Dance Band Leader WEINBERG STILL WITNESS IN TRIAL

Dewey Announces Transcript of Suicide Testimony Will Be Read.

New York, Jan. 30.—(AP)—The specter of George Weinberg, gangster and racketeer, still looms large in the trial of Alvin Karpis, who testified yesterday, ingersed today over the policy racket trial of Tammany District Leader James J. Hines.

District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey announced that Weinberg, on whose affidavit testimony is based in the misadvised trial of Hines, still was a witness in the second and that the long transcript of his testimony, although its veracity was doubted by the judge himself, will be read by an assistant prosecutor.

The growing admitted perjurer and guilty-pleading state's witness against Hines was on the stand three and a half days and at one point in his testimony Hines charged angrily from the counsel table and shouting: "You lie!"

Weinberg was a brother of Bo Weinberg, whose body—and the body of a woman—were taken to the Framingham hospital.

Donald McKenna of Marlboro accepted serious injury when his car skidded into a pole at the same Framingham curve.

Shipping was seriously hampered and the Canada steamer Adairia returned as she had to outside Boston harbor in a 24-hour storm.

Bill Jones, who will direct his 20-piece dance band at the Birthday Ball on Mount Washington in the city on Saturday night for the benefit of the Infantile Paralysis Fund.

committee from early youth until four years ago when he retired, but was re-elected in party politics at all times.

He was for many years state central committee man of the Fourth District and was a delegate for the party to the state convention as well as to other conventions.

In 1903 he was the party's candidate for senator from the old Second District, now the Fourth District. He lost by a few votes, but was elected to the state legislature in 1904 and was re-elected in 1906 and 1908.

In 1912 he was named a factory inspector connected with the state labor department, being assigned to eastern Connecticut, which included Manchester. It was in a factory where he was well known, although he was also known in many other parts of the state.

Deceased was manager of the Manchester baseball team that in 1938 was considered one of the best in the state. What he became known as an additional strength, as well as the case in a game played between Manchester and Rockville on the Stollster street grounds, he engaged in a game with Dan Kelly and Danny playing his first professional ball under McHale in a game here.

Flier Uses Battleplane To Make a Brief Visit To His Parents Here

Richard Arnold was commissioned Second Lieutenant Saturday afternoon and two low-wing battleplanes of the 41st Pursuit Squadron of the United States Army Air Corps were on the ground at Langley Field, Virginia, for duty.

The back of duty was all too short for Flier and relatives and certain city friends who were the guests of the flier's parents on Sunday afternoon as he climbed into the cockpit of his plane for the return trip.

Lieut. Arnold, 31, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Arnold, Jr., 172 East Center street, the tall, lean looking Manchester airman was met at the field by his parents who drove him to his home here for 24 previous hours before again returning to important duties at his home field, Langley Field, Virginia.

Others on the Boston.

Four other planes in the squadron drove on over grey clouds to Boston where their pilots also spent the week-end with relatives and friends. In the second plane to land at Hartsfield was Lieut. Philip Greener, son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Greener, 110 Argyle avenue, West Hartford.

Richard Arnold was born in Willimantic and attended the Fourth District State College in the fall of 1932 and graduated in 1933, completing the engineering course. He was accepted as a student flier for the army in 1937 and served his eight months course at Randolph Field, Texas, and completed his training at Kelly Field, San Antonio, Texas.

RESERVED DECISION

New York, Jan. 30.—(AP)—General Sessions Judge William Allen today reserved decision on an application to inspect the minutes of the Grand Jury that indicted George J. Hines, on conspiracy and grand larceny charges, in connection with the operation of the city's gambling houses.

Four other plans in the squadron drove on over grey clouds to Boston where their pilots also spent the week-end with relatives and friends. In the second plane to land at Hartsfield was Lieut. Philip Greener, son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Greener, 110 Argyle avenue, West Hartford.

