—and let him do all the appointing, but such a system as that would probably scare the people of this town into a fit.

And a three man governing board, under the charter and by-laws adopted by the people as a whole, would be pretty good.

We are pleased to note that Mr. Cheney is in agreement with this newspaper in proposing, in case state laws and local sentiment in fact on a separate local board not responsible to other town or county meetings, that board should not only be chosen by the electorate in large, but also by its own tax and be absolutely responsible for all expenditures. This is exactly in line with what was urged in these columns quite recently.

Mr. Cheney, we believe, is earnestly committed to the town meeting idea. He is not. And he believes that if and when a good representative town meeting plan should be adopted. He would, however, save the town meeting from being elected in large while we have a town meeting favored some sort of arrangement for electing their neighborhood district. But there is no important issue there, so long as they are somehow chosen. Our idea that the "town and it" might well be eliminated.

Anyhow, Mr. Cheney has shown that there is still such a thing as an informed civic sentiment in this

WELFARE CLAUSES

As we have said before we would like to see the Cuffey Coal Bill in the asban, where the Supreme Court reported it, as anywhere else—the next only one in the Constitution. It is not too late for that kind of legislation that causes us a certain degree of worry over one particular paragraph in the majority opinion in the court condemning the act. We refer to the paragraph reading as follows:

"The proposition, often advanced and as often discredited, that the power of the federal government is inherently extended to purposes affecting the nation as a whole with which the states severally cannot deal or cannot adequately deal, and the relation of that power to the paragraph reading as follows:

"This seems to us to disclose an extraordinary, not to say alarming, situation, requires no unusual degree of imagination to conceive of a variety of conditions that might exist under which the federal states could not deal adequately of deal at all as separate entities, yet which could not be met truthfully by the states acting in concert. It is the purpose of the Constitution specifically empowers Congress to deal with this, of course, has been thoroughly recognized for a long time, but the faith of the people in their Constitution has not been shaken or adversely affected by the knowledge that the states may have resorted to the preamble of the Constitution in as much a part of that instrument as any other part of the Constitution. The purpose of the document itself is set forth in it in these splendidly terse but all-comprehending words of only the first sentence of some thing like thirty days that would be needed, land damages within the state of Vermont alone would amount to something like three million dollars—and Vermont would get almost no flood-control benefit since the work which we are now operating in Vermont, likely to tax herself for three million dollars to help Massachusetts and Connecticut pay for the work of being inundated?

This flood control business is one of the major problems. The Democratic administration is making a complete mess of it. A straight-out declaration for a long range control plan sponsored and paid for by the national government would be a place in the Republican platform.

IN NEW YORK

 New York, May 22.—(AP) — buy Broadway, bustling with throngs and traffic, and the city manager, charter writer, finance and any other necessary commissions, none with more than three members, we are so much in accord with this suggestion that we believe that one commissioner in each town better than three commissioners.

HEALTH-DIET ADVICE

By DR. FRANK MCUEY
 Questions in regard to Health and Diet will be answered by Dr. McEuay who may be addressed in care of this paper. Enclosure stamped, self-addressed envelope for reply.

WATER TREATMENT OR HYDROTHERAPY?
 Most people live in a haphazard manner and haphazard health is the result. The doctor is then consulted in the hope of curing the disease. This is taken by sitting in water as hot as can be borne, with only the hips and feet in the water, which would be about 9 inches in depth. This type of bath may be used 2 or 3 times a week and is often of value in relieving distress due to prostatic disorders and caused by the special troubles of women. It is omitted during the menstrual cycle but is beneficial at other times, serving to bring about a better circulation of blood through the pelvic organs.

A warm bath, with the body submerged except for the head, for about 20 minutes is helpful in nervous disorders, when taken just before retiring. As a general rule, the nervous patient should avoid cold baths and showers so as to prevent the nervous system from being overtaxed. A hot bath, however, is a valuable remedy which is often unobtainable.

The regular daily washing of the skin is best accomplished by one of two simple and effective methods. The first is to use a sponge or shower bath, with the water at body temperature. The second is to use a soap and water shower, following this with a brisk rubbing with the hands for one minute, which will keep the feet as clean as the rest of the body.

LABOR SHORTAGE CHARGE IS DENIED

Employers Unable to Find Workers Treat Employees Inhumanely, Daily Says.

Tobacco growers offering employees a living wage do not appear to be facing a labor shortage in the Connecticut Valley, states Works Progress Administrator M. A. Daly today.

The assertion was made in a statement issued by the WPA today. The WPA wage rate and the standard of employment in the tobacco industry are being compared with those of other industries.

MRS. LOUIS ANTONI

Returns to University of New Hampshire Tomorrow for Annual Mother's Day.

Durham, N. H., May 22.—Mrs. Louis A. Grant of Rockland is planning to attend the twelfth annual Mother's Day at the University of New Hampshire here tomorrow.

The elaborate program planned for the entertainment of guests includes arrangements for three consecutive tours of university buildings and an opportunity for mothers to join their sons and daughters in the classroom.

The mothers will gather in the football stands on Memorial Field to witness the parade of the University ROTC Band. Following the parade, the mothers will be seated in the bleachers to receive by faculty members.

In the afternoon the Department of Physical Education for Women will sponsor a May Day pageant, "Peter Pan." Support of the program for cast of seven members will be 120 students. The production has been rehearsed three months.

SENSE and NONSENSE

THE BIG SPLASH!
 He rooked the boat. Poor Kira Shank; These bubbles mark.

FLAPPER FANNY SAYS:
 Where Erna sank, He had never had such a tough time in his life. First he got asthma pneumonia, followed by arthritis and tuberculosis. Somehow he got over them just in time to get appendicitis, to say nothing of gonorrhea. All in all, he never knew how he pulled through it. It was the hardest spelling test he'd ever seen.
