GUFFEY BACKS KENNEDY, C.I.O. MAN, IN RACE

Penn. Senator Breaks With Democratic Machine In Favor Of Laborite As Can- didate For Governorship.

Washington, March 11.—(AP)— Senator Joseph F. Guffey split with Pennsylvania's Democratic state committee today to support C.I.O.'s Thomas P. Kennedy for the gubernatorial nomination. "In Pennsylvania the Democratic party cannot win without labor and labor cannot win without the Democratic party," Guffey said, in announcing his support for the John L. Lewis' right-hand man.

The formal statement by the senator who has been Pennsylvania's Democratic leader for years touched off excited speculation in the politically-minded capital. This centered chiefly on Lewis' growing political importance and potential power in the 1940 party conventions and elections. Pennsylvania is second only to New York in the number of delegates it sends to the Democratic national convention.

Guffey has been a leading supporter of President Roosevelt and his policies. Kennedy, now lieutenant-governor in the first Democratic administration, Pennsylvania has had in 40 years, is secretary-treasurer of the United Mine Workers of America.

David Lawrence, secretary of the commonwealth and for many years Guffey's partner in Pennsylvania politics, has announced his support for Charles A. Jones, Pittsburgh lawyer.

Aligned with Lawrence are the state committee, Governor George H. Earle, a candidate for the United States Senate, and Matthew McCloskey, a Philadelphia leader.

State Attorney General Charles Margiotti is third candidate for the Democratic nomination for the governor's chair.

"According to the rules of the game as I know them," Guffey said, "Thomas Kennedy is more entitled to the Democratic nomination for the governorship than is Mr. Jones."

Previously, there had been numerous attempts on the part of the

TREATIES OPPOSED IN NEW ENGLAND

Council Head Announces Many Protests Received Against English Pact.

Hartford, March 11.—(AP)— James W. Hook, president of the New England Council, said today at the organization's quarterly meeting here that apprehension, caused by the forthcoming trade negotiations with the United Kingdom, is widespread throughout New England.

Characterizing mass protest meetings and opposition letters as "the order of the day in New England," Hook said that of the protracted negotiations is felt not only by manufacturers of items on which it is proposed to reduce the tariff rate, but also by other business men who will be indirectly affected.

It was reported at the meeting that a summary of responses to the Council's inquiry among New England manufacturers regarding the effects on their industries of the reciprocal trade agreements program showed that more than 30 industries opposed trade treaties, while nine favored such treaties.

Those Opposed
Those in opposition included various branches of the textile industry, machinery, tool, hardware, silverware, clocks and watches, shoe, furniture, paper, chemical and food products manufacturers.

Those Favored
Those in favor of the program included the rubber, glass, and electrical industries. "Today we face a situation that no organization sincerely devoted to the economic welfare and progress of New England can possibly ignore," Hook said in part. "I think it only fair to state here that an examination of the types and value of the products of New England industries named in the British list constitute more than 40 per cent of our total industrial production."

Highly Diversified
"New England industry is highly diversified; of the 350 classes of industry recognized by the United States Bureau of Census, 220 are

MARKET FUNDS FIGURE IN WHITNEY INQUIRY

Witness Tells Probers That Head Of Bankrupt Firm Had Pledged Some In His Own Bank Transactions.

New York, March 11.—(AP)— Financial difficulties of the bankrupt firm of Richard Whitney and Co. were traced back today by a member of the firm to an unsatisfied demand last fall of the New York Stock Exchange that Whitney surrender funds in the exchange "Gratuity fund," maintained for the benefit of widows and orphans of Exchange members.

F. Kingsley Rodewald, senior partner under Whitney, told investigators for Attorney General John J. Bennett, Jr., that Whitney, former president of the New York Stock Exchange, could not immediately produce the securities because he had pledged some of them on his own personal loans at banks.

Bennett's inquiry into the tangled financial affairs of Whitney and his firm was entirely separate from the Grand Jury investigation being pressed by Manhattan District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey, which indicted yesterday in Whitney being indicted for grand larceny in connection with funds held in the trust fund of his father-in-law.

