Milkmen Here Scan Problems

Shortage of Bottles and Saving in Gasoline Use Is Discussed in Session.

Increasing difficulty in securing additional supplies of glass milk bottles was one of the highlights of a discussion held here last night by local milk dealers who, acting on suggestion of the Chamber of Commerce, met to talk over their problems.

The main point of consideration was the shortage of bottles and the saving in gasoline use.

It was said that almost as much gasoline has to be burned in the making of collections from customers as is used in making deliveries.

The dealers have agreed to ask public co-operation in the elimination of extra service calls, and in the collection of bills.

E. J. McCabe, executive vice president of the Chamber said today that it seems a large patriotic effort here will save a sizeable quantity of motor fuel.

On the container problem, dealers asserted they have an un-realized amount of bottle loss and overages to replace each week.

Recently replacement orders have been filled very slowly, and to help it, it is asked that customers conserve bottles as much as possible.

The use of paper containers is also out, it is said, since various types of paper products used in the making of composition milk containers is also hard to get now.

After the eruption of Mount Vesuvius in 79 A. D., the city of Pompeii was lost for 1800 years.

Great Walkout Averted Today

A committee of CIO employees there voted to strike September 1 unless the company agrees to collective bargaining election. The CIO claims 3,000 of the plant's 4,300 employees.

Five foremen at the strike-bound titanium pigment plant of the National Lead Company at St. Louis, Mo. were forced to resign for food in the plant cafeteria. Since Saturday night the foremen, assigned to guard the property, have not ventured out for fear that CIO pickets would not permit them to re-enter. The picketing party is expected to return to the plant today.

The union is striking for recognition as collective bargaining agent.

The Federal Shipbuilding and Dry Dock yards at Kearny, N. J. hummed again, with the Navy in charge after a 10-day CIO strike. Under Rear Admiral Harold G. Bowen, the new boss, 17,000 men worked to complete $440,000,000 of vital ship construction.

No action has been taken on the offer of L. H. Kordorff, company president, to sell the entire business to the government. The plant was taken over to end a deadlock between management and union on the latter's demand for a maintenance of union membership agreement.

In New York, some 32,000 dressmakers return to their jobs today after a one-day shutdown ordered by the United Popular Dress Manufacturers and the United Retail Dress Manufacturers' associations in a dispute with jobbers over the appointment of an industry-wide 10 per cent wage increase.

The manufacturers' union, claiming the jobbers wanted them, threw the burden of the increased labor cost on the jobbers. Harry D. Miller, impartial chairman of the industry, presided over the pending final settlement of the dispute.

Russia Tells Japs Of U. S. Shipments

Shipment by the United States to Vladivostok of goods purchased by the Soviet Union, such as oil and gasoline, is creating an extremely delicate and difficult situation for Japan because these goods have to pass in the proximity of Japanese territory.

Reuters carried this Russian statement to the effect that the "official Soviet News Agency" was instructed by the Japanese ambassador in Moscow, Lieut. Gen. Takeda, to make a statement to the effect that the United States is creating a serious situation for Japan because these goods have to pass in the proximity of Japanese territory.

"In view of this fact the Japanese government is studying the question of routes and method of transport of said shipments."

Evans' Statement

"Comrade Molotov declared to the Japanese ambassador that since a similar statement had been made by the Japanese minister to the foreign affairs, Mr. Toyoda, to the Soviet ambassador in Tokyo to inform the minister for foreign affairs as follows:

"The Soviet government sees no ground for anxiety on the part of Japan in the fact that goods purchased by the Soviet Union in the United States, such as oil and gasoline which you have mentioned, will be shipped to the Soviet Union by usual trade routes, including Far Eastern Soviet ports."

"Likewise the Soviet government sees no reason on its own account for anxiety in the fact that Japan imports for her needs food from other sources."

"The Soviet government deems it necessary in this connection to state that it could not help regarding any attempt to hinder normal trade relations between the Soviet Union and the United States via Far Eastern Soviet ports otherwise as an unfriendly act to the U. S. S. R."

"The main time the Soviet government concerns that goods purchased by the Soviet Union from the United States are destined in the first place for the satisfaction of the growing needs of the U. S. S. R. in the way of connection with the defensive war imposed upon the Soviet Union as well as for agricultural needs in the Soviet Far East."

