British, French Battle in West Africa

The West African port of Dakar, (above) capital of French Senegal, was the scene of a bitter clash between "free French" forces and British Allies on the one hand and defending Vichy government forces on the other.

The Vichy government announced the "attacks" had been repulsed. A report today was that Dakar had surrendered. Meantime, in apparent reprisal, French planes bombed the British stronghold of Gibraltar.

Program Adopted in Effect Declares 'War' on All Subversive Activities; Kansas City Concedes Defeat Before The Roll Call Ends.

Bulletin! Boston, Sept. 25.—(AP)—The American Legion's National Defense Committees recommended today that the United States give "all practicable aid to Great Britain" and that a permanent military training system be established in this country.

Boston, Sept. 25.—(AP)—The American Legion today named Milwaukee as its 1941 convention city after adopting a program which in effect declared "war" on all subversive activities and called for rigid control of all aliens.

The 22nd annual convention of the Legion's veterans group interrupted the swift shaping of its stand on issues growing out of the war abroad and the defense program at home only long enough to settle a spirited contest between Kansas City and Milwaukee for the next convention site.

The roll vote by states was so heavily in favor of the Wisconsin city which drew 22 votes to the Kansas City bid.

Horsham, Pa., Sept. 25.—(AP)—An attractive young mother found chubbiness to death on the dusty stairway of an unoccupied farmhouse was linked today to a prominent southern family in a statement that the slain woman, Mrs. John C. Angier of Durham, N. C., a relative of the wealthy Duke family, was killed last night, clad only in stockings and one slipper and wearing a wedding ring.

She was identified 14 hours later by her husband, James F. Angier, Philadelphia bricklayer.

Wed to Duke Frederick B. Smilie said Atkins declared in a statement that the slain woman, whose maiden name was Ethel Craft, had first been married to John C. Angier of Durham, N. C., a relative of the wealthy Duke family.

Feed America First Is New Farm Slogan

Administration officials have ready answer for pleas to aid Europe's war destitute.

Washington, Sept. 25.—(AP)—Administration officials have a ready answer these days for pleas for Europe's war destitute.

It is "Let's feed and clothe America first."

Agriculture Department officials expect the United States to be urgently confronted this winter with the question of whether it should make charitable gifts of large quantities of food and clothing to the peoples of such invaded countries as France, Belgium, The Netherlands and Norway.

Food Shortage

They base this expectation on apparently reliable reports that these countries face serious shortages and possibly starvation as a result of war destruction of crops and the British blockade against imports by Germany and Italy and military control of shipping.

Milo Perkins, the department's director of marketing, says that "we are going to hear more and more about solving the surplus problem of the American farmer by feeding and clothing the unfortunate peoples of the European continent."

While sympathetic toward Europe's unfortunate Perkins, like most other agricultural department leaders, are discouraging proposals to ship surplus to the war zone.

"If we have any tears to shed for the hungry of the world, let us first look at this problem of continental European hunger through a telescope we ought to look at the problem of underconsumption right here at home through a microscope."

Living on Inadequate Diets

Officials explain upwards of 20,000,000 Americans now receiving some form of public assistance are living on inadequate diets.

Perkins said that from the national defense standpoint alone, the country should give its low-income families a more adequate diet.

"We would have to produce more poultry products, more meat and more fruits and vegetables to meet the demand," he said.

Viewing the European food problem from the standpoint of international politics and the American preparedness program, farm officials express the fear that food sent to Nazi-occupied countries would aid a "potential enemy."

"Must Be Hard-Headed"

"If we ourselves intend to survive," said Perkins, "we must be hard-headed enough to make our own health defenses impregnable. Only then can we safely help to lift the heavy burden of those who are suffering because of Nazi brutality in other lands."

Agriculture Department officials say the country now has the machinery to distribute food to those who are suffering because of Nazi brutality in other lands.

Under the stamp plans, the department distributes buying stamps in the form of government-issued stamps, among the newly purchased of designated surplus food and cotton products through retail channels. Under the stamp program, the government makes foods available to schools in low-income areas for free lunches for children. The mattress program distributes materials free of charge among needy for making bedspreads.