FALL PROVES FATAL

Torrington, Jan. 30.—(AP)—John Hines, 59, died today at the Connecticut Hospital of a fractured skull, received last night in a fall down stairs while visiting at a friend's home.

Richard Arnold was born in Willimantic and attended the Fourth District State College in the fall of 1932 and graduated in 1933, completing the engineering course. ASSASSORS FAVOR TWO OF NEW BILLS

Approve Reassessments Every 10 Years, Exemption Extension.

Manchester's Board of Assessors announced today that they would report to the Connecticut League of Municipalities that they favored re-assessment of two bills, introduced at the present state legislative session, which directly affect assessment, and Assessor E. L. G. Hoban, who is a fire commissioner of the city, said that he personally favors passage of a third bill which would affect volunteer firemen.

Three assessment bills now pending in the state legislature are not approved by the town assessors.

As part of its policy in keeping town officials advised as to the bills before the General Assembly which have local interest, Richard M. E. Leake, league secretary, last week forwarded to the Manchester assessors the list and text of bills which would, if adopted, work changes in the present method of assessing.

A bill introduced by Senator Edgan of the 11th district, which would exempt firemen from the tax on real estate for ten years, the money—most of it never repaid—was advanced by individual or concrete acting for parties in the general court, Dewey said.

Four of the six transactions, he added, involved Hignanta whose cases were later resolved in their favor.

Summary Of Charges

A summary of his charges follows:

$52,000 received from agent of Dictograph Products Corporation in December, 1936, and January, 1937, while his appeal of a patent case was pending. It was the appeal, with the court's vote decisive. An additional $25,000 received within a month after the favorable decision, making a total of $77,000. None repaid.

$22,981 received from representatives of American Tobacco Company with Judge Mantou's vote against decisive. None repaid.

$37,500 from John L. Lotach, Brooklyn banker, in 1933, including a $20,000 loan which "other banks had refused to make" to a Mantou-owned firm.

$50,000 from Harry M. Warner, executive of Warner Brothers Pictures, in 1935 between the hearing of arguments and a decision in Judge Mantou's court in a patent case won by the Warner firm. All but $10,000 repaid.

Other Transactions Listed

Two other transactions not involving actual Hignanta in Judge Mantou's court were among the six listed in Dewey's letter. They were:

$12,000 from John McGrath in December, 1937 after he had repaid $22,000 in fees as a bankruptcy trustee, a post to which he was appointed after having been removed from liability in the bankruptcy case.

$210,000 from an insurance broker in 1934 on representations by Judge Mantou that he would reimburse the insurance business of Kings Brewery, a firm in which Judge's business partner, James J. Sullivan, was a trustee under the bankruptcy act. It was repaid when the broker failed to get the business.

Dewey's summary showed that only $50,000 of the $439,481 in the six transactions had been repaid. He said that the large sum of $222,481—was part of a $250,000 loan to the late James J. Sullivan, Mantou's business partner, from Lord and Thomas, advertising agents for the American Tobacco Company.

The loan, Dewey said, was made at the request of Paul Hahn, assistant to Arthur Raymond, president of the American Tobacco Company. Neither Hahn, said to be in Europe, nor Hill was available for immediate contact at the theater.

Advanced by Insurance Men

The district attorney said the $52,000 received from the Dictograph Corporation was advanced by George M. Spector, a insurance agent and confidential representative of the late Archie M. Andrews, executive in charge of the Dictograph Corporation's marketing division.

Andrews died last April. His brother, P. W. Andrews, president of the Dictograph Products Corporation, said a check of the corporation's books and records showed no evidence of any payments.

"I am certain that no one connected with the manufacturing corporation knew anything about such payments," he said.

Judge Mantou was born in New York City Aug. 2, 1880. He graduated from the Columbia University Law School in 1901, and received honorary LL. D. degrees from Fordham, Manhattan College, New York University and the University of Connecticut.