There was no particular difficulty in reassembling the securities for the Stock Exchange, Rodewald went on, under questioning by Assistant Attorney General Ambrose V. Mc-

WALLACE OUTLINES AID FOR FARMERS

Asserts It Will Take Years To Restore Destitute Fam- ilies; What Has Been Done

Washington, March 11.—(AP)— Secretary Wallace said today it would take "many years" to restore destitute farm families—estimated at more than a million—to a self-supporting basis.

Testifying before the Senate Unemployment and Relief committee, Wallace said a "promising beginning" had been made toward helping these families regain stability through a rehabilitation program embracing relief grants, loans and technical guidance.

"We are fighting an economic disease which has been neglected for generations," the secretary of agriculture said. "We cannot hope to cure it overnight."

Wallace reported also that insufficient funds had been made available to assist all needy rural families. He said field officials of the Farm Security Administration,

BRITAIN WARNS REICH MILDLY ON MEDDLING

Hopes Troops In Bavaria Are To Preserve Order, Not To Interfere In Austrian Voting; Defers Peace Talk

London, March 11.—(AP)— Britain today gave a mild, carefully phrased warning to Germany against military interference in Austria's Sunday plebiscite on independence. Official British sources said reports had been received of "certain movements of troops in Bavaria" and that Britain had expressed to Germany the hope that the purpose of such movements was to preserve order on the Austro-German frontier.

Officials declined to say specifically to whom this view was expressed, but it was believed that it had been presented unmistakably to Joachim von Ribbentrop, German foreign minister, by Foreign Secretary Viscount Halifax and Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain.

Von Ribbentrop on whose two-day visit to London hopes of better Anglo-German understanding had been based, ended his round of functions here with such understanding further off than ever and Europe's peace endangered.

No Further Jeering
Watchful detachments of mounted and foot police stood by as the top-hatted Ribbentrop drove through the gates of Buckingham Palace in a Swastika-bedecked motor car for his farewell audience with King George. It was this farewell, Von Ribbentrop is the retiring Nazi ambassador to London, that was the ostensible reason for his visit.

There was no repetition of yesterday's hostile demonstrations against the German outside the foreign office, when crowds yelled, "Get out, Ribbentrop!"

Frau Ribbentrop accompanied her husband to the audience. Later they hunched at Downing street, at the prime minister's residence, with Chamberlain, Lord Halifax, other members of the Cabinet and their wives.

PLEBISCITE POSTPONED; HITLER MASSES TROOPS

Germany Removes All Restraint On Nazis In Austria

Berlin, March 11.—(AP)— Any restraint that may have been imposed from Berlin on Austrian Nazis is removed, it became apparent today.

If there be bloodshed in Austria over the national vote on Austrian independence Sunday, Nazi spokesmen said, it will be Chancellor Schuschnigg's fault.

It is in Schuschnigg's hands, Nazis said, to determine whether Austria shall be "made over" peacefully, or whether blood shall be shed to accomplish it.

At the same time, they denied there was any intention by the Reich to take military action or otherwise use force in Austria.

Austrian Nazis will not participate in the vote-by which Schuschnigg hopes to prove a majority of his nation is against Nazism and union with Germany, it was made clear here, unless terms of the election are changed drastically before Sunday.

Neither will the Nazis recognize the result of the election. (Austrian predictions are for an 80 per cent majority for Schuschnigg.)

The political atmosphere in Berlin was tense into the wee hours of the morning, and a late light at the chancellery indicated Fischer was consulting with his advisers. They were said to include Joseph Leopold, Austrian Nazi leader, reported made a member of Hitler's personal staff, and Wilhelm Keppler, German state secretary, who made a flying trip to Austria yesterday to confer with Arthur Seyss-Inquart, Nazi-included minister of the interior and friend of Hitler.

Hitler had taken for granted, so reports ran here, that Italy would do nothing to save Schuschnigg from any efforts further to Nazify Austria.

Rome and Berlin were in constant contact yesterday, leading to the reports Premier Mussolini would give Schuschnigg no help as he made ready to do in 1934 by sending troops to the Austrian border after Chancellor Dollfus was assassinated.

German Viewpoint
The Nazi sentiment is that the Austrian chancellor got himself into a fix by provoking Nazi resentment in suddenly calling a plebiscite; now he'll have to see for himself how he'll get out of it.

