

QUODDY SCHEME MAY REAPPEAR AS AMENDMENT

Robinson Likely to Try to Tie It, Also Florida Canal to Relief Bill; If So Brandenburg Will Fight It.

Washington, May 28.—(AP)—A dispute over the Pasmanguddy tide-raising project in Maine and the Florida ship canal threatened to revive today as the Senate prepared to debate the $2,369,000,000 relief-deficiency bill.

Congress thus far has turned a cold shoulder to moves to get funds to continue the giant projects, which were started last November by the President. But recently administration men obtained Senate Commerce Committee approval of a resolution which would permit Mr. Roosevelt to allocate $19,000,000 more if engineers approved after a study.

It was indicated that Senator Robinson (D., Ark.), might offer the resolution as an amendment to the $2,369,000,000 bill carrying $1,425,000,000 for relief for next year.

Vandenberg to Fight
In that case, Senator Vandenberg (R., Mich.), previous to his bitter opponent of the projects, he said he would present a large amount of data against them.

The deficiency-relief measure was reported yesterday by the committee. Among the changes from the House version was another possible bar to clear sailing on the floor. This was authorization for Secretary Ickes to use $300,000,000 for grants to local agencies to carry on Public Works Administration projects.

Some senators said this amendment might be made subject to a point of order which would require a two-thirds vote for adoption.

Back-to-States Vote
Republicans also prepared to offer an amendment to require for turning the whole relief administration back to the states, with the latter paying 18 per cent of the cost. There were indications, however, that this would not be debated at length and that the Republicans would be content with a vote.

As the measure neared the floor, new charges and countercharges of Harry L. Hopkins' WPA were heard.

Senator Holt (D., W. Va.), declared he had been stripped of federal patronage because of his political considerations. His statement came at the same time committee hearings on the relief bill were published, disclosing that Hopkins or will "lose his job because he failed to contribute to any political party."

STRIKES REPORTED IN 20 STATES NOW

Labor Leaders Say 46,000 Workers Are Out; Quiet in Middletown, This State.

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Strikes in industry and agriculture were in progress in 20 states today, marked by scattered disorders.

Agreements reached in some states were offset by fresh troubles elsewhere. The number of workers affected was estimated by labor leaders at more than 46,000.

Hill, N. Y., police said 100,000 formed private detectives who had been sent to guard the Remington Rand plant had been recalled by company officials who said it would open today.

The guards were described by police as having received a "hostile greeting" when they walked through the downtown streets and as having difficulty finding taxis cab drivers.

Three men were arrested on a charge of assaulting a worker at the plant which was surrounded by 1,000 pickets.

Dallas, Tex., police patrolled taxi company offices after two passengers had been jerked from taxis by sympathizers with 600 striking cab drivers. All movement of cabs stopped.

At Providence, R. I., the Rochembeau Worsted Company was closed after 250 workers voted to strike because, they said, a woman employee had been discharged because her machine broke down.

A strike by members of the International Longshoremen's Union at Milwaukee, Wis., held up the handling of cargoes on two package freighters. Union leaders said there were 400 strikers.

Settlement Reached
A major settlement was reached at Bedford, Ind., where a committee of operators and workmen announced the end of the strike of Birmingham limestone district

HARD LUCK PLEA SAVES OFFENDER

After Reading Note On Auto Policemen Have Not Heart To Punish Writer Further.

Cambridge, Mass., May 28.—(AP)—Police respected a polite appeal and gave "Discouraged" a break here today.

Two patrolmen about to put a parking tag on a car noticed a note under the windshield wiper, which read:

"Dear officer, please do not tag my car. My left rear tire is flat, my spare tire is flat, and my spark plugs are worn."

"Discouraged."

The patrolmen held a conference, called Sergeant John King on the telephone and asked him whether or not they should tag the car.

"Of course not," King replied, "he's had trouble enough all ready."

Knox, G. O. P. Committee, Assail New Deal; Coughlin Declares He Would Not Support Landon If Named.

Washington, May 28.—(AP)—Final pre-convention stump activity among Republican candidates for the presidential nomination today held the attention of political observers.

