PRESIDENT ATTACKS "MISUSE OF THE POWERS OF CAPITAL"

WILL DESTROY ITSELF BY ABUSES, HE ASSERTS

Highlights of Message

Washington, Jan. 3. (AP)—The President's message to Congress today was a direct appeal to the people. I do not propose to let the people down. I am sure the Congress of the United States will not let the people down.

We have improved some matters by way of remedial legislation, but where in some particulars that legislation has failed we can not be sure whether it fails because some of its details are unwise or because it is being sabotaged. At any rate, we hold our objectives and our principles.

Government can be expected to cooperate in every way with the business of the nation provided the component parts of business abandon practices which do not belong to this day and age, and adopt price and production policies appropriate to the times.

If attention is called to, or attack is made upon, certain wrongful business practices, it is not the business of the government to interfere with them.

Chief Executive in Message To New Congress, Calls On Both Capital and Labor To Work Together For Welfare of The Nation—Balanced Budget On Next Fiscal Year But There Will Be A Cut In Deficit, He Asserts—Touching On International Affairs, He Calls For Strong Self Defense Policy—Other Proposals

Washington, Jan. 3.—(AP)—President Roosevelt told Congress today that "misuse of the powers of capital" must be ended "or the Capitalistic system will destroy itself through its own abuses."

At the same time he called upon both capital and labor to cooperate with the government in working out the welfare of the nation. Both groups, he said, should realize that "power and responsibility go hand in hand."

"The concentration of the need of national unity in ending mistakes of the past and meeting the necessities of today, we said, 'I do not propose to let the people down. I am sure the Congress of the United States will not let the people down.'

In the message which he delivered personally to a joint session of the House and Senate the President disclosed that a balanced budget is out of the picture for the next fiscal year. He said, however, that his budget estimates would show a "further decrease in the deficit."

"The international affairs of peace in a world where stable civilization is actually threatened," he declared that in the day of unrepentant treaty obligations upon the part of others "this nation must be 'adequately strong in self-defense.'"

"World peace through international agreements," Mr. Roosevelt said, "is not a matter of mere sentimentality or idealism. It is a matter of the most practical and most immediate necessity. It is a matter of the most practical and most immediate necessity. It is a matter of the most practical and most immediate necessity."

Mr. Roosevelt said that he would not let the people down. He said that he would not let the people down. He said that he would not let the people down.

TERUEL BATTLE RAGES IN SNOW, INTENSE COLD rebels Claim City's Capture, Loyalists Insist All Of The Insurgents Attacks Have Been Beaten Back.

Hendaya, Franco-Spanish front, Jan. 3.—(AP)—Fighting in a strategically important town of Teruel today reported taking place in a swift right flank action on the Teruel battle front. Government reinforcements which were sent to Villastar, five miles west of Teruel, were powerless to halt insurgent attacks, a detachment of 100 men was captured.

It was extremely difficult to learn the exact situation around Teruel, as to sharply conflicting reports from the Government forces. The Government flatly contradicted insurgent claims, saying all attacks made by General Francisco Franco's insurgent forces were repulsed.

Despite this variance of reports, however, it was known that all of the insurgent attacks had been repulsed, and that the Government forces were still in possession of the city.

Insurgents attacked two weeks ago.

The actions around Teruel has developed into one of the highest points of the Spanish civil war and, it is close to 200,000 troops engaged in the final result of the city. It is not known how long the insurgent forces will be maintaining their positions in the city.

The Commission's ruling was a 1933 order that "prudent investment" should be used as the basis for valuation. It was challenged by the California Public Utilities Commission.

The Supreme Court ruled that the Commission's ruling was "indefinitely postponed." The Court said that it would not decide the case until it had had more time to study the issue.

COCKEY BANNER
 More and more cockeyed things are happening all the time. Perhaps the most cockeyed story yet set in connection with the temporary mysterious killing of a New Yorker named Klein early last week in Central Park, New York, which was covered in the news dispatches at the time, Klein was found lying on a park walk covered with stab wounds and head injuries and with his neck broken. He died in a hospital after regaining consciousness and talking about which are available to anyone and anyone who has a conversational voice in information that may be helpful. WATKINS
 We enter our 64th year of service and look back for a moment, the achievement that gives us the greatest thrill is the part we have had in bringing within the reach of every family furniture and accessories of unquestionably good taste. Years ago we found the furniture we made by hand in our own shop was too costly to have popular appeal. So we immediately began to work with manufacturers to reproduce in quantities, and consequently at a much lower price, some of the fine designs made by the old masters.