In German eyes, Schuschnigg didn't play fair after the Berchtesgaden agreement with Hitler last month, which was presented as a step toward more friendly cooperation between the two countries.

GREAT BLIZZARD OF '88 STARTED 50 YEARS AGO

New York, March 11.—(AP)— Tall stories about the great blizzard of '88 have grown joyously taller down the years, but it seems there was at least a "spot" of weather brewing when the snow began falling 50 years ago tonight.

Chancellor Yields To Pres- sure Exerted By Hitler As Austria Assumes Aspect Of An Armed Camp; Res- ignation Rumors Denied.

Vienna, March 11.—(AP)— The government announced tonight that the plebiscite on Austria's independence had been postponed.

The announcement followed reports that Germany and Austria's Nazis had exerted powerful pressure to avert the referendum, which Chancellor Kurt Schuschnigg had called for Sunday.

It came as Austria was assuming the aspect of an armed camp, with clashes in many cities between Nazis and Fatherland Front supporters of Schuschnigg's fight for independence.

Reports that Schuschnigg had resigned were officially denied by the office of President William Miklas at 7 p. m. (1 p. m., e. s. t.).

Nazis Joyful
Announcement of the postponement, which reached the public in a short radio communique, brought on a great outburst of Nazi enthusiasm in downtown Vienna.

Nazis had gathered by thousands for demonstrations against the vote. When word came it was called off they went wild.

Almost immediately police and military forces were withdrawn, leaving downtown Vienna more or less in Nazi possession.

Arthur Seyss-Inquart, Austrian minister of the interior and close friend of Germany's Reichschancellor Hitler, was reported to have presented a demand, "Like an ultimatum," for cancellation or postponement of the referendum.

No new date was set for the plebiscite.

The postponement meant Schuschnigg had bowed to Hitler.

Franz von Papen, the German ambassador, flew to Berlin this morning and returned to Vienna by special airplane this afternoon with Hitler's ultimatum against the vote.

Demands Presented
To a hurriedly summoned Cabinet session Seyss-Inquart also presented a stern demand for the discharge of Dr. Michael Skubl, director of security, other officials and provincial governors.

An alternative proposal was Schuschnigg's own resignation.

Otherwise, the threat was made that Germany would enter Austria. Neutral observers believed the indefinite postponement meant cancellation of the vote.

The official explanation was that the chancellor had postponed the vote after rediscussing the matter with President Wilhelm Miklas.

Two Men Killed
In Austrian Riots
Vienna, March 11.—(AP)— One Nazi and one Fatherland Front member died today, victims of Austria's bitter political strife, which increased in intensity as Sunday's independence plebiscite neared.

The Nazi, stabbed last night in a minor Nazi-Fatherland Front affair in Floridsdorf, a workers' suburb of Vienna, succumbed this morning.

Hans Lalitach, 25-year-old teacher and supporter of Chancellor Kurt Schuschnigg, died of injuries received last week in a political attack on his school.

Disorders spread through the Austrian provinces, while in Vienna the war ministry ordered mobilization of 100,000 troops of the reserve, called 20,000 National Guardsmen to immediate duty, and strengthened the bodyguard around Chancellor Schuschnigg because of Nazi threats against his life.

Concentration of Austrian military strength continued in Vienna, Innsbruck, Graz and Salzburg during the afternoon.

AN ANNIVERSARY

Fifty years ago today was a Sunday. In the evening it rained. The rain soon turned to snow and just walking was disagreeable.

Before morning the thermometer had fallen to above the zero point and the snow was like the crusty aglets.

The total snowfall was 44 inches at New Haven, 54 inches at Middlebury, 30 inches at Hartford.

That area between New York City and the Connecticut river extending about half way up the actual burnt of the devil's denge because down there the main show, here the heavier snowfall.

How on earth the firm ever came out of 120,000 shares of Distilled Liqueur Corporation at an average of $15 a share and a stock so held down to $3.50 a share.

Principal argument in favor of the publicity is the right of the stockholder to know what the directors of his corporation are doing with his money. Neither of these is completely convincing. Very few $75,000 companies have had secretaries to write and beg letters—and if there is one who hasn't wouldn't he write to a girl twenty dollars a week to get the job?