Many believed tonight's address by Senator Borah of Idaho will give further indications of the course he will pursue during and after the Cleveland convention. The speech will be broadcast (CBS) at 7:30 p. m., eastern standard time, will be the veteran senator's last before the delegates assemble in Cleveland.

Colonel Frank Knox, Chicago publisher and Presidential candidate, spoke last night in his home city, saying "We are in the midst of a fundamental crisis that will determine the preservation or loss of American institutions."

Need Three Million Democrats
Declaring that the Republicans would need the support of 3,000,000 "patriotic Democrats" to "defeat the subversive Washington faction," he added: "We must give a real demonstration that the Republican party is a worthy and effective instrument to meet the national crisis." The party, he said, must champion "a true liberalism."

New Dealers, with their convention choice all settled in advance, continued to hold their fire for the time being, with prospects that the battle will begin to get hot soon after the Republican nomination is made.

Meanwhile, there were several other developments in the Republican ranks while the Democrats watched and waited. The Republican National Committee, in an appeal for support from citizens, issued a statement saying "the gulf between the fair promises and the reckless deeds of Mr. Roosevelt is wider than that of any other administration in the history of the republic."

Protest Against Farley
Harison Spangler, director of the western division of the Doomed National Committee, announced yesterday that "over 400 prairie state Republican clubs" had been organized in protest against a recent address at Grand Rapids, Mich., by Postmaster General Farley.

He asserted that Farley referred to the governor of a "typical prairie state" as the probable Republican Presidential nominee. This, Spangler said, was evidence of "what low esteem the snobbish rulers hold the ability of the prairie state citizens."

Coughlin Against Landon
Father Charles E. Coughlin, Detroit radio priest, and frequent critic of New Deal policies, was quoted by the New York Times as saying that he would not support Governor Landon of Kansas if he became the Republican nominee.

Young Mother, 4 Children Maximum Healthy Family

Chicago, May 28.—(AP)—This maximum specifications for a healthy family were drawn today in the American Journal of Diseases of Children—young parents with no more than four children.

Statistics are sure of healthy sound bodies when there are four or less of them and the youngest is born before the mother is 30 years old "and as close to 25 as possible," Dr. Douglas F. Murphy of the University of Pennsylvania Medical School asserted.

The number of deformed children increases with the mother's age, he said.

His conclusions were based on a study of 607 malformed children. Continuing a study in which he previously demonstrated that defective children were most likely to appear after the birth of the fourth child in a family, Dr. Murphy found:

In a group of 466 mothers who had at least one normal and one deformed child, the average marriage age was 21.3 years. The mother's age at birth of the first normal child was 23 years. The age at birth of the first defective child was 23.4 years.

"On the average," the doctor observed, "congenital malformations occur most often in the younger children in families, and likewise most often in the late reproductive life of the mothers. No satisfactory method is available for determining whether order of birth or maternal age is the more important factor."

Proud Airliner Ruin After Fire

This smoldering framework was all that remained of a luxurious transport plane which, a few minutes before, took off from Chicago municipal airport, then was swept by flames. Due to heroism of the pilot in landing the ship when it caught fire, he and the lone passenger suffered only minor burns.

Smoking Out the Candidates

Gridiron Star Steiwer Not To Seek Candidacy

By FRAZIER HUNT

This is the fourth of a series of eight articles, "Smoking Out the Candidate," written by Frazier Hunt, former famous reporter for NEA Service and The Herald, in which are presented the answers of Republican presidential possibilities to the same ten questions on the vital issues of the day.

The keynotes from Oregon looked me straight in the eye when I handed him the list of ten questions that I had been popping at all the Republican candidates for the Presidential nomination.

"I'll answer them," he told me, "if you'll make it clear that I'm not seeking the nomination."

I promised that I would, and here-by do. Senator Frederick (no middle name) Steiwer—may-be something of a jolter but he is not a seaker. It may be that he feels it better to wait and take a chance at receiving that to seek and miss. That isn't exactly biblical, but it may sound. Time alone will tell.