He married Eva M. Morier of Chicago in 1907. He was appointed a U. S. district court judge here in September, 1916, and two years later was notified a person answering the description furnished by Mr. Gray in the vicinity of the store before it was closed.

DEWEY CHARGES BRING TWO PROBES OF JUDGE

District Attorney Asserts Mantou Accepted More Than $400,000 From Litigants Before U. S. Courts

New York, Jan. 30.—(AP)—A double-barreled investigation was underway today in the record of Judge Martin T. Mantou of the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals in the wake of charges by District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey that the high-ranking judge had accepted more than $400,000 from litigants.

In a letter to Rep. Hutton W. Sumner, chairman of the House Judiciary Committee, Dewey listed six litigants totaling $439,481 which he had been paid since 1932 to help them win their cases.

The money—most of it never repaid—was advanced by individual or concrete acting for parties in the general court, Dewey said.

Four of the six transactions, he added, involved Hignanta whose cases were later resolved in their favor.

LIGHT VOTE BEING CAST ON BEACH REFERENDUM

New London, Jan. 30.—(AP)—A very light vote was being registered here today in this city's special election on the question of acquisition of Ocean Beach for development as a city park. At nighttime less than 1,000 of the city's 15,000 voters had gone to the polls and officials predicted less than 30 per cent of the voters would vote.

A driving rain all morning was attributed as a partial reason for the light vote.

The acquisition of the beach area, which was badly damaged in the September hurricane, and its development along lines proposed by the Engineers and Architects of the city, Kenneth Morgan of New York, is estimated to cost $2,000,000. It is claimed it will be a self-liquidating proposition over a period of 31 years. Various city groups have urged the acquisition of the beach area, but no organized opposition has developed.

The polls close at 6 o'clock.

Turkey-fairing conditions were favorable in 1938 that a further expansion of production was predicted for 1939.

RESERVED DECISION

New York, Jan. 30.—(AP)—General Sessions Judge William Allen today reserved decision on an application to inspect the minutes of the Grand Jury that indicted George J. Hines, on conspiracy and grand larceny charges, in connection with the operation of the city's gambling houses.

Four other plans in the squadron drove on over grey clouds to Boston where their pilots also spent the week-end with relatives and friends. In the second plane to land at Hartsfield was Lieut. Philip Greener, son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Greener, 110 Argyle avenue, West Hartford.

Richard Arnold was born in Willimantic and attended the Fourth District State College in the fall of 1932 and graduated in 1933, completing the engineering course. He was accepted as a student flier for the army in 1937 and served his eight months course at Randolph Field, Texas, and completed his training at Kelly Field, San Antonio, Texas.

FALL PROVES FATAL

Torrington, Jan. 30.—(AP)—John Hines, 59, died today at the Connecticut Hospital of a fractured skull, received last night in a fall down stairs while visiting at a friend's home.

HEN FASCINATED BY ELECTRIC LIGHT

Squawks When Bulb Turned Off And Later Lays Egg Like Its Shape.

Washington, (AP)—The Rural Electric Administration hatched a hen-egg story recently that sounds like a whopper, but the REA's got proof. Here it is: Albert Clark, who lives in Russellville, Ky., and raises hens, joined the Kentucky Rural Electric Corporation and thereby got his hen house wired. Hens from the culling were an electric bulb—shedding its rays against the interior and generally spreading light and happiness among the birds. Hen Stares With Fixed Gaze. Every time Clark went into the hen house, he noticed a certain hen staring at the glowing bulb with a fixed gaze. Clark tried to divert her attention, but it didn't work. She continued to stare as if she were hypnotized. Finally one day he turned off the light. "Pandemonium raged in feathered form. Fluttering from her nest with a frenzied squawk, the light-loving hen ran around cackling to high (hen) heaven. Clark caught her, suspecting what was wrong, he switched on the light. The hen promptly calmed down, and concentrated once more on the bulb. The hen's behavior was worrisome. He reasoned that his neighbors wouldn't believe his story. So he hunted up James T. Warren, superintendent of the corporation. Egg Like Electric Bulb. When they returned, the hen had laid an egg. And this is the part of the egg was in the shape of an egg—an electric light bulb. The men packed the egg carefully and sent it to Washington with the above history. Asked for an explanation, an REA spokesman said: "Well, we figure the hen looked at the bulb so long that she got that's all. It's a hen's natural instinct. He added that he surely would like to crack it and see what's inside."

