12 Homes Sold In Pine Acres

Manchester Corporation announces good demand for houses.

Referring to the previously unanticipated demand for small homes in the low cost range, the Manchester Corporation, developers and builders of the new Pine Acres tract, announced today that a dozen sales have been closed since the tract was opened last Saturday.

The 16-acre tract, named Pine Acres because of the presence of so many pine trees in the wooded section, is located on Center street, at the corner of Otcott street.

Construction is progressing rapidly on the first 20 of the single-story and five room dwellings planned for the development.

The houses are designed by architect Joseph E. Kane of Hartford, and are being built to sell from $4,570 to $5,720 with individually landscaped plots having minimum areas of 2,000 square feet.

When the Rice car got back to the double traffic lane, it was blocked by the police.

About Town Relay League Radio Tests

Local amateurs to take part in field day on June 22 and 23.

As in the past two years the Manchester Radio club will take an active part in the American Radio Relay League Field Day contest again this year.

The field day is held for testing independently powered station equipment to be prepared for emergency and open up communications which requires a degree of readiness on the part of every amateur.

Rev. William H. Kennedy, pastor of St. Thomas church in Southington, has announced that the new Cathedral church recently installed will be dedicated Sunday prior to the 11 a. m. mass.