$200,000,000 Available

The department has about $200,000,000 available to finance these programs this fiscal year. This will be sufficient, officials said, to extend benefits of these programs to only 6,000,000 of the estimated 9,000,000 school children of low-income families.

Officials say it was probable that the next Congress would be asked to appropriate between $400,000,000 and $500,000,000 for such programs.

"We are spending billions to defend ourselves with guns so that we can have peace through preparedness," Perkins said. "We afford the extra few hundred million it will take to build up our health defenses."

Old Country Fair Is Being Revived

Avon, Sept. 25.—The old country fair, long an established institution in this country, will be revived in all its glory this week with the reopening of the Avon park fair here Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

A diversified, well-balanced program has been arranged for the fair at this century-old fairgrounds, one of the most picturesque spots in the state, and the attractions.

In addition to harness horse racing, daily band concerts by the guided New Departure band, fireworks nightly, automobile stunts, a spectacular vaude-

Overnight News Of Connecticut

Waterbury—Whitney Price, 27, contempts in Prospect, pleaded innocent when arraigned in Superior court on two statutory charges involving a 21-year-old Negro and elected a court trial, the date for which will be set later.

Hartford—A large truck-load of exhibits used last year in the Waterbury conspiracy trial arrived here and was stored in the Superior court building where the appeal of Former Mayor Frank Hayes and 13 others who were convicted with him will be heard. Arrangements are being made to bring arguments on the appeal on Oct. 22, but the case may go over to the November term if counsel are unprepared on the October date.

New Haven—Walter J. Bayless, 72, died of a fractured skull at the home of his wife, Mrs. M. M. Bayless, after a fall from a concrete pad yesterday. Bayless, whom Dr. Scarborough, dentist, examined, was taken to the hospital for treatment and was left alone in the room for a moment.

Ivoryton—The body of George Willis, 35, was found hanging in the attic of his home here, surrounded by a rafter by his wife, Mrs. Willis, who discovered the body after she returned home from work and found her four-year-old daughter locked in the house.

Pittsford—William Simons, superintendent of the State Prison, killed Earl Mirkovich last Aug. 14 while attempting to arrest him, was arrested on a bench warrant charging manslaughter. Simons, held criminally responsible for the death in Corner Louis Woodard's drug store, was seeking Mirkovich on complaint of the latter's brother-in-law.

Believes Congress Session May Last Until Christmas

Washington, Sept. 25.—(AP)—Christians replaced the coming week-end in some adjournment forecasts today, and opponents of the controversial Logan-Walter bill conceded that the Senate would take up and probably pass the measure if Congress remained in session.

Senator Milton of Indiana, Democratic whip and a foe of the Logan-Walter legislation, said it appeared to him that, barring early adjournment, opponents probably would be able to force consideration and eventual passage of the bill, which would impose new legal curbs on the decisions of such governmental agencies as the Labor Relations Board.

That Congress might be here until Christmas was the opinion of Senator Barkley of Kentucky, Democratic leader, who told the House yesterday he was informed that the House of Representatives at the present moment would not vote to adjourn, and might not even agree to a post-election recess.

"If it does not vote to adjourn and does not vote to recess," he said, "it will be in session continuously until Christmas."

Senators' Agreement On Delay

Barkley made this prediction in the course of an attempt to get Logan-Walter supporters to agree to delay Senate action until the middle of October, when a report could be obtained from a special committee appointed by the attorney general to study the procedure of administrative agencies by permitting anyone to "walk in off the street" to challenge such procedure in the courts. Once the courts had ruled, he contended, the agency would be bound by that ruling while those who had cases before it could challenge the procedure again and again.

Steals Judge's Pen

Bellevue, Ill.—If caught, the thief who took a set of fountain pens off the judicial bench in circuit court may have to do some fancy explaining to get off with a light sentence. The pens, an electric typewriter and a pocket watch, were stolen by Judge Maurice V. Joyce and victory gift was priced at $100.

Ottawa Rents Double Price

Canada's War-Time Capital Jammed with New Residents.

Ottawa—(Correspondence of The Associated Press)—Canada's war-time capital has become a boom town, jammed with new residents drawn here by war-work assignments or business interests stemming from the war.