LIST THREE DEAD OVER WIDE AREA

Wind And Thunderstorms Lash Different Sections Of South, Causing Casualties

New Orleans, Jan. 30.—(AP)—Three deaths, one each in Louisiana, Mississippi and Tennessee, were listed today as the toll of wind and thunderstorms which lashed widely separated sections of the south yesterday. Charles Butler, 65-year-old farmer, died of internal and head injuries en route to a hospital after a squall struck his home near Kilbourne in the northeast corner of Louisiana. Mrs. Curtis Willard, 47, of Etta, Miss., was killed and five members of her family injured when a high wind demolished their farm home. Mrs. Gay Ables, wife of a Fayetteville, Tenn., farmer, was killed by lightning during a severe rain-storm. Minor disturbances swept over

POLICE BOARD TO MEET TO DISCUSS PARKING

Commissioners To Take Up Conditions At The Center Tomorrow Evening.

Police Commissioner James H. Johnston, chairman of the board, has called a meeting for tomorrow night at 7 o'clock. The meeting will be held in the police court room. Plans to do away with some of the parking space that has been allotted to buses in the vicinity of the Center and the postoffice, will be discussed. There have been several complaints made regarding the restricted parking near the postoffice, which became more acute when there was an additional no parking sign placed to the east of the postoffice. Since that time Postmaster Quish and Chief Gordon have been studying the conditions there. It is expected that the meeting tomorrow night will result in changes being made that will give more parking space.

Charge Many High In New Mexico Government Played Politics With Relief.

Albuquerque, N. M., Jan. 30.—(AP)—The Federal government, in a precedent-setting action, brought to trial in U. S. District court today more than two score defendants, including many high in New Mexico politics and government—on charges they played politics with relief. Accusations of conspiracy to defraud the government, a felony punishable by two years imprisonment and $10,000 fine, were laid against 45 persons, four of them close relatives of U. S. Senator Dennis Chavez, who returned from Washington to the proceedings. At the largest case of its kind yet brought into court, the trial was certain to be watched closely in Washington, where the Senate last week adopted measures by Senator Carl Hatch of New Mexico to keep politics out of relief. U. S. District Attorney Everett Gratham, who took the case before a Federal grand jury last fall, is assisted in the prosecution by Richard Shuman of Chicago, special assistant U. S. Attorney General Frank from the government's Harlan county, Ky., coal conspiracy case. Arraigned against the government is a formidable phalanx of legal talent, headed by former Gov. A. T. Hammett and James J. O'Leary of Washington, a former Federal prosecutor and noted capital attorney. A venire of 43 was summoned as attorneys began the tedious process of selecting a jury. Court attaches predicted it would take at least two days, with the probability another venire would have to be called.

LEADERS NEEDED FOR BOY SCOUTS

Report Made by Charter Oak Council Shows That Need Is Becoming Critical.

At the 25th annual meeting of Charter Oak Council, which includes Manchester and surrounding areas in Hartford, the following report was made:

Clubbing: Increase in clubbing, camping and merit badge work. There were the principal points of advance made during the past year by local Boy Scout organizations. The 1938 report of Charter Oak Council presented at this meeting, cited these accomplishments in clubbing as the bright notes for the year.

James E. Hopkins, production engineer, reported that the organization had a membership of 3,351 boys, an increase of 268 for the year. In addition, 111 more, or a total of 1,211 Hartford men qualify as Scouters.

