

Drive Is Launched To Speed Pending Bills in Assembly

Surley and Floor Leaders Spar; Governor Rapidly Cleans Up Long Calling List to Confer on Early Hearings on Chief Bills.

State Capitol, Hartford, Feb. 11.—(P)—With Gov. Robert A. Hurley and floor leaders as a spearhead, a drive was launched today with the start of a new legislative week to speed up consideration of more than 2,500 bills before the General Assembly. The chief executive, himself faced with one of the busiest days of his term, rapidly cleaned up a long calling list to confer with legislative leaders on early committee hearings on major legislation.

He told newspapermen that if later conferences might be called of all committee chairs.

To discuss New Haven fire. Included in the governor's list of calls was Joseph M. To, special investigator of the Federal Labor Department. The governor said he had requested an appointment with him to discuss last week's fire at the plant of the New Haven Quill and Pad Company which cost ten lives.

Tone, former state labor commissioner, was assigned by Secretary of Labor Perkins to investigate the fire.

With some success suggesting legislation might result from the fire, Rep. Joseph E. Bove (D) of New Haven said he intended to study the results of the various inquiries into the tragedy to determine whether additional laws were required to safeguard against similar disasters.

Reflecting on the determination of leaders to get legislation passed as quickly as possible, both chambers swung into action today with the first session for the first time since the new legislature convened.

Plans Resuspended. Another Senate adopted a resolution suspending Lewis W. Phelps, Andover Democrat, as state auditor for another four year term at an annual salary of $4,000. The resolution was sent to the House under suspension of the rules and adopted.

In the House, Joseph W. Spencer (R) was sworn in as speaker from Westport. He succeeded...

Planes Sink Two Vessels in Canal Raid

Successful Attacks Also Carried Out on British Base at Malta and North Africa Port.

Berlin, Feb. 11.—(P)—German planes were reported today by the Nazi high command to have sunk two merchant vessels in an attack on shipping in the Mediterranean, and on a port on the Cretan coast in North Africa, the daily war bulletin said.

The date of the attack on the four Canal was not specified, but the reported ship sinkings have been verified by aerial reconnaissance, the high command declared.

"No Military Damage." The high command reported "a number of dead and wounded among the civilian population" as a result of British air attacks last night on shipping in the northern Mediterranean, including the railway center of Hannover, but said there was "no military or economic damage."

The communiqué reported a toll of 33 planes leveled on the British R. A. F. yesterday and last night, the heaviest reported in weeks. Of these 11 were said to have been destroyed in German night raids on British air ports; six shot down by German fighters and three by anti-aircraft batteries during British daylight attacks on the Channel coast, eight shot down by night fighters and four by anti-aircraft during the day.

"The communiqué reported that the high command to have thrown back attacking British troops led by tanks on the right side of the Omo river in the Upper Sudan.

Heavy artillery exchanges were reported further north in the Cheren sector in Eritrea, but there was no mention in the daily war bulletin of other fighting in that area.

Nothing new was reported from the Libyan front.

Flame Aid Italian. The communiqué said that Italian war planes had aided in repelling the British attack along the Omo river, but did not state specifically where the fighting took place.

(The Omo river flows south from central Ethiopia to enter Lake Rudolf near the junction of the Ethiopian, Sudanese and Kenya colonies. For about 50 miles north of Lake Rudolf the river follows a north and south course some 60 to 70 miles from the Sudanese frontier, then swings sharply to the east. The stream turns north again about 170 miles from the Sudanese border.)

Greeks Repel Air Assaults

Surprise Attack Drives Italians from Mountain; Losses Heavy.

Athens, Feb. 11.—(P)—Renewed Italian aerial assaults in the Trepone sector of the Albanian front were reported today, but Greek dispatches said they were repelled and four Fascist bombers probably were shot down.

The crew of one downed three-engine Italian bomber was reported to have been captured.

Reports from the northern sector said a surprise Greek attack had driven Italians from a mountain position 5,000 feet high with heavy losses.

Shelter Counter-Attack. The Fascist air offensive followed upon claims by a Greek spokesman last night that heavy sea and land battles had broken out in the central sector and inflicted heavy losses.