No U. S. Change In Far East

Chungking to study the Chinese needs and to facilitate the delivery of lease-lend supplies.

The phrasing of the official announcement led some to believe that closer coordination was planned in the move of forces opposed to Japanese expansion in the Orient.

Gen. Magruder Head

Brigadier General John Magruder was named as the head of the mission, but the remainder of his personnel was not immediately made known.

Talking on lease-lend logic, President Roosevelt at his press conference yesterday voiced sharp denunciation of the organized campaign which he said was being waged to sabotage the assistance program.

Mr. Roosevelt charged that the campaign was being furthered by the spreading rumors, distortions and falsehoods.

The question was raised when the President was asked for comment on reports of the misuse of lease-lend funds intended to help finance war aid to England and China. One report mentioned was that a British mission here had run up a huge bill at a Washington restaurant.

In a stern mood, Mr. Roosevelt said it was absurd to make general allegations because they were not true. It was only fair, he continued, for the press to say that such stories were rumors, distortions or plain dirty lies.

Mr. Roosevelt added that he did not want to be in the position of denying such reports, for the emphasis should be placed elsewhere. It should be said, he said, on the campaign to spread vicious rumors, distortions and falsehoods.

Mother, Tot Found Slain

Older Child and Father Seriously Cut; Think The Mother Did Deed

New York, Aug. 27.—A Brooklyn woman and three of her four children were slain, their throats slashed, and her other child and her husband were wounded similarly today, apparently, Assistant District Attorney Edward A. Heffernan said, because the entire family suffered from a contagious disease which he did not identify.

In the blood-spattered flat where the slayings occurred detectives found a note, which Heffernan said probably was written by the woman. Mrs. Mary Morry, 34, it read: "This is the best way out. Don't touch anything."

The dead children were Marcella, 7, Claire, 4, and Paul, 3. The wounded were William, Jr., 11, and his father, William, a former policeman, both taken to Methodist hospital.

Not Expected to Live

William, Jr., was not expected to live.

Neighbors said they heard screams coming from the Morry apartment at 5:30 a. m. (e. t.) and, investigating, found William, Jr., wandering about the poorly furnished flat, his head and throat bleeding.

Meanwhile, a bakery deliveryman summoned police. Radio patrolmen entered the apartment and found Mrs. Morry and the four children lying face down in the rear bedroom.

Assistant District Attorney Edward Heffernan quoted Morry, who was identified for the body, as saying: "My wife did it. My wife did it. A hatchet handle and its bloody blade were found in different parts of the flat. A small knife, blood-stained, was found near the bodies."

Labor Board Head Says Job Is Done

Washington, Aug. 27.—(AP)—Edwin S. Smith, ending his six-year term as a member of the National Labor Relations Board, told reporters today that "the big job has been done" in bringing about general acceptance of collective bargaining by labor unions.

"Even without the act now," he declared, "labor would probably succeed in organizing industry pretty generally."

He added that big business generally had accepted the principle of collective bargaining, and that while the board's docket still was bulging, most of the cases involved relatively small organizations.

Smith's term of office ended yesterday without reappointment by President Roosevelt, and informed persons said it was likely that some one outside the government service would be chosen as his successor.

Smith, a former commissioner of labor in Massachusetts, was the last of the original labor board members to go. The Congress of industrial organizations had urged his reappointment, while the American Federation of Labor opposed it.

Small Town Born, Now Heads Brokers' House

Story of Charles E. Merrill Has Business with 39 Branches, 500,000 Customers.

(Editor: Note: Paul Ganser and John Beckley of The Evening Herald's special news service have written the career of Charles E. Merrill from his small-town beginnings to head of the largest brokerage house in Wall street over his entire career. Tomorrow Merrill takes a chance.)

By Paul Ganser and John Beckley

New York, August 27.—When the year's financial history is written, a quiet little man named Charles E. Merrill will be destined to be chosen an outstanding figure in Wall street.

Chap by chap, Merrill has been putting dollars, accounts, men and firm together since 1912 in an ever-growing securities and commodity business which this month blossomed as the biggest brokerage house the street ever has seen.

The firm is Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner and Smith, which Charles Edward Merrill is the "Merrill" in the title.