Leaders: A report for the year, in common with 80 per cent of the councils throughout the country, failed to accommodate all boys who wanted to become Scouts. This is due to lack of leadership for new boys.

"The problem of leadership," said Mr. Hopkins, "is becoming increasingly more critical in this greatest of all boy movements." Clubbing in Hartford, statistically, increased its membership by 164, (58 per cent.)

O. B. Ellsworth, chairman of the Council's troop organization committee, reported the formation of several new troops, and five new Cub packs—a gain for the year, of three troops and four packs.

Mr. Ellsworth's report indicates that 45 of the 100 present troops and 38 Cub packs are sponsored by Protestant churches; 12 by Catholic; 12 by Parent-Teachers Associations; three by Jewish organizations; 10 by service clubs; 12 by groups of citizens; three by schools; 19 by Legion and War Veterans; three by community clubs; two by industries; one of these being Colt's Firearms Co. and the other Miller Milk Company; six by social settlements.

Camp Pioneer, official scout camp at West Hill lake, Winsted, had an increase of 15 per cent in attendance over 1937, while Battenman Park Camp, catering to boys staying in town, doubled its number.

Head Advancement.

J. Watson Beach, president of the Charter Oak Council, cited the Council's merit badge work for the past year as the clearest sign of real advancement in its work with Hartford boys.

"Under the stimulus of the Court of Honor Committee, of which William T. Lynch is chairman," Mr. Beach remarked, "214 merit badges, as opposed to only 988, in 1937, were awarded to boys for various signal accomplishments in their craft work, trades, learning and

PENSION STRUGGLE IN CONGRESS SEEN

First Encounter in Hearings Of House Ways And Means Group Wednesday

Washington, Jan. 30.—(AP)—The Roosevelt administration and the opponents of old age pensions are expected to meet in a heated battle in the House Ways and Means Committee, beginning Wednesday. Administration advocates of the social security system and

President Roosevelt have asked Congress to give unemployment and old age insurance to millions more workers, to step up the beginning of old age insurance payments to 1940, to provide for larger benefits in the earlier years, and to insure workers and their families against the insecurity resulting from sickness, injury or death.

The social security system was born amid a great clamor for old age pensions, and now that its revision is being discussed, pension advocates are pressing their recommendations with increased vigor.

There are an estimated 11,000,000 persons in the United States over 65 years old. The present social security law is in little or no direct help to them. It is primarily to those that the pension leaders believe.

Pension advocates argue that the payment of pensions, once Congress set up the machinery, would start within a matter of months and that all the people over a certain age would benefit quickly and substantially.

In Two Bival Groups.

The main pension movements are drawn together in two rival groups—the Townsend group and the Dr. Francis E. Townsend, and the General Welfare Association.

Broadly the plan of either would like this: Congress would pass a law imposing a general tax of two per cent on income or transactions. The revenue, running into many millions a month, would be distributed equally among all the persons over 60 or that was the age limit set.

Pension backers contend the national income would boom and the number of unemployed persons would tumble. Social security advocates, on the other hand, claim there is the only sound solution to the problem of security, and refer to old age pension proposals as "Utopian" and unworkable.

TOBACCO YIELD FALLS

Peiping.—(AP)—New Japanese cigarette factories opening in North China are turning to America for raw leaf tobacco as the North China yield is now only ten per cent of normal due to the hostilities in this area.

President Roosevelt and other social security backers envision security for the aged as one part of a comprehensive program for bringing the security to all the people.

The problem they contend, covers not only the aged, but also their dependents, idle workers and their dependents, disabled workers and widows and their children.

A good part of the administration program already has been put into law. Approximately 40,000,000 persons hold old age insurance cards; millions of workers are covered by unemployment compensation and Federal aid to help them care for dependent children, widowed mothers, the blind and the needy aged.

Congress Asked To Change Act.