One Fascist column in the Kalamas sector collapsed, the spokesman said, and the Greek fighters shot down the Italian as fast as they jumped from their trenches.

The other attacks were in response to the authority either from the north or the south.

A general headquarters communiqué last night said all Greek units returned from operations in the only Italian aircraft were shot down.

Another communiqué reported a few civilian deaths and minor property damage from scattered Italian air raids yesterday.

British Raid Rail Center At Hannover

Bomb German City for Six Hours in Heaviest Of Series of Assaults Over Widespread Area.

London, Feb. 11.—(P)—British bombers raided Hannover, German oil and rail center, for six hours last night in the heaviest of a series of assaults extending from Cherbourg, in northwestern France, to the German city, the Air Ministry announced today.

Fires "too numerous to count" were reported started.

More than 80 per cent of the planes engaged in the massive attack reached their objective despite dirty weather early in the night, the announcement said.

As the night wore on, the Air Ministry reported, the weather cleared somewhat and the R. A. F. stayed at its task, starting fires in the north, south and west of the target area.

Flare Bombing. Flare bombing started by the early arriving planes showed following heavy caliber explosives were scattered over the northwestern German city, the Air Ministry account said.

Another smaller R. A. F. force attacked oil installations in the dock at Rotterdam, starting large fires and explosions, and raided several other targets in northwest Germany and two airbases in Holland, the Air Ministry said.

Following up on the Rotterdam raid, the Air Ministry said, a French port again overnight with high explosives.

Still other raids were made on Cherbourg and Ostend, where returning pilots said large fires were observed.

Four Planes Missing. In all these operations, only four British planes were reported missing.

Previous announcement said heavy British attacks were made during the night on industrial and other targets in northwest Germany and German-occupied territory.

The raids continued the pounding operations in which the Royal Air Force raided northwest Germany in broad daylight yesterday and today, the Air Ministry said.

There will be a big array of British planes over East Anglia.

Legal Tangle Threatens New Subway's Operation

Chicago, Feb. 11.—(P)—The job of digging Chicago's $17,000,000 subway is 83 per cent complete but strap-hanging commuters don't know yet when or how they'll be able to ride in it.

A legal and financial tangle over proposed unification of the surface and elevated lines, to encompass the new subway operation, for years has been the despair of many an attorney, lawyer, bondholder and engineer, or groups thereof, and is still a tangle.

No Authority to Operate. Consequently no corporate entity has yet been authorized either by the courts, the city or the stock and bondholders to operate subway trains.

Nevertheless, Subway Commission build, Street work began Dec. 17, 1935. They have completed 1,238 feet of single track, or 82.3 per cent of the total, and have started on four subway stations, with 15 more on the blueprint.

Willkie Urges Giving British Destroyers; Wants Modifications

Four Persons Killed in Gas Blasts Today

Philadelphia, Feb. 11.—(P)—Three shattering gas explosions, followed by a fierce-burning fire in a row-house street of Philadelphia, killed at least four persons today and injured two scores—many of the latter spectators who poured from nearby homes after the first detonation.

The first blast hit a 2 1/2-story brick house at 1112 Greenwich street, rocking the neighborhood with a roar heard for miles. Fifteen minutes later—a hundred of terrified men, women and children stumbled into the fire-lit street—a second blast shot flames from a house directly opposite.

A three-alarm fire brought equipment from throughout the city, but too late to keep flames from destroying four more homes. Ambulances poured in along with nurses and physicians. Twenty-three persons were injured in the blasts. At least a score were treated for bruises and burns at the hospital.

Patrolman James Clark was as he rushed into a building after the first blast, overhauling the rescue. The occupants. Rescue crews brought out the bodies of three persons.

They were believed to be those of Mrs. Angelina Tretola, about 40, and her daughters, Marie, 15, and Lena, 21, whose home was wrecked. One body was found in the basement. The others were believed to be in what remained of the second floor. One, thought to be that of the mother, was entangled in wires. Firemen said she clutched a lamp cord as she collapsed.