The firm has a capital of more than $5,000,000.

It has 39 branch offices throughout the country.

It had 93 branch offices to latest completion, a total of 84 partners, of whom 49 are general and the rest special or limited partners.

Ten of its partners own memberships in the New York Stock Exchange.

It has 100,000 customers, of whom around 50,000 have active accounts.

The firm handles more business than any other house in the street.

The "Big Four" directing the destinies of the firm are Merrill, E. A. Pierce, Philip Russell and Charles Fenner.

But everything pyramids up to Charles Merrill who, in a span of 34 years in Wall street, not only has forged a giant brokerage house but has amassed an eight-figure fortune.

An eight-figure fortune is one of "more than $10,000,000."

Doctor's Son: Charles Merrill wasn't born rich. He was just an ordinary, unassuming boy of millions of others throughout the nation who believed in the American dream. Charles—that's his name, not Charles, so far as the financial district is concerned—was born 56 years ago in Green Cove Springs, Fla. The son of Dr. Charles Horton Merrill, a country physician.

Dr. Merrill had a good practice and the family was comfortable and not wealthy.

Once Dr. Merrill's family book of real estate in Miami had become valuable, "I sold it to get money for a better investment."

Later he told Charles: "That was the piece of real estate I sold to send you to college."

Schooling: The man who was to build Wall street's biggest brokerage firm attended Amherst college, 1904 to 1908, and graduated from the University of Michigan.

Looked back, Charles says he wasn't much of a student. He did, however, have a liking for mathematics and drank coffee. He took the courses given by Professor George Daniel Olin, who became president of Amherst. At a dinner

Says Civilians Help Morale

General Wilby Gives Example of Picnics Given Soldiers by Them.

According to an announcement made by Brig. Gen. Francis B. Wilby, First Corps Area Commander, there are reasons for the high morale found in Army posts today, and many of these are due to civilian efforts.

As an illustration, the General pointed out that private homes have been opened to soldiers at the harbor defenses of Long Island Sound. One woman, he stated, had been picnicking for 40-45 soldiers every Wednesday afternoon, and on her own expense and on her own grounds.

Other civilians throughout the State of Connecticut, many of them near the New London base, hold beach parties for the officers and their wives, and one is mentioned as having planned a party for the battery in one post winning the highest rating for the month.

There are only a few examples of the civilian aid to the military, but they are being given with the same spirit and the same heart as the military itself.

The trustees kicked off at first but they saw, not only the civilian aid to the military, but they saw the civilian aid to the military.

Prentice Talks Before Rotary

Gives Description of Experiences at F. B. I. School in Washington.

Officer Prentice of the Manchester Police, was guest speaker at Rotary last night. He gave a very interesting and enlightening talk on his experiences at the F. B. I. Training School in Washington, D. C. where he was in attendance for a month this spring.

The National Police Academy was opened in 1933 in Washington under the direction of J. Edgar Hoover. This was done to bring about better cooperation and understanding of police methods between the Federal Officers and the F. B. I. and all the other state and local law enforcement agencies.

"There were 28 men in the class of which I was a member. They came from all over the United States and one came from the Philippines. The first day that the men were assembled in a group for instruction they were read a set of rules regarding what was expected of them and it was made plain that any breaking of them would result in immediate dismissal from the group and return to their own cities."

Plan Art Week For November

Artists and Craftsmen Invited to Take Part; Hope to Top Record.

New Haven, Aug. 27.—With Connecticut the most successful among New England states in the initial National Art Week a year ago, plans for this year's Art Week, from November 17 to 23, are being formulated with artists' criticisms, art patron and other groups being invited in an effort to improve upon last year's record, if possible.

Administrator Howard R. Stubb of the Work Projects Administration, whose Art Project is promoting the program, has extended an invitation to all Connecticut artists and craftsmen to participate. Statewide and local committees are now being selected and their personnel will be announced at an early date.

A National Council, of which Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt is honorary chairman, will head the various groups along the Art Week program throughout the country. The program is designed to center public attention on American work of art and encourage the purchase of such work for every American home.

Art Week in Connecticut in 1940, sponsored by the Association of Connecticut Artists and the Connecticut Society of Craftsmen, was most successful. Forty-eight oil

14 Million Pounds Of Scrap Collected

Washington, Aug. 27.—The Office of Production Management was optimistic today that final returns from the recent aluminum collecting campaign would total 14,000,000 pounds of scrap.