Now if it should come to pass that certain harassed Elder Statesmen get in a final huddle in a smoke-filled room at 4 o'clock some hectic morning in Cleveland, and if these same E. S.'s decide in desperation that they must have a son of the true western pioneers to carry the banner, the lightning might easily strike this giant from the tall timber of Oregon. For he certainly is a son of the true pioneers.

When I asked him if he actually was born in Oregon he answered me with high pride. "Yes, I was born there; and my father and mother were born there. In one way or another we've been around Oregon since 1843—that's six years before the California Gold Rush."

Reflects Football Days

QUEEN MARY STEPS UP SPEED ON FIRST DAY

Although Officers Say No Attempt Will Be Made for Record, the Passengers Think Otherwise.

Aboard the S. S. Queen Mary En Route to New York, May 28.—(AP)—Stepping up her speed gradually, Britain's greatest liner progressed smoothly today on her maiden voyage to the United States under conditions favorable thus far for a record trip.

Whether the Queen Mary would attempt definitely to win the blue ribbon for trans-Atlantic speed her first time out remained an open question—apparently not yet decided by officers.

One of the liner's representatives reiterated previous official assertions no record trip would be made on this inaugural trip, but an impression prevailed that this decision might be reversed if favorable conditions persisted.

Officers said weather prospects for the voyage ahead to the west were good on the basis of present reports.

A more definite announcement as to a speed attempt was expected

FIORENZA GUILTY; TO DIE IN CHAIR

Jury Takes 19 Hours to Liberate On the Fate of Bathub Slayer.

New York, May 28.—(AP)—A jury of twelve men today doctored John Fiorenza, 24-year-old upholsterer's helper, to the electric chair for the Good Friday bath tub slaying of Mrs. Nancy Evans Titterton, youthful fiction writer.

Wearily after nineteen hours of deliberation, the jurors filed into General Sessions Court today, presided by Judge Charles C. Nott, Jr., was on the bench. The clerk of the court put the formal question: "have the jurors reached a verdict?"

Stuart Campbell, foreman, said they had.

"We find the defendant guilty as charged," he replied.

Shows No Emotion
Fiorenza looked dully at the jurors. His face was as -lid of emotion as it had been during the seven days he had sat in court, listening to testimony, listening to District Attorney William C. Dodge demand that he be sentenced to the electric chair, listening apathetically to his own attorney, Henry Klauber, argue that he was insane and not responsible for his act.

The court room was still. Fiorenza began biting his finger nails.

Then Judge Nott spoke. He said he would sentence Fiorenza on June 5. He turned then to the jurors.

"You need never have any scruples about this verdict," he said. "It was not only justified but absolutely necessary under the evidence. It is a shocking crime and you have done a public service."

Jury Complimented
He passed a moment.

"Gentlemen," he continued, "I want to compliment you on the fact that although you were many hours in deliberation you never once reported that you were unable to agree, but kept on conscientiously until a verdict was reached."

Klauber asked permission to poll the jury. Each man answered "guilty as charged." The first degree

SUBWAY SLAYERS CAUGHT IN BOSTON

Two Men Confess They Strangled and Robbed Rogers Peet Co. Official.

Boston, May 28.—(AP)—Police held for arraignment today two men, who Detective Edward Shields of New York, said confessed they robbed and strangled Edward L. Eckert, 55, an official of the Rogers Peet Clothing Company of New York, on May 14.

Shields said Thomas West, alias Edward Vesp, 21, of Bayonne, N. J., and Phillip Goldberg, 26, New York, confessed the New York crime and implicated Barney Cismowicz, 21, of Bayonne, who is under arrest in New York.

Boston police said West and Goldberg, arrested in front of an all-night theater in the Scollay Square district last night, would, under Massachusetts law, be arraigned today in Municipal Court on a robbery charge. They said a warrant then would be issued and the men would be held until New York officers arrived with extradition papers.

A New York police inspector said, however, the men had consented to return.