Due to Leaky Water Pipes. The Philadelphia Gas Works Company said in a statement the explosions were primarily due to leaky water pipes which under fire melted and exposed gas mains, permitting the gas to escape.

Report Nazis Carry Troops Over Hungary

Fleets of 3-Engine Transports Seen Going in Direction of Rumania and Bulgaria.

Belgrade, Yugoslavia, Feb. 11.—(P)—Fleets of three-engine German troop transport planes were reported sighted over Hungary today, speeding southeast in the direction of Rumania and Bulgaria.

Thirty-one of the transports—three of them carrying troops—were seen flying over Budapest, reports from the Hungarian capital.

The planes were identified by military observers as transports of the type the West Army used to ferry parachute troops in campaigns in the western front.

Telephone exchanges in other Balkan capitals reported that communications with Bulgaria were cut off during the morning. They were re-established in the early afternoon, but there was no explanation of the rupture.

Military and political observers in this neutral Balkan capital expressed the belief that events were moving swiftly in southeastern Europe following Britain's capture of relations yesterday with Rumania and reports that Soviet Russia had notified Bulgaria she would not oppose a movement of German troops through Bulgaria.

Diplomatic quarters speculated whether Germany's next move would be an ultimatum to Sofia demanding the right of passage for Nazi troops or whether the German column simply would begin moving across the Danube from the Rumanian shore, where they now are massed in considerable numbers.

Explosion Shatters Tension. Tension in Bulgaria was further sharpened by the explosion yesterday of a train of 20 tank cars carrying Prisque Isle, Maine. She...

Operations in Eritrea, Ethiopia and Somaliland Are Satisfactory

Cairo, Egypt, Feb. 11.—(P)—The British Middle East command reported continued success today in its giant pincer movement aimed at squeezing the Italians out of their East African empire.

In Eritrea, Ethiopia, and Italian Somaliland, operations in all sectors continued to develop satisfactorily, a GHQ war bulletin said.

For the first time in days it made no mention of new operations on the North African front in Libya.

Navy May Take Hand. The British foothold on the Red Sea coast in Eritrea suggested the military observers today that the Royal Navy may take a hand for the first time in the East African campaign.

Chiefs of the little port of Massala, the observers said, were the British base from which they could attempt a new drive south along the Eritrean coastal plain under the protecting guns of British warships.

Massala is about 60 miles north of the Sudanese border and 140 miles north of Massala—important Red Sea port and rail center for which is the ultimate objective of British troops through the very center of Eritrea.

They apparently stalled. The latter drive apparently still was stalled today in the vicinity of Cheren, rail center 70 miles west of Massala, where the Italian garrison was being retrained for the first time in the Eritrean campaign.

Observers have believed that any British thrust down the Eritrean coast from Massala would be accompanied by a parallel drive from the Sudanese border.

Death of Red General Called Biggest Story

Washington, Feb. 11.—(P)—Urging passage of the British aid bill "with modifications," Wendell L. Willkie proposed to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee today that the United States should furnish five to ten destroyers a month.

The 1940 Republican presidential nominee declared in a prepared statement that Britain needs both "immediate" and "long term" assistance.

As an example of "immediate aid," he told the committee that "if we do not aid Britain effectively, we should provide her with five to ten destroyers a month."

Should Be Able To Act Swiftly. "We should be able to do this directly and swiftly rather than through the rigamarole of dubious legislative interpretations."

"Incidentally, if we are to make more destroyers available to Britain, we should reconduct them from this country in our own yards."

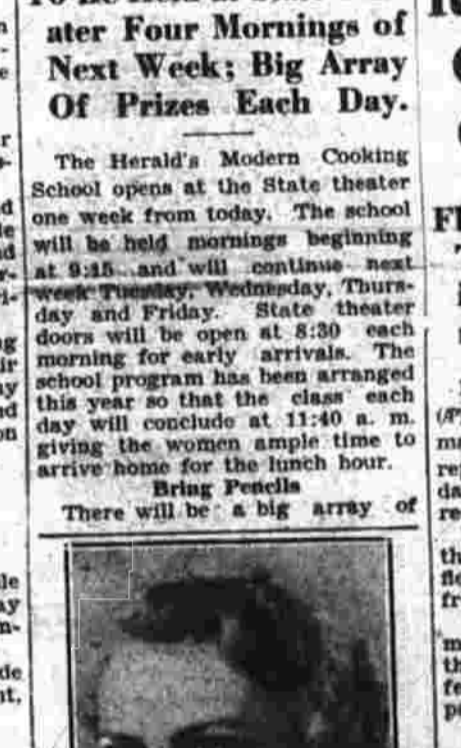

As for modifications, Willkie said it would be "wise" to limit the proposed aid to the British Commonwealth, China and Greece.