When returned this will yield about 10,500,000 pounds of aluminum and that is the equivalent of a half pound per occupied dwelling which would mean 10,500,000 pounds of aluminum for the nation in the average is available. Those figures are the best showing thus far, with an average of about 2 1/2 pounds of scrap per dwelling.

Refuses to Run Against McLevy

Bridgeport, Aug. 27.—Albert L. Cole, Democratic leader, of the State Senate today informed the Bridgeport Democratic town committee that he would not be available as a candidate for mayor against Mayor McLevy, Socialist incumbent.

Mr. Cole told the committee which had urged him to accept the nomination that he had given "serious consideration" to the nomination but that the "great number of matters" that he had accumulated in his law practice during his absence of five months in the Legislature and his duties as prosecutor of the City Court combine to make him unable to accept this year.

He expressed himself as "hopeful" that some future occasion would find him available to accept such a nomination and pledged his personal support to the candidate for mayor and the entire ticket in the fall campaign.

New York Scientist Builds Army Morale

Frederick H. Osborne, Commissioned a Brigadier General from Civilian Life, Begins Job.

By Frank I. Welles

Washington, Aug. 27.—(AP)—Fred Osborne, Brigadier General, selected by President Roosevelt to build up army morale, uses the Abraham Lincoln device of telling a story each day.

Osborne, 47, general, now that you've got the job, what are you going to do about it?

Story Army rocky and vented his anger on the general.

Osborne: "Hey, Bub, gotta match."

Y.O.C.—"Nope, sorry, Bolog."

Osborne: "Pal—'Goodnight, dopie, that's general Perkins."

Osborne: "General, sir, forgive me, I didn't recognize your 'Dear divy, sir.'"

General Perkins: "Sure, don't make out ever pull on a second lieutenant."

Osborne, a private citizen whose appointment as Brigadier General went to the Senate on Aug. 19, lets the story point its own moral. He went to the office to find that he knew him best, however, say it is a great failure for discipline and simplicity in human relations.

This man, says Osborne, is something new in American military behavior. No, certainly nothing so heard as once tried by Lincoln when Soviet soldiers voted whether to obey an officer's orders, or to stand about as execution of German soldiers misapprehended of Nazi party divinity.

Nevertheless, many in this country would like to see Osborne readjust moral practices which are one and the same as the "yo-yoing" of an air playing golf near an untrained officer and at the other permit uniformed officers to thumb ride on the highway and drink in taverns with soldiers.

Some say there should be more fraternization between officers and men, considering all are in a "peace army," while others want to bring back the tough old "non-coms" to the boys into place. Gen. Hugh (no face on his name) Johnson, once called the top sergeant, "safety" and "nothing" that so long as the rank and file and him to "cuss army men was okay. There never was a soldier worth his salt, he added, who didn't grumble about something. Commentators say it is up to Osborne, a 52-year-old New York scientist and banker, to decide whether the army of the United States, with no enemy in sight, shall be a club or a hard-boiled setting machine or something else.

Never before have there been so many young Americans in uniform with no war to fight, and with comparatively few weapons to fight one with. They serve in qualitative capacity—training for theoretical national defense and for imminent combat.

When there was a quantitative objective, when ever man expected battle, no hardship was too much for Uncle Sam's soldiers to expect. Morale was high and the spirit eager. A definite duty code.

The current problem, as some see it, is to overcome a "what's the use" attitude. The morale of the troops is low. They are tired and they are not sure of their future. They are not sure of their future. They are not sure of their future.

U. S. O. Chairman Urges Naming Of Committees

Several of the organizations pledged to aid in the local USO drive to raise $4,160 have yet to name their committees, according to General Chairman Leon A. Thorp.

In order to get the campaign for the house-to-house drive under way on September 3, it is absolutely necessary that all of the teams be completed and ready for territory allocation on Friday evening when the appointed delegates will meet at the Municipal building.

Kurt Ludwig Now in Jail

Man Is Accused of Sending Information to a Foreign Nation.

Spokane, Wash., Aug. 27.—(AP)—Kurt Frederick Ludwig, accused by the government in a New York indictment of violating the Espionage Act, was in lieu of $50,000 bond, awaiting a preliminary hearing for Sept. 11.

