WORLD OWES CRIME MUCH, SAVANT AVERS

Berkeley, Calif., Aug. 16.—(AP)—A prominent psychologist asserted today if there were no law breakers and all laws were obeyed the world would revert to savagery.

In the lawbreaking class he put the Christian martyrs, and George Washington and several other presidents of the United States.

Washington, he said, "was guilty of treason against the nation."

The psychologist—Dr. Knight Dunlap, professor of psychology at the University of California at Los Angeles—championed the "necessity" of crime laws in an article in the forthcoming (September) issue of the California Monthly, publication of the University of California, Alumni.

Whistlers Not All Wrong

Dr. Dunlap argued that there was nothing really wrong about violating a "bad" law and that the "crime" involved might even benefit society in the end by contributing to the elimination of the improper statute.

His contention was that such refinements as have been made in our system of laws have been due to eventual realization by the public of the seeming justice which motivated the breakers of "bad" laws.

Universal and unquestioned submission to all laws made, he said, "inevitably entails a reversion to savagery."

Dr. Dunlap suggested the division between law and morality represented the difference between "crimes" eventually beneficial to society and real offenses against the public welfare.

FREY ASSERTS MARTIN AWARE OF UAW REDS

Washington, Aug. 16.—(AP)—John P. Frey, American Federation of Labor leader, declared today that Homer Martin, United Automobile Workers president, would tell the House committee investigating anti-American activities about Communist-caused dissension in the auto union.

On the committee's witness stand for the third day, Frey, president of the A. F. of L. Metal Trades Department, predicted the auto union chief would appear soon to describe fully the activities of the Communist cause in the industry.

Working under a speed-up system, Supreme Court Justice Peckham had the witness questioned in groups of 12 instead of individually.

Spared Testimony

Frederic T. Brown, a member of the defense team, said that the witness would be spared testimony on the subject of the Communist cause in the industry.

As a result, defense and prosecution attorneys were spared the tedious routine of outlining basic reasons why each rejected witness would be barred from serving.

Six jurors and two alternates remained to be selected as Court Clerk Thomas Heenan began a roll call of 150-odd names. The jury box was half-filled with unexpected suddenness late yesterday after hours of maneuvering.

Hines, accused by District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey of politically shielding the gigantic "policy empire" operated by the late gang lord, Dutch Schultz, arrived in court in cheerful mood.

The veteran Tammany boss, whose district covers the west side of midtown Manhattan to Harlem, was trim in a double-breasted grey suit. He nodded greetings to friends and newspapermen, and expressed himself as highly confident that he "couldn't be convicted by a bunch of squealers."

His stalwart son, Philip, accompanied Hines and remained at his side.

The six men already accepted as jurors—all experts in a financial transaction—were: Elliott R. Brown, foreman; Don M. Caldwell; Hugh C. Harle; Frederick D. Strydom; Walton B. Southwick and Ernest G. Haggard, Jr.

ADD FOUR MORE JURORS IN HINES TRIAL TODAY

NEW YORK, Aug. 16.—(AP)—With a witness that astonished spectators, defense and prosecution accepted four more jurors within an hour's time today in the trial of James J. (Jimmy) Hines, charged with conspiracy in the $100,000,000 American activities about Communist-caused dissension in the auto union.

NEGRO SLAYER OF POLICEMAN HELD IN JAIL

New Haven, Aug. 16.—(AP)—James Collins, 34, New Haven negro, was held in jail today after he is being held in connection with the slaying of Patrolman Daniel T. O'Connell, 42.

O'Connell, the second policeman to be shot to death within months here, was killed last night when his revolver was seized during a struggle in a patrol wagon which was taking Collins and another negro prisoner to headquarters.

Collins was ordered held without bail for the coroner in a City Court session.

Six's Attorney Samuel Hoyt conferred with Coroner Corrigan and said afterward it was unlikely he would call a grand jury in Collins' case until the September term of court.

Meanwhile Police Chief Philip T. Smith said he was investigating a report that Patrolman Patrick Richardson, driver of the patrol wagon, was unarmed at the time.

Five shots were fired at O'Connell, police officials said. The patrolman, who joined the force in December 1929, died within a few minutes after the attack. Last May, Patrolman Edward H. Windland was shot to death while taking a prisoner to headquarters in a squad car.

The other prisoner, Ernest Jones, 39, also of New Haven, huddled terror-stricken in a corner of the jail.

HARTFORD WOMAN BLOCKS BUILDING

Hartford, Aug. 16.—(AP)—A construction company had to close an emergency meeting today on the site of a new fire house because a 76-year-old woman had put her foot down.

Nothing moved today on the lot where Company 5's headquarters had been razed to make way for a new PWA-aid $26,111 station. On the north building site tattered, partially demolished, the board fence that workmen had been removing Monday when Mrs. Marie R. Rivers ordered them off her property.

Repeats Ultimatum

Mrs. Rivers came over from her old-fashioned residence next door to the delegation and repeated her ultimatum. Either somebody paid for putting up better boards on the site, or the boards didn't go up. This was what stalled the job yesterday.

The Nuzio Corvino Construction company was taking down the old fence preparatory to putting up better boards about eight feet over Mrs. Rivers' property.

"You're just a counterfeiter," she said yesterday. "It is the first grade separation bridge on the highway that will be 80 feet wide. The two 36-foot lanes of roadway will be carried across the bridge, separated by a 30-foot dividing strip. On most of the parkway the dividing strip is 21 feet wide, or even less."

Mr. Pinn, however, came to the meeting this morning. So did Thomas F. Foley, deputy city engineer's agent for PWA projects, and Mr. Conroy.

Tried to Sell Land

Mr. Foley disclosed prior to the meeting that Mrs. Rivers had attempted to sell part of her land to the city for use in building the new station at $3,000. After this had been turned down, he said, he did not believe the President was considering making the sale in 1940.

"I think the President will be re-elected," Murray said, adding that he had found a strong trend in the West for a third term.

"I never favored a third term, and I do not anticipate it now," he said. Senator Milton (D., Ind.), an active supporter of Roosevelt, said he did not believe the President was considering making the sale in 1940.

Specialist Effects Cure For "Cabbage Yellow"

Of interest to cauliflower growers in this section, whose crops are best by plant disease, is the information that steps are being taken to eradicate "cabbage yellow," an infectious disease which has been spreading in this section since 1935.

The disease is caused by a fungus which lives in the soil for at least 10 years. It is spread by the roots of the plants, and is especially common in the soil of the cauliflower.