Willkie told the committee that he considered the legislation "one of the most important facts and one we should reconduct them from this country in our own yards."

Would Destroy Liberties. Willkie said he believed a policy of "immediate" aid would destroy civil liberties in the United States.

Mr. and Mrs. Nick Brown of Fargo, N. D. are the proud parents of these four youngsters—three boys and (upper right) a girl. Although the babies are several days old, they haven't been named yet. Dr. W. E. G. Lancaster, the babies' physician, made these candid shots.

Committee Life Extended. Washington, Feb. 11.—(P)—The House voted overwhelmingly today to give the Dies Committee another 15 months in which to investigate un-American activities after dramatically withdrawing from the second a speech by Representative Dickstein (D. N. Y.) accusing the committee of favoring Fascist groups.

Dickstein had told the House that 119 Fascist organizations have the "key to the back door" of the Dies Committee.

To Try to End Fighting. Saigon, French Indo-China, Feb. 11.—(P)—Major General Rabahin Soule, head of the Japanese military mission in Indo-China, flew from Saigon to Bangkok today. French sources said he went to try to end continued fighting along the Thailand-Indo-China border.

Although an armistice signed here Jan. 21, ostensibly ended four months of border warfare, an announcement by Indo-China authorities declared today that French forces had "repeatedly seriously violated the armistice since the signing, attacking French positions almost daily."

Selectmen Finally Decide to Defer Action Until a Further Investigation is Made.

The Board of Selectmen last night heard plenty from residents of several local streets in the course of a public hearing which was called for the purpose of discussing sewer assessments in connection with the proposed new sewerage system.

Several taxpayers asserted that before they were charged with the cost of the sewerage system, they should be permitted to see the plans for the sewerage system.

On Courtland street there was much discussion of the proposed sewerage system. The selectmen decided to defer action until a further investigation is made.

The manner in which the American public had taken to the book is the reason for the film producer's unparalysed responsibility on the film producer.

Canadian Equipment Great Aid to Empire

Merchant tonnage, and destruction of our transatlantic shipping lines which are not considered abundant in Canada, is a privilege which is being used by the British Empire.

The means that Britain will concentrate on production of fighters and bombers which can fly across the Atlantic instead of being shipped to Europe.

The invariable appetite of a Great War is illustrated in one detail of Canada's war production. Contracts of the Department of Munitions and Supply call for delivery of nearly 1,000,000 machine-gun cartridges annually.

Another phase, production of chemicals and explosives, dwarfs anything attempted by Canada in the past. The 1941 output of explosives, says Munitions Minister Brown, will be nearly equal to Canada's entire explosive output in 1939-40.

Plants Ready By August. Most of the new chemicals and explosives plants will be in production by July or August. One of them, already in production, is scheduled to produce more of a certain essential explosive in one year than all Canadian plants produced in 1939-40.

Some 15,000 men now are employed on construction of new plants. In addition to projects financed by the government under its $100,000,000 chemical and explosive program, a large production of explosives, chemical and petroleum products is being obtained from private industry.

Little of Canada's potentiality for great war production will be available in time for the spring outbreak of war's fury, if that outbreak comes as soon as some British and American leaders have predicted. In a long war, however, the productive capacity of 1942 and 1943 might be a decisive factor. So Canada keeps right on building as well as producing.

As long as we keep on wanting these things—keep on demanding them—there's no danger of losing our freedom. We may be the wrong candidate, pass the wrong law or buy the wrong brand of overalls once in a while, but as long as we have the right to criticize and to compete, the right to have