But friends of the social security law want to extend it further. Consequently the Social Security Board

Ward's came to Manchester we are pleased to announce that we are participating in The Herald Cooking School. See these two items at the school this week.

CAREERS OF UAW RIVALS SIMILAR

Despite Several Parallels in Lives They Differ Sharply in Temperament.

Detroit.—(AP)—There are several parallels in the careers of R. J. Thomas and Homer Martin, rival "presidents" of the United Automobile Workers, although temperamentally they differ sharply.

Both came from humble homes. Thomas studied for two years at the Presbyterian ministry, until lack of money forced him to leave college. Martin became a Baptist minister and continued to preach until he became convinced that he could carry on a better battle for labor outside the ministry than in it.

Both were ministers in the unionization of the automotive industry. They are approximately the same age, Martin 38 and Thomas 40. There the parallels end.

Martin is a fiery and forceful orator. He is a practical politician. He is dedicated to his actions and attempts to apply the rule of common sense to problems. He is not an orator.

Thomas was born in East Palestine, O., where his father was a maintenance-of-way foreman for the Pennsylvania railroad. He was graduated from Youngstown, O., where his ministerial studies were at Wooster (O.) college.

He quit a job with an electrical contractor to become a metal finisher in a Fisher Body plant in Detroit.

For several years he was an electric arc welder in the Cadillac, Motor Car Co. and Dodge Bros. plants in Detroit. When the depression hit the automotive industry Thomas took a job for a while on a pipeline welding crew.

In 1921 he went to work for the Chrysler Corp. He was chosen an employee representative under the short-lived Automobile Workers' Board plan in 1924. He was active in the formation of the Automotive Industrial Workers Association, an independent union, and became president of the Chrysler local in the A.I.W.A. joined the United Automobile Workers. He was active in the Chrysler strike of 1937.

Thomas was elected an international vice-president of the U.A.W. that year and was appointed director of all Chrysler activities by Martin. He was told of four CIO candidates for the Detroit City Council in 1937 and ran fifteenth in a field of 18.

He was the last of the U.A.W. vice-presidents to break with Martin.

Martin was born on a farm near Gorvillie, in the southern Illinois coal fields. He attended high school at Carbonate, Ill., and studied at Ewing College in Illinois and William Jewell College in Missouri. He began preaching at the age of 18, and helped finance his college studies by part-time pastorates. This was mentioned in a court case.

RAIN SPOILS SKATING AT CENTER SPRINGS PARK

Large Crowd Enjoys Sport In The Morning But Leaves Early In Afternoon.

Center Springs Park pond drew a large crowd of skaters yesterday morning, but in the early afternoon the ice started to get soft and when rain started to fall at 3 o'clock many of the skaters left. Those who remained were mostly children. By 5 o'clock the ice was so soft that all left.

The skates secured by an appeal through The Herald were in demand on Saturday and Sunday. During Saturday 62 children were given skates and yesterday, even with the poor conditions that existed, 70 pairs of skates were loaned.

WALSH IGNORES CURLEY ATTACK

Senator Refuses To Make Comment On Denunciation By Ex-Governor.

Washington, Jan. 30.—(AP)—The denunciation of former Gov. James M. Curley (D.) of Massachusetts against Senator Walsh (D., Mass.) and other members of his party ignited several political fires in the Senate.

Curley's denunciation of Walsh for failure to support the demagogue ticket on which Curley ran for governor last year failed to arouse any public comment from the senator.

But Walsh told close associates here after the Curley speech that he was not surprised by Curley's "political" attack. He described him as a destructive force.

The two Democrats may run against each other for the first time in their long political careers in the next primary as candidates for the senate.

Massachusetts Democrats are divided in their opinions on what to do with Curley.

At least three New England Democrats who were swept out of office last year in the Republican victory are slated for Federal posts. They are former Senator and former Rep. Somersworth (N. H.); former Rep. William Fitzgerald (Norwich, Conn.); and former Rep. Alvin Forand, Central Falls, R. I.