Killed in Subway
Eckert was found brutally beaten and left to die in a subway station washroom one block from Broadway, New York. The captured men, Shields said, confessed to robbing him and leaving him on the washroom floor.

Shields and Caswell Jacobs, who were credited with solving the Nancy Titterton slaying in New York recently, said a medal taken from Eckert and sold in an old gold shop for $10 led to the arrest of West and Goldberg. A watch and stickpin, taken from Eckert and pawned here, aided in the search.

Shields said New York officers

CONVICT MURDERS TWO AND ESCAPES

Posses Search for Man Who Killed Prison Captain and the Officer's Wife.

Baton Rouge, La., May 28.—(AP)—Bloodhounds and a dozen posses ranged the Tunic hills east of here early today hunting for a 23-year-old "lifer" who fled a convict camp last night after killing a prison captain and the officer's wife.

R. L. Hines, general manager of the penitentiary farm at Angola, 50 miles north of here, said Wilfred Lindsay killed Captain N. J. Himel, 61, and Mrs. Himel, 50, in their home at Camp "O" of the farm.

Hines said Lindsay was a trusty house boy at the Himel home and apparently seized the captain's rifle and pistol without warning and shot the veteran officer, killing him almost instantly.

Then the young convict burst into a bathroom where Mrs. Himel was in the tub and either shot or bludgeoned the woman to death. The room was splattered with blood and it couldn't be determined at once how Mrs. Himel was slain.

Takes Man Along
After the dual slaying, Hines said, Lindsay forced a fellow prisoner, Felicide Guillory, serving as a cook for the Himels, to accompany him off the 20,000-acre farm in the slain man's automobile.

CALL ON G-MEN TO LOOK INTO BLACK LEGION

Michigan Officials Appeal to Attorney General to Take Charge of Investigation of the Hooded Order.

Detroit, May 28.—(AP)—The Black Legion, which guarded its secrets with scourge and pistol and boasted that it would mobilize millions of armed men in 24 hours, faced the possibility of Federal as well as state investigations today.

The "mobilization," Prosecutor Duncan C. McCrean said members told him, was to be ordered in the event of a Communist uprising.

In Washington, Attorney General Homer S. Cummings indicated he would decide today whether acts of terrorism attributed to the Black Legion in more than a dozen states justified intervention by the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Before Congress was a resolution introduced by Rep. Dickstein (D., N. Y.) requesting a committee investigation of the Black Legion, among other organizations.

In Detroit, the Wayne County Circuit Bench planned to decide by mid-day whether to order the Grand Jury investigation asked by Michigan's Attorney General David H. Crowley of violence, floggings, and firing of buildings in the metropolitan area.

In Cleveland, police reopened their investigations of two uninvolved deaths after an anonymous telephone caller had blamed the Black Legion.

In Columbus, O., records of a legislative investigation a year ago disclosed an allegation that the night riders were responsible for threats to kidnap Governor Martin L. Davey's daughter, Evangeline, and other acts of intimidation and violence.

In Pontiac, Mich., a citizens' committee undertaking an investigation of reports regarding two deaths, a flogging, and the burning of homes of at least two suspected Communists to a secret organization similar to, if not affiliated with the Black Legion.

DISPUTE OVER TAXES MAY KEEP CONGRESS BUSY INTO SUMMER

TIP FOR FISHERMEN; TROUT LIKE LOCUSTS

Washington, May 28.—(AP)—Fred Oranger, chief of the U. S. Bureau of Fisheries Aquarium here, suggests feeding 17-year locusts to fish.

"Sunday afternoon," he said, "I was trying to take a nap at home, but the droning of locusts kept me awake."

Perturbed, Oranger went out into the yard and gathered a handful of locusts out of the grass.

"The next day," he said, "I took them down to the Aquarium and tried one out on a trout. The fish jumped out of the water to snap the locust out of my hand. I knew I had something trout liked."

PAYROLL OF $4,000 STOLEN BY BANDITS

Providence Plant Looted Just After Police Guard Leaves the Place.

Providence, R. I., May 28.—(AP)—Within a minute after a police guard left a $4,500 payroll at the New England Butt Company, three bandits looted the place this morning, cowering employees with guns.