As a result, many inhabitants have been boomed out of their homes by rising rents, and feeling has risen against landlords accused of gouging.

Rents in some cases have jumped as much as 100 per cent, and even those willing to pay higher prices are unable to find suitable quarters.

Situation Serious

Hapless house-hunters know their predicament cannot be taken too tragically at a time when millions overseas are sleeping in cellars. Nevertheless the situation has become so serious—not only in Ottawa but in other administrative, war-training or war production centers—that the government has taken a hand in it, authorizing the war-time prices and trade board to "provide safeguards" against unjustified booms of rents.

Meanwhile, property-owners are doing what they can to meet the feverish demand for shelter. Work is rushed on new houses and apartment-blocks, old buildings are being re-modified or renovated, and long-neglected basements are being transformed into flats.

More Volunteers May Cut Size of First Draft Quota

Washington, Sept. 25.—(AP)—Voluntary Army enlistment offers pouring into selective service headquarters today indicated that a sizeable part of the first compulsory service quota of 600,000 men might be filled without a draft.

Recalling that 435,000 men volunteered from April through August in 1937, selective service officials anticipated in the coming weeks a rush of men anxious to complete this year's training and be done with it.

Selective service officials pointed to the comparatively meager inquiries already received at state offices. Army recruiting centers, newspaper offices, and headquarters here, in New York, for example, special military police had to be called out yesterday to handle a crowd of 700 young men seeking to enlist.

Typical Inquiry From Lawyer

A typical inquiry was from a local lawyer who wanted to put his military service behind him in order that he might take up legal practice later without fear of being drafted.

Such a plan was outlined yesterday by the Adjutant General's Association and the Executive Committee of the National Guard Association.

Dozier said that Governor Maybank would declare a school holiday in South Carolina on registration day and open the schools for draft registrations.

Dozier said that school teachers generally might be better trained and qualified than election officials to fill out the draft registration cards and registration certificates.

Original selective service plan called for 700,000 or more election officials to serve as registrars for one day in 125,000 election precincts.

Residents of Argentina have asked for sets of the cards to avoid mention of "blacklist." His idea, explained the sponsor, was to show where the various brands originated, and let the buyer take his choice.

Dangerous Soap

Minnesota.—Edward Murphy became a casualty July 17 in a bathtub scolding his leg. He ran the soap down his leg and fell a sharp pain. He had failed to take a razor blade stick to the soap. The result was a severe laceration.

Increases Nearly Offset

The Bureau reported that increases in state and county jobs had been all but offset by declines in municipal employment.

More than half of all state employees were accounted for by highway maintenance, public works, construction and operation of state hospitals.

About one-fifth were occupied in general administrative, legislative and judicial service, and the remainder in education, conservation of natural resources.

The Bureau noted that state payrolls had increased about 14 per cent during the 10 years ending in 1939, while the Federal payroll gained 50 per cent; county pay, 17 per cent, and city pay 9 per cent.

The cards, postcard size, and in packets of 11 covered by a transparent envelope, are accumulated versions of the British official "buyless" designed to discourage purchases of products originating in the countries of Great Britain's enemies, Germany and Italy.

Question Confined Before

During the early months of the war the blackout question became a confused one due to misunderstanding of brand names and origins of many products. Then some astute official thought of appealing to pre-British women.

Long, cumbersome lists were distributed in that language, and the cards, neatly printed on both sides, packed in the transparent envelope for convenient use.

Each card lists brand names of goods by the country of origin. The divisions include "Britannico" (United States), "Germano" (Germany), "Norteamericano" (Japan), and "Argentino" (Argentina).

Willkie Hits Price Talk

Promises Westerner as Secretary of Interior If He Is Elected.

Abroad Willkie Train en route to Fargo, N. D., Sept. 25.—(AP)—Wendell L. Willkie, contending that a 1937 price statement by President Roosevelt had created a "disaster" effect on world economy, gave the war a campaign pledge to appoint a westerner as secretary of the interior if he is elected.

The Republican presidential nominee, speaking on the "rich hill in the world" in Butte, Mont., said last night: "In April 1937 when the (business) pickup was coming, the president made a price statement of the interior if he is elected."