WATKINS
 At the same time we continually pointed out to young people, Schools and colleges, newspapers and magazines became interested in this movement. It was not without significance that the first national round table conference of manufacturers, designers, and editors of such popular magazines as Good Housekeeping, House and Garden and Home Beautiful, our Mr. Watkins was the only representative chosen to speak for the retail furniture stores of the United States.

WATKINS
 The outcome of that conference was the definite campaign now in full swing, to familiarize the public with the elements of good design. The results are in evidence in every corner of the Watkins store in Manchester. For instance, the young couple of today can buy for $59.75 a better designed, better made bedroom suite than their parents or grandparents could have bought for twice that amount.

WATKINS
 Although priced sensationally low, this is as finely made furniture as you could hope to own. Grand Rapids made of solid mahogany, crotch mahogany veneers and satinwood bandings. Bed, dresser and chest, regularly worth $195.00. (Sketched right.)

WATKINS
 Can anyone have the slightest faith in the sincerity of an anti-monopoly campaign promoted and carried on by the New Deal? Does anyone imagine that it would ever be anything but a highly specious fraud was conducted against a very small and selective list of Big Business concerns who have challenged the administration—and thus incurred the personal ire of the President?

WATKINS
 As we see it, this fanfare of oratorical trumpets does not indicate a serious attempt to correct monopolistic abuses against which Mr. Roosevelt has made no move whatever in five long years and which attention of his administration and Congress long ago—but merely a showy sham battle against a few specious private concerns.

WATKINS
 One shall look the lives of three men who have been mentioned in the thousands of newspaper people who personally have seen or read the names of Americans who knew him from his writings.

ANTI-MONOPOLY
 Walter Lippman points out, as this newspaper did several days earlier, that when Assistant Attorney General Robert Jackson attacks the monopolistic tendencies of Big Business, as he has been doing with rather sensational effect, he is talking a language that is not his own. Like Senator Borah, then like President Roosevelt, Mr. Jackson, the assistant attorney general, is saying what Senator Borah has been saying since 1923, what the late Newton D. Baker and Lewis Douglas said two years ago, and what a whole lot of us have been saying for years to explain why we were reluctantly compelled to oppose the administration's policy, though his ideals are progressive, his main policies are reactionary.

ALL THE FACTS
 Governor Cross' reaction to the apparent purpose of the state's attorney general Robert Jackson, perhaps of Mr. Alcorn in this country, to have the control of the State Highway Department by Highway Commissioner James H. Hays, is a special grand jury is, in fact, a little incomprehensible. The Governor, with that celebrated caution of his, has refused to call a grand jury that he has no idea of calling a special grand jury—until he is in possession of all the facts.

 HEALTH FOR THE NEW YEAR
 Our present day of January start was not accepted by most people in the ancient world. The ancient Greeks, who were the first to celebrate the New Year, had their custom of celebrating the New Year on the 21st of January, while among the Medians people March 25th was considered a good day for the beginning of the year.

WATKINS BROTHERS, INC. OF MANCHESTER

Review of 64 Years of Service

$149 for three pieces in genuine mahogany and satinwood

Although priced sensationally low, this is as finely made furniture as you could hope to own. Grand Rapids made of solid mahogany, crotch mahogany veneers and satinwood bandings. Bed, dresser and chest, regularly worth $195.00. (Sketched right.)

Can anyone have the slightest faith in the sincerity of an anti-monopoly campaign promoted and carried on by the New Deal? Does anyone imagine that it would ever be anything but a highly specious fraud was conducted against a very small and selective list of Big Business concerns who have challenged the administration—and thus incurred the personal ire of the President?

As we see it, this fanfare of oratorical trumpets does not indicate a serious attempt to correct monopolistic abuses against which Mr. Roosevelt has made no move whatever in five long years and which attention of his administration and Congress long ago—but merely a showy sham battle against a few specious private concerns.

One shall look the lives of three men who have been mentioned in the thousands of newspaper people who personally have seen or read the names of Americans who knew him from his writings.
