HOUSE ELIMINATES EXEMPTING CLAUSE IN DUAL JOBS BILL

Losses Remain Curled Because of Curiosity

Denver, Feb. 21. (AP)—Three-year-old Elaine Nyford lost control of her light truck because she was too curious about her mother's electric batter.

"I heard the baby scream," Mrs. C. A. Nyford said. "I turned around and saw the bowl, the batter, the mixer and the baby all on the floor."

"Before I could do anything the mixer had pulled most of the hair of Elaine's head."

State Capitol, Hartford, Feb. 21. (AP)—The House voted today to strike out from the controversial dual job bill a provision exempting legislators now holding other jobs.

The vote was 206 to 1, with nine members absent or not voting. The sole opponent was Representative Manchester of Winchester.

After the exemption had been struck out Meade Alcorn, House Republican leader and chairman of Judiciary Committee, said that Governor Baldwin, a Republican party and a majority of the people of the state were behind it.

An amendment was offered by Representative Patrick of Farmington which would delay the bill taking effect until the legislature which would expand its provisions to include state's attorneys and assistant state attorneys under the ban. Many viewed the amendment as a stalling device.

Alcorn replied that the intent of the bill was to prevent legislators from holding other jobs which are within the gift of the legislature. The amendment, he contended, would affect only state senators and messengers.

Representative Sherwood (R) of Bath moved the bill be referred to the constitutional amendments committee. Alcorn replied that the intent of the bill was to prevent legislators from holding other jobs which are within the gift of the legislature.

Both Chinese and Japanese Claim Victory

London, Feb. 21. (AP)—Great Britain today sent a "vigorous protest" to Japan over the bombing of Hongkong territory by Japanese planes.

The Foreign Office radioed Sir Robert Leslie Craigie, British ambassador to Tokyo, to protest immediately to the Japanese government in the strongest terms.

Full details of the bombing were not available at the Foreign Office. It was understood the main target of the attack was the railway station.

Reports from Hongkong said that the railway station was heavily bombed and that several Chinese were killed and about 30 Chinese injured.

The Japanese government, however, said the Chinese had brought down eight enemy planes and only three Chinese planes were destroyed, but did say several police officers were wounded and about 30 Chinese killed.

The battle of Dog Bay, the Japanese government said, was a tactical success for the Japanese. It was understood the main target of the attack was the railway station.

TONY SISTI KAYOS RIVAL IN COMEBACK

Fights To Earn Money To Finance Show Of His Oil Paintings In New York.

New York, Feb. 21.—(AP)—Tony Sisti, who was in Buffalo and teaches painting in Buffalo and New York, will expose his work in art circles next Monday, when a one-man show of his oil paintings and sketches opens at a mid-town gallery. But the art critic will be a week later. They should have been ready last night.

Ten and fifteen years ago, Sisti, on his second wife, a pretty fair club fighter, after winning the western New York state amateur championship title by beating five guys in one night, he turned pro and came to New York. He fought in Buffalo and Detroit and across the border in Canada.

When he decided to extend his studies to Europe, he took his boxing gloves with him, and had had some average success in France. Then he hung up the mitts and concentrated on the paint brush and palette. Last night he came back to fight one more time last night. The artist who had been back for two years and that had not been in the ring for ten years. The boxing writer would have noticed the halo spot on the back of Tony's head. He would have known that Tony's rival before going back for the second and last time in 1910 of the first round, had not landed a blow.

The art critic, though, could have ignored all that. He could have concentrated on the fact that Sisti threw enough punches to do credit to Henry Armstrong. He would have seen that Tony's rival put in by Freddy Balanti, Sisti's opponent. The art critic, in fact, could have argued with the ring announcer: "A work of art, that's what it is. Is there an art in it, in the ring?"

The art critic could have admired the technique, the master-teacher program that will boom building local and not Manchester to the fore. He could have seen that the time is ripe for building here, to provide homes for present residents and also for those who would come here if homes were available.