The bandits escaped in an automobile driven by a fourth member of the gang, who had remained in the machine, parked near the plant. As soon as word was flashed to the police headquarters, a description of the getaway car was broadcast to all departments in the state and state police. Police took cordons in an attempt to bottle up the holdup men.

The men showed a thorough knowledge of the layout of the office. They wasted no time in Treasury officials say it would raise about $685,000,000 of permanent revenue and $83,000,000 in temporary taxes, as against Presidential requests for $600,000,000 and $517,000,000 respectively.

As the result of a White House conference Tuesday night, in which President Roosevelt expressed dissatisfaction, administration forces offered a new plan in line with the White House ideas.

Designed to raise $622,000,000 of permanent revenue, it would repeal the present capital stock and excess profits taxes, retain the existing 12 1/2 to 15 per cent levies on net corporate income, and put undistributed earnings under rates graduated between 26 and 46 per cent. It would permit a $15,000 exemption for all corporations from the undistributed earnings rates, and repeal the normal income tax exemption for dividends.

Roosevelt's Scheme
This plan again emphasized the administration view that taxation should force corporations to contribute more dividends to stockholders, who then would be required to pay both normal income taxes and surtaxes on the money.

But several Senators were up in arms immediately, fighting any attempt to increase the undistributed profits levy beyond 7 per cent. So bitter was the fight that one Democratic chieftain expressed belief that hopes of adjourning Congress next week were gone.

"You can kiss that idea goodbye," he said.

May Report Today
Senator Robinson of Arkansas, majority leader, said, however, that he was not "going to concede we are not going to get through." Senator King (D., Utah), acting chairman of the committee, said it might report out a bill today. Senator Clark (D., Mo.), said the tax situation was "hopeless."

Some administration men were talking today of a new compromise plan, at least the 14th which has been discussed in the weeks-long committee sessions. This, it was said, might take the shape of a 15 1/2 to 16 per cent levy on total net income of corporations, and 10 to 20 per cent graduated surtaxes on undivided profits.

Senator King intimated, however, that if the committee approved a bill today, it probably would be more in line with its own program, perhaps "cushions" for small corporations and those carrying heavy loads of debt.

PRESS AS "RULER"
 "It is no exaggeration," said "The Press" to "the ruler" of the world, because thought governs the world and the press is the transmitter and registrar of thought."
 Of course his Holiness had no idea that this attribution of power to the press would be made in an entirely literal sense. "Ruler" must be taken with something of the same sort of qualification as the word "word" when the latter is referring to a war in which the sword is just about the only lethal instrument that is not to be found. We should get into the habit of using the word "ruler" in its literal acceptance of Pope Pius XI's newspaper management in the world would be writing to certify that the press is responsible for the state of our civilization. At the press were indeed the actual ruler of the world, it would be difficult to answer for that the burden of its responsibilities and the shame of its fragrant blunders would be more than the most case-hardened of journalists could bear and the newspapers everywhere would be made to answer for their own wilfulness to hide forever from the sight of man.

If newspapers were absolutely free to write as they pleased, they might, indeed, rule the world by some rare chance they might agree on the rules to rule it by. But any such thing as an absolutely free newspaper never yet has existed—likely never will. Some are more hard than others, but particularly in the United States, some are tied to their own material advantages, some are the slaves of their own prejudices, some seem to be controlled by the devil for they are obviously attracted by a lust for sensation and trouble. Some are the victims of intellectual blindness and bearing upon all are a thousand forces originating outside themselves and the crystallized elements in which are the real rulers of press and people alike.

The only people in the world who visualize as a reasonable dream a newspaper that would have no occasion present the exact fact precisely as it transpired and never make a mistake and never be wrong in the least. The question takes the exacty correct position, regardless of all consequences to itself or to any group, class or interest anywhere, even those who know no more than a goose about what makes a newspaper, why there are newspapers or what the justification for their existence are under which all newspapers, big and little, good and bad, operate.

