See Gradual Conversion To Pay Own Way Plans

Washington, June 25—(AP)—The government's latest plan for a gradual conversion of the national government to pay its own way is being discussed by the War Relocation Authority.

The plan is to gradually convert the national government to pay its own way by increasing the income tax and decreasing the public debt.

The War Relocation Authority is a government agency that provides relief to Japanese-Americans who have been interned in camps.

The plan is to gradually convert the national government to pay its own way by increasing the income tax and decreasing the public debt.