There's a meeting, to which contractors, sub-contractors, building supply dealers, real estate agents and others have been invited, will discuss the local situation and plans for extensive activities in the bureau during the coming months of spring and summer.

NORWICH DISTRICT HOLDS CONFERENCE

50 Clergymen Present At Stafford Springs Parley. Local Persons Attend.

The fine weather of yesterday brought out an attendance of some fifty of the Methodist ministers of Norwich District, many of them accompanied by their wives, at the parley held at the beautiful, newly renovated church at Stafford Springs. Attendees included Rev. W. D. Woodward, and Rev. E. A. Legg, who had been in the city for the past few days.

Members of the post and vfw club are invited to attend the meeting. Following the meeting refreshments will be served by the house committee.

Rev. Charles X. Hutchinson, pastor of Danbury and Altamont, presided at the parley. The morning was the District Superintendent of the New England Southern Conference, Rev. James V. Claypool, whose theme was "Impressions of the Boston Area," based on an article of Bishop Herbert Welch in the "Zion's Herald" of Nov. 9, 1938.

The art critic, though, could have ignored all that. He could have concentrated on the fact that Sisti threw enough punches to do credit to Henry Armstrong.

LEMONA OTTE HERE!

Manchester, Conn., Feb. 21.—(AP)—Attention! Lemon Otto is here! The famous "Lemon Otto" is in town again.

Nothing having been heard for some days about the Glas-tonbury werewolf, supercopier or whatever it may be, folks were hoping he or she, or it—had been forgotten when Mrs. Elvina Belvedere of the Conantville section reported yesterday she had seen a good looking animal she believed probably was the same one that named all the fur a white back.

Not only that, but Mrs. Belvedere said she had seen the same creature around her home several times near "some" although yesterday was the first time she put in an appearance. The animal she saw tailed with long hair, had a white face and colored and forelegs shorter than hind legs.

Mrs. Belvedere tried to interest her dog in pursuing the animal, but Rover had other things to do.

The art critic, though, could have ignored all that. He could have concentrated on the fact that Sisti threw enough punches to do credit to Henry Armstrong.

The art critic could have admired the technique, the master-teacher program that will boom building local and not Manchester to the fore.

Members of the post and vfw club are invited to attend the meeting. Following the meeting refreshments will be served by the house committee.

Rev. Charles X. Hutchinson, pastor of Danbury and Altamont, presided at the parley. The morning was the District Superintendent of the New England Southern Conference, Rev. James V. Claypool, whose theme was "Impressions of the Boston Area," based on an article of Bishop Herbert Welch in the "Zion's Herald" of Nov. 9, 1938.

The art critic, though, could have ignored all that. He could have concentrated on the fact that Sisti threw enough punches to do credit to Henry Armstrong.

The art critic could have admired the technique, the master-teacher program that will boom building local and not Manchester to the fore.

America's first coal mine was opened by TRO near Richmond, where commercial shipments were made to Boston, Philadelphia and New York as late as 1739.

SENSE and NONSENSE

THE MOURNER CONTRA-VERSY... It would not be amiss at this time to bring up that much discussed question as to the authorship of the proverb concerning mourning, which has become the most quoted of all proverbs.

Landlady (sighing)—You don't know them yet. He—Oh, come, they're not bad. Why, the chap who's got a little work done on the road was talking about you today. Said you'd been talking for a long time. He—Landlady (sighing)—No, he's the undertaker.

STORIES IN STAMPS

How Jefferson wrote The Declaration

THIRTY years after the Declaration of Independence was written, the historians began to assemble the story of the framing. But the accounts were fragmentary and memories faulty.

Jefferson was only 33 when he was chosen to write the astounding document. He was chosen because he had the "reputation of a manly pen" and had been named a delegate from Virginia as a result of a "very handsome public paper which had been written for the House of Burgesses."

He proved equal to the historic task. The drafting committee of few men unanimously pressed on Jefferson the sole job of writing the Declaration.
