$200 Monthly Salary Set As Wage-Hour Yardstick

Washington, Oct. 14.—(AP)—A $200 monthly salary has been set by the Wage-Hour Administration as one of the yardsticks in regulations governing the minimum wages of executive, administrative, professional, managerial, clerical, sales, and outside sales employees of the home regulations of the labor standards law.

The new regulation, in effect, defines the official definition of certain of these classes not to be overtime for work in excess of 40 hours a week if they receive a regular salary of $200 or higher.

The revised rules, however, do not apply to persons earning $200 a month or more whose work does not come under these special classifications.

Effective Oct. 21

The rules are effective Oct. 21, when 40 hours becomes the standard work week for all workers covered by the wage-hour law. The maximum work week of 40 hours will be estimated to estimate how many persons would be affected by the revised rules.

Most interstate commerce activities will be affected, officials say.

In brief, the revised definition are as follows:

Executive: An employee paid at least $20 a week, who has the power to hire and fire, and who does not perform a manual or clerical work performed by non-exempt employees.

Alleged Theft Case Put Over

Continuation until Wednesday of 46 Hopkins street, Hartford, charged with theft of fishing gear from Clifford Villa of 28 Cooper street, as the police are seeking one couple of the alleged thieves.

(The entry of German troops into Romania brought an evident reaction in Moscow and reports of the handling of Russian troops, guns and ships in Bessarabia were not heard in the Russian capital.)

The British legation announced that Alexander Miller, director of the appropriated Astra-Roman Company, had been released and cleared of suspicion of attempted sabotage.

Charles H. Milled

The case of David McCarrion of Talcoville, charged with theft of $750 from his wife last Saturday, was nolleed on recommendation of the state's attorney.

McCarrion was in court yesterday and was ordered to contribute to the cost of the facilities for which a consideration will be paid. These employees must not be paid more than 20 per cent of the type of work done by non-exempt employees, and outside sales is not to be regarded as non-exempt work.

No special salary provisions were fixed.

There are approximately 60,000 employees on the weekly payroll of aviation manufacturers.

Balkans Fear War Spread; Moves Eyed

Italian diplomatic comment directed to the Balkans by an official German news agency suggested that Germany, having undertaken to place its army in the Balkans, might also find it necessary to place its army in the Balkans.

The same comment termed Turkey's attitude "menaceful."

Whatever Russia's reasons for moving into the Balkans would be accepted as a critical factor for military penetration of neighboring Rumania.

Italy's military penetration of neighboring Rumania, which was the first official response to reported mounting Axis pressure for military concessions in the Balkans, was the first official response to reported mounting Axis pressure for military concessions in the Balkans.

Czechoslovakia urged national unity of the Balkans, and the period in the country was identified as a period of military penetration of neighboring Rumania.

The organization in his home on Tuesday afternoon, the American Legation in the Balkans, was the first official response to reported mounting Axis pressure for military concessions in the Balkans.

Charles Rika of Russian agent, recently returned from the Balkans, said that the Balkans were in a state of confusion.

South Church Closes 150th Anniversary

Rev. Dr. Story Speaks At Morning Services And Bishop Welch in Evening; His Sermon

Closing services of the 150th anniversary of the South Methodist church were held yesterday. At 10:45 a. m. Dr. Story, preaching from "Am Your Church," gave a stirring outline of its history and called attention to the privileges and responsibilities of the members of today. A Hymn "O God, Thy Service was the reception of new members. The Cecilia Club, directed by Mrs. M. J. Brainerd, provided the music. Their numbers were 26. Festal services followed at 7:30 p. m. Bishop Welch presided and gave the invocation. His sermon, "The Church as a Living Organism," was a study of the church's growth and development. He said the church is not a static institution but a living organism that must grow and change to meet the needs of its people. The services were held in a church that has been the center of the community for 150 years.

Powerful German Raider Derman

German planes were reported to have been seen over the Connecticut coast yesterday. The raider was seen by several observers and was reported to be flying at a high altitude. The planes were seen in the vicinity of the coast and were believed to be on a reconnaissance mission. The incident occurred in the afternoon and the raider was not seen to land or drop any bombs. The sighting was reported to the authorities and the coast guard was alerted. The raider was believed to be a German bomber plane and was thought to be on its way to a target in the area.
