

FARMER-LABOR IOWA NUCLEUS OF NEW PARTY
Group That Polled 3 1-2 Per Cent Of 1936 Vote Likely To Be Utilized; La Follette Calls Liberal Dems Fringe

Des Moines, April 30.—(AP)—Gov. Philip La Follette of Wisconsin today turned his attention to the Iowa Farmer-Labor party as a possible nucleus for developing the newly announced National Progressive movement in this state. The governor will address an interstate rally of Progressives tonight at Cedar Rapids, Ia. In his third speech on the new national political party he initiated Thursday night at Madison, Wis. He contended here last night with a group of Iowans identified as liberals and including Byron G. Allen, director of the Iowa Old Age Pension division, and Garrett E. Root, state unemployment compensation commission official. The governor said he would have a statement today on the conference.

Newest Iowa Party. The Iowa Farmer-Labor party, newest organization in the Corn Belt State's political picture, polled 31,000 votes for governor in the 1936 elections out of a gubernatorial total of 1,077,000 votes. The party's headquarters here said Progressives from Minnesota as well as Iowa would participate in the Cedar Rapids rally. The Minnesota delegation, the announcement said, would be headed by Harry H. Peterson, chief justice of the Minnesota Supreme Court.

Speaking over a nation-wide radio hookup here last night, the governor declared the "Progressive leaders" in the Democratic party have become "an outer fringe." He attacked the overproduction theory as a cause of economic distress by saying "it is not responsible to speak of a third of our people as 'ill fed, ill clothed and ill housed' when we consider we are in trouble because of overproduction." In New York Mayor F. W. La Guardia termed La Follette's third party plan "very interesting."

"Everyone will agree with the point he stresses, that in a land of abundance and a land so rich in natural and other resources, there should be work and gainful employment for everyone," La Guardia said. Dr. Glenn Frank, chairman of the Republican national policy-formulating committee, termed the La Follette movement as a "modified New Deal with the obviously false aspects of the Roosevelt administration's program discarded."

The traditional two-party system of the United States has been subjected to major attacks from third parties six times since 1860. The "Bull Moose" split in 1912 helped Woodrow Wilson win the presidency. In 1924 Sen. Charles McNary, father of Phil, teamed with Senator Burton K. Wheeler of Montana in a Progressive presidential ticket. They polled 6,000,000 of the 30,000,000 votes cast.

Iowa turned both those Progressive bids. In 1912 Woodrow Wilson carried the state over Theodore Roosevelt and William H. Taft. In 1924 Calvin Coolidge polled 207,000 votes to 179,000 for La Follette and 160,000 for John W. Davis, the Democratic candidate.

Representative William Lemke (R., N. D.) led another third party movement two years ago but polled fewer than 1,000,000 votes nationally.

MAY DAY PARADE BANNED BY CZECHS
Fear Trouble If Demonstrations Are Allowed; Societies Pledge Loyalty

Praha, Czechoslovakia, April 30.—(AP)—A member of Konrad Henlein's Sudeten German (Nazi) party was shot through the leg by police at Bratislava last night as patriots prepared to celebrate May Day. The police report said: "When the officer intervened he was attacked and beaten. Irregularly dressed men were being used for political purposes and the irregularly dressed men stated in the purchase of supplies for the charge of coercion."

Decentralization Is New Objective Of The Administration; In Message FDR Raps Control Of Industry.

Washington, April 30.—(AP)—Decentralization of the business structure became a broad new administration objective today. 3 PROBES FEATURE PENNSY CAMPAIGN

Big Row Among Keystone State Democrats Brings On Barrage Of Inquiries.

Harrisburg, Pa., April 30.—(AP)—Overshadowing the turbulent primary campaign from which they grew, three separate investigations into campaign charges of graft and coercion were under way or projected in Pennsylvania today. With the election little more than two weeks away, a row among Democrats battling for control of the party brought on these developments.

A special (Dauphin County) jury investigation into allegations by candidates that legislation was "bought" in the 1935 General Assembly, that highway workmen were being used for political purposes and that irregularly dressed men were being used for political purposes and that irregularly dressed men stated in the purchase of supplies for the charge of coercion.