Trained across the country by the Federal Bureau of Investigation, Ludwig was plucked from a country going and with light and easily set up facilities.

Expected to arrive soon for use in the inter-Army games next month is the Army's first rolling laboratory started with specialists and equipped to counter epidemics and similar emergencies.

While keeping pace with the Army in the field, the medical service also keeps abreast of latest proven scientific developments.

Lightning Warfare Means Tougher Job for Medicos

With the Army in Louisiana, lightning warfare means a tougher job for the medical service. Col. Robert C. McDonald, Third Army surgeon, said today the service has accepted sufficient mobility to tend wounded comrades in modern battle.

The new four-wheel drive machines bearing hospital supplies and doing ambulance duty in the Third Army maneuvers, making it possible to keep pace with all the Army's rapid mechanized advances.

"The medical service must be as fast as the rest of the army," said Col. McDonald, veteran medical officer. "We do it too, with equipment capable of tough cross-country going and with light and easily set up facilities."

Train Women Chutists To Help War Wounded

California State Guard Is Recruiting Hospital Battalion; Has Many Applicants.

Los Angeles, Aug. 27.—(AP)—The California State Guard is recruiting a hospital battalion of women parachutists to land complete ambulance sections behind battle lines.

The women will be equipped to give blood transfusions from powdered or liquid blood, also dropped from planes, and to administer other treatment to war casualties ordinarily available only at field hospitals.

"So far as I know, nothing of the sort ever has been attempted either by the United States Army or in the present war," said Maj. Frank G. Nolan, chief of the California State Guard Medical Corps. He has been placed in command of two battalions.

One of women, the other of men.

Purely an Experiment

"It's purely an experiment, of which I believe the Federal government should take cognizance. The State Guard should provide a good proving ground for the try-out."

Maj. Nolan already has received applications from half a dozen trained women parachute jumpers and from nine women holding pilot's licenses. He has enlisted 80 women of the personnel of 402 required for the four companies, one of which will consist of Negroes.

"We'll get the pick of available women, but only one in 50 will be qualified to qualify from the standpoint of physical condition and capabilities," he said. "Ten per cent of 1,000 women available are graduate nurses unavailable for the Army and Navy, which accept only untrained women as nurses."

Beauty Salon To Be Opened

Harriet's New Shop Is Ready; Takes Its Bow For Women Tomorrow

Heralded by the artisans who have just completed their work there, as the finest and most modern shop in this section, the new Harriet's Beauty Salon tomorrow takes its official bow to the women of Manchester and vicinity.

For nearly a month carpenters, electricians, painters, decorators and furniture men have been busy transforming the quarters at 126-132 Center street into this ultra-modern beauty shop. From a modest beginning at 126 Center Harriet's has progressed and enlarged at various times until the entire ground floor at 129-131 Center street is now occupied.

"They will know what to do as soon as they hit the ground," Maj. Nolan explained. "Wounded men can be given transfusions or other needed treatment on the field, thus avoiding shock incident to their removal to field dressing stations or hospitals before it is received."

Salvador Dali, Surrealist, In Market for Odd Articles

San Francisco, Aug. 27.—(AP)—The long-haired man with a thin-line moustache was sitting on the mantelpiece in his hotel room. He was wearing a bobbed lobster on his head, green goggles on his eyes and held an orchid in one hand and half a head of cabbage in the other.

It was Salvador Dali, the Spanish surrealist painter, who recently finished a series for the Ballet Russe in New York. He couldn't speak English, but he was trying to speak English to the boys and girls of the press.

"It is not a cable car climbing up the hill. It is a cucaracha (cockroach) trying to climb up the side of a bathtub. No?"

It is a novel description of a cable car, but some San Franciscans who ride them during the rush hours might agree with him.

Dinner For WPA Head

New Haven, Aug. 27.—(AP)—New Haven, Aug. 27.—(AP)—On Wednesday September 3, a testimonial dinner will be tendered Howard R. Staub, former State Manager of the Works Progress Administration, at the Hotel Taft, New Haven. The dinner has been arranged by the Contract Brokers and the employees of the H. O. L. C.