That the newspapers of the world exercise a very great influence is of course unquestioned. But that they are the very strongest of the powers that are, is not true. The power comes from a multitude of fountains. The press may be the river, but the river never has succeeded its own water—that comes from an infinite number of springs, snowbanks, rivulets and trickles, away back far from present sight. On the whole the newspapers of the world are probably as disinterested, as honestly ambitious to render the best service to humanity, as anxious for the betterment of the world's civilization, as loyal to their principles and as candid and fair as any human agency. But they do not rule the world.

The thing that most unpleasantly complicates the situation—the second trouble in the package—is the fact that only a few nations in the world's government let loose, in a somewhat indirect but nevertheless committing way, the charge that

Italy has been fomenting the Arab insurrection. Matters would seem to have been sufficiently involved already, as between the two countries, without the introduction of this issue, and it is conceivable that Italian responsibility for a Palestine rebellion that can be regarded either as a war against the Jews or as a war against the Arabs, according to the interpretation of nations, would have been the true origin of this movement.

It may be assumed that the party organizations advancing the gold plank—the National Republican Club, the New York Republican Club, the Women's Republican Club, the National Republican Builders and the Young Women's Republican Club of New York—were acting in good faith when they adopted resolutions regarding such a monetary system; but there might be illumination on dark ground if it could be learned precisely what interest has been working upon these organizations to bring about their concerted action.

Because nothing whatever that the Republican convention could do—nor even the selection of the weakest and most objectionable of the candidates—would lead to a "good neighbor" streak two or three times as wide as that of the disaster at the polls next November as a nation seems to be his present schedule.

There is something infinitely palpating about the way in which the Duke of Hyde Park comes "good neighbors"—something that makes the blood of four-square men and women boil when they realize that the Duke of Hyde Park, who is obviously believes he has discharged a pious duty and discharged it with the greatest grace, has not given his sanction to the theory that a few specks of security, advantage to almost any other "country" of the world, or any other markets are assailed by various currency depreciations.

By Great Britain, almost the entire world would be brought to the gold standard. Almost any country can buy to better advantage to almost any other "country" of the world, or any other markets are assailed by various currency depreciations.

Every time the President signs in the "good neighbor" phrase he makes a fresh lot of voters mad enough to spit in his eye. If he would only—if he could only—take to the road and let the twenty more times between now and election had been lucky to carry South Carolina next November.

NEW POSTMASTER
 Whatever and how numerous may be the faults of the Roosevelt administration and however it may be faulted, it is not the fault of the postmaster. The man who is responsible for the political expediency and without consideration for these things, in such far-reaching decisions, in this connection as appointment of Thomas J. Quinn as postmaster should be a change in postmasters was, of course, inevitable under our political system. And this being the case, the man who "got a break" in the naming of Mr. Quinn.

The incoming incumbent is not only an experienced postmaster, but also a man who has been in the office for eight years. Mr. Quinn was a good one—a very good one; active, energetic, and with a good reason whatever for doubting that he will be that kind of a postmaster again. It is a complaint and a charge that he is not the kind of a postmaster—nor will he be.

The congratulations run not only to Mr. Quinn but to the community. The man who is responsible for the political expediency and without consideration for these things, in such far-reaching decisions, in this connection as appointment of Thomas J. Quinn as postmaster should be a change in postmasters was, of course, inevitable under our political system. And this being the case, the man who "got a break" in the naming of Mr. Quinn.

DEAD SEA FRUIT
 Sometimes the spots of war turn out to be Dead Sea Fruit. Right now it is easy to imagine the British government as wishing that Allenby had never taken Jerusalem, thereby setting the train of events which led to Britain's becoming holder of the League of Nations mandate over Palestine. Because, besides having been a source of constant annoyance to Britain ever since the mandate was established, Palestine right now is handing the British government a very good separate trouble wrapped up in the same package.