A Commonwealth investigation headed by a newly-appointed attorney-general, Guy K. Bard, into charges by the press that the nationalistic legislation was "bought" to make the public believe.

The special grand jury inquiry, starting May 11—six days before the election—was ordered yesterday by three judges upon a petition presented by District Attorney Carl B. Smiley.

Shanghai, April 30.—(AP)—The left wing of the Japanese army fighting southward along the Shanghai battlefield was reported today to have occupied the village of Nankow, only five miles from the Langhai railway. Neutral observers said Japanese blasted Chinese defenses with artillery fire and plane bombardment to make the advance possible. Nankow is nine miles southeast of Tangshing, the Chinese headquarters.

LONDON-PARIS AXIS WILL URGE SUDETAN DEAL

Franco-British Alliance To Seek Compromise Of German-Czech Quarrel; Britain Relies On Diplomacy.

London, April 30.—(AP)—The London-Paris axis, strengthened by a new co-ordination of land, air and sea forces, prepared today to exert its powerful leverage to bring about a peaceful solution of the Sudeten German problem in Czechoslovakia. At conclusion of the two-day conference at which British and French ministers discussed world problems, from China to Spain and central Europe, it was said the two powers planned these immediate steps:

1. A British approach to Berlin to seek a modification of the program of German annexation to Nazi principles who are making autonomy and other demands of the Czechoslovak government.

2. A conference by Britain and France with the Czechoslovak government at Praha, also for the purpose of bringing about a compromise with the Sudeten Germans led by Konrad Henlein.

3. If the dangerous Czechoslovak situation was settled, it was said the British Foreign Minister Viscount Halifax would seek the cooperation of German Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop in opening long-deferred discussions toward a general Anglo-German settlement.

After these stepping stones, the British envisaged an all-European parity on central European quarrels. In the background was the agreement of the two powerful democratic nations to defend their common "islands of national and international life" with their combined army, navy and air forces.

These forces would total 1,200,000 army effectives, nearly 6,000,000 navy reserves, more than 1,000 first line airplanes, and 1,600,000 tons of naval craft.

The British ministers placed their reliance upon diplomatic rather than military or economic pressure to persuade President Eduard Benes and Czechoslovakia and Henlein and Berlin backers to come to terms. But the French appeared certain they would be willing to try the economic method, and after that the military method, to preserve peace.

Many sources interpreted the new test for the administration on the revised wage-hour bill despite President Roosevelt's latest demands for such legislation.

Senate Majority Leader Barkley held his prediction that Congress in the city comptroller's office started on an investigation of municipal affairs, apparently had a somewhat year period to remain vacant only a few hours and today William Cox, 45-year-old Yale professor, was ready to take over the important highway department reins.

The appointment of Cox, entirely unmentioned in the speculation over the sale of automobiles to the city. The records, these sources said, disappeared mysteriously from the files of the Gagan Motors, Inc., at Yale who had been approached in connection with the job only a few hours before, came to the capital, received his commission, took the oath of office and prepared to assume his new duties Monday morning.

His appointment runs until the sixth Wednesday of the 1939 term of the General Assembly. Cox is a Democrat. His predecessor who had been commissioner since 1923 is a Republican.

Macdonald was asked to resign yesterday after the governor read the report of a Grand Jury which said it felt the commissioner was "entirely to blame" for "waste and extravagance" in connection with purchases of land for the Merritt Parkway in Fairfield county.

PROSECUTOR DECIDES

Two Dead, Hurt in Brush Fire

A two-day fire, fanned by high wind, swept state reserve lands near Sandwich, Mass., taking a toll of two dead and two hurt. The fire fighting crew above saves a water truck.

Bridgeport, April 30.—(AP)—Bench warrants for the undisclosed number of persons secretly indicted by the Merritt Parkway Grand Jury were placed today in the hands of State's Attorney Lorin W. Willis, but it was indicated no arrests would be made at least until next week.