An attendance of about 300 from all parts of the State is expected. The committee organizing the dinner is composed of: James F. Corbin, James D. Kelly, John F. McCutcheon, Frank M. Murray, James F. St. George and James Thomas Sullivan.

All these were for scenery for a surrealist benefit party Dali is going to throw at a Del Monte hotel September 2 for refugee European painters. The theme will be "A Surrealist Night in an Eden in the limbo of cover and decorated with flowers and wind-draw draperies."

Such a change has been made in this popular show that it is hardly recognizable it, and yet Mrs. Harriet Nolan, owner said today the game's OK, but nearly every one's lights are always glaring in someone's eyes or beeping him awake.

"Things got so bad city officials were asked if they couldn't do something."

No, they said, there's no law regulating the height, brightness or angle for badminton lights. Only thing they could suggest was for 40 years after being buried in the soil. Seeds of wild species usually retain their vitality long. Many back if not delighted.

Many Youngsters Have More Arms

Boys and girls who are starting school for the first time this year are taking a lot of care with their arms. It is a rule in the schools of the nation that every child entering school this year will be vaccinated.

In many areas, two rooms will be closed. In the Bunce district, where an unusually large number of houses have been built in the last year and a half, there is a vacant room in the school building and it is not expected that it will be necessary to provide any additional teachers for the school.

Extra police were assigned to the car barns and bus barns and a special staff of city election employees sealed the ballot boxes and placed them aboard the buses.

A few drivers told police the tires on their buses were deflated by persons who uncrowded the valve stems, but no serious service interruptions resulted.

Provision for the employe election was included in terms of a settlement ratified by the AFL-union Sunday at the end of a five-day transportation strike which resulted from a jurisdictional dispute between the AFL and CIO unions.

Abolish Chain Gang

Ahleson, Tex., Aug. 27.—(AP)—Taylor County has abolished its chain gang.

It's a matter of economy, though, and not an experiment with prison reform. A guard and a truck has replaced two men.

He said that in view of the fact that the experienced office help in that section he probably could find her a job elsewhere.

"Lord—not yet, huh?" she replied. "I can't get used to how you talk. I better wait a few weeks till I get used to the way you talk."

Five Thousand Ballots Prepared Today to Decide on Union.

Detroit, Aug. 27.—(AP)—Ten apiece for a total of five thousand ballots were prepared today for the election to select a bargaining agent.

The vote has been held to determine whether the Amalgamated Association of Street, Electric Railway and Motor Coach Operators (AFL) or the State, County and Municipal Workers of America (CIO) will be the bargaining agent.

Balloting began at 7 a.m. yesterday and continued until 7 a.m. today, when a special staff of city election employees sealed the ballot boxes and placed them aboard the buses.

A few drivers told police the tires on their buses were deflated by persons who uncrowded the valve stems, but no serious service interruptions resulted.

Needs to Get Used To Yankee Diet

Hartford, Aug. 27.—(AP)—The State Labor Dept. today is looking for a boss who dictates letters to a southern secretary.

A young woman from Georgia applied recently at the New London branch office of the state employment service for unemployment compensation. She was a stenographer.

He said that in view of the fact that the experienced office help in that section he probably could find her a job elsewhere.

"Lord—not yet, huh?" she replied. "I can't get used to how you talk. I better wait a few weeks till I get used to the way you talk."

LABOR DAY

LABOR DAY—THE LAST HOLIDAY OF THE SUMMER SEASON is just around the corner—but this year in the National Defense Emergency it will be a real labor day for many who are working in defense industries and many of our soldier boys. The conservation of gasoline will also prevent many of us from taking our regular leisurely trips across the countryside, but it's an ill wind that blows no good and our own backyards beckon with their flower stands and baskets of gourds, beans and peas of blue (in hope) with warm sunsets to bask in before old Mrs. Winter says she's going to bed. Still, looking this week for school necessities for you and we have found several well worth your attention as well as some "specials" you'll find valuable.