First the Arab-Jewish animosities that have been becoming steadily more aggravated ever since Jewish immigration into the land was stimulated by the Nazi persecution of the Jews of Germany, have finally developed into what has every appearance of a planned and organized insurrection against British rule on the part of the Arab population, particularly the war-British Bedouin tribes who will disappear in a moment of trouble, at least, since it is most likely that Britain will have to bring her army to Palestine and do considerable fighting in order to suppress the revolution—and all without any prospect of advantage to the British government. But they do not rule the world.

The thing that most unpleasantly complicates the situation—the second trouble in the package—is the fact that only a few nations in the world's government let loose, in a somewhat indirect but nevertheless committing way, the charge that

Italy has been fomenting the Arab insurrection. Matters would seem to have been sufficiently involved already, as between the two countries, without the introduction of this issue, and it is conceivable that Italian responsibility for a Palestine rebellion that can be regarded either as a war against the Jews or as a war against the Arabs, according to the interpretation of nations, would have been the true origin of this movement.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON
 BY RODNEY DUTCHER
 The Herald Washington Correspondent
 Washington, May 28.—The big news item of the 74th Congress is the bill to amend the Federal Reserve Act. It is the so-called "anti-chain-store" measure is passed in its various stages, it will have a profound effect on the business of the United States. It is a provision written into the Federal Reserve Act by Congressmen from the Middle West, and it is a measure which will have a profound effect on the business of the United States.

It was in an elevator at Radio City (this car up) barked the starter and four ladies, two gentlemen (I hope) and a lad in a tuxedo and collar tied in for an express ride to the fifth floor. I prepared myself for a service to humanity, pulled a fat hat down over my forehead and focussed a quaking spirit.

Peers Must Suffer
 It was about the thirtieth floor that the elevator operator turned his head slightly and calmly but sternly said, "Remove your hat, please!" I was going to let him off at the top, but he said, "I am sorry, but you must remove your hat, please!" I was going to let him off at the top, but he said, "I am sorry, but you must remove your hat, please!"

World Club Free Outlets
 Essentially, it is an amendment to the Clayton anti-trust act, which would drastically curtail if not prohibit special terms granted by manufacturers to their "favorite" customers. It is a measure which will have a profound effect on the business of the United States.

Commissioner "Chap"
 From the chain store point of view, it is an authorization for the Federal Trade Commission to decrease the quantity discount limit on goods. It is a measure which will have a profound effect on the business of the United States.

Not on Nomenclature
 According to the gangster talkies, gunmen are pretty whitened about the name. Finally, they assign to their henchmen. Not in this merely Hollywood style. Scan the testimony in the Charles "Lucky" Luciano case and you'll find that most of the mollifiers mentioned are right off a Damon Runyon story.

Health and Diet Advice
 By Dr. FRANK MCGOY
 Now that the summer is coming on, when you will be appearing in the evening, wearing the bathing suits, it is well to know a few things about the health and diet. The man who is responsible for the political expediency and without consideration for these things, in such far-reaching decisions, in this connection as appointment of Thomas J. Quinn as postmaster should be a change in postmasters was, of course, inevitable under our political system.

IN NEW YORK
 BY GEORGE BOSS
 New York, May 28.—Short-haired As a moral supporter of any worthy cause, your correspondent is all for the just-organization for the prevention of taking hats off in elevators. My credentials haven't yet arrived from Washington, so the A. P. T. O. H. E. will pardon me for having already fulfilled the obligation of my membership.

Peers Must Suffer
 It was about the thirtieth floor that the elevator operator turned his head slightly and calmly but sternly said, "Remove your hat, please!" I was going to let him off at the top, but he said, "I am sorry, but you must remove your hat, please!" I was going to let him off at the top, but he said, "I am sorry, but you must remove your hat, please!"

 Motor Vehicle Department Representative Exhibits Series of Educational Pictures
 Thomas Maxwell, lecturer of Manchester Grange, last evening showed a series of educational motion pictures. The showing was under the direction of William Green, supervisor of traffic safety of the State Motor Vehicle Department. The pictures, shown "Once Upon a Time" a fantasy, "Remember, Remember" and "Public Enemy No. 1." Each one of the films pointed out the dangers of careless and indifferent driving on the part of motorists.