Forand, administrator of the state, has been offered the post of comptroller-general. The term is 10 years.

Several New Englanders close to the administration indicated Fitzgerald and Forand probably would be appointed to positions in the Labor Department or the wage-hour division.

NO CLUE TO IDENTITY OF NURSE'S ATTACKER

Masked Man Forces Maternity Ward Patient To Hand Over Money After Assault.

Murphy, N. C., Jan. 30.—(AP)—Officers said today they were without a clue to the identity of a masked man who forced a maternity ward patient to hand over a $100 bill before dawn yesterday, ravished a nurse and then forced a patient to whom a baby had been born a few hours earlier to hand over her pocketbook containing $50.

Police Chief Fred Johnson said the man entered the hospital through a rear door at a time when the nurse was the only one on duty in the maternity ward, cut off the electricity, severed the telephone line, and held a knife against the nurse while he gagged her and bound her hands behind her back with gauze and adhesive tape.

The officer said that after assaulting the nurse, the man went to the patient's bed and forced her to give him her pocketbook, which she had hidden under the bed covering which he first entered the room and threatened to kill her if she made an outcry.

Police said they believed the man was from this section, since he asked for another nurse when he entered the room. The nurse he inquired about was out duty.

WALSH IGNORES CURLEY ATTACK

Senator Refuses To Make Comment On Denunciation By Ex-Governor.

Washington, Jan. 30.—(AP)—The denunciation of former Gov. James M. Curley (D.) of Massachusetts against Senator Walsh (D., Mass.) and other members of his party ignited several political fires in the Senate.

Curley's denunciation of Walsh for failure to support the demagogue ticket on which Curley ran for governor last year failed to arouse any public comment from the senator.

But Walsh told close associates here after the Curley speech that he was not surprised by Curley's "political" attack. He described him as a destructive force.

The two Democrats may run against each other for the first time in their long political careers in the next primary as candidates for the senate.

Massachusetts Democrats are divided in their opinions on what to do with Curley.

At least three New England Democrats who were swept out of office last year in the Republican victory are slated for Federal posts. They are former Senator and former Rep. Somersworth (N. H.); former Rep. William Fitzgerald (Norwich, Conn.); and former Rep. Alvin Forand, Central Falls, R. I.

Forand, administrator of the state, has been offered the post of comptroller-general. The term is 10 years.

Several New Englanders close to the administration indicated Fitzgerald and Forand probably would be appointed to positions in the Labor Department or the wage-hour division.

House Minority Leader Martin (R., Mass.) and Representative Rogers (R., Mass.) were two of the first congressmen who were transmitted in Washington's first test of radio.

The others were Speaker Bankhead (D., Ala.) and Minority Leader Rayburn (D., Tex.).

The test was made outside the Agriculture Department on a radio by cold day and transmitted to an office about a mile away.

During her appearance Mrs. Rogers was requested to legislate for wage-hour workers.

Masked Man Forces Maternity Ward Patient To Hand Over Money After Assault.

Murphy, N. C., Jan. 30.—(AP)—Officers said today they were without a clue to the identity of a masked man who forced a maternity ward patient to hand over a $100 bill before dawn yesterday, ravished a nurse and then forced a patient to whom a baby had been born a few hours earlier to hand over her pocketbook containing $50.

Police Chief Fred Johnson said the man entered the hospital through a rear door at a time when the nurse was the only one on duty in the maternity ward, cut off the electricity, severed the telephone line, and held a knife against the nurse while he gagged her and bound her hands behind her back with gauze and adhesive tape.

The officer said that after assaulting the nurse, the man went to the patient's bed and forced her to give him her pocketbook, which she had hidden under the bed covering which he first entered the room and threatened to kill her if she made an outcry.

Police said they believed the man was from this section, since he asked for another nurse when he entered the room. The nurse he inquired about was out duty.