He estimated that 15 per cent of the original costs of the system would not recur, and that appropriations for later years consequently would dwindle.

Advocates Teachers Do Registration Work

Washington, Sept. 25.—(AP)—State selective service officers attending conferences here today expressed interest in a proposal to have school teachers rather than election officials, register the estimated 16,400,000 men of draft age.

Such a plan was outlined yesterday by the Adjutant General's Association and the Executive Committee of the National Guard Association.

Dozier said that Governor Maybank would declare a school holiday in South Carolina on registration day and open the schools for draft registrations.

Recover Body Of One Flier

Immediate Identification of Plane Crash Victim Not Possible.

Jacksonville, Fla., Sept. 25.—(AP)—A weary salvage crew working by improvised lighting in muddy swamps near Woodbine, Ga., early today recovered the body of one of three Army men who crashed to their deaths in an observation plane Friday night.

Immediate identification of the body was not possible because it was being brought here by ambulance.

In the plane when it plunged deep into mud were Brig. Gen. Francis W. Honegott, commander of Fort Bragg, N. C. Camp George F. Kahoe, the pilot, and Radioman-Mechanic Robert J. Schmidt.

Salvage operations continued under direction of Capt. F. H. Stocka, who led the search for the plane over the week-end. The plane was on a route to Jacksonville from Bragg when it fell.

The remote site of the crash and the muddy nature of the swamps have added to the difficulties of salvage operations. Hope was held, however, that the remaining bodies would be recovered today.

Chicago, who spent all of his mature life in Chicago.

"With all that power concentrated in Washington and with no understanding of the atmosphere of the people of this far western country, he has not appreciated the necessity of the people here being given proper regulation."

On Willkie's speech scheduled today were platform talks at Miles City, Mont., and Dickinson, S. D., and Fargo, N. D. Tomorrow will be campaign through South Dakota, Minnesota and Iowa, concluding the day with an evening farm drama at Omaha, Neb.

Listens To Working Men

Willkie who speaks on his western tour have been largely directed to the working man, got a taste of working men talking in his yesterday.

As the Willkie special train left Spokane 10 North Idaho work men, elected by fellow employees to contact the nominee, boarded the Willkie car along with state party leaders.

"The very fact that the president had enough power in his hands that he more statement could have caused such a rapid decline in the price of copper, I say to you, is very detestable to our democratic economy."

"For instance, if Grover Cleveland had made such remark, it would not have affected the price of copper, because he did not have enough power to do anything about it. But in the last seven years we have concentrated much power in Washington."

Will Appoint Westerner

Willkie then told his hearers that he would appoint to the interior post in his cabinet, in event of his election "a man from the western country who grew up in it and understands the atmosphere of the west."

Before his address, Willkie jarred through the Butte business district, which is built atop a section of copper mines. He and Mrs. Willkie both wore heavy coats because of the cold night air.

"You have in this section great areas of public lands," Willkie said. "These public lands in many cases belong to the Federal government, and are administered from Washington. We have had a secretary of the interior who grew up in

Public Jobs Gain Shown

Census Bureau Estimates Increase in Number of Employees.

Washington, Sept. 25.—(AP)—The Census Bureau estimated today that the number of state, county and city government employees in 1939 was 2,000,000 more than in 1938.

The increase nearly offset declines in state and county jobs had been all but offset by declines in municipal employment.

All Important Dakar
 Two weeks ago, if the Dakar affair had transpired then, it could scarcely have commanded a fraction of the world attention it is now receiving, though its actual significance would have been no less than now. The thoughts of all people, everywhere, were centered on the Battle of Britain.
 That so large a part of those thoughts have so quickly been diverted to the drama of Dakar seems to reflect a very general impression that the threat of an immediate Nazi conquest of Britain has been largely dispelled. It is for that reason, apparently, that the conflict at the African port is being attended at something like its real value.
 It is not at all impossible that upon the control of Dakar may hinge the control of Africa, the fate of Mussolini's effort to reach the Suez Canal, the success or failure of the Free-French movement in the French African colonies, even the question of a vast upheaval in Russia itself.
 As this is written there comes from Vichy an unconfirmed report that Dakar has surrendered to the British-French forces. It is in the moment of greatest interest the report is a reliable one or not, but it is noteworthy that, at the hour when Britain was threatening the most dire punishment to all Frenchmen who moved a finger in aid of the Free-French leader De Gaulle, his government was pointing out the "overwhelming" nature of the powerful British naval forces at Dakar and the little flotilla of French warships there—possibly by way of preparation for later news of a surrender.
 If the surrender has been made as it is being presently reported, it would be the most effective blow of the war—all have been struck prospect of ultimate Axis victory.

