As the sun sinks behind the Blue Ridge mountains, a flame will be lighted to stop the "burn" of the "burn forever" as a symbol of "peace eternal in a nation united."

Later, army cavalrymen will ride in review on the ground where Pickett made his famous charge and where airplane drops overhead and a 45-gun salute is fired to the nation.

The first rain during the encampment, mesquite, brought from the camp medical staff expressions of concern as to the effect it might have on the veterans' health.

Lieutenant Colonel Paul H. Hawley, commanding officer of the First Medical Regiment, U. S. Army, and medical surgeons, said he was "watching the weather closely be-

HELEN WILLS WINS 5TH BRITISH TITLE Defeats Helen Jacobs In Straight Sets, 6-4, 6-0, At Wimbledon Today.

Wimbledon, Eng., July 2.—(AP)—In another dramatic episode of the tennis season, Helen Wills won the Wimbledon singles crown for the eighth time today by defeating Helen Jacobs, 6-4, 6-0, in a match which lasted for 80 minutes.

After the two bitter California finals had fought through ten best-of-three sets in the opening round, Helen Wills, who had defeated Mrs. M. J. Moody in the second round, won the first two games.

Wills appeared to be having trouble with her right ankle, stopping her running at the end of the first set, but she was able to win the second set, 6-0, in 20 minutes.

It was reminiscent of their first meeting in the American finals of 1923 when Mrs. Moody was defeated in the third set when Wills was leading 6-2.

Dr. J. J. Jacobs, Helen Wills' father, who has been a tennis coach for many years, said that his daughter had been playing tennis since she was 10 years old.

Wills' victory was the 11th in a row for her in the Wimbledon singles tournament. She has won the title in 1915, 1917, 1920, 1923, 1925, 1928, 1930, 1932, 1935 and 1938.

Wills' opponent, Helen Jacobs, who is 35 years old, has won the Wimbledon singles title in 1929, 1931, 1933, 1934, 1936 and 1937.

What It Means

RECENT occurrences of national political significance have been emblazoned in such headlines as these: Nye Leading Langer—This meant Gerald P. Nye, 45, a U. S. senator since 1923, was re-nominated in the North Dakota Republican primary.

Gov. William Langer opposed Nye and this was the first of a feature race. Nye and Langer have quarreled often in the last five years and they fought this campaign mainly on state issues. Nye had been endorsed by two ardent Nye Deal senators.

Before the returns were in, Nye asked, and Chairman Morris Sheppard of the senate's campaign committee, approved, a check-up on absentee voting.

Indiana G. O. P. Names Willis—This meant there may be a three-day senatorial contest in Indiana this fall. Democratic Sen. Frederick Van Nuys, whose resignation is campaigning already for re-election as an independent. And the Democratic state committee will on July 12 nominate someone else.

In view of this, some Republicans urged that the party should convention—held Wednesday in Indianapolis—appoint Van Nuys rather than make a nomination. That suggestion was spurned.

Raymond, Willis, G. O. P. Editor, got the Republican senatorial nomination on the convention's third ballot. On the first ballot, at Wilmington, Del., in 1938, a black granite shift now holds aloft a replica of the statue of Kalmar Nyckel. A gift from Sweden's people in connection with Pennsylvania's 200th anniversary celebration.

Rep. Seall Will Retire—This meant that Seall will have a new rider in the next congress. Joseph W. Martin, 53, of Massachusetts, has been mentioned for the job.

Stocky, rugged Bertrand H. Snell, 67, a congressman 24 years, chairman of the last two Republican national conventions, and author of many significant anti-trust legislation, will devote himself henceforth to his business interests in New York.

Vote Pies To WPA Hit—This meant Investigator-Senator Sheppard had expressed his disapproval of a speech by Aubrey Williams, deputy WPA administrator, gave at a "Workers' Alliance" luncheon in Williams, according to some accounts, had told the folks: "Keep your friends in power."

Conservatism For Roosevelt—This meant the senate's special investigators chief did not intend to do anything about the President's oratory.

Flood Control Work Approved—This meant the President had signed the bill authorizing, but not appropriating, $36,800,000 for conservation projects scattered all over the country. He signed it with some reluctance. He signed it with some reluctance.

Bank Rules Are Released—This meant federal bank examiners now will okay some longer leases than heretofore and some investments previously discouraged, in small corporations bonds not quoted on stock exchanges. Why? To encourage use of private funds in business.

War Worries

EVER since Spain's "little war" began, two years ago this month, it has threatened to become a big world war. Last weekend's cables indicated Spanish loyalists might attack Italy and Germany if Britain and France did not grant the latter's demands. Those demands were (1) that loyalists again be permitted to import supplies via air, (2) that all air on loyalist cities then be broken up, and (3) that insurgents be compelled to submit to mediation eventually.

A neutral investigation of bonapartism of Spanish cities then was ordered started, pronto, but Sweden was reported to be participating in such a probe, and diplomats turned to.

Attacks On Ships

Movie Stars Are Eclipsed In Two-Part Pictures

Hollywood, July 2.—(AP)—One of the things that gives movie stars their own identity is their own gray hair. In playing second fiddle in the two-part picture "The Sign of the Cross," which tells the story of a character who is a character, it is not the gray hair that is the main attraction. It is the story that is the main attraction.

SENSE and NONSENSE

Of all the annoyances to which a car owner is subjected - next to having to listen to the back-seat driver - there is none more annoying than when he looks himself out of his car. Now, here's an idea that should remove this difficulty and we offer it gratuitously to Henry Ford for the benefit of his suffering customers. If Henry doesn't want it, Mr. Chevy can have it. Here it is: Keep the car doors with outside locks like those on auto-buses. You would have to do would be to remember the combination. Good, isn't it? We'll say it is! The credit for this grand idea, however, should go to Bess, for it was inspired by her. She is a very intelligent woman and Bess on one of her many drives with a wife who is adept at back-seat driving. Bess announces all the time she has the infant of the car, she watches the speedometer and she can talk the toughest traffic cop into giving her a hand with a ticket. On the night in question, Larry found, after coming out of the movie, that he had left the keys in the car and had locked himself out. It was a sorry predicament that is, until Bess was struck by a brilliant idea. "Oh, don't worry about it, dear," she said, "I'll get home in the rumbly seat."