Unlike the first three indictments handed up some time ago by the jury, the recent batch returned this week by the jurors was kept secret because it includes the names of persons now outside the state. Meanwhile, State's Attorney Lorin W. Willis expressed the belief that the trials of those indicted would not begin at the earliest, until the June term of the Superior Court.

Explains the Delay. He explained that first his office hoped to get rid of other criminal cases which were held up because of the status of the present term. Judge Kenneth Wynne will be replaced here for the June term by Judge Alfred C. Baldwin.

Reliable sources indicated that G. Leroy Kemp, who served as agent for the state in most of the $8,000,000 land transactions for the parkway, might be the first to go on trial. Kemp and Thomas N. Cooke, Greenwich real estate dealer, both have filed motions seeking to have the indictments against them quashed.

In its first batch of indictments, the jury named Samuel H. Blumenthal, Stamford real estate broker, together with Kemp and Cooke. Gov. Cross Picks Yale Professor Hartford, April 30.—(AP)—Governor William L. Cross, after High Court Commissioner John A. Macdonald had complied with a demand that he resign, allowed the $10,000 a year post to remain vacant only a few hours and today William Cox, 45-year-old Yale professor, was ready to take over the important highway department reins.

LABOR TO REFUSE WAGE REDUCTION

Railroad Employees Say It Will Take Months To Bring About A Showdown

Washington, April 30.—(AP)—Labor attorneys said today it might require from three months to a year of negotiations and fact-finding to bring a "showdown" if the employees reject the railroad proposal to cut wages 15 per cent.

The reason is the Railway Labor Act which would require month-long negotiations to prevent any cut in wages. The union contracts, no changes in wages may be made without 30 days notice. This was stated yesterday when the Association of American Railroads announced its intention of making the cut effective July 1.

If the Brotherhoods refuse to accept the cut—and the reactions of their leaders indicated this was certain—the National Mediation Board would come into action. The board may enter a dispute at the request of either party, or if it believes a national emergency exists, on its own motion.

Once the board has entered the dispute, it may proceed indefinitely with its work of mediation. The bill every effort to effect a settlement has been exhausted.

Propose Arbitration. If the board is unable to mediate the difference, it is bound to proceed to arbitration. If this is rejected, the President. He may then declare national emergency and appoint a fact-finding board.

This board is given 30 days in which to formulate a report. For 30 days after its report, the status quo must be preserved. If no agreement has been reached by that time, each party would be free to proceed as it wished, the railroads to cut wages or the employees to strike.

Yearly savings which are estimated the wage cut would save them $200,000,000 a year and said it was necessitated by falling revenues and higher operating costs. George M. Harrison, president of the Association of Railway Labor Brotherhoods, who previously had said labor would not accept it, commented that legislation was "bought" to make the public believe.

ANOTHER BIG DEFEAT FOR ADMINISTRATION

House Rules Committee Refuses To Send Hours, Wage Bill To Floor, Means An Early Adjournment.

Washington, April 30.—(AP)—Adjournment sentiment gained in both House and Senate today in the wake of another thumping defeat for the administration on the revised wage-hour bill despite President Roosevelt's latest demands for such legislation.

Senate Majority Leader Barkley held his prediction that Congress in the city comptroller's office started on an investigation of municipal affairs, apparently had a somewhat year period to remain vacant only a few hours and today William Cox, 45-year-old Yale professor, was ready to take over the important highway department reins.

DOG ASSUMES GUARD AT ROOMING HOUSE

A tramp dog seeking a warm place to spend the night last night took up a position in the doorway of a rooming house on North Main street. At 11 o'clock a young man who is working on a utilities job in Manchester and who had been employed until a late hour, arrived to go to his room. He was wearing his working clothes and the dog did not take a liking to him. He would not let the young man enter. Thinking that the dog might be more friendly to wards some other roomer, the young man waited on the side-walk for nearly an hour and then told his story to a keeper of a restaurant. The restaurant owner took a look at the dog, recognized it as a dog that he had given food to. The dog, recognized the man from the restaurant and evidently thinking that he was going to be given more food followed the white coated restaurant man towards his place of business, which gave the young man an opportunity to get into his rooming house.