A Bit Too Inclusive
 We are taking the liberty of withholding from publication a letter written to The Herald by a citizen for the sincerity of whose patriotism we have the highest respect, but whose discretion we somewhat doubt. It is no hidden behind anonymity but signs his name, as bold as did John Hancock to the Declaration of Independence.
 Our correspondent is duly impressed by the dangers implicit in the German system of infiltration.
 He regrets that German agents are so often undetectable. "But," he says, "one thing is certain—the main body of people of German descent, and the only way to have most effect in checking their activities is to quarantine all of German descent."
 He thinks that loyal Americans of German descent should have more reason to object to the "quarantining" than should patients quarantined in a hospital where some dread disease has been discovered," even if many of the patients have not been exposed to the contagion.
 "What strikes us most forcibly about this letter is its writer's declaration that he advocates the segregation of all German descent persons despite the fact that he has several close in-law relatives whose forebears were German.
 He says: "I assume that the consideration of these remarks regardless of the spot it puts me in."
 Our friend says he dearly hopes to retain his German descent and his German in-laws and he has no more because of his beliefs than he is willing to part company with them or any other

Airport Cornerstone to Be Laid at Washington Today

Washington, Sept. 25.—The cornerstone of George Washington's adopted son's new airport, a striking example of what man can do with $12,000,000 and the bottom of a river, had something of a coming-out party today with the thousands of the most outstanding citizens of the city.
 The chief executive, who on Nov. 19, 1938, watched workers start dragging 1,250,000 cubic yards of earth and gravel from the bed of the historic Potomac river, drew the historic of getting the cornerstone into place for the terminal building of one of his pet projects.
 Mr. Roosevelt will schedule to speak briefly (at 3:30 p. m., e. a. l.) Formal Dedication in December.
 While considerable ceremony marks the exercises today, the 23-acre airport will not be completed and formally dedicated until Dec. 17, the 37th anniversary of the first flight of the Wright brothers at Kittyhawk. The great building will be placed on an area where the river used to flow two feet wide.
 The master microphone designed for the auditorium will be placed on a rise of ground beneath a nearby hill on which stood "Abingdon," the birthplace of Nellie and George Washington Parke Custis, grand-

Wallace Warns Of Reckoning

Sees Roosevelt as Better Fitted to Meet Problem Caused by Peace.
 Theater-Goes of Connecticut will have the thrill of a lifetime when George Wallace's original Scandals come to the stage of the State theater in Hartford for a 5 day engagement starting this Thursday, September 26th. Hailed by everyone as the most outstanding of all of George Wallace's mailed extravaganzas, the record-setting road edition comes to the State theater after a star-breaking year on Broadway. New York's famous columnist, Walter Winchell said: "This is the fastest and funniest show made by the flying field of Wall street reporter, posing as a business man."
 "If the dictators are defeated and peace comes we are bound to lose interest in military drama," the Democratic vice presidential nominee told a municipal auditorium crowd estimated at 2,000 by Eugene Zackman, auditorium manager.
 "For a day like the great day of Nov. 11, 1918, everything will look rosy."
 "We have at this time a general man who is likely to follow, which we all know is likely to follow, will be caused by sudden stoppage in price. It will be prosperity going into reverse."
 "Will Need Many Things"
 "If the right kind of peace comes it will be possible to close down a large part of our defense program. But the more fundamental elements of national strength will need serious attention. We shall still need to protect our soil against wind and water we shall still need to protect our program of social security especially for old people."
 "We shall still need to overcome the drift toward farm tenancy by a larger farm security, develop further our methods of distributing farm products and cheap electricity and other benefits to American consumers."
 "All these civilian programs are a kind of national defense. They supply a sound material foundation for permanent prosperity."
 "When peace comes our children are not going to have to work hard to make up for what we have spent on defense. The danger is that they may not have enough to do."
 "It is a danger that cannot be understood by the average Wall street operator posing as a business man. If such persons were to give the leadership of our government."
 Floating rocks are found in the Swiss Alps. They are a form of asbestos.