1-2 cup sugar
1-2 cup peanut butter
1 egg
But together flour, baking powder, soda, salt. Combine with whole wheat flour. Cream the butter and salt; gradually add sugar and peanut butter. Beat in the egg. Add one half of the flour mixture, then molasses, then remaining flour mixture. LABOR DAY

LABOR DAY—THE LAST HOLIDAY OF THE SUMMER SEASON is just around the corner—but this year in the National Defense Emergency it will be a real labor day for many who are working in defense industries and many of our soldier boys. The conservation of gasoline will also prevent many of us from taking our regular leisurely trips across the countryside, but it's an ill wind that blows no good and our own backyards beckon with their flower stands and baskets of gourds, beans and peas of blue (in hope) with warm sunsets to bask in before old Mrs. Winter says she's going to bed. Still, looking this week for school necessities for you and we have found several well worth your attention as well as some "specials" you'll find valuable.

For the High School Lad
Young men's trousers at $2.98 and better assure you of fine material and wear when bought at Clifford's.

What shall I serve for lunch? This will fit your appetite:
Chicken Mousse
1 tablespoon gelatin in 1-4 cup cold water
3 beaten egg whites
1 cup minced chicken
1-4 tsp. pepper
1 cup boiling stock or milk
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup whipped cream
Scald stock, add beaten egg yolks, stirring constantly. Add milk and chicken and seasoning. Cool. Fold in whipped cream. Fried.

1-2 cup sugar
1-2 cup peanut butter

Add one half of the flour mixture, then molasses, then remaining flour mixture. Bake in moderately hot oven of 375 degrees for 12 minutes.

Explains Purpose Of Legion Drive

Hartford, Aug. 27.—Arthur J. Connell of Middletown, department commander of the American Legion, issued this statement today in explaining the purpose of the defense bond day which is observed tomorrow.

The basic and sole purpose of the defense bond day is to give the defense savings program useful publicity. No attempt will be made to sell bonds of stamps or other specialties or players.

The program calls for Legion exercises at the hall parks in which players will participate. The hall parks system will carry a short address. There will be music by Legion bands and drum and bugle corps and the Scouts of America will participate in the distributing of defense savings bonds literature.

"This program has the endorsement of the national executive committee of the American Legion in urging the promotion of the sale of these bonds and stamps, and as the key official of the Department of Connecticut, I ask the assistance of all in making the Legion's participation effective."

Confuse Enemy
Prestcott, Ark., Aug. 27.—The radio communications outfit of New York's 27th division has its own method of confusing the enemy's listening stations in the Arkansas war zone.

Lt. Col. John Reynolds, intelligence officer and chief of the unit, said today he was working with a group of operators who can converse fluently in Polish, Czech, German, Spanish, French and Italian.

Instead of relying upon ciphered codes, the 27th's linguists translate messages as they get them.

Some species of insects fly only one in their lifetime.

Caught Speeding

Port Carter, Mich., Aug. 27.—Corporal Heinz Greenberg, former outfielder of the Detroit Tigers baseball team, was arrested by military police at 12:30 p. m. today for speeding inside the Fort Carter grounds.

Press relations officers at the fort quoted the military police as saying Greenberg, who has his own automobile, was driving 40 miles an hour along Dickman road when the speed limit is 25 miles an hour.

As an immediate result, they explained, Greenberg automatically is "grounded"—deprived for 30 days of the privilege of driving on the Military Reservation.

Arrest of the former major league player followed the first time that he had not accompanied the 27th Division on its trip to the Second and Third Army maneuvers in Louisiana. Greenberg was one of three members of the Second Army's Anti-Tank Company to be behind for what the army calls "housekeeping details."

Deaths Last Night

Kansas City.—James E. Chandler, 74, past imperial potentate of the Barons of North America, died last night.

Toronto.—Brig. Gen. Charles H. Mitchell, 68, retired dean of the War College, died last night at the University of Toronto.

Buffalo, N. Y.—Alexis P. Beckwith, 51, theorist, died last night. He had entered business as a water-pipe fitter for Barnum and Bailey's circus.

Two R. A. F. Planes Lost
Berlin, Aug. 27.—Two British planes were shot down last night by the Royal Air Force again attacked several places in western Germany, informed sources reported today.

The raiders were said to have dropped a number of incendiary bombs on the city of Cologne, but damage was described as immaterial.

Downs Two Planes
Moscow, Aug. 27.—A young Soviet pilot named Kharitonov, recently captured by the Germans, was reported today to have shot down two German planes by the same method.

(The dispatch did not indicate whether Kharitonov survived the second ramming.)