By John Dos Passos
Author of "U. S. A.", "The Big Money", "Adventure of a Young Man", etc.

Yes, we are in danger; but the danger that threatens us most is not from across the Atlantic; it is the danger that comes from poor thinking and incomplete organization at home. The breaking of the 19th century system has brought about a transition. We have no choice but to go forward, if necessary, from a state of chaos to a state of order. It is not a matter of economic whim or caprice, as eventually set up, it is a matter of survival. The individual man that all our institutions have grown up to be, is now being replaced by a new type of man, a man who is not only a citizen but a worker, a man who is not only a worker but a citizen.

Hold Everything

BY CLYDE LEWIS

The Boy Scouts have a rule that they must do one kind deed each day. Just once each day they must do some little thing to make someone else a bit happier. Certainly one thing a boy could do would be to do something for someone else. It would be a fine idea if every young person would pledge himself to do one such thing each day.

It is better to avoid a quarrel if possible. Broken friendships may be patched up but the patch is likely to show.

Most of us, being well-intentioned, usually find on checking back that our neglects are worse than our offenses—but neglects are often plenty bad.

The local unit serving as Company Clerk and Supply Sergeant during his service, Mutual Aid, has been discharged because of dependency.

It is a civic courage and civil liberty that will bear the European and Asiatic bogys abroad and at home.

Daily Pattern

Tailored, For Large Women

Pattern 8748
This fall is a wonderful season for large women, with the emphasis on column-align lines that look better on them than on anyone, and here's a dress (8748) that proves it! All the lines are straight up and down and clean-cut, the skirt is slim-fitted, with controlled fullness for comfortable walking. The collar is finished with a deeply notched collar, and the two widest points at the waistline do their bit toward enhancing the slenderizing effect.

Sense and Nonsense

Alimony is part of the high cost of leaving.

Simpson (relating his experience in India)—I was taking my usual morning dip when I spotted three gladiators making love, so I had to swim for my life!

Johnson—Gladiators? Why, they're sort of flower grown from bulbs.

Once Each Day
The Boy Scouts have a rule that they must do one kind deed each day. Just once each day they must do some little thing to make someone else a bit happier. Certainly one thing a boy could do would be to do something for someone else. It would be a fine idea if every young person would pledge himself to do one such thing each day.

Education

Every man profits by two kinds of education—that which is given to him, and that which he gives himself. . . . Of the two, the latter is the most valuable. . . . For it is his own destiny that he must work out for himself, and conquer for himself.

Hotel Manager (to visitor)—I trust we shall be able to make you feel quite at home.

Visitor—Don't trouble yourself, I don't want to feel at home. That's why I came here.

There are still quite a few towns that are not getting a fair break because they have two or more starling newspapers when one good one would really creditably represent them. Towns are judged by the kind of newspapers they have.

Man—Is there a blithering fool at the end of this line?
Cool, Feminine Voice—Not at this end.

Stories in Stamps

Carol Lutes Throner, Still Roles Stamp

CAROL of Rumania has surrendered her crown, fled his country, but he remains king of stamps. The former king, pictured above on a semi-postal issue honoring the 10th anniversary of his accession, has had his portrait on some 30-odd Rumanian stamps, more than any other ruler of a single, independent nation. If issues of colonial possessions are counted, George IV of the British Empire is phylax's No. 1 man.

Branford Strikers Return to Work

Branford, Sept. 25.—(AP)—Employees of the Malleable Iron Fittings Company, on strike since July 26, went back to work today under a contract providing for a five percent increase in pay and a strike's vacation with pay each year.

The company, in announcing last night that an agreement had been reached with the Iron Workers Organizing Committee of the CIO and a contract signed, said that the question of a closed shop had been dropped during the negotiations.
